New York's GOP Nominates Dewey for Third Term

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) - Thomas E. Dewey was nominated by Republicans Thursday for a third term as governor of New York and Rep. Walter A. Lynch of the Bronx was picked by Democrats as his opponent.

Lynch, 56, a member of congress since 1940 and a champion of President Truman's fair deal, won nomination on the first roll call of a state Democratic convention in Rochester that was loaded with delegates lukewarm over the choice.

Dewey, the two-time unsuccessful Republican presidential standard bearer, was nominated by acclamation at a tumultuous GOP convention in Saratoga Springs.

The 48-year-old Dewey, who only four days ago reversed his decision of June 17 to retire and return to private law practice, was in full control of the Republican conclave.

He made a dramatic and unprecedented convention floor appearance to place before delegates the name of his Lieutenant Governor, Joe R. Hanley, as the GOP candidate for the U.S. senate.

Hanley, who minutes later personally placed Dewey's name in nomination, received the senatorial candidacy by acclamation in a wild demonstration.

The 74-year-old Hanley's opponent in the Nov. 7 election will be the Democratic incumbent, Herbert H. Lehman, who is 72.

GOVERNOR THOMAS DEWEY (left) and Lt. Gov. Joe R. Hanley accepted congratulations Thursday after Dewey was re-nominated as a Republican candidate for New York governor and Hanley for senator. The state convention was held in Saratoga Springs, and both candidates were chosen unanimously.

Students in the college of medicine should report to the dean's office Sept. 18 or 19. College of nursing students must report to Westlawn, nurses' dormitory, at 8:30 a. m. Sept. 14.

Former students in liberal arts and students in commerce, nursing and the graduate college will register on an alphabetical schedule at the fieldhouse Sept. 18 and Sept. 20.

All veterans who plan to attend SUI under benefits of the GI bill or vocational rehabilitation for the first time should report to the veterans service office before registration.

Iowa City Repairman Killed In Muscatine Store Explosion

Howard Green, 23, Iowa City air conditioning repairman, was killed Thursday noon when a refrigeration unit exploded in a department store in Muscatine.

Green, who lived at 1330 Kirkwood avenue, is survived by his wife, Joann, and a two-year-old daughter.

A fellow worker, Lawrence Swails, 1807 C street, suffered fractured ribs, a broken hand and shock. He was taken to a Muscatine hospital.

The accident occurred while the men, employed by the Swails Refrigeration service, were installing an air conditioning system in the basement of a Muscatine department store. Witnesses said Green met instant death when a flying piece of pipe struck him on the neck.

Two other persons escaped injury because they had just left the room when the blast occurred. One of them, Byron Keel, a store employe, said the men had been seeking the cause of a rattling noise in the pipe which exploded.

Authorities said the blast presumably caused by great pressure in an air conditioning gas pipe. Damage, confined to the room where the men were working, was estimated at "thousands of dollars."

Green's body is at a Muscatine Funeral home.

Iowa City Woman Afflicted With Polio

Mary Tudor, 23, wife of Joe Tudor, 1209 E. Davenport street, Thursday was admitted to University hospitals suffering with polio.

Her condition was listed as "fair," as was the condition of the other two new polio patients admitted to the hospital.

Clair Baldwin, 17, Marble Rock, son of Bernard Baldwin, and Russell Clark, 7, son of Donald Clark of Independence.

Late Thursday night the total number of active cases in SUI hospitals was 39.

Nine persons were transferred from active to inactive status. No patients were discharged.

Two more polio patients were admitted to University hospitals late Thursday night. Admitted were Diane Ries, 3, Bellevue, and Robert Young, 7 months, Keokuk.

WISCONSIN MEN CALLED MADISON WIS. (AP) - About 6,800 Wisconsin men will get pre-union physical examinations next month for November's draft of 1,600 men, state selective service headquarters announced Thursday.

Dr. and Mrs. Andrew W. Bennett, 1105 Kirkwood avenue, have been advised by the army of the recovery and identification of the body of their son Sgt. Kenneth A. Bennett.

Sgt. Bennett was killed Feb. 16, 1945 then the B-17, of which he was a crew member, crashed near Cleve, Germany after a successful bombing flight.

The body was recovered by an American Graves Registration unit working in Germany. The body was interred in the U.S. military cemetery Neuville-en-Condroz, Belgium.

The family has decided to have the body returned to this country, but has not yet determined the site of burial.

In Case of Russian War - FBI Prepared to Seize 12,000 Communists

WASHINGTON (AP) - The FBI has tagged 12,000 "most dangerous" Communists and is ready to seize them in case of war with Russia, J. Edgar Hoover reportedly told senators Thursday.

About the same time, President Truman bluntly warned the senate that he will not approve a sweeping Communist control bill which has rolled up powerful capitol hill support.

In other developments, as the with charges, speeches and investigations on the general subject of subversion:

1. Sen. Styles Bridges (R-NH) told the senate that Communists had plotted to infiltrate "the farmers union" in the 1930's and may have succeeded.

At Denver, James Patton, president of the national farmers union, replied that he knew of no one "who has responsibility in our national or state organizations who is a member of the Communist party."

2. Secretary of the Interior Oscar Chapman, at a senate inquiry, strenuously denied charges of Sen. Andrew Schoepel (R-Kan) that he is allied with Communism.

Hoover, FBI director, went before a senate appropriations subcommittee in closed session to tell why he needs $6-million more for agents and other workers.

Senators quoted Hoover as saying he wants to be able to keep careful tabs on the dangerous Reds; so close a watch as "to put these people to bed at night and get them up in the morning."

Hoover said half the 12,000 are American citizens, many of them native born.

UN Denies Red Rebuke of U.S. War Bombing

LAKE SUCCESS (AP) - The United Nations security council Thursday refused to condemn American bombing practices in Korea and turned down a Soviet demand that it intervene to stop U.S. air attacks on the North Koreans.

Russia's Jacob A. Malik finally pressed the issue a vote after more than five weeks of repeated charges that the United States is violating conventions of war by indiscriminate bombing of civilians.

Before the vote, however, U.S. Delegate Ernest A. Gross delivered a vigorous defense of American air operations and countered with charges of North Korean atrocities. Gross said the United States has indisputable proof that the North Koreans had shot in cold blood unarmed and bound prisoners of war - "the most abhorrent of all war crimes."

The Soviet resolution specifically would have found the United States guilty of violating the universally accepted rules of international law by the destruction and "mass annihilation of the peaceful population" of Korea. It also would have called upon the U.S. government to cease bombing towns and populated areas in Korea.

Only Malik supported the proposal, which was rejected by a vote of 9 to 1. Yugoslavia abstained.

Gross cited the North Korean atrocities by way of contrast to what he called U.S. efforts to avoid killing non-combatants. He charged the Korean Communists had used civilians as a human screen to protect advancing soldiers and had used schools, churches and hospitals to store war materials.

Germany Next? ...

WASHINGTON (AP) - John J. McCloy, U.S. high commissioner for Germany, has warned top administration leaders that west Germany may be the next target of Communist aggression, reliable government sources said Thursday.

They said he issued the warning to support his recent proposals to President Truman for limited German rearmament and the sending of more U.S. troops to the Reich if they can be spared from the Korean war.

Debate Statehood Of Alaska, Hawaii

WASHINGTON (AP) - Democratic Leader Scott W. Lucas, Ill., Thursday scheduled the Alaska and Hawaii statehood bills for early senate debate but said he still hopes congress can finish its work by Sept. 16.

He said the Democratic policy committee decided to bring up the bills to add a 49th and 50th state within two weeks. He wasn't sure there would be time to complete action.

"We're going to get a start on the bills," he said. "We'll give them a push."

Two Local Reservists Called to Active Duty

Two Iowa Citizens were among the 104 reservists called to active duty Thursday by the army.

Both Pfc. Jesse J. Sentmen Jr., 1025 E. Washington street, and Sgt. Howard R. Alexander, 105 1/2 S. Clinton street, were ordered to report to Fort Hood, Tex. by Sept. 30.

Allied Forces Stall Red Drive On Taegu; Dig Foxholes in City

Allied Troops Stall North Korean Offensives

ALLIED TROOPS BLUNTED NORTH KOREAN attacks Thursday on various sectors of the front and regained territory in the west in the Hyonpung-Yongsan area and in the Haman sector. Two Red drives were aimed at Taegu. The situation around Yongchon was critical and fighting was confused. Red reinforcements were reported moving into the Pohang area.

Civilian to Direct Home Front

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Truman assured the nation Thursday that the home front economic mobilization program will be under civilian direction from start to finish.

There certainly won't be any military dictator, he told a questioner at his news conference.

The president said he will report to the nation by radio Saturday night on the "hard work and sacrifice" needed at home to back up American fighting forces in Korea. Previously the White House had indicated that this speech would not be made until early next week.

The address will be delivered at 8:30 p. m. (Iowa time) Saturday from the President's oval office room in the White House. It will be carried by all major radio networks and also will be televised.

Before speaking the president probably will sign the sweeping economic control legislation approved last week by congress. He said the measure still is being analyzed by interested federal agencies.

The bill gives him broad discretionary powers, including authority to impose either selective or general price and wage controls.

First steps to be taken are expected to include tightening up on installment buying terms, priorities for scarce, essential materials to holders of military contracts, and limitation of inventories of basic materials to prevent hoarding and assure wider distribution of supplies.

Asked Thursday whether he still feels the time is not at hand for invoking any price and wage ceilings, Truman said he would answer a lot of questions about the program in his weekend talk.

Stall Plans for UN Blood Bank

LAKE SUCCESS (AP) - Creation of a special United Nations reservoir of blood for use in the UN Korean war effort has been stalled temporarily by disagreement between the UN staff organization and the American Red Cross over designation of racial "origin" of donors, informed sources said Thursday night.

The project ran into trouble when the UN staff committee objected to designation of racial origin, it was reported. Its contention is that this would run counter to UN charter structures against discrimination and against accepted doctrine that all human blood is the same except by principal types.

The Red Cross, offering to compromise, was said to have suggested first that employes processing the blood donations merely make notations of the donors on separate coded cards. The UN staff turned this down.

The Red Cross offered to record merely nationalities, but again the UN staff said "no."

Humphrey Hits ...

WASHINGTON (AP) - Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, (D-Minn) said Thursday that "irresponsible, foolish" charges by members of the 81st Congress have done more to undermine the government than the communist party.

He leveled the accusation in a senate speech in which he urged the chamber to "mend its ways and start acting responsibly."

Without mentioning names, he said the senate has become "the forum for every kind of a foolish, ridiculous charge. Nobody knows where this may stop."

UN Claims Attack Now 'Out of Steam'

TOKYO (FRIDAY) (AP) - Hard-fighting United Nations forces today stalled the big Korean Red offensive along a 50-mile front from north of Taegu to the east coast.

At the south end of the battle Allied troops again pushed the Reds from Battle mountain, a strategic height, and regained all positions lost Thursday.

A U.S. Eighth army spokesman in Korea told Associated Press Correspondent Jack MacBeth that the 50,000-man Communist drive loosed Monday on the north front had run out of steam.

The high tide of the Red push was believed to be a point seven miles north of Taegu.

Front Quies Down This front, where the Reds made a breakthrough which put Taegu in such peril that foxholes were dug in the city, was reported quieter Thursday night and early this morning than it has been for several days.

The vital supply road east out of Taegu early today was open only to Hyang, 13 miles away. Red infiltrators were being engaged east of Hyang.

In the critical Yongchon sector, 20 miles northeast of Taegu, United Nations troops fought a few miles east of the vital highway junction.

Still Hold Yongchon Yongchon, where Red guerrillas infiltrated Tuesday, then were ousted, is the key to Taegu's defense. Yongchon last was reported still in Allied hands. American officers have said its loss would make Taegu untenable.

South Korean troops who gave up the port city of Pohang Tuesday night and fell back three miles were reported holding off the Communists from the air base, six miles southeast of Pohang. The air base, also defended by Americans, was still in use by transport planes bringing in supplies.

Today the U.S. Eighth army spokesman said the South Korean forces which buckled in the Yongchon - Pohang area have been reorganized.

"They once again are effective," he said.

War at a Glance

KOREAN FRONT - U. S. Eighth army spokesman says United Nations forces have stalled big Communist drive along 50-mile North front. U. S. troops gain out North Koreans from strategic Battle mountain on south coast. South Koreans hold airport south of Pohang. Intelligence officer reports two Communist columns, each several miles long, moving down coast to Pohang.

LAKE SUCCESS - Security council rejects a Russian demand that it order U. S. to halt air attacks on North Korea. U. S. tells security council it has indisputable proof North Koreans shot unarmed and bound war prisoners. Russia makes unsuccessful effort to exclude South Korean Ambassador from discussions on Korea.

'Misses America' Enter Semi-Finals

ATLANTIC CITY (AP) - The Miss America pageant swirled into its second preliminary Thursday night and 54 girls put tighter clamps on their nervous systems.

A breakout of jitters could be catastrophic for any one of the beautiful girls from 46 states, four cities, Alaska, Hawaii, Puerto Rico and Canada.

There was open admiration for the way Renee Roy, Hartford, Conn., performed in last night's talent exhibition. She carried out her prize-winning comedy act with the aplomb of a veteran trouper. The 19-year-old brunette won easily over crowd-pleasing singers.

Joanne Durant, San Diego, Miss California, who walked off with last night's bathing suit prize, had a comparatively easy time tonight, appearing in an evening gown. Her talent performance - where she also stands a chance to be a double winner - is scheduled for tonight.

Airforce to Call Bomber Groups —

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Airforce announced Thursday that four fighter-bomber groups and one tactical reconnaissance group of the air national guard will be called to active duty "in the near future."

Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, Airforce chief, said members of each guard unit will be given a 30-day delay from the time the unit is ordered to duty.

Names of specific groups and units were withheld for reasons of security.

Under present plans, national guard air units — like the national guard infantry units already called up — will not be used in Korea, an informed source said. The national guard units are being used to replace in this country regular air and ground outfits sent to fight in Korea.

Underworld Figures to Washington —

CHICAGO (AP) — An attorney for three of Chicago's biggest underworld figures said Thursday that they will go to Washington and personally hand the senate crime investigating committee the records of their activities.

The three had refused to accept service of subpoenas issued here for their surrender of records, and their new move was an acknowledged slap at local operatives attempting to carry out the work of the committee.

The three involved are Louis (Little New York) Campagna, Paul (The Waiter) Ricca and Charles (Cherry Nose) Gioe, all federal parolees from a conviction of extorting $1-million from the motion picture industry.

They had been named in a wholesale issuance of subpoenas here by George Robinson, representing the committee, who has been working with the aid of the Chicago crime commission to investigate organized crime here.

Hurricane Threatens Bermuda —

MIAMI, FLA. (AP) — A giant hurricane with winds swirling at 140 miles an hour rumbled slowly northward Thursday night, threatening the British honeymoon isle of Bermuda.

The tropical storm, with an "eye" 30 miles in diameter was flinging its vicious winds out 150 miles in all directions and was expected to pass just west of Bermuda.

The Miami weather bureau reported that the big blow was too far north to pose any threat to the Florida mainland. The storm was located about 850 miles east of Brunswick, Ga., and nearly 200 miles south of Bermuda.

This was the same storm that made several hundred homeless and caused more than $1-million damages to the British island of Antigua nearly a week ago.

Army Says X-Rays Saved Money —

WASHINGTON (AP) — The army said Thursday it saved money by having recruits X-rayed by civilian doctors, some of whom made as much as $1,125 a day.

Deputy Surgeon General George E. Armstrong told a house armed services subcommittee it was cheaper than spending about $4-million to install and maintain X-ray facilities at all of its 108 induction centers.

He said only 22 centers now have such facilities but others are being added as the volume of inductions justifies the cost and the technical help is obtained.

He mentioned specifically Omaha and Milwaukee where the first reports of big earnings by private physicians originated.

Traffic Situation Getting Worse

A road for tomorrow is cut through, not around, a hill.

WASHINGTON (AP) — We're killing 100 people a day on our obsolete highways, maiming other thousands of men, women and children, crushing high priced cars into useless masses of junk, largely because too many drivers like to step on the gas for 80-miles-an-hour or more, on our 50-miles-an-hour roads.

In a dramatic presentation of our national need of modernizing our highways, Thomas H. MacDonald, commissioner of public roads, Washington, D.C., points out that traffic conditions are growing worse, due in part to the annual sale of some five million new cars and trucks — all built to run faster and to carry bigger loads.

The job ahead almost staggers the imagination. We must make our three million miles of roads carry 41 million vehicles, as compared to only 23,000 cars in 1920. But thanks to great fleets of giant earth-moving, rock-crushing equipment, engineering know-how, and cash from motor vehicle and fuel tax, we can accomplish the herculean feat.

As the engineers see the picture, in order to safeitize our interstate highway system alone, comprising 37,800 miles, over 2,000 grade crossings will need to be removed. Nearly 2,000 bridges are unsafe for heavy loads, while over 10,000 bridges are deficient in some degree.

There are nearly 7,000 grades steeper than three percent and nearly 700 grades steeper than six percent. The public roads commissioner goes on to say that winding curves over mountainous grades, often pictured as good engineering, ignores the necessities of safe accommodation of modern traffic.

Over 71 percent of our federal highways have too narrow shoulders — widths of less than eight feet. There are nearly 22,000 curves sharper than three degrees, and in mountainous areas, many are sharper than 11 degrees.

Engineers claim that 14-degree curves are potential murderers, unsafe for more than 40 miles an hour, and then only if sight factors permit. The report adds that only a small part of the interstate system is safe for 70 miles an hour.

To remove these major deficiencies in our interstate highway system, a total of nearly 12,000 miles will require relocation, and the Public Roads Administration recommends that as improvements are undertaken for safety measures, ample provision be made for increased traffic, higher speeds and greater load-carrying capacity which may be anticipated in a period of 20 years.

The cost of this program will require a cash expenditure of $500 million a year, and the long range program proposed is estimated to cost $11,266 million over 20 years.

Mass production equipment will insure safer highways that will endure for many years, while serving the national transportation system adequately, and in tune with modern automobile passenger car and truck facilities.

There is added satisfaction in the fact that automobiles literally built the roads, and good roads built the automotive industry to enormous size. Thus, in the very process of rebuilding our new highway system, new wealth will be created, travel safeitized!

Movies Provide Brief Respite for Americans in Korea

United Press Staff Correspondent

WITH THE U.S. 25th INFANTRY DIVISION, (AP) — Show business is good business even in Korea, and without even the added attraction of popcorn.

In stifling barns, in hospitals, in potato patches — wherever there is a place to hold a crowd — the GIs are giving the wolf call to the girls on the screen as they watch the movies brought to the front by projection units.

Sometimes the sound has to be amplified so it can be heard above the distant roar of artillery. Sometimes the men who give the shows arrive after running enemy ambushes on the roads.

Thursday's matinee in this sector was held in an open-like galvanized iron abandoned rice warehouse.

We jolted and bumped along a dusty road mountain road for more than an hour to reach the shed where dozens of sweaty, tired men were awaiting us.

Kindergarten chairs had been brought from a nearby school. The logs were three swivel chairs, proudly held by early-arriving mercenary men. There was an overflow, standing — room — only audience.

For the next hour, while the sweat dripped unnoticed down their faces, the GIs laughed and whistled. In the background I could hear the occasional thud of shells. Nobody else seemed to hear them. Late arrivals edged in and stood or crowded in on top of rice bags in the corners, where they received whispered fill-ins of what happened.

Finally, with the villain exposed and love triumphant, the show ended, and the boyish audience got back to real life. The rifle bolts clicked again as cartridges were put back in the chambers, and the soldiers went back to the war.

Wisconsin Man Gets Year for Taking Bribes

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Former Town of Lake Chairman John Kowaleski was sentenced to one year to 14 months in the state prison Thursday for accepting bribes.

Circuit Judge Arthur Kopp of Platteville handed down the sentence after Kowaleski pleaded guilty to four women found Kowaleski guilty after deliberating the case nearly 24 hours.

The new "wonder" drugs, acth and cortisone, have been credited with dramatic results in the treatment of rheumatic fever and arthritis.

Drs. Ayala and Hess said they found the sugar bound to proteins in the blood serum of victims of the four diseases with a test employing diphenylamine, a tar.

In the diseased persons, the test produced a purple color of deeper intensity than in healthy persons.

They said the deep purple color appeared not only in blood serum but in saliva, cartilage, fluid from the knee joint and the urine of victims.

Fructose, the doctors said, was found to be bound to complex proteins in the blood serum called mucoproteins. For some reason, they said, the four diseases have the common property of increasing the level of certain mucoproteins in the blood.

Congressmen Worried Over New U.S. Budget Legislation

By SIGRID ARNE OF Associated Press

WASHINGTON — Congress has decided Uncle Sam will have to spend $35,554,000,000 in the 12 months ending next June 30. It decided moreover to ask Budget Bureau Director Frederick Lawton to cut another $550-million from the budget, thereby giving him the power to cut back, or cut out completely, any governmental program.

The work was mountainous. Whole books were printed to outline the senate and house versions. Senator Byrd's own study covers with five figures 17 sheets the size of newspaper pages.

Now that the single budget has cleared congress, Senator Byrd has made a quick study of the procedure to see how it compares with last year's piecemeal money-voting. The bill is still under criticism by some members of congress.

Senator Byrd found:

1. It was possible to comb $2-billion of spending out of the original requests President Truman sent to the capitol. Last year, putting through 11 separate bills, congress wound up by appropriating $100-million more than the President requested.
2. Last year both senate and house spent 290 hours debating appropriations bills. This year they spent only 236 hours.
3. Last year 292 members took part in the debates. This year 308 members took part.

Science Uncovers Common Symptom In Four Diseases

CHICAGO (AP) — Science for the first time has found a "common denominator" linking the diseases cancer, tuberculosis, rheumatic fever and rheumatoid arthritis, an international team of scientists reported Thursday.

The denominator is an abnormal amount of the simple sugar, fructose, found in the blood of patients suffering from any of the four diseases, which are among men's most crippling or lethal ailments.

The report was made to the 118th national meeting of the American chemical society by Dr. Washington Ayala Bonilla of the University of Montevideo, Uruguay, and Dr. Eugene L. Hess, of the Northwestern University medical school.

They said it had been known that abnormal amounts of the sugar were present in cancer and tuberculosis victims, but that for the first time the same factor has been found in the case of rheumatic fever and rheumatoid arthritis.

The doctors said the discovery was both "interesting and significant."

"It indicates that in part at least the biochemical mechanism of these apparently unrelated diseases is similar," they said.

The doctors did not explore the medical possibilities of their discovery, but it was recalled that

Women's Military Groups to Increase as Men's Services Do

By CENTRAL PRESS

WASHINGTON — Women in the armed forces are wondering what Korea will mean for them.

Will WACs, WAVes and WAFs be assigned to General MacArthur's command in the Far East? How many recruits will be needed?

Chances are more WACs will be ordered overseas as the demand for clerical and administrative assistance grows. Whether they get to Korea depends on just one man — Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

As to increasing the size of the WACs, WAVes and WAFs, the official word is: "They'll increase as the men's services do."

The maximum size of the women's corps has been set by law. Since June this year, the proportion of women to men has been set at 2 percent in each branch.

To date, they have not had their full quota. Not because women were reluctant to choose a military career, but because the economy wave stopped them at the budget line.

Today the women who wear the uniform of the United States armed services number about 15,000.

Commanded by Col. Mary A. Halloran, the WACs, as always, have the largest corps — some 7,000 being commissioned directly as officers in the WACs.

The last class of 53 officers represented 42 colleges, including two Negro girls from Howard university. Overall reenlisting for the corps has been about 300 a month.

Capt. Joy Bright Hancock's WAVes number about 3,000. Recruiting has not been in process in June and July because their boot camp at Great Lakes is being used for officer training — another special group of picked college grads. But, ordinarily, this women's branch of the Navy enrolls about 160 a month.

The WAFs are headed by Col. Geraldine P. May. They number some 300 officers and 3,600 enlistees, and induct about 175 a month.

The Women Marines, the only group without initials and proud of it, are a much smaller unit and operate only in the U.S.A. Col. Katherine A. Towle heads a corps of some 300.

The SPARs, women's arm of the Coast Guard, may be wondering if this new war may put them back on the same footing with the other women's services. In peacetime they are transferred from the Department of Defense to the Treasury. They now are operating as a reserve unit of some 200 officers.

For the first time in several years, they will receive a training appropriation and will be open for enlistment. But only former SPARs are eligible, as no basic training is available.

The ranking officer is Capt. Helen B. Schleman.

Many WACs are hoping that at least their current military importance will result in an earlier donning of their swish new Hatie Carnegie uniforms.

If more women are taken into the WACs, the stock of old uniforms will diminish. The new models are a becoming taupe, instead of olive drab, and are strictly feminine with a nipped-in waistline.

Regular Navy gold stripes have been authorized for those hand-some Mainboucher — designed uniforms of the WAVes (in place of the present light blue stripes). However, this change, too, is still a "future development."

The WAFs may offer some uniform competition — when they change from their present Army olive drab to Air Force blue. The final designs have not yet been approved.

Their interest in a good-looking uniform doesn't mean these women in the services don't take their jobs seriously. Nothing makes them more annoyed than to be charged with joining to lead a "glamorous life."

Adventure does sometimes come her way — because a military career is still new for a young woman.

They are serving now in Newfoundland, Western Europe, the Caribbean, Hawaii and Japan, as well as at home. And besides clerk and typist jobs, there are medical corps assistants, air crew workers — one WAF is even an advocate general.

If the war is prolonged, many more women in the service will be needed. A woman to be in uniform is no longer shocking to the United States.

Interpreting the News — Truman Angers Nation's Pet

By J.M. ROBERTS JR. AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

President Truman moved to appease the wrath which descended upon him because of his references to the U.S. marines as a "the navy's police force" having a "propaganda machine that is almost equal to Stalin's."

The President made his statements in reply to a letter from a Republican congressman who was seeking marine representation on the joint chief's of staff. No one has arisen to defend either the words or the President's action in uttering them, beyond pointing out that he may have slipped into ill-considered shortness of temper because of the pressure under which he has been working lately.

It was possible to read as much as you wish into the statements, or to consider them poor vehicles for the point the President was trying to make — that the marines are not to be magnified out of what he considers their proportion. The President chooses the "poor vehicle" line.

Mr. Truman is too smart a politician to launch a deliberate attack on something he knows is a "pet" of the entire American people. The public itself has reacted to the marine record by becoming a part of the corps "propaganda machine." Motion pictures, books, phrases like "tell it to the marines," are natural responses to a small organization of fighting men who trace their history back to the American revolution.

It is a corps which can truthfully report that its heavy artillery and tank battles in Belleau Wood and the Argonne were no police actions, and that the Nakdong line in Korea is not truly a matter of conducting "such land operations as may be essential to the prosecution of a naval campaign." That is the primary assigned purpose of the corps under the law.

The President could hardly have intended to mean that the marine "propaganda machine" compared with Stalin's in baseness, untruth, and immoral intent. He must have been thinking about intensity, solidity, extent, and the bitter fight for preservation of marine identity during the development of the armed forces unification program.

The universal regard for the marines in the United States is a natural result of its type or organization.

The marines are few. In peacetime their numbers have never been so drastically reduced, on a percentage basis, as those of the army and navy, and in wartime they have never been so greatly multiplied. Therefore, when troubles come, they are more nearly ready, and throughout a war they attract the flavor of a David. They also represent about the only truly professional armed force, insofar as that refers to the proportion of the ranks who make the corps their life business.

But Truman said the words, and men who may die tomorrow, in the tradition of a corps in which they take a tremendous pride, have taken what is to some of them more than a bodily hurt. They have, however, graciously accepted the President's apology and, the marine corps league, by unanimous vote, went on record as considering the whole matter closed.

Mr. Truman obviously regrets the hurt feeling of the marines, but does not retreat from his stand on the corps' position.

Iowa's More Backs Draft of Non-Vets To Meet New Quota

DETROIT LAKES (AP) — An Iowa Democrat urged Thursday that the United States stick to its policy of drafting non-veterans as long as possible.

Jake More, Iowa Democratic party chairman and secretary of the party's 15-state midwest conference opening a three-day strategy meeting here, said he will offer a resolution on the draft at Saturday's business session.

The resolution, he said, will urge the administration to "adhere to the policy of taking new registrants in the draft, of whom there are over two-million, prior to calling men who served in World War II."

About 250 delegates from Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota, Iowa, Wisconsin, Illinois, Indiana, Kansas, Ohio, Oklahoma, Wyoming, Michigan, Nebraska, Missouri and Montana had registered for the meeting by mid-afternoon.

State and committee meetings were held Thursday and Minnesota Democrats met for a state dinner addressed by candidates for nomination in the Minnesota primaries.

The meeting gets down to serious business today with state reports and addresses by Assistant Postmaster General John Redding and Assistant Interior Secretary William E. Warne.

Secretary of Interior Denies Red Connections

WASHINGTON (UP) — Secretary of the Interior Oscar L. Chapman Thursday denied pro-Communism charges hurled by Sen. Andrew F. Schoepfel, (R-Kans.), and dared the senator to repeat them without congressional immunity so he can be sued.

In a dramatic face-to-face meeting before the senate interior committee, the cabinet officer accused Schoepfel of using the Soviet technique of the "big lie" to "smear" him and block Alaskan statehood. The charges, he said, were "malicious and irresponsible."

"I dare you," Chapman said, tears of anger welling into his eyes, "to remove your cloak of congressional immunity and sit in this chair and read your statement."

The senator, who demanded a loyalty investigation of Chapman in a senate speech Tuesday, sucked silently at his pipe as the secretary delivered what was perhaps the angriest barrage ever leveled at a congressman by a cabinet officer.

When the committee offered him a chance to reply, Schoepfel said he wanted to go over Chapman's statements more carefully. He also asked the committee to hear Frank Bow, an aide who collected his "evidence" against the secretary.

Bow, whom Chapman accused of withholding positive information about his loyalty, is a Republican candidate for congress from the 16th Ohio district. He plans to return to Washington Saturday.

Schoepfel, who called the investigation a "good, wholesome thing," said Chapman was a "little harsh, but he is entitled to be."

"I think the secretary made a forthright statement of his position. I do not know about the correctness of all the details," he said.

He accused Chapman of striking out and ignoring the loyalty affidavit section of his oath of office and once belonging to Red front groups. He also said he understood Chapman had a hand in a "deal" to hire J.H. Randolph Feltus, former lobbyist for Communist Poland, to promote Alaska statehood.

Iowa's Cool August Near Record Low

DES MOINES (AP) — Last month was the third coolest August since the beginning of statewide weather records in 1873, the weather bureau reported Thursday. Only the Augusts of 1915 and 1885 were cooler.

The lowest temperature recorded last month equaled the present record low temperature for the state for August. The low record was set at Elkader in 1893 and equaled at Mason City in 1915.

The average temperature for last month was 67.5 degrees. The lowest the mercury got in the month was 30 degrees at Sibley and Britt on Aug. 20.

Frosts were reported in low places in all sections of the state. The most severe frosts were recorded in the northwest. There was considerable damage to corn and soybeans, tomatoes and other garden truck locally in northern counties.

Rainfall last month averaged well above normal in the south-central and south-east sections, and below normal in all west, near normal in the west-other sections.

The range in precipitation was from more than 9 inches at Council Bluffs to less than 1-2 inch at Emmetsburg, State Center and New Hampton.

MISSISSIPPI TRAVEL UP KEOKUK (AP) — Mississippi river shipping that passed through Keokuk lock 19 to Aug. 31 this year totaled 2,565,316 tons, an increase of 214,555 tons over the same period last year.

Boy Scouts to Erect Statue

Johnson county Boy Scouts will bring closer to Iowa Citizens a reminder of their heritage of freedom with an erection of a miniature Statue of Liberty in Iowa City.

Atty. Dan C. Dutcher, chairman of the local statue committee, said Thursday the project is part of a crusade of the Boy Scouts of America to "strengthen the arm of liberty." It will also mark the 40th anniversary of the national scout organization.

Work on the base of the replica began Thursday afternoon on the south section of the island in front of City High school. The project is expected to be completed sometime in October.

At the completion of the statue, the Iowa River Valley council hopes to have an elaborate dedication ceremony. Regional and state scout executives will be asked to attend.

The copy of the original Statue of Liberty is eight feet, four inches in height from base to torch. It is stamped out of sheet and has a cast-bronze appearance. On a plaque to be placed on the base of the statue will be this inscription:

"With the faith and courage of their forefathers who made possible the freedom of these United States, the Boy Scouts of America dedicate this replica of the Statue of Liberty as a pledge of everlasting fidelity and loyalty."

Illinois Refuses Progressive Ballot

SPRINGFIELD, ILL. (AP) — The state electoral board Wednesday refused to give the Progressive party a place on the Illinois ballot.

As in 1948, the board found the party's nominating petition did not contain enough valid signatures.

In Wednesday's action, the board unanimously approved objections filed by the Cook county (Chicago) council of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The VFW charged that the petition contained names of persons who were dead as well as of unregistered voters.

Acheson Endorses German Armament

WASHINGTON, (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Acheson said Wednesday western Germany must be allowed to take part in anti-Communist Europe's vastly increased defense efforts next year.

It was his strongest statement to date on the ticklish question, and followed an opinion by John J. McCloy, U.S. high commissioner for Germany, definitely favoring "some form of rearmament" for Germany.

Acheson also told a press conference that western European members of the North Atlantic pact must expect to do much more of their share of rearmament against Russia this coming year.

Both problems, he said, will be discussed at the big three foreign ministers meeting in New York beginning next Tuesday.

Meat Prices 'Reasonable' Meat Packers Tell Senators

WASHINGTON (UP) — Spokesmen for major chain stores and packing houses told senate investigators Thursday that meat prices are "reasonable" and that middle men are making no more than a fair profit.

They vigorously denied a charge that prices are being forced up arbitrarily so that any price ceilings imposed by President Truman would be at a high level.

They testified before a senate agriculture subcommittee headed by Sen. Guy M. Gillette (Iowa) which is investigating the spread between prices received by livestock growers and those paid by meat consumers.

Gillette said members of congress have received "thousands" of letters protesting meat price increases since the outbreak of the Korean war. He said his subcommittee wants to know "if any unjustified charges are being levied between farmer and consumer."

Subcommittee Counsel Paul Hadlick said price charts submitted by national food chains indicate a deliberate attempt is being made "to set a high base (for ceiling prices) in case government controls are put on."

President Truman has standby powers to impose wage-price ceilings under the newly-enacted home front mobilization bill. He declined to say at his press conference Thursday whether he feels that controls are necessary now.

but hinted he may answer the question in a radio report to the nation Saturday night.

Circus Clowns Romp Through Playroom

EVERY DAY IS CIRCUS DAY for the little master of this attractive room. The colorful clowns, balloons and capotes of the drapery and bedspread fabric as well as the animal prints on the wall create a gay, cheerful atmosphere. Top spreads and cornice of plastic and the vinyl cork floor are easy to clean and keep clean.

To a child, the bed-playroom is his kingdom. With this thought in mind, the parent must carefully consider the transition of the nursery into something a little older.

The baby pinks and blues should give way to colors more "grown-up" and a lot more practical.

Bed-room equipment that are musts are a drawer chest for clothing storage, low shelves and cabinets to house toys and a small table and chairs.

Floor covering should be of the easy-to-clean variety so that the spilling of water colors or paste pots will be no problem.

As for decorations, new juvenile fabrics and wallpapers show a wide range of motifs and colors. Right now, the circus and Western motifs are especially popular.

Copies of the book are to be distributed to each senior high school, junior college, and college in Iowa.

The book is available to business men at $1 a copy, and may be ordered from the SUI Department of Publications.

The bureau announced the principle purpose of the book was to give a long range picture of significant economic trends.

Most of the tables and charts show yearly data starting with 1939, which was classified as a "normal" year.

The seven divisions made by the book are: General, including information on population, the number of business establishments, and a composite index of business activity; Income; finance; manufacturing; construction, trade, and agricultural prices; parity ration and productivity.

French Government Starts Deporting Foreign Communists

PARIS (AP) — French police rounded up 266 foreign Communists Thursday in a nationwide drive to rid the country of fifth columnists. All were marked for deportation.

More than half of the suspects were Spaniards, but the number included Russians, Poles, Czechs, Bulgarians and Yugoslavs. Police said they will be escorted to the frontier of their choice, or sent to Corsica, a French island in the Mediterranean.

Two police buses with 16 persons and their baggage left police headquarters for the eastern frontier late Thursday. They will be turned over to officials of the French occupation zone in Germany, who in turn, will send them to the Soviet zone.

The police struck at dawn in widespread sections of the country. In Paris, they operated in three-man units to root out foreigners known to head, or suspected of heading, Communist spy and sabotage groups. Police said a Polish princess was among those being questioned.

The raids — largest of this kind in France since before the war — did not affect French Communist leaders or their followers. The French Communist party is estimated to have 750,000 native-born cardholders, about one-seventh of whom are listed by police as "diehard."

Red Sox Down Yankees Again, 10-8; Tigers, Cleveland Battle To 13-13 Tie

Tie Game Puts Detroit in Lead

DETROIT (AP)—The courageous Detroit Tigers battled their way back into the American league lead Thursday as they fought the Cleveland Indians to a 13-13 draw in a 10-inning slugfest stopped by darkness.

The tie, coupled with the New York Yankees' second successive setback at the hands of the Boston Red Sox, moved the Tigers out in front by two percentage points in the torrid stretch battle.

Nine pitchers saw action in the three hour, 26-minute marathon, with five home runs, 30 base hits and seven errors punctuating the afternoon.

Detroit's Hoot Evers kept the Tigers in the ball game practically single-handed as he slammed out his 21st homer, two triples, a double and a single and batted in six runs.

The Tigers had an uphill grind all the way after Cleveland knocked out Tiger ace righthander Art Houtteman in a seven-run first inning. Detroit partially made up this deficit as they banged over four runs in their half of the first to kayo Bobby Feller.

The Tigers finally tied the game at 7-all in the fifth only to see the Indians move out in front 10-7 as they mauling relief pitcher Hal White in a three-run sixth.

The resurgent Tigers kept battling away and finally tied things again 11-11 on Evers' two-run homer in their half of the first.

Larry Doby boomed a two-run homer off Hank Borowy in the tenth, his 22nd round-tripper, to move Cleveland out in front again, 13-11.

But the Tigers were far from through as they teed off on Marino Pieretti, fifth Cleveland pitcher, in their half of the tenth. Successive singled by Vic Wertz and Evers, plus a walk to Johnny Groh, loaded the bases before 26-617 enthusiastic fans.

Wertz was out at home on Jerry Priddy's slow roller, but Joe Ginsberg fled deep, Evers scoring after the catch. Pinch-hitter Charley Keller singled Groh home with the tying run. Don Kolloway then grounded out and the marathon game was over.

Can't Continue
American league rules provide that the game could not be continued under lights unless it was the visiting team's final appearance of the year. Cleveland still has some games left here.

Feller, although kayoed in a hurry, stayed around long enough to hit his second homer of the year off Houtteman in the first. Teammate Al Rosen hit No. 34 in that same inning while Detroit's Priddy hit No. 10 in the fifth off big Al Benton.

OMAHA (AP)—Oakland, Calif., walloped St. Louis 11-0 Thursday night and became the first team in 25 years of American Legion junior baseball to win the little world series twice in a row.

CINCINNATI (AP)—A tenth inning home run by Ted Kluszewski Thursday gave Cincinnati a 6-4 victory over Pittsburgh and broke the visitors' six game winning streak. One runner was on base at the time, through an error by Johnny Berardino.

Eddie Erault, a righthander, went the route for the Reds, to win his third game without a defeat, and his first starting performance of the season.

Ralph Kiner, baseball's modern home run king, tied the game at four runs each with his 43rd circuit smash in the eighth.

BOSTON'S DOM DIMAGGIO forced a wild throw (ball at right) from New York Yankees' Catcher Yogi Berra Thursday when he stole second base. The throw, which went past Shortstop Phil Rizzuto in the third inning, enabled Dimaggio to advance to third. The Red Sox took a crucial 10-8 victory from the Yanks to knock the New Yorkers two percentage points out of the American league lead. Boston also defeated the Yankees Wednesday. The umpire was Bill Grieve.

Cross Country Drills Get Started Sept. 18; Five Lettermen Back

Team practice for the Iowa cross country squad, which finished fifth in the Big Ten last year and won three dual meet victories in four starts, gets under Sept. 18. Coach Francis Cretzmeier has five lettermen returning from last year's squad.

Cretzmeier has the team working out at their homes under a detailed practice schedule. He expects the men to report for opening practice with preliminary training completed so that work on team strategy can begin almost immediately.

Leads Lettermen
Leading the lettermen who will report is Jack Davis, Iowa City, a tenth place finisher in the conference last year and Earle Duggan, Davenport, with a 16th place in the same meet. Bill Bye, Odebolt, Ken Carman, Cresco and Bill Snook, Freeport, Ill., are the other lettermen back this year.

The team opens the season Oct. 14 against Wisconsin. John Collins, Chicago, Ill., a letterman lost by inelegibility, is the only man not returning from last year's lineup.

Virgil Von Ahsen, Williamsburg, leads the sophomore prospects. He promises to be a strong threat to replace some of the lettermen in the five point-winning positions on the squad. Other promising newcomers are Stan James, Iowa City and Gerald Stone, Sioux City.

Win 3 in a Row
In 1949, after winning three in a row over Illinois, 26-31, Notre Dame, 27-28, and Marquette, 22-36, the Hawkeyes dropped their final meet before the conference championships to Minnesota, 25-30.

After the opener with Wisconsin Oct. 14, the harriers will meet Purdue here Oct. 21 before going on the road for three consecutive weekends for meets with Notre Dame, Minnesota and Marquette.

The Hawkeyes go to Chicago Nov. 17 for the Big Ten meet and a week later wind up their season at East Lansing, Mich., in the NCAA championships.

Fr Harwood woke up Thursday to find little Eddie LeBaron ready to play quarterback for his Leathernecks.

Boston Pennant Hopes Helped

BOSTON (AP)—The Boston Red Sox bolstered their pennant hopes by grinding out a 10-8 victory over the New York Yankees Thursday to sweep a crucial two game series.

Big Walt Dropo helped move the third place Sox to within a game-and-a-half of the Yanks by driving in five runs with two homers and a double. The feat enabled Dropo to regain the circuit's runs-batted-in lead from Teammate Junior Stephens by a 136-133 margin.

Rival Managers Steve O'Neill of the Sox and Casey Stengel of the Yanks pulled almost every possible stop on the baseball organ during the 192-minute-of upheavals that had the 29,897 crowd wilted at the finish.

Ruins Hopp's Bid
The game wound up with Lefty Chuck Stobbs, the sixth Boston pitcher, coming in with the bases loaded and two out and ruining Johnny Hopp's first bid for American league fame.

Hopp, a 340-slugger before being waived by the Pittsburgh Pirates this week, worked Stobbs for a 3-2 count and then ended the game by taking a waist high fireball for the third strike.

The Red Sox started out with right hander Ellis Kinder and gave him a flying start by blasting Allie Reynolds for four runs in the third inning and a fifth tally in the next frame. Dropo's double accounted for half of the first scoring explosion.

But Kinder faltered in the fifth, during which Phil Rizzuto lashed a three run homer to set off a six run explosion. The Yanks sent 11 to the plate in that big inning, totaling five hits and three bases on balls.

Dropo's 31st homer, a single by Al Zarrilla and bases on balls to Bobby Doerr and Ted Williams, purposely, with two on and two out while pinch-hitting for Maury McDermott the third Boston flinger, boosted the Sox into a 7-6 lead in the bottom of the fifth.

Dropo Homers Again
Dropo homered again, after Stephens had singled to clinch matters in the sixth. Tom Ferrick, now the Yanks' most dependable fireman, was in action at that stage after two pitching charges.

Both teams scored in the eighth, the Boston run making Walt Masterson the winning pitcher, after Joe Dobson had pulled him out of a deep hole.

After giving up the Yankees' final run in the ninth, Dobson got two out and then loaded the bases on two singles and a base on balls. That brought Stobbs rushing from the bullpen to ruin Hopp's bid for glory.

Eight Hawkeyes in Reserves

Unless the war situation gets worse and a wide spread draft with no exemption for college attendance is started, the Iowa footballers probably won't suffer too much this season from calls from the armed forces.

A check Thursday with the athletic department showed that 43 of the 66 man squad are either in the reserves, national guard or the local ROTC unit. A break down on the reserve units is: marines, one; national guard, two; army, three; navy, four and 34 in ROTC. One man in training with the Iowa reserve officer detachment is also in the reserves.

Athletic officials refused to issue the names of the players in the reserves. A total of 23 players are in none of the military branches. These, except for the veterans in the group, are subject to the draft. However, college students are now being permitted to complete the school year.

If all the reserves on the Iowa squad were called during the football season—and this isn't likely—the Hawks would lose seven players.

Also, all the reserve members on the squad are in organized units and won't receive a call until the entire unit is activated. So it looks like the Hawks are pretty safe from armed services interference for at least this football season.

In the current issue of Collier's magazine, Francis Wallace picks his pre-season all-American team and the stars from each section of the country.

The author has tabbed Bill Reichardt, Jerry Facke, Mike Riley and Hubert Johnston from Iowa as stars in midwest football this season.

Wallace also predicts in the article that Notre Dame will sweep its 10 game schedule this fall and keep national championship hopes.

"The Irish are overdue to take a header," Wallace writes. "Key injuries could ruin them, and their victories will not be lopsided. But they still look better than any team on their schedule with the possible exception of Southern California in the Dec. 2 finale."

The Hawkeyes meet Notre Dame in the last home game of the season, Nov. 18. Iowa plays Southern California, picked as the pre-season favorite in the Pacific coast conference and one of the top teams in the nation, in the first game of the season Sept. 29.

In the Big Ten, Wallace figures Ohio State will be undefeated and winner of the conference. He picks Michigan to get the Rose Bowl bid (Ohio State is ineligible because of last year's participation).

Here's how the author rates the midwest teams in the won and lost column: Notre Dame, 10-0; Ohio State, 9-0; Michigan and Illinois, each 7-2; Wisconsin and Minnesota, each 6-3; Michigan State, 5-4; Purdue, Iowa and Marquette, each 4-5, and Northwestern and Indiana, each 3-6.

Several football observers in the midwest, including Iowa's Coach Leonard Raffensberger, seem to feel that Indiana is going to be a lot tougher than many people think. They believe that Indiana is a dark horse challenger in the conference and can't be lightly regarded by any opponent. The Hawks play the Hoosiers at Bloomington, Oct. 7.

The bicycle is coming into its own this football season. Quite a few schools, including the University of North Carolina are using pedal pushing as a conditioning exercise.

Dodgers Edge Phillies, 3-2

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A brilliant relief job by Ralph Branca helped the Brooklyn Dodgers nip the Philadelphia Phillies, 3-2, Thursday night, for their third straight victory over the league leaders. Branca replaced Starter Carl Erskine with the Dodgers leading by one run, a Philly runner on third and nobody out in the eighth inning.

He struck out sluggers Willie Jones and Del Ennis and forced Jack Mayo to foul out to third baseman Billy Cox. The triumph lifted the Brooks to within four and a half games of the Phils.

Del Ennis accounted for all the losers' runs with a pair of homers, his 29th and 30th of the season, as the Phils went down to their fifth straight defeat. That matched their longest losing skein of the season.

The two contenders clash in the fourth and final of their four game set tonight.

Back to back doubles by Pee Wee Reese and Gene Hermanski, first two batters of the game, accounted for Brooklyn's first run. Successive homers by Gil Hodges, and Bruce Edwards in the second inning increased the Dodgers lead to 3-0.

Erskine yielded all five Philadelphia safeties. He pitched hitless ball for three innings, but was greeted by Ennis' first round tripper in the fourth.

Lift Pennant Hopes

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers' rising pennant hopes received another lift Thursday when it was learned that Catcher Roy Campanella may be back in harness inside of 10 days.

Campanella suffered what originally was feared to be a fractured right thumb when he was hit by a foul tip in the late stages of the second game in Wednesday night's doubleheader victory over Philadelphia.

X-ray taken early Thursday morning, however, showed the injury, although an ugly one, was no worse than a compound dislocation.

Safe at Second

NEW YORK (AP)—A six-run explosion in the seventh inning brought the Boston Braves all their runs and a 6-4 victory over the New York Giants Thursday.

The victory not only saved the Braves from dropping to fourth place but allowed them to boost their third place lead over the Giants to a game and a half. It was only the second defeat for the New Yorkers in their last eight games.

The Big Braves rally saw Bob Elliott, Sid Gordon and Sam Jethroe all hit homers, the latter two coming with a man no base each time.

Wes Westrum's fourth inning homer with two on produced three of the Giants four runs.

Truman Criticizes Marines, Apologizes; Everybody Happy Now

HOUSE WASHINGTON August 29, 1950

My dear Congressman McDonough:

I read with a lot of interest your letter in regard to the Marine Corps. For your information the Marine Corps is the Navy's police force and as long as I am President that is what it will remain. They have a propaganda machine that is almost equal to Stalin's.

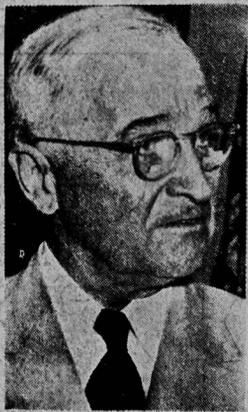

Nobody desires to belittle the efforts of the Marine Corps but when the Marine Corps goes into the army it works with and for the army and that is the way it should be.

I am more than happy to have your expression of interest in this naval military organization. The Chief of Naval Operations is the Chief of Staff of the Navy of which the Marines are a part.

Sincerely yours,

Honorable Gordon L. McDonough House of Representatives Washington, D. C.

EXPLOSIVE LETTER which set off a number of repercussions was this letter written by President Truman to Rep. Gordon McDonough (R-Calif.).

GENIUS of a furor this week was President Truman, who presented this appearance as he talked with callers in his office. At that time he was preparing a letter of apology to the Marine Corps league.

GENERAL CHION B. Cates, commandant of the Marine Corps, hurried out of his car at the White House in answer to a summons from President Truman. The President apologized for his criticism of the corps in a personal letter to Cates.

APPLAUDING PRESIDENT TRUMAN'S APOLOGY were these delegates to the Marine Corps league convention at Washington when their commandant read the President's letter of apology. (See story on page 5 and interpretive article on page 2.)
