Keep Off the Grass? Not Much Trouble There

A DRIVING NINE-INCH SNOWFALL Thursday made a mockery of Denver's long Indian summer with its record warm weather. Denver recorded a frigid "high" of 14 Thursday and a national low of 3 Thursday. The snow created one of the worst traffic jams in Denver history as it iced streets and drifted around stalled and parked autos. Iowa's cold weather lingered Thursday with light flurries late Thursday night.

U.S. To China: Withdraw

More Chinese Cross Border

SEOUL, KOREA (FRIDAY) (AP) - A MacArthur briefing officer Thursday said large numbers of Chinese from Manchuria were pouring across the frontier into North Korea but patrols today still made no contact with the enemy. An estimated 60,000 Chinese Communist troops had joined the 60,000 North Korean Reds still opposing the UN troops in the frigid, mountainous northern part of the Korean peninsula.

Navy planes in one of their biggest strikes of the war Thursday pounded Yalu river points. They struck at bridges across which troops and supplies were streaming from Communist Manchuria. He said four Chinese groups - each equal to an American army corps - are in North Korea. Three groups face the U.S. Eighth army on the northwestern front. The fourth opposes the Tenth corps in the northeast.

Wife Gives Birth To Son Month After Husband's Polio Death

A boy was born Wednesday morning at University hospitals to Mrs. Shirley Needham Wilkins, Ames, a month after the child's father, a captain in the U.S. army medical corps, died of polio on a naval hospital ship off the shores of Korea. Captain Wilkins, a graduate of SUI's college of medicine in 1946, was serving with a mobile army surgical hospital in Korea when he was stricken and later died Oct. 5.

WILKINS

The baby, weighing slightly over six pounds, is named Scott Pammel Wilkins. Here with Mrs. Wilkins is her husband's mother, Mrs. Eleanor Wilkins, Ames, with whom the doctor's widow is making her home. The child's mother was for two years a member of the SUI home economics staff. She is a granddaughter of the late Dr. Louis B. Pammel, who was head of the botany department at Iowa State college.

'Anti-Freeze,' You Say?

KNOXVILLE, TENN. (AP) - A cardboard case labeled "anti-freeze" fell from a transport truck Thursday. Fifths of 100-proof whisky tumbled out in this dry territory. Lewis Maddux, a salesman, said several motorists and pedestrians ran out and grabbed bottles. "One truck driver stopped, looked around and then jumped in his truck with two bottles." The driver of the transport truck was unaware of his loss.

Dance Tonight to Open Weekend Honoring Dads

Fathers of SUI students will be honored this weekend as Dad's day activities go into full swing. Ten student dad candidates will be presented tonight at the Dad's day dance with the alumni dad, selected by Omicron Delta Kappa, Dad's day weekend sponsors. The student dad candidates, nominated by married student housing units, are: George Roberts, G. Templeton; Conrad Livingston, L3, Finkbine park; John Jessup, G. Westlawn park.

Campus Chest Tops $1,000

Think of a pledge to the SUI Campus Chest drive in terms of a very special person - the fellow it's going to help, movie czar Eric Johnston, honorary chairman of the drive, said Thursday. Contributions to the Chest totaled $1,076.96 after the second day of the drive, student chairman William Shields, C4, Newton, reported. Thursday's contributions totaled $382.40.

In a special message to SUI students, Johnston said, "Think of the cancer patient, or undergraduate somewhere in western Europe without books. When giving to the Chest think of the DP student dealt out of a homeland he can call his own by the stacked deck of war," Johnston declared.

"Think of another fellow very like yourself who hasn't had your chance in life for a single reason - his skin is darker than yours," he said. "Your contributions to the Campus Chest will help him and the four other organizations that receive aid from the chest," Johnston said.

Case of Pre-Natal Polio Reported by Doctor

WASHINGTON (AP) - Possible evidence that polio can strike a child in its mother's womb before birth has been reported to the District of Columbia Medical society. Members of the society said Dr. Philip Stimson of Cornell university told them at a meeting Wednesday of what may be the first case of pre-natal polio on record.

Fire Destroys Interior of Home

FIRE DESTROYED the interior of this two-story remodeled garage home, 1836 G street, Wednesday night, but left the outside undamaged. Frank Duttlinger, sole resident of the house, was injured as he successfully rescued $100 he left behind in his rush to escape the blaze. The fire was caused by a defective chimney, firemen said. The building belongs to Carl Harned. (Story on page 5.)

UN Asked To Act Today On Issue

LAKE SUCCESS (AP) - The United States, Britain and France Thursday night asked the security council to put the Chinese Communist crisis in North Korea ahead of all other business today and completed a resolution demanding that Red China withdraw its thousands of troops from Korea. The U.S. formally called for the security council to take up the American complaint against the Chinese Communists at 2 p.m. (Iowa time) today instead of dealing with the Palestine case as scheduled.

Chinese Invited In asking for urgent discussion of the Chinese Communist intervention in North Korea, the Americans acted before a Communist Chinese delegation had an opportunity to arrive here. The council issued an invitation Wednesday but several delegations served notice they would not postpone all action until the Communists arrived.

Porter McKeever, spokesman for the United States delegation, made this statement: "The United States, the United Kingdom, and France have requested the security council to place the Korean question on the agenda of today's meeting so the council may continue to consider what action should be taken to meet the situation created by the Communist Chinese intervention."

Red Delegation Enroute The state department said in Washington Thursday it was directing American authorities in Prague to issue visas to a delegation of nine Communist Chinese representatives who are believed to be enroute here to take part in the council discussion on charges of American aggression against Formosa.

There has been no reply to the council invitation Wednesday but observers here speculated the Communist Chinese would instruct the same delegation to sit in on the charges of Chinese intervention in Korea.

SUI Vet Enrollment Down 38 Percent From Last Year

Unofficial estimates of the enrollment of veterans in U.S. colleges for 1950 indicate registrations have nose-dived 42 percent below the 1949 figures. SUI Registrar Ted McCarrel said Thursday there are 1,740 fewer student veterans on campus than last year. He reported only 2,563 men and 41 women veterans compared with 4,313 men and 72 women last fall.

This represents a 38 percent decrease in the SUI veteran enrollment. McCarrel said this year's non-veteran students number 6,724 men and 2,563 women. A breakdown of figures on veterans in each of SUI's colleges shows: Commerce, 224 men and 1 woman out of 643 students; dentistry, 133 men out of 213; engineering, 155 men out of 366 students; graduate, 945 men and 17 women out of 2,345 students.

Truman Undecided On Congress Recall

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Truman Thursday faced a decision - whether to compromise or fight it out with a new, 82nd congress hostile to much of his program.

For one thing, he put off a decision, possibly until next week, on whether to call the 81st congress, now a "lame duck" legislature, back into session earlier than Nov. 27 to act on measures he calls vitally important.

However, the stunning Republican comeback at the polls Tuesday - when the President had predicted a Democratic sweep - doubtless required a new examination of strategy.

ASK PAY RAISES MINNEAPOLIS (AP) - University of Minnesota faculty members asked Thursday for pay raises for the next two years.

Professors Testify In District Court Playschool Hearing

Six witnesses, including three SUI professors, appeared in Johnson county district court Thursday at a hearing over a private playschool operated by David C. Davis. The suit, charging that the playschool is a nuisance and contrary to city ordinances was brought by history Prof. W. R. Livingston, and two other neighbors of Davis, Mabel Evans and Klara Robbins. At present, the playschool has 50 children from 2 to 5 years of age, Davis said. They came to the Davis' home, 1041 Woodlawn, at 8 a.m. and leave at 5 p.m. The plaintiffs charged that the children make too much noise, that the playground raises dust which necessitates extra cleaning, that the coming and going of children brings too many cars into the neighborhood and that the school is devaluating property.

Those who testified were City Clerk George Dohrer, physics Prof. G. W. Stewart, Dr. Phillip J. Rashid of University hospitals, Professor Livingston, Mrs. Evans and another neighbor, Fred V. Johnson.

Vote Hits Record for Non-Presidential Year

WASHINGTON (AP) - The total popular vote in Tuesday's elections, though incomplete in most states, has reached a record for a non-presidential year of 40,727,546. Republicans outvoted the Democrats 21,049,778 to 18,684,129 in the aggregate. The previous record for an off-year election was 37,304,380 in 1938.

Second Jewel Theft Here in Two Days

The second diamond theft in two days at the Summit apartments, 232 S. Summit street, was reported to Iowa City police Thursday. Eloise Zeller reported the loss of a diamond ring valued at $350. She said the ring was taken from a jewelry box in her apartment within the last two weeks. Wednesday Mrs. Robert E. Flynn reported the loss of her diamond ring valued at $1,800. She said it was taken from a jewelry box where she had placed it Sunday. Detective Harland Sprinkle of the Iowa City police force is investigating the case.

NEW MEDAL ESTABLISHED WASHINGTON (AP) - President Truman issued an executive order Thursday establishing a service medal to be awarded members of the armed forces who served in the Korean war since June 27. The medal may be awarded posthumously.

SUI Council to Circulate Petition To Suspend No-Cut Rule Jan. 2

SUI's Student council voted Thursday night to continue its fight to have SUI's no-cut rule suspended Jan. 2, 1951, by circulating a petition among SUI students. The decision to circulate the petition came after Council President Jack Whitesell read a letter from SUI President Virgil M. Hancher, denying the council's previous request to have the regulation suspended.

The council began its campaign several weeks ago because many SUI students living at a distance from Iowa City would otherwise have to travel New Year's eve and New Year's day to be back in classes Jan. 2, after Christmas vacation.

Business Assails Excess Profits Tax

WASHINGTON (AP) - A committee of over 100 top business executives Thursday launched an all-out fight against an excess profits tax and called for "sound alternative corporate taxation" during the defense emergency. They assailed the idea of a super levy on so-called "excess profits" as inequitable, inflationary, destructive and dangerous. But in the face of the great costs of building armaments against Communist aggression, the businessmen said "business profit must bear their fair share of increased taxation."

Strike Slows Inter-City Calls

NEW YORK (AP) - A nationwide strike of 33,000 telephone workers Thursday slowed down America's long distance service. Most local service was not affected. Two off-duty policemen and pickets engaged in a minor clash in Pittsburgh.

Telephone officials in San Francisco reported several wires cut there in what they described as an apparent sabotage attempt. Mannie Silva, area strike director for northern California and Nevada, flatly denied any union responsibility for the "purported sabotage."

FIGURING THE BONE of contention might have something to do with dog food, "Elmer the pooch" joined his master, Joe Parker, on the picket line in Seattle, Wash., Thursday. More than 30,000 U.S. phone workers went on strike Thursday.

SUI Suspends Parking Regulations in Areas Around Hillcrest

Hillcrest residents will be permitted to park their cars on certain lawn areas around the dormitory without being charged with violating SUI parking regulations, it was learned Thursday. The action came as the result of a petition sent Thursday, Nov. 2, to the SUI parking committee by the Hillcrest council, asking that parking regulations around Hillcrest be suspended because of inadequate facilities. A letter sent by the committee to Hillcrest Thursday specifically outlined the parking allowances. Hillcrest residents who have been ticketed since SUI's parking regulations went into effect Nov. 1 will not be assessed fines for lawn parking violations.

Pegram Elected Head Of New SUI Club

SUI's newest organization, the Marketing club, met for the first time Thursday night and elected officers. Norman Pegram, C4, Carlisle, was elected president; Dick Traugott, G, Cedar Falls, vice-president; Bill Fenholt, C4, Charles City, secretary-treasurer, and Carlene Anderson, C3, Iowa City, corresponding secretary. The Marketing club will be recognized by the American Marketing association next week with 58 other affiliated clubs. Only two schools in the Big Ten are not association members. They are Michigan State and Purdue. Membership in the club is restricted to commerce students majoring in marketing.

Just Among Friends HAKITFORD CITY, IND. (AP) - Blackford county residents don't mind if their treasurer runs off with county funds - they'll elect him anyway.

"The d--- Democratic party down here can't even elect a dead man or one that absconded," said a disgruntled Republican who refused use of his name.

U.S. Civil Service Conferences Monday

Time schedules for U.S. civil service conferences Monday in the office of student affairs were announced Thursday by the business and industrial placement office. Graduating accounting majors were invited to the accounting meeting at 1:30 p.m. A conference for prospective junior management assistants at 3:30 p.m. is open to business administration, industrial engineering, public administration and psychology seniors. Engineering majors were urged to attend the 4:30 p.m. meeting for junior scientists and reporters. Information on junior professional assistant positions will be presented at 2:30 p.m. to law students and social science and statistics majors. Representatives from the eighth U.S. civil service region will lead the discussions.

Local Effect ...

The nationwide strike of CIO telephone workers has had only a negligible effect on Iowa City telephone service, Roy A. Williams, manager of the local Northwestern Bell Telephone company, said Thursday.

Long distance calls to and from Des Moines are being put through on an emergency basis only, Williams said. Otherwise local telephone service has not been hampered, he pointed out. (Des Moines telephone exchanges are being picketed. It is the only Iowa city affected directly by the strike.) The Northwestern Bell company isn't involved in the strike.

No local telephone company employees are on strike. Seven Western Electric company installers are on strike here, but they have not picketed the local telephone office.

Didn't Talk Turkey, Looked Too Long Instead MILWAUKEE (AP) - Her husband spent entirely too long looking for a turkey, Mrs. Narvelle Witherspoon, 35, told Circuit Judge Roland Steine Thursday.

He went out Thanksgiving eve in 1948 and didn't come back until Christmas eve, without the turkey. Mrs. Witherspoon complained in asking for a divorce. Her husband, Bennie, 37, denied the long absence, contending he'd been sleeping in the basement. The judge granted the decree on grounds of cruel and inhuman treatment.

1950 Game Shortage

World Awaits New Republican Attitude on Foreign Policy

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst
All the world will be watching to see how far Republican exuberance over Tuesday's election results will carry them in opposition to current American foreign policy.

Initial statements from the now much stronger minority in congress indicated strong belief that the public had expressed dissatisfaction with results under the Truman-Acheson policy. The bipartisan approach was tottering on the sill if not completely out of the window.

Defeat of Scott Lucas, senate Democratic leader, in a hot fight in Illinois where the foreign policy he so often sponsored was a key issue, increased this Republican attitude. So did the reelection of Sen. Robert Taft in Ohio.

Even before the returns were in Taft had prepared a statement demanding a broad review of foreign policy. He attacked the whole concept of defending Europe against possible Russian aggression.

Taft has always been doubtful about aid to Europe, but went along fairly well as long as Sen. Arthur Vandenberg was active in bipartisan policy. But Taft was a born isolationist who learned only late in life of the inevitable involvement of the U.S. in world affairs. He goes along hesitantly and with a wary eye for the slightest sign that anyone will go beyond the most obvious American interests. With Vandenberg playing a small role now because of ill health, and Taft's overwhelming ascendancy in the party due to his smashing victory over a tremendous opposition coalition in Ohio, his caution will likely set the Republican pace in both houses of congress.

Marshall Plan aid will be threatened, not only in the last years of the current operation, but especially in planning for some form of extension on which the administration already had decided, and upon which western Europe has based many of its plans for rearmament. Taft also indicates that the rearmament program itself is in danger.

The Republican hue and cry over Communists in the administration also can be expected to continue, along with the shaming of Secretary of State Dean Acheson on this and other scores. Administration miscalculation on Korea in the first place, and on Chinese Communist intervention in the second place, will be taken as grounds for questioning its judgment on other situations as they arise.

Machinery Set Up To Raise Funds for American Theater

NEW YORK (AP)—The machinery for a major fund-raising campaign to help out the theater in all sections of the country was set in motion this week by the congress-chartered American national theater and academy.

Robert W. Dowling, banker and president of the City Investing company, which owns half a dozen Broadway playhouses, accepted the chairmanship of the drive offered to him by stage star Helen Hayes, new president of ANTA.

No limit has been set on the amount to be raised, but ANTA projects already under way call for a minimum of $1-million. The organization never has had much of a reserve in the 15 years since congress authorized it to take the best in the theater to every state.

"1. To purchase and equip America's first voluntarily supported theater."
"2. To establish the first national post-graduate theater academy."
"3. To extend ANTA's many-sided special services to theaters across the nation for the enrichment of America's cultural life."

Privilege Not a Prank —

Fun is part of college life and we'd be the last ones to want to scratch it from the schedule. But we've had here recently a "joke" which was a little outside the realm of what we could call justified fun.

A SUI faculty member was the victim of a joke played on him by students in Tuesday's election. They wrote in his name for coroner, much to the professor's objection, and he has since told newsmen that he was relieved to hear he didn't win the office. He was neither interested in nor qualified for the position, he said.

Our only objection to this "joke" has to do less with the professor than with the method of getting the prank over.

It would seem there are ample opportunities for fun without resorting to the use of a thing as important as an election of federal, state and community officers to find that fun.

The students might say they only wanted to point up what they consider the inadequacy of requirements for the office, and we do not question their privilege to do this.

However, Americans are jealous of few, if any, traditions as they are of their voting rights. And we wonder if there is any room for joking or pranking in an activity as serious as an election.

Standing outside one of the polling places Tuesday night, we were reminded of how really fortunate we all are that people can step behind those curtains and vote, without fear, for anybody they want to fill the offices. And no one can ever make them reveal their choices.

It's a known fact that voters receive voting instructions from various groups to which they belong, and, yet, there is nothing to keep them from voting as their conscience dictates once they're inside the curtains.

We all like a good laugh, fellows. And we love the man who can make the laughs without injuring his fellowman. But wasn't your method this time a little degrading to a tradition that deserves respect?

Feed Grains Remain Firm in Shaky Market

CHICAGO (AP)—Feed grains recovered Thursday from the previous session's spill on the board of trade. Both corn and oats maintained a firm tone in an otherwise shaky market.

About the only specific development to account for the strength in feed grains was the advent of cold weather in the corn belt. More low temperatures were foreseen for the immediate future. This will increase consumption of feed grains on farms, grain men said.

The cold weather was no help to wheat and soybeans. Both ended lower, although beans were down only slightly after dropping several cents at one time. Dealings in the bean pit fell off from the excited tempo of recent days while wheat turnover continued relatively low.

Wheat closed 1/4-1/2 lower, corn 1/4-1 1/2 higher, oats 1/4-1/2 higher, rye 2 1/2-3 1/2 higher, soybeans 1/2 to 1 cent lower and lard 22 to 50 cents a hundred pounds higher.

The market opened up as if it had forgotten all about Wednesday's sharp break. Gains were recorded in all pits, soybeans running up several cents. In part this reflected a strong upward surge in cotton. "Buying power soon waned in wheat and beans, after which the market set out on its two-way trend.

Ancient Skyscraper Attracts Many Tourists

By SPENCER CRUMP
Central Press Correspondent
COOLIDGE, ARIZ.—The spectacular ruins of America's first "skyscraper" are attracting curious visitors here to see how a mysterious, now vanished Indian tribe lived before Columbus discovered the New World.

This first "skyscraper" is the crude four-story adobe mud "apartment house" and lookout tower preserved as the Casa Grande National Monument.

Temperatures on the desert surrounding this town, midway between Tucson and Phoenix hit 110 degrees and more during the summer. But now weather is cooling down to pleasant summery temperatures and more visitors are making their way past buttes and tall saguaro cactus to this first "skyscraper."

Casa Grande has been excavated by archaeologists from the Smithsonian Institution, the Southwest Museum and the Los Angeles County Museum. Yet there are still six adjoining villages only partially probed and at least two Indian settlements never touched.

Casa Grande (Spanish for Big House) stands crumbling and decaying among modern day cotton fields. Its four-story walls are protected by a metal canopy from rains which would melt the adobe. National Park rangers are in charge of the area.

The story of Casa Grande is being traced back nearly 700 years, when a tribe called by modern Indians the Hohokam (The Ancient Ones) dug mighty irrigation canals, some 25 feet wide and 15 feet deep. The Salado (Salt) Indians, driven from their previous homes by drought, peacefully joined the Hohokam.

ers and adapted this skill to adobe mud. The two tribes went to work building a mighty skyscraper — four stories tall.

The top floor was a tower, which served as a lookout against enemies and to watch over the farmlands. The lower stories served as apartments for the now vanished tribes — the 11 large rooms probably housing as many families.

But hardly a century after Casa Grande was built, it was abandoned. Why the Indians left remains as much of a mystery as where they went, but archaeologists believe the land became so waterlogged after much irrigation that it was impossible to raise crops. Scientists have not yet traced the wanderings of the two tribes, but evidence indicates the Hohokam moved to other parts of Arizona and the Salado went to northern New Mexico.

Because the adobe building was so spectacular when compared to other Indian ruins, Padre Kino, exploring for the Spanish three centuries ago, named it Casa Grande.

This first "skyscraper" was designated a national monument in 1923 by presidential proclamation. Government rangers escort visitors through the ruins. A big thrill comes when visitors are permitted to rub their hands over the mud walls and feel fingerprints left there 700 years ago by the Indian builders.

Although a small guide fee is charged most visitors, the government has ruled that Indians may tour the ruins free.

And who knows but what some of these Indian visitors are the descendants of the mysterious people who built America's first "skyscraper."

Negroes Gain In Fight for Recognition

ATLANTA (AP)—Giving Negroes a hand in making education policies is being proposed in the south as one answer to the growing number of "equality" suits against school boards.

This was adopted as the policy of the Southern Regional council, an interracial organization of church, professional and businessmen of 13 southern states, at its recent annual meeting.

The council recommended giving Negroes seats in all policy-making bodies which administer laws and govern public services, but especially on school boards, both elective and appointive.

The council said public officials, belatedly awakened by federal "equalization suits" in county after county are anxiously examining their budgets and estimating facilities needed to provide Negroes with education that is technically equal.

But only by giving Negroes a voice in the day-to-day administration of schools can there be "true equality" instead of "arithmetical equality" and "paternalism," the council declared.

"This is the course for the south to follow," said Council President Paul D. Williams of Richmond, Va., in releasing the statement.

"We are facing a crisis today because of our failure to admit Negroes to partnership in our public life. By doing so now, the south can tap new resources of ability and statesmanship," he said.

"There is every reason to believe," the council said, "that the Negro plaintiffs, like the defendants, would prefer a less expensive and more cooperative method of reaching agreement."

In order to make their cases legally presentable the Negroes are expressing inequality in terms of teacher salaries, budgets, floor space, courses offered, the council said, thus reducing the problem to dollars and cents.

Public officials in county after county in the south are discovering from court orders that the time of postponing improvements for Negro schools has run out. As a result they deplore the suits.

"Such protestations are neither justified nor constructive," the council said. "It is hardly surprising the Negroes are turning with increasing frequency to the courts for the remedy to old injustices.

Letters to the Editor

SUI Invitation . . .

TO THE EDITOR:
Since Thanksgiving Day will be Saturday I think it is appropriate to make a suggestion that has been on my mind for quite some time.

Being a veteran myself I can appreciate how fortunate I was in coming out of the last war without any physical disabilities, but I haven't forgotten the many vets who weren't as fortunate as I. It is in this regard that I offer the following suggestion:

Why not invite patients from Veterans hospitals in the state to attend some SUI athletic events. I realize it is a little late for football season, but basketball season is approaching and I feel certain that some arrangements could be worked out whereby groups of patients could come to SUI as guests for future athletic events.

Most of the hospitals would serve to it that the patients arrived at SUI and all that would be necessary would be to entertain and feed them before the game.

These expenses could be taken care of by donations from interested students and perhaps other campus organizations would be willing to help out in this respect.

This project isn't new by any means. It was quite popular during the war and some colleges and universities still conduct such a program.

What are your ideas on this suggestion? Write me a letter in regard to this matter. Other letters to the editor might help make this idea a reality.

Debate Critique . . .

TO THE EDITOR:
The criticisms offered in regard to the 23rd international debate as presented on the SUI campus seem mainly concerned with the personal criticism of the American duet and those who criticize the SUI team. The whole affair is rapidly taking on farcical characteristics.

Why not forget the personal aspects of the debate and investigate the possibility as to whether or not we actually had a debate? Personally, I do not think that it was a real, honest to God debate. The best thing about this debate is the debate about the debate. Webster defines a debate as "the discussion or examination of a question by considering arguments on both sides."

Subject Too Broad
However, each team forgot the reason for which the notorious meeting was held. Neither side (the Americans in particular) engaged in adequate examination of the arguments held by the opposing side. The reason for this is at once obvious: The subject of the debate, "Democratic Socialism Is the Best Defense Against Communism," is much, much too broad, too involved for four people to discuss profoundly and examine pertinent arguments adequately in but two hours.

I have a questionable faith that the British and the Americans would have done more justice to the topic were they to be given more time. As it happened, though, the British seemed to spend the limited time more wisely than our SUI representatives. At least the former made a summarization of their stand.

Before the debate I admittedly was prejudiced against the affirmative side of the question. However, since votes were to be based on the presented merits of the issue instead of the merits of the performers, I favored the British stand with my vote. This is in contradiction with my feelings about the subject; the American presentation of arguments was disappointing, considering that they had an equal opportunity to outdo our guests.

Perhaps SUI will offer more formidable resistance in international debates in the future. But why not limit the scope of the topics to be debated in order to give the competitors a fair chance to handle them? Traditional debates and Frivols are going to pot hand in hand.

Election Comments . . .

TO THE EDITOR:
Since the staunch reactionaries of this great republic were victorious in some states (notably Iowa) in the national election I feel that it may be apropos to urge some action on the part of our national administration.

First, I wish to suggest that any further bickering between stalwarts in either of our great parties will bring nothing but calamity to the most potent nation in the world. I might further add that some of the chief dividers of the McCarthy and Hickenlooper ilk should resign before they so divide these United States that we can no longer act with confidence and all out united force in a supreme effort to blot out the Communist scourge.

Secondly, it is doubtful whether any responsible government can act positively without full authority and consent of the governed. A clear mandate is part of the Democratic system. With the world in turmoil, and our national security threatened, glory-seeking and power-mad men in high office must keep their heads clear lest they sow discord and disunity in this great land.

They must remember that responsibility in a democracy goes hand in glove with authority and that the nation comes first, their particular whims last.

There is, however, a possibility that the Republican minority in the national house of representatives and senate will combine with near sighted reactionary Southern Democrats and stifle our preparedness program. This can be done by withholding the purse-strings.

One further suggestion seems in order at this time and that is that President Truman dispense with Dean Acheson's services and appoint Mr. Republican Taft in his stead. Then our two great leaders, President Truman and Vice-President Barkley should tender their resignations.

Ambition Realized
Through these measures Senator Taft could realize his life-long ambition and become president. Then a number of events might transpire. Isolationism would be in vogue, military and economic preparedness would be a thing of the past, corn would drop to 27 cents a bushel, taxes would be lowered and the budget balanced.

We would go back to the good old days of 1929, 1930 and 1931. Then would come the 1952 national and state elections and the Democrats would win back such a thumping majority in both the house and senate that they could once again retrieve the country from the debacle of the two years of Republican mismanagement.

Assassin's Attempt To Shoot Roosevelt Averted by Woman

MIAMI (AP)—Five staccato shots weren't even heard by most of the 25,000 persons who jammed Bayfront park the night of Feb. 15, 1933 to cheer President-Elect Franklin D. Roosevelt.

But Mrs. Lillian Elizabeth Cross still hears them vividly.

"I wasn't one bit excited," she recalled, "and I wasn't scared. I just grabbed the man's arm and swung it around."

Mrs. Cross has a personal letter from Roosevelt, written a week after the shooting, in which he praised her "bravery and courage" in averting an "even greater tragedy." Newspaper accounts at the time quoted her version.

The president-elect had been vacationing aboard Vincent Astor's yacht Nourmahal and had driven to the park to make a brief talk. He wasn't scheduled to get out of the open automobile.

"As he drove up I moved back to about the third row from the front so a photographer could take a picture," Mrs. Cross said. "Everybody stood up and started cheering and I had to climb on a chair so I could see.

"I noticed a man trying to push toward the front and another man shoving him back. All at once this man put a foot in my chair, grabbed my shoulder and stuck a gun next to my face."

The man was Giuseppe Zangara, an Italian who had been in this country nine years. The five shots he fired struck five persons. One, Major Anton J. Cermak of Chicago, died later of a wound in the stomach. Zangara later was electrocuted for the crime.

There is, however, a possibility that the Republican minority in the national house of representatives and senate will combine

SUI Students Marry Here

Mr. and Mrs. James Stewart

Wynona Palmer, James Stewart Wed

Two SUI students, Wynona Palmer, A2, Toledo, and James Stewart, A3, Newton, were married here Friday at 9 a.m. at St. Thomas More Chapel.

The Rev. Leonard J. Brugman officiated at the double ring ceremony. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. V. L. Palmer, Toledo. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Ann K. Stewart, Newton, and the late Robert P. Stewart.

Maid of honor was Sharla Kvidera, A2, Toledo. Robert Wilhelm, P2, Dyersville, attended the bridegroom. James Wachter, G, Chicago, was usher. A reception was held at the Hotel Jefferson following the ceremony. The couple then left for a wedding trip to Minneapolis. They plan to live at 307 S. Capitol street and continue their studies at SUI.

WSUI to Present Music Compositions By 2 SUI Students

Compositions by two graduate students in the SUI music department, Karl Holvik and Reinhard Ross, will be broadcast at 11:30 a.m. Saturday on WSUI.

The program is one of the monthly series, "Original Compositions of Iowa Composers," sponsored by the DAR.

First part of the program will be Holvik's "Quartet for Woodwinds" in three movements, "Slowly," "Song" and "Presto."

Performers will be Dorothy White, G, Springfield, Mo., flute; Frank Malewski, G, Iowa City, oboe; Bertram McGarrity, G, Moorhead, Minn., clarinet, and Robert Tyndall, G, Iowa City, bassoon.

The second part will be three songs by Ross. "All in Green My Love Went Riding" will be sung by Mrs. Eldon Obrecht, accompanied by Richard Caplan, G, Des Moines. "Prayers of Steel" will be sung by Harry Morrison, A4, Douds, accompanied by Robert Chapman, G, Carroll. Caplan will close the program with a piano solo, "Sonatina from Ellen."

FAMILY FARMING BEST — SIOUX FALLS, S.D. (AP)—Representatives of 2-million American Lutherans said Thursday that the family-sized farm is the ideal unit for the people's welfare and not large-scale farming.

The agreement was in a special report to the 20th anniversary convention of the American Lutheran conference by its commission on social relations.

We said, "Peace is something that must be earned and protected. We must be prepared to stand up to every test of strength, whether they be psychological, industrial, economic or military."

"If we lose the battle of survival, who will liberate us?" Feddersen asked. The price of survival may be high, but it's worth it, he declared.

The Korean war has proven that only a united organization can gain and hold ground in war. The ground army must be supported by tactical aviation and supply lines guarded by a strong naval power, Feddersen said.

Former Students Wed

TWO FORMER SUI STUDENTS, Mary Black, Preston, and Robert Devine, Iowa City, were married Saturday in St. Joseph's rectory at Preston. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin B. Black, Preston, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn D. Devine, 1154 E. Court street. The Rev. H. A. Henrichs performed the double ring ceremony in the presence of the immediate families. Following the ceremony, a dinner was served to the wedding party at the Maquoketa Country club. A reception was held after the dinner at the Legion rooms in Preston. The couple will live at 1114 1/2 15th avenue, Rock Island, Ill., where Devine is employed by the Helix company.

Legal Fraternity Installs Officers

Phi Alpha Delta, legal fraternity, installed officers at a banquet at Hotel Jefferson Wednesday.

Initiation and pledging ceremonies also were held at the banquet. New officers for the Iowa City chapter include Jim Swift, Ted Johnson, Sam Campbell, Bob Hill and Bert Brian.

Three law college juniors initiated were Ben O'Meara, Norris Chapman and Gordon Nixon. Nineteen freshmen were formally pledged.

The main speaker and installing officer was Sandy Ray, the fraternity's national field representative, St. Louis. Other speakers were two Iowa City candidates in Tuesday's election, attorneys Frank Meser and William Meardon.

NORWEGIAN CLUB TO MEET

The Norwegian club will have its regular business meeting at 7:30 p.m. Monday at the home of Mrs. Theo. Sando, 511 E. Washington street. Mrs. Sando and Ruth Transrud, Cedar Rapids, will speak and show slides of their year's visit in Norway. Mrs. Orvin Olson will be co-hostess.

Phi Gamma Delta Pledges 5, Initiates 2

Phi Gamma Delta, social fraternity, announced Thursday the pledging of five men and the initiation of two new members.

Pledged were William Webb, E1, Jefferson; William Revere, A1, Honolulu; Bruce Hoffman, A3, West Branch; Donald McDonald, A1, Des Moines; and John Tarr, A1, Fort Dodge.

New initiates are James Wright, A1, Des Moines and Thad Chamberlain, A3, Davenport.

Speaker Says U.S. Shouldn't Fear Russia

A prepared United States need not fear Russia, Richard Feddersen, secretary of Nall Motor company, told Rotary club members at their meeting in Hotel Jefferson Thursday.

Feddersen attended a two-week economic mobilization course at the University of Minnesota last September. He said, "Peace is something that must be earned and protected. We must be prepared to stand up to every test of strength, whether they be psychological, industrial, economic or military."

"If we lose the battle of survival, who will liberate us?" Feddersen asked. The price of survival may be high, but it's worth it, he declared.

The Korean war has proven that only a united organization can gain and hold ground in war. The ground army must be supported by tactical aviation and supply lines guarded by a strong naval power, Feddersen said.

University Club to Hear Lecture About Korea

Mrs. Henry Lampe will speak on "Korea's Last 50 Years" Tuesday at a meeting of the University Club.

The meeting will open with a luncheon at 12:30 p.m. in the university clubrooms at the Iowa Union.

Mrs. H. M. Hines, chairman, will be assisted by Mrs. John A. Eldridge, Mrs. Emmett C. Gardner, Mrs. Clark Houghton, Mrs. R. C. Igen-Fritz, Mrs. C. S. Meardon, Mrs. Clara Switzer, Mrs. E. P. T. Tyndall and Mrs. J. H. Wick.

Reservations should be made by Sunday evening with Mrs. Leo Sweeney, at 80786.

James Norman Hall Gives SUI Manuscript

SUI libraries have received the original manuscript of "The Far Lands," James Norman Hall's latest book.

Hall, a native of Colfax, previously presented the university with four manuscripts of essays, plays and novels.

In 1940, Carroll Coleman SUI typographer, and Hall perpetrated a hoax when Coleman published a collection of poems written by Hall which passed for six years as the work of a non-existent 11-year-old, Fern Gravel.

Hall, co-author of "Mutiny on the Bounty," has lived in Papeete, Tahiti for the past 27 years since graduating from Grinnell college in 1923.

"The Far Lands," is based on the legend of early Polynesian migrations.

General Urges Plan To Distribute Doctors

EAST CHICAGO, IND. (AP)—General Paul Hawley, director of the American college of surgeons, urged Thursday that a program be set up to station doctors where they will do the most good for both the military and civilians.

Hawley, health adviser to the department of defense, told the Lake county veterans medical society that a major conflict will necessitate a well-formulated plan for the distribution of doctors.

He said the unwarranted drafting of doctors for military purposes could harm civilian defenses.

Theta Xi to Sponsor Annual 'Hotel Party'

Theta Xi, social fraternity, will give its annual "Hotel Party" this weekend while the men vacate their chapter house and have dates with them.

Schedule for the weekend was announced Thursday by James Koch, A4, Lowden, publicity chairman. Saturday morning the women will move into the house. After lunch at the house, the men and their dates will attend the Iowa-Illinois football game as a group.

A coffee hour will be at the house following the game. An informal party will be Saturday evening.

The men will return to the house Sunday morning to escort the women to church, followed by dinner.

Bradley, Greene Picked Captains

Harold Bradley and Bill Greene were named co-captains for the second straight week Thursday as the Iowa football team completed most of its preparations for Saturday's Illinois game.

A light signal drill this afternoon in the stadium will be the Hawks' last practice.

It appeared definite Thursday that Tackle Andy Buntz will be lost to the squad for the rest of the season. Buntz suffered a stubborn knee injury in the Ohio State game two weeks ago which hasn't responded to treatment.

Tackle Situation Bad
Injuries to Hubert Johnston and Pete Spanjers further complicates Iowa's tackle situation. Bradley, a 60-minute man against Minnesota, will probably be used most of Saturday's game.

Other than the injuries to Buntz, Johnston, Spanjers and Burt Britzmann, the Hawks are in good physical shape.

"Chug" Wilson, fleet halfback from Iowa City, may get his first chance to start a game for the Hawkeyes against Illinois. Wilson has been working in Jerry Fiske's right halfback spot during practice this week.

Fiske is Iowa's leading ground gainer on the basis of yards per carry but a rash of fumbles in the last two games has greatly hurt his effectiveness.

Bernard Bennett may be the other starting halfback. Bennett filled in for Don Commack when the Waterloo player was injured and may have earned himself a starting job with his play in the Ohio State and Minnesota games. Bennett will probably share Britzmann's safety man duties Saturday with Joe Bristol.

Illinois Finishes Drills
Meanwhile at Champaign, Ill., the Illini wound up practice Thursday before leaving this morning by plane for Cedar Rapids where they will stay until just before game time.

Don Stevens will replace injured Johnny Karras in the Illinois backfield, Coach Ray Elliot said.

Stevens did a commendable job for Karras last week against Michigan. Elliot also announced that Dick Mueller will replace Chuck Ulrich at left tackle. Ulrich is injured. Since then Illinois has beaten UCLA (14-6), Washington (20-13), Indiana (20-0) and Michigan (7-0). Illinois won its season opener against Ohio university, 28-2.

After Iowa, Illinois plays Ohio State and Wisconsin.

City High, U-High Bid For Unbeaten Seasons

Iowa City high encounters its last obstacle to a perfect season here tonight when it meets Davenport in a Mississippi valley conference game.

Kick-off time is 8 p.m. at the City high athletic field.

The Little Hawks are favored over a Davenport team which appears to have fallen apart in recent weeks. After an impressive first half of the season, the Blue Devils have been trounced in their last three games by East Moline Clinton and Moline.

The visitors, coached by Butch Stofa, will bring a battered team to Iowa City. No fewer than five regulars, including star halfback Dick Meyer, are on the injured list. All, however, are scheduled to see part-time action.

No such problem exists at City high where every squad member is in top shape for the season's finale.

With the exception of End Jim Freeman, this will be the final high school game for the entire City high starting team. Coach Frank Bates has chosen Tom Kerf and Mickey Moore to co-captain the Hawkleys tonight.

One of the features of the contest will be the meeting of Davenport's Meyer and City high's Duane Davis and Jerry White, three of the finest backs in the state.

Blues Favored . . .
University high's Bluehaws are heavily favored to complete their first undefeated season since 1945 this afternoon when they meet witless Wilton Junction.

Game time is 2:30 p.m. on the varsity practice field.

The Bluehaws go into the game without two second string guards and their head, Bob Weber. Weber, an army reservist called back into service, will watch this afternoon's game as a spectator.

Assistant Coach Norman Johansen has taken over direction of the team. Ed Bowers and Ken Jensen are the two injured guards. Bowers suffered a sprained ankle against Columbus Junction and Jensen received a badly bruised hip in scrimmage.

Halfback Bob Cantrell, the team's leader this year, will be hampered by a leg injury which has bothered him all season.

In spite of their worst physical shape of the season, the Bluehaws are practically a lead cinch to wrap up the Eastern Iowan Hawkeye conference title against Wilton Junction.

Johansen expects to have all eleven regulars ready to start the game. Craig Perrin and Mel Ritterger will start at ends, Nick Johnson or Kenny Stock and Dick Hradek at tackles, Kenny Slade and Maynard Hebl at guards and Don Stover at center.

Tom Kent will be at quarterback, Cantrell and Bob Ewalt at halfbacks and Bill Dinsmore at fullback.

He May be Pitching for Uncle Sam

ERV PALICA, 22-year-old pitcher for the Brooklyn Dodgers, underwent a physical examination for induction into the army in New York Thursday. Dr. C. J. Brimm (left) tested the pitcher's heart — which was pretty good in tight spots during the baseball season. Palica was placed in the holdover status, a classification giving doctors additional time to study results of the examination. Palica's induction would be a serious loss to the Brooklyn pitching corps.

Eddie Waitkus Gets Award For Comeback

NEW YORK (AP) — Baseball's "comeback of the year" award Thursday went to Eddie Waitkus, the Philadelphia Phillies' fine first baseman, who escaped death by a narrow margin.

A crazed girl's rifle shot critically wounded the slender athlete on June 14, 1949. His life hung on a thread in the next few days. There were few who ever thought he would be back on a big league diamond.

But the courageous blond from Melrose, Mass., fought like a big leaguer, passed the crisis, and then started the long journey back. It was a grand comeback, one that helped inspire the Phils to go on to win their first National League pennant in 35 years.

Waitkus edged out Johnny Mize, slugging New York Yankee first baseman, by 11 votes in The Associated Press "comeback" poll. Eddie was named on 90 ballots, Mize on 79. A total of 368 sports writers and sportscasters from coast to coast took part in the poll.

Mize, former home run king of the majors, came back strong last year clouting 25 home runs after he had practically been shunted to the minors.

St. Pat's Opens Cage Season with Victory

St. Patrick's high school successfully opened its basketball season Thursday night with a 39-31 victory over Parnell on the winner's court.

The Shamrocks were paced by Captain J. J. Connors with 13 points and Dean Kelsey with 12. High scorer for the evening was Parnell's Bob Ollinger with 14.

St. Pat's, behind by seven points midway in the second quarter, spurred to 25-18 halftime lead.

National League's Top Rookie

BOSTON'S SAM JETHROE was voted the No. 1 rookie in the National League Thursday by the Baseball Writers Association of America. Jethroe, $100,000 plus outfielder, led the league in stolen bases this season with 35 thefts. He received 11 first place votes from the 24 man selection committee.

Jethroe's a Sweet 'Lemon'

NEW YORK (AP) — Sam Jethroe, the Boston Braves' $100,000 centerfielder, has been voted rookie of the year in the National league for 1950.

The fleet Negro, who led the league with 35 stolen bases, received 11 first place votes from a 24-man committee of the Baseball Writers association.

Last spring they thought Branch Rickey had sold a "lemon" when he peddled Jethroe from his Brooklyn farm club at Montreal to Boston. Jethroe failed to impress during spring training. His hitting was off and his throwing was poor.

Once the bell rang, Jethroe started to go for a sensational first half season. Until he was injured in July he had stolen 24 bases, 18 of them in a 33-game span, and was hitting .286 in 75 games.

After he returned to the lineup he never regained his stride. Jethroe finished with .273 in 141 games. He had 159 hits, 18 homers and drove in 58 runs.

Texas Coach Blair Cherry Resigns After Beating SMU

AUSTIN, TEXAS (AP) — The somewhat unusual situation of a college football coach announcing his retirement while his team was on top — and in the middle of the season — came Thursday as Blair Cherry said he would step down at the University of Texas when the 1950 campaign is finished.

He gave business reasons but obviously that wasn't the whole story. No coach in the southwest conference ever has gone through a rougher ride from the fans.

Texas now leads the conference race after beating SMU and is heavily favored to push into the Cotton Bowl New Year's day but three weeks ago things were quite different. After Texas lost to Oklahoma, 14-13, and Southern Methodist soared to the nation's top, the pressure on Cherry was terrific.

Fire Victim Suffers Bad Cuts Rescuing $100 from House

(Picture on Page 1)

Frank Duttlinger, 1836 G street, suffered severe cuts on his feet and legs Wednesday night when he went back into his flaming two-room residence to rescue $100 in currency.

Firemen said Duttlinger told them he was sleeping when fire broke out in the kitchen. After a vain attempt to extinguish the blaze with water, he left the house to summon firemen.

Outside the barefoot man remembered the $100 back in his room and suffered the cuts in his successful attempt to recover the money.

Firemen said Duttlinger apparently cut his feet on glass shattered by the heat.

Firemen reported the interior had been destroyed but the outside suffered no damage. They said the fire was caused by a defective chimney.

Duttlinger was reported in "good" condition at University hospitals Thursday.

The house is owned by Carl Harned.

Firemen also put out a blaze in a 1937 Ford Thursday at 11:28 a.m. at 302 E. Bloomington street. The car belonged to Allen Hathaway, D2, Muscatine.

Firemen also were called to the Gamma Phi Beta sorority house, 328 N. Clinton street, where smoke filled the basement after the stoker ran out of fuel.

Greek Student Finds Blind-Dates, 'Confusion,' — Not Named After 'Egyptian Philosopher'

By ESTELLE MASTERS
"One thing we don't have in Greece is blind-dates," said Socrates Eliades, twenty-year-old student from Athens, Greece, studying at SUI on a scholarship.

Socrates went on to explain that such things as blind-dates just aren't permitted in his homeland. But he was quick to add that he was very pleased with his first blind-date in this country.

Granted a scholarship by the American Field service through the International Institute of Education in Europe, Socrates arrived in Iowa City during fraternity rush week. He has just one comment to make about his first week at SUI — "Confusion."

He had little difficulty in making himself understood since he speaks English well, and has a good basic knowledge of the language. One reason for this Socrates said proudly is that he attended an American-taught school, Athens college.

After his graduation, he applied for a scholarship with 200 others. Out of the 200, only eight received scholarships.

Courses in physics, calculus, English and American authors, and a one hour course in speech correction and pronunciation keep Socrates busy during school hours.

Any time left after studies are completed is spent doing pledge duties at Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity house, or participating in campus activities.

Socrates remembers how friendly the boys were when he first came to live in the fraternity house. Everyone tried to talk to him and include him in all their activities.

One recollection that still makes him laugh is the time he came down to breakfast and found Rusty Garst, Iowa's all-American swimmer making French-toast. Rusty attempted to begin a conversation by cheerfully asking, "Hey, Soc, what do you call French-toast in Greece?"
Soc answered "French-toast," and ended that conversation.

Wants to Teach
Socrates wants to do work for his master's degree. He hopes someday to return to Greece and become a teacher.

He is going to try to extend his visa for another year of schooling at SUI when his present visa expires.

Socrates has seen more of the United States than many Americans. On his way to Iowa City, he spent 5 days in New York, and 4 days in Chicago.

He also stopped in Cleveland and Indianapolis. Although it isn't large, Socrates thinks Iowa City is very interesting.

He remembers the exchange tea at which a sorority girl, a major in history, approached him brightly: "Oh, now I remember, you're named after that Egyptian philosopher, aren't you?"

Socrates enjoys living at the fraternity house, and attending classes at SUI. On the campus he is often greeted with "Hi, Squeakie." This is because his sneezes squeak, but Socrates Eliades says, "This is a mark of significance in Greece." Just what significance is anybody's guess!

Callahan Leads Coroner Race By 38 Votes

Dr. George Callahan held a 38 vote lead in the latest returns in the Johnson county coroner's contest over SUI pharmacy senior Richard G. Boeke.

Final returns won't be available until Monday's canvass of votes, because many county election judges failed to record the number of votes for coroner on the outside of precinct ballot envelopes.

Envelopes won't be opened until Monday.

Even though Callahan may be elected he has indicated to the county board of supervisors that he doesn't want the office and will refuse to take it, Joseph Pechman, board member, said Wednesday.

If Callahan were elected and refused to take office the county coroner's office would be filled by appointment by the county board of supervisors soon after Jan. 1, 1951.

Callahan's present term doesn't expire until then.

Callahan was confined in Mercy hospital Wednesday after suffering two heart attacks in five days and could not be reached for comment on whether or not he would take office if elected.

Prof. Samuel Fahr of the SUI college of law, who apparently was running from instead of for the office polled 80 votes.

Fahr conceded the election Wednesday afternoon asserting that he wasn't qualified.

"They don't kill enough people around here to make the job worthwhile," Fahr said.

He added in a more serious vein, "There should be a legal requirement that the coroner be a medical man."

Boeke led Callahan by two votes until the last precinct in the county reported. It was Iowa City's fifth ward second precinct which gave Callahan 48 votes and Boeke 23.

Callahan has polled 193 votes and Boeke 155 in the latest returns.

Orchestra to Give Concert Wednesday

The University symphony orchestra will present its second concert of the season at 8 p.m. Wednesday in the Iowa Union main lounge.

Prof. Philip Greeley Clapp, head of the music department, will conduct the orchestra in four numbers: "A Somerset Rhapsody," Holst; "Prelude and Love Death from 'Tristan and Isolde,'" Wagner; "Overture, 'Roman Carnival,'" Berlioz; and "Symphonic Sketches," Chadwick.

Free tickets to the concert will be distributed at the information desk in the Union lobby beginning at 8 a.m. Saturday morning. Students do not need I.D. cards to get these tickets.

Prof. Rouse Editor Of Hydraulics Manual

Prof. Hunter Rouse, director of SUI's Iowa institute of hydraulic research is editor of a new manual, "Engineering Hydraulics."

The new manual grew out of the fourth hydraulics conference of the Iowa institute, held last summer. Thirteen hydraulics experts presented papers at the conference. The papers were later revised into the 13 chapters of the new book.

Science critics expect the 1,039 page volume to become a "must" for practicing engineers.

Republican's Best Campaigner, Stalin, Burlingame Says

The Republican party's best campaigner in Tuesday's election was Joe Stalin, according to Bob Burlingame, former news editor of station WHO in Des Moines.

Speaking at SUI's Information First forum Thursday afternoon in old Capitol, Burlingame said the American people were shocked by the instability of our position in Korea and this became an "important factor in the outcome of the election."

Although the general trend throughout the United States was from the Democratic to the Republican party, Burlingame said this does not necessarily indicate a Republican victory in 1952.

Burlingame, in his hour-long "post mortem" of Tuesday's election results, said the 40-million persons who cast ballots this year were a record number for an off-year election.

This record voting, and the fact there was a trend to vote split-tickets, was another factor in the "resurgence" of the Republican party strength.

Burlingame pointed out that President Truman does not now have a "working majority in either house of congress."

The Democrats, he said, have only a 49-47 majority in the senate and a 17 man majority in the house.

But almost without exception, Burlingame explained, during the last 50 years, the party in control has lost most of its majority during the off-year elections, only to regain it during the presidential race two years later.

American labor parties, he said, also contributed to this year's Democratic defeat by over-campaigning against the Republicans.

Analyzing the Iowa election results, Burlingame said the state "went overwhelmingly Republican" including normally Democratic Polk county.

HIGHLANDERS TO HAMPTON

The Scottish Highlanders, all-girl bagpipe band comprised of SUI students, will perform in Hampton Dec. 2, Pipe Major Bill Adamson announced Thursday.

100,000 Hunters to Hunt Pheasants Saturday

An estimated 100,000 hunters will be gunning for pheasants when the season opens in Johnson county and the rest of Iowa at noon Saturday, according to the Iowa state conservation commission.

The pheasant census indicates a better year than 1949 when the birds were fairly numerous, but the commission warned that the number of pheasants might dwindle if hunters begin shooting hens.

A "kill no hens" regulation has been set up and will be enforced. The bag limit per day is three but no one may have in his possession more than three at any one time.

The season on Hungarian pheasants is completely closed this year, but others may be shot from noon Saturday to 4:30 p.m. Nov. 20 in 13 counties and to 4:30 p.m. Dec. 5 in Johnson county and 69 others. Sixteen counties have no season.

The commission predicts the best hunting will be in the northwestern and north-central counties of the state. It also reminds hunters that permission must be obtained from landowners before hunting on private grounds.

The season closes Nov. 20 in the following counties: Adair, Adams, Cass, Clarke, Decatur, Harrison, Lucas, Madison, Pottawattamie, Ringgold, Taylor, Union and Wayne.

There is no season in the following southern counties: Appanoose, Davis, Des Moines, Fremont, Henry, Jefferson, Lee, Marion, Mills, Monroe, Montgomery, Page, Van Buren, Wapello and Warren.

The regular season on muskrat, beaver and mink opens Nov. 25 for 15 days, but along the Mississippi river north of Muscatine to the Minnesota state line, the season will be extended to 30 days until Dec. 24.

There is no season this year on otter.

The course? Possibly significant — "Administration of Justice."

WSUI to Give Special Armistice Day Program

The significance of Armistice day will be discussed on a special program over radio station WSUI Saturday at 11 a.m. by Prof. Harrison J. Thornton, history department.

Thornton, who spent three years in France during World War I, will tell of his own memories of the first Armistice day in 1918.

German Radio Men Visit WSUI

German and American radio stations are basically operated on the same principles. This is the opinion of Heinz Bopp and Ernst Johann, German radio leaders who are visiting radio station WSUI over the weekend.

Bopp, dramatist of Radio Frankfurt-Main, and Johann, editor of Radio Baden - Baden, are on a tour of U.S. radio stations, sponsored by the bureau of applied social research, Columbia university, New York.

Bopp, 48, and Johann, 40, agree that stations in America are similar to those in Germany, with one exception — no German stations have commercial advertising.

"Listeners in our country would be horrified to hear an announcer interrupt a program with some advertisement of a soft drink or a tooth paste," Johann declared.

Bopp explained that in Germany each person who owns a radio set pays for a license. The cost is two marks a month (50 cents). The monthly fee is collected by the postal department which receives 25 percent of the station's income for this service.

"We hire many more people on our staffs," Bopp said. "About 600 persons work for my station alone. We have our own musicians, theatrical supervisors and a varied class of newscasters," he explained.

Johann and Bopp are primarily interested in educational, cultural and literary programs. They have already visited student radio stations at Chicago, Wisconsin, Minnesota and Iowa State.

The two leaders began their tour, accompanied by other radio specialists from Germany, with a 10-day visit of Washington, D. C. They then went to New York City, where they spent up according to vocational interests.

Bopp's and Johann's next stop will be St. Louis and then to New Orleans, Herts Sierpra, assistant editor of RIAS, official West German news agency in Berlin, will visit WSUI next weekend.
