Consumer Use of Steel To Be Cut 20 Percent

WASHINGTON (AP) — The national production authority (NPA) Tuesday announced a cutback on steel that may lead to smaller autos and dwindling supplies of radio and television sets, refrigerators and other household appliances.

The agency said that beginning April 1, steel for passenger automobiles and other goods will be slashed 20 percent below the average level of the first half of 1950.

NPA Chief Manly Fleischmann said the program is designed to save about 1-million tons of steel for defense production — tanks, guns, ships and planes.

NPA officials said a 40 percent cut may be necessary in the third quarter of this year, beginning July 1.

Fleischmann told reporters that the auto industry will be free to make as many cars as it can with the steel it gets. He said some manufacturers may choose to make smaller, less expensive cars.

In Detroit, industry sources predicted that almost as many cars will be built in the first half of this year as in the same period last year.

Fleischmann told a news conference that a determination to safeguard employment figured "very largely" in NPA's decision to limit the steel cut to 20 percent now and impose other cuts gradually.

Previously, there had been talk of cuts up to 40 percent.

SUI Counselor to Head 1951 Red Cross Drive

M.L. Huit, SUI counselor for men, has been named general chairman of the 1951 Johnson county Red Cross drive beginning March 1.

The goal for the 10-day drive is $21,074. Of that amount, $13,225 will stay in Johnson county for local chapter operating expenses during the year, the remainder will go into the national fund.

Huit explained that the county quota has been raised to keep pace with the Red Cross' expanding program to "Mobilize for Defense," the campaign slogan.

Huit appointed the following persons as division chairmen: Richard Sidwell, business; SUI

Iowa Citizens Fight Moves to Shorten C-M Trial Period

Iowa Citizens Tuesday sent telegrams to local representatives in the Iowa legislature protesting moves to cut the trial period of council-manager government from six to two years.

In a telegram to Sen. Leroy Mercer (D-Iowa City) and Rep. G. M. Ludwig (R-Tiffin), the Iowa City League of Women Voters said:

"The citizens of Iowa City voted by a big majority last spring for a six-year trial of council-manager government. Two years is insufficient for a fair test. Why is this legislation to reduce the trial period being proposed? Who is backing this legislation? We strongly urge support of a six-year trial period."

A similar telegram, signed by 40 Iowa Citizens, was also sent to Mercer and Ludwig.

Iowa law requires that the council-manager system must be tested for six years before a city may consider dropping it.

The move to reduce the trial period is in the form of two bills now before the legislature. The council-manager system will be installed in Iowa City this spring.

Labor Asks Raise in Wage Ceilings

WASHINGTON (AP)—Labor leaders asked Economic Stabilizer Eric Johnston Tuesday to overrule his wage board and set a wage ceiling 12 percent above 1950 levels.

Leaders of the united labor policy committee, representing most major unions, carried their demands to Johnston in the first of a series of meetings proposed by President Truman to ease labor's complaints about the mobilization program.

Johnston said he "thinks" he has a right to modify the 10 percent wage ceiling formula approved by the wage stabilization board, but did not commit himself on whether he will. He will meet with the union chiefs again today.

UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO CHANCELLOR Robert M. Hutchins (right) relaxed in the library of the Iowa Union Tuesday night a few minutes before he spoke to a large audience on the "Outlook for Education." Talking with Hutchins is SUI President Virgil M. Hancher.

Chancellor Hutchins Lauds Liberal Education

Universal free education in the United States has failed in its purpose because the nation has confused schooling with true education, Robert M. Hutchins said here Tuesday night.

Hutchins insisted true education is a liberal education. Speaking to a capacity audience in the main lounge of the Iowa Union, Hutchins explained his views concerning liberal education's merits compared to the shortcomings of vocational training.

Hutchins is chancellor of the University of Chicago. He resigned from that post in December to become an associate director of the Ford foundation July 1.

The idea of universal and free education which the nation adopted in the 19th century was to make the country perfect, he said, but it has failed.

"Science and technology have profited by education on such a broad basis, but political progress has not kept pace, he explained.

"In a democracy every man is a ruler," Hutchins declared, "and every man must have a liberal education" to properly qualify himself to be a ruler.

Hutchins insisted only a liberal education qualifies a citizen to be a ruler.

However, instead of increasing the amount of liberal education each person gets, the nation has built a system of vocational schools, Hutchins said.

And he added, "There is no group more anti-democratic than those who believe in vocational training."

"If you don't believe in (liberal) education, you don't believe in democracy," Hutchins said.

Man is a rational animal, Hutchins said, and urged that both words (rational and man) be kept in mind when considering modern education, which should be aimed at increasing man's rationality.

He lamented the present day educational system where a man's education is measured by academic hours of credit, and stops when he leaves school.

Hutchins would install an educational system which teaches students to think for themselves, but admitted it would be a difficult task.

An even more difficult thing to do would be to change the attitude of the public so that it would demand an educational system which would be liberal and teach students to think for themselves, he said.

Medical Enrollment At SUI Ranks Above Average of Nation

With a total enrollment of 386, SUI's college of medicine now ranks above the average enrollment of 331 in the nation's 79 medical schools.

This fact was among statistics released by the executive council of the Association of American Medical Colleges, following a meeting in Chicago last week.

The meeting was to discuss ways to speed up medical training programs for the nation's defense efforts.

The statistics show that medical schools are now training 26,193 students, an increase of 1,097 over last year. A record 7,187 freshmen are enrolled in medical schools, the council reported.

Iowa's freshmen enrollment now totals 120, considerably above the average freshmen enrollment of 91 in the other 79 medical schools.

Attending the Chicago congress from SUI were Dr. Willis M. Fowler, chairman of the executive committee; Dr. Robert T. Tidrick, Dr. W. R. Ingram and Dr. E. D. Warner, executive committee members; Robert C. Hardin, assistant dean in charge of veterans administration affairs, and Dr. Woodrow W. Morris, assistant dean of medical student affairs.

In addition to the company, those named in the indictment were the firm's vice - president and secretary, William Grunstein, 37; former army Capt. John F. Jones, 29, Easton, Md., and army Sgt. Samuel A. Auman, 35, Dothan, Ala.

A spokesman at the firm's office in Hoboken declined comment.

OMAHA (AP)—Kenneth A. Kitts, 33, Omahan under both state and federal charges has been taken to Sioux City, his attorney, Hugh Boyle said Tuesday.

Kitts was ordered removed to Iowa's northern district for federal prosecution in a federal court hearing Tuesday.

He is under indictment in the $38,000 burglary of the Laurens, Iowa, bank, last fall and is charged also with escaping jail at Cedar Rapids, Jan. 22. Both are federal charges.

However, one army official said later he would not assume that this precludes possible assignment of at least some of the divisions to overseas duty.

Existing regulations provide that guardsmen and reservists serve 21 months. The universal military service law now being debated in congress seeks to extend this service to 24 or 27 months.

Present laws also provide the return of national guard divisions as a whole to the states when they have completed their federal service. Taylor indicated Tuesday that the army expected to retain the machinery and framework of the six guards divisions even after the individual guardsmen completed their service.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Regular army divisions will form the backbone of the army under plans which call for the release of about 233,800 national guardsmen and reservists which they have completed their current federal duty.

The army's chief of training and planning, Maj. Gen. Maxwell Taylor, disclosed this Tuesday. He also said that no more national guard divisions than the six now in service will be called unless the world situation forces more complete military mobilization.

There was no immediate explanation of the effect of Tuesday's announcement on the possible use of guard divisions overseas.

U.S. Proposes Meeting Of Big Four Ministers

But Stipulates 'Mutual Basis' As Prerequisite

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has proposed to Russia that a Big Four foreign ministers' conference to ease world tensions be held in Washington provided a "mutually acceptable basis" for it can be agreed upon.

The American note, made public Tuesday, was delivered in Moscow Monday night to Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky. Parallel notes were delivered by Great Britain and France.

The U.S. note declared that the primary cause of the tense world situation is the "general attitude" of the Soviet Union.

Suggests Preliminary Meeting

It suggested that a preliminary meeting of representatives of the four powers be held in Paris March 5, on condition that Russia agree to talk about the real causes of international troubles.

Russia has accused the Western Allies of seeking to build up aggressive forces in Western Germany and has said this is a prime cause of tension.

The U.S., British and French notes were worded in such a way as to get the Soviet government to give a yes or no answer to the Western conditions for holding the preliminary Paris talks. The Russians have wanted to discuss only Germany but have said it was possible for other subjects to come up.

New UN Drive Ordered; Straighten Line for Push

U.S. EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, KOREA (AP) — The United Nations offensive in Korea will begin rolling again soon.

Its leaders got a green light Tuesday to continue the successful war of attrition against the Chinese and North Korean Communists.

The order came from the supreme commander, Gen. Douglas MacArthur. In a battlefield visit to Wonju on the central front, he said he had instructed "resumption of the initiative" of Allied forces.

UN troops erased a deep dent in their east central front Tuesday and sent strong patrols five miles north on the heels of retreating Chinese Reds farther west.

North Korean troops broke and ran in the face of a tank and artillery powered U.S. task force which hammered out the dent, once 10 miles deep.

On the west central front Associated Press correspondent Tom Bradshaw said strong reconnaissance patrols pushed five miles northeast of Chipyong before smashing into Chinese rear guards covering the main Chinese route of withdrawal toward the 38th parallel.

On the western front, American, British and Turkish troops brought their lines up tight against the icy Han river in a continuous line all the way from central Korea to Seoul and the Yellow sea.

Educators' Pessimism Begins to Moderate

NEW YORK (AP) — Pessimism which gripped colleges and universities because of the proposed universal military training bill has begun to moderate.

A survey shows that many educators who have taken a second look at the proposal to draft 18-year-olds for as many as 27 months are now breathing more easily.

"The trouble was," said President Henry M. Wriston, of Brown university, spokesman for university presidents, "too many educators failed to read the bill carefully and began to issue scare statements to the effect the drafting of the 18-year-olds meant a life-and-death struggle for institutions of higher learning."

U.S. Education Commissioner Earl J. McGrath chimed in: "There is no question but that the general picture is one of difficulty, even of hardship for many small colleges, but drastic cuts in total enrollments will not be the order of the day. On the whole, I believe that the colleges will find it possible to make their way during the difficult years ahead. The two critical years are 1954-55 and 1955-56, which reflect the pinch of the first two years of the plan."

McGrath's office, cooperating with legislative and defense department experts, made these estimates: For 1950-51 we can expect full-time male undergraduate enrollments to reach a total of 1,059,000. This year it is estimated 274,700 males will complete their four-year courses and graduate.

For 1951-52, enrollments will drop to 844,800, with 205,300 graduating. For 1952-53, 757,600 will enroll and 202,200 will graduate.

For 1953-54 there will be 719,500 full-time male undergraduate enrollments and 178,000 graduating. For 1954-55, 690,200 will enroll and 188,900 will graduate.

Wriston said the decline in male enrollments means that colleges and universities will lose a proportionate share of their income from tuition and fees, dormitory and board and other facilities.

Coupling this with the inflationary spiral, almost all institutions will have to struggle to overcome deficits, he said. Very few expect to get away without deficit spending in the lean years.

Iowa REA Seeks Increased Power

WASHINGTON (AP) — Iowa Rural Electric cooperative officials have sought support for proposed construction of new transmission lines to carry Missouri river power to their area.

Representatives of several Iowa and Minnesota cooperatives want the reclamation bureau to build lines to transmit electricity developed at Fort Randall dam to their central power stations.

John Irving, president of the Southwest Federated Power co-op at Creston, Iowa, told a reporter the co-ops propose a 230-kilovolt transmission line from Sioux City to Humboldt, Minn., and 115-kilovolt lines from there to Creston and Mankato, Minn.

A. F. Kline of Osceola, president of the Clarke (Iowa) County co-op, and C. O. Beverlin of Winterset, Iowa, a director of the Greenfield co-op, said the power requirements of co-ops in their area of Iowa and Minnesota had outgrown their production.

Irving said the various co-ops also are studying a plan to pool their present power.

Stalin Statements Parallel Hitler's

By J. M. ROBERTS JR. AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Joseph Stalin either must have a bad memory or else he discounts the memories of others.

How else could he fall into some of the inconsistencies apparent between his occasional statements for current consumption and the policies he has laid down in writing? Or let himself be drawn into some of history's deadliest parallels?

Stalin, in interviews designed for public consumption abroad, has often tried to play the role of reasonable benignity — live and let live, etc., whereas the texts of his instructions to his Communist followers always stress the inevitability of war to the death with the non-Communist world.

His latest denial of militaristic intent also struck a familiar note. Most of it Stalin had said before, but there was a similarity with something else; something sinister which I finally recalled.

Many men had hung upon these other words too, seeking to discern their hidden meaning. A man had said in 1938, against the background of a series of acts similar to Stalin's:

"We are ready at all times to embark upon a policy of understanding with the world about us. We can do that. We want nothing from others."

And later that same man had said, "The German nation has no feeling of hatred toward England, America or France. All it wants is peace and quiet. But these other nations are continually being stirred up to hatred of Germany and the German people."

"The nations will in a short time realize that National Socialist Germany wants no enmity with other nations, that all the assertions as to our intended attacks on other nations are lies — lies born out of morbid hysteria or of a mania for self-preservation on the part of certain politicians; and that in certain states these lies are being used by unscrupulous profiteers to salvage their own finances; that, above all, international Jewry may hope in this way to satisfy its thirst for revenge and gain, that on the other hand this is the grossest defamation that can be brought to bear on a great and peace-loving nation.

"There is no German and above all no National Socialist who even in his most secret thoughts has the intention of causing the British empire any kind of difficulty."

"Germany wishes to live in peace and on friendly terms with all countries, including America."

Those statements were made in January 1939. Eight months later Hitler started World War II.

Please, Watch the Puddles —

During the "witching hours" of the winter season, when Iowa's weatherman alternately opens the deep freeze and fires the oven, the poor pedestrian hardly knows whether to wear ice skates or water wings.

All this may be very nice for the corn, but it can make walking a grueling game of hop-scotch. And it never helps tempers or drying-clean bills when a car is wheeled discourteously through a pedestrian-ringed puddle.

The practice of being a Puddle Avoider doesn't require much strain on the brain. It boils down to taking it a little easier when wheeling around the corners or down the stretches. It means watching out for someone afoot who might be so busy dodging ice and mud that he hasn't seen you coming. It isn't hard.

And if the philanthropic aspects of the suggestion leave you cold, then let's look at it from the angle of cold, cracked tire casings. We can never tell by looking at the top of one of these limpid street lagoons exactly at what depths the bottom resides. It might be in China. Jagged asphalt may never replace the cross-cut saw, but it can hold its own on tire casings.

We can't all go around kissing babies or sponsoring free baths, but we certainly can bring smiles of relief into some soggy hearts by taking it a little softer on the gas pedal when the town is afloat. And the repair bill you save may be your own.

Agencies, Churches Aid City's Transients

Plans for a new system to handle requests made by transients for food and shelter in Iowa City were announced Tuesday by Police Chief Ed J. Ruppert and S. Lyle Duncan, chairman of the Community Chest. Under the new plan, transients who ask individuals or groups for help will be sent to the police station first. The police will then send them to the proper social or church agency. The plan is a result of a conference between police and Community Chest officials. Duncan said the plan was needed because of the lack of information on and the overlapping of services and facilities for transients. He said there have been cases where undeserving transients received assistance out of proportion to their needs, while more deserving persons have met with difficulty in securing aid.

"A TRIUMPH BOTH AS A MOVIE AND ART!"
—Thomas C. Aven
Dear Joe and Jane: IS IT POSSIBLE THAT THE TITAN COULD WIN THE ACADEMY AWARD? Quite a question particularly in view of the fact that there are no actresses or actors in the film.
Yet here is a film as full of life and action as any made... the story narrated by FREDERIC MARCH tells of the trials and tribulations of the great Michelangelo. With an amazing camera you see statues come to life. They tell their story with a tremendous feeling... AMAZING! EXTRAORDINARY!... yes, that is THE TITAN.
We here at the Capitol feel so strongly about the Titan that we say if after seeing it you feel you have not received your money's worth we will gladly refund your admission.
Going out on a limb? No, for we know after you have seen it you will feel justly rewarded and consider it an experience in motion pictures and art that you will never forget.
Yours for Capitol entertainment.

Kentucky Again on Top In AP Basketball Poll

NEW YORK (AP) — The University of Kentucky Wildcats, voted the nation's No. 1 college basketball team for the fifth week in a row, and their regular season this week, then head into tournament play that could clinch the lofty rating.

Only two Southeastern conference foes remain for Coach Adolph Rupp's club, which already is assured of its eighth league crown, in succession. In this tenth weekly AP poll of the season, Kentucky received 115 more points than the No. 2 team, Oklahoma A & M.

Kentucky plays Georgia Friday and Vanderbilt Saturday, both games at Lexington, and should have no trouble winding up the conference race undefeated. In all games, the Wildcats have won 22 and lost only one. This includes 12 conference victories without a defeat.

As champions of the conference, Kentucky automatically gets a place in the NCAA tournament. There is little doubt the team will receive a bid to the National Invitation tournament next month at Madison Square Garden.

The leading 20 teams with points based on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis. First-place votes and season's records, including Monday night's games, in parentheses:

After Arrest of Three Players —

LIU Drops Inter-Collegiate Athletics

NEW YORK — College sports' greatest scandal led Long Island University — with four star basketball players accused of taking $18,500 to fix seven big-time games — to abandon inter-college athletics.

It was the aftermath of a district attorney's crackdown on players of three major New York college basketball teams that have taken gamblers' money to insure desired results in a number of games.

Three top players of the City College of New York — last year's national kingpin in the college basketball world — and one from New York university had been taken into custody earlier on similar charges.

Authorities said the eight basketball players admitted obtaining a total of $25,000.

Long Island university President T. W. Metcalfe sent a telegram to Ned Irish, Madison Square Garden basketball promoter, informing him LIU is cancelling its remaining games of the season there, Feb. 22 and March 1. Two other non-Garden tilts also are being cancelled.

At the same time it was announced that the university's trustees decided to return all LIU sports "to the status of intramural competition."

A statement from the board of trustees said it concluded that "an undue emphasis has been placed upon basketball and perhaps on other intercollegiate sports."

It added that such "over-stressed importance" on collegiate athletics "has attracted a gangster gambling element to what has appeared to them to be a lush field for further corruption inroads into the communal life of our city."

The action followed confessions early Tuesday by three members of the present LIU team and one former member that they had taken more than $18,000 in gamblers' bribes to throw three games last season and juggle the scores of four games this season.

Arrested were Sherman White, LeRoy Smith, and Adolph Bigos, and Eddie Gard, captain of last year's team.

The LIU board of trustees met in the offices of board President William Zeckendorf and then issued the announcement cancelling intercollegiate sports at the large Brooklyn university.

The trustees expressed "fullest confidence in and unbounded sympathy for Coach Clair F. Bee, who has dedicated himself so unselfishly to the training of our athletes for so many years" and also their "unbounded faith in the integrity and honesty of the vast majority of those who participate in competitive sports at our university and the other athletes throughout the country."

1951 Will Go Down As Year of Basketball 'Black Sox' Scandal

NEW YORK (AP) — Nineteen-fifty one will go down in history as the year of the infamous "Black Sox" scandal of basketball.

Nothing in sports—except the dirty gambling web that enmeshed "Shoelies" Joe Jackson, Eddie Cicotte and other baseball greats of the 1919 Chicago-Cincinnati world series—has matched the scope of the present game-fixing expose.

The top teams in the nation and some of the best of the modern players are in it so far.

The impact threatens big-time basketball. The peach basket sport fathered by Dr. James Naismith in a little Massachusetts gym went to the city, got fat and rich and fell in sin, they say.

Now there's a loud yell among some coaches and officials to take it back to the college field houses. Prestige of the national invitation tournament is jeopardized by the threat of some major schools—Bradley particularly—to shun Madison Square Garden.

In New York Tuesday, slick magazines ready to go to press with their all-star teams were tearing up the plates and subbing new names for players involved in the latest scandal.

The All America ballot already has gone out and there've been returns. There were requests for changes.

Clair Bee, lean gray-haired coach of Long Island university's Blackbirds, expressed a general feeling when he heard that three of his players had admitted fixing games:

"Those three? Oh, Lord! It's terrible, terrible!"

Then — heartbroken, according to friends—he went into seclusion and refused to be contacted for additional comment.

LIU's Sherman White, a six-foot-seven Negro with a faultless shooting eye, unofficially went into the lead this week among the nation's individual scorers. He has 664 points in 24 games for a 27.7 average.

There was question Tuesday whether White's mark will be allowed to stand up, now that he's been involved in the scandal and suspended from school.

Demaret Warms Up For Houston Tournament

HOUSTON (AP) — Four of the nine golfers who were fined by the PGA for skipping a tournament to go to Mexico warmed up on Memorial Park course here Tuesday preparatory to participating in the Houston Open. Indications were that they would pay their fines and be in the field that tees off Thursday.

Jimmie Demaret, fined $500 because he was the leader in defiance of a PGA order forbidding participation in the Mexican National Open, went to the course. So did Morris Williams, Stan Dudas and Ansel Snow.

St. Mary's Edges Oxford in Sectional Tourney Game, 52-50

By KEN CESSNA

St. Mary's of Iowa City won its first round sectional tournament held here Tuesday night by squeezing past Oxford, 52-50.

The Ramblers, however, had to stave off an Oxford rally in the fourth period. St. Mary's headed into the final quarter leading 45-39, but Oxford narrowed that margin by outscoring Iowa City 11-7 in the fourth quarter.

A 25-point scoring spurt by Bob Suplee, St. Mary's guard, led all scoring.

Iowa City never trailed in the game after shooting ahead by the first quarter, 17-8. Oxford trailed 35-27 at halftime.

Oxford outhit the Ramblers 21-17 on field goals, but lagged in the free throw department. They missed on 13 of 21 chances while Iowa City scored on 18 of 22.

Harry Little fired in 26 points to lead West Branch past Cosgrove, 58-40, in the second tournament game Tuesday night.

Jordan to Coach Irish Cage Team

SOUTH BEND, IND. (AP) — Johnny Jordan, who once cavorted around in a Notre Dame basketball uniform, is coming back to coach the Fighting Irish basketball team.

He will step into the big shoes of Edward W. (Moose) Krause, who henceforth will devote full time to the job of athletic director.

Jordan is basketball coach at Loyola university, Chicago, a job he has had for only one season and for which he held a three-year contract.

The Rev. Richard Tischler, Loyola athletic director, said Tuesday that school would release Jordan from the contract so that he could accept the Notre Dame job.

Krause announced Jordan's appointment Tuesday after final approval had been given by the Notre Dame athletic board, headed by the Rev. Theodore M. Hesburgh.

Tosheff in Fight After Illini Game

BLOOMINGTON, IND. (AP) — Photographer Bill Dyer of the Bloomington Daily Herald — Telephone said Tuesday that an unidentified youth attacked Bill Tosheff, Indiana university basketball player, after Indiana lost to Illinois Monday night at Champaign, Ill.

Dyer took a photograph of the youth charging at Tosheff.

The photographer said the youth called Tosheff unprintable names as the Indiana player walked head-down toward the dressing room.

Dyer said Tosheff looked up, startled, and asked, "What did you say?" Dyer said the youth repeated the remarks and Tosheff staggered him with a blow, but spectators stopped the fight.

HOW TO GET AN APARTMENT

No, we don't have any magic secret to tell you how to find an apartment. In fact, it's common knowledge that Daily Iowan Want Ads have been getting good results for apartment-hunters.

Those who advertise in the "Wanted to Rent" classification often call us and ask to cancel their ads because they've found a place. Sometimes it only takes one insertion.

It's easy to see why this happens. Iowa City property owners know the Iowan reaches thousands of students, so they keep close tabs on the Want Ad page. You can get your message before these renters. CRIME PROBE—Assistant Philadelphia Police Supt. George Richardson told senate crime investigators Tuesday that he never accepted any gifts from that "yellow dog" Harry Stromberg or any of his crowd.

COST OF LIVING—Development of a new "improved" cost-of-living index has delayed publication of the Jan. 15 index until the first week in March, Commissioner Ewan Clague of the bureau of labor statistics announced Tuesday.

Clague said the "old" index, which was due to be published this week, will be released with the improved model.

The index is the guide for cost-of-living raises in escalator clauses under which wages are geared to a rise or fall in the index.

RAIL DISPUTE—Chairman James E. Murray, (D-Mont.) announced Tuesday that the senate labor committee will make a full investigation of the two-year-old contract dispute between the railroads and the four operating brotherhoods.

He said failure to settle the dispute, which has resulted in two recent wildcat strikes, indicates that some changes may be needed in the railway labor act.

Iowa Senate Discusses Anti-Subversive Bill

DES MOINES — An anti-subversive bill that called for procedures to establish the loyalty of all state employees, including teachers and professors, was filed for introduction Tuesday in the Iowa senate.

The proposed bill would make it a felony for anyone in Iowa to commit subversive acts, advise anyone else to do so, hold membership in a subversive organization or contribute to such an organization.

If the measure became law, no "institution of higher learning" could receive state funds until it had submitted a written report on measures taken to show whether it is employing any subversives.

This section of the proposed law obviously referred to the state's educational institutions, including SUI, Iowa State college and Iowa State Teachers college.

State boards and agencies, as well as state schools, would be required to adopt methods for "determining loyalty" of all employees. Evidence that an employee was subversive would be grounds for his dismissal.

City or Town?

The Iowa senate Tuesday passed a bill that would eliminate the present distinction between first class and second class cities.

If the senate-approved bill becomes law, all communities in Iowa of more than 2,000 population will be known as cities and those with less than 2,000 will be classified as towns.

The measure would provide four-year terms for city council-

The measure would repeal Iowa bans on closed and union shops and allow collective bargaining. It also proposes a 30-day cooling off period before strikes and arbitration.

Professor's Labor Bill

A proposed Iowa labor law drawn up by SUI Law Prof. Clarence Updegraff will be discussed by a joint house-senate committee today.

man Loyd Van Patten (R-Indianola) said Tuesday he planned to keep the committee session closed to the public until details of the bill had been debated.

Appointments

The Iowa senate Tuesday received a bill which would prohibit the appointment of any member of the legislature to a salaried state job during his term of office or for two years thereafter.

Municipal Zoos

Reps. Ted Sloane and Earl Ryan, Polk county Republicans, introduced a bill in the Iowa house Tuesday to allow all cities of 50,000 population or more to levy an annual tax not exceeding one-half mill for a municipal zoo.
