Police Arrest Two Youths, Break Juvenile Crime Ring

Iowa City police expected to take into custody today two to three more members of what is believed to be a juvenile crime ring which has been operating in Johnson county since summer.

Two brothers, 12 and 14, members of the ring, arrested Monday are being held in the juvenile quarters of the county jail on an open charge pending further investigation.

Police said three others were implicated with the ring during questioning of the two boys and a 14-year-old girl who was with them during the weekend.

Three car thefts have already been solved by the arrests according to police, and more are expected to be solved, police said.

Detectives Oliver White and Harland Sprinkle, investigating the case, expected the arrests to clear up a summer-long series of petty theft and vandalism.

Among the articles found in the car when the two boys were arrested was a copy of the New Testament. Other articles found were elementary reading and arithmetic books and an authentic-looking cap pistol.

Police also picked up miscellaneous articles of clothing the ring had hidden. They believed the clothing was to be used later in an attempt by the ring to run away.

Names of the ring members were withheld by police Tuesday pending further investigation.

The Monday arrest was made following a report to police Sunday that two couples were seen Sunday in a Ford car parked on a sand road south of Iowa City.

Also assisting in the investigation were Sheriff Albert J. (Pat) Murphy, probation officers, and juvenile court authorities.

Chiefs Postpone Decision For West Army Command

WASHINGTON (AP) - France's old dread of German power Tuesday night led North Atlantic defense ministers to postpone a decision on a combined army under a supreme commander to defend Western Europe against communism.

Deadlocked on the issue of what Germany's role shall be in the historic new defense force, the defense ministers of 12 North Atlantic pact nations threw up their hands temporarily.

The action spelled delay for the widely expected appointment of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower to the supreme command post.

Mock Election Here Friday

A mock election of candidates for Iowa's senator and governor will be held Friday from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. under the sponsorship of SUI's student council.

Polling places will be set up in Schaeffer and University halls, the Iowa Union, Currier hall and the Quadrangle.

All SUI students are eligible to vote in the election for their candidates for the two state positions.

Dean L. Dale Faunce gave permission for the election Tuesday. The SUI Institute of Public Affairs will act in an advisory capacity to the student council.

SUI Young Republicans and Young Democrats will act as officials at the polling places, and voting results will be announced as soon as possible after 5 p.m. Friday.

Nine Local Polls For Voting Named

The nine precinct voting stations in Iowa City will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. Nov. 7.

The following places have been designated as voting stations: First ward, first precinct, courthouse basement; second precinct, Hawkeye Awning company, 29 W. College street; second ward, first precinct, mayor's office in city hall; second precinct, fine arts building; third ward, CSA hall, 524 N. Johnson street.

Fourth ward, first precinct, junior high school gym, Van Buren and Market streets; second precinct, main lounge of the Community building, 22 E. College street; fifth ward, first precinct, Iowa City Bottling company, 525 S. Gilbert street; second precinct, Longfellow school.

Shaw Reported Worse; Not Expected to Live

AYOT, ST. LAWRENCE, ENGLAND (AP) - George Bernard Shaw has taken a sudden turn for the worse and was reported "very weak" at his home here Tuesday night.

Lady Astor, life-long friend of the 84-year-old playwright, visited him for an hour Tuesday. "I am afraid he hasn't long to live. We expect him to go at any moment," she said.

FIX IT ONE DAY—then fix it again the next. These two city employees are tearing up a section of the Iowa Avenue bridge which covered a stoplight actuation plate.

Mayor Won't Answer Opponents' Charges Of 'Waste Spending'

Mayor Preston Koser Tuesday refused to comment on charges that his government had made "reckless" expenditures. The charges were made last week by two members of the council-manager association.

Anything he said to The Daily Iowan "would not be complimentary," the mayor said.

Koser was not protesting the original article published in The Daily Iowan, but a result of the article — an editorial in Saturday's Cedar Rapids Gazette entitled "Iowa City May Find That a Manager Will Manage," he explained.

The Daily Iowan had quoted advocates of the council-manager government as saying that the present city council was trying to "burden Iowa City with debts for years to come."

The Gazette's editorial suggested "once he (the city manager) puts the city on a business-like basis, he'll make more friends than ever before for the city manager form of government."

The council-manager government will go into effect here next April.

Mistake Causes Repair Of Iowa Avenue Bridge

Iowa Avenue bridge, which was resurfaced last week with two inches of new asphalt, underwent more repairs Tuesday to correct an error made in the original work.

City Engineer Fred E. Cartzke said the Hargrave Construction company resurfaced the bridge before he or company officials realized that a stoplight actuation plate had been covered by the asphalt.

The plate, located half-way on the bridge, controls one of the stoplights at the end of the bridge on Iowa Avenue and Riverside drive. When westbound traffic goes over the mechanism, the light automatically changes.

Gartzke said cost of removing the actuation plate under the new surfacing would be paid by the city. Two men have been employed to dig up the asphalt. The project is expected to take about a day and a half to complete.

The area, about five to two feet, will have to be resurfaced again, he said.

U.S. to Back Lie For Extended Term

NEW YORK (AP) - Warren R. Austin fought Tuesday to extend Secretary-General Trygve Lie's term for three years as a sign of UN unity against aggression. Andrei Y. Vishinsky countered with a denunciation of Lie as an American "stooge" and declared the Soviet Union would not recognize Lie nor deal with him if he is maintained in office.

The fight took place in the 60-nation general assembly. Lie, who usually sits on the rostrum during sessions, left his seat when the debate began. He spent the remainder of the day at his home.

Austin finally announced the U.S. would use every means at its power — and this includes the veto — to back Lie for the post.

Tibet Leader Asks Asylum in India

NEW DELHI, INDIA (WEDNESDAY) - The 14th Dalai Lama of Tibet has asked the Indian government for asylum for himself and his government and is preparing to flee his capital to escape the invading Chinese Communists, well informed sources said today.

Latest advices said the Communists were within 150 miles of Lhasa, the capital, advancing slowly through heavy snowstorms along the age-old silk caravan route from China.

One American Killed In London Plane Crash

LONDON (AP) - Twenty-eight persons including one American, were killed Tuesday night when a British passenger plane on a flight from Paris overshoot a fog-shrouded runway, crashed into a pile of pipes and exploded in flames.

Officials of British European Airways said Ernest Friedenheim, and Miss Judith Lauterback, both Britishers living in New York City, and P. Levy, a South African who lived at Chicago, perished in the crash at London airport.

1,500 Local Children Attend Annual Party, Halloween Parade

The Community building was invaded Tuesday night by men from Mars, dogs, cats and bums in addition to the seasonal ghosts, skeletons, and witches.

The invasion of youngsters was part of the fourth annual Iowa City Halloween parade and party, sponsored by the Association of Fraternal Organizations.

Twenty-seven youngsters from the hospital school for severely handicapped children rode in the cab and on a trailer pulled by the "40 and 8 club," locomotive. A band followed by the locomotive led the parade of more than 1,500 costumed children.

Perhaps the happiest handicapped child in the throng of paraders was five-year-old Sonny Hoyland. He engineered the parade from the cab of the locomotive, ringing the bell frequently.

Youngsters had to present numbered pledge cards to be admitted to the Community building. These cards were obtained after each youngster had vowed not to do damage and vandalism.

Local merchants have prizes in their windows with numbers on them. Children who present the corresponding numbered card to the merchant will receive the prize.

POPE RECITES PRAYER

VATICAN CITY (AP) - Pope Pius XII, on the eve of his dogmatic proclamation of the Virgin Mary's assumption into heaven, recited for the first time tonight a prayer he has composed in her honor.

Reds Stop U.S. Advance To Manchurian Border

U.S. to Give Visas To 'Nominal' Reds

WASHINGTON (AP) - The government is opening a narrow gate to let some former members of totalitarian parties abroad enter the United States temporarily. It is for "nominal" members only. The basis of the change is a ruling from Attorney General McGrath defining "nominal membership." He held that persons who were virtually required to join such groups and were not active in them may come through the barriers raised by the new anti-subversives law.

Counterattack Halts Troops 32 Miles Short

TOKYO (WEDNESDAY) (AP) - The U.S. 24th division smashed to within 24 miles of the Manchurian border today and then abruptly halted its "no-sleep" drive to the Yalu river boundary.

SEoul (WEDNESDAY) (AP) - A lightning dash by an American column up North Korea's west coast to the Manchurian border was halted Tuesday night by a savage Red counterattack.

The Reds stopped an armored column of the U.S. 24th division 32 miles short of its border objective and prevented the column from making an intended all-night advance. It planned to return to the attack today.

On the northeast coast of Korea, where another American column was within 51 miles of the border, Maj. Gen. Edward M. Almond said his 10th army corps would attack soon in strength to determine just how many Chinese Communist reinforcements stand in the way.

The Red counterattack in the northwest, which cost the enemy 100 casualties, was made northwest of Chongju, captured Monday by the British Commonwealth 27th brigade.

On the right flank of the U.S. 24th division, where one South Korean division was cut to pieces last week, there were fresh reports today of Red activity. The South Korean First division beat off the sixth strong Communist counterattack in the past 48 hours near Unsan. It is 37 miles northwest of Chongju.

A First division spokesman said that 1,000 Reds on horseback were reported moving south on a road toward Unsan.

For the second night in a row, enemy planes appeared over an area to the immediate rear of fighting in the northwest. No bombs were dropped last night. A few fell the night before. The Reds claimed in a communique that the raiders wrecked vital bridges.

War at a Glance

Korean front - Two U.S. columns hammer through lessened Communist resistance and are expected to reach the Manchurian border momentarily; one column on the west coast reported only 32 miles away.

Car Theft Hearing Scheduled Today

The man at whom police fired six shots Oct. 17 while he fled down an alley, was scheduled for hearing today, on charges of stealing a car.

Jim Paintin, 21, 320 Second street, Tuesday admitted taking a car belonging to Bill Savage, 328 S. Governor street, the night of Oct. 17, police said.

He is scheduled to appear before Police Judge Emil G. Troit at 8 a.m. Police said he had no criminal record.

Car Identification, Parking Rules on Campus Start Today

SUI's identification and parking regulations go into effect today.

Fred W. Ambrose, SUI business manager and parking committee chairman, clarified the regulations Tuesday, saying:

All cars owned and/or driven by SUI students, faculty or staff members, must, without exception, have identification which can be plainly read without entering the car.

For cars licensed in Iowa and driven by the registered owner only, the state registration certificate, displayed in such a manner that the owner's name can be seen from outside the car, will be sufficient identification.

Typewritten Labels For all other cars, out-of-state cars and those with Iowa licenses and driven by anyone but the registered owner, there must be a typewritten label, prepared by the individual, displayed so that it can be plainly read from outside the car.

This label must carry the driver's name, and for students, the student number.

Regardless of how short a time the car is being driven in Iowa City by a student, staff or faculty member, this regulation must be complied with.

These regulations have no connection whatsoever with state, county, or city regulations regarding registration or licensing.

Except for those staff and faculty members desiring parking privileges on reserved parking lots, this identification is all that is required by SUI.

Those staff and faculty members wanting parking privileges on the eight reserved lots should make application immediately to the office of the superintendent of the physical plant, Old Dental building.

Displayed in Window Drivers granted parking privileges will be issued official stickers which must be displayed on the rear window of the car.

Any driver parking in the reserved lots without an official sticker will be considered in violation of regulations, and will be fined by SUI.

Reserved SUI lots, which will be plainly marked as reserved for faculty and staff, are east of the

Marshall Aid to Britain May Cease: Foster

WASHINGTON (AP) - The United States may put a stop to its Marshall plan dollar gifts to Great Britain.

This was indicated in a statement Tuesday by Marshall plan Administrator William C. Foster. He made it plain, however, that dollar grants might be resumed if Britain's improving economic conditions take a turn for the worse.

Mrs. Cassill Circulated Peace Petition at SUI

Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Cassill, 89, who was forced to resign her Lynnville teaching job last week following charges that she was a Communist sympathizer, is the same person who was accused of circulating a peace petition in an SUI classroom July 28.

The petition was distributed by Iowa City for Peace, an organization formed shortly before the incident and whose activities were attacked as subversive by students and townspeople.

The petition was circulated in a class in Problems in Classroom Teaching. Since Iowa City for Peace was not recognized by SUI as an authorized campus organization, the circulation was in violation of university regulations.

Identity Not Learned Following an investigation of the incident by SUI authorities, in which her identity was never learned, Mrs. Cassill appeared at

The Daily Iowan and explained that she had circulated the petition without realizing she had violated the SUI student code.

She said she was not a member of Iowa City for Peace, but she had attended several meetings of the group and received the petition at one of them.

"I believe in peace and Christian principles and I believe in promoting Christ's teachings of peace. With that in mind, I wanted to aid any peace movement," she said.

"I do not think peace can be obtained by military force of any kind."

Instructor Absent The petition incident occurred in room 224, University experimental schools building between the 9 and 10 a.m. classes. The instructor, Prof. Mabel Snedaker, college of education, was absent from the room.

Mrs. Cassill was a summer school student enrolled in the Problems in Classroom Teaching class.

Mrs. Cassill said she handed the petition to the student in the next chair, who passed it to his neighbor.

A number of students who saw the petition reportedly greeted it with "boos" and catcalls. Witnesses said she then began lecturing the class on peace.

Resigned Job Following an investigation of the Lynnville charges, Mrs. Cassill resigned her teaching job, denying that she was or ever had been a Communist.

"As far as I know, I have never known one or seen one (Communist)," she said.

She said she intended to return to Barnes City where her husband, Howard, is superintendent of schools.

She is the mother of Verlin Cassill, SUI English instructor and novelist.

Heat Sets New Local Record

A temperature of 88 Tuesday set a new local record for the last day of October.

Iowa City did not swelter alone. The U.S. weather bureau reported the heat wave covered most of the nation. However, cooler weather was due in Iowa soon from Wyoming and the Dakotas, the bureau reported.

The bureau also foresaw a warmer than usual outlook for most of the nation this month.

In Iowa City, the "Fourth of July" weather had expected and unexpected results.

The Englert Artificial Ice company reported a sales increase of about 10 percent "because of the heat." Swanser Ice Cream stores reported the sales of ice cream also up.

Quite unexpectedly, the Carvutto Furnace company found the heat-spell a help. The explanation for this, the manager said, is that it gave his workers a chance to catch up on their work before the rush for coal and oil comes in.

Tuesday's temperature followed the new high for Monday.

A new storm, meanwhile, hit the battered west coast. Winds up to 40 miles an hour were expected in the Pacific northwest. Winds the past few days have claimed 44 lives in the area and floods five more.

Heat records for the date were shattered in scores of cities in the plateau states, eastern Rockies, great plains, midwest, and east.

However, a surge of cool air spread over Montana and the Dakotas and cooler weather had moved into New England and New York state.

At Billings, Mont., where the mercury reached a record high 77 Monday, the temperature plummeted to 33 degrees in 24 hours and snow swirled through the streets.

Somewhat cooler weather was expected to overspread the Great Lakes and upper Mississippi valley regions Wednesday.

"INDIAN SUMMER"—Checking the dictionary for a definition of "Indian Summer" was Nancy Fellows, Jackson, Mich., as unseasonably high temperatures prevailed throughout most of the nation. Incidentally, Webster defines "Indian Summer" as a period of warm or mild weather late in autumn or early winter.

Campus Signs —

A relative newcomer to the SUI campus came to us with what we think is a complaint we should take into consideration. "Why," he asked, "don't you have your campus buildings marked or identified so visitors can tell which building is which?" That's a good question. Visitors probably aren't the only ones who become confused, either. We would guess that freshmen here even find it difficult sometimes to locate the building they're seeking.

Some of our structures even have names on them which are no longer in use. If anything would add to the confusion of the visitors, this feature alone would. But in most cases there is little, if any, identification.

The newcomer suggested that the buildings have near each of their entrances a small wooden name sign, about the size of an automobile license plate.

This, though, would be impractical, we believe, because of the gosh-awful snows which hit us each winter. A visitor would need a pick and shovel to dig out the signs.

We would suggest, instead, larger signs which swing between two uprights. The wood might be the rough oak which often is used in parks for identification purposes. The names could be carved or chiseled into the wood instead of being placed there with paint.

Admittedly, a bunch of brightly painted wooden signs everywhere we looked would detract from the appearance of our campus, and we almost would rather have the visitors searching for buildings than to see that method of identification used.

But how's chances of our getting some attractive name signs for the campus buildings?

Maybe the student council could look into the merits of the suggestion.

'Parliament of Europe' Idea Hinders Atlantic Pact Plans

French injection of the "parliament of Europe" idea into the question of establishment of a unified continental army, including Germany, has complicated plans for implementation of the Atlantic pact.

Close study of what was previewed as a French step toward agreement suggests, instead, that it is likely to become a grave hindrance. Observers in Washington were quick to point out that its real effect is to bar the use of German strength for Europe's defense pending an extremely difficult political move.

The French propose to create a western European army including German units, but only if it is made responsible to a general parliament. This may not be entirely intended to bar German participation. France has been behind the parliament all along. But she also has been against German rearmament all along.

The French stand may delay the work of the defense ministers, who had German rearmament on their agenda for Friday's meeting in Washington. The ministers are now expected to find their problem so complicated by politics that it will have to be referred back to the foreign ministers.

The work of the Atlantic pact military committee, also in session in Washington, may also be involved.

This committee has been pushing organizational plans for joint defense. It is reported to have agreed on immediate appointment of an American — possibly Eisenhower — as commander in chief of a combined western defense force.

The concept has been that Europe would provide a joint force under this supreme headquarters, with Britain, Canada and the United States doing likewise in another compartment.

If the European part of this plan is delayed pending complicated political negotiations, the prospect becomes obscure.

France and the other Europeans can go ahead within the Atlantic Pact, of course, without agreement on the inclusion of German strength. But the top-level military men as well as the diplomats of the United States feel that German help is essential.

The United States is not unaware of the deep desire of Europe to establish a new system around which European opinion can truly rally, as against the old system of mere military coalition of individual states. It has agreed all along that the Schuman Plan for integration of French and German industrial strength is a vital corollary of joint military operations. It has solidly backed the idea of a European parliament and an eventual federation.

But the injection of the parliament idea as a prerequisite to full European mobilization for defense offers the prospect of a disturbing delay in a situation which brooks no delay.

Soybeans Rally ...
CHICAGO (AP) — Soybeans displayed unexpected strength at the board of trade Tuesday and carried other futures upward on a sustained rally.

At the opening traders expected to find notice of intention to deliver around 2-million bushels of soybeans today. When these notices failed to appear, shorts started to cover and found offerings very light.

More Suggestions ...

TO THE EDITORS:

The "system" for equitable distribution of tickets to the Don Cossack concert in the University Concert series, evidently broke down. Therefore, I, one of those who failed to secure a ticket for the coming concert as well as the Laughton lecture, would make the following suggestions:

1st: That the program be broadcast, if this does not conflict with the contract of the Don Cossack chorus; of course, the dances couldn't be shown in this manner, but the Don Cossack chorus has proved effective over the air before.

2nd: That the P.A. system of the Union be extended to the River room, the cafeteria, and the various lounge, so that those who can't see can at least hear the program; this could have been done for the Laughton program as well; chairs could be put up to accommodate the listeners.

3rd: That the Cossack program and similar programs be held in the fieldhouse; how can dancing be shown with any effectiveness in the Union, when it is all that anyone can do to see the tops of the heads of the performers during regular programs?

4th: That in the future, programs be given more than once, to accommodate all those who wish to participate, such as the Jazz Concert.

5th: That those who find that they are unable to go to the programs turn their tickets into the Union desk, which would distribute the tickets according to a waiting list of those who were unable to secure tickets.

6th: That when members of the audience leave early, then ushers allow those waiting in the lounges and lobby to "filter in."

This was done to some degree at the Laughton lecture, and should be further encouraged. As a final suggestion, I would back the university officials in their building campaign, which presumably includes within its scope an auditorium which might be adequate to serve the purposes of the university family in its lecture programs, concerts and major productions such as its operas, the Panacea show, Kampus Kapers, etc.

Stocks Down ...
NEW YORK (AP) — Fast sudden selling beat stock prices down again Tuesday.

Heavy liquidation hit the market in the last hour of trading. Losses Tuesday extended to around $3 a share before leading issues found a bottom. Final prices were a trifle above the extreme lows in most cases.

Bonds Decline ...
NEW YORK (AP) — Prices slipped in the bond market Tuesday with most activity in railroad and utility issues.

There were a substantial number of losses of a point or more but declines generally were in fractions.

Utilities were prominent among the handful of larger advances.

issue that the student council has done it again, this time in regard to Christmas vacation. Since Frivol became "a magazine of collegiate life" this fall the only college humor we're getting is the reports on student council activities.

As it stands, some SUI students may enjoy New Year's Eve on the railroad train this year, so as to be in Iowa City in time for classes (the administration has placed the return date as Jan. 2).

When student council asked if this date could not possibly be changed, what happened was an example of our student government in action. "You might as well know," Dean Dewey B. Stult warned at last Thursday's meeting, "that ... when a calendar is set up."

(Other accomplishments of the meeting: At Dean Stult's suggestion the council voted $25 for "Keep off the Grass" signs, and Dean Stult's proposal for keeping cigarette butts off Schaeffer hall floors was discussed. Forms for determining student opinion on rent control were also folded during the meeting.)

Student government? A laugh.

Any grad of a few years ago can tell you about the fight for student government on the SUI campus before and during the war. That was a fight against an administration that argued tooth and nail against a democratic governing system for its students.

But they came through back there in '45, leaving us a great heritage — a heritage that now consists of the same dictatorial administration plus a submissive, weak-purposed, intimidated collection of activity-hounds known as student council.

Auto Industry Hits Boom, Bust At Same Time

By NORMAN NICHOLSON
United Press Automotive Writer

DETROIT (AP) — The auto industry is having an economic nightmare — a boom and a bust at the same time.

Assembly lines are humming toward the first 8-million vehicle year in the history of U.S. automotive production.

And at the same time, sales of new and used cars have slumped to near-depression levels.

This situation, strangely enough, has brought forth no cries of alarm from top industry leaders. The silence of the manufacturers stands out like a dented fender when contrasted to the storm of protest raised by the nation's more than 40,000 passenger car dealers.

The auto merchants, of course, blame the new regulation W for cutting their sales just about in half. The 15-month limit on time payments has kept many would-be customers from getting a new or used car, even though they have the required one-third down payment.

Election Outlook Hopeless for Third Party

By RAYMOND WILCOVE
Central Press Correspondent

WASHINGTON — Last in the hurly-burly battle between the Republican and Democratic parties for control of congress is the vigorous but almost 100 percent hopeless fight of "third party" candidates for a voice in the national government.

They are the "also rans," little noticed in the general excitement. There are 101 of them in 14 states some running on such novel party labels as "GIs Against Communism," "Independent Citizens," "Militant Workers," "Constitutional," "Industrial Government" and "Social Democrat."

All but one apparently stand no chance of election. The one exception, and he may also fall by the wayside, is Rep. Vito Marcantonio, American Labor party candidate in New York City, the sole minor party member in congress since 1947.

The Progressive party, which loomed large on the political scene two years ago, is barely in the running now with only a few token candidates.

Deserted by its 1949 presidential nominee, Henry A. Wallace, it is running only seven candidates in four states, one for the senate in Pennsylvania, two each for the house in Washington and Pennsylvania, and one each for the house in Montana and Virginia. There are also two "Independent Progressive" candidates for the house in California.

OF THE "third party" candidates, 16 are seeking election to the senate in eight states and 85 seek election to the house in 10 states.

Along with the new name "third parties" are some of the old political groups which have for years plodded along on the American political scene. They include the Prohibition, Socialist, Socialist Labor and Socialist Worker parties.

The Prohibition party, once a potent element, is running three candidates for the senate in Illinois, Kansas and Pennsylvania and one for the house in California.

The Socialist party has entered senatorial candidates in Pennsylvania and Wisconsin and eight house candidates in Colorado, Montana, Pennsylvania and Wisconsin.

The largest "third party" groups are the American Labor party and the Liberal party in New York. The ALP is running a senatorial candidate and has entered 38 of the 45 house contests in the Empire State.

The Liberal party has entered 14 house candidates and has also endorsed Democratic and Republican candidates, mostly the former.

NEW YORK ranks first in the number of "third party" candidates: 39 American Labor, 14 Liberal, 1 Socialist Worker, and 1 Independent Government.

Pennsylvania is next with 10 aspirants. It is notable also as the state which has eight candidates seeking the seat now held by Sen. Francis J. Myers, the Democratic majority whip.

In addition to Myers and Republican candidate Gov. James H. Duff, six other candidates are running on the following party tickets: Prohibition, GIs Against Communism, Industrial Government, Militant Workers, Progressive, and Socialist.

New York has three minor party senatorial candidates — American Labor, Socialist Worker, and Industrial Government — Washington has two — Socialist Labor and Independent — and there is one each in Illinois, Kansas, Kentucky, Wisconsin, and Missouri.

The simplest "third party" label of all — Independent — is borne by 13 candidates in Colorado, Kentucky, New Jersey, Virginia and Washington. Two seek senate seats in Kentucky and Washington, while the remainder are campaigning for the house, seven in New Jersey alone.

HERE is the "third party" lineup in the 14 states in which they are entered: New York, 55; Pennsylvania, 10; Washington and New

REP. VITO MARCANTONIO

Jersey, 7; Wisconsin, 5; Virginia, 4; California and Colorado, 3; Montana, 2, and Kentucky, Missouri, Vermont, Illinois, and Kansas, 1.

The Communist party entered no candidates this year. In the last off-election year, in 1946, it had six candidates seeking election to the house and senate in Virginia, New Jersey and Michigan.

The 1946 election saw 107 "third party" candidates go down to defeat in 17 states. One independent, Congressman Marcantonio, won re-election in New York.

This year, the Republican, Democratic and Liberal parties have combined behind one candidate, James G. Donovan, in an all-out effort to defeat him. If they succeed, congress will be without a single "third party" member for the first time in many years.

Marcantonio has been the lone holdout since the old Progressive party of Robert M. LaFollette vanished from the political scene. Rep. Henry Hull, the only surviving LaFollette party member in congress, is now campaigning for re-election in Wisconsin as a Republican. He made the "switch" four years ago.

Survival of A-Bomb Attack Not Impossible

WASHINGTON — The government said Tuesday that your chances of surviving an A-bomb are better than you think, even without tick gadgets, clothing or training.

The assurance was in a 32-page pamphlet published by the national security resources board. Entitled "Survival Under Atomic Attack," it outlined do's and don'ts to be followed in an A-bomb raid.

The pamphlet, first of a series, braced discussion of "super-super bombs" as "wild talk." It said that an atomic bomb is "just another way of causing an explosion."

"While an atom bomb holds more death and destruction than man has ever before wrapped in a single package, its total power is definitely limited," the pamphlet said. "Not even hydrogen bombs could blow the earth apart or kill us all by mysterious radiation."

The agency conceded that there is "practically no hope" for anyone directly under an A-bomb explosion and that chances for survival within half a mile of the blast are only one in 10.

Beyond two miles, the explosion will cause practically no deaths at all.

The NSRB listed "six survival secrets" and asked readers to clip out that page and "keep it with you until you have memorized it." They are:

1. — If there is enough time, try to find shelter in a basement, subway, ditch or gutter or alongside a building.
2. — Drop flat on the ground or the floor.
3. — Bury your face in your arms.
4. — After an air burst, wait a few minutes before rushing out to fight fires. After other kinds of bursts, wait at least an hour to give lingering radiation a chance to die down.
5. — Don't take chances with food or water in open containers.
6. — Don't start rumors.

Austrians Fire Police Who Refused to Obey

VIENNA (AP) — Austria's government, defying the Russian occupation authorities, declared Tuesday its order firing five pro-Communist police chiefs will stand.

The police chiefs, all in the Russian sector of Vienna, were dismissed last week for refusing to obey orders during the Communist disturbances here earlier in the month.

Tempting Desserts Easy to Make With Milk

EVERYTHING FROM FRUIT TO NUTS can add flavor and color to rennet desserts. Shown above are desserts decorated with chopped walnuts and pecans, chocolate bits, pieces of cookies, cake, ready-to-eat cereal and fig newtons. Rennet powder and uncooked milk form the base dessert, and the imagination can take over from there with garnishes.

Milk Plus Flavor Combinations Make Delicious Dessert Variety

Extra nourishment as well as pleasure in dessert treats is what the wise homemaker looks for in planning her desserts. Rennet desserts, made from wholesome, uncooked milk is the answer to this dessert problem.

For a variety of flavor combinations, the homemaker can add fruits, nuts, bread or cake cubes to the different flavors of the rennet dessert mixture.

Ingredients for the rennet mixture are:
2 cups milk (not canned)
1 package rennet powder (any flavor)

Four or five dessert glasses are needed for the following recipes.

Depending upon the flavor. Add these variations:

Vanilla: Combine 1/2 cup Grape-nuts and 1/2 cup raisins. Divide mixture among dessert glasses.

Chocolate: Divide one cup bread cubes among dessert glasses.

Lemon: Divide 1/2 cup cubed, well-drained peaches among dessert glasses.

Raspberry: Cut 1 1/2 cup cranberry jelly into small cubes. Divide among dessert glasses.

Orange: Cut four marshmallows into small pieces. Combine with 1/4 cup chopped nuts and divide among dessert glasses.

Maple: Place three strips of plain or sponge cake in each of the dessert glasses.

Warm the milk slowly until lukewarm, stirring constantly. Test a drop on the inside of your wrist frequently. When it feels comfortably warm (110°F.) —not hot, remove at once from heat. Stir in entire contents of package of rennet powder at one time.

Mix until powder is dissolved —not over one minute. Pour at once, while still liquid, into dessert glasses over bread or fruit mixture. Do not disturb for about 10 minutes, while milk sets. Then chill in refrigerator until serving time.

Plain rennet desserts may be decorated in many attractive and delicious ways when ready to serve. Here are a few suggestions.

Sprinkle the chilled dessert with chopped walnuts, pecans, plain or toasted coconut or chocolate bits. Trim with well-drained maraschino cherries or other sliced or cubed fruits. Place a spoonful of jam, jelly or fruit preserves on the center of each chilled dessert.

Put a mound of whipped cream on each dessert. Garnish with pieces of cookies or fig newtons. Top with chocolate, lemon or orange. Sprinkle surface with cookie crumbs or ready-to-eat cereal.

Place small pieces of marshmallow on surface of each dessert. Or garnish with a spoonful of marshmallow fluff. The fluff may be prepared by melting marshmallows in top of double boiler over boiling water. Add coloring and flavoring, if desired. If too thick, thin with small amount of water.

Ensign Ratings Opened To Selected Graduates

U.S. navy commissions will be open today for selected college graduates who have at least 12 semester hours of physics.

Male graduates between the ages of 19 and 27, and female graduates between 21 and 27 are eligible for appointment to the grade of ensign.

For further information on requirements and applications, graduates should contact the U.S. navy recruiting station, Des Moines.

Nurses to Discuss Child Health Problem

Dorothy Rook, school nurse, and Clarice Hickman, city nurse, will discuss the health problem of every school child at the Horace Mann PTA meeting. The meeting will be at 2:30 p.m. Thursday in the Horace Mann school.

Mrs. Walter Winborn, publicity chairman, said Monday that everyone is asked to bring a dish towel for the school kitchen.

Members of the hospitality committee are Mrs. Allan Wicks, chairman, Mrs. Larry T. Smith and Mrs. Ray Memler. Serving on the social committee are Mrs. Don Sullivan, chairman, Mrs. James Ryan, Mrs. Vernon Stutzman and Mrs. Frank Clark.

Pouring will be Mrs. Roy Todd and Ruby Gillespie. Room mothers serving on committees are Mrs. Russell Rourke and Mrs. Robert G. Snyder.

Music Teachers Hear Opera at Convention

Iowa college and private music teachers attending the Iowa Music Teachers convention at SUI heard the modern opera, "The Medium" presented Monday by the Drake university music department.

The teachers also heard a private recital by Katja Andy, noted pianist from Chicago, Monday afternoon. Other activities included a chamber music concert and a forum of current works by Iowa composers.

Sunday the convention attended an organ recital by Eugene Devereaux of Cornell college, Mt. Vernon. Many of the delegates participated in a symphony concert by the 101-piece association orchestra, Sunday night. More than 100 music teachers attended the two-day convention.

Application Deadline Extended to Nov. 6

The deadline for applications for the position of chairman of the 1951 men's orientation program has been extended to Nov. 6. Application blanks may be picked up in the office of student affairs and should be returned to that office.

Pure food spices, from anise to tumeric, are being offered in liquid form to housewives. Manufacturers say they mix immediately with the food and are uniform in strength, so that "guess-work" can be eliminated from cooking with spices.

A shirt button that clips on like a laundry tab should be a boon to men unskilled in sewing. It looks exactly like a regular button, thread and all.

You can keep potato chips fresh and crisp by storing them in your food freezer or freezer compartment of the refrigerator.

A new "cable" earring is made on a flexible, curved cable which fits the back of the ear. It has a bit of glitter on both ends, putting a jewel on top of the ear as well as at the lobe.

A recipe for pear fluff combines 1 egg white, 1 tablespoon sugar, 1/4 cup orange juice, 1 tablespoon lemon juice and 1 can strained pears in a jar with a tight fitting top. Shake the jar until ingredients are thoroughly mixed. Pour over cracked ice and serve.

Those suffering from exam nerves and lack of sleep should try these sleep-inducing products. A "Lullapine" hums a constant drowsing tone and expels pine fragrance. "Slumber Bath," added to nightly bath water, also is supposed to induce sleep.

Cut steel wool soap pads into small pieces — enough for one or two dish washings, after which each can be thrown away. This system eliminates useless, rusty pads.

Hawkeyes Practice On Defense

Drahn, Commack Return to Drills

There's a new poster in the Iowa dressing room and the coaches hope it will be as successful as the one bearing Stu Holcomb's statement.

This one reads, "Forget Ohio State, Remember Minnesota 55, Iowa 7." That, of course, was the score of last year's meeting.

The Hawks are trying hard to forget Ohio State with a week of concentrated drills. Tuesday, Iowa worked on fundamentals and the defense took a brief look at Minnesota's offense.

Leave Friday

More of the same is scheduled for today and Thursday before the Hawks leave by plane for Minneapolis Friday.

An encouraging note in Tuesday's practice was the return of injured Quarterback Glenn Drahn. Drahn appeared in fairly good shape as he directed the backfield in a lengthy signal drill.

Don Commack, who missed the Ohio game with injuries, worked out for the second straight day without shoulder pads. The little Waterloo player hurt a shoulder in the Homecoming victory over Purdue.

Club trainers believe that all except Arnold Caplan should be in reasonably good shape for the Gopher game. And from the improvement Minnesota showed in tying favored Michigan last week, Iowa is going to need everything it has to average last year's loss.

Blocks Kick

Caplan is suffering from an ankle injury of undetermined severity. He was injured in blocking an end zone kick against the Buckeyes which led to Iowa's third touchdown.

Meanwhile in Minneapolis, Coach Bernie Bierman concentrated on a defense against Hawkeye plays. The Gopher backfield also worked on their own offense. This backfield included Bob Gelle at quarterback, George Hudak and Dick Gregory at halfbacks, with Capt. Dave Skrien and Skip Engel alternating at fullback.

SMU Tops AP Poll; Ohio State in Fourth

NEW YORK (AP) — Southern Methodist and Army are one-two again this week in The Associated Press football poll — and "X" marks the big, round spot they're on.

These two unbeaten, untied leaders for national honors go against what stack up as their toughest assignments of the season in Saturday's games.

SMU's swift-striking Mustangs, who have rolled up 184 points on five foes, will meet a big, fast Texas team at Austin, Texas; only defeat was a 14-13 decision to Oklahoma.

Army will risk a 25-game unbeaten streak against formidable Pennsylvania, beaten only by California and 30-7 conqueror of Navy last weekend. The game is at Philadelphia. Here is the new ranking by the nation's sports writers and broadcasters:

SMU, Army, Oklahoma, Ohio State, Kentucky, California, Texas, Miami (Fla.), Princeton and Illinois.

Ohio State leaped from sixth to fourth on the strength of its awesome 83-21 rout of Iowa, dropping Kentucky and California down a notch.

Texas held firm at the seventh slot and three new teams moved in below, replacing Tennessee, Northwestern and Cornell.

Tennessee wasn't impressive in shading Washington and Lee, 27-20. Northwestern and Cornell fell from unbeaten ranks. Oklahoma should breeze to a new modern winning record of 27 games against Colorado.

The rankings, with first place votes in parentheses and points awarded on the basis of ten for first, nine for second, etc.:

Rank	Team	Points
1.	Southern Methodist (133)	2,574
2.	Army (34)	2,154
3.	Oklahoma (25)	2,137
4.	Ohio State (30)	1,822
5.	Kentucky (7)	1,572
6.	California (2)	1,244
7.	Texas (12)	1,236
8.	Miami (Fla.) (12)	462
9.	Princeton (2)	382
10.	Illinois (1)	352

Football Officials Don't Whistle in Dark

By WHITNEY MARTIN
NEW YORK (AP) — Pretty soft for those spry gents in striped shirts who play drop-the-handkerchief on college football fields these Saturdays, isn't it? Or is it?

They do get a stray pup's view of the game, being down there and practically crawling under the players to find the ball, and you can't beat the hours.

No Castle in Spain

But they aren't going to buy any castles in Spain with their earnings. In fact, it's a labor of love in most cases, as when you figure the officials' traveling time, the cost of their uniforms, and their laundry bills it's hard to figure how they figure to come out ahead.

Here are some figures, courtesy of Bert Bell, the National Football league commissioner, which might be discouraging to a young fellow contemplating picking up some of this easy money every fall Saturday.

"A college official makes only around $400 a season for the first four or five years," Bell says. "Then when he gets up to the top he might make $1,100 a season. That's a little discouraging."

"When officials can make $2,500 or $3,000 a season young fellows will have an incentive to take up the work."

Considering that an official must study the rule book until he knows it inside out, that he must be in top physical condition to race about the field keeping up with the modern galloping game, and that he is subjected to frequent bitter criticism by fans and coaches.

Integrity Unquestioned

Their integrity must be unquestioned, too, and they must be as impartial as rain, which falls on the fair and the just fair alike.

The officials are out there to call 'em as they see 'em, and down through the years we've yet to find one whom we wouldn't care to associate with.

They make errors in judgment, sure. And who doesn't? But they make fewer errors than their critics would make under similar circumstances.

Bucks Too Good, Gamblers Complain

COLUMBUS (UP)—Wes Fesler, whose Ohio State football team has powered over four or five opponents, revealed Tuesday that gamblers were complaining about the scores, but declared he'd quit before giving in to such pressure.

"When it reaches the place that I've got to coach my football team according to the dictates of a gambler or a group of gamblers, I'll give up the game," the coach said.

Fesler's statement came in the wake of a report from New Orleans that polls had been "hit" for more than $200,000 last week alone. But Fesler said he did not know whether any of the complaints came from such sources.

The flood of complaints that followed Ohio State's 26-14 win over Indiana, and routs of Pittsburgh, 41-7, Minnesota, 48-0, and Iowa, 83-21, were anonymous. The Bucks lost only their season opener, 32-27, to Southern Methodist.

Fesler has been pestered, as have dozens of other coaches around the country, by letter and telephone because of his team's performance. This year, following the Ohio State victory over California, Fesler was considering resigning for the sake of his "family's welfare and security." He agreed to stay on at $15,000 a year, after being assured of a job even if he had a losing team.

Bonus Rule Appears Headed for Discard

CINCINNATI (AP) — Baseball's controversial bonus rule, still on the books despite two major league attempts to oust it, appeared headed for the ash heap Tuesday.

Elimination of the rule, adopted Feb. 15, 1947, won approval of the major-minor executive committee Tuesday following a proposal by the Jersey City club.

The committee will recommend that the major and minor leagues, at their December meeting in St. Petersburg, Fla., erase the entire bonus structure.

Buckeyes Set Three Records Against Iowa

CHICAGO (AP) — The Big Ten's madcap football season, far from finished, already has produced eight new individual and two team records for single-game performances. In addition, three conference individual and two team marks have been matched.

Ohio State's 83-21 romp over Iowa and the 7-7 tie between Michigan and Minnesota last Saturday caused the latest revision of the record book.

Vic Janowicz, Ohio State's versatile back, notched two individual marks with his 11 conversion attempts and 10 successful tries in the massacre of Iowa. A negative record was established as Michigan's Chuck Ortman was hailed for a minus 38 yards rushing against Minnesota.

Ohio State's 12 touchdowns against the Hawkeyes set a modern team record. The Buckeyes' 11 conversions against Iowa matched a league record.

Halloween Jokesters Start Antics Early; Police Kept Busy

Reports of Halloween vandalism began flowing into Iowa City police headquarters Tuesday as pranksters started a pre-season celebration.

Iowa City bus driver, William Kindl, reported that children had thrown bricks through the windows of his bus as it was going south on Dodge street.

Police were called to the intersection of Governor and Washington streets at 9:38 p.m. Monday to remove a car which had been pushed into the intersection.

Other residents reported car and house windows soaped and garbage cans tipped over.

Government Predicts Price Records in 1951

WASHINGTON (AP)—Food prices may reach an all-time high by mid 1951.

The prices of almost all other consumer items — oil and coal, furniture and lumber, auto, truck and tractor supplies, soap and brooms — will be climbing right behind them.

This bleak economic picture for consumers was painted Tuesday by the agriculture department and its top price forecasters before a conference of state and federal farm officials.

Meanwhile a commerce department economic official warned that "additional control measures" may be needed to prevent inflation next year because people will have more money and there will be fewer things to buy.

They'll use part of that money, the experts said, to eat more on the average in 1951 than they did this year or last, despite higher food prices.

Other government experts told the conference that defense jobs probably will lure some farm workers to the cities, but not enough to endanger essential farm output. They said the nation's farms will be worth about $134.4 billion on Jan. 1, 1951—54.7 percent more than on Jan. 1, 1951.

Building of Bridge Scheduled to Begin Highway 6 Project

Construction is scheduled to start about Nov. 13 on the Clear Creek bridge, the first step in the state project to re-route and widen highway 6.

The bridge, which will cross Clear Creek south of Coralville, will cost $118,249.70. The Schmidt Construction company, Winfield, submitted the low bid Oct. 24.

The Schmidt bid specified that work will begin on the bridge by Nov. 13, and will be completed by Aug. 4, 1951.

The bridge is the first step in a project to widen highway 6 to four lanes in a cutoff from two miles west of Coralville to Woolf avenue in Iowa City.

The new four-lane highway will reconnect with highway 6, west of Iowa City, cutting off the sharp curve south of Coralville that has been the scene of several accidents.

County Engineer R. H. Justen said Tuesday that the state probably will ask for bids this fall on a grading project which will accompany the highway straightening.

The new bridge will be 210 feet in length and 52 feet wide to provide for four-lane traffic. The highway cut-off itself will run parallel to the Rick Island railroad right-of-way.

Local Businessman Sues M. E. Gatton for $206.49

Floyd E. Jackson, owner of Jackson's Electric shop, filed suit Monday in Johnson county district court to collect an outstanding account of $206.49 from M. E. Gatton, 641 S. Dodge street.

Jackson claimed he sold Gatton a room air-conditioner last March at a cost of $356.49 and that Gatton paid him only $150.

The air-conditioner is now in possession of Maher Bros. Transfer company, Jackson claimed. He asked for a writ of attachment on the machine.

Man in OMVI Case Bound to Grand Jury

Lyle C. Truman, 29, Downey, charged with operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated, waived preliminary hearing in police court Tuesday and was bound over to the grand jury.

Truman was arrested at 11:50 p.m. Monday after the truck he was driving crashed into the curb at the intersection of Seventh and Muscatine avenues.

He was released from jail on $500 bond Tuesday.

In another police court case, James Rock, Iowa City, was sentenced to five days in the county jail on an intoxication charge.

Britons, Americans Debate Socialism, No Votes Taken

The question of socialism versus capitalism as the most effective bulwark against communism was thoroughly thrashed out in an international debate at Macbride auditorium Tuesday night.

Making an effective case for socialism were Ernest A. Smith, University of Birmingham, and John G. Williams, University College of North Wales, visiting debaters from England.

Taking the negative side of "Resolved: That Socialism is the Best Bulwark Against Communism" and upholding capitalism were Edward Diekmann, E4, Ottumwa, and George McBurney, L3, Council Bluffs.

Votes on the merits of the two arguments had not been tabulated by early Wednesday morning.

The British debaters interspersed their arguments with typical English dry humor and good natured raillery.

For the affirmative, Ernest A. Smith, University of Birmingham, and John G. Williams, University College of North Wales, presented their views deftly and regaled the audience with anecdotes and quips spiced with proper British accents.

In the more prosaic American accent, Edward Diekmann, E4, Ottumwa, and George McBurney, L3, Council Bluffs, held their own on the question, answering quip for quip and joke for joke.

McCarthy Demands Effective Investigation

LA CROSSE (AP)—Republican Sen. Joseph McCarthy called on Democrats Tuesday to see that his charges of communism in the state department are investigated "effectively."

McCarthy said only the election of a Republican congress could bring about the "effective investigation."

The GOP senator labeled the Democratic party "commie-rat" and said it no longer "is representative of true Democrats."

McCarthy repeated his charges of communism in government to an audience of nearly 400 at Kiwanis-sponsored luncheon.

Immediately afterward, State Sen. Gaylord Nelson, (D. Madison), challenged him to repeat charges he's made under senate immunity at a microphone Nelson set up across the street. The challenge went unanswered as Nelson's voice was drowned out by the noise made by the departing crowd.

Nelson, campaign chairman for State Democrats, countered McCarthy's charges by saying he had not proved them.

Local Synagogue Nears Completion

Iowa City's Agudas Achim congregation is erecting a new synagogue at Washington and College streets, scheduled for completion in January.

The 40 by 54 ft. red-brick building will house the synagogue and a Hebrew school for 15 students on the street floor. A basement will be used for a recreation room according to Harry Shulman, chairman of the synagogue's building committee.

The members of the synagogue, now at 432 S. Clinton street, are contributing spare time to construct the building. The Moorehead Construction company, Cedar Rapids, is in charge of the construction.
