Reds Shift Attack Area In Breakthrough Effort

(From the Wire Services)

TOKYO (SUNDAY) — Communist forces drove through blizzard swept central Korean mountain passes today in a two-pronged attack toward the key towns of Chechon and Yongwol.

A Chinese and North Korean force of at least division strength pushed to within four miles of Chechon, transport hub and gateway to the old Pusan beachhead, for a gain of two miles. The attack division was supported by another enemy division.

Through Raging Storm
Fifteen miles to the northeast, another enemy spearhead drove through the raging storm to within eight miles of the mining center of Yongwol. Yongwol is 15 miles east of Chechon.

Chinese Reds appeared to be making a general withdrawal along a 36-mile arc in west-central Korea where they suffered bloody defeat in trying for a breakthrough.

The mauled Reds were reported pulling back from Ichon, 31 miles southeast of Seoul, all the way to Wonju, key point on the central front.

All Allied officer expressed belief, in assessing the withdrawal, that the Chinese defeat this week on the central front might prove to be a turning point in the Korean war.

"The Chinese haven't been beaten since Lord knows when and now word has gotten around," he said.

U.S. Wants Unions In Wages Program; Leaders Still Out

WASHINGTON (AP) — The three labor members of the wage stabilization board carried their walkout a step further Saturday by sending written resignations to President Truman, but the government did not abandon hope of bringing unions back into the wage control program.

Mr. Truman was out of town when the messages reached the White House. Whether he would ask the labor leaders to reconsider could not be learned.

The most important actions in the big squabble over labor's part in carrying out home-front controls were put off until next week, when tempers may be cooler.

Meantime here is a glance at other mobilization news:

1. The national production authority ordered manufacturers to stop making white-walled tires, and directed them to make fewer types of tires and other rubber products. The purpose: to save natural rubber. The supply of tires to the consumer was not expected to be affected.

2. The same agency permitting owners of hotels and office buildings to undertake more alterations than before.

3. The office of price administration has not issued many orders in the last few days but may get rolling again next week. In the office are (A) ceiling prices for cotton, (B) an order unfreezing the retail prices of non-food articles and freezing instead the retailer's "markup" and (C) "mark-up" regulations for food retailers and wholesalers, on the pattern used by the OPA several years ago. The markup is the difference between what a retailer pays and what he receives.

Truman Views Arms, Lauds Unification

ABERDEEN PROVING GROUND, MD. (AP) — President Truman said Saturday he hopes the world will realize that the United States is arming for peace and not to destroy any other nation.

He made no mention of Soviet Russia.

Mr. Truman spoke briefly and informally in the enlisted men's mess at the Aberdeen Ordnance Proving ground where he was given special demonstrations of the weapons into which science has poured all its knowledge to raise America's armed might.

President Truman said, World War II and the events thereafter have brought "peace terms between our army, navy and air force" in a system of unification that now "works perfectly."

their pressure on the eastern part of the front were undoubtedly part of the big Chinese offensive which the Allies smashed north of Wonju in the Chipoyong-Hoengsong area two days ago.

The two pushes were apparently intended to move together.

"We have given the Chinese a helluva beating," an officer said, speaking of the western sector, "but I don't think the Wonju fight is over."

County Draft Board To Call 22 More In Army March 14

Johnson county draft board officials announced Saturday that 22 more men from the county will be inducted into the army on March 14.

Filling the county's share of March Iowa draft requirements, this call is the third month in a row in which the selective service calls have been double the monthly calls in the latter half of last year.

The March call from Johnson county will bring the number of men drafted from here since Jan. 1 to 63. It will raise the total to 108 drafted since the beginning of hostilities in Korea last summer.

More than 60 men were sent to Des Moines for pre-induction physicals in February. The draft board announced Saturday that 60 more will go in March. These men will go in two groups. Thirty will leave on March 9, and 30 more on March 12.

The local draft board still has received no special call for pre-induction physicals for SUI students from other counties in Iowa, although some local students have been included in the recent groups.

The number of men drafted from this county, by months, since the draft was re-activated last September are: September, 10 men; October, 9; November, 15; December, 11; January, 22; February, 19 and March, 22.

Tuesday Last Day for Hawkeye Beauties

Only two days remain to enter nominations for the 1951 Hawkeye beauty queen before the contest closes Tuesday at 5 p.m.

The entries must be studio size portraits, 8" by 10" or larger. They should be taken to the Hawkeye office or to The Daily Iowan business office.

So far, 42 entries for the title of SUI yearbook queen have been received, Editor Dan Miller, A4, Hagerstown, Md., said Saturday.

Ten entries are from individual male students; the rest are sponsored by SUI campus organizations. This is the first time individuals have been invited to make nominations for the annual Hawkeye queen.

Identifications on the back of each entry should include the girl's name, address, and classification, together with the name of the sponsoring SUI student or organization.

All entries will be mailed to the Ladies Home Journal offices in Philadelphia, Pa., Tuesday, where they will be judged by Journal editors, Bruce and Beatrice Gould.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Gould are SUI graduates. Beatrice was a former Daily Iowan editor, and Bruce was formerly business manager of The Daily Iowan, and one of the founders of Frivol, campus humor magazine.

All contest entries will be returned to the Hawkeye office, where owners may pick them up later.

Conclude Hearing In Boone Case

BOONE, IOWA (AP) — The hearing against a 17-year-old Boone youth on a general charge of delinquency was concluded Saturday before District Judge H. C. Nichol.

Neither Judge Nichol nor County Atty. Paul E. Brown, who presented the charge, would announce the decision at this time.

The juvenile court action resulted from a grand jury investigation of a report the youth, a high school senior, had given a drug known as "Spanish fly," or cantharides, to his 16-year-old girl friend.

Four Die in Denver Blaze

KILLING AT LEAST FOUR PERSONS AND INJURING a score, a fire flared up from paper decorations in the gymnasium of the Denver Athletic Club Saturday and swept through the top floors of the building. The dead were trapped on the upper floors. Nine of the injured were in Denver hospitals. J.C. Wild, 70, was trapped in a room on the top floor of the club. He stood screaming for help as the smoke swept about him and finally collapsed, his hand hanging over the window sill. Then the hand vanished. A ladder crew found him dead. The other dead included Jane Meade, a chambermaid, Jack McKing and Ernest Bowman. The club manager estimated it would cost $5-million to replace the damage to the 65-year-old building.

Britain Makes Stiff Charge Against Russia

(From the Wire Services)

LONDON — Britain charged Russia Saturday with using the "threat of overwhelming force" and "aggressive and subversive policies" throughout the world to prevent peace.

In a five-page note, Prime Minister Attlee's government threw the book—the entire postwar record—at Moscow in answering a Soviet charge of Jan. 20 that Britain is violating the 1942 Anglo-Russian alliance by moving toward West Germany.

Coming promptly after Prime Minister Stalin's broadcast in a Pravda interview against Britain, the United States and the United Nations, the British note was a ready-made reply to Stalin also.

The note pointedly declared the Russians were "busily engaged" in rebuilding the forces of their satellites in Eastern Europe.

The note then counter-charged that Russia had:

1. Violated the Yalta agreement by boosting Communist minorities to power in all Eastern Europe.
2. Violated the Potsdam agreement by failing to treat Germany as a single economic unit and by blocking Berlin.
3. Constantly tried to disrupt the economic recovery of Western Europe.
4. Used "various expedients" to block a peace treaty with Austria.
5. Built up a semi-military police force in Eastern Germany, in violation of both the Anglo-Soviet treaty and the Potsdam agreement.
6. "Applauded" Communist rebel activity in Malaya and openly supported it in French Indo-China.
7. Supported the Chinese and

More Rain But Today It Will Be Above Freezing

Umbrellas will be accepted accessories for tonight's properly dressed citizens in Iowa City.

The temperature is expected to get into the 50s today to finish de-icing the city, but then the weather will become increasingly cloudy and rain may fall tonight. Occasional rain is also forecast for Monday.

Saturday's above freezing temperatures, the mercury reached the high 40s, set many persons to work scraping rotting ice from sidewalks.

As the "spring" thaw transformed the city's glass-slick coat of ice to slush, pedestrians waded through puddles of water and stepped over rivulets rushing along streets and gutters.

Dirty water splashed from streets by speeding cars became the new menace for pedestrians as the underfooting grew safe after two days of nature daring man to walk and stay upright.

Most of the middle west, which had received the same ice treatment Iowa City received was also favored by mild temperatures, which extended as far north as Canada.

It just managed to freeze Saturday, the low was 30 degrees.

U.S. Hits Back At Stalin, Says He Is Behind Korean Aggression

Moscow Diplomats See Possible Russ Abandonment of UN

MOSCOW (AP) — Diplomatic missions in Moscow wondered Saturday whether Premier Josef Stalin's statement of Pravda foreshadows Soviet abandonment of the United Nations.

Observers here were divided on the question, with a slight edge favoring the belief that Russia will retain its UN membership, at least for the present.

Foreign observers also drew these unofficial conclusions from Stalin's first public statement on "international affairs in almost two years:

1. The application of sanctions or limited war against China would doubtless bring into play the Soviet-Chinese mutual assistance pact and a third world war would become a reality.
2. The possibility of a Soviet-Chinese alliance should not be underestimated.
3. Stalin is not given to making reckless predictions; he may have reasons for his belief that American and British forces in Korea will be defeated unless they come to terms with the Chinese Communists.
4. Stalin may believe the door is still open for settlement of the Korean problem and that this may be the last opportunity to prevent the conflict from spreading.

Margaret Turns 27, 'Will Stay Single'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Margaret Truman turned 27 Saturday but she was no more ready to put "Mrs." in front of her name than she was at 21, although her father sighs for a grandson.

There were no beaus to dinner at the Blair house family celebration — just a Missouri cousin, J. C. Truman of Grandview.

Margaret still insists she is going to retain her bachelor girl status until the right man appears.

She says THE man is going to be hard to find — he will have to put up with a wife who intends to continue her singing career and doesn't like to cook.

Could be, too, that Margaret likes being single. She is the belle of New York this winter, appearing at supper clubs, the "Met" and along Broadway with a score of eligible bachelors.

She accepts dates "whenever I'm asked." But fun doesn't interfere with her very serious attention to her career.

She Gets Half of Promise

GETTING A SECRETARY WAS EASY FOR SOME BUSINESS men in Washington, D.C. Their newspaper ad said: "wanted, sec'y, cocktails at five; employer guarantees husband in six months." The ad got quick results. The advertising firm, a men's shop (Kneese and Adler), estimated it got at least 300 phone calls. The ad was withdrawn, but job seekers carried on until the shop hired tall, handsome Elenore Nelson, formerly of Minneapolis, and a navy department secretary. Miss Nelson said she was only "mildly interested" in the fact that the shop serves cocktails and is frequented by some of the town's most eligible bachelors. All three of the secretaries who preceded her were married within a year, her bosses explained. She didn't seem reluctant to enjoy an evening cocktail with eligible bachelor Normund Leas (left) and store co-owner A. Adler.

World Brotherhood Week Stresses Understanding

Observance of World Brotherhood week at SUI will be highlighted by Willard Johnson's address in the senate chamber of Old Capitol, at 4:30 p.m., Thursday.

Johnson, national program director of the National Conference of Christians and Jews, will speak on "Relieving World Tensions." Johnson is the former dean of men and director of personnel at Drake university, Des Moines.

Observance Purpose
The purpose of the observance is to mobilize the forces of good will in every community to create understanding and mutual respect among all people, across creed, racial, and cultural lines, E.T. Meredith said. He is general manager of the Meredith publishing company, Des Moines and Iowa chairman for World Brotherhood week, Feb. 18-23.

Meredith said upon accepting the Iowa chairmanship, "In this time of great crisis, the brotherhood of man is the greatest moral force we can muster for peace and for a free world. It is the good idea which is the counter agent to the evil ideal of communism."

President Harry S. Truman is the honorary chairman of World Brotherhood week. Other

Brand Stalin's Words Another Misstatement

(From the Wire Services)

WASHINGTON — The state department said Saturday night, in a direct reply to Josef Stalin's Pravda interview, that Stalin himself is leading the Russian people down a "dangerous road."

The department branded Stalin's latest pronouncement as "one more misstatement" and said it cannot obscure the fact of "Soviet responsibility for aggression."

"No man alive knows better than Prime Minister Stalin," the department added in a statement, "who was behind the Communist aggression in Korea."

Remove Threat of War

The statement, issued by press officer Michael McDermott, asserted that "Stalin and his associates have the power to remove the threat of war if they will," and said there is universal belief that the dangers in the world today come from the Kremlin.

This was the first official state department reaction to Stalin's statements, in an interview in Pravda that the United Nations is doomed itself to disintegration, with the United States leading it toward war.

McDermott said the "facts of Soviet armament and responsibility for aggression are too well established for the truth to be obscured by one more misstatement."

On Capitol Hill, Chairman Carl Vinson (D-Ga.) of the house armed services committee said Stalin's statement "means this country must get prepared as soon as possible to defend itself."

Domestic and International

The state department advanced both domestic and international political reasons to explain why Stalin issued the interview at this particular time. It was suggested that the people of Russia feel "keenly the isolation into which their rulers have forced them" and that Stalin was seeking to "prove again that all the world is out of step."

It was also suggested that the interview — Stalin's first major pronouncement on world affairs in two years — might have been issued now to lay down a line for the gathering of the world peace council, a Soviet sponsored group, at Berlin Feb. 21-24.

During the day it was learned that the U.S. has proposed to Britain and France a new diplomatic move designed to test whether Stalin will approve a Big Four foreign ministers conference with power to dig into the real causes of East-West conflict.

Extreme Views
The most extreme view anyone took of the interview was a veiled threat to withdraw from the UN. But officials pointed out this theory has cropped up time and again, with no result.

Soviet propaganda has condemned UN action in Korea in every other breath for months. On this Stalin said nothing new.

In general, Stalin's words failed to impress anybody in official Washington. It was probably the first major pronouncement the leader of Soviet Russia ever made that was so widely ignored or hooted at in this country.

Won't Forget GI's, Church Leader Says

COLUMBUS, OHIO (AP) — Protestant youth who enter the armed services will not be forgotten by their churches. Dr. Luther Wesley Smith, of Philadelphia, said Saturday.

Dr. Smith made the statement as he announced the formation of a "United Fellowship of Protestants — in the armed services" at the concluding sessions of the Division of Christian education of the National Council of Churches' convention here.

He is head of the youth program committee of the general commission on chaplains and chairman of the Christian education executive body.

"Approximately 70 percent of those entering military service are of the Protestant faith," Smith said. "It is desperately important that we follow them from our churches with our love, our concern, our help and our prayers."

Ted Leighton Now Attending Cornell

Ted Leighton, first semester editor of Frivol, is now attending Cornell college, Mt. Vernon, he said Saturday.

He intended to join either the navy or the airforce, but temporary freezes on enlistments in those two service branches at that time prevented enlistment, he said.

Leighton said among the reasons why he chose Cornell was the fact that one of his ancestors helped found the school.

BOY, 10, LOSES HANDS
COUNCIL BLUFFS (AP) — Henry Steinhoff, 10, lost both hands Saturday as he crawled beneath a moving freight car in the Union Pacific railroad yards.

Police said the youth was playing with a friend when a switch engine moved the cars.

Berlin 'Free University' Founder Here

Presently attending SUI is one of the founders of the Free University of Berlin, which was established in 1948 by sixty German students seeking academic freedom.

Ehrhardt Boedecker, 25, of Berlin, enrolled at SUI last fall, less than two years after he aided in founding the new university.

Boedecker was enrolled at the old Berlin university in the Soviet zone in 1948 when two of his schoolmates were expelled by Russian officials because they refused to accept the principles of Marxism.

Students Leave School
Later that same year, sixty students, who refused to accept Marxism mixed with other studies, left the university to set up their own school.

Boedecker was one of these "rebels."

After several months of gathering supplies, funds and a faculty, the Free university became a reality in October, 1948.

Boedecker explains that they named it the "Freie" university in line with their ultimate goal, to establish a school founded on "free academic principles."

5,000 Enrolled
Today, 5,000 students are enrolled at the university, 75 percent of whom escaped from the Soviet zone.

Because its founders were students, the school's student council has much authority, Boedecker said. An example of this appeared last year when the council refused to hire a professor whom they knew had communist tendencies.

The council is very strict in running things, he said, because it desires to preserve the "founding idea of academic freedom."

The Free university adheres to European traditions of schooling which differ from those of SUI. For instance, a student may cut as many classes as he desires. His grades are not based on attendance.

No Finals
No mid-term or final tests are given during or between semesters. However, when the student has completed all the required courses, which may take from seven to ten semesters, he is given comprehensive tests.

Boedecker received his referential law degree from the supreme court of appeals in Berlin in June, 1950. Shortly after this he was granted one of the forty scholarships offered to German students by the U.S. government for one year's schooling in the United States.

After completing his year here, Boedecker plans to return to the Free university and continue his work toward his Ph.D.

During the war Boedecker was a member of the Luftwaffe and later became a paratrooper on the eastern front. Wounded in 1945, he was in a hospital at Linz, Austria, when Gen. Patton's Third Army took over that territory.

Iowa's Second Half Surge Throttles Wisconsin, 73-60

Hawkeye Victory Nets Third Place Loop Tie

By HOBERT DUNCAN
(Daily Iowan Sports Editor)

MADISON—A substitute forward and two fellows playing with four fouls apiece were the ones here Saturday night chiefly responsible for Iowa's 73-60 upset of Wisconsin.

That substitute was Ev Cochrane. The fellows with the fouls were Chuck Darling and Frank Calsbeek. These three collaborated, with the help of Bob "Pinkie" Clifton, to give Coach Rollie Williams his first victory at Madison over the school where he once starred in three sports.

From almost any angle, Williams' homecoming was a happy one Saturday night. The Hawks shot well, rebounded well except for occasional lapses and clamped a defensive strangle hold on high scoring Ab Nicholas.

Nicholas, the Big Ten's third leading scorer, hit only 12 points against the Hawks. With his favorite drive under the basket stop effectively stalled by the reaching arms of Iowa defenders, Nicholas was out of his element.

The victory gave the Hawkeyes a 6-4 record in the conference and pulled Iowa into a tie with Saturday night's victims.

Iowa started out strong, faded in front of a Wisconsin counter-attack and then rallied in the last half of the second period for the win.

The Hawks held a 29-28 lead at halftime and never again were out of the lead by more than two points although Wisconsin came back full of fire and a determination.

Iowa managed to hold on and stay close to the Badgers who finally became tired of hoisting themselves up around the rim to battle for rebounds. This tiredness began to tell late in the game when the fresher Hawks began to break around for uncontested layups.

Calsbeek led Iowa's scoring with 19 points, followed by 16 each for Darling and Cochrane and 14 for Clifton.

Midway in the second half, it looked as if Iowa was in immediate danger of losing the services of both Calsbeek and Darling. The big center committed his fourth infraction with 12:40 left while Calsbeek was charged with his fourth with 11:02 remaining.

At this point, Iowa was leading 47-43. The loss of both big men would probably have been the advantage required by Wisconsin to get over the hump in its rally. After committing the four fouls, Darling and Calsbeek scored 19 of Iowa's 26 points and their rebounding kept the ball away from the frenzied, dashing Badgers. Darling alone poked in 12 of his 16 points during this 11 minute period. He finally did foul out — with 32 seconds left — but the game had been safely won by this time.

Iowa started the game as if it meant to run the Badgers out into the snowy streets but the Hawks splurge crumpled when the Badgers started moving. After leading at one point, 15-5, Iowa didn't get another point for over three minutes and not until Wisconsin had evened things at 15-15.

The Hawkeyes hit .386 percent of their shots while Wisconsin connected only .297 percent of the time.

Hoosiers, Illini Meet Monday

The Big Ten race worked itself up for the "perfect natural" Saturday night as loop-leading Indiana and Illinois both won games. Monday night the Hoosiers and Illini tangle at Champaign for the conference leadership and probably the title.

Hoosiers Hurry, 94-63
BLOOMINGTON (AP) — Acrobatic Bill Garrett and his Indiana university teammates outran Northwestern's basketball team Saturday night, 94-63, for their eighth victory in nine Western conference games.

Indiana used 17 players, for a fieldhouse record and the highest score ever made by an Indiana team. The hustling Hoosiers did it Saturday night by firing 107 times at the basket and hitting 35 fielders. The Indiana pressure defense rattled Northwestern, which got only 50 shots from the field and hit 20.

Northwestern tried jamming up the middle of the floor but Garrett zipped behind the jam and Gene Ring shot over it. Garrett played only five minutes of the second half and finished with 22 points. Ring hit six of his long shots and added six free throws for 18 points. Ray Ragelis scored 17 for the Wildcats.

Illini Tip Wildcats
CHAMPAIGN (AP) — Big Ten-leading Illinois fought off a desperate last half surge by Purdue Saturday night and won its ninth conference basketball game, 70-65. Purdue, in ninth place in the conference now fifth a 2-8 record, showed surprising strength Saturday night. The Boiler-makers several times overcame large Illinois leads.

Purdue was behind 21-9 about midway in the first period, but in a three-minute period pulled up to 23-21. Then the Illini, led by Clive Follmer's nine points, sped to a 41-27 halftime margin.

The Illini kept going at the start of the second period, increasing their lead to 53-34 in a matter of minutes. Purdue, using a Neil Schmidt-sparked fast break, made the score 68-65 with two minutes left in the game. Schmidt scored 25 points.

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan State, masters of basketball defense, humiliated Michigan by allowing the Wolverines only seven field goals while manufacturing a 43-32 Big Ten win witnessed by the season's record crowd of 10,967 Saturday night.

Spartans' Depth Tips Track Team

By STAFF WRITER
A balanced Michigan State track team swept three lines Saturday afternoon to outpoint the Hawkeyes, 68-46.

Both the two-mile and half-mile events were swept by the Spartans.

This marked the first appearance of the two teams causing records to be automatically established in all events.

The Spartan team used its depth of personnel to good advantage in the distance events by holding Iowa to a single point in the three races over a quarter mile.

Jesse Thomas, Michigan State, massed 16 points when he garnered two firsts and two second places. He won the 60-yard dash, 70-yard high hurdles, and finished second in the 70-yard low hurdles and broad jump.

Iowa surged into an early lead in the mile relay, but the gap was closed by Spartan Jesse Thomas, DuWayne Dietz, running for Iowa, managed to stave off the threat and give Gary Scott a slight lead for the last leg. Scott finished strong for Iowa, winning by 20 yards.

A mark of 23 feet, one inch was set by Iowan Bob Henard in the broad jump. This beat Jesse Thomas by a bare two inches.

Gary Scott gained a first place for Iowa in the 440 yard dash with a time of 50.7 seconds.

In the pole vault, Al Meyering of Iowa flipped over the cross-bar at 12 feet, nine inches to win that event.

The 70-yard low hurdles were won by Iowa's Dean Deuel in .08 flat. He sniped the tape inches ahead of Spartan Jesse Thomas. This marked the only defeat Thomas suffered in his three individual running events.

Jack Weik managed to win five points for Iowa in the high jump with a six, foot one half inch effort.

Hawk Swimmers Drop Meet, 58-25

By JOHN BICKERS
Three Iowa pool records and one National Collegiate record fell before the Michigan State swimmers as they surged past Iowa, 58-25, Saturday night.

The Spartans allowed Iowa only one first. Bunny Broeder, Hawkeye diver piled up the highest total points of his life in winning over Kenneth Broeders' total was 364.1.

Bert McLachlan of Michigan State took a 10 yard lead in the first length of the 440 yard free style event, and stretched that advantage into a new national intercollegiate record and a new SUI pool record with a time of 4:42.2. The old NIC record held by Jack Media of Washington at 4:42.5, and has stood since 1935.

Harold Shoup, Spartan 200-yard backstroker, bettered the pool record in that event with a time of 2:15 flat, three seconds better than the old mark. The Spartan relay team edged Iowa in that event by less than a second, but established a new pool record of 3:29.1. Had Iowa won the event, the Hawkeyes' time of 3:29.1 would have beaten the old record of 3:30.7.

COLUMBUS (AP) — Minnesota pushed defending champion Ohio State deeper into the Big Ten basement Saturday night by winning a 70-56 basketball game at Ohio Fairgrounds Coliseum. Minnesota now has a 5-6 league record. Ohio's is 2-10.

The Gophers jumped to an early lead and soon ran their lead to 19-3. Ohio came back in the late minutes of the first half, narrowing the gap at intermission to 37-27, Minnesota. The visitors pounced on the steam again in the second half and were never pressed to win going away.

Myer "Whitey" Skoog, Minnesota forward, took scoring honors with 20 points, while Maynard Johnson and Virgil Miller forwards, followed with 13 points apiece. Pete Gillaugh led Ohio with 14.

Iowa Fencers Lose to Northwestern, Spartans
(Special to The Daily Iowan)
EVANSTON, ILL. — Northwestern's superiority in epee proved the winning margin Saturday as the Wildcat-fencers defeated Iowa, 15-12.

The Hawkeyes' Dean Kenny took three of three matches to spark the team to a 5-4 advantage, but the Wildcats reversed the score in sabre and walloped the Iowans in epee by taking six of the nine matches.

Paulsen Paces Matmen In Defeat of Minnesota

By KEN CESSNA
For the second time this season, Captain Joe Paulsen has won the final match of a Big Ten dual meet to give the Iowa wrestling squad a victory.

Paulsen's pin of Minnesota heavyweight Jack Dorfman shattered an 11-11 tie and gave the Hawkeyes a 16-11 win in the fieldhouse here Saturday afternoon.

Earlier in the season Paulsen, the rugged 200-pound footballer, had broken a tie against Wisconsin to earn the conference triumph.

Iowa boosted its record to two wins, two losses and one tie in league play. Minnesota now owns a 2-3 mark.

For Paulsen, who missed last week's Northwestern meet because of a temporary ineligibility, it was the fifth win of the season. Paulsen now boasts a record of nine straight, carrying over four wins from last year.

Minnesota stayed close to Iowa throughout the meet, mainly on three decisions by 4-3 scores.

Hawkeye 123-pounder Manuel Macias couldn't improve on his 5-1 record as he drew with George Riesing.

Phil Duggan scored a lopsided 10-4 decision over Minnesota's Don Hopperstad in the 120-pound class.

The Gophers knotted the count 5-5 when their 137-pounder Floyd Laumann took one of the first 4-3 decisions. Rugged, aggressive Dick Hickentbottom boosted Iowa back in front 8-5 by tagging Don Zastrow with a 5-2 decision. Zastrow was the third ranking Big Ten 147-pounder last season.

Iowa built its lead to 11-5 when daring Ralph Thomas outscored Minnesota's Dick Metzger, 8-5.

Preceding Paulsen's winning match, Iowa dropped two 4-3 decisions to Minnesota's John Grygelko and Don Witzel.

Summaries: 125-pounds: Macias (I) drew with Riesing (M), 1-1.

130-pounds: Duggan (I) beat Hopperstad (M), 10-4.

137-pounds: Laumann (M) beat Steiger (I), 4-3.

147-pounds: Hickentbottom (I) beat Zastrow (M), 5-2.

157-pounds: Thomas (I) beat Metzger (M), 8-5.

167-pounds: Grygelko (M) beat Heaton (I), 4-3.

177-pounds: Witzel (M) beat Lansing (I), 4-3.

Heavyweight: Paulsen pinned Dorfman (M), 4-3.

Roosevelt Ace Off Towards Prep Record

LORAN BRAUGHT, ACE FREESTYLER FROM Roosevelt High in Des Moines (third from right) was off ahead of the field as the gun sounded sending Iowa's prep swimmers into the 200 yard freestyle race. Braught set a record in the event, breaking his own mark of the previous year. Second from right is Tom Roberson of Clinton who finished second and nearest the camera is Bill Nichols of North, Des Moines. Nichols came in third.

Referee Believes Fight 'On Level'

NEW YORK (AP)—Referee Ruby Goldstein said Saturday he was "firmly convinced" of the sincerity of Paddy Young's knockout loss to Gene Hairston in Madison Square Garden Friday night — a surprisingly short scrap which set tongues wagging from this town to the farthest extremity of the television cable.

"I'm firmly convinced he was knocked out," said Goldstein, a top-notch official. Goldstein's statement put an official end to the episode.

Eddie Egan, chairman of the state athletic commission, who was a ringside spectator, said "I have no information this was anything but an honest bout. If there is any information that it was not, the commission certainly will look into it. The referee was in charge of the bout. If he has any report to make about the conduct of the fighters, the commission certainly will hear it."

Clinton Rally Ties Roosevelt For Prep Swimming Crown

By DICK CHRIENSON

Victory, by the length of a hand, in the last race, gave Clinton high an "upset" tie with favored Roosevelt of Des Moines Saturday afternoon in the state high school swimming meet.

Trailing by four points until the 160 yard medley, Clinton's anchor man fought off a Roosevelt spurt to take the race and a share of the state title.

Only one record was broken. Loran Braught of Roosevelt lowered his own record in the 200 yard freestyle which he had set last year. The new record is 2:04.6, two seconds better than the old mark.

North high of Des Moines took three firsts and spread its other scoring out well to take third place. Lincoln of Des Moines was fourth.

Although there was only one record broken, all times turned in were better than those in the 1950 meet except two.

The expected battle between Kruse of Roosevelt and McCullen of Clinton developed and Kruse pulled away in a close race. McCullen had sweet revenge in the 100 yard freestyle by beating Kruse.

Spirit was high among fans from Clinton and Roosevelt. There were loud cheers following all performances and even now and then a few boos.

After the last race, the jubilant Clinton swimmers took their coach and tossed him into the pool, clothes and all.

Meet officials said that the trophy for the winner would be duplicated because of the tie.

Hardcourt Official Defends His Trade Against Fans' Boos

CINCINNATI (AP)—Dan Tehan, veteran basketball official, today gave six reasons why the men who call the fouls are having such a tough time of it.

They are: The pressure on coaches to win. The fans who bet on the games. National ratings. Post-season tournaments. Games being played off the campus.

The difference of officiating in various parts of the country.

Tehan, now Hamilton county sheriff, and who has been handling basketball since 1929, told a newsman:

"If the coaches weren't continually striving to put their teams high up in the national ratings, you'd hear less squawking.

"There is too much pressure placed upon the coaches to win their games. Victories mean bids to the post-season basketball tournaments that enable colleges to enrich their athletic funds.

"The large number of fans making bets on games, small or otherwise, doesn't help either. Nine out of ten times when there's some loud mouth running down the referee from the stands you'll find out that he has no connection with the university the team represents, but has a 50-cent bet down.

"Coaches don't help the situation either. Fans see a coach squawking to an official and immediately they come to his aid, showering the official with boos.

"If the colleges play their games on the campuses, school officials have control over the crowds. But they won't return as long as promoter dangle the long green in front of the school."

Tehan added that another reason coaches complain is because the officiating in various parts of the country is different.

Eastern officials are more lenient in calling traveling, but are tougher on teams which use the screen, he declared.

Efforts are being made to standardize the officiating, however, Tehan added.

The sheriff officiates both in the western conference and in the professional leagues.

Only 5 Registered But it turned out that only five boxers registered for the 160-pound novice division.

Davis, a scrappy little 17-year-old Negro puncher, won his first Golden Gloves bout by default. In his second match Davis won by a decision.

Miller, who had been training with Davis in an Iowa fieldhouse boxing ring, also won.

That brought things to a climax, pairing the lads against each other in the championship bout.

Bob Rossie, A4, Iowa City, a professional boxer, trained the boys for the tournament. During this time Davis and Miller became good friends.

Worked Out Together The boys went through their daily workouts together, got into condition and did their sparring together.

But now here it was. Not only was there the pressure of a championship bout, but there was a face-to-face meeting with their own training partner, and friend.

The husky 20-year-old Miller said, "We thought there would be more entered in our weight class, and we figured we'd be gone by the final match anyway."

Davis pounced out a decision over Miller at Cedar Rapids last Thursday night. But, no bones — or friendships — were broken.

Ottumwa Couple Blown Out of Bed

EXPLOSION AND FIRE WRECKED this Ottumwa house Saturday morning and critically injured the occupants, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Clark. The explosion lifted the small home off its foundation and blew one wall 15 feet away. The Clarks escaped by kicking out their bedroom window. Fire followed the blast, which firemen believed resulted from escaping gas.

Yesterday in Washington

BIG DEBATE — A free-for-all battle among top Republicans over the troops-to-Europe issue was assured Saturday when Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York accepted an invitation to testify before the senate foreign relations and armed services committees. Dewey, a likely GOP presidential candidate in 1952, favors sending a huge army to Europe—big enough to intimidate Russia into staying behind the iron curtain.

HOOVER — Herbert Hoover declined Saturday to appear at present before a joint hearing of senate committees on sending American ground troops to Europe.

Hoover indicated he might appear at a later date "if the committees themselves wished it" and if the committees first gathered "much further fundamental information and opinion of experienced and independent men."

TROOPS TO EUROPE — Sen. Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) said Saturday that any move to put more than six American divisions in Europe would "strain the economy" of the nation.

Taft told reporters he will take this argument to the senate foreign relations and armed services committees next week in testimony on the troops-to-Europe issue.

TO MUCH PAY — A senate subcommittee suggested Saturday that the United Nations is over-paying its employees and running "entirely too many programs and projects" with the United States footing 50 percent of the bill.

The report came from the senate expenditures subcommittee on international organization, headed by Sen. Herbert R. O'Connor, (D-Md.).

Election Committee Named

Democratic and Republican party chairmen Saturday named a bi-partisan committee to handle the March 12 city district school elections.

The committee will meet Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the city council rooms to select eligible nominees for the positions.

The practice of appointing a two-party group is an unofficial but traditional procedure in Iowa City. Its function is to assure a wide choice for the voters.

The appointments were made by Atty. William H. Bartley, chairman of the Democratic party, and Atty. William Meardon, Republican party leader. In the past the leaders have chosen only 12 members for the committee, but this year they agreed to name an additional two members at large from each party.

Members appointed to the committee, with the Democrat named first in each case, are:

First ward — Mrs. Mabel Fitzgerald, C. Merton Spicer.

Second ward — Ray P. Ipsen, Robert H. Lind.

Third ward — Atty. Donald Borchardt, Mrs. Elwin K. Shain.

Fourth ward — Earl Y. Sangster, Roland M. Smith.

Fifth ward — Mrs. Thomas Farrell, Mrs. E. L. DeGowin.

Outlying district — Frank Cardo, Roy Winders.

Members at large — Mrs. Clair F. Hamilton and Sam Shulman, Mrs. Ray Thornberry and Howard L. Webster.

The appointment of this committee does not limit nominations. Anyone meeting the legal requirements may be nominated independently of this procedure.

Bids on Machinery To Be Opened Monday

Bids on a year's supply of fuel oil and gasoline for county road and other machinery will be opened Monday at 1:30 p.m. by the Johnson county board of supervisors.

The board is asking bids on 40,000 gallons of diesel fuel oil and 100,000 gallons of gasoline. Also to be purchased are 1,750 gallons of lubricating oil.

U.S. Senator Tells Farm Institute UN Has Not Failed

DES MOINES (AP) — Sen. John J. Sparkman (D-Ala.) declared Saturday night that it was "pointless and almost ridiculous to shrug off the United Nations and what it stands for."

"The UN reflects a very deep need of mankind in today's world," the senator asserted in a speech prepared for delivery to the 13th annual National Farm Institute.

Sparkman said that neither the proposal to "rim our continent with a curtain of steel and let Soviet communism overrun the rest of the world," nor the one calling for a preventive war offer much hope.

"But there is one course which can bring peace and order into the affairs of nations," he said. "That course is to create through international cooperation a set of rules of decent behavior for nations, and the means to make these rules stick."

"Some people feel that this very young organization, the UN, is a failure because it has not overnight achieved goals which men have struggled for through all the pages of history," he declared.

He observed that most of us are not entirely satisfied with the action of the UN in Korea, and added: "The outstanding fact is, I think, that 53 nations have openly and collectively expressed their opposition to the concrete act of aggression and about 40 of these nations have offered some concrete help in the struggle."

Huge Goods Hoard To Be Auctioned

FAIRFIELD (AP) — A two-day public auction has been scheduled here to dispose of an amazing quantity of merchandise—including 500 dresses, 150 tablecloths and 50 bedspreads—accumulated by the late Mrs. Lucy Werner.

The merchandise, much of it apparently accumulated during World War II days, was found stored in the home of the 77-year-old recluse following her death early this year.

The sale is scheduled for Feb. 23 and 24 at the local armory. Articles to be sold also include 93 pairs of shoes, 100 pairs of new stockings; more than 200 pieces of glassware and dishes, five sets of dishes, 150 tea towels and a large amount of new silverware.

Mrs. Werner dressed plainly and lived quietly. Money was found hidden in unusual places around the house. Abstracts and deeds to her property were located in a small tin box under the oil stove on which she did her cooking.

'Lost' Boy Found — At Job

Earl Fountain, 15, missing from his home since early Friday, was reported found Saturday — at work at his job.

Earl's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Fountain, 1931 Court street, said the boy did not return home Friday evening. They believe he may have spent the night at a friend's house.

'They'll Have to Draft Me Next Time'

ABERDEEN PROVING GROUND, MD. (AP) — Thirteen-year-old Pvt. George Raymundo, Brooklyn, about to be mustered out of the army after three weeks of posing as an 18-year-old says, he found he doesn't like army life anyway.

He was at Aberdeen Saturday when reporters accompanying President Truman found him.

How did he like army life? The youngster said: It was no good. You have to get up early in the morning, you march too much, you have to wash floors. The next time they'll have to draft me."

He said he talked his way into the army because "I wanted to see what it was like."

He is going back to grade 9A in his school at Brooklyn.

Four SUI professors will speak Monday night on topics aimed at developing a clearer understanding of the national crisis as it applies to SUI.

The SUI chapter of the American Association of University Professors will build their lecture-discussion meeting at 8 p.m. in the house chamber of Old Capitol around the theme, "Mobilization of the University's Resources."

Speakers will be. Prof. W. R. Irwin of the English department, "The Concept of Continuing Crisis;" Prof. G. W. Martin of the botany department, "The Maintenance of Standards;" Prof. Everett Hall, head of the philosophy department, "The Teacher in a Crisis;" and Dean of Students L. Dale Faunce, "The Student Body."

Monday night's meeting is the first of two AAUP-sponsored lecture-discussions. The second, on March 19, will be devoted to a discussion of SUI's problems in its non-campus relationships.

Constable Killed Escorting Prisoner

MOBILE, ALA. (AP) — A Miami constable, en route to Florida with a young prisoner in his custody, was found shot to death on a lonely roadside near here Saturday.

The officer's new car was gone and there was no trace of his prisoner. Mobile county officers and police of neighboring Alabama,

Florida and Mississippi organized a widespread hunt for the youth who had told California officers when he surrendered "I think there is something wrong with me."

When he left Los Angeles, officers there reported Hardison had declined to handcuff his prisoner because of his conviction that "there's no such thing as a bad boy."

Hardison was shot five times with a .38-caliber weapon.

Flood Control Land To Be Appraised

Legal notice has been given to Johnson county farmers whose land is being condemned in connection with the Coralville flood control reservoir that they may meet March 20 with federal commissioners who will appraise their land.

The meeting will be held at 10 a.m. in the federal building in Davenport, and compensation the owners will receive from the government will be discussed.

The condemnation proceedings, filed in federal district court on July 19, 1950, involves 2,146.94 acres of land.
