S. Koreans Reach Border; Red Resistance Increases

SEOUL (FRIDAY) (AP)—South Korean troops drove to the sensitive Yalu river border of Chinese Manchuria at one point late Thursday in the strengthening Allied campaign to end the war by occupying all Korea.

However, North Koreans stopped retreating and counter-attacked Thursday on the left flank of a sector where South Korean troops have reached the Manchurian border.

A U. S. Eighth army spokesman acknowledged today that the attacks were well directed.

The Reds, whose resistance had waned since the loss of Pyongyang last week, turned on the

Truman Confirms He May Recall Congress; Doesn't Say When

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman said Thursday he's thinking of calling congress back into session before Nov. 27 to deal with rent control, an excess profits tax and other legislation including statehood for Alaska and Hawaii.

He wouldn't say, however, whether the call may be issued before election day. Congress itself has set the Nov. 27 date for reassembling. Some Republicans say the President would be playing politics if he set the date ahead and made the announcement before the Nov. 7 election.

Mr. Truman confirmed at his weekly news conference that a call for the lawmakers to come back earlier is under consideration.

He said also that:

1. He doesn't expect trouble with the Russians in western Europe this winter.
2. He hasn't heard of any Soviet atomic explosions since the one he announced 13 months ago.
3. He understands that Korea's whole northern frontier will be occupied by South Korean troops only — in other words, that U. S. troops won't be stationed on the border of Communist territory.
4. He may make a campaign speech or two on behalf of Democratic candidates for the senate and house. If he does, he probably will speak by radio from Washington.

South Koreans in northwestern Korea at points 50 to 70 miles from their fallen capital.

Red resistance also picked up in northeast Korea in defense of two reservoirs. A powerful force of 50,000 men, including an American marine and infantry division, poured ashore at Wonsan to bolster the Republic's soldiers in the northeast sector.

Loveland Declares He Favors UMT, Health Program

Al Loveland, Democratic candidate for the U. S. senate, said Thursday night he favors universal military training and some kind of a health program similar to the social security plan.

Speaking before about 250 persons in the River room of the Iowa Union, Loveland said, "As much as I'm against war I think we're probably going to have to have UMT."

Loveland suggested some kind of program be worked out where by youths could take their training near their homes, perhaps in high schools or in colleges.

He carefully avoided the term "socialized medicine" when referring to the administration's proposed health program.

"I'm in favor of a plan something like the social security plan where people can have medical attention when they need it and have it paid for out of a fund that could be built up."

Loveland declared he would work for the repeal of the Taft-Hartley labor law if he were elected. "It is not a good law for the working people," he said.

Poisoning Cases Referred to Mayor

Findings in the cases of four people allegedly suffering from ptomaine poisoning after eating ham sandwiches in the Princess cafe Sept. 13 were turned over to Mayor Preston Koser Thursday.

The report, filed by Dr. D. F. Fitzpatrick, city health physician, was based on the testimony of two of the four persons who became ill.

Koser said he has taken this report under advisement and will present it to the city board of health at its next meeting Nov. 6. The board is composed of members of the city council who meet twice a year to discuss public health matters.

GETTING READY FOR THE TRIP to Columbus and the Ohio State game are (left to right) Bill Reichardt, co-captain Glen Drahn and Jerry Fiske. The Iowa backs were packing their equipment Thursday in the dressing room of the Iowa stadium. They will be among the 40-man traveling squad which leaves Iowa City at 7 a. m. today for Cedar Rapids. From there they will board two chartered planes and arrive in Columbus at 12:30 p. m. (EST). Following the game, the Hawkeyes will return to the Cedar Rapids airport at 7:30 p. m. Saturday and arrive in Iowa City by bus at 8:15 p. m.

SUI Staffers May Now File Requests for Parking Space

SUI staff members may now file requests for reserved parking privileges on the campus under regulations scheduled to go into effect Nov. 1. R. J. Phillips, superintendent of maintenance and operation, announced Thursday.

Application forms are available at the office of the superintendent in Old Dental building. Staff members may call in person or request forms by phone and receive them in the campus mail.

Staff members of the college of medicine may secure a request form from the dean's office, and those in the University hospitals may obtain the form from the office of the superintendent of hospitals.

Priorities for parking privileges recently announced by Fred W. Ambrose, SUI business manager, will be followed in the assignment of reserved parking facilities.

The priorities are:

1. Official visitors on a temporary basis.
2. Disabled students or staff members.
3. Staff members who are dependent on the use of an automobile for transportation to and from campus.
4. Other staff members according to academic or equivalent rank.

The request for reserved parking will require the approval of the dean or administrative officer of the college or department in which the staff member is employed.

Ambrose also called attention to the requirement that autos operated by the owner and licensed in Iowa must have the registration certificate displayed to the owner's name can be seen without entering the car.

Other cars, licensed out-of-state or licensed in Iowa and not operated by the owner, must display a label on which appears the name and student number of the operator.

"Not all staff members who desire reserved parking privileges will receive assignments," Ambrose said Thursday.

Nobel Medical Prize Awarded to Three

STOCKHOLM, SWEDEN (AP)—The 1950 Nobel prize in medicine was awarded jointly Thursday night to two Mayo clinic doctors and a Swiss professor for their work on two hormones that relieve rheumatoid arthritis and open a new field of research on other diseases.

The winners are Dr. Edward C. Kendall, 64, chief of the biochemistry laboratory of the Mayo clinic at Rochester, Minn.; Dr. Philip S. Hench, 54, head of a Mayo clinic medical section, and Dr. Tadeusz Reichstein, 53, professor of chemistry at the University of Basel. They will divide prize money of 164,303 crowns ($31,715).

The official citation said the prize was awarded "for their discoveries regarding the hormones of the adrenal cortex, their structure and biological effects."

Cortisone and ACTH are the hormones — cell secretions that stimulate the activity of cells elsewhere in the body — on which the three have specialized.

SO LONG, JOE
LONG BEACH (AP)—Two refugees from Russia made port here Thursday after a 10,000-mile voyage in a 20-foot sailboat equipped only with a cheap tin compass.

Hardman was transferred to Korea the first week in July, shortly after the North Korean invasion, from Osaka, where he was assistant chief of staff of operations for the 25th infantry division.

With him in Osaka for two years were Mrs. Hardman and their son, Richard. After the beginning of the Korean war, Mrs. Hardman and Richard returned to the United States on an army transport.

"We wanted to come back anyway," Mrs. Hardman explained, "to get Richard in high school in the U. S. so he wouldn't have to change in the middle of a year."

Richard is now a freshman at City High.

Club Suggests Route to Game

The Iowa Motor club Thursday suggested an automobile route to Columbus, Ohio, for Hawkeye fans driving to the Iowa - Ohio State football game Saturday.

Club officials suggested that motorists take U. S. highway 6 to Joliet, Ill., U. S. 30 to Van Wert, Ohio, south on U. S. 30 to Lima, state highway 117 to Bellefontaine, and U. S. 33 into Columbus.

As of Thursday there were no detours along this route, club officials said.

Tickets for Concert Available Today

The first 1,125 tickets for the Don Cossack concert Monday, will be given out at the Iowa Union today to SUI students presenting I. D. cards.

Starting at 8 a. m., 125 student tickets will be distributed each hour on the hour, with the last group scheduled to be issued at 4 p. m.

Prof. C. B. Righter, manager of the University concert course, said married students may buy spouse tickets today, but that no tickets for faculty or townspeople will be sold until Saturday.

A student presenting his own I. D. card and that of one other person will be given two tickets, Righter said.

Slow Mobilizing Of Reservists

WASHINGTON (AP)—The armed forces announced a slowdown in mobilization of reservists Thursday and the army said it hopes to begin releasing national guardsmen and others ordered to duty in the Korean war crisis next summer.

The airforce said it will stop calling up enlisted reservists on a compulsory basis and involuntary recall of reserve officers will be confined to those in "critical specialties."

The navy said it will stop the involuntary recall of reserve aviators and aviation ground officers.

The marine corps said reserve officers and enlisted men scheduled for recall by next June 30 will be notified individually by the end of December. Thereafter, those recalled will get four months notice.

Pact Nations Call For European Defense Chief

What Lack of Women Will Do

WONSAN AIRPORT, KOREA (AP)—Bob Hope brought his troupe to this air base Thursday for the first marine division, but blonde Marilyn Maxwell stole the show with a tight sweater and a song, "I Want to Love You."

Hope may be famous, but he was just another man to the hundreds of marine airmen here, some of whom haven't seen an American girl in months. Signs advertising his personal appearance read:

"MARILYN MAXWELL WILL SHOW THURSDAY, OCT. 26" (With Bob Hope)

Eisenhower Mentioned as 'Likely Choice'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Military chiefs of the 12 North Atlantic treaty nations recommended with "urgency" Thursday night that a supreme commander to direct the common defense of Western Europe be set up without delay.

The announcement came a few hours after the White House disclosed that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, often mentioned as a likely choice for the supreme command post, will probably confer with President Truman this week-end.

Declines Comment
An American spokesman declined to say just what country had been suggested as the possible source of the supreme commander. Should it be an American, his selection would be up to President Truman.

In Indianapolis Wednesday, Eisenhower told newsmen he was coming to Washington within a few days to confer with defense department officials.

Ike Pleased
The general said he did not know what the department wanted, but he commented: "I am happy and pleased, of course, that the people of Europe have suggested me to head their defense army."

The group made it clear they want no delay in appointing a supreme commander. They took the position this step should not wait for the organization of a powerful new multi-nation army. There had been suggestions previously that the pact army should be organized first before an overall commander was chosen.

No Chance of Changing 1950 Christmas Recess, Council Told

Dean Dewey B. Stuit, college of liberal arts, told SUI's student council Thursday night there is no chance of changing the Christmas vacation to allow students to return later than Jan. 2.

"You might just as well know," he told the council, "that this vacation will not be changed. When a calendar is set up, it is set up."

A council member had pointed out that students living at a distance would have to spend New

'Jazz at Philharmonic' To Give Two Concerts At Union Tonight

The lounge will be "leaping" at the Iowa Union tonight as 10 of the nation's top jazz artists swing out in two concerts of "Jazz at the Philharmonic."

Larry Sullivan, C4, Hamburg, publicity chairman, said Thursday there were no tickets left for the first show at 7:30 p. m., but a number were available for the 10 p. m. concert.

Ella Fitzgerald, vocalist, and Oscar Peterson, Canadian pianist, will be featured performers on tonight's program.

Members of the jazz group will be interviewed during "Tea Time" today and "Rhythm Rumbles" Saturday over WSUI.

Jack Drury, A3, Aurora, Ill., and Gloria Oberer, A2, Cedar Rapids, will conduct the interviews on "Tea Time" at 4:30 p. m. today.

Boyd Workhoven, A3, Iowa City, will tape record his interview with members of the troupe for use on "Rhythm Rumbles" at noon Saturday.

20,000 Attend Jolson Funeral

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Al Jolson drew his greatest — and a near-riotous — audience Thursday but his voice was stilled and someone else sang over him.

So huge was the gathering outside Temple Israel that police had to form a human barrier, locking hands, to keep the throng of more than 20,000 persons in check.

The great "Mammy Sings" funeral was delayed nearly 15 minutes by the pressing, milling crowd which jammed Hollywood boulevard and kept many of the invited mourners from reaching the temple.

The great names of show business, intent only on paying their last goodbye to "Mr. Show Business," wept unashamedly at the services.

Man to Be Arraigned In Police Court Today On Assault Charge

John M. Coker, 33, Union bus depot employe, is scheduled for an 8 a. m. arraignment in police court today on a charge of assault with intent to do great bodily injury.

Police said Mrs. Dorothy Brackelsburg, 35, Keokuk, filed charges against Coker Wednesday evening after she was badly beaten in a room in the Van Meter hotel.

Coker appeared before Police Judge Emil G. Trott Thursday morning and the case was continued. Coker was committed to the county jail in default of $2,500 bond.

Reason Not Known
Police said it was not known why she was beaten, but State Agent Bob Gregson and Detective Oliver White were continuing the investigation.

According to police, Mrs. Brackelsburg first called to learn the location of the police station and appeared there at 7:45 p. m. badly beaten. She was rushed to University hospitals by ambulance.

Severe Bruises
Officers said she had severe bruises about the head and possibly a dislocated neck. University hospitals reported her in good condition Thursday.

Coker told police he was a cook by trade and was living at the Van Meter hotel while working at the Union bus depot.

Records show Coker was released from parole Aug. 18 after serving a sentence in an Iowa penal institution.

Over 9,000 Miles of Wire and Radio Circuits — Local Woman Talks with Husband in Korea

A phone call from Seoul, Korea, across 9,000 miles of wire and radio circuits, came in with perfect clarity to Iowa City Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Wayne Hardman, 317 S. Johnson street, talked three minutes Tuesday with her husband, Lt. Col. Wayne Hardman, and said except for a "waviness" in volume, "it was like talking to someone right here in Iowa City."

Tuesday's call was no surprise. Mrs. Hardman reported Thursday. Her husband called first Monday night, but was cut off by line difficulties. She was told to wait for a call at 5 p. m. Tuesday.

Colonel Hardman said everything "was going well and that he felt fine," Mrs. Hardman reported.

"He hopes to be back by Thanksgiving," she said, "and he's sure he'll be here for Christmas."

The three-minute conversation seemed to be over almost before it started, Mrs. Hardman pointed out.

Before she returned from Osaka, Japan, she and her husband often talked over signal corps lines to Korea for as long as 30 minutes.

Although the phone conversation was limited to personal conversation, Hardman has written his wife descriptions of Seoul since its liberation by American and South Korean troops.

The Reds have destroyed many of the buildings, Hardman wrote, but the capitol building was left standing.

The Reds went through it before they left, he said, burning the inside of each room as they prepared to flee, but the fireproof construction saved the building.

PAYING FINAL RESPECTS to Al Jolson are mourners lined up for several blocks outside Temple Israel, Hollywood, Calif. Some of the crowd openly wept, all appeared visibly saddened at the great "Mammy Sings" funeral.

It's Part of the Game —

In today's letters to the editor column, we are running the complaints of two Purdue students who, in our opinion, are expecting a little too much of human nature.

One of the last things The Daily Iowan would try to do would be to encourage poor sportsmanship, and if it should occur, we'd do all we could to discourage it. But we can't, for the life of us, believe there was anything wrong with the conduct of the SUI students at the Iowa-Purdue game.

The Exponent columnist criticized the student section for chanting "Eat those words" during the final minutes of the game. And during the game, he said, the spectators behind the Purdue bench "were constantly after Stu, needing him in every way."

Oh, come now, old man. Is that really so bad? What did Stu expect our reaction to be if we beat his team? What would anyone expect our reaction to be in the event we beat Purdue after Stu made the remark which set off the whole thing?

Admittedly, SUI has had moments of poor sportsmanship on the part of spectators—not too long ago at basketball games. But many members of the student body were so concerned about the situation that a group of them went on a friendship mission to the school whose team had been the victim of the poor conduct. And we might add that the results of the trip were very gratifying.

The story of last Saturday's game, though, is different. What would any school which had an ounce of spirit do if their team won after learning the opponent's coach had said the opponents would win if it was the last thing they did?

Should we have smiled and said quietly, "Well, Stu was wrong, but so what?"

If Hawkeye Coach Leonard Raffensperger should make such a wild prediction and then lose to Purdue, maybe the Purdue students would say, "Don't feel badly, Raff. We know you tried. We're sorry we had to ruin your prediction."

In a pig's eye, they would.

No, fellows, we think your criticism was unjustified. We don't think there is any hard feelings on the part of SUI for Purdue, either.

We think the conduct you disliked was a pretty normal reaction. And we doubt very seriously whether Stu, himself, resented an understandable display of school spirit.

Stock Prices Tumble $1-$3 Per Share

NEW YORK (AP) — Three-million shares of stock were tossed on the market for sale Thursday and prices tumbled $1 to more than $3 a share.

The paper value of all stocks listed on the exchange shrank by roughly $2-billion.

Not since the end of June, when prices crumpled under the panicky selling which followed outbreak of the Korean war, has the market dropped so far.

Sales piled up to 3-million shares from 1,930,000 Wednesday and were the largest since July 20.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks plunged $1.90 a share to $82.70. In one stroke the gains of the past month were wiped out.

Cattle Down ...

CHICAGO (AP) — Hog prices continued downward Thursday with the market steady to 15 cents lower on both butchers and sows. Cattle were 25 to 50 cents lower and the market remained glutted with heavy weight steers carried over from Wednesday. Sheep were 25 to 50 cents lower.

The top hog price was $19.40. Most good and choice 180- to 280 pound butchers brought $19.25 to $19.35. A few lots scaling 160 to 170 pounds went at $18.50 to $19.

In cattle trading, medium and heavy weight steers were steady with Wednesday's close. Many heavy steers again remained unsold. A load of high choice and prime steers around 1,225 pounds held above $33 but there were no buyers. Choice steers and yearlings scaling 1,225 pounds down sold at $30 to $32.

Slaughter lambs were down 25 to 50 cents with the bulk selling at $28 to $29.50, the latter being the top price. Native buck lambs brought $27 to $28. Yearlings were steady with the best going at $25.75.

Armed Forces Rebuilding Plan Continues

WASHINGTON (AP)—No letdown is planned in the program to rebuild the nation's armed forces although major fighting in Korea has ended, according to defense officials.

Military spending is slated to go up instead of down. The nation will be free of the heavy expense of the Korean war, but spending on the long-range rearmament program is just getting underway.

The emphasis will be shifted from Korea to Europe and Indochina. More American fighting men will be stationed in Germany. Military aid will be stepped up to the hard-pressed French and native Vietnam troops in Indochina.

President Truman already has said the armed services will build up to almost 3-million men and women, compared to the about 2-million now on active duty with the army, navy, airforce and marines.

The number in uniform may go much higher than 3-million if the military chiefs get approval for the further expansion of the armed forces now under study. The top brass wants to double the present strength of the armed forces, building up to a regular army of 15 to 20 divisions, a navy of 400 warships and an airforce of 90 to 100 groups.

Induction of draftees is scheduled to continue at least at the present rate of 40,000 to 70,000 a month. The monthly call may go higher to carry out a recent order of Defense Secretary George C. Marshall.

He directed that reservists and guardsmen be replaced by draftees and volunteers — provided the planned strength of the armed forces is maintained. However, it is estimated that reservists and guardsmen can not be returned to civilian life under this policy for at least six months.

Europe Strengthened

Some of the troops that have been fighting in Korea probably will be sent to Germany to bolster the unified western European defenses being built up in an effort to deter Russian aggression.

Present plans call for having the same number of divisions — four — in Japan as before the Korean war. But they now will be kept at full strength, whereas they were far below that before the invading Communist North Koreans crossed the 38th parallel.

Both civilian and military top brass started warning congress and the public several weeks ago that the end of the Korean war would not be the signal for a let-up in the rearmament effort.

They have been emphasizing that the Korean invasion was only one move in Communist Russia's march toward world conquest. These American officials have stressed that this country must not only build up its own military power but also help other non-Communist nations equip large enough armed forces to convince Russia that further aggression would be too costly.

Letter from Purdue ...

TO THE EDITOR: You might be interested in the enclosed clipping from the Oct. 24 issue of the Purdue Exponent (student daily newspaper).

(Editor's Note: The following excerpt is by Exponent Columnist Bill Boness:

"Poor Sportsmanship in Iowa" "I have been to a great many football games both in friendly and rival stadiums, but I have never seen such poor conduct as that which I witnessed out in Iowa. From beginning to end the crowd hurled sarcastic remarks at Stu Holcomb and the players. As the game drew into its final minutes the entire student body rose to their feet and started chanting, "Eat those words." They were referring to the remark that Stu made in connection with beating Iowa if it was the last thing he would do. The chant kept up until the end of the game; then they really went wild. As the players slowly filed off the field, the people shouted rude remarks at them in violation of the simplest rules of common courtesy. All during the game those Iowa fans who were sitting directly behind the Purdue bench were constantly after Stu, needing him in every way. It was a real disgrace to Iowa football and the University of Iowa."

What is wrong with Iowa? Your school is acquiring a reputation among players both in football and basketball as being a school of poor sportsmanship among the students and your followers.

Such does not make for pleasant relationships, and pressure is put on the schedule makers to play Iowa less often and preferably not at all. Of course, you have the making of a great team and your superior playing beat us. But we were not proud that you won; we could not be glad as Notre Dame was that a team and school of good sportsmanship beat them.

'Straw Man' ...

In its Oct. 25 edition the Iowan printed a letter supposedly written by one "J. A. Smith, A2." The letter was a protest of the distribution of A1 Loveland comic books on campus. It employed such terms as "socialistic propaganda," "Administration Reds," etc.

A check on the university student directory reveals that there are three Smiths in the university who might be "J. A. Smith." But further investigation disclosed that none of these people wrote the letter in question. Who then did write it?

Would it be too illogical to deduce that "J. A. Smith" is none other than a Young Democrat; that the theory behind the letter is nothing more than the usual Democratic trick of setting up a straw man to be bowled over?

The Democratic party has long attempted to hang the label of reaction upon Republicans. This latest incident provides evidence of that tactic being used on a local level. Real Republicans, (not straw men) do not have to apologize for their political faith, for they realize that the Republican party has within it the forces of a true liberalism.

It is the prerogative of the Democratic party to choose to insult the American voter's intelligence by disseminating comic books and publications wherein the voter is told whether the members of congress voted "right" or "wrong" on particular issues, instead of giving the voter credit for having intelligence enough to draw his own conclusions. Republicans will not protest such activity, for it serves best to point up one of the innate faults of the Democratic party.

I would suggest that the Iowan exercise greater care in checking the authorship of such letters, in fairness to the students whose names are used. My sympathy to The Daily Iowan for being victimized by such a hoary stunt. And a hearty tongue-lashing to the unimaginative Young Democrat who used it.

Seating Problem ...

I read first with interest and then criticism The Daily Iowan's editorial of Oct. 25, on the stadium seating problem.

I will admit those who wish good seats have to wait for long periods of time in the nearly vacant stadium. I got a seat on the 41-yard line last Saturday by arriving at the stadium at 10:15. Even then there were a number of students already sitting and waiting.

Regulations would work unfair advantage for those who can and do sit for two or three hours while less pepped-up students take poorer seats if they don't care to wait that long. I realize some students can't come at 11:00 or 11:30 for seats because of jobs and meals. Some instructors hold their 11:30 classes at earlier times to enable their students to come early.

Your Oklahoma proposal doesn't seem advisable. What would prevent the students from illegal crossing over to the prize sections? This plan would entail red tape and another squad of "I" men to patrol the student section.

But I don't want to say "No" because only a few are spoiled to sit long periods for the better seats. The "first-come-first-serve" rule seems the best at this time. The only serious flaw is the saving of vast areas for late comers. They should give up saved seats at 11:30 or noon.

Do other universities offer to their students ID seats? I know of none because I have meager knowledge on this subject.

Malayans Fight SUI Political Groups Offer Opinions on Truman Speech

By A. L. MCINTYRE
SINGAPORE (AP)—Little Malaya is the center of a two-front fighting—against Communists, at home and Britain's dollar shortage abroad.

Malayan tin and rubber exports to the United States in the first six months of this year totalled $121-million. That went into the empire dollar pool to help buy American and dollar-country luxuries for Malaya and Britain and to purchase raw materials for Britain's export drive.

It was more dollars than all Britain's motorcar factories and textile looms earned in a year.

And it was made possible by Malayan planters and miners braving Communist terrorists.

Tension and hazard marks life on Malaya's estates and mines. Planters and miners live in bungalows sandbagged and surrounded by barbed wire and floodlighted at night. There are gun and rifles within easy reach.

From the start of the rebellion the Communists aimed at destroying the tin and rubber industries. They struck without mercy. They shot Europeans, hacked to death laborers, burned down buildings, set fire to rubber stocks and tin dredges, and slashed rubber trees.

The miners and planters and their workers stuck it out. After 23 months, production of rubber has remained steady and that of tin has increased.

Malaya does not enjoy the full benefits of dollar earnings. There are a hundred and one things she could import from the United States and pay for in gold — luxuries, chemicals, capital machinery, etc.

SUI Political Groups Offer Opinions on Truman Speech

SUI's four political groups were split in their opinions of President Truman's address Tuesday to the United Nations general assembly.

Leaders of the SUI Young Republicans and Democrats commented favorably on the President's plea to Russia to agree to a "foolproof" disarmament plan so that the United Nations will be free to wage a worldwide "war against want."

Mr. Truman said, "In this way our armaments would be transformed into foods, medicine, tools for use in underdeveloped areas, and into aids for human advancement."

The President was branded as a "war monger" and "aggressor" by Charles Muhlstock, A3, Woodmere, N.Y., president of the SUI Young Progressives.

David Stanley, L1, Iowa City, United World Federalists national executive council member, said Mr. Truman was seeking the obvious goal we all want, but hasn't presented a practical means for achieving that goal.

Mary McMahon, president of SUI Young Democrats, said, "I think Mr. Truman's proposals for disarmament and use of the money saved for food, medicine and tools is in keeping with the American desire for the peace and well-being of all nations."

It is realistic in its challenge to Russia to join in this program, she continued.

Muhlstock, the campus Progressive president, said he spoke for himself and not for the group. "If Mr. Truman is so sincerely for peace, why does he allow the American government to continue to meddle in the affairs of other nations?" Muhlstock asked.

Aggressive Action "How can he accuse others of aggressive actions when he has just finished authorizing $3.5-billion to aid the French imperialists in Indo-China?" he continued.

Truman's repeated refusal in the past to travel anywhere to meet with Premier Stalin or other top Soviet officials shows him up for the war monger that he really is, Muhlstock declared.

He referred to the President's recent meeting with General MacArthur on Wake Island and said, "Evidently war talks carry priorities over discussions of peace as far as the President is concerned."

"In order to placate the American people's demand for peace Mr. Truman throws a bone to the dog and then expects the dog to rest contentedly," Muhlstock charged.

Encouraging Sign "Alec Mackenzie, L1, Cedar Rapids, chairman of the state Young Republican league, said "It's encouraging to note the President's insistence upon bringing military preparedness into balance with our foreign commitments."

After the shocking deterioration of our military forces in the face of world danger, it is reassuring that Truman now realizes the importance of backing up our foreign policy, Mackenzie said.

"I'm in hearty accord with the ultimate goal of disarmament and atomic control. The President's three conditions to such an agreement may narrow the gulf which separates the western and Russian views on this matter," he added.

Speaking for the United World Federalists, David Stanley said, "We believe that only a limited world government can effectively control armaments and prevent war."

The only realistic foreign policy for the U.S. is to change immediately the present United Nations into a UN government, Stanley said.

"This government should be given the power to control armaments and war and be able to punish leaders of nations who try to prepare for war," he declared.

"We must not let Russia block this, but should go ahead and form a UN government even if Russia refuses to join it," he added.

Fryauf Drops From Squad

Quarterback Glenn Drahn and Guard "Junebug" Perrin were named Thursday to captain Iowa's Hawkeyes in the Ohio State game Saturday. Both Drahn, who has captained the Hawks once before this season, and Perrin are seniors.

It was revealed by athletic officials Thursday that left halfback Don Fryauf has quit the squad. With Don Comrack out of the Ohio State lineup because of injury, Fryauf was being counted on for duty along with starter Bernard Bennett.

Fryauf, a speech and dramatic art major, gave too much school work as his reason for withdrawing. "I talked with Raff Tuesday," Fryauf said, "and explained my position to him. We parted the best of friends."

Block on Squad

Bill Block, sophomore from Rockwell City, was named to the 40-man traveling squad to replace Fryauf. The squad, with official party, was to leave by plane from Cedar Rapids at 8 a.m. today.

Thursday, the Hawks finished most of their preparations for the favored Buckeyes. In Thursday's practice, Iowa continued drilling on passing and also practiced on kickoff and returns.

The Hawks will work out in the Ohio State stadium this afternoon. Iowa goes into the Ohio State game three touchdown underdogs against the fifth ranked team in the nation.

Traveling Squad

Following is the 40-man traveling squad:
Ends — Jerry Long, Dick Meyers, Don Swartzendruber, Bob Hofr, Arnold Caplan and Don Britzmann.

Tackles — Hubert Johnston, Don Woodhouse, Joe Paulsen, Pete Spanners, Harold Bradley, Andy Buntz, Dudley Noble and Dave Prospero.

Guards — Austin Turner, Bo

IOWA'S RIGHT GUARD LOU GINSBERG underwent a whirlpool bath treatment Thursday for pulled leg muscles. Ginsberg suffered the injury in practice Wednesday. Iowa trainers expect the Cedar Rapids lineman to be ready for the Ohio State game Saturday if the injury responds satisfactorily to treatment. The Iowa squad was to leave this morning for Columbus. Ohio State is a three touchdown favorite in the Big Ten game.

Lage, Bill Baehr, Roy Hutchinson, Lou Ginsberg, "Junebug" Perrin and Ron Fairchild.

Centers — John Towner, Ron Petersen and Jerry Hilgenberg.
Quarterbacks — Glenn Drahn, Fred Ruck, Jim Sangster and Burt Britzmann.

Halfbacks — Jerry Faske, Bernard Bennett, Bob Bostwick, Bill Elock, Duane Brandt, Bill Greene, "Chug" Wilson and Joe Bristol.
Fullbacks — Bill Reichardt, Mike Riley, Chuck Denning and Jerry Clark.

Gussie Takes 'Lace'-ing

NEW YORK (AP) — Gorgeous Gussie Moran gave a brief glimpse of her white nylon panties and a briefer glimpse of her tennis ability Thursday night as she took a humiliating 6-0, 6-3 lacing from Pauline Betz Addie in her professional debut.

Hawklets Risk Record Against East Waterloo

Iowa City's unbeaten Little Hawks will be seeking their seventh victory of the season tonight when they face the East Waterloo Trojans at 8 p.m. on the Iowa City field.

All of City high's previously injured players will be in good shape, but Jim Kacena may replace right halfback Duane Davis in the starting line-up up Coach Frank Bates said.

Davis, who sprained an ankle in the Clinton game two weeks ago, has recovered and will be available for action tonight.

The Trojans have been an erratic ball club this season. They have beaten McKinley of Cedar Rapids, Dubuque, and Mason City while losing to Clinton, Fort Dodge and East Des Moines.

East defeated Dubuque by two touchdowns as compared to Iowa City's one touchdown margin over the same club. However, they lost to Clinton, a team that the Hawklets whipped in definite fashion.

The Trojans will miss the services of Center Russ Mishak tonight because of a broken bone in his ankle, but Halfback Jim Rathbun will return to the line-up tonight after an absence.

Rathbun, who has been handicapped by injuries this season appeared in only one play against Mason City and ran an intercepted pass 90 yards for a touchdown.

Waterloo will spot the Hawklets plenty of weight, but the speed

U-High Plays West Liberty Today in Homecoming

The undefeated University high school football team will try to capture its sixth win in a homecoming contest with West Liberty today in what is a yearly "grudge" battle.

The Bluehawks meet the visitors at 2:30 p.m., a half-hour earlier than usual, on Iowa's varsity practice field.

The Blues will be out after a firmer seat on top of the Eastern Iowa Hawkeye conference against the big and rough West Liberty eleven. The visitors sport the heaviest line in the conference and bring a potent attack.

Led by 200 pound fullback Bob Heick, West Liberty has three wins and two losses. Last week West Liberty showed its potential power by snowing under Wilton Junction, 40-0.

The Blues haven't beaten West Liberty since 1948. In 1948 the visitors ruined U-High's homecoming with a 13-12 victory.

University high will be at full strength for the first time this year.

Coach Bob Weber expects to use Craig Perrin and Mel Ritter at ends, Nick Johnson and Dick Hradick at tackles, scraping Kenny Slade and Maynard Hebl at guards, and Ken Stover at center.

Veteran quarterback Tom Kent will be back to lead halfbacks Bob Ewalt and Bob Cantrell, and Fullback Bill Dinsmore in the backfield.

Coach Francis Cretzmeier's team will be after its first win, having dropped successive dual meets to Wisconsin and Purdue. The Irish have broken even in two matches, defeating Purdue and losing to Wisconsin.

The seven man Iowa squad will remain in South Bend after the meet to witness the Notre Dame-Michigan State football game. They will return to Iowa City Saturday night.

Those making the trip are Jack Davis, Earle Duggan, Virgil Von Ashen, Wayne Maldenhauer, Jerry Stone, Bill Bye and Bill Snook.

NBA STAR CALLED
CHICAGO (AP) — Jack Nichols, star forward of the Tri-City Blackhawks of the National Basketball association, has been recalled to military service, it was learned Thursday.

Indian Dispatch Says Chinese Reds 'Well Inside' Tibet

NEW DELHI, INDIA (AP) — A Communist Chinese "liberation" army has crossed a disputed frontier zone and knifed into Tibet, dispatches from Calcutta and various Communist capitals declared Thursday.

The government of India, a belligerent in many moves intended to restore peace to Asia, telegraphed its ambassador in Peking for full information — and in the meantime sat tight.

"We cannot act on mere newspaper reports," an Indian foreign ministry spokesman said.

Though some military authorities have expressed skepticism about a Chinese invasion of Tibet at this time because of wintry conditions setting in across the Tibetan highlands, the Calcutta newspaper statesman said a Chinese vanguard was reliably reported well inside Tibet, only a day's march from Neiwutsi (Riwoche) and about 350 airline miles northwest of Lhasa, the capital.

The Calcutta statesman's account said broadcasts from Lhasa, the seat of the 15-year-old Dalai Lama who is Tibet's spiritual ruler, declared the Tibetans were determined to fight.

U.S. Rejects Russian Plan for Peace Pact

LAKE SUCCESS (AP) — American Delegate Warren R. Austin Thursday urged the UN political committee to reject Russia's proposals for a Big Five peace pact and a one-third cut in the armed forces of the five powers.

He tagged the proposals as "iceberg" plan full of hidden peril.

The Soviet Union, meanwhile, ended its nine-months boycott of the five-nation military staff committee. The disagreement on how to set up a UN police force under the charter continued despite the Soviet Union.

The Russians have walked back into two other organizations — the security council and the economic and social council. The boycott was called because of the presence of Nationalist China. The Russians have come back without explanation and despite the fact that Nationalist China still is here.

Cedar Falls Farm Poet Gives Manuscript to SUI

James Hearst, Cedar Falls poet, has given the SUI library a manuscript of some of his poems. Hearst, known as "The Farm Poet," has published two volumes of verse, "Country Men," and "The Sun at Noon."

Both books were designed and printed by Prof. Carroll Coleman, SUI typographer.

Fulbright Requests Wanted by Oct. 31

Applications for Fulbright scholarships must be turned in to Fulbright advisors not later than Tuesday, Oct. 31, Richard E. Sweitzer, SUI married student counselor, warned Thursday.

Sweitzer said that although his office has issued more than 75 applications for scholarships, only eight have been returned.

The eight applicants have shown a preference for study in England, France and Italy, but study in India, Austria, Australia, and the Philippines has been requested.

Winners of the awards should be announced about April 15, Sweitzer said.

Panther Roams Timber South of Des Moines

DES MOINES — Polk county officers, convinced a "big cat" may roam the timber south of here, said Thursday they were "on the alert" in the case the beast invaded Des Moines.

This city of 180,000 suddenly found itself the wildlife capital of the cornbelt as a pose stalked the panther, a buck deer ran into a garbage truck at a busy intersection and a fisherman reported he was "attacked" by a wild duck.

"Claw marks" on a car and a dead calf, partly eaten, at least half-way convinced officers a cat-like animal was prowling in a wooded area three miles south of

Iowa City Lacks Ward 1 Alderman, Can't Find Anyone

Iowa City Thursday was still without an alderman for the first ward. The post was vacated by James Callahan a month ago and Mayor Preston Koser can't find anyone to take the $25-a-month job.

Koser was instructed by the city council Oct. 10 to find a replacement for Callahan, who resigned because of ill health after six years on the council.

Although he contacted several persons, Koser said none was willing to serve the remaining five months before a new council is elected under the council-manager plan in March.

Koser said, however, the administration can continue as a six-man council with the mayor casting the deciding ballot in case of a tie vote.

Burmese Want Western Improvements: Alley

The people of Burma are looking to the western civilizations for better standards of living, Prof. Louis Alley, University high school coach said Thursday at the first 1950-51 Information First lecture.

Speaking at the senate chamber of Old Capitol, Alley told of his recent work with the Burmese schools' physical education programs, under the sponsorship of the Fulbright commission.

Alley said the current civil wars in Burma are proof of the restless feeling of the people since their independence from Britain in 1948.

"Communism is held to be a silly philosophy by the Buddhists, who compose 90 percent of the Burmese population," Alley said.

"The system by which we live is more closely related to the philosophy of those people," he said.

Their schools are much like their homes, Alley explained, both made with bamboo sides and thatched grass roofs. They have no furniture and very few cooking and eating utensils.

"The Burmese have a tremendous desire to learn and are particularly concerned with reading and writing. They hold the highest respect for college degrees," he said.

There is also a great interest shown in physical education and athletics.

The most popular sports are soccer and track and field events. However, the contests are not traditional and are "strictly for fun," he said.

Alley appeared in a formal Burmese costume, consisting of a skirt, jacket-coat, collar-less shirt
