Hawks Scrimmage

The Iowa Hawkeyes held their last full-scale scrimmage Saturday before the Southern California opens. In the major leagues, the Yanks shut out Boston, 8-0, and Cleveland trounced Detroit, 10-2. (Stories on Page 6)

County Sheriff Says—Whistler Just Myth

PARADIS, LA. (AP) — The story of a phantom whistler who has terrorized a young bride-to-be with nocturnal-whistled funeral dirges and telephoned threats of death was exploded as a myth Saturday night by Sheriff Leon Vial.

The St. Charles parish (county) sheriff said he knew the story of the whistler to be a hoax and said, "It's an inside job."

He would not explain what he meant by an inside job nor would he divulge for publication the motive behind the story.

No charges have been filed, sheriff said, adding that all the ramifications of the case are not yet known.

The story of the whistler had had this hamlet of 200 persons — 25 miles west of New Orleans — agog with excitement since last February when Mrs. Clifford Cadow first reported that a man had been skulking around her house at night, whistling wolf calls beneath the window of the room of her daughter, pretty 18-year-old Jacquelyn Cadow.

The excitement increased when she reported that after Jackie's engagement to wed 26-year-old Louisiana State Trooper Herbert Belsom of New Orleans on Oct. 1 was announced, the whistler changed his tune to a funeral dirge and began to telephone threats against Jackie's life.

4 New Polio Cases Enter U-Hospitals

Five-year-old Ruby Beard, Iowa City, was one of four new patients admitted to the polio ward at University hospitals, officials said Saturday. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Beard.

All four, including Sidney Helberg, 3; Decorah; Karen Frame, 5; and Dale Fremming, 19, Corwith, were described as in "fair" condition.

Dorothy Phillips, 8; Jesup; Donnie Krominga, 12; Eldora; Joseph Pitlik, 30; Mt. Vernon; and Donna Giotz, 11 months; Decorah, were discharged.

Three persons, Joyce Berlin, 11; Williamsburg; Eugene Geary, 12; Waterloo; and Lawrence Tesar, 30; Chelsea, were transferred to the inactive list, and Calvin Cooney, 22 months, was diagnosed as not having polio.

The number of active cases of polio at University hospitals is 31.

Formosa Invasion Threat Dims

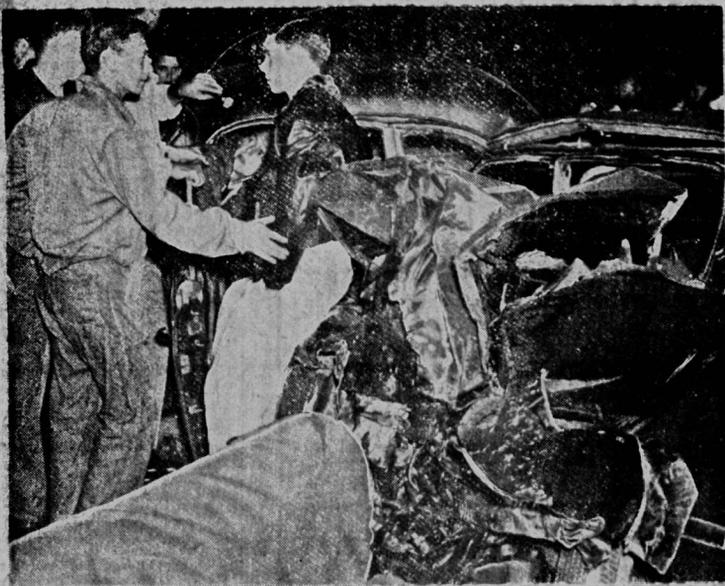

TAIPEI, FORMOSA (AP) — Likelihood of a full dress Chinese Communist invasion attempt on Nationalist Formosa before next spring became virtually impossible Saturday with the start of the monsoon season.

The winds, blowing from the northeast to the southwest into the face of the Chinese mainland, churn the 100-mile Formosa strait into one of the world's roughest bodies of water until late February or early March.

Amphibious landings would be feasible only if the Russians should supply the Reds with an armada of modern craft.

FIND BRIDE DEAD

PEORIA, ILL. (AP) — A 15-year-old bride of five months was found dead in bed Saturday and police held eight of her friends for questioning after a reported "goof ball" party.

ATTEMPTING TO EXTRICATE TOM O'MEARA, 16, DeWitt, from the twisted wreckage of his sedan, these unidentified rescuers pried at the tangled doors and comforted the trapped youth. O'Meara (not visible in the picture), who was reported in "fair" condition in University hospitals Saturday, was driving his car north on highway 261 when he crashed head-on into a convertible returning from Solon with four SUI students.

SUI Coed Still Unconscious

Sally Finkbine, A3, Storm Lake, who was seriously injured Friday night in a head-on automobile collision, was reported still unconscious late Saturday night and in "serious" condition by University hospitals officials.

She suffered a brain concussion, a broken shoulder, and other injuries.

Sue Rightmire, A1, Des Moines, injured in the same accident, also was reported in "serious" condition, with face, head and leg injuries.

The coeds, riding with Clayton Yoder, A2, Iowa City, and Hal DeCoursey, A1, Clayton, Mo., were returning from Solon shortly after midnight Saturday in DeCoursey's convertible when the accident occurred.

DeCoursey, who received head injuries, was reported in "satisfactory" condition Saturday. Yoder, reported in "fair" condition, suffered face lacerations and leg injuries.

Thomas O'Meara, 16, DeWitt, driver of the other car, suffered hip and leg fractures. He was reported in "fair" condition.

All five were in University hospitals.

It was reported that Yoder, driving the convertible south toward Iowa City on highway 261, swung out from behind a long line of traffic to pass the car ahead of him and crashed into O'Meara's sedan. O'Meara was alone in his car, driving north.

Both cars were reported traveling at a high speed. The crash completely demolished the front ends and motors of both vehicles.

Other students returning from Solon in cars behind the DeCoursey convertible stopped and gathered around the scene of the accident. A few helped give aid to the injured.

O'Meara was pinned in his car for more than half an hour. Two persons in the convertible were thrown clear by the impact. The other two had to be removed from the wreckage.

All five required blood transfusions. Saturday afternoon, about 25 members of Sigma Nu fraternity, to which DeCoursey and Yoder were pledged volunteered their blood at the hospital to replace plasma taken from the bank.

Upon successful completion of summer camp they will be commissioned as second lieutenants in the air force reserve.

To be eligible for admission to the course, applicants must:

1. Be veterans with at least one year service or have completed a two year basic course of ROTC.

2. Have reached age 27 by Sept. 21, 1950.

3. Attend 1951 summer camp, accept a commission as second lieutenant, air force reserve, and serve on active duty for two years if called.

4. Pass final type physical examination at their own expense.

5. Be pursuing an engineering or scientific course which will provide an adequate background for technical branches of service.

Korean Student Gets 50 Years

DUBUQUE (AP) — District Judge Milton J. Glenn Saturday sentenced Duk Sung Choi, 36, Korean student at the University of Dubuque, to 50 years in the Fort Madison prison for the razor slaying of a fellow Korean.

Glenn pronounced sentence after Choi made a statement protesting his innocence.

The Korean, charged with the razor slaying of Chun Kenn Oh, 24, Seoul, last Jan. 6 in Oh's university dormitory room, was to be taken to the prison later Saturday.

He was charged with first degree murder, but allowed to plead guilty to the lesser charge of second degree murder.

Glenn said he felt the evidence in the case warranted a sentence of life imprisonment, but decided on the 50-year term to make it easier to have Choi deported to Korea.

French Attempt to Trap Reds North of Donghke

SAIGON, FRENCH INDO-CHINA (AP) — French troops beating north along colonial route 4 reached a point overlooking Donghke Saturday, then began to circle the frontier fort to cut off the Reds' line of retreat toward China, military sources said.

Donghke, captured Monday by Communist-led Viet Minh forces, is one of a chain of frontier posts guarding the China-Indo-China border. French army officers charged that the rebels who overran Donghke after a vicious three-day assault were trained and armed by Communist China.

The determined band, conceding they had no chance, insisted nevertheless that the vote be delayed until the senators thought over the veto message and heard from home.

Backers of the bill, speaking briefly at the debate finally wound up, rejected the President's arguments entirely.

And Sen. Scott Lucas (D-Ill.), Mr. Truman's own lieutenant in the senate, told a hushed chamber that he would oppose the President with regret, and vote to defeat the veto.

The speaking marathon began a short time after the house at mid-afternoon Friday cast a one-sided 286-48 vote for overriding the veto and tossed the issue to the senate.

Mr. Truman had bounced the measure back to congress with a 5,500-word veto message in which he said the bill would help, not hurt the Communists.

The author of the bill, Sen. Pat McCarran (D-Nev) denied in a statement that it would aid the Reds, and said he wholeheartedly disagreed with the President's analysis.

NEW YORK (AP) — The U.S. Communist party Saturday night defied the new Communist-control law and announced its members would refuse to register with the justice department.

A party spokesman said American Communists from National Party Chairman William Z. Foster on down will refuse to register even though violation of the law carries a maximum penalty of $10,000 fine and five years in prison.

Where the Communists will hit next is anybody's guess. The Communist leader commented succinctly that Western weak spots in Berlin are not hard to find.

The high Communist made clear that another full-scale blockade like that of 1948-49 is one thing that will not be attempted now.

Allied Forces Shoot Out New Entrapment Arm For 27 Miles

Psychological War Begins To Pay Off

TOYKO (AP) — Psychological warfare is beginning to pay off for the Allies.

The millions of surrender leaflets showered by air on North Korean Communist lines are bringing in increasing number of surrendering Reds.

The Communists ignored them when the invasion was running smoothly. Now that they are reeling backward, they are recalling the message, reiterated by leaflet and radio.

Boiled down, it runs something like this:

"Surrender; you will be well treated. You will get good food and good medical treatment. The whole world is against you; the sooner you surrender, the sooner the war will be over and you can go home to your families. You cannot win, because we are getting stronger every day and you are getting weaker. Why die?"

Surrender still does not come easily to a Red soldier. His own people will shoot him for possessing one of those leaflets; he may be killed by Allied troops as he crosses the lines; and he fears he may be mistreated, as his bosses have told him.

The steady drumbeat of the psychological warfare branch is having its effect, however. One Red who came in the other day had a worn and crumpled leaflet that had been dropped early in July.

Both cars were reported traveling at a high speed. The crash completely demolished the front ends and motors of both vehicles.

Other students returning from Solon in cars behind the DeCoursey convertible stopped and gathered around the scene of the accident. A few helped give aid to the injured.

Reds Revive War Of Nerves in Berlin

BERLIN (AP) — A leading Communist said Saturday the East Germans and the Russians were deliberately reviving their war of nerves in this four-power capital.

This official, a member of the Socialist Unity (Communist) party's central committee, declared in a brief, guarded interview:

"We want to show the Western occupation powers that they and their handy men can sleep quietly in Berlin only if we want it."

The fact that a high Communist was willing to talk to a Western reporter about the subject at all indicated how cocky the German Reds are becoming. However, he demanded anonymity before commenting on anything.

Where the Communists will hit next is anybody's guess. The Communist leader commented succinctly that Western weak spots in Berlin are not hard to find.

The high Communist made clear that another full-scale blockade like that of 1948-49 is one thing that will not be attempted now.

BLACK ARROWS INDICATE main Allied drives in the two UN beachheads in South Korea Saturday. U. S. Seventh division spearheads drove eight miles beyond captured Suwon along a major highway to the southeast. DENVER (AP) — B-29's flying 10 abreast and smaller rescue aircraft dived through the skies along a 3,000-mile route over the United States and Canada Saturday in a giant effort to locate a B-50 bomber missing with 16 persons aboard.

The large-scale search mission lifted at dawn from scattered air bases over an area from Goose Bay, Labrador, to Davis Mountain base at Tucson, Ariz.

The big U.S. air force bomber has not been reported since it took off on a routine training mission Thursday from Goose Bay bound on a non-stop flight for Tucson.

An air force spokesman said 12 crew members and four passengers were aboard.

25th Division Slashes West Toward Sachon

TOKYO (SUNDAY) (AP) — United Nations forces bent on breaking apart the Communist army in southeast Korea have shot out a new entrapment arm for 27 miles, a field dispatch reported today.

At the south end of the fast-changing Pusan perimeter, U.S. 25th division troops struck westward. A division spokesman told Associated Press Correspondent Stan Swinton that a task force pushed within eight miles of Sachon.

If that Red stronghold falls to the Americans, the attackers would outflank North Korean troops fighting bitterly against other 25th division elements farther north. Sachon is 53 air miles west of Pusan.

Another Arm
Another such enveloping arm was thrust from the northwest end of the old perimeter Saturday by U.S. First Cavalry troops. It put the Americans within 85 air miles of other U.S. infantrymen at Suwon, 20 miles south of Seoul.

Some Communist elements escaped the closing traps and reached Seoul. They bolstered Red house-to-house defense of the 500-year-old Korean capital against U.S. and South Korean marines inching through the outskirts.

Planes Add to Kill
AP Correspondent Hal Boyle said U.S. First Cavalry division patrols rumbled through Sangju late Saturday. Sangju is 85 air miles southeast of Suwon.

From the Seoul-Inchon beachhead, the U.S. Seventh division had driven to Suwon and its airfield Friday after encountering Reds and destroyed 20 tanks. Plane pilots previously had estimated more than 1,100 Reds killed Friday and 900 Thursday.

War at a Glance
Tokyo — U.S. marines in two-pronged assault smash toward heart of Seoul; Seventh infantry captures Oan, 30 miles below Seoul, closing gap between Americans on south to 75 miles.

Naktong front — First Cavalry troops and elements of the U.S. 24th division tighten pincers at attack on key Communist communications city of Kumchong.

After 20-Hour, 48-Minute 'Lost Cause' Filibuster —

Senate Passes Anti-Subversives Bill over Veto

WASHINGTON (AP) — The senate Saturday overrode President Truman's veto of a hard-bolled set of Communist controls. A smashing 57 to 10 vote made them the law of the land.

Then congress hurried home for the election campaign. The senate quit at 3:23 p. m. (Iowa time); the house had recessed at 2:17 p. m. Members will return Nov. 27 to act on excess profits tax legislation and make way for the new congress in January.

Enactment of the anti-subversives bill was delayed 20 hours and 48 minutes by a lost-cause filibuster carried out by a handful of senators. They finally stepped aside after debating futilely against the bill which Mr. Truman contended would actually help the Communists and "weaken our liberties."

The determined band, conceding they had no chance, insisted nevertheless that the vote be delayed until the senators thought over the veto message and heard from home.

Backers of the bill, speaking briefly at the debate finally wound up, rejected the President's arguments entirely.

SUI Accident A Warning —

A horrible and ghastly crash split the stillness of the countryside near Iowa City Friday night. Parents of five young persons probably were asleep or unsuspecting of the gruesome scene in which their sons and daughters lay.

A short while later, a father, who was working at University hospitals and who knew nothing of the crash, saw his own injured son brought into the surgery out clinic.

The new school year was only two days old when the sirens of ambulances and squad cars awakened people along the route to the scene. Spectators at the bloody aftermath of the crash stood by while the few who could tried to comfort the victims until help arrived.

Where are we falling short? What is it we should do? How in the name of everything humane can we stop these accidents? Safety campaigns seem to do little good. Repeated warnings from highway and city officers result in no decreases in accident rates.

Crowds gathered Saturday morning around the two vehicles involved in this particular accident. The cars had been towed to a local garage. What will the persons in those crowds do to prevent their own automobiles from being seen in the same condition by loved ones and curious spectators?

These questions are not new. They're as old and unheeded as the Golden Rule. But something must be done. Friday night's accident should be all the warning SUI students need. Every driver on this campus should be made to look at the two virtually demolished cars which are mashed and crumpled examples of what an accident can bring — even without death.

We all remember the words: "Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends."

For the drivers of the entire nation we might suggest: "Greater meanness hath no man than this, that a driver take a chance which might take the life of another."

Iron Curtain News Offered

Editor's note: This is another in a series of weekly summaries of recent periodicals articles on various aspects of the war in Korea and on foreign affairs. These articles are selected and annotated by staff members of the serials-reserve department of the SUI library.

Of interest to those who wish to follow current materials of the Russian press but have no reading knowledge of Russian, is a weekly publication titled "The Current Digest of the Soviet Press."

A selection of the contents of about thirty Soviet magazines and newspapers is translated into English and presented as straight documentary material without editorial comment or opinion.

The magazine, designed to aid scholars and journalists in studying and interpreting present-day developments in the Soviet Union, is published by the Joint Committee on Slavic Studies, appointed by the American Council of Learned Societies.

"Pravda" and "Izvestia," the two leading Soviet newspapers, are received by air mail and their contents appear in the "The Current Digest" within approximately one month after publication date in Moscow.

Arranged by Subject. Contents are arranged according to subject-matter and each issue contains several feature articles.

In line with recent developments in Korea, "Newsweek" in its Sept. 25 issue devotes a large section of the magazine to an account of the Korean war, covering all important phases, including a discussion of the political angle. If you are still trying to catch up on neglected summer reading, the September number of the "Contemporary Review" prints a condensed history of "Korea Past and Present" which supplies important background information on the history of Korea in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries.

Capt. Walter Karig has an article in "Collier's" magazine of Sept. 23, titled "Korea—Tougher to Crack than Okinawa," in which he discusses the advantages in favor of the North Koreans and the unpreparedness of the American forces for the new guerrilla type of warfare.

Building of 2 Koreas
"The Reporter," a fortnightly of facts and ideas, devoted a section of its Sept. 26 issue to Korea. An ex-Soviet officer tells "How Russia Built the North Korean Army." A former U. S. civil administrator under the military government of Korea writes "How We Built the South Korean Republic."

FL Names Taft Labor's 'No. 1 Enemy'

HOUSTON (AP) — The AFL's political league, with an expected $1-million war chest, named Sen. Robert Taft (R-Ohio) Saturday as labor's "number one enemy."

Joe Keenan, league director, asserted to the AFL convention "Hitler would rule the world" if all congressmen had voted like Taft.

"Now he has gone to work to give aid and comfort to Stalin," Keenan added.

Keenan told unionists to get 2-million more people in 20 states to register for the November general elections and aid in wiping out what he called "the last dying gasp of the reactionaries."

"We want a pro-labor majority in congress to repeal Taft-Hartley. That takes more than good intentions. That takes votes," Keenan said.

Others listed, with Keenan's remarks, as primary targets of the league's drive include:

Rep. J. Caleb Boggs (R-Del) — "one of the most reactionary congressmen in the house."
Sen. Forrest C. Donnell (R-Mo)

—the senate's "number one nuisance and most tiresome obstructionist."
Sen. Alexander Wiley (R-Wis) — "the Pappy O'Daniel of the north . . . completely anti-labor."
Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) — "one of labor's bitterest enemies."
Sen. Kenneth S. Wherry (R-Neb) — "the worst isolationist in the senate."
Sen. Eugene D. Millikin (R-Colo) — "one of the very worst senators in the upper body."
George Meany, AFL and labor league secretary, predicted over $1-million will be raised to fight candidates labor unions oppose.

'PACIFIC' RECORD

DES MOINES (AP) — The management of KRNT theater reported Saturday the six-day run of the musical "South Pacific" broke the national boxoffice record for a week's run in a legitimate theater.

Officials said the eight performances at the KRNT theater, largest legitimate theater in the nation, netted $94,719.

Might Have Been King — Forgotten Prince Lives in Obscurity

By ALEX H. SINGLETON

BELGRADE (AP) — A man who might have been a king pedals his bicycle through the drab streets of this country's capital. Lean, grunt and listless, he has been forgotten by the world which once knew him as Yugoslavia's "Red Prince."

The cyclist is Prince George, elder brother of King Alexander, whose slaying in 1934 marked the real end of the monarchy. He is the uncle of Yugoslavia's exiled King Peter, who still clutches the hope of returning to his throne.

In the turbulent Balkans of a half-century ago, Prince George took his princelike and his political seriously, dug deep into literature and history, little dreaming that Communism one day would rule the heritage of his dynasty.

He lives now pleasantly, if not in royal state, under a Communist regime which tolerates him largely because many of the oldtimers remember him from the years when he spoke out for liberalism.

Mysterious Past
Mystery cloaks his past, and the reason why this younger brother, Alexander, rather than George became monarch of Yugoslavia three decades ago when liberalism was on the upsurge in eastern Europe.

Gossip tells a story, never denied, of how Prince George kicked and killed a valet in a moment of temper and old King Peter, rather than risk the anger of his people, forced him to denounce his right to the throne in favor of young Alexander.

History might have been different in this part of the world had it been otherwise. George was brought up as a student in Switzerland, a brilliant if eccentric scholar, who, twice wounded, won a soldier's reputation as a brave man in World War I.

Alexander, on the other hand, was educated in Russia, brought up as darling of the court of the Czars. A soldier's soldier himself, he ruled as an ironhanded despot when he took over, first as regent and then as king after his father was slain.

There was no quibbling about who was boss. There was but one king. His name was Alexander. He practiced politics with the skill of a born politician, playing party against party, one leader against another.

Old King Peter

Perhaps neither of them, George or Alexander, had the political acumen of their father, old King Peter Karageorgevic, who was called to the throne from exile in Switzerland in 1933 after the assassination of his predecessor.

Under old King Peter, Yugoslavia had a comparatively happy regime. He brought from Switzerland a love of freedom and he took steps to spread it among his people. Well-educated, he translated Milton's "Paradise Lost" into Serbian.

In the span of a half-century, life has changed drastically for the Karageorgevic dynasty. Old King Peter was assassinated. So was his son King Alexander. His grandson, the young King Peter, lives in restless exile.

The last who can claim a stand on Yugoslav soil is Prince George, the "Red Prince," but he can't claim much. Enough to cycle to the market unnoticed — neither cheered nor jeered. A small house on a hill where he lives with his wife, a former secretary of the court whom he married this year — a place to read and recollect.

The "Red Prince" of Yugoslavia gets an income of about 30,000 dinars ($600) monthly from the Communist masters of the country his family once ruled in return for property he once owned.

It is a strange change for a man who might have been a king.

Iowa Men Fit; Draft Reports Fewer Rejects

DES MOINES (AP) — Iowa has as many physically fit young men, percentage-wise, as any state in the nation, Iowa selective service headquarters said Saturday.

The service said experiences of the last two months show the number of registrants rejected for military service on physical grounds is declining rapidly.

For that reason, considerably fewer men will be called up next month for physical examinations than in previous months. This is despite the fact that the state's November quota is about 50 percent greater than those for September and October.

Less than 30 percent of the men called up for physicals in July and August to meet the September quota, were rejected. Service officials said they thought that was "pretty big" but that nationwide it was "pretty good."

"Iowa is right up front in the percentage of those who pass their physicals," a spokesman for the service commented. "We will compare favorably with any state."

Far fewer rejections are being made among those called up for physicals this month to meet the October quota. In fact, the spokesman said, there is a "rather big pool of acceptances now and we can level off."

He added that some counties will not be asked to send up as many men for physicals next month to meet the November quota, as they have been sending up. In some cases the cut will be considerable, he said.

The September quota has 860 and the October figure was 859. To meet these about 3,000 men each were called for physicals. The November quota is 1,197. But considerably fewer than 3,000 men will be ordered up for examinations, the service said.

The spokesman explained the reason for the higher rate of rejections in July and August as being due to the large number of World War II rejects being returned for physicals. Also, the oldest of the registrants were examined in July and August.

"These men had been pretty well screened out on physical grounds in World War II days," the spokesman said. "It stands to reason that many of them still would be 4-F's (rejects)."

"As the younger men began to be called up for the tests, the percentage of rejections dropped sharply."

The spokesman said the county-by-county number of men to be called up for physicals next month to meet the November quota now is being worked out.

Chinese Woman Wears Major General's Star

TAIPEI, FORMOSA (AP) — People usually look twice when they see Miss Chou Mei-yu.

It isn't her looks. What attracts attention is the star she wears, the insignia of a major general in the nationalist army.

Miss — pardon — General Chou is the only woman to hold such rank in Chiang Kai-shek's forces. She is in charge of training nurses for the nationalist army.

Born and brought up in Peiping, she was trained at the famed Rockefeller — endowed Peking Union Medical college.

Contractor Describes Material Shortages

DES MOINES (AP) — The construction industry is finding some "rough and rugged" going where cement and steel are needed in large quantities, a spokesman for the industry said Saturday.

He is O.W. Crowley, executive secretary of the Associated General Contractors of Iowa. The organization's membership includes some of the state's biggest contractors.

"It's pretty rough going now where cement and steel are concerned," Crowley commented in reply to a question about the materials outlook in view of the Korean war. He added:

"To cement, it's really rugged. It looks like the situation will continue unless the Korean war causes further delay. Steel is scarce too. Orders placed in August can be expected to be filled in January to March."

Crowley said the recent railroad strike didn't help any in the cement situation. It prevented shipping the stone needed. Further, he explained "only a couple of companies have increased production."

Referring to the steel situation, he commented:

"The contractor has to have more work lined up now than before to keep his men busy. That's because of the scarcity of steel. When work is halted on one project, the contractor must have another job to turn to."

MAKE IT A FELONY to picket federal court, as happened (above) in trial of 11 Reds in New York. The senate Saturday followed the house in passing the bill, which was sponsored by Sen. McCarran (D-Nev.), over a presidential veto. President Truman had said he believed the measure would interfere with civil rights.

A REVERSIBLE WESKIT gives almost any outfit an added touch, as modeled by Dorothy Lauer, A3, Cherokee. Unusual lighting, background music, electric eye doors, and even a lounging room where Dad can relax while Mother shops are predicted.

Kitchen equipment manufacturers are turning an eye to the odd-sized gals, with special sizes for the extra short and tall women.

Prefabricated cabinet units, sinks and ranges are included in these made-to-order sizes.

For Television - Age Kids: Cheese packaged in plastic replicas of their favorite stage coach or Roy Rogers' horse soon will be on the market.

The plastic cases can turn into toys after the cheese is gone. And the cases have four-color litho prints.

Wool jerseys, warm but not too hot for classroom or office, are at the top of the fashion favorites list.

From Our Statistics Flies: In 30 years of married life, the average housewife washes a stack of dishes twice as high as the Empire State building. The stack weighs an estimated 340 tons.

Does skidding meringue mar your pies? Remember that meringue on a hot pie filling causes syrup to form between the two, making the meringue skid.

A new cotton-stuffed doll with plastic head and arms has a beating heart, thanks to a mechanical gadget. The doll also pouts, puckers, kisses, frowns and sucks its thumb.

When the bathroom walls and woodwork become dirty, close the door and windows, turn on the hot water and let the room fill with steam.

Wash the walls and woodwork as usual, renewing the soap solution as soon as it looks dirty. Then go over everything with a clean dry cloth.

Your children's picky eating habits may not be a mystery. Because children copy adults, remarks overheard like "What, fish again?" or "I never did like beets" may not set a good example.

An electric fan will dry curtains on a stretcher in just a few hours.

A good eating apple, such as a winesap, can turn into an appetizer with a little trimming. Cut into slices 1-2 inch thick, but do not pare.

Dip immediately into pineapple or orange juice and spread with softened cream cheese or Roquefort. Insert a toothpick into each wedge.

Keep a small container of soap handy in your sewing basket to mark hemlines on dark fabric. Also, rub the end of thread over the soap, twist it, and it will slide easily through the needle eye. A little dampened soap on buttonhole areas of thin material make threads stay in place.

To make a sour cream dressing, add 2 tablespoons mayonnaise, 1 teaspoon sugar, 1-4 teaspoon salt and 1 tablespoon orange juice to 1-2 cup sour cream. Beat lightly.

SUI Professor Designs Largest Aluminum 'Dish' Ever Built

CEDAR RAPIDS (AP) — The largest aluminum dish ever turned out is abuilding in the back yard of the Collins Radio company here. But they'll never serve beans off its shining surface.

Instead, navy technicians in Washington, D.C. plan to capture radio waves from outer space on its, face and measure them. In this way, they hope to add to our knowledge of the sun, moon and the planets.

The "dish" was designed by Prof. Ned Ashton of the SUI structural engineering department. In charge of the project is Irvin H. Gerks, a radio engineer for Collins, and his assistant, Don Holzschuh, a mechanical engineer.

The big dish is a paraboloid, a radar rifle, a radio telescope — take your pick. In its final function, it's very much like an optical telescope except that it deals with radio waves instead of light.

The knowledge gained by scientists from their readings on the dish will be used as background material for long-range weather forecasting and conceivably for long-range communication.

The "dish," engineers believe might be the means of bouncing extremely short radio waves off the moon to be picked up in other parts of the world, removing some of the limits on short wave radio that exist today.

The dish is huge. It will weigh 50 tons when assembled and will be mounted in Washington at a navy-research laboratory.

Large radio telescopes have been made before but none this large, nor of aluminum. Other paraboloids have been made as large as 10 feet from aluminum and others of chicken wire and similar materials, but none quite so large as the Collins effort.

Late this fall, the telescope should be ready for shipment to Washington in knocked-down form. There it will be re-assembled.

Navy specifications require that the reflecting surface of the dish vary no more than the thickness of one or two sheets of paper. Because aluminum responds to heat to the point of changing the shape of the pieces, a tent 34 feet high was built over the structure to protect it from the sun.

Negroes Admitted By Arkansas Demos

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Arkansas Democrats Friday admitted Negroes to the party and read Dixiecrat supporters out of the regular party organization.

A resolution admitting Negroes was adopted by the state Democratic convention by a loud "aye" vote.

Amis Guthridge, Little Rock, a Dixiecrat leader, bitterly denounced the resolution but he was shouted down with cries of "Throw him out." Guthridge attacked President Truman, Leon Henderson, Dean Acheson and Sid McMath, Democratic nominee for governor for "scuttling the Democratic party."

The convention formally nominated McMath and adopted a resolution requiring party members to support national party nominees.

Hospital School Staff Increased

Two therapists and a nurse have been added to the staff of the SUI hospital school for severely handicapped children, according to Director W.B. Schoenbohm.

Mrs. Dorothy Williams has joined the staff as speech therapist, and Helen Cooper as a registered occupational therapist. Mrs. Williams was graduated from SUI in 1949 with a M.A. degree in speech pathology.

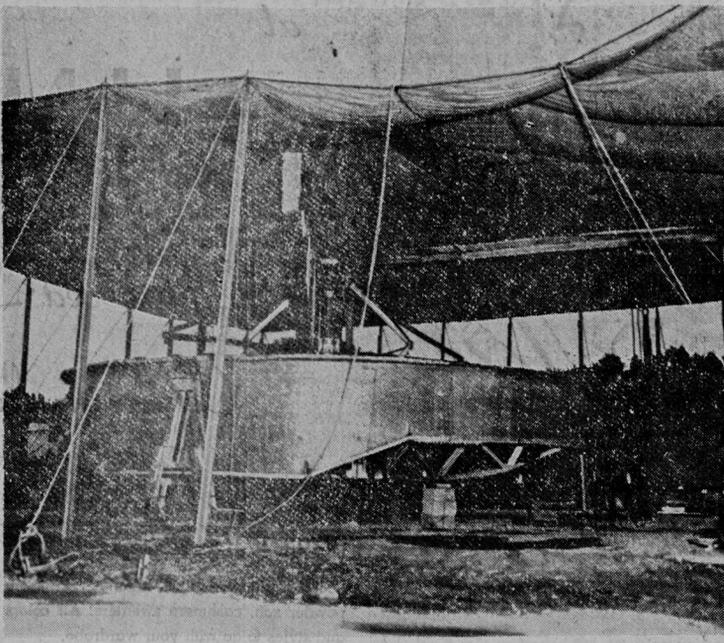

Miss Cooper comes to SUI from the Cerebral Palsy center, Knoxville, Tenn. She was director of occupational therapy there.

Former supervisor of nursing service at the Crippled Children's school, Jamestown, N.D., Alice Carlstedt, has joined the hospital school staff as head nurse.

Iowa City Woman Files Divorce Suit

A RADIO TELESCOPE is being built under a large tent at Cedar Rapids for the U.S. Naval Research laboratory in Washington, D.C. The instrument contains the largest aluminum "dish" ever built. The "big dish" was designed by SUI Engineering Prof. Ned Ashton.

Carnival of Bands Planned By Union Board Members

Plans are underway for the annual Carnival of Bands to be held in the Iowa Union Oct. 7. On that date a number of bands will be spotted throughout the building to provide music for dancing and listening.

Charles McLaughlin, E3, Des Moines, was appointed chairman of that committee in a recent Union board meeting. Connie Jewett, A3, Des Moines, was named chairman of the Homecoming open house and dance committee.

Applications are now available for sub-committee membership on the Union board. It is necessary for board members to have one year sub-committee work before they are eligible for election to the board.

Sub-committee workers aid committee chairmen in planning all activities at the union such as the coming Carnival of Bands and the homecoming festivities. They also aid in planning bridge tournaments and Sunday matinee dances.

University housing units have already received applications for committee representatives. However, all students may apply since endorsement from some organization is not necessary. All SUI colleges are represented on the board.

Applications must be made at the main desk of the Union before Friday.

The first meeting for the newly elected committee members will be Oct. 10 at 7:30 p.m. in the River room of the Union.

A Sunday matinee dance to begin today at 2:30 p.m. in the River room will continue throughout the afternoon and evening.

"Doc and Leo," a piano team, will perform at the Union starting at 1 p.m. today "Doc," is Dr. Russell Meyers, surgeon and chairman of the division of neurosurgery. "Leo" is Leo Cortmiglia, SUI graduate and resident of Iowa City.

New York Police Linked with Racketeers

NEW YORK (AP) — The shadow of a major scandal linking police and racketeers in a million dollar payoff hung over New York City Saturday — and wherever it touched there was tension.

Sources close to a Brooklyn grand jury probe said a betting ring bought protection at the rate of $9,000 a week paid to low echelon police. Higher ranking officers of the law allegedly received other gifts and cash to bring the payoff total to a million dollars a year.

But behind the headlines, behind all the rumors and reports nerves were being strained, hearts were being broken and tempers were short.

In a modest Brooklyn apartment, a red-eyed housewife sobbed: "I'm frightened. I can't sleep nights. I'm afraid something will happen to the children. I didn't know my husband was in this."

In a courtroom, a ruffled judge looked down at New York City's highest police official and snapped: "An honest police department would stop the bookmaking in this city in 24 hours."

In his cell, a rich, perfume-scented gambler sat glumly, apparently determined not to give the names of the high ranking police friends he says were his partners in a $20-million-a-year gambling business. He went to jail after telling a judge "I know it is a terrible scandal."

"I've been in their homes," he said. "I know their kids, been at their graduations. I offered it (the money) to them — I am the one to blame. I just cannot go bringing these people into this."

But other witnesses were reported talking freely to Brooklyn District Atty. Miles F. McDonald, who has been pressing a grand jury inquiry into Brooklyn rackets since last January.

Latest disclosures had the earmarks of a scandal approaching the proportions of Brooklyn's vice war of the late 1930's, when "Murder, Inc." mobsters were in their heyday.

Model Airplane Club Plans Meeting Monday

All interested in joining the club are welcome, Yenter said.

Army Lists Dental Standards; Needs Dentists

Dental standards for enlistments and inductions into the army and a corresponding shortage of dentists were announced by Iowa military district headquarters Saturday.

Men previously rejected by high dental requirements will receive notices to report by their induction stations, the report said.

Individuals whose mouths are free from gross dental infection and are correctable by dentures will now be acceptable for army service.

In conjunction with this new policy fifth army headquarters in Chicago announced the need for more dentists. Officials are hopeful that the requirements will be filled by volunteers without the necessity of using the dentist-physician draft bill newly passed by congress.

Those inducted under the draft act will not be eligible for the $100-a-month bonus, Fifth army headquarters said.

The new special registration and draft act authorizes the President to call for the registration with selective service of all dentists, physicians and allied specialists under age 51, with the exception of those holding active or reserve commissions.

Those registered are subject to 21 months active service. It is estimated that about one half the 24,000 licensed dentists in the 13-state Fifth army area will be required to register.

The act provides that former army student training program

Truman Signs Bill Boosting Personal, Corporation Taxes

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Truman Saturday signed into law a $47-billion war-emergency measure boosting individual income and corporation taxes.

The increased bill in individual income taxes—effective Oct. 1—ranges from 12 to 20 percent. That section is expected to yield an additional $2,745,000,000.

The new law increases corporation tax rates, retroactive to July 1, from 38 to 45 percent and plugs up some of the so-called loopholes in present tax laws. The corporate increase will bring in an estimated $1.5-billion annually in new revenues.

The new money to be raised by the law is only the first installment in a broad revenue-raising campaign to meet Korean war costs and other defense spending.

The second installment in the "pay-as-we-go" rearmament program is slated for consideration in November when congress will reconvene to write an excess profits tax law that is to be retroactive to cover either the last quarter or the last half of this year.

The house ways and means committee will start public hearings on excess profits legislation Nov. 15. Its object is to have a bill ready for the house to consider when congress resumes work Nov. 27.

First effects of the new law will be felt by 50-million taxpayers when they receive their initial pay checks after Oct. 1.

For example, a married man with two dependents who earns $60 a week now has $1.50 withheld from his paycheck for income tax purposes. After Oct. 1, he will pay $1.70 per week.

A married man with no children, who earns $125 a week now pays an income tax of $15.20 weekly. Under the new law, the bite will be $18.30.

The bureau of internal revenue already has sent to employers instructions regarding the new withholding tax rates.

Chicago Men Fined On Magazine Charges

Three Chicago men have been fined $12.50 each by Police Judge Emil G. Trot on charges of soliciting magazine sales without a permit.

The men, Walter Smith, Jim Marshall and Frank Amico, were arrested Wednesday by police.

In another case, Gerald Lentz, route 6, paid $12.50 for speeding.

SUI Hospitals Treat 18,210

A total of 18,210 patients were admitted to the University hospitals during the fiscal year ending July 1, 1950.

University hospitals officials announcing annual statistics, said these patients had accumulated 259,342 patient-days during the year.

One patient receiving medical care in the hospital for a 24-hour period constitutes a patient-day. Out-patients, who receive examination and treatment without occupying bed space, totaled 31,702.

Statistics for the past fiscal year are approximately the same as those of 1948-49. Admissions and patient-days decreased slightly.

Births totalled 1,184, a slight increase, and operations amounted to 8,968, about average.

Other figures which increased over last year included laboratory examinations, 108,385; prescriptions issued, 152,870; physical therapy treatments, 51,227; and blood transfusions, 6,683.

The hospitals dietary department served 1,525,189 meals. Laundry, computed in pounds, reached a figure of 2,681,524.

Statistics show that the total number of hospital personnel has increased. Staff physicians number 73, resident physicians, 103 and interns, 18.

One hundred and seventy-nine graduate nurses and 256 student nurses were on duty as well as 87 medical clerks and 91 other professional hospital personnel. Other general hospital personnel amounted to 604.

Gillette Suggests Probe Of Liquor Commission

HAMPTON (AP)—Lester S. Gillette Democratic candidate for governor, Saturday suggested that the legislative interim committee investigate the Iowa liquor commission.

In a speech prepared for delivery here and released by Democratic headquarters in Des Moines, Gillette said:

"I called upon the governor last week for an investigation to be made by the legislature but the governor does not seem to think the facts warrant calling an extra session. I disagree with him."

Gillette and Gov. William S. Beardsley, a Republican, are rivals in the Nov. 7 gubernatorial contest.

Gillette said the interim committee, formally known as the reformation and reform committee, "can make an investigation without any extra expense." He said the interim group, since it is composed of six Republicans and four Democrats, could make a bipartisan study of the liquor commission.

The commission has been a storm center in recent weeks and George Scott (R-West Union), one of the commission members, has been differing with Commission Chairman Arthur Coburn (R-Cherokee) and Russell Swift (D-Harlan) over liquor purchase policies and other matters.

Scott, who a week ago also asked Beardsley to call a special session, Saturday in Des Moines urged the interim committee conduct the investigation. When Beardsley early this week said he did not believe the facts merited a special session at this time, he indirectly referred to Scott's request as "political jockeying." Scott has declared his call for an investigation is in no way connected with Gillette's campaign.

Catholics in Iron Curtain Countries Celebrate Holy Year

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Millions of Catholics whose road to Rome has been blocked by Communists nevertheless have gained Holy Year indulgence under catacomb-like conditions, Vatican sources said Saturday.

Catacombs are the underground network of tunnels and grottos near Rome in which the early Christians hid from pagan persecutors, worshipped and were buried.

Even before Pope Pius opened the holy door for 1950 in St. Peter's basilica on Christmas eve, Communist countries had made it clear that no permits for pilgrim travel to Rome would be granted. More than 50-million Catholics live in iron curtain countries.

The absence here was described this week by the Holy year central committee as "the least happy note of this Holy year."

Nonetheless, reports have reached Rome of Holy year activities by Catholics in Communist-controlled countries.

Clandestine services are becoming more common in Hungary, where stern measures recently were adopted against the Catholic church and some 10,000 nuns and monks ordered to leave their convents.

Hungarian Catholic sources said Catholics in their country are resorting to nightly "catacomb-like" services to practice their religion without losing their jobs.

In varying degrees—but less so in Poland, whose more than 20-million people are almost solidly Catholic—this is true in Czechoslovakia, Rumania, Bulgaria, the Baltic countries and Communist China.

Less Shine As Chrome Finish Disappears

DETROIT (AP)—Automobiles may lose some of their razzle-dazzle next year if the nation's industries are put on a fuller wartime footing.

Wooden bumpers are NOT in the offing, but the fancy chrome work on today's passenger cars will suffer if defense products such as jet airplane engines go into volume production.

Shortages of nickel pose the threat to flashing chrome automotive trim. The government has allocated the metal and is stockpiling it rapidly. Just how much is being put away no one in the auto industry knows, or is willing to say.

"The government's holding the bag and we don't know what's in it," said one hurried purchasing agent, for whom nickel isn't the only problem.

Iowa Farmers Union Asks Seating of Communist China

DES MOINES (AP)—The Iowa farmers union Saturday voted support of its national organization's stand on the Korean war, after 2 hours of bitter debate highlighted by charges that there are Communists in official position in the Iowa union.

Shortly afterward the convention adopted another resolution which, among other things, urged the United Nations to seat Communist China and to call for an immediate truce in the fighting in Korea.

The stand which caused the fireworks was taken by secret ballot, 90 to 85. The second resolution was adopted 105 to 47 after a demand for a standing vote.

Support of the national organization was proposed by M.E. Roisen of Northwood. He moved that the following be added to a resolution which criticized U.S. Sen. Styles Bridges (R-NH) for his recent attack on the farmers union:

"Resolved that the state convention declare that the Iowa union and membership support without qualification the stand of the national union on the United Nations resistance of the Communist aggression in Korea."

The high point of the bitter debate came when A.W. Ricker of Van Wert declared "there are Communists in official positions of the Iowa farmers union."

U.S. Planes Raid Red China: Reds

LONDON (AP)—The Communist New China News agency as monitored here charged Saturday that American planes "again" raided and bombed Chinese territory Friday night.

Moscow radio also broadcast an account of the alleged violation of Chinese territory, attributing it to a Soviet Tass news agency dispatch from Peiping.

The Chinese Communist charged previously that American planes hit Chinese targets beyond the Korean borders and demanded indemnities and punishment of the fliers.

The United States admitted later that an American fighter plane might have strayed beyond the border.

Observers said at the time the Chinese Communists might use the incident as an excuse for entering the Korean war on the Korean war on the side of the Communists or for stepping up their supplies to the North Koreans.

Harvest Moon to Eclipse Monday

NEW YORK (AP)—Monday night the harvest moon will be totally eclipsed. The spectacle will be visible all over North America.

The next total eclipse visible in the United States won't be seen until Jan. 29, 1953.

As seen from the moon during an eclipse, the earth is a huge, perfectly round black disc, surrounded by one of the most beautiful halos in creation.

The halo is red, and is due to the same cause as the red of sunsets. The sun's rays, during this period of the eclipse, will be shining directly behind the earth (as seen from the moon) and will shine through the ring of air all around the earth's edges.

This air is more than 200 miles deep, although above the first 10 eunsets. The sun's rays, during this seen is a brilliant red near the earth, shading off to lighter red in the outward direction. The red glow is enough to illuminate the edges of the earth slightly, so that they are pink rather than black.

The first stages of the eclipse begin at 7:20 p.m. Iowa time. This is the moon's entry into the penumbra of the earth's shadow. That part of the show merely darkens the moon's face slightly. Usually only experts can detect the darkening.

At 8:31 p.m. the umbra begins. This is the earth's total black shadow. It will appear as a black curving disc, cutting the moon's glowing edge, and moving slowly across its face. The edge of this shadow has the sharpness of a knife edge. At 9:54 p.m. totality begins. The moon then is completely covered by the earth's shadow.

The moon begins to emerge at 10:40 p.m. This sight is a glowing bit of the curving edge of the moon moving out from the black—or copper—face. The moon leaves the number of black shadow at 12:02 a.m. at 1:13 a.m. the moon leaves the penumbra, ending the spectacle even for astronomers.

Hawkeyes Score Often In Scrimmage Session

Iowa's Hawkeyes had their toughest workout of the season Saturday afternoon in an hour's long full scale scrimmage which saw the offensive team click off ten touchdowns against a defensive unit.

Coach Leonard Raffensperger said he was fairly well pleased with the scrimmage which will probably be the last for the Hawks before leaving Wednesday for the Pacific coast and their Sept. 29 opener against Southern California.

The team's spirit, which sagged a little during last week's defensive practice, was up to early practice level in Saturday's spirited drills.

Starting Team

In the backfield, Fred Ruck called the signals at quarterback, Don Commack was at left half, Jerry Faske at right half and Jerry Nordman was at full back.

Bill Reichardt, combination halfback-fullback, was withheld from Saturday's scrimmage to allow a charley horse to completely heal. It is expected that he will be available for the Southern Cal game.

No Serious Injuries

No serious injuries were reported in the scrimmage although Nordman and Holger Christensen, reserve center, collided and were shaken up. "Junebug" Perrin, a guard candidate, sat out the drill because of a leg injury.

After the first team had raced to several touchdowns, the Iowa coaches substituted freely, mostly with players who will be included on the 40 man traveling squad.

Raffensperger said that he wouldn't announce the official traveling squad until Wednesday morning. "I'm not sure just who will be on it myself," he said Saturday.

Iowa's one-two running punch of Jerry Faske and Don Commack looked impressive in the scrimmage as they each broke loose several times for long gains.

Faske, the veteran halfback who averaged 6.6 yards per carry last year, started 70 yards for the first touchdown after eluding the secondary.

37 Yard Pass

A 37-yard pass from Ruck to Long set up the offensive team's second touchdown on the one yard line. Nordman plunged over for that score.

Ruck hit his favorite target of Commack for a 32-yard touchdown pass several plays later and then, on another series of downs pitched another completion to the speedy Waterloo halfback for a 20 yard gain.

Mike Riley, big fullback, bulled his way for 10 more yards. Faske then scored the fourth touchdown on a pitch out and 30 yard run.

At this point in the scrimmage, the first team was replaced by substitutes who continued the romp.

Sam Barry, Former Hawkeye Coach, Dies

(Special to The Daily Iowan)

BERKELEY, CALIF.—Sam Barry, basketball and baseball coach at Southern California who formerly coached these sports at Iowa, collapsed and died Saturday while enroute to scout the Santa Clara-California football game.

The well known coach, 57 years old, was with a friend Abe Zimmerman when he tumbled and fell as they walked up a hill west of the stadium. He was rushed to a hospital where he was pronounced dead.

In addition to coaching basketball and baseball, Barry was also an assistant football coach under Jeff Cravath.

Barry coached basketball at Iowa from 1923 to 1929 during which time the 1923 and 1926 teams tied for the Big Ten championship. He also coached baseball at Iowa in the 1923 and 1924. Barry's 1927 basket ball team finished in a tie for third place in the Western conference. Barry left Iowa in 1929 when the midwestern school was temporarily suspended from the Big Ten.

Leonard Raffensperger, Iowa's head football coach, was the regular center on the 1924 and 1925 Iowa basketball teams which were coached by Barry. Raffensperger said that Barry "was a very good friend of mine" and that he had planned on renewing his friendship with him next week when the Hawks open the season against Southern Cal at Los Angeles.

He went directly to Southern California where he served as assistant football coach to Howard Jones, a former Iowa grid mentor. After the Jones regime, Barry was head football coach at USC for several seasons.

Barry's Southern Cal basketball teams won five Pacific Coast conference southern division championships and three all conference titles.

New York Smashes Bosox Pennant Hopes

NEW YORK (AP) — The Yankees dealt a crushing blow to Boston's pennant hopes Saturday as they blasted the Red Sox, 8-0, before 63,998 wildly approving fans in the Stadium.

Victory behind Lefty Ed Lopat's slick five-hit pitching in the opener of the two-game series jumped the champions' lead in the American league race to a game and a half over the losing Detroit Tigers and three games over the Sox with only eight days to go.

Lopat was masterful as he mowed down the Hose, limiting them to four well spaced singles after Dom DiMaggio, the first batter to face him, whanged a towering triple to left center and died at third. The victory was the 18th for the chubby southpaw against eight losses, as well as the 100th triumph of his big league career.

The jolting defeat was the third in a row inflicted upon the fading Boston team, which only four days ago was in the thick of the throbbing pennant chase. Cleveland walloped Steve O'Neill's club twice on Wednesday to start the panic.

Favored Cyclones Nip Colorado, 14-7

AMES (AP) — Two last quarter touchdowns gave Iowa State a 14-7 victory over Colorado Saturday in the opening blast of the Big Seven conference football campaign.

Iowa State, the favorite, didn't act like one until after the Cyclones had tied the score at 7-all early in the final period.

But their fire kindled with their first scoring play. The Cyclones took full command down the stretch.

DETROIT CATCHER BOB SWIFT slid safely across home plate with one of the two runs the Tigers scored Saturday in losing a crucial game to Cleveland, 10-2. Swift tagged up and scored on Johnny Lipon's fly out to Cleveland outfielder Dale Mitchell. Jim Hegan is the Indians' catcher. Umpire Bill Grieve called the play.

Mike Garcia Pitches Victory Over Detroit

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cleveland tumbled the Tigers deeper into second place Saturday as Mexican Mike Garcia fashioned a five-hitter to pitch the avenging Indians fashioned a five-hitter to dians to their second straight victory over Detroit, 10-2.

Larry Doby and Luke Easter, Cleveland's two Negro sluggers, battered across seven runs between them to spearhead a 10-hit attack against five fruitless flingers.

Doby broke the backs of the Tigers as early as the third inning when he unloaded a terrific home run with the bases clogged to enable the Indians to overcome a 1-0 deficit. Easter highlighted a five-run seventh inning with a base-clearing two-bagger that sewed up the game.

Giants Clip Braves In 10 Innings, 4-3

BOSTON (AP)—The New York Giants shaded the Boston Braves, 4-3, in ten innings Saturday with Hank Thompson singling home Don Mueller from third base with the payoff run. Mueller had tripled.

Larry Jansen went the distance for his 18th victory and scattered eight hits including home runs by Sam Jethroe and losing Pitcher Johnny Sain. Sain was seeking his 20th victory.

The Giants scored three runs in the third inning on two walks, an error and singles by Ed Stanky and Mueller to take a 3-1 lead.

Michigan State Whips Oregon State, 38-12

NEW YORK (UP)—The 1950 college football season roared into action Saturday as a flock of the nation's most highly touted teams backed up pre-season forecasts with impressive victories. Intersectional games vied with opening conference battles and among the most spectacular winners were Michigan State, Georgia, Duke, Wyoming, California, U.C.L.A., Tennessee, and North Carolina.

Michigan State flashed plenty of land and air power to wallop Oregon State, 38-12, in the leading daytime intersectional clash. The Spartans were led to triumph by Bob Carey, a six-foot, five-inch end who treated a crowd of 32,500 at East Lansing, Mich., to a personal 20-point scoring parade.

Duke, Georgia, and North Carolina conquered in Southern conference games as that loop opened with a large schedule.

Georgia rolled to a 27-7 victory over Maryland in what could be classed as a mild upset.

Three Georgia touchdown drives were started by recovered fumbles. Duke prevailed by a 14-0 count over South Carolina, going ahead on the fourth play of the game when Jack Mounie scored on a plunge. The second score came in the third period on a pass from Billy Cox to Tom Powers, a six-yard play.

North Carolina, a favorite, was hard-pressed to defeat North Carolina State, 13-7, chiefly because Ed Mooney completed 14 of 28 passes for State, one for a touchdown.

California, west coast Rose Bowl team last year, opened with a fine 27-9 triumph over Santa Clara and unveiled a star sophomore back, Johnny Olszewski.

UCLA scored in each period to trounce Oregon, 28-0, in a Pacific Coast conference game. A flood of penalties kept the Bruins from running the score higher as Bob Moore led passing attack.

Tennessee, tabbed as the title favorite in the Southern conference, opened with 56-0 rout of Mississippi southern.

Branch Rickey Sells Interest in Dodgers; May Go to Pittsburgh

NEW YORK (UP)—Branch Rickey, one of the most successful executives in baseball, disclosed Saturday that he has sold his 25 percent interest in the Brooklyn Dodgers to William Zeckendorf, a New York real estate executive.

At the same time, it was hinted that the 69-year-old Rickey, regarded as an exceptionally shrewd judge of baseball talent, might go to the Pittsburgh Pirates in some executive capacity. Zeckendorf, contacted at Phoenix, Ariz., said he first learned that Rickey's interest was for sale when contacted by John Galbraith, president of the Pirates.

Zeckendorf, a 45-year-old "rags to riches" millionaire who was born in Paris, Ill., pointed out that he will remain "a contractual owner for only 90 days." Within that time, Rickey's two partners—Vice President Walter O'Malley and the widow of the late John L. Smith—can match Zeckendorf's price and purchase Rickey's holdings in the Dodgers.

Newcombe Hurls Brooks Past Phils

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Big Don Newcombe kept the Dodgers' flickering pennant hopes alive Saturday as he pitched Brooklyn to a 3-2 victory over the league-leading Philadelphia Phillies. The setback cut the Phils' advantage over Brooklyn to six games.

Home runs accounted for all of the scoring. Gil Hodges socked his 30th of the year with two on for Brooklyn in the second inning and Andy Seminick pounded out his 24th with one on in the seventh for Philadelphia.

Newcombe allowed only seven hits in gaining his 19th victory in a hurling duel with Robin Roberts who failed for the fourth time in his quest for his 20th victory.

Yanks Move Forward on Two South Korean Fronts

SOLDIERS OF U.S. SECOND DIVISION and South Korean allies set out after the retreating enemy after bridging the Naktong river, in the background, west of Changnyong.

NATIVES WAVE GREETINGS to U.S. marines aboard amphibious vehicle carrying the United Nations banner as the Yanks roll towards Seoul after crossing the Han river. Marines Saturday were fighting Reds in Seoul outskirts.

'Mopping Up Operation'

Primitive Combat of Old Roman Gladiators Rivalled by Korean Rice Paddy Warfare

WITH MARINES ON THE SEOUL FRONT (UP)—Planes, artillery and tanks are waging 20th century warfare up front, but back here in this rice field the fighting has taken on the flavor of a bout in the Coliseum of ancient Rome.

The drama here is a throwback to ancient warfare. Ahead, the main show is going full blast as the Marines stab at Seoul. This is but a sidelight. The communique will call it a "mopping up operation."

But what the Romans would have paid to have staged it in the Coliseum! For this is combat in its most primitive form. It is man against man, using every sense and every skill to preserve his life by killing that which seeks to kill him.

A man is about to die in this field of waist-high rice. The doomed is hiding somewhere in the two-acre plot. He is a North Korean and he is as deadly as a rattlesnake.

His marksmanship already has wounded three Marines. They were men who walked upright and alert one moment, and were knocked flat on the ground the next.

The seven-man patrol now is trying to find the sniper—and when they do, their fire will be as deadly as his. The Marines saw the three men fall, and watched them being carried bleeding and moaning back to the aid station.

They know that at any moment another stream of bullets may erupt from the rice field and cut them down.

A rifle cracks from somewhere ahead. A bullet zings past the tall Marine on the right. The seven flinch. Instinctively they duck.

"There goes the bastard," the tall one yells.

He fires off to the left, where the rice flutters and bends as something slithers snakelike through the stalks.

Tension among the Marines ends. They have spotted their man and fire into the wake of the moving grain as he tries to crawl away.

The North Korean becomes panicky as the bullets thud into the ground around him. He tries to run, crouching low, stumbling ahead.

He takes fewer than a dozen steps before a bullet hits him in the face and he falls.

But his will to live is great. He tries to rise and propel himself forward, only to be hit by a dozen shots that billow his jacket as they pass out. His body slumps forward and again is hidden by the rice field.

The seven Marines converge on

Psychologist Says Cat-Rat Cooperation Lesson for World

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Tulane university psychologist has trained four alley cats from New Orleans' famed French quarter to live happily with a team of white rats and says he thinks the world could learn a lesson in peaceful cooperation from them.

These natural enemies, said Dr. Loh-Seng Tsai of the New Orleans school, have been trained not only to live together without mayhem but to help one another get a good feed by overcoming mutual handicaps.

"So why not human beings, races and nationalities?" asks Tsai, who has reported on his research to the American Psychological Association.

He has a color film of the cats and the rats hard at work cooperating and said he hopes to show it to representatives of the United Nations.

Tsai's cat candidates for a peace prize came from alleys just a couple of blocks away from New Orleans' world-famed Bourbon street, where the lights are as bright and the blues are low-down.

His idea was that if cats who were old hands at chasing rats could be trained to be chummy with them, the evidence of the experiment would be most convincing.

The cats were trained with the rats in this way:

They were placed with rats in cages until they got accustomed to living, playing and eating together. Then, Tsai set out to teach them the value of teamwork and "cooperation" in coping with a tough situation.

The doctor has a device he calls the "Tsai cooperation apparatus." He first used it to teach teamwork.

The device is a box-like affair on legs. Its compartments are separated one from another by screen gate which can be raised and lowered.

To get into the compartment—where a dish of food awaits them—both the rat and the cat must step on floor buttons simultaneously. When this is done, says Tsai, the gate goes down and they are free to enter and eat the food.

Front Lines Shift Rapidly

Even Soldiers Confused as Drive North Leaves Old Front Behind

By STAN SWINTON

ON THE SOUTH KOREAN FRONT (AP)—Notes on how it feels to be with an advancing army, for a change:

The southern front was stable for weeks. Sometimes the North Koreans made a little gain here; sometimes the Americans moved a company or two out there; but overall the front was pretty much fixed. You knew you could go to the pearshaped hill with Charlie company on it, and no farther. You knew if your jeep nosed beyond a certain bridge, a Communist gun would try for you.

Now the war has moved on. But your reflexes still are conditioned to the past. Driving past Charlie hill over the last bridge, your breath comes fast. You hunch over, waiting for the enemy gun which does not fire. Each time you pass the old front line it is the same—the memory of danger echoes through your subconscious.

No one—not even the soldiers—are sure where the front is as the army grinds forward. Friday a regimental kitchen suddenly found it was ahead of the infantry—and the target for enemy shells. Friday a North Korean was a little confused, too. He saw a silhouette on the road and started a spirited conversation. Then, realizing he was talking to an American, he threw both arms around Capt. Bonnie H. Pannell of Memphis, Tenn.

Pannell swung a right uppercut to the Communist's jaw. The Red hung on. Pannell kneed him. The Red gasped, broke away and ran.

Pannell had dropped his rifle in the scuffle. He picked it up and killed the Communist with a snap shot down the moonlit road.

It must have been a terrible thing to be a North Korean here. Behind the old front the green rice fields are pocked with the round brown scars of shell bursts. Artillery whose thick steel was ripped apart lies abandoned by the road. Like crumpled tinfoil, the torn bits of napalm tanks—dropped from U.S. airplanes as they scattered jellied fire—are strewn everywhere. A dead soldier is a forgotten soldier with the Communists. Bodies lie everywhere—some only skeletons now, with a few rags clinging to them.

Discover Body In Minnesota

BRAINERD, MINN. (AP)—Three grouse hunters discovered a badly decomposed body near a country road 40 miles north of here Saturday and authorities tentatively identified it as that of Eugene H. Stolze, 26, Davenport newspaperman missing since last June 30.

Sheriff Roy Wickland said the condition of the body made positive identification difficult. However, he said clothing on the body answered the description of that worn by the Iowan when he was last seen vacationing in the Brainerd resort area.

The sheriff also said the condition of the body made it difficult to determine the cause of death.

Big Three Postpone Question of West German Rearmament

NEW YORK (AP)—Foreign and defense ministers of the Big Three western powers broke up their talks Saturday after apparently postponing the question of rearming German troops for the defense of western Europe.

As the two-day meeting came to an end, ministers of Great Britain, France and the United States issued a communique whose silence on the German rearming question was more significant than its 50-odd words on general European defense.

The communique said the ministers had discussed "the most effective means of perfecting their common purpose to build an adequate integrated defense force for Europe."

But it made no mention of rearming the west Germans, which was known to be the main issue.

Informed sources said there were two reasons for failure of the ministers to endorse the United States proposal—French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman and French Defense Minister Jules Moch.

Both were said to have stood firmly against any idea of immediately rearming their country's recent enemy. The French thought they had good reasons. They feared a German national army might spring from such forces to threaten France later. They also believed that concentrating on German rearmament would slow up general defense plans of the 12 Atlantic pact nations.

Saturday's postponement came as no surprise. U.S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson had been expected to defer to the French ministers rather than run the risk of forcing a French cabinet crisis. Such a cabinet shakeup was a strong possibility if the French ministers should agree to building up German strength while France is militarily weak.
