House Group Would Cut ROTC Expansion

WASHINGTON (AP) — The house armed forces committee Friday recommended that expansion of the reserve officer training corps (ROTC) be deferred in favor of building up more officer training schools so that youths who are drafted will have an opportunity to become officers.

Chairman Carl Vinson (D-Ga.) at a hearing of his committee expressed fear that college ROTC units may become a haven for students trying to avoid the draft.

Plan ROTC Expansion

ROTC leaders told the committee present plans call for expanding the number of ROTC college students from about 124,000 to approximately 150,000. The cost of the program would be increased from $8,642,000 a year to $115-million.

ROTC students are exempt from the draft under present law. The committee was considering a draft bill for registration and classification of young men at 18, and induction at 18-22, with no waiting until the 19-26 group has been exhausted.

Senate to Vote

While the house committee still had not agreed on a bill, the senate, by unanimous consent, Friday agreed to vote Monday on the issue of drafting young men into the armed services at the age of 18-22 instead of 19.

A draft age of 18 has been approved by the senate armed services committee. Its bill would provide, however, that 18 year olds nearest 19 be taken first, and that none be taken before all eligible men in the 19 to 26 year category are inducted.

Sen. Wayne Morse (R-Ore.) is the author of the amendment to drop the draft age only to 18 years and six months. But he proposes that those in the 19-26 bracket be called up at the same time, and that boys between 18 and 19 be allowed to volunteer.

It is on this amendment that the senate will vote Monday.

Government Charges Puerto Ricans Went 'Gunning' for Truman

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government produced testimony in federal court Friday to show that Oscar Collazo was gunning for President Truman when he and Griselio Torresola attacked Blair House Nov. 1.

Torresola is dead, slain by a White House policeman who was murdered in turn, and Collazo is being tried on a charge of murder.

The prosecution called secret service agent Joseph J. Ellis Jr., to dispute the plea of Collazo that he and Torresola planned only to make a demonstration in front of the President's temporary residence, intending to harm no one.

Ellis testified that soon after the shooting Mrs. Gertrude Buxbaum, an emergency hospital nurse, asked the 37 year old defendant whether he went to Blair House to try to shoot the president.

"Yes, I did," Collazo replied, according to the agent's testimony. Ellis said Collazo told the nurse it was "for political reasons—so that my country would be free. I am a Puerto Rican nationalist."

Sioux City Plane Crash Kills 15 of 25

SIoux CITY (AP) — A Mid-Continent Airlines plane, making a second try for a landing here in a sudden, heavy snow storm, crashed into a bordering cornfield Friday, killing 15 of the 25 persons aboard.

The twin-engine DC-3 plane burst into flames and was destroyed within a few minutes. But 10 survivors were extricated and rushed to Sioux City hospitals, at least four in possibly critical condition, the airline said.

The plane was due at Sioux City airport at 9:12 a.m. (Iowa time) on a scheduled flight from Kansas City to Minneapolis.

The crash was the worst in Iowa aviation history and the first Iowa accident to a scheduled airliner in which lives were lost.

It was the first fatal crash for Mid-Continent in its 17-year history.

The pilot of the plane, Capt. James Graham, 34, of Kansas City, was among those killed.

At the airport, observers said the plane flew over the field once, went on to make a climbing turn to the left, then was lost to spectators in the storm. The crash was heard a few moments later.

All Sioux City fire department was called and 11 ambulances were rushed to the scene.

Witnesses said that only shortly before the crash the visibility at the airport was fair but the intensifying snow storm reduced it abruptly.

In addition to the pilot, two other crew members lost their lives. They were co-pilot Philip K. Toler, 30, of Mission, Kas., and First Officer Ernest F. Eilert, Overland Park, Kas., who was to be stationed here, and had joined the airline only a week ago.

Woodbury The stewardess Miss Marilyn Woodbury, Kansas City, suffered severe cuts and a possible broken back, St. Joseph hospital attaches said.

Other dead, as identified by the airline, included: M. H. Steffenson, Rapid City, S.D.; Fred Kellogg, St. Joseph, Mo.; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kanne-gieter, Willow Lake, S.D.; Mrs. Jane Cook Lundahl, Kansas City; Mrs. C. J. Pademore, Woonsocket, S.D.; Eldon A. Clark, Watertown, S.D.; W. C. Ding, en route to Bismarck, N.D.; M. A. Sachau, en route to Sioux Falls, S.D.; C. T. Loon, en route to Sioux Falls; Mrs. J. D. Alway, Aberdeen, S.D.; L. L. Nogosek, Kensal, S.D., en route Bismarck.

Airlines officials did not identify Ding, Nogosek, Sachau and Loor as military personnel, but other sources reported them as soldiers.

Survivors, announced by the airline, included: Roy Engel, Ipswich, S.D.; B. M. Quam, Bismarck, N.D.; E. Rogers Curry, Kansas City; Robert Tom-man, Camp Polk, La.; Raymond Schwan, Aberdeen, S.D.; Rollow Mino, Jamestown, N.D.; Raymond Habben, en route to Bismarck; and Archie McKellop, Artesian, S.D.

CAA Inspectors

SIoux CITY (AP) — Civil aeronautics authority inspectors from Omaha and Chicago arrived here Friday night to investigate the cause of a plane crash which claimed 15 lives.

The two inspectors examined the wreckage but declined to comment on possible causes, although they said the weather apparently was involved.

Truman in Florida For Vacation, Gets Cheering Reception

KEY WEST — President Truman came here Friday night to view the international and domestic problems of his administration far removed from the turmoil of Washington.

He flew to Key West after a final pre-vacation conference with his cabinet and a talk with ambassador-at-large Philip C. Jessup before the latter's departure for the deputy foreign ministers' conference in Paris.

In Cheerful Mood

Mr. Truman was in a cheerful mood as he aughted from the "Independence" at the navy's Boca Chica airport. He rode eight and one-half miles to this navy submarine station where he will make his headquarters for the next three weeks in the reconstructed commandant's house which serves as the "White House" here.

Practically the whole town turned out to greet Mr. Truman, who is taking his first real vacation in a year.

Natives and tourists lined Truman avenue solidly, waving and shouting greetings to the distinguished visitor.

Within 15 minutes of his arrival at his quarters, Mr. Truman had shaken his gray business suit and switched to light blue slacks and a gray, tail-out sports shirt figured with blue fish.

Talks to Wife

An hour later, he talked to Mrs. Truman in Washington and daughter Margaret in three-way conference telephone call.

Unusual precautions were taken to guard the President's safety at the Boca Chica field, along the line of his ride to the submarine station and on the station itself.

The secret service detail, enlarged after the attempted assassination at the Blair House, was larger than on Mr. Truman's eight previous visits here.

Admission to the gates of the station was limited to those with passes.

Kampus Kapers Needs More Help

Cries for help came from the crews working on Kampus Kapers, the annual all-campus musical revue, as preliminary construction and lighting got under way Friday.

Charles Brandon, A2, St. Louis, Mo., in charge of scenery, and Dale Gould, A3, Elyria, Ohio, in charge of lighting, said additional help is needed on their crews.

Students wishing to get experience in these two areas should contact either Brandon or Gould. Script for the show, sponsored by the Newman club, was written by Gilbert Pearlman, A3, Des Moines. The Newman club is a Catholic student organization.

The exact date of the show, scheduled for April, has not been set.

Navy, Airforce Open Enlistment Quotas

DES MOINES (AP) — Enlistment quotas for Iowa for March have been increased by both the navy and airforce.

Lt. Com. E. R. Weaver, officer in charge of the Des Moines navy recruiting station, said Friday the quota will be about 80 men a week during March. That more than doubles the February quota, he added.

Iowa military district officials said the airforce will be able to take eight men a day for the first six days of March, then five men daily for the rest of the month. The schedule is based on a seven-day week and does not include WAF, aviation cadet, or prior service enlistments.

During February, the airforce was allowed to enlist between three and four men daily.

New Gambling Law Explained by Larson in Letter to Koser

Iowa's new law calling for one year revocation of licenses of any establishment possessing gambling devices was set forth in a copy of the law in a letter from Atty. Gen. Robert L. Larson received Friday by Mayor Preston Koser.

The law, which became effective Feb. 24 following passage by the 54th general assembly, provides a year penalty for actual knowledge of the existence of gambling devices.

Cards Not Included

The term "gambling devices" was defined as meaning roulette wheels, klondike tables, poker tables, punch boards, faro layouts, keno layouts, slot machines, any ticket, sheet or writing of any kind used or designated to be used for gambling purposes.

Ordinary playing cards were not termed gambling devices by the law.

Establishments which may lose licenses were designated as any business, trade, vocation or commercial enterprise or undertaking possessing the named gambling devices. However, the owner must know the gambling devices exist there.

To Observe and Inspect

Those designated by the law to "observe and inspect licenses premises and ascertain whether gambling devices are present" included every sheriff, deputy sheriff, constable, marshal, policeman, police officer, and peace officer.

In his letter to Koser, Larson said, "Proper enforcement will be much easier if the officers understand the law."

Publication Board To Meet Monday

Three petitions have been received by the board. Petition forms may be picked up at the same office, and the deadline for their return is March 7 at 5 p.m.

Russia Loses... Malik Smiles

LAKE SUCCESS (AP) — Russia's Jacob A. Malik Friday proposed that the UN's special committee on atomic control and arms reduction should choose its first chairman by drawing lots.

The committee agreed. Assistant Secretary-General Constantin C. Zinchenko, a Russian, was presiding in the absence of Secretary-General Trygve Lie. Zinchenko reached in the box and drew the name of the United States.

He announced the result, amid a roar of laughter. Malik himself smiled.

The committee was set up to study President Truman's suggestion that the UN look into the possibility of combining atomic control and arms reduction discussions, now carried on in separate bodies.

Fading Winter Hits With Sleet, Rain, Snow

Fading winter gave Iowa City everything but hail Friday as it alternately attacked residents with sleet, rain and snow after a previous relapse into dress rehearsal for spring.

The forecast for today was for freezing rain turning to snow flurries. Strong winds and falling temperatures were scheduled for later in the day.

Choosing correct apparel for Friday's mixture was a major decision for those unfortunate forced outside of comfortable homes and dormitories.

Once outside, nature's obstacle course necessitated a twisting, jumping path over slippery terrain. Anyone failing the course was dunked into a slushy and very cold bath.

Two Mustangs Downed by Red Anti-Aircraft

TOKYO (SATURDAY) — United States marines punched into the hills north of Hoengsong Friday as other Allied troops fought off small but bitter Communist counterattacks along the 60-mile central Korean front.

There was no opposition as the marines took Hoengsong itself, but they were stopped north of the ruined town by darkness and Communist fire.

Near Key Defense

Their drive put the marines within 15 miles south of Hoengsong, key Chinese Red defense front.

In contrast to the marines' virtually unopposed advance through Hoengsong, South Korean troops ran into stiff opposition east and southeast of there. They were engaged by a Communist battalion that continued to pour in heavy fire for 10 hours.

Hoengsong still was strewn with bodies and wreckage of Americans and Dutch ambushed there last month, as the Chinese abandoned the town under pressure by the advancing marines.

From 12 to 15 Russian-made jets braved the North Korean skies for brief encounters with the Fifth airforce.

Two Mustangs Down

No casualties were reported from the air fights, but two U.S. Mustangs were shot down by anti-aircraft fire.

The sharp Allied attacks apparently had thrown off schedule the Chinese plans for a new massive spring offensive with at least 300,000 troops. Prisoners captured recently have talked about the planned offensive as if it were common knowledge in the Red ranks.

Cost of Living Up; 1,700,000 Workers Get Wage Increases

WASHINGTON (AP) — An estimated 1,700,000 workers were assured Friday night of an automatic pay increase as the government announced that the cost of living rose 1.5 percent in January.

These employees, including 800,000 automobile workers, have contracts tying their scale of wages directly to the labor department's cost of living index. The auto workers may get four of five cents an hour more.

New Type

The department's bureau of labor statistics issued a new type index adjusted to changing buying habits. This one, stood at 181.5 for mid-January, compared with 178.8 for mid-December. The period 1935 to 1939 is considered normal or 100.

The point change of 2.7 represented a percentage rise of 1.5.

The bureau also issued the old type index. On this basis of calculation, the January figure was 181.6, and the December index 178.4, an increase of 1.7 percent.

The auto industry's cost of living, or "escalator," contract, provides for raising or lowering pay one cent an hour for each rise or fall of 1.14 in the index. It has not yet been worked out whether the new index will be applied in figuring out the wage increase.

Contracts with escalator clauses signed before the wage freeze late of Jan. 25 are allowed to go as high as the cost of living can carry them.

Drew Pearson Sues McCarthy, 7 Others

WASHINGTON — Columnist-commentator Drew Pearson Friday sued Sen. Joseph McCarthy (R-Wis.) for $600,000 damages, and McCarthy and others for $3-million or more.

The exact amount sought was left open.

Pearson charged McCarthy libeled him, assaulted him and joined a plot to discredit him.

Loria, general plant foreman for the University printing service, is seeking a two-year term of office.

Five aldermen are to be elected for Iowa City's new council under the council-manager plan.

Loria's petition to have his name placed on the official ballot contained approximately 400 signatures. According to Iowa City's population, 271 signatures are required.

Signatures on nomination papers have to be written in the same manner as when registering to vote.

Responsibility with Respectability —

The 14 student council candidates Thursday heard some important, common-sense rules about campaigning explained by Ed Diekmann, a present student council member.

These rules reflect the accumulation of experience gained in the last few years of all-campus elections.

They call for a limit of $25 in campaign spending and respect of private property in the city, and prohibit painting signs on buildings and sidewalks.

The trees on the main campus, the block surrounding Old Capitol, are "out of bounds" to campaign posters. The same rule applies to all university buildings and the Crandic viaduct over West Iowa avenue.

Anyone who remembers the circus-like appearance of the campus three years ago during election time will appreciate these rules.

We feel the strict observance of these rules will do at least two things.

Observance will indicate that the candidates are more responsible and worthy of student and faculty staff support.

Observance also will encourage candidates to make more personal contacts in their campaigning.

In the last few years, almost every housing unit has held at least one "smoker" where candidates could speak to the residents. Hillcrest radio station HILC last year started a system of giving a certain portion of its time to candidates who apply. The other private radio stations at SU1 might try the same arrangement.

One other rule that bears special mention is the one strictly prohibiting the destruction of each other's campaign materials. This practice is usually the result of over-zealous campaign workers' efforts to promote their candidates.

The student council should, above all other organizations, set an example of responsibility.

Anything less than adherence to these rules by candidates will indicate a lack of responsibility expected of a council member.

Worth of H-Bombs Doubted by Lilienthal

WASHINGTON (AP) — David E. Lilienthal has warned that the nation may be wasting money, precious uranium and its best scientific brainpower by trying to develop the hydrogen bomb.

The former chairman of the atomic energy commission said in a Collier's magazine article that there are "serious questions" about the H-bomb's military value even if it works, and that, he added, is a "gigantic if."

He said present A-bombs already are so destructive it is hard to find worthwhile targets. Instead of seeking an even bigger explosion, he said, it may be "more important militarily" to concentrate on developing "smaller" weapons such as atomic artillery shells.

The AEC is working on such weapons and may have tested some of them in Nevada recently. Lilienthal was reported to have opposed the H-bomb project even before it was started early last year on orders of President Truman. He resigned as AEC chairman shortly thereafter.

He noted that the main argument for trying to build an H-bomb is that Russia may be working on one, too.

"It may or may not be true that we must match or outdo the Russians in any particular area," he said. "But this can be determined in any specific case only by weighing the advantages and disadvantages to us."

Without saying it in so many words, he made clear that he thinks there are many more disadvantages than advantages to the H-bomb.

The main disadvantage which he underscored is that the H-bomb project means "we will have fewer A-bombs."

The same scarce raw material—uranium—and the same costly plants and top-flight scientists are needed for both. Some qualified scientific sources have estimated that at least 25 A-bombs must be sacrificed to build one H-bomb.

While an H-bomb "probably" could be made 1,000 times as powerful as an A-bomb, he said, it "would have only 10 times as great a damage area."

Even for the biggest targets, such as the enemy's main cities, he pointed out, a single H-bomb would be no more effective than 10 A-bombs, and for smaller industrial targets, it might be no more effective than a single A-bomb.

"Atomic bombs are too costly, too hard and long in the making to be wasted or used ineffectively," Lilienthal said. "We would be foolish to use our A-bombs on inappropriate targets, expendable from the enemy point of view. We ought not to use an elephant gun where a rifle will do."

"It may or may not be true that we must match or outdo the Russians in any particular area," he said. "But this can be determined in any specific case only by weighing the advantages and disadvantages to us."

Secret of War . . .

TO THE EDITOR: It is an enormous incongruity that men who are able to believe that we can know the secrets of the atom are able to doubt that we can know the cause of wars.

The atom, the product of an unknowable, has grudgingly yielded its secrets. Wars, the products of men, should have been an easier problem. Yet, men contend that the causes of conflict are shrouded and mysterious—unknowable. Other men are made to believe that they are powerless to solve the puzzle of strife and that they must submit to its "natural course."

"Everything is possible to man. Time is young; give us some little centuries, and we shall control and remake all things. We shall perhaps at last learn the noblest lesson of all, that man must not fight man, but must make war only on the obstacles that nature offers to the triumph of man." If this had been said a year ago, or ten, or even fifty years ago it would not have been a very startling statement. It is an amazing statement because Francis Bacon expressed it 350 years ago, before the microscope, before the theories of modern physics and chemistry, before the atom.

How can we of 1951 doubt that Bacon was right? We have beaten down a great many of the natural barriers, and there are few who doubt that we shall be able to overcome almost all of these which still stand, and any new ones that may arise.

But there are many who doubt that the puny barriers which men have placed in the path of mankind are vincible. "Man may commit many sins, but he can commit no sin as monstrous as believing himself incurable."

There can be no valid reason for believing that we cannot solve our problems.

The problems of cancer and polio are as great as any that have ever faced man. Though we are not near to a solution for either, few doubt that we shall solve them. Whereas the perpetrators of disease are invisible or perhaps intangible, the perpetrators of war are both visible and tangible. How can we doubt that there is a solution to the latter, when we believe that there is a solution to the former?

While there must forever remain uncertainty about the beginnings of life, we must eliminate some of the beginnings of death. The task is indeed formidable, but by no means hopeless. It can only be hopeless if we allow ourselves to be deluded into thinking it so.

Man, the knowledgeable ape, will build a world.

'Middle Aged' Queen Of Shimmy Makes Milwaukee Comeback

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Gilda Gray, blonde shimmy queen of the roaring 20s, is wiggling and singing the old songs with tears in her eyes these nights, heading up the comeback trail.

Applause fills the small, jam-packed night club here as Gilda, after three years in bed with tuberculosis, goes into the act that once boosted her to world fame.

A little out of breath but smiling, the middle-aged show girl in spangles and beads can't quite hold back a few tears when she takes her bows. She has to compete with two shapely young strippers, but the applause is for her.

"They like me," she said, "and if they like me here they'll like me in other cities. I guess I've still got the legs and the shimmy that people want to see."

The former star, who married three times and says she is 49, will do three shows nightly here for the next two weeks. After that, she said, she plans to tour the east and prove she still has what it takes to be a star.

Gilda sang "When You Were a Tulip" the other night and reminisced about how she began her singing and dancing career in a south-side Milwaukee saloon 35 years ago.

"I was a teen-age Polish girl named Marianna Michalski then and I could hardly speak English," she said. "But they told me to get up on the bar and sing and dance, and I did. 'When You Were a Tulip' was the first song I ever could sing in English."

She sings other old favorites and vibrates and bounces through "St. Louis Blues" — just like the old act that reportedly earned her several million dollars.

Gilda said she's not "broke," but admitted that one of her reasons for starting a comeback is to raise money. She said she needs it to pay three attorneys handling her $1-million suit against Columbia pictures. She has claimed in the suit that the 1946 movie, "Gilda," was based on her life.

He's Still Got a Few Tricks in the Bag

Interpreting the News — Allies Skeptical on Big-4 Meeting

By J. M. ROBERTS JR., AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

The United States is putting unusual emphasis this time on its skepticism that any good can result from forthcoming negotiations with Russia.

Heretofore the state department, while giving off ample hints of its feelings, has entered into the four-power conferences relatively dead pan. Now it is made clear officially that the American delegation is going to Paris merely to see if Russia might possibly come up with something negotiable. There is an old saying that if you don't expect anything, then you won't get your speck broken.

The state department also has to consider the fact that, after every failure of one of these conferences to bring peace any nearer, there is always a renewed public demand to "get tough," and for a preventive war. Right now the diplomats prefer a period in which American military strength can have a chance to catch up with commitments before new ones are made.

Now that the Western delegations to the preliminary conference which opens in Paris Monday, or the full-dress conference of foreign ministers which is expected to follow in Washington, will have no proposals.

They want to talk about possible reductions of Russia's armed forces, about an end to the Russian provocations which have forced the West to divert into armaments, the effort and resources which might otherwise have gone into continued postwar rehabilitation.

The Russians, meanwhile, are expected to shoot two arrows into the air. The main effort, of course, will be to hinder Western Germany's incorporation into the European defense program.

The Communists already have tipped their hand on this with demands for a German peace treaty uniting that nation as an unarmed neutral, with subsequent withdrawal of all occupation forces.

But Russia wants to do this by giving Communist-controlled East Germany an equal voice with much larger West Germany, and by pushing the Allied armies back to France while her own would remain within 60 miles of Berlin.

However, the word "unity" is a magic one in Germany, and Russia will probably play it for all it's worth — although the Germans don't show many signs of being taken in.

The Russians are also expected to meet Allied probes into the general level of armaments with one of their good-looking but hollow proposals for general disarmament. These have been made in the United Nations, along with proposals for outlawry of the atom bomb, but always with loopholes for Russian evasion and never with any real sincerity.

Expressions of official skepticism in the U.S. serve to advance public warnings that the Allies have no intention of taking anything less than concrete Russian acts as the basis of any agreement.

Yugoslav-Austria Border Relatively Peaceful

STRASS, AUSTRIA (AP) — The border between Austria and Yugoslavia has become a much more peaceful area since Marshal Tito broke with the Cominform in 1948.

About 60 or 70 persons still flee across the frontier into Austria every month, but it's a far cry from the banditry that existed five years ago.

At that time the frontier was one of Europe's liveliest, and bandits living in Austria and calling themselves "White Guards" used to make nightly raids into Yugoslavia.

Now the Yugoslavs have thinned out their border detachments, and the British occupying the adjacent area of Austria have reduced their border troops to only a handful.

The other day two men arrived here after walking 500 miles from Belgrade in their bare feet. They had spent several years in Yugoslav forced labor camps. Now they are recuperating in a local hospital.

Recently two Yugoslav families hid under a lean-to they built in the bottom of a railroad coal car after bribing rail workers, who filled it with coal. For two days and nights the families remained beneath the coal, until it was unloaded in Austria as part of a regular shipment.

Some of the border crossers have it much easier. Last summer a family simply entered Austria by driving several head of cattle hitched to two heavy carts. They brought all their household belongings with them.

Broadway Musicals Preserved in Plastic —

If you've paid any attention to the original cast Broadway show recording, you probably know the extra dividend in a recording which captures the spirit of actual performance.

In this respect you can check Columbia's "Finian's Rainbow" as the most commendable transference onto the record disc, since it is one of the few show albums which can be vastly appreciated without requiring your having seen the show or knowing what it's about.

For pieces of dialogue from the book of "Finian's Rainbow" have been inserted before some numbers, enabling smooth introductions that prevent certain songs from being altogether meaningless. And because Ella Logan and David Wayne, with the Lyn Murray singers (has any musical comedy ever had choral arrangements more original and craftsmanlike?), the album LP gives more of the show than most similar ventures have managed to do.

You won't get as much of an idea what "Out of This World" is about from hearing it, but you will be getting Charlotte Greenwood and a score by Cole Porter which improves with audition. The spirited conducting of Pembroke Davenport and top-notch arranging of Robert Russell Bennett give the record extra lustre.

But the show album recording of "Out of This World" is chiefly gratifying because of the presence of Charlotte Greenwood. Not even a flat acoustical treatment could have disguised the personality of such a star. Hearing Miss Greenwood here is almost like seeing her all over again.

The secret of carrying over personality onto a record disc is initially up to two people: the artist and the songwriter. Any engineer can get results if the composer and singer do their part, which is why we have the pleasure of hearing on records such ladies as Ethel Merman on "Annie Get Your Gun," Ella Logan on "Finian's Rainbow," or Mary Martin on "South Pacific."

Two or three numbers will tell you if an awareness of personality is to be conveyed at all, and in each of the cases cited, the ladies have accomplished that as much as has Charlotte Greenwood.

All of the ladies mentioned (and you might add Carol Channing on "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes") have succeeded in "sending" over their personalities much as if they were giving their actual performances across the footlights. All of them leave generous indications of their individuality, and distinctive talents which are at their command. Unfortunately, while offering leading performers in their own roles, the original cast recordings also bring in members of casts who can't sing at all. With the abundance of really good singing talents about, I have long wondered why producers see it to cast mediocre vocalists in just shows — and not necessarily just in minor roles.

But again on the other hand, these how album gives you the COMPLETE show in most cases. From first song to last, your musical hits are reproduced on one plastic record — which is much better, and much more economical, than chasing around finding separate, diverse renditions of the show's selections, even if it doesn't permit you to make your own pick of artists.

Well, these are just a few random, haphazard observations on the latest phenomena of the record industry to become "big." Whether or not you have access to "Call Me Madam" or "Trigadon," you can find it at your local record store in a form which is readily accessible — if you have the $$$!

And if you aren't yet sure about the greater joys of record recording asserted the other day, I suggest you spin "South Pacific," "Kiss Me, Kate" or the new "Out of This World" LP in order to become acquainted with the greater appreciation to be gained from full-bodied sound by comparison with most older efforts along this line.

Portugal Opposes Red Appeasement

LISBON, PORTUGAL (AP) — Portuguese Prime Minister Antonio Oliveira Salazar has warned the United States, Britain and France against a temptation in a new Big Four conference to throw away present advantages for any kind of appeasement of Russia.

The 61-year-old bachelor and former university professor said the Atlantic pact policy of building up defensive strength was making war "less probable."

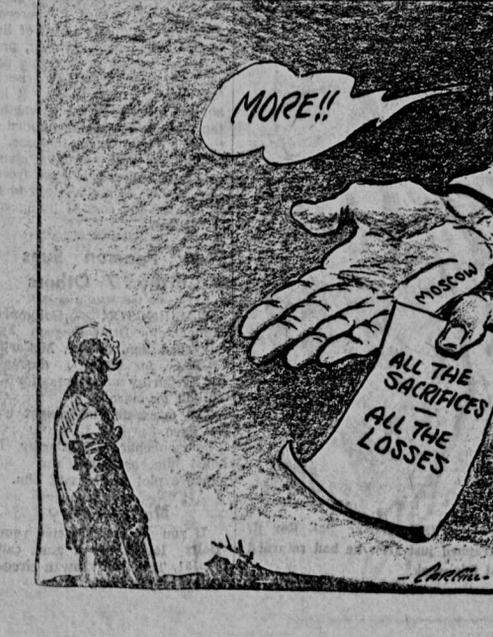

He pledged his country — one of the most important strategic members of the Atlantic pact — would carry out "loyally and fully" her share of the collective defense effort.

Democracy Expensive

MOLINE, ILL. (AP) — City election officials found Wednesday that democracy comes high. It cost Moline $2,700 to stage Tuesday's primary in which only 1,576 of 20,000 registered voters turned out. That is $1.71 a vote.

MacArthur was photographed drinking champagne from a water tumbler in a salute to victorious UN forces in a battle in the Wonju area.

Hawkeye Cagers Aim For Third Place Meet Spartans Tonight Michigan Monday

By HOBERT DUNCAN
Daily Iowan Sports Editor

EAST LANSING, MICH. — The Iowa Hawkeyes go after goal No. 1 tonight in their two-point plan to finish in third place in the Big Ten standings.

The Hawks will throw their conference foes in the state of Michigan over the weekend and Pete Newell's defense-conscious Michigan State Spartans pose the initial hurdle.

Due to threatening weather the Iowa team boarded a plane out of Iowa City an hour earlier than scheduled Friday, Sunday the Hawks will leave here for Ann Arbor where they will meet Michigan's Wolverines Monday night.

It's Iowa's scoring punch going against the best defense in the conference tonight, but the Hawk's main task may be getting the ball. Earlier this season Iowa disposed of the Spartans, 46-42, but only after Michigan State's stalling tactics had caused plenty of trouble.

Coach Rollie Williams will start an all-veteran team featuring Herb Thompson and Frank Calsbeek at

Iowa Tankers Face Michigan In Fieldhouse Pool Tonight

By JACK SQUIRE

Iowa's swimmers got their last competition before next weekend's Big Ten championships when they oppose Michigan in a dual meet tonight.

The first event of the meet, which will be held at the fieldhouse pool, gets underway at 7:30 p.m.

Both teams will be aiming to get over the 500 mark for their season's work as each currently holds a 3-3 record in conference dual meets.

In addition, the Hawkeyes will be out to snap a long standing jinx which has seen them win but one of 15 previous meetings with the Wolverines.

Whether Iowa will accomplish these objectives will depend largely on the efforts of Rusty Garst in the sprints and 400 relay.

Garst hindered by numerous colds and minor ailments throughout the season, finally appears to be approaching the form that earned him all American recognition last year.

There's no doubt that a physically sound Garst can make the difference since both squads seem extremely evenly matched, judging from their scores against common foes.

As usual, the Hawkeye captain has drawn a tough opponent. This time it's Dick Martin, whose .23.3 for the 50 is a tenth of a second quicker than Rusty's best performance this season.

Fortunately for the Iowa cause, Dick LaBahn has come along fast, and will be the man to beat in the 100 as well as a top contender in the 200.

Michigan will present a team with well distributed strength, especially in the breast stroke where John Davies and Stewart Elliot give it a big edge in that department.

Davies, a member of the Australian Olympic team in 1948, has been beaten only by Ohio State. Other Wolverines of note are Dave Neisch, sprinter; Wally Jeffries, 220 and 440; and Frank Keller, diver.

Keller is likely to extend Iowa's Otto Broeder, who has won five of his starts. Both are from St. Louis and competed against each other in high school.

Three Iowa seniors — Garst, Herb Lehman, and Bill Hark will end their competition tonight.

Standings

Illinois	11	1	917	860	750
Indiana	10	2	833	773	643
Iowa	7	5	583	786	726
Wisconsin	7	5	563	671	672
Northwestern	7	6	538	692	621

Michigan State	5	7	417	594	576

Purdue	3	10	291	609	595
Ohio State	3	11	214	810	1,020

the forwards, Chuck Darling at center and Bob Clifton and Fred Ruck at the guards.

Ready for relief will be spot players Ev Cochrane, a bit of a scoring genius of late, and fast-dribbling Skip Greene.

Michigan State has very little in the way of individual stars. Perhaps Coach Newell is their best player, for the team plays the game just the way he teaches it. Gordon Stauffer, smooth and durable, is the steadiest among the Spartan defenders.

Monday Iowa will be out to repeat their last week's 70-48 win over Michigan. The Wolves can be stubborn at home, but Iowa will be the favorite.

To sew up third place Iowa will need these two wins plus an assist from either Purdue or Indiana. The Boiler-makers and Hoosiers have a crack at Wisconsin this weekend and Badger defeat plus a pair of Iowa wins would give the Hawks third place with a 9-5 record.

The squad will return to Iowa City by plane Tuesday.

Illinois Meets Wildcats In Key Big Ten Game

CHICAGO (AP) — Illinois is favored to clinch at least a share of the Big Ten championship today by beating Northwestern in the Chicago Stadium in the 13th Illinois contest on the 14 game schedule.

Meanwhile runner-up Indiana is picked to keep the race warm to the final day by turning in a triumph over Michigan to remain only one game behind the Illinois.

Other conference games on the slate are Iowa at Michigan State and Purdue at Wisconsin, while Ohio State faces DePaul in a non-league clash on the stadium doubleheader bill.

Illinois is chosen to beat the Wildcats by nine points in a game involving the top two scorers of the conference, Ray Ragelis of Northwestern, who has averaged 20.2 points per game, and Don Sunderlage, Illinois, with an 18.3 per game average.

An Illinois win combined with an Indiana defeat would give Illinois the undisputed conference title and the automatic NCAA berth. An Illinois victory and an Indiana victory would leave a tie possible Monday, should Illinois lose to Michigan State while Indiana beats Wisconsin. Should both teams lose Saturday, the same deadlock situation would be possible.

Indiana, a fast break nifty ball handling quintet, is a 10-point choice over Michigan. The Iowa-Michigan State game is rated even while Wisconsin is a seven point choice over Purdue. DePaul is ranked nine points better than the Buckeyes.

Frosh Speedy, Lack Height

By KEN CESSNA

Good, fair and lack are the three lead words in Coach Ben Douglas' summary of his 1950-51 Iowa freshman basketball squad.

The good part, according to Douglas, is the Hawkeye yearlings' ability to run, and run some more. The fair part is the shooting ability of the all-state studded squad. And the lack part, pertains to the absence of good, all-around height, Douglas reported.

Naturally, all the frosh squad members have their sights adjusted to a varsity berth and Douglas thinks "there are several who might help the varsity next year."

Among the leading candidates are what Coach Douglas rates his "regulars" in scrimmages.

Heading the list of all-star prep cagers are three members of the 1950 state champion Davenport team. They are: Ed Lindsey, Ken Buckles and Bill Stenger.

Stenger, shortest of the frosh "regulars" at 5-feet, 10-inches, is a ball-hawking guard, and a deadly long shot artist. His high school running mate, Buckles, is 6-1 and a driving, twisting player.

Lindsey, one of three "regulars" tipping 6-feet, 4-inches, is a high scoring forward. Joining Lindsey in the front court are Chuck Jannigan of Newton, a defensive expert and a smooth ball-handler and Dust Rice, the Oelwein all-around athlete.

At center is Gene Hettrick, the clever former Iowa City pivot man, who rather than join the varsity at the start of this semester, decided to save his eligibility.

Bill Lindquist, 6-2, Orion, Ill., and Jack Fry, 6-4, from Vinton back up the frosh center position.

Rounding out the "regulars" is another Iowa City lad, 6-4 guard, Bill Fenton.

Pushing the "first team" for positions in workouts have been two forwards: Bob Heppenstall, Canton, Ill., and Andy Houg, St. Ansgar.

The reserves at guard are: Paul Stark, Boone, and Cortez Smith, Chicago, Ill.

East Pros Win

Training Camp Briefs

PASADENA, CALIF. (AP) — The regular spring training camp of the Chicago White Sox, weather bound for 24 hours, was formally opened Friday, but not under suitable conditions. The air was chilly and the playing field muddy as a result of Friday's rain, hail and snow. Chico Carresquel, the Venezuela shortstop, joined his mates after a plane flight from Havana.

AVALON, CALIF. (AP) — Frank Hiller, ace of the Chicago Cubs pitching staff with 12 victories and only five defeats last season, Friday reported to the training base while 37 of his teammates were bearing down in a drill. Manager Frankie Frisch said the first intra-club game would be played Sunday.

BRADEN, FLA. (AP) — Speedy outfielder Sam Jethroe, the major league's leading base stealer last season, favored his injured right hand as he went through his opening 1951 workout with the Boston Braves Friday.

Jethroe suffered a jammed ankle last season, and he insists that it is completely healed now. But he still is bothered by the hand which he injured in an automobile accident just before Christmas.

BURBANK, CALIF. (AP) — Instilling a batting cage in the outfield because the infield and pitching mound still were too wet, Manager Zack Taylor Friday put the St. Louis Browns through the first of the lengthy hitting drills which will feature spring training.

CLEARWATER, FLA. (AP) — Del Ennis, young Philadelphia Phillies outfielder who reported in good shape this spring after hitting .311 last season, predicted Friday he would lead the National League in batting this year.

WEST PALM BEACH, FLA. (AP) — Feris Fain, Philadelphia Athletics' first baseman who vows the 1951 season will be his greatest, got off to a bad start Friday. He hit four pitches with his thumb, rather than his bat, and had to go to sick bay for doctoring of a swollen hand.

Oskaloosa Edges City High, 48-46, In Final Minute

(Special to The Daily Iowan) OSKALOOSA — Iowa City closed their regular season by suffering a 48-46 setback at the hands of the Oskaloosa Indians, in a non-conference game here Friday night.

Oskaloosa sank the winning basket in the final minute of play after Iowa City had lost their chances of taking a lead by missing numerous free throws in the last three minutes.

Both teams used pressing man-to-man defenses, resulting in 57 fouls. Oskaloosa, coached by ex-Iowa star, Charlie Mason, took best advantage from this, sinking 20 free throws to the Little Hawks' 16.

With 32 personals called on City high, Coach Howard Moffitt had four of his regulars benched with five fouls. The Indians had three players foul out.

Iowa City led throughout most of the first half. The Little Hawks took a 17-13 first-quarter margin and also maintained a 28-26 half-time lead.

Led by Forward Clyde Kitchen the Indians squeezed into a 38-37 margin at the third period. The ball game was close throughout the fourth quarter before Oskaloosa dropped in the game-winning bucket to shatter a 46-46 tie.

Jim Freeman, husky Iowa City center, led all scoring with 18 points. Mickey Moore and Duane Davis hit 7 apiece in a well-balanced City high scoring attack.

Kitchen was high-point-man for Oskaloosa with 14.

This was the Little Hawks' final regular season game, as they finished with an overall 11-8 record. Against non-league opponents Iowa City has a 5-3 mark.

Jim Fuchs Wins In Pan-Am Games

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — Big Jim Fuchs of the United States and Rafael Fortun, Cuba's 30-year-old sprinter, became the first double champions in track events which highlighted the fourth day of the Pan American games Friday.

Fuchs failed to realize his hope of hitting a 60-foot mark in the shotput, but his winning toss of 56 feet 7 1/2 inches was a notable performance.

Fortun captured the 200-meter sprint title, beating Arthur Bragg of Morgan State College, Baltimore, by a full step. Fuchs won the discus throw Thursday, while earlier in the week Fortun upset Bragg in the 100 meters final.

Latest Cage 'Fix' Development —

Ex-LIU Player Reveals Gangsters' Threats

NEW YORK (AP) — A story of threats of gangster-style shooting and drowning behind the college basketball fix scandal was revealed Friday with the 13th player's arrest.

Both stories came from Louis Lipman, 26, a star of the Long Island University 1948-49 team.

He was released on $1,000 bail on a charge of accepting a $300 bribe for the Madison Square Garden game with Duquesne on Jan. 1, 1949. Duquesne won, 64-55.

Lipman told reporters that prior to that time he got into an argument with one of his teammates on a matter involved "in the scandal now going on."

"I wanted to get rough with one of the fellows," Lipman related. "And he said if I laid a finger on him he knew the right way who would put me in a sack and drop me in the river."

He did not identify the player nor the specific subject of the argument.

Lipman said that after LIU defeated Southern California in a close game at the Garden in the 1948-49 season, Nathan Miller, one of the players now under arrest, told him:

"Lou, if you made one more basket, you'd have gotten us all shot. We told this fellow (presumably the fixer) that you were with us."

In many of the alleged fixes, the idea was not necessarily to lose the game but keep the

Paulsen Qualifies for Finals

(Special to The Daily Iowan) EVANSTON, ILL. — Joe Paulsen, heavyweight, was the only Iowa wrestler Friday night who advanced to today's final matches in the Big Ten wrestling meet.

Paulsen defeated Frank Kapral of Michigan State, 7-1, in his semi-final match.

Ohio State placed four men in the finals to gain a slight edge over Michigan and Michigan State, who got three each into the final bouts. Defending Champion Purdue placed only two men in today's matches.

In addition to Paulsen four Hawkeyes got as far as the semi-finals. Manuel Macias, 123-pounds, won his afternoon battle by defeating Don Hopperstad of Minnesota, but lost to Bill Buckingham of Michigan State in the evening, 5-4.

Phil Duggan, 130 pounds, won his first round match by whipping Sam Smith of Michigan State, 8-6, but lost in the semi-finals to Jack Gallon of Michigan.

Russ Steiger, 147 pounds, defeated Dick Wilder of Indiana, 3-2, in the opening round. In the semi-finals he lost to defending champion Chuck Farina of Purdue, 3-0.

Ralph Thomas beat Dick Metzger of Minnesota in a first round 157-pound bout, 13-5, but was pinned by Bill Stopp of Michigan in the semi-final match.

First round loser for Iowa was Dick Higgenbottom, 147 pounds, who was defeated by Dave Space, Michigan, 5-0.

One hundred sixty-seven pounder Don Heaton lost to George Bender of Michigan State, 4-0. And Dean Lansing, 177 pounds, was defeated by Jack Milligan of Ohio State, 13-3.

Track Meet . . .

CHAMPAIGN, ILL. (AP) — New member Michigan State, making its debut in Big Ten championship track competition, Friday night topped preliminary trials of the meet by winning 10 places in today's showdown.

Leading the Spartans' 30-man squad, second largest entered, was little Jesse Thomas, a senior flash, he qualified for today's semi-finals in the 60 yard dash and 70-yard high hurdles and the finals in the broad jump and 70-yard low hurdles.

Favored Michigan was second in the preliminaries by qualifying for nine sports. The Wolverines were followed by Illinois with seven Iowa, Ohio State and with seven, Iowa, Ohio State and Purdue with five apiece; Indiana four; Northwestern three, Wisconsin two and Minnesota, two.

Six events did not require preliminary trials with title competition in them starting today as the finals open at 2 p.m. (Iowa time). They are the pole vault, high jump, shot put, one mile run, two mile run and one-mile relay.

One major upset was record in the qualifying round, Harold Omer of Purdue, the 1949 sprint champion, failed to place in the 60 yard dash.

Omer, one of three former champions returning, finished fifth in the first heat of the 60-yard dash, an event he won two years ago.

All three were timec in :06.5, four-tenths of a second off the record pace.

Illinois sparking sophomore from Panama, Cirilo McSween, headed 440-yard qualifiers with a clocking of :49.9 compared to the record :48.1. Another sophomore, Gary Scott of Iowa, was second in :50.1.

Monona Vs. Hansell For Girls' State Title

DES MOINES (AP) — A couple of small northeast Iowa schools will battle it out in Drake fieldhouse here tonight for the state girls basketball championship.

Monona, will meet Hansell, the 1951 Cinderella squad for the big prize. Monona nosed out Steamboat Rock, 67-61, in a semifinal game Friday night and Hansell followed suit, downing Deep River, 73-69.

Deep River and Steamboat Rock will meet in a consolation match before the championship game.

Footlights

NEW YORK (AP) — There was the hum of prosperity about Jack Dempsey's eating and drinking establishment.

The regular patrons greeted the old champ casually. The tourists, including a surprising number of middle aged women still fascinated by the memory of the sheer savagery of the old mauler in his prime, gawked openly or peeked covertly as he strode nervously about, still with a trace of the old panther tread.

Jack Kearns and Al Weill were two of the casual greeters. After all, Kearns managed Dempsey during the hey-day of his career, and Weill's acquaintance goes farther back than that.

They sat together at a table. "I knew Jack back in, let's see, I think it was '16," Weill mused. "I tipped you off to him, remember?" Kearns nodded, with a trace of a smile.

"That's right," he said. "And I remember how you cut in for $20 when Jack and I appeared at the old Gayety Theater in Brooklyn."

We were curious as to just what Kearns and Dempsey had for a theater act at that time.

"I just got up there and told about the old-time fighters, such as John L. Sullivan, then I introduced Dempsey as the sensational new up-and-coming young heavyweight."

"What did Jack do? Did he spar?"

"No, he couldn't, because it was Sunday. I just asked him questions and he answered them. He had the answer written down on his cuff, so when I'd ask a question he'd shoot out his cuff and take a peek. The people thought he was throwing left jobs."

Kearns' roving eye spied Dempsey as that still magnetic figure roved from table to table, worrying a cigar nervously.

"We were together 11 years, and never had an argument or difference of opinion of any sort," he reminisced. "Then we had the break, and started throwing mud at each other. Now . . ."

Now they're pals again, these two who owe so much to each other. Time did another nice healing job.

Hansell Wins, 73-69

Hansell fought off a desperate game-saving bid by previously undefeated Deep River, 73-69, to advance into the finals of the Iowa high school girls basketball tournament here Friday night.

The Lassies, coasting along throughout the second half on a comfortable 10 point margin, were saved by the clock as Deep River's late surge fell four points short of tying.

It was Deep River's first loss in 30 games, and moved Hansell, beaten five times this season, against Monona in the championship game tonight.

Hansell jumped into a 16-9 first-quarter lead and fatted its advantage to 37-27 at halftime. The Lassies held the same 10-point margin at the three-quarter post.

Alberta Van Dyke led Hansell's victory caravan with 36 points, but high point honors for the game went to Deep River's Ruth Badger. Currently the tourney's leading scorer she swelled her three game mark to 115 points by hitting 40 against Hansell.

Hansell won the state title in 1940 while tonight will be Monona's initial title bid for the crown.

Loras Goes, 71-49

CEDAR RAPIDS (AP) — Loras won the Iowa conference playoff basketball game Friday night defeating St. Ambrose, 71-49.

Jim McCabe of Loras, whipped in 29 points, to top the scoring. Tom Seckamp was high for St. Ambrose, southern division champ, with 22.

New Communications Center May Be Started in Spring

Bids for construction of the new SUI Communications center's first unit will be opened April 4, Prof. Leslie G. Moeller, director of the SUI school of journalism, said Friday.

Construction of the first unit, a three-story building, probably will be started this spring and be ready for occupancy in the fall of 1952, Moeller said.

Site of the building will be at the northeast corner of the intersection of Madison and College streets, in the southwest corner of the block on which the Engineering building is located.

$525,000 Available
A total of $525,000 previously appropriated by the state legislature, is available for the building's construction and utilities for the first unit.

Alternate bids will be received for the addition of a fourth story to the first unit, if present funds are sufficient, Moeller said.

The Communications center, when completed, will house teaching, research and service activities in the fields of radio, television, still photography, cinematography, audio-visual education, journalism, and publications.

First Unit
The first unit will hold the school of journalism and the department of publications. Photography and audio-visual areas will be in the structure's central part and radio and television areas in the east portion.

The first floor will house the mechanical brains, speed war effort.

Mechanical Brains Speed War Effort
LOS ANGELES (AP)—Computing machines, more commonly known as mechanical brains, are playing an important role in America's speeded-up war effort, a spokesman of the national bureau of standards said in an address at the University of California here.

The mechanical computers are now solving problems even the most skilled mathematicians and scientists would have hesitated to tackle five years ago, the official said.

The United States, he declared, is conducting extensive research programs into new and better computers.

Male Charm School Established to Place Man on 'Pedestal'

NEW YORK (AP)—Droopy? Red spots instead of a translucent gleam in your eyes? Feel your pedestal slipping out from under you?

Brother, take it from Lisa Lengyel, you need a stiff dose of male magnetism. She says the American male doesn't give out enough oomph—Isn't making the most of his possibilities.

"If he developed them," she explained today, "He could beat the rest of the world."

Cast Critical Eye
The Hungarian-born Miss Lengyel, red of hair and brown of eye, talked to newsmen as she returned from Europe on the liner Washington. She's been casting her critical eye on French and British men.

She set up a charm school for men because, she said, "I thought they needed something."

Her fees start at $500 if you want to be a ball of fire instead of sitting home in your carpet slippers in front of a TV set.

Men on Pedestal
"It is a movement to put men back on the pedestal."
Maie magnetism, as she defines it, includes manners, intelligence, sensitivity, accomplishment and the ability to attract and please women.

U.S. Ambassador Arrives in Spain
MADRID, SPAIN (AP)— Stanton Griffiths, first United States ambassador to Spain since 1945, presented his credentials Thursday to Generalissimo Francisco Franco. The palace ceremony symbolized the resumption of normal relations.

The United States has had no ambassador in Madrid since Norman Armour left more than five years ago. The embassy has been under the charge of Paul Culbertson, minister-counselor.

Griffiths' appointment by President Truman followed repeal by the United Nations general assembly last Nov. 4 of its 1946 boycott resolution against Franco.

The selection of Griffiths was interpreted as a move toward bringing Spain into partnership with the Western defense build-up against Communism.

PEDIATRICS STUDENT HERE

$600 Collected By Red Cross

Johnson county's Red Cross fund-raising campaign received a $600 boost Friday, as the two-day total climbed to $910. The goal for the drive, which closes March 10, is $21,074.

Mrs. Scott Swisher, chairman of the headquarters here, said the office would be open Monday through Saturday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. The headquarters have been set up at the Red Cross office, 15 1/2 S. Dubuque street. The telephone number is 8-2831.

3 Auto Accidents Cause $300 Damage
Damage was estimated at more than $300 in three accidents reported to Iowa City police Friday as sleet and rain combined to make driving conditions hazardous.

A car driven by Charles Schott, E2, Marquette, collided with one driven by James Williams, 412 Melrose avenue, Friday noon at Capitol and Washington streets. Damage was estimated at $150.

An accident Friday afternoon at Gilbert and College streets caused an estimated $125 damage. Cars were driven by John Wamamaker, A2, Hamburg, and Dr. Jason N. Smith, resident physician at University hospitals.

An estimated $50 damage was reported in an accident late Friday on Grand avenue near the medical laboratory. A car driven by Alan Stern, A2, Des Moines, collided with one driven by Harold Brogie, 934 Miller avenue.

U.S. Can Produce Atomic-Powered Plane
WASHINGTON (AP)— Army Secretary Pace declared Thursday night that he is "certain" future American artillery will fire missiles with atomic warheads.

Pace said he preferred not to state when such missiles would take their place in U.S. arsenals. The army secretary made this statement on a "time for defense" radio interview with Lyle C. Wilson of The United Press.

PROF. KOO TO SPEAK
Prof. T. Z. Koo, head of the oriental studies department, left Friday afternoon for Durham, N.C., where he will speak at an 11 a.m. service Sunday in the Duke university chapel.

CARL ANDERSON
He was sentenced to a life term for shooting a policeman during a fight in 1909, four years after he came to this country from Sweden.

However, the well-to-do widow, owner of two farms, was sure that Governor Beardsley will do the right thing.

"I'm certain, too, that my friends and neighbors will accept him gladly," she said. "I'll have open house when he gets home."

"My son approves," she said. "He tells me it is my life."

Her son farms near here. Mrs. Jackson also has three grandchildren and a great-granddaughter.

'Be a Woman'

Prague critic says that Western capitalist music, from jazz to symphony, "serves those who are responsible for the preparation of a new war or at least approve it."

"It is played for the relaxation of warmongers," Vladimir Bor continued in the youth union newspaper "Mlada Fronta."

But in Czechoslovakia, he said, music "serves the working people." He gave as examples Vavac Dobias' cantata, "Build the Fatherland — You Will Strengthen Peace" and Jan Cikker's orchestral "Greeting to Stalin."

New Virus Hits Influenza Without Bad Effects

A new anti-influenza virus which is free of the after-effects of inoculation has been developed in the bacteriology laboratory at SUI's college of medicine.

With the type of virus now in use, inoculated persons frequently experienced muscle soreness, pains behind the eyes, headaches and chilling sensations.

"Some reaction is occasionally noted in humans," Dr. P. McKee, associate professor of bacteriology, said.

The new virus, produced in chicken embryos, produces as many antibodies as the virus now in use. The only problem with the new virus is the inability to produce it during certain periods.

McKee said the exact length of time a person can be made immune is not definite but maximum immunization is acquired when one is inoculated shortly before an epidemic.

Certain Family Will Like Convict Groom
INDIANOLA (AP)— A great-grandmother said Thursday night she was so "certain" her family and neighbors will accept the convicted murderer she plans to marry that she plans an open house for him.

Mrs. Addie Jackson, 67, was as excited as a young bride-to-be when she learned the Iowa parole board has recommended that Gov. William S. Beardsley make Ernest (Ole) Lindquist eligible for parole by reducing his life sentence to a definite number of years.

But now, she said, waiting for action by the governor will be "harder on me than it is on Ole — he's learned how to wait."

Lindquist, 61, has learned how to wait while serving more than 41 years in Iowa state prison at Fort Madison, where he once considered himself a "forgotten man."

Bill Would Provide $300-Million for Teachers
WASHINGTON (AP)— Sen. James Murray (D - Mont.) introduced Wednesday a bill to provide $300-million annually to increase salaries of teachers in elementary and secondary schools.

It would apportion the money to the states for distribution to districts which need help in bringing teacher salaries up to the state average.

Truman Hints Again He'd Like to Be Senator

Student Council Candidates Voice Platforms

(This is the first in a series of articles explaining the platforms of Student Council candidates in the all-campus elections, March 14.)

Joyce Horton, A3, Osage, and Jim Bullard, A2, Jefferson, candidates for delegate-at-large to the student council, both ask for more consideration of student needs in connection with the planning of the school calendar.

Miss Horton has indicated that she favors student-faculty cooperation in the actual scheduling of the calendar, especially in the matter of returning from vacations. "I see a definite need for a more intensified program of student-faculty relations," she said, "and this ties in with the present program of reorganization and evaluation of student government at SUI."

Other major points of her platform include the promotion of better relations with students of other countries, and a call for student council action on the problem of seating at lectures and concerts.

Active on Campus

Miss Horton has been a member of the council for town women, religion in life committee, YMCA cabinet, forensics, and the hospitality committee of the University Women association's vocational conference.

Bullard, a pre-medical student, wants active resistance to the "university movement to remove student cars from the campus," and in connection with this, a check on parking lots reserved for the faculty but not fully used.

He also asks for unity and codification of student council authority, "to give the Student Council a definite place in student life, and to inform the students of its purpose and function."

Council Should Lead

He said that the council should take the lead in promoting better relations between the town people and the students. Finally, he calls for action in the riddance of temporary buildings not in use, which detract from the beauty of the campus.

Bullard is a member of Phi Eta Sigma, freshman honorary scholastic fraternity, YMCA and the SUI concert band. He also served as a student advisor in registration and as freshman orientation leader.

TV Glow Reveals Divorce Grounds

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The glow from a television set in an otherwise dark living room has enabled a 33-year-old department store executive to obtain a divorce.

Donald Michie testified that the glow, as he saw it from outside a window was enough to show his 18-year-old wife making love on a couch to another man.

Mrs. Juanita Michie countered that the man who was watching television with her was an acquaintance of only four days. She added that she slapped his face when he tried to kiss her, but that he pushed her onto a couch just as her husband and a detective walked in.

Three Area Enlistments Announced Wednesday

Two army and one navy enlistments from this area were announced in Des Moines Wednesday.

Leonard L. Roberts, 20, Oxford, and Ernest H. Christenson, 21, West Branch, enlisted in the army. Harold G. Wylie, 18, Washington, enlisted in the navy.

Woman's Life Saved By Change of Plans

OMAHA (AP) — Mrs. Walter I. Tenney of New York City was glad Friday night that her son, Walter Jr., had no qualms about driving in bad weather.

As a result, she was alive and well. Mrs. Tenney was scheduled to ride the plane which crashed near Sioux City Friday, killing 15 and injuring 10.

Early Friday morning, when she learned that her son already had left Minnesota by car to go to Missouri, Mrs. Tenney gave up her seat on the plane.

Walter Jr., is a first lieutenant cadet stationed at St. Thomas military academy at Minneapolis. Young Tenney originally promised some school friends he would drive them to Missouri for a rifle match, but changed his mind.

He told his mother the friends had decided to go by train and he was not going with them. Mrs. Tenney decided to fly to the academy for a visit. She called there about midnight, to learn of another change in plans — her son had driven his friends to Missouri after all.

She gave up her seat on the plane.

Mrs. Tenney's husband, vice-president of Parade magazine, said he was going to frame the airline ticket his wife had bought and hang it in his New York office.

Candidates for three-year board positions now total nine. Voters will also pick a treasurer for the school district, but only incumbent Glenn R. Griffith has been nominated.

Those nominated Friday for the school board were: Marshall R. O'Harra, a plumber for the SUI division of maintenance and operation and a native of Iowa City.

Frank Carideo, who is associated with Bankers Life Insurance company in Cedar Rapids. He served as Iowa football backfield coach under former Coach Dr. Eddie Anderson.

Studio Seeks Damages, Return of Equipment

Colvin-Heyn Studios, Inc., petitioned Friday in Johnson county court for $500 damages and the return of $1,000 worth of photographic equipment it claims to have sold on contract to Guy H. Miles, operator of Midwest Film laboratory, 1027 Rochester avenue.

They claim that Miles has not made good the $1,076.35 promissory note he signed on March 9, 1950, for an electronic color camera and other photographic equipment.

Dean Sidney G. Winter, SUI college of commerce, spoke on "Management and Ownership: Its Function, Problems, and Responsibilities," at the sixth meeting of the Fairfield experiment held at Fairfield, Iowa, Thursday night.

Winter analyzed industrial organization and drew parallels between some of the distribution and transportation agencies.

Winter pointed out that some of the responsibilities of industry are securing capital, maintaining adequate material supplies, improving technology, getting equitable tax treatment and, most important, maintaining an adequate labor force.

This adequate labor force, Winter declared, has to be well trained, must see opportunities for advancement and must be secure from disadvantages of either temporary or final inability to work.

Some of these problems, he added, have been taken up by management on its own initiative, some by pressure from organized labor and some from government pressure.

Winter also discussed the advantages and disadvantages associated with a company's expanding its activities with capital arising from retained earnings.

The next Fairfield experiment talk will be given at Fairfield high school, at 7:30 p.m., Thursday, March 8.

Controls May End In 2-4 Years: Wade

Most price controls may be removed within two to four years, Prof. Harry H. Wade, head of the accounting department of SUI's college of commerce, said Thursday at the luncheon meeting of the Iowa City Rotary club.

Controls, he said, could easily be eliminated after the gap between purchasing power and consumer goods and services has been closed. Wade said inflation during the last war was caused by this gap, and by sufficient taxation this gap might be closed and inflation avoided.

He said it was a good idea to set up price control machinery now because an "all-out" effort might be necessary in a few years.

Film Showing Delayed Due to Prior Booking

Iowa Congressman Wants Opinions

Do you favor the withdrawal of American troops from Korea? the Truman administration's foreign policy? the present U.S. mobilization? the drafting of 18-year-olds?

You may be one of 25,000 persons in the first Iowa congressional district who may be questioned by Rep. Thomas E. Martin (R-Iowa City) on many of these current topics.

The survey, in the form of questionnaire, will include the opinions of every fifth householder, all persons who have ordered farm bulletins the past four years and all parents of babies born in the first district in the past four years.

You may be asked your views on the administration's "pay-as-you-go" tax plan to meet the proposed budget increases; whether you favor socialized medicine, and other issues you believe most important to Americans today.

Martin said he hopes to have the survey completed in the next few weeks, and that the results will be reported in the Congressional record.

The first congressional district comprises 12 counties in southeastern Iowa and includes a population of about 350,000.

This may be tomorrow's lifeline for millions!

If the worst should happen . . . if America should be attacked . . . if atom bombs should fall with all their fury . . . would there be enough blood available for the millions who would need it?

The answer must be yes . . . and in time it can be yes . . . if you help now through your Red Cross.

Your Red Cross has been given the responsibility for planning, operating, and coordinating a nationwide blood program for the armed forces and for civil defense.

Money, as well as blood, is needed. Won't you give, and give generously, through your Red Cross? The money you give today can mean blood whenever, wherever it's needed.

Mobilize for defense + give blood
