Last Minute Kapers Rehearsal

(Daily Iowan Photo)

LAST MINUTE REHEARSAL found Don Van Atta and Jean Draeger portraying one of the tender moments in the Kampus Kapers musical review, "Of All Things," which opens at 8 p.m. today in Macbride auditorium.

Kampus Kapers Opens Today, Features Satire

The opening performance of Kampus Kapers at 8 p.m. today in Macbride auditorium will climax nearly four months of steadily mounting daily work for writer and director Gil Pearlman, A4, Des Moines.

During Christmas vacation the Newman club, which sponsors the annual show, accepted Pearlman's offer to write the script. "Of All Things" is the result of his efforts.

Watched People
Pearlman began to watch newspapers, magazines and people in general to gather material for his review. Each item was written on an individual card and filed for future reference.

By Easter he had 16 sketches outlined. Eight of these were finally selected as the basis of the Kampus Kapers show.

"Of All Things" is a satire on current events and institutions. The sketches range from topics such as a satirical comment on an American advertising company to a comic portrayal of the troubles of a draftee confronted with selective service.

"Satire is the highest type of modern humor," Pearlman said. "It mirrors the comic aspects of human activities for everyone's amusement."

"A musical review is a wonderful form of theater entertainment," he said.

Daily Rehearsals
Rehearsals of the present show started nearly three weeks ago. Four-hour rehearsals have been scheduled daily. Final dress rehearsals began Monday.

All Tickets Gone For SUI Symphony
No tickets remain for the University symphony orchestra concert, with Conductor Dimitri Mitropoulos of the New York Philharmonic orchestra as piano soloist, at 8 tonight in Iowa Union.

Mitropoulos will play Prokofiev's "Third Piano Concerto" with orchestra accompaniment conducted by James Dixon, A3, Guthrie Center.

Dixon is a student of conducting under Mitropoulos and Prof. Philip Greeley Clapp, Head of the music department and conductor of the University symphony orchestra.

All Big Dikes On Mississippi Holding Fast

(From the Wire Services)

The crest of the surging Mississippi hit Iowa river cities Tuesday, but all major dikes held and the danger of extensive new damage eased.

The only dike break reported was at Spring Lake, Ill., where an old levee crumbled, flooding 3,000 acres of government owned recreation land below Savanna.

Downstream Later
However, the worst of the flood won't reach threatened downstream Illinois, Iowa and Missouri cities until later in the week.

The flooded Mississippi climbed toward a peak at Davenport Tuesday night and the weather bureau notified the town the crest would be about 18.4 feet, six tenths of a foot below earlier predictions.

New evacuations raised the number of homeless families to 2,000 in the area and muddy river covered 240 city blocks of Davenport.

Meanwhile, upstream at Sabula and Clinton, the mighty stream started to recede with agonizing slowness. The U.S. engineers office warned that the danger had not yet passed in those communities.

At Sabula, a town of 8,000 just north of Clinton, Mayor George Ulmer said he thought the town would come through all right, although its heavily sandbagged dikes were soft from the terrific pressure of the past several days.

The river crested at 19.6 feet Monday night. It had dropped to 19.5 feet Tuesday.

Floods Threaten 24,000
Downstream the Red Cross said the surging crest threatened to make 24,000 persons homeless in Iowa, Illinois, and Missouri as it rolls southward.

The weather bureau and corps of engineers said Muscatine could expect 21.3 feet, a new all-time high. The old record was 19.5 feet in 1922. The new prediction, however, is sealed down slightly from the earlier forecast of 21.5 feet.

Engineers said the flooding below Muscatine should taper off somewhat, since the Des Moines and Iowa rivers already have discharged their spring thaw waters.

Some industrial plants were expected to have to close down at Keokuk, where the Mississippi had reached 17.95 feet. That amount of water also may force closing of the dike road on the Illinois side leading to the Keokuk municipal bridge.

Outnumbered UN Troops Fight Hand-To-Hand To Stop Chinese

Mongol Troops For Red Army

WASHINGTON (AP) - Reports that warlike, Russian-trained Mongolian troops have entered North Korea for possible use against UN forces were received with anxiety Tuesday by intelligence officials.

While the reports were not yet substantial enough to justify United States military or diplomatic action, they focused attention on a hitherto untapped manpower reserve which the Reds might use in the great battle now raging in Korea.

Half-Wild Troops
Some of the half-wild tribal troops were said to be from Inner Mongolia, which is under Chinese influence. Others were described as from the Outer Mongolian people's republic, virtually a part of the Soviet Union.

The reports recalled warnings by house speaker Sam Rayburn and Lt. Gen. James A. Van Fleet, United States commander in Korea, that troops "other than Chinese" and miscellaneous so-called "volunteers" were massing on the Manchurian border ready for action with the Communists.

Neither Rayburn nor Van Fleet elaborated on their brief statements, but authorities here said they had received these reports:

1. During the winter, the Russians trained Mongolian soldiers and also Japanese war prisoners.

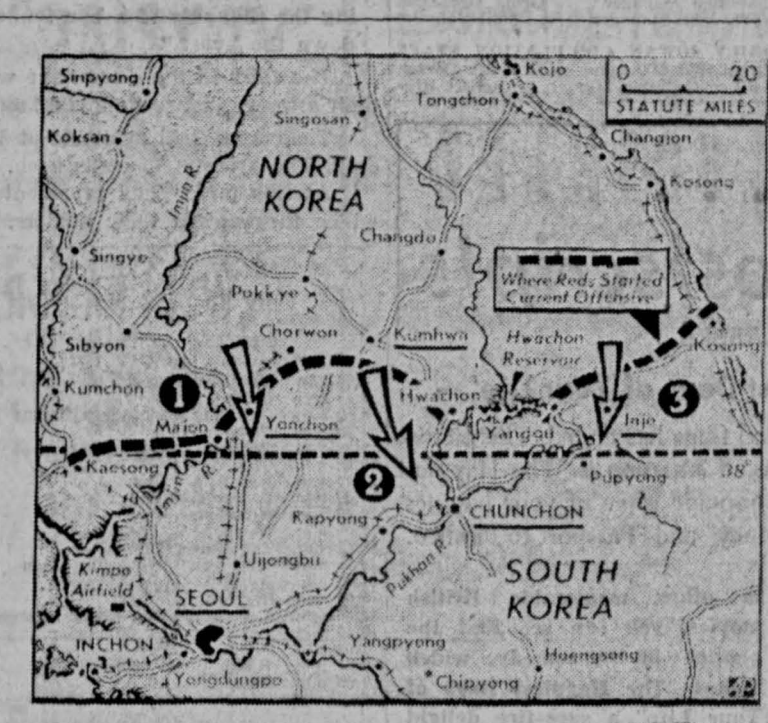

2. Some of the Mongolians apparently have entered North Korea and are there now.

3. Two divisions of Mongolians entered North Korea early this year, then withdrew to the Manchurian side of Yalu river boundary line.

They were joined by a third division, definitely from Outer Mongolia, which previously had been stationed at the Outer Mongolian capital of Ula (Ulan Bator), more than 1,000 miles from Korea.

The soldiers, foot and cavalry, numbered about 20,000 and carried Russian - made combat equipment, it was reported.

Officials doubted the Japanese prisoners would be used in Korea for two reasons. The Russians claim they are not holding any Japanese prisoners and would be hard put to explain any large number that showed up in Korea as casualties or UN prisoners.

Communists Advance at 3 Points

ADVANCING AT THREE POINTS, Red forces continued their progress southward against United Nations forces in Korea Tuesday. Open arrows locate the three major Red drives. The Communists took Yonchon (1) on the Imjin river defense line, swept south of Kumha to seven miles south of the 38th parallel (2) and took Inje (3) east of Hwachon reservoir. Use Grenades, Bayonets, Fists To Hold Reds

(From the Wire Services)

TOKYO (WEDNESDAY) - Fresh Allied troops rushed into the big Red breach in central Korea today and stalled a Chinese Red breakthrough force seven miles south of the 38th parallel.

The outnumbered United Nations troops fought with hand grenades and bayonets to halt the massive Chinese spring offensive.

Allied artillery blasted the enemy and Allied planes hit him with rockets and bombs, but nevertheless infantrymen were forced at times to fight with their bare hands to stop the deadly attack.

Hopeless Odds
They fought against hopeless odds and after they were cut off, but at dawn today the enemy onslaught was halted at least temporarily and a 10-mile-wide breakthrough was plugged.

But the withdrawing Allies appeared to be giving up virtually all their holdings north of 38 inside Red Korea.

In the west, UN troops felt back closer to Seoul on the fourth day of the counter-offensive by up to half a million Reds.

One UN unit was surrounded but it fought on for more than eight hours against mass assaults until at last the attacks died down and it was able to rejoin the main forces.

Thin Line
The thin line of Allied doughboys battled all day Monday and all day Tuesday and through the long nights until the Chinese offensive was stalled after a march of 20 miles in 36 hours.

The Chinese smashed across parallel 38 Monday after tearing a gaping hole in the Allied mountain line Sunday and plunging southward through South Korean positions.

Waves of jet fighters roared over the front each day at dawn, raking Communist groups advancing in the open with flaming napalm, rockets and 50 calibre machinegun fire.

Hundreds of Dead
Hundreds of dead Chinese sprawled beside the road and along the brush covered ridges. Elements of two Chinese divisions struck again Tuesday night but at dawn today the outnumbered Allies held firm.

Residents of Seoul began deserting the war-ravaged capital for the third time in the 10-month-old war.

The Allied supreme commander, after a flying visit to the front, warned that the biggest Red blow was yet to come.

SUI Professor's Class Tours Flooded Area

Prof. M. C. Boyer, SUI college of engineering, said Tuesday that he believed the dikes and levees along the flood-swollen Mississippi river would hold out.

Boyer and 13 SUI engineering students of his flood control class took time off from the classroom for a tour along the river Tuesday afternoon. They traveled from Port Louisa to Davenport.

Begin Building New Children's Hospital

The dream of three years, to build a new hospital school for severely handicapped children began to take shape Tuesday when construction started west of SUI's General hospital.

The main portion and one dormitory wing of the new building for Iowa children who are physically unable to attend public schools is expected to be ready for occupancy September, 1952.

The structure will cost $750,000 as approved by the 1949 legislature. It will house 50 to 60 children.

George L. Horner, SUI superintendent of planning and construction, and Charles Altfillisch, Decorah architect, co-designed the new building after inspecting the Illinois hospital school and other crippled children's schools in the Chicago area, and conferring with W. B. Schoenbohm, director of the hospital school.

The final structure will include three more dormitory wings which will house 80 to 100 children plus day students, a gymnasium, and auditorium.

At present 23 children are housed in the basement of Westlawn nurses' dormitory.

The main part of the building and one wing will be three stories high; three dormitory wings will be one story high and extend from the main structure.

The ground floor and the two

Because of the difficulty of moving crippled children from one floor to another, their life at the school will be restricted to a one-floor level.

The institution will be set-up to train a greater number of SUI students in therapy, psychology and related subjects.

A clinic will be provided for examining and diagnosing other Iowa handicapped children who cannot be accommodated at the school.

CHECKING ARCHITECT'S DRAWINGS WITH CONSTRUCTION progress of the Iowa hospital school for severely handicapped children Tuesday afternoon were George L. Horner, SUI architect, left, and John I. Smith, superintendent of the Morehead construction company. The building will go up west of SUI's General hospital. The main portion and one dormitory wing of the new building is expected to be ready for occupancy September, 1952. The children are now housed in the basement of Westlawn nurses' dormitory.

Government Clears Way For Price Rollback

WASHINGTON - The government cleared the way for its first big price rollback Tuesday by imposing ceiling prices on 75,000 manufacturers who do a $70-billion annual business in items ranging from candy to television sets.

Price Director Michael DiSalle acknowledged there would be some price increases too, although he said the "net" effect would be a reduction in the general level of manufacturers' prices.

PReviews... and Postscripts

By JACK LARSEN

At the Movies: 'The Happiest Days of Your Life' —

The recent lull in laughter-loaded films has ended. The picture which has brought about this pleasant situation is "The Happiest Days of Your Life," and it should provide some of your happiest moments since "A Run for Your Money" and "Passport to Pimlico."

The goings-on in the Capitol's new British comedy are slightly incredible in its beside the point. With some richly comic acting and a screenplay that skips with abandon from one burst of laughter to another, "The Happiest Days" is a wonderfully snappy anecdote for spring lethargy.

It would be difficult for any film to miss the bull's-eye with people like Alistair Sim and Margaret Rutherford in charge. Both may be getting up in years now, but there's an awful lot of life left in 'em—enough to leave a preview audience limp from laughing, and a good deal more than in another older couple laying eggs elsewhere in town.

Miss Rutherford you are familiar with if you saw "Bride of the Spirit," in which she played the daff medium, and "Passport to Pimlico," in which she was a professor of history. Alistair Sim you know if you saw him as Jane Wyman's father in "Stage Fright" and as a "love swindler" in "Dulcimer Street."

The rest of the cast includes a great many of those "characters" British film-makers have a knack for gathering together for a movie, each of whose presence within camera range is good for a chuckle. Among them is Joyce Grenfell, who needs no introduction after her snappy shopping portrayal in "A Run for Your Money." In such capable hands a less riotous concoction than "The Happiest Days" could come out a crackerjack comedy.

Produced and directed by Frank Launder and Sidney Gilliat, themselves responsible for some of the best of recent English films including "The Great Manhunt," its scenario is the work of John Dighton, a prominent dramatist who had a hand in the writing of "Kind Hearts and Coronets."

to other memorable British movies, you can see that the quality of the comedy which makes "The Happiest Days of Your Life" a sure-fire delight is owing to the accomplished talents of those concerned in its making, behind and before the camera.

The film's plot sounds amusing enough in retelling, but it is primarily in the way it is told that it earns its uppers. The locale is a small private school for boys called Nutbourne which is descended upon by 100 girls transferred from another institution through an error of the ministry of education.

The dilemma is seen through the eyes of a besieged headmaster and a besieging headmistress, with the peculiarities of their respective faculties affording incidental amusement and the boys' school's motto affording considerable embarrassment for the ladies. And the climax wherein it becomes imperative for the school to be both a boys' and girls' institution without revealing that an opposite sex is present is—to trot out an adjective especially trusty in such cases—side-splitting.

No review, and certainly not this one, can do justice to the wildly amiable proceedings which unreel in "The Happiest Days." It's the best comedy to come in a month or so, and as good a reply to that bugaboo TV as you'll find for some time to come.

Four Nights of Fun —

Macbride auditorium will be the scene of some real fun beginning tonight and continuing through Saturday.

The first curtain goes up on Kampus Kapers at 8 tonight. We've seen some of the rehearsals and the dress rehearsal Monday night. And from all indications, the entire SUI family will be offered four evenings of genuine enjoyment.

The show has been in rehearsal for more than three weeks now. The people have put in long hours to keep this SUI tradition alive and to guarantee their audience a good show.

The script, lyrics and music are all original — products of local talent. Gil Pearlman, director of the production, is responsible for most of the script, and the lyrics and music are the work of Larry Barrett and Dick Caplan.

Chuck Brandon designed and directed the construction of one of the best scenery jobs we've seen in a long time.

The whole show reflects an ingenuity which we're sure the audiences will appreciate. There is one scene in particular, involving the thoughts of a bar tender, which certainly should "bring down the house."

The folks in the show have worked hard and long. The result of their efforts is a two-hour, fast moving, well tied together production. Tickets are still available at Whetstone's, Racine's and the Union desk. The price is 75 cents each.

At this price, they represent a bargain, considering the fun to which they entitle their holders.

Quick Fade Wanted...

TO THE EDITOR:

The American public has created a hero. In 1942 the Japanese were driving relentlessly across the Pacific islands, and a man named MacArthur was the American commander. When he left the doomed Philippines, he left with a dramatic "I shall return," and was propelled to great heights by a nation hungry for heroes. When he did return, after such incidental encounters as Guadalcanal, Bougainville, Tarawa, Iwo Jima and Okinawa, the general waded ashore with his men, to a dry pair of trousers. This was a very great accomplishment. MacArthur had said he would return and he did. He had liberated the Pacific.

When Japan surrendered, the great one was made emperor, and unquestionably did a fine job of overseeing the rebuilding of Japan. Then came Korea, and the man of many medals was once again ready to return. The story of the Chongjin reservoir does not have to be retold.

Two weeks ago, a stocky little fellow from Missouri, who sometimes displays more guts than tact, slapped down the general who would not keep his thumb out of the policy-making pie. The howl set up by such great American institutions as the Chicago Tribune, the DAR and the good Senators McCarthy, Taft and Wherry was heard as far away as the planet Neptune.

The unpopularity of the upright, but sometimes rash, Harry Truman was parlayed into a MacArthur tidal wave. When Mac performed before a joint meeting of congress, the greatest show since P.T. Barnum, he won the hearts of millions who, said old P.T., were born every minute.

Douglas MacArthur has led an honorable military career. The public sometimes glorifies such men. But though MacArthur is an old soldier, he is not less sight of the really important issues of the day. The world is more important than MacArthur, Bertie McCormick notwithstanding. Let us hope that old Doug loses no time in fading away.

Porter to Leave For Law Meeting

Prof. Kirk H. Porter, head of the SUI political science department, will leave this afternoon for Washington, D.C., where he will attend a three-day conference of the American Society for International Law.

The organization, made up of administrative law teachers from all over the world, will be incorporated under an act of congress after 30 years as a private organization.

The organization will elect officers and hear papers dealing with present world difficulties by distinguished scholars, Porter said. He will return Monday.

WHAT IS READER INTEREST...?

Many editors burn the midnight oil trying to answer this question. For people are fickle in what they like. Remember the miniature golf course, the gold fish eating college men, and the chain letter? They all came and went, but there's one thing people like year in, year out... PICTURES! And The Daily Iowan is well aware of this fact, for last year we ran 3640 local and wirephoto pictures. That's better than 11 pictures a day! So it's obvious that The Daily Iowan is interested in you and your interest.

Coed Elected Committeewoman

By ARLO WAGNER

"I have no political ambitions; I'm just interested in good government," Mary Pat Mullaney, A4, Waukon, said Tuesday after her election Saturday as national committeewoman of the Young Democrats at the state convention in Des Moines.

Miss Mullaney was the unanimous choice of delegates at the convention. She was not even a candidate until about five minutes before nominations were made. Her nomination came after R. Bruce Hughes, L4, Sioux City, was defeated by the Polk county delegate for national committeeman.

As committeewoman, she will serve on the national executive committee, which coordinates state and national functions, and the staff for the national convention. She is vice-president of the SUI organization.

Twenty-seven members of SUI's Young Democrats attended the convention and the Jefferson-Jackson day dinner. They were the largest delegation in attendance.

"So I'm a wise guy

"Speotyto cunicularia" — Speo, for short, majors in the classics. But in this case, he's dropped his Latin leanings and slings American slang with the best of them. He comes right out "cum loudly" whenever he voices his opinion on these quick-trick, one-puff cigarette tests. They're a snub to his high I.Q. He knows from smoking experience there's just one intelligent way to judge the mildness of a cigarette.

It's the sensible test... the 30-Day Camel Mildness Test, which simply asks you to try Camels as a steady smoke — on a pack-after-pack, day-after-day basis. No snap judgments needed. After you've enjoyed Camels — and only Camels — for 30 days in your "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste), we believe you'll know why...

SUI Research Results Studied in Belgium

Research conducted at SUI in the fields of time-motion and work measurement will be included in a United States report at the ninth international management congress in Brussels, Belgium, July 5 to 11.

Prof. J. Wayne Deegan, SUI college of engineering, is a member of the committee on work measurement of the national management council. This is one of four committees from the U.S. which will make reports to the congress.

Two former SUI staff members are also on the work measurement committee. They are Ralph M. Barnes, now at the University of California, and M. E. Mundel, now at Purdue university.

The Brussels congress is sponsored by the international committee for scientific management, founded in 1924 by American and European business, educational and government leaders.

She'll Stick with Harry on This One

Mrs. Jackson Roe, wife of a local dentist, and President Harry S. Truman have at least one thing in common. Both will celebrate their birthdays May 8.

Referring to a Boston woman who is changing her May 8 birthday to Jan. 26, Gen. Douglas MacArthur's birthday, Mrs. Roe said she is going to stick with Harry — at least in regard to birthdays.

150 to Attend History Conference

About 150 history and social science instructors from high schools and colleges in Iowa and neighboring states are expected to attend the 29th annual SUI history conference Friday and Saturday.

Welcome at 2 p.m. Walter F. Loehwing, dean of the SUI graduate college, will open the conference with a welcome address at 2 p.m. Friday in the house chamber of Old Capitol.

The conference is sponsored by the department of history, the college of education, the extension division and the graduate college. Raymond P. Stearns, professor of history at the University of Illinois, in the afternoon session, will discuss "The Importance of Political History" in the opening session of the conference.

The second speaker of the afternoon will be Elmer Ellis, dean of the college of arts and sciences at the University of Missouri. Ellis will talk on "Mr. Dooley, Historian."

The character of "Mr. Dooley" was created by the late Chicago humorist and journalist, Finley Peter Dunne.

Ellis received his Ph.D. in history at SUI in 1930. He is president of the Mississippi Valley Historical association.

Political Heritage
Charles M. McIlwain, Eaton professor of the science of government, emeritus, Harvard university, will address the session at 8 p.m. McIlwain's topic will be "Understanding Our Political Heritage."

McIlwain is a former president of the American Historical association and a leading English constitutional historian.

The opening session at 10 a.m. Saturday will feature Edgar Wesley, professor of education at the University of Minnesota, speaking on "What's History For?"

Charles J. Ritchey, professor of history at Drake university, will give an address entitled, "Face With The Common Man," in the closing session of the conference.

SUI faculty members presiding over the three sessions will be Prof. Harrison J. Thornton, history department; Prof. Robert S. Hoyt, history department, and Prof. John H. Haefner, head of social studies at University high school.

Social Studies
Conference visitors will attend a dinner at 6 p.m. Friday in the River room of the Iowa Union and a luncheon at 12:15 p.m. Saturday in the Union cafeteria. Wesley will address the luncheon meeting on the subject "The Social Studies Teacher: Retrospect and Prospect."

Feller Beats Chisox, Indians Keep Top

CLEVELAND (AP)—Bob Feller tamed the surprising White Sox Tuesday with a 5-2 victory that kept the Cleveland Indians in undisputed first place.

The White Sox tagged Feller for 10 hits to Cleveland's eight off Bob (Sugar) Cain. But fast double plays and tight clutch pitching stopped them.

Feller, who beat the St. Louis Browns 4-1 his first time out, earned only one, his ex-teammate Eddie Robinson, and walked three. It was the Indians' third straight victory.

Athletics Tuesday for a 3-0 New York victory before 8,742 paying customers.

It was the Yanks' third straight win and their fourth in a row at friendly Yankee Stadium. The defeat was the fifth in succession for the hapless A's.

The Yanks got Lopat off to a three-run start in the first frame, and the veteran southpaw had no trouble hanging up his second triumph of the year. He doled out only singles.

Musial Hits, Cards Win
ST. LOUIS (AP)—Stan Musial broke out of his batting slump as the St. Louis Cardinals turned back the Cincinnati Reds 3-1 Tuesday behind the effective pitching of southpaw Max Lanier.

Lanier, making his first start of the season, yielded eight hits but bore down when it counted most. He issued only one base on balls, struck out three and put down two potential threats by forcing batters to hit into double plays.

Musial smacked three singles and drew a walk in his four trips. Until Tuesday, he had only two hits to show for 13 times at bat.

Nats 7, Red Sox 5
BOSTON (AP)—The Washington Senators showed little respect for the highly esteemed Red Sox Tuesday, rapping the Boston American leaguers 7-5 behind the six hit pitching of left handed Bob Kuzava.

A four run attack in the seventh inning, in which ten Senators battered, won the game for the Washington club which has lost only one of its five games.

Braves 7, Dodgers 4
BROOKLYN (AP)—Sid Gordon's three-run homer off reliever Carl Erskine after Preacher Roe left the game with a pulled leg muscle helped Boston end Brooklyn's five-game winning streak Tuesday, 7-4.

Roe clung to a one-run lead when he was forced to retire after seven innings. Erskine simply didn't have it. He walked Earl Torgerson and Bob Elliott before Gordon slammed his 350-foot homer into the left field seats in the eighth.

Pirates Drop Cubs, 6-4
CHICAGO (AP)—Wally Westlake's opening frame, three-run homer and his eighth-inning fielding gem gave the Pittsburgh Pirates a 6-4 win over the Chicago Cubs in a rain-delayed game before 5,750 Tuesday.

Westlake rapped his third homer of the season in the first inning and started a vital double play when the Cubs threatened after rain held up the game for 37 minutes in the eighth inning.

Before the rainfall Buc Right-hander Vernon Law seemed headed for a nifty four-hitter. But the Cubs chased him in their half of the eighth, and Fireman Bill Werle had to preserve the first win of the season for Law.

Phils 6, Giants 4
PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Philadelphia Phillies socked six New York hurriers for 14 hits, including five two baggers and a triple to defeat the Giants 6-4 in the second game of the series Tuesday night.

Work, Good Weather Needed by Sprinters For Drake Victories

Work and good weather should put Iowa's sprint relay team in contention for both the quarter and half-mile titles at the Drake Relays this weekend.

Coach Francis Cretzmeier believes that previously posted times of both races will be cut. "Considering bad weather conditions, I was pleased with the races of the team at Kansas last Saturday," he said.

The 440 team lost by inches at Lawrence, running the event in :42.1. A show pass may have cost the Hawks the title over Oklahoma. Iowa will have a chance to redeem themselves, as Oklahoma has entered its sprint team in the Drake carnival.

In the half-mile relay Iowa ran a close fourth in 1:28. Last week, Cretzmeier said that he thought Iowa could run under :42 and between 1:26 and 1:27 for the two races.

Hurdler Dean Deuel may be used as lead-off man for the team in place of Lou Mathis. Deuel was kept out of action last weekend because of a sore leg, but should be able to go at Drake.

Best races at Kansas were run by Len Sykes and Gary Scott. Both men made up ground on their legs and Scott hit about :21.2 on his anchor leg of the half-mile relay.

In addition to the relay team, the Hawks will enter several individual events at Drake. These include Jack Weik, high jump; Bob Henard, broad jump; Al Meyerling, pole vault; Chuck Darling and Lee Hays, shot and discus, and Virgil Von Ashen, two-mile run.

Negotiate with Reds: Van Dyke Former Advisor Of Roosevelt To Talk Here

We should negotiate a settlement with China, Prof. Vernon Van Dyke, SUI political science department, said at the SUI Young Republican meeting Tuesday night.

Such a settlement would be favorable to our UN allies and would prevent an outright threat of World War III, he said.

"I fear World War III but I don't recognize it as inevitable until it occurs," he added. "We should exhaust every possibility to prevent it first."

Van Dyke considered three questions in the immediate Far Eastern crises: "Should we bomb Manchuria? Should we support Chiang Kai-Shek? Should we use Chiang's troops?"

"I would be hesitant about bombing Manchuria," he said. "Since most of our allies seem to be against such a move, there is a danger of splitting our alliance." Also, it might provoke Russian intervention and the natural outbreak of World War III, he said.

Van Dyke said that Chiang Kai-Shek was evidently in Formosa because of an incompetent regime and because he lost the faith of the Chinese people. Therefore, he said, he is of little value to us.

Support of Chiang Kai-Shek would split us from our allies who have already recognized Red China. "We should have recognized Communist China long ago," he continued.

The use of Chiang's troops would be demoralizing to the UN for the same reason and it would commit us to Chiang.

Van Dyke set forth terms for the settlement: Eventual withdrawal of all foreign forces from Korea and restoration of the 38th parallel. Even the need for a defensive line on the parallel would be better than another war, he said.

Quality Control Engineers to Meet

Quality control engineers from manufacturing firms throughout the midwest will meet here Friday and Saturday to study new inspection standards set up by the armed forces for materials buying.

These standards prescribe the latest sampling procedures used by the army, navy and airforce in their materials inspections, according to William C. Lee, chief inspector for Solar Aircraft company, Des Moines, program chairman for the meeting.

The meeting is sponsored by the SUI section of the American Society for Quality Control.

The society was founded to promote interest among inspectors and plant engineers in quality control by statistical methods.

Participating in the meeting will be quality control personnel from the armed forces and Allison aircraft, as well as SUI mathematics Profs. Robert V. Hogg Jr., and Allen T. Craig.

Women Plan Breakfast

Reservations for the Iowa City Woman's club May day breakfast in the clubrooms in the Community building should be in by Friday evening.

Mrs. Ed Bryan, 7236, or Mrs. Joseph Parizek, 4843, should be called for the reservations.

All club members are invited.

Legislature Ends Holdover Session

DES MOINES (AP) — Iowa's hold-over legislature came to an actual end Tuesday when House Speaker William S. Lyles, (R-Waverly) and Lt. Gov. William Nicholas brought down their gavels at 12:14 p.m.

Clocks had been stopped in both the house and senate since April 17 to give the lawmakers a chance to finish their work. Records will show the general assembly reached final adjournment on that date.

Debate on both floors of the legislature had continued until late last Friday, but only a skeleton crew of senators and representatives returned to the statehouse this week to handle routine business.

The April 17 adjournment date gave legislators their traditional 100 days of lawmaking. However, it actually took them 103 days to complete their work. Final adjournment actually came on the 107th day of the general assembly.

Harper Visits Michigan

Prof. Earl E. Harper, director of the Iowa Union, and Assistant Director Frank Burge, left for Lansing, Mich., Tuesday to attend the annual convention of the Association of College Unions. They will return Saturday afternoon.

Yesterday In Washington

UN-AMERICAN — Movie Actor Mare Lawrence, acknowledging that he once joined the Communist party because he was a "curious schmoe," Tuesday rattled off a list of Hollywood figures he said engaged in Red activities.

Among them were such names as actress Karen Morley against whom the house un-American activities committee is asking an arrest warrant, actor Lionel Stander who is on the committee's list of upcoming witnesses, Actor Sterling Hayden who has testified he once was a Red but quit, and several who have refused to answer questions.

FARM PRICES — Secretary of Agriculture Charles Brannan went on record Tuesday against any move to push price ceilings on farm products below parity levels.

His stand, before the house agriculture committee, was taken in informed quarters as a strong indication that the parity principle will be protected in any legislation the administration proposes to extend the defense production act, which expires June 30.

ELECTIONS — The senate elections subcommittee decided Tuesday to investigate complaints of abusive literature and too much spending by both sides in last year's Ohio campaign in which Republican Sen. Robert A. Taft was re-elected.

CONSUMER SPENDING — The big consumer buying spree of early 1951 halted in March, the commerce department reported Tuesday.

But the department warned that this "moderation of the inflationary movement" was offset by a rising threat of inflation from another quarter — business firms' plans to invest record sums in new plant and equipment this year.

CRIME — The senate's crime investigation goes on at least until next Sept. 1 and perhaps longer but with a new chairman, Sen. Herbert O'Connor (D-Md.).

And Senator Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.), who wanted to quit after leading the committee through a year of sensational exposes aimed mainly at interstate gambling tie-ups, will stay on as a member.

The program was worked out late Tuesday in a compromise promoted by the senate Democratic policy committee.

'HARMONY IN FLOWERS'

OSKALOOSA (AP) — This year's annual spring flower show, scheduled for May 22-23, will have a theme of "World Harmony in Flowers." This year's show will feature exhibits in 85 classes in addition to educational and commercial exhibits.

Southwest Davenport Engulfed by Mississippi

FLOODWATERS OF THE MISSISSIPPI engulfed homes in the Garden Addition area in southwest Davenport Tuesday. The above aerial photo of this area shows the result of the 18 foot river stage in this community. The worst is yet to come. The river crest is expected to reach Davenport today.

Excerpts from Our 106th Annual Report...

The Fight Against Inflation

WHAT GOVERNMENT SHOULD DO:

"First of all, it is imperative that non-essential expenditures, whether for civilian or military purposes, should be reduced to the bone. Taxes should be increased so as to place the defense program, so far as possible, on a pay-as-you-go basis. Monetary and economic controls should be installed so as to combat an inflationary increase in the money supply and to restrict wage and price increases lest the financial effect of other measures be nullified.

"If expenses are expanded too far it will not be possible, without great damage to our economy, to operate on a pay-as-you-go basis. Deficits, therefore, may have to be financed through new issues of securities by the government. Such securities should be issued on terms and at rates of interest that will encourage their sale to private investors and not to banks. The sale of government securities to banks tends to increase the supply of money and is therefore inflationary."

WHAT INDIVIDUALS SHOULD DO:

1. Recognize that there cannot be either magical avoidance or effortless solution of the problems we face.
2. Urge our representatives in government to fight the forces that threaten to undermine our economy. And support them vigorously when they do what is right, even when it is unpopular.

3. Don't buy what we don't need; use what we have sparingly. In both ways this will reduce the demand for goods.
4. Pay higher taxes ungrudgingly. It is better to pay stiff taxes and check inflation than to enjoy the delusion of an exaggerated income and reckon later with a damaged economy.
5. Increase our savings. Money put into life insurance, government savings bonds and other forms of saving, helps to check inflation."

From the Letter to Policyholders signed by George L. Harrison, Chairman of the Board, and Devereux C. Josephs, President.

- Assets of $4,907,729,002 compared with $4,674,990,644 at the previous year-end; and liabilities of $4,559,916,790 compared with $4,366,397,324.

- The Company will enter the fields of group insurance and accident and sickness insurance in 1951.

Where We Invest...and Why

"Every working day in 1950 the New York Life invested an average of $3,700,000. Part of this was new money, coming chiefly from premium payments we received from policyholders. Part of it came from the repayment or sale of investments already owned, and from earnings on investments.

"Income from investments contributes materially toward building up the reserves that make it possible for us to meet our promises to policyholders when they fall due. It is also a substantial factor in reducing the total cost of life insurance.

"At the same time such investments serve a broader purpose. For more than a hundred years of American history the funds invested by the New York Life have made for a more secure nation and a better living for all the people. Through peace and war these funds have tended to flow where they were most needed by the national economy; whether to build the railroads of a growing nation or to help our government protect the country in time of war. The kind of investments the New York Life made during the past decade will illustrate this role as dramatically as anything can."

HAVE YOU LOOKED IN YOUR MEDICINE CHEST LATELY?

"If it's anything like the average family's, it's well-stocked with sundry specifics for last year's ailments... pills and palliatives, syrups, salves and potions, lozenges and capsules—and the extra key to the garage. But where is that roll of sterile gauze? Adhesive tape? Antiseptic?"
