Cafe Owner Pleads Innocent To Murder Charge

BEFORE HE WAS CHARGED WITH MURDER, James Lons, 52-year-old owner of the Princess cafe conferred with his attorney, Frank Messer, during arraignment Thursday in Justice of the Peace C. J. Hutchinson's court.

THE WIDOW AND TWO SONS OF A CAFE WAITER who was fatally stabbed Thursday morning look over bowling trophies won by their husband and father, Andrew Davelis, who died in the police station Thursday morning.

Lons Held in County Jail, Fails to Post $25,000 Bail

James Lons, 52, accused of the Thursday morning knife-slaying of Andrew (Andy) Davelis, 39, remained in Johnson county jail Thursday night on default of $25,000 bail.

Lons waived preliminary hearing and was bound over to the grand jury Thursday afternoon in C. J. Hutchinson's justice of the peace court.

Lons owns and operates the Princess cafe, 114 S. Dubuque street, where Davelis had worked off and on for the last 15 years.

At his arraignment Thursday afternoon, Lons pleaded not guilty to an "open" (no degree specified) charge of murder filed by County Atty. Jack C. White.

Admits Knifing

Police said Lons had admitted knifing Davelis, but had refused to sign a confession.

During his confinement in Johnson county jail, Lons is taking medicine with his meals three times daily because of a heart ailment, Sheriff Albert J. (Pat) Murphy said Thursday night.

Murphy said this was on Lons' order, in accordance with orders of Lons' physician, George D. Callahan.

Davelis was stabbed twice while in custody of Iowa City police after he sought refuge in the home of Atty. Dan C. Dutcher following a chase in cars and on foot when Lons and three other men caught him driving with Lons' wife, Viola, 42.

Davelis had left Dutcher's house in custody of Officers Herman Parrott and Pat McCartney when Lons and George Baculis, 47, Lons' brother, attacked him. He died at 2:20 a.m. in the police station with police still unaware of the wounds in his chest and back.

Policemen Called

The coroner's report stated that Davelis died of a stab wound in the heart.

The two policemen were called to Dutcher's home at 1:56 a.m. Thursday, when Davelis ran into the house and frantically asked Dutcher to call police to protect him.

Lons told White he had long suspected Davelis of "running around" with his wife, head cashier at the Princess, and Thursday morning decided to catch up with him.

"I went after him to cut his ears off," Lons told White.

Mrs. Stella Lewis Davelis, widow of the victim, said Thursday there was nothing at all between Davelis and Mrs. Lons.

"Mrs. Lons was trying to help us get together again," Mrs. Davelis explained. She told police that Davelis often drove Mrs. Lons home after working until early morning at the cafe.

Remains in Seclusion

Mrs. Lons, an active Iowa City clubwoman and past regent of the Pilgrim chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, remained in seclusion in her home Thursday and could not be reached for comment.

The Lons' neighbors reported Thursday that Mr. and Mrs. Lons had lived at 521 N. Dubuque street for "eight or ten years" and always seemed to get along well together.

Lons learned Thursday morning that his wife had picked Davelis up in Lons' car at about 1:30 p.m. He and Baculis, with Harold Elder, 29, Princess cafe employee, and Ed Poggenpohl, 35, truck driver, gave chase in Poggenpohl's car.

After following Davelis and Mrs. Lons through the city, the pursuers cut in front of their car in the 500 block of South Summit street.

Tries to Escape

Davelis tried to escape by backing the car away but slammed into a parked car behind him, locking bumpers.

Jumping from the car, he fled down the street and ran into Dutcher's house, at 620 S. Summit, the only house with a light on.

Lons' three companions followed Davelis up the street while Lons stayed behind with his wife "to slay her around," police reported.

Dutcher, who said he thought his son, Dan Jr., was still out, woke up when he heard the front door open but took no notice until Davelis ran up the stairs and began beating on the bedroom door.

"I'm sure he wasn't wounded then, just scared," Dutcher said.

Pounds on Door

Davelis told Dutcher he was being chased and pleaded with him to call the police. At that point, Baculis began pounding on the front door, demanding that Davelis come out.

ANDREW DAVALIS Fatally Stabbed Thursday

A police car was in the neighborhood investigating a report of the accident involving Lons' car and the vehicle Davelis backed into, and officers were at Dutcher's home almost immediately after he called.

Baculis burst through the doorway behind the police, Dutcher said, and told Davelis, "You saved yourself a hell of a beating."

As soon as Officers Parrott and McCartney took Davelis out of the house, Lons and his companions jumped on him, Dutcher said, Baculis clubbing him from behind with his fist.

Another Scuffle

The officers pulled Davelis away and escorted him toward the squad car. There was another scuffle before they reached the car, Dutcher said.

In one of these attacks, police said Lons admitted he inflicted two knife wounds on Davelis with a pocket-knife.

The knife blade was so sharp,

Raff Plans No Lineup Changes

Coach Leonard Raffensperger said Thursday he planned no changes in Iowa's offensive lineup for Saturday's Wisconsin game.

"All the boys are in fairly good shape - good enough to start anyhow," Raffensperger said. "Don Commack, who was hurt in the Indiana game, was going full speed in practice and will be available Saturday."

Raffensperger said the Iowa squad would wear gold jerseys Saturday for the first time this season. In the Hawkeyes' other two appearances, against Southern California and Indiana, they wore black jerseys.

"I know I speak for myself and the squad," Raffensperger said, "in saying we're very glad to be back home again before a friendly crowd." Advanced ticket sales indicate a near capacity crowd of 50,000 for Saturday's game - one of the largest opening game crowds in recent years.

"Our practice today is the last tough one we'll have before the game Saturday," Raffensperger said. "The squad will run through light drills on the stadium field Friday. Friday's practice will be the first time the team has worked out on the playing field."

Raffensperger again said the squad will have to play its best ball to defeat Wisconsin. The Badgers, victors over favored Illinois last week, are rated at least one touchdown better than Iowa.

HEAT WAVE

LOS ANGELES (AP) - A fall heat wave swept down on southern California Thursday, sending the temperature in Los Angeles to 99 degrees, warmest Oct. 12 in the 70-year history of the local weather bureau. Thursday was also the hottest day in 13 months. The previous high of the year was 92 degrees on Sept. 20.

UN Sea-Air Force Blasts Korean Port

TOKYO (FRIDAY) (AP) - The U.S. battleship Missouri led a heavy allied sea-air bombardment Thursday that set aflame the North Korean port of Chongjin, near the Siberia-Manchurian borders.

UN ground troops were advancing relentlessly on the North Korean capital of Pyongyang from the south and southeast against weakening Red resistance. The attack on Chongjin, on the northeast coast, could be that softening-up process for an allied landing, or it could be a diversion to draw attention from a landing elsewhere.

It also could be merely a routine smash at targets of opportunity. The Sept. 15 allied landings at Inchon, on the west coast, which led to smashing of the Red invasion of South Korea, were preceded by similar strong naval bombardment and a simultaneous diversion on the east coast.

For two days before the attack from the sea opened Thursday, carrier-based planes pocketed Chongjin, an iron and steel port of 190,000 population.

Australia's proposal to keep the Rhee government temporarily out of North Korea reflected the views of some UN delegations that resistance in the north will soften if the Koreans are offered a chance ultimately to establish a broader-based government.

In other action Thursday, the Soviet Union used its veto power in an effort to block the reelection of UN Secretary-General Trygve Lie but legal experts said the assembly might be able to extend his term, possibly for three years.

A free ticket to the Dad's day dance Nov. 11 will be presented to the winner of the Campus Chest slogan contest.

The contest begins today and ends Wednesday, Publicity Chairman Max Sowers, A4, Ames, said Thursday.

Entries should be sent to William Shields, 303 Ellis street, Sowers said.

The name of the contest winner will be published in The Daily Iowan Oct. 21. Students, staff members and townspeople are eligible to enter the contest.

The annual Campus Chest drive will be held Nov. 8 to 11.

Campus Chest funds go to the World Student Service fund, CARE, American Cancer society, and United Negro College fund.

This is 63 percent of the $28,468.24 goal for the local campaign.

SUIT GOES TO JURY

The $38,927 suit brought by Mrs. Edith Klenk, 701 N. Benton street, against Thomas Rotrke, Oxford, and John Bailey, West Branch, went to the jury at 10 p.m. Thursday.

LEAVING THE JOHNSON COUNTY JAIL, James Lons, 52, accused of the fatal stabbing of a waiter who worked for him, is escorted to court by County Sheriff Albert J. (Pat) Murphy. Lons pleaded not guilty to a county attorney's open murder charge and waived to the grand jury.

New Parking Regulations Presented to SUI Council

New SUI regulations governing student and faculty automobile parking in campus parking zones were brought before the SUI Student council for discussion Thursday night by Dean of Students L. Dale Faunce.

The regulations, which become effective Nov. 1, 1950, include identification of all student cars, parking regulations, penalties for violations, and assignment of parking facilities in faculty zones.

The council also announced that a script and a director for Panacea, all-student musical show, have been chosen and will be revealed next week.

The council voted to join the National Student association for the fifth consecutive year. Jack Whitesell, L2, Davenport, council president, said the dues for the association amount to $150 for the 1950-51 school year.

Bill Shields, A4, Newton, announced the Campus Chest drive will be held Nov. 8 to Nov. 11.

The council discussed the possibilities of setting up a university book exchange.

Dean Faunce said he would not forbid it, but cautioned that it must be operated "on a sound business basis."

The university welcomes any action taken by the attorney general's office. It is only by Larson's actions that this situation can be cleared up in both the community and the university," Faunce said.

Burge said Terry has just completed a two-week stand at the Palladium in Hollywood.

The theme for the dance, a climax of the Homecoming weekend, will be "The Roaring Twenties," Connie Jewett, A3, Des Moines, chairman of the dance committee, said.

Tickets for the dance will go on sale Monday at the main desk of the Union, for $3.80 a couple.

No Affair Between Davelis, Mrs. Lons, Widow Claims

Mrs. Stella Lewis Davelis said Thursday there was no truth in the rumor of an affair between her former husband and Mrs. James Lons.

She said she and her husband were divorced twice by law but had never been officially divorced by the Greek Orthodox church of which she is a member.

Mrs. Davelis said they were in the process of a reconciliation and Mrs. Lons was helping them.

"Andy sometimes took Mrs. Lons home because she worked late alone," Mrs. Davelis explained.

She said she could not understand how the crime was committed while the police were at the scene.

"Is this the type of protection given to Iowa City people?" Mrs. Davelis asked.

She is the mother of two children, George, 13, and Teddy, 10.

No Definite Reports On Parlay Cards, Local Officials Say

No definite reports have been filed on persons distributing football parlay cards in Iowa City, Sheriff Albert J. (Pat) Murphy, County Atty. Jack C. White and Police Chief Edward J. Ruppert said Thursday.

State Atty. Gen. Robert L. Larson announced Thursday that reports of parlay cards in Iowa City would be investigated by his office.

According to reports, the cards headed "Football Forecast," carry odds on various games and indicate "ties lose."

L. Dale Faunce, SUI dean of students, declared Thursday, "Gambling by any student in the campus or within a dormitory, chapter house, or rented room is cause for dismissal from the university, according to the student code."

"The university welcomes any action taken by the attorney general's office. It is only by Larson's actions that this situation can be cleared up in both the community and the university," Faunce said.

Streets to Be Open For Game Traffic

All of the Iowa City streets now torn up for resurfacing will be opened for Saturday's football game traffic.

Only Melrose avenue has received a new asphalt covering in the project that is supposed to be completed Nov. 1, and city officials have expressed concern over delays in the completion of work.

The Hargrave Construction company, Cedar Rapids, moved part of its equipment to Mount Vernon for street construction there. But City Engineer Fred E. Gartzke said the company will begin work in Iowa City again today.

Local Man Arrested After Breaking into Farmer's Market

Charges of breaking and entering were filed Thursday night against Donald W. Linnell, 28, Iowa City, shortly after Iowa City police arrested him at the Farmer's market, 803 S. Clinton street.

Police reported that the meat department manager of the market, working late, heard someone trying the doors of the market and called them to the scene.

Police said Linnell entered through a high window over the meat department.

When he stepped through the window to the floor, the manager brought out a shotgun and told Linnell to stop. Linnell turned and ran, but was intercepted by police who had come up behind the market.

He will be arraigned in police court this morning before Judge Emil G. Trott.

According to police records, Linnell has been arrested and convicted on nine misdemeanor charges since 1942.

In November, 1942, Linnell went into the army to avoid a sentence on another charge of breaking and entering, and while in service served a term of one year in the Ft. Leavenworth, Kan., guardhouse for illegal use of an army vehicle.

Dan Terry's Band To Play at Dance

Dan Terry's band will be featured at the homecoming dance from 8 p.m. to midnight, Oct. 21, in the main lounge of the Iowa Union, Frank Burge, assistant director of the Union, announced Thursday.

Burge said Terry has just completed a two-week stand at the Palladium in Hollywood.

The theme for the dance, a climax of the Homecoming weekend, will be "The Roaring Twenties," Connie Jewett, A3, Des Moines, chairman of the dance committee, said.

Tickets for the dance will go on sale Monday at the main desk of the Union, for $3.80 a couple.

Trip Reservations

Reservations for the student bus trip to the Iowa-Minnesota football game Nov. 4 will end at noon Saturday.

Tickets for the trip are available at lobby desk in Iowa Union.

TO HOLD LECTURE

Puritanism and absolutism in Old and New England will be the subject of a lecture by Prof. George L. Mosse, history department, Monday at 8 p.m. in the senate chamber of Old Capitol.

Float Entries Due Saturday

Applications for float entries in the Homecoming parade at 7 p.m. Oct. 20, must be turned in to William D. Coder, parade committee chairman, by Saturday.

Coder said the list of entries now totals 24 compared to 49 in last year's parade. He said he expects an increased flow of entries, however, before the Saturday deadline.

All but three of the 24 entries are in the self-financed class, McNamara's furniture store, Iowa Power and Iowa - Illinois Gas and Electric company, and Younker's department store are sponsoring three SUI organizations in the subsidized division of the parade.

SUI organizations entering floats in the parade are in need of hay racks or flat bed trailers, Coder said. Any farmers wishing to rent or loan trailers or hay racks are asked to contact Robert Gage, secretary of the Iowa City chamber of commerce.

Is the Problem Solved? —

The new parking regulations which were revealed last night at the student council meeting sound good—if we're looking for laws. They include rules we shouldn't question.

But apparently we were mistaken as to the meaning of the word "problem" has in the often heard expression "parking problem."

Most of the emphasis of the regulations is on the prevention of cars parking near fire hydrants, in fire lanes, in crosswalks, on lawns, in driveways, etc., and the penalties provided for offenders.

We are not against those regulations. There has, without question, been too much abuse inflicted on lawns, and there has been far too much negligence in general in the parking manners of the campus drivers.

But our mistake came in thinking the word "problem" had to do with the word SPACE.

This is no attempt to imply that the problem of acquiring new space is a simple one. We realize that the persons working on the plans had a terrific task before them. And we're glad to learn of the new parking lots under construction.

But for us and all those who interpreted the word "problem" as we did, these regulations are hardly the answer.

Every Home a Campus? —

Frieda B. Henneck, the only woman member of the federal communications commission, dreams of every home a college campus in the tomorrow of television.

The feats of Paul Revere, Betsy Ross, Washington, Lincoln and other historical characters, as thrilling as fiction, could be dramatized in Parliament and our own Congress could be reenacted before us. Think what could be done with a geography course if students could not only read about but see the world we live in.

"Why confine the services of our great teachers to a few hundred students?" asks Miss Henneck.

University of Iowa instructors and those from other universities might serve thousands through television.

If educational television forces get to work, television could become for the young and old a shorthand method of learning—a poor man's college.

MacArthur to Try to Change President's Mind

By J.M. ROBERTS JR. AP Foreign Affairs Analyst Six years ago, at another conference in the Pacific, General MacArthur persuaded a president to change his mind. He's likely to be trying the same thing again this week-end.

In 1944 the American battle plan against Japan, which had been to bypass the Philippines and strike directly through the central Pacific, was shifted to permit MacArthur to reconquer the islands and consolidate there first.

This week-end's meeting, probably on one of the islands for which Americans died in World War II, is described as one for an exchange of views, not for final decision. The President wants the lowdown on the Pacific situation, including when to expect final victory in Korea, the prospects of prolonged guerrilla warfare, the extent to which occupation may be required, and the prospects for a unified Korea.

Discuss Pacific America's attitude toward the disposal of the United Nations army which has been gathered under MacArthur will probably be up for discussion, along with the nation's whole position in the Pacific.

What can be expected next from the Communist enemy will be another question "west of Honolulu." MacArthur expects them to keep striking. What they are doing in Indo-China is already a matter of deep concern.

Things back home — where a more definitive Asiatic policy would help Truman shoulder off Republican campaign criticism — will probably be much in the President's mind but less in MacArthur's, whose friends once boomed him for President with a lack of success which hardly makes him a major political factor from that standpoint, despite the uses to which his views can be put.

Formosa Problem But there will be one point at which the general will definitely be trying to change the President's mind. That is regarding Formosa.

MacArthur wants the U.S. to see it that Formosa does not fall into the hands of prospective enemies. That means bolstering the Chiang Kai-Shek regime on the island, which Truman doesn't like. Truman ordered the American fleet to neutralize Formosa during the Korean war, to prevent the prospect of two upheavals at the same time. MacArthur can be expected to request the continuance of that policy, and maintenance of the guard, even after the Korean war ends.

He can argue that even the President's own program for Formosa, which calls for determination of its future status through the general settlement of Pacific problems expected to grow out of Japanese peace treaty negotiations, will be nullified if the island's fate is first settled by the Chinese Communists.

Pravda Praises Stalin's Message to North Korea MOSCOW — The Communist organ Pravda Thursday handed Premier Josef Stalin's message of tribute to North Korea in the current war as a historic document.

Stalin sent a message to North Korean Premier Kim Il Sung wishing him a "successful conclusion of the struggle of many years for establishment of a united independent Korea."

Announce New Parking Regulations

New SUI regulations governing the parking of automobiles in and about the campus by students and staff members were released Thursday night by Fred W. Ambrose SUI business manager and chairman of the committee in charge of the administration of SUI parking facilities.

The regulations, approved by SUI President Virgil M. Hancher, will become effective Nov. 1, 1950.

The four-part set of regulations include sections on identification of motor vehicles, parking regulations, penalties and specific violations, and a system for assignment of parking privileges in faculty parking areas.

Ambrose explained that about three weeks' time has been provided between the announcement of the regulations and the time they will be enforced so that parking areas can be marked, parking tags printed and officers receive instructions.

Several new parking lots are now under construction to add to the parking facilities on campus. Others are being improved to provide more space.

The new parking regulations follow:

Identification

It is required that any student or member of the faculty or staff of SUI, operating a motor vehicle within the vicinity of the campus must display an identification on the motor vehicle where it can be plainly seen without entering the vehicle.

1. For "Iowa" licensed cars, operated by the owner, the license certificate shall suffice. Such certificate shall be displayed so that the owner's name can be plainly seen without entering the vehicle, as required by Iowa code.

2. For all other motor vehicles, including out-of-state licensed motor vehicles and "Iowa" licensed motor vehicles operated by a person other than the individual in whose name the vehicle is registered, a typewritten gummed label shall be affixed in a location that can be easily read without entering the motor vehicle.

Such label shall carry the name of the operator of the motor vehicle, and, if a student, the "student number."

Parking

1. All restricted parking areas shall be adequately marked by suitable signs, painted curbs or other standard means. Restricted parking areas will in general be vicinity of fire hydrants, fire lanes,

Plays for Slides TO THE EDITOR:

From Sept. 13 to the 20th, we ran an ad in your paper describing 200 color slides that were stolen from our car. My husband was traveling through Iowa City when the robbery occurred.

These were slides that can never be replaced, my sister's wedding last June and our trip down south, which we may never be able to take again.

It is my hope that whoever took these slides may still have them and if he knew how much they mean to us, he might send them back to us. Our name and address is on every box. We are offering a reward and no questions asked if they are returned.

fire escapes and fire exits, service drives, loading zones, narrow streets and parking lots reserved for special parking purposes.

2. Unauthorized motor vehicles shall not be parked in any such restricted areas.

3. Motor vehicles shall not be parked on lawns or other areas not normally available for parking purposes.

4. Motor vehicles shall not be parked in such manner as to block sidewalks, cross walks, driveway, roadway or parking areas.

5. Motor vehicles shall be driven and parked in a safe and orderly manner in all parking areas.

6. All city ordinances and state laws which are applicable to parking and traffic are applicable on

Penalties, Violations

Penalties and Specific Violations Charges as listed below shall be assessed against the operator of the motor vehicle for each violation: each one-half day shall constitute a separate violation. These charges shall be automatically applied against the individual's account in the business office.

1. For failure to properly display identification of operator, as provided in Section A: First offense, $5; Second offense $5 and disciplinary action.

2. For all parking violations, as provided in Section B: In any one university year, Sept. 1 to Aug. 31, first offense, $1;

Second offense, $2; Third offense, $4 and disciplinary action.

3. Appeals may be made by students to the dean of students, by faculty to the Provost, and by others to the business manager. Excuses for violations shall not constitute a basis for appeal. Appeals shall be made in writing, stating succinctly but fully the grounds on which the appeal rests. Reserved Faculty Parking Areas

Reserved Areas Any member of the faculty or staff, desiring the privilege of the use of parking areas reserved for faculty and staff, may apply at the office of the superintendent of the physical plant, who has the authority to issue an identification insignia providing parking space is available. This identification insignia shall be displayed on the rear window of the car at all times.

The physical plant superintendent shall investigate each application and shall assign available parking space on the basis of the following priorities:

1. Official visitors on a temporary basis.

2. Disabled students or staff member.

3. Staff members who use automobiles in the conduct of university business.

4. Staff members who are dependent on the use of an automobile for transportation to and from the campus.

5. Other staff members in accordance with academic or equivalent rank.

Political Battle Develops For Illinois Senate Post

By JOHN L. CUTLER United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP)—The famed Lincoln-Douglas debate of 1858 was a polite taltz compared to the political slugfest being waged in Illinois today between Sen. Scott W. Lucas, Democrat, and Everett M. Dirksen, his Republican challenger.

Democrats claim Lucas has the edge, particularly since the favorable turn in the Korean war.

Republicans are equally insistent they are going to collect the political scalp of President Truman's senate leader with their charge that there would have been no Korean war except for administration bungling.

All Out Fight Both parties are throwing everything they have into the race which is a crucial test in their fight for control of the senate next year.

Foreign policy is the top issue. Lucas picked the battle ground last spring at Carbondale, Ill., when he announced he would "stand or fall on my record on foreign policy."

Dirksen picked up the challenge. He has accused Lucas and the Truman administration as "bunglers" who have lost the peace won in World War II and of "coddling Communists" at home and abroad.

Although Dirksen was a leader in the fight for the Marshall plan in 1948 he now says he has changed his mind and denounces it as "operation rathole."

The Democrats describe Dirksen as a "revolving door" who can't make up his mind but shifted his stand on foreign policy for the sole purpose of getting support from the powerful Chicago Tribune.

Domestic Issues Fade Domestic issues have faded into the background except for Dirksen's charge that the Democrats offer "backdoor socialism" and Lucas' reputation of the administration's Brannan farm plan and socialized medicine.

Sideline observers agree that the favorable turn in the Korean war is in Lucas' favor. But, they believe he might be damaged by the senate's Kefauver committee investigation of politically-protected crime.

No one says that Lucas has any connections with gambling or criminal syndicates. But, any investigation of that nature reflects on him in political power which, in Illinois, is Lucas' own Democratic party.

Besides the senate race, Illinois voters will elect 26 congressmen, several state officers and a state legislature.

Among the state offices is a "football hero" contest for trustee of the University of Illinois. One of the GOP candidates is Harold (Red) Grange, the famed "Galloping Ghost" of the 20's. One of the Democratic candidates is Harold Pogue, an all-American on the Illinois 1914 team.

WSUI to Present Music Composed By Coe Instructor

The WSUI radio program, "Original Compositions by Iowa Composers" will present the music of Eleanor Taylor, instructor in the music department of Coe college, Cedar Rapids, at 11:30 a.m. Saturday.

This will be the first in the year's series of monthly half-hour programs sponsored by the Daughters of the American Revolution state radio committee, arranged by Mrs. Paul D. B. Shaw, Pilgrim chapter.

The selections from Miss Taylor's music to be broadcast are two chorals, "I Stood at the Gate" and "Litany of the Beatitudes," and by the Coe college chorus.

"Vocalise" for soprano and violin, sung by Bernice Popham; "Moonlight Polka," piano solo played by Miss Taylor, and an organ suite: "Dilemma," "First Leaf Falling," "Scherzo" and "March."

$1,000 in Prizes Offered in Contest

A college writers' short story contest has just been announced by "Tomorrow" magazine. The fifth annual contest of this type offers a first prize of $500; second, $300, and third, $200.

Manuscripts will be judged by the editors of "Tomorrow" and the editors of Creative Age Press.

The contest is open to anyone registered and taking at least one course in any college of university in the U.S. Any number of manuscripts may be submitted by any student providing that each story has not had any previous publication.

Manuscripts can not exceed 5,000 words and must be accompanied by the student's name, home address, and the name and address of the college he is attending.

Entries should be sent to College Contest, "Tomorrow" magazine, 11 East 44th street, New York 17, N.Y. The contest closes midnight, Jan. 15, 1951.

SUI Graduate Joins Foreign Trade School

Howard L. Borrett Jr., a former SUI student, has enrolled in the June 1951 class of the American Institute for Foreign Trade at Thunderbird Field, Phoenix, Arizona.

Borrett, who received his B.A. degree here in 1950, is specializing in Latin America to prepare himself for a career in business or government abroad.

A pamphlet urging Americans to vote is being distributed by the Federation of Women's clubs to all member clubs this month. Entitled "Americans Must Vote," it points out that the United States ranked below Italy, Sweden, France, Great Britain and Norway in 1948 in the percent of votes cast.

Iowa had 60 percent, while the national average that year was 52 percent.

If Junior's shoes look dowdy at the toes and heels, scrub them, let them dry and coat with thin shellac. It will help protect the leather and restore the gloss.

New odorless paint now on the market should be a boon for those planning winter redecorating because one won't have to open windows to get rid of that "paint smell."

Cooked dried beans go well with browned chopped onions and canned tomatoes. Season well with salt and pepper and serve very hot sprinkled with parsley.

A new plastic film for window-shades doesn't fade, crack, peel or stain and is inexpensive, its manufacturers report.

Molasses cookies can become clever Halloween treats when topped with lemon icing and faces made from raisins, gumdrops or candied fruits.

To keep egg yolks in the center when you want attractive hard boiled eggs, stir the eggs around in the water occasionally as they cook.

If a dresser drawer sticks, plane a shaving or two off the bottom edge of the sides. Put smooth-head tacks on drawer separator.

so the sides will "ride" tack heads. Tacks make the drawer slide more easily and prevent powdering or splintering of bottom edge of the sides.

A stopped-up drain can be opened in an emergency with a handful of baking soda and a half glass of vinegar.

Kitchen shears are quicker and safer than a knife for cutting up chicken, ham and salad trimmings.

From Our Statistics Files: The equivalent of a 2 1/2 ton truck is lifted every year when women hang laundry on the line. An automatic gas dryer can remedy that situation.

Try adding a little crisp crumbled bacon to creamed spinach for variety.

Dr. Bean Tests Heat, Cold Effects

By MARIAN PETKOVSEK
Occurrence of heat stroke, heat exhaustion and some of the effects of cold may be prevented some future day as an aftermath of investigations by Dr. W. B. Bean, department head and professor of medicine at SUI, and a staff of associates during World War II.

New light was thrown upon the ability of man to adjust himself both internally and externally to new surroundings at the Armed Medical Research laboratory, Fort Knox, Ky., and the University of Cincinnati medical school, where these investigations were held.

The result of the research was reported by Bean in his chapter "Physical and Toxic Agents" in the recently published text "Pathologic Physiology, Mechanisms of Disease."

Automatic Adjustment
By a process known as acclimatization, man is able automatically to adjust himself internally to a new environment, the investigators found, but only after a period of time has passed after exposure to the environment.

Bean and his associates tested fit young men adequately trained in such work as marching to learn their endurance when exposed to extreme conditions of heat.

Laboratory conditions hindered extensive investigations which could have been conducted more thoroughly on the California desert or tropical islands of the Pacific.

Compared to their performances in temperate environment, among other changes, morale and judgment declined, dizziness occurred, pulse rate was higher, internal and skin temperatures rose, and blood pressure was unstable.

Normal After 5 Days
After five days exposure to such conditions, however, the men regained near-normal vitality. They performed their work with only slightly higher pulse rate and temperatures than in a comfortable environment.

Superior fitness in a temperate environment gave no assurance superior work would be done immediately in new conditions. The more fit adjusted faster than the less fit, but even the best were totally disabled when first exposed to extreme heat.

After a period of exposure, however, performances were approximately proportionate to work performed in temperate surroundings.

The investigators also proved that a person who completely recovers from a condition such as heat exhaustion is not overly susceptible to a second attack.

Neither do injuries from heat or cold appear at a later date in one who showed no signs of early injury from them.

Much proof was found during the investigations that protective clothing and correct diet may affect the main part of man's ability to adapt to cold.

Diet Affects Condition
Frequent small meals with fat, high carbohydrate and high protein content proved effective in maintaining body temperature and metabolic rate in cold areas.

Warm clothing was found especially necessary in cases of exposure to cold water, which removes heat faster than cold air.

The investigators also proved that a person who completely recovers from a condition such as heat exhaustion is not overly susceptible to a second attack.

Neither do injuries from heat or cold appear at a later date in one who showed no signs of early injury from them.

Dean Winter to Speak At Accounting Meeting

Dean Sidney G. Winter, SUI college of commerce, will present his paper, "Modern Development in Financial Statements," at the 25th annual Michigan accounting conference at Ann Arbor Saturday.

The conference is sponsored jointly by the Michigan Association of Certified Public Accountants and the University of Michigan's school of business administration.

Personal Notes

New pledges to Gamma Alpha Chi, women's professional advertising fraternity, are Martha Magee, A3, Burlington, and Jeanne Strauss, A3, Chicago.

The wives club of Delta Sigma Delta, dental fraternity, met for bridge Wednesday at the chapter house. Hostesses were Mrs. Clare Teeter, and Mrs. Don Griffith. Party prizes were won by Mrs. C. C. Bickford and Mrs. John Repp.

140 at SUI Have Noyes Scholarships

A total of 140 undergraduates are attending SUI this year with the help of Noyes scholarships, L. Dale Faunce, dean of students, announced Thursday.

Established by the will of Laverne Noyes, the scholarships cover basic fees in the undergraduate colleges of SUI and several other universities and are awarded without regard to sex, race, religion or political party.

Scholarship holders must be direct descendants of World War I veterans, however, and must demonstrate satisfactory scholastic achievement.

Of the 140 students, 116 are from Iowa and 24 are from outside the state.

Dr. Culbertson to Report On SUI Research Lab

A report on the SUI cardiovascular laboratory will be made by Dr. James W. Culbertson, assistant professor of internal medicine at the Iowa Heart association meeting Oct. 25 and 26 in Des Moines.

Dr. W. B. Bean, professor and head of SUI internal medicine, president of the association, will preside at the meeting.

Dr. Lewis E. January, assistant professor of internal medicine will also attend.

Iowa Math Instructors To Hold 20th Meeting

The 20th annual conference of Iowa mathematics teachers sponsored by SUI is scheduled to open today in Old Capitol.

Afternoon the conference will adjourn to Cedar Rapids for a district meeting of the Iowa State Education association. The group will return to Old Capitol for the final conference session Saturday.

CLASSES SUSPENDED

Classes were suspended Thursday at Junior high school to allow teachers to attend a north-eastern district teachers' convention at Cedar Rapids.

police said, that Davelis bled very little. Officer McCarney, who suffered a slashed wrist in one of the scuffles, was unaware of his injury until he reached the police station.

While in the squad car Davelis reportedly said, "Someone had a knife," but no one realized he had been stabbed until he collapsed a few minutes later in the police station.

Others Arrested

Lons, Baculis, Elder and Poggenpohl, who had left Dutcher's house in their car, were arrested immediately and questioned by police.

The blood-stained murder weapon, a black-handled pocket knife with a four-inch blade, was found by police in a pile of leaves several blocks away after an intensive search of the neighborhood.

Lons told police he had thrown the knife from the window of the car as he and his friends drove away from the scene.

Pending further investigation of the circumstances of the crime, the murder charges against Lons will remain "open," White said. Elder and Poggenpohl were released Thursday afternoon, but White said they would be called as material witnesses.

The charge against Baculis, still in city jail Thursday, was not known.

Attorneys for Bednasek
Representing Lons is the firm of Messer, Hamilton, Barkley and Cahill, the attorneys who in 1949 successfully defended Robert Bednasek, accused of slaying his sweetheart, Margaret "Gee-Gee" Jackson.

Born in Illinois

A member of the Iowa City Moose lodge and a first-rank bowler, Davelis was born in East Moline, Ill., Dec. 3, 1910, and moved to Ottumwa in 1925. In 1934 he moved to Iowa City and since then he had worked in the Princess cafe.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Davelis, East Moline; his former wife, Mrs. Stella Davelis, and two children, George, 13, and Teddy, 10.

Funeral services will be held at 2:30 p.m. today in the Oatman funeral home. A second service will be held Monday in East Moline, and burial will be there.

IOWA GI KILLED

WASHINGTON (AP)—The defense department reported Tuesday that Pfc. Grange W. Huff, son of Mrs. Ruth J. Kilker, Sioux City, has been killed in action in Korea.

AN UNIDENTIFIED PATRON OF THE PRINCESS CAFE found the place closed Thursday after the fatal knifing early Thursday morning of Andrew Davelis, a 39-year-old waiter at the cafe. Arrested in connection with the stabbing was James Lons, proprietor of the restaurant. Lons' attorney, Carroll Cahill, said the restaurant would reopen today.

Zenith Corp. Breaks Plant Gambling Ring

CHICAGO (AP)—Zenith Radio corporation reported Thursday night it has smashed a $350,000 a year gambling ring inside its plants after a private investigation that resulted from the complaints of employee's wives.

The company said that certain employees had acted as agents for professional gamblers in soliciting horse racing bets inside the plant, where 5,000 are employed.

Zenith refused to reveal how many employees were involved in taking bets, but said that all had been discharged.

Police, meanwhile, moved into the case and arrested Daniel De Leonardis, 41, who operates a newsstand outside the plant. Officers said they saw him accept a bet.

E. F. McDonald Jr., president of Zenith, a major manufacturer of radios and television sets, said the private investigation started six months ago when the firm received complaints from a committee of wives.

The committee, McDonald said, wrote him that "we want our husbands to bring home their pay checks."

Married Vote Potent: Lucas

Married students eligible to vote in Johnson county have become a potent factor in the county elections, Attorney Edward Lucas, Democratic county chairman, said Thursday night.

Speaking at the SUI Young Democrats meeting in Scheffer hall, Lucas said, "in the event of a close election, the married student vote could swing the county election."

Lucas urged the Young Democrats to get all married students who are eligible registered or help them get absentee ballots.

French Again Suffer Reverse in Indo-China

SAIGON, INDO-CHINA (AP)—French forces gave up another outpost Thursday north of Hanoi, and serious consideration was being given to bolstering Hanoi itself against the danger of a Vietminh attack in the wake of a series of sharp French reversals.

Transformation of the Vietminh guerrillas of Moscow-supported Ho Chih Minh into a powerful regular army has forced the French to take precautions to safeguard Hanoi, great trading center in northern Indo-China and former seat of the French governor general.

U.S. Policy Unites Pacific

The United States policy in the Korean war was a big factor in drawing the islands of the south pacific together against Communism, Prof. Lauren Van Dyke, director of university clubs, told members of the Rotary club at their noon meeting Thursday.

Van Dyke recently returned from the Philippine Islands where he participated in the student and professor exchange under the Fulbright act.

While in the Philippines, he served as a delegate to a seven nation conference originally planned to form an anti-Communist bloc.

"Due to the inconsistency of United States' foreign policy at the time of the conference, it was turned into a non-Communist economic and cultural meeting," Van Dyke said.

Since the United Nations' move in Korea, the fight against Communism has resumed. The people no longer feel the need to make friends with Communism because of the threat of Red China he explained.

"We can never hope to establish a government in the Philippines to parallel our own government," Van Dyke declared.

The economic situation in the Philippines is so different from this country's, because of their huge gap between the rich and the poor. Their government must serve a different purpose of a more socialistic nature, he said.

"Because of the vast overpopulation of some 400 persons per square mile in the Luzon area, the government there will have to support nearly every business, industry and farm in existence."

U.S. Freezes Issuing Of Passports to Aliens

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government Thursday announced a temporary world-wide "freeze" on passports to aliens seeking to enter the United States. The action was taken under the tough new Communist-control law.

The shutdown in effect threw a screen around this country pending clarification of the statute which congress passed over President Truman's veto.

Active Polio Cases Down to 20 Here

An Iowa City boy, Fredrick Moore, 9, was among four persons transferred from the active to the inactive polio ward of University hospitals Thursday.

The number of active cases dropped to 20 as only two new patients were admitted Thursday. In fair condition were Michael Betts, 2, Cedar Falls, and Randall Strassburg, 5, Parkersburg.

Others transferred to the inactive ward were Craig Leyda, 13, Ottumwa; Gary Anderson, 13, Clear Lake, and Gary Hazen, 8, Cascade.

Donald Starks, 12, Monticello, was discharged.

VAN DYKE TO SPEAK

Rotary club will meet today at 12:30 p.m. in the Hotel Jefferson. Lauren Van Dyke, recently returned from the Philippines, will speak on a "Report on the Philippines."

Truman Resumes Trip To Meet MacArthur

ST. LOUIS (AP)—President Truman Thursday night resumed his long journey to the Pacific for a conference with Gen. Douglas MacArthur—probably at Wake Island—on how to prevent the threat of communism in the Far East from flaring into another war.

Amid world speculation on the reasons behind the meeting, which probably will start some time Saturday, Mr. Truman expressed hope the exchange of views will produce "some contribution to the peace of the world."

If 18-Year-Olds Drafted, Need No Vets: Hershey

WASHINGTON (AP)—Selective Service Director Lewis B. Hershey said Thursday the drafting of 18-year-olds would eliminate the need of reinducting World War II veterans.

The bottom draft age now is 19. Legislation would be required to move it down.

SUI Philosophy Staffers To Speak at Meeting

Three members of the SUI philosophy department will read and discuss papers at a meeting of Iowa philosophy instructors, at Grinnell college Oct. 26.

Prof. R. H. Popkin will discuss "Hume and Kierkegaard," Prof. G. L. Cobitz will discuss "The Logic of Extraordinary Language," and Donald Sichert, SUI instructor from Oxford university, will discuss "Philosophic Currents at Oxford; A Report."

Young Republicans Help Students Vote Registering

Young Republicans were Wednesday night to get all those eligible to vote in Iowa registered for the November election regardless of party affiliation.

World War II Vet Named Head of American Legion

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Erle Cocke Jr., 29-year-old World War II hero, Thursday was named national commander of the American Legion by sweltering delegates who earlier demanded shakeup of the state department.

Cocke, an airlines executive from Dawson, Ga., succeeds George N. Craig, Brazil, Ind., attorney in the top Legion post. He was elected virtually without opposition by shirt-sleeved delegates perspiring under 99 degree temperature, hottest Oct. 12 in history.

The temperature was almost as hot as the argument which raged over whether Secretary of State Dean Acheson should be censured by name in a resolution condemning the state department's "failure to deal adequately with the grim and bloody advance of communism throughout the world."

As passed, the resolution did not name Acheson or suggest his ouster, but it left no doubt that he is its target. And instead of urging that President Truman "re-constitute" the state department, as the resolution drafted by the foreign affairs committee had read, it demanded that he do so.

Cocke, accepting his unanimous election, pledged himself to carry out the Legion program. Assisting him will be five vice-commanders: Herbert Jacobi, Washington, D.C.; Joseph H. Adams, Miami, Fla.; Felix Pogliano, Denver, Colo.; Lewis H. Gough, Pasadena, Calif., and Frederick Bramlage, Junction City, Kan.

State Investigators Quiz O'Dwyer

NEW YORK (AP)—Senate crime investigators said Thursday they may former Mayor William J. O'Dwyer and Brooklyn bookie Harry Gross, whose $20-million gambling empire is under grand jury fire.

"We're looking into it," said Sen. Estes Kefauver (D - Tenn.), head of the senate crime investigating committee.

Sen. Charles W. Tobey (R-N.H.) spoke a little more strongly. If it's agreeable to Kefauver, he said, he would like to talk with O'Dwyer and the bookie at some future date.

Gross has admitted paying off crooked New York City police at the rate of $1-million a year for protection. However, he has refused to give their names.

O'Dwyer, who quit as mayor Aug. 29 to become ambassador to Mexico, once called the Brooklyn grand jury a "witch hunt." But he made a special trip home this week to apologize for the remark.

The Brooklyn grand jury announced Wednesday that it is calling O'Dwyer as a witness. No date was set.

Clothes Worth over $100 Stolen from Car Here

Clothes valued at more than $100 were stolen from a car parked south of Iowa Union Sunday afternoon, the owner Kenneth Cook, Waverly, reported to Iowa City police.

Among the articles Cook listed as stolen were a man's suit, a woman's suit, a shirt, two pairs of slacks and a skirt.

Students Must Ask of Ballots

(This is the last of a series of two articles on the Nov. 7 elections.)

By WAYNE SHAW

Students who wish to vote in their home towns in Iowa on absentee ballots should write to their county auditor requesting the absentee ballot. These ballots will be available beginning October 18.

The county auditor will send both an application blank for the ballot and the absentee ballot itself. Both are to be notarized and returned so that they reach the county auditor on or before November 6.

Applications and absentee ballots will be notarized free of charge at either Democratic headquarters on the ground floor of the Iowa apartment building, Linn and Washington streets, or at Republican headquarters, Room 206 Hotel Jefferson.

A person may use an absentee ballot if he will be out of the county on election day. He also must meet the residence requirements of six months in the state, 60 days in the county and 10 days in his present precinct.

If a person will be out of the county on election day he may use an absentee ballot and vote in person at the county auditor's office beginning Oct. 23.

For example, a student could go home on the weekend of Oct. 28 and vote in the county auditor's office on an absentee ballot.

Some Iowa cities require registration before a person can vote either in person November 7 or on an absentee ballot.

Registration is required in the following cities: Ames, Boone, Burlington, Council Bluffs, Cedar Falls, Cedar Rapids, Clinton, Dubuque, Davenport, Des Moines, Fort Dodge, Fort Madison, Iowa City, Keokuk, Marshalltown, Mason City, Muscatine, Newton, Oelwein, Okaloosa, Ottumwa, Sioux City, Waterloo.

If you live in any other city in Iowa you need not register to be eligible to vote in the November elections.

You must re-register if you live in one of the above cities and have not voted there within the last seven years.

Oct. 23 is the last day to register to be eligible to vote November 7. Registration can be done by mail. A registration request should be mailed to your city clerk. He will return duplicate registration cards which are to be filled out, notarized and returned to the city clerk by October 28.

PLUMMETS 11,000 FEET

DETROIT (AP)—The cockpit door of a fully-loaded American Airlines DC-6 snapped off its hinges late Thursday and plummeted 11,000 feet to earth near Coldwater, Mich. None of the 52 passengers or crew of five on the Chicago-New York flight was injured, the airline said.

Glenn Drahn, Jerry Long To Captain Iowa Saturday

Hawkeyes Complete Last Tough Drill

Quarterback Glenn Drahn and End Jerry Long have been named to co-captain the Hawkeyes against Wisconsin Saturday in the first home game of the season it was learned Thursday night by The Daily Iowan.

Drahn, a senior from Monona, has completed 14 passes, good for 179 yards, in two games, from his quarterback spot. He has also handled punting duties for the Hawks this season.

Leads in Receptions

Long, converted from a defensive to offensive end this season, leads the team in number of yards gained on pass receptions, 58, and is tied with Fullback Bill Reichardt for the most number of passes caught, four. The veteran end has scored once on a pass catch.

Drahn and Long will participate in tonight's pre-game pep rally to be held at the band shell south of the Union.

The Iowa squad went through its last full scale practice Thursday before the Wisconsin game. Work on pass offense and defense along with defensive drills against Wisconsin plays received most of the attention.

Don Commack, left halfback who was injured in the Indiana game, returned to the starting offensive lineup Thursday after three days of comparatively light drills.

Same Lineup

During Commack's absence, Bernard Bennett, sophomore speedster who looked good in the Hoosier game, had taken over the halfback spot. Coach Leonard Rafensperger indicated he would use the same lineup against the Badgers which has started Iowa's previous two games against Southern California and Indiana.

This lineup includes Long and Bob Hoff at ends; Hubert Johnston and Andy Buntz at tackles; Austin Turner and Lou Ginsberg at guards and John Towner at center.

The backfield will have Drahn at quarterback; Commack and "Seven Yard" Jerry Faska at halfbacks and Reichardt at fullback. Iowa will drill briefly this afternoon on the stadium playing field.

Wisconsin Has Lineup Problems

(Special to The Daily Iowan) MADISON, WIS. — Coach Ivy Williamson was still uncertain on two of his offensive starters as the Badgers wound up final preparations for the Hawkeyes Thursday afternoon.

The Wisconsin head man wasn't sure whether Roy Burks, a sophomore, or Rollie Strehlow, a junior, would be in at the left half post; in the right guard position, which is the most troublesome on the Badger squad, Williamson may use either Dave Staiger or George O'Brien.

GLENN DRAHN

JERRY LONG

Co-Captains Against Badgers

Staiger was a starter in the Badgers' first two games but O'Brien was developing fast until a bruised hip slowed him down. The injury has responded to treatment and O'Brien may get the nod.

Bob Petruska, quarterback; Bill Hutchinson, right half; and Bob Radcliffe, fullback, make up the rest of the starting offensive backfield. Gene Felker and Tilden Meyers, ends; Dave Suminski and Capt. Ken Huxhold, tackles, and Bob Kennedy, left guard, complete the starters in the line.

Cards Buy Eleven From Minor Leagues

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The St. Louis Cardinals Thursday night announced the purchase of 11 players from their minor league clubs, including four Columbus, Ohio, players.

Biggest plum in the contract buying is Thirdbaseman Don Richmond, Rochester, the 1950 International league batting king with a .337 average.

Two other Red Wing players will also report to the Cards for spring training — Outfielder Larry Ciaffone and right-handed Pitcher Eddie Yuhas. The Rochester trio helped spark the Wings to the International league pennant this season.

U-High, Mt. Vernon Meet Today in Battle Of Undefeated Teams

By JERRY COPELAND
Undefeated U-High and Mt. Vernon meet this afternoon in a game that Eastern Iowa Hawkeye conference observers believe will decide the conference title.

The game is called for 3 p.m. at the SUI varsity practice field.

Four Straight Wins

Mt. Vernon with four straight wins and the conference leadership are considered the favorites but U-High is accustomed to the underdog's role.

The Bluehawks, lightly regarded earlier in the season, have been underdogs in every game. But this is the game in which the victory bubble might break.

Coach Bob Weber of the Bluehawks said, "If we win this game, we'll consider it a successful season."

Weber's Bluehawks have been crippled by injuries during the past week. Halfback Bob Cantrell has a pulled leg muscle that has bothered him all season. Nick Johnson, 200 pound tackle, has a shoulder injury. Both are doubtful starters.

If Cantrell and Johnson don't start, Gardner Van Dyke and Ken Stock will get the nod. Van Dyke uncovered some clever passing and running in the Bluehawks' 41-0 win over West Branch.

Steady Line

The steady Bluehawk line is expected to be filled by Craig Perfit and Mel Ritterger at ends, Johnson or Stock and Dick Hradek at tackles, and Don Stover at center.

Tom Kent at quarterback, Cantrell or Van Dyke and Bob Ewalt at halfbacks, and Bill Dinsmore at fullback will start in the backfield.

HARSHA IN PACIFIC

Lt. Vince Harsha, former SUI junior varsity basketball coach, has been assigned as chief communicator of a destroyer squadron in the Pacific fleet. Harsha was graduated from SUI in 1948 with a degree in electrical engineering. He was recalled to active duty by the navy Sept. 29.

DiMag Uncertain About 1951 Plans

NEW YORK (AP) — The Daily Mirror said Thursday night that Joe DiMaggio, the $100,000 a year outfielder of the New York Yankees, is uncertain about his 1951 plans.

The Yankee Clipper, who expects to depart for his native San Francisco in a few days, wouldn't say yes or no but said a lot depended on how his knees behaved. DiMaggio said, "I can't be sure now about next year. I'd like to know how my health is going to be. I don't want to go through 1950 all over again."

Joe started off poorly this year and was rested for brief stretches throughout the race. However, down the stretch he looked like his old self.

Statue of Liberty To Be Dedicated

Dedication of the Statue of Liberty replica being erected on the Iowa City high school lawn will be at 3:30 p.m. Oct. 27, Atty. Dan C. Dutcher, statue committee chairman, announced.

All local school children will be dismissed from classes 15 minutes early Oct. 27, so they can attend the dedication of the statue. The action was authorized by the Iowa City school board Tuesday night.

The statue will be a symbol of the Boy Scouts' 40th anniversary campaign to "strengthen the arm of liberty." Local Boy Scouts are paying for the statue base. The statue itself was donated by an anonymous Iowa Citian.

Police Arrest Man On Bad Check Charge

Raymond Swanson, Keosauqua, was arrested by Iowa City police Wednesday morning on a false check charge as he left University hospitals.

Swanson entered the hospitals several days ago when he reported to police that he was suffering a recurrence of food poisoning. He was later found to be suffering from another illness, hospital authorities reported.

Police said Swanson was arrested on a warrant issued by Van Buren county authorities.

'Roaring 20's' Theme for SUI Homecoming Dance

The theme for this year's homecoming dance to be held on Oct. 21 will be "The Roaring 20's," Connie Jewett, A3, Des Moines, chairman of the dance committee, announced.

Dancing will be from 8 to 12 p.m. in the main lounge of the Iowa Union, to be decorated on a flapper theme.

At intermission, the Dolphin queen and attendants will be introduced and a ukulele sextet will provide entertainment adding to the "Roaring 20's" atmosphere.

Tickets for the dance, a climax to the homecoming weekend, will go on sale at the main desk of the Union next Monday for $3.60 a couple.

Film Uncommonly Good, Critic Says —

Task of Making Short Story Into Movie, Done Skillfully

By JACK LARSEN
Transforming a short story into full-length dramatic form involves difficulties other than those involved in a transformation from one medium to another.

"The Rocking Horse Winner" engenders interest because of its approach to this "problem," aside from that which it creates by being an uncommonly good movie.

The British drama, which begins a run today at the Capitol, is an adaptation — and a very faithful one — of a short story by D.H. Lawrence.

The most perilous course — to be content with expanding the original idea — is precisely that which has been adopted in the case of "The Rocking Horse Winner."

Generally such a procedure results in static entertainment, although skill and care in production can provide distinctive exceptions: Graham Greene fashioned one of his own short stories into last year's best picture, "The Fallen Idol."

In the case of "The Rocking Horse Winner," there is some of that same skill; the result is a film that is above most dramas to be seen so far in 1950. As actor John Mills' first venture as a producer, it is a worthy beginning.

That care has been exercised is evident in the casting alone. As the boy who rides his rocking horse to learn race-track winners, John Howard Davies displays unusual sensitivity. He seems too old to be riding a rocking horse (although here, as always, the movie is adhering to the original), but this does not prevent him from endowing the role with a maximum conviction.

Mills himself is quietly assured as the jockey-turned-handly man, and Ronald Squire gives an admirable performance as the boy's pragmatic uncle.

Valerie Hobson plays with understanding the mother whose love of money leaves little room for love of her children. She manages to make a contemptible woman an ultimately pathetic one.

There is a cohesion between direction and acting which is understandable, since Anthony Pelissier is responsible for both.

As the adapter, he has deftly established motivations and characterizations before proceeding to the bulk of Lawrence's story. His people are logically drawn and entirely credible. His approach is straightforward and devoid of trick devices.

As the director, he has minimized the gulf between belief and disbelief which is inevitable when a story closely intermingles fantasy with reality. He has suggested that the unhealthy force enabling the boy to pick winners is partly in the rocking horse itself; he has so centered a malignance on the toy that he conveys a warning of impending tragedy from the first time the boy "rides" it.

One charge which might be directed with validity against the production is not that it "inflates" a brief story — "fills in" would be a kinder, and much more accurate, word — but that its basic idea was too unsubstantial to bother with in the first place.

And since there is no perceptible symbolism to serve as an interpretive outlet to the plot, searchers after a "point" may be disappointed.

Because the motion picture remains so faithful to its source — even to direct use of dialogue — it retains this handicap.

For widest appreciation, it may therefore have to be likened to an abstract painting, to be taken on an impressionistic level solely for the effect it creates when being viewed.

On that level, "The Rocking Horse Winner" is, indeed, an example of artistry. It represents a commendable job of adaptation. One cannot but be impressed with its quality.

Young Democrats Help SUI Students Qualify for Voting

SUI Young Democrats began a canvass of married student housing Wednesday to assist students in obtaining absentee ballots and help them register if required in their home towns.

Volunteers from the club will ask the students if they are registered, what their political affiliations are, and whether they need absentee ballots or transportation to the polls on election day. James Kennedy, L2, Estherville, said "The Young Democrats have post cards they will send for the students to their county auditors requesting absentee ballots. The club also has post cards requesting registration application blanks. These are sent to the city clerks in the students' home towns."

Any married students living outside the organized student housing areas who want help in registering or obtaining absentee ballots may call the following:

Young Democrats: Mary McMahon, phone 3319; R. Bruce Hughes, phone, 80920; James Kennedy, phone 7445, or Johnson County Democratic Chairman Ed Lucas, phone 7771.

SUI Young Democrats will meet tonight in room 221A, Schaeffer hall at 7:30.
