Congressional Battle Rages Over MacArthur, Truman Policy Split

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans in congress accused the Truman administration Saturday of taking a "one-sided" account of a Presidential conference on the Korean war in an effort to "discredit" Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

At the same time, Chairman Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.) told reporters the senate armed services committee will demand "all available documents" — including those covering President Truman's Wake Island meeting with MacArthur last October — in its inquiry into Far Eastern military and foreign policies.

Stormy Reaction

Republicans reacted stormily after reading a New York Times dispatch from Washington dealing with the Wake Island conference. The dispatch said that, according to administration records made at the time, MacArthur was so confident of victory in Korea that he offered what he regarded as his best troops, the United States second division, for service in Europe.

The dispatch added that according to the documented sources, Gen. MacArthur apologized for embarrassing the President on the Formosa issue, and predicted the Chinese Communists would not enter the Korean conflict.

In more recent months, policy differences between the President and MacArthur mounted, and resulted in the general's removal from the Far East command.

Committee Will Get Look

A defense department spokesman said late Saturday that "an analysis of the basic differences which exist between the joint chiefs of staff and Gen. MacArthur" will be given to the congressional committees now preparing to look into the controversy.

There was no immediate explanation of the reason for issuing the statement. However, it was recalled that MacArthur said on Thursday that the joint chiefs of staff, in the past, had from a military standpoint shared his views on how to conduct the Far East war.

Rep. Joseph Martin of Massachusetts, house Republican leader, said in New York that administration groups are trying to "smear" MacArthur "but they won't get away with it."

Information "Planted"

Senator Homer Capehart (R-Ind.), who has threatened to fight anyone who calls him a "war-monger" because he supports MacArthur's views, told reporters he thinks President Truman himself is responsible for the leak in hitherto confidential documents.

Senator Harry P. Cain (R-Wash.) said the information "obviously was planted by someone." (The New York Times in a dispatch from Washington by Anthony Leviero says:

"The New York Times correspondent, who had covered the Wake Island conference, gained access to documented administration sources, on which he based Saturday's story, entirely on his own initiative.

"They were in no sense preferred. To insure objective reporting, he made his own condition that no part of the record of the deliberations should be withdrawn from him."

In New York, Maj. Gen. Courtney Whitney, MacArthur aide, said no stenographic notes were taken when the President conferred with MacArthur on Wake.

The White House had no comment on Saturday's developments. President Truman was on a yacht cruise in Chesapeake Bay.

Nominations for SUI Senior Man, Woman Of Year Due Friday

Nominations for 1951 Hawkeye man and woman of the year will open Monday.

The annual award to two outstanding SUI seniors will be made at the University Women's association Mother's day banquet May 12. The award is given by Omicron Delta Kappa and Mortar Board, men's and women's honorary leadership fraternities.

Nominations must be filed in sealed envelopes at the office of student affairs, room 111, University hall, by 5 p.m. Friday, Don Guthrie, A4, Iowa City, chairman of the nominations committee said.

Nominations may be made by housing units or individual students. Candidates must be seniors with at least 90 semester hours and a minimum of three semesters at SUI. They cannot be members of ODK or Mortar Board.

Information which must be included with nominations is:

1. Name of candidate.
2. Grade point of candidate.
3. Qualifications of candidate in such fields as student government, athletics, religion, honorary societies and other campus activities.

Final selection of the Hawkeye man and woman will be made by ODK and Mortar Board.

Medicine Man Show Best; Turchen 'Ugliest'

Despite rain and the Iowa no-gambling law, more than 2,100 students, faculty, and townspeople paid their way into the Iowa fieldhouse Saturday night for the annual all-university carnival.

One of the highlights of the evening was the annual baby race, with Stephen Couch, 11 and one-half month old son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Couch, 145 Stadium park, bumping and crawling to victory over 11 other tiny tots.

"Medicine Show" was given a "traveling" trophy for the best carnival booth. "Souze Specific" booth was second. Judges were Prof. Hugh Kelo, political science department, and Prof. George Mosse, history department.

The Ugliest Man on campus was unmasked as Dick Turchen, A3, Sioux City, who was sponsored by Phi Epsilon Pi. He received 2,686 votes during the four day voting period.

Queens at the presentation were Ann Wells, A2, Story City; Pat Merrick, N4, Cedar Falls; Shirley Jose, A2, Des Moines, and Jo Vogt, A2, Elgin, Ill.

AEC Awards Electrolysis Research Grant to SUI

SUI received one of 14 research contracts from the atomic energy commission (AEC) Saturday. Dr. S. Wawzonek, professor of organic chemistry will direct the research. The award was made to study electrolysis of organic compounds. The contracts from the AEC were given for research in fields of biology, medicine, physical research and physics.

Great Debate Continues: Taft v. Douglas

(From the Wire Services)

WASHINGTON — Sen. Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) in a ringing defense of Gen. Douglas MacArthur, said Saturday night that this country should follow the general's advice and bomb Chinese Communist bases in Manchuria in order to win the Korean war.

But Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill.) continued the "Great Debate" on Far Eastern policy with a staunch defense of President Truman.

Taft said he has no objection to MacArthur's proposal that Chinese Nationalist troops from Formosa invade the Red-held mainland. He said he believes such an invasion would relieve the pressure on U.S. forces in Korea and would not involve us in a war with Russia.

Douglas outlined reasons for not bombing Manchurian bases and for not supporting all-out invasion of the Chinese mainland as advocated by MacArthur.

"For us now to attack any Manchurian air bases," Douglas said, "might cause the entire enemy air force, both Russian and Chinese, to stage an all-out attack upon our troops and our bases and upon Japan itself."

Taft discussed the Korean situation with Douglas before the American Society of Newspaper editors.

Truman Establishes 18-Man Labor Board

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Truman Saturday set up an 18-member industry-labor-public board to handle wage stabilization and labor-management disputes.

The move is expected to break a big log-jam on major wage-increase contracts which have been piling up since the old board collapsed under a labor boycott two months ago.

The tri-partite board will handle both wage and non-wage issues, as demanded by labor. This means an end to the boycott.

But the agency faces a sharp going-over in congress. Sen. Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) already has said it would be "extralegal" in that it is not "authorized by law."

There will be six members each from industry, labor, and the public.

Mr. Truman already has named Dr. George W. Taylor of the University of Pennsylvania as chairman.

World Situation at a Glance

FRANKFURT — U.S. air forces disclosed that three F-84 Thunderjet fighters have crashed in five days, killing the pilots. An investigation has been ordered.

WASHINGTON — Defense department announces it will present to congress "an analysis of the basic differences which exist" between the joint chiefs of staff and General MacArthur on Far East strategy.

MANILA — Manila Times says five U.S. air force enlisted men were ambushed and slain by Communist Huk north of Manila Friday night.

BERLIN — Soviet Russia has detailed plans for creating a Communist East German army of 25 divisions, authoritative East German sources say.

KOREAN FRONT — Allied troops plunge as much as five miles north into a soft, undefended bulge in Communist defense lines, but have not yet caught up with the main Chinese forces in North Korea.

Other Ugly Man candidates and their vote totals were Bob Keefe, 1,473; Tom Hyde, 1,346; Chuck Wheeler, 965; Ron Peterson, 757; Jim Osgood, 708; Jerry Felowitz, 355; Dick Pahre, 352; Lou Hurwitz, 230, and Charles Brandon, 89.

IT WAS A HARD RACE, but I won, Mom, might have been what Stephen Couch was thinking after he won first place in the baby race at the annual all-university carnival Saturday night in the fieldhouse. Stephen, 11 and a half months old, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Couch, 145 Stadium park. Second place in this unique race in which only "crawlers" were eligible, was won by Stephen Full, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elliot Full, 812 Maggard, Nancy Strohm, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Barney Strohm, 116 Central park, finished third in a field of 12. The race was sponsored by Omicron Delta Kappa and Mortar Board.

Allied Forces Continue Gains Against Chinese

TOKYO (SUNDAY) — Allied troops and tanks rolled the main line northward up to five miles Saturday along a 30-mile front in the mountainous center of Red Korea. But reinforced Chinese fought the Allies almost to a standstill before strategic Chorwon.

The advances had not yet caught up with the main Chinese buildup area and fought bitterly to hold the anchor bases of Chorwon and Kumhwa.

UN planes and artillery killed or wounded many Red reinforcements yesterday and the big guns continued their pounding under a bright moon during the night. North Korean troops moving in north and northeast of the Hwachon reservoir were sent fleeing by the Allied artillery.

The general did not elaborate on his optimistic and provocative remark.

The power-packed push in the center carried UN forces as much as 10 miles north of the 38th parallel.

There was token resistance in spots but elsewhere the Allies made no contact with the enemy. Planes and artillery had paced the attack.

The new central front drive was launched after nearly a week of intensive patrolling indicated the Reds had withdrawn from the bulge they held in UN lines, 25 miles to the east.

Allied tank patrols previously had probed to within two miles of Chorwon, western anchor of the Reds defense triangle. But reinforcements swarmed out of the

Urge Editors Fight News Suppression

WASHINGTON (AP) — The American Society of Newspaper Editors (ASNE) heard Saturday there is "appalling evidence" that government officials are trying to withhold news from the people.

The society's committee on freedom of information, headed by James S. Pope of the Louisville Courier-Journal, reported there is a growing trend toward "arrogant suppression of news" and added:

"We editors have been assuming that no one would dispute this premise: that when the people rule, they have a right to know all their government does.

Vandenberg, Mother Of Bi-Partisan Policy, Buried with Homage

(From the Wire Services)

GRAND RAPIDS, MICH. — The late U.S. Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg, who rose from a harness maker's home to influence the future of his people, was buried Saturday.

And the free world he helped bind together for peace paid him final tribute.

Mingle Pomp and Homage

The 67-year-old Republican statesman went to his last resting place in ceremonies mingling gracefully the pomp and homage due a world figure and the simple Congregational burial rites.

Fifteen-hundred of the senator's friends and admirers crowded into the flower-banked church that Vandenberg helped build. Another 7,000 jammed the square across the street.

In the forefront were more than 100 dignitaries of state and local government. In the background were more than 5,000 of the hometown folks who saw his rise from a boy newspaper editor to become one of the architects of the United Nations.

Police estimated that there were 8,000 persons at the Oak Hill cemetery for the burial services. The entire three-mile route from the church to the cemetery was lined with spectators who watched the city's first citizen go to his final resting place.

Vice-President Barkley Present

There was no weeping at the cemetery where brief burial services were conducted. After the burial, Vice President Alben Barkley and other dignitaries shook hands with Vandenberg's family and expressed their condolences.

Michigan's senior senator, who planned to retire in January, 1953, died last Wednesday from complications of a malignant tumor. He had delayed a much-needed operation for more than a year to help forge the North Atlantic defense pact.

Mac Sees Hoover; Plans Chicago Trip

(From the Wire Services)

NEW YORK — Gen. Douglas MacArthur interrupted his first full day of rest since his return to the United States to visit with former President Herbert Hoover, his "old chief," Saturday.

At the same time one of his aides announced the general will spend Thursday and Thursday night in Chicago before going to his home town of Milwaukee Friday. These will be the final two MacArthur celebrations which the general will attend.

MacArthur left his presidential suite on the 37th floor of the Waldorf towers to visit Hoover, who occupied a suite six floors below. The general took the elevator down to see Mr. Hoover and stayed 20 minutes. Maj. Gen. Courtney Whitney, MacArthur's aide, declined to say what they chatted about but added that "no politics were discussed."

City officials of Chicago and Milwaukee greeted joyously the word that General MacArthur has picked the dates for his first midwestern visit since coming home, and set out to rival New York in a rousing welcome.

Milwaukee is the General's legal home.

Rep. Ludwig Says Chain Interests Blocked Bill

Plans to start construction of the new $3.5-million addition to the Iowa Union have been temporarily stalled.

Rep. G. M. Ludwig (R-Tiffin) said Saturday night a bill to authorize borrowing of funds for construction of the addition had died in the house sifting committee under pressure from chain hotel interests.

The state legislature adjourned its biennial session Friday. Ludwig quoted a chain hotel lobbyist as saying the hotel interests were against the bill because it would involve the university, a non-taxed state institution, competing with private enterprise.

Limited Hotel Service

Plans for limited hotel service are included in the proposed Union addition.

Ludwig said he did not receive the bill until Feb. 22, one day before the deadline for introducing companion bills were introduced into both the house and senate Feb. 23.

Committee Favors Bill

The senate bill 428 was referred to the committee on schools and educational institutions under the chairmanship of Sen. Allen Doud (R-Douglas). The committee recommended that the bill be passed and the senate passed it Thursday.

Ludwig said his bill, 534, was referred to the committee on public lands and buildings under the chairmanship of Rep. Howard E. Brookings (R-Oakland).

The bill was turned over to a subcommittee under Rep. Clayton D. Sherod (R-Birmingham) and the subcommittee unanimously approved its passing.

The bill was returned to the main committee where it failed to pass by one vote. It received six affirmative votes, one short of the requirement.

Chairman Opposed

Ludwig said he did not know of the lobbyist until the day after the bill failed to pass in the public lands and building committee. He said Brookings was also against the bill for reasons similar to those expressed by the hotel chain lobbyist.

Ludwig said that he had not expected any serious opposition to the bill or he would have been prepared.

An attempt was made to bring the bill up again at the next meeting of the main committee, but in the meantime the sifting committee took jurisdiction over the bill.

"Sifts Out" Bills

Sifting committees are set up in nature near the end of each legislative session to "sift out" bills for consideration on the floor of both houses.

Ludwig said that it would have been practically impossible to get the bill out of the sifting committee at so late a date.

The addition to the Union was first proposed in 1938. After preliminary sketches were drawn up by SUI Architect George Horner, President Hancher officially authorized construction of the addition in 1942.

Complete plans for the addition were drawn up by architects from the Des Moines firm of Tinsley, Higgins and Lighter.

Board Approves Plans

The Iowa board of education approved plans to finance the addition by increasing SUI tuition fees March 16, 1950. It authorized tuition increases of $6 a semester and $3 a summer session which went into effect last fall.

Immediate financing was to have been done by floating a bond issue. Securing of the money is in the hands of a special committee composed of Harper, Ambrose and Ben Swisher, president of the Iowa Union corporation.

Construction of the addition, which would double the present size of the Union, was to have begun in the fall of 1951.

The addition was designed to serve three purposes:

1. Student service — facilities for dancing, motion pictures, television and lounges.
2. Food service — six additional dining rooms served by a centralized kitchen.
3. A $1-million guest house with between 75 and 100 rooms. This limited hotel service would be open to visiting alumni, athletic teams, speakers and guests of the university.

The guest house was to defray its original cost over a 20-year period by renting out rooms.

The addition, about 300 feet square, was to face south toward SUI's new central library.

Rep. G. M. Ludwig Introduced Resolution

fore the deadline for introducing bills in the house.

"If I had had the bill a month earlier," Ludwig said, "I am of the opinion that we would have passed it."

Bill Held Up

Ludwig said he did not know whether the bill was held up at the university or by the state board of education.

Arthur Leff, SUI counsel, Saturday night declined to comment. President Virgil M. Hancher and Prof. Earl E. Harper, director of the Iowa Union, were out of town.

Ludwig said Bill Morrison, chairman of the legislative committee of Iowa City chamber of commerce, informed him that his committee favored the bill.

Fred W. Ambrose, SUI business manager, said Saturday night he did not believe that the bill's dying in the sifting committee necessarily meant that construction could not start before the next meeting of the legislature in 1953.

"We'll just have to search around to see if we can find other means to legalize the request to borrow the money," Ambrose said.

Wanted Legislative Backing

The bill was sent to the legislature, he pointed out, because legislative backing of the measure would provide reasonable assurance that necessary funds could be borrowed from financial institutions.

Ambrose pointed out that legislative authorization of the matter was not legally required. He explained that construction of any university building requiring state appropriations had to be approved by the legislature. However, the union addi-

Announce Tough Price Controls

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government Saturday night announced a "tough" new price control policy forbidding industries to raise prices if profits exceed a set standard.

Under this "yardstick" standard, no industry will be permitted to increase prices if the industry's dollar profits amount to 85 percent or more of the average of its three best years during the four-year period 1946-1949, inclusive.

The step was announced by economic stabilizer Eric Johnston. It is one of a series of steps designed to tighten inflation controls all along the line.

Johnston laid down the profit yardstick in an order to Price Director Michael V. DiSalle.

Some Clarification, Please

Frankly, we are confused on the Woodlawn pre-school issue as to whether or not the court order to close the school is just. And, evidently, the entire town is confused about it, too.

Letters we have received and talks with people on both sides of the issue have done nothing but further confuse us. Charges and countercharges have been made which we find difficult to verify in any way.

Persons on each side of the argument have become so bitter they have hurled the charge of "boldfaced liar" at persons on the opposite side.

The one thing which is clear, however, is that the fight has revolved around the sanitation report filed by City Health Physician Dr. D. F. Fitzpatrick. Proponents of the school claim it is false and irresponsible. Opponents of the school say it is true in every respect. The operators of the school, Mr. and Mrs. David C. Davis, have stated that the only thing they desire is another health inspection by a disinterested physician. Their opponents say this would be nothing but a slam at Dr. Fitzpatrick.

However, since the fight has converged on the sanitation report, we feel it is the duty of the city council, as the city's organ of representative government, to do something toward clearing the air on this specific point.

That would be to call a special council meeting and authorize another health inspection.

Whether or not the first health report by Dr. Fitzpatrick was verified by a second inspection is not the paramount concern.

What is important is that everyone, participants and especially local citizen spectators, would be assured that no injustice was being done (which is the big question mark in the fight at present) and that the new city council is conscientiously performing its duty as a fair and representative governing body.

Interpreting the News

Mac's Right to Hearing Impresses Europeans

By J. M. ROBERTS JR.
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Europe has been quick to see in the MacArthur row something that Americans, long accustomed to it, have been prone to overlook in the heat of debate.

Yet it is something which typifies as well as anything the very attitude of life which is fundamental in the conflict with all-coveting Communism.

It is the spectacle of a general, so badly on the outs with his commander in chief that he had to be ousted, yet able to use the world's greatest forum of government—a joint session of the congress—with complete liberty to reiterate his views and his criticisms.

It is the spectacle of millions of people, disagreeing with the edict of their President for one part and paying tribute to the untarnishable record of a hero for another part.

European editors have been quick to point their fingers at Russia and say, "It couldn't happen there."

These are the same editors who have criticized MacArthur's actions and the policies he has proposed.

But they have seen the President of the United States cancel a speech and advance a press conference so as not to divert any part of the spotlight from MacArthur's day in Washington.

The London Times, for instance, foresees a great deal of trouble for the administration growing out of the general's Washington speech, even though it thinks his dismissal was necessary.

Berlin's Der Tag does likewise: "In Moscow, a stubborn general would have been silenced. In Washington he was called on to speak."

A New York policeman with whom I have a train-waiting acquaintance had the idea, too. I remarked that his department must have been put to a great deal of trouble, not only to police the gathering of seven million people on the city streets to welcome the general, but also to see that no untoward incident affected him.

"Oh, nobody would take a crack at him, even if they think he's wrong. 'Tis a grand land, you know."

Military, or Political?

For the Record

Theme for Cynthia—And a Cast of Thousands—

By JOHN VOORHEES

Harry James has a new Columbia record that would make Max Steiner or Franz Waxman turn over in their chromium plated recording studios. Titled "Theme for Cynthia," it sounds like a hodge-podge of every B picture's background music since Jolson first sang "Mammy" and we exchanged the piano in the pit for the sound track.

If "Cynthia" (for whom the theme is named) were really a film I'm sure it would be one of those June Haver musical-type things (in color by Natalie, of course) and it would open on a spring day showing June with her boy friend, played by Frankie Laine, who is singing her his newest release, "The Jalopy Song." ("My jalopy's a Cadillac when you are riding with me.") It's a waltz but Frankie, who is soon switching from Mercury to Columbia, switches to swing in the middle of the record.

Of course, YOU know Cynthia isn't as happy as she seems for she's secretly in love with and has been listening to the blandishments of the local romeo. He's been wooing her with song—a la Vaughn Monroe, whose latest releases have tried to please everyone. Two are waltzes, "Oh Merry, Merry Me" (June really swooned at that one) and "On Top of Old Smoky" ("What a place for a honeymoon," she thought)—neither should have been written or recorded.

Vaughn's latest, "Shall We Dance" from "The King and I," is however the best Monroe record in some time. But alas—the last record Monroe plays for Cynthia is the army song, "Sound Off," and Cynthia—like Ella Kitt—realizes the army is taking over.

Next we find Cynthia, sad but undaunted, playing Patti Page's latest Mercury record, "Down the Trail of Achin' Hearts," a three-handkerchief song. But Cynthia turns the disc over and the flip gives her new courage. It's Patti doing a good job in the rhythm number, "Ever True, Evermore," backed by Harry Geller's orchestra.

Now, for some unknown reason our little Nell (excuse me, I meant Cynthia played superbly by June) arrives at the conclusion she must make her way in the Big City and our next scene finds her doing one of those wonderful railroad station numbers. All the village boys are there, looking and sounding like Tommy Dorsey, his band, and his latest Decca record, "Sweet Adeline" and "Diane." Both are done with a beat and chant in the background like T.D.'s old Victor success, "Marie."

After a quick montage of Cynthia going to the city, Cynthia getting a job, Cynthia becoming an overnight success modeling carpet slippers on TV, we come to the night club scene. Cynthia enters the "Club Chez" (rhymes with one horse) to meet a blind date Faye Emerson arranged for her. (You might have known SHE would turn up sooner or later.)

Hungary to Expel 'Confessed U.S. Spy' In Diplomatic Trade

BUDAPEST, HUNGARY (AP)—The Hungarian government announced Saturday night it had completed negotiations to "expel" Robert A. Vogeler, New York businessman sentenced to 15 years in prison on charges of spying against this Communist country.

The announcement did not say when Vogeler will leave the country. It followed many months of negotiations between the United States and the Hungarian government for release of the 39-year-old Vogeler.

A government announcement said the negotiations called for fulfillment by the U.S. of "various just Hungarian demands not yet fulfilled so far." American officials had no comment on the nature of the Hungarian demands.

U.S. Minister to Hungary Nathaniel Davis called the Hungarian announcement "correct" and said he did not know yet whether Vogeler was out of prison.

In Vienna, beautiful blonde Lucille Vogeler, who has worked unceasingly for release of her husband, said, "If this is true, I will be the happiest woman in the world. I am so excited and happy that I cannot even talk."

Vogeler, assistant vice-president of the International Telephone and Telegraph company, was arrested in late 1949 while driving from Budapest to Vienna to see his wife and two small sons. He was held incommunicado until he appeared as one of the chief defendants in an espionage case three months later. Hungary refused efforts to provide an American lawyer for him.

He was sentenced Feb. 21, 1950, after pleading guilty.

Diplomatic observers outside Hungary called it a "frameup" and the state department said a "sealed verdict of guilty" was prepared even before Vogeler's plea in the court.

Iowa Legislature Kills Labor, Defense Plans

DES MOINES (AP)—Gov. William S. Beardsley got most of his recommendations enacted into law by the 1951 legislature, but at least two of his major proposals were either ignored or killed.

In his inaugural message, the governor recommended no increase in taxes, legalizing the union shop, creation of a new civilian defense set-up, increasing the cost of the drivers' license to pay for the increased highway patrol, simplification of school reorganization laws, screening by state psychiatrists of persons convicted of sex crimes, and enactment of the so-called "Minnesota" anti-gambling law.

The legislature completely ignored Beardsley's recommendation that the union shop be legalized. Bills were introduced to that end, but they never reached the floor of either house.

Civilian defense died in the last minutes of the session. However, civilian defense will continue under the old law and be administered by Rodney Q. Selby, director of the Iowa development commission. The legislature gave the development commission $200,000 a year to be used for civilian defense.

The anti-gambling law was the first major law passed by the 1951 legislature. It provided for revocation of business licenses of places where gambling is found.

Lawmakers increased the highway patrol to 225 men as suggested by Beardsley and increased the cost of a driver's license to $1.50 for two years. Beardsley only asked for an increase to $1.

School reorganization laws were changed to take final decision in the cases from the state superintendent of public instruction and allow for appealing the decisions of school boards to district courts.

Beardsley's sex crimes recommendation failed. A bill to carry out some of the provisions of the governor's recommendation reached the house floor, but was deferred and finally withdrawn when sponsors decided there was too much opposition to it.

Most of the recommendations of the special committee on municipal laws were adopted. The major recommendations included limiting the millage levy of cities to 30 mills in several different funds. The total of the various funds would be 49 mills, but the law provides that although the municipality may levy the maximum in some funds, the total of all may not exceed 30 mills.

The legislature also provided for four-year terms for city officials if the voters approve.

Only a few of the recommendations of the "Little Hoover" commission were adopted.

One set up a new budget and financial control committee to replace the old legislative interim committee. The committee, like the old one, will function during the interim between legislative sessions.

However, the new committee in addition will aid the governor in preparation of his budget to be submitted to each session of the legislature.

It also has most of the functions of the old committee—allocating money in an emergency to state agencies and departments, and conducting investigations. The new committee also is authorized to conduct a continuing study of re-organization of state government.

The governor also asked the legislature not to increase taxes. That recommendation was followed largely. The legislature did provide the increases in permissive levies for some cities and counties, but the state income tax was continued at the present rate.

The legislature appropriated a record $228,284,682 for the next biennium. That was about $32-million in excess of the state's estimated income during the next two years beginning July 1 of $196-million.

However, some state officials said increased revenues from sales tax and income tax would make up most of the deficit. In addition, the state has a "rainy day" fund of $30-million which could be used if necessary.

San Gabriel
President Truman was hanged in effigy at San Gabriel college, Calif., in protest to his firing Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

A dummy was found dangling from a flagpole in front of the school with the label, "Harry S. Truman."

Police cut the dummy down after it had swung for about two hours. The director of the college said he had no idea who pulled the stunt.

Michigan State
A survey at Michigan State college shows that the average cost of a date there is $2.50, which includes movie and food.

A coffee date only adds up to 14 cents, but complained one student, "You can't depend on getting a girl who doesn't eat."

Most of the students questioned agreed that a weekend date can add up to $20, with tickets, a tuxedo and food.

Anti-Sorority Film
Sororities on most campuses have been receiving letters from their national headquarters recently advising girls how to treat an "anti-sorority" motion picture by 20th Century Fox studios.

The letters told the girls to stay calm and advised them to see the picture, named "Take Care of My Little Girl," in order to be able to answer any questions raised by the film.

The chairman of the interfraternity research and advisory council has already labeled the film as

Campus Life

Four leading universities will initiate a $1.2-million program this fall for top high school students who will be faced with military service.

Columbia, Wisconsin, Chicago and Yale will each admit 50 students under the age of 16 and a half as a three-year experiment financed by the Ford foundation for the advancement of education. Another 200 students will be admitted in the fall of 1952.

The basic assumption of the experiment is that "the quality of our national life, and the personal resources and competence our young men, will be impaired if college education is wholly postponed until after the period of military service."

Two-year scholarships will be offered on a national basis, with applicants permitted to apply to any of the four schools. All students will receive tuition, regardless of financial need. Cash grants for maintenance up to $1,000 a year will also be given to needy students.

Foreign-student enrollment in U.S. colleges is now at a record 30,000. Income from the students totals $75-million.

Iowa Citizen Named 1951 State Mother
The woman who has been chosen as Iowa mother of the year for 1951 says she feels "very humble" over the honor and considers it "a great challenge" to be of greater service.

Selection of Mrs. Hubbard was announced this week by Mrs. S.O. Knudson of Sioux Rapids, chairman of the Mother of Iowa committee. She now becomes Iowa's entry for American mother of the year, an award made annually by the Golden Rule foundation.

A former school teacher and wife of an Iowa City dentist, Mrs. Hubbard has been active in civic affairs and she writes a column, "At Home with Mother Hubbard," for the Iowa City Press-Citizen.

Iowa's Assembly Votes $32-Million Over Income
DES MOINES (AP)—Records showed Friday that Iowa's 54th general assembly, enacted appropriations that exceeded the state's estimated income.

An unofficial tally showed that appropriations for the next biennium amounted to $228,284,682. State officials estimated that income during the two-year period would total $196,600,000.

Suspect Convicts In Jute Mill Fire
SAN QUENTIN, CALIF. (AP)—A $3-million fire that destroyed the San Quentin prison jute mill was probably caused by convict arsonists, Warden Clinton Duffy said Friday.

The fire started at 1 p.m. Thursday just as 700 workers were filing back into the jute mill after lunch. It flashed through the 69-year-old building out of control within minutes, destroying its 65 looms which officials said were irreplaceable. Also lost were some 100,000 burlap sacks, many of them destined for Korea for use as sand bags.

The looms were to have been transferred soon to a new mill building under construction, but its operation will be delayed indefinitely because of the machinery loss, prison officials said.

Northwestern Trounces Iowa, 8-4, To Sweep Series

Wildcats Shell Riedesel; Late Iowa Rally Fails

EVANSTON, ILL. — Iowa's baseball team continued to flounder here Saturday as Northwestern again beat the Hawkeyes, 8-4. The victory, following Friday's 9-3 win, gave the Wildcats a sweep of the two-game series.

The game marked the end of a winless four-game road tour for Iowa. The Hawks had previously dropped a pair to Notre Dame at South Bend.

Doug Bielenberg scattered eight hits and fanned seven for Northwestern. The veteran rightly held the Hawkeyes scoreless for four innings while his teammates built up a four-run cushion and breezed home after Northwestern's three-run sixth.

A timely hitting attack and four Iowa errors aided the Northwestern cause no little. The 'Cats jumped off to a 2 to 0 lead in the second inning on singles by Don Blasius and Larry Dellefield and an error by Hawkeye Second Baseman Herald Greene.

They added two more runs in the next inning on consecutive singles by Bob Burson and Bob Will, a double to left by Ralph Swanson, and another Iowa error.

Northwestern's big sixth frame was featured by doubles by Dellefield and Larry Jones, Dale Swanson's infield hit, and a third Hawkeye error.

Only once did Iowa have Bielenberg on the ropes. That was in the eighth. Tom Stenger opened the inning by reaching first when second baseman Swanson dropped his fly ball in short right field.

After Duane Brandt skied to right, hits by George Hand and Bob Christoph fielded the bases.

One run scored as Greene grounded out to first and another came in on a wild pitch. But John Dinzole grounded to short for the final out of the inning. Bielenberg finished strong, striking out two Iowans in the top of the ninth.

Hawkeye Tennis Team Defeated by Indiana, 6-3

Iowa's tennis team dropped its first match of the season, 6-3, to Indiana here Saturday, in a match moved into the fieldhouse because of rain.

Bill Ball, Bruce Higley and Mike Trueblood won their singles matches to gain a 3-3 split going into the doubles. But the Hawks couldn't get going as the Hoosiers swept the doubles matches.

MANLEY WINS

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP) — Hobart Manley, Savannah, Ga., finished with five threes to beat Billy Joe Patton, Morganton, N.C. 1 up, Sunday in the 36-hole finals of the North and South amateur golf tournament.

OUT AT SECOND BASE was Sam Mele, Washington outfielder, as Phil Rizzuto of the New York Yankees whipped the ball to first for the second out of double play in the second inning of a game which the Yanks won 8-7. Gene Verble, Nat's infielder, started the play by grouching to Jerry Coleman, New York second baseman.

Iowa Golfers Top Illini, 19-2, for First Win

Iowa's golfers slogged to a 19-2 win over Illinois here Saturday for their first win in three matches.

Led by Tom Crabbe's brilliant 69 the Hawk's swept through the six singles matches and two of the doubles.

Play was restricted to the upper nine, due to the recent flood which left the bottom plot under water. Chuck Kromer was second low for the Hawks with 71. Don Casaday was low for the Illini with 73.

In the doubles, which was a best ball match, Dick Ferguson and Jim Fahrner put their talents together on a 34 for the nine holes.

Northwestern invades Finkbine field next Saturday, to continue Iowa's conference competition.

Dodgers Top Giants, 7-3; Braves, Reds Win

Dodgers 7, Giants 3

NEW YORK (AP) — The Brooklyn Dodgers capitalized on Larry Jansen's wildness and some lusty hitting by Jackie Robinson Saturday to trounce the New York Giants, 7-3.

Robinson drove in three runs on a homer and double as the Dodgers snapped a 3-all tie with a three-run rally in the eighth.

Jansen held the Dodgers hitless until the fourth when, with two out, he walked Duke Snider. Robinson followed with a home run to shoot the Dodgers ahead, 2-1. Jansen forced home a run in the seventh, then blew sky high in the eighth.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mickey Mantle, highly publicized rookie, doubled home the winning run in the eighth inning Saturday to give the New York Yankees a shakey, 8-7, victory over the upstart Washington Senators.

The setback ended Washington's four-game winning streak and ended a two-game Yankee losing skid.

Army Has Only Third Of Needed Experts, Says SUI Therapist

The army has only one-third the number of occupational therapists it now needs, Marguerite McDonald, SUI supervisor of occupational therapy, said Saturday.

As the army has increased so has the need for therapists, she said. Eleven veterans' administration hospitals have opened since October and 16 more will open by January. Three army hospitals have reopened since the Korean conflict began.

One therapist is required for every 100,000 men in the army. There are now 2,183 therapists taking the five year course in schools throughout the United States, Miss McDonald explained. She attended a meeting of the American occupational therapy association April 14 where methods to relieve the shortage were discussed.

Ward Established For Metabolic Ills

University hospitals have set up a special ward to study and treat metabolic disorders. Such disorders involve any disturbance of normal body functions.

The ward is especially for treatment and study of disorders such as diabetes, cirrhosis of the liver, heart failure, glandular diseases, kidney disorders, obesity and high blood pressure.

It has a capacity of five patients and will analyze all foods and medicines used by the patient. All bodily activity will be analyzed and measured to determine the disorder and the effectiveness of treatment.

3 Iowa War Dead Return to States

WASHINGTON (AP) — The defense department said Saturday bodies of 120 men killed in Korea fighting were being returned to the United States aboard the Ocala Victory, scheduled to reach San Francisco today.

The names of the Iowa dead—all marines and their next of kin include:
Cpl. Russell J. House, Mr. and Mrs. Burnell D. Hagen, 1721 6th St., Nevada; Pfc. Marilyn D. Kuester, Mr. and Mrs. Albert W. Kuester, Luzerne; Pfc. Dean W. White, Mr. and Mrs. Brentley White, Kingsley.

Wilt, beaten in 9 of his 11 indoor meetings this year by Gehrman, beat Gehrman by little more than a nose in their first outdoor clash of the season. The FBI man took the lead in the mile feature of the relays with a burst of speed at the start of the final lap. He stretched his advantage to about eight yards and just refused to be caught by Gehrman's closing drive.

Mississippi Floods Dubuque Industrial Area

A RECORD BREAKING FLOOD CREST was predicted to hit Dubuque today where the Mighty Mississippi had already inundated a lowland industrial area and reached the outskirts of the business district by Saturday. Scores of persons had been thrown out of work as many industrial plants closed or operated with skeleton crews ferried to their jobs by boat.

Rain Adds To Flood Dangers

By The Associated Press
The battle between the rampaging upper Mississippi river and men's efforts to thwart it neared a showdown Saturday in threatened Iowa and Illinois river cities. Rain fell throughout the upper valley, intensifying the danger of the worst flooding in years. More than 3,000 persons already have been evacuated in the stricken area and many hundreds of others have moved out on their own without formally notifying officials. Flood preparations went ahead at a fever pitch in several river cities. Dikes are being strengthened and raised. Equipment and machinery is being removed from lowland factories and warehouses. Several Iowa communities have been declared in a state of emergency. Three Iowa national guard units went on emergency duty in Muscatine and Wapello. Brig. Gen. Fred C. Tandy, adjutant general of the guard, said the situation at Muscatine, a city of 20,000, is "extremely serious" because a levee at the south edge of the town is weak. Muscatine has been placed on an emergency footing and Mayor Bert P. Olson issued an urgent call for 500 more volunteers to work on the levees. At Davenport, an estimated 1,200 persons have left their flood threatened homes.

McGrath Blasts Mac's Ideas; Young Demos Elect SUI Student

DES MOINES (AP)—Atty. Gen. Howard J. McGrath asserted Saturday this country would have to "go it alone" if it followed Gen. Douglas MacArthur's advocated foreign policy in Asia. In a news conference prior to addressing the Iowa Democratic fund-raising Jackson Day dinner here, McGrath said "We would have to break with our friends and allies and go it alone, if we did what MacArthur advocated in Asia. We would be friendless." Meanwhile, both the Democrats and Young Democrats selected their national committee men and committee women. The Young Democrats selected Michael H. Doyle Jr., of Des Moines, Polk county clerk, as their national committee man, and Miss Fat Mullane, an SUI student (A4, Waukon), as national committee-woman. The first cabinet officer to express himself on the debate over foreign policy since MacArthur addressed congress Thursday, McGrath hit back at the General's supporters in his address prepared for delivery at Saturday night's Jackson Day dinner. "It has been implied that a failure to support an invasion of China is 'appeasement'," he said. "Nothing could be further from the truth. A refusal to start an all-out war against China is not appeasement." "It has also been implied," he told the estimated 800 persons attending the banquet, "by a curious kind of reasoning that our refusal to support an invasion of China means that we would be willing to let Formosa fall into unfriendly hands. That is a gross distortion of the truth." The Atty. Gen. stressed the part of the UN in the Korean conflict. He said some of the current debate "leaves the impression that this is fully an American effort."

300 Represent High Schools — SUI Holds 21st Art Session

Approximately 300 teachers and students of art from high schools throughout Iowa were guests at the 21st annual art education conference held Friday and Saturday in the SUI art building. Demonstrations of art techniques, student and faculty discussions, and lectures by art education authorities highlighted the conference, sponsored by the art department, the school of fine arts and the extension division. Over 40 high schools in Iowa prepared exhibits for the conference which will remain on display until April 30. Also on display were exhibits of SUI art students' work, children's art from Italy, and paintings from the SUI permanent collections in the Iowa Union lounge. Prof. Dord Fitz, professor of art education at Kentucky university, was the featured speaker at the conference. Fitz presented a lecture Friday entitled, "Providing an Art Experience for the High School Students," and evaluated the high school art exhibit in the closing session of the conference Saturday. Other speakers at the conference were Prof. Manuel Barkan, head of art education at Ohio State university who spoke on "A Redefinition of Purposes in Art Education," and Doris Byrd Yordy, SUI art instructor, who discussed highlights of the 1951 National Art Education conference held in New York. In addition to the planned program, visitors were invited to inspect SUI student work in the studios of the art building.

Local Guard Sent To Flood Area

Six members of the 109th Clearing company, local national guard unit, Saturday were ordered to the Muscatine flood area, Maj. Stephen Ware, company commander, said. Capt. Donald Zavala, resident physician at University hospitals, is in charge of the group which will set up a medical aid station for national guardsmen injured in rescue operations. The five enlisted men accompanying Captain Zavala were Sgt. 1-C Paul J. Dvorak and Harold E. Smith, Sgts. Thomas Berger and Charles Jennings and Pvt. Lawrence Novy. The six men might be relieved Monday by other members of the unit, Ware said.

Pressmen Honor Dr. Bean's Book

"Sir William Osler Aphorisms," edited by Dr. William B. Bean, head of the department of internal medicine at the University hospitals, has been selected as one of the "Fifty Books of the Year" by the American Institute of Graphic Arts. Factors considered in naming the 50 "best books" include material, design, workmanship of the binding, choice of paper, type faces and legibility and page attractiveness. The book was published by Henry Schuman, Inc. Bean requested that the book be finished as attractively as possible, yet priced within the reach of medical students. To help achieve this goal, he waived rights to royalties.

SUI Graduate Named McGraw-Hill Reporter

The May 4 workshops include "Freshman Orientation," "Campus Social and Cultural Activities," "Student Government," "Campus Public Relations," "Advisory Programs," and "School Spirit." ### Yesterday in Washington

MARSHALL GESTURE — Regardless of how he may feel about Gen. Douglas MacArthur's views on Asia, Secretary of Defense Marshall refused to do anything that might dim the general's luster. Marshall, originally scheduled as lead-off witness this week at a senate investigation of military and foreign policies, told senators he wouldn't testify before MacArthur. MacArthur will be the first witness, and Marshall will follow.

LOYALTY — Officials in close touch with Admiral Chester W. Nimitz' commission on internal security say it's a good bet it will issue an "interim" report approving proposed changes in loyalty standards. The loyalty review board has asked the President to alter the standards so a person can be adjudged disloyal if the board has a reasonable doubt as to his loyalty. Under present regulations, a finding of disloyalty requires "affirmative proof" of actions indicating disloyalty.

NAVY RECALLS — Naval reservists who joined organized units after last Oct. 15 apparently are not likely to be called up very soon. The navy says it must keep a certain number of key reservists in organized units to continue training and administration. So those in any needed category who joined up after Oct. 15 will get the nod, the navy explains, only when organized units have been stripped down to the "lowest practicable manning level."

The installation was performed by Cadet Col. William King, sixth area commander, and Cadet Col. George Ebling, commander of headquarters squadron, sixth area of Arnold society, College of St. Thomas, St. Paul, Minn. About 35 Billy Mitchell squadron members took part in the formal inspection and drill held near the armory and the installation ceremonies in the house chamber of Old Capitol. Preceding the inspection, King and Ebling were luncheon guests of the local squadron at the Iowa Union. Cadet Maj. William Ayers, Billy Mitchell squadron commander at SUI, was presented the Arnold society charter by King during the installation ceremonies. Honorary guests at the ceremonies were SUI Pershing Rifle cadet officers, Lt. Col. Hugher Hopewell, Capt. Robert Andrews, Capt. Merle Meeker and Lt. Vincent Reinstein. Purpose of the squadron has been to familiarize air ROTC students with airforce activities and functions and to be of service to the military department and SUI.

The Diamondscope ideally illuminates the interior of the gem under correct magnification, clearly exposing any flaws, or their absence. This is a major point in determining a gem's value—even greater in importance than consideration of size. Instead of buying "blindly" come in and see for yourself what you have every right to know and demand.
