Wildcat Rail Strike Continues Despite Federal Mediation Efforts

(From the Wire Services) More switchmen trickled back to work on strikebound railroads Monday, but the wildcat walkout entered its second week with new rail and industrial cutbacks. Trends in the strike were spotted.

Back to Work A back-to-work movement that started Sunday night spread to more than a dozen cities in scattered sections of the nation, chiefly in the east.

But most of the 10,000 strikers remained "sick" and in some cases others joined the walkout for the first time.

The federal mobilization director Monday night appealed to striking switchmen to go back to work for "the safety of our country."

Responding to Appeal Shortly before he spoke, President W. P. Kennedy of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen said a survey showed "hundreds of our men throughout the country are responding to my appeal" to return to their jobs.

In Philadelphia, more than 5,000 rail workers were reported to have ended their six-day "sickness" strike with a back-to-work movement. Theirs was the first big break in the six-day old nationwide work stoppage.

Despite the Philadelphia back-to-work movement and Kennedy's statement, the strike Monday night spread to another railroad — the Erie.

More than 250,000 industrial workers, in addition to the strikers, have been made idle by the walkout.

The Erie railroad announced that the "sick strike" was spreading through its system like "ink on a blotter" and cancelled two main line passenger trains.

Air Parcel Post Embargo Hits Here

Air parcel post exceeding two pounds in weight has been added to the list of restricted categories of mail affected by the recent mail embargo.

The other restricted mail includes all second class mail, except daily newspapers, all third and fourth class matter and all first class matter exceeding eight ounces in weight.

New orders received by the Iowa City post office Monday also said no mail of the restricted categories would be accepted for any states outside Iowa.

The previous order pertained only to 16 eastern states.

To Control Meat From Slaughterer To Retail Markets

(From the Wire Services) TOLEDO — The nation's price chief, Michael V. DiSalle, announced Monday night he is about to issue two meat orders that will enable the government "to keep a finger on meat supplies from the slaughterer to the retailer."

He also made his toughest warning against black markets so far, saying "the black marketer is a first class fifth columnist for Stalin and I would hate to be the first one to get caught."

And he said frankly that the rising cost of living can't be stopped suddenly — "It may take us much of 1951 to put the lid on the inflationary forces generated in the past year."

But he declared that if the Jan. 25 price freeze order had not been issued, "prices today would be much higher than they are now."

First, DiSalle said orders will be issued regulating the slaughter of livestock. Second, another rule will follow "which will keep meat supplies moving through legitimate channels of distribution and enable the housewife to buy adequate meat supplies from her regular butcher or market at a legal ceiling price."

DiSalle said: "We know that it takes two to make a black market — the buyer as well as the seller — and this time we're going after both."

Taft Assails Truman Policies at Lincoln Day Box Supper

WASHINGTON (P) — Sen. Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) blamed "Truman policies" Monday night for the war tensions facing the country.

The senate GOP leader pledged the Republican party to protect the country from "excessive government regulation and taxation" and to limit the size of the armed forces to the absolute minimum needed.

Taft, a political Republican presidential candidate in 1952, was a principal speaker at a huge $1-a-head Lincoln day box supper.

It was staged to celebrate GOP gains in the 1950 congressional elections and kick off a campaign to win congress and the White House next year.

Other speakers assailed the Truman administration on both domestic and foreign policies.

In addition to 20 one-minute speeches, the thousands who crowded the 12,000-seat sports arena here were treated to five hours of musical entertainment ranging from quartets and hill billy bands to Fred Waring and his Pennsylvanians.

The Republicans had scheduled two 30-minute national radio programs, but 15 minutes was cut from the late show and turned over to Defense Mobilizer C. Wilson. A GOP spokesman blamed "the White House" for the cutback.

McChesney Coeds Move to New Rooms In 3 Other Houses

All but one of the nine SUI coeds, who Saturday ended their week-long vigil in McChesney house, were expected to be in new quarters by Monday night.

Three of the women moved over the weekend, and five more indicated they would leave before Monday evening. The last one is expected to move today.

The students were given their choice of living in Howard house, Hutchinson house or Currier hall.

The rift between the coeds and SUI ended abruptly Saturday after the women had conferred with Ted Rehder, director of the dormitory and dining service.

SUI officials announced early last week that they planned to close McChesney house since half of the residents had moved out during the past semester.

The students protested the move because they claimed they would be housed in dormitory rooms which quarter four women.

During their seige, the coeds consulted a Cedar Rapids attorney and had even threatened a sitdown strike.

Boy Scouts Select Civic Leaders Today

An Iowa City Boy Scout will be elected today to take over Mayor Preston Koser's duties for a half-day next Saturday, as part of the observance of Boy Scout week in Iowa City.

From 3:30 to 5:30 p.m., scouts will hold an election in city hall to elect fellow scouts to serve for city officials Saturday.

Boy Scout week was proclaimed by Koser as Feb. 6 to Feb. 12. He urged Iowa City residents to recognize the "patriotic volunteer service being rendered to our community by the volunteer Scout Leaders."

These persons are engaged in a scouting program that Koser called "a great force for training youth in right character and good citizenship."

Navy Enlistments Now Go by Quota

Current restrictions on navy recruiting is not a "freeze" but a quota system necessitated by limitations of recruit training facilities, the navy department emphasized Monday.

Quotas will be regulated according to the facilities. Men with previous military training who do not need recruit training, are not included under the quota.

Wilson Asks Rail Strikers Return to Work

(From the Wire Services) WASHINGTON — Defense Mobilizer Charles E. Wilson said Monday night the rail walkout is crippling the defense effort more effectively than a "full-scale campaign" of Communist sabotage and appealed to the strikers to return to work at once.

Wilson denounced the strike as a "terrible thing" in a nationwide radio and television address as the walkout bit deeper into the nation's economy and the halls of congress echoed with demands for a legislative crackdown on the strikers.

He said Russia "may be planning, right now, its next attack on us and other free countries." The "sick" switchmen, he added, have a "patriotic" duty to back the concerted effort to produce and deliver the weapons needed by GIs fighting in Korea.

"It is up to you men who are striking to do this for the rest of us. The responsibility is yours. The whole country and our men overseas are watching what you will do."

"I am sure you will not let America down."

"I ask you to report on your next shift. Don't put it off," Wilson asked the railroad men.

No Threat Wilson did not threaten to bring the government's emergency powers into play — as some of his aides had predicted — an implied warning that strikers might be drafted.

As of Oct. 31, the most recent date for which figures are available, a total of 533,202 non-fathers and 651,961 fathers were deferred for dependency.

Next Attack He said 200,000 to 250,000 in the 19-26 age group could be added if World War II physical and mental standards were adopted.

By presidential order, all men with dependents now are draft-proof unless they married after being classified. Under Hershey's new order, draft-age men 19 through 25 could obtain dependency deferments only if they fell into one of these three groups:

1. Men with children (widowers, for example).
2. Men with a wife and children.
3. Men with more than one dependent of any kind. An example would be a dependent father and mother.

As of Oct. 31, the most recent date for which figures are available, a total of 533,202 non-fathers and 651,961 fathers were deferred for dependency.

Wilson told Dewey that most of the nation's steel output for the rest of 1951 and 1952 must be directed toward the defense program.

Wilson said in a letter to the governor, "If we are to meet the immediate defense demands, we must control the use of steel for other than the most important projects during late 1951 and 1952. While the extent and type of restrictive orders have not been developed in detail, I must advise you that very little steel can be expected for new highway work other than access roads to defense projects."

"Thus, thoroughways, parkways and similar developments, even though helpful to civil defense, must wait," he said.

The mobilization director said that new building construction "will also find it difficult to obtain steel." He said that every effort would be made to permit the construction of schools and hospitals, although school were on the border line.

"In the field of public housing, priority must be given to defense housing projects and little, if any, steel will be available for other projects," he added.

Book Exchange Begins Sales at 9 a.m. Today

Books will go on sale at 9 a.m. today at the Student Council's newly formed book exchange, committee chairman Jim Fahrner, C4, Davenport said Monday.

Fahrner said that 600 books were received by the book exchange Monday, the last day books were being accepted for sale by the exchange. This last day rush brought the total books received to an estimated 1,700.

Hours for the sale will be from 9 to 12 a.m. and 1 to 4 p.m. daily through Friday. The exchange is located in the Student Council office in Old Dental building.

Fahrner said students who have left books at the exchange for resale may call for their money after Feb. 12. Books not sold will be returned to their owners. Books left unclaimed at the exchange

Deferments to Be Cancelled By New Order

(From the Wire Services) WASHINGTON — Selective Service Director Lewis B. Hershey said Monday he has prepared an order cancelling the draft deferments of perhaps 220,000 childless husbands and other men with only one dependent and who are not veterans.

He told the house armed services committee that President Truman still must sign the order before local draft boards can begin inducting such men into the army.

The White House said, however, that any tightening of emergency regulations still is some time in the future.

Hershey said 170,000 registrants would be affected by the proposal. The total might be increased to 220,000, he said, if the armed services will lower their mental and physical requirements.

Hershey said one proposal for lowering standards would bring into the draft 85,000 men who have flunked present mental tests and 65,000 more deferred for physical reasons.

He said 200,000 to 250,000 in the 19-26 age group could be added if World War II physical and mental standards were adopted.

No Steel for Public, Private Use: Wilson

ALBANY, N.Y. (P) — Defense Mobilization Director Charles E. Wilson advised Gov. Thomas E. Dewey Monday that there will be virtually no steel available for public or private construction until 1953.

Wilson told Dewey that most of the nation's steel output for the rest of 1951 and 1952 must be directed toward the defense program.

Wilson said in a letter to the governor, "If we are to meet the immediate defense demands, we must control the use of steel for other than the most important projects during late 1951 and 1952. 5 Percent Indicted By Federal Grand Jury

WASHINGTON (P) — James V. Hunt, central figure in the senate's stormy five percent inquiry, was indicted by a federal grand jury Monday on charges of accepting fees for helping businessmen get government contracts while he was on the federal payroll.

The four-count indictment carries a maximum penalty on conviction of two years in jail and $10,000 fine on each count.

Sweden Takes Pledge In UN Korean Group

LAKE SUCCESS — Sweden consented Monday night to serve on the United Nations good offices committee in the place India refused to take. The committee is seeking a settlement of the Korean conflict.

Sir Benegal N. Rau of India informed UN assembly President Nasrallah Entezam of Iran he would not serve on the committee. Entezam then offered Sweden the spot, and Sven Grafstrom, Swedish delegate, accepted.

Sweden has an envoy in Peiping, Red Chinese capital. Entezam was reported anxious to have one member of the three-man committee from a government with a channel to Red China.

The United States earlier rejected a nearly completed draft of a proposed world treaty on freedom of information prepared by a UN committee.

U.S. Representative Carroll Binder told the 15-nation group that the text as it stands failed to provide adequate safeguards on freedom of the press.

$10-Billion Tax Plan Outlined, Puts Nation On Pay-As-You-Go

New Tax Hits You Like This

WASHINGTON (P) — Here's what the administration's new defense tax program means to you: For example, if you are a fellow of ordinary habits, earning $5,500 a year and planning to buy a new car and a TV set, the new rates could easily cost more than $400 this year.

Here's how: If you are married, but have no children, you are now paying $760 in income taxes. That will go up to $912, an extra bite of $152.

Let's say your new car is a standard model on which the manufacturer's price is $1,500. The federal excise tax would go up from $105 to $300, adding $195 to your tax bill.

A TV set costing $200 (manufacturer's price) will carry $50 in taxes instead of the present $20 — up $30.

If you like to bowl every Saturday night, you'll be paying out about $15.60 a year in a new amusement tax. That's on the basis of a 20 percent tax on an average $1.50 worth of bowling each week.

If you shoot 14 rounds of golf during the year on a public course with a greens fee of $1, you can add $2.80 in taxes for that.

A fifth of whiskey or gin a month will cost $7.20 a year in extra excise taxes.

A pack of cigarettes a day will carry $10.95 more in federal taxes every year.

Ten gallons of gasoline a week will be $7.80 a year more costly, federal tax-wise, than now.

Add it all up and it comes to $421.35 a year.

Tax Table ...

WASHINGTON (P) — The following tax table shows the effect the proposed new increases in income taxes would have on a married person with no dependents. Computations are based on the assumption that all income is earned by one spouse.

The income figures are net income, that is after deductions but before the $600 individual personal exemption.

Net Inc.	Pres.	Prop'd.
1,000,000	858,548	898,500

World Situation at a Glance

KOREAN FRONT — Greatest Allied tank thrust of Korean war jabs deep into Red Chinese and North Korean positions only five miles from Seoul. U.S. cruiser St. Paul and destroyer Hank and British cruiser Belfast continue bombardment of Incheon port area.

HONG KONG — Chinese Communist government has traditional use of firecrackers to mark second lunar new year under Red rule because the noise might conceal guerrilla attacks.

VIENNA — A Vienna newspaper says Czech President Klement Gottwald is under police supervision, asserted on Russian orders because Gottwald had been too friendly with missing former Czech foreign minister Vlado Clementis.

UNITED NATIONS — UN announces it has received a message from Chou En-Lai, foreign minister of Communist China, asking that Peiping's view be presented to the UN political committee during debate on Russian charges of American aggression against China.

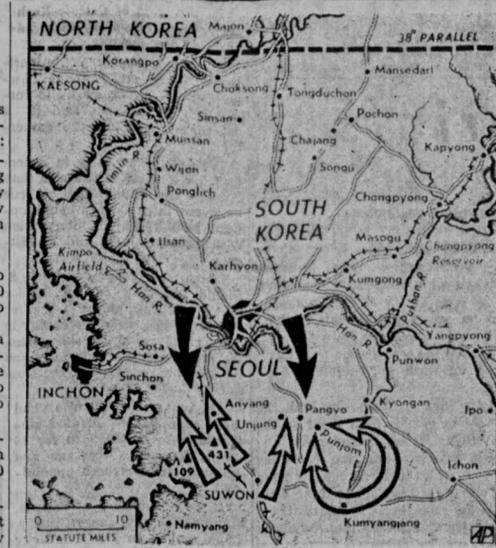

WASHINGTON — The army plans to send the Fourth infantry division to Germany soon to reinforce the new Atlantic pact army and the airforce is expected to assign more jet fighter bombers to Europe.

OTTAWA — Canadian government asks parliament to approve a $5-billion defense program that would build Canada's military strength to nearly 100 naval ships, 40 airforce squadrons and more than a full army division over the next three years.

Name Grand Jury For February Term

A seven man grand jury panel for the February term of Johnson county district court was selected Monday by Clerk of Court R. Neilson Miller.

Reuben Stoner, Madison township, was appointed foreman of the panel. Others are: Wayne Allen, Clear Creek; Rollie E. Barnes, East Lucas; Charles F. Buline, Fremont; C. H. Jennings, West Lucas; Richard M. Krob, Big Grove, and Louis Rebal, Newport.

Allied Tanks Jab Reds

JABING DEEP INTO COMMUNIST DEFENSE lines, Allied tank columns have driven to within five miles of Seoul, the fallen South Korean capital. Open arrows locate areas where the Allied tank columns hit. Black arrows indicate where enemy troops are believed building up strength for an offensive.

Biggest Allied Tank Thrust Hits Within 5 Miles of Seoul

(From the Wire Services) TOKYO (TUESDAY) — The biggest Allied tank thrust of the Korean war stabbed within five miles of Seoul Monday, then withdrew. Today the Reds hit back weakly.

A U.S. Eighth army briefing officer said 7,365 Reds were killed or wounded in ground action all along the Korean front Monday. This brought to nearly 57,000 the total of enemy casualties since the Allied northward drive began Jan. 25.

After the tank attack and a nightlong artillery barrage a radio voice from the sky appealed to the Chinese to surrender. The Chinese were so dazed by the UN power that only at one point were they able to mount a counterattack of any strength, forcing back an American company in an area 10 miles north of Incheon.

A loud-speaker mounted on a C-47 plane asked the Chinese why they were not spending the Chinese (Lunar) New Year's at home with their family and promised a belly full of rice if they would give up.

It suggested they shoot anyone trying to stop them from surrendering.

The Chinese New Year was ushered in at midnight by the loudest bang in the history of the celebration.

The Allied guns which had been firing nightlong paused just before midnight. Then at the stroke of 12 all fired simultaneously.

Warships off the west coast joined the murderous barrage.

Sweden Takes Pledge In UN Korean Group

LAKE SUCCESS — Sweden consented Monday night to serve on the United Nations good offices committee in the place India refused to take. The committee is seeking a settlement of the Korean conflict.

Increases Tax On Autos, Beer, Private Income

WASHINGTON (P) — Secretary of the Treasury John W. Snyder outlined the proposed $10,155,000,000 defense tax increase to congress Monday, disclosing that in its sweep across the nation's economy it calls for 20 percent more income taxes from the little fellow.

Heavy increases in corporate income taxes also were proposed, accompanied by greatly increased levies on new automobiles, beer, liquor, cigarettes, radios, refrigerators and many other consumer items.

Rather Rugged Snyder called the program "rather rugged." He told the house ways and means committee it was only the first step in the administration's plan to get at least $16.5-billion more revenue to put the government on a pay-as-we-go basis during the vast rearmament program.

And, the secretary added, if the treasury has its way, individual and corporate tax increases will be retroactive to Jan. 1, 1951.

Wall Street expressed astonishment at the program. New York businessmen said they had been resigned to tax increases, but that the size of the boosts proposed flabbergasted them.

Individual income tax payers	$3,600,000,000
Corporate income taxes	3,080,000,000
Excise taxes	3,035,000,000
Increases in capital gains tax:
Individuals	330,000,000
Corporations	110,000,000
Total	$10,155,000,000

Individual income taxpayers would contribute $3,600,000,000 more under the plan outlined by the secretary.

As an example, he said a married person with two dependents and a net income of $3,000 now pays $120 federal tax or 4 percent of his income. The proposed rates would increase his tax liability to $144 or 4.8 percent of his income.

Guard Governor as Last 3 Martinsville Negroes Go to Chair

RICHMOND, VA. (P) — The last three of seven Martinsville Negroes died in the electric chair Monday for the mass rape of a white housewife more than two years ago.

The other four were executed last Friday and the state closed its books on the case Monday after two years of legal wrangles which grew into an international uproar of protest.

Gov. John Battle, who refused a last-minute plea for stays of execution, was under guard as the men were executed but there were no disorders.

John Clabon Taylor, 22, entered the basement death chamber at state prison here at 7:33 a.m. and was pronounced dead eight minutes later. James Luther Harrison, 21, was strapped into the chair at 7:52 a.m. and was pronounced dead at 8. Francis DeSales Grayson, 38, the only married man of the seven, followed at 8:07 and was dead at 8:15, making it an even eight minutes for each man.

The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, which sponsored the defense, tried desperately last night to save the remaining three with an appeal to U.S. Supreme Court Justice Harold H. Burton.

Burton said he could find nothing in the case to justify his interference.

Pickets dispersed quietly from around the White House in Washington and Battle's office here. They had kept their vigil since last week. Sunday, the Civil Rights congress, tagged as subversive by the attorney-general, sponsored mass demonstrations at the White House, at South Boston, Mass., and at the Capitol here.

Two Explosions —

(Reprinted from the Michigan State News)

The government chose a vital time this week to let loose two more atom bombs out in its 5,000-mile Nevada range.

For these bombs weren't just set off to prove some problems formulated by some nuclear physicist's slide rule. That was their main purpose, yes.

But if these were meant to be secret experiments in the strictest sense of the word then it would have been Eniwetok or some other lonely spot that trembled; not the countryside near Las Vegas, where anyone could identify the flash and rumble of an atomic explosion.

No, these tests were made with the idea of impressing both the people of the Democratic and Communist worlds (and those on the fence) that the United States is improving its weapon stores.

Russia has the A-bomb. But not in anywhere near the quantities that the U.S. has. Of course there are no tables that you can lay your hands on to prove this, but expert reporters have made their estimate; and they show us far ahead in the race to . . . well, what?

Associated Press science reporter Elton C. Fay says that the blasts were proof-tests of some work being done by physicists weaponers of the AEC and defense department in harnessing atomic energy for battlefield use. This is far different than using them to obliterate cities.

Fay continues, "The tempo of the Nevada tests alone can convey a warning to Russia. Two atomic explosions have been set off in 24 hours. With the exception of the first three bombs—the test explosion at Alamogordo, N. M., and the two dropped on Nagasaki and Hiroshima in 1945 — months and even years have elapsed between explosions. The atom bomb supply situation is obviously much improved."

Perhaps the average college student reading this should feel a little reassured. Perhaps he would feel even better if he were sure the explosions would be contained in Nevada.

Boy Scouts Mark 41st Year

PRESIDENT TRUMAN WILL GREET 12 OUTSTANDING Boy Scouts in the White House on Feb. 6 opening the forty-first anniversary of the Boy Scouts of America. Boy Scout week will be observed Feb. 6 to 12 in every part of the nation by more than 2,750,000 boys and adult leaders. "Strengthen Liberty" is the birthday theme. At "birthday parties" during Scout week throughout the nation, each member will re-pledge himself to the Scout oath or promise. In each community, representatives of the churches, schools, government and business will observe the anniversary with their Scouts. At unit "open house" parties, parents, relatives and members of the chartering institutions will hear a review of the year's program feature, service projects and membership gains.

UN Ponders Peace Despite China's 'No'

From the Wire Services
LAKE SUCCESS — The United Nations pondered ways Saturday of reaching a peaceful settlement with Communist China, pushing into the background the idea of sanctions.

Despite Peiping's flat statement that it will have nothing to do with a new "good offices committee," Chairman Nasrallah Entezam of Iran went ahead trying to find basis for negotiation.

"We should not give up hope," he said.

Chou En-Lai, Communist China's premier and foreign minister, Friday night rejected any Far East settlement until the American resolution denouncing his government as an aggressor is retracted.

Chou added that he would pay "absolutely no attention" to the good offices commission set up by the American resolution approved by the assembly last Thursday.

Chief U.S. Delegate Warren R. Austin and his deputy, Ernest A. Gross, withheld comment on the Peiping statement.

The general feeling was that the Chinese Communists would be willing to negotiate a peace only if military defeats in Korea convinced them that they had nothing to gain by further hostilities.

Blanshard Condemns Foreign Imperialism Of Vatican, Kremlin

WASHINGTON (AP) — Author Paul Blanshard has declared there are "deadly parallels" between the policies of the Vatican and the Kremlin, and called the Soviet dictatorship and the Roman Catholic hierarchy "two forms of foreign imperialism that are both animated by their own type of self interest."

Blanshard was a featured speaker at a mass meeting at Constitution hall sponsored by the organization known as Protestants and Other Americans United for Separation of Church and State (POAU).

Edwin McNeill Poterat, president of the organization and past president of Colgate-Rochester Divinity school, also addressed the meeting.

Blanshard, author of "American Freedom and Catholic Power," and a former magazine correspondent in Rome, said in a speech prepared for the gathering:

"Vatican intervention in American life is no more welcome than Kremlin intervention and all true believers in freedom should oppose both types of intervention with equal courage and consistency."

The speaker contended the U.S. should not send an ambassador to the Vatican unless a similar emissary also is dispatched to "the chief rabbi of Jerusalem, the archbishop of Canterbury and the Moscow patriarch of the Russian Orthodox church."

(Myron C. Taylor, who had been a special presidential ambassador to the Vatican for 10 years, resigned a year ago and no successor has been appointed.)

"If we recognize the Vatican," Blanshard said, "I suggest that we should make four demands for reciprocal recognition of American institutions by the Vatican."

He said the Vatican should recognize:

1. American public schools, by rescinding its rule that Catholic children should not attend" them.

2. American marriages performed by Protestant minister, Jewish rabbi, or public official.

3. The foreign agents registration law, by registering its bishops, "appointed abroad," under it.

4. American freedom of speech, "by permitting its people to read any serious literature on both sides of the Catholic issue."

Poterat said the activities and intention of POAU are pointed toward a single concern: to maintain the principle of separation of church and state.

"This needs repeating," he said, "because of the perverse effort to make us appear an anti-Catholic organization, and because currently, since the party line of the Communists is to foment conflict between religious groups in America, we risk the accusation of aiding the Communists."

Steel Nationalization Labor Government's 'Biggest Headache'

By JACK V. FOX
LONDON (AP) — The Labor government achieves on Feb. 15 the prize accomplishment of its whole Socialist program — the nationalization of Britain's huge steel industry.

It inherits at the same time the biggest potential headache in its history. The switchover from private ownership coincides with an insatiable armament demand for steel, a world shortage of scrap iron and a serious shortage in Britain's coke supply.

That may explain why the change, for the time being, will be in name only. The executive and directors of the 90 big companies being taken over will function just as before.

The official word is "we'll go right on making steel," but those executives are privately furious at the Labor government for taking over an industry which, in 1950, set all-time records for production and now is being called upon by the government to spark the rearmament drive.

Winston Churchill's Conservatives Wednesday will make a formal attempt to halt the nationalization of steel. Their chances are exceedingly slim.

Prime Minister Clement R. Attlee's Labor party probably would blow sky high if the government went back now on its 1945 election promise to put steel in public hands.

The government seems to intend to leave the manufacturers pretty much alone. In 1950 the industry turned out 16,293,000 ingots of steel, compared with 12,695,000 tons in 1946 and an average of 11,649,000 tons in the years 1935 to 1939.

American purchases at prices Britain cannot match have had an effect. Germany just now is beginning to want increasing supplies. Britain hopes the North Atlantic allocation scheme will guarantee it an adequate share.

On Clear Thought . . .

TO THE EDITOR:
I do not condemn the writer of the recent editorial in Frivol, nor the writers Hirsch and Hirsch of the recent letter in the Iowan attacking the editorial.

But, I would like all concerned to stop thinking with their emotions, and use the mental processes with which we all were endowed. It is my humble opinion that today too much thinking is done by emotional reaction or by allowing someone else to do the thinking.

There is no premise that exists today, especially in the field of international relations, which can be considered infallible. When considered objectively, many of them appear to be totally fallacious.

The editor of the editorial in the Frivol is to be commended in that he has examined the current vogue of emotional thinking, and after consideration has rejected it.

But then the writers of the letter saw fit to term part of it "idiotic ravings". This is what I would term a typical example of the emotional thinking which is rampant in the country today.

If the citizens and the voters can't think clearly, how can we expect the public servants to think clearly? How is democracy to survive if the voter cannot objectively analyze the issues before him?

Furthermore, the writers of the recent letter were not intellectually honest in stating what the writer of the Frivol editorial actually did say. Anyone who is concerned should read it for himself.

The greatest danger we face today is the action which results from emotional reaction to the present social issues. It is not from the type of thinking as displayed in the Frivol editorial.

FEPC Campaign To Coast in 1950

WASHINGTON (AP)—Straws in the wind indicate no determined effort will be made this year by "Fair Deal" senators to push for an FEPC bill. But that doesn't altogether foreclose a bitter battle, filibuster and all, over the touchy civil rights issue.

It comes about this way: senators favoring a fair employment practice commission (FEPC) may be content just to hold committee hearings to make a record, without pushing the matter on the floor. They concede privately they haven't the votes to change the senate debate limitation rule to beat down a Southern filibuster.

They concede further that to cause the Southerners to filibuster, and then lose to them in the end, would accomplish nothing but to make a lot of lawmakers bitter.

But they also expect President Truman to issue an executive order for an FEPC in defense plants. That's where the fight may develop.

Private Flying 'Doomed' In Event of Third War

HAMILTON AIRFORCE BASE, CAL. (AP)—Private flying is "doomed for the duration" in the event of a third world war, despite the wishful thinking of aviation enthusiasts.

Airforce officers responsible for the air defense of the west coast have indicated their job would be impossible if thousands of small planes were permitted to wander about at will.

Even if all were equipped with radio—at quite some expense to the owners—the problem would be immense.

Interpreting the News —

Reds Say U.S. Played Nazis Against Russia

By J. M. ROBERTS JR.

AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Latest theme of the Soviet press in the Kremlin's effort to prepare the Russian people for war, is that the Western Allies eased up on Germany and tried to balance their aid to Russia so that the Nazis and the Communists would knock each other out.

"They go back to the old argument over the establishment of a second front in Western Europe, and cite a quotation from then Sen. Harry Truman that "if we see that Germany is winning we ought to help Russia, and if Russia is winning we ought to help Germany and that way let them kill as many as possible."

Well, though it might be taken as a lesson by some public figures that history frequently catches up with such statements, a lot of Americans are sorry now that Truman's word didn't carry more influence at the time.

There were plenty of others in the United States who felt the same way at the time. And before the war was over many were saying that Eisenhower, not MacArthur, should be assigned to capture Tokyo — by way of Moscow.

But as applied to Allied policy, it just isn't true. The Kremlin, even while conducting its "Hate America" campaign knows it wasn't true.

After all the talk was over and the second front had been established, Stalin saw the pictures from the Normandy beaches and expressed amazement. He had learned there was a lot of difference between crossing the Vistula and staging an invasion across the English channel.

The Kremlin also knows that in the spring of 1942 the U.S. was taking it on the chin in the Pacific. Britain, also relying upon American equipment, was hard-pressed everywhere. The Germans were making the Atlantic supply lines a hell of burning ships. The route to Murmansk was a special graveyard for men and supplies which were desperately needed elsewhere.

But President Roosevelt ordered too priority for material promised to Russia under lend-lease. The Reds not only got priority over the British and our other Allies, but over American forces as well.

American ships went down all along the gantlet set up by the Germans above the North cape. The merchant marine was scoured by enemy bombs, torpedoes and the shells of surface raiders. American sailors, not Russian, died to put the Murmansk convoys through.

Russia escaped defeat by such a hair's breadth that it was obvious the Allied aid made all the difference.

Now everything she does contributes to the idea that Truman, not Roosevelt, was right.

Bixby Dam Considered For Flood Controls

WASHINGTON — Rejected as an irrigation project, the proposed Bixby dam in South Dakota now is being considered for flood control purposes.

The reclamation bureau has said the proposed dam on the Moreau river in northwestern South Dakota, which was turned down as an irrigation unit after a survey showed the water to be too salty, may be built for flood control. Work on the project has been halted pending the new study.

A bureau spokesman said it may be some time before a decision is reached with respect to its value for flood control and river regulation.

Turtle Pancakes for Breakfast

A TURTLE PANCAKE IN OBSERVANCE OF Pancake Day today might also serve to increase your child's interest in breakfast. The "turtle" is made by pouring a basic pancake batter on the griddle. After the cake has started to bubble, add tiny drops of batter for the head, feet and tail.

Pancake Day Observance Goes Back 500 Years

Today is Pancake Day. The observance of Pancake Day originated over 500 years ago. Housewives in ancient England served pancakes on Shrove Tuesday, the Tuesday before Ash Wednesday.

At that time the recipe contained flour, for the staff of life; salt, for wholesomeness; eggs as a proper Lenten dish, and milk for innocence.

As the religious significance of Shrove Tuesday dimmed in England it became just Pancake day. With a variety of recipes, pancake days might be observed more than once a year.

Many housewives add jam, or preserves to a basic pancake batter. Some specialize in novelty shapes or a variety of sizes.

Rye Pancake
Another variation is the rye pancake. Ingredients for rye pancakes include 1 cup rye flour, 1 cup sifted white flour, 1 beaten egg, 6 tablespoons molasses, 1 cup sour milk, and 1 teaspoon baking soda.

Mix rye and white flour together, combine egg, molasses and sour milk in which soda has been dissolved.

Mix with dry ingredients to form a stiff batter. Drop by teaspoons into hot deep fat (360 F.) and fry until brown. Makes 24 pancakes.

Filled Pancake
Filled pancakes which add body to a soup luncheon call for 1 cup sifted flour, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon baking powder, 1 cup milk, 5 eggs, 1 cup ground meat (from soup), 1 egg yolk, 1 cup minced onion, 2 tablespoons butter and bread crumbs.

Sift flour, salt and baking powder together, add milk and 3 eggs well beaten and mix to a smooth batter. Bake in thin cakes in greased skillet.

After letting cool, mix the meat with egg yolk and 1 egg. Season with salt and pepper to taste. Saute onion in butter, add meat mixture and cook 2 minutes. Spread on pancakes and roll tightly.

Beat remaining egg. Dip rolled pancakes in egg and then in crumbs and fry in hot fat until well browned. Serve with onion or other thin soup. This will serve 6.

Manse House Cooperative A Success, Residents Say

If you girls are worried about gaining weight, the place for you is the Manse house cooperative. Of course there is one slight catch. Get a husband first.

At a house meeting early last fall, it was voted to drop desserts from the menus because the girls were gaining too much weight. Since then, however, the decision has been modified to permit occasional desserts.

Manse house cooperative is one of two married co-op houses the university sponsors. The house is kept in repair and completely furnished by SUI including a washing machine and a piano.

Only married couples without children are allowed to live at the house. Each couple has a combination bedroom and study, and joint use of the kitchen, two living rooms and a dining room.

Three bathrooms take care of the Saturday night and morning rushes so everyone can get to class or work on time.

Each couple performs a household duty for a month at a time, with the exception of Carl Foster, A3, Bettendorf, and his wife, Bette, who do the grocery buying and all the menu planning.

The same basic rent, $32.50, is paid by each. The grocery, ice, and milk bills are divided among the couples according to the number of meals they eat each week.

Any member may suggest menu items for the coming week at the house meeting on Tuesday nights. There the finances are discussed and any complaints or suggestions are heard.

The task of cooking is assigned to couples. When one partner is late or fails to show up, the burden falls on the spouse.

Foster, the buyer, purchases ham and roast beef quite often, and about nine dozen eggs, 17 loaves of bread and six pounds of coffee a week. The milkman leaves 20 quarts of milk every other day.

Foster has worked out a system to keep the groceries ready for the cooks. He labeled shelves with the days of the week, and when the groceries are delivered, he puts the cans of food needed for each day on the corresponding shelf.

Richard Boeke, P4, Hubbard, who has lived on the cooperative basis for three years said, "It's a good idea for short-term living. It is time-saving, money-saving, and effort-saving."

Students and their wives who live in Manse house are: the Fosters; John, L3, and Donna Adams, P4, Manly; Roger, C3, and Betty Newton, Conrad; Richard, P4, and Lois Boeke, Hubbard; Stan, G, and Phyllis Ferber, Brooklyn, N.Y., and Bob, F2, and Joan Mercer, Nora Springs.

Symphony Orchestra To Present Third Concert of Season

The 100 piece University symphony orchestra and two piano soloists will present the third concert of the season at the Iowa Union Wednesday, Feb. 7, at 8 p.m. Piano soloists for the program are from the music department, Prof. John Simms and Mrs. Margaret Pendleton. The orchestra will be directed by Prof. Phillip Greeley Clapp, head of the music department.

Simms, the head of the piano area of the music department, received his M.A. degree from SUI last August. He is also a graduate of the Curtis institute, Philadelphia.

Mrs. Margaret Pendleton is a lecturer in the music department and has been an instructor at SUI for more than two years.

Selections for the concert include Antonin Dvorak's "Husitka," which was described by Clapp as being "warlike" and "fanatical" in expression, but with contrasting passages of lightness.

Featuring the two pianists, Clapp's "Concerto in B Minor for Two Pianofortes" will be performed for the second time at SUI. Clapp said that the concerto was played by a university orchestra in 1945.

"Aus Italien," a symphonic suite by Richard Strauss, concludes the program. Included in the suite will be "On the Campagna," "Amid Rome's Ruin," "On the Strand of Sorrento," and "Neapolitan Folk Life."

Clapp described the final selection as a series of tone pictures conceived by Strauss following a trip to Italy. The most popularly known, he said, was the final "Neapolitan Folk Life," better known as "Funiculi-Funicula."

Free tickets are available at the Iowa Union information desk, Clapp said.

SUI Professor Suggests Ways To Combat Inflation Problem

SUI Prof. Robert H. Johnson Monday night said the national government could strike at the heart of inflation now that prices and wages are frozen.

Speaking in the fourth of the 10-session adult education series in Fairfield, Johnson listed four possible steps which the government might take.

1. Create a surplus by spending less than it receives in taxes. Johnson said this could be done by raising taxes or by lowering government expenditures.

2. Use this surplus to reduce the federal reserve system's holdings of debt. This debt is used as the basis for expanding bank credit; any reduction in it would cut credit expansion.

3. Influence the federal reserve system to raise interest and discount rates and to raise the reserve margins of banks. Also Johnson said the government could discourage lending by restricting its guarantees on private loans.

4. The federal reserve board should sell some of its holdings of securities to the public, reducing the base banks have for extending credit.

Johnson suggested that in the entire field of government participation in the economy, inflation could be regulated by the state restricting itself to controlling the general flow of income while private firms make all other decisions.

One-Legged Girl Drags 10-Year-Old From Blazing House

EAST ST. LOUIS, ILL. (AP)—A mother and two of her three children died Monday in spite of the heroism of a one-legged girl boarder who tried to save them from their blazing home.

Mrs. Frances Arnold and her daughter, Patricia, 7, died inside the house. Miss Rose Self, who lost both crutches and her artificial limb in the fire, dragged the other two children out.

The 20-year-old girl, crippled by a childhood polio attack, made a futile effort to re-enter the four-room frame house but was driven back by the flames.

Robert John Arnold, 10, died of burns at St. Mary's hospital. Only Miss Self and six-year-old Rose Marie survived the fire, caused by a bedroom oilstove explosion.

"I don't know how I got out of the window with Rose Marie," she said after treatment for severe shock. "The boy was pretty heavy. I was afraid to touch him — he was burned so badly."

Rose Marie, severely burned, remained in the hospital for treatment.

Miss Self, a bank clerk, weighs only 98 pounds and is smaller than the Arnold boy.

Ed Lehman, a neighbor, said, "Rose don't even know herself how she managed to do it."

3 Persons Fined Total of $132.50

Three persons were fined a total of $132.50 by Judge Emil G. Trott in police court Monday. One case was dismissed.

Bernard P. Mullinn 1503 Crescent street, was fined $102.50 on a charge of assault and battery. The charge resulted from a fight Saturday night between Mullinn and Darrell Augustine, 540 N. Dodge street. Judge Trott suspended $75 of the fine on condition Mullinn "leave Augustine alone."

A charge of disorderly conduct against Augustine was dismissed with a warning to "keep away from Mullinn."

Chester Sweeting, 915 E. Davis street, was fined $12.50 on an intoxication charge.

John N. Golubowitch paid a $17.50 fine on a charge of failure to have his car under control.

Johnny Started for Missouri, But . . .

CHICAGO (AP)—Johnny Hartwig, 6, thought he would run away to Missouri Monday, but he tarried too long in the lion house at the zoo.

There Policewoman Jean Conlon caught up with him while he was scuffing his shoes and ogling the lions.

Johnny had no clear idea why he wanted to go to Missouri, except that he thought there would be no school there.

He doesn't like school. Johnny also had no idea how far it was to Missouri, but he was prepared for a long walk.

He carried six extra pairs of socks and a spare T shirt. Johnny said he thought he had enough provisions for the trip and enough money.

There was an apple in his pocket and 94 cents in pennies and nickels in one of the socks, lately transferred from his piggy bank.

Mrs. Conlon persuaded Johnny that it might be a good idea to inform his mother, Mrs. Irene Watkins, that he was moving to Missouri, and a telephone call was made.

Johnny was told to march straight off to school.

He did, but he was a little late.

GI Surprised — General Visits Front Lines

By RICHARD APPELEGATE United Press Staff Correspondent

ANYANG, SOUTH KOREA (UP)—A sergeant looked up from the foxhole he was digging only 6 1/2 miles from Seoul and noticed that the man hovering over him was wearing three stars.

"How's it going?" Lt. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, eighth army commander, asked the startled GI.

"Okay," replied Sgt. 1st class Harold Cobb of Orange, Texas, Cobb, part of the infantry and tank team that had bulldozed its way through Anyang only a few hours earlier, nervously eyed the general silhouetted against the Communist-infested hills of the north.

"Have you had a shot at the Chinese with that 75?" Ridgway asked, referring to the 75-mm. recoilless rifle the sergeant had resting on a dike alongside a stream.

"Yes, sir," Cobb answered. "We fired about 40 rounds today (Monday). This is a good gun. We kill lots of them, even if we have to fire from 3,000 to 4,000 yards."

Afterwards, Cobb, a capable-looking young man with a blond but dusty toothbrush mustache, said:

"I'll be damned. That's the first time I ever saw a commanding general on the front line—and brother, that's the front line you're standing on. The Chinese have been peppering stuff in here all afternoon."

Ridgway told this correspondent that the war "was going well" after the general's tour of the front lines north of Anyang—as far forward as any United Nations troops have advanced in this offensive.

Anyang, last town below Seoul on the main highway from Suwon, was found to be entirely ruined—even worse than Suwon, 10 miles to the south.

Not a single complete building was standing as the tank and infantry task force entered it without firing a shot after bulldozing through blistering small arms and automatic weapons fire most of the day along the road.

Hawkeyes Stifle High-Scoring Northwestern, 73-55

Alert Ball-Hawking, Rebounding Pay Off

By RAY HERTEL

Iowa's alert Hawkeyes proved here Monday night that there's nothing like aggressive ball-hawking, off the back-boards and out on the floor, to stifle a high-scoring opposing five before 11,800 fans.

The Hawks turned back a Northwestern team that had averaged 73.4 points per game up to Monday, 73-55, and held Big Ten scoring leader Ray Ragelis to only two field goals.

The game was a reversal of Northwestern's 73-70 win over Iowa in Evanston. This time it was the Hawks who hogged the rebounds and harried the Wildcats.

As a result, Northwestern got off only 64 field goal attempts and were guilty of frequent sloppiness and wild passing.

Calsbeek, Darling Hit Then, too, Iowa's twin towers, Frank Calsbeek and Chuck Darling, reversed the scoring onslaught of the Cats' Ragelis and Jake Fendley that battered the Hawks with 48 points at Evanston.

Calsbeek, playing before his mother for the first time in his high school or college career, scored 23 points, Darling 20.

Big Chuck's tight guarding of Ragelis and Bob Clifton's alert ball-hawking sparked the Hawk defense. Ragelis who had been averaging 22.1 points per game, went scoreless from the field after 8 1/2 minutes of the game. Darling made him look so bad that Northwestern Coach Harold Olsen yanked his ace with the last half period only half gone and didn't reinsert him until Chuck had fouled out.

Hawks Spurt Iowa broke the ball game wide open after five minutes when Calsbeek's fast break bucket put them into a 8-7 lead. After that the Hawks were never headed. They spurted to a 10 point lead, 23-13, with 9 minutes left and led 40-20 at the half.

Northwestern failed to hit a fielder for 11 minutes, 8 at the end of the first half and 3 at the start of the second.

The closest the Wildcats ever got was 46-32 with 14 minutes left in the game. But the Hawks never eased the pressure—one of their biggest weaknesses so far this season—and it paid off.

The win vaulted Iowa back into contention in the Big Ten race with a 4-3 mark, good for fifth place, setting the stage for the crucial game with unbeaten Indiana here next Monday night.

The Hawks play Ohio State first, however, here Saturday night.

Postpone Picking Of Baseball Czar; Chandler Confident

NEW YORK (AP)—President Del Webb of the New York Yankees said Monday the four-man committee to screen candidates for baseball commissioner does not plan to meet again in the near future.

"We've got a job to do and we naturally want to get it done as soon as we can," he said. "We have had a meeting but there is not another meeting planned in the near future."

"When we have something concrete to report, that report will be made to the two leagues which charged our committee with the task of screening candidates. There will be no press release by the committee for we feel any release should come from the leagues which created our committee."

Clubowners Head Home Many of the clubowners headed home Monday after a weekend of political maneuvers. Commissioner A. B. Chandler's friends and his enemies both claimed to have won new backing.

Chandler remained confident of holding his $65,000-a-year-job. He thinks he has 10 clubs on his side, losing one but gaining two since the night at St. Petersburg when they voted not to renew his contract.

The anti-Chandler forces say they now have nine votes, two more than at St. Petersburg, with one club "on the fence." Twelve votes are needed to elect a commissioner.

Pairings Revised for Annual NCAA Basketball Tournament

New York (AP)—Revised pairings were announced Monday for the NCAA basketball tournament and at the same time Asa Bushnell disclosed that "at least three dozen" teams are under consideration for the National Invitation.

The annual tournament will be played March 10-17 at Madison Square Garden with 12 hand-picked teams competing. The National Collegiate Athletic association event will begin at three sectional centers later.

Bushnell is tournament chairman for the invitation and a member of the tourney committee for the NCAA. He declined to list any of the "three dozen" invitation possibilities.

"There has been talk that a team which plays in the invitation will not be eligible for the NCAA," the collegiate official told the New York basketball writers. "That is erroneous. There is no restriction whatever."

Try for Both Titles A number of institutions are expected to shoot for both titles. City College of New York, a "dark horse," entered and won both tournaments last year.

Some conference champions, who qualify automatically for the NCAA, are expected to pass up the invitation even if tapped. These include teams in the Ivy league, now led by unbeaten Columbia, and the Big Ten, where Indiana is out in front.

Oklahoma A & M, the second ranked team nationally and Missouri Valley pace-setter, has not disclosed its feelings about playing in the invitation. The Aggies didn't play in Madison Square Garden this season.

Bushnell announced the NCAA pairings simultaneously with A. C. (Dutch) Lonberg, tournament committee chairman, at Lawrence, Kas.

Clarified Position He clarified the committee's position on picking the six "at large" teams which will be included in the 16-team field.

"These teams will be taken from independents and from conferences outside the ten that automatically qualify," he said.

The champions of 10 major circuits get a free pass into the NCAA. These conferences are the Southern, Southeastern, Southwest, Eastern (Ivy), Pacific Coast, Big Seven, Missouri Valley, Big Ten, Border and Skyline Six.

Michigan State, Tankers Edge Purdue, 45-39

By JACK SQUIRE

Iowa and Purdue staged another one of their typical dogfights at the fieldhouse pool Monday afternoon, with the Hawkeyes gaining the usual close victory, 45-39.

And just as it has been so frequently in the past, the meet wasn't decided until the last event when Iowa gained eight big points in winning the 400 yard free style relay.

Up to that time, it was strictly a toss-up between the two Big Ten powers, as the meet was tied twice and the lead changed hands three times. But thanks to the efforts of all-American Ed (Rusty) Garst, the Hawks posted their second straight conference win.

In addition to picking up 10 points by his victory in the 50 and 100 yard dashes, it was Garst's anchor leg on the 440 relay that provided the Iowa victory margin.

Meet Hangs in Balance With the meet hanging in the balance, Iowa's Bill Hark, Mike McGuire and Wally Nicholson were held even by Purdue's first three men. It was up to Garst, then, and the Hawkeye senior came through by a scant two yards over Boilermaker Andrew Forest.

As expected, Purdue had enough individual standouts to provide a rugged battle. The work of Bob Dunlop, Big Ten 200-yard breast stroke champion, and backstroke Everett Brooks accounted for 10 points in the individual events and six points in the 300-yard medley relay.

Dunlop had too much for Iowa sophomore Ron Johnson in the 200-yard breast stroke, winning by more than five yards, while both Brooks and William Hatlem topped Henry Griesbach in the back stroke.

Iowa Coach Dave Armbruster had withheld Johnson and Griesbach from the medley relay, in hopes of improving their chances in the individual events.

Watson Wins 440 Armbruster also altered the customary strategy by using Don Watson in the 220-free style. But neither Watson nor Herb Lehman could hold off Purdue's Mike Kosmetos, whose spurt in the final 20 yards gave him the win. Watson, however, reversed things by edging Kosmetos in the 440.

In the diving, sophomore Otto Broeder of Iowa remained undefeated by beating Bill Clingeneel by 11 points.

Badgers 56, Bucks 51 MADISON, WIS. (P)—Wisconsin stayed in the thick of the Big Ten basketball race Monday night by defeating Ohio State, 56-51, before 13,000 fans.

In winning their sixth straight circuit victory, the Badgers, though constantly threatened, led all the way after the first minutes and held margins as high as 11 points in later play. The halftime count was 33-26 for Wisconsin.

Ohio State crept to within two points on several occasions but Wisconsin had enough strength to pull away.

Wisconsin made 19 field goals to the Buckeyes' 23 but sank 18 of 30 free throws while Ohio State connected in the final two minutes but Jim Van Dien sank two gift tosses and Ab Nicholas, high scorer for the night with 18 points, added another to wrap up the victory.

Illinois 85, Purdue 76 LAFAYETTE, IND. (AP)—Illinois broke a 14-year jinx to beat Purdue in a Western conference basketball game Monday night, 85-76. The Illini had not won a game on Purdue's floor since 1937, but they took a 12-point half-time lead and fought off Purdue's second half bid.

The Illini were faster and taller and they drove in for close shots, but Purdue kept them running until substitute Jim Bredar went under twice with less than two minutes to go. Those two field goals put the Illinois margin back to 12 points again and sealed up the victory.

Carl McNulty, Purdue center, scored 24 points, 15 of them in the Boilermakers' second-half bid. Rod Fletcher, whose two quick field goals got the Illini out of trouble when their lead was down to four points, finished with 21. Don Sunderlage contributed 20 to the victory.

'Ice Vogues of 1951' To Be Presented Here April 16-19

The SUI lettermen's club will sponsor the show "Ice Vogues of 1951" at the fieldhouse April 16 through 19.

Business Manager Frank Havlicek said Monday the show is the first of its kind to be scheduled in the fieldhouse.

Havlicek said the troupe will consist of 75 performers and an 11-piece orchestra. The troupe has just completed a European tour and also has presented shows at Minnesota, Michigan and Michigan State.

The troupe will furnish the entire equipment, Havlicek said. This will include a huge refrigeration unit to keep the ice frozen and electrical machinery producing 60,000 watts of electricity for red, blue and white lights.

The ice rink will be laid on the basketball floor. A water-proof tarpaulin covered with sawdust will be laid on the floor and covered by freezing pipes, sand and the ice surface.

Prices will be announced later, Havlicek said, as will further information on the show's personnel for the four nightly shows.

Bales Offered Post In New Association

City high football Coach Frank Bates has been invited to serve on the executive committee of the newly formed High School Football Coaches association, the Associated Press reported Monday.

The purpose of the association is to act "militantly" in behalf of prep school coaches.

The new group, formulated at a meeting of coaches in Chicago last weekend, was given a cold reception by the National Federation of High School Athletic associations.

H. V. Porter, executive secretary of the federation, said the coaches association "does not have the approval of our group or any state high school athletic association. It obviously is an attempt to use the prestige of high school athletics to get membership at so much per membership."

New Managers Talk Over Prospects

Iowa Senate Proposes Pre-Easter Recess February 23-March 5

DES MOINES (P)—The Iowa senate adopted a resolution Monday proposing that the legislature take its customary 10-day pre-Easter recess from Feb. 23 to March 5.

The resolution was introduced by majority leader Leo Elthon (R-Fertile). It was approved unanimously and sent to the house which must concur.

The senate also passed and sent to the house, bills to permit the sale of public bond issues in whole or separate parts and to legalize the issuance of the $29,573 in waterworks extension bonds by the town of Greene.

The senate received five new bills including measures to increase the fees now charged by county treasurers, sheriffs, and district court clerks for various services to the public. Under one bill, the cost of a marriage license would be raised from $2 to $3.

Other new senate bills would require farm and road-building vehicles while moving on a highway to carry a red flag at least 13 inches square and would provide that the bonds issued to pay for off-street parking facilities must be paid off from the proceeds of the parking lots. Such bonds would not become a general obligation of the city issuing them.

Rail Strike Slows-Up Nation's Flour Mills

MINNEAPOLIS (P)—The railroad switchmen's wildcat work stoppage hit the nation's grain milling center Monday.

Several firms which previously announced that plants would be closed Monday operated on a "restricted" basis and expected to curtail operations even more as the shortage of box cars grew.

They used the last trickle of boxcars to store mounting flour production, held up by an embargo on freight shipments by the Milwaukee road and other lines.

General Mills, had expected to shut down entirely Monday but announced it would continue "limited" milling operations until there were no boxcars left for loading. King Midas mills said it probably would shut down Tuesday, and Pillsbury announced it would continue on a "restricted" basis.

Woman Granted Divorce, Custody of Children

Rita Volden was granted a divorce in district court Monday from Archie L. Volden whom she charged with cruelty and habitual drunkenness.

She was awarded custody of their two children and was given the household furnishings.

Mrs. Volden had previously filed for divorce June 21, but dropped the proceedings when her husband promised to refrain from the acts of which she complained.

They were married in Wisconsin, Feb. 18, 1948, and lived together until Sept. 30 of last year. Volden did not contest the divorce.

Couple Files Petition For Back Rent on Farm

Henry Wray and Marjorie E. Hayek have filed petition in Johnson county district court for collection of $721.84 back rent which they claim is due on their 185-acre farm south of Lake McBride.

The petition states that Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Wray have failed to pay rent or construct fences along the highway and dividing line on the land leased to them last March.

In addition to rent and interest, they ask foreclosure of a landlord's lien and writ of attachment against property owned by the defendants.

Sears Savings, Profit Plan Pays Dividends

The savings and profit-saving fund of Sears Roebuck and company in Iowa City is paying off in big dividends for the workers, B. E. Vandecar, store manager, announced Monday.

The 52 employees of the local store have accumulated $94,941 or approximately 23 percent of the company's stock. This was revealed at a meeting of the store's fund members.

The employe group has to its credit in the fund, 1,417 shares of Sears stock plus a cash balance of $20,549. Based on a year-end market value of $52.50 per share for the stock, the organization now has a total investment of nearly $95,000.

The fund was originated 35 years ago and has a two-fold purpose: to permit employes to share in the company's profits and to assist them in creating a financial reserve which will aid them in the future, Mr. Vandecar explained.

Employe members deposit five percent of their salaries up to a $250 maximum into the fund each year. The company then makes its annual contribution to the fund based on an established percentage of its profits.

Now, listen Terry! You've told many tall tales but this one about an Indian near your ranch being 12 feet, 9 inches tall is just too fantastic! ... Why, in the records of anthropology, no man has ever attained that towering height!

Darling Mentioned as All-America Candidate

NEW YORK (P)—This is the time of year basketball fans start thinking in terms of the all-America basketball team. They ask: "Who are the top players? ... the essential, and often neglected, defensive stars?"

As usual, there's a rich abundance of talent from every section of the country, with the possible exception of the southwest, where the court game is having one of its lean years.

But unlike the past when the Grozas, Mikans and Kurlands made the selecting a might easier, this year's team is a moot question at the moment. No one player can be singled out as a sure thing, although several must be considered strong possibilities.

Among these are Sherman White of LIU; Sam Ranzino of North Carolina State and Clyde Lovellette of Kansas.

Ranzino was on The Associated Press second team last year. The first team of Bob Cousy, Holy Cross; Paul Arizin, Villanova; Dick Schnitker, Ohio State; Paul Unruh, Bradley and Kevin O'Shea, Notre Dame, has graduated, and all but Unruh have moved into the professional ranks of the National Basketball association.

Other names pop into mind: Melchiorre ... Spivey ... Workman ... Slaughter and so on.

But let's take a look at the leading candidates in the Midwest. Bill Garrett, Indiana's 6'2 1/2 center, rates with the best all-around floor men in the Western conference. Garrett, although he has only a 13.6 point average, does a terrific job on rebounds.

Fraises Darling's Rebounding Other Big Ten stars are Myer Skoog, Minnesota playmaker; Ray Ragels, Northwestern center, who leads the loop with a 20.6 mark;

Don Sunderlage, captain of Illinois, whose spectacular one-hand push shots have earned him 221 points in 15 games and Charles Darling of Iowa, one of the best backboard artists around.

Two Kansas State boys — Ernie Barrett and Jack Stone — also rate high. Barrett, an expert defender, had hit on 45 percent of his shots for 168 points, while Stone had netted 145 in 16 games.

Ron Bontemps of Beloit is the highest scorer in Midwest conference history, with 1,607 points and a 22-point average for 2 1/2 seasons of play. Bontemps, who had 344 points this season, wears contact glasses without which he can't see the other end of the floor. But he sure knows where the basket is.

Red Cross Heads Discuss Campaign

DES MOINES (AP) — Iowa Red Cross leaders Monday received their final instructions for the annual campaign drive to be held in the state during March.

More than 150 county campaign chairmen, chapter chairmen and other volunteer workers met here to hear discussions of the Red Cross's place in community life, and especially in making preparations for civil defense.

Mrs. Philip W. Pillsbury, Minneapolis, Minn., midwestern area advisory council member stressed the importance of volunteer workers in the Red Cross program.

Bills Introduced In Iowa Congress

DES MOINES (AP) — Rep. Ted Sloane (R-Des Moines) introduced a bill in the Iowa house Monday to empower the state executive council to appoint members of the Iowa liquor control commission.

At present Gov. William S. Beardsley has the power to appoint members of the liquor commission. Beardsley is a member of the executive council but other councilmen are not concerned with liquor commission appointments.

Sloane's bill apparently stemmed from recent charges the governor has dominated liquor commission policies. Such charges were brought by Republican member of the commission, George Scott.

Fishing

The taking of northern pike and pickerel by seine and net from the Mississippi and Missouri rivers would be prohibited under a bill introduced in the senate Monday by Sen. Carl T. Anderson (R-Wellman).

Pike and pickerel are among a number of species of fish which now may be taken by licensed seine and net operators in the boundary waters. The Anderson bill would eliminate those two species.

Hot Rods

A bill to prohibit persons under 25 years of age from engaging in "hot rod" races or similar motor vehicle speed or thrill contests was introduced by Sen. Loyd Van Patten (R-Indianola).

Van Patten's bill would limit the field of drivers in all speed contests to those who are 25 or older and who hold chauffeur licenses. Anyone violating the proposed law would be subject to a fine of $25 to $100 and a jail term of 7 to 30 days. The trial court would be forbidden to suspend the sentence.

Teacher's Salaries

The Iowa house schools committee placed on the house calendar a bill which would fix the minimum teachers salary at $1,800 a year.

As originally filed, the bill provided for a $2,000 minimum for teachers with two years of college preparation, $2,400 for teachers with four years of college and $2,700 for those with 30 hours of graduate work. All those provisions were eliminated for the single $1,800 minimum.

Senate Group Slows Drunk Driving Bill

DES MOINES (AP) — An Iowa senate judiciary committee Monday recommended defeat of proposed legislation under which a driver's license would be denied to any person who refused to agree in advance to take tests for intoxication if he became involved in a drunk driving case. Judiciary No. 1, headed by Sen. Earl C. Fishbaugh Jr., (R-Shenandoah) reported for indefinite postponement a bill sponsored by Sen. Raymond Gillespie (D-Dexter).

The committee acted both on the original bill and an amendment which Gillespie offered. Under the bill, the driver's license would have been forbidden automatically to anyone refusing to agree to tests. The amendment proposed to tone down the measure by providing that if any driver was arrested on charges of driving while intoxicated, he would be asked to submit to blood, or similar tests.

If he refused, his license would then be revoked by the state safety commissioner for a period of at least six months.

The committee action means that the bill will be killed unless Gillespie is able to bring it out on the floor and obtain sufficient support for passage.

U.S. Troops Told —

Don't Talk Too Much

★ ★ ★

WORCESTER, ENG. (AP) — The vanguard of United States ground troops in Britain Monday began to learn how to get along with the "Limeys."

The 800 men who will guard U.S. air bases here were told:

1. Don't be overtalkative or too familiar.
2. Keep out of the black market.
3. Tip sensibly and don't antagonize others who can't afford to tip as well.
4. If you go into clip joints, be sporting enough to take the financial responsibility.
5. Don't gripe about rations or currency regulations.
6. Don't judge the people by a small fringe of shady characters and black marketeers. Treat women with the respect they deserve.
7. Don't judge everyone by the few anti-American troublemakers; in all instances conduct yourself with composure.
8. Don't boast about or apologize for America. Steer a middle course in any argument.
9. Remember the Briton's present standard of living is below his normal one and it is not his fault.
10. Don't flaunt your rations or boast about their quality.
11. The most important thing is to be concerned at all times with showing the sense of responsibility of an American abroad.

24 Break-ins Solved With Arrest of Four

DES MOINES (AP) — R.W. Nebergall, chief of the Iowa bureau of investigation, said Monday four persons are under arrest in connection with 24 break-ins in 17 Iowa towns during the past year.

Nebergall identified the four as Denzel Gale Van Scoy, 23, of New Virginia; Dean Leroy Keller, 23, Des Moines; John Mann, New Virginia, and a juvenile boy.

Nebergall said Van Scoy has been turned over to the sheriff at Adel, Keller and Mann will be prosecuted at Indianola and the juvenile is being held in Des Moines.

All have signed statements concerning the break-ins, Nebergall said.

The arrests, Nebergall said, clear up six robberies in New Virginia including that of Gov. William S. Beardsley's drug store; two break-ins in St. Charles, Milo and Carlyle, and single break-ins at Ames, Colfax, Minburn, Ft. Des Moines, Des Moines, Osceola, Winterset, Pleasantville, St. Mary's, Martindale, Norwalk, Cummings and Dallas Center.

Judge Orders Arrest Of Former Resident

The arrest of Joseph M. Mast, former Iowa City resident, was ordered Monday by District Court Judge Harold D. Evans.

The arrest was ordered because Mast failed to appear in district court Jan. 30 for trial on the charge of operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated.

When he failed to appear, George Richmond was ordered to forfeit the $500 bond which he had posted for Mast. The bond may be returned, however, if Mast is arrested and brought to trial within 60 days.

HOG PURCHASES CUT

MASON CITY (AP) — Jacob E. Decker & Sons packing plant, an Armour affiliate, announced Monday it has reduced its hog purchases 25 percent in order to curtail processing operations as a result of the switchmen's strike. The Decker plant ships a large portion of its output to eastern markets.
