UN FORCES MEET DOOMING REDS

Rift with Byrnes Revealed In New Truman Biography

WASHINGTON - Jonathan Daniels, in a biography of President Truman published Tuesday, quotes Mr. Truman as declaring that James F. Byrnes "lost his nerve in Moscow" and "failed miserably as secretary of state."

Daniels reports Mr. Truman told him that "Byrnes got the real riot act" when they met aboard the yacht Williamsburg after the secretary of state returned from the 1945 Moscow conference.

The President believed, Daniels writes, that Byrnes had weakened the policy toward Russia laid down by Mr. Truman at Potsdam. He disagreed with some concessions made to Stalin on the postwar governments of Bulgaria and Romania.

Mr. Truman is quoted as follows: "I told him (Byrnes) that our policy was not appeasement and not a one-way street."

Daniels is publisher of the Raleigh News and Observer, a one-time presidential aide and a member of the Democratic National committee. The book is titled "The Man of Independence."

Mr. Truman dates the real rift between himself and Byrnes to the Moscow meeting, Daniels says. Byrnes offered his resignation three months after the reported reading of the "riot act," giving his health as the reason. Byrnes now is the democratic nominee for governor of South Carolina.

Byrnes said Tuesday he had heard of Jonathan Daniels' book stating President Truman regarded Byrnes as "a miserable failure" but would not comment on it.

"I had heard he (Daniels) was coming out with the book, but I haven't seen it. I've read some of his articles and I have no comment to make," Byrnes said.

The New York Herald Tribune's Washington correspondent, Bert Andrews, wrote that Byrnes was stirred to hot language when the criticism was relayed to him at

Crash Victims Remain Serious

Four SUI students and a DeWitt youth who were injured in an auto accident Friday night remained in unchanged condition Tuesday, University hospitals officials reported.

Sally Finkbine, A3, Storm Lake, was still unconscious and in "serious" condition. Sue Rightmire, A1, Des Moines, also was still reported in "serious" condition.

Clayton Yoder, A2, Iowa City, and Hal DeCourcy, A1, St. Louis, remained in "fair" condition. The condition of Thomas O'Meara 16, DeWitt, was reported as "satisfactory."

Research Officers Not Included in Recall Program

Company grade officers in organized reserve corps research and development units will not be recalled to active duty as part of the present recall program, Iowa military district headquarters announced Tuesday.

Company grade officers are of the rank of captain or lieutenant. The action has been taken to assign reservists with technical qualifications to vacancies in research positions as they occur, the announcement stated.

Specialists already called to active duty are being reassigned to research posts. Officers enrolled in active reserve units are not included in this program since the complete units are subject to call to army service intact.

HIGH LIQUOR COSTS
DES MOINES - The Iowa Liquor Control commission postponed action Tuesday on an alleged overcharge for 1,900 cases of wine by the Council Bluffs Grape Growers association.

North Atlantic Army To Defend West Europe Agreed On

From The Wire Services

NEW YORK - The North Atlantic Treaty council agreed Tuesday upon establishing at the earliest possible date a combined force for the defense of Western Europe and in effect told its defense committee to settle the question of using German manpower.

The 12-member council issued a communique at the end of Tuesday's session, climaxing two weeks of top-secret conferences among the foreign ministers of the nations of the North Atlantic pact.

The council agreed that the integrated force would be "under centralized command" of a supreme Commander—presumably Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower—who will be assisted by an international staff representing all nations contributing to the force.

The communique said that the force, proposed by Secretary of State Dean Acheson, shall be "adequate to deter aggression and insure the defense of Western Europe."

The communique said that completion by the council of arrangements for the integrated force must await recommendations of the pact's defense committee, composed of defense ministers of the 12 nations, on several points. The council, in its discussions, has not undertaken to agree on the number of divisions necessary for the European army.

On the question of creating German military units for use in a combined force the council decided to request its defense committee, made up of the defense ministers, to study the problem and make recommendations at the earliest possible date on the most useful way in which German manpower can be used.

Britain Seeks To Establish United Korea

NEW YORK (AP)— Britain has taken over the task of finding a solution to the Korean war and "maintaining the impressive unity" of allied forces in the closing phases of the campaign, an informed source said Tuesday night.

This source said Britain has written the draft of a resolution which would call on the United Nations general assembly to:

- 1. Establish an independent, United Korea.
2. Continue to furnish assistance to repel and armed attack.
3. Establish a democratic government in all Korea elected under supervision.
4. Set up a new commission, stronger than any established previously, to make sure the U.N.'s recommendations were obeyed.

Refused to Say
The source refused to say, when directly questioned, whether the United Nations, or the United States, would order United Nations forces acting under Gen. MacArthur, to cross the 38th parallel and occupy all Korea.

The United States told other friendly nations that they will have to carry the main burden of occupying North Korea under the U.N. flag, if U.N. forces push north of the 38th parallel.

Under the policy proposed which this government is now discussing with its allies, the main body of U. S. forces would stop at the 38th parallel in cleaning up enemy remnants. The task of restoring peace and order northward toward the borders of Russia and Communist China would be left to other hands.

Admit Bombing
The United States acknowledged Tuesday that a U. S. air force plane in the U. N. forces fighting in Korea dropped bombs by mistake near Antung in Chinese Manchuria, last Friday night, and voiced its regrets through the U. N.

Ernest Gross, U. S. ambassador to the U. N. and deputy representative in the Security Council, expressed the U. S. regrets in a letter to Secretary-General Trygve Lie, after both Red China and Soviet Russia protested the bombings.

Vienna Communists In Protest Strike

VIENNA - Thousands of Communists occupied federal and municipal buildings throughout the Russian zone Tuesday and paralyzed road and rail traffic in wild demonstrations in Vienna with the help of Soviet army tanks.

In Vienna, the Reds had called a strike to protest a wage price agreement announced by the government. It was not known how the seizure of government buildings outside Vienna tied in with the disturbances here.

Interior Minister Oskar Helmer told the United Press he did not believe it was the beginning of a "Putsch."

At least eight policemen were injured in pitched street battles with the Communists in Vienna. Crowds tipped over a car belonging to U.S. Sgt. William I. Henley, of Colorado Springs, injuring him slightly. Two members of the British legation were manhandled.

Douglas Resigns Post in England

WASHINGTON - Lewis W. Douglas resigned Tuesday as United States ambassador to Great Britain with a plea for continued Anglo-American cooperation as "one of the solid cornerstones of the civilized world."

Mr. Truman regretfully accepted Douglas' resignation, effective Nov. 1, at a conference with the onetime Arizona congressman and federal budget chief.

The 56-year-old educator-businessman-diplomat, who has suffered for months from a fishing accident eye injury, said he is leaving the nation's number one ambassadorial spot for "personal considerations, including those of health."

DRAWING A STEEL WALL ACROSS KOREA. Allied forces driving inland from the Seoul and Pusan beachheads linked up in the area indicated by the box. The linkup sealed off the escape route for the bulk of the North Korean troops being battered by the other elements of the old beachhead which have driven out of the area. House to house fighting continued in Seoul, but organized resistance has ended, Gen. MacArthur has announced.

Southern Reds' Escape Route Cut by Linkup

TOKYO (WEDNESDAY) (AP)— A linkup of the two United Nations beachhead forces turned the Korean war today into a giant mopping-up operation. Spearheads of American forces from the Inchon and Pusan beachheads met about midnight Tuesday near Osan, 30 miles south of war-ravaged Seoul.

American intelligence officers estimated 100,000 Reds, the bulk of the Communist army, were cut off by the linkup.

Fierce Fighting
While the forces met, fierce fighting continued in the streets of the 500-year-old Korean capital against die-hard Communist defenders. General MacArthur announced tactical liberation of the city yesterday.

U.S. First cavalry division troops completed a 115-mile dash in five days and nights by contacting U.S. Seventh division troops near Osan.

The linkup did not stretch a solid line of American troops from Taegu in the southeast to Osan. But it did sever most of the possible routes of escape for the shattered Red army. In small groups or individually, some fleeing Reds probably will escape through the hills.

Troops Fan Out
South Korean and American troops fanned out today over highways in South Korea toward cities which are communication points.

The U.S. 24th division approached Taejon, whose occupation would seal a network of rail and highway routes. Taejon is nearly 90 miles south of Seoul.

U.S. Second and 25th division troops threatened to close a trap on about 30,000 men of three Communist divisions.

Second infantrymen swung south from Koyang, 65 miles northwest of Pusan. From Koyang, they advanced seven miles toward the area where the Communists are.

Trap Extends
Another arm of the trap was being extended toward Koyang from Chinju. Last reports placed 25th division troops 30 miles northwest of Chinju.

Koyang and Chinju are only 35 air miles apart but slightly more by road. A juncture appeared imminent. Low-flying planes added to the Red deterioration by taking heavy tolls of fleeing elements. Pilots estimated they killed more than 1,200 Tuesday. The estimated kill Monday was 1,400.

City Grocers Deny Union Accusation

Local grocers Tuesday denied they had refused representatives of the Meatcutters and Butchers local union permission to attend a meeting held by the grocers Monday.

An announced settlement meeting which had been set for Tuesday evening has been cancelled. The meeting was intended to help settle a 12-day strike against three Iowa City grocery stores.

M. L. Gilbert, Des Moines labor commissioner, was to have been in charge.

'Key to Success' Given Coach 'Raff' at First Pep Rally

Nearly 3,000 SUI students gathered on the south campus of the Iowa Union Tuesday night to witness the presentation of the "key to success" to football Coach Leonard Raffensperger at the first pep rally of the year.

On receiving the key from Jack Whitesell, L2, Davenport, Raffensperger said he hoped it would "open the gate to victory."

He recalled the 25-0 defeat handed Iowa by Southern California 25 years ago when he was on the squad, and expressed his wish for revenge.

"Raff" commended the spirit shown at the rally and said the student body's everyday actions will help put spirit into the team.

He said the Hawkeyes' schedule this year is the toughest Iowa has ever played and is considered one of the roughest in the country this year.

Evan Hultman, L2, Waterloo, master of ceremonies at the rally, introduced SUI President Virgil M. Hancher who is celebrating his 10th anniversary as president.

Hancher praised the rally, saying it was "the finest pep meeting we've ever had at the University of Iowa."

He hoped the student body would back the team with such enthusiasm all season.

The Scottish Highlanders and SUI band kept the spirit of the rally moving with the playing of the "Iowa Corn Song," "Iowa, On to Victory," and "On Iowa."

A trampoline exhibition was presented by Frank La Due, A3, Sioux City, and Bill Harris, A3, Cedar Rapids, last year's Big Ten trampoline champion.

Tailfeathers leading the torch lit parades said tremendous spirit was evident by enthusiasm displayed by the students as they swarmed out of the housing units and followed the parades to the rally.

UP President Lauds Airmen Over Korea

By HUGH BAILLIE
President of The United Press
IN KOREA — The Communists have suffered a military catastrophe in Korea and the big question now is whether the United Nations forces will cross the 38th parallel to make sure that the aggressors are squashed for good.

Meanwhile, the Communist army around what used to be called the Pusan beachhead is evaporating. Many are undoubtedly hiding their weapons and changing back to civilian clothes. Their political commissars are said to have all pulled out of this area days ago. And the troops—many of whom were reluctant South Koreans who had been impressed into the Communist army—have begun taking it on the lam.

Of course, this does not mean the war is over. It may never end in a formal surrender. But now the airmen, who made the big difference between the two forces before we got going, sometimes have to dawdle in the air waiting for targets to be reported by spotter planes, so speedily and cleverly are the Communists taking cover.

Planes Strafe Reds
Whenever they are caught in the open, they are slaughtered from the air. The army commanders have all been high in their praise of the air force, and Lt. Gen. Walton H. Walker, 8th army commander, told Maj. Gen. Earle E. Partridge, commander of the 5th air force, that he thought he was being too modest in his estimates of death and destruction inflicted on the enemy.

Seoul has a tower of smoke over it that plumes high in the air, a grayish white column that makes the town look as if it had several volcanoes inside it.

A number of Yak planes were captured on the ground at Kimp'o.

One Russian-style plane had its bombs in the racks, and I was told that its engine had been warmed up shortly before the airfield was captured.

Yesterday an estimated 300 guerrillas were said to be in the rice paddies near the field, but whether they would try anything or just melt away and let their comrades in and around Seoul do the fighting remained to be seen.

U.S. Plane Crashes
While at Kimp'o, I witnessed a marine Corsair plane flame into the ground alongside an airstrip. Jet-black smoke and ugly red fire shot skyward, then his ammunition blew up.

Despite the Communist disintegration, many American, British, Australian and Korean youngsters who made up the United Nations forces in action are continuing to "suffer casualties." That's a mild way of saying they are continuing to be killed and maimed. The reasons which produced what appears to be a Communist flaccid are many, of course. One was our capture of the air right at the start.

The Far East air force methodically smashed up the Communist factories, industries, power plants, troop concentrations, tanks and bridges.

It seemed a very long time before the Reds began to run out of soap, but it turned out to be the same old story. You can't win unless you control the air, even though the devastating results of sustained bombing sometimes take weeks to make themselves felt.

Meanwhile, fresh American troops are arriving in Korea, and very keen and well armed young gentlemen they are.

And, of course, the casualties keep coming back, but they are handled with the utmost expedition, leaving Korea by both planes and boat, and those that can stand the long hop soon find themselves back in the U.S.A.

In traveling from the Seoul area to the Taegu area, where the long arm is reaching out to shake hands with the boys coming down from Seoul, we flew miles behind enemy lines.

We passed close by Chunju, we saw numerous villages, many long, twisting highways, but absolutely no sign of traffic on the roads, no evidence of human beings in the fields or out in the open anywhere.

From the air it looked like a smiling pleasant countryside of "peace and plenty." But when we passed the vicinity of Chinju, there were the familiar plumes of smoke showing where the battle was going on, and soon we saw on the roads beneath us plenty of vehicles. American vehicles, going to the front.

Business at Record Levels

WASHINGTON (AP) — Business activity reached a postwar high in August, with 62.4-million persons employed and consumers buying at a "high rate," the commerce department reported Tuesday.

The department's survey of current business said prices continued to rise in August and early September, although not as sharply as in the first few weeks of July, when the Korean war caused raw material prices to jump.

At mid-September, prices of industrial goods were six percent higher than at the end of June, topping the previous postwar peak of September, 1948. Farm and food prices have risen 10 percent since June, but still were below the postwar peak.

The department also reported downward trend in hoarding, with consumers buying fewer items they thought might be "scarce"—sugar, canned goods, other "non-perishable" foods, and textiles.

It said consumer buying as a whole remained high, although it declined one percent after an eight percent rise in August and a similar jump in July.

Scientists Seek 1st 'Plymouth Rock'

By HENRY C. NICHOLAS
Central Press Correspondent

PHILADELPHIA — How long has man been on the American continent? As new discoveries are being made the date is being pushed further and further back in time. Startling facts as to when man first set foot on this continent and which would have been ridiculed a few years ago, are now accepted as established by the scientific world.

The picture is now clear enough to reveal that man has been here for thousands of years—certainly 10,000 and possibly 20,000 years—and all evidence points to the Bering strait as the one early migration route of any consequence, and one that was used over and over again.

From the end of Cape mountain on the Alaskan mainland Russia's East cape of Siberia can be seen, with the two Diomed islands set like huge stepping stones in the Bering strait.

It was at this very point, most scientists agree, that the early migration occurred when an actual land bridge existed between North America and Asia. And it is here Dr. Froelich C. Rainey, director of museum of University of Pennsylvania, is heading a party of scientists now looking for Alaska's "Plymouth Rock."

Scandinavians Beat Pilgrims

We have long known that the Pilgrims were latecomers to this continent, even among the European races, and that Columbus was far from being the discoverer of the New World. We now know that when he landed, American civilization was already fully as old as that of Europe.

At least 500 years before the voyage of Columbus other Europeans had explored this continent. The year 985 A. D. is well established in European history as the date when 25 Scandinavian ships set sail to colonize Greenland. There undoubtedly must have been many earlier voyages.

This event was forgotten by Columbus's time, but the earlier expeditions left stone monuments scattered all over Greenland, and made the Greenland Eskimo different from his brethren to the west.

There is some evidence that the crew of one of these early ships from Scandinavia traveled far into the interior of what is now the United States, established a community beyond the Mississippi river.

However, all this happened in what must be considered as relatively modern times. The recent discovery by Dr. Louis Giddings of the University of Pennsylvania of two buried communities in Alaska has opened a new frontier of American prehistory.

These buried communities contain proof that mysterious stone age men lived on this continent following the receding glaciers of the Ice Age.

The Eskimo, whom we once thought might be the first American, we now know is a relative newcomer. Between the Stone Age Man and the Eskimo it is clear that man had traveled over all of the Americas and had gotten all the way to the southern most tip of South America.

Cultures Rival Europe
In between there existed during different periods civilizations whose brilliant achievements rivaled those of Europe, and in some respects were advanced beyond the European level.

There existed a highway system 2,000 miles long—for foot traffic—complete with suspension bridges and pavement so substantial that it is still in use today. There were dams, aqueducts and causeways equal to those built by the Romans.

Preceding these brilliant achievements were many centuries of developments, and wave after wave of migrations from Asia. Where were the first landings made? We do not know the exact spot but we do know the approximate location.

Dr. Rainey and his party are still in Alaska seeking traces of the earliest migrations from Asia. There the scientists were joined by parties from the University of Alaska. Scientists are rooting that they discover the key site.

Whoever does will be rewarded with a collection of arrowheads, shells and skeletons that most people would throw away, but to the archeologist it will be the start on the earliest chapter of the story of man on this continent—American's real Plymouth Rock.

Stocks, Bonds Fall in Heavy Selling Wave

NEW YORK (AP) — Inflation warnings and dramatic American military successes in Korea combined to batter the stock market, down Tuesday in the sharpest break since mid-July.

A selling wave hit in the final hour and prices broke widely down the entire list. Losses in many cases ran to more than $3 a share, and $1 and $2 losses were frequent. The bulk of the decline was held to less than $1.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks dropped 1.3 to 81.2, the sharpest decline in the average since July 12. The industrial component of the average lost 1.5, rails were down 1.7, and utilities were off 1 of a point.

As prices retreated, the volume dwindled right up to the final hour.

The total was 2,280,000 shares as compared with 2,010,000 shares Monday.

vanced against the trend. Down were American Republic, Cities Service, Creole Petroleum, Cuban Atlantic Sugar, Dominion Steel & Coal, Glenmore distillers "B", Quaker Oats, Solar aircraft, Electric Bond & Share, Humble Oil, and St. Lawrence corporation.

An afternoon selling blast flattened railroad bond prices. At the close, the rail list was studded with issues that dropped from 1 to nearly 2 points.

Foreign dollar bonds again attracted investor demand. Restricted long-term U.S. treasury bonds were steady.

Issues eligible for commercial bank purchase continued the sinking spell that developed two weeks ago. The bank eligible 2-1/2s of September, 1972-87, were off 3-3/2 at 103-32 bid, the first time the issue dropped below 104 in about a year.

India Builds Air Fleet From War Disposals

NEW DELHI (AP) — India is pulling a new airline fleet from the dusty five-year-old pile of war disposals left here by the Allies.

The communication ministry has announced that 70 twin-engine Curtiss Commandos, used in wartime to carry freight, will be reconditioned as passenger planes. India's present commercial fleet consists largely of another wartime plane, the Douglas DC-3.

Let's Not Do It Again —

"They used to get such a kick out of livin', let's do it again." A line from a currently popular song urges a return to the "hysterical" roaring twenties. But can it be done? Can the present college generation, aware of its part as a link in international affairs, convert to the attitudes and ideals of 30 years ago?

Perhaps the trend symbolized by the revival of the Charleston and the ragoon coat is an escape reaction from the strains of the cold war and World War II. But today's young people undoubtedly know that escapism is no solution to the problem, and they can better use their energy to prepare themselves to cope with the chaotic world which will be dumped into their laps.

The time seems to be ripe for a back-to-the-twenties movement on the SUU campus this fall. A large share of the veterans in the student body graduated in June and August, withdrawing their so-called "stabilizing influence," and Joe College is ready to roll.

Let's hope that we need not fortify ourselves against the bombing of women's dormitories, the burning of fraternity house doors and other such pranks reminiscent of "flaming youth." Let's hope this year's college crop will take a step into the future instead of a 30-year retrogression.

Contempt for Capitalist Dollar? —

However great may be the scorn for the "almighty capitalist dollar" of the Americans, European and Asiatic countries daily devise more lucrative means in securing sound international buying power—buying power of our currency that guarantees any purchases made in the world today.

In France, the social life and customs have been forfeited to the tourist dollar. An impoverished noble, with all his titles, will find himself in sad neglect while the wishes of an American commoner equipped with the potent dollar makes his presence preferred in the lush resorts and gaming tables of the Riviera.

Out of this chaotic rush for the stable currency of this country has come the "sucker trade," designed to rid the tourists and traveling officials of this country of their money.

Recently, in Paris, racketeering European landlords were reaping a tidy harvest in a "gyp game" in which their exorbitant prices for housing forced the renter to pay twice the amount of ordinary rent.

Most of the "suckers" included the officials of the Marshall plan, the same Marshall plan which is pouring vast amounts of money into French treasuries to control and stabilize the economy of the country. No, the subversive French element is not deriding the cold cash of the American public.

Even Russia publicly roared about the financiers who rule the American business scene. However, to secure that all-important exchange medium, they continue to sell the United States manganese, an essential ingredient in the manufacture of war-time steel.

This, in itself, is quite a concession for Russia to make. So, we see that the Soviet government, in spite of its vehement statements, also recognizes the dependency of stable United States currency.

We don't see anyone sneering at the American dollar now.

Unofficial Diplomats in U.S. Play Right Into Reds' Hand

By J.M. ROBERTS, JR.
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

The "unofficial" diplomats have put the official diplomats on the spot again, providing the Russians with a new vehicle for their peace offensive.

From time to time for five years, well-meaning individuals and organizations have asked the Russians if they were agreeable to certain nice things which everyone thinks would help toward peace. The Russians always say they surely are.

Then the official diplomats are faced with the necessity of setting the resultant propaganda without appearing themselves to be opposed to peace.

Dean Acheson told the Russians at the world six months ago what was needed for peace—treaties with Austria, Germany and Japan; an end to the Soviet use of force and threats of force in international affairs; an end to Soviet obstruction in the UN; Soviet agreement on the UN plan for atomic control; an end to Soviet efforts to undermine other governments, mistreatment of foreign diplomats and distortion of Western motives in propaganda and diplomacy. Joseph Stalin, Jacob Malik and Andrei Vishinsky never said yes to that.

Russia's Answer
Their answer was to create a new and worse deadlock over Austria; to unleash military force in international affairs in Korea and then to attempt to obstruct UN action on the case; to redouble the drafting of labor for the uranium mines; to seek to undermine the governments of Yugoslavia, Iran, South Korea, Indochina and Tibet in particular, and all the rest of the world in general.

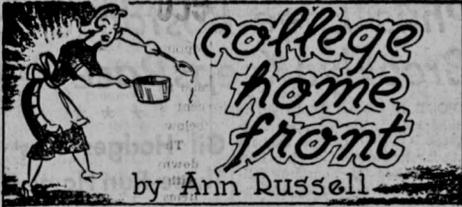

Russia, Malik says, would be glad to agree not to be the first to use the atomic bomb; favors general disarmament and outlawry of atomic weapons under a UN control system; would like a top-level U.S.-Soviet conference, and favors exchange of ideas and information between the countries.

But he doesn't say how.

How Taxes Are Uped in New Bill

ANNUAL INCOME	$2,000	$3,000	$5,000	$8,000	$10,000
SINGLE PERSON	$48	$79	$133	$234	$312
MARRIED, NO DEPENDENTS	$27	$61	$129	$210	$267
MARRIED, TWO DEPENDENTS		$20	$88	$178	$231

CHART ABOVE indicates annual income tax increase under the new stop-gap tax bill, which awaits President Truman's signature. The higher taxes are expected to start about Oct. 1. They will bring $4.7-billion to the U.S. treasury annually to help Uncle Sam pay the bill for soaring defense costs. Congress will resume sessions after the November elections and is expected to pass a measure taxing excess profits.

Vets' Play School Registration Begins

Registration for the Veterans' Play school are being taken this week. They may be made by telephoning Mrs. David Meade, 8-2690.

The playschool, 12 E. Bloomington, is a cooperative project for the benefit of married students.

Although started as a play school in 1947, the project has really developed into a pre-school under the guidance of Mrs. Ruth Updegraff from the Child Welfare Research station.

The school is scheduled to open early in October or as soon as a supervisor can be found. The 2 to 3 1/2 year-olds will attend the school on Tuesday and Thursday mornings from 8:30 to 11:30 and the 3 1/2 to 5 year-olds will attend on Monday, Wednesday and Friday mornings.

Mrs. John Hummel is chairman of the group.

Miss Hotte completes her costume with black suede opera pumps.

Singing Mouse Dies Of Chilly Iowa Weather

CHEROKEE (AP) — Midnight, Cherokee's famed singing mouse, is dead, a casualty of Iowa's cold weather.

The mouse achieved fame in radio and television appearances about a year ago.

All summer, according to Mrs. Jess Rausch of Cherokee, Midnight has been warbling in a bird cage on the Rausch porch. But last week's cold, damp weather was too much for Midnight. He got sick and died.

PRICE HIKE FOR TV SETS

CHICAGO (AP) — Wayne Coy, chairman of the federal communications commission, said Monday that prices of television sets will rise this winter as a result of the FCC's decision to go ahead with color TV.

N. Y. Man Says Film Colony Ill-Dressed

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — What Hollywood needs is more girdles, better bras and less costume jewelry, according to a shocked New York fashion expert.

Most of the women in this town ought to go buy themselves a corset, he said. They may be comfortable wiggling down Sunset boulevard, but they're not well-dressed.

And Hollywood men are even worse-dressed than the women. "Men here wear slacks and sports shirts and loafer shoes to their offices, to conduct their business," he exclaimed. "I can't understand it."

"It appears that people out here would rather be comfortable than well dressed," he said disapprovingly. "Most of the stars go around in dirndl skirts and off-the-shoulder blouses and their hair tied like a horse's tail.

"I like to see my favorite star looking like a star."

The well-dressed movie stars, he said, are Gloria Swanson, Joan Crawford, Marlene Dietrich and Loretta Young.

"And the list stops right there," he said. "I can't name any of the young ones."

It's no wonder movies have lost their glamour when stars like Judy Garland wear matronly crepes, Shelley Winters wears peasant burlaps and Jane Russell wears slacks.

"The oldtime stars were much better dressed," he said. "The best-dressed women I know now are socialites and career women. Clare Booth Luce is an example of one woman who's never too busy to be stylish."

Crippled Children to Have Picnic at Lake McBride

Twenty-eight students from the hospital school for severely handicapped children will be entertained at a picnic Thursday morning.

At 9:30 a.m. the children will be taken to the Moose club at Lake McBride. Thirty-five staff members from the school will supervise the outing.

Ice cream and cookies will be furnished by the Tri-T club of SUI women. Transportation will be provided by the club and the state services for crippled children.

Court Awards Woman Property Attachment

A $3,500 writ of attachment was granted a Massachusetts woman Monday by District Court Judge James P. Gaffney.

The writ was against the property of Lewis H. Wood, now with the army in Italy, by Mrs. Carlotta Nikirk, who said she had supported her daughter—Wood's wife—and their six-year-old son from Feb. 27, 1943, to Aug. 11, 1950.

Mrs. Nikirk claimed her daughter was in debt for $3,363.20.

ELECT PLEDGE OFFICERS

Pledge class of Alpha Delta Pi, social sorority, Monday elected their officers for the coming year. They are Sally Adler, A2, Winnetka, Ill., president; Ruth Nicholson, A2, Clinton, secretary; Joan Meyer, A1, De Kalb, Ill., treasurer, and Charleen O'Donnell, A1, Otwein, social chairman.

Newspaper Conference to Study Production

Improving production techniques on small newspaper will be the main topic discussed at the 1950 annual newspaper conference in Iowa City, Oct. 13 and 14.

The conference is sponsored jointly by the school of journalism and the extension division of SUI.

The meeting is scheduled to begin with an open house at 9:30 a.m. Oct. 13, and to adjourn by 1:30 p.m. Saturday afternoon.

Leslie G. Moeller, director of the school of journalism will open the business meeting at 1:30 p.m. Oct. 13.

Leonard Raffensperger, head football coach at SUI, Don Reid, managing director of the Iowa Press association, Virgil Hancher, SUI president, and several Iowa newsmen will give talks during the afternoon.

Houston Waring, editor of the Littleton, Colo., Independent, will address the group at a dinner in the Iowa Union that night.

Greene, Ginsberg Lead Hawkeye Eleven Friday

Iowa Squad Leaves For Season's Opener

Seniors Lou Ginsberg, Cedar Rapids guard, and Bill Greene, Iowa City halfback, will be Iowa's co-captains against Southern California Friday night, Coach Leonard Raffensperger announced Tuesday.

At the same time Raffensperger revealed the names of the 39-man traveling squad that will leave today from the Cedar Rapids airport, and arrive in Los Angeles at 3 p. m. (California time).

Both Ginsberg and Greene are veteran squad members who will be starting their fourth year of competition at Iowa.

Ginsberg, one of several seasoned guards on the Hawkeye squad, is a likely starter against the Trojans while Greene will definitely be in the opening lineup should Iowa begin the contest on defense.

Otherwise there were no new developments in the Iowa camp as the Hawks held their final practice session on the home field Tuesday. In addition to the continuing work on defense against the Trojan's tricky "T"-double wing formation, the squad worked on kick-offs and kick-off returns.

Bill Reichardt who handled the job last year, took care of the kicking while halfback Jerry Faske was the most frequent receiver.

With the exception of Gerald Nordman who is sidelined with a twisted knee, the team is in top shape for the season opener.

Both Reichardt and Junebug Perrin, minor casualties of last week, were running at top speed in Tuesday's drill.

Practice sessions will be held tonight and Thursday night under the lights at Los Angeles Coliseum, site of the game. Headquarters for the Hawkeye squad will be at the Billmore hotel.

Iowa radio stations which will carry the game include WSUI, Iowa City; KCRG and WMT, Cedar Rapids; WHO, KIOA, and KRNT, Des Moines. KCIX of Iowa City will feed three stations in Iowa on a network hook-up, and WSUI will carry the broadcast from KCRG.

The 39 men listed by Raffensperger to make the trip are:

ENDS — Jerry Long, Bob Hoff, Dave DeProspero, Dick Meyers, Don Swartzendruber and Arnold Caplan.

TACKLES — Hubert Johnson, Harold Bradley, Don Woodhouse, Andy Bantz, Joe Paulsen, Dudley Noble and Pete Spanjers.

GUARDS — Austin Turner, Lou Ginsberg, Bob Lage, "Junebug" Perrin, Bill Bach and Ron Fairchild.

CENTERS — John Towner, Ron Peterson and Jerry Hilgenberg.

QUARTERBACKS — Glenn Drahn, Fred Beck, Jim Sangster and Bert Bristmann.

RIGHT HALFBACKS — Jerry Faske, Duane Brandt, Bill Greene, Bob Wilson and Joe Bristol.

FULLBACKS — Bill Reichardt, Mike Riley, Charles Denning and Jerry Clark.

Yankees Split, Near AL Flag

NEW YORK (AP)—The Yankees inched closer to their 17th American League pennant Tuesday, reaching the stage where they need only one more victory to tie and two to win. They divided a weird and wonderful doubleheader with the Washington Senators.

Washington won the first game, 11 to 9, after the Yankees virtually threw it away through inept pitching and then tried to take it back again. The New Yorkers got off to a four-run start in the second and took a 10 to 7 decision — after coming close to losing this, too.

(1st game)
Washington ..... 11 0 11 0-11 8 2
New York ..... 0 10 0 0 0-9 12 0
Sima, Moreno (7), Harris (7) and Grasso; Byrne, Sanford (11), Burdette (5), Madison (6), Nevel (9) and Berra. Winning pitcher—Sima (4-5); Losing pitcher—Byrne (14-9); Home runs—Bauer, Vernon, Coan, Berra.

(2nd game)
Washington ..... 0 0 11 0 11-11 3 3
New York ..... 10 0 11 3 10-14 1 1
Hudson, Harris (7) and Evans; Ostrowski, Nevel (5), Ferrick (7) and Berra. Winning pitcher—Ferrick (9-7); Losing pitcher—Hudson (14-14).

Tigers Share Two

DETROIT (AP)—Detroit kept its faint pennant hopes alive Tuesday, coming from behind to gain an even break in their doubleheader with St. Louis. George Kell's double with the bases loaded in the eighth inning climaxed a four run rally that gave the Tigers a 5-3 victory after the Browns had won the opener 3-1.

(1st game)
St. Louis ..... 0 0 0 0 0-3 6 0
Detroit ..... 0 10 0 0 0-9 12 0

HOW THEY COMPARE FOR THE TITLE BOUT — Chart compares former heavyweight champion Joe Louis and his opponent, National Boxing Association titleholder Ezzard Charles, who will meet in a 15-round bout at Yankee Stadium tonight for the heavyweight crown.

Louis Meets Charles For World's Title

NEW YORK (AP)—Joe Louis and Ezzard Charles, their hard training finished, exercised only lightly at their camps Tuesday and were reported ready and rearing for tonight's heavyweight title fight at Yankee stadium.

The ticket sale did not spurt and the promoters were resigned to a cross gate of under $200,000. This would be, roughly, $62,000 less than was paid to see Willie Pep lose his featherweight toga to Sandy Saddler three weeks ago.

It is not that the name Joe Louis has lost its magnetic quality. The great Negro fighter who held the title for nearly 12 years before he retired 18 months ago still is the greatest individual attraction in any branch of sports.

FACTS AND FIGURES

Rounds — 15 or less.
Site — Yankee Stadium.
Time of bout — 9 p.m. (Iowa time).
If postponed — will be held following night, Thursday, Sept. 28.
Broadcast — Radio broadcast over CBS network. Television broadcast by CBS.
Percentages — Louis 35 percent of everything; Charles 20 percent of everything.
Records—Louis, 61 fights; won 60, lost one; knockout victories 52. Charles, 73 fights; won 67, lost five; knockout victories 43.
Prices—Reserved seats from $5 to $30. General admission $3. Estimated crowd — 30,000. Estimated gross gate — $200,000.

But the word has been spread by every medium available that Joe and Ezzard will fight before television cameras and it has had a distressing effect upon the box office.

Louis' effort, to become the first heavyweight in history to regain the big title will be screened in the homes and taverns of 32 principal cities. One estimate, perhaps not too far off, is that an audience of 20 million will watch the two men.

As for the result of tonight's 15-rounder, the guessing still is wide open. A majority of the assembled newspaper experts favor the 36-year-old Louis to win back his title, to stanch Charles, the N.B.A. recognized champion, "the first time he hits him good."

Phils Edge Boston 8-7; Brooklyn Keeps Pace, 8-4

BOSTON (AP)—The fighting Philadelphia whiz kids closed in on the National League pennant Tuesday by rallying to whip Boston, 8-7, after Jim Konstanty failed in his record-breaking 71st relief chore. Three runs in the eighth off reliever Bob Hall after two were out did the trick.

Now the combination is three—Phil wins or Brooklyn defeats—to nail down the first Phil pennant since 1915. They have six to play. The loss in their final home game mathematically eliminated the Braves.

Only 1,987 fans turned out to see Vern Bickford in his fifth unsuccessful try for win No. 20.

Del Ennis' three-run homer, his 31st of the season, was the big blow in a seventh inning spurt that ruined Bickford's chances. But Miller and Konstanty were unable to hold that 5-2 bulge.

BROOKLYN (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers won the New York interborough title, making it 12 out of 22 in defeating the Giants Tuesday, 8-4.

Gil Hodges featured a five-run first inning by hitting his 31st home run with two mates on. Starter and loser Larry Jansen gave up the five runs on four hits. Wes Westrum and Don Mueller hit home runs off Ralph Branca.

Carl Furillo hit a homer for the Dodgers.

The Giants came up with four double plays.

First American War Prisoners Liberated Loses $68,000

YONGDONG, KOREA — The first American prisoners of war were liberated here Tuesday by 24th division tankmen who came through on their way to Taejon and shot off the door of the Communist jail.

The three released Yanks were: Sgt. 1st class Frank R. Freede, of Monet, Miss., and Long Beach, Calif.

Sgt. 1st class Blaine Mackrall, of Colone, S. Dak. and Tacoma, Wash.

Pvt. James E. Martin, of San Andrea, Calif.

The tankmen came in here at 5 p.m. and the jail door went down with a bang. They gave the three prisoners C rations, chewing gum and a big slug of whisky.

The first GI the prisoners saw came up and told the North Koreans: "We are taking this joint over."

As One Korean to Another

A NORTH KOREAN BATTALION commander captured near the United States army bridgehead along the Naktong river was marched off to internment at bayonet point. Applying the persuasion was a South Korean soldier. (Story and map of allied offensives on page 1.)

Road Resurfacing To Begin Today

Work is scheduled to begin today on 38½ miles of repair and resurfacing of county roads.

The Concrete Material and Construction company of Cedar Rapids submitted a low bid of $48,459.08 which was accepted Sept. 19. The first section of road work is scheduled to be completed by Oct. 21.

Under repair are 17 miles of farm-to-market roads and 3½ miles of county secondary roads. Eighteen miles of county secondary roads are to be resurfaced.

The county itself is oiling and chipping 20 miles of road. This work should be done today, A. H. Justen, county engineer, said.

Iowa Paper Offers $500 For Engraver's Slayer

DAVENPORT — The Davenport Daily Times posted a $500 reward for information leading to the capture of the slayer or slayers of Eugene Stolze, 27, Davenport.

Stolze was employed by the newspaper as an engraver at the time of his disappearance from a Minnesota resort while vacationing last June.

His body was found Saturday by hunters near Brainerd, Minn., and a search for his slayer has begun.

GE RAISES PRICES

CLEVELAND (AP) — General Electric company's larger light bulbs are going to cost about six percent more, beginning today.

Gambler Can't Pay Help Offered

NEW ORLEANS — Big-time gamblers pushed to the rescue of a "wise guy" colleague Tuesday and promised to make good his losses on a pushover football pool.

"We cannot destroy public confidence in our business," one of them explained piously.

The trouble started when the "wise guy" decided to get the jump on the early-week business. Instead of waiting for the national line for his cards, he just made up a set of odds himself.

He didn't do too good a job. He lost $68,000 and had only $13,000 to pay off.

The customers howled, and this disturbed the trade greatly. So last night a group of big gamblers met, according to one pool operator, and decided to help put up money to make the payoff.

"It is imperative that those people who place their trust in New Orleans football cards and morning line wagering are paid their winnings in full," one gambler said.

Some of the big winners were employees of other pools. They quickly noticed the overlays and decided to cash in. No winners have been paid, but gambling circles said the payoff would come in 48 hours.

The whole affair intrigued the police. Assistant superintendent Milton Durel said he didn't know who the hapless pool operator was, but that he will arrest him if he finds out. Durel also said he's sending out plain clothesmen this week to attempt to buy pool cards. They're going to arrest anyone who sells them.

Iowa Man Troubled In Paying OMVI Fine

DES MOINES (AP) — Louis Herman Burmester, New Albin, had quite a time trying to pay a $300 fine Tuesday.

He was arrested near Des Moines Monday by Highway Patrolman Mel Knouse and charged with driving while intoxicated.

Burmester appeared before Justice of the Peace J. H. Kelley in Altoona Tuesday and said he wanted to plead guilty to the charge and pay the $300 fine required for a first offense.

Dolphin Pledges Shed Hair for Annual Show

Senate Crime Committee Begins Probe of Chicago Mobs

CHICAGO (AP)—A U.S. senate crime investigating committee stepped up its work Tuesday after a bloody challenge from Chicago's underworld—the gang-style slaying of two investigators.

The committee hastened its scheduled investigation of Chicago underworld activities, setting a hearing here for Oct. 5. George S. Robinson, the committee's Chicago agent, said he expects the Chicago inquiry now will blossom into a full-scale investigation.

The victims, killed last night by gunfire, were William J. Drury, 48, a former police lieutenant once known as "the watchdog of the loop" and Marvin J. Bas, 45, an attorney. The shootings appeared unrelated.

Drury, a long-time foe of big name gangsters, had offered to testify before the senate committee.

Both Drury and Bas had offered information on underworld activities to John E. Babb, Republican candidate for Sheriff. Babb said Bas had submitted one written report on crime to him and was preparing a second. Babb said he was to have conferred Tuesday with Drury on information the former police officer had volunteered.

Drury was killed in his garage by four shotgun blasts fired through the windshield of his Cadillac sedan. The killers either lay in wait or followed his car when he drove into a dark alley in his garage.

Ironically, Drury was killed while Robinson was trying to contact him to assure him he would be afforded protection.

Robinson said Drury telephoned him in alarm last week, saying he learned the Miami Daily News had announced he would reveal "interesting things" to the

Boyer Heads SUI Community Chest Drive

Prof. M. C. Boyer, of the SUI college of engineering, has been named Community chest chairman in charge of SUI employee solicitations. Elbert, E. Beaver, general chairman, announced Tuesday.

Boyer said he hoped his division would exceed its $6,713.87 quota of the city's $28,468.20 goal.

"We'll be very happy if each SUI employee would give either four hours of his weekly pay or 2 per cent of his monthly salary," Boyer stated.

Employees, both academic and non-academic, will be contacted individually through solicitors in each college or department.

Pledge cards will be distributed to solicitors Thursday or Friday. The Community chest drive will be held Sept. 29 to October 2.

Slogan for the 1950 drive is "Eight Appeals in One Campaign."

Iowa City Community chest contributions go to the Boy Scouts of America, Iowa City Rest room,

Denmark Maintains Quality in Medicine SUI Doctor Reports

Denmark has kept pace with the advances in medicine, Dr. Stuart Cullen, chairman of the division of anesthetists at University hospitals, said Tuesday.

"The quality of medicine and surgery in Denmark is of the highest," Cullen told Kiwanis club members at their weekly luncheon at Hotel Jefferson.

Cullen returned to this country in late August after spending three months in Denmark instructing anesthetists from Denmark, Iceland, Finland and Yugoslavia in clinical techniques and the teaching of anesthesiology.

He was sponsored by the World Health organization, a unit of the United Nations.

Classes were held in four Danish hospitals in the mornings and seminars in the afternoons and evenings, Cullen said.

Cullen explained the high quality of medicine and surgery in Denmark was due to the large part doctors played in underground work during the Nazi occupation.

Among the guests attending the luncheon was Thomas E. Martin, Iowa City congressman, who has just returned from Washington.

Former Police Captain Held

DETECTIVE HAROLD LAMOUREUX (left) carried a sub-machine gun as he and other police guarded former Police Captain Thomas Connelly (right) in Chicago. Connelly is an ex-associate of slain William Drury who was killed by shotgun blasts Monday night. Connelly and Drury were dismissed from the police force in 1947 for refusing to tell a grand jury where they got evidence in a murder trial.

Local Boy Scouts to Collect Scrap Paper

Don't throw away this newspaper! Iowa City boy scouts want old newspapers and magazines and they'll be around to pick them up Oct. 7.

Money from the waste paper drive will go toward the expense of building the base for the statue of liberty replica, being erected at Iowa City high school.

Eay Culp, co-chairman of the waste paper drive, said cost of the statue base has been estimated at $1,200.

The statue itself was donated by an Iowa Citian who wished to remain anonymous.

"Waste paper is urgently and vitally needed to conserve our rapidly diminishing forests," Culp said. "Contributors in the drive will begin at 11 a.m. and continue well as helping out the scouts."

Newspaper should be tied securally in bundles and placed by the curb or on the porch, Culp said. Magazines should be placed in separate bundles.

Scouts, cubs, and scouter will participate in the drive. Collection will begin at 11 a.m. and continue until all papers are picked up.

"More drives of this kind will be held if this one is successful," Culp said.

Cpl. Donald Schumacher Ordered to Active Duty

Cpl. Donald P. Schumacher, 113 Westlawn park, has been ordered to report for active service, Iowa military district headquarters announced Tuesday.

Schumacher, a third year medical student, will report to Fort Lewis, Wash., Oct. 20 for 21 months service.

Tax Money Given To Johnson County

A total of $185,434.73 has been received by Johnson county in the second half of 1949 property tax compensation from the state comptroller, Lumir W. Jansa, county treasurer announced Tuesday.

Nearly all of the amount, $154,947.91, was to cover homestead homeowner exemptions. For homeowners this amounts to a $25 deduction in taxes for each $1,000 of valuation up to $2,500. The Johnson county tax rate is $63.26 on $1,000.

Flat exemptions for World War I and World War II veterans of $500 and $750 respectively comprise the remaining $11,486.82 turned over to the county by the state comptroller.
