Airforce Hits Red Supply Lines, Bombs Near Manchurian Border

Russia Proposes Big Five Talks, UN Police Force

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y. (AP)—Russia called Wednesday for a big five conference and quick agreement on creation of a United Nations police force.

In separate resolutions, the Kremlin urged that the big powers get together to do the very thing the cold war has kept them from doing in the five years since the UN was organized — devise joint measures to keep the peace.

This was the Soviet answer to the west's seven-nation proposal to earmark national troop units that could be used by the general assembly if a veto hamstringing security council action.

An American spokesman said this country was all for the twin Soviet proposals, but only as "supplements" to the west's anti-aggression plan.

It was taken for granted here that the Russians intended the Chinese Communists rather than the Nationalists, who hold China's UN seat, to be the Chinese representatives in the proposed negotiations.

SLOWLY CLOSING AN ALLIED PINNACLES on Kumchon (1) U. S., British and Australian troops moved north of the 38th parallel in force. South Korean forces took Kumhwa and were near Yonchon (2). On the east coast mopping up operations were completed in the port city of Wonsan. All drives were headed in direction of Pyongyang, North Korean capital.

Reds Pushed Back As Yanks Move 14 Miles

TOKYO (THURSDAY) (AP)—An American spearhead slashed 14 miles inside North Korea's defenses today as Allied warplanes ripped the "invasion" coast and blasted supply routes near the Manchurian border.

Nearly 60,000 United Nations troops hammered the Communist defenses along a 150-mile front above the 38th parallel.

41st Parallel
Meanwhile, U.S. planes ranged north to the 41st parallel, 205 miles beyond the North Korean border. The 70 separate targets

War at a Glance
Tokyo — American troops drive 14 miles into Communist North Korea and are now 75 miles from the Red capital of Pyongyang.

Washington — Defense department reports 24,163 casualties in Korean war through Oct. 6; list includes 3,614 dead and 4,260 missing.

Lake Success — United Nations top expert on Korea says Communists have "no great remaining capacity for resistance," says possibility of widespread guerrilla activity "largely eliminated."

hit by 24 B29s were close to the Manchurian frontier, and the air force announced that the purpose of the raids was to "isolate the battle area from supply sources."

North Korean fears of another amphibious invasion were pointed up by the discovery of hundreds of mines on the beaches at Wonsan, which was captured earlier this week by South Korean troops.

British carrier planes blasted the west coast south of Chinnampo, port for the North Korean capital of Pyongyang. Yesterday the navy announced that the British planes had blasted Chinnampo itself.

Task Force 77
U.S. planes from task force 77, which played a major role in the Inchon landing, ranged north of Wonsan along the east coast. They struck at gun emplacements, troop barracks, and other targets.

As they sought to close a pincers on Pyongyang, the UN troops were within 75 miles of the capital to the south and 90 miles to the east.

Expected Advice ...
TOKYO (AP)—General MacArthur is expected to warn President Truman at their conference that the Communists will strike somewhere else in the great tinderbox that is Asia.

Informed opinion believes MacArthur will insist that the Reds can be headed off only by a powerful United Nations force.

Community Chest Gains, Passes Halfway Mark
A little over 58 percent of the $28,468.24 goal of the 1951 Iowa City Community Chest was reached by noon Wednesday. Contributions totaled $16,680.96.

Hayracks, Trailers Needed for Floats
Flat bed trailers or four-wheeled hayracks are needed for floats in the Homecoming parade Oct. 20. Robert Gage, manager of the Iowa City chamber of commerce said Wednesday.

He said all farmers in this vicinity willing to loan or rent hayracks or trailers to organizations entering a float in the parade should call him immediately.

Homecoming Monument Contest Won by Coed

It was a clear case of art winning out over science Wednesday when Gladys Booth, A2, Clinton, an SUI art student, won first prize in the annual corn monument design contest for the 1950 Homecoming.

The winning design will be kept secret until the monument is unveiled the day before the Homecoming game.

Her design was judged best of a group submitted by SUI students, including several from the college of engineering.

Donald Jackson, E4, Iowa City, chairman of the Associated Students of Engineering, announced that Miss Booth will receive the $20 first prize at the Homecoming pep rally, Oct. 20.

The 1950 monument will be distinctive in that corn will be displayed on it for the first time since 1947. High prices and grain shortages prevented its use during recent years.

Miss Booth's plans call for a base 28 feet long by 14 feet wide, with a 28-foot pillar rising from it. The engineers, who will construct it, estimate its cost at $200.

When the monument was first built in 1914, the construction was a project of the hydraulic engineers. Later the entire college of engineering acquired the job of building it and the structure gained gigantic proportions.

Owing to the excellence of his design, William Webb, E2, Jefferson, received honorable mention, according to Prof. Edward Mielnick, mechanical engineering department, chairman in charge of the monument.

Torch Parade for Friday Pep Rally

Torch lit parades will once again lead SUI students from housing units to the south approach of the Iowa Union for the pep rally Friday night at 7:30 p.m.

Hal Hart, sports director of WSUI, will be master of ceremonies at the first 1950 home game rally, John D. Harris, G, Humboldt, S.D., said.

The SUI band will be present at the rally.

Hawkeyes In Shape for Badgers - Raffensperger

Iowa football Coach Leonard Raffensperger said Wednesday he thought the Hawkeyes have shown "a lot of spirit and determination" in preparation for Saturday's home opener against Wisconsin.

"Of course, they're going to have to continue showing spirit and determination if they expect to be ready for Wisconsin," Raffensperger said.

The Badgers have to be regarded as one of the top teams in the conference after beating Illinois last week. Illinois was the pre-season favorite of many to win the Big Ten title.

Wisconsin defeated them, 7-6, last week.

"The squad is in pretty good condition physically for Saturday's game," Raffensperger said.

"The injuries suffered in the Indiana game seem to be mending properly and everyone, with the exception of Jerry Nordman, should be ready to go."

Nordman hurt his knee in a practice scrimmage before the Southern California game. It's not known now when the fullback will be ready for action.

Raffensperger expressed surprise at Purdue Coach Stu Holcomb's statement that "We'll beat Iowa if it's the last we ever do."

When asked what the Iowa players' reaction was, Raffensperger said, "I'm sure they have all read the papers. You can imagine what their reaction is. Right now, however, we're more interested in winning the Wisconsin game."

Trip Tickets Today For Minnesota Game

Registration for the student bus trip for the Iowa-Minnesota football game Nov. 4, will start today at the Iowa Union and continue through Saturday.

Buses are scheduled to leave the Iowa Union at 1 a.m. Saturday, Nov. 4, and return about noon Nov. 5.

Frank Burge, assistant director of the Union, said the main floor grill of the Union would be open from 12:30 to 1 a.m. prior to the buses departure for Minneapolis.

John D. Harris, G, Humboldt, S.D., said tentative plans are underway for an all Iowa or an Iowa-Minnesota party at the Minnesota Union following the game.

Tickets for the trip including game tickets, are $12.75 and bus tickets alone are $9.18. Housing provisions may be acquired at extra cost, Harris said.

New Use for Tokens

New Iowa City bus company tokens are being used in parking meters instead of dimes, Iowa City police reported Wednesday.

Police said the tokens would give time in very few of the meters and the persons using them risked losing the token.

Budget Cut Affects Coralville Project

The present fiscal year's allotment for the Coralville flood control dam project has been cut by more than two thirds, army engineers announced Wednesday in Washington.

The original $4-million allotment was pared to $1.4-million along with several other project allotments in a budget reduction of $580,271,335 in non-defense appropriations.

Fifty million of that amount was clipped from army engineer allotments.

Lt. Col. George Finley, district engineer for the Rock Island district, said Wednesday that the effect of the reduction would not be known until instructions are received from headquarters in St. Louis and Washington.

Columbia Gets Nod For Color Telecasts; Will Begin Nov. 20

WASHINGTON (AP)—The federal communications commission Wednesday authorized Columbia broadcasting system to begin commercial color television operations on Nov. 20 in a move to protect future buyers against sets which may become outdated.

The action was a direct slap at big set manufacturers who had refused to start making sets capable of receiving CBS color pictures in black and white as well as conventional black and white signals.

It does not mean the 8-million present set owners will be cut off from their favorite TV shows. Because of its cost, color television at first will comprise only a small part of the industry and may never completely replace black and white.

In addition, sponsors probably will be slow to shift their advertising spending from black and white television with its assured viewing audience to the new medium which will have only a limited audience for a while at least.

But it does mean present viewers they will have to buy adapters if they want to receive the CBS color pictures in black and white and converters if they want color.

During the FCC's nine months of torrid color hearings, CBS engineers estimated adapters would cost $30 to $50 on a mass production basis. The cost of color converters was placed as high as $90.

Council to Discuss Panacea and NSA

The SUI student council will hold its third meeting of the 1950-51 year tonight in the house chamber of Old Capitol, Murray Seeger, A4, Hamburg, N.Y., council publicity chairman, announced.

Reports will be heard from committees on Panacea, the coming all-campus musical, the National Student association, and parking problems.

UN Official Sees No Guerrilla War

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y. (AP)—"There is no great remaining capacity for resistance in North Korea," the top United Nations civilian official for Korea said Wednesday.

The official, Col. Alfred G. Katzin, South Africa, said his estimate of small resistance left among North Koreans held true unless they received "unforeseen assistance."

Asked whether he thought the tottering Reds might be able to revert to extensive guerrilla operations, Katzin said:

"There is always a chance of guerrilla resistance in Korea." Katzin said he saw no reason why North and South Korea could not be unified, even after the bitterness engendered by the war.

Latin Teacher Says He Lit Campus Fire

ANN ARBOR, MICH. (AP)—A scholarly University of Michigan Latin teacher who said he had been "studying hard and not feeling well," admitted Wednesday he burned down Haven Hall, a campus landmark, last June.

Robert H. Stacy, 30-year-old teaching fellow from Gowanda, N. Y., was charged with arson. He was jailed in default of $16,000 bond after waiving municipal court examination in favor of a circuit court hearing next Tuesday.

Prosecutor Douglas K. Reading said Stacy attempted to leap into a stairwell from the seventh floor of a downtown building after the warrant was signed. Police restrained him.

Stacy, tall and slender, looked worried and confused as he sat through the court hearing. He readily volunteered that "I did it" when Judge Francis O'Brien referred to the fire. Police said Stacy, an overseas veteran of World War II, had been undergoing treatment recently at the veterans readjustment center in University hospital here.

Republicans Honor Thomas Martins

Rep. and Mrs. Thomas E. Martin will be special guests tonight at an open house sponsored by the Johnson county Republicans.

Attorney William F. Morrison and Mrs. George Hunter, co-chairmen of the Johnson county Republicans, said the program will be from 8 to 10 p.m. on the mezzanine floor of the Hotel Jefferson.

All precinct workers and other interested persons are invited to attend the open house.

The co-chairmen also said absentee ballots can be notarized at the Republican headquarters by the public.

Eleanor Roosevelt Observes Birthday

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt said she was "too busy" to celebrate her 66th birthday Wednesday and "postponed" it until December.

She is attending sessions of the 5th annual meeting of the UN general assembly as a member of the U. S. delegation.

MRS. FRANKLIN ROOSEVELT 66 Busy Years

In the last six years she has been a delegate to every meeting of the UN general assembly, and has served as chairman of the UN commission on human rights.

Fellow delegates say that it was largely through her leadership and patience that the commission drafted a universal declaration of human rights already put into the constitutions of four new nations.

Lewis Gelder, vice-president of the organization and D. W. Pray, chairman of the association's research committee will also observe the work of four engineering students studying at the university under NAMP four year scholarships.

The research work to be inspected is being done by the Iowa Institute of Hydraulic Research under contract to the plumbers association.

Striking Grocery Clerks Offered Wage-Hour Plan

Iowa City grocers Wednesday offered a uniform wage - hour plan to striking and non-striking clerks and meat cutters.

Atty. Newton L. Margulies, representative of the owners, said he drew up the plan after an investigation of why the workers were striking.

Members of the local group of the Amalgamated Meatcutters and Butchers union have been on strike for 27 days, in an effort to achieve what Margulies said was "assurance of steady work, a chance to get ahead and credit for the jobs they do."

The new plan states that "the normal work week for all employees shall be 45 hours." Time off for lunch and supper would consist of one hour for each eating period.

The plan provides a minimum regular pay for a 45 hour week, and time and one-half for overtime. Promotion would be on seniority and merit.

SUI Drops Cadet; No Charges Filed, ROTC Head Says

James B. Coons, 19-year-old ROTC cadet who Tuesday admitted taking a rifle from the ROTC armory, has been dismissed from the university, L. Dale Faunce, SUI's dean of students, announced Wednesday.

Coons, A2, Maquoketa, apprehended by an FBI agent Tuesday, reportedly said he took the rifle on a sudden impulse to prove it could be removed from the armory.

Coons told authorities he had no intention of selling the gun. Col. W.W. Jenna, commanding officer of the SUI ROTC, said: "The military department's primary desire was to recover the rifle, not to prosecute."

"In view of the university's disciplinary action, I have made a recommendation that no further action be taken."

William K. Hart, federal attorney for southern Iowa, said that if the university and the army do not file charges there will be no prosecution.

Roger Anderson, president of Delta Tau Delta, said the fraternity had taken no action in view of the university's decision. He said Coons would probably leave for home this weekend.

UN Lacked Only Manpower —

Criticism of the present administration is pretty common when we start talking about military preparedness. It's generally agreed we were caught napping when the Korean war broke out and many persons believe the administration is guilty of permitting our defenses to deteriorate.

One thing seems to have been forgotten, though. The most apparent lack of defense commodities was in the most important commodity: American men in uniform. Long before the landings on the east and west coasts, which set off the United Nations offensive in Korea, correspondents pointed out that the UN forces had more materiel than they needed for the number of men they had.

The question we would like to ask is: What should we have done about getting men into the armed forces between the end of 1945 and the Korean situation?

Frequently we hear that the government should not have permitted the speeded up demobilization we saw after the last war—while Russia continued to hold large numbers of men in service.

But who in Washington would have had the nerve to tell the men overseas at that time that they must stay over there—or that they would not be released shortly after returning home?

Whether Democrat or Republican, a man would have needed more than bravery to speak out against letting the veterans out of service. He not only would have had to face the servicemen themselves, but he also would have had to look in the eyes of parents and wives.

Criticism for a shortage of modern equipment would be one thing—for shortage of men in Korea would be another.

As a rule, we can expect the men in Washington to be no braver than we'll permit them to be.

California's Grid Wolves —

(By Earl Hall, Mason City Globe-Gazette)
I am getting just a little bit weary of the criticism being directed at Coach Jeff Cravath since his University of Southern California Trojans lost their opening game of the season to Iowa's Hawkeyes. The wolves have really been howling.

Second-guessing sports writers have been nothing short of savage in their attacks on the veteran coach. They're accusing him of gross inadequacy, lack of imagination and just about everything else in the book.

In none of the criticism is there any allowance for the possibility that the Iowa team had something to do with Southern Cal's poor showing. The fact is that the Hawkeyes on that occasion could have given a grid lesson to many another team.

Poor sports with respect to their own team, these Los Angeles Monday morning quarterbacks are belittling a fine Iowa aggregation—and reminding a lot of people of the attitude taken by the backers of certain Big Ten teams in the face of a defeat.

This Is Only the Beginning

New Army Trains Recruits Faster, Better

(Editor's Note: This is the first in a three-part series on what today's recruits are being taught in military arts as the country swings into partial mobilization.)

By ED CREAGH
FORT KNOX, KY. (AP) — Gen. George S. Patton Jr., would know what to think.

The salty World War II commander, now in a hero's grave, would love the powerful new tanks that bear his name... the fighting spirit that animates the third armored division... the rugged conditioning that tomorrow's soldiers are getting here at the army's training center for armor.

But the "new army" treatment of GIs? The cushioned chairs in induction centers? The please-and-thank-you politeness of sergeants toward recruits? The spectacle of generals addressing groups of privates as "gentlemen?"

"It is my considered opinion," said an officer who served with Patton in the 1944 smash into Germany, "that old Georgie would blow all four of his stacks." That's the way it is, though, as the army flexes its muscles against the danger of a World War III.

Training Faster
Today's new soldier trains faster and harder than yesterday's soldier did. But he's treated as a human being and not as a mass of dough to be whipped into shape at whatever cost to his pride and personality.

You may be wondering just what happens to the World War II 1-2 soldier — since he's just about sure to be someone you know and may even be yourself.

Well, Fort Knox will give you a good idea. It's a roomy place — 106,000 acres. Its "temporary" wooden barracks are five years old and are starting to show their age. Its activities range from guarding the bulk of the world's gold supply to teaching cooks how not to make hash.

But chiefly it's a vast plant for turning young civilians into sturdy soldiers who can drive a tank, fire a bazooka and take care of themselves in hand-to-hand combat with a foe who doesn't fight clean.

Six Weeks Basic
"Before Korea," said Brig. Gen. Thomas L. Harold, post commander. "we took 14 weeks to give these young civilians their basic training. Now we cut out the frills and squeeze it into six weeks. That leaves eight weeks for specialized training.

"They get battle conditioning, learn what shell fire sounds like. They are toughened, mentally and physically, for combat. The training is better than before. It's far more real and concrete."

Some recruits wonder about that during the first week — aptitude tests, physical examinations, "shots," lectures, issuing of uniforms, some tedious waiting around for something to happen.

But already the new soldier is learning that the "new army" is not just a myth. It's no paradise, certainly. But he finds officers courteous, interested in him. He gets a uniform that fits. Believe it or not, he seldom finds cause to grumble about the "chow."

THIS IS WHAT THEY ARE TRAINING FOR. Five GIs of a light machine gun squad set up for an attack somewhere in Korea. The harder, better basic training such as carried on at Fort Knox prepares American fighting men for battle in a much shorter time than basic training during World War II.

Cotton Goods Price Rise Expected

NEW YORK (AP) — Prices of shirts, sheets and towels definitely are expected to rise because of this year's small cotton crop, but how much and how soon, no manufacturer was prepared Wednesday to guess.

The majority of industry spokesmen questioned about the agriculture department's estimate of 9,869,000 bales did agree that there will be considerable time lag before retail prices reflect the anticipated shortage.

Barry Leithed, president of Cluett Peabody, the country's largest manufacturer of shirts, said the company's Arrow line will hold its prices at least until the end of the year.

Corn Up Slightly

CHICAGO (AP) — Traders in corn found enough encouragement in a government crop forecast and prospects of export sales to push yellow cereal prices fractionally higher Wednesday.

That was about all the strength the market had, however. Oats scored a minor fractional gain in sympathy with the corn advance, but wheat and soybeans sold off late in the session.

Market Recovers; Ends Losing Streak

NEW YORK (AP) — A general recovery in the stock market Wednesday snapped a two-day losing streak and put prices ahead by a few cents to more than $1 a share. The turn-around was brought about by the railroads which made substantial progress, and virtually every section of the market responded.

RAILS ACTIVE

NEW YORK (AP) — Rails were the most active issues Wednesday in a slow-moving bond market in which prices were mixed and changes most fractional.

U.S. Presents Case to Modify UN Functions

By J.M. ROBERTS JR.
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst
The United States, in presenting its case for a more powerful UN general assembly, has been careful to delineate the failure of the security council to provide for general security.

This serves the additional purpose of reiterating the desires of the delegates at San Francisco when the charter was written.

Mr. Dulles points out that primary responsibility was given the security council for "prompt action" to maintain peace and security, for investigation wherever there was international friction, and for establishment of stand-by forces to enforce its will. The security council having failed to do so, a number of nations have now joined to seek action through the general assembly.

Satellite Breaks Away
Yugoslavia, which has abstained from cooperation with the west in many instances at Lake Success despite her two-year-old break with Russia, subscribes to the program.

The Yugoslav foreign minister says international security is the only hope for nations such as his, beset by Soviet "aggressive pressure."

From the political standpoint, observers figured that the U.S. move had put Russia on the spot. As a British delegate pointed out, opposition could come only from those who seek to cloak aggression and oppose a strong UN for peace. Vishinsky was placed in the position of trying to find a way to block the real effectiveness of any final resolution and yet not appear to be blocking the peace for which his country's propaganda says it is so earnestly working.

Russia Fights Bill
After protestations of innocence and cooperation, Russia is really expected to try to kill the whole thing. And if it is passed over her protest, she is expected to be unable to find any armed forces, or any reason why UN observers should enter the Soviet sphere to investigate anything. Russia has always contended she was perfectly capable of reporting anything from her territory which the world needed to know, and that nobody in that area needs investigating anyway.

Russia would have an out, there, since the resolution calls for entry of the peace patrols only with consent or on the invitation of the country involved. But refusal of permission, of course, would have a powerful effect on world public opinion.

Revolt Predicted If Russians Learn About Free World

NEW YORK (AP) — Bernard M. Baruch said Tuesday that if the average Russian could break through the Soviet news blackout and learn how the free world lived he would want to revolt against "the greatest menace to our civilization today — Communist imperialism."

"The conditions of the average man under communism have not improved in 34 years — a full generation since the Russian revolution," the elder statesman said at the 12th annual Maria Moore Cabot convocation at Columbia university.

He said news suppression kept Russians from seeing "the contrast between the way of life outside and inside the iron curtain."

"Were these differences generally known to those who are now held down and could they by some happy chance find a way of reacting, the bursting point would be reached very quickly."

"That," said Baruch, "would help destroy the greatest menace to our civilization — Communist imperialism."

Memorial to Honor Columbus

THIS IS THE ARCHITECT'S MODEL OF the most massive memorial to a single man since Cheops built the pyramid at Giza. It is being constructed in the West Indies at a cost of $10 million. It is the Columbus Memorial Lighthouse at the mouth of the Ozama river at Ciudad Trujillo, capital of the Dominican Republic. The giant recumbent cross, one-half mile long and one-tenth of a mile wide across its arms will house a magnificently-constructed case-work of wrought iron, lead and rock crystal containing the bones and ashes of the discoverer of America. The case-work is opened for public inspection every Columbus Day, Oct. 12. The huge lighthouse will throw a beam of light into the sky visible at great distances by air and sea. On cloudy nights searchlights will paint the form of the cross against the clouds.

Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests Number 4...THE COMMON LOON

"Don't be silly! What do you think I am... a goose?"

Our fine-feathered friend isn't being "taken-in" by all those tricky cigarette tests you hear so much about! A fast puff of this brand—a sniff of that. A quick inhale—a fast exhale—and you're supposed to know all about cigarettes. No! You don't have to rely on quick-tricks. The sensible way to test a cigarette is to smoke pack after pack, day after day. That's the test Camel asks you to make... the 30-Day Mildness Test. Smoke Camels—and only Camels—for 30 days. Let your own "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste) be your proving ground. And when you've tried Camels as a steady smoke, you'll know why...

Hawks Continue Tough Drills In Preparation For Badgers

DeProspero Shifted From End to Tackle

Iowa's football squad continued intensive drills Wednesday in preparation for the first home game of the season Saturday against Wisconsin.

Pass offense and defense, two of the weakest departments in Iowa's 20-7 sag against Indiana, were stressed in the two-hour practice. A defensive team also got a look at Wisconsin plays run by a varsity reserve unit.

Bernard Bennett, Negro speedster from Mason City, continued to hold an offensive halfback spot on the first team in the absence of injured Don Commack. Commack suffered what is believed to be a minor neck muscle injury in the Indiana game.

Sets Up Touchdown
Against the Hoosiers, Bennett, a three sport all-stater, threw a pass that set up Iowa's only touchdown, and received a couple of others. If Commack isn't in top shape Saturday, Bennett may start.

The rest of the offensive backfield, which ran through signal drills while the defensive team was drilling against Badger plays, was the same that started the other two Iowa games. This backfield has Glenn Drahn at quarterback, Jerry Faske at one halfback and Bill Reichardt at fullback.

Another lineup change which is still in the experimental stage is the shift of End Dave DeProspero to tackle. The towering player from Wheeling, W. Va., has been troubled both this and last season with poor eyesight.

It was hoped at the start of the season that new contact lenses would help, but they haven't completely eliminated DeProspero's pass catching difficulties.

Coach Leonard Raffensperger, still hopeful that DeProspero will find himself on offense, emphasized that the shift was still temporary.

"We may move Dave back to end at any time," he said.

Raft Experiments
In an effort to find two dependable ends, Raffensperger experimented with Del Corbin and Don Bjork Wednesday. Corbin, Council Bluffs, and Bjork, Albert City, may see a lot of action against Wisconsin.

Meanwhile, at Madison, Wis., Coach Ivy Williamson indicated he may start five sophomores against the Hawks.

Career of Derby Champ Finished

NEW YORK (AP) — The racing career of Middleground appeared ended Wednesday after the winner of this year's Kentucky Derby pulled up lame in a workout at Belmont Park.

"The chances are a thousand to one if he ever races again," said his saddened trainer, Max Hirsch, as he looked at Middleground lying down in his stall.

Hirsch said X-rays showed two fractures of the sesamoid joint (ankle bone) of the right forefoot. "We'll probably be able to save him but that's about all," he said.

Michigan Leader

CHUCK ORTMANN, 188-pound Michigan passer, will be the Wolverine's big hope Saturday when they play the nation's No. 1 team — Army — at Yankee stadium. Ortmann was injured in the first quarter of the team's opener against Michigan State, which the Wolverines lost, and he was out of action against Dartmouth last week. Army took over as the top team in the country following Notre Dame's loss to Purdue.

Today's Question--Does Army Play Too Rough?

By WHITNEY MARTIN

NEW YORK (AP)—From time to time you hear, not necessarily from their closest friends and admirers, that the Army Cadets play football with a little too much emphasis on mayhem.

In other words, the insinuation is that Army is not only Army, but leggy, and kneesy, and elbowy, and fisty, and that in playing Earl Blaik's team an opponent runs the danger of having its star back sent to the infirmary, or the tackle who was making himself obnoxious suddenly taken with reverse ankles so that his head points one way and his feet another.

"Tain't necessarily so. In fact since we have been watching Army games closely, which means since before the Blaik regime, we have seen little but clean, hard football on the part of the lads up the Hudson.

Not meaning there haven't been a few occasions of what might be termed extracurricular activity on the field. Last year's contest with a rugged Fordham team was about as close to a May day riot as we ever saw on the football field. But it wasn't all one-sided, by any means.

The Army boys know how to take care of themselves under all circumstances, a trait we should welcome in our future military leaders. But we do think that barring occasional individual outbursts when a player's spirit subdues his judgment, the Cadets are about as whistle-clean on the field as any team you can name. For one thing, Blaik, a fine gentleman and sportsman, wouldn't have it any other way.

The very life the Cadets lead at the Point gives them a zest for rough, rugged, although clean, play. Your average Cadet is a fine physical specimen, in perfect condition because he has no chance to get in any other condition. It's early to bed and early to rise and ask no quarter from any guy; so far as the military academy lads are concerned, they're hard as the bars they'll one day be wearing on their shoulders.

What brought on this unasked opinion of football as played at West Point is the fact that here in Yankee Stadium Saturday the

Medal Missing From Armbruster's Office

An official Olympic medalion, presented to swimming Coach Dave Armbruster by Wally Ris, was missing Wednesday morning.

Armbruster reported that the medalion, won by Ris in the 1948 London Olympics, was in his office Tuesday afternoon.

The swimming coach requested the person who took the medalion to return it. "No questions will be asked," Armbruster said.

Major League Deals

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Giants got the jump on the other big league clubs in the trading marts Wednesday by closing what they described as a $125,000 deal with Oakland of the Pacific Coast league, involving seven players.

The Giants picked up two more Negro stars, Cuban Catcher Rafael Noble, who batted .316 at Oakland last season, and Shortstop Artie Wilson, who was a .306 hitter. In addition they obtained ex-American league Pitcher Allen Gettel, a short-tempered right hander, who won 23 games and lost 7.

In exchange for these three players who paced the Oaks to the coast league pennant, the Giants gave up four men from their Minneapolis farm club of the American association. Three of them had previous big league experience with the Giants. They were Outfielders Bert Haas, who has played with the Reds, Dodgers and the Phillies, and Joey LaFata, and Pitcher Bill Ayers, who was briefly with the Giants.

The fourth player in the Giant end of the deal was Pitcher Wes Bailey, a youngster, who had a 6-5 record at Minneapolis.

NEW YORK (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers Wednesday announced the sales of Dee Fondy and Kevin (Chuck) Connors, both first basemen, to the Chicago Cubs.

Connors went to the Cubs for about $30,000 while the price of Fondy was not disclosed.

Fondy played first base for the Dodgers Fort Worth farm in the Texas league this past season where he batted .298 and led the league in stolen bases with 38.

RESERVE TROUBLE

Richards Horses Around

NEW CHICAGO WHITE SOX MANAGER Paul Richards and his 11-year-old daughter, Paula Dell, petted one of the Richards' horses Wednesday on their Texas farm before the former major league catcher left for Chicago to sign a contract. Richards arrived home Tuesday night after managing the White Sox' Seattle team in the Pacific Coast league. Richards replaced Red Corridan who resigned.

Drake's Future Looks 'Bright'

DES MOINES (AP)—Unassuming Johnny Bright is the type of fellow any coach would like on his football squad.

The No. 1 reason, of course, would be that the Drake university halfback, barring injuries, is likely to lead the collegiate gridiron field in total offense for the second straight season.

Johnny is ahead of the parade right now with 948 yards in four games. He has pitched 32 completions in 48 attempts for 451 yards. His swift, sturdy legs have taken him 497 yards in 65 trips with the ball.

Drake has five more games and Bright is expected to crack the all-time mark of 2,187 yards set by Frankie Sinkwich of Georgia in 1942.

As a Linebacker —

Foes Don't Like Denning

— But Iowa Coaches Do

By DICK JACKMAN

Big Ten coaches are saying Iowa has one of the finest linebacking units in the conference and a good one-third of the reason why is stocky Chuck Denning, the Hawkeyes' 190-pound defensive ace.

And if Wisconsin ball carriers this Saturday seem to suddenly drop out of sight as they cross the line of scrimmage, chances are Denning will be responsible for their disappearance a good share of the time. With John Townner and Joe Paulsen, the Boone junior helps comprise one of Iowa's most dependable linebacking crews in recent years.

Denning is a master of the low crisp tackle, hitting the ball carrier at the knees or just below so that he folds easily. His tackling became one of the high spots of last year's season when, as a sophomore, he clinched a regular defensive job with the Hawks.

Top Thrill

The quiet Denning still counts as one of his top thrills the 1949 opener when he was sent into the game against UCLA. From that day on he was a fixture behind the Iowa defensive line. One of his best games was against Northwestern when he spent most of the afternoon in the Wildcat backfield knocking down star backs Ed Tunnick, Art Murakowski and Don Burson to help the Hawks to a 28-21 upset win.

Indications are that Denning still has that magic tackling touch this year. Indiana's ace quarterback Lou D'Achille said after last Saturday's game, "I couldn't get any of my passes off in the second half. This guy Denning is about the hardest hitting linebacker I've ever played against."

Chuck was a four-sport star at Boone High school where he was a teammate of Bob Clifton, a standout on the Iowa basketball team. Denning took part in football, basketball and in the spring split his time between baseball and track. He still holds several prep records in the football throw.

CHUCK DENNING Likes Contact Work

But at Iowa it's been strictly football in a sporting way for Chuck. When he saw that the offensive department was well-fortified with veterans, he set out to master linebacking. He loved the contact work and the Hawkeye coaching staff quickly noticed his sharp tackling.

Karras One of Best

Denning has the important job of covering the left side of the Iowa line guarding against holes opening up front, and sweeps and flat passes. He says Johnny Karras of Illinois is one of the best backs he's ever faced. Twice last year Karras cut through the line and stepped away for long touchdown runs.

Chuck has another date with the elusive Mr. Karras in the Iowa stadium come Nov. 11.

Let's stay off this road, folks. No real Americans want any part of SOCIALISM, but a bunch of crackpot schemers have been trying for 25 years to sell us wild ideas like "SOCIALIZED MEDICINE," "GOVERNMENT RAILROADS," "GOVERNMENT POWER," "WELFARE STATE."

They fool some people when they are dressed up with slick promises, but let's consider this:

First of all, GOVERNMENT IN ANY BUSINESS IS SOCIALISM. Second — these wild schemes are paid for with tax money — your TAX MONEY — and taxes already cost you 31 cents out of every dollar you earn!

This is no time to experiment with wasteful, needless, Socialistic schemes. This is the time to devote our tax money, our resources and our effort to the defense of the nation. Let's keep America strong — economically as well as militarily.

Tell Your Congressman and Senators

Tell them to cut needless Government expense for non-military purposes... no tax money for Public Works or Political Electricity.

Government in ANY Business is SOCIALISM!

With 'Lyric Performance' —

Soloist Highlights Concert

— At Year's First Symphony

By TERRY RINK

A lyric performance by flute soloist Dorothy White, instructor in the music department, highlighted the opening performance of SUI's symphony orchestra Wednesday night.

The first concert of the season was performed under the direction of Prof. Philip Greeley Clapp, head of the music department, in the main lounge of the Iowa Union. About 1,600 persons attended.

Besides the Concerto in G Major for flute and orchestra by Mozart played by Miss White, the orchestra played Bach's Overture in D Major and Symphony No. 4 in E Minor by Brahms.

The charming Miss White presented a consistently competent and polished performance which included several lengthy cadenzas. These she played with clarity and distinctness.

Her pleasing interpretation and elfin tone made the selection altogether delightful.

The Bach Overture is the composition from which the familiar Air on the G String is taken.

The first section of the Bach number called Overture, demonstrates his proficiency at polyphony, the simultaneous use of several melodies.

The closing number, the Brahms symphony, was conducted at a slightly faster tempo than this reviewer had heard before. But the Andante movement was as melodic and entrancing as ever.

Polio Total Rises, Strikes 3rd in Family

A third member of a Clear Lake family was admitted along with four other patients to the polio ward of University hospitals Wednesday.

David Anderson, 8, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Anderson, was admitted in a "fair" condition. A brother, Gary, 13, and a sister, Carolyn, 6, were previously admitted in "fair" condition.

Total number of active cases rose to 22 Wednesday after a season's low of 20 was reported Tuesday.

Other new patients, all in "fair" condition included Carl Haeneler, 1, Fort Madison; David Kirchner, 12, Donnellson; Linda Waly, 3, Elkader, and Harold Septer, 30, Salem.

Discharged were Evelyn Eige, 32, Cedar Rapids; Mark Davies, 4, Elkader, and Patricia Bailey, 10, Reinbeck.

Three others were transferred from the active to inactive ward.

Article by Student Published in Journal

An article entitled "Geography is Vital to the Business Student" by L.M. Wantland, G. Columbus, Kan., appeared in the latest issue of the Journal of Geography.

Wantland is a candidate for a doctor of philosophy degree in office management and business education at SUI.

In his article he reports on his survey of colleges, universities and firms doing business on a national basis, seeking opinions on the importance of economic geography.

He found educators and businessmen alike insisting that a knowledge of the subject is vital to the person preparing for a business career.

Sportsmen Prefer Game to Fish

What would you do if you saw a huge deer just waiting to be shot and a tremendous bass patiently waiting for you to throw it a line?

Well, chances are six to one if you live in Johnson county, you would run down to the county court house, buy a hunting license, and shoot the deer.

However, one person in 15 would have tried to get both the deer and the bass—which goes to show most persons know you can't have your cake and eat it too.

At least County Auditor Ed Sulek's records show that. Of 300 local licenses sold in September, 240 were hunting permits, 40 fishing licenses, and 20 for both avocations.

Great Books Group Plans First Meeting Tonight

A Great Books discussion group will hold its first meeting at 7:30 p.m. today in the Congregational church, Clinton and Jefferson streets.

Mrs. Hazel Leier, 316 S. Dodge street, and Mrs. Georgia Nicholson, 133 Riverside, are directing the formation of the group.

The group plans to meet fortnightly to discuss ideas found in the classics.

GASHAWKS FLY SUNDAY
The Iowa City Gas Hawks will hold a control-line flying session Sunday at the Iowa City airport. The program, sponsored by the Model Airplane Club, will begin at 9 a.m.

Dr. Evans to Report At Iowa Cancer Meeting

Dr. Titus Evans, director of the SUI radiology laboratory, will report on the progress of cancer research at SUI, Saturday at the fourth annual state meeting of the Iowa Division of the American Cancer society in Des Moines.

More than 300 delegates and key volunteers from 103 chapters in Iowa are expected to attend the two-day meeting.

The Sunday session will feature a talk on the educational role of the movie industry in the fight against cancer by Rod Cameron, Hollywood star of outdoor films.

Request Truckers to Avoid Game Traffic

Iowa truck drivers were asked Wednesday to stay off highways 216 and 6 for a distance of 25 miles from Iowa City at peak traffic times when the SUI team plays home games.

S. N. Jespersen, state highway patrol chief, and L. E. Crowley, executive secretary of the Iowa Motor Truck association, urged that all trucks avoid the two crowded highways immediately before and after SUI home games.

Dates for the SUI home games are Oct. 21, Nov. 11, and Nov. 18.

Airforce Officers Check SUI's Air ROTC Unit

Three officers from 10th airforce headquarters Tuesday made an informal inspection tour of the SUI airforce ROTC, local officials announced Wednesday.

The inspecting officers were Col. Howard H. Gray, deputy for operations; Col. Richard Gimbel, comptroller, and Lt. Col. Ward W. Harker, chief of operations division.

Tenth airforce headquarters is located at Selfridge air base, near Mt. Clemons, Mich.

City School Board Loans Bus Parking Space

The Iowa City school board granted SUI permission to park buses on the Junior high school grounds during Homecoming, at the regular board meeting Tuesday night.

Resignations from two teachers and two leaves of absence were also granted by the board.

Sterling Goplerud, City high chemistry teacher was granted leave to return to active military duty. Mrs. Ruth Melberg, Longfellow third grade teacher, asked for leave because of poor health.

Mrs. Betty Minor, fifth and sixth grade teacher at Henry Sabin school and Mrs. Burnell Peterson, third and fourth grade teacher at Horace Mann both resigned their positions.

Two of the openings were filled at the meeting. The Henry Sabin position was given to Mrs. Geneva M. Barnett. Mrs. Gladys Lange was hired to teach at either Longfellow or Horace Mann.

Some parents of first grade children at Longfellow school told the board they felt the class rooms were too small. The teachers committee was told to make an investigation and report at the November meeting.

Further action taken included approving an increase on the property damage insurance policy on the driver's training auto; and the purchase of three musical instruments for the high school band.

The board also approved the hiring of Sgt. W.D. Winborn as the city rifle coach and approved payment of $577.45 to Atty. Edward Lucas for services.

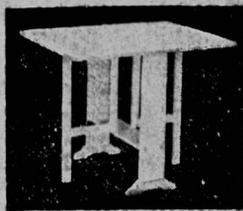

Salary increases for 22 teachers who had taken additional college training during the summer were also approved by the board. These increases ranged from $25 to $225.
