U.S. Marines Swarm Ashore Near Wonsan

TOKYO (THURSDAY) (AP)—U.S. marines landed today at the east coast port of Wonsan, and the South Korean 6th division surged to within 18 miles—artillery range—of the Yalu river separating Korea from Manchuria.

The leathernecks, vanguard of 50,000 United Nations 10th corps troops, were rapidly building up their strength ashore in a move to pick up a UN drive to the Manchurian border.

Maj. Gen. Edward M. Almond, commander of the 10th corps, said he would send his forces northward as far as necessary to complete the mop up job.

"I'm going to the Manchurian border as soon as I get some troops in here."

The unopposed landings in a city already captured by the South Koreans came as a captured Chinese soldier said 20,000 Chinese troops have moved into defensive positions in North Korea.

Chinese troops on border Almond's corps also would face any forces moving down from the north where 500,000 Chinese Communist troops have been reported on the Korean frontier.

South Korean forces killed two Chinese Communist soldiers and captured one 47 miles from the border today.

The landing by the troops that captured Seoul was delayed by one of the most extensive fields of Russian-made mines in the history of warfare.

The marines had planned to drive overland and pinch off Pyongyang, but North Korean defenses crumbled and the city fell last week to the U. S. 1st cavalry division.

ROKS May Beat River Meanwhile the 8th army said the 8th "ROKS" smashed into Kojang, 18 miles from the Yalu at 8 p.m. Wednesday against no opposition, and may be over-looking the river by now.

The last major town between Kojang and the Yalu is Chosan and the 6th division's 12 mile advance from near Hoemokjong made it seem likely they would reach the river today.

War at a Glance The front—South Koreans within 32 miles of Yalu boundary in north central sector; U.S. and British troops ordered to stay 20 miles from Manchurian and Siberian borders, but South Koreans will go all the way; Allied air force clogs road with wreckage in an attack on Communist column south of Kangye redoubt; Filipinos help mop up Red guerrillas near old Pusan beachhead.

Behind the front—South Koreans arrest 8,458 suspected Communist in Seoul area, release nearly half; Pyongyang has liberation ceremony.

Keeps Head Where Another King Lost His LONDON (AP)—King George VI ardently watched Wednesday through the new stone and oak house of commons building and left 50 minutes later with his head still on his shoulders.

The last king who had the nerve to enter the house of commons, Charles I, was beheaded. But the circumstances in the two cases differed. For one thing, the new building wasn't officially the house of commons until today.

King Charles I, a tyrant, visited the commons 308 years ago to arrest leaders of the opposition. This started a revolution and Charles was beheaded by Oliver Cromwell.

King George was just "looking over his shoulder" when he came to see the brand new lawmaking chamber, to which his dominions overseas have contributed furnishings.

Wednesday was his last chance for an inspection without defying the constitution. Today the new building will be turned over to the commons and become forbidden for the man with the crown.

Charles had come with a squad of soldiers. George brought his wife, Queen Elizabeth, and his dignified old mother, Queen Mary.

Friday Rally Planned For Hawk Send-off A rousing send-off for the Hawkeyes is the objective of the Friday morning pep rally at the fieldhouse.

After the 7 a.m. rally, the football team and coaches will leave by bus for Cedar Rapids, where they will board a plane to Ohio State for Saturday's game.

Co-captains for the game will speak at the rally.

Bunche Appointed Harvard Professor; Won Nobel Prize

CAMBRIDGE, MASS. (AP)—The first Negro professor in the 314-year-old history of Harvard college is Ralph J. Bunche.

The appointment of the United Nations official and Nobel Peace prize winner as professor of government was announced by the university Wednesday.

Bunche, 46, is now senior director of the UN trusteeship council. His grandfather was a slave.

He was born in Detroit, the son of a barber.

Orphaned at 14, he worked his way through school and then through the University of California at Los Angeles on athletic scholarships. He got his master's degree at Harvard in 1928 and received a doctorate there in 1934.

Dr. Bunche won world acclaim and the Nobel Peace prize for his work as UN mediator in Palestine after the assassination of Swedish Count Folke Bernadotte.

He declined appointment as an assistant secretary in the U. S. state department two years ago and attributed his refusal to racial segregation in Washington.

Asked about the appointment Bunche responded: "It is true that Harvard university last winter took action on my appointment and that I had indicated a willingness to accept such an appointment at a future date, bearing in mind, however, my deep interest in, my responsibilities to and my work with the United Nations."

"I am not prepared at this time to be more precise with regard to this matter and have no further comment to make."

UN Deadlocked On Trygve Lie

LAKE SUCCESS (AP)—Faced by an American threat to veto any other candidate, the deadlocked security council decided Wednesday to tell the general assembly it is unable to decide on a successor for United Nations Secretary-General Trygve Lie.

Russia's Jakob A. Malik immediately served notice he will demand the council try once again before giving the assembly implicit authority to extend Lie's term.

U.S. Wants Lie The United States is determined to keep Lie in office because of Korean war; Russia wants to throw him out for the same reason.

Malik also told the council Wednesday that, besides the Korean issue, he opposed Lie because the UN official had a quarrel with Prime Minister Stalin during his trip to Moscow last spring.

United States Delegate Warren R. Austin, October president of the council, said he was leaving it up to Malik to request a new council session to take up the issue.

Eliminate Four Names Four Russian—approved names were eliminated at two secret council sessions Wednesday.

The stalemate began two weeks ago when Malik cast Russia's 46th veto to blackball Lie in face of a 9-0 council vote to give the Norwegian another five years in the $40,000 a year job.

Dad's Day Dance Books Elliot Band

Lawrence Elliot's band will play at the Dad's day dance Nov. 11, Evan Hullman, L.S. Dad's day committee chairman, announced Wednesday.

SUI housing units are now balloting for candidates for student dad and blummi dad to be presented at the dance intermission.

Letters have been sent to football player's fathers inviting them to SUI for Dad's day weekend. They will sit behind the team bench at the Iowa-Illinois game as they have in previous years.

Newton Man Killed In Hunting Accident

NEWTON, IA. (AP)—G. Frank Wilson, 87, president of the Newton chamber of commerce, died Wednesday afternoon from a gunshot wound suffered on a hunting trip in Ontario, Canada.

Friends here were informed that Wilson was wounded accidentally by a member of his hunting party, who mistook him for a deer. He was shot in the abdomen. Death occurred at St. Joseph Hospital, Kenora, Ont. He was a member of the famed Drake university football team of 1909.

Truman May Recall Congress To Session Ahead Of Schedule

Acheson Says Red Unity Plan A 'Perversion'

(From the Wire Services) WASHINGTON—Secretary of State Dean Acheson Wednesday denounced the Cominform proposal for a unified Germany as a "perversion" of the world's hope for peace.

The secretary scorned as "old and unworkable" the whole four-point plan advanced Saturday at Prague by the Soviet bloc foreign ministers.

Plan Calls for Pledges This plan called on the Big Four powers to pledge themselves to prevent remilitarization of Germany, to work for economic rehabilitation, a peace treaty and creation of an all-German constitutional council.

Acheson called on Russia instead to live up to its 1945 Potsdam pledges, with the suggestion that nothing else is lacking to bring about German disarmament and unity.

"The time has long since passed when the world can be stirred to hope by general phrases from the Soviet Union about disarmament and peace and German unity," Acheson said.

Wants Army Disbanded "We who have striven so hard for these things want actions— we want the threatening East German army disbanded, the capricious restraints on internal German trade removed, and free democratic elections held in all of Germany."

Acheson asked "why" to the Cominform proposal, that Russia, Britain, France and the U.S. publish a new declaration against rearming Germany and against permitting the conquered country to be "dragged into any aggressive plans."

The Big Four nations solemnly agreed at Potsdam to bring about German disarmament and demilitarization and now the only remilitarization that has occurred is in the Soviet zone, Acheson declared.

French Bombard Indo-China Reds

SAIGON, INDO-CHINA (AP)—French army sources reported Wednesday the blasting of Communist-led Vietminh concentrations east of Laotay by French artillery and warplanes. This appeared to mean the opening of a battle for Laotay, the last French bastion on the northwest frontier.

A French military spokesman announced the abandonment of Laotay's principal outpost, at Muijokhuong. He said the small garrison at that point, 18 miles northeast of Laotay, withdrew toward the main post.

The French, who have lost a half-dozen frontier posts to the Vietminh in the last two months of a four-year-old war, are removing civilians by air to Hanoi, the provincial capital of North Indo-China, 150 miles southeast of Laotay.

Sees Opposition

PARIS (AP)—Ex-Premier Edouard Daladier told the national assembly bitterly Wednesday that "German rearmament is now a decided if not an accomplished fact." He said he believes all the other North Atlantic pact nations will unite against the French stand on the question.

Like most members of the national assembly, Daladier opposes building up of a West German army such as has been advocated by various American and British leaders.

Jolson Leaves Fortune To Charities, Schools

NEW YORK (AP)—Al Jolson left $4-million for Jewish, Protestant and Catholic charities and needy students at three New York universities, it was reported Wednesday.

He bequeathed large trust funds for his widow, the former Eric Channault Galbraith, who was his fourth wife, and his adopted son and daughter. The remainder was to go to the charities of the three faiths.

U.S. Casualties in Korea Rise

(From the Wire Services) WASHINGTON—Announced American casualties in Korea rose Wednesday to 26,701, an increase of 618 in the last week.

The defense department said the figure includes those whose next of kin received notification through midnight of October 20. The latest tabulation includes 3,683 killed in action, 18,682 wounded and 4,337 missing in action.

Of the dead, 3,682 were killed on the field of battle and 442 died later of wounds.

The casualties by services: Army—Total casualties, 23,140; killed in action, 3,090; fatally wounded, 355; wounded, 15,536; missing in action, 4,150, including one who died after capture, 384 who returned safely and 184 prisoners of war.

Navy—Total casualties, 252; killed in action, 40; fatally wounded, four; wounded, 166; missing in action, 42; including two who have returned to safety.

Airforce—Total casualties, 176; killed in action, 53; fatally wounded, one; wounded, 10; missing in action, 112, including 17 who have returned safely and three who are prisoners.

Marine corps—Total casualties, 3,133; killed in action, 490; fatally wounded, 82; wounded, 2,528; missing in action, 33.

Off-Campus Rent to Rise If Rent Control Lifted

Nearly 3,500 SUI students who live in off-campus housing face higher rents next year unless Iowa City votes to continue rent controls Nov. 7.

Ending rent controls will have no effect on students who live in university housing, T. J. Wilkinson, area rent director, said.

Controls will automatically be lifted Dec. 31 unless a continuation is voted.

Federal rent controls have not eliminated possibility of rent increases in cases where landlords were not receiving a fair return on their property, Wilkinson said.

"Local boards have liberalized the rent adjustment policy to compensate for increased costs," he added.

To illustrate Wilkinson cited figures from the October survey of Iowa City housing problems made by his office.

The report showed 313 landlords petitioned the rent office for increases in 1950.

Iowa City's rent board allowed 288 increases, 84.6 percent of the total requested. The average increase was $7.75 monthly, 21.2 percent above the previous rental.

The local board also acted on 37 reported violations of the control law, securing 18 overcharge refunds totaling $2,154. The office prevented 11 illegal evictions in 1950.

Unfurnished apartments (four rooms and bath) are renting for $100 or more a month in areas where controls have been lifted, the report states. A comparable apartment in Iowa City rents for $45.

Two-room unfurnished apartments in cities without rent control are renting for $75 a month and in Iowa City for $42.37 a month, according to the report.

The city council voted Oct. 9 to decide the rent control issue by popular referendum at the Nov. 7 general election.

Discover Soviet Uranium Plant

WASHINGTON (AP)—The mysterious factory discovered by U.S. forces at Hungnam, North Korea, probably was a Soviet uranium ore processing plant—one of the first links in the long industrial chain that produces atomic explosives.

Authoritative sources indicated the U.S. Atomic Energy commission has long known about existence of the plant, and was not excited by news reports of the army's find.

They hinted that it will come as no surprise here if a second such plant is found in North Korea.

Reports Say Action Wanted On Taxes, Rent

(From the Wire Services) WASHINGTON—President Truman is considering calling congress back into session before its scheduled date for reconvening—Nov. 27—to work on excess profits tax and rent control legislation, a high administration source said Wednesday night.

The plan reported under consideration calls for congress to reconvene Nov. 15—eight days after the election.

News Conference Today If the President makes up his mind to take the step, those in the know expect him to announce it in advance of the Nov. 7 election. He holds his weekly news conference this morning, but whether the announcement would be ready then was not known Wednesday night.

Two different sources said the special call to congress has been under consideration at the White House. They said Mr. Truman wanted to take counsel with Democratic leaders of senate and house before announcing any decision.

Under the present rent control law, which the administration wants tightened, federal controls expire Dec. 31, unless city governments or local officials ask a six-month extension during the first half of next year.

Few Have Asked Extension Rent control officials report that only about 200 of the more than 3,000 rent control areas throughout the country have asked the extension.

In addition to tightening up federal rent controls, White House discussions were said to have included:

1. An early start upon another boost in federal taxes.

2. A revision of the existing draft act to provide a broad manpower and military training program needed to expand the armed forces to 3-million men.

3. Speedy revision of the new anti-subversive act, passed over Mr. Truman's veto.

4. Possible consideration of the additional billions of dollars that must be appropriated to meet the costs of the Korean war and the related expansion of military strength both in this country and among anti-Communist nations.

No Labor Controls Now Goodwin Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—The nation's new manpower chief said Wednesday the labor supply is tightening up and some transfers of workers may have to be "negotiated" to fill critical needs.

But controls are a long way off, he said.

These views were expressed by Robert C. Goodwin at his first news conference since he was named by secretary of labor Tobin as executive director of the office of defense manpower. The number of unfilled jobs increased from 32,000 to a total of 35,000 in the past two weeks, Goodwin said.

That is more than twice the number before the Korean fighting started in June.

"I think we can meet our manpower problems without control," Goodwin told reporters.

Newest Troubled Spot?

BESIEGED BY RUMORS OF A RED INVASION, Tibet (1) (outlined by shading), has been the object of world speculation. The Soviet radio in Berlin, and the New China News Agency of Red China, reported that Red Chinese troops have been ordered to "liberate" Tibet. Who the Tibetans are to be liberated from was not announced. U. S. officials believe such talk is a Red bluff. Indo-China (2) is the scene of an actual invasion of French held territory by Communist led troops of Ho Chi Minh.

U.S. Suspects China Bluffs In Claiming Invasion of Tibet

WASHINGTON (AP)—American official authorities suspect the Chinese Communists are bluffing in talking about invading Tibet at this time.

Without ruling out the possibility of an invasion, experts on the remote and lofty mid-Asian land said Wednesday that high winter winds and icy mountain passes make large-scale military operations unlikely for months to come.

Radio Peiping broadcast that the China Reds are moving on the neighbor mountainland to "free 3-million Tibetans from imperialistic oppression."

At New Delhi the Indian foreign ministry said it has heard of "certain troop movements and incursions" near the frontier but there was no support for the invasion report elsewhere.

No Other Information Secretary of State Dean Acheson told reporters the state department had no information beyond what was broadcast.

Although Tibet has been visited by few white men, the state department has recent first-hand information from the reports of two groups of Americans who fled from West China across the "top of the world" on the approach of Communist forces.

The reports advised that with the approach of winter high winds offer even greater obstacles to travel than the increasing cold.

Two main invasion routes are open from China, by way of Chungking and Chengtu and through Lanchow and Sining. Neither is inviting even under most favorable weather, which normally begins in early summer.

No Effect on U.S. ...

MADISON, WIS. (AP)—The reported invasion of Chinese Communists into Tibet will be "no immediate danger to the democratic world," M. A. H. Isphahani, Pakistan ambassador to the United States, said Wednesday.

"At no time has Tibet had complete suzerainty as we considered it," he said. Chiang Kai-Shek and Chinese governments before him have held power over Tibet, the ambassador said.

Guided Missiles Chief Appointed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense George Marshall named K. T. Keller, president of Chrysler corporation, as director of guided missiles Wednesday in a move auguring a major step-up in the production of robot rockets.

The defense chief said Keller will provide "competent advice in order to permit me to direct and coordinate activities connected with research, development and production of guided missiles."

Under Keller's direction, American-built rockets may now take the lead in a program to mass produce the weapons of so-called "push button" warfare.

SUI Receives Gifts, Grants of $7,522, From Four Donors

Gifts and grants totaling $7,522 have been accepted for SUI by the state board of education.

Largest of the grants was $2,400 from the National Association of Master Plumbers trust for four scholarships in the college of engineering.

The Research corporation, New York, made two grants, $2,000 and $1,600 to Profs. Stanley Warzonek and Charles Tanford, for research in chemistry.

Also given by the Research corporation was $1,350 for prizes to exhibitors at the annual SUI Colloquium of College Physicists.

SUI's home economics department was given five gas ranges by the Iowa-Illinois Gas and Electric company.

History department staff members donated $172 for a plaque in the new SUI library, in memory of Prof. Winifred T. Root, former head of the department, and for equipping a seminar room in the library.

Two Men Rob, Beat Iowa City Driver At Ice Pick Point

A New Process laundry truck driver was beaten and robbed Wednesday noon by two unidentified men, one wearing a handkerchief over his face.

Ed Watkinson told police he found the two men in his truck when he returned from delivering some laundry at 1641 Ridge road. He said the men refused to get out of the truck and demanded that he drive them to Cedar Rapids.

He agreed to drive them after a scuffle in which one of the men scratched his face with an ice pick.

Just outside the city limits, he said, the men ordered him to stop, took his billfold and the keys to the truck and fled.

Watkinson described one of the men as five feet, five inches tall, 35 years old and having blond hair, wearing khaki trousers and a blue shirt.

He described the man using the ice pick as five feet, seven inches tall, 26 years old, with black hair. He wore overalls and a gray shirt.

MAY RELEASE SOME GUARDS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Mark W. Clark indicated Wednesday that some national guard units now in federal service may be released in seven or eight months.

Parlay Cards —

Iowa Atty. Gen. Robert Larson has turned over to Sen. Estes Kefauver two football parlay cards he picked up in Iowa City last Saturday.

Earlier, the attorney general had said he believed he knew who was behind the parlay card business here. He said he even believed he knew where in Iowa City they were being printed.

Kefauver, the Tennessee who is chairman of the senate gambling probe group, was quoted as saying he wanted "to see how they (the parlay cards) fit into the whole gambling picture."

At this moment we're not concerned with the senator's role as investigator of gambling in the nation as we are with the role Iowa City and SUI might play in an investigation by Larson.

There is no question as to whether the parlay cards are here. Too many have been reported in circulation. Those persons already mixed up in the business can only hope they won't be caught.

But now is the time all SUI students should realize the seriousness of the situation and steer clear of any connection with the racket. Those who believe the whole idea is harmless will get little consolation from the idea if they're hauled before a judge.

Many times in the past, possession of the cards appeared to involve little danger. Today, the picture is different. Whatever people may believe to be the motives of Larson in his drive against gambling, the fact remains that he has lowered the boom too many times for us to kid ourselves into believing he's fooling. The wise SUI students will realize now that their best bet on football games is to make NO bet.

Time to Register —

Iowa City is one of the Iowa cities operating under the permanent registration law. This means you must be registered at the office of the city clerk to be eligible to vote in the election Nov. 7.

If you've voted here within the last four years, you needn't re-register.

If you're NOT registered, go to the city clerk at East Washington street and do so TODAY!!

Stocks Down Slightly; Cattle Trading Drags

NEW YORK (AP) — For the third day in a row stock market action was ragged and inconclusive Wednesday.

Only a handful of issues changed as much as $1 a share. Losses outnumbered gains but a slim margin.

Trading volume at 1,930,000 shares was tops for a week and compared with 1,790,000 Tuesday.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks dipped .2 of one point. The rail group was the only one to show a loss.

A total of 1,171 individual issues changed hands, of which 483 were marked down and 414 advanced.

Reports from Washington that legislative thought is turning against another excess profits tax were studied closely but without creating much excitement.

Bean Futures Up . . .

CHICAGO (AP)—Buying whipped up by demand for cash soybeans sent bean futures soaring on the board of trade Wednesday. Beans ran up 10 cents, the daily limit, at one time. That was about an hour before the close. A little profit-taking entered the pit after that, but it knocked less than 2 cents off the peak price.

The rest of the market was pretty much neglected. Wheat closed 1/4-3/8 higher, corn 1 to 1 1/4 higher, oats 1/2-1/2 higher, rye 1 to 1 1/2 higher, soybeans 8 1/4-8 3/4 higher and lard 15 to 23 cents a hundred pounds higher.

Demand for soybeans appeared right from the opening gong, prices running up around 5 cents in the first 30 minutes of dealings. Processors raised their bids for cash soybeans overnight, and it was this action which the market reflected in early dealings.

Cattle Trading Drags

Processors bought beans during the day at a discount of only 1 to 2 cents under the November contract, compared with 3 1/2 to 4 cents Tuesday. No. 1 yellow beans, Illinois origin, sold at $2.45 1/4-1/2 on track at Chicago. That compared with $2.39 to $2.40 a bushel Tuesday.

Hogs Lose . . .

CHICAGO (AP) — Cattle trading dragged Wednesday under the impact of supplies that were much greater than demand.

With some 11,000 cattle on hand, sales on good and choice steers scaling 1,200 pounds and upward were weak, closing mostly 50 cents lower. Many arrivals remained unsold.

Good and choice steers weighing up to 1,150 pounds and a few loads of choice to prime up to 1,250 pounds remained steady. A load of choice to prime 1,225 pound steers brought $33.75, and some high choice light steers $33 to $33.50. The bulk of good and choice steers scaling 1,150 pounds down sold at $30 to $32.50.

Hogs continued downward, both butchers and sows losing 25 cents compared with previous sales. The top was $19.80. Most good and choice 180-220 pound butchers brought $19.25 to $19.40 with most going at $19.35.

In the sheep market, slaughter lambs were steady. The bulk of good and choice woolled offerings sold at $28.75 to $29.75, with the latter the top price. Good to choice shorn lambs were $29 to $29.25 and slaughter sheep were firm at $13 to $14.50.

ATTEMPT MAIL ROBBERY

SALIDA, COLO. (AP) — Four armed bandits attempted to hold up a U.S. mail truck carrying at least $30,000 on a lonely mountain road near here Wednesday night, but the driver fought them off in a running gun battle.

Mock Election . . .

I have suggested a "mock election" on the campus among students and staff for the offices of U.S. senator and governor of Iowa. Democratic candidates are Al Loveland for the senate and Lester Gillette for governor.

Conduct of the election would be an opportunity for Young Republicans — if they care to — to defend the record of Sen. Bourke Hickenlooper and Gov. William S. Beardsley. Many normal Republicans understandably are reluctant to do so, in view of their completely negative records.

Perhaps the Young Republicans would know — and be willing to explain to students — why the state of Iowa suddenly purchased 13 years' supply of a little-known brand of whiskey (Old Hector) on orders of the governor. How much pay-off did he get?

Maybe Young Republicans will tell us why an investigation into conditions in the liquor board has been delayed until AFTER the elections. Don't the people have a right to know the facts BEFORE they vote?

Broken Promises
Maybe they can tell us WHY the present governor has such a string of broken promises — promises that the sales tax would be taken off food; that highways would be brought to first-class shape; that the vicious Iowa anti-labor laws would be changed.

Perhaps they will have an opportunity to tell why Mr. Hickenlooper has consistently opposed rent control. Maybe they will want to tell students living in university housing areas there is no housing shortage, and recommend Hick's vote to them.

Perhaps they can explain Hick's vote for the Kerr Natural Gas bill — which would have raised rates for all natural gas users.

Maybe they will tell us why Hick voted to cripple the program designed to combat heart and cancer disease.

And — biggest mystery of all — why should such a blustering anti-Communist like Hick vote AGAINST an additional $3.6-million to beam the radio broadcasts of Voice of America behind the Iron Curtain to counteract Soviet propaganda?

Does he just talk anti-Communist and vote irresponsibly the other way? Maybe he's a bad security risk himself.

Security Risk
And what about Korea? How come Hick voted to cut $200-million from an act to provide military aid to Korea? Didn't he know what was going on? Is Hick really a bad security risk?

Points Out Errors . . .

Even though I am a Republican by politics, I am an American first of all and firmly believe in the right of opposing political parties to state their views and objectives.

It is for this reason that I am answering the unwarranted blast at the distribution of Al Loveland's campaign literature in Wednesday's Daily Iowan.

The great French statesman, Voltaire, once said, "I may disagree with what you say, but I will defend to the death your right to say it." This has been a fundamental concept in American democracy.

The writer stated that the student code prohibits this sort of political campaigning. I feel that this person is not truly informed. The Code of Student Life says: State Views

"Because political party organizations and candidates for public office are quasi-public in nature, and, since the presentation of political party platforms and candidates to the public is an element of the democratic elective system, the university will make its facilities available for candidates for the state-wide or national public office to state their views."

The writer spent a great deal of time in denouncing the pamphlet as "socialist propaganda" because Mr. Loveland advocates government aid to farmers such as crop control and corn control.

He evidently was not in Benton, Linn or Buchanan counties this summer where many acres of corn were nearly destroyed by high winds and does not realize the importance of Iowa's corn crop.

Furthermore, the writer evidently is not a veteran who is gaining education under the "GI Bill of Rights." This program is semi-socialistic in nature since the money for sponsoring it comes from the U.S. treasury.

He also leveled the charge against government ownership of public utilities. Many communities own and operate their own light and water plants. Chicago owns and operates its own intra-city transportation system. Socialism? Yes. But it is for the good of the general public.

The U.S. postal system is also socialistic, but I doubt that Mr. Smith would denounce it.

Community Chest . . .

Through the fine efforts of everyone who pledged to the Community Chest, we have now come within less than $700 of our goal of $6,713. We are grateful to you who have given.

Since we are not over the top, we are trying to reach each one of you who, through some circumstance, has not yet been seen. If you have not been contacted, either at the university or your home, please drop in to the provost's office in Old Capitol and leave your pledge. If you cannot do that, just place it in a campus envelope and we will see that you get your receipt. We are trying to wind up the campaign shortly, with over the top as our goal.

Thanks again to those of you who subscribed for your fine assistance.

Tibet Gains Significance As Chinese Communists Move In

To the western mind, what happens in Tibet would seem at first to be of little more importance than what might happen on the moon.

It's a little place in the far-off Himalayas, visited only rarely by westerners, ruled by a strange theistic government. It never has much contact with the outside, and in winter ground travel through the mountain passes is next to impossible. To most people its existence is almost as imaginary as the Shangri-La which the story said was located there.

But when the Chinese Communists move in, as they will even if the new announcement of an invasion has not already been implemented, Tibet will take on a new aspect.

Nervous India

For it is there that a nervous India will be brought into direct contact with the powers of communism which so far have failed to make much impression on her. Prime Minister Nehru doesn't believe, yet, that the Peiping regime of Mao Tse-Tung is a puppet of the Kremlin.

But Chinese Communist armies, willing to drive through the already-falling snows of the "top of the world" to carry out a gesture involving little but face, will present the Indians with something with which they cannot take chances on the mere basis of opinion. They will have to be prepared for the possibility that they were wrong.

Britain, India's ruler for so many years, always acted to keep China and Tibet separated, as the Tibetans have always wanted. But it was to keep China away from India's border rather than any overwhelming sentiment for the Tibetans.

The motive is as natural as Britain's long-standing determination to keep Russia out of the Dardanelles. It is as natural to a free India as to a British colony. Nehru will not be able to overlook it.

Nehru Undecided

This should have a tendency to push him a little more toward the western camp in the cold war, where his heart and India's interests truly lie, but which his nationalism and the scars of his long fight against colonialism have prevented him from entering.

U.S. Funds Factor For Disarming

NEW YORK (AP) — Walter P. Reuther, president of the CIO united auto workers, proposed Wednesday that the United States bankroll a global reconstruction fund to be used as a lever to force universal disarmament.

Reuther told the 19th annual New York Herald Tribune forum that this nation must have "the wisdom and courage to remove the price tag from our efforts at waging peace."

The three-day forum, the theme of which is "Mobilizing America's Strength for World Security," continued through Wednesday night.

The Reuther peace plan called on the American people to pledge by act of congress to contribute for an indefinite period an annual contribution equal to at least one-half of the annual increase in the value of national production.

This money, Reuther said, should be used "to create a United Nations' fund for economic and social reconstruction to be used to help people help themselves to develop their material and economic resources."

First Chorus Concert — A Cappella Music Pleasing — Attracts 600 Persons

Equal parts of secular and semi-religious songs composed the program for the first concert of SUI's mixed chorus Wednesday night.

Prof. Herald Stark, music department, conducted the chorus in the performance at the Iowa Union. Assistant conductor was Charles Davis. Dorothy Kriebell, A4, Donnellson, was accompanist.

Seven numbers of the 13 performed were sung without accompaniment. The chorus did a fine job of singing the music as written and few inharmonious spots occurred.

One of the most pleasing examples of a cappella singing, in this reviewer's opinion, was "Mary Sat Spinning." The song had the simplicity characteristic of good folk music and Christmas carols.

Perhaps the song most enjoyed by the audience was "Wade in the Water," a number written in the Negro spiritual vein and sung with vigor by the chorus which seemed to enjoy the piece as much as the audience.

Two other favorites of the audience were "Ca' the Yowes" by R. Vaughan Williams and "Rantin' Roven' Robin," a Scotch folksong.

At unusual number called "Choral Vocalise" by Jacob Weinberg contained no words but merely syllables which sounded like laughter.

Another song with words imitating sounds was "Holiday Song" by William Schuman. Both were delightfully presented.

Other selections in a more solemn vein were Bach's "All breathing life, sing and praise ye the Lord" from the motet "Sing Ye to the Lord," The "Hundredth Psalm" by R. Vaughan Williams, and Handel's "May no rash intruder" from "Solomon."

Art Circle to Show 1937 French Film

"The Lower Depths," (Les Bas Fonds) a French film based on a play by Maxim Gorky, will be shown at 8 p.m. Saturday in the art auditorium.

Sponsored by SUI's art guild, "The Lower Depths" is the story of a group of social outcasts in 19th century Moscow.

Tickets for the show will cost 40 cents and may be obtained at the door, Esther Castleman, A4, Chicago, president of the guild, said. "The Lower Depths" won the critics' award as the best French film of 1937. It was directed by Jean Renoir. Jean Gabin and Louis Jouvet were cast in leading roles.

'Had Enough of Europe'

MADRID (UP)—Barbara Hutton, who hopes to return to the U. S. soon, said Wednesday she no longer loves the Europe she grew up in as a child.

"I thought Europeans, with all their centuries of culture and history, were the really great people of this world," Barbara, who has toured Europe's capitals most of her 37 years, said in an exclusive interview.

"Well, there still are some fine people here, of course, but I've learned that Americans have the real, decent, good qualities which count in life," she said.

The Woolworth heiress said she is looking forward to returning to the U.S.

"You can have all the glittering front that's left in Europe today," she said. "I've had enough of it."

Barbara admitted her four marital experiences — three of them with Europeans — may have influenced her feelings about Europe.

Her health, bad for the past three years, could be another reason, she said.

Interviewed in her Ritz hotel suite, Barbara, who through the years has been portrayed in the American press as the rich girl who sought to buy titles with her money, said:

"They can say what they want to about me, but that simply isn't true. It never has been, nor will it ever be."

Referring to her second husband, Danish Count Kurt Haugwitz-Reventlow, from whom she was divorced in 1941, she said:

"I fell in love before I had any idea who he was, or that he had a title. He was the most handsome man I had ever seen."

Haugwitz-Reventlow is the father of Barbara's only child, 14-year-old Lance, who is now in Arizona.

Scholarship Cup Goes to Fairchild

Fairchild house, member of SUI's Cooperative Dormitory association, will receive the traveling scholarship cup offered by the association for last semester's high scholarship average.

President of Fairchild Mary Terese Rink, A4, Cedar Rapids, said the cup would now remain permanently at Fairchild because the house has held the highest scholarship average in the association for three consecutive semesters.

Fairchild's scholastic average last semester was 2.931. The average of the association as a whole was 2.747. The average for all women on campus was 2.470.

International Debate Scheduled Here Tuesday

The 23rd international debate will be held at SUI Tuesday at 8 p.m. in Maebride auditorium.

Two students representing the combined British universities will discuss the affirmative side of "Resolved: that democratic socialism is the best defense against communism."

Taking the negative side for SUI will be George McBurney, L. C. Council Bluffs, and Edward Diekmann, E. A. Ottumwa.

Representing Britain will be Gwynn (John) Williams, University College of North Wales and Alwyn (Ernest) Smith, University of Birmingham.

Public Invited

The public is invited to attend, without charge. Members of the audience will vote upon the merits of the question.

Selection of the British debaters was made by a committee of vice-chancellors who administer British universities and the English Speaking Union of London.

Smith, who has completed five years of a six year medical course at the University of Birmingham, has served as secretary of his debating society. He has taken part in intervarsity debates and was a delegate to a national union of students.

He was editor of his university's literary magazine, and has served as an art, drama and music critic for his local paper.

Smith is a veteran of World War II, having served three years as a lieutenant with the Royal Marines in Holland and Germany. He is an independent in politics.

Gladstone Prize Winner
Williams is a graduate student at the University College of North Wales, working on his master's degree in modern history. He is a research fellow at his college, and has won the Gladstone Memorial prize for history.

He has served as president of his debating society, was on the editorial board of his college's newspaper, and active in dramatics. He also was a member of his college's cricket team.

Williams is a member of the Labor party, and a veteran of the Royal navy with which he served three years.

SUI's debaters are both active in campus activities. McBurney is president of Omicron Delta Kappa, national men's honorary leadership fraternity, and past president of Delta Sigma Rho, national honorary speech society.

He is a former student council member and has been a varsity debater for three years. He also was the winner in the 1948 Hancher oratorical contest. He is a member of Phi Kappa Psi, social fraternity, and a veteran of World War II.

Diekmann, a student council member and committee chairman for the 1950-51 Panacea show, is also a three year varsity debate team member. He has represented SUI at the western conference debate tourney twice.

Diekmann is also a member of Delta Sigma Rho, Omicron Delta Kappa, and Alpha Tau Omega, social fraternities.

A dinner for the visiting debaters in the River room of the Iowa Memorial Union is planned before the debate.

SUI President Virgil M. Hancher will serve as chairman.

Couple with 17 Children Granted Divorce in W.Va.

MARTINSBURG, W. VA. (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. Harland Greenfield have got a divorce after 35 years of marriage and 17 children.

Circuit Judge Decatur H. Rodgers entered the decree for Mrs. Greenfield Tuesday. The order showed all but three of the children are now self-supporting. Mrs. Greenfield received custody of the three and the husband was directed to pay her $20 a month.

Greenfield operates a truck farm near Martinsburg.
A local court custom leaves all the papers but the decree under seal and it does not show the grounds for divorce.

Survivor Tells Story —

'Two Weeks on Death Train'

PYONGYANG, KOREA (UP)—Six more wounded and nearly starved survivors of last week's tunnel massacre of American prisoners of war have been found hiding in bushes on a hill, it was disclosed Wednesday.

The men said they were members of the group of about 100 who were taken from train in the tunnel in groups of 25 or 30, marched to nearby fields and mowed down with burp guns and rifles.

They said they believed 200 prisoners of war were aboard the Communist death train. Searchers have found only 70 bodies at the scene.

United Nations forces still had not been able to find the train which at last report had 150 prisoners still aboard.

Bonberry told the story of their ordeal as he lay on a surgical hospital cot near Pyongyang airfield.

"Before they shot us, we spent more than two weeks on that train, shuttling around, dodging American airplanes," Bonberry said. "They hid the train in tunnels in the daytime and made us squat in open fields. Whenever American planes spotted us, we were instructed to jump up, wave and try to identify ourselves as Americans."

"Last Saturday night we were in the tunnel after running into another train ahead. A guard came in and said, 'Let go chop chop,' which means they were going to give us chow. They took the fellows out in groups of 25 and 30. I was in the third group."

"We heard firing outside after each group had left, and I said to a corporal, 'We gotta get out of here. They are going to slaughter us.'"

"About that time, they came for our bunch. It was getting dark. They marched us into a cornfield, made us sit down and then opened up with burp guns."

"I was hit in the shoulder and right foot. I played dead. Six of us who were alive hit for the hills about 600 yards away and hid in the bushes."

GOP Predicts Winning 30 House Seats Nov. 7

By The Associated Press

The Republican congressional committee predicted Wednesday that the GOP will win at least 30 house seats in the Nov. 7 election—and maybe enough more to oust the Democrats from control.

Republicans now have 169 seats in the 435-member house. They need more to gain a majority.

The campaign committee's forecast came on the heels of a prediction by Vice - President Alben W. Barkley that the Democrats will gain strength in both houses and senate as a result of the election.

The chairman of the Republican group, Rep. Leonard W. Hall (N.Y.), said a district-by-district survey covering a large part of the country indicates "widespread resentment against the confusion and incompetence in Washington."

"If this resentment manifests itself in a national trend, then the prospects are that we will gain 55 to 60 seats and capture the house," Hall said in a statement.

Hall said Democratic campaign coffers are swelled by contributions from such groups as Americans for Democratic Action and the CIO political action committee.

CIO - PAC, meanwhile, said Sen. Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) did not know what he was talking about when he told his supporters the CIO group had dropped the Taft-Hartley act as an issue in Ohio.

In Washington, Harold L. Ickes said he had a notion to take a hand in the New York state campaign, which includes an all-out fight for reelection by Gov. Thomas E. Dewey.

Ickes said a New York issue "that needs thorough ventilation" is the "Hanley letter," in which Lt. Gov. Joe R. Hanley said he was assured of being able to pay his debts if he would accept the Republican senatorial nomination on the ticket headed by Gov. Thomas E. Dewey. Hanley had wanted to run for governor but took the senatorial nomination instead.

Department to Check Election Complaints

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Election fraud complaints from anywhere in the United States on Nov. 7 will be investigated by the department of justice, Atty. Gen. J. Howard McGrath said Wednesday.

In an address before Democratic lawyers, he said there was "no more despicable crime" than that of depriving a citizen of his right to vote through any scheme.

McGrath left for Richmond shortly after his speech. He was to speak Wednesday night at a Democratic party rally.

He defended President Truman's veto of the McCarran subversive control act, passed over the chief executive's veto, in his address here.

"The people of America, or a large part of them, were misled into believing that passage of the law would solve all our subversive problems," he said.

Local Infantry Officers Will Attend Meeting

Col. Chas Coulter, commanding officer of the 410th infantry regiment of Iowa City, will attend a meeting Saturday in Cedar Rapids of 103rd division units from eastern Iowa.

Regimental staff officers Maj. Richard T. Feddersen and Maj. Ben Summerwill will accompany Coulter.

Plans will be discussed at the meeting for a recruiting program to bring all units of the 103rd division to full strength, Coulter said.

Aims of New SUI Labor Bureau Outlined

SUI recently assumed an active part in helping to solve Iowa's labor-management problems with the establishment of a bureau of labor.

Prof. Karl E. Leib, acting director of the new service, said the principal aims of the bureau are sponsoring conferences on Iowa labor-management problems, conducting labor research studies and coordinating training in labor-management work.

Originally suggested by Gov. William S. Beardsley in his 1949 inaugural speech, the bureau began operations recently.

The acting director is head of the college of commerce department of labor and industrial management.

Major objectives of the bureau are:

1. To integrate instruction at SUI in various subjects related to the field of labor and management.
2. To conduct conferences and meetings of employers and employees to discuss problems confronting Iowa labor and management.
3. To engage in research in problems of labor and management on an industry-wide basis, attempting to study objectively problems which concern Iowa labor and management groups. Findings will be published and distributed to Iowa labor and management and to educational and public groups.

An advisory committee of Iowa citizens will be named soon to assist the bureau, Leib said. This will tentatively be a nine-member group with three members each from business interests, labor groups and the public.

Similar operations in 25 universities and colleges were studied in setting up the SUI bureau.

Iowa Firm Guilty Of Labor Abuses

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Labor Relations board, in a two to one decision, ruled Wednesday that the Heider Manufacturing company of Carroll, Iowa, was guilty of unfair labor practices in its dealings with Local 90 of the AFL teamsters and warehousemen's union.

The decision held that the company had refused to bargain collectively with the union in good faith and had discriminated against three members of a union negotiating committee by discharging them for alleged incompetence.

The order was signed by board members John M. Houston and Paul L. Styles. It set aside the findings of a trial examiner, Eugene F. Dixon, who had concluded that the company had not refused to bargain.

In a dissenting opinion, Board Chairman Paul M. Herzog, voted to affirm the examiner and to dismiss the complaint, which had been filed by the union in October, 1949.

Only 3 Candidates Report on Finances

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate officials reported Wednesday that only three senate candidates have filed reports on their political contributions and expenditures.

The three are running for reelection: Sens. Forest Donnell (R-Mo.), Walter George (D-Ga.) and Milton Young (R-N.D.). Federal laws require two reports from each senate candidate. One is to list contributions and expenditures from 15 to 10 days before an election, and the other, the same data, not longer than 30 days after an election.

Because no penalties are provided, officials said many senate candidates in the past have either ignored the law or filed the report late.

City Defendant In $10,948 Suit

The city of low City was named defendant in a damage suit for $10,948 filed Wednesday by Hattie Neubauer, 419 E. Benton street.

Mrs. Neubauer claimed that she tripped and fell over the protrusion of an automobile parked partly on the sidewalk in front of the Brogan Welding and Body shop last July 28.

She said the city was negligent in permitting the welding shop to park autos across the sidewalk in violation of city and state ordinances. She also named Pearl D. and Anna A. Brogan, owners of the shop, as defendants.

In her suit, Mrs. Neubauer is asking $5,000 for permanent injury to her right arm, $941.60 for hospital and doctors bills, $6.50 for clothes, and $5,500 for pain and suffering.

Co-ed Reports Truck Backed into Her Car

Nancy Jo Zadek, 44, Winnetka, Ill., Wednesday reported to police that her car was struck and damaged Tuesday noon when a truck bearing a Cedar county license plate backed into it.

The car was parked on Fairchild street at the north entrance to Currier hall. Miss Zadek said the truck driver did not stop.

Grange Leader

NEW YORK (UP) national Grange, died on Waldorf-Astoria hotel Wednesday night minutes after he spoke to 1,500 persons attending the New York Herald Tribune forum.

A hotel physician pronounced Goss dead of a heart attack after notables including Airforce Secretary Thomas K. Finletter, Herald Tribune Editor Whitelaw Reid and former ambassador to Japan Joseph C. Crew carried him from the speaker's platform to a hotel hallway.

Goss was a member of President Truman's committee on mobilization policy and had been active in affairs of the grange, national farmers' organization, since 1920.

A few minutes after he finished his speech and sat down, Goss slumped in his chair at the speaker's table. CIO President Philip Murray had just begun to speak when Goss was stricken.

Distinguished speakers on the dais rose and hurried to Goss' assistance while the crowd watched, stunned to silence.

The farm leader's speech had included a warning that price ceilings without rationing "merely serve to increase the demand without doing anything about increasing supplies and are sure to fail."

In concluding, he suggested that labor develop a parity formula as farmers have done, designed to indicate a price level for products "which is fair to producers and consumers alike and which fluctuates with wages and production costs."

Local Girl Leaves Paralysis Ward

Sharon Branson, 8, route 4, Iowa City, and four others were released from the polio ward of University hospitals Wednesday.

Total active cases numbered 19 when one new patient, Arnold Martin, 13, Dubuque, was admitted in "fair" condition.

Merlin Johnson, 14, Low Moor, was transferred to the inactive ward.

Others discharged include Janice Daubner, 2, Clinton; Lois Myrah, 3 months, Decorah; Patricia Farrington, 8, Cedar Rapids, and Noel Garvin, 2, West Union.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

ONE of Heywood Broun's pet hates was ghost-written political speeches—particularly when they failed utterly to reflect either the convictions or the personalities of the big shots who were delivering them.

Warren G. Harding pulled one of these phony orations at a newsmen's banquet shortly after he had assumed the presidency—a pompous, cliche-laden address that sounded more like a circus press-agent than a president of the United States.

There was some polite applause as Harding resumed his seat. Then Broun jumped up and cried, "Author! Author!"

Bob Considine and his popular wife Mildred were off for one of the innumerable parties they attend. At the door Mrs. C. embraced one of her young hopefuls and said, "Do you want to play with your electric trains tonight or just stay with Nuria?" The boy answered without hesitation, "What would Daddy do?"

That Stubborn North-West Wind

SECONDS BEFORE ITS COLLAPSE, a 608 foot radio tower bends in the wind at Spokane. An amateur photographer waited long enough to snap this picture of radio station KHQ's transmission tower before he ran from the falling tangle of steel. The tower snapped 300 feet up, and the whole structure collapsed. The incomplete tower would have been 826 feet high. Lower left is the station's old tower broken in half by wind a year ago.

High Court Hearing On Rutledge Appeal Postponed to March

DES MOINES (AP)—The Iowa supreme court granted a request by the state Wednesday that oral arguments on the appeal of Dr. Robert Rutledge, St. Louis, from a murder conviction be moved up to the March term of court.

A hearing on the young doctor's appeal originally was set for the December term of court, but Asst. Atty. Gen. Don Hile asked for more time to file his brief and arguments.

A district court jury at Cedar Rapids convicted him of second degree murder in May of 1949. He was accused of stabbing Byron Hattman to death in a Cedar Rapids hotel room in December, 1948.

The extension gave the state until Jan. 2 to file its case. The stipulation provided that Rutledge's attorneys would have until March 1 in which to file a reply to the state's brief.

Rutledge, a St. Louis baby specialist, remained free on $40,000 bond pending the outcome of his appeal. He served nearly a year of a 70-year sentence in Fort Madison penitentiary before he was freed on bond last spring.

Local Chest Drive At 82 Percent Mark

Eighty-two percent of the 1951 Iowa City Community Chest goal of $28,468.24 was reached by noon Wednesday. Contributions totaled $23,118.48.

Division four, headed by Roy A. Williams, has exceeded its $4,271 by $142 and Division three headed by Prof. M. C. Boyer of the SUI college of engineering, is nearing its $6,713.87 division goal.

Divisions one and two headed by Martin Hunter and Mrs. Dorothy Borchardt respectively have collected $9,667.35 and $3,203.08. The Division one goal is $12,690.13 and $4,665.17 is the Division two quota.

New York Cracks Down On Election Hoodlums

NEW YORK (AP)—The nation's biggest city cracked down on hoodlums Wednesday.

A hoodlum, by definition of its acting mayor, is anyone who might cause trouble in the locally red-hot election.

About 700 detectives threaded the city's by-ways, picking up petty crooks and tough guys in their hangouts. Police stations were crowded with grumbling bums. A special magistrate's court was set up to dispose of them.

By mid-day 210 had been arrested. The cops even arrested one on Staten Island, traditionally the quietest of the city's five boroughs since the Indians gave up the island to the Dutch three centuries ago.

The defendants were charged with vagrancy, under complaints signed by the detectives who arrested them. The vagrancy law covers anyone without a visible, legal means of support.

Some men were picked up while playing cards, others for no apparent reason except that they had police records. Unless they can produce evidence of a legal occupation, they face fines or jail sentences.

The roundup was ordered by Acting Mayor Vincent Impellitteri, a Democrat running as an independent because he couldn't get the Democratic nomination.

Impellitteri said he had received "alarming reports" that his opposition might resort to strong-arm tactics to intimidate voters before and on election day.

"We want New York City to be uncomfortable for all crooks and their unsavory political henchmen," Impellitteri said.

His recently appointed police commissioner, Thomas F. Murphy, who's been clearing the department of gambling graft charges, showed he meant business.

Doctors to Attend Chicago Meetings

Eleven doctors in the SUI department of internal medicine plan to attend one or more of three meetings in Chicago Nov. 1 to 4.

Drs. L.E. January, F.L. DeGowin, James W. Culbertson and Henry E. Hamilton plan to attend the meeting of the Central Clinical Research club at the University of Illinois medical school Nov. 1.

They plan to remain in Chicago for the Central Society for Clinical Research meeting Nov. 1. Other staff members who will attend this meeting are Dr. W. B. Bean, vice-president of the group; Drs. W. M. Fowler, W.M. Kirkendall, and Robert E. Hodges.

Drs. T. Lyle Carr, Richard D. Eckhardt and Raymond Sheets are among those planning to attend the Nov. 2 meeting of the Association for Study of Liver Diseases.

Ten staff members of the SUI hospital school for severely handicapped children will attend the annual convention of the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults today through Saturday in Chicago.

Those attending include W. B. Schoenbohm, director of the hospital school; Grace Ann Orr, senior teacher; David Ray, assistant director; Charlotte Vasey, physical therapist; Helen Cooper, occupational therapist; Virginia Petty, teacher; Marjorie Lewis, teacher; Denise Abramovitz, graduate assistant; Ernest Morrison, graduate assistant; and Alice Carlstedt, head nurse.

Dr. Scanlon to Aid In Classifying Medics

Dr. G. H. Scanlon, Iowa City physician, Wednesday was named advisory chairman to the Johnson county draft board to aid in classifying and calling up for service local doctors, dentists and veterinarians.

The county board has 14 doctors, 6 dentists and 2 veterinarians under its jurisdiction. It must classify by Oct. 31 all those registrants with less than 90 days of military service.

Dr. Scanlon said the army will try to call medical men with specific specialties needed, with the youngest men going first.

Iowa Man Killed By Power Saw

BRADGATE, IOWA (AP)—Dewey Warren Vote, 62, was injured fatally Wednesday when he stumbled into the blade of a power saw while cutting wood on his farm near here.

Drawn into the power unit when the blade caught him, Vote was killed instantly, authorities said. Coroner Harvey Bogaard said there would be no inquest.

Vote received nationwide attention two years ago when his name, Dewey Warren, caught the fancy of voters and politicians alike.

A Republican, Vote said he cast his ballot in the 1948 presidential election for Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York and Gov. Earl Warren of California.

Local Woman Receives Uncontested Divorce

Margaret Langille, 215 E. Horse Thiefs Trade Swayback Nag For Champ

CHICAGO (AP)—A pair of itinerant "horse traders" made off with a prize stallion and left a candidate for the glue factory in his place, a riding academy owner charged Wednesday.

Lloyd Teater, operator of a stable at suburban Morton Grove, swore out larceny and burglary warrants against L. S. Dickey and Ezra Trueblood, who appeared at his place Sunday night.

Teater said the two told him they were from West Baden, Ind., and would like to board a horse at the tables.

The next day, he declared, the men were gone and so was Gallant Marine, $20,000 five-gaited show horse. In Gallant Marine's stall was the nag the two had brought with them.

Moans Loss

The American Saddle Horse Breeders' association at Louisville, Ky., said that Gallant Marine may have been offered for sale to Horace Levy, Nashville, Tenn. The association said Levy had made application for a transfer of ownership to him.

Meanwhile, Teater moaned the loss of his fine chestnut stallion and looked with disdain on the swayback munching oats in his stall.

Staff to Attend Chicago Meeting

Ten staff members of the SUI hospital school for severely handicapped children will attend the annual convention of the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults today through Saturday in Chicago.

SUI Pershing Rifles To Attend Convention

SUI's Pershing Rifles will leave Iowa City today to attend a national convention of the organization in Bloomington, Ind., the ROTC commandant, Col. W. W. Jenna, announced Wednesday.

The local group, part of the Pershing Rifles national military honor fraternity, plans to leave at 3:30 p.m. from the Iowa City airport in an Iowa air national guard plane.

At a ceremony immediately before take-off, honor awards will be made to members of the unit by Cadet Col. Everett Waller Jr., G. Sioux City.

Four Faculty Men To Speak in CR

Four SUI commerce professors will present a round table discussion of "Critical Points in the 1950 American Economy" at 6:15 p.m. Thursday in the Cedar Rapids chamber of commerce building.

C. Woody Thompson, director of the SUI bureau of business and economic research, will serve as moderator.

Ten minute speeches will be made by Prof. Paul R. Olson, head of economics department, on "Foreign Trade"; Prof. Robert H. Johnson, of the economics department on "Public Finance and Fiscal Policy"; and Prof. Clark C. Bloom of the general business department, on "Small Business."

Thompson will speak on "Iowa Manufacturing" before assuming his duties as moderator.

Senator Humphrey Calls U.S. Policy An Offensive for UN

DETROIT LAKES, MINN. (AP)—Sen. Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn.) said Wednesday American foreign policy is beginning to "crystallize an offensive for the United Nations."

Humphrey declared in a Kiwanis club speech that the next few months will test the strength of our people and "we will find if we are willing to pay the price of peace."

"American foreign policy, as outlined by President Truman and Secretary of State Dean Acheson," he said, "is beginning to crystallize an offensive for the United Nations."

"We are no longer on the defensive. We have organized a 53-nation counteroffensive."

Humphrey said communism and its "international conspiracy" must be understood so it can be combated with an organized "solid combination of free people into a strong democratic movement."

He also called for a strong defense program, a militant foreign policy to insure peace and a strong aid program for friendly European and Asiatic countries.

Kidnapping Claim By Winterset Man

OTTUMWA (AP)—Wapello county authorities disclosed Wednesday they are investigating a Winterset automobile dealer's story that he was kidnapped Monday night by four men who demanded $12,000.

Russell Cain, 28, told Sheriff Everett Orman he escaped after the men drove him in his own car from Winterset to near Ottumwa.

According to the sheriff, Cain said the four men accosted him as he got out of his car at his apartment Monday night and demanded $12,000.

One man carried a gun, he said, and they forced him into the back seat of his car where they blindfolded him and drove away, with another car following.

Cain said he told the men he could not get that much money on "such short notice."

He said that when the car stopped near Ottumwa he lifted his blindfold and saw four men standing in front of it.

Cain said he tore off his blindfold, locked the car doors and drove away.

Local Boy Named County 4-H Head

Martin Warren, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Warren, route 6, was elected president of the Johnson county 4-H Boys club for 1950-51.

Other officers elected include Ronald Davis, route 4, vice-president; Earl Johnson, Oxford, secretary-treasurer; and Mike Kral, Solon, historian.

Iowa Drills On Passing, Defense

Hawkeyes End Practice Today

Passing and defensive work once again commanded top attention Wednesday in football practice as the Hawkeyes neared the end of their preparations for Ohio State.

Today's practice will be the last for the underdog Hawks before leaving Friday morning by plane for Columbus. The squad will run through a light signal drill Friday afternoon after arrival.

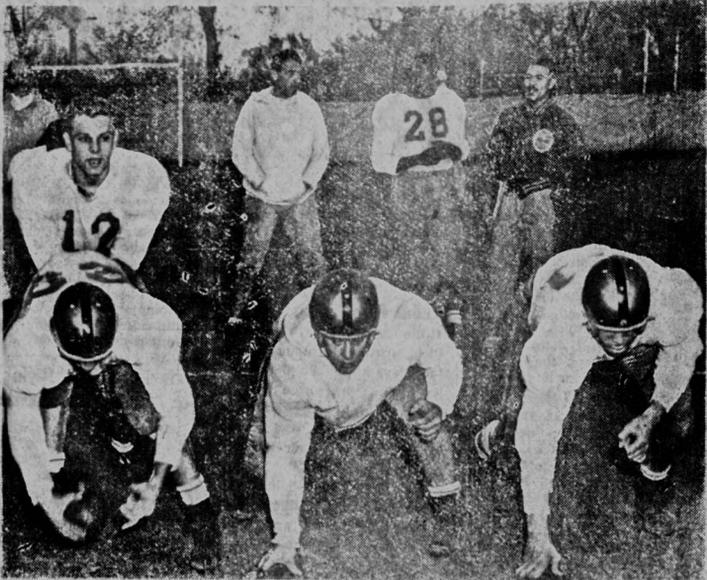

Bernard Bennett, sophomore all-stater from Mason City, Wednesday looked secure in Don Commack's left halfback spot. Commack will miss the Ohio State game because of an injured shoulder suffered in last week's win over Purdue.

It's not known now how long the Waterloo mite will be sidelined. Iowa officials are reasonably confident he'll be ready to go against Minnesota one week from Saturday.

With Bennett in the lineup, the Hawks have a three pronged passing attack.

While the offensive team was perfecting plays calculated to counteract Ohio State's attack, the defense was working against Buckeye plays run by reserves.

On several occasions, the varsity unit didn't have much success in stopping either the Ohio State styled running or passing plays.

INJURED HALFBACK DON COMMACK (right) who will probably miss Saturday's Ohio State game because of a shoulder injury, stopped by the practice field Wednesday to see how preparations were going. Standing to the left of Commack is his probable replacement, Bernard Bennett. While Commack wished Bennett good luck, Quarterback Glenn Drahn (behind the center) polished his signal calling. Shown in the line, from left to right, are Ron Petersen, Ron Fairchild and Hubert Johnston. Varsity assistant Ben Douglas is shown in the background.

On Football Trips — Hawkeyes Follow Routine

— Cards, Reading Favored

By JACK SQUIRE

Iowa's football team is scheduled for an out-of-town game this weekend which means that another typical trip is in store for the Hawkeye traveling party.

This time it will be an air trip to Columbus for the big Ohio State affair. But whether travel is by plane, train or bus, 100 or 1,000 miles, it's just about certain the same routine will be followed by all concerned.

Deck of Cards

About five minutes after the trip gets underway, Fred Ruck is sure to flash a pack of cards and get an instant response from Joe Paulsen, who invariably supplies the chips. It takes mighty quick action to beat out Jerry Long and Andy Buntz to form a four-some.

Not all the Hawkeyes, however, use this method to pass away the time. A great many read, with subject matter ranging from Superman to Shakespeare.

A few conscientious souls take advantage of the hours spent traveling by catching up on their studies. That's the favorite pastime of Bill Greene, Burt Britzman and Bob Hoff.

Tackle Harold Bradley also puts his time to good use by sketching scenery, people or anything else to his liking. Bradley is an art major and has won several prizes for his work.

How to while away the hours is no problem for Austin Turner. The rugged Hawkeye guard merely gets comfortable, closes his eyes and spends almost the entire trip in peaceful slumber.

In every crowd there's always one fellow good for laughs and the Iowa squad is no exception. It's a rare trip, indeed, when big Mike Riley isn't clowning in good fashion.

"Mike is just naturally funny," said one of his teammates.

If the trip is by train, Junebug Perrin is in his glory. Perrin who spends his summer working for the railroad, spends a good deal of the trip conversing with the conductor and other train officials.

Highlight of any trip for Junebug is when the train stalls. This gives him an opportunity to check with the engineer and report the "lowdown" to his mates.

Curfew at 10 p.m.

When the party arrives at its destination, usually at night, the players are assigned rooms in the hotel by positions. Curfew is at 10 p.m. with room checks made by line coach Pat Boland.

The players are awakened at about 8:45 a.m. Saturday and dig into a breakfast of steak, tea and toast. That's the last food eaten until after the game.

Legal Point Clouds Rickey's Future

NEW YORK (AP) — An involved, 000 purchase price in installment deal and a section of small print in the major league rules rose up Wednesday to confuse Branch Rickey's future in baseball.

It was learned Wednesday that Rickey, in disposing of his 25 percent stock in the Brooklyn club, agreed to accept the $1,35,- payments covering a ten and a half year period.

Major league rule 20 reads:

"No club or stockholder or official of a club shall, directly or indirectly, own stock or have any financial interest in any other club in its league."

This brought up the question of how the Brooklyn general manager could, by following this type of contract, go through with his plans to remain in baseball.

Rickey has been reported headed for an executive role with the Pittsburgh Pirates, whose owner, John W. Galbreath, is a long time friend. Other rumors have had him buying into the St. Louis Browns.

Asked about this fine legal point, Rickey said: "I have no ownership in the Dodgers now."

"I don't see any conflict," he added. "Maybe I wasn't keen enough to see any conflict."

Rickey recently agreed to dispose of his 25 percent Brooklyn stock to William Zeckendorf, New York realty operator, for $1,025,000.

However, Walter F. O'Malley, vice president and secretary of the Dodgers, and Mrs. John L. Smith, announced they will exercise prior rights and purchase the Rickey stock.

Each of them owns 25 percent. Rickey's stock would give them 75 percent of the ball club.

Asked about the Rickey deal, O'Malley said, "It's Rickey's contract and he can discuss it if he wants to. I will not."

There seemed no likelihood that the involved deal could keep Rickey out of baseball, if he chose to take a spot elsewhere.

FOOTBALL FATALITY JAMESVILLE, WIS. (AP) — Donald Rabuck, 16-year-old high school center, died Wednesday, the second fatality in Wisconsin attributed to football this month. Physicians said death was due to a cerebral hemorrhage.

(AP Wirephoto)

FRESCO THOMPSON, present director of the Brooklyn farm system, is expected to replace Branch Rickey as Dodger general manager. The board of directors will meet today to decide definitely. Rickey is reportedly interested in moving to the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Irish Need New Attack School President Says

DES MOINES (AP) — Notre Dame's football offense "may need a little revitalizing," the Rev. John L. Cavanaugh, president of the University of Notre Dame, said here Wednesday.

"Kids all over the country are becoming pretty familiar with the T, and I think most of the T's are a bit weaker than before," Father Cavanaugh observed. "It's the kids who devise the defenses, I think, on the sandlots and in their backyards."

Hoff 'Iowa's Athlete of Week'

Bob Hoff, already honored by United Press sports writers as Midwest lineman of the week, Wednesday became "Iowa's athlete of the week." The selection will become a weekly feature sponsored by the SUI varsity lettermen's club.

After being overshadowed during the two previous seasons by standout ends Jack Dittmer and Bob McKenzie, the Cedar Rapids senior is making himself a spot in the sports spotlight. Hoff is playing good, tough end for the Hawks.

In this day and age of the two-platoon system Hoff requires no relief because of his sure defensive play and his rapidly improving offensive work. He specializes at crashing through enemy defensive patterns as attested to in the Purdue game when he personally slipped the Boilermaker offense out of gear.

Konstanty, Rizzuto Most Valuable

NEW YORK (AP) — Mr. Duran, Konstanty and Mr. Reliability—Jim Konstanty and Phil Rizzuto Wednesday won The United Press "player of the year" awards for the manner in which they set the pennant winning pace for the Philadelphia Phillies and the New York Yankees.

It was a foregone conclusion that neither team could have made it without these stars, a fact that was reflected in their overwhelming majorities in the balloting by veteran baseball writers from each of the major league cities.

Rizzuto, the littiest guy in the American league, was named on 18 out of 24 ballots for his rally-wrecking play at shortstop, while Konstanty, the ever-ready reliever who set a modern record by working in 74 games for the Phillies, received 15 votes.

The only other players considered in the American league were Boston's Mr. Versatility, Billy Goodman, the utility star who also won the league batting championship, and Yogi Berra, the Yankee catcher. Each received three votes. Stan (The Man) Musial of the Cardinals, who has been the big man in his league on several past occasions, drew three votes for his winning of the National league batting title again, while peppercorn Eddie Stanky, the second baseman who switched descriptions of the New York Giants from mediocre to excellent, also was named on three ballots. Shortstop Granny Hamner of the Phillies received two votes and first baseman and Dodger home run pacer-setter Gil Hodges picked up one. But none of them came up to the performances of Konstanty and Rizzuto.

Bucks in Shape

COLUMBUS, OHIO (AP) — Ohio State's football team—sixth-rated in the nation in The Associated Press poll—was out in full force Wednesday preparing for the Iowa Hawkeyes' visit to Ohio stadium. All three of the Bucks injured were on hand, although End Tom Watson did not don pads for the drill.

Gussie Makes Pro Tennis Debut Tonight

NEW YORK (AP) — Gussie Moran, champion of cheesecake and wearer of the world's most mentioned unmentionables, makes her professional tennis debut at Madison Square Garden tonight against Pauline Teed Addie, four-time national champion.

Jack Kramer and Pancho Segura meet in the male half of the bill in this first program in a series which will tour the nation. The leggy Miss Moran, who created such a sensation at Wimbledon in 1949 by exposing her lace-trimmed panties, has given many conflicting stories as to what she'll wear for the big match—leopard-skin panties, lace-trimmed panties, panties with sequins. So the breathless sporting world will simply have to wait to make sure.

Meters Moved for Street Widening

(Daily Iowan Photo)

WORKMEN WHO TORE UP THE CURBING to widen Washington street (above) had to remove each of the meters and place them five feet further back. Washington street is included in the $150,000 street improvement project being done for the city by the Hargrave Construction company of Cedar Rapids. The work is not expected to be completed until next spring.

'Old Bob' Sealed in Cave

Rescue Workers Drop Search for Trapped Dog After Moving 'Half a Hill' in Week's Work

BEDFORD, IND. (UP) — Old Bob, the "best dum coon dog in these parts," was sealed up Wednesday in the cave where he was trapped for a week on the trail of his last raccoon. There were those who thought they still heard faint bays from the interior of the cave, but Lawrence Clark, Old Bob's master, gave up.

"He's dead," he said. "We did everything we could, but we couldn't save him."

Dejectedly, Clark watched while workmen sealed the cave entrance, forever entombing Old Bob, but not his quarry.

Fresh tracks leading from the cave earlier had established that the sly raccoon had given Old Bob the slip in the tortuous passages of the cavern and escaped.

Most of this stone-quarry town had turned out to help Clark attempt to rescue Old Bob when the hound chased the coon into the cave a week ago and apparently became wedged in one of the narrow passages.

Dynamite was used, bulldozers moved "half a hill" in an attempt to widen the narrow, jagged cavern and rescuers who increased their bodies tried to worm their way to the dog.

But all the effort failed to penetrate more than 50 feet back into the cavern, and somewhere farther on was Bob.

"When we hit solid stone, we had to give it up," Clark said.

The bays of Old Bob, at first strong and then gradually fainter and fainter, had spurred rescuers on.

"He sounded at if he was saying 'I've got the critter treed—come and get him!'" Clark said.

KELLY'S SON TO WED

CHICAGO (AP) — A son of the late Edward J. Kelly, former Chicago mayor, will be married Saturday in the same church where Kelly's funeral was held Tuesday.

Ike Says He's Still A Soldier, Doesn't Know Any Politicians

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Dwight D. Eisenhower, the soldier the Republicans think would be a good bet as a vote-getting politician, did nothing to bolster their morale Wednesday when he refused to say whether he was one of them. The general told a news conference it was "against public sentiment" for a soldier to be identified with a political party and said he didn't come to Indianapolis to confer with politicians. "I don't even know any," he said. "I'm a soldier and I'm not certain if those days are over," Eisenhower added. "I'm still on the active list and subject to call." The World War II European allied commander, now president of Columbia university, said he came here to announce to an alumni club the establishment of a long-term university project designed to "throw impartial light on the major problems which confront America."

He said the project — known

Not Lazy, 'Scared'

NEW YORK (AP)—Bored? Lazy? Then you're scared.

"Boredom, inertia and laziness are symptoms," Dr. Irving Bieber, associate clinical professor of psychiatry at New York medical college, told the Cooper union forum.

"No one is born with tendencies to be bored or lazy," he said. "These symptoms are the by-products of fear. They are manifestations . . . of the fear of action."

as "The American Assembly" — will bring together representatives of business, labor, professional men, politicians and government to study national affairs.

Asked about the possibility of being named supreme chief of staff of Atlantic treaty nations, Eisenhower said he had not been approached on the subject. He said he had a "tentative engagement" to talk to defense leaders in Washington this weekend but would make the trip "with no specific thought in mind." "I'm a soldier," he said, "and they can send me any place in the world they want to — if they want to."

Student, 3 Others Fined $50 Here

An SUI student and three other persons were fined a total of $50 by Judge Emil G. Trott in police court Wednesday.

Charles L. Conway, Cedar Rapids, was fined $12.50 for permitting an unauthorized person to drive a vehicle owned by him. Robert E. Conway was fined $12.50 for operating a motor vehicle without a driver's license.

James R. Stevens, G. 166 Riverside park, was fined $12.50 for driving without a driver's license. Five dollars of the amount was suspended.

George G. Jensen was fined $12.50 for failure to stop at a school stop sign. The fine was suspended.
