Atlantic Pact Nations Open Talks on European Defense

NEW YORK (UP) - Foreign ministers of the 12 North Atlantic pact members opened talks Friday on merging their military might into an unprecedented unified force to defend western Europe.

Keynote of the session was struck by Dutch Foreign Minister Dirk U. Stikker who, informants said, asked his colleagues: "What will happen to our countries if a general conflict breaks out?"

In this connection, observers pointed out that the United States is on record as willing to throw its full weight into the fight in Europe on the first day of any attack, rather than plan for any later-day "liberation."

However, the United States has stipulated that western Europe must pledge its full share of support and has taken the view that such support must include armed units from west Germany.

Secretary of State Dean Acheson, chairman of the foreign minister council for this year, will have a fight on his hands in getting this policy adopted, chiefly because of British and French leanness over rearming the Germans only five years after defeat of Nazism.

In the first phase of big three western talks that ended Thursday, British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin and French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman showed continued reluctance to go along with creation of German army units.

Main item before the delegates was reported as "fair."

representing 10 European countries, plus Canada and the United States, was the problem of quickly boosting the numbers of soldiers, guns and planes "on hand" in Europe to deter any aggression from the east.

Two More Polio Cases Reported

Three polio patients entered University hospitals Friday, bringing the number of active cases to 33.

The patients, both admitted in "fair" condition were John Wagner, 1, West Point, and John Westfall, 7, Wapello.

At the same time six persons were discharged from the hospitals. They were: John Hemmingson, 6, West Union; Ray Thompson 30, Decorah; Carol McCormick, 8, Decorah; Dorothy Wenger, 24, Waterloo; Janet Ashland, 6, Clear Lake, and Charles Craig, 5, Marengo.

Robert Mawdsley, 15-year-old Iowa City boy, was admitted to University hospitals Friday night suffering from polio. His condition was reported as "fair."

Congress Okays Marshall For Defense Post

WASHINGTON (AP) - Congress Friday night approved the appointment of Gen. George C. Marshall as secretary of defense. By big votes both the house and senate passed a special bill waiving - for Marshall only - a provision of the 1947 unification law which forbids appointment of a military man to the defense secretaryship.

The house acted first by a vote of 220 to 105. The senate followed suit a few hours later.

In both chambers the opposition was led by Republicans who warned against "undermining" the traditional principle of civil control over the military.

When the bill goes to the White House President Truman will sign it at once and then formally submit Marshall's nomination to the senate for confirmation.

That will be mere routine after the votes of confidence in the 69-year-old five - star general who served during World War II as army chief of staff and later as secretary of state.

Mr. Truman called Marshall out of retirement earlier this week to succeed Defense Secretary Louis Johnson who resigned under congressional fire. Johnson's resignation is effective next Tuesday, and barring a hitch, Marshall should be confirmed and ready to take over the cabinet post by Wednesday.

The house wrote in by voice vote an amendment saying the appointment should not be a precedent for naming military men to the cabinet post.

Iowans Vote ...

WASHINGTON (AP) - Seven of Iowa's eight Republican representatives in congress Friday voted with the minority as congress passed a bill, clearing the way for Gen. George C. Marshall to be secretary of defense.

Sen. Bourke Hickenlooper also voted against the bill when it was passed by the senate. Democratic Sen. Guy Gillette voted for the bill. Rep. Thomas Martin was not listed as voting.

CENTENARIAN RECOVERING COUNCIL BLUFFS (AP) - Thomas Daugherty, 100, oldest resident of Woodbine, was recovering in a hospital here Friday from a broken hip. Hospital attendants, who said Daugherty broke his hip in a fall at his home Wednesday, described his condition as "good."

U.S. to Convert New Luxury Liner To Troop Carrier

WASHINGTON (AP) - Four passenger vessels, including the 48,000-ton luxury liner S.S. United States, will be fitted out as troop transports, the maritime board disclosed Friday.

The other three are 13,000-ton vessels - the Presidents Jackson, Hayes and Adams - being built for the American President lines.

The United States, being built with the other ships under government supervision, will be equipped to carry 12,000 troops and the smaller vessels from 2500 to 3000 each.

The announcement said the change in plans was made on request of the defense department on recommendation of the joint chiefs of staff.

Two other vessels being built for American export lines will be finished as commercial passenger ships as originally planned.

The decision to finish the superliner as a troop ship indicated the military authorities are thinking far ahead.

Completion of the giant vessel, which is only a little smaller than the record size British vessels, the Queen Mary and Queen Elizabeth, had been scheduled for the spring of 1952. The other three ships were scheduled for completion in the spring of 1951. All these completion dates, however, are now expected to be speeded.

American Soldiers See Buddies Burned By Reds

WITH THE U.S. SECOND DIVISION IN KOREA (AP) - American soldiers told an army inquiry board Friday that at least three of their buddies were thrown into a huge roaring fire by their Red captors on the western front recently.

This latest grisly story in a list of North Korean atrocities against captured Americans came to light at a U.S. Second division investigation.

There have been many proven instances of American prisoners being shot to death with their hands tied behind their backs. In one of these established cases, a North Korean woman guerrilla did the shooting.

The burned Americans were captured when Reds overran their advance outpost Aug. 31. Their escaped comrades told the board of inquiry that at least three American GI's were thrown into a bonfire, about the feet across, built for that purpose with old blankets and anything else available.

Sgt. Lester Marcum of Vaughn's Mill, Ky., said he was 200 to 300 yards away from the fire and saw three Americans hurled alive into the flames. He said he heard one of them scream: "Don't do it! Don't do it!"

S/Sgt. Max H. Stephen 23, of Milliken, Colo., said he witnessed the fire death from 150 feet. He lay still, he said, hoping the Reds would not see him.

Stephen said the first man thrown into the fire appeared to be badly wounded. He was carried to the fire, Stephen continued, and made no effort to crawl out.

The second man, Stephen said walked with difficulty as he was prodded up to the blaze. He pleaded with the Reds not to burn him, but "they slugged him with something and threw him in."

Stephen said he was unable to watch the third man thrown into the fire, but heard the soldier scream with pain. Stephen said a Red spotted him and fired at him but that he managed to escape to American lines.

The area where the burning took place has not been recaptured.

Planes of the Philippine air force were alerted to transport medical supplies, clothing, and food to the islanders.

MacArthur Directs Forces of Invasion

TOKYO (SATURDAY) (AP) - Big gains by United Nations amphibious forces landed at Incheon were reported today by a South Korean naval spokesman as troops along the southeast Korea beachhead began a general attack to cut up the Reds' 140,000 man army.

The spokesman told Associated Press Correspondent Bill Shinn that the force which stormed ashore at Incheon, on the west coast Friday, have captured all of that port and are driving inland toward a town only 10 miles west of Seoul. Incheon is 22 miles west of the Communist-held South Korean capital.

While Gen. Douglas MacArthur personally directed the U.S. 10th corps in a drive aimed at seizing Seoul's supply routes, U.S., British and South Korean troops at the beachhead opened a heavy offensive this morning.

Supported by tanks, planes and artillery, they struck along a front of more than 70 miles from the beachhead's south end up to and beyond Taegu.

A flagship dispatch from Associated Press Correspondent Reiman Morin said reinforcements were pouring into the scene of Friday's landings while the first waves quickly seized all objectives and swept east of Incheon.

(A naval spokesman in Washington estimated the total force involved at upwards of 40,000.) By mid-morning today, the advancing leathernecks ceased calling for warship fire, suggesting they were meeting light opposition in their bid to seize all vital avenues for supplying and reinforcing the bypassed Red army.

U.S., British and South Korean troops today hurled a powerful attack, led by tanks, at dug-in enemy troops north of Taegu.

The infantrymen struck toward Seoul, Communist - held South Korean capital now menaced from the sea by a big allied amphibious landing at the nearby port of Incheon.

In their path, however, were the enemy's Third, 10th, 13th and 21st divisions with an estimated 24,000 men.

Units in the United Nations attack were identified officially as the U.S. First Cavalry division, the Sixth South Korean division, and the British 27th brigade.

The first of three coordinated blows against the southeast beachhead was struck along the Nak-tong river, between Taegu and the southern front.

Two hours later, simultaneous attacks began north and northwest of Taegu, near the center of the battl line and west of Masan at the south end of the front.

Associated Press Correspondent Jack MacBeth said the attack north of Taegu kicked off while planes and artillery planned down Communist dug in on mountain positions overlooking the Reds.

Associated Press Correspondent Stan Swinton reported the southern drive had for its first mission to "kill as many of the enemy as possible."

During the confusion and hubbub that followed Hickenlooper's objection, the Iowan seemed under the impression he also had blocked the nomination of Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt as U.S. representative to the United Nations general assembly.

Asked later why he objected, Hickenlooper said: "I have no comment."

"Mrs. Roosevelt has been confirmed," he said, banging his gavel down loudly.

Big Mo' Blasts ...

TOKYO (AP) - The "Mighty Mo" unlimbered her 16 - inch rifles against the Korean Reds Friday.

The great battleship Missouri, aboard which the Japanese surrender was signed Sept. 2, 1945, bombarded Communist-held Samchok, on the Korean east coast 70 miles north of Pohang.

The only American battleship in commission in the past few years, the Missouri has been serving as a training ship on the U.S. east coast since being pulled off a Virginia mudbank after 15 unhappy days aground last January.

British Uncover Plot To Sabotage Defenses

LONDON (AP) - The Labor government declared Friday it has uncovered a developing Communist plot to sabotage Britain's defense build-up with a series of lightning strikes.

Labor Minister George Isaacs said British Reds are aiming their first blows at the docks, the transport system and the nation's meat supplies.

Police Break Up Illinois Swindle Ring

LEWISTOWN, ILL. (AP) - Investigators said Friday they have cracked a "million dollar" swindle ring whose leaders posed as agents of the Ford Motor company and fleeced almost 400 persons with the promise of making them rich.

State investigators seized five persons here and identified them as ring leaders. State's Atty. Arthur Young promptly filed charges of conspiracy with intent to defraud.

Beverly Kemper, 40, one of the five arrested, signed an admission that he participated in the swindle, authorities said. The other four were Mrs. Marie Fuller, 50; Vern Fuller, 54; Sherman Duryea, 72 and his son, Bryce Duryea, 31.

William Abernathy and Norman Lee, criminal investigators for the state department of public safety, said the swindlers took money from their victims as "investments" in the Ford Motor company and told them that "Ford was rich and wanted to make others rich."

Victims were promised farm land, vacations to Chicago and other inducements, Abernathy said.

'Enemy Caught Between Hammer and Anvil'

MacArthur Aims at Red Supplies

WITH GEN. MACARTHUR OFF INCHON (AP) - Gen. Douglas MacArthur said Friday that the landing here is designed to trap the Communists between the hammer and the anvil of Allied power and cut off their supply of "everything that shoots."

The Allied supreme commander came here with the army-marine invasion force to oversee the amphibious attack. He toured the landing area in a small boat, passing close to one beach before the troops landed there.

If the landing succeeds, the enemy will be caught between the Allied spearhead in the Incheon-Seoul area and the erupting beachhead around Pusan.

"He will be subject to the combat effort of both of those forces working in cooperation, and will be deprived of his reinforcements and supplies," MacArthur told the correspondents who traveled with him.

"If that can be accomplished, these (Communist) forces will sooner or later disintegrate, and cease to be coordinated fighting enemy," the five star general said. MacArthur conceded that the

GEN. DOUGLAS MACARTHUR

North Koreans have greater numbers of men available for the fight than the Allies, but he said the Reds' lack of air and sea power tends to cancel out the advantage. "His (the enemy's) ground power gives him the initiative, but we are going to wrest that initiative from him by bringing into effect our own two superior components. We apply sea power and we apply air power in maximum in this type of amphibious effort. And by employing these two great advantages we are going to wrest the ground initiative from him. The history of war proves that nine times out of ten an army has been destroyed because its supply lines have been cut off. That's what we are trying to do," MacArthur said.

He pointed out that the capture of Seoul - Incheon would drive a plug of steel into the bottleneck dominating Communist supply lines.

"The enemy has committed the great mass of his forces in southern Korea," MacArthur said.

"Everything the enemy shoots, and all the additional replenishments he needs have to come down through Seoul. We are going to try to seize that distributing area, so that it will be impossible for the North Koreans to get any additional men or more than a trickle of supplies into the present combat area."

Interpreting the News —

Marshall Appointment Lauded

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

It is significant that Louis Johnson's retirement from his own personal battlefield in the Pentagon follows directly President Truman's attempt to gag Gen. MacArthur on Formosa policy, and on Secretary Acheson's announcement that, in the American defense book, Europe comes first.

Johnson was a member of the MacArthur school on Far Eastern policy. It was one of the fundamentals in his long conflict with the state department. He was accused of trying to make foreign policy. There was a finality about his latest defeats which had not been evident before.

A bad situation had arisen. Truman had hoped to compromise things, get Johnson in line, and go ahead, despite Johnson's record for uncompromising disagreement with his associates when he was assistant secretary of war.

But nothing halted the widespread demand that, if Truman would not fire him, Johnson should resign for the good of the country. Without passing on the rights and wrongs, it was obvious that his presence was a burr under the saddle of the unity required for the times.

It is hard to think of a solution to compare with the recall of George Marshall to duty to eliminate this serious rift between government leaders and renew public faith in the defense department.

Marshall is recognized as one of the greatest Americans—one of the greatest Americans in history. Yet he will be criticized. He had a prominent role in making the policy which many blame—with a great deal of overemphasis—for the loss of China to the Communists.

As to that, many people didn't know what Marshall knew, that to save China would have involved American troops—not a few, but more than we now plan to mobilize for the defense of all Europe. And America was not ready for that, in the frantic demobilization period after V-J day.

President Truman will be criticized for dangerous precedent-breaking in turning the defense department over to a professional soldier, in violation of a fundamental American tradition and in contradiction to a specific provision of a law newly-passed and now being amended.

But the president makes clear that he wants only an exception in the Marshall case, permitting him to serve after only five years of retirement instead of the presently-required ten.

Then, too, Marshall has had a term as secretary of state since he retired as chief of staff, and his Red Cross work since has settled him more firmly into civilian ranks than is ordinarily the case.

Ex-FBI Men List Red-Front Radio Stars

Editor's note: Radio and television have a man-sized headache. The problem is how to keep these mediums of public information free of Communist infiltration without harming innocent persons. The industry's plight has been brought to public attention by the case of Actress Jean Muir, who lost her radio job after some persons protested because her name is listed in a booklet called "Red Channels."

It is a problem which soon may be faced by all of private industry. To report on what radio and television are doing to meet the threat of Red influences, the United Press assigned Fred Mullen of its Washington staff. Mullen has a background of knowledge of Communist tactics acquired while covering the department of justice and numerous Communist hearings in congress. He has written five dispatches on the subject, the first of which follows:

By FRED MULLEN
United Press Correspondent
NEW YORK (AP) — A paperback booklet is a current best-seller in the radio offices of mid-Manhattan and the advertising agencies of Madison avenue.

Its title is "Red Channels," and its subject matter is the hottest topic of the day in the radio, television and advertising offices.

In the booklet the authors present a list of persons reported to have affiliations with Communist or Red front organizations.

The public heard little of it until recently when Television Actress Jean Muir was dropped from the cast of "The Aldrich Family."

The ban on Miss Muir by the National Broadcasting company and by her sponsor, General Foods, followed a number of protests by persons who complained because her name was in "Red Channels."

The list, he said, is made up of information called from public records of the house un-American activities committee and such other public sources as court records, letterheads of organizations and newspaper items — including those of the Communist Daily Worker.

He protested some reports that the agency had set itself up as a private court with self-imposed power to "clear" persons of alleged Communist leanings by removing their names from "Red Channels," if they could prove they had no Red sympathies.

Kirkpatrick said, however, that anyone who thinks the agency has treated him unjustly can come in and ask for advice. The "Red Channels" publishers will tell him how to go about clearing his name.

They did that, he said, for the Negro folk singer Josh White. They suggested to White that he go before the house un-American activities committee and tell his story. White testified that he had been duped into entertaining Communist groups before he knew their politics.

So are the names of 150 other actors, writers, musicians, producers and persons connected with show business.

Another of those listed is Gypsy Rose Lee, the strip tease actress who is scheduled to appear on a new American Broadcasting company television show this week.

A former commander of the Illinois American Legion protested to ABC that Miss Lee's name is in "Red Channels." The broadcasting and television company replied with a sworn denial from Miss Lee that she ever had been a Communist or a Red sympathizer and asked the Legionnaire to produce any evidence to the contrary.

The superintendent of the Newark, N.J., public schools brought the booklet further attention by disclosing that it will be distributed in the schools as a "reference book" for principals and teachers.

In the Muir case some organizations and individuals protested that the ban posed a serious threat to American liberties. Others applauded the action.

And the uproar over the Muir case focused attention on "Red Channels" and its publishers — four former FBI agents whose organization is known as "American Business Consultants, Inc."

Their aims, they say, are to protect industry from the Reds and to protect radio and television artists from being duped by Communists. Sometimes artists lend their names or talents to Red fronts without realizing the nature of the organization, they say.

One of the four former G-men is Theodore C. Kirkpatrick. He made it clear in an interview that his agency does not pass judgment on the persons listed in "Red Channels."

He said, he is made up of information called from public records of the house un-American activities committee and such other public sources as court records, letterheads of organizations and newspaper items — including those of the Communist Daily Worker.

He protested some reports that the agency had set itself up as a private court with self-imposed power to "clear" persons of alleged Communist leanings by removing their names from "Red Channels," if they could prove they had no Red sympathies.

Kirkpatrick said, however, that anyone who thinks the agency has treated him unjustly can come in and ask for advice. The "Red Channels" publishers will tell him how to go about clearing his name.

They did that, he said, for the Negro folk singer Josh White. They suggested to White that he go before the house un-American activities committee and tell his story. White testified that he had been duped into entertaining Communist groups before he knew their politics.

White's appearance in Washington was what the "Red Channels" publishers call an "overt act" by a person to prove that he is not a Communist or a Communist sympathizer.

Although satisfied by White's "overt act," Kirkpatrick said his name would not necessarily be removed from "Red Channels."

However, he said White's name would be eliminated from any future editions of the booklet, if included, would have a notation of his "overt act."

Kirkpatrick said his agency was formed because while they were FBI men during the war, its four founders "saw the dangers of communism."

"When we left the FBI after the war we decided that we probably could do something about it," he said.

First they formed a non-profit organization financed with their own money. But after six months they had no members. Then, they decided to form a profit corporation.

They began the publication of the newsletter, "Counterattack," which is received by more than 2,000 subscribers each week for a $24 annual subscription fee.

Four named in "Red Channels" have called personally on the agency and two have written to it, he said. These included White.

Another was Roger De Koven, stage and radio actor, who signed a statement given heavy play in "Counterattack" along with a statement that he had impressed the group with "his sincerity" and an expression of pleasure in being able to "clear De Koven's name of any unjustified suspicion of pro-Communist sympathy or activity."

Kirkpatrick, now 38, is a graduate of Earlham college, Richmond, Ind. He was with the FBI from 1942 until late 1945. His associates are:

John G. Keenan, a New York lawyer, who resigned from the FBI in 1945 after four years' service, to become a partner in a law firm founded here by his father.

Thomas A. Brady, also a lawyer, who was with the FBI from 1942 until 1947 when he resigned to resume private practice here.

Kenneth M. Bierly, the third lawyer — member of the agency, who was with the FBI from 1941 until 1946.

Kirkpatrick was the only non-lawyer in the group. All quit the FBI of their own volition.

Biggest Eye Scans Heavens

BY SPENCER CRUMP
MOUNT PALOMAR, CAL. — The world's biggest "eye," the powerful 22-inch telescope atop this 5,500-foot-high mountain, is launching its search of the skies for new secrets of the universe.

Yet now that the Big Eye is in operation after more than 20 years of preparation, astronomers seldom look through the big instrument.

The 200-inch telescopic mirror was brought here from Pasadena nearly three years ago to the 12-story, silver-domed observatory in this mountain wilderness about 70 miles inland from San Diego. Since then minute adjustments have been made in the $6,550,000 installation. Only now is astronomical research program rolling into high gear.

The telescope is a powerful instrument, indeed. The naked eye sees about 5,000 stars. Galileo's first telescope, a 2 1/2-inch instrument built 300 years ago, brought approximately a million stars into view. The 200-inch Palomar telescope reaches out for billions of stars.

It will reach objects a billion light years away. One light year equals about six trillion miles! Despite the power, astronomers rarely peek through the Big Eye. Instead, they focus the instrument on the celestial subject and photograph it with time exposures. Frequently the telescope follows the same star several nights to obtain a bright image.

To operate the big instrument, the observer actually rides on the telescope. He is housed in a small compartment in the upper end of the big tube and communicates by telephone to an assistant. This helper works at the most elaborate control system ever used by astronomers.

By merely dialing the position of any star and pressing a button, the telescope automatically moves to point at that position in the sky. Furthermore, at once it begins to follow the star in its east to west movement.

Contrary to reports, the Palomar astronomers do not plan to point the big telescope at the planet of Mars so as to peep at the private lives of its inhabitants, if any.

Rather, the big telescope will test current theories regarding the universe. It will investigate the abundance of chemical elements, to determine if they all are composed of the same material or if they contain some mysterious and unknown elements.

Already astronomers have made more than 400 photographs with the big telescope as the first steps in a detailed study of the universe. The scientists have obtained photographs of several nebulae—the gaseous masses in the sky—outside of the earth's own Milky Way.

Eventually these pictures will enable astronomers to determine accurately the dimension of these far off masses.

As the darkness is pushed away from the new celestial frontier, new astronomical problems now unforeseen will present themselves to the astronomers.

So, the scientists say, it is unlikely that 10 nights in the next 10 years will be devoted to peeping at Mars. However, the 200-inch telescope will release the world's second largest instrument, the 100-inch giant atop Mount Wilson near Los Angeles, for work in the new fields — including the study of mysterious Mars.

The Palomar observatory is operated by the California Institute of Technology. The $6,550,000 invested in the project was granted by the Rockefeller Foundation and the Rockefeller International Educational board.

Palomar itself is not a "peak" type mountain, but rather a "hogback" with a top eight miles wide and 20 miles long. The mountain rises perpendicularly and spectacularly from rugged Indian reservation country.

Nearby the Big Eye are two smaller—yet large when compared to other telescopes—observatories housing 18-inch and 48-inch mirrors. They supplement the work of the 200-inch mirror.

Astronomers and their families live in a miniature city on Palomar. There are cottages, dial telephone system, power plants, school, dining hall and spring water. In winter, astronomers frequently must tramp through as much as five feet of snow.

For men who watch the stars at night, there is a special light-proof, ventilated building for daytime snoozing.

Appropriately, it is called "The Monastery."

Little Hawks Whip Roughriders, 20-0

City High Downs Loop Foe in Season Opener

By BILL MILLER

Iowa City's Little Hawks Friday night successfully opened the 1950 Mississippi Valley conference season here before 4,500 fans, with a 20-0 victory over Roosevelt high school of Cedar Rapids.

The Hawks, erratic at times, showed touches of brilliance as they stuck to the ground for the greater part of their yardage. Although outmanned, the Roughriders gave Coach Frank Bates' boys plenty of anxious moments and not until the closing minutes of the game was the local team completely out of danger.

Hawks Drill On Defense

Iowa's Hawkeyes had another comparatively light drill Friday as the coaching staff started to put more emphasis on defense.

"Work on defense will be our main task from now until our first game," Coach Leonard Raffensperger said. During morning drills a team ran Southern California plays to familiarize the defense with them.

In the afternoon, Iowa worked in kick returns, pass defense, and signal drills. Chuck Denning and Bert Britzmann did most of the punting Friday. Don Commaack, Bob Bostwick, Bill Reichard, Jerry Fiske, Bernard Bennett, Duane Brandt, "Chug" Wilson and Jim Sangster worked on returning the kicks.

No Platoon System
Raffensperger also indicated Friday that the Hawks will not use a platoon system of offensive and defensive teams. "Our squad will not be working under the platoon type of system this fall," he said. "We have several boys in our line and some of the backs who will be seeing double duty. Although we don't plan to develop any 60 - minute men, some of the boys will be carrying much of the load both offensively and defensively."

Slight Advantage
The rest of the first half was spent mostly in the middle of the field with the Hawks having a slight advantage in yards gained.

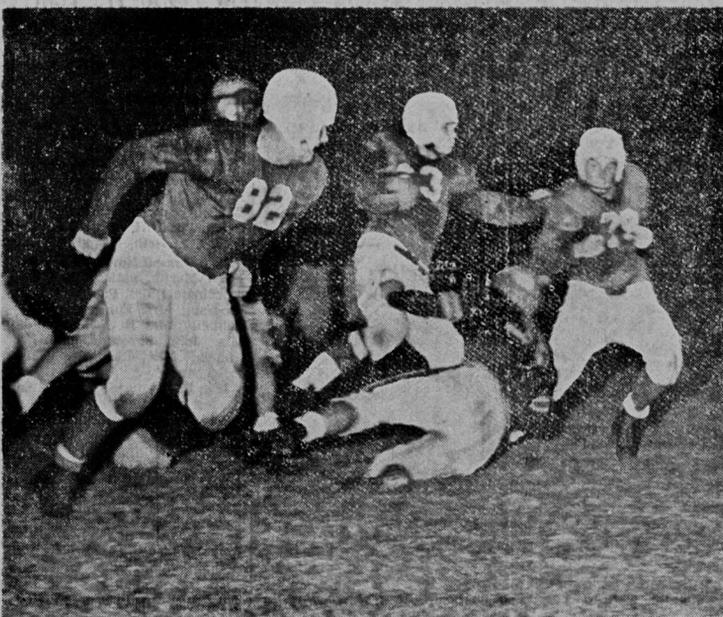

The third quarter was a see-saw battle with neither team able to gain yardage. Then early in the fourth quarter, White intercepted a Murdock pass on his 45 yard line and ran it back to the Riders' 36.

Davis gained two yards before Jerry White raced around end to the visitors' 25. Then with Davis, White and Brawner carrying, the Little Hawks took the ball to the two from where David went over early in the second quarter.

Jerry White's kick with Morgan holding was good and the Hawks led, 7-0.

White attempted conversion was off to the right and the Hawks led, 13-0.

Still undaunted, Roosevelt came back with Murdock's passes and drove to the Little Hawks' seven before Homewood put the game on ice for the Hawks with his 95-yard runback of an intercepted pass.

The Little Hawks successfully opened their Mississippi Valley conference season with a 20-0 win. City High's game captain, Tom Kert (left) and Ed Mickey Moore (right) led the interference on this play. The winners held a 7-0 halftime lead.

Tigers Nip Yanks, Bosox Win

Victory Puts Detroit Back in League Lead

By JACK HAND

DETROIT (AP) — Three powerful home runs by big John Mize failed to hold first place for the New York Yankees Friday as Detroit surged into a half - game with a 9-7 uphill victory.

Fordham Hank Borowy, a Yankee castoff of yesterday, chilled his old mates with a one - hit shutout relief job in the last four innings after Art Houtteman was battered freely in the first five. The gathering of 25,000 died a thousand deaths during the chill afternoon as the Tigers twice came from behind to square this important series with a 12 - hit attack on three New York pitchers.

At Least a Tie
The win assured the Detroit Tigers of at least a tie in the season series, giving them a 11-10 edge going into today's final meeting with the Yankees.

Old Dizzy Trout (13-4) is to do the honors for the Tigers in this vital game. He will be opposed by Lefty Ed Ford (6-0), a 21-year-old rookie from Kansas City.

Mize put on a tremendous show with three successive homers in the first, fourth and fifth innings to drive in six runs. He is the only player in baseball history to offer to do this three-homers-in-one game feat six times, breaking his own record. Mize did the trick four times with the St. Louis Cardinals and once with the New York Giants before he moved into the American league.

The 37-year-old veteran, who balked when the Yanks tried to shuffle him off to the Pacific Coast league in July, struck out on his final trip in the eighth. With the count 3-2, Mize took a Ruthian swing at a Borowy pitch and missed.

Mize powdered a Houtteman toss against the third deck press box with Yogi Berra on base in the first. His second led off the fourth, a little higher up and directly into the third deck box.

Then in the fifth, with Cliff Mape and Joe DiMaggio on the sacks, he smashed a three - run homer deep into the second deck seats, directly under Nos. 1 and 2. All three must have carried close to 400 ft.

Increases Total to 23
The three-homer barrage upped Mize's total for the season to 23, nine of them off Detroit pitching and four off Mr. Houtteman, the Tigers' 18 - game winning ace.

His sensational performance by big Jawm wasn't enough to discourage the Tigers. Even after a three - run first inning by New York, Detroit slammed back at Tommy Byrne, once a Tiger tamer, for two of their own on Gerry Priddy's 11th homer with Johnny Lipon on.

Ted Williams Leads Assault on Browns

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Ted Williams returned to action and demonstrated his physical fitness Friday by slamming out four hits, including a three - run homer, as the pennant - seeking Boston Red Sox overpowered the St. Louis Browns, 12-9.

Thus Steve O'Neill's musclemen advanced to within one and a half lengths of the Detroit Tigers, who took over first place by downing New York.

The Boston triumph also snapped an eight-game winning streak by the Browns, their longest since their pennant - winning year of 1944.

Williams, highest - paid player in baseball, had seen action only as a pinch batter since he fractured his left elbow in the July all - star game at Chicago. He had three singles to go with his homer in six trips.

Manager O'Neill, jubilant in the clubhouse after the game, said Williams should be credited for the important victory.

"He hit the ball hard all day and made a helluva catch and as far as I'm concerned, he meant the difference," said O'Neill.

Williams' performance overshadowed that of Boston's Shabby Doerr who hit a home run, double and single in five trips; Dom DiMaggio contributed two doubles to the 17-hit assault on three Brown pitchers.

Owen Friend and Dick Kokos hit homers for the Browns.

Joe Dobson was knocked out by a three-run Brownie uprising in the sixth, but was credited with eight defeats.

Jack Dittmer Returns Home

Jack Dittmer, former Iowa football and baseball star who has just finished his first season in professional baseball with the Denver Bears, was in Iowa City Friday.

Jack hit .374 for the Western league team and was credited with hoisting the lagging Bears out of the cellar and into contention for a playoff spot.

They didn't quite make it, but it wasn't Jack's fault. He hustled every minute, and according to a Denver sportswriter, he infected the rest of the team with this same spirit.

Jack is going to spring training next spring with the Boston Braves. Dittmer's batting average was the highest in the Western league this season but he wasn't official batting champ because he hadn't played in the required 100 games. "I played in 80 some games this year," Jack said.

A late start — Jack didn't join the Bears until after his June graduation — kept one of the best of Iowa's all around athletes from officially winning the batting title. He was also injured shortly after joining Denver in the spring. This kept him out of action for a week or so.

Professional baseball apparently agreed with Jack. He looked heavier than when he left here this spring. "Everyone tells me I look a lot heavier," Jack said. "I don't know. I haven't been weighed for a long time."

When asked what he planned to do during the off season, Jack said, "Nothing if I can help it."

Friday, Dittmer stopped over to see football practice where his absence has been felt all season. Jack teamed with Bob McKenzie last season to give Iowa two of the finest offensive ends in the Big Ten.

Dittmer set a conference pass catching record last season. Finding replacements for Dittmer and McKenzie have been two of the top problems facing Leonard Raffensperger in his first year as head coach.

An indication that all is not tranquil in the Minnesota football camp was given Friday when George and John Holm, both guard candidates quit the squad.

George was the only varsity right guard and was being counted on heavily in the line.

This brings to light again the charge that Coach Bernie Bierman is a little too stern for his own good. Last year, rumors about Bierman's dismissal circulated. And most of the rumors were traceable to Bierman's attitude toward the players.

Many experts seem to feel that this is Bierman's last year at Minnesota, and we're inclined to agree with them.

WOL-TV in Ames has announced that it will have a live telecast of the 1950 world series. WOC-TV in Davenport, which is receivable in Iowa City, has also announced that it will carry the series but the dates and times have yet to be announced.

The two pennant winners this year will play before the largest audience ever to see an athletic event in the United States.

We got a release in the mail Friday saying that KRNT in Des Moines plans to broadcast all the Iowa football games this year, including the Southern California and Miami games.

Al Coupez, quarterback on the famed 1939 Ironmen team, will handle the play by play.

Paul Brechler, Iowa's athletic director, has announced that seats for the four home football games this year have been sold from goal line to goal line and that the stadium has been completely sold out for the Nov. 18 Notre Dame game.

Brechler said that this was one of the heaviest pre-season ticket sales in the history of the school.

Johnny Klippstein Hurls, Bats Cubs to Win

NEW YORK (AP) — Johnny Klippstein pitched and batted the Chicago Cubs to a ten - inning 4-3 victory over the New York Giants Friday.

Coming in as a relief pitcher to start the seventh, the 23-year-old rookie righthander checked the Giants on two hits the rest of the way.

Then he helped to win the game by opening up the tenth with a double. A sacrifice pushed him to third and a single by Hal Jeffcoat sent him home with the run that broke a 3-3 tie.

Phils Outlast Reds In 19 Innings, 8-7

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Philadelphia Phillies fought from behind twice Friday night to win the longest game of the season from the Cincinnati Reds, 8-7, in 19 innings after grabbing the opening game of a two-night doubleheader, 2-1.

The second game was one of the most dramatic contests ever played at Shibe Park. It came to a finish with less than a minute remaining before the 12:59 a.m. curfew. Del Ennis, the league's leading run producer, slammed a pitch off the left field wall with the bases loaded and no one out.

Lost sight of in the sensational windup was the fact that the Phils' brilliant young righthander, Emory (Bubba) Church, was severely injured by a line drive off the bat of Ted Klusewski in the first game.

By winning two, the Phils stretched their National league lead over Brooklyn to seven and one-half games.

Munger Pitches Cards Past Brooks

BROOKLYN (AP) — George Munger, who hadn't gone the route in nearly three months, pitched the St. Louis Cardinals to a 6-2 victory over Brooklyn Friday in a game played under Dodger protest.

Munger kept nine Brooklyn hits Dodgers said he was playing under protest after a first inning verdict at home plate was reversed and then reversed again.

Munger kept nine Brooklyn hits scattered while registering his sixth victory against seven losses. One was Duke Snider's 26th home run.

Munger started for the Cardinals after Cloyd Boyer had been announced as the starter. Boyer was withdrawn because of a sore arm and didn't throw a ball.

Three Cars Collide Causing $300 Damage

A three-car traffic mishap, resulting in at least $300 damage, was reported to Iowa City police Friday. The accident occurred Thursday on East Burlington street when one auto hit a second car, which in turn smashed into a third car. All cars were traveling east. Owners of three of the cars and estimated damage are: John C. Nunn, 1120 Burlington street, $125; Eleanor Davis, 232 S. Summit street, $125, and Frank Spratt, 1801 Morningside drive, $50.

House Okays Aid To Public Schools

WASHINGTON (AP)—The house Friday passed and sent the White House a bill to grant federal aid to school districts where federal operations have increased the population and seriously burdened facilities. The money would be advanced on a matching basis, depending on how critically the area is affected. Most areas could collect 95 percent of construction costs from the government. A pending appropriations bill carries $24 million to get the program started.

Foreign Studies Program Offered For First Time

A new program of foreign studies, available to SUI students for the first time this fall, was announced Friday by Prof. Erich Funke, head of the German department.

The program will consist of studies in four areas: Russia, France, Germany and Austria, and Spain.

It was designed to provide interested students with a knowledge of the language, culture, economics, sociology and geography of a particular foreign area, as a result of the post-war need for Americans trained for responsible foreign positions, he said.

The foreign studies program requires two academic prerequisites of work, with an additional required summer session for the Russian area. Freshmen will not be admitted to the program except for language courses previously open to them. Sophomores, however, will be admitted by special permission of the area advisor. Credit for courses in the program may be used toward a B.A. degree, or for advanced study in some cases.

The main course of each of the four areas will require a total of 22 to 24 semester hours for one year, leaving 6 or 8 hours for electives. Upon completion of the course and practical and theoretical examinations, the student will receive a certificate stating he has completed a program of foreign studies. Such candidates should be qualified for positions as liaison and intelligence officers, interpreters, administrators, and business executives in foreign areas, Funke said.

More detailed information is available at the liberal arts advisory office, or at the four cooperating SUI departments of geography, history, modern foreign languages, and political science.

Report Fourth Case Of Car Prowling

The fourth case of car prowling to occur in Iowa City within the past week has been reported to police.

Marshall O'Hara, who lives at the east end of Washington street, told police that late Thursday night he scared away some boys who had been prowling around his parked car.

Earlier in the week, three persons reported thefts of articles from their cars which had been parked on Washington street.

Starlet Enrolls In Bible School

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Colleen Townsend has started classes at a school of religion and said that ought to "show" the doubters who never thought she would.

Hardened columnists and suspicious movie-goers sniffed "publicity stunt" when Colleen announced last spring she was giving up the cinema for the church.

But this week the voluptuous actress who used to pose for cheese cake in next-to-nothing marched off in a sweater and skirt to Pasadena college with her Bible under her arm.

104th Birthday For Former Iowan

OMAHA (AP)—A former resident of Des Moines quietly celebrated his 104th birthday Friday.

He is W.M. Newell, who until his retirement was employed as a bookkeeper and auditor for the Des Moines Street Railway company. He moved here about 18 months ago.

Newell had his usual birthday cake. But this year it held only four candles.

"I didn't want to make him feel old," said Mrs. A.C. Rice, a daughter with whom he lives.

Newell spent the day receiving visitors and reading cards of congratulations. He reads without the aid of glasses.

George Bernard Shaw Suffers Setback Friday

LUTON, ENGLAND (AP)—George Bernard Shaw, recuperating from surgery to reduce a broken left thigh, suffered a setback caused by an old kidney ailment Friday.

Shaw, 94, had been progressing remarkably from the operation, performed Monday, the day after he fell in his garden at nearby St. Lawrence.

But Friday morning, an emergency call went out from the playwright's room at Luton and Dunstable hospital for Dr. Alex Badenock, a well known kidney and bladder specialist, to rush here from London.

Atlantic Hurricane Endangers Shipping

MAIMI, FLA. (AP)—A small but severe hurricane with winds whirling at 140 miles an hour roared northward in the Atlantic Friday night, dangerous only to shipping.

The Miami weather bureau said in an advisory that the storm was located 325 miles east-southeast of Bermuda or at latitude 31.4 north, longitude 59.3 west.

The advisory said the hurricane had accelerated in its forward motion and was moving in a north or northeast direction at 22 to 25 miles an hour.

"Ships should continue to avoid this severe small hurricane," the advisory said.

G I Daddy Writes Last Words: "Be Good For Mummie . . . God Bless You"

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Two little girls who can't yet read had a letter Friday they'll treasure all their lives.

Their daddy, Pfc. John J. McCormick, 28, wrote it from far away Korea.

"There are a lot of bad men in the world," he wrote.

"So I have to help fight these men and keep them from coming where you and Mummie live. It might take a long while, and maybe Daddy will have to go and help God up in heaven."

The letter came to Mrs. Mary McCormick Thursday, three days after a telegram that said: "The defense department regrets to inform you that Pfc. John J. McCormick was killed in action Aug. 10."

Mrs. Mary McCormick read the letter herself, first, then as it instructed she read it to her daughters, 6-year-old Rose Marie and her sister Joan, 3.

"This is Daddy," the letter said. "I want you to listen and pay attention while Mummie reads this to you. Just try and make believe I was there talking to you.

"I want you both to know that I'd be with you if I could, but there are a lot of bad men in the world, and if they were allowed to do what they wanted to do little girls like you wouldn't be allowed to go to church on Sunday or be able to go to the school you wanted to.

"I always want you both to be good for Mummie, because she is the best Mummie in the whole wide world. "She has always taken care of you while I have been away. You see kids, I happened to be caught in two wars inside 10 years and the reason I am where I am today is because I am fighting for what I think is right.

"That's one thing I always want both of you to remember. If your conscience tells you something is right always stand up for it. You might be ridiculed for doing so, but in the long run you'll always find out that people respect you more for doing so. "I'll be in a hole fighting, in a few days, in a place called Korea, so I'm sending you all the love that's in my heart on this sheet of paper. I carry your picture, and Mummie's next to my heart, and if I have to go help God, you'll know that the last thought I had on this earth was for the two of you and Mummie. All my love and kisses. Be good and God bless you.

"Daddy" Mrs. McCormick, 27, who works as a seamstress in a factory said the children are away just now, Rose Marie boarding at the Little Flower school and Joan living with a friend of her mother's.

"I just can't afford to keep up a home of my own at this time," Mrs. McCormick said. "But the children are well taken care of and I see them nearly every day. Everything is fine, just fine."

His daddy has been a GI most of the time since he grew to manhood. He joined the army in 1933, had to lie about his 17 years to get in. During World War II he was a paratrooper; was wounded in Germany; came back to civilian jobs in Pottsville, Pa. — he worked in a gas station there — and near Chester, Pa.

"He came home one day last year and told me he had reenlisted," the widow recalled.

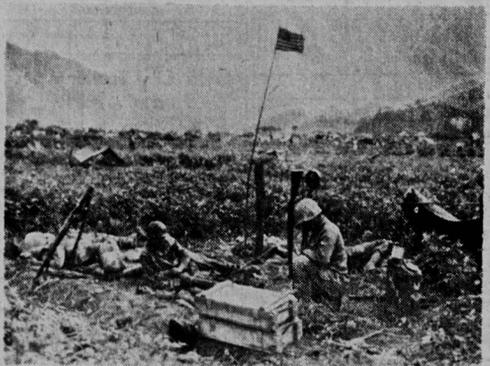

"John felt that the army was where he was most needed, where he could do the most good for himself, his family and his country. He didn't know much else. He didn't have much experience, never graduated from high school. Little Rose Marie and Joanne don't remember their father very well, even now, Mrs. McCormick said.

"And I haven't even a picture to show them. John never took a picture. I guess he just never thought about it.

"Rose Marie cries a little about her daddy. She understood when I told her Daddy wasn't coming back." And she'll always have that letter.

U.S. Foreign Policy Was 'New Deal,' Not Bi-Partisan: GOP

CHICAGO (AP) — Rep. Clarence Brown (R-Ohio) said at a major Republican strategy meeting Friday that the nation's "bi-partisan" foreign policy actually was "a New Deal foreign policy with some bi-partisan support."

Brown, addressing a luncheon meeting at the two day conference of the Republican national committee and GOP leaders from 20 states, said the party never had a real bi-partisan policy.

He charged that the "Hisses, Achesons, Lattimores, Wadleighs, Whites and Services," insisted upon "appeasement" of Russia and formed the policies "which have failed so miserably to bring peace."

Brown said the main issues of the November election campaign would be the "incompetence" of the administration to make peace or prepare for war.

He was joined in the prediction by Iowa State GOP Chairman Robert Goodwin. Goodwin, reporting on a meeting of midwestern state chairmen, said the chief issues would be the Korean war and state department "mistakes."

Police Remind New Students Of Local Traffic Rules

The Iowa City police department Friday issued a list of traffic reminders for students bringing their cars to school or planning to drive vehicles in Iowa City.

Police Chief E. J. Ruppert warned students from outside Iowa that they are not allowed to drive Iowa cars without Iowa licenses.

He listed the following traffic reminders:

1. Parking meter time maximums are now designated according to colors on meter posts: 12-minute meters, red; 1-hour meters, silver; 2-hour meters, green, and 3-hour meters, yellow.
2. Parking meter violations can be reduced to 25 cents if the violator reports to the police station within one hour after the parking ticket is issued by the police officer.
3. No parking is allowed in the business district from 2 a.m. to 6 a.m.
4. Speed limits are 20 miles an hour in business district; 25 in residential areas, and 45 in suburban districts.
5. No parking is allowed on the west side of North Dubuque street from Church to Ronalds street.
6. Drivers must come to a full stop at all stop signs, including temporary school signs.
7. Alley parking in business and residential areas is prohibited.
8. On Saturday nights motorists are not permitted to make turns at certain intersections in the business district. Police will direct traffic at these intersections.
9. U-turns in the business district are prohibited.
10. In parallel parking, the right wheels of the vehicle must always be to the curb.
11. Off-street parking lots are located on the 300 block of East

FE Workers 'Recess' Harvester Walkout

CHICAGO (AP) — The independent Farm Equipment union "recessed" its strike against International Harvester company without a settlement Friday, but the rival CIO union automobile workers charged "collusion" and announced it will continue its walkout.

The FE, a bitter rival of the powerful UAW, announced that it will send 32,000 striking Harvester employees back to work at 10 plants across the nation on Monday.

The UAW, whose 22,000 Harvester members are on strike at eight plants, promptly denounced the action as "strike-breaking" and an "act of treachery" which "smacks of collusion."

"If either Harvester management or the FE leadership is entertaining the hope that this action will weaken the strike of UAW - CIO members . . . they are due for a sharp disappointment," said UAW Vice-President John Livingston.

FE officials said their union would continue to negotiate when the time presents itself, but that negotiations at present were "futile." No reason was given for the FE's decision to return to work.

The FE had proposed that the two bitter rivals bury the hatchet and join forces in the strike, but the UAW had refused.

Y Camp Cancelled

The three-day YMCA camp for SUI freshmen scheduled for Friday, today and Sunday has been cancelled and re-scheduled for Sept. 22 and 23, Ralph Schlomig, executive secretary said.

Students interested or desiring additional information are invited to call at the YMCA office in the Iowa Union today from 2 to 5 p.m., he said.

Sioux City - Chicago Test Flights Start

SIoux CITY (AP) — Mid-Continent airlines Friday began familiarization flights over its new route between here and Chicago in advance of regular service beginning Sept. 26.

John A. Cunningham, Mid-Continent vice-president in charge of operations, headed a detachment of seven flight crews, five dispatchers and Chief Pilot R. P. Harris aboard a DC-3 making the special flight.

Colorado Reds Plan Sabotage Says Attorney

DENVER (AP) — Communist leaders completed plans Thursday night for the "complete sabotage of Colorado," the state's attorney general said Friday.

Atty. Gen. John W. Metzger said he heard from "a completely unimpeachable source" that plans have been completed for knocking out Denver's telephones, transportation, water, and all other utilities upon order from higher Communist headquarters, not necessarily in time of war. He added this sabotage would apply to all Colorado communities of any size.

Symington Threatens Seizure Of Hoarded Vital Stocks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Home front Mobilizer W. Stuart Symington threatened Friday to seize the stocks and publicize the names of "unpatriotic chiselers and profit hogs" who are hoarding rubber and other vital commodities to jack up defense program prices.

He also disclosed that President Truman has ordered reopening of all standby plants to put synthetic rubber production on a full-blast basis. Plants at Akron, Ohio, Louisville, Ky., Institute, W. Va., and Kobuda, Pa., will be affected.

Symington, who oversees the whole rearmament program as chairman of the national security resources board, was red-faced with anger as he told a senate armed services subcommittee about the "disgraceful" actions of a "few" big-scale commodity speculators.

He said they have bought up huge supplies of crude natural rubber, zinc and other vital materials to drive up prices and "get rich" while the people tighten their belts to put the preparedness program over the top.

Rubber prices have advanced 61 percent since the Korean war, and zinc prices have jumped 62 percent.

Symington said his "inclination" is to seize the entire stocks of profiteers and dump them into the defense stockpile. He could do that under the new economic control law which authorizes requisition of inventories needed for rearmament.

Spurs India Party

NEW DELHI, INDIA (AP) — The Congress party needs a shot in the arm, according to Prime Minister Nehru. He told a group of congressmen here that since independence had been achieved, the party had become weak and lethargic and lost much of the appeal that once swayed millions of Indians.

The party, he said, must be strengthened to wage war for new objectives — eradication of poverty, ignorance and disease.

The Congress party, under the leadership of Mahandas Gandhi, won India's independence in 1947. It now runs the government and dominates parliament.

General Electric Ends Contract Fight

WASHINGTON (AP) — The General Electric company and the CIO international union of electrical workers agreed Friday on a contract providing a 10 cents an hour wage increase and other benefits to end a strike of nearly 40,000 GE employees in the north-east and the midwest.

In addition to the wage hike, the contract calls for a cost-of-living escalator clause and liberalized pension and insurance benefits.

Its chairman, James B. Carey, said he felt sure it would be ratified by the union memberships and that the strike-bound plants would re-open Monday.

OFFERS $2-MILLION LAKE SUCCESS (AP) — Uruguay offered the United Nations $2-million Thursday to buy any supplies for the Korean war "which might be deemed necessary by the unified command."

Laborites to Run British Steel Plants

LONDON (AP) — Britain's labor government Thursday night staked its political life on an announced plan to start nationalizing the giant steel industry after Jan. 1, despite a rearmament program and the threat of war.

Prime Minister Clement Attlee made it plain to parliament that he intends to force the issue to a showdown. If defeated, the government would call on King George VI to dissolve parliament and order a general election.

Conservative Leader Winston Churchill arose immediately in the house of commons to blast the labor government for pressing the controversial issue at "this most critical period in our national safety and affairs abroad."

Churchill said he would introduce a motion of censure—amounting to a motion of no confidence—next Tuesday. If the government loses it will be forced to resign.

Thursday the call went out for every ailing member of parliament to be present when the vote is taken. The labor government has a technical majority of seven, but it has been cut to five by the absences of Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin and Sir Stafford Cripps.

Witnesses Say Accused Man Worked in Club

CHARLES CITY (AP) — Defense witnesses testified that Gordon (Jack) Churchill, 40, Charles City, was at work in his night club at the time he was accused of committing arson.

Defense attorneys planned to place additional witnesses on the stand today at a special session of district court.

Mrs. Vilet Klassen, Rudd, Iowa, told the jury that she was employed at a waitress at the Castle Club, Churchill's establishment, on Oct. 17, 1947, date of the fire.
