Ray Says Institute Not Used to Further Political Interests

Prof. Robert F. Ray, SUI graduate and director of the SUI Institute of Public Affairs, denied Tuesday he has "used his office for furtherance of political interests," as charged by attorney Donald A. Wine.

Wine, Democratic candidate for state representative, made charge in a Davenport speech Thursday before the Scott county Republican Committee.

Ray used his office "for partisan politics," Wine said. The work of the Institute of Public Affairs of SUI has been "absolutely political and non-partisan," Ray said in a statement Tuesday.

The charge was made in a letter to the state board of education, copies of which were sent to Wine to the Daily Iowan and other Iowa newspapers.

Impartial Manner Ray replied to Wine's suggestion that the board investigate, Ray said. "Any official investigation suggested by Mr. Wine would be in the impartial manner in which the institute conducts its activities," Ray said.

Des Moines, David Dancer, secretary of the board, said Tuesday evening he had received the letter, but wanted "to study it" before talking with the people down at the university before making any reply.

Wine said "by the people at the university" he meant President Virgil M. Hancher and the faculty.

Ray graduated from SUI in 1947 with a Ph.D. in speech. His thesis topic, a study of presidential campaigns, led to his position with the Dewey organization.

Part-Time Residents' Out-of-State Autos Need Registration

Out-of-state cars must either be registered in Iowa or have a permit from the county treasurer's office, law officials warned Tuesday.

This will affect those SUI students and faculty members who have established Iowa residence by registering to vote in Iowa City.

The Iowa law states that cars of persons now living in Iowa, or who have a partial residence in the state, must be registered with Iowa license plates.

Beginning 4 a.m. Tuesday, highway patrolmen and city police started tagging out-of-state autos with the warning.

Highway patrolmen said if tags are ignored, a court summons will follow. Owners of out-of-state cars missed Tuesday were cautioned also to comply with the Iowa regulations.

Laughton Receives Three Curtain Calls In Appearance Here

By WAYNE DANIELSON

About 1,800 people at the Iowa Union Tuesday night heard Charles Laughton "read" selections ranging from Red Riding Hood to the Gettysburg Address. Shakespeare, Thurber, Thomas Wolfe - all received the Laughton treatment - to the delight of the audience which called Laughton back for three curtain calls.

His readings from the classics have drawn record audiences all during his tour and he has even had to speak in gymnasiums and fieldhouses to accommodate the crowds, he said.

"It is a funny thing, being packed into a place like that," Laughton said, "but it is very flattering at the same time - so you don't mind it so much."

Laughton was interviewed in an Iowa City hotel where he was trying to "catch a nap" before his reading program.

"Of course what I do on the show isn't really reading - it's acting," Laughton confided. "I just hold the book for atmosphere."

The heavy, gray-haired actor said his trip was tiring, but stimulating. He mentioned his wife's comment upon his return from his tour last year:

"You look absolutely drug out - but 15 years younger!"

During the interview, Laughton seemed tired and hot. His blue shirt was unbuttoned at the top and he had his shoes off.

Laughton said that during the war he started reading Shakespeare to soldiers in army hospitals.

"I told Elsa (Elsa Lancheater, his wife) that all the American people wanted this sort of thing. She didn't believe me at first, but I showed her," he said.

Laughton admits he's still puzzled by the way young people turn out for his lectures. But he thinks it is a good sign.

"After all," he concluded, "you must develop an appetite for the great books while you are young - just as you do for anything else."

Iowan Reported Killed in Action

WASHINGTON (AP) - The defense department announced Tuesday night that Army Pfc. Francis I. Clapper, son of Mrs. Elizabeth Clapper of Thurman, Iowa, has been killed in action in Korea.

The department also announced names of three Iowa soldiers wounded in action. The wounded include Sgt. Duane J. Derrig of Fort Dodge (next of kin listed), Pfc. David Gott, son of Mrs. Genevieve G. Gott, Centerville, and Pfc. William L. Shy, son of William Earl Shy, Ollie.

Summer Weather Continues, City Has State High

Iowa City reported the state's highest temperature Tuesday as the mercury rose to an unseasonable high of 89 degrees between 3 and 3:15 p.m.

More shirt-sleeve weather was in sight for today as the weatherman predicted highs of 90 throughout most of the state.

Here, coeds switched from woolens to cottons, men appeared in T-shirts, and convertible tops were down as SUI students tried to beat the heat in one of the hottest spells in Iowa's October history.

Iowa City reported the hottest temperature in the nation Tuesday, with the exception of Phoenix, Ariz., which continued its all-summer heat wave steaming in at 98. Closest rivals were Kansas City and Fort Worth, both of which reported 88.

Next highest Iowa temperatures reported were Burlington at 87 and Des Moines, Davenport, and Dubuque at 86.

Education Board To Hear Results Of Recent Survey

Results of a survey of higher education in Iowa will be presented to the state board of education at a meeting here Thursday.

The board is scheduled to meet in the senate chamber of Old Capitol at 1:30 p.m. It also is scheduled to meet Friday.

The survey was prepared by Prof. Emeritus George D. Strayer, Teachers College, Columbia University, and his staff.

David A. Dancer, secretary of the board, said the last survey of the state's higher educational institutions was made to the board in 1939. Since then many changes and new problems have arisen in the field, he said.

Strayer will be assisted by Arthur J. Klein, dean emeritus of the college of education at Ohio University, who assisted with the survey.

Others who worked on the survey were M. M. Chambers, research specialist for the American Council on Education; William P. McClure, associate professor of education at the University of Illinois; and R. W. Kettler, comptroller for Purdue University.

See No Atomic Power Soon for Commerce

CHICAGO (AP) - A power industry spokesman said Tuesday that even if all obstacles are solved, the widespread commercial use of atomic power is at least 15 to 25 years away.

Writing in the bulletin of the atomic scientists, Philip Sporn, president of the American Gas and Electric Co. and chairman of an Atomic Energy Commission advisory committee made these other forecasts:

The experimental phase of atomic power will require another three to five years.

An atomic reactor may produce some power in six to 10 years.

In 10 to 15 years there may be highly limited commercial generation of nuclear power.

... They Say in Russia

MOSCOW (AP) - Soviet scientists have found a way to convert atomic energy directly into heat or electricity, Prof. V. Golubstov wrote in the Literary Gazette Tuesday.

Golubstov, an atomic specialist declared the Russians are far ahead of Americans in the development of peaceful uses for atomic energy.

The Russians were described as pacemakers also in the application of hydro-electric energy and in the development of gas turbines which will work on hard fuels.

If Soviet atomic science has advanced to such a degree that atomic energy can be transformed directly and practically into electricity there would seem to be less need for the great power dams which Russia disclosed recently are planned on the Volga river. The dams are a five-year project.

Student tickets are still available for tonight's performance of "Green Grow the Lilacs," Prof. Gregory Foley, business manager of the University theater, announced Tuesday.

Truman Asks 'Peace Partnership' For Asia, U.S., Warns Russia

Allied Forces Within 8 Miles Of Red Capital

TOKYO (WEDNESDAY) (AP) - Tank-led UN columns rolled virtually unopposed to within eight miles of the Communist capital of Pyongyang today. There were reports that Communist government leaders already were fleeing the city for the safety of Manchuria.

The final assault upon Pyongyang - greatest prize of the Korean war and communism's last major citadel in North Korea - was but a matter of hours.

Allied columns raced upon the city from both south and east. First Division Nearest Nearest was the South Korean First division pushing west along mountainous secondary roads and at last reports (5:30 p.m., Tuesday, Iowa time) only eight miles from the city.

War at a Glance

Tokyo - Drive on Pyongyang becomes headlong dash with South Korean First division within eight miles of city in race with U.S. First Cavalry for honor of being first to enter Communist capital.

Seoul - South Korean President defies United Nations and sends civil administrators north of 38th parallel.

Tokyo - Reliable sources say President Truman and MacArthur decided to keep strong force in Japan to be prepared for any trouble in orient.

San Francisco - President Truman says in speech Russia can prove peaceful intentions by lifting iron curtain and banning atom bomb.

from the city proper and only four miles from its east airport.

First Cavalry Advances Raging the South Koreans for the honor of being first to enter Pyongyang was the U.S. First Cavalry division. The First jumped off from Hwangju, 21 miles south of the city, at dawn and almost immediately outran its communications.

American officers believed neither division might be heard from again until they had entered the city.

The South Korean capitol division, advancing up the Korean east coast toward the Manchurian and Russian borders, walked unopposed into the industrial city of Hamhung, and proceeded immediately into the sister city and port of Hungnam.

France to Get U.S. Arms Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) - The United States promised France Tuesday it will provide from $1.8-billion to $2.4-billion in American arms and money to French forces in Europe and Indo-China by the end of 1951.

An informed government official said this arrangement was worked out during conferences with the French defense minister and finance minister which ended Tuesday.

The money would come from the total of approximately $6.6-billion, which congress already has appropriated to rearm nearly 30 friendly countries against the threat of Communist aggression.

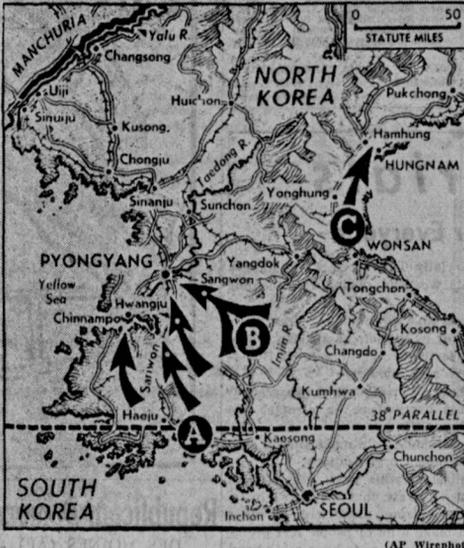

Chest Total Still Rising

The Iowa City Community Chest Tuesday was within $8,056.88 of its 1951 goal of $28,468.24. By noon Tuesday contributions totaled $20,411.36, General Chairman Elbert E. Beaver announced.

Nearly Half of GOP State Leaders Back Ike

NEW YORK (AP) - Nearly half of the Republican state chairmen across the nation would like to see Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower run for president in 1952, a survey showed Tuesday.

The state chairmen made it clear that they "like Ike" even though many think it's still too early to be worrying about 1952. None came out against Eisenhower, but many refused comment.

Troops Offered To Any Nation Beset by Reds

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) - President Truman invited all Asia Tuesday night to join the United States in a "partnership of peace" in a speech bluntly warning Soviet Russia this country will tolerate no further aggression.

Speaking before a cheering crowd in the War Memorial auditorium where the United Nations charter was born, the President declared the free nations of the world "must oppose strength with strength" at a time when vast Communist armies in Europe and Asia pose a constant threat to world peace.

Every effort was made by Mr. Truman's staff to preserve a "non-political atmosphere for the occasion."

Truman Confers The President had just returned from a conference with General MacArthur on Wake Island on Asiatic affairs.

Departing from his text, the President said he wanted to make it "perfectly clear to the whole world" that the United States has no aggressive designs "in Korea or anywhere else" in the world.

U.S. Troops Offered In an address broad enough to cover an offer of troops to India, Nationalist China, Indo-China or any other country under danger of Communist attack, Mr. Truman bluntly warned Russia:

"We want peace. But it must be a peace founded on justice." He made it clear, however, that the United States will not hesitate to go to war at any point in the Far East or elsewhere over the globe if this step is necessary to preserve the independence of free nations.

The President scornfully contrasted this country's offer to the Far East of a "partnership of peace" with Russia's desire to turn Asiatic peoples into "slaves of a new imperialism."

Grocery Workers Hear Union's View Of Employers' Plan

The uniform personnel plan presented to striking Iowa City grocery store employees by their employers Oct. 11 was discussed by twenty workers at a meeting in city hall Tuesday evening.

Union and non-union employees heard Paul Mairet, an official of the Amalgamated Meatcutters and Butcher Workers local union, debate against certain proposals on wages, hours, vacation pay, holiday pay, dismissals and seniority in the employers' new personnel plan.

Mairet compared the employers' plan with the union contract he had presented to the store owners shortly before the 35-day-old strike began.

There was no guarantee, he said, that the employer would not revoke the new plan after the six-month trial period of the agreement had lapsed.

Mairet asserted advantages of the union contract over the personnel plan, such as protection of an employee from abuse in a "dismissal for just cause" section such as appears in the store owners' agreement.

W. J. Pattie of Minneapolis, Minn., an international representative of the union, thanked the employees attending the meeting for their cooperation in the strike.

The strike, he said, would continue in Iowa City.

Miller to Head Judges Of Homecoming Parade

Harlan Miller, Des Moines Register columnist, will act as chairman of the judges for the second annual Homecoming parade Friday, it was announced Tuesday.

William D. Coder, parade committee chairman, who made the announcement, added that other judges will be Tait Cummings, sports director of WMT, Cedar Rapids; W. T. Hageboeck, publisher of the Iowa City Press Citizen; George Horner, SUI architect; and Bill McBride, editor of the SUI employe magazine, "Staff."

Trophies will be awarded floats receiving the most points from judges on the basis of beauty, originality, ingenuity, humor and relation to the theme, "Hawkeye Highlights."

Homecoming festivities will begin Friday at 7 p.m. with the parade.

The parade, featuring 52 units, will pass through Iowa City streets with 35 float entries competing for trophies being awarded by the Homecoming committee.

Three trophies will be awarded in both the subsidized and non-subsidized classes. In addition to these awards, the Lions, Elks and Kiwanis (Iowa City service clubs), are awarding traveling trophies for the best fraternity, sorority and dormitory floats.

A pep rally in front of Old Capitol will follow the parade, after which the homecomers will move to the Union for an open house program, or to the field-house swimming pool for the annual Dolphin show.

The open house will be informal, offering students and alumni a chance to get together. Exhibits of three university departments and movies of the Iowa-USC and Iowa-Indiana football games will be shown.

In addition to the open house, a street dance, sponsored by the Union board, will be held on Madison street in front of the Union.

Ray Memler's cowboy band will provide the music for the dance and members of Hick Hawks, SUI square dancing club, will give a square dancing exhibition at intermission.

Saturday's festivities will begin at the Union with the Omicron Delta Kappa honor society break-

Polio Cases Reach Low Point Here

Ative polio cases dropped to 19 at University hospitals Tuesday, the lowest number reported since the summer peak months.

Two new cases were admitted in "fair" condition. They were Samuel Rogula, 6, West Branch, and Ellen Dawley, 27, Decorah.

Deborah Walter, 1, Luana, was discharged. Carolyn Seydel, 6, Iowa City, was transferred along with four others from the active to the inactive ward. With her were Terry Lewis, 17 months, Beacon; Don Johnston, 21, Muscatine; Randall Strassburg, 5, Parkersburg, and James Diesburg, 12, Dyersville.

Ticket sales for the Homecoming dance Friday from 8 to 12 p.m. reached the 500 mark Tuesday, Connie Jewett, A3, Des Moines, dance committee chairman, reported.

Seven hundred tickets for the dance went on sale Monday for $3.60 apiece at the main desk of the Iowa Union.

editorials Hospitality—A Job for Everyone—

The Daily Iowan suggested editorially Tuesday that we stage a hospitality campaign on campus this weekend during Homecoming celebrations.

The idea behind the suggestion was that we should send our visitors home with a real spot of warmth for us in their hearts. We should make their visits so pleasant that once they come here for a Homecoming weekend, they'll never want to miss another.

We believe their visits will be that pleasant if they are greeted with friendly "hello's" from students everywhere on campus. We might even call it "Hello Weekend" at SUI.

There are certain persons here who could help make such a plan succeed. They are the officers of all student organizations.

During meetings of these organizations this week, the officers could lay the plan before the members and ask that they participate.

If every fraternity and sorority on campus, along with all other groups, got behind the idea, we could make a lot of people feel pretty good. It's an excellent opportunity for those groups to have a big hand in making our weekend a happy one.

The smile of a coed, backed up by a pleasant "hello," can make the visitors really feel they are at a HOMEcoming.

Greetings from friendly young college men to the visitors who might not know more than a handful of people here now can make those visitors glad they came.

How about it, fraternities and sororities? How about it, all you other organizations?

Are you interested in helping to make Homecoming weekend at SUI also a "Hello Weekend"?

First Advance Since Wednesday on Market

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market advanced Tuesday for the first time since last Wednesday. The rise was the steepest in two weeks.

Gains were widely distributed although there was considerable favoritism shown for a hand-picked group of shares. Key issues moved up a few cents to more than $1 a share and nearly 100 stocks sold at their peak prices for 1950 or longer at one time during the day. Only two touched bottom for the year.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced .7 of one point to 84.2. The industrial section did best, with rails a close second. Utilities took third place with a relatively small overall gain.

Boosted in the curb were Louisiana Land, Arkansas Natural Gas "A," Atlas Plywood, Cities Service, Clinchfield Coal, and Electric Bond & Share. Lower were Waltham Watch, Brazilian Tracton, Cosden Petroleum and Diamond Laboratories "A." Sales of 400,000 shares compared with 350,000 Monday.

Livestock Up

CHICAGO (AP) — Most livestock offerings held steady or brought higher prices Tuesday. Some hogs were as much as 75 cents up, wooled lambs fetched the best most cattle were fully steady, and price since July.

Shippers took 2,000 of the 8,000 hogs on sale. The market was generally 25 to 50 cents higher, except where hard to find and commodities. A top of $20.50 was paid manded 50 to 75-cent higher

Credit Curbs Blow To Housing Industry

NEW YORK (AP) — The government tried to curb the housing boom this week and professional builders quickly cried that its action knocks out a main prop of the nation's prosperity.

New federal credit regulations boost the amount you must pay down to buy a new house and lower the number of years allowed you to pay off the mortgage.

Their aim: "To help reduce the currently high inflationary pressures" and "to assure that materials and labor required for the

Republican, Democrat Agree on Total Vote

DES MOINES (AP) — The Republican and Democratic state chairmen came close to agreeing on one thing concerning the Nov. 7 general election. That's on the total vote.

Robert K. Goodwin, GOP state chairman, said Monday about 750,000 persons will make their choices for U. S. senator, governor, congress, and a full slate of other statehouse and county offices.

Jake More, the Democratic chairman, estimated the total vote at 800,000, but said it might be somewhat lower than that.

Without knowing the estimates of the party leaders, Secretary of State Melvin D. Synhorst guessed the total at 825,000. He said he believed Iowa is getting back to about what would be normal for a non-presidential election year.

Smaller Vote
Two years ago, when President Truman took Iowa away from New York Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, the total vote was 1,038,264. The number of persons who go to the polls in a presidential year always is greater than the total for an off year.

The 1946 total, in an off year which did not include a senatorial contest, was 628,782. The 1944 presidential-year turnout was 1,052,599. In 1942, an off year but a senatorial year, the total was 733,750. To complete the last decade, the presidential year vote in 1940 was 1,215,430.

1.5-Million Eligible
Best guess by independent sources is that there now are approximately 1.5-million eligible voters in Iowa. The Iowa farm bureau federation, which has conducted pre-primary election "get-out-the-vote" campaigns, said only 22.6 percent of the voters cast ballots in this year's primary. The total was 355,888. Primary command fewer votes than general elections.

Iowa has one of its longer ballots this year, but not the longest. There will be five parties listed. Besides Republican and Democrat, they include "State Right Democrat," Prohibition, and Socialist Labor. In 1948 there were seven parties on the ballot.

Goodwin, in making his estimate, commented: "The campaign of the 1950 election is heading into the home stretch. It is gathering steam in every section of Iowa."

Connecticut Stages All-Out Fight For Governor, Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Old P.T. Barnum would have loved this year's political campaign in Connecticut.

Radio, television, airplanes and music are being used to lure the voters in the best showmanship tradition of the late great showman who once made Bridgeport his home.

With the governorship and two seats in the United States senate at stake, it is the most important political campaign in the state's recent history. The gubernatorial race offers a test between Democratic fair dealism and more conservative Republicanism. The two senate seats figure prominently in the GOP drive to recapture control of congress.

Democrats now hold all three jobs and are candidates for reelection. But tradition says they will have an uphill battle, even though they have the endorsement of organized labor. The Democratic party hasn't won an off-year election in Connecticut since 1934.

The race is among these men: Governor — Democrat Chester Bowles, a red-hot fair dealer and onetime OPA chief, opposed by Republican John Davis Lodge, handsome and polished former actor who is serving his second term in the house of representatives.

Senator — (Six year term) — Democrat Brien McMahon, administration supporter and chairman of the joint congressional committee on atomic energy, opposed by Republican Joseph Talbot, a former congressman.

Senator — (Two year term) — Democrat William Benton, former advertising partner of Bowles who was appointed to the senate by the governor in December, 1949, opposed by Republican Prescott Bush, a partner in a New York banking firm.

Women Indifferent Toward Accidents Safety Head Says

CHICAGO (AP) — Women are the "weak spot" in efforts to reduce accident tolls, the 1950 National Safety congress was told Monday.

Paul Jones, director of public information of the National Safety council, said that one of the biggest obstacles in the path of safety programs is the "amazing apathy" of women toward accident problems.

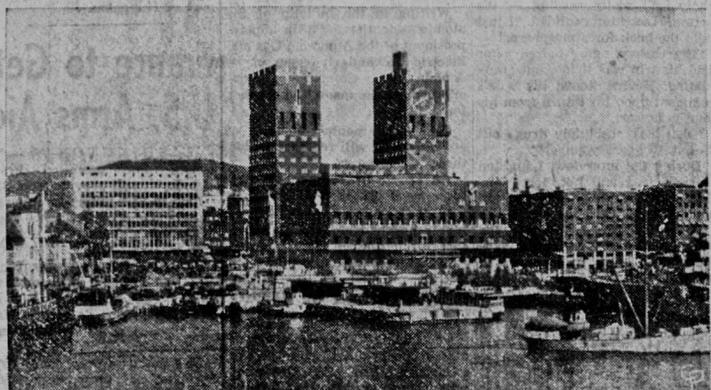

"Safety has received only token support from the very people who have the most at stake — the mothers of children and the wives of breadwinners," Jones said.

"It is sad but true that the so-called weaker sex is the weak spot in safety," he said. "The irony of it is that, as any man knows, it is not the weaker sex at all, but the greatest potential force safety could have."

"We have failed utterly to arouse in women the crusading spirit that sends them into other worthy causes with a zeal that makes victory undeniable," Jones said.

Jones said the "strange reluctance" of women to participate in safety programs was the more surprising because the "maternal instinct is supposed to be a protective urge."

Oslo, Norway Celebrates 900th Birthday

OSLO'S NEW CITY HALL, seen from the harbor, was dedicated by King Haakon VII last May 14 to officially open the birthday festivities. Since then Norwegians have been flocking to their capital city to take part in the celebrating.

By SANFORD MARKEY
Central Press Correspondent

A summer-long birthday party reaches cake-cutting time as Oslo, Norway, marks its 900th anniversary in a climactic October celebration.

Birthday festivities opened officially last May 14, when Norway's King Haakon VII dedicated Oslo's new City Hall, the ultra-modern Radhus. Since then Norwegians have been flocking into their capital city to participate in ceremonies and celebrations.

Now the summer-long revelries are closing in October, designated as "Homecoming month," with a special welcome mat being extended to Norwegians who have taken up residence in foreign lands.

Returning Norwegians will find Oslo bustling with color, displays and exhibits. Many of them will tell of Oslo's history; of its growth from a Stone Age hamlet through the creation of a trading center, ordered by King Harald in the Eleventh Century, that now measures 176 square miles of territory and holds 427,000 persons.

Oslo is a clean and orderly city. Its war-time damage has been repaired and the citizens done much to restore streets and buildings neglected during the war and the immediate post-war years. The local custom of growing flowers in baskets set halfway up the city lamp posts provides extra color and gaiety.

Color, too, is in the decorations honoring the city's 900th anniversary. On many street corners tall, slender poles have been erected and they've been painted white, streaked or spotted in black and yellow, blue and red, or all four colors. Then, too, there's the work of one imaginative painter who colored sections of a main road, leading into Oslo, sky blue, with large red polka dots.

Even the children have caught the spirit of color. They're wearing clothes of the brightest reds, and blues for the occasion.

Tito Restricts Hierarchy in Yugoslavia

By J.M. ROBERTS JR.
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Well, I'll be a son of a gun!
Can it be that the dictatorship of the proletariat doesn't work? That it takes more people than just the Communist hierarchy to make a country go?

For the first time in the history of any Communist country, the hierarchy in Yugoslavia is climbing down off its high horse. From now on it will eat no better, get no more vacations at public expense in publicly maintained rest camps, than the rest of the people.

Marshal Tito's new decrees have teeth, too. Members of the plush minority face fines and prison if they disobey.

Special Rations
People who do the heaviest work — mine, forest and railway workers — now set the pace in eating privileges. Special shops which have supplied special rations for party members are abolished.

Special holiday houses, rest homes and villas for the over-wrought party workers are abolished. Officeholders are barred, for the time being at least, from expensive refurbishment of their offices.

He doesn't get free gasoline anymore, either, going back on rations just like anyone else, although his office may buy some extra for strictly necessary purposes.

It's all because of a drought emergency, of course. The important thing is whether discontented non-Communist housewives, farmers and the like will make any moves to see that the normal Communist system doesn't return when the emergency is over.

Money Needed
The suggestion also is made by Tito's government that it may release Catholic Archbishop Stepanic, imprisoned after the war on charges that he collaborated with the Nazis, while Tito was still an enthusiastic supporter of Moscow's anti-church campaign. It was intimated some time ago that this step, coupled with other relaxations of restrictions on religion, might be one price Tito would have to pay for American aid in his emergency. He badly needs American money to tide him over.

In one more case Tito has gone against the precedents of Stalin who let the Ukrainians die by the thousands years ago without relaxing by an iota the Communist demands of their larders.

Munitions Scandal
CAIRO, EGYPT (AP) — Party leaders opposing the government made public Tuesday an unprecedented statement they have addressed to King Farouk, hinting at a munitions scandal among his palace intimates and warning of possible revolt in Egypt.

In the document, which Farouk may see upon his return from a two-month vacation in Europe, the opposition leaders charged the governing Wafdist party with misrule and said the nation "may be in the most critical stage in modern history."

The notice was signed by Glen Chinander, district two union director, but did not specify the union's demands.

Iowa Citian Married to SUI Graduate

Mr. and Mrs. Carlyle Parsons

Joan Frohwein, A4, Iowa City, and Carlyle Hartman Parsons, SUI graduate, Spirit Lake, were married here at 2:30 p.m. Sunday in the Congregational church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Frohwein, 421 Melrose avenue. She is a member of Pi Beta Phi, social sorority. Parsons is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Parsons, Spirit Lake. He is now associated with the Frohwein Supply company.

The Rev. John G. Craig officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attended by Doris Nunn, A4, Iowa City, as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Marian O'Connor, A4, Iowa City; Melanie Snider, A4, Iowa City, and Mrs. William Falk, Iowa City.

Mary and Marcia Tuttle, Spencer, were flower girls.

Jack Webb, Atlantic, served as best man. Ushers were Dick Sheldy, A3, Carl E. Parsons Jr., Rodney Parsons, all of Spirit Lake; George Frohwein Jr., Iowa City, and Le Roy Wolter, Spencer.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents.

After a short wedding trip, the couple will live at 421 1-2 Melrose avenue.

It takes very little to make a party for the pre-school crowd. Use labor-savers like gay plastic place mats or paper table clothes. Plastic dishes or paper plates will eliminate worry over breakage.

Colorful plastic straws make milk shakes taste even better. And seasonal stickers on paper napkins can complete the party equipment.

For a new taste treat, try banana frosting. Cream 1-4 cup butter or margarine. Add 4 cups sifted confectioners' sugar alternately with 1-2 cup mashed ripe banana. Add 2 drops red coloring and 1-2 teaspoon lemon and beat until smooth.

Paris fall coats feature the new straight silhouette. Shoulders are raglan, rounded epaulet or shirred. Collars are "stand-up" for warmth or a "pennant" one-pointed type draped in scarf effect.

Bacon is good teamed with creamed noodles topped with cheese and a green salad or cole slaw. Dessert might be baked apples stuffed with dried fruit and nuts.

28 Persons Die In Plane Crash Near London

LONDON (AP) — Twenty-eight persons, including two Americans, were killed Tuesday when a crippled British airliner, lost in heavy clouds, crashed in a suburban back garden and burned just after it took off for Scotland. The sole survivor of the 29 aboard, a crew member, was burned seriously.

The Americans were identified as Lt. Thomas Carr and his wife. Lt. and Mrs. Carr were going to visit friends in Scotland. Their home town was listed as Chicago.

The plane was a DC-3 twin-engine British European Airways liner. It took off from Northolt airport at 8:30 a.m. (CST) for Renfrew airport, Glasgow, with 24 passengers including a child and a crew of five. Fifteen minutes later its pilot radioed: "One engine failed. Returning Northolt."

All planes were warned away from the field and ground crews prepared for a crash landing. Flares were lighted in the gathering dusk. Once the plane's remaining motor was heard above the heavy 600-foot cloud ceiling, then came word that it had crashed in a garden 10 miles away in the Highwood Hill section of suburban North London.

The plane hit a tree and one of its wings was torn off. It smashed through a brick wall into the garden of a home and burned. Fire engines sprayed the flaming wreckage with foam and kept the flames from spreading.

Pharmacy, Heart Groups Hit Disease With Information

The Iowa Heart association will join its educational forces with the American Pharmaceutical association in observance of National Pharmacy week, Oct. 29 through Nov. 4. Dr. W. B. Bean, president of the Heart association and department head of internal medicine at SUI, announced Tuesday.

The 1950 Pharmacy week is aimed at "arming the public with facts about diseases of the heart and circulation in the belief that knowledge is a powerful weapon in preserving good health," Bean said.

He added that the pharmacist is in a "strategic position for bringing to average citizens basic facts about heart disease, for assisting in case-finding, and for referring these cases to physicians for prompt medical care."

Pharmacists in this area will feature special window displays calling attention to the fact that cardiovascular (heart) diseases are the nation's leading cause of death.

They also will distribute copies about heart disease, prepared by taining questions and answers of a "Heart Quiz" leaflet, containing the American Heart association and affiliates.

Four Iowa Citizens To Attend Meeting Of Municipal Group

Four Iowa City officials, including Mayor Preston Koser, will attend a convention sponsored by the League of Iowa Municipalities at the Hotel Fort Des Moines in the capital city today and Thursday.

Proposals of the municipal statute study committee will be presented at the morning session today by State Senator John R. Hattery of Nevada, chairman of the committee.

The committee was created by the fifty-third general assembly to make a study of the laws relating to the construction and financing of public improvements within municipalities, and other laws relating to the conduct of the business of the municipalities.

In addition to Mayor Koser the following Iowa City officials plan to attend the convention: Frank Fryauf Jr., alderman-at-large; Charles T. Smith, third ward alderman; and William H. Bartley, city solicitor.

The Iowa Citizens plan to attend a meeting of officials of cities of the first class in an afternoon session today. (Cities of the first class are those with a population of 15,000 or more).

Well Behaved Weather 'Ideal' For Drying Corn

DES MOINES (AP) — The weekly weather and crop bulletin said Tuesday most Iowa farmers are taking advantage of good drying weather to get the corn crop in the "best possible" condition before cribbing.

Last week's weather was described as "almost ideal" for corn drying. However, a few fields in southern Iowa were being opened up preparatory to mechanical picking.

The soybean harvest was reported about 90 per cent complete in southeastern Iowa by the end of last week, 15 per cent complete in the northwest and north central sections and about half complete elsewhere.

Medical Test Requests Due by October 23rd

The deadline for filing applications for the medical college admission test is Oct. 23. Robert Ebel, head of SUI examinations service, said all applications must reach the Educational Testing service in Princeton, N. J., by then or the student will be unable to take the test.

Students planning to enter medical school in Sept., 1951, are required to take the test. Many applicants took the test in May, 1950, and need not repeat it. Ten dollars for fee payment must accompany each application.

DROWN WHILE FISHING BRAINERD, MINN.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Comstock, about 50, Omaha, drowned while fishing Tuesday when their boat overturned during an attempt to land a fish that broke a line and pole. Mrs. J. H. Michel had caught the fish. Also in the boat was John R. Comstock, brother of the victims. Both are from Omaha.

'Lilacs' Performers Haggle in Smoke-House

(Daily Iowan Photo)

HAGGLING OVER THE PEDDLER'S WARES in a dress rehearsal of "Green Grow the Lilacs" were the cowboy, "Curly" (John Kuehl, A3, Davenport), and the farmer, "Jeeter" (Warren T. Thompson, A4, Ansonia, Conn.). In the middle, trying to make the sale was "Peddler" (Anthony Supino, A1, Union City, N.J.). The play opens tonight at University theater for a ten-day run. The smoke-house in which the men were standing has a cloth front painted to look like solid boards. When the lights are turned on inside the shack — the "wall" becomes transparent. Prof. A. S. Gillette of the dramatic art department designed the settings for the play.

Iowa Not 'Power Short': Utilities Executives

There is plenty of power for the farms, homes and factories of the state, a panel of Iowa Electric Utilities presidents said at their annual management conference in Des Moines Monday.

H.E. Gilbert, Coralville, and Warren Conrad, 923 Seventh avenue, engineers for the local gas and electric company, were among the 350 executive and administrative employees who attended the meeting.

Reports from Washington that Iowa is a "power short state" were branded as public power propaganda by the panel. Representatives from each of the 12 companies operating in Iowa reported on the load and capacity figures for their companies.

The reports said by the end of the year Iowa companies will have a generating capacity of 1,031,000 kilowatts. Their estimate of the maximum requirement for the year is 780,000 kilowatts.

This would show a surplus of 251,000 kilowatts, or 32.3 percent. Iowa City's surplus capacity is more than 30 percent, according to R.H. Lind, local manager of the Iowa-Illinois Gas and Electric company.

In addition to the present surplus of more than a quarter million kilowatts in generating facilities, the Iowa companies reported a new generating capacity of 164,000 kilowatts on order, to be installed during the next three years.

Morton Downey Married Tuesday

HOT SPRINGS, VA. (AP) — In a short and simple ceremony that took most of the entertainment world by surprise, Morton Downey was married Tuesday for a second time.

The bride was the former Peggy Boyce Hohenlohe, a granddaughter of William Boyce Thompson, mining financier, described as being in her "late 20's." The Irish tenor of screen, radio and television is 49.

It was also the second marriage for Mrs. Downey. She is the mother of two children by her former husband, Alexander Hohenlohe.

Downey who was divorced from actress Barbara Bennett in 1941 is the father of five children. The couple was married at the home of friends in this southern resort within several hours after obtaining a marriage license Tuesday morning. They met some time ago through mutual acquaintances.

Senate Committee Delves Horse Race Information Network

CHICAGO (AP) — The senate crime committee Tuesday set out to delve into the nationwide horse race information network — and learned that the records of one of the outfits had vanished.

The renewed inquiry here also brought out that: Mystery men dropped thick sheafs of cash on the desk of a Chicago lawyer so he could settle income tax claims against two imprisoned leaders of the Capone syndicate.

Paul "The Waiter" Ricca, a syndicate chief, came into the same attorney's office several times a month to record receipt of sums that ranged from $2,500 to $20,000.

There is a friendly connection between syndicate bosses in Chicago and gambling operators in Kansas City.

The session was closed. Chairman Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.), however, gave out a summary of testimony at a news conference. Kefauver told reporters the committee will dig "very thorough ly" into the race news hookup "and all of its ramifications." He added:

"It is the most important part of our general inquiry because it is the national link in gambling."

ROY ANDERSON comes for James Weis released because of insufficient evidence against him.

The same year, 1905, William Jones was charged with second degree murder in connection with the same crime, convicted and sentenced to 25 years in prison. He was paroled May 25, 1917.

Johnson County's next murder trial came the following year when Ed Mack was accused of the razor-slitting of Mamie Dixon on Aug. 18, 1906. Mack was sentenced to nine years at Anamosa and paroled Oct. 7, 1908.

Elmer Pratt was found not guilty by a Johnson county jury Oct. 11, 1907, in the death of William Connell. Connell was found shot to death May 24 of that same year.

Guy Baker was paroled from Fort Madison on April 12, 1918, after being found guilty on a second-degree murder charge in connection with the death of Oliver P. Drucker, June 13, 1910.

On Dec. 12, 1912, Frank Alberhasky was found shot to death in a pasture just north of Iowa City. Earnest A. Reasland was accused in the shooting, but on March 8, 1913, he was found not guilty by the Johnson county jury.

Ten years later, on June 3, 1923, Robert Leeper was found guilty of first-degree murder in the death of Roy Wertz on Dec. 27, 1922, and sentenced to life imprisonment at Fort Madison.

Robert Hawkins joined Leeper at Fort Madison three years later when he was found guilty in the May 2, 1926, murder of L. W. Blair.

The following year Joseph Kinney, Francis J. Donahue and John Guffey were found not guilty by a jury at the Johnson County courthouse in the death of Milo Slezak on Nov. 19, 1927.

Tom Sevton was sentenced to life imprisonment at Fort Madison in connection with the fatal shooting of Paul Baines on Oct. 3, 1930.

In 1931 Iowa City was the scene of two more murder trials.

Edward Alberhasky was sentenced to 25 years at Fort Madison for the second degree murder of Carver Hayes on Feb. 18, and James Campbell was convicted on a second-degree murder charge in connection with the death of Annel Gross on June 18.

Campbell was paroled from the prison in June, 1936. Alberhasky was released the following year, Nov. 18, 1937.

Louis Clay is now serving a 30 year sentence at Fort Madison for the Dec. 24, 1933, murder of George J. Folsom.

SUI Med. Technologist To Report at Convention

Mary Tremaine, senior serologist in the SUI college of medicine's state hygienic laboratory, will make a report at the semi-annual convention of the Iowa Society of Medical Technologists Oct. 27 and 28 in Sioux City.

She will report on the convention of the American Society of Medical Technologists held last June in Texas.

FIRE DRILLS "GOOD"

Iowa City firemen checked 10 city schools last week for time and efficiency in fire drills as part of the regular fire prevention week program, and called results "good." Lectures were given at each of the schools by firemen, as part of the program to prevent fire.

Apartment Owner Complains Chimes Keep Him Awake

CHICAGO (U)—The chimes that have pealed 12 hours a day for 40 years in suburban Ravenswood hit their first sour note Tuesday.

Abraham Niessen, owner of an apartment building, complained to police the chimes were a nuisance and kept him awake.

Officers dutifully went around to J. C. Deagen, Inc., which bills itself as the "world's largest manufacturers of electronic chimes."

From the 10-story bell tower of the company the chimes peal the quarter hour from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. and even throw in a little music on the side.

Jack C. Deagen, vice-president of the company, could hardly believe that a complaint had been filed.

"Why," he said, "our neighbors get up, eat, go to work and go to bed by those chimes. They even cook by them."

Deagen said the only other complaint he could recall in 40 years was from a woman who said her roast burned because the chimes failed to sound on schedule.

different. "A veterinarian's care of the officers' dogs," said Dr. Russell Meyer, 612 Dearborn street, retired veterinarian.

There is still "courtesy care" of officers' pets, according to Dr. J. G. Irwin, 512 S. Dubuque street, one of two Iowa City veterinarians who registered Monday for the army medical draft.

Irwin said, however, "The primary job of the army veterinarian today is to inspect all meat and its by-products purchased by the army."

These foods are inspected by veterinarians at stages of processing from the packing house to the mess sergeant's refrigerator.

Irwin said the old "chewing horse doctor" has vanished with the past. "Today's veterinarian must take six years of college work and then pass an extremely difficult state board examination before he is allowed to practice," he said.

A veteran of World War II, Irwin was graduated from the school of veterinary medicine, Kansas State college, Manhattan, Kan.

Irwin said the U.S. army requires the highest quality meat and food of any army in the world. "If anything goes wrong with the processing of food, it is immediately condemned and destroyed," he said.

One veterinarian is attached to each army division, and a new veterinary corps has been attached to the airforce.

Besides the usual food inspection, the airforce veterinarian has the additional task of inspecting aircraft for any animal diseases communicable to man that may have been contacted in any of the foreign countries the planes visit, Irwin said.

There are some veterinarians Irwin said, who care for the pack mules and horses the army uses in mountainous or difficult terrain. There also may be some attached to the canine corps.

hurricane, bearing with a 10-inch core of rain, apparently had swung northerly, more toward the storm's center 120 miles south-southeast of Miami.

The black-squared red hurricane warning flags were extended northward from Palm Beach to Titusville, Fla., on the east coast and ordered up around Lake Okechobee.

Gale winds already pounded Miami Beach's ocean front luxury hotels with sand and rain and whipped through the Florida Keys which were expected to bear the brunt of the blow first.

The bureau said the hurricane's course had not been definitely established.

Residents of the Florida gold coast didn't realize until they awoke this morning that a hurricane threatened by nightfall. Disaster authorities rushed immediate full-scale emergency preparations.

polio Aug. 21, spent a week in isolation, was transferred to an orthopedic ward, and from then on, had few idle moments between time-consuming physical therapy treatments.

Those few times when he was free, Alan went to the occupational therapy shop, where he has made a billfold and a leather picture frame and is now working on a belt.

An aunt, living in Des Moines, thought it might help if she could renew his interest in his pencil collection. She called a Des Moines radio station, and the station broadcast the story of Alan's hobby.

The mail the first day brought 400 pencils for the collection. People all over Iowa and as far away as Pierre and Watertown, S.D., sent all kinds of pencils — wooden, mechanical, pencils with footballs and brooms on embedded in transparent plastic are his favorites.

"When the nurse brought in another basket of packages and letters, Alan remarked that they were surely kind to him. "I'll never get a chance to thank all of them," he said.

Auto Damage Suits Settled Out of Court

An auto damage suit and countersuit were settled out of court Tuesday after testimony had begun before a jury in Johnson county district court.

Jack Estelle, 2029 Muscatine avenue, dismissed his $150 charge against Charles Durian Jr., Wellman. Durian dismissed his $579.13 countersuit.

Both parties agreed not to reopen the case.

Iowa Players Can't Forget Holco

Hawkeyes Continue Passing Practice

About 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon, Purdue football coach Stu Holcomb may wish he had kept close mouthed about his team's chances against Iowa.

His statement that "We'll beat Iowa if it's the last thing we do," was made in the first flush of victory after his Boilermakers had ended Notre Dame's winning streak.

Since then, it has been picked up by wire services and newspapers and echoed around the country. One of the loudest echoes was heard in Iowa City where the Hawkeyes were determined that Holcomb would not be proven correct this Saturday.

Around Dressing Room

To make sure that the Iowa players can't forget Holcomb's brash boast, photostatic copies, actual clippings and signs of the statement have been generously distributed around the dressing room.

One huge sign, done in red, white and blue was donated by a Cedar Rapids fan.

Iowa also observes homecoming Saturday and the psychological lift of this, in combination with a desire to disprove Holcomb, could sweep the Hawks past the favored Boilermakers.

Coach Leonard Raffensperger and the players themselves realize that more than spirit alone will be required to beat Notre Dame's conquerors.

"We made a lot of mistakes in the Wisconsin game and we know it," Raffensperger said Tuesday.

One of the most noticeable mistakes was Wisconsin's interception of five Iowa passes.

"The five interceptions didn't give a true picture of our passing Saturday, though," Raffensperger said. "At least two of the passes which were intercepted were thrown accurately enough to be caught. Both our man and the Wisconsin defender were there in the same position at the same time. It was just a case of Wisconsin coming up with them."

Even though Raffensperger feels that some of the intercepted passes were thrown well enough, pass offense is coming in for a major share of work in this week's drills.

Busy Throwing

Tuesday, Iowa's three offensive quarterbacks, Glenn Drahm, Fred Ruck and Jim Sangster, were busy throwing pass after pass to ends. It's hoped, of course, that this intensive work will pay off in a passing attack which will match the Iowa ground game.

On the ground, Iowa has out-gained its three opponents. It's in the air that Iowa has found plenty of trouble. Against Indiana, Lou D'Achille passed the Hawks into dizzy submission. Against Wisconsin, it was Iowa's own wayward aerials which proved its undoing.

"If it hadn't been for those intercepted passes," Raffensperger said, "I don't think Wisconsin would have scored yet."

Raffensperger indicated an improvement in the pass defense against Wisconsin. It held the publicized Bob Petruska pretty well in check the whole game.

Semi-Scrimmage

To keep the Hawks at game

playing edge, the coaches sent the squad through a semi-scrimmage Tuesday afternoon. "It was a semi-scrimmage," Raffensperger explained, "because the defense wasn't tackling but the offense was blocking."

Raffensperger indicated Tuesday night that the Hawks will go to Cedar Rapids Friday night to escape part of the throng expected to converge on Iowa City for homecoming festivities.

Purdue will also stay in Cedar Rapids Friday night — but at a different hotel.

South, Southwest Back to Prominence In AP Football Poll

NEW YORK (AP)—Resurgence of the south and southwest to a place of high respect is the main feature of the first month's skirmishing in college football.

Army's swift-striking Cadets head the national standings for the second week in a row Monday but a rundown of The Associated Press top twenty shows no single section dominant.

Also no team overshadows the other as overwhelmingly as Army did during the war and as did Notre Dame and Michigan immediately afterward.

The new first ten, chosen by a vote of 275 sports writers and broadcasters, is:

1. Army, Oklahoma, Southern Methodist, Kentucky, California, Stanford, Texas, Maryland, Ohio State, and Washington.

Army, which plays a weak Harvard team Saturday, gained 124 first place votes on the strength of its 27-6 victory over Michigan Saturday at Yankee Stadium.

This ballooned the Cadets' point total to 2,427 on the basis of ten points for a first place vote, nine for second and so on down the line.

Oklahoma barely edged out Southern Methodist for second place although the Sooners were pressed to beat Texas, 14-13, while the Mustangs smashed Oklahoma A. and M. 56-0.

Hawkeyes Don

IOWA HALFBACK "CHUG" WILSON (right) Tuesday teammates Chuck Denning (left) and Harold Bradley a reproduction of Stu Holcomb's victory promise. The big and other smaller ones, are pasted around the Iowa dressing room. Wilson, who was injured in the game Saturday, is recovering from a leg injury. Denning, a defensive regular, suffered a freak accident Sunday which could have been serious. While chopping wood near Maquoketa Denning's axe caught a branch over his head and fell with the blunt end hitting the Iowan behind his right ear. Denning missed Monday's practice but reported in good condition for Tuesday's drill. Coach Leonard Raffensperger said he didn't think the injury was serious.

Purdue Stresses Blocking

LAFAYETTE, IND. — Purdue Coach Stu Holcomb stressed offensive blocking during a short but sharp scrimmage Tuesday in preparation for the Boilermakers' Big Ten opener against Iowa at Iowa City next Saturday.

The platoon system was pretty well discarded in Monday's scrimmage. It appeared that five men — ends Leo Sugar and Darrel Brewster, tackle James Janosek, center Clinton Knitz and halfback Neil Schmidt — will see double duty at Iowa City Saturday.

"We'll have to return to the type of sustained attack that was evident against Texas and Notre Dame if we can hope to open our conference season with a victory," he said.

Dick Schnaible, ace punter and defensive quarterback, appeared on the field in uniform but was unable to take part in contact drill because of a leg injury.

Stonesifer Midwest's Top Lineman

CHICAGO (AP) — Don Stonesifer, Northwestern's slim six foot captain and left end, has already set one new Big Ten record and he seemed certain Tuesday to set another one before the 1950 football campaign ends.

Stonesifer, who more than doubled the previous record for passes caught in a single conference game against Minnesota Saturday, was named the United Press midwest lineman of the week for his 13 receptions.

He gained 140 yards on his 13 catches, some of them sensational finger-tip grabs of throws by Dick Flowers, and tallied both Northwestern touchdowns in the first Big Ten game of the year for the Wildcats.

His performance excelled the previous record of six catches made by Max Morris of Northwestern against Minnesota in 1945 and equaled last year by Clifton Anderson of Indiana against Wisconsin. Morris, though, gained 157 yards while Anderson made 107.

Stonesifer's performance in the first game of the year in conference play practically assured him another Big Ten mark, that for most receptions in a single season. Anderson set the present record at 21 last year with total gains of 329 yards in six games.

But Stonesifer was only eight shy of this mark, exactly equal to the number of passes he caught in the first half against Minnesota, after one game, and he has five more to go. It seemed certain he would haul in nine or more in this quintet.

Stonesifer made two catches in Northwestern's first touchdown march, a 23 yard drive, and he gained 21 yards with those grabs. The first was for 16 yards to Minnesota's seven and his second for five for the score.

MADISON, WIS. (AP) — Wisconsin football coach Ivy Williamson Tuesday pitted his offensive platoon against the defense group in a rousing practice session.

The two platoons worked on Michigan formations separately for the first part of the practice, but later went through an intensive play review against each other. Bob Petruska, the Badgers' top passer, consistently hit his running targets during the session.

MICHIGAN
ANN ARBOR, MICH. (AP) — Coach Bennie Oosterbaan put his Michigan Wolverines through light signal drills Tuesday as the Big Ten defending co-champions dug in for their conference opener against Wisconsin Saturday.

Seaback Frank Howell worked in the injured Leo Kocesi's right half spot. He joined Oosterbaan's No. 1 offensive backfield composed of Left Half Chuck Ortman, Fullback Don Dufek and Quarterback Bill Putich.

MINNESOTA
MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — The Minnesota football team had a very light workout Tuesday with coach Bernie Bierman spending some time polishing the Gopher passing game for the Ohio State encounter Saturday.

Bierman put the same defensive unit used against Northwestern through its paces. In the offensive lineup Don Johanson, right end, was moved to right tackle, and sophomore Harry Coates took over Doug Heidenreich's spot at right guard.

ILLINOIS
CHAMPAIGN, ILL. (AP) — Illini coach Ray Elliot Tuesday cut down on contact work to avoid injuries for the Washington game Saturday.

The squad worked on pass defense. The Huskies have averaged almost 200 yards in the air this season.

Illinois' pass defense has not been tested since the Wisconsin game was played in a driving rain.

OHIO STATE
COLUMBUS, OHIO (AP) — Ohio State's football defenses were strengthened Tuesday for Minnesota's single wing attack in a hard practice at Ohio Stadium.

Coach Wes Fesler said he planned no lengthy scrimmage the rest of the week before the Bucks leave Thursday afternoon for the Gophers' homeground because "it's not worth the chance of injuries."

CHICAGO, ILL. (AP) — Coach Bob Voigts said Tuesday Northwestern's victory over Minnesota was easier than expected and may be causing over-confidence in the team for the Pittsburgh game this Saturday.

Voigts told the Chicago Football Writers' association that he was amazed that Minnesota gained only 96 yards against Northwestern while piling up 310 yards against Nebraska.

INDIANA
BLOOMINGTON, IND. (AP) — Coach Clyde Smith reached for the crying towel Tuesday as Indiana went through a defensive drill with three stellar performers out of action because of injuries.

Joe Matesic, 240-pound tackle, was a questionable starter Saturday when the Hoosiers host Notre Dame because of a knee injury suffered against Ohio State last week. Fullback Jerry Van Ooyen and End Hugh Craton were on the doubtful list. Both missed the OSU game.

Len Ford Injured; Bell Rescinds Fine

CLEVELAND, OHIO (AP) — The fine against Len Ford, defensive end of the Cleveland Browns, was rescinded by National Football League Commissioner Bert Bell Tuesday when he learned that Ford underwent surgery for multiple face injuries after last Sunday's game with the Chicago Cardinals.

Ford, who was fined $50 and thrown out of the game for "flagrant use of elbows and forearms," charged he was deliberately struck by fullback Pat Harder of the Cardinals while trying to rush passer Jim Hardy.

Ford is out of action indefinitely in the hospital with a fractured cheek bone, broken nose and cracked jaw bone.

Dispute Ended, Parking Lot Nearly Ready

Work on Iowa City's newest parking lot at Gilbert and Washington streets, the scene of a dispute between two contractors which threatened to cause postponement of the project, was near completion Tuesday.

The dispute, between Joe Conway of Cedar Rapids and Ted Hall of Des Moines, centered around the question of which of the two purchased the right to remove a storage shed on the half-block area.

The contracts were awarded to Conway and Hall by the city council Sept. 25.

In a settlement arranged Saturday, Conway agreed to pay Hall $500 for the right to remove the shed.

Conway had contested Hall's right to the storage shed, because the council awarded him the contract to remove the office building on the lot. The shed is connected to the office.

Hall had purchased the right to remove all other buildings on the site, including, he thought, the storage shed.

Two weeks ago Conway threatened to sue the city and Hall if a settlement could not be reached. Workmen employed by Conway had not worked on the office building during that period, but went back to work Monday.

Rev. Pollock Reads From Great Hymns

The Rev. P. Hewison Pollock of the Iowa City Presbyterian church is reading messages from the great hymns this week on the daily 8 a.m. chapel hour of WSUI. The readings will continue through Saturday with Wednesday's message being "Rise Up O' Men of God." The hymn is dedicated to work.

Thursday, the Rev. Pollock will read "This is My Father's World," dedicated to the world of nature, while Friday's reading will be "Breath On Me, Breath of God," dedicated to people at prayer.

Saturday's reading will be "Son of God Goes Forth to War," dedicated to people at church.

Eisenhower to Speak At Blue Island School

BLUE ISLAND, ILL. (AP) — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower will speak here next Monday at the dedication of a new $2.5-million high school, officials of the school said Tuesday.

The subject of his talk was not announced. School officials said the Columbia university president will come by train and will be met by a committee at an undesignated point outside Chicago.

WSUI to Broadcast Music Recital Tonight

A piano recital by two WSUI faculty members will be broadcast from studio E, WSUI, at 8 p.m. today.

John Simms, instructor in piano, and Margaret Pendleton, music lecturer, will present the concert.

They will play "Sonata in F Major" by Mozart and "Grand Duo in C Major" by Franz Schubert. Prof. Philip Greeley Clapp, head of the music department, said the public is invited to watch the broadcast.

East Germans Challenge Alabama Elections

BERLIN (AP) — An American correspondent asked the Communist east German government information office Tuesday for permission to cover the returns of next Sunday's Soviet zone elections. A spokesman told him:

"We will let you cover our elections when you admit one of our journalists to cover the Alabama elections."

In Montgomery, Ala., Gov. James E. Folsom's office immediately accepted the challenge.

Burmese Woman Accuses Physician

RANGOON, BURMA (AP) — A 21-year-old Burmese student nurse testified Tuesday that Dr. Gordon S. Seagrave, charged with high treason, forced some of the nurses at his mission hospital to have sexual relations with him.

The nurse, a Shan student named Ma Aye Mya, appeared as a government witness before the special tribunal trying the famed "Burma surgeon." She told the court Seagrave was not "the benevolent old gentleman he is popularly supposed" and that he "took advantage of his nurses."

Seagrave has pleaded innocent to four charges, the chief of which is that he aided the rebel Karen tribesmen who are fighting the Burmese government for an autonomous state. Conviction for high treason in Burma carries the death penalty.

Graduate Named Officer Of Insurance Company

C. Vance Shepherd, Cedar Rapids insurance director and SUI graduate, was named vice-president of the National Life Insurance company of Vermont at a quarterly meeting of the directors in Montpelier Tuesday.

Graduated from SUI in 1925, Shepherd has been in the insurance business since 1922. He entered the field just after the close of his freshman year, and paid all his expenses for the next three years by selling life insurance.

Mrs. Shepherd is now a graduate student and research assistant at SUI.

Diana Barrymore Takes Leading Man for Mate

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — Actress Diana Barrymore married her leading man, Robert W. Wilcox, Tuesday and announced there would be no honeymoon. Prices, she said, are too high.

The daughter of the late John Barrymore, the bride gave her age in her marriage license as 29 and her address as New York City. The bridegroom, who comes from Rochester, N.Y., gave his age as 39. It was his second marriage, and Miss Barrymore's third. The couple had been on the stage together for four years.

body else, can sit in on an Alabama election," a spokesman said.

His offer to the Communists was: "Send one of your reporters on over. This is a free country, we have a free press, and open elections."

He added that "we are proud of the way our elections are conducted."

"They ought to send some of those east Germans over here to see how things are done in a democracy, to Alabama or any of the other 47 states."
