Plan to Circulate No-Cut Petition Friday

A petition to lift the no-cut rule Jan. 2, 1951, will be circulated Friday by SUI's student council.

The petition which follows President Hancher's refusal to "alter the calendar or suspend the rule," reads:

"We, the undersigned, wish to request the suspension of the 'no-cut' rule on Jan. 2, because of the inconvenience imposed upon many of the students attending SUI in being forced to report for classes on that day.

"This inconvenience takes the form of travel upon New Year's eve or through heavy holiday crowds and traffic on Jan. 1."

As the SUI calendar now stands, Christmas vacation begins 12:20 p.m. Dec. 16 and ends 7:30 a.m. Jan. 2.

For every hour of absence 24 hours before and after the vacation, undergraduates will have one hour added to their graduation requirement by SUI.

Ed Diekmann, chairman of the council petition committee, said the petitions would be circulated in housing units and would be presented to students at other points on campus.

This action, proposed and approved at last Thursday's council meeting, met with immediate disapproval from Dean of Students L. Dale Faunce, ex-officio member of the council.

"I personally dislike this matter of petition," he said. "It is one group trying to push another group around, which doesn't work. It should be a matter of groups working together for a common cause."

In a letter read to the council by Council President Jack Whitesell, President Hancher listed nine colleges which have shorter vacations than SUI and five which allow students more time.

Some of the schools in both categories reconvene Jan. 3.

"In view of the very considerable number of institutions reconvening on Jan. 3," Hancher's letter said, "it is fair to assume that rail and transportation facilities on that date will not be appreciably more than they will be on Jan. 2."

Refusing the council's request, Hancher said, "In view of the very generous provision already made and the fact that it would be impossible to arrange the calendar to add an additional day of classes elsewhere in the calendar, it seems inadvisable to alter the calendar or suspend the no-cut rule for Jan. 2, 1951."

In a discussion Nov. 2 with Dean R. A. Kuever, chairman of the calendar committee, Whitesell and council member Miriam Showalter asked whether the calendar might be changed.

Dean Kuever replied that the calendar already had been printed, and that dropping a day might damage the accreditation of SUI with the NCA (North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.)

"Asked Monday about the accreditation minimum, Dean Kuever said he was not a member of the NCA and that a member should be asked if anyone wanted to find out.

After the discussion with Dean Kuever, the council changed its request, as stated in Whitesell's letter to President Hancher, to: ". . . that the usual regulation regarding compulsory attendance at class the 24 hours immediately following a vacation period be suspended Jan. 2 and be placed into effect instead on Jan. 3."

Council Stalls Rent Control Delays Action Until December

By TROY ANDERSON

The Iowa City council Monday night stalled action until their first meeting in December on the question of extending or lifting rent controls here.

Alderman Wayne E. Putman originally made a motion to "table" any action they might take on controls. This motion failed. Had it passed, it would have taken a unanimous vote from the council's six members to bring the matter before the council again.

If the council decides not to take any action, or should they vote against them, rent controls will officially end in Iowa City Dec. 31.

At last Tuesday's election, 5,000 Iowa Citizens voted for controls and 2,650 against.

Alderman Gordon Webster, who told The Daily Iowan Thursday that he favored extending rent controls, Monday night voted with Putman for "tabling" the issue.

The council delayed action on a proposed pay increase for Iowa City firemen and policemen until a study of the matter can be made.

Action was delayed by the council on the proposed parking ordinance.

nance which would prohibit parking on North Riverside drive, Newton road and Iowa avenue from Madison street to the Iowa avenue bridge.

SUI President Virgil M. Hancher, in a letter to Mayor Preston Koser and the council, asked that parking be permitted on the north side of Newton road in front of the University hospitals, and that parking be prohibited for no more than 100 feet west of Madison street on Iowa avenue.

Monday afternoon the council met to award the $150,000 general street improvement bonds to Halsey-Stuart company of Chicago. The bonds will bear a 1 3/8 percent interest rate, or $17,950, and will be repaid by the city over a 13 year period.

The council accepted Quail and company's bid for $12,000 in bonds to pay for a new cemetery addition. The Davenport firm will receive 2 1/2 percent interest on their investment.

Plane Crashes With 58 Aboard

MARSEILLE, FRANCE (TUESDAY) (AP) — A Canadian plane carrying 51 passengers, most of them Holy Year pilgrims, and a crew of seven crashed into a snow-covered mountain in southeastern France late Monday while flying from Rome to Paris.

But nearly 10 hours after the plane was reported down no information had been received of the fate of those aboard. Word was awaited from rescue teams, who faced a climb of about six hours through rain and snow to reach the scene.

The plane, a DC-4 belonging to the Curtiss-Reid line, crashed near Mount L'Oblou, an 8,500-foot peak some 30 miles south of Grenoble.

270 Tickets Remain For Spinsters' Spree At Union Friday

Carrot and cauliflower corsages? SUI men may be wearing them Friday night at the Spinsters' Spree, annual girl-take-boy dance, at the Iowa Union.

A prize is given each year to the man wearing the most original corsage made by his date.

In previous years, men have come to the dance laden with potatoes. Some have been hidden behind huge cardboard flowers. Last year one poor soul wore a sizeable model airplane on his lapel.

The University Women's association, sponsor of the dance, sold Monday that 530 of the 800 available tickets had been sold at the Iowa Union lobby desk.

Under the student code, dance tickets may not cost more than $3.60. Frank Burge, assistant director of the Union, explained, however, that special permission had been given to UWA to raise the price to $4 because of the extra expense of hiring Les Brown's orchestra.

SUI women will vote in their housing units Wednesday to choose Mr. MEBOC (Most Eligible Bachelor on Campus), who will be crowned at the dance.

The Daily Iowan will complete its picture series of the 31 MEBOC candidates Wednesday.

Panacea Auditions Wednesday, Thursday

Auditions for parts in Panacea, all-campus musical show, will be held Wednesday and Thursday. Ronald Butler, A2, Newton, director of the show announced Monday.

Wednesday's audition will be held from 7:30 to 10:30 p.m. in the north hall of the music building and Thursday tryouts, at the same time, in Macbride auditorium.

All students are eligible for parts in the musical," Butler said. "It's not just for dramatic art students," he emphasized.

Panacea will be produced in January.

Students to Publish New Humor Magazine

Fisz, a new SUI humor magazine, is scheduled to appear on news stands for the first time Dec. 11. Not sponsored by SUI, the magazine will be published by an independent group of SUI students.

International Week Movies Today

Three movies with international themes will be shown at 8 p.m. today in the main lounge of the Iowa Union as part of International Student week activities.

The program includes "The Loon's Necklace," an ancient Indian legend of how the loon, a water bird, received its distinguishing neckband; "Peoples of the Soviet Union," and "Peiping Family," a narrative of a middle class Chinese family.

There will be no admission charge and the show, sponsored by the Union board movie committee in conjunction with the International Student week committee, is open to the public.

He Was Gonna Get Married, Then . . .

A stolen bank is severely handicapping the marriage plans of Robert D. O'Donnell, 934 E. Davenport street.

O'Donnell had been saving money since mid-summer to finance his forthcoming marriage to Virginia Redlinger, a nurse at Mercy hospital here.

Sunday, while he was gone, the bank was taken from his room at the residence of his grandparents. It contained about $80 in bills and $50 in silver, he said.

O'Donnell described the bank as a globe set on a wooden base containing a pasteboard monkey with a meter. "The meter would show how much in each kind of coin had been deposited," he said.

The 22-year-old O'Donnell said he had recently received a raise in salary from the Wagner-Connell plumbing company and Saturday had set his wedding date.

"I don't know just what I am going to do now," he said, "but I suppose I can borrow some money from my relatives."

Tibet Appeals For UN Aid To Halt Reds

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y. (AP) — The United Nations Monday received an impassioned appeal from the Himalayan kingdom of Tibet to save it from conquest by the Chinese Communists.

The 1,500-word appeal said "Tibet will not go down without a fight, through there is little hope of a nation dedicated to peace resisting the brutal effort of men trained to war."

Then it added in a tone of desperate hope:

"But we understand the United Nations have decided to stop aggression wherever it takes place."

The message said the 16-year-old Dalai Lama had approved the move to "entrust the problem of Tibet in this emergency to the ultimate decision of the UN."

In general the Tibetan issue was considered a secondary matter compared to the large crisis over Chinese Communist intervention in Korea.

The Korean issue, on the diplomatic level here, lay dormant during the day as delegates waited nervously for the arrival of Peking's nine-man delegation late this week.

Toomey, Hutchinson Win Justice Posts

Republican J. Newman Toomey and Democrat C. J. Hutchinson have been elected Iowa City's justices of the peace, a canvass of the general election showed Monday.

Election to these positions had been uncertain because the sealed envelopes turned in by the polling places after the election last Tuesday provided no space for results of the justice of the peace race.

Toomey received 4,066 votes and Hutchinson, 4,001. Democrat W. F. Murphy, the third candidate, had 3,398.

The canvass also showed that Iowa City voters opposed the proposition for an elevator for Johnson county courthouse, 3,940 to 2,733. The final results will not be known until the township ballots are canvassed, but scattered results indicate that the townships also were against the elevator.

The decennial constitutional convention vote was favored by Iowa City voters, 3,684 to 2,711. The measure was defeated in the state, however, by about 20,000 votes.

Hawkeye Photo Deadline Is 5 P.M. Wednesday

Senior Hawkeye pictures must be taken by 5 p.m. Wednesday at the photographic service office, 7 E. Market street, or they will be omitted from the 1951 SUI yearbook, Peter Van Oosterhout, senior picture editor, said Monday.

Liberal arts seniors who failed to meet last week's deadline may have their pictures taken by contacting the Hawkeye office for permission before Wednesday.

90,000 Chinese Face UN Forces In Korea

What — No Clean Shirt?

It's funny, the things that come in laundry cases. Ask Don Steffen, a liberal arts junior from Dubuque. He got his laundry case Saturday. It laid around until Sunday night, unopened — the usual thing. Then, after the rush of weekend activities subsided, he opened it.

And there, right on top, in small — but awful bold — black letters was the return address on an otherwise innocent looking envelope: U.S. MARINE CORPS.

He was in. He knew it. He had been expecting it.

"I fell back on my sack. I didn't want to open it."

But his roommate, John Josse, A2, Minneapolis, did. Then Josse came over to console him. "Tough, old buddy . . ."

But they aren't so bad, the things that come in laundry cases. At least Steffen doesn't think so now.

The envelope really contained Steffen's discharge from the active marine reserve.

$1,850 Taken from Safes Here; Statewide Hunt on for Thieves

A statewide search was being conducted Monday for thugs who robbed two Iowa City business houses early Sunday morning, taking over $1,850.

The robbers broke open safes in Kenney's tavern, 24 S. Clinton street, and the Smoke Shop, 26 S. Clinton street. Police said the break-ins occurred between 2 and 6 a.m. Sunday morning.

About $850 in currency and coins was taken from a small safe in the Smoke Shop and $1,000 was taken from a medium sized safe in the rear of Kenney's.

Police investigating the robbery said the thieves entered the two buildings through a sidewalk opening in front of the Smoke Shop used for freight deliveries.

They pried open the basement doors with a crowbar to gain entrance to the business floors on which the safes were located. They entered Kenney's basement through a door between the two establishments which is always left open, police said.

The doors of both safes had been knocked off, but the safe door at Kenney's had to be knocked off too. One of two girls living above the Smoke Shop said she heard noises, but thought it was the pounding of the steam pipes.

Police said there must have been at least three men in the robbery. They carried the small safe, weighing over 500 pounds, from its place behind the counter to a spot behind the partition in the Smoke Shop dividing the food counter from the billiard room.

Three Suspects In Tavern Break-In Picked Up Here

Three men arrested Monday by Iowa City police in connection with a Rock Island, Ill., tavern break-in have been turned over to Rock Island police officials.

They are Richard P. Kruse, John W. Somers and Robert Beale, all of Rock Island.

Kruse and Somers were picked up by Iowa City police officers Gus Stimmel and Fred Lewis in front of the Union bus depot at 7:35 a.m. Monday.

Police found 27 fifths, 21 pints, and 16 one-half pints of whiskey in a 1939 Ford belonging to one of the men. They also found two bottles of beer.

Detectives Harland Sprinkle and Oliver White arrested Beale at 11 a.m. in the Antler's tap, 232 S. Dubuque. He had escaped earlier through a lavatory window in Fritz's tavern, near the bus depot.

Police here said that two of the men admitted they had previously served five years in the Anamosa reformatory on charges of auto theft.

U.S. Troops Hammer Out Small Gains

SEOUL (TUESDAY) (AP) — An estimated 90,000 Chinese Communist Wednesday were reported on the Northwest Korean battlefield where U.S. troops hammered out gains up to two and one-half miles Monday.

To the east in mountainous central Korea, U.S. marines plodded five and one-half miles northward in sub-freezing weather and came within sight of Changjin reservoir.

In the far northeast, 90 air miles from the Korean-Siberian border, U.S. warships and marine planes supported a South Korean Republic regiment threatened with envelopment by a suddenly-reurgent North Korean Red force.

The Communists also were reported using many more mines and booby traps in their effort to delay the Allied advance. Two American tanks were knocked out Friday in a minefield. Later, they were found booby-trapped. This presumably was done to catch tank recovery personnel.

Dr. Callahan Ahead; Vote Canvass More Than Half Completed

Dr. George Callahan appeared to have been elected Johnson county coroner after the canvass of votes was more than half completed by the county board of supervisors Monday afternoon.

All votes from Iowa City's five wards were canvassed before the supervisors adjourned.

Townships outside Iowa City had comparatively few write-in votes for the coroner race.

In Iowa City balloting, Callahan defeated Richard G. Boeke, SUI pharmacy senior, by 24 votes, 217 to 193.

Unofficial returns from the county gave 57 votes to Callahan and 42 to Boeke. Unless a bloc of votes for Boeke is revealed in the remaining township canvassing, Callahan will be reelected by a margin of at least 39 votes.

He told members of the county board of supervisors prior to the election that he didn't want to be reelected.

Callahan is expected to get the majority of county votes because he is more widely known than Boeke.

Canvassing of votes is expected to be completed today. Assistant County Auditor William Kanak said.

editorials International Students Week —

A group of students were singing recently in the clubrooms of a local organization. The party had not been organized by any university group or any group with a goal of bringing foreign and American students together.

But the special guests at the party were SUI German students and visitors from their native land. They were guests because the club members enjoyed having them as guests.

They were treated with consideration and friendliness and they enjoyed the same comradeship as the Americans displayed for each other. They led in much of the singing.

Someone remarked that the occasion was an excellent example of how the little people of the world can get along together. It also was pointed out that one of the guests had been in actual combat during World War II with a member of the club.

Friday will be the 11th anniversary of International Student Day, and throughout this week SUI will be the scene of an effort to promote international understanding and cooperation among all students.

International Student Day began in 1946, when students from many lands met in Prague and decided to declare Nov. 17 as the day to work especially hard toward preventing another event similar to one which happened in Czechoslovakia in 1939.

Nazi occupation forces closed Czech colleges that year after a student had been killed by German police as he marched along in a crowd of natives who were singing and sneering at the occupying Nazis.

Nine student leaders were shot and more than 1,500 were sent to concentration camps as a result of student resistance to the closing of the schools.

And, yet, natives—little people—of the very country charged with the killings were guests at a party held here a few nights ago. Nowhere was there a trace of unfriendliness as the little man of one country made friends with the little man of another.

Our good wishes go to the students at SUI who are working on International Student Week.

The Barriers Go Down —

A reprint from the St. Louis Star-Times
When the United States Supreme Court began ordering southern state universities to open certain schools and colleges to Negroes there were dire warnings. It couldn't be done without violence, said some of the defenders of segregation. Public officials of some states, notably Georgia, said it wouldn't be done, the word of the Supreme Court to the contrary notwithstanding.

But the change is being made, slowly to be sure, but without serious incident. The Southern Conference Educational Fund, Inc., of New Orleans reports that some 200 Negroes are enrolled now in 31 all-white southern schools. They attend graduate schools in 11 of 17 state universities. Private colleges in three southern state have made the break.

The idea has gained approval on some campuses where officials have been hesitant. At the University of Alabama, the University of Mississippi and Auburn—all in the Deep South—campus editors are urging the admission of Negroes to classrooms.

The first Negro students were admitted to the University of Missouri this fall—to courses not offered at Lincoln University, the state's all-Negro school. The campus took the new policy in stride.

It has been that way apparently at other schools, once the persons responsible for policy made up their minds. Again we are reminded that young people can be several steps ahead of their elders when it comes to throwing off prejudice and judging issues on their real merit.

Red China Acting on Russian Instigation

By The Associated Press
The belief that Communist China is acting primarily at the instigation of Soviet Russia in the Korean affair has been strengthened by her most recent propaganda broadcasts and her attitude toward the United Nations.

It begins to appear more and more that Peiping has intervened for the purpose of keeping America's war effort centered on Korea to the detriment of the European rearmament program.

This is not to minimize the importance of China's interest in the Yalu river hydroelectric system, nor the importance of the American failure to reassure her about its ultimate control, before, instead of after, the intervention. Reassurances of continued power service might have cut part of the foundation out from under the Chinese case if made sufficiently early.

The Chinese, however, are making no great issue of this, which could be their way of approaching an objective deviously.

The reply to the United Nations, points to a reluctant and belated Chinese entry into the Korean war at the behest of Soviet Russia.

The Chinese agree to discuss before the security council, which in every other respect they maintain is illegal, their charges against the United States regarding Formosa. But they refuse to answer General MacArthur's Korean intervention charge against them unless the whole field is thrown open for discussion—which is exactly what the Russians sought to obtain and which the council voted down.

Nobody could act so much like the Russians except the Russians themselves. That Peiping's whole course of action is being directed from Moscow seems certain.

At any rate, it appears certain now that the Peiping delegation is coming here under the direct coaching of Moscow, for a propaganda field day in the UN while their troops continue to prolong the war in Korea, perpetuating a situation which could lead to a general war.

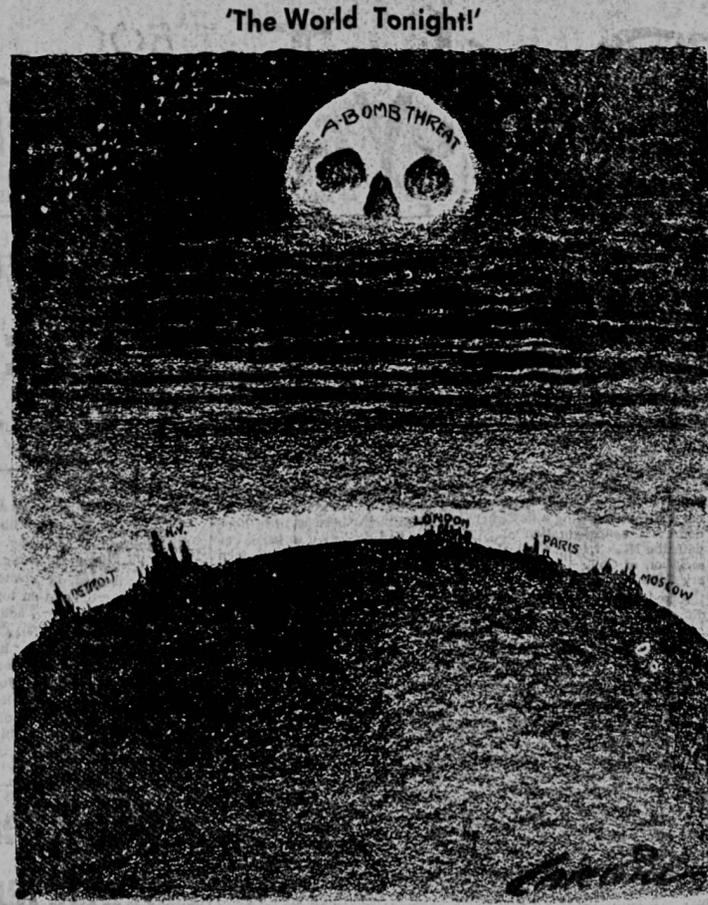

Gl's in Korea Lack Winter Clothing

ON THE CHONGCHON RIVER FRONT, KOREA (AP)—A bitterly cold winter is closing in on the American army in North Korea, and the troops are not fully equipped for it.

There is an icy touch to the north wind; the temperature at night is falling well below freezing, but a great many troops still are wearing cotton fatigues over long underwear.

Some army supply men say cold-weather equipment is in Korea and is being distributed to frontline units. Yet along the roads and windswept fields there are more men in thin cotton garments than in woollens.

In North Korea the troops must live for the most part in foxholes or tents. There are few villages and towns with houses suitable for army use.

Straw Petition? . . .

TO THE EDITOR:
The editorial commending the student council for its "fight" against President Hancher's decision on the Christmas vacation, I believe, based on a misconception of the council's attitude.

I mentioned the petition idea quite early in the meeting and Mr. Diekmann later made a motion to the effect that such a petition be circulated. My purpose in suggesting the idea, which I explained in the discussion, is clearly stated in my notes.

"Circulate a petition concerning the issues and putting the student in the spot of realizing that united action is the only way to participate fully in the student-administration partnership for a progressive SUI."

It is my belief that the council acted in accordance with this aim—not to bully the administration, but to reassure themselves of student support, to gauge interest in the matter and to bring home to the students the necessity and the utility of student government.

Some of the members of the council may have thought of this petition as a means of sandbagging the administration, and it was to this irresponsible minority that Dean Faunce addressed his remarks.

I am sure that the administration realizes the important unifying effect of the student council, and appreciates its suggestions as the one reliable voice of student opinion. At the same time, the council certainly realizes that its function is not to oppose the administration, but to aid it in dealing with present problems and in planning for a future of promise.

Charles W. Reilly Jr., LI
Editor's Comment: The editorial commended the council for its action—at a time when council members were being charged with doing nothing but attending meetings and talking.

The excerpt from Mr. Reilly's notes sounds as if he looks upon the petition as a mere device, the only value of which is the practice it affords the students and administration in working together.

We rather doubt the council looks upon the petition in the same light.

Non-Military Use Of Aluminum Cut

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government Monday ordered a 35 percent cut in the non-military use of aluminum, effective Jan. 1, in order to save more of this vital metal for warplanes and other munitions.

Though long expected, the action was a momentous one and might have important effects on Americans' daily existence—especially if followed by other cuts that are being considered in copper, nickel, zinc, cobalt, tungsten, cadmium and manganese.

Aluminum is used in vacuum cleaners, radios, television sets, roofing and hundreds of other products.

Election Won't Alter Defense Program but Fair Deal Is Out

WASHINGTON—Despite his heavy losses in congressional backing, President Truman probably can still count on fairly solid support for his program of building up American forces to meet Communist threats anywhere in the world.

This will be true even though it means good-bye to efforts to balance the budget, which may reach $55-billion for the 12 months beginning next July 1.

On another foreign policy program the President is going to have to compromise.

Taft Confident
Victory-flushed Sen. Robert Taft (R-Ohio) already is demanding a sweeping re-examination of the western European rearmament program, and it appears certain the GOP will press harder than ever for renewed close relations with Nationalist China and steps to further secure Formosa.

In both the lame-duck session of the 81st congress and in the new 82nd congress that will meet next January, the Truman foreign policy will be under even hotter fire than it was in the GOP-controlled 80th.

Public attention during the 80th, in 1947-48, was more closely fixed on such domestic matters as price controls. World communism has taken over as an issue now.

The GOP undoubtedly will renew its attack on Secretary of State Dean Acheson. (Wisecrackers say they can hardly wait for Wisconsin Sen. Joseph McCarthy's first speech.)

Mr. Truman, if he runs true to form, will stand against demands that he fire Acheson.

Vandenberg Returns
Some administration leaders are privately expressing hope that Sen. Arthur Vandenberg (R-Mich.), opposition leader for a bi-partisan foreign policy, is well enough to return to congress by January to try to hold down anti-administration firebrands.

The election seems to have shoved the President's "fair deal" program—health insurance, Taft-Hartley act revision, etc.—pretty well out the window.

Before election many Republicans were clamoring for Mr. Truman to make fuller use of his price and wage control powers, but it remains to be seen whether they will press for this now.

Both top Republicans and surviving Democrats seem to agree that taxes must be raised to pay for the expanding arms program, but it's a question how closely they will agree when it comes to actually writing a bill.

Phone Strike Deadlocked; Only Pennies Apart

NEW YORK (AP)—Federal mediators met with both sides in the telephone dispute Monday in the longest bargaining session since the nationwide strike began five days ago.

Negotiations between Western Electric and division 18 of the CWA, which represents sales and purchasing employees, adjourned at 8:45 p.m. until 2 p.m. today.

When Monday's session began, both sides were only pennies apart.

Federal Government Cuts Funds of Eight Iowa Programs

DES MOINES (AP)—Iowa will get $2,024,313 in federal funds to help finance eight programs during the current fiscal year, state health department officials were informed recently.

The total, however, is nearly $1.6-million short of the amount the federal government supplied for the same programs during the last fiscal year, ended last June 30.

Department officials said the reduction was primarily due to the need for reducing domestic expenditures this year, to offset increases for defense and war purposes.

The money will be used for a federal-community hospital building program, mental health, water pollution studies, venereal disease control, tuberculosis control, general health work, heart disease control and cancer control.

The breakdown of the $2,024,313 for this year is: hospital construction, $1,517,443; mental health, $54,700; water pollution studies, $15,100; venereal disease control, $50,000; tuberculosis control, $57,700; general health, $238,900; heart disease control, $30,900; cancer control, $59,600.

All except about $160,000 of the hospital construction money already has been allocated for new facilities in seven cities and towns. They are Harlan, Osceola, Oelwein, Audubon, Webster City, Council Bluffs and Shenandoah.

Under this program, which has been conducted several years, the community puts up $2 for every $1 contributed by the federal government. New hospitals already have been constructed or are under construction in 31 cities as the result of previous allocations of these federal funds.

OH! HOW COULD HE?

MEMPHIS (AP)—The president of the Tennessee Hairdressers and Cosmetologists association wants to stop gossip in beauty shops. "But it's awful hard to discourage some of them," he said.

Demand Use of Chiang's Army In Korean War

By J.M. ROBERTS JR.
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst
Chinese Communist intervention in the Korea war has revived demands for use of Chiang Kai-Shek's Nationalist forces in the conflict.

In addition, two "old China hands," Gen. Claire Chennault, writing in Collier's, and explorer Roy Chapman Andrews, in This Week magazine, have come forward with their own ideas about the long-term conflict with communism in China.

Chennault's line is in some respects closely akin to that of General MacArthur. He advocates a formal American commitment to fight Communist aggression in any non-Communist state, with inclusion of Formosa in a formally designated Pacific defense line.

He stresses the need of encouraging, arming and supporting anti-Communist guerrilla warfare on the Chinese mainland, where Chiang has estimated 1.6-million men are available for the purpose. The Reds themselves admit they are still opposed by from 200,000 to 400,000. Chennault would work through the Formosan Nationalists.

Worked in China
Andrews, who has worked in China off and on for 35 years, has a more novel suggestion. He would buy off the Communist troops, reminding that under the war lords money had produced the laying down of arms, or firing into the air, in many a battle. A few million dollars, he says, would buy an important parcel of passive resistance.

He stresses that it would be to be done through China, the occidental mind not understanding how to do such things in China. He denies that it would be bribery in the oriental mind.

Andrews does not explain what good American dollars would be to people who can't find anything to buy with them. He also seems to underrate the Communist leaders, who would find it just as easy to confiscate the dollars as they did the arms which America once supplied to Chiang Kai-Shek.

Chiang's Position
Proponents of Chiang Kai-Shek are making a point of the fact that his offer of troops for the allied armies in North Korea was turned down originally last year. His presence provoked Chinese Red intervention, and that, now Peiping has acted, the reason no longer holds good.

Washington, however, is sticking by its stand that Chiang's troops are needed as a preventive against a Red invasion of Formosa. Beyond that, President Truman has given no sign of retreating from his long-held conviction that nothing is to be gained by having any further truck with Chiang.

Chiang, of course, is holding his forces together on Formosa with the promise of an ultimate invasion and return to power on the mainland. His forces don't know it, probably, but this hope, so far as Chiang is concerned, is based primarily on the expectancy of a third world war. And it is here that his hopes clash directly with those of the United States.

The United States is walking very softly regarding Red China's intervention, still hoping to keep the Korean fighting localized. It would like, of course, to organize and utilize China's anti-Communists. But not at the expense of Chiang's war.

Red 'Peace Doves' Quit Britain in Huff
SHEFFIELD, ENG. (AP)—Delegates to Sheffield's Red-inspired peace congress, frustrated by the barring of the bulk of its foreign delegates from Britain, made hasty plans Monday night to shift to Poland for a second opening Thursday.

At stormy sessions Monday, last minute details were worked out for getting the hundreds of delegates off to Warsaw by sea and air.

When the group reconvenes in Warsaw it will demand a Russian-style ban on the atom bomb and reduction and control of armaments. A report by the Czech peace agency in Prague said the Chinese Communist delegation, headed by Deputy Prime Minister Kuo Mo-Jo, will demand that Gen. Douglas MacArthur be declared a war criminal.

Steel Production Lags, Secretary Chapman Says
LOS ANGELES (AP)—Secretary of the Interior Oscar Chapman said Monday the civilian economy and military needs are threatened by a lagging steel program.

Chapman said the government may be forced to regulate use of steel in the oil industry because a shortage of some steel products "appears to be reaching alarming proportions."

VISIT PARENTS

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Russell, Ames, spent the weekend here visiting Russell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Russell, 209 Fairchild street, and Mr. and Mrs. James G. Donohoe, 608 Ronalds street.

Iowa City grocers reported this week they either had baking soda or were expecting some soon. Housewives had noticed a shortage of it for some time because of a strike. Substituting for baking soda is too complicated for the average housewife, Prof. Margaret Jane Brennan of the SUI home economics department warned. Better wait until you get soda to try those sour milk recipes.

A new saddle oxford for the younger set combines brown with red and green plaid leather.

Movie star Conrad Nagel, an amateur chef, offers this recipe for "Caesar Salad." Chill 1 head lettuce. Soft boil 1 egg for one minute, then chill. Make croutons by toasting or deep fat frying 3/4 inch bread cubes. Rub salad bowl with garlic. Break lettuce into bite-size pieces and add croutons. Add 1 can anchovies or 1/2 cup crisp bacon bits. Sprinkle with salt, pepper, egg and French dressing. Mix, then dust with grated pepper and cheese.

A new coffee-dining table has an adjustable top which can be raised or lowered. Two drop leaves make a dining table for four or a card table.

Don't wait until the Christmas rush to bring the season's decorations out of hiding. Perk up wreaths, ribbons and tree ornaments now. Even tarnished tinsel should sparkle again after a soap and water bath of lively warm suds. Then rinse and spread on a towel to dry.

Perfect accompaniment for a little back sheath are new cocktail shoes, sandal-style satin and velvet. They are frosted with seed pearls, stamped with gold patterns, set with rhinestones, beaded with jet and cut steel. And they soon will be selling in a wide range of prices.

A "key caddie" fastens to the inside of a handbag so keys are available and easy to find.

When washing blankets, remember to put only two at a time in the washer to avoid overloading the machine.

ONE OF AMERICA'S GREAT CLEANERS

Bernie Bierman Resigns As Minnesota Coach

MINNEAPOLIS, MINN. (AP) — Tight-lipped Bernie Bierman used 20 words Monday to end a University of Minnesota football coaching dynasty he spent almost 20 years building.

"I have requested that I be relieved of the football coaching duties at Minnesota at the end of the year," said ever-tense Bierman's announcement.

Thus did the nationally famous Grey Eagle stun the Golden Gopher fans, both his supporters and the wolves who have been howling out their lungs for just such action.

11 Championships

The 57-year-old grid perfectionist, who had won five national championships and six Big Ten conference crowns since coming to Minnesota, resigned two days after his 1950 squad had established Minnesota's worst season record of all time.

In 1920, the Gophers lost six games and won one. This year, they have lost six and tied only Michigan. Purdue and Wisconsin remain to be played. It was even money here the Gophers would lose both for their first winless season.

Immediately speculation was rampant as to Bierman's successor whom athletic Director Ike Armstrong said would not be considered until the season ends.

First in was a report that Coach Lefty James of Cornell had been offered the job several weeks ago. Armstrong denied it "emphatically."

A "natural" for the reported $12,500 per year job was Oklahoma's Bud Wilkinson, a Bierman protege whose Sooners have the longest winning streak in the country. Sources close to Wilkinson, however, contend Bud would stick with the supremacy of Oklahoma, a state fast with the dollar for a winning coach.

No Plans — Bierman, who said he had no plans but who had received many offers since coming to Minnesota in 1932, officially will still be a full professor of physical education at a reported $7,500 annually after the football season.

It was believed, however, he would seek another spot with football coaching responsibilities even though university President J. L. Morrill and Armstrong said they hoped he would remain "in another capacity."

ELIOT DISAPPOINTED
CHAMPAIGN, ILL. (AP) — Disappointed with Illinois' showing against Iowa Saturday, when the Illini scored three first-period touchdowns and then loafed to a 21-7 victory, Coach Ray Eliot conducted a long drill Monday night aimed to combat a recurrence of the same thing in the big game Saturday against Ohio State.

Woodward Likes the Hawkeyes

With the present football season nearing the end of its life, basketball is starting to get more and more attention.

Already basketball magazines, with all-American players and teams figured out, are on the news stands. One of these, "Stanley Woodward's Basketball Forecast for 1951," has some mighty complimentary things to say about Iowa's Hawkeyes.

It's no secret that at the end of last year's season, Iowa was the choice to win the conference title this season. Coach: Rollie Williams and Bucky O'Connor would just as soon this forecast had remained a secret.

In his digest of the basketball season, Woodward rated Iowa as the second best team in the midwest and the top club in the Big Ten. Only Bradley was considered better than the Hawks in the midlands. Notre Dame was ranked third.

The author took up several pages explaining his choice of each team.

Height seems to be Iowa's most attractive feature as far as Woodward is concerned — especially with Frank Calsbeek and Chuck Darling in the lineup.

Woodward refers to "Skip Greene as the midget on the team. The Skipper is a stubby 6-foot even. All the rest of the team is well above the 6-foot mark, whatever that team might be.

Right now it looks like Calsbeek will be at one forward spot with either Whitey Diehl, Iowa City, or Herb Thompson, Forest City at the other forward.

It appears that Darling, the 6-foot 8-inch giant, couldn't be knocked out of the center's job with dynamite.

The guards will probably be Bob "Pinky" Clifton and Greene. Ev Cochrane, a regular until forced out of the lineup because of ineligibility at the end of the first semester last year, is also a strong guard candidate.

Gene Hettrick, former City high center, may see a lot of playing in the second semester this year. Hettrick is scholastically ineligible for first semester games.

Add to this array Dick Riecks and several other veterans and you can see why everyone is so enthusiastic about the Hawkeyes.

Williams is understandably conservative in his evaluations of the team. He knows, as does every other follower of Big Ten basketball, that too many things can happen to a pre-season favorite. The Big Ten is a graveyard of hopes. A team has to be either so much better than the rest of the teams that it can't be beaten or it must get a lot of breaks to win.

Williams will be the first to tell you that Iowa doesn't fit into the invincible team class. That means that the Hawks are going to have to get the breaks or they aren't going to win.

Cleveland Releases Boudreau Hawkeyes Hold Light Practice

CLEVELAND (AP) — Lou Boudreau, deposed manager of the Cleveland Indians, is going to be given his unconditional release — at his own request.

The baseball club's president, Ellis Ryan, made this announcement Monday night. It means, he said, that Boudreau will be a free agent "in a little over a week from now."

Fired as Manager

Although he was fired as manager, Lou still was the property of the Indians. Ryan said at the time the club was trying to arrange a major league manager job for Boudreau — or get him a play-ers job.

"But as we've said from the start, we are anxious to cooperate with Lou Boudreau 100 percent in doing what he considers best for him. He has requested his unconditional release so he shall have it."

Reached at his Harvey, Ill., home, Boudreau said, "I have no immediate plans of any kind." He added:

"That's why I asked for my unconditional release. I'll be able to make plans now. As it was, before being released, everything was out of my hands."

Lou said he had not yet been approached by any major league baseball club regarding a job, either as player, manager or combination of both.

Expects to Play

"But I do intend to play a few more years of baseball," the 33-year-old Boudreau said, indicating he did not expect offers of managerial reins without some sort of playing stipulation also.

Asked about rumors he might consider a coaching post at the University of Illinois, his alma mater, Boudreau said, "Of course I would be extremely interested some time in the future, but I feel that for the next few years at least I should stay in professional baseball. I still have several good years left."

Bill Meyer's Future With Bucs Indefinite

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Bill Meyer's fate as manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates hung in the air Monday after a conference with Branch Rickey, the new Pittsburgh general manager.

No announcement was made when they came out of Rickey's office following a three-hour session. The former Brooklyn executive, who took over direction of the last-place Pirates last week, said only that he would meet with Meyer again today.

The belief lingered that Meyer was on his way out with the Pirates and that Lou Boudreau, who was fired as Cleveland Indian player-manager, would be assigned the job of lifting the club out of the cellar.

However, Rickey said before his first meeting with Meyer that he has "given no consideration to anyone and will not until after I have talked to Meyer."

Roy Hamey, whose position with the Pirate organization has not been clear since the arrival of Rickey, did not sit in on Meyer's conference with the veteran builder of pennant winners.

St. Mary's Nips Oxford, 31-29

An ice cold St. Mary's basketball team fought an uphill battle for over three quarters Monday night and then came on in the final minutes to edge out Oxford, 31-29, in the season's opener here.

The Rev. John Schmidt, coach of St. Mary's, watched as his squad froze on their shots through the first half and then came on late sparked by Forward Bob Suplepp and Guard Tommy Black. Suplepp's free throws in the last minute sewed up the game. He finished with 11 points, one more than Black scored for the evening.

Oxford's tall front court team of Pete Kapfer and Lloyd Hruby led the visitors to a 13-11 halftime lead. Kapfer was a standout with his rebounding and checked in with 13 points. Guard Tom Mac-Areavy added 10.

The game was ragged throughout with both squads showing early season blues. The Ramblers looked good in their last half comeback.

SUI Professor Discusses Taxation

Before a tax policy can be set, it must be decided who is to bear the brunt of the sacrifice: government, business or consumer.

If a long drawn out struggle is in sight, any new tax program will have to allow for investments in physical equipment.

However, Bloom said, if an all-out effort is needed now, we will have to get along with our present stock of capital goods.

To prevent business from being cramped with new taxes, government and the consuming public will have to bear the economic sacrifices, he said.

Since economy was operating at near-full employment levels before the Korean outbreak, it will just have to tighten its belt to carry out mobilization plans, Bloom said.

Another group of farmers combined forces to harvest the corn of George W. Parizek, Highway 6, who lost all but the little finger and portion of the thumb on his right hand in a similar accident last Thursday.

Britain Rejects Russia's Bid For Conference on Germany

LONDON (UP)—Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin firmly rejected Monday Russia's demand for a Big Four foreign ministers conference on Germany.

Inasmuch as the Western allies are in close consultation on their replies to Russia's demand, Bevin's statement left no doubt that the answer will be a unanimous "no."

There is no use holding a conference until Russia gives evidence that it sincerely wants agreement with the Western powers, Bevin said. When that time comes, he added, the Big Four must take up "all the world's problems" instead of being limited to "one program drawn up by Russia." Talks on the basis of the present Russian proposals are "impossible," he said.

Bevin also rejected a proposal by a labor member of parliament that Britain take the initiative in starting talks with Russia regardless of the policies of the United States and France.

Bevin made his first official comment on the Russian note demanding a four power conference

Iowa Labor Chief Demands Truman Dismiss Brannan

DES MOINES (UP)—President A. A. Couch of the Iowa Federation of Labor (AFL) asked President Truman in a telegram Monday to dismiss Secretary of Agriculture Charles F. Brannan.

"His (Brannan's) agricultural plan has caused much disturbance to our political climate in Iowa and had much to do with the election," of Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper, Couch said in his telegram.

"The (Brannan) plan as finally developed became an issue of personalities, which conflicts with good government," Couch told Mr. Truman.

No Comment

In Washington, an aide to Brannan said there would be no comment on Couch's demand, but the telegram brought forth a response from Albert J. Loveland, Hickenlooper's election opponent, and State Democratic Chairman Jake More.

Loveland said he thought "the trend of the war the weekend before election" and not the Brannan plan caused the Democratic defeat.

More Comments

"Al Couch and his group supported the Brannan farm plan more strongly than the Democratic party organization," More said.

Couch said he believed Brannan's attempt to "jam his plan down the throat of Iowa" by sending Loveland into the Democratic primary last spring alienated not only the farm vote but part of the labor vote.

Loveland said that Couch was "entirely wrong" in charging that the administration had put him into the senatorial race.

in a statement to the house of commons.

When he had finished, Winston Churchill, opposition leader, promised Bevin his own support and that of the Conservative party.

Russia proposed the conference on the basis of a statement made after a meeting of iron curtain foreign ministers in Prague, calling for demilitarization of Germany, an immediate German peace treaty, the withdrawal of occupation troops a year after the treaty is signed, and unification of the country.

Second Student Recital Scheduled for Today

A bass viol concerto, three piano numbers, and a soprano solo will make up the program of the second student recital at 4:10 p.m. today in north music hall.

Albert Petersen, G. Davenport, will play "Concerto for String Bass," Handel.

Performing the three piano numbers will be Robert Gower, Al, Iowa City, "Sonata in D Major," Mozart; Bill Ellis, Marengo, "Sonatina No. 1 in C Major," Kabalevsky; and Joy Wren, A2, Davenport, "Scherzo in B Flat Minor," Chopin.

Peace Penningroth, A4, Iowa City, will sing the soprano solo, "O Divine Redeemer," Gounod.

Dean Dawson to Attend 2 Washington Meetings

Dean F. M. Dawson, college of engineering, left Monday for Washington, D.C., to discuss research regarding a uniform plumbing code with officers of the National Association of Master Plumbers.

While in Washington, Dawson also will attend the fall meeting of the American Society for Engineering Education Thursday and Friday. He is a member of the administrative council of that society.

Taft Outlines Views

SEN. ROBERT A. TAIT (R-Ohio) outlined his views on major problems facing congress at a news conference Monday. He said a lack of public confidence in President Truman's foreign policy helped Republican's in last Tuesday's congressional election. Taft was returned to the senate despite all out efforts on the part of organized labor.

Taft Backs European Arms Aid

WASHINGTON (UP)—Sen. Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) said Monday the United States must continue to arm western Europe against possible Communist aggression but that the new congress should decide the type and size of the program.

Asserting that GOP congressional gains in last week's general elections reflected a lack of public confidence in President Truman's foreign policies, Taft called for a stem to stern review when the new barely-Democratic congress meets in January.

Taft, an odds-on favorite to retain his post of Republican policy chief in the senate, discussed his views on foreign aid, domestic economics and politics at a king-sized news conference on his return here from his own Ohio election victory. He said:

1. He would accept the 1952 Republican presidential nomination if it is offered, but he will not campaign for it.
2. His re-election shows "the people won't accept dictation" from the CIO political action committee. He said voters oppose Truman's domestic programs "such as socialized medicine and the Brannan farm plan."
3. The lame duck session of congress scheduled to meet Nov. 27 will not accomplish much because it will have only about three weeks to work. He expressed doubt it will extend the federal rent control law, which expires Dec. 31 except where cities have voted a six-month extension.
4. The main problems facing the 82nd congress will be the size of the expanded defense program, including aid to Europe; taxes to pay for it, and inflation, including the possible need for wage and price controls.
5. The Taft-Hartley labor law, which led labor to oppose him in Ohio, will not be repealed as President Truman has demanded.

Acting President Of Venezuela Shot

CARACAS, VENEZUELA (AP)—The acting president of Venezuela, Lt. Col. Carlos Delgado Chalbaud, was assassinated Monday. Delgado, who headed a three-man military junta which seized control of the country in 1948, died of gunshot wounds.

The brief announcement was broadcast by Defense Minister Marcos Perez Jimenez, one of the surviving members of the junta. It gave no details.

Civil liberties were suspended, a curfew blocked transmission of news dispatches, and persons were forbidden to enter or leave the country. (Broadcasts heard outside the country said a state of siege — modified martial law — was imposed.)

Accused Kidnapper Released on Bond

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP)—Dr. Nancy Campbell, woman doctor, was freed on bond Monday in the kidnaping of a Santa Fe contractor's daughter and sped to Albuquerque to enter a hospital.

Her attorney and friends have said that the 43-year-old Yale-trained physician is dangerously near a physical breakdown.

Almost simultaneously with Dr. Campbell's release, the Allen Stamm family issued a statement thanking officers for saving blonde 9-year-old Linda Saturday night.

The FBI said Dr. Campbell admitted the kidnaping to raise money, but none could explain any financial trouble she was in.

The FBI trapped Mrs. Campbell as she picked up a box containing the $20,000 ransom she had demanded. Linda was found drugged in the doctor's auto nearby.
