Senate Okays Red Controls, Including Concentration Camps

WASHINGTON (AP) - The senate passed by an overwhelming vote Tuesday a bill to require registration of all Communists and to put them in concentration camps in case of invasion, war or insurrection. The internment section, added to the already tough provisions of the McCarran bill against spies, saboteurs and Reds, represented a fast flip-flop by the lawmakers. They voted it down three times on roll calls, then inserted it in somewhat modified form on a topheavy voice vote. They followed up by passing the stiffened bill 70 to 7. Sen. Scott Lucas (D-Ill), President Truman's chief lieutenant in the senate, sponsored the addition and had backing from other administration supporters. Just what that might mean with respect to the President's statement that he would not sign the original McCarran measure was uncertain. All the major provisions of the McCarran bill were still in, with the internment language besides. The bill now goes to the house, which has passed a measure generally similar but lacking the concentration camp feature. Besides registration and internment for Communists, the bill strengthens laws against espionage and sabotage much in line with White House recommendations and amends immigration laws to help keep out subversives. The senate's about-face on concentration camps came on a motion by Sen. Millard Tydings (D-Md) to reconsider a roll-call vote adding that plan.

Materials Ready ...

Distribution of registration materials for the fall semester begins today at 8:30 a.m., and continues through the 21st. The first day of classes is also the 21st. The materials will be available at special windows in the hallway outside the registrar's office in University hall. Engineering, pharmacy, law and dentistry students are not scheduled to get their registration materials until next week. The registrar's office will be open from 8:30 a.m. to noon and from 1 p.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Labor Leader Supports Taft

CLEVELAND (AP) - The Taft-for-senate committee here Tuesday announced that Alvanley Johnston, retired head of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, is supporting Sen. Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) for reelection. Paul W. Walter, chairman of the committee, said Johnston was the first widely known labor leader to endorse Taft openly. Johnston retired as grand chief of the BLE during its convention here in July and James P. Shields was installed as his successor July 24. Johnston endorsed Republican Presidential Candidate Thomas E. Dewey in 1948. A letter from Johnston to Walter with the Taft endorsement, was dated last May 2, while Johnston was still leader of the 80,000-member union. It said: "You can rest assured I will do what I can in behalf of Senator Taft."

Coed Car a Rush Week Casualty

SUI's rushing week Tuesday spilled over into other fields of activity. Police reported that about 7 p.m. traffic in the 800 block on East Burlington street was blocked by cars parked in front of a sorority house, and by girls in the street. Jane Carroll Pinneo, Des Moines, who last spring was listed as A2, got so interested in rushing she parked her car in the private driveway of a Linn street filling station. Police towed her car to the station where Miss Pinneo had to post a $5 bond and agree to appear Wednesday before Police Judge Emil G. Trott.

Pennsylvania Blast Kills Eight Persons

ELDRED, PA. (AP) - A mighty dynamite explosion which splintered a building at the National Powder company Tuesday killed eight men and rocked homes for miles around. Some of the victims were blown to bits as the blast destroyed a steel and frame house where dynamite and nitroglycerine are mixed. The coroner's office reported difficulty in identifying bodies and withheld names until relatives had been notified. Residents 10 miles away heard the booming explosion. Windows were shattered within a two-mile radius.

Only One New Polio Patient Admitted Here

A one-year-old boy was the only polio patient admitted to University hospitals Tuesday, officials announced. He was John Whitesell, son of Therald Whitesell of Waterloo. His condition was reported as "fair." His admittance, and the transfer of six patients from active to inactive status, made the total number of active cases 39.

Secretary Johnson Quits Truman Names Marshall

Orientation Thursday for New Students

New SUI students who will enroll in the college of liberal arts this fall will meet for orientation ceremonies Thursday morning in Macbride auditorium. Introductory ceremonies for transfer students entering liberal arts will begin at 8 a.m., while liberal arts freshmen will meet at 9:30 a.m., Helen Reich, director of the office of student affairs, said Tuesday. Representatives of various SUI departments who will address the two groups are L. Dale Faunce, new dean of students; Registrar Ted McCarrel; Prof. H. Clay Harshbarger, head of the liberal arts advisory program. Prof. Robert Ebel, director of the SUI examination services; Dr. C. I. Miller, head of the student health service; Helen Reich, and Don Guthrie, A4, chairman of the men's orientation committee.

General Not Eligible Unless Congress Acts

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Truman dropped Louis A. Johnson from his cabinet with dramatic suddenness Tuesday and asked Gen. George C. Marshall to succeed him as secretary of defense. The five-star general, former secretary of state and army chief of staff during World War II, announced his acceptance at his Leesburg, Va., home. He is 69 years old. On Capitol Hill, the question immediately arose whether a life-long soldier, such as Marshall is, should be cleared to take over a civilian post. By law, no person who has been on military duty within the past 10 years is eligible to serve as secretary of defense. It would take a special act of congress to let Marshall take the post. Top lawmakers moved swiftly to erase this legal obstacle. Chairman Millard Tydings (D-Md) said the senate armed services committee would get to work on the necessary legislation immediately. The initial reaction was strongly in favor of making it possible for Marshall to accept the new assignment.

Russia Vetoes Chinese Inquiry

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y. (AP) - Russia used its 45th United Nations veto Tuesday to kill an American proposal for an on-the-spot UN inquiry into Chinese Communist charges that American planes attacked Manchuria. The security council then smothered a Soviet counter-proposal to condemn the United States for the alleged attacks against Manchurian targets. The Soviet veto of the American proposal to send an Indian-Swedish inquiry group to look into the plane incident was the Kremlin's answer to the council refusal Monday to invite Peiping envoys to join debate on the idea. Seven nations - exactly the majority required - voted in favor of the proposal. But Soviet Delegate Jakob A. Malik wiped out the majority with his veto power. India and Communist Yugoslavia abstained while Nationalist China did not participate. The Soviet proposal to condemn the United States drew only one supporting vote - from Malik himself. Yugoslavia abstained and again Nationalist Chinese Delegate Dr. Tingfu F. Tsiang did not participate. The hulking Soviet delegate charged that the U.S. refusal to hear the Chinese Communists and its haste in pushing the inquiry plan could not help but leave the "impression" that the Manchurian incident was a "provocation prepared beforehand." American Delegate Warren R. Austin snapped back with the charge that Malik's statements were "insulting" to men who were fighting and dying for the UN in Korea.

War at a Glance

Korean front - U.S. First Cavalry division drives North Korean Reds back a mile from heights overlooking Taegu. Allies improve their position in the northeast sector. Remainder of front relatively quiet. American planes concentrate most of their 335 sorties along northern rim of line destroying or damaging 11 North Korean tanks. An increasing number of North Korean prisoners are being taken. Lake Success - Russia vetoes a proposed United Nations inquiry into Communist China's charges of American air attacks on Manchurian territory. Russia claims proposal was designed to get American spies into Communist China. Washington - Louis A. Johnson resigns as U.S. secretary of defense. President Truman calls upon Gen. George C. Marshall to fill the post.

Five Stars for Bradley?

WASHINGTON (AP) - The senate Tuesday night voted unanimously approval of a bill to give the five-star rank of general of the army to Gen. Omar N. Bradley, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff.

Acheson Tells Our Role In Defending Europe

NEW YORK (UP) - Secretary of State Dean Acheson, at the first Big Three session Tuesday, informed British and French delegates of the American program for increasing western Europe defenses against Communist aggression and asked what the Europeans were ready to do. This was reported Tuesday night by authoritative sources who said the question of the role western Germany is to play in the combined European defense program also was tossed in for preliminary discussion. Acheson told Britain's Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin and France's Foreign Minister Robert Schuman that the United States is prepared to do "to increase manpower, arms production and to help finance the defense program," an official source said. Before the Big Three meeting broke up for the night, officials reported that the United States is planning to send another division into western Germany by Jan. 1. France is expected to undertake a similar increase in her west German defense forces. Acheson was said to have told the British and French delegates that the American offer of military and financial aid would be undertaken on a full scale only if the two European powers were to agree to step up their overall defense efforts. Authorities said the Big Three today would touch on occupation problems in western Germany, including a plan to end the technical state of war between the anti-Communist German government and the Allies.

U.S. Acts to Speed Up Turn-Around Of Freight Cars

WASHINGTON (AP) - The government Tuesday spurred defense mobilization with an order to quicken the nation's railroad freight traffic, and set a 24-hour limit on the turn around of freight cars ready to move. The interstate commerce commission, in issuing the order, sharply criticized delays in loading and unloading freight. It said the action was taken "to promote the national defense." In other defense moves: 1. Officials said an anti-hoarding order on steel, copper, tin, aluminum and other key materials may be expected before the end of this week. 2. The interior department began setting up a new agency - tentatively called the minerals and energy administration (MEA) - to prepare for possible emergency use of priorities and allocations of petroleum, gas, coal and electric power. The new organization is expected to start functioning, at least on a standby basis, within two weeks.

Iowa City Firm's Truck Stolen Tuesday Evening

A 1949 panel delivery truck belonging to C.O.D. cleaners, 324 S. Madison street, was reported stolen between 8:15 p.m. and 8:15 p.m. Tuesday. It was reported to police that the truck was taken from its parking place in front of 219 1/2 S. Linn street, where it had been parked by driver Roy Fay of the same address. The truck was reported to contain at least $200 worth of clothes.

Gamblers' Lawyer Rejects Demo Job

WASHINGTON (AP) - St. Louis Lawyer Morris Shenker, under Republican fire as attorney for "some of the largest gambling interests in America," Tuesday turned down a fund-raising job with the Democratic national committee. Sen. Alexander Wiley (R-Wis) announced, however, that Shenker's withdrawal "will not close the book on this disgraceful episode." Wiley linked the lawyer's appointment with what he called the "vicious Pendergast philosophy" in Missouri. Shenker rejected the appointment - made by Democratic National Chairman William M. Boyle Jr., four days ago - after Chairman Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn) of the senate's crime investigating committee had urged that he do so. In a telegram from Jefferson City, Mo., Shenker said he sometimes is "called upon to represent persons accused of violating laws" and "it is conceivable that my acceptance of this position might interfere with the rights of my clients."

Election Returns ...

(See Early Story on Page 5) Wesley Powell, 34-year-old lawyer-veteran, Tuesday jumped far ahead of Sen. Charles W. Tobey, in the fight for the Republican nomination in the New Hampshire primary. Powell, a World War II veteran, showed unexpected strength in communities carried in the past by Tobey. He also ran strongly in first returns from precincts in New Hampshire's 12 cities. With 274 precincts out of 297 in Powell had 34,410 and Tobey 32,087.

Plane Crewmen Await Rescue

TOKYO (WEDNESDAY) (AP) - Communist forces tried to bolster their sagging 50-mile north defense line today with an attack from the northwest to within seven miles of the key city of Taegu. The assault on the middle hinge of the line was the only current Communist threat against the 120-mile United Nations front. Elsewhere UN troops either held the initiative or awaited the next North Korean move along a stalemated battle line. American forces assaulted the scrub-covered hills north of Taegu after taking the important high ground just south of the walled city of Kansas about 10 miles above Taegu. They launched an attack on Hill No. 570, eight miles north of the city where an estimated 6,000 Reds were entrenched. In the only other important action by UN forces today the South Koreans gained another one to five miles east of Yongchon to thrust their line 12 miles east of that city. The Red assault in the area southeast of Waegwan was announced by the Eighth army which reported in its communique that the Communists had pushed back 1st Cavalry division troops in a night attack in the Sin-Dong area. A front dispatch said the enemy had taken three hills during the night but that one had been recaptured in a counterattack. Sin-Dong is only seven miles northwest of Taegu, and the Communist penetration there was their closest thrust yet to the spearhead city of the UN beachhead. After failing to crack the 1st Cavalry defenses north of Taegu the Reds Tuesday night began trying to reach the airfield northeast of the city with infiltrators, U.S. intelligence reports said. In an encouraging statement, Lt. Gen. Walton H. Walker, commander of the UN forces in Korea, said: "The worst is over. The enemy still has the initiative and is capable of hitting us anywhere on our 120-mile perimeter. But I am sure we can stop him."

WASHINGTON (AP) - The senate Tuesday night voted unanimously approval of a bill to give the five-star rank of general of the army to Gen. Omar N. Bradley, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff.

No Free Beer

SOMEWHERE IN KOREA (AP) - A howl of protest from the American front lines Tuesday greeted the army's ban on free beer for combat troops. Combat men have been receiving a ration of one small tin of beer daily. The army said it acted because of adverse public opinion in the United States. Henceforth beer will be available only to soldiers with change jingling in their pockets or with comrades free to make shopping trips behind the lines. An unofficial survey uncovered only one person in favor of the decision. Major J. R. Woodridge of Lynchburg, Va., defended the order this way: "I love beer as much as anyone. But that space in ships can be used for ammunition and essential war material."

Johnson Glum ...

WASHINGTON (AP) - Retiring Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson sat glumly with his wife, Ruth, Tuesday night while President Truman announced his resignation. "He just isn't up to having any pictures taken," Mrs. Johnson told a photographer when she answered the door at their Mayflower hotel apartment. "The secretary is not 'at home' this evening," she added. Sad-faced but dry-eyed, Mrs. Johnson was visibly broken up by her husband's decision.

Two Former Students Called to Active Duty

Two former SUI students were among the 122 army reservists ordered to active duty Tuesday, Iowa military district headquarters announced. Cpl. Robert C. Lynes, liberal arts senior from Oelwein, and Cpl. Ralph V. Schumacher, graduate student from New York City, were both ordered to report to Fort Hood, Texas, Sept. 28. Pvt. William D. Williams, route 2, also was ordered to report to Fort Hood at the same time. All were ordered to duty to serve a period of 21 months.

Search for Hurricane Victims —

HALIFAX, N.S. (AP) — Rescue vessels criss-crossed the storm-lashed waters off southwestern Nova Scotia Tuesday night searching for two small ships. The engines of one were dead and most of her gear had washed away; the other had been unheard from since early Tuesday morning.

Two other 50-foot swordfishing vessels which had been caught in the fierce Atlantic hurricane which struck the south coast of the province were safe at Wood's Harbor, N.S., after battling through pounding seas and high winds with all hands bailing with buckets.

Still missing were the Nickerson and Sir Echo. Each carried six men.

Lashing seas and a thick fog hampered the search being conducted by Canadian and United States ships for the two missing vessels.

Investigate Adoption Racket —

MEMPHIS, TENN. (AP) — Tennessee officials said Tuesday that foster parents from out of the state have paid $1-million at black market rates to adopt foundlings through a Memphis agency.

Gov. Gordon Browning ordered an inquiry into the operations, allegedly involving 1,000 babies in the past several years. He pledged to do "whatever means I can to make those guilty account for their actions."

To me, the governor said at Nashville, "there is no more revolting thing than to have it established that there is a traffic in babies where they are sold for a price."

All of the alleged trafficking in children was laid at the door of the state-supported Memphis branch of the Tennessee Children's home society.

Army Officer Questioned —

RENO, NEV. (AP) — Maj. Harold D. Banning, army finance officer arrested here for questioning in connection with the possible misapplication of $250,000 in Germany, was taken to San Francisco army headquarters Tuesday.

"I'll tell the whole story to the proper authorities at the proper time," said the handsome 39-year-old major as he left in the custody of army criminal investigators.

Banning, who said he had $100,000 when he arrived in this country last month, told reporters Tuesday he had that money when he first was assigned to Germany in 1949.

In a signed statement given sheriff's officers, Banning said he carried the money, all in bills of $20 or less, in several suitcases. He brought the money back to this country in the same manner, he added.

He wouldn't explain where he got it, saying only: "It is my own personal fund and has nothing to do with the army."

Shaw Still 'Very Weak' —

LUTON, ENGLAND (AP) — George Bernard Shaw was "very weak" Tuesday night and his doctor said he would have to remain in his hospital bed for at least two weeks.

A medical authority said privately that the 94-year-old playwright may never walk again as a result of the fall in which he broke a thigh bone.

Hospital authorities reported at midnight (4 p.m. Iowa time) that Shaw's condition had remained unchanged through the evening and that he had been given sedatives again to assure rest.

A nurse stayed at his bedside throughout the night and his doctors remained on call only a few minutes away.

German Reds to Start Sabotage Soon—Officials

FRANKFURT, GERMANY (AP) — Western officials voiced alarm Tuesday that the opening gun in a do-or-die Communist sabotage campaign may be fired in Western Germany soon.

They estimated that at least 2,000 Communist fifth columnists — many of them graduates of Soviet sabotage schools — have swarmed over the border from Red Germany.

Some German authorities estimate the number much higher — at 15,000, or the equivalent of a full infantry division. Some are said to have brought in small arms and explosives. Officials said it would take five army divisions to stop the flow of Communist agents across the long, heavily-wooded border.

The recent pattern of Communist activity, Allied sources said, indicates that the Kremlin has decided upon direct action to disrupt the west's projected defense buildup.

A widespread series of Communist riots erupted in West Berlin, Frankfurt and Darmstadt Sunday. Communist violence broke out in Hamburg a few days earlier.

Tons of printed Communist propaganda against western powers as "foreign masters" and "warmongers" are being smuggled in from the east.

The Communist "national resistance" program openly calls on west Germans to halt strategic shipments to the west and to sabotage any rearmament program within Germany.

The Communists are expected to lash first at railroads and at factories producing for the west. If this succeeds, they would then strike at bridges and military installations.

Allied trains would be attacked since that would endanger few Germans.

One official said: "I hesitate to ride the Berlin train any more." He referred to the American military train which runs between Frankfurt and Berlin.

Freight trains funneling steel and other goods to the armament plants and armies of western Europe also are among likely targets, officials said.

Although the Communists have lost control of west German unions, die-hards still could carry out effective sabotage in many factories such as steel plants.

There are 150,000 to 180,000 hard-carrying Communists in western Germany — most of them factory workers.

It's Still the Same Old Story

Interpreting the News —

Claims MacArthur Forecast Korean War in 1945

By J.M. ROBERTS JR., AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Douglas MacArthur foresaw an American clash with Russia in Korea as early as October 1945.

Russia's efforts to obtain absolute rule in North Korea and a clash over accidental violations of the 38th parallel by American planes had convinced him of that, he told Albert Z. Carr, former White House adviser who tells the story in his latest book, "Truman, Stalin and Peace," published by Doubleday.

Carr was first an assistant to Donald Nelson in the war production board, shifting to the Roosevelt office in 1944 as an economic adviser. He made two trips to China in connection with the American effort to reach a solution of the problem there before the Communists took over, and later served two years in Germany as consultant to the inter-Ally reparations agency.

Carr says he wrote the book primarily to tell some untold stories of the maneuvering of late war and early postwar days.

One interesting sidelight is a MacArthur estimate of Jakob Malik, made several years before the Russian obtained international notoriety through his actions in the UN.

MacArthur, after talking to Malik, decided the Russian was "economically ignorant," even regarding the bases of his own politico-economic philosophy.

MacArthur also quoted Malik as saying that the Russians had not even yet the idea of the Comintern, and were planning on it to win out, perhaps a hundred years from now.

Carr apparently is in major agreement with current American foreign policy, as far as it goes, but recommends going farther. He thinks western rearmament should be accompanied by direct notice to Moscow that aggression means war wherever it occurs.

In this respect Carr seems a bit cloudy on the relationship of actual military strength to policy, and the need for rearmament before, not concurrently with, such a stand.

Carr supports the theory of expanded propaganda warfare, but feels that the present Voice of America program is not sufficiently down to earth for the lay audience at which it is directed, and not sufficiently coupled with economic measures which the public can see is the direct result of American policy.

He thinks the Marshall plan has been directed too much toward business improvement from the top and not enough toward giving the European man in the street something that he can use and eat and know is American.

Carr thinks that American failure to supply a large postwar reconstruction loan caused Stalin to decide that Russia must make her own way alone, and set the spark to the cold war.

He attributes much of the tension to such personal and legalistic conflicts as that between former Secretary of State James Byrnes and Molotov.

He cites Truman's dispatch of Harry Hopkins to Moscow in search of a modus vivendi, and the abortive idea for a similar trip by Justice Fred M. Vinson in 1948, as the reverse side of the personal diplomacy picture, and says the Hopkins trip eased a very dangerous situation.

Carr sticks pretty closely to things that he knew about or had something to do with, which may explain some of this apparent disregard of what now seems obvious, that Stalin & Co. never had any real intention of cooperating for postwar recovery.

Or the author may consider that his refusal to become overheated about Russia lends character to his book, which is less a thesis than a reporting job, anyway.

North Korean Drives Slowed Down

ARROWS INDICATE SOUTH KOREAN ground fighting Tuesday as action centered in the areas north of Taegu (A) and southwest of Pohang (B). At Taegu the Allies have eased the pressure north of the city by driving back a Red outpost. In the east coast sector UN forces sought to close a trap on a Red force between Kyongju and Angang (circle). The Allies also drove across the Angang-Pohang road on the east and South Koreans advanced to within six miles of Angang on the west.

Open Hearing Set Today Into Troop Train Wreck

COSHOCTON, OHIO, (AP) — The "why" in the West Lafayette train collision, which killed 33 soldiers before they had a chance to fight may be answered today.

Why did an air hose on their troop train break? (This locked the brakes and stalled the train.) Why did the automatic safety signals fail to stop the onrushing "Spirit of St. Louis"?

Why did the Spirit's engine crew fail to see the red flares on the track? Why did the engineer fail to see the disabled troop train on the same track? Lt. Col. Frank Towend, commander of the troop train, said he and others saw the Spirit "a mile away" and "thought it would surely see the flares and lantern and stop."

The Pennsylvania railroad announced it would try to answer the questions of the 33 soldiers' survivors and the public in an open hearing at Pittsburgh this morning. It made the announcement as military authorities still were striving to identify 10 of the 33, whose mangled bodies were removed from the wreckage after the Spirit crashed into the rear of the troop train at 5:15 a.m. Monday.

W. E. Eller of Midvale, Pa., 65-year-old engineer of the Spirit's diesel locomotive, will be there. He has declined to talk with newspapermen about the accident.

Most of the uninjured among the 500 Pennsylvania national guardsmen, who were aboard the ill-fated train, finally reached their destination — Camp Atterbury, Ind. — Tuesday, and were greeted like heroes. Thirteen of the approximately 50 injured remained in Memorial hospital here.

State Defense Group Holds First Meeting Begins Spadework

DES MOINES (AP) — Iowa's civilian defense advisory committee decided at its first meeting Tuesday to proceed with preliminary work pending arrival of the federal government's uniform plan of protection.

The 14 members, with one absent, agreed that three things need to be done now. They are:

1. Appointment of subcommittees to supervise a statewide inventory of water plants, utilities and transportation facilities. The appointments will be made by Rodney Q. Selby, Des Moines, state defense director.
2. Direct the county defense chairmen to proceed with selection of leadership personnel so that they will be ready for specific assignments after the federal plan has been received and studied by the committee.
3. Request Gov. William S. Beardsley to appoint as a 16th member of the committee a representative of the American Red Cross.

It was explained that the Red Cross has agreed to accept certain responsibilities in case of national disaster or emergency. Selby, director of the Iowa development commission and who headed the state civilian defense setup in World War II days, explained that the national plan has been slow in arriving.

He told the committee that it now is promised by next week or Oct. 1 at the latest. He explained that he has no knowledge of what is in it but said he understands it is in very detailed and covers 150 mimeographed pages. Selby first asked the committee for an expression on whether the state committee should proceed with its own plan. Later he recommended that the committee await the federal plan.

Dr. Walter L. Biering, state health department commissioner and a committee member, outlined the defense medical and health organization being set up statewide. He offered that program's table of organization.

M. F. Washburne, Davenport, said he thought time was wasting but that he believed it would be better to wait for the national plan because it would be uniform between states. This, he added, would be of particular benefit in his area.

Arab News Agency Reports Invasion By Israeli Forces

CAIRO, EGYPT (AP) — The British-controlled Arab news agency said Tuesday night that Israeli troops have "invaded" Jordan and seized a vital area near the Ruttenberg hydroelectric project south of the Sea of Galilee.

Israeli troops began the attack Aug. 27. Jordan's Arab legion drove the Israeli forces out, but the Israeli units regained the area in a battle the following day.

King Abdullah reportedly has asked the United States, Britain and France to implement the big three declaration of May 25 which some Middle East quarters have interpreted as a guarantee of the borders and true lines between the Arab states and Israel.

Before the Palestine war the Jordan river formed the boundary between Palestine and Jordan in the area in question. Jordan herself now has annexed Arab parts of Palestine, including territory west of the Jordan river, which are not parts of Israel.

Set Geophysical Research Civil Service Exams

The Civil service commission Tuesday announced examinations for jobs ranging from $3,825 to $10,000 a year with the newly organized Geophysical Research Directorate of the air force.

Job openings exist in the fields of chemistry, physics and meteorology in the air force laboratories at Cambridge, Mass. The work is concerned with atmospheric research, the commission announced.

As a basic requirement for the chemist or physicist positions, applicants must have completed an appropriate 4-year college course or have had a combination of such college study and pertinent experience totaling four years.

Meteorologists must have either completed an appropriate four-year college course or have had four years of pertinent experience.

In addition to meeting the basic requirement, applicants for all of the positions must have had responsible professional experience, including appropriate research or scientific investigative work.

Pertinent graduate study may be substituted for not more than two years of the required professional experience for any position. No written test will be given.

The age limits, 18 to 62, will be waived for veterans. Persons desiring further information and application forms may do so by contacting Lester J. Parizek in the postoffice.

School Blockaded Again After Fiery Cross Burns

ONWARD, IND., (UP) — Angry parents restored a bumper-to-bumper barricade of cars around the Onward school building Tuesday after the burning of a fiery cross in Ku Klux Klan fashion.

The parents are protesting a proposal to move high school classes of the school to the rival town of Walton.

Most high school students showed up for classes here, where there were no teachers for them. They were set to work teaching themselves.

The fiery cross was discovered burning north of town Monday night. It consisted of a newly-cut sapling with a two-by-four as a crossbar, and was covered with burlap sacks soaked in kerosene.

Sheriff Claude Berkshire said he believed the cross was the work of an "outside agitator" and was not fired by Onward residents.

Parents picketing the school building left their posts to rush out and tear down the cross, and denied they were responsible.

Later the parents restored a bumper-to-bumper blockade of the school with cars and trucks, a device which had been abandoned Monday.

Picketing began last week because of a move to change the school structure in Tipton township. Trustee Virgil Turner had ordered dissolution of consolidated schools at Onward and Walton and said that all high school students would be taught at Walton and all grade students at Onward.

But Onward parents wouldn't hear of the switch and blockaded their school to prevent movement of high school desks and equipment to Walton.

A few high school students deserted the cause and went to Walton, but Onward Principal William Helms said most were attending classes here.

Helms appointed student teachers and classes were held in English, mathematics, home economics, biology and history. "They're all doing very well," Helms said. "I've never seen them half as interested in schoolwork when they had regular teachers."

Drill 560 Feet for Council Bluffs Oil

COUNCIL BLUFFS (AP) — Drilling reached 560 feet late Tuesday on southwest Iowa's first oil test well, Lee Dent, Wichita, Kan., boss driller, reported.

Dent said a 15 inch, 1,600 pound drill was punching through shale and mud and occasional limestone deposits at the rate of about 100 feet a day.

Although drilling began about 10 days ago, Dent said operations were bogged down when water bearing sand was reached at about 100 feet.

Some observers expressed belief that the drilling apparatus hit the old Missouri river bottom at 100 feet. However, the river channel now is several miles east of the drilling site.

Riggers, employed by the Council Bluffs Oil Exploration Trust company, are working 24 hours a day.

"We expect to drill to 2,800 feet or granite in this region, or wherever we reached oil," Dent said.

C-47 Transport Missing From Alaskan Air Base

ANCHORAGE, ALASKA (AP) — An airforce C-47 transport was reported missing Tuesday on a flight from interior Alaska to the Elmendorf base near here. Five men were aboard.

The plane disappeared late Monday night, the Elmendorf information office reported. A wide scale search was launched Tuesday by planes of the tenth rescue squadron and airforce fighters.

YWCA Plans Open House For New Students Today

New students and their parents will be guests of the SUI YWCA at an open house this afternoon between 1:30 and 5. The open house will be held in the YWCA rooms in the Iowa Union.

Freshman and transfer students will have an opportunity to meet Miss Donna Adcock, new executive secretary for the SUI women's group, according to Sue Orsborn, publicity director.

Tandy Appointed To Replace Grahl

DES MOINES (AP) — Gov. William S. Beardsley Tuesday named Lt. Col. Fred C. Tandy acting Iowa adjutant general during the absence of Adj. Gen. Charles H. Grahl.

Tandy's appointment will become effective on the date that Grahl begins a tour of active duty with the army, the governor said.

Grahl announced Monday he had applied for active duty and was awaiting orders from the army. His regular term as Iowa adjutant general expires June 30, 1951.

In appointing Tandy, the governor acted on a recommendation of the national guard advisory board. Beardsley granted Grahl an indefinite leave of absence.

Hughes to Attend Meet Of U.S. Law Students

R. Bruce Hughes, L3, Sioux City, was scheduled to leave town today to attend the national convention of the American Law Students organization in Washington, D.C.

Hughes is president of region eight of American Law Students. The region includes Minnesota, Nebraska, Arkansas, North and South Dakota and Iowa. He recently was elected by the region as its nominee for the position of national vice-president.

The convention begins Friday and lasts through Sept. 20, he said.

Harvester Offers 10c Hourly Wage Boost

CHICAGO (AP) — Recent wage settlements in the auto industry prompted a new and bigger offer Tuesday from the strikebound International Harvester company.

The company proposed a 10 cents hourly hike for its 50,000 striking workers in 11 plants. The company's previous offer of seven cents had been turned down by the CIO united auto workers union, representing 23,000 workers, and the Farm Equipment-United Electrical Workers, representing 27,000.

The unions have asked for a 15-cent hourly wage increase.

The unions went into separate conferences with the company on the offer without commenting publicly.

Harvester said it boosted its offer because auto industry wage settlements were "somewhat greater" than the old proposal. It said the 10 cents hourly plan would cost the company about $22-million a year.

The company said the new offer would make average straight time hourly earnings range from $1.78 to $1.80. It said this is above the auto industry level and "ahead of the trend" in the farm equipment industry.

City School Board Hires 5 Teachers

Five persons were appointed to teaching positions in the public schools by the Iowa City school board Tuesday night.

Those named were: Mrs. Virginia Collins, kindergarten, Longfellow school; Mrs. Anne H. Walton, third grade, Longfellow; Cella O. Eckey, instrumental music; Mrs. Martha Fieseler, fourth grade, Lincoln, and Mrs. Betty Minor, fifth and sixth grade, Henry Sabin.

The school board also granted eleven salary increases for teachers and hired Merrill R. Annis, 1025 Washington street, and Clinton M. Kelly, 1119 Fairchild street, as custodians.

Coaches Divide Iowa Squad Into Two Units

Iowa's football coaches took a big step toward selecting a 40 man traveling squad Tuesday when they divided the 66 man Hawkeye squad into two units. Various offensive and defensive units also began to take shape as the squad and coaches continued a crucial week of practice in pre-promise in Tuesday's stiffest contact session of the year. Those in the select group, which of course is subject to change, ran through signal drills against a light defense Tuesday while the coaching staff was at the other end of the field evaluating the talents of the other players. In the 32-man first squad are five sophomores, 17 juniors and ten seniors. A group of six ends, from which must come replacements for Jack Dittmer and Bob McKenzie, has been selected. There is a possibility that one or two more ends will be picked to bolster the Iowa passing game. The ends on the first squad are Seniors Jerry Long and Bob Hoff, Juniors Dave DeProspero, Arnold Caplan and Dick Meyer and Sophomore Don Swartzendruber.

center selections. Ron Petersen and Jerry Hilgenberg were also picked for the position. At guards, those picked were Austin Turner, Lou Ginsberg, Bob Lage, Ron Fairchild, "Junebug" Perin, and Clyde Gardner. In the other line position, tackle, Dudley Noble, Don Woodhouse, Joe Paulsen, Bob Bain, Andy Buntz, Hubert Johnston and Harold Bradley were the selections. A possible starting lineup ran through signal drills Tuesday afternoon following passing, blocking and tackling drills. Here's the way the team lined up: right end — Hoff; right tackle — Bradley; right guard — Turner; center — Towner; left guard — Ginsberg; left tackle — Johnston and left end — Long.

Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests

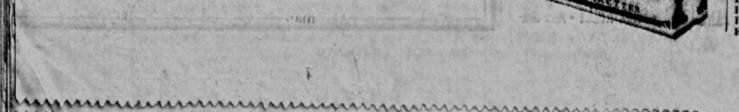

Number 1...THE PUFFIN BIRD

"What's all the huffin' and puffin' about?
I've been a Puffin all my life!"

You may think this "bird" is funny — but he's no odder than many of the cigarette tests you're asked to make these days. One puff of this brand — one sniff of that. A quick inhale — a fast exhale — and you're supposed to know what cigarette to smoke from then on. The sensible test doesn't have to rely on tricks and short cuts. It's a day-after-day, pack-after-pack tryout — for 30 days. That's the test Camel asks you to make! Smoke Camels regularly for 30 days. Your "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste) is the best possible proving ground for any cigarette. After you've made the Camel 30-Day Mildness Test, we believe you'll know why...

Robin Roberts Hurls Phils over Cards, 1-0

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Young Robin Roberts won a brilliant 1-0 pitching duel from Max Lanier and the St. Louis Cardinals Tuesday night to annex his 19th victory of the year and preserve the Philadelphia Phillies' six and one-half game National league lead.

The margin of victory was Andy Seminick's booming fifth inning home run. The Phils' catcher celebrated his 30th birthday to the joy of 20,864 fans.

Lanier gave up only two hits in seven innings of work while Roberts was touched for five safeties. Roberts however, had the benefit of some weird St. Louis base running.

The Cards had Roberts on the ropes in the first inning as Red Schoendienst led off with a left field double that barely eluded Dick Sisler's outstretched arms.

Roberts then gave up his only walk of the game, a pass to Marty Marion. But Stan Musial forced Marion at second and then, after Bill Howerton struck out and with Enos Slaughter at the plate, Seminick threw Musial out trying to steal.

The fans thought the Cards were trying a double steal, but Schoendienst didn't leave third.

BROOKLYN (AP) — Ewell Blackwell of the Cincinnati Reds held the Dodgers to one hit Tuesday — a single by Gene Hermanski — but threw his game away in a wild eighth inning in which the home team scored twice without hitting the ball out of the infield to win, 3-1.

Blackwell opened the fateful eighth by hitting Catcher Bruce Edwards in the back with a pitched ball, and before it ended he had thrown wildly past first base, walked the Dodger pitcher, Carl Erskine, and uncorked a wild pitch.

Big Ted Kluszewski's 24th homerun of the year gave the Reds their only run off young Erskine, who yielded three hits. Blackwell, who doubled in the eighth, was the only other Red to reach second.

Little Hawks Open Grid Season Friday Against Roosevelt

Iowa City's Little Hawks open their 1950 football season Friday night with a Mississippi Valley conference game against Roosevelt of Cedar Rapids. The game scheduled for 8 p.m. will be played on the local gridiron.

The Hawks placed second in the conference last year with a four win, two lost record and an overall mark of five won, and four lost.

Roosevelt, with a last year's record of one win and eight losses will start the game as a logical underdog, but city high Coach Frank Bates, pointed out that on the basis of returning lettermen the teams should be evenly matched. City high has 11 lettermen returning and Roosevelt has ten.

Roosevelt will probably use an unbalanced single wing offense against the T-formation of the Little Hawks, Bates said.

Bates has not yet determined a starting line-up but he said the punting will be handled by Mickey Moore, the passing by Ed Morgan, the kickoffs by Jim Freeman, and the placekicking by Jerry White.

Most of the quarterbacking will be done by John White, Bates said.

Indians Nip Yanks; Tigers, Red Sox Win

CLEVELAND (AP) — With two men out, Luke Easter belted a three-run, ninth-inning homer Tuesday night to enable the Cleveland Indians to beat the New York Yankees, 8-7. The defeat shoved the Yankees into second place, one half game behind the Detroit Tigers.

The Yanks entered the inning, leading 7-4. Allie Reynolds, apparently riding to his 14th victory, got the first man out, then walked two men. Then Tom Ferrick, the Yanks' ace fireman, took over.

Bob Kennedy slashed a double to center, scoring Joe Gordon and moving Thurman Tucker to third. Larry Doby fanned for the second out. Then Easter socked his second homer of the evening over the right field fence to end the game.

DETROIT TAKES FIRST
DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Tigers made their five hits pay off in a big way Tuesday as they eked out a 3-2 decision over the stubborn Washington Senators.

Senator starting Pitcher Gene Bearden was stung with base hits but seven walks proved costly. Paul (Dizzy) Trout was tagged for eight hits but some stout-hearted defense work enabled him to stagger to his 13th win before a slim crowd of 5,092.

Washington's biggest offensive didn't net them a run but threw a scare into the Tigers as two pinch-hitters came through in the ninth.

With one out, Pinchhitter Sherry Robertson singled to left. Pinchhitter Harold Keller followed with a long double to the same field. A beautiful relay from Johnny Groth to Johnny Lipon to Bob Swift cut Robertson down at the plate to nip that threat.

The teams traded home runs, Vic Wertz hitting No. 27 for Detroit with Ed Stewart getting No. 4 for the Senators.

Detroit pushed over a pair of runs in the third inning on a walk to Lipon and successive doubles by George Kell and Vic Wertz, with Wertz adding a final run with his four-bagger in the fifth.

Williams Plans for Basketball

Although interest in the sports world is reaching a peak now in major league baseball and college football, Iowa basketball Coach Rollie Williams is already making plans for opening cage drills the first week of October.

"During the first few weeks, I plan to split the squad into two sections and drill each one twice a week," Williams said. "Then about Nov. 1 we'll start daily practice with a single squad."

Williams said that several basketball players have returned to school and asked his permission to get a ball and start practicing on the fieldhouse court. "I turned this request down," Williams said, "because they're going to get enough practice and playing during the year. That season is a long one."

Fear of overworking the squad is responsible for limiting the first practice to two a week, Williams said.

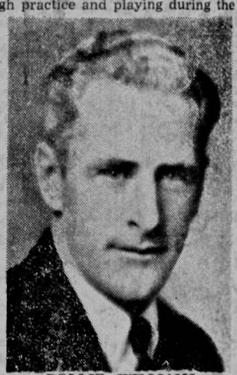

The new Iowa coach who took over after Pops Harrison was fired in the spring, has reason to look upon this coming season with optimism. Back from last year's team are the sky scrapers, Chuck Darling and Frank Calsbeck, Guard Finky Clifton, Forward Dick Riecks and Guard Skip Greene.

"We also have a few boys that show promise enrolled here," Williams said. "There are just a few but you don't need many in basketball."

A lot of experts picked Iowa for the conference championship on the basis of last season's strong finish. Of course, Williams and his players can't ignore the favorites tag that has been hung on them. But, Rollie doesn't necessarily agree with them.

"You can never tell how tough any team is going to be until you play them," Williams observed. "You've got to have a good ball club to win in the Big Ten but you've also got to be lucky. Sometimes it seems a team will play very good ball with the exception of scoring. If you can't hit you can't win ball games." Sometimes a basketball team will get in a scoring slump just as a baseball player gets in a batting slump.

When this happens, it's impossible to predict the outcome of a Big Ten game.

ROLLIE WILLIAMS

A 40 man Iowa squad plans to fly to Los Angeles for the Sept. 29 opener against Southern Cal this year. This marks the first time an Iowa football squad has travelled by air.

The squad, with a corps of coaches, trainers, doctors athletic officials and an official university camera man, will leave from the Cedar Rapids airport Wednesday, Sept. 27. It's expected that the flight will leave about 9 a.m. (Iowa time) and arrive in Los Angeles at 3 p.m. (Pacific coast time.)

After the Friday night game which will start at 10 p.m. (Iowa time) the troupe will start the trip back to Cedar Rapids the following morning.

Iowa plans to work out in the Los Angeles Coliseum, site of the game, the preceding Wednesday and Thursday night.

This year, the number of players that can be carried on a Big Ten team's traveling squad has been increased from 33 to 40.

Chicago Downs Braves, 3-1

BOSTON (AP) — Rookie Ransom Jackson, who rejoined the Chicago Cubs Tuesday morning, clouted a two-run homer in the eighth inning Tuesday night as the Boston Braves suffered a 3-1 setback before a chilled 3,392 crowd.

It was the smallest night-game gathering in this city's major league history. The win was the Cubs' first triumph in their last five starts and their second in 13 games.

Not a Cub had gone beyond second base until Jackson banged the ball against the left field scoreboard after Pitcher Bob Rush opened the eighth by drawing a base on balls.

The Jackson four-bagger, his second of the year for the Cubs, was the third of the five hits made off Vern Bickford.

Bickford's fifth pass plus singles by Roy Smalley and Wayne Terwilliger gave the Cubs their third run in the ninth.

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Al Widmar hurlled the St. Louis Browns to a three-hit 6-0 shutout over the last-place Philadelphia Athletics Tuesday night extending the Browns' winning streak to six straight games.

Only in the eighth did Widmar appear to be in trouble. Elmer Vaio opened with a single, the A's hit and the Billy Hitchcock walked. After the next two men filed out Widmar walked Joe Coleman, filling the sacks, but Eddie Joost filed out.

NEW YORK (AP) — Sheldon Jones turned in a six-hit pitching Giants opened their final home stand against the National league's western clubs with a 3-0 victory over the last-place Pittsburgh Pirates.

It was Jones' 12th victory of the season and the 17th shutout by a member of the Giant mound corps. Pittsburgh, the victim of six of the blankings, lost its 8th straight decision to New York and its 43th in the last 14 meetings between the clubs.

Southpaw Bill Werle kept the Giants in check with three hits and a single unearned run until he weakened in the late innings.

Britain to Send More Troops To Germany, Attlee Announces

LONDON. (AP) — Prime Minister Attlee announced Tuesday Britain will send several thousand more troops to Germany and divert other thousands of men into a hurry-up rearmament drive to guard against another Korea.

But opposition leader Winston Churchill said this was not enough. The Conservative chieftain demanded that a European army of at least 60 to 70 divisions be raised to close that "hideous gap" in western defenses, and warned the prime minister to accept the fact that such an army "with a strong German quota is going to be raised quite quickly."

Churchill told the house of commons the Labor government had been "conspicuously lacking in forethought, conviction and design" and had embarked on its rearmament drive only after a second urging from a "bitterly disappointed" United States.

Attlee's plan, he said, would put three British divisions in Germany. "I don't think that should be accepted as a full and complete contribution of our part," he added.

The mild-mannered Attlee said the two under-strength British divisions already in Germany will be brought up to full fighting weight and a third combat division sent to join them.

This meant Britain will have between 45,000 and 54,000 fighting men on guard on the west's front line of defense.

His announcement followed President Truman's decision of a few days ago to send an undisclosed number of new divisions to Germany.

Attlee further announced Britain will:

- 1. Build up her present six and a half regular divisions to 10, and organize 12 divisions of territorial, the British equivalent of the U.S. national guard.
- 2. Expand her military industrial capacity to the fullest "without resorting to the drastic expedients of war economy."
- 3. Impose new austerity measures, which will mean fewer radios, television sets, houses, cars and other civilian goods.
- 4. Divert 250,000 workers into arms production as part of a 3.6-billion pound ($10,000,000,000) defense program in the next three years in which financial and material help is expected from the United States.
- 5. Take over allocation of scarce raw materials if necessary to keep the arms program hopping at full speed.
- 6. Review government controls over the present export of goods of potential war value to Russia and the Cominform countries.

He stressed the urgency of his program by asking the house to approve within four days — by Friday — a bill extending to two years the present 18-month service of draftees.

Truman Signs Bill For Armory Buildings WASHINGTON (AP) — President Truman Tuesday signed legislation authorizing the expenditure of $250-million for the construction of armories for the national guard and other armed forces reserve units.

However, congress in passing the bill agreed that none of the funds authorized will be made available through appropriations until the Korean war has been won.

CHICAGO INVESTIGATION INTO CONDITIONS AT JUVENILE HOME BEGINS

CHICAGO (P) — County authorities Tuesday opened a full-scale investigation of reports by former inmates, most of them young girls, of sex orgies, brutality and unsanitary conditions in the juvenile detention home.

Family Court Judge Robert J. Dunne ordered the inquiry after making public a partial report of conditions found at the home by his investigators in the last week.

According to the reports, one 17-year-old girl said that brutal and immoral things she saw at the home had ruined her own morals.

Others reported that a male employe had sexual relations with a young girl inmate after bribing her with cigarettes.

A matron bathing a three-year-old boy held his head under water because he cried.

Small girls, lacking proper knowledge, were forced to care for infants in the home.

A 16-year-old girl who was ill was confined to a room which had only a bucket for sanitary facilities.

The reports included tales of beating by guards, racial discrimination and corruption of young children, and came on the heels of charges of love life, liquor and dope traffic in the county jail.

Dunne said some of the reports about the juvenile home may be "slightly exaggerated" but that he believed there was enough evidence to warrant investigation.

Primary Elections Held in Seven States

By UNITED PRESS (See late story page 1) Seven states held primary elections Tuesday in a home-stretch race to line up opposing slates for the November elections.

The nation had its first glimpse of general election strength from the states, which went Republican as usual in returning a governor and sending congressmen to office Monday.

Vermont was one of the states voting in primary elections. The others were New Hampshire, Michigan, Minnesota, Colorado, Arizona and Washington.

In New Hampshire, interest centered on the fight of Sen. Charles W. Tobey, 70-year-old Republican "liberal," to win renomination against a youthful attorney.

Veteran Sen. Carl Hayden of Arizona faced his toughest political fight since 1932 in the Democratic primary. His opponents were a druggist and a farmer.

But incumbents in the other senate races — Sen. George A. Aiken, (R-Vt.), Sen. Eugene Millikin (R-Colo.) and Sen. Warren G. Magnuson (D-Wash) — faced no opposition.

Republican Gov. Sherman Adams of New Hampshire had opposition from a state senator, and incumbent Gov. Dan Garvey of Arizona was rated a pre-election choice over five others in the Democratic race.

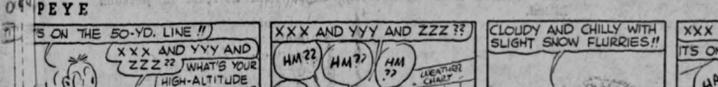

In Vermont, where GOP nomination is tantamount to election, three Republicans bid for the governor's chair being vacated by Harold J. Arthur, who was locked in a four-way battle for nomination to the state's only congressional seat.

Gov. Luther W. Youngdahl had opposition from four other Republicans in the Minnesota election, but Democratic Gov. Walter W. Johnson had no opposition for re-nomination in Colorado.

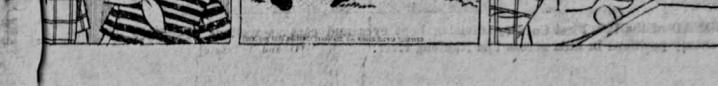

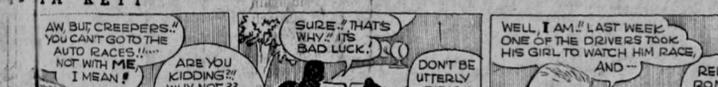

Incumbents had little opposition in the congressional races. A top contest was in Michigan's 16th district, where no less than 22 Democrats and five Republicans were bidding for the seat vacated by the death of Rep. John Lesinski, Democratic chairman of the house labor committee.
