Deferments from Pre-Induction Physicals For Iowa Students Halted by New Policy

Beginning today students who are residents of Iowa no longer will be deferred from taking pre-induction physicals for the armed forces.

Notice of Physical Ends Chance to Enlist

SUI students who have received orders to report for armed forces pre-induction physicals may not enlist in the armed services, the Johnson county draft board reminded students Tuesday.

The board said there was nothing to the rumor that a local board may grant a person a waiver to enlist after he has received his orders for physical examination.

The board pointed out that if a person falsifies his statement about physical notice in order to enlist, the armed services automatically will discharge him to the selective service system when the falsification is discovered.

pending notices for physicals to send to all those college and university students under its jurisdiction who were automatically deferred when their names came up.

State headquarters said the move was made to eliminate the advantage of enlisting which Iowa residents in college had over students in the rest of the nation.

Under the old Iowa setup, when a college student's name came up for physical examination at Iowa boards, he was automatically deferred from the physical under the theory that the examination would be null and void by the time the school year was up.

Selective service regulations specify that a man may not enlist after he has received notice to report for physical examination.

The new regulations point out that a college student is to go for a physical when his age group goes. The student is also to be ordered for induction in the same manner with no favoritism shown.

All Medical Men Under 50 Years To Be Registered

The rest of the nation's doctors, dentists and veterinarians under 50 years of age will be registered by the selective service system Jan. 15, Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, national chairman, announced Tuesday.

The registration will complete President Truman's orders for the registration of professional medical men. The 81st congress authorized such a registration under public law 779 passed in the second session.

The registration is for those doctors, dentists and veterinarians who:

- 1. Have not reached their 50th birthday.
2. Are not members of the armed forces or a reserve component or the U.S. coast and geodetic survey.
3. Did not register Oct. 16, 1950.

Those with the following degrees are included: bachelor of medicine, doctor of medicine, doctor of dental surgery, doctor of dental medicine, doctor of veterinary surgery and doctor of veterinary medicine.

51 Leave SUI for Service

Fifty-one men dropped from SUI Tuesday to report for duty with the armed forces, Registrar Ted McCarrel announced.

Campus gossip had boosted the number of drops to as high as 300 men.

McCarrel said the number of cancellations caused by enlistment was expected to decrease rapidly in the next few days.

He said men who enlist will get credit for their schoolwork on the same basis as if they were drafted.

Men who leave before the end of this semester will get full credit for all the hours they are taking. They also will be given letter grades by their instructors at the end of the semester.

Army Call Includes ROTC Reservists

WASHINGTON (AP) - The army's Dec. 26 call for 7,500 additional reserve and national guard lieutenants and captains includes commissioned ROTC reservists who will graduate from colleges at mid-term of the 1950-51 academic year.

The army said last week that many men who were given reserve commissions after completing their ROTC training were deferred from active duty until they could finish their education.

ROTC reservists included in the current call are those who have had less than one year of prior active regular service as officers.

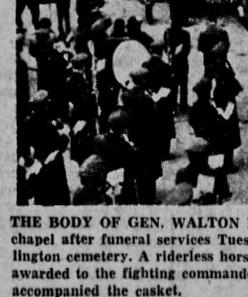

Louisiana Ordered To Admit Negroes To Law School

WASHINGTON (AP) - The supreme court ordered Louisiana State university Tuesday to admit qualified Negro students to its all-white law school at Baton Rouge.

In a brief order, the high tribunal upheld the ruling of a special three-judge federal court in New Orleans that a Negro law school established by the state at Scotlandville, La., in 1947 does not offer a law education equal to that of the Baton Rouge institution.

In other cases, the court:

- 1. Refused to hear an appeal by convicted "lonely hearts" slayers Raymond Fernandez and Mrs. Martha Beck.
2. Held that Joseph E. Seagram & Son, Inc., and Calvert Distilling company must pay a $1,025,000 anti-trust judgment to Kieger-Stewart company, Indiana liquor wholesalers.
3. Ruled unanimously that Indiana courts must decide whether convicted wife-murderer Lawrence E. Cook may remain at liberty.

THE BODY OF GEN. WALTON H. WALKER was placed on a caisson outside the Ft. Myer, Va., chapel after funeral services Tuesday. The caisson carried the flag-covered casket to a grave in Arlington cemetery. A riderless horse and the flag of a four-star general (left), a rank posthumously awarded to the fighting commander of the Eighth Army who was killed in a jeep accident in Korea, accompanied the casket.

Russia Agrees To Preliminary Big 4 Talks

LONDON (AP) - Russia agreed Tuesday to meet the Western Allies for preliminary talks on the world situation, but left the question of a possible Big Four foreign ministers' conference up in the air.

A vaguely-worded note broadcast by Radio Moscow declared that the proposed rearmament of Western Germany is the biggest obstacle to world peace.

Diplomatic sources here said Tuesday that the United States, Britain and France would demand an immediate cease-fire in Korea as a condition for any Big Four discussion of the situation in Asia.

The Russian note appeared to hint that the Soviets would demand that Communist China be represented at any conference on the Far East.

Tuesday's note continued an exchange of diplomatic communications in which Russia had first proposed Big Four talks on Germany and the Western Big Three had replied by asking for a general conference on the world-wide differences between East and West.

Business Manager Of Iowan Enlists

Robert Depew, A4, Des Moines, resigned as business manager of The Daily Iowan and withdrew from SUI Tuesday after enlisting in the airforce Friday.

Marshall B. Nelson Jr., A4, Iowa City, assistant business manager of The Daily Iowan, will be in charge until a new manager is appointed, Publisher Fred M. Pownall said Tuesday.

Gen. Walton Walker Buried in Arlington

WASHINGTON (AP) - Gen. Walton Harrison Walker was buried Tuesday in a grave close by those of other famous soldiers who rest in Arlington national cemetery.

To honor the man who fought in two world wars, then was killed in a jeep accident while commanding the Eighth army in Korea, the nation's foremost military leaders and representatives of the United Nations gathered at the graveside.

And, by an act of congress at the request of President Truman, Walker was buried as a four star general. He was promoted to that rank posthumously only an hour before the funeral.

Student's Condition Reported 'Excellent' After Suicide Try

David P. Campbell was reported in "excellent condition" at University hospitals Tuesday night after a suicide attempt Saturday night in a room at the Washington hotel.

The 22-year-old senior in the SUI college of liberal arts was reported by Melvin A. Edwards, A3, Iowa City, to have taken 75 phenobarbital tablets, according to police.

Edwards reported the incident to police about 9:15 p. m. Saturday and police rushed Campbell to University hospitals. Police said Campbell lost consciousness on the way to the hospital.

Police said Edwards told them he had accompanied Campbell to the hotel room and Campbell told him that he was going to commit suicide. While he was there he saw Campbell take the pills.

AEC Head Declares Russia 'Positively' Producing A-Bombs

WASHINGTON (AP) - The United States knows positively that Russia is producing A-bombs, Chairman Gordon Dean of the Atomic Energy commission said Tuesday.

He told a news conference that the source of this country's information is "a tightly held secret." He refused to say whether the United States also knows how many bombs Russia has completed.

His statement was designed to halt speculation which has persisted since President Truman announced more than a year ago that there had been an "atomic explosion" in the Soviet Union.

Dr. Karl T. Compton, former chairman of the armed forces research and development board, implied doubt in a speech last week that the "explosion" actually means that Russia has made an atomic bomb.

Besides removing all doubt on that subject, Dean told a news conference that development of atomic engines for submarines and warships may be "accelerated slightly" under the stepped-up defense program. But it still takes an "optimist" to believe that an atom-powered vessel can be ready in five years.

Britain Puts Men In Ike's Command

LONDON (AP) - Britain Tuesday formally committed more than three British divisions - all the "Tommys" in West Europe - to the command of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Eisenhower, as supreme commander of the 12 Atlantic allies' international army in Europe, already has been promised three divisions by France as he sets up his headquarters in Paris next week.

Eisenhower also will take over command of American forces in West Europe and a Canadian force which will be sent soon.

Government Flees Imperiled Capital City

TOKYO (WEDNESDAY) (AP) - The battle for Seoul began today. Chinese Red hordes drove almost to city's outskirts through a gap ripped in UN defenses 10 miles north of the imperiled South Korean capital.

The big attack quickly achieved its breakthrough at a soft spot between British and American forces.

AP Correspondent Stan Swinton, in a field dispatch from the front, said the enemy advance still was in progress at 10 a.m. (7 p.m. Tuesday, Iowa time).

Anxiety in Seoul More than two hours later, advances to Tokyo said the attack which began in two - regiment strength, had been stepped up in power.

Anxiety was evident among persons still in Seoul. "This is a major attack," an American division officer told Swinton.

"They are moving recklessly through the hole in our line, risking air attack in a way I have rarely seen."

Assault Thin Spot Two Chinese regiments assaulted a thin spot between American and British forces as if they knew exactly where it was.

They also protected their flank by driving British troops off a nearby hill.

U.S. reserves hurried up in an effort to plug the hole. Fighter-bombers strafed and rocketed Chinese.

Freezing Rain Makes Walking, Driving Hazardous in Iowa City

Freezing rain and sleet made walking and driving hazardous in the Iowa City area Tuesday, as a thin layer of ice covered the entire eastern half of the state.

The weatherman warned of similar conditions today and predicted no relief from slippery pavements until late tonight, when falling temperatures are expected to change the rain to snow.

Icy streets were blamed for three auto accidents reported to Iowa City police Tuesday. Damages caused by the mishaps were estimated at $832.50.

Police said other reports of accidents had not yet been turned in.

Highway officials reported slippery and dangerous road conditions throughout the county Tuesday, but said city streets and main highways were improving as rising temperatures melted the ice.

City and county street crews began sanding dangerous hills and intersections Monday night and have been working around the clock.

Airline Flights Canceled United Airlines officials reported all flights in and out of Iowa City have been cancelled until the ice on the runways clears.

Buslines operating throughout the city have been running between one and two hours late, but service has not been discontinued. Inter-urban service between Iowa City and Cedar Rapids has been slowed considerably.

PENETRATION OF UN LINES by Reds is indicated by black arrows in the areas south of Korea's 38th parallel where the Communists opened their New Year's drive. Northwest and north of Seoul (A) two powerful Red columns were reported within 14 and 17 miles of the South Korean capital in drives along the main road and rail routes. A third Red force was reported in the hills nine miles northwest of Uijongbu. Northeast of Seoul (B) the Reds have advanced to Kapnyong. The sawtooth line represents the approximate area of UN defenses.

SUI Architect Gets Union Board Key

SUI Architect George Horner received the honorary Union board key Tuesday night at the board's annual formal banquet.

Horner, designer of the proposed addition to the Iowa Union, was selected by the 16 Union board members to receive the key for his "outstanding service" to the Union.

Four men, all prominent in past Union activities, were presented at the banquet. They were SUI President Virgil M. Hancher; William Hageboeck, publisher of the Iowa City Press-Citizen and first Union board president in 1928; William Bartley, Iowa City attorney and president of the board in 1935, and Horner.

Harlan to Direct Public Relations For St. Louis Firm

Eugene H. Harlan, instructor in the school of journalism and the college of commerce, said Tuesday he intends to leave SUI Feb. 1 to become vice-president in charge of public relations for the Glee R. Stacker Advertising agency, St. Louis, Mo.

Harlan, a Ph.D. candidate from Elmo, Ill., is the only teacher of public relations courses at SUI. He received his M.A. degree from SUI in journalism and is now working on his Ph.D. requirements in commerce.

Besides his work with the advertising agency, Harlan also may accept a teaching post at Washington university, St. Louis. Harlan said his assignment to a teaching post depends on whether or not a professor now teaching at St. Louis will be called to military service.

Harlan has just returned from Chicago where he attended a convention of the American Marketing association.

Meredith Willson Writes 'Iowa Fight Song' - SUI Seeks Permission to Use New Song

SUI is trying to get permission to use the "Iowa Fight Song" introduced to the nation Sunday on NBC's "The Big Show."

Prof. James Jordan, head of the SUI information service, said the university is "investigating the possibilities of getting permission to use the song."

The song was written by Meredith Willson, former Mason City resident and now orchestra leader and comedian on the radio show.

Jordan and Prof. C.B. Righter, director of University bands, received copies of the number from Willson last week.

Righter said adoption of the song as "official" SUI music would depend on whether SUI students like it and sing it.

Buslines operating throughout the city have been running between one and two hours late, but service has not been discontinued. Inter-urban service between Iowa City and Cedar Rapids has been slowed considerably.

Officials of the Rock Island railroad said the weather has not affected train service.

Several trucking companies in the area discontinued service until road conditions improve. The Eldon Miller trucking company closed all of its Iowa terminals Tuesday, removing 75 trucks from the roads as a safety precaution.

Most of the Miller trucks are petroleum transports, and officials of the company said that fuel oil deliveries may be slowed as a result of the action and similar action by other companies. Although pedestrians and motorists were forced to inch their way along Tuesday, no injuries because of the ice were reported at either Iowa City hospital.

Colder Weather Expected The temperature is expected to range between highs of 27 to 35 and lows of 9 to 16 degrees throughout this area, during the next four days. Colder weather is expected by the weekend.

Statistics compiled by Prof. J. W. Howe, institute of hydraulic research, show that the early and severe winter has caused a sharp increase in fuel bills in Iowa City.

Both November and December found Iowa Citizens paying up to 25 percent more for fuel in 1950, than in other recent years.

December's high temperatures averaged 25.7 degrees - 7.9 degrees below normal. The low readings averaged 7.3, 9.2 degrees below normal. The average temperature was 16.5 degrees for the month, 8.5 degrees below the normal of 25.

Western Optimism Fades as Russia Hedges on Peace Terms

By J. M. ROBERTS JR., AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

France, Britain and the United States, who took seven weeks to frame a reply to Russia's Nov. 3 suggestion for a new four-power conference, seem to be having almost as much trouble evaluating the latest Russian message.

The fly in the ointment is the way the Russians hedge about any broad approach to a settlement of east-west differences.

Russia wanted originally to talk about Germany, in an obvious effort to delay the Allied approach to West German rearmament. The Allies didn't think much of that, but European reaction against closing any sort of door which might lead away from war required a careful reply.

So the Allies hit on the idea of going the Kremlin one better. Let the deputy foreign ministers get together at Lake Success and really get down to business on an agenda.

Jokers in Red Proposal

That's all right with Russia, but as to the possibilities of a broad settlement, she says "yes, but—"

Russia wants to play some more on the Chinese representation theme—China having been so unrealistically established as a member of the Big Five during the "phony peace" of 1945. Russia says she can't talk about the far east without China—Communist China, now.

Other Russian hedges are accepted in Washington as confirming the original impression there that Russia brought up the whole business merely for propaganda purposes. Which, of course, is true. Omission from the Russian reply of an expression or desire for a general settlement is not without significance.

But one of the most interesting by-products of all this side play is the attitude: displayed in London, Paris and Washington on receipt of the Russian reply. There is strong indication here of the states of mind of the allied governments.

Britain at first said "goody, Russia is willing to talk." This was tempered later by consideration of the Russian terms.

France reacted similarly, and there was represented as going on to entertain real hope that the world's ill can be cured around the conference table rather than on the battlefield.

Well, everybody's hoping for that, too. But reliance on it is another matter. Washington would rather its allies acted less naively in public.

Washington even appeared doubtful that the deputies would be able to arrange a full dress meeting. The trouble from the Allied standpoint is that Russia always looks reasonable at the sessions, but act unreasonably afterward in interpreting whatever agreement is reached, if any.

Low Birth Rate in 30's Causes U.S. College Enrollment Drop

CINCINNATI, OHIO (AP) — The number of full-time U.S. college and university students dropped 9.4 percent this fall, but the Korean war is not to blame, according to the 31st annual study of college-university enrollments.

California university again led all schools in full-time enrollment with 39,492 students, and New York university in grand total enrollment with 46,357.

Dr. Raymond Walters, University of Cincinnati president, reported in his annual study of enrollments that as of Nov. 1, 1,700 approved institutions have 1,414,428 full-time and 1,848,187 grand total students.

The drop in the grand total, which includes part time and night school students, was 7.1 percent over last fall.

Trend Will Continue Dr. Walters blamed last June's record — breaking graduation classes, predominantly veterans, and diminished 1950 attendance because of the low birth rate of the 1930's for the decrease. He said the low birth rate factor will prevail for some time.

While he discounted the effect of the Korean war in the current survey, Dr. Walters predicted a "transfer from campus to camp" for non-veteran men students.

State-supported universities reported 9.2 percent fewer grand total students; universities under private control 9.2 percent fewer full time and 9.7 percent fewer grand total students; independent colleges of arts and sciences 8.9 percent fewer full time and 7 percent fewer grand total students.

Independent technological institutions had 10.7 percent fewer full time and 6.1 percent fewer grand total students; and independent teachers colleges 4.5 percent fewer full time and 4.1 percent fewer grand total students.

Some Not Hard Hit Better than average enrollment records have been made this fall by part-time students in evening colleges, whose enrollment dropped only 3.2 percent, and by women's colleges, whose full-time attendance is down only 3.1 percent, Dr. Walters said.

He noted the smallest decrease in teachers' colleges, down 2.5 percent. Next lowest is agriculture, down 5.6 percent, third, liberal arts, down 7.4 percent; fourth, commerce or business administration, down 11.5 percent, and engineering, hardest hit of all, down 19.8 percent.

Iowa City Fairly Quiet During Christmas Recess

Iowa City was a slow spot from Dec. 17 to Jan. 1.

While the rest of the world went on its way, many Iowa City stores and restaurants closed down for lack of their principal customers, the students who scattered all over the country for two weeks vacation.

In Decorah it hit 35 degrees below zero one night, and Iowa City felt the cold worst Dec. 27 when it was 16 below. On Dec. 23 the thermometer managed to push up to 41 above, but that was about the best it could do for itself.

The usual number of cars slithered and smashed on icy streets, averaging about three accidents per day.

Mrs. Katherine "Grandma" Bartoski became 100 years old during the holidays. She celebrated quietly.

Joseph Stalin was 71 during the vacation, but there was no local celebration.

Cagers Win Four Iowa's Hawkeyes had a pretty good time of it. They beat Notre Dame, 63-60, UCLA, 80-63, and Pittsburgh, 73-66.

On the road they took Loyola, 61-58, and worked themselves into condition for the conference games coming up.

Out in the world, some Scotsmen warmed things up by stealing back the Stone of Scone, a battered boulder on which the kings of England are crowned. England was in an uproar and, ironically, Scotland Yard turned out in force to get the stone back.

You could walk the streets in Iowa City at 10 or 11 at night and not see anyone for blocks. Most townspeople were in bed by that hour. The parking situation, too, took care of itself for a while.

James Lohs, Princess cafe owner, was indicted for first degree murder by the Johnson county grand jury. He went back to work.

Congress Turns Down Emergency Powers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress Tuesday turned down President Truman's request for sweeping emergency powers to reshuffle government boards and bureaus at will.

The senate and house, however, voted to give him power to revise defense contracts so as to insure a steady output of vitally needed military equipment and supplies.

Mr. Truman had insisted that both those powers, which were in effect from 1941 to 1947 should be revived in the current emergency.

But the outgoing 81st congress took the stand that he already has adequate reorganization powers under a 1949 law which gives each house of congress a veto over any presidential move to shift government agencies and their duties.

The bob-tailed bill sailed through both houses by voice vote, with individual members unreconciled.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Commodore Matthew Perry, the man who opened the closed door of Asia, predicted nearly a century ago a clash of the "giants" — the United States and Russia — over the issues of world freedom.

And he pinpointed the spot as the eastern coast of Asia, where Russia's satellite forces of China and North Korea are battling American troops.

Perry's predictions are quoted in the current issue of a bulletin published by the Retired Officers association. Perry made the remarks during a speech in New York City on March 6, 1856.

Chinese New Year's Attack 'More Savage Than Taejon'

WITH THE 24TH INFANTRY DIVISION, KOREA (AP) — The Chinese Communist attack on New Year's morning surpassed in savagery even the bitter Red onslaughts at Taejon and "The Notch" last summer, a veteran platoon sergeant said Tuesday.

The new year was only 20 minutes old when the doleful notes of "taps" sounded the signal for the all-out Communist attack. In an instant, the shriek of whistles and horns used to direct Red frontline units filled the air.

"At both Taejon and 'The Notch,' near Masan, the North Korean Reds kept throwing more and more fresh troops at us, but they never completely surrounded small units like the Chinese did," said M. Sgt. James G. Cumstey, Johnson City, Ill., who has been in Korea since the first week in July.

"We knew all hell was breaking all around us, but the laundrymen were close enough to shake hands before we fired our first shot."

Cumstey's company was holding a ridge on the front line when the Chinese struck, but companies on the flanks took the first shock of the Red attack.

Suddenly, a squad of Yanks and South Koreans in the rear of the company's position came face to face with a group of Chinese — so close that one of the first Reds to fall was stabbed by a South Korean.

"An American shot a second Communist, and then the squad ran to warn the rest of the company, that it was surrounded."

"We started fighting north," Cumstey said. "Artillery had been roaring overhead for hours, so we couldn't understand where the Chinks were coming from."

"Had 'Front' Secure"

"Pretty soon, we had the 'front' secure, and we were battling like hell toward the rear," he added.

"We had to come back across the top of the ridge. That sets us up as swell targets for the Chinese at the base of the hill behind us. We knew then that we would have to fight our way back . . . we split up into small groups for the fight. It was pretty dark, but there was enough moonlight so we knew where we were going."

Cumstey's plight was reasonably typical of the six hundreds of Americans found themselves in as wave after wave of Reds armed with automatic weapons smashed at the flanks of the American forward line. The division artillery was the prize the Communists hoped to win, but they were disappointed.

Russian Industry Exploiting China Resources

SRINAGAR, KASHMIR (AP) — Sinkiang province, China's "Wild West" province, is being converted into a military bastion of Red China and a source of strategic raw materials for Russian war industry, according to information reaching here.

(This dispatch from a local correspondent did not give the sources of the information. Usually, however, Sinkiang traders and refugee Sinkiang officials who fled when the Communists took over the huge territory in September, 1949, are the only source for reports from that remote country adjoining northwestern Tibet and India's farthest north state, Kashmir.)

The information gives this picture of military and other activities:

"Russian and Chinese military experts are hastily reorganizing the Sinkiang army. There are considerable troop movements following the Chinese Communist invasion of eastern Tibet in early October."

Thousands of Chinese and Sinkiang troops are building new airfields, roads, and railways throughout the province.

Technicians from Moscow are exploiting mineral resources to feed Russian war industry. Uranium, platinum, petroleum, coal and iron mines are being worked at the greatest possible speed. Quantities of these materials are being exported to Russia.

Miss Bentley to Testify at Remington Trial

NEW YORK (AP) — The defense Tuesday filed a move to prevent Miss Elizabeth Bentley, former courier for a Soviet spy ring, from testifying at the perjury trial of William W. Remington, 33, a former commerce department economist.

Remington is charged with lying when he denied under oath that he ever was a Communist.

Miss Bentley had told a congressional investigating committee that Remington had paid Communist party dues to her. She also had testified that Remington gave her secret information while she was a spy ring courier. William C. Chanler, defense counsel, moved that any testimony by Miss Bentley be excluded on the ground that proper cross-examination had been prevented.

Chanler charged that proper cross-examination had been precluded by improper use by the government of pre-trial examination records in the libel suit Remington had brought against Miss Bentley and others. The libel suit was settled out of court.

March of Dimes Needs You —

Newspapers throughout the nation carried two big stories of death and misery on New Year's day. One story dealt with the death of American soldiers on Korea's battlefields. The other dealt with the biggest holiday death total in the history of the nation's highways. It appears that no amount of pleading and reasoning will stop the highway deaths. And the "little man" or the "man in the street" can do little now toward eliminating the battlefield deaths. That task must be left to the statesmen and the soldiers themselves.

But every person who has a dime can participate in a campaign against pain and death which will begin in Iowa City and all over the nation Jan. 15.

The annual MARCH OF DIMES campaign will be conducted from Jan. 15 through Jan. 31.

Last year was the third straight year of high polio incidence, and there is now a tremendous backlog of 30,000 cases from other years which still need care.

The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis is now operating at a deficit to meet all the responsibilities of care, treatment, epidemic aid, professional education and scientific research.

It's believed that later figures will reveal that approximately 25,000 new cases of the disease hit the nation during 1950. This would make a cumulative incidence of 95,000 cases for the last three years.

The national foundation says: "We can no longer anticipate 'light' polio years. More people are being stricken, more communities are being affected, more patients must be cared for each year. And more of us must help."

Half of all money collected in the Iowa City campaign will be used locally, or, in emergencies, part of the receipts would be used to supplement the national epidemic aid fund.

The opening of the campaign still is almost two weeks away. But before we finish our New Year's resolutions, we should resolve that Iowa City's part in the MARCH OF DIMES will be one of which the community can be proud.

Buyers Flood New York Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP) — Buyers swamped the New York stock exchange with orders Tuesday and prices were boosted along a broad front.

After an unsettled first hour, demand started to flood into the market and rarely let up for the balance of the session.

Gains for a large majority of stocks ran from a few cents to around $2 a share, although a few moved from $2 to $5 higher. At the close, 195 individual issues were at 1950-51 peaks, and the market on average reached a 20-year high.

Much of the buying, as during the big boom markets of the closing days of 1950, stemmed from fears of inflation.

ABC OK's Coast-to-Coast Live Television Linkup

NEW YORK (AP) — The American Broadcasting company Tuesday gave the go-ahead for the nation's first coast-to-coast live television linkup.

ABC ordered from the American Telephone & Telegraph company full-time co-axial cable service between Omaha, Neb., and San Francisco.

The AT&T expects the new facilities to be completed late this year.

Steel Industry to Expand to 26 Cities

STEEL MAKING FACILITIES FOR THE NATION are being expanded by the National Security resources board to increase production of the basic defense material. Including New London and Watertown, Conn., where the plans are still pending, 26 cities have been marked for steel producing centers. The government has issued certificates to permit the expanding firms to write off part of the cost in tax savings. Numbers following names indicate number of companies expanding in each city.

The Rev. Harold F. McGee officiated at the double ring ceremony. The bride was given in marriage by Prof. E. F. Lindquist of the SUI college of education.

Income Tax Office Opens Here to Help With 1950 Returns

The nation's biggest collective headache, income tax returns, is in the offing and the U.S. Internal Revenue department Tuesday opened fulltime offices in the Iowa City postoffice to alleviate some of the suffering.

The office is being manned by three tax consultants, C.G. Manning, C.A. Boyle, and Glenn Anderson. Hours are 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

The consultants reminded all salaried persons, professional personnel, and wage earners that returns are due by March 15. For farmers, however, the deadline for the declaration of estimate of 1950 income is Jan. 15.

Wage earners and salaried individuals must submit the actual amount of income taxes they paid in 1950. Professional personnel must submit an estimate of their 1951 taxes and the first one-fourth payment of that estimate. Professional persons must also make the final one-fourth of their 1950 taxes by Jan. 15.

Farmers have until Jan. 15 to file an estimate of their 1950 income along with 80 percent of the estimated tax. Then they have until March 15 to file a final return and the remaining tax. However, if a farmer fails to file his estimate by Jan. 15, he must submit a final return and the entire 1950 tax by Jan. 31.

Rev. Bosley to Speak At University Vespers

The Rev. Harold A. Bosley, pastor of the First Methodist church of Evanston, Ill., will speak at university vespers Sunday evening, Jan. 7.

One of the younger theologians and preachers in America, the Rev. Bosley has written four books on religion. He will talk on "Can One Be Certain of God."

The talk will be followed by an open forum on the vesper topic. Because of the forum, the vespers in the senate chamber of Old Capitol, will be more informal than usual. Services will begin at 8 p.m.

CIVIL SUIT FILED

Johnson county's first civil suit petition was filed Tuesday by the Hawkins Electric company of Chicago to collect $100 it alleged was due from Drew McNamara, 422 Grand avenue.

The Rev. Hewison Pollock officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Robert M. Bickel, Iowa City, was attended by her sister, Ruth Bickel, Easton, Penn., as maid of honor.

Frances and Wendy Bickel, nieces of the bride, served as ring bearer and flower girl respectively.

Dr. Keith Campbell, St. Paul, Minn., brother-in-law of the groom, was best man, and ushers were Jack Bornholdt and Richard Turner, both of Avoca.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Westlawn parlors.

After a short wedding trip, the couple will live at 715 Iowa avenue.

Newspapers Chief Iowa History Source: Petersen

Newspapers are the richest single source of Iowa history, says William J. Petersen, editor of the "Palimpsest," in his foreword to the December issue of the State Historical society publication.

The statement was made in connection with two articles appearing in the publication and based on information taken from early Iowa newspapers.

Petersen referred to the congressional campaigns of Samuel Curtis and Chester Cole in "Stumping Iowa in 1860" as reported in Iowa papers that year.

"Farming in 1866," the second article, is two letters presenting opposing views of life on Iowa farms at that time.

Two Active Polio Cases Admitted for Treatment

Two active polio cases were admitted to University hospitals within the last week. Arlene Seams, 25, Hudson, was admitted in "fair" condition. In "good" condition was Charles Jenkins, 20, Cedar Falls.

Four discharged patients included Gerald Lukensmeyer, 25, Hampton; David Miller, 4, Kalona; Donald Fleagle, 22, Cedar Rapids, and William Hens, 50, Crawfordville.

Gordon Zumwalt, 25, Cedar Rapids, and Thomas McDonald, 21, Clinton, were transferred to the inactive ward.

Found: One Suitcase

If a girl in Iowa City has discovered she is missing a suitcase full of clothes, Doug Brant, 125 Clinton street, may have the solution. He found a blue and white suitcase full of girls' clothes on Clinton street between Washington and Burlington streets. Brant's phone number is 8-1786.

Remote control dictation is the newest wrinkle in helping out overworked secretaries and bosses. From one to 20 telephone-type microphones lead directly to a central recording instrument near the secretary. The machine takes the letters, even though distance between the boss and secretary may be a few miles.

Try a horseshoe magnet tied onto a yardstick to pick up metal objects in the path of your vacuum cleaner.

To store left-over mashed potatoes, put them in a tall tumbler and cover with waxed paper. If the tumbler is graduated, the potato roll will slide out and may be sliced when needed.

To thoroughly clean soiled white handkerchiefs, put them in a porcelain pan and cover with cold water to which 1/3 cup of soap and two tablespoons of bleach have been added. Heat the water just to the boiling point and rinse them under warm running water. Then add them to your washing machine load.

Fresh pears, peeled, halved and cored, make a company dessert when they are filled with vanilla ice cream and served with a strawberry or raspberry sauce. Use quick-frozen strawberries or raspberries for the sauce.

Dress up a plain white cake mix by putting the layers together with a custard filling and topping with chocolate frosting.

Pep up baking powder biscuits by adding a small amount of grated sharp processed cheese, minced green peppers and chopped pimento to the biscuit before adding milk.

Kiwanians Install Schaaf as President

Joseph K. Schaaf was installed as president of the Iowa City Kiwanis club succeeding Prof. Orville Hitchcock of SUI's speech department Tuesday at the club's weekly meeting at Hotel Jefferson.

H. Clark Houghton retired as program chairman, Schaaf had served as vice-president in 1950, and Wayner and Rose are repeating in their offices.

An illustrated talk on "Water Utilization in the Des Moines River Basin" was given by Boyer following the installation ceremonies.

Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests

Number 10...THE PANDA

"Let's get down to bear facts!"

The sudden rash of quick-trick cigarette tests may have caused panda-monium on the campus — but our scholarly friend was unperturbed. He pondered the facts of the case and decided that one-puff or one-sniff tests... single inhale and exhale comparisons are hardly conclusive. Proof of cigarette mildness doesn't come that fast!

And that's exactly why we suggest...

The sensible test — the 30-Day Camel Mildness Test which simply asks you to try Camels as your steady smoke — on a pack after pack, day after day basis. No snap judgments needed. After you've enjoyed Camels — and only Camels — for 30 days in your "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste), we believe you'll know why...

More People Smoke Camels than any other cigarette!

After Four Straight Wins —

Hawkeyes Open Big Ten Race Against Purdue

Following four victories over the holiday recess—two of them against nationally ranked teams—Iowa's basketball team opens Big Ten play Saturday night against Purdue on the fieldhouse floor.

After Purdue, Iowa faces Illinois's the following Monday in a home game and then travels to Evanston for a game with Northwestern Jan. 13.

Coach Rollie Williams Tuesday termed his squad "as ready as it will ever be" to enter the Big Ten race. "There are still some things to work on this week, however," Williams said. "I want to do some additional defensive work against Purdue's style after our scout briefs the players on that material."

Defense Needs Emphasis
The defensive drills started Tuesday afternoon. Eight of the squad members who have played the most this season split into two teams and alternated on offense and defense. Williams has maintained since the first game that Iowa's defense was the one phase of play which required the most emphasis.

Williams plans to stick with the starting lineup he has used in the last several games. This has Frank Calsbeek and Herb Thompson at forwards, Chuck Darling at center, and Fred Ruck and "Skip" Greene at guards. Ruck replaced Bob "Pinky" Clifton on the starting club.

Calsbeek has almost completely recovered from a crippling thigh injury which threatened earlier in the season to hang on indefinitely. He has scored 87 points in seven games for a 12.4 game average.

Darling Leads Scorers
Darling leads the Iowa scorers with 141 points in the same number of games for a 20.1 average and seventh spot among the nation's scorers. The big center has scored on 380 percent of his shots.

A brief digest of the four games played during the vacation follows for the benefit of those readers not here at that time.

Iowa 63, Notre Dame 60—The height and rebounding of the Hawkeyes overcame Notre Dame's extreme shooting accuracy in this game. The game was close all the way and was tied at 60-60 with two minutes left.

Then Herb Thompson hit a follow in shot to break the tie and give Iowa the win. Darling hit 20 points and Calsbeek got 15.

Iowa 80, UCLA 63—This was undoubtedly Iowa's most impressive showing of the year. UCLA was ranked seventh in the country before it started a three game eastern swing that saw it lose to Bradley, Long Island university and the Hawkeyes.

Iowa's regulars held a 27 point lead when Williams removed them in favor of a reserve team with about four minutes left. The Uclans then whittled the final margin down to 17 points.

Calsbeek, in a return to last year's form, scored 24 points, followed by Darling's 19. The win marked Iowa's fifth straight victory over a west coast opponent.

Iowa 61, Loyola of Chicago 56—This was Iowa's first road win of the season. The Hawks met the Chicago school in part of a double-header at Milwaukee, Wis.

The score was tied 31-31 at halftime. Then Iowa slowly pulled away in the second half on the 16 and 12 point scoring of Darling and Calsbeek respectively.

Even though Iowa won, Williams wasn't satisfied. "It was one of those games you're glad to win considering the way you played," he said.

Iowa 73, Pittsburgh 66—The Hawkeyes, usually a first half team, held a 21 point lead at the

Wolves Down Purdue, 61-60

LAFAYETTE, IND. (AP)—Charley Murray's tenth free throw gave Michigan a 61-60 victory over Purdue Tuesday night in the opening game of the Big Ten basketball season for both teams.

In a game that saw 65 personal fouls called, all other aces on both teams had fouled out when Murray sank the last of his ten free shots just when it counted most. At the same time, Purdue's John Toepepe was missing two free throws.

Purdue kept control through the first half as Jack Server scored eight of his ten points. But the Boilermakers made only one of their first 15 goal shots good at the start of the second half, and Michigan pushed ahead.

Center Leo Vanderkuy kept Michigan's control tight while Bob Olson's jump shots yielded five goals and a total of 14 points for scoring honors. Tom Tiernan scored four of the Wolverines' goals.

Toepepe and Tom Pollom, both substitutes, led Purdue's late comeback and cut the Wolverines' lead to 59-58 with less than four minutes to go. Bob Olson fouled out trying to stop one of Toepepe's shots. Toepepe had a chance to give Purdue the lead then, but he missed both free throws.

Mark Scarr and Murray dropped in free throws, but Purdue only managed to equal that with a goal by Sammy Price.

Louis Predicts KO In Bout with Beshore

DETROIT (AP)—Joe Louis, trim and confident, predicted Tuesday he'll knock out Freddie Beshore tonight in a 10-round "comeback" fight at Olympia.

Having melted off nearly six pounds from his midriff and legs in three weeks of intensive training, the Brown Bomber was sure he's regained some of his lost speed and murderous punching power.

Chuck Darling, who sat out most of the last half, was recalled in the closing minutes to help out. The big center scored 20 points and Calsbeek got 15.

The game, which marked its 50th straight win at home against non-conference opponents, started slowly before off beaten Pittsburgh decided to run with the Hawks.

In the four holiday games, Calsbeek scored 69 points and Darling 72 points.

Did This Play Lose Game for Cal?

WHEN THE ROSE BOWL GAME WAS DISCUSSED Tuesday, most of the fans agreed that California lost the game on the play shown above. Halfback Jim Monachino slipped and fell without being hit in a third down try for a touchdown. On the next play, the Bears didn't pick up the necessary yardage and Michigan took over on downs. Had California scored, they would have held a two touchdown halftime lead. The Wolverines won, 14-6.

Conferences Favor Rose Bowl Renewal

RIVERSIDE, CALIF. (AP)—The Big Ten and Pacific coast conferences favor renewal of their Rose Bowl football pact, but a few wrinkles will have to be ironed out before it gets the official okay.

Belief that the problems will be solved was expressed Tuesday by the commissioners of the two conferences. Kenrick L. (Tug) Wilson of the Big Ten and Victor O. Schmidt of the coast group.

Representatives of every school in the Big Ten and the coast loop conferred for several hours Tuesday. The discussions, however, are more informal than official and it will require formal action by both leagues later on.

The Big Ten will meet late in February in Chicago, and the coast conference swung into its annual winter sessions late Tuesday following the meeting with the mid-westerners.

The two commissioners would not hazard an opinion on whether the present system of selecting the Rose Bowl teams would continue.

Blame Cal's Choice For Bowl Defeat

PASADENA, CALIF. (AP)—The Tuesday quarterbacks came up with their verdict Tuesday: California lost the Rose Bowl game by not trying a field goal late in the second quarter.

To refresh your memory: California was ahead, 6-0, and had thoroughly dominated Michigan throughout the first half. In the waning moments, the Bears drove to a third down on the Michigan three. Jim Monachino slipped and lost a yard. It was fourth and four. Pete Shabarum made only two yards and Michigan took over.

MEMO TO ADVERTISERS

Grandfather was a thrifty soul but how he gambled!

In fact, once upon a time, all business men who advertised were, willing or unwilling, confirmed speculators. They couldn't help it, because in those days they had no way of knowing what they would get for their money.

Today, advertising money can be invested on a basis of facts—the information in the reports of the Audit Bureau of Circulations, a national, cooperative and non-profit association of 3300 advertisers, advertising agencies and publishers. The A.B.C., organized in 1914, has established standards for measuring the circulations of newspapers and periodicals, just as there are definite standards for the weights and measures of merchandise.

This newspaper is a member of A.B.C. Our circulation is audited by experienced circulation auditors. The information thus obtained is issued in A.B.C. reports which show how much circulation we have, where it goes, how it was obtained and other facts that tell business men what they get for their money when they advertise in these columns.

The Daily Iowan

We Didn't Like This —

We received a letter recently taking us to task for misquoting Rollie Williams' record at Iowa. During Thanksgiving vacation last year, it was incorrectly reported that a Williams' coached team won a Big Ten championship during Rollie's 13 year tenure before the war.

Calling our attention to this mistake isn't what burned us up. When we're wrong, we're willing to admit it. What did warm us under the collar was some of the other things said in the letter.

Normally, something of this nature wouldn't prompt us to reply publicly. But we feel that some of the sentiments expressed are basic and un-healthy.

The writers, who used the typewritten signature of "The Racine's Gang," went on to say that "Pops" Harrison left Williams excellent material and that if Rollie came through OK, but if he didn't, he wasn't much of a basketball coach.

This seems to typify the attitude of far too many fair weather Iowa fans who can't say enough in praise of the team when it is winning and can't say enough against it and the coach when it is losing. We're not saying that a coach or a team should be immune from all criticism. What we are saying is that fans and interested parties should withhold criticism until both the team and coach have been given a fair chance.

Iowa lost two unexpected road games to Western Michigan and Butler early in the season and immediately the critics started a howl that, if combined in one unified boo, would have rocked the fieldhouse rafters. "They stunk." "If this is the best team in the Big Ten I'd like to see the worst." These were typical comments after the losses.

Even some of the sports writers who had eyes for no one but Iowa in pre-season predictions shied away from the Hawkeyes and picked Illinois, Indiana and Minnesota as the three top contenders for the title.

Getting back to the letter. The writers' parting thrust was that all my misquoting in the world wouldn't help Williams. As was explained earlier in this piece, the error was entirely unintentional and was in no way designed to add or detract from Williams' record.

Right now, on the verge of the Big Ten race — which we still feel the Hawks' have a better than average chance of winning — the team needs the support of everyone professing to be a loyal fan. If the home folks aren't behind the team, certainly no one else is going to be.

We're not asking you to find no fault with the individual players or with the way the team is coached or run. We're not asking it because we'll probably indulge in this very thing a little ourselves before the season is over. But let's wait until the season has gone a little longer before our criticism reaches the point contained in the letter.

A lot of talk following Michigan's win over California in Monday's Rose Bowl game has centered around whether the now expired pact between the two conferences will be renewed.

Sentiment seems to be about evenly split. Some feel that the Pacific coast conference has learned a hard five year lesson and is willing to admit, by failure to renew the contract, the Big Ten's superiority.

Others feel that the west coasters would lose even more prestige than they have by five straight beatings by not renewing the contract.

Personally, we feel that the contract will be extended with the possible stipulation that a Big Ten school can represent the conference every second instead of third year.

Bradley, Sugar Bowl Cage Winner, Top Team in Country

NEW YORK (AP)—Bradley's unbeaten basketball club, with 13 straight wins and a Sugar Bowl title, was voted the No. 1 team in the nation Tuesday by 215 writers and sportscasters in the weekly Associated Press poll.

Kentucky, leader in the first two weeks of the poll, was knocked off the top by its upset loss to St. Louis Friday night, 43-42, in overtime. The Wildcats wound up in third place, behind Bradley and the Oklahoma Aggies.

Bradley moved out front by whipping previously undefeated Indiana, bowling over Syracuse and St. Louis at the Sugar Bowl party and then rushing home to top Harvard.

The Oklahoma Aggies took over the No. 2 slot by running their streak to 12 in a row with wins over Baylor, Texas and Arkansas. Kentucky came back after the loss to St. Louis at New Orleans to whip Syracuse, 69-59, in the Sugar Bowl consolation finals.

Anti-Slot Machine Bill Signed

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Truman signed legislation Tuesday which outlaws shipment of slot machines into all states except those which specifically legalize them and may strike a heavy blow at organized gambling.

The law, which will be enforced by the FBI, carries criminal penalties of $5,000 fine and two years in prison for violators.

It bans outright the use of "one armed bandits" on any land under exclusive federal jurisdiction. This will compel the armed forces to remove them from officers' clubs, and will forbid their use in Alaska, Hawaii, the District of Columbia or territorial possessions.

Each of the 48 states, however, has the option of enacting a special law exempting itself from the ban on slot machine shipments.

The bill was pushed through congress last month after an attack of laryngitis broke up a threatened one-man senate filibuster by Sen. George W. Malone (R-Nev.), whose state is the only one in which "slots" are legal.

Whelstone Co-Owner Dies in Arizona

William O. Byington, 51, co-owner of the Whelstone Drug company, died of a heart attack at 5:20 p.m. Monday at Flagstaff, Ariz., while listening to the Rose Bowl game.

Mr. and Mrs. Byington left Iowa City last Wednesday to spend a month in the southwest.

The son of Judge O.A. and Annie B. Byington, Mr. Byington was born and raised in Iowa City.

A graduate of City high school, Mr. Byington attended SUI. During World War II he served in the armed forces.

Besides his widow, Mary M., Mr. Byington is survived by one son, William M., two grandchildren, and one brother, Dr. LeGrand Byington, of Denver, Colo.

The body is being brought to the McGovern funeral home, where funeral arrangements are pending.

Borgeson Replaces Ousted Chemist

DES MOINES (AP) — State Secretary of Agriculture Clyde Spry named Dr. R. W. Borgeson, a former Iowa State college instructor, as state chemist Tuesday to succeed a woman who bowed out in the P-60 anti-freeze dispute.

Borgeson, who has been a research chemist for the Diamond Alkali company, Painesville, Ohio, will receive $5,400 a year, which is $1,500 more than his predecessor, Mrs. Esther Johnston, received as acting state chemist, Spry said.

The secretary of agriculture announced several days ago that he had fired Mrs. Johnston for her stand in a controversy stemming from the P-60 anti-freeze case, but she let it be known last Friday that she was ready to give up her job without a fight.

Local Woman Recovers Purse Containing $200

The new year started out right for Mrs. H.A. Samuel, Coralville, when she recovered a lost purse containing $200.

Mrs. Samuel lost the purse New Year's eve. Monday she received a phone call from Thomas Davis, Ladora, whose daughter had found the purse on a downtown Iowa City street.

Mrs. Samuel drove to Ladora Monday to pick up the purse.

$15-Million Dam on Chariton Planned

Plans for a $15-million dam on the Chariton river will be formulated at the monthly meeting of the Iowa Natural Resources council in Des Moines Tuesday, it was announced by Garland Hershey, head of SUI's geological survey.

Hershey, chairman of the resources council, and Dean F. M. Dawson, college of engineering, will attend the meeting.

The dam, to be built by federal funds, will be located ten miles north of the Missouri border near Centerville.

The resources council must confer with Missouri officials before definite action can be taken on the project. Army engineers will survey the Chariton river area before dam construction begins.

French Premier May Visit Truman

PARIS (AP) — Premier Rene Pleven will fly to Washington within the next two weeks to confer with President Truman on the critical world situation, official French sources said Tuesday.

In Washington, a state department spokesman said the department knew nothing about a possible visit from Pleven. He said there had been "no discussions" of such a trip.

Four Auto Accidents Here Over Weekend

Four auto accidents were reported to Iowa City police over the weekend as the weatherman renewed his sabotage of good driving conditions.

Damages were not estimated in a collision at the intersection of Iowa avenue and Riverside drive at 9 p.m. Monday. Drivers were William H. McCurry, G. Elberton, Ga., and Andrew Renfeld, Avoca.

Highway patrolmen reported a car driven by an unidentified SUI student turned over on highway 6, three miles east of Iowa City at 10:44 p.m. Monday. Damage was estimated at $60.

Fred Cline, 922 E. Davenport street, reported his car had been struck Tuesday morning while it was parked in front of the court house. He said identification of the other vehicle was left on his windshield.

Bill Courtney, 1014 N. Summit street, reported his car was hit Saturday night while it was parked in front of his residence. Damage was not estimated.

IC to Begin Sale Of Sewer Bonds

Iowa City will sell $10,000 worth of sewer bonds beginning at 9 a.m. today to cover the cost of sewer construction in the city last fall.

The project itself cost $10,893.62. The $10,000 in bonds will cover special assessments that have not been paid for by property owners where the work was done.

Assessments paid so far total $6,450. The city will pay the remaining $3,400.

3 Students Escape Injury When Car Plunges into Ravine

Three SUI students narrowly escaped injuries Tuesday when a car owned by Dean Schmidt, C3, Mason City, skidded and plunged into the 50-foot ravine between the Phi Kappa Psi fraternity house and the Catholic student center.

Schmidt was in the car when it started sliding toward the ravine and jumped clear as it rolled backwards down the steep slope.

Richard McKay, A4, Knoxville, and Charles McLaughlin, A4, Burlington, were with Schmidt at the time of the accident. They got out of the car before the mishap in an attempt to put blocks under the wheel to prevent the car from sliding.

McKay lost his balance stepping on the ice and slipped, falling part way down the bank in the path of the sliding car.

He rolled out of the path of the car as it passed him, grazing his arm.

The car stayed upright as it rolled down the hill and was pulled out shortly afterwards by a wrecker. Schmidt said damage to the car wasn't serious.

State Replies to Rutledge Appeal

DES MOINES — Prosecuting attorneys submitted a lengthy answer Tuesday to the state supreme court appeal of Dr. Robert C. Rutledge, 30, St. Louis, from a 70-year prison sentence and second degree murder conviction.

Rutledge, a baby specialist, was convicted May 28, 1949, at Cedar Rapids, for the hotel room slaying of Byron C. Hattman, 29, St. Louis, following a sensational trial that caught nationwide attention.

state described Rutledge as a "most dangerous man." It said that if any errors had been made by the trial court it was "certainly on the side of leniency," adding that "there have been educated murderers before."

3 Professors to Launch Fairfield Experiment

Three SUI professors will launch the Fairfield experiment Thursday night with a discussion of "What Are the Important Economic Problems?"

The Fairfield experiment is a series of 10 evenings of surveying the American economic system with the aim of improving the understanding of our economic system. The series will run through April 5 and will be held in Fairfield.

Prof. Paul R. Olson, head of the SUI economics department, Clark Bloom of the college of commerce and Hew Roberts of the SUI college of education will participate in the first session.

The Fairfield public schools are sponsoring the experiment and the Fairfield Council of Economic Education is conducting it. The experiment is the first such program ever attempted in Iowa.

Such topics as the economy and mobilization, the worker in the economy, taxes, the farmer and world trade will be discussed during the series.

Following the talks each evening, local residents will apply the topic to local situations by questioning the speaker and participating in panel discussions.

Scientists

Preserve Life at Low Temperature

CLEVELAND, OHIO — Three experiments showing that life can be preserved at 320 degrees below zero were reported Tuesday at the 117th annual meeting of the American association for the advancement of science.

In one experiment, a group of St. Louis university scientists used chick embryos. After two days of incubation, and when the embryos had just begun to beat, they were quickly frozen by immersion in liquid air at about 320 degrees below zero.

"All activity in the embryo ceases at once," Dr. B. J. Luyet, of the St. Louis group, said. "After all the embryos have been frozen solid for as much as one hour they are rapidly rewarmed by sudden immersion in a warm salt solution. The heart resumes its beat and continues beating for several hours."

The scientists said they also had frozen vinegar "eels," small-worm-like bodies.

"After as much as a day in the frozen state they are rewarmed rapidly in lukewarm vinegar," Luyet said, "and within a few minutes they begin to recover. After an hour or so the majority of them are intensely active."

Significantly, the scientists also found that red blood cells can be preserved in a frozen state.

"The cells," Luyet said, "are normally destroyed when the blood is frozen and brought to low temperatures. But the cells can be preserved at 320 degrees below zero if the freezing and re-warming are extremely rapid, that is, hundreds of degrees per second."

Luyet said that the experiments were based on the physical principle that when a substance is frozen or melted rapidly, its molecules have no time to rearrange themselves to assume the crystalline pattern.

GERMANS TO RESIST HAMBURG, GERMANY (AP) — Twenty Germans, who invaded Helgoland to protest its use as an aerial target, defiantly announced Tuesday night they will offer every possible resistance to any expedition to remove them.

Panacea Crew Builds Stage Sets Over Holidays

A south sea island, a campus dormitory and the back end of a pick-up truck were built over the Christmas holiday at SUI.

The island, the dorm and the truck are stage sets for the all-campus musical "In the Pink" scheduled to be presented Jan. 17-20 in Macbride auditorium.

The musical will have 10 full scene changes and there will be 21 scene changes in the show.

Director Ron Butler, A2, Newton, and set designer Robert Randolph, G, Centerville, had charge of the set building over the holidays.

Randolph plans to erect an extension on the small Macbride auditorium stage to make the scene changes easier.

The pick-up truck has been built on hinges and pins so that it jostles up and down like the real thing.

Search for Lost Stone Centers in Glasgow

GLASGOW, SCOTLAND — The search for the stolen Stone of Scone centered here Tuesday, as police investigated the recent activities of a former Glasgow university student.

The ex-student is one of five men suspected by Scotland Yard of engineering the theft of the centuries-old coronation stone from Westminster abbey on Christmas morning.

The sets were built in the mechanical engineering lab and are now being moved to Macbride auditorium for the last two weeks of rehearsals.
