Hawkeyes Fail in Big Ten Opener, 20-7 Air Attack Gives Indiana Early Lead

By HOBERT DUNCAN

BLOOMINGTON, IND. — The Indiana Hoosiers, a team which hadn't won a Big Ten game since 1948 season, unfurled a brilliant passing combination in Lou D'Achille and Bobby Robertson here Saturday as they chilled Iowa with a 20-7 win.

The Indiana victory made homecoming a success for 26,000 fans who sat in Memorial stadium and saw the Hoosiers vent all the previous frustrations against a faltering Iowa team.

Iowa's loss partially dampened any hopes it entertained for a whirlwind season after the upset victory over Southern California last week. The Hawkeyes played well enough on offense Saturday — although it wasn't up to the Trojan game standard — but they weren't able to stop D'Achille's passes.

Only in the third period, when the Hawks scored their lone touchdown, did it look like Iowa might get back into the game after being passed crazy in the first half.

The Hoosier's scored their three touchdowns in the first two periods and as it turned out they were lucky to get these before the Iowa defense stiffened in the second half.

Indiana pushed to only one first down in the second half. Iowa racked up 18 first downs in the game but Indiana's defense and penalties stopped almost every drive the Hawkeyes were able to muster.

D'Achille, a fleet footed trickster, and Robertson, an elusive ball carrier who showed up best when dodging would be tacklers, led the wrecking job on Iowa's mired down Hawkeyes.

The Hoosiers left little doubt as to their intentions and as to the ultimate outcome of the game with nine minutes left in the first period.

D'Achille passed to Arnie Bowman from his own 23 yard line and the fullback alternately sped, dodged and bulled his way to the Iowa 21 before safety man Burt Britzmann hauled him down from behind. After an offside penalty and an incomplete pass — one of the three that didn't find its mark in the first half — D'Achille again found Robertson, this time on the two yard line.

With first down and goal to go, Robertson went over for the first score. Danny Thomas' conversion was true for a 7-0 lead.

After some preliminary mid-field sparring by the teams in the second quarter, Indiana took over on their own 16 yard stripe on Glenn Drahn's kick out of bounds. Robertson took the ball and sprinted through the whole Iowa team to the Hawkeye 10 only to have the play called back because of an offside penalty.

The penalty seemed to have no effect on the Hoosiers. After Bowman lost two yards of the eight, D'Achille faded back to his two yard line to start a play which made a new entry into the Big Ten record book.

The pint sized bundle of energy and ability passed to Robertson, standing all alone on the 20 yard line. Robertson had plenty of time to get started and pick up interference which he used to go all the way for a touchdown.

The play, which covered 92 yards, set a new record for the longest pass play resulting in a score. The previous record was held by the Illinois team of 1945 who fashioned a 76 yard scoring play on a pass, also against Iowa. All the Hawkeyes saw of Robertson on his record setting gallop were twisting hips and driving legs which flashed away before they could be grabbed.

D'Achille's place kick was good and the Hoosiers came back up the field with a 14-0 lead and new respect from the Indiana crowd. Indiana still wasn't through.

Fred Ruck's pass was intercepted by game captain Bill Smith on the Hawkeye 35 yard line after the Hoosiers had run just one play after taking Indiana's kick off.

D'Achille calmly stepped back and threw a strike to Jim Gomory on the three, from where the halfback, who had his back turned, stumbled over the goal line. The kick this time was blocked but the damage was done.

Iowa, smarting from the first half cuffing, came out fighting mad for the third period. The Hawkeyes received the ball on their own 20 yard line after holding the Hoosiers on downs in the first series of the half.

Eight plays later, Iowa had penetrated the deepest into Indiana territory of any time in the game — to the enemy 21 yard line.

Jerry Faska and Bill Reichardt, running like they did against Southern Cal, clipped off big gains in the first sustained drive Iowa had started.

The Hawkeyes were penalized back to the 35 for offensive holding but Iowa wasn't to be denied this time.

Bernard Bennett, three sport all-stater from Mason City, faked a run and threw a pass from his halfback position which found "Chug" Wilson on the 18.

On the very next play, Drahn tossed to Jerry Long in the extreme right corner of the field and the veteran end ambled over for the touchdown. Reichardt's conversion was good and the score stood at 20-7.

Even after the Hawkeyes had scored, Iowa fans didn't have too much cause to cheer. The Indiana attack was effectively stalled — only one first down and 51 yards in the second half — but Iowa couldn't get anything started.

Hawks Return

A pep rally will be held at 5 p.m. today at the Rock Island railroad depot to greet the returning Hawkeyes. The train carrying the Hawks is scheduled to arrive at 5:20 p.m. John Harris, A4, Humboldt, S. D. Tailfeathers president, said the Tailfeathers and SUI cheerleaders would lead the rally.

Wisconsin Woman Claims Seventh Visit From Virgin Mary

NECEDAH, WIS. (AP) — A weathered backwoods housewife held what she called her last public audience with the Virgin Mary Saturday, then collapsed before her farmyard shrine.

Before Mary Anna Van Hoof confronted a crowd estimated at 50,000 a Roman Catholic priest said he saw the sun whirl.

During a 25-minute address in which she voiced what she claimed was her seventh message from the Mother of Jesus, isolated groups of women broke out with cries of "The sun — it's whirling again!" The excitement evidenced by the women did not spread to the majority of the crowd.

Newsman saw nothing extraordinary. After her collapse, 41-year-old Mrs. Van Hoof was revived quickly and assisted to her house.

As did the sixth, Saturday's message warned of death and destruction unless people prayed and prayed hard for peace and conversion of Communists.

Chest Drive Lags; Extended Indefinitely

The 1951 Iowa City Community Chest drive will be extended indefinitely, General Chairman Albert E. Beaver announced Saturday, the day when the campaign was scheduled to end.

Thirty percent of the $28,468.24 goal was reached by noon Saturday, Beaver said. There was a rush in late returns after the noon reporting time, he indicated.

"I'm officially extending the drive until every person has had an opportunity to be contacted," Beaver said.

If the outstanding solicitors continue to turn in good reports the goal of $28,468.24 will be attained within the next few days, Beaver added.

Fall Elections Cause Small Stir

DES MOINES (AP) — One month from now — on Nov. 7 — Iowans will elect a United States senator, governor, eight congressmen, a slate of state officers, legislators and county officials.

So far the rather vigorous efforts by candidates for the top offices have stirred little discussion. The pattern is about the same as it was prior to the June primary election.

But things are warming up, as they did in the latter days of the primary campaign. Another thing, the Korean war isn't getting the attention now that it did while the fighting was heaviest.

Fire Here Destroys Barn, Stored Auto, Within 20 Minutes

Fire at 12:30 p.m. Saturday destroyed a barn and a stored 1937 Packard car at the J. J. McNamara residence, 532 S. Dodge street, causing an estimated $2,000 damage.

Firemen were unable to check the flames and the wooden structure burned within 20 minutes. A telephone cable was snapped off as the burning structure collapsed, disrupting telephone service to many homes in the area.

Nothing remained of the building but parts of the walls as the flash fire burned through the dry wood before firemen could bring the flames under control.

McNamara, owner of the building and car, said the garage was insured but the car was not. He had kept it in storage for two years.

The heat of the fire was so intense spectators had to stand back more than 70 feet as firemen battled the flames.

Janet Blecha, daughter of Harold Blecha, 522 S. Dodge, discovered the fire and her father turned in the alarm.

U.S. Troops Cross 38th Parallel; Encounter No Red Opposition

UN Assembly Gives Approval

(From the Wire Services)

NEW YORK — The United Nations general assembly gave final, unmistakable moral approval Saturday for UN troops to cross the 38th parallel and occupy all Korea.

By a vote of 47 to 5, with eight abstentions, the assembly voted the full power of the UN to bring peace to Korea and unify it as an independent nation.

The approved western formula gives clear if indirect authority to UN armies to keep occupation forces north and south of the border long enough to ensure fair election of a free and unified Korean government.

The Soviet bloc voted against the majority proposal for a strong UN commission to arrange for elections, to unify the country, and to set it on its feet again after the UN helps repair its war-torn economy.

The assembly immediately proceeded to smother a rival Soviet bloc plan calling for a cease-fire and immediate withdrawal of UN troops as a prelude to national elections run jointly by the present south and north governments.

Before adjourning, the assembly voted 42 to 7, with eight abstentions, to put the issue of Formosa's future on the schedule for debate in the political committee. Russia, Czechoslovakia and the Nationalist China opposed the move.

Local Rent Control Open Hearing Monday

Continuation of rent controls until June, 1951, will be the subject of a public hearing by the city council at 7:30 p.m. Monday.

The nation's new control law leaves rent problems up to the city. City governments may: (1) take no action and end rent control Dec. 31; (2) extend controls until June, 1951, or (3) put the matter up to public vote.

Also on the council agenda will be a public hearing on the proposed extension of business district street lights.

Another public hearing will be held on the proposed widening of North Riverside drive, at a cost estimated at $10,554.85, from River street to a point 80 feet south of Grove street.

One Drowns, One Saved As Fishing Boat Upsets

LAKE PARK (AP) — Ed Helstrom, 50, of Paulina, drowned Saturday while fishing in Silver Lake with William Wilson, 79, also of Paulina.

The boat capsized in a strong wind and Helstrom sank. Wilson held onto the boat and was rescued. Emergency equipment was sent to the scene from Lake Park and Spirit Lake, but immediate efforts to locate the body failed.

U.S. to Help Austria

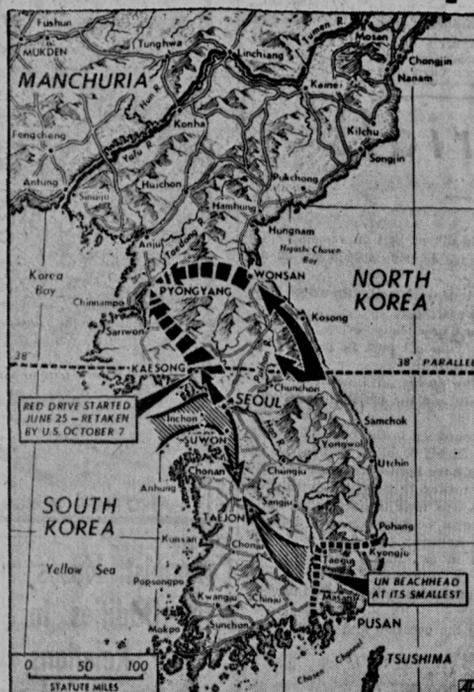

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government is ordering Lt. Gen. Geoffrey Keyes, American high commissioner in Austria, to give the Austrian government full support in its efforts to maintain order against Russia-aided uprisings.

The orders in preparation, it was understood, cover both political steps and military measures.

Looking for Remaining Fire

PRYING UNDER THE CHARRED FRAMEWORK OF A BARN Saturday to find the last flames, Iowa City firemen Lieut. Gilbert Capps, Bill Vorbrick and Johnny Fay finished off a blaze that destroyed a garage and shed at 532 S. Dodge street. The firemen brought the fire under control within 20 minutes after they were called at 12:37 p.m. A 1937 Packard sedan also was destroyed in the blaze.

CRUSHING THE REDS IN KOREA. Allied forces formed a giant pincer, No. 1, by linking up forces from the Pusan beachhead and the Inchon amphibious assault. That drive broke the back of the Red army south of the 38th parallel. The big broken arrows show possible pincer No. 2 formed by potential pushes from 175,000-man UN force massing in the Seoul area. Solid black arrows mark current South Korean drives into the Wonsan area and First Cavalry's capture of Kaesong north of Seoul.

Crime Connected SAYS Kefauver

CHICAGO (AP) — Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.), concluded three days of closed hearings Saturday after uncovering "strong evidence" that the Capone syndicate is allied with underworlds of other major cities in a nationwide crime hookup.

In a statement summarizing what his crime committee learned here, Kefauver said there is evidence of underworld connections between Chicago, New York, Los Angeles, Kansas City, Cleveland, St. Louis and other big towns.

The committee adjourned after listening to testimony of Luis Kutner, an attorney who represented big-time bookmaker Harry Russell and William Drury, former Chicago police detective who was shot and killed Sept. 25.

Valentine Appointed Economic Stabilizer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Truman picked Dr. Alan Valentine, scholar, educator and industrialist, Saturday to serve as an economic balance wheel for the nation in the mobilization emergency. He will be administrator of the Economic Stabilization agency.

That puts him at the head of one of the two principal operating agencies set up to channel the nation's energies smoothly into rearmament.

The other is the National Production authority in the commerce department, under William Henry Harrison, on leave from the presidency of International Telephone and Telegraph corporation. As its name implies, NPA has the main industrial output job, with authority over such things as priorities and allocations.

ESA is an independent agency, reporting directly to the President. Its assignment is the overall task of keeping the economy on an even keel.

DR. FITZPATRICK INJURED

Dr. D.F. Fitzpatrick, 903 E. College street, was admitted to Mercy hospital Saturday at 10:45 a.m. after he was injured in a fall.

First Cavalry Patrols Enter Enemy Land

By FRANK TREMAINE

TOKYO (SUNDAY) (AP) — Advance patrols of the U.S. First cavalry division crossed the 38th parallel into North Korea Saturday, a front dispatch said today.

With Gen. Douglas MacArthur massing his forces for a knockout blow against the North Koreans, the American patrol crossed the border in the Kaesong area about 85 miles south of the Red capital of Pyongyang.

A front dispatch from United Press Correspondent William Chapman said the patrol was not opposed in the first crossing of the marker by American ground forces.

Chapman said the unit moved across the border at 5:14 p.m. Saturday to reconnoiter enemy position.

It was noted that the crossing — at 3:14 a.m. Saturday EST — came even before the UN gave overwhelming authorization of land attacks on North Korea to crush the Communists, and to liberate possibly as many as 9,000 American prisoners.

The First Cavalry fought its way across the Imjin river 25 miles northwest of Seoul Saturday and pushed on 11 more miles to Kaesong on the main highway to Pyongyang.

The American action came as five allied divisions arrayed themselves in a 100-mile arc across Korea for the big push against the North Koreans.

The main units of the First Cavalry were about 47 miles below Sariwon where many American prisoners of war were believed to have been taken by the Communist captors.

Reporter Crosses 38th With Troops

By EDWIN HOFFMAN

KOESONG, KOREA (SUNDAY) (AP) — Saturday afternoon at 5:14 p.m. I reached and crossed the 38th parallel with the first American troops to move north of the border in the war against the Korean Communists.

I was with the 16th reconnaissance company assigned to the 1st Cavalry division.

The platoon chosen for the job was commanded by Lt. Jack Bender of Bremerton, Wash.

Bender and 41 troops and eight South Korean volunteers were riding two M-24 tanks, seven jeeps and one M-39 personnel carrier.

This was the unit that pushed across.

There was no resistance as the patrol moved into North Korea — the first American land units to enter the Communist-held tip of the peninsula.

War at a Glance

KOREAN FRONT — U. S. First Cavalry division seized Kaesong, southern gateway to North Korea. South Koreans spear to within 19 miles of Wonsan, Red's east coast defense anchor. Other Allied forces move northward, close to 38th parallel. Gen. MacArthur now has 12 identified divisions available for final victory drive into enemy territory. Communists making frantic last-ditch efforts to form defense line from Wonsan to Pyongyang.

WASHINGTON — United States continues to expand allied overwhelming air power in Korea to meet any eventualities. American vessels destroy two more floating mines off east coast of Korea; field of 15 more mines spotted in same area.

Chinese Red Troops Invade Northern Tibet

HONG KONG (AP) — Communist China announced Saturday its troops had invaded northern Tibet, less than a week after Premier Chou En-Lai warned that the Red regime was determined to control that remote Himalayan kingdom.

The claim was made in the name of Wang Chen, Communist party secretary in Sinkiang province, which borders Tibet on the north, and was distributed by the New China News agency.

Panacea Needs Help —

You don't have to be an "old head" at SUI to remember the furor that resulted from the decision not to have a Panacea, an all-university musical, here last fall. The decision, rendered by the student council, stimulated more feeling than any campus issue in several years. In the spring campus elections, practically every candidate running for student council vowed to do his part in bringing the popular show back to the campus this fall. The council went ahead in the spring to investigate the reasons for Panacea's untimely death and the possibilities of an early resurrection. Now, plans for the show have progressed to the point of searching for an experienced director, a difficult problem, and to the selection of the script. After these steps have been completed, the next problem will be that of finding the money to stage the production. Student council and Omicron Delta Kappa have pledged their shares. The rest of the money will have to be subscribed by a means yet to be decided. It seems apparent, however, that the campus will be solicited either for memberships in a Panacea organization or for a pre-sale of tickets. Panacea will either live or die again depending on that fundraising scheme. We hope the campus will rise to the occasion and give Panacea the support it will need.

Parking Solution — Walk! —

The big black blot known as the parking problem at SUI is beginning to show a few glimmers of light. Friday's announcement describing the parking lots to be built, or already built, this fall should help some in relieving the congested areas. Iowa City has agreed to give the university the west ends of Washington and Jefferson streets for parking space this year. On the west side of the river, the three men's dorms, Hillcrest, Quadrangle and South Quadrangle, have been talking a survey of the number of residents' cars and the available parking space. One new lot has been opened on the south side of the Quad and there is hope for more space in that general area. But there is still a critical shortage of parking space around the campus and there is at least one thing the students can do to help ease the problem. Those who live close to the university can leave their cars at home. Too many who do not need to do so are driving to school now and crowding the miserably limited street parking areas. If only those students would leave their cars at home, the situation would be eased considerably.

Stock Market Hit 1950 High Last Week

NEW YORK (AP) — An advancing stock market swept aside all obstacles this week and established new highs for 1950 on four days out of six. In the two-hour Saturday market, the first after the four-month summer recess, stocks continued the forward march with gains of a few cents to $1 and $2 a share. Every section participated in the movement. Initial leadership was centered in rails, steels and motors. Within a short time the radio - television section took charge and ran up profits of as much as $2 a share. The volume was 970,000 shares as against 2,360,000 shares for the five - hours in Friday's session. There were 881 individual issues traded of which 459 advanced and 221 declined. The stock market raced ahead on Monday to reach a new high for the year at $84.20 in the Associated Press average of 60 stocks. That's the best level since back in February of 1931. Tuesday brought a reaction, but Wednesday more than made up for the loss and brought another new high at $84.50. A similar reaction occurred Thursday with a recovery Friday that set the third new high at $84.60. And in the two-hour session Saturday, the A.P. average recorded another advance to $84.70, the highest level since Feb. 27, 1931. The curb market Saturday was generally higher including American Hard Rubber, American Marcalbo, Beck Shoe, Creole Petroleum, Fairchild Camera, and Venezuela Petroleum.

Columnist Muses Over Oddities in Foreign Relations

By J.M. ROBERTS JR.
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst
Thoughts while trying to get started on a column:
There is talk about rearming Japan as well as western Germany, but mighty little can be done regarding Italy because we have a peace treaty with her.

Western aid to a Communist government (Yugoslavia) is increasing, but Greece's is being reduced because of trouble with the government which we practically established and saved from Communist invasion.

Jordan, which has been accused by other Arab factions of playing footsy with Israel, quarrels with the Jerusalem government over a bit of hardly-worthwhile territory and talk of war has been banded about.

Soviet Russia has been accused of resolution in the United Nations of intervention in the Chinese civil war, but not in Korea. Nobody, except Nationalist China, wants to take the chance that the Reds, branded as aggressors, would quit the UN entirely. For such a break would lead to war, but still high over how nicely UN worked during Soviet boycott.

On a percentage basis, South Africa, a member of the British Commonwealth, is Russia's chief competitor when it comes to defiance of the UN. South Africa has allowed no interference with what she considers her business, either (re southwest Africa and racial problems.)

Wonder what Syngman Rhee thinks now of his refusal, during the war, to consider a transitory allied trusteeship to put a unified Korea on its feet.

Thousands of patriots from central Europe who fought in international units or in other national armies against the Germans — like the Poles who fought beside the British in Italy — are scattered over the world, many in rehabilitation projects such as those in South America. I'd bet the much-discussed unified European army could be started with 250,000 such experienced veterans if somebody got the ball rolling. The French have had wonderful success in Indo-China with thousands of German veterans who enlisted in the foreign legion, but are scared of them on a large scale in Europe. Can't blame the French, much, either. But there are ways.

The moral implications of obliteration bombing was on the agenda of a recent meeting of Christian scholars at Princeton. Maybe a modern course in philosophy would help me get at the moral problems of one phase of war in the face of the total immorality of all war. Like atomic control, I never could see working on one phase of war when the same principles, if they would work at all, would cover the whole subject.

But It Coos!

Korea in Hand, Europe Needs Our Attention

(Editor's Note: This is another in a series of weekly summaries of recent periodical articles on various aspects of the war in Korea and on foreign affairs. These articles are selected and annotated by staff members of the serials reserve department of the SUI library.)

Now that the UN forces in Korea have the situation well in hand our attention is being focused on other sections of the globe, particularly western Europe. "Vital Speeches of the Day" quotes a talk by Winston Churchill in its Sept. 15 issue, titled "The supreme peril in Europe." In this radio address Churchill said, "We must try to close the hideous gap on the European front . . . The only way to deal with Communist Russia is by having superior strength in one form or another and then acting with reason and fairness."

"This is the plan for the battle of peace and the only plan which has a chance of success." Churchill feels that the only bridge to the gap between Red forces and Europe's powers of defense is U.S. superiority in atomic bombs.

"Too Little, Too Late" "Fortune" magazine in its October issue quotes from Churchill's speech and asks if the U.S. is refusing to face this "hideous gap" of its plan for rearming Europe will be destined to prove another and more disastrous case of too little and too late.

The article, titled "The defense of Europe," attempts to assess the danger and describe the plan. Quoting the remark by Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of West Germany, "Any child in the street can draw the parallel between Korea and Europe," the author proceeds to examine the parallel and to point out that only three nations in Europe would stand much chance of surviving a full-scale attack on Western Europe this year or next.

Discuss Plans He discusses the Mutual Defense Assistance Act, the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, the various economic programs and plans already functioning and new proposals for speeding up these plans.

He points out the importance of the psychological question in this planning and says, "We are leading a coalition that also happens to be a human society, a civilization, threatened as never before since the days of the Mongols or the Turks. It will not be saved by half measures, and the fight itself must contain the promise of a better future than the Europeans have been able to imagine for themselves for a long time."

Arming Germany Following this same theme of the defense of Europe we find "The Magazine of Wall Street" carrying an article by Robert Guise in which he comments on the three plans for rearmament of Western Germany as discussed at the recent conference of Foreign Ministers in New York.

He says, ". . . our strategic position will remain intolerable as long as there is no real defense in Western Europe, and such a defense does not now exist and admittedly cannot be created without participation of Western Germany."

The British and French, however, are reluctant to see a revival of a German army in any form and oppose the American view that Western Germany should be allowed troops organized in regular divisions integrated into a Western European command. Guise sees the American plan as the ". . . leverage that may force an overall agreement on world problems between East and West."

State Department Approves Service

WASHINGTON (AP) — John S. Service, a principal target in Senator Joseph McCarthy's charges of Communism in the state department, has been cleared by the department's loyalty board. Final action was taken by the board Friday. State department press officer Roger Tubby told reporters it had been held up for several months for a check on one new rumor from the Far East which finally had been found "baseless." The general inquiry on Service as a security risk was completed last June. The board action is only the latest in a series which has kept Service, a career diplomat, popping in and out of hot water since 1944.

For the Record

By JOHN VOORHEES

The Greeks began plugging moderation some time ago. Then a singing commercial urged us to "Strike a happy medium in everything we do." Perhaps this hardly-new idea will soon filter down to the record companies. Today all discs seem to be either old Kenton in the instrumental, "Easy Go," but it's handicapped by a dull riff which, by the time all the members have had a turn at it, becomes thoroughly monotonous. The other side, "But Then You Kissed Me," fares about as well.

However the familiar and oft-times exciting Kenton is available on a fine new record with King Cole and the Trio. They have a wonderful time with Frank Loesser's new song, "Orange Colored Sky." The flip is a bongo-afflicted opus called "Jam-Bo" but you can always play "Orange Colored Sky" again.

MGM to the contrary, everyone doesn't like his show tunes done by the original cast, and Victor, acting on this premise, put together an album of the songs from "Three Little Words" by Andre (rhymes with Hooray) Previn. His piano interpretations are excellent and one of the best waxings available of "Thinking of You" is in this album.

Unhappily this romantic ballad has weak coverage. Anita Ellis sings it well in the MGM album, but the singles are less inviting. Eddie Fisher (complete with Pin-a-like overtones) for Victor and Don Cherry on Decca are about the best. Martha Tilton's Coral version is average and Sarah Vaughn has a Columbia disc of it, but she seems more preoccupied with doing vocal gymnastics than singing.

The Art Morton - Paul Weston interpretation on Capitol sounds as though, if they were "Thinking of You," it was hardly a sentimental you, but rather a double-tempo, jet-propelled you. In spite of all this, for a 1927 song, "Thinking of You" is doing all right for itself.

State Aid Featured At School Board Meet

DES MOINES (AP) — Discussion of a new proposal for state aid to schools will be a panel feature of the fifth annual conference of the Iowa Association of school boards here Oct. 19 and 20.

Association officials said Saturday they anticipate an attendance of 1,000 to 1,200 persons from all parts of the state. The Iowa State Education Association's recent statement of position on the proposal is expected to prove a drawing card for the panel discussion.

Maybe there are columns in trying to explain all the anomalies. Maybe I ought not to kiss them off this way. But anomalies too quickly acquire their own anomalies. Today, soon becomes yesterday, but never tomorrow. And I wonder what made me think of my old managing editor's advice: "Never believe anything you hear and only half of what you see."

Winter is coming and manufacturers of new products are rushing to help you enjoy it. For going to that football game or on chilly fall hay rides, a New York blanket mills offers a vinylite plastic zipper case for a blanket.

The plastic case resists scuffing and moisture, and with the blanket inside makes a fine pillow for stadium or hayrack.

A tasty cheese dressing may be made by combining 1/4 cup crumbled blue cheese, a dash of worcestershire sauce and 1/2 cup sour cream. This is especially good for mixed green salads, fruit salads and tomato aspic.

If your child's pet stuffed animal is not washable, make a slip cover for it. Use any washable material and insert a slide fastener. For a favorite toy, make two slip covers so one can be used while the other is laundered.

Baking soda can be used to make bath tubs and bowls shine because it is immediately soluble and will not clog drains.

Dirty golf balls should be given an end-of-the-season washing with thick warm soapsuds and a brush before winter storage.

Garbage cans, behind sinks, under basement stairs and all other places where insects are likely to gather should be sprayed regularly.

If your kids like snow-ball fights, here's a way to avoid cold and soggy mittens. A Milwaukee glove company makes children's mittens coated with vinylite resins which keep out snow water and won't crack or peel in the cold.

In making scrambled eggs it's a good idea to use about half a teaspoon of butter or margarine for each egg. If you want a white and golf effect, beat eggs with fork but don't blend yolks and whites completely.

Never hold fine table glassware under the hot water faucet. The sudden and uneven application of heat puts a good deal of strain from expansion on the glass and may cause it to crack — especially if it is stemware.

This is a good time to store boxes of sand, garden loam and compost for use in seed flats early next spring.

To replace worn-out elastic, pin one end of the new elastic to the worn-out piece. As you pull the old one out, the new elastic will slide right in place.

Sororities to Hold Second Open House

Next Sunday the men's groups will visit Delta Gamma, Kappa Alpha Theta, Zeta Tau Alpha and Sigma Delta Tau.

Eight Future Teachers To Attend Meeting

Eight members of the SUI chapter of the Iowa Future Teachers association will attend the IFTA southeastern regional conference in Burlington, Monday.

Robert Roddewig, A4, Davenport, SUI chapter president, said the purpose of the meeting is to explain the policy of the organization, and to have the local chapters coordinate their activities.

The conference program will include a panel discussion on the problem that beginning teachers face with discipline, Roddewig said.

Other delegates attending will be William Putnam, A3, Davenport, local vice-president; James Miller, A3, Melbourne; John MacNeish, A4, Chicago; Paul Anderson, A3, Mt. Union; Norman Severson, A2, Marion; Neil Jacobson, A3, Realdyn, and Elizabeth Williams, A3, Hinsdale, Ill.

SUI Chaperones Club To Meet for Luncheon

The Chaperones club will meet for a bridge luncheon at 12:15 p.m. Tuesday.

Hostesses will be housemothers Mrs. Hazel Miller of Zeta Tau Alpha, Mrs. Thomas B. Hammill of Beta Theta Pi, Mrs. Marie Frey of Alpha Chi Omega, Mrs. Robert Yetter of Alpha Tau Omega and Mrs. Ruel Dickinson of Sigma Phi Epsilon.

The members of the Chaperones club are housemothers of SUI fraternities and sororities.

Winking Eye, Straw Hat Star in Art Guild Films

A winking eye, a whirling straw hat and a hearse that ran away were high spots Friday night of four French films shown by the SUI art guild at the art auditorium.

The eye and the straw hat were featured performers in "Ballet Mechanique," an abstract film of objects in motion by the French cubist painter, Fernand Leger.

The runaway hearse was in a short film titled, "Entr'acts" produced in 1924 by exponents of Dada-ism, a French art cult.

From Ozark School to Concert Stage — Appears With Symphony

By WAYNE DANIELSON

From a country school in the Missouri Ozarks to the concert stage of the Iowa Union, is the story of Dorothy White, SUI music instructor, who will be soloist with the SUI symphony Wednesday night.

Appearing for the first time as a soloist with a symphony orchestra, the tall blonde musician will perform Mozart's "Concerto in G major for flute with orchestra."

Miss White was 10 years old when the visiting music teacher came to school one day with a flute—the first she had ever seen. To her delight the flute was given to her and she began taking lessons.

Liked the Flute

"I liked playing that flute more than anything I had ever done," she said.

In those days—Miss White remembers—the never got stage fright.

"I loved to show off too much to be scared," she said.

Her first public performance was at a parent-teachers meeting in the country school.

Asked if she thought she would be frightened Wednesday night, Miss White chuckled and said she would be "just excited."

Number Difficult to Interpret

The Mozart number was one of the earliest works written in the concerto form. It is a difficult number to interpret.

"The light, clear quality of the music demands a 'clean' technique," Miss White said. "That's the only word I can think of to describe it."

Miss White has been a flute and harp instructor at SUI for one year. She played harp in the SUI orchestra last year.

Besides teaching, she is studying flute under Prof. Himie Voxman, SUI music department. She is working for an M.A. degree in performance.

Graduated From Oberlin

Miss White went to high school in Springfield, Mo., where she was once chosen soloist for the music festival. She was graduated from Oberlin conservatory of music, Oberlin, Ohio, in 1949. Her instructor in flute there was George Wain.

She has also studied under Laurent Torno, flutist of the St. Louis symphony and Robert Willoughby of the Cleveland symphony.

She began playing the harp as sophomore at Oberlin under Ludy Lewis.

Miss White said she enjoyed

Books Being Reclassified for New Library

A new system of classifying books will be introduced in the SUI library when it moves into its first permanent home in 93 years.

More than 40 part-time helpers are reclassifying 80- to -90,000 books before the library is moved during Christmas vacation, into the new building on the corner of Madison and College streets.

The Congressional System is replacing the Dewey system that has been used at the SUI library since 1912.

The Congressional system is used by the Library of Congress and adds more information to library cards.

Norman L. Kilpatrick, associate director of the SUI library, said that "85 percent of the books received have Library of Congress cards."

Reclassified 6,000 "They have been cataloged and classified by the national library, and soon it will be possible to accept the work done by the national library instead of doing it over to fit the Dewey system," said Kilpatrick.

The 16 staff members and 40 part-time helpers have already reclassified over 6,000 books, painting out the old numbers with automobile paint. New numbers are added with a stylus.

"Unfortunately," Kilpatrick said, "the size of the project will cause inconvenience to both faculty and students. But the library staff will make an attempt not to keep books off shelves over 48 hours."

Federal Documents
The SUI library has over 650,000 books and periodicals, and 300,000 government documents. SUI is one of the few universities in the U.S. that catalogs federal documents.

Harold Bellingham of New York City has been recently added to library staff as head cataloger.

Bellingham, formerly of Denver university, stated that the new library will make SUI one of the few universities in the country with a complete library in one building.

Library Transient
Not since 1857 has the SUI library had a permanent home. Then the whole university was housed in the present site of East hall.

From that date on the library's history has been one of movings and fires.

Mrs. Sarah Edwards who came to work for the SUI library in 1922 said, "the poor thing has never had a real home."

In 1857 the SUI library moved its 500 volumes into Old Capitol after the state government moved out.

Fire almost completely destroyed the library and North hall in 1897 after the library had moved into the hall in 1865. The hall, situated between Macbride and University halls, was torn down a year ago.

A year later the SUI library had been built up to 16,000 volumes and in 1902 was moved into the newly opened Hall of Liberal Arts.

The library moved into Macbride hall in 1907.

Whitey Ford Pitches New York to Series Sweep, 5-2

Yanks Retain World Crown

By GAYLE TALBOT

YANKEE STADIUM (AP) — New York Yankee pitching and Yankee power sent the unhappy whiz kids from Philadelphia reeling to defeat, 5-2, in the world series Saturday before 68,098 roaring spectators. The fourth straight victory gave the Yankees their 13th world championship in 17 attempts.

But for an error by outfielder Gene Woodling with two out in the ninth inning, Whitey Ford, a 21-year-old freshman marvel from the sidwalks of New York, would have plastered the National league champs with their second shut-out of the one-sided playoff.

The wonderful kid had to be taken out when the next Phil singled, and the veteran Allie Reynolds went in to strike out a pinch-hitter, Stan Lopata. But the greatest cheer that rocked the arena all day accompanied the little southpaw as he strolled to the dugout.

For eight and two-thirds innings he had out-pitched three Philly hurlers, including Jim Konstanty, and had struck out seven with an amazing assortment of stuff. By all available records, Ford is the youngest pitcher ever to start a world series game, much less win it.

While Whitey was standing the Phillies on their collective heads, his teammates burst loose for the first time in the four series games.

Led by Catcher Yogi Berra, who got a home run and a single to drive in two of their runs, the Bombers rocked the Phil starter, Bob Miller, for two runs before he could retire the second Yank in the first inning.

Konstanty, making his third appearance in three days, was pounded for three more in the sixth, which Berra led off with a drive into the right field stands. These runs turned out to have been needed, but until Woodling made his unfortunate miff of a fly from Andy Seminick's bat at the end the Yanks appeared to be home so safely and easily that the contest was on the dull side.

There was no reason to suppose that Ford was headed for trouble in the ninth when Willie Jones, the Phil third baseman, pumped a single to left to open the inning. Nor even when Del Ennis, the next man, was struck on the right leg by a Ford fast ball. The cool youngster had been pitching out of worse scrapes than that all afternoon.

Dick Sisler, the batting bust of the series, followed with a hopper to Gerry Coleman, on which Ennis was forced at second, and then Granny Hamner went down swinging at a third strike. It appeared to be all over when Woodling trotted over near the left barrier and got under Seminick's towering fly.

But, as the crowd gasped in amazement, the outfielder let it drop to the grass and two runs dashed across. Seminick, hobbling on an injured leg, made it only to first and was relieved by a pinch runner. Manager Casey Stengel went out and had a little talk with Ford, but decided to leave him in. Mike Goliat then socked a single cleanly into left, and Casey decided Whitey had had enough glory for one day.

The crowd gave Stengel a fine boogie when he waved for Reynolds to come in, but the Yank pious evidently believed the kid had been shaken by the sudden turn of events. At any rate, Reynolds, the husky Indian from Oklahoma, proved to be an excellent choice if Ford had to come out.

PHILLIE MANAGER EDDIE SAWYER congratulated New York Skipper Casey Stengel Saturday after Stengel's Yanks had completed their sweep of the world series. Both managers brought their teams into the series after tight pennant races.

Maryland Passes Upset Michigan State, 34-7

EAST LANSING (AP) — A lateral-happy Maryland football team, sparked by sensational sophomore Quarterback John Scarbath, free-wheeled its way past favored Michigan State Saturday, 34 to 7, in a major upset before 39,376 fans.

The tricky play of the under-rated Maryland Terrapins completely outpowered and outpassed the refuddled Spartans, who only last week upset mighty Michigan, 14 to 7, and went into the game ranked as the Nation's No. 2 team.

Beside the fancy ball handling and running of Scarbath, who scored one of Maryland's touchdowns on a line plunge, the victors included Ed (Mighty Mo) Modzelewski and Bob (Shoo-Shoo) Shemonski.

Modzelewski scored once each in both the first and second periods on line plunges and Shemonski capped his sparkling line slants by a 37-yard touchdown run late in the fourth period.

The only consolation Michigan State had was the 67-yard touchdown run by Spartan Halfback Sonny Grandelius early in the third quarter.

Maryland, getting stronger as the game wore on, pounded on three touchdowns in the final period to turn it into a startling runaway.

Scarbath got one of the last period markers, center Pete Ladoygo made another on a 28-yard run with an intercepted pass and Shemonski ran 37 yards on a reverse for the final touchdown.

Nebraska Stalls Gophers, 32-26

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Victory-starved Nebraska defeated Minnesota, 32-26, Saturday — the first time the Cornhuskers had tasted triumph on the Gopher home field since 1902.

A bunch of inspired sophomores did what some of the Nebraska greats of the past hadn't been able to do since 1939.

What looked like a sure thing for the Huskers in the first few minutes of the game turned into a spine-tingler in the last half as most of the 48,365 fans stood through the waning minutes of the game.

Scoring two touchdowns in each of the first two quarters, Nebraska held a 26-12 half-time advantage over Minnesota, which scored once in each of the two opening periods.

The Gophers scored once more in each of the final periods while the Huskers added only six points in the last quarter.

Sophomore Bob Reynolds, 175-pound Nebraska halfback, proved his performance last week against Indiana was no flash in the pan as he ripped off long gains repeatedly and scored 14 of his team's points.

The game was only two minutes, 43 seconds old when Fran Nagle let one fly to Bill Windgender on the goal line for the first Husker score. Reynolds kicked the point. About three minutes later, Reynolds sprinted five yards around the right flank for another six points. His kick hit the crossbar.

Minnesota got back as George Hudak and Gary Johnson led a rambling drive to the Nebraska two. Shorty Cochran skipped over, Dave Skrien missed the kick.

Wildcat Running Sinks Navy, 22-0

BALTIMORE (AP) — Navy was torpedoed by the smashing of Dick Athan and bombarded by Rich Flowers' passing in a 22-0 shellacking dealt out by Northwestern before 12,000 spectators Saturday.

Purdue Shatters Irish Shamrock, 28-14

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

SOUTH BEND (AP)—Purdue Saturday ended Notre Dame's reign of terror on the gridiron which had gone unchecked through 39 games without defeat, the greatest of modern football records.

The sophomore-dominated Boilermakers buried the Irish giant 28-14 in a stunning upset that shocked the Notre Dame campus and left 56,748 fans shaking their heads in disbelief. It was no fluke. Purdue, a 20-point underdog, outplayed the Irish in every category — including an overpowering fighting spirit and confidence.

The Boilermakers lashed to a 21-0 halftime lead. Notre Dame had cut it to 21-14 by the outset of the fourth period. But the rally, unleashed as a drizzle slicked the field, only pumped more fire into Purdue. The pent-up wrecking crew came right back to score on a 56 yard pass play. Sophomore Dale Samuels to Mike Maciocci, and slam the door in Notre Dame's face.

The Notre Dame giant died without his seven-league boots. Missing was its vaunted aerial attack and pulverizing running threat that had geared the gridiron Goliath through four seasons without a setback.

The last time the Irish were beaten was by the Great Lakes' service team — 39-7 — on Dec. 1, 1945. Since then thirty-seven teams folded before them while two others, Army with a 0-0 deadlock in 1946 and Southern California with a 14-14 standstill in 1948, came close to victory but that was all.

It was Notre Dame's first loss at home since Michigan won, 32-23, in the eighth game of the 1942 season. It also was only the fourth defeat a Frank Leahy coached team absorbed in eight seasons. His Irish have won 62 while tying five.

Leahy's pre-season statement that Notre Dame would drop several engagements this season was taken with a bit of salt. But after the Irish had to go all out to defeat North Carolina, 14-7, in the opener a week ago, observers could see that Leahy might be

BOB WILLIAMS
Just Not His Day

Purdue's victory over the nation's top-ranking team Saturday proved it. Notre Dame's line was ripped unmercifully; its pass attack and offense failed miserably. The giant was thoroughly murdered.

All-American Bob Williams, the great clutch shooter, tried 20 passes and completed only seven.

A recovered Purdue fumble set up the first touchdown for the Irish after two minutes in the third period. Williams passing 4 yards to end Jim Mutscheller, Bill Barrett's 33 yard run ignited the second which came in the first 10 seconds of the finale. John Pettibon jarred over from the six. This capped their only sustained drive, 57 yards in five plays.

The Irish outtrushed Purdue 237 yards to 201, but most of the efforts were in midfield and out of threatening territory.

Badger Pass Theft Edges Illini, 7-

By JERRY LISKA

CHAMPAIGN (AP) — Fullback Bob Radcliffe sloshed 31 yards in a heavy downpour with a pass interception for a touchdown and John Coatta booted the point for a Wisconsin 7-6 win over Illinois Saturday in a Big Ten football opener for both teams.

The ill-fated Illini pass by Quarterback Fred Majr was fished by Radcliffe in the second period, to erase a 6-0 Illini lead.

That was the ball game, and a drenched Memorial Stadium crowd of 54,230 sat through a scoreless second half that had both teams slipping fruitlessly along the gridiron as though it were a waxed ballroom. Rain fell heavily from the start to the finish of the game. Illinois, one-touchdown favorite and a highly regarded conference title threat, scored in the opening quarter as though it meant business. The Illini counted with an 87 yard drive capped by Dick Raklovits' one foot touchdown plunge.

But on the Illini extra point try the pass from center from Bill Vohanka was poor and Placekicker Sam Rebecca had no choice except to pick the errant ball and try to run across. He was nailed on the Wisconsin four. That was the clincher for the determined Badgers.

Illinois unleashed its heralded running attack with Johnny Karr-as and Raklovits tearing big through the Badgers early in game. But when the chips down the Illini did nothing the rain-slicked ball.

Early in the fourth period Illinois pierced to Wisconsin's but Karras fumbled and the try ended.

Raklovits slammed 113 yard 21 tries and Karras battled 7 20 attempts. But both fumbled every time they had the Badger reeling in the closing half.

Illinois fumbled five times. Badgers bobbled one and lost ball that time.

It was the Badgers first triumph at Champaign since 1931, when they won by a 7-6 margin.

Wolves Bounce, Dump Dartmouth

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The grasping fingers of Michigan's lanky end, Lowell Perry, gave the Wolverines a hard-earned 27-7 decision over Dartmouth Saturday in an intersectional battle before 74,903.

The six foot sophomore gave a dazzling display of pass catching and proved equally adept at nabbing those tossed by Dartmouth's talented John Clayton.

The glue-fingered Perry grabbed the touchdown pass that sent Michigan out in front in the surprisingly hard-fought battle. Later he broke the back of Dartmouth's offense with three interceptions — deep in Michigan territory — on the one foot, five yard and 25 yard lines.

That defensive exhibition, coupled with a multi-starred offense enabled Michigan to grab a one-sided decision over the outmanned Indians. It gave Michigan its first win after an initial 14-7 setback at the hands of Michigan State.

Michigan, a two touchdown favorite, was shaken when Dartmouth zipped into a 7-0 lead in the first 10 minutes of play. But the Wolverines took the next kickoff and marched 84 yards in eight plays. Leo Koescki scooted 33 yards for the score that made it, 7-6.

Purdue Happy, Irish So

SOUTH BEND (AP) — Purdue vicious Boilermakers shouted Sunday that they could "lick anybody." They had just beaten mighty Notre Dame, a feat that no other football team in the land had accomplished in five seasons.

If there is something more than pandemonium, it reigned in the Purdue dressing room.

Boy Takes Nap, Dies in Blaze

DUBUQUE (AP) — A three-year-old boy died Saturday in a fire in the third-story room of his home where he was taking his daily nap.

He was Eric Specht, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer J. Specht, of Dubuque. The family Saturday night was attempting to locate the father, who was driving a Dubuque Transfer company truck and believed in the vicinity of Ely, Nev.

Fire Chief Thomas C. Hickson said a preliminary investigation indicated the fire may have started off from defective wiring. The greatest damage, he said, occurred in the boy's room and an adjoining hall where a fuse box is located.

Fire Capt. Harold Cosgrove raced into the boy's room while firemen played hoses on him, and carried out the boy who was already dead. Hickson said burns on the boy indicated he may have attempted to get out of the room.

DES MOINES (AP) — The biennial convention of the United Lutheran Church in America was held Saturday that American colleges are undertaking educational reform "with practically no regard for the possible contribution of religion."

The criticism was voiced by Gould C. Wickey, Washington, D. C., executive secretary of the ULCA board of education.

Wickey said the Christian church generally and the Lutheran church in particular should seek to increase the role of religion in higher education. He declared college administrators and faculty members "must be possessed of a Christian philosophy of life."

Wickey also said that even though more men are studying for the ministry in ULCA than ever before "the church urgently needs more ministers." He said ULCA has 128 students graduating from seminaries this year but needs 264 new pastors at the present time.
