Larson Bans Skill Games For All-SUI Carnival

Iowa Attorney General Robert Larson Thursday ruled out "games of skill" for the all-university carnival Saturday night.

Larson was in Iowa City for the Supreme Court day activities of the SUI college of law.

The attorney general ruled out a number of questionable booths which would have involved games of skill since such games are in effect wagers with the concessionaire of the booth.

Larson gave his opinion to University Counsel Arthur O. Left who consulted the attorney general about the questionable booths.

Robert Kramer, A. White Plains, N. Y., chairman of the all-university carnival committee wants to abide by the law. He explained that the booths were planned on the basis that they would have to be approved by the university council.

He said he had submitted the plans for "certain questionable booths" to Left Monday for his opinion on their legality. Kramer said Left told him he would have to refer the matter to Larson.

Larson declared Thursday that concessions would not give prizes unless everyone who participates gets the same prize for the same amount of money.

Very Strict
Larson admitted that the law was "very strict" but asserted that his office was cracking down on gambling of all kinds throughout the state.

Kramer said he would inform chairman of the various booths planned for the carnival about Larson's ruling at a meeting at 4:30 p. m. today in room 211-A Schaeffer hall.

Most of the booths will not be affected, Kramer explained, since they had not planned to give prizes. According to Larson's ruling, the questionable booths, Kramer said, can either:

1. Give no prizes at all.
2. Give the same prize for the same amount of money to all who play.

Two of the booths, in question, Kramer said were:

1. One in which participants would try to guess brand names of cigarettes while blindfolded with a pack of cigarettes as a prize.
2. One in which participants would try to put lit cigarettes held in a booth attendant's mouth with a water pistol for a similar prize.

Kramer said he had consulted with Left about Iowa's gambling law before the carnival committee started planning the booths.

Prizes were given at the all-university carnival last year but they were strictly in accord with Iowa law, George McBurney, L. J. Council Bluffs, chairman of the carnival last year, said Thursday night.

Gen. Bradley Made Ardennes Decision
NEW YORK (P) — Gen. Omar N. Bradley says it was his decision to thin out American forces in the Ardennes prior to the 1944 German "Battle of the Bulge" breakthrough attempt — and that he would do it again.

The army chief of staff, writing in Life magazine, said light forces were left in the forest so all others available could be thrown into an offensive.

"This calculated risk was mine and I have never regretted having made it," Bradley wrote. "Indeed were I to live through that decision again, I would make no other."

"To be sure it was not the safest choice—but had safety been the byword of our generalship in France, we might have wintered on the Seine within sight of the charred skeleton of Paris."

Bradley describes as "nonsense" any suggestions that headquarters ignored—or even received—any significant warnings that the Germans were massing opposite the Ardennes.

He concedes that the Germans "hoodwinked" the Allies into thinking the enemy was building up elsewhere.

Hope Abandoned
PORTSMOUTH, ENGLAND (P) — The British navy officially abandoned hope Thursday that any of the 75 men aboard the missing submarine Affray remain alive, but announced that the search for its wreckage would continue.

A navy announcement said that "there is now no reasonable hope of the rescue of any survivors" from the submarine, missing since Monday night in the murky waters of the English channel.

Iowa Youth Admits Shooting Father Following Argument

(From the Wire Services)
JEWELL, IOWA — A coroner's jury ruled Thursday that Alfred Fischer, 45, superintendent of schools here, was shot and killed by a rifle in the hands of his young son.

County Atty. Laurence Kayser of Webster City said Robert Fischer, 14, only child of the widely known prep sports official, had admitted shooting his father Wednesday night following an argument over raking of leaves.

No charge had been filed Thursday night and the boy was being held in jail at Fort Dodge.

Jewell residents were stunned. They said Robert and his dad enjoyed an ideal father-son relationship. School classes were held because the mother said her husband would have wanted it that way.

Kayser said the boy told him his father had sent him to his second floor bedroom after a tiff over the yard work. The boy sat in a corner of the closet and fired ten shells from his automatic .22 rifle when his father later came into the room, he said. The father died instantly.

Kayser said the 5 foot, 2 inch, 135-pound boy shed some tears but was for the most part calm when questioned.

MacArthur's Fly To New York City
(From the Wire Services)
NEW YORK — Gen. Douglas MacArthur, the tired touring war hero landed in New York City Thursday night and said "when we've reached the city of New York, we know we've come home."

The big town rolled out the red carpet for MacArthur.

The city fathers prepared to turn Manhattan over to him today — "MacArthur Day."

They unfurled the biggest American flag in the world and decked the city with bunting. MacArthur, his wife, and son, Arthur, were scheduled to arrive at International airport from Washington about 8:10 p. m. CST.

Old Soldier Ballad
WEST POINT, N. Y. (P) — Military academy historians searched in vain Thursday for the original words to the old barracks ballad "Old Soldiers Never Die" quoted by Gen. Douglas MacArthur at the end of his speech to congress.

They could uncover only the closing lines — "Old soldiers never die; they only fade away" — credited to an anonymous author of a song popular among British soldiers during World War I.

Truman Busy
WASHINGTON (P) — The White House was about the one place in town where nothing much happened on "MacArthur Day."

President Truman met with Secretary of State Dean Acheson at 12:30 p. m. (EST.) — The exact moment Gen. Douglas MacArthur began addressing a joint meeting of congress.

There's a big television set in the President's office. But Press Secretary Joseph Short passed on the word that Mr. Truman and Acheson did not turn it on.

SUI Student's Condition Better, But Still 'Serious'
Bud Kudart, A3, Mount Vernon, was still in "serious condition but greatly improved," University hospital officials said Thursday.

Kudart was taken to the hospital early Wednesday with spinal meningitis. (Spinal meningitis is an inflammation of the tissues surrounding the spinal cord.)

POLITICAL CONVENTION
CHICAGO (P) — A non-partisan citizen's committee was appointed Thursday to open an all-out drive to bring both the Republican and Democratic national conventions to Chicago next year.

Appropriations Bill for SUI Waits Signing

(Special to The Daily Iowan)
DES MOINES — A bill including an appropriation of $6.3-million annually for SUI for the next two years was awaiting the signature of Gov. William Beardley in Des Moines Thursday.

The SUI allotment is part of a bill appropriating $20,809,919 a year for the state board of education. The bill was sent to the governor Wednesday by the senate.

Won't Refuse
It is not likely that the governor will refuse to sign the bill. The senate in its final action on the measure accepted house amendments which added $119,900 by increasing appropriations for the Oakdale sanatorium and the state school for the deaf at Council Bluffs.

The senate earlier had added about $1,750,000 to the house bill by increasing the recommended appropriations for SUI, Iowa State college and Iowa State Teachers college.

The $6.3-million figure for SUI is considerably below the $8,053,310 requested by President Virgil M. Hancher. Hancher said the higher figure was needed to keep SUI on a par with other Big Ten schools.

Beardley had recommended only $5.8-million for SUI. In addition to the appropriation for SUI, the bill in its final form provides:

1. For ISC, $6.3-million.
2. For ISTC, $2,636,500.
3. For University hospitals, $3,566,628.
4. For SUI's Psychopathic hospital, $312,000.
5. For SUI's bacteriological laboratory, $135,750.
6. For SUI's Children's hospital, $95,000.
7. For state school for the deaf, Council Bluffs, $440,300.
8. For school for the blind, Vinton, $250,741.
9. For Oakdale sanatorium, $770,000.
10. For SUI's Lakeside laboratory, $3,000.

Supreme Court Day Brings High State Court to SUI

Members of the supreme court of Iowa heard the senior law class arguments Thursday before an overflow crowd in the house chamber of Old Capitol.

Only seven of the nine members of the court were able to attend the annual Supreme Court day ceremonies. Arguments of the hypothetical case were colorful, and although no decision is announced, the results appeared to be very close.

The question in issue involved the publication of a picture in a newspaper. The plaintiff in the original suit claimed that the printing of the picture invaded his right of privacy. In a district court, his petition was dismissed and the supreme court heard the appeal.

James Kennedy, Estherville, and R. Bruce Hughes, Sioux City, represented the plaintiff in the case, and were judged the winning team of the arguments. Evan Hultman, Waterloo, and James Sperry, Grundy Center, represented the defendant, which was the hypothetical newspaper involved.

Another highlight of the day's activities, which were sponsored by the Iowa Law Students association, was the Supreme Court day banquet held in the Iowa Union in the evening.

Solemn Affair
The program was not the solemn affair of the courtroom but aimed chiefly at entertainment. Reid Digges, L3, West Liberty, served as master of ceremonies, and introduced the supreme court justices and their wives.

Prof. Percy Bordwell recited "Casey at the Bat," a tradition for the banquets.

A quartet called the "Felony Four," presentation of Law Review and Law Rebuttal awards, a speech by Chief Justice C.F. Wennerstrom, and a satirical skit on the teaching methods in the college of law rounded out the program.

Among the guests at the dinner were Atty. Gen. Robert Larson; Tyrol Ingersoll, president of the Iowa Bar association, and Judge Paul H. McCoid, who is presiding over the James Lons murder trial.

Earlier in the day, the justices had witnessed the initiation of 12 men into the Order of the Coif, and had attended a luncheon for distinguished guests at noon.

Scot Bares Theft Of Coronation Stone

GLASGOW, SCOTLAND (P) — The Scots who removed the coronation stone from Westminster Abbey revealed their identity Thursday night shortly after the government gave its word there would be no prosecutions.

Ian Hamilton, 25, a Glasgow university student, handed newsmen a statement explaining how the 458-pound stone was taken last Christmas day, hauled to Scotland and then surrendered on April 11 in Arbroath Abbey.

Police since have brought the stone back to Westminster Abbey, where it is under heavy guard.

Hamilton said the stone was removed because Britain's Labor government has not given Scotland a measure of self-government. He expressed belief that the stone eventually would come back to Scotland, saying:

"We don't consider the matter closed until the stone is back in Scotland."

Chiefs Of Staff Say Mac Ousted With Their Unanimous Approval

All of Truman Aids Agreed, Statement Says

WASHINGTON (P) — The Pentagon said Thursday night that President Truman removed Gen. Douglas MacArthur from all his commands "upon the unanimous recommendations of the President's principal civilian and military advisers, including the joint chiefs of staff."

This was the military's reply to MacArthur's statement that his proposals for conducting the war in the Far East had been shared by practically every military leader "including our own joint chiefs of staff."

Mac Told Congress
MacArthur told congress he understood that "from a military standpoint" his views "have been fully shared in the past by practically every military leader concerned with the Korean campaign, including our own joint chiefs of staff."

The Pentagon statement did not specifically deny what the general said.

In response to inquiries from the press concerning General MacArthur's reference to the joint chiefs of staff, a Pentagon spokesman said that the White House had authorized him to state that the action taken by the President in relieving General MacArthur was based upon the unanimous recommendations of the President's principal civilian and military advisers including the joint chiefs of staff. The reasons for General MacArthur's relief have been stated previously by the President.

President's Reasons
The President said in removing MacArthur from his Far Eastern commands last week that MacArthur was unable to support wholeheartedly the policies laid down by the United Nations and United States for conducting the Korean war.

The decisions and recommendations the joint chiefs made to Defense Secretary George Marshall, and thus to President Truman and the national security council, are secret.

Nevertheless, some of the current or past thinking of the uniformed chiefs of the army, navy and airforce and the JCS chairman, Gen. Omar Bradley, has been pretty well reflected publicly.

Johnson Agreed with Mac
During the administration of former Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson, the department displayed warmth toward some of MacArthur's ideas on Formosa. There was at that time little of the friction between the department and MacArthur that has developed since.

A reshaping of defense department-JCS views appears to have taken place after the departure of Johnson from the Pentagon.

Some informed sources say the JCS now feel that the task of supplying, at this time, any large force of Nationalist troops should not be undertaken.

Moreover, the JCS is described as believing that Chiang's forces should be kept intact on Formosa.

MacArthur Tells Congress His Views

GEN. DOUGLAS MACARTHUR emphasizes a point in his speech Thursday before a joint meeting of the U.S. house and senate. The general's 36-minute speech had congressmen on their feet applauding several times.

Reds Continue Retreat; Rear Guards Burned Out

TOKYO (FRIDAY) — Allied flame-throwers burned out die-hard Red troops manning rear-guard outposts of a slow, general Communist withdrawal Thursday in central Korea.

"They are buying time for the retreat of the main body with their lives," said Maj. Richard A. Rowlands, Casper, Wyo.

In rainy weather thickened by Chinese-made smoke screens the fire spurts twice dislodged stubborn Reds from hills and bunkers on the road to Chorwon.

Little Activity
There was little activity by enemy forces around the Hwachon reservoir, which was captured by Allied forces Wednesday.

Everywhere else rain drenched tankers and infantrymen slogged forward to take up the slack of the miles-deep Communist retreat along a 95-mile front stretching eastward from the Imjin river above Seoul.

Rain and clouds held Fifth air force fighters to only 20 sorties by dusk Thursday. It was the lowest number since Feb. 9, when only seven were mounted.

There was a growing feeling among frontline officers that the Allied drive had pushed almost as far ahead as it safely could and that the next move was up to the Chinese.

West — Fourth Korean troops knifed west and northwest of the Imjin river with little contact.

West central — Allied tank-infantry teams plunged northwest of Yonchon, fingering the way for

General Mac Defends His Far East Moves

(From the Wire Services)

WASHINGTON — Gen. Douglas MacArthur, restrained but jut-jawed with defiance, defended his entire Far Eastern strategy in a dramatic speech before congress Thursday, asserting that he had believed his views were fully shared by "our own joint chiefs of staff."

It was a fighting speech, all the way.

It drew applause at many points. MacArthur was interrupted more than 30 times by cheering. And at the end, just before the general said "good-bye," tears were running down the cheeks of many of his listeners.

The members of both the senate and the house heard MacArthur. The joint chiefs of staff, MacArthur's son — a dark, wide-eyed elf of a boy — and many of his generals in the Pacific war, sat beneath the dais where he spoke. His wife was in the gallery.

Mac Doesn't Reneg
MacArthur retreated not an inch from the pattern of Pacific defense he has been advocating for many months — a set of policies that finally brought his abrupt discharge by order of the President.

MacArthur said that administration "defeatism" is wasting American lives in Korea and that victory can be won only by striking back at the real enemy, Red China.

He threw a new bombshell into the raging dispute by saying it is his "understanding" that the U.S. joint chiefs of staff shared his belief that limited war on Red China is a "military necessity."

Both Democratic and Republican senators set up an immediate clamor for investigation of the claim, which ran directly counter to statements by Mr. Truman and Gen. Omar N. Bradley, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff.

At the close of his speech MacArthur bade a dramatic "old soldier's" good-bye to congress, but there is no indication he will resign his commission or the $18,761 annual life income it carries with it.

Has Not Asked
An army spokesman said no information has been received here on the general's future plans, but it is presumed he does not expect any further active duty assignments and will NOT ask for one.

Col. Laurence E. Bunker, an aide to MacArthur, said the general's "farewell" remarks could be interpreted as "... the end of a military career and that is all. It is NOT supposed to imply anything else. The general anticipates he is fading out of the picture."

Whether MacArthur has an assignment or not, he is entitled to an office in the Pentagon, three officer aides — a colonel, lieutenant colonel, and a major — and five enlisted personnel.

These prerequisites, along with the lifetime salary, were set up under the law creating the five-star generals of the army and fleet admirals.

Of His Career
Of his 52-year military career, he said:

"I am closing my 52 years of military service. When I joined the army even before the turn of the century it was the fulfillment of all my boyish hopes and dreams. The world has turned over many times since I took the oath on the plain at West Point and the hopes and dreams have long since vanished.

"But I still remember the refrain of one of the most popular barracks ballads of that day which proclaimed that an old soldier never dies, but just fades away. And like the old soldier of that day...

"... close my military career and just fade away... an old soldier who tried to do his duty as God gave him light to see it. Good-bye."

Lons Jury Panel May Be Filled Today

Selection of the 12-member jury for the James Lons murder trial is expected to be completed today.

However, if jury selection is completed, it still appears unlikely that any testimony will begin until Monday. No court sessions have been scheduled for Saturdays.

Lons, 53-year-old Iowa City cafe operator, is charged with fatally stabbing Andrew Davelis, 40, a waiter in Lons' cafe. The incident happened last Oct. 20, in Iowa City.

At the close of the third day of the trial, 29 of 44 persons questioned had been seated on the jury panel with 15 chosen Thursday.

Three of Panel Excused
However, three prospective jurors, whose names were not revealed, were excused from jury duty upon agreement of state and defense attorneys. No reason was given for their removal.

In their place, Judge Paul H. McCoid ordered three other persons seated, but the three excused will remain seated until formally discharged.

15 Seated Thursday

Mrs. Luella Zahner, housewife who lives four miles southwest of Cosgrove.

Questioning by County Atty. William L. Meardon, his special assistant, Atty. D. C. Nolan, and Defense Atty. A. C. Cahill and William Bartley followed the same course as during the previous two days.

Policeman Resigns

Patrick J. McCarney, Iowa City policeman, resigned Thursday, effective May 21.

McCarney was one of the two policemen who had custody of Andrew Davelis the morning of Oct. 21, 1950, when Davelis died.

McCarney cited insufficient income as the reason prompting his resignation, and said that he will accept a job with a local business firm.

Another officer, Bernard Redlinger, resigned April 10.

Robeson to Leave Hospital Today

Prof. George F. Robeson, political science department, will be released from University hospitals today and will probably return to classes Monday, Prof. Kirk H. Porter, head of the political science department, said Thursday.

Robeson has been in the hospital under observation since he collapsed in a class he was teaching Tuesday.

Paving Contracts Let For New Bypass On Highway 6

Contracts awarded for grading and paving a highway 6 bypass around Coralville bring the total cost of constructing the bypass to $508,322.

New contracts totalling $390,073 for grading and paving the slightly more than three miles of the bypass were announced Thursday in Ames by the state highway commission.

The bid-letting also included three farm-to-market road and bridge construction projects in Johnson county.

The highway 6 construction will change the course of the road so that it passes Coralville on the west joining with the old highway 1,000 feet west of the intersection with highway 153.

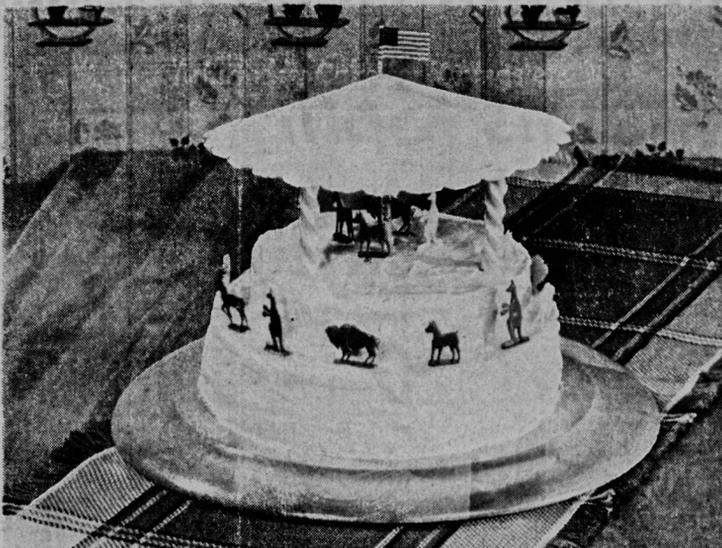

The construction includes a four lane bridge to be built over Clear Creek. A $118,249 contract for the bridge was let last Oct. 24 to the Schmidt company, Winfield.

Paving the bypass was contracted for by Fred Carlson and company with a low bid of $262,238, while the grading will be done by Mickle and Ross, Newton, for $127,835.

Contracts awarded for work on the three farm-to-market roads included:

1. The Schmidt company received the bid for a 210 by 20 foot continuous I-beam bridge across Old Man's Creek on county trunk road K, at a cost of $51,253.
2. M. Y. Johnson, Cedar Rapids, contracted to grade 3.843 miles of local road in Hardin township. His bid was $26,360. Culverts on the road will cost $10,117.
3. Johnson also submitted the low bid for 2,149 miles of road from Newport to Morse. His contract is for grading the road at a cost of $13,420.

A Birthday Cake for Youngsters

A "CIRCUS" OR "CARNIVAL" BIRTHDAY cake is that special added attraction to any birthday party. Your child will love the doily "tent top" and the stick candy "support poles". Serve this cake with ice cream topped by delicious sauces and you will give your child a never to be forgotten birthday celebration.

Sparerib Crown Fixed With Corn Bread Dressing, Apples

You'll have a glamorous main dish and save money, too, if you choose a spareribs crown, filled with savory corn bread dressing, for a family or company meal.

To prepare the crown use two sides of spareribs skewered or tied together to stand upright for the roasting process. Tell your butcher to trim the ribs so they'll stand easily. In the center, to bake to a golden loveliness, goch rich corn bread dressing with bits of red-skinned apples to lend flavor. The juices for the ribs permeate the dressing and make it oh-so-good.

Spareribs Crown

To make the dressing for the spareribs crown use:

- 4 cups crumbled corn bread (see recipe below)
- 1/4 cup butter or margarine
- 1/2 cup diced celery
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper
- 1/2 teaspoon ground sage
- 3 cups chopped red apples
- 1 egg (beaten)

Mix corn bread with butter or margarine cut into very small pieces, celery, seasonings, and apple. Mix in egg lightly.

Corn Bread (For Dressing)

Ingredients for the corn bread are:

- 1 cup enriched yellow corn meal
- 1 cup sifted enriched flour
- 1/4 cup sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon salt

Circus Birthday Cake Helps Child Celebrate

Birthdays have no season, but it seems that spring birthdays for small children deserve a special party with all the trimmings. A small child looks forward to that important day when he or she receives very special attention, even to the traditional spanking.

For his or her special party, try this "carnival" or "circus" cake that will delight any child and is something which can be homemade though having the appearance of professional perfection.

To make this festive cake, bake two layers of your favorite cake, making one layer about an inch smaller in diameter than the other. Put the layers together with the smaller one on top and cover with glossy white frosting.

Select a paper doily each the size of the lower cake layer. Cut the doily to the center, fold over and paste so that the doily is slightly cone shaped.

Fasten about six inches above the top of the cake, tent fashion, using a toy drum stick sharpened on one end for a "center pole" and stick candy as supports for the doily. You'll need about four sticks of candy for supports.

For real circus "atmosphere," stand colored plastic animal statuettes around the cake on the lower layer, and on the top layer under the "tent top."

The ice cream for your child's party can be made even more appetizing by a special sauce. Here are three sauces which, incidentally, bring cheers from both young and old.

Chocolate Peppermint Sauce

- 4 teaspoons baking powder
- 1 egg
- 1 cup milk
- 1/4 cup shortening (soft)

Sift together dry ingredients into medium-sized mixing bowl. Add egg, milk and shortening. Beat with rotary beater until smooth, about 1 minute. Do not overbeat. Bake in greased 8-inch pan 20 to 25 minutes.

Variety Tips for Packed Lunches

Variety in school lunches at home and packed for school is always a problem for the homemaker. Here are some suggestions to help you with your lunch planning program, all of them delicious, easy-to-make and penny-smart.

6 Luncheons at Home

Cross strips of crisp bacon on toast which has been spread generously with apple butter. Serve with a green or yellow vegetable, fruit gelatin and milk.

Broil sausage links about six minutes, then turn and add canned peach halves to the broiler pan. Broil six minutes longer. Serve with baked potatoes and a salad made from left-over vegetables. For dessert, oatmeal cookies and chocolate milk.

Mix ground meat with salt and pepper and moisten to spreading consistency with a little milk. Remove crusts from slices of bread, spread meat mixture to edges and broil about six minutes. Serve with celery sticks, buttered carrots and packaged pudding with a jelly topping.

Lunches to Carry

Make sandwiches with a variety of meaty fillings and, for interest, different types of bread.

For good bologna sandwiches, use rye bread and softened butter or margarine to which a little horse radish or mustard has been added.

Liverwurst, mixed with chopped celery and pickle relish juice to moisten, makes an excellent sandwich filling.

Chopped leftover roast or baked ham mixed with mayonnaise, shredded carrots and a few salted peanuts is another fine sandwich spread. To complete the packed lunch, include a vegetable relish such as carrot sticks, ripe olives and fruit with cake or cookies.

Bring the SUI symphony orchestra. Gingerbread or cup cakes, usually are popular with the little lunch carriers. Another good dessert to include is pudding or gelatin packed in cardboard containers.

Lemon Juice Helps

As with sliced apples, bananas, fresh peaches or pears, you have to squeeze lemon juice over cut avocado. Otherwise, it will turn a dark, unappetizing color.

Have CHICKEN this week . . .

Southern Fried Chicken

Clean chicken and cut in serving pieces. Roll in flour seasoned with salt and pepper; brown on both sides in 1/2 cup of hot fat. Reduce heat and cook slowly, about 1 hour, turning pieces to brown evenly on all sides. Or finish cooking in moderately slow oven (325 degrees).

Make cream gravy from 1/4 cup of the pan drippings.

Irish Score Run In Eighth To Beat Hawks, 11-10

Iowa Opens Loop Season At Evanston

(Special to The Daily Iowan)
SOUTH BEND, IND. — Notre Dame broke a tie ball game in the last half of the eighth inning here Thursday afternoon to beat the Iowa Hawkeyes for the second straight day, 11-10.

Today Iowa is scheduled to open its Big Ten season against Northwestern at Evanston.

About the only consolation the Hawks could draw from Thursday's game was that they were the first team to score on Notre Dame this season. Irish pitchers had hurled 19 scoreless innings before Iowa broke loose with four runs in the third inning.

Notre Dame scored nine of its 11 runs in the first three innings. Whitey Diehl started for the Hawks and was belted for 8 hits in 2 and a third innings before Jim Anderson relieved.

The Irish were held scoreless during the fourth, fifth and sixth innings while Iowa scored six more runs for a 10-9 lead. This stood up until the bottom of the seventh when Notre Dame evened matters with a single run.

Then in the eighth the Irish scored the game winning run when First Baseman Jim Gillis singled home Jim Gibbons from second base. Iowa Pitcher Jim Riedesel, who relieved Anderson, walked Gibbons and he was sacrificed at second.

Second Baseman Bill Stenger and First Baseman Bud Kurt were the hitting stars for the Hawks. The two collected half of Iowa's 10 hits. Stenger slammed three hits in five trips to the plate and Kurt had two for five including a triple.

Thursday's defeat makes Iowa's record stand at 6-4 for the season. Coach Otto Vogel will probably start Glenn Drahn against the Wildcats this afternoon with Riedesel a probable starter against Northwestern in Saturday's second game of the series.

Michigan, Five Other Teams Start Big Ten Play This Weekend

CHICAGO (AP) — Defending Co-champion Michigan and five other Big Ten teams will open their conference baseball schedules this weekend.

The Wolverines entertain Illinois in a Friday-Saturday set. It will be the first conference action for the Illini, whose brace against Iowa last weekend was postponed. Other conference season starters include Iowa at Northwestern and Minnesota at Ohio State. Indiana which holds the only victory thus far scored in the weather-plagued conference race is host to Notre Dame in non-league play Friday and Saturday. The Hoosiers scored a 6-3 win over Wisconsin last Saturday. The finale of an Indiana-Badger twin bill was called because of darkness with the score tied at 10-10.

The co-champion Badgers appear at State College of Memphis Friday and at St. Louis Saturday in a twin bill against Washington university. Purdue is home to Illinois Wesleyan in a Friday-Saturday brace, while Michigan State plays Wayne of Detroit Saturday at East Lansing.

Braves, Giants Split Doubleheader

BOSTON (AP) — Earl Torgeson's single with the bases loaded in the tenth inning salvaged the second half of a wild doubleheader for the Boston Braves Thursday, 13-12, after New York's Jim Hearn won the opener, 4-2, with a steady seven-hit pitching job.

The Braves blew leads of 5-1 and 9-5 in the second game only to have the Giants bounce back with five in the eighth when Monte Irvin hit a homer with the bases loaded. Sam Jethroe hit two homers earlier in the game.

After the Giant spurt the Braves took a 12-10 lead in the eighth only to have the Giants tie in the top of the ninth. Finally in the tenth, after Buddy Kerr's single, a sacrifice and two walks, Torgeson broke it up.

CHICAGO (P) — Paul Minner bested William Ramsdell in a pitchers' duel Thursday and the Chicago Cubs defeated the Cincinnati Reds, 3-0, before 4,626 chilled fans. Ramsdell gave up only six hits to the Cubs, who handed the Reds their third setback in three games of the season.

The Cubs scored their first run on a fielder's choice after two hits in the first inning. Andy Pafko's single drove in the other two runs in the eighth.
