Detective, Former County Attorney Say Lons Twice Admitted Stabbing

BY MARVIN BRAVERMAN

Police Detective Oliver White and former County Atty. Jack White testified Thursday that James Lons twice orally admitted to them that he had stabbed Andrew Davelis.

Detective White took Lons into custody after Davelis died early Oct. 12 in the Iowa City police station. Attorney White was county attorney who investigated the murder of which Lons is accused.

JACK WHITE

Under the most intense examination of the trial, the two said Lons first admitted stabbing Davelis when they questioned him about 3:30 a.m. on Oct. 12 in the police station.

Detective White said when he and Attorney White first asked Lons if he had stabbed Davelis, the 53-year-old cafe operator denied it.

"I asked Jim if he knew who did," the detective related. "I told him we had three men in jail and we were going to hold them until we found out who did."

County Atty. William L. Meardon then asked what Lons said, and Detective White replied: "He raised his hand and said, 'I did it, I am the only one, so help me.'"

Second Admission
Attorney White also testified that Lons made the above statement.

The detective and the former county attorney said Lons again admitted the stabbing later in the morning in the mayor's office in city hall.

"He first said that the knife he couldn't say anything," Detective White testified. "He said they told him not to. The detective said Lons didn't identify 'em."

According to Detective White and Attorney White, Lons then declared: "I did it and nobody else. I would be the same now or on the chair, or wherever you put me."

"Once in Front, Once in Back"
They testified Lons also stated, "I stabbed him, once in the front, once in the back."

They said, however, Lons refused to sign any statements.

Detective White and the former county attorney testified that Lons said he had thrown the knife out of the car on Bowery street as he was riding to town with three other men.

Detective White also quoted Lons as saying he wanted to "cut off" the water's ears.

He said that during the questioning Lons showed him a couple of receipts that had been in Mrs. Lons' purse. However, the detective continued, Lons did not say how he had obtained his wife's purse.

He related that when he went to the Princess cafe to take Lons into custody, he noticed the cafe operator's hand had been injured.

"Cut on Car Door"
He stated with reference to his finger that he had cut it on his car," Detective White testified.

Defense Atty. A. C. Cahill asked the detective in his cross-examination, "Were you present at the time Mr. Lons took some whiskey?" The detective said "no."

Cahill instructed into evidence a white-handled pocket knife and asked Detective White whether he had ever seen it before.

The detective identified it as the knife he took off Lons' clothing at the police station. He said he didn't examine any of Lons' clothing or any other articles on him.

Detective White testified that during his investigation he found a spot of blood directly underneath the steering wheel of Lons' auto, in which Davelis and Mrs. Lons were riding early Oct. 12.

Two Black Eyes

He said he didn't notice anything else in Lons' car.

Attorney White said after he first heard Lons admit the stabbing, he went to the Lons' house, 521 N. Dubuque street, where he saw Mrs. Lons with two "black" eyes.

During the questioning of the two investigators, Lons held an outward pose which has shown throughout the trial.

Attorney White, who was called as the state's 17th witness, will continue his testimony today. The state said it may end its testimony today.

Assistant Police Chief Joe Dolzal Thursday identified a black-handled pocket knife which he said he found in a pile of leaves in front of 994 Bowery street.

This was about two blocks from where witnesses have said Lons and his three companions engaged in a scuffle with Davelis and two police officers.

Dolzal testified that the knife appeared to contain spots of blood, which was later removed for testing by Dr. E. L. DeGowin, SUI college of medicine.

Again testifying Thursday were State Pathologist E. J. Boyd and County Coroner George D. Callahan, who had testified Davelis died from a stab wound caused by a "sharp instrument."

Boyd said Davelis might have lived as long as half an hour after he received the heart wound.

In his questioning of the doctor, Cahill attempted to prove that the blade of the black-handled knife was not long enough to inflict the fatal wound.

Boyd said that although he didn't measure the depth of the wound, the skin, rib and heart tissues penetrated were compressible, and that he believed the knife could have made the wound.

Callahan testified that $238 was taken from Davelis' clothing by officials.

Aly Still Loves Rita, Lawyer Says

PARIS (AP) — Prince Aly Khan is very happy with his wife, movie star Rita Hayworth, and reports that they are estranged are ridiculous, Aly and his lawyer agreed Thursday.

Because Rita has gone to the United States while Aly remains at his palatial villa in Cannes on the Riviera, there have been widespread reports that they intend to divorce. Similar reports had been published before when they had been separated for more than about eight hours.

World Situation at a Glance

OTTAWA — Canadian external affairs minister Lester B. Pearson declares that UN forces in Korea may have to bomb Communist air bases in Manchuria even at the risk of extending the war.

NEW YORK — Defense Mobilizer Charles E. Wilson calls for higher taxes to help stop inflation, "a cancerous growth," which will prove fatal unless it is quickly cut out.

LONDON — Winston Churchill discloses that he will try to throw the Labor government out of office next week on an issue which helped explode a left wing labor revolt; the shortage of raw materials for rearmament.

TEHRAN, IRAN — A special parliamentary oil commission voted to ask parliament to set up a 12-man Iranian government board to take immediate control of the huge British-owned Anglo-Iranian oil company.

KOREAN FRONT — Chinese Reds press pre-dawn attacks on Allied rear guards shielding planned withdrawal toward Seoul on western front; Lt. Gen. James A. Van Fleet, in a surprise visit to the front, declares his Eighth army will halt the Chinese drive north of the Han river.

House Approves New Arms Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The house voted an extra $5,468,206,000 for defense Thursday without questioning a single dollar of it.

The emergency military spending bill was passed by voice vote, and with no amendments, just 24 hours after the appropriations committee sent it to the house floor. It now goes to the senate.

Most of the new money is to be spent in the next two months for a buildup in military manpower and a speedup in providing war weapons. If senate approves the full sum, it will bring the armed forces' spending for the present fiscal year to around $48-billion.

MAGGIE WAS 'GOOD'

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Margaret Truman made her debut as a radio actress Thursday night in "Jackpot," a play that chides radio give-away shows, and her co-star, James Stewart, said "She's a good actress."

Deferring Tests For Collegians Left to Boards

WASHINGTON (AP) — Final say on college draft deferments was left with local selective boards Thursday as a senate-house committee ploughed through the jobs of writing the final version of a new draft law.

In a move certain to be ratified by both houses, the conferees decided draft officials can go ahead with scheduled national college deferment tests. These would postpone service for qualified students.

But no draft board will be required to grant deferments solely on the results of the test. Selective service officials said they expect most local boards to string along with these results; however, it will not be mandatory.

The two toughest hurdles still face the joint committee, which will meet again today. Still to be considered is the minimum draft age — 18 in the senate version and 18½ in the house.

Another touchy problem is universal military training, and how and when it will start. The senate wants UMT to start without further congressional action once the draft is halted after the emergency. The house bill would require new legislation to get its stand-by program rolling.

The conferees already have agreed on 24 months' service in place of the present 21 months.

Czechs Jail AP Newsman

FRANKFURT, GERMANY (AP) — The Czechoslovak government has jailed William N. Oatis, one of two American correspondents remaining in Prague, on charges of hostile activities and spreading secret information.

Oatis was chief of bureau in Czechoslovakia for The Associated Press. His arrest became known Thursday, almost 72 hours after he disappeared.

Three Czech agents seized Oatis Monday night while he was putting his automobile in a garage. The government, announcing it had witnesses to prove the charges against him, indicated he would face a Communist trial.

The government announcement came after U.S. embassy counselor Tyler Thompson had asked for an urgent inquiry into Oatis' disappearance. Tyler, when told Oatis was in jail, demanded first orally and then by formal note to be permitted to interview the correspondent. The Czech foreign ministry told Thompson his request would be looked into.

Before his disappearance, Oatis had complained to the U.S. embassy that he was being followed 24 hours a day, presumably by secret agents.

The two remaining western correspondents in Prague — Russell Jones, an American representing the United Press and Robert Rieo of Reuters — were informed that the ministry of information would hold a "very important news conference today."

Hawk Man, Woman Deadline Today

Today is the deadline for nominations for Hawkman Man and Woman for 1951. Nominations should be presented in sealed envelopes at the office of student affairs, room 111, University hall, by 5 p.m.

Selection of the winning man and woman will be made by Omicron Delta Kappa and Mortar Board, men's and women's honorary leadership fraternities.

Nominating letters must include the student's name, grade point, and general qualifications. The candidates must be seniors with 90 or more semester hours and have attended SUI for three semesters.

The winning man and woman will be presented at the annual Mother's day banquet May 12 in the River room of the Iowa Union.

Nominations may be made by either housing units or individuals.

Dental Ceremonies Today

The college of dentistry will hold its annual Senior day ceremonies at 10:30 a.m. today in the senate chamber of Old Capitol.

Awards will be given by Drs. L. D. Anderson, R. E. Leighton, D. W. Lovett, A. W. Bryan, Erling Thoen and A. O. Klaffenbach.

The Gavel Was Passed On

SUI Council Elects Bunce New President

John Bunce, LI, Des Moines, was elected president of the student council Thursday night, and immediately pledged himself and the new council to "take steps in the right direction concerning reorganization."

Upon receiving the gavel from retiring president Jack Whitesell, L3, Davenport, Bunce said that the new council realizes great potential in increasing the strength of the organization.

Whitesell, in his president's report, placed the council on the threshold of real success, and added that the new council may either "push it in the door or slam the door in its face."

Although warning the new members not to move too fast, he urged that they take steps in reorganization and improved public relations.

Earlier in the meeting the council heard a report on the reorganization committee of student government, George McBurney, L3, Council Bluffs, asked the new members to be patient with the problem, saying it may take two or three years to bring about desired changes.

Pete Van Oosterhout, A2, Orange City, was elected vice-president of the council; Dave Thornness, LI, Vincent, treasurer; Joyce Horton, A3, Osage, recording secretary; and Marian Godkiss, A3, Manning, corresponding secretary.

St. Louis Burial Planned For SUI Student Suicide

The body of Robert J. Shelley, C, Affton, Mo., who died late Wednesday night of a self-inflicted rifle shot wound, was taken Thursday night to St. Louis for burial.

Shelley, a 25-year-old graduate assistant in the English department, was found unconscious about 3 p.m. Wednesday in his home at 1209 Kirkwood avenue by his roommate, William Stuckey, G, St. Louis. He died at 11 p.m. Wednesday in University hospitals.

In an inquest held Thursday afternoon, Dr. George D. Callahan, Johnson county coroner, termed the death "a suicide due to ill health."

Shelley had been under treatment at Psychopathic hospital and had been a patient there for 30 days last year, police said.

Shelley had attended SUI for two years and would have received his M.A. degree in June. He had completed his thesis, a collection of poems, and would have taken an examination for the degree in a few weeks. Prof. Ray B. West of the English department said Thursday.

Shelley acted as a graduate assistant in the creative writing workshops of the English department and was editorial assistant on Western Review, a quarterly written by English students.

A graduate of Washington university, St. Louis, Shelley had spent two years in the navy, serving in the Pacific.

He is survived by his sister, Mrs. Virginia Voyles, St. Louis, and his father, Richard Shelley, Affton, Mo. Hoffmeister Funeral home in St. Louis will complete funeral arrangements.

ROTC West Point Trip Postponed; Plane in Use

A scheduled weekend tour of West Point military academy by 18 SUI airforce and army ROTC cadets has been postponed because the plane they were to use is unavailable.

The cadets, accompanied by six officers and enlisted men from the SUI military department, planned to leave Iowa City this morning in a C-47 plane from Chanute field, but officials there said Thursday the plane could not be spared.

Capital City Only 11 Miles Behind Troops

TOKYO (FRIDAY) (AP) — Allied forces fell back to an area 11 miles north of Seoul Thursday night, but Lt. Gen. James A. Van Fleet predicted today that his Eighth army troops would save the city from the advancing Communists.

Van Fleet, UN ground forces commander, made a surprise early morning visit to a frontline division command post. He said the Allies would stop the Chinese spring counter-offensive north of the Han river, which runs through Seoul on its northward route to the sea.

Van Fleet admitted that his troops neither have established a decisive permanent line of defense nor ended their withdrawal. He told correspondents that he was continuing "to fight the war of maneuver" advocated by his predecessor, Lt. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway.

A correspondent asked, "Do you think the Eighth army can stop the Chinese north of the Han river?"

He replied with a decisive snap, "I do!"

Five Red Divisions
The Chinese have thrown troops from five divisions into the assault toward Seoul on the western front, the Eighth army announced today. Further east, the Allies and the Reds were locked in hand-to-hand combat near Kapyong, 13 miles south of the 38th parallel.

The Allies have fallen back as much as 27 miles since the Reds began their showdown offensive Sunday night. Ten of those miles were inside North Korea. The Allies now are above the border only on the eastern front east of the Hwachon reservoir.

The Reds swarmed down two corridors toward Seoul. On the extreme west, they had driven through Munsan, the town 10 miles inside South Korea which was captured by American paratroopers in a drop last month.

Eleven Miles from Capital
The Allies last were reported in the area of Uijongbu, 11 miles from Seoul, where "heavy enemy pressure" continued, according to the Eighth army.

Enemy probing attacks in the east central sectors were contained as Allied units adjusted positions, and the eastern sector remained relatively quiet.

No Induction Delays

There is no longer a delay between the time a navy applicant applies and the time he can actually enter the service, the Des Moines navy recruiting office announced Thursday.

Large quotas for training centers will prevail during the next three months, making it possible for men to apply and enter almost at once.

Mac Defends His Korean Policy, Reveals Losses

CHICAGO (AP) — Gen. Douglas MacArthur told cheering thousands in Soldier field Thursday night that the "fundamental question" before the nation still is a policy for Korea.

He declared that "our losses there in relation to the proportion of men committed have already reached staggering proportions."

"It is difficult to ask men to fight and die unless we give them a realistic mission and means to accomplish it," he said.

"What is our policy on Korea? Some will tell you that the pacification and unification of all Korea is the objective. Some will tell you the objective will be achieved with the clearing from South Korea of all enemy forces.

"None of these will tell you in the traditional ringing tones of the American patriot that our objective is victory . . ." he declared.

"It is in this situation of complete unreality that while meticulously implementing the directives given me, I have strongly urged the need for a positive policy," he said.

"I shall continue to advocate a positive policy in Korea," he said. "And I shall continue to fight against that scourge of mankind, communism, as long as God gives me the power to fight."

MacArthur mounted a platform in the field of the big stadium after a motorcade trip from his hotel and a dramatic entrance under a brilliant spotlight.

The general said he was most encouraged since his return by "the demonstration that the American people are keenly alive to their own responsibilities and will not hesitate to voice their views on the direction of the policy of the government."

"It is for future events to determine whether they still retain the ultimate authority over government as intended by the Constitution or whether such authority has been lost in the drift from the path ordained by the architects of our political institutions," he said.

"Although my public life is now closed," MacArthur began at one point in his speech, and was interrupted by cries of "no, no" from the crowd.

The general laughed broadly and his wife, seated on the platform, also threw back her head and laughed.

Mac Did His Shooting in Korea

CHICAGO (AP) — Gen. Douglas MacArthur did not impress ALL the school children in Chicago Thursday. At a northside theater about 50 chattering children waited for the doors to open for the matinee.

Great Debate . . .

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senator Robert Taft (R-Ohio) charged Thursday that the joint chiefs of staff are "absolutely under control of the administration."

His statement was promptly challenged by Senator J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.), who called it a "dangerous doctrine" to spread.

Taft, Republican policy chief in the senate, spoke out as the debate over Far Eastern policy and the firing of Gen. Douglas MacArthur roared on.

He interrupted a formal speech by Fulbright, who had said he was willing to follow the recommendations of the joint chiefs on military policy.

Taft said a speech by Gen. Omar N. Bradley, chairman of the joint chiefs, in Chicago last week was a foreign policy speech "written, in effect, by the state department."

In his Chicago address, Bradley backed President Truman and said in effect that MacArthur's policies would lead to World War III.

For Police Efficiency -

Low salaries for the risks involved and frequent, unjustified criticism on the part of citizens are usually recognized as drawbacks to a job on a police force, but here in Iowa City another drawback has developed which seems to be on par with the classic two.

That is the system of assigning, on a permanent basis, the younger and newer police officers to the night shift which runs from 11 p.m. until 7 a.m. the next day.

This system was put into effect last fall "for a 60-day trial period." Evidently the trial period proved satisfactory to those who inaugurated it, for it has assumed the aspect of permanency.

Besides the personal disadvantage to family men of continuous night duty, the community is also affected. Many of the more serious crimes and disturbances occur at night; in Iowa City, that means they are handled by the relatively inexperienced officers.

In the long run, this system also will harm the efficiency of the police force. A newcomer to the force is faced with continual night duty until he is "promoted" to day duty through the death, resignation or retirement of someone holding more seniority. Night work for as much as 10 or even 20 years is not a prospect that will attract young blood to the force.

Before the permanent night duty system was put into effect, officers received six weeks of night duty alternated with three months of day duty.

We suggest that the reinstatement of this system of parttime night duty is the only alternative to losing many of the young men now on the force and developing an inefficient and dissatisfied force in the future.

Plea for Mac

It is not MacArthur's military career alone that has prompted such widespread praise and adulation. It is just high time that somebody (it doesn't matter who) takes a stand against our present inadequate administrative policies which have blundered much too far to be given any further encouragement or support.

It is high time the public took a stand for more efficiency and economy in our government, in peacetime as well as in war. Let us momentarily forget MacArthur's military accomplishments and consider him only as a man who has shown the courage to express his convictions, and who, for the good of the country and its people, has endeavored to carry them out.

If anyone is to fade away, let it be those in authority who have mishandled their positions of such gross responsibility.

Mrs. Robert Hoag, Student Wife

Weeds and Flowers

Now that you have tried running Etta Kett strips in the wrong order, so that she and Vie get advice from the preacher one day and meet him the next, I suggest you try running it upside down for a few more days and then throw the thing out. Those of us with Comic-Strip Compulsion, who are forced to read all the comics every day, will be grateful.

To a more pleasant subject — I'd like to say that Jack Larsen is by far the best theater critic and the best music critic you have had in the years I have been reading The Iowan. And that comparison is not as high a compliment as he deserves.

Two Viewpoints

Being associated by a sort of trade apprenticeship with the social welfare business, I felt the urge to make a comment when I saw in The Daily Iowan of April 22, a news article dealing with news suppression. The American Society of Newspaper Editors' Committee on freedom of information made the point that "a federal law that keeps secret the names of those on welfare rolls meant that more than $2-billion was spent last year, 'protected' from any outside investigation of fraud."

Perhaps life is getting too complicated, but it appears rather ironic to me that one group intent upon protecting one of the inalienable rights of our citizenry, should challenge a law which purportedly aims to preserve the rights of another substantial portion of our population, namely those served by our welfare services. That law is designed to guarantee privacy of personal affairs, which, I believe, is generally considered as essential to maintain individual integrity, and which is therefore highly valued by us.

As for the absence of outside investigation of fraud, I would like to say that the persons who carry out the procedures to determine need and eligibility for individual clients are citizens of their respective counties, and although they are state employees, they are also taxpayers, and are far from being tools of a bureaucratic government.

Perhaps the ASNE is already aware of these considerations, in which case, "nuff said."

On Negotiation

Re: a negotiated peace; even, if necessary, at the 38th parallel. The current objection: that we will have gained nothing; that the war will then have been a farce, a waste of effort, and a shameful loss of men.

Suppose that when Italy invaded Ethiopia, a League of Nations army had met and repulsed that invasion — suppose that we had contained Italian aggression right then and there. Would that have been so shameful, even if we hadn't staged a counter-invasion of Italian Somaliland?

Suppose a League of Nations army had met and defeated the Japanese invasion of Manchuria? Would that have been such a bad thing to do, even though it only achieved a "status quo ante"?

Suppose a League of Nations army had met and defeated the troops which Hitler sent into the Rhineland. Would this have been of no consequence, even though the Rhineland had not even been removed from German jurisdiction?

General Ridgway has said that the repulse of the invaders from South Korea is, in itself, a great victory for the forces of the United Nations. Won't this remain true, even if we take steps toward a direct overthrow of China's present government?

U of Minnesota Budget Slashed by Legislature

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Pres. J. L. Morris told the University of Minnesota staff Wednesday that "serious entrenchment" is necessary because the legislature slashed the recommended university budget.

Morrill noted that for the next two-year period the general maintenance and operation request was slashed nearly $5-million.

Mac Arthur Reviews Honor Guard

Millions Cheer Mac in Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — Chicago's millions gave their hearts, their cheers, and a thunderous "Hi, Mac" Thursday to a self-styled "old soldier" who thought himself fading away.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur, smiling and waving, stepped from his plane "Bataan" at Midway airport at 12:20 p.m. Iowa time into the biggest and noisiest welcome in the history of Chicago and the Midwest.

Riding in a coral red convertible, the general took part in a parade along a 23-mile route from the airport to and through the Loop that marked the first half of Chicago's D (for Doug) day celebration.

Police estimated a crowd of between 3.5-million and 4-million hailed the general during his triumphant ride through the city.

An overcast lifted soon after MacArthur's arrival and the parade, was held in bright sunlight.

Throughout the wild and long demonstration, the man who sparked a bitter conflict over America's policy in Asia remained serene and publicly silent on this subject.

Aides say he will not amplify his view on this matter until he testifies May 3 before a senate committee investigating his ouster.

Wearing a trenchcoat buttoned at the collar and his famous scrambled egg cap, the deposed warrior beamed at the estimated airport crowd of 5,000 on his arrival and said:

"I'm glad to be here."

He looked it, too. He appeared healthy and tanned. His movements were brisk as he reviewed an honor guard of the 174th military police battalion of Fort Sheridan.

The "MacArthur" fever gripped Chicago just as it did San Francisco, Washington and New York during the Pacific war hero's visits to those cities last week.

The shower of tape, torn newspapers and streamers, turned into a lizzich when the motorcade hit Michigan street at Oak street and started down Chicago's "magnificent mile."

There wasn't a break in the crowds in the 23-mile route from the airport to the Stevens hotel where MacArthur is staying in the Loop.

Thousands picked the best vantage points in the Loop more than three hours before the motorcade was due. They brought folding chairs, stools and picnic lunches. Many kids sat on newspapers, cushions, despite the chill mid-forty degree temperature.

Crowds on State street stood packed from the curb out to the middle of the street, providing only a narrow patch for the motorcade to pass. Hawkers sold balloons, "MacArthur badges," plastic gadgets and every kind of souvenir they could sell.

The shopping district was pandemonium, with whistling, cheering, shouting and bell-ringing. The big stores flew flags and some had "Welcome, Mac" window displays. The sky was white with fluttering bits of paper.

State and Madison streets, sometimes called the "busiest corner in the world," was a surging mass of humanity. The crowds milled in the middle of the streets, pressing so close to the motorcade the cars could barely crawl through. The street lights were turned on, their posts wrapped in flags. Many windows were boarded up to prevent their being broken by the shoving, almost hysterical crowds.

There was a solemn note that contrasted to the general holiday spirit at the Bataan-Corregidor badge. MacArthur placed a wreath there in honor of the men who died in defending the Philippines in World War II. He paid special homage to members of a Maywood, Ill., tank battalion who perished during the Bataan death march.

"These men were mine," MacArthur said. "I shall always hold them in veneration in my heart. Since they fell, I have shared with their mothers and families the sorrow of their passing."

In front of the Stevens, Michigan avenue was a solid mass of milling humanity. The entire street for several blocks was solid with people, from the wall of the Stevens hotel across eight-lane Michigan avenue, across the opposite sidewalk and into Grant park.

On a fifth-floor setback of the hotel, some 25 to 30 persons sat, wrapped in blankets, with a good bird's-eye view. Every window in the hotel, the world's largest, was opened and people jammed every window.

As the MacArthurs entered the Stevens hotel, a shower of 1,500 orchids rained upon them from a fourth floor window—final touch of the greatest reception in Chicago's history.

Electricity Costs More In Iowa, SUI Bureau Says

Virtually all residential electric bills paid by Iowans are higher than those paid by residents in surrounding states.

This was revealed Thursday in a study made by the SUI bureau of business and economic research.

The study was compiled by Director C. Woody Thompson and Research Associate Dick Leabo, of the bureau.

The study was based on residential electric rates only.

Nine Classes

To avoid complicated calculations, nine population classes were established. For instance, all the cities with populations between 5,000 and 10,000 were placed in the same class.

The "typical" electric bill for each city was determined by averaging the cost of consumption for 100, 250 and 500 kilowatt-hours at that city's rates.

The average of the "typical" electric bill for this group of cities was then compared to similar groups in other states.

Iowa, Minnesota, South Dakota and Nebraska do not have statewide regulations. Illinois, Wisconsin and Missouri have public service commissions. The study compared Iowa rates with those of both regulated and unregulated states.

Based on the above method of investigation, the study revealed:

1. Average residential electric bills in Iowa towns served by privately-owned utilities are usually higher than those of comparable towns in surrounding states.
2. Generally, the lowest average residential electric bills for such towns are found in Wisconsin and Missouri.
3. In comparison to Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota and Missouri, the average electric bills in Iowa towns served by privately-owned utilities exceeded the "four state average" bills from 1.3 to 20.7 percent.
4. When Nebraska is added to the group, the average electric bills in Iowa towns served by public-ly-owned plants exceed the "five state average" bills by 2.4 to 16.3 percent in various sized towns.

"For anyone wishing to make a case for or against public ownership, these data are certainly inconclusive," the study says. This is because publicly-owned plants in Iowa are located in smaller towns, have different capital sources and different profit goals, according to the study.

"Do the findings prove that Iowa might have had lower utility rates had it had a public service commission?" the study asks. "It does not prove that point," it concludes, "but it is suggestive of that conclusion."

Copies of the study are available through the bureau of business and economic research.

Truman Predicts Interesting News From Senate Quiz

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Truman said Thursday he will not gag Gen. Douglas MacArthur — even though he has the power — and promised the senate investigation of the general's dismissal will produce some interesting developments.

He made the statement as Sen. Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) charged that Gen. Omar N. Bradley and the joint chiefs of staff are "absolutely under the control" of administration political leaders and that his confidence in them is "shaken."

Simultaneously, senate Republican Leader Kenneth S. Wherry of Nebraska introduced a resolution demanding that the senate investigation be broadened to determine whether Secretary of State Dean Acheson should be fired. The Republicans also want the hearing opened to the public, but Taft said he opposes televising it.

Taft's charges touched off another bitter running debate, with Republicans attacking the administration and its military advisers and Democrats replying that Taft and other GOP members are trying to set themselves up as field generals.

The combined senate armed services-foreign relations committee will open the investigation Thursday with testimony from MacArthur. He will be followed by Defense Secretary George C. Marshall; Bradley, chairman of the joint chiefs, and the chiefs themselves.

Wherry's resolution demanded that the inquiry cover all Far East policy back to the 1945 Yalta conference — in which this country made a number of concessions to Russia — and determine whether the President acted improperly in committing U.S. troops to Korea.

Committee Chairman Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.) is opposed to public hearings, but said MacArthur will be granted one if he asks for it and promises his words will not injure national security. Russell promised the Republicans an "honest and complete" inquiry.

In response to a barrage of questions at his weekly news conference, Mr. Truman said that MacArthur and his top aide, Maj. Gen. Courtney Whitney, are free to go where they want and say what they want — even though both still are on active duty and subject to military orders.

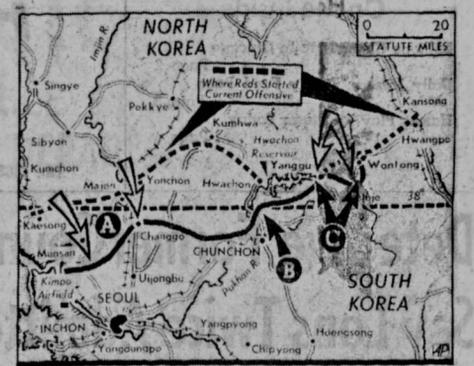

The President acknowledged that, as commander-in-chief, he still has a lot of strings on MacArthur and Whitney, but said he would not pull them. He added that Whitney, who speaks for MacArthur, has said a lot of interesting things which should have been said. He did not elaborate, other than to say he is glad to have Whitney talk.

As for Whitney's recent statement that MacArthur does not know to this day why he was dismissed, Mr. Truman said wryly that everybody else knows.

Asked about published reports that MacArthur apologized to him at their Wake island conference last summer, Mr. Truman suggested that reporters wait for next week's senate hearings. He said that they should produce a great deal of interesting material.

The President also said he has no new assignment in mind for MacArthur at present.

Reds Drive South

CHINESE COMMUNIST FORCES (open arrows) continued to advance north of Seoul (A) Thursday, driving south from recaptured Munsan and advancing to Chango on the Uijongbu highway. West of Hwachon reservoir (B) South Korean marines blunted two sharp Red attacks. East of the reservoir UN forces prevented Red gains in the Yanggu-Inje sector (C). Solid line is approximate battlefront. See story on page 1.

Communists May Soften If Korean Losses Rise

There seems to be only one hope that the Korean war will not drag on indefinitely, perhaps until it is enveloped and forgotten in World War III.

It is the hope that enough casualties can be inflicted on the Communists to impress the life-disregarding minds of Russia and Communist China with the futility of their effort to drive the Allies from the peninsula. That apparently is why General Ridgway refers to the present battle as possibly decisive.

If stopped cold, the Communists might be willing just to give up, as they did in Greece or to negotiate a settlement.

President Truman was not specific Thursday in what he had to say about any extension of the war being up to the Communists.

Presumably he was thinking about what might happen if the Reds resort to heavy aerial assault in support of their offensive.

In that case, the only counter-effort which could be truly effective would be Allied attacks on the Manchurian air bases, and the war would be carried across the Chinese border for the first time.

China operates from a sanctuary north of the Yalu river, and the Allies operate from a sanctuary in Japan. If the Allies adopt the principle of attacking the Chinese ground supply bases, then to follow the principle to its ultimate conclusion, they would also have to bomb Vladivostok, Russian port which is the very heart of the Communist supply system.

If retaliation against Communist air bases in Manchuria brought Russian personnel into the Korean war, as some fear, there would be an imminent possibility of direct war with Russia. If that occurred in the Far East, the entire world situation would be changed.

Where the Korean war now amounts to a diversion of Allied strength which would be better deployed in West Europe, Russian strength would also be diverted from Europe. And all of the Kremlin's tactics indicate it doesn't want that.

SUI Grad Awarded Literary Fellowship

Siegfried Fleisher, a 1938 SUI graduate, has won the 1951 Houghton Mifflin literary fellowship for 1951 for his first novel.

The fellowship carries a cash award of $24,000. One half of the award is considered to be an advance against royalties.

The novel which Fleisher is now finishing describes the struggle between an individual and modern society.

Fleisher, graduate of Marion high school, won Phi Beta Kappa honors at SUI. He, his wife and two sons live in Boston where he is a student at Harvard university enrolled in the creative writing course of Archibald MacLachlan.

Robert Penn Warren, speaking in the senate chamber of Old Capitol at 8 p.m. Monday won the award for "Night Rider," published in 1939.

HIT, RUN ACCIDENT

Frank Boyd, 715 N. Linn street, reported to police Thursday that the fender skirt on his car had been torn off while it was parked downtown.

Hats (?) with the Latest Spring Touches

Egg Noodle Casserole Given Added Taste With Ripe Olives

Individual egg noodle casseroles are given new interest by the addition of ripe olives. They provide a distinctive decorative touch for the top of the casseroles as well as flavor goodness to the egg noodle mixture.

These olive noodle casseroles can be put together with little fuss and the minimum of time. The sauce is made in the baking as the grated cheese melts and blends together with the evaporated milk and seasonings.

Since the ingredients required are those that are usually kept on hand, this is a good recipe to keep in mind for impromptu entertainment these spring days. With a crisp green salad and dessert, the menu is complete.

Olive Noodle Casseroles
 1 tablespoon salt
 3 quarts boiling water
 8 ounces egg noodles
 1 2/3 cups evaporated milk
 3 tablespoons grated onion
 1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
 1/4 cup chopped ripe olives
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1/2 pound processed cheese, grated

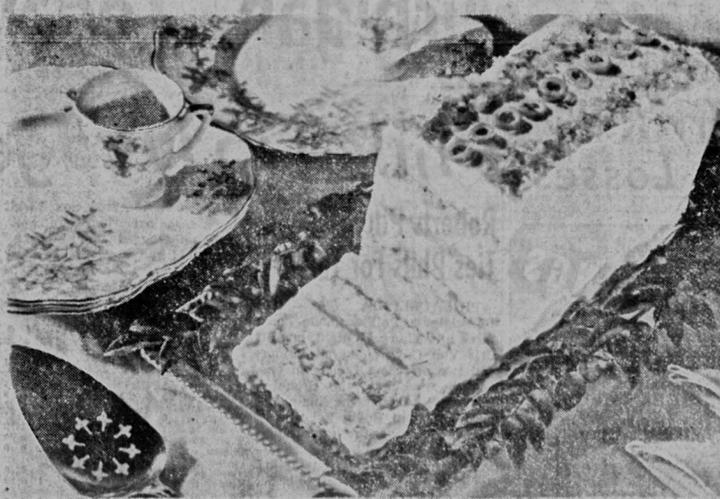

Add 1 tablespoon salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add noodles so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander. Combine evaporated milk, onion, mustard, olives, salt and cheese; mix well.

Add to cooked noodles and mix lightly. Place in four greased individual casseroles. Garnish the center of each with olive slices arranged to resemble flower petals. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) 20 minutes, or until lightly browned.

Red Apples With Cheese

A simple but sophisticated dessert that's sure to please the whole family is the service of crisp, spicy red apples with cheese. Place the cheese in the center of your prettiest tray with a serving knife, and arrange medium size red-skinned apples around the cheese for passing.

Sandwich Loaf Good Shower Dish

GIVING A SHOWER? DO YOU HAVE the problem of deciding on the perfect dish for the event. This sandwich loaf is easy to make and can be prepared long before the shower, giving the hostess plenty of time for the last minute details.

For the Busy Hostess —

Sandwich Loaf Easy to Prepare

Springtime is shower time for the bride-to-be, and shower time means hostesses eager for something new to serve to her guests. This sandwich loaf for everyone is large and beautiful enough to form the same sort of center piece as a pretty cake does.

The delicious loaf can be prepared in advance; the cheese frosting keeps it moist, and a stay in the refrigerator will improve its flavor.

You can suit the filling of the loaf to the time of day and the tastes of your guests. For a dessert card party, use sweet fillings: cream cheese, peanut butter, and jelly, with a garnish of chopped or whole nuts. For friends with a love for the spice of life, use tangy spreads like tuna fish, blue cheese and olive-pimento cheese spread.

Sandwich Loaf Recipe
 Remove all crusts from a loaf of day-old bread, forming square corners. Cut into four lengthwise slices. Spread first slice with softened butter or margarine.

Corned Beef Cooked With Maple Syrup

The beautiful state of Vermont is responsible for a special meat dish to put in your meat treasured recipe collection. It's maple glazed corned beef!

To prepare corned beef, cover with water and add 1 onion, sliced, 1 bay leaf and 6 cloves.

Simmer slowly until tender, allowing about 45 minutes per pound. To glaze, place corned beef on rack in open roasting pan. Stud with cloves and pour 1-3 to 1/2 cup maple flavored syrup over it.

Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) for 25 minutes or until the glaze has browned. Baste twice with additional syrup. Skinned beef tongues also may be baked with a maple syrup covering.

Hawks Face Michigan Today In Big Ten Action

Both Teams Try Rally After Double Losses

By ROBERT DUNCAN
Daily Iowan Sports Editor

It's very possible that either Iowa or Michigan will be completely out of the Big Ten baseball race when the Wolverines leave town Saturday after a two game series with the Hawks.

The first game is scheduled for this afternoon at 3:30 and the second Saturday at 2 p.m.

The two teams have been strikingly similar this season. Both had successful southern tours and both lost the first two games of the conference season last weekend. Iowa dropped two to Northwestern and Michigan was beaten twice by Illinois.

Thus one team will almost have to sweep this present series if it is to stay in contention for the title shared by Michigan and Wisconsin.

Iowa, who gave promise of being a good hitting club in early games this year, slumped miserably in this department in four games played last week. In addition to the losses to Northwestern, the Hawks lost a pair to Notre Dame.

The Hawkeyes left Iowa City with a team batting average of .307 and returned with .271 — a drop of 36 points in four games.

Michigan had much the same trouble against Illinois. It collected only seven hits in two games.

Either Glenn Drahn or Jim Riedesel is expected to be Coach Otto Vogel's pitching choice today with the one not selected today to start the Saturday game.

Drahn was one of Iowa's most effective pitchers last year but in his only conference start this year he was pounded for 14 hits by Northwestern.

Michigan is expected to counter with Lethander Bob Larsen today. Saturday one of three sophomore pitchers — John Shuett, Bill DenHouter and Duane Hegedorn — will probably be the choice.

Iowa's lineup today will depend greatly on who starts for Michigan, a right or lefthander.

If Larsen starts, the Iowa lineup will probably be: Rex Vana, cf; Tom Stenger, ss; Frank Bok, rf; George Hand, lf; Bob Christoph, ss; Jack Hess, 3b; "Bud" Kurt or Duane Brandt, 1b; John Dinzole or Bill Vana, c, and the pitcher.

Should a righthander start, Chuck Cebuhar will play right field, "Skip" Greene will take over second base and Brandt will definitely be in the lineup.

In the all-time series of 31 games between the two schools, Iowa has won only four. Vogel — coached teams have won three of 22 games.

Drake Relays Open Today; Pole Vault Champs Lead Field

DES MOINES (AP) — The Drake Relays open today for a two-day run — and definitely there won't be a snowstorm such as plagued the 1950 games.

The weather, in fact, is expected to be good.

Drake officials still shudder when you mention the mud, rain, cold and snow which all but ruined things last year.

But today the weatherman squared himself with the sponsors which forecast of a mild weekend. There's a possibility of showers tonight.

Top attraction of the Forty-second annual games is the pole vault in which record-smashing Don Laz of Illinois and Don Cooper of Nebraska are matched.

They are the only collegiate vaulters who have gone above 15 feet. Both did it last Saturday a few hours apart. Cooper soared 15 feet, 1/4 inch at the Kansas Relays for a new intercollegiate outdoor record. It didn't last long. Laz boosted the record to 15 feet, 1 3/4 inches in a triangular meet at Los Angeles.

Chandler To Resign If Aid A' So Fired

NEW YORK (AP) — Baseball's executive council Thursday cleared the air for the immediate resignation of Commissioner A. B. (Happy) Chandler by yielding to his demand that the secretary-treasurer of baseball, Walter Mulbry, go out at the same time.

The decision was reached after a lengthy meeting between Chandler and John Galbreath, president of the Pittsburgh club and an emissary of the council.

Galbreath, whose mission was to "get Chandler to resign immediately," returned with the following Chandler ultimatum: "I'll go only if Mulbry goes."

Eight Games On Big Ten Weekend Slate

CHICAGO (AP) — At least one of the Big Ten's undefeated baseball teams will stumble this weekend in an eight-game conference card which features Indiana's invasion of Illinois.

The Hoosiers take a 1-0 record against Illinois, unbeaten in two starts, in a Friday-Saturday set at Champaign, Ill. If either club seeps this brace, it will rank as a foremost contender for the title shared last season by Michigan and Wisconsin.

In other conference sets, Northwestern (2-0) invades Purdue (0-0), Wisconsin (0-1) is at Minnesota (0-2), and Michigan (0-2) visits Iowa (0-2).

In non-loop action, Ohio State (2-0) appears at Western Michigan Friday and Saturday and Michigan State (0-0) plays at Wayne of Detroit Saturday.

GRID SCRIMMAGE

The first of three Iowa spring football intra-squad scrimmages will be held today at 4:30 p.m. on the practice field east of the Iowa stadium.

Roberts Pitching Ties Phils For Top

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Philadelphia Phillies made only three hits Thursday night, one off Cris Van Cuyk in seven innings and two off Clem Labine in one, but they whipped the Brooklyn Dodgers 2-0 behind the fine eight-hit pitching of Robin Roberts.

The victory was the fifth straight for the Phillies and left the defending National League champions tied for the lead with idle St. Louis Cardinals.

Eddie Sawyer's men used one of their three hits to score their first run the third and the other for the second tally in the eighth.

The line score:

Brooklyn 000 000 000-0 3 0
Philadelphia 000 010 01X-2 3 1

VanCuyk, Labine (8) and Campanella; Roberts and Semitek.

Braves Top Giants

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Giants lost their eighth straight game Thursday night as the Boston Braves chalked up a 3-0 shutout. Home runs by Roy Hartsfield and Sam Jethroe in the eighth inning shattered a 0-0 tie and accounted for all the Braves' runs.

Johnny Sain won his 100th major league game by scattering six Giant hits, ruining Sal Maglie's 34th birthday party.

Hartsfield's homer sailed over the head of Center Fielder Bobby Thomson who apparently misjudged the long drive that landed on the cinder path in deep center. Sain, awarded first on interference by Catcher Wes Westrum, scored ahead of Hartsfield on the homer.

Jethroe followed with a line drive homer into the lower right field stands, his fifth of the season.

The line score:

Boston 000 000 010-3 7 2
New York 000 000 000-0 6 0

Sain and St. Clair; Maglie and Westrum. HRS-Bos-Hartsfield, Jethroe.

Red Sox 13, Yanks 7

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Red Sox outlasted the New York Yankees Thursday, winning a 13-7 contest which required three hours and 30 minutes to play. The 19,120 shivering spectators saw a total of 20 walks and 22 base hits.

The victory was Boston's first over the Yankees in three games and broke a four-game New York winning streak.

Billy Goodman, league batting champion in 1950, and Bobby

Doerr paced the Red Sox 13-hit attack against four pitchers. Goodman slugged four hits and drove in three runs, while Doerr hit a three-run double in the sixth that turned the tide.

The boxscore:

Nats 2, Athletics 1

WASHINGTON (AP) — Washington moved into first place with Cleveland Thursday night by defeating Philadelphia, 2-1, on the one-hit pitching of Connie Marrero, and home runs by Mickey Vernon and Gil Coan.

The only hit off Marrero was Barney McCosky's fourth inning homer after Marrero had retired the first 10 A's in order.

Vernon blasted Jos Coleman for a homer in the second inning, but McCosky tied it up and that situation existed until Coan smashed the homer with two out in the seventh.

The triumph was Marrero's second in as many starts.

Stanky Benched By Feuding Durocher

NEW YORK (AP) — Giants Manager Leo Durocher benched Second Baseman Eddie Stanky Thursday night and started a feud with the sports writers in the process.

Durocher announced before the start of Thursday night's Giants-Braves game that Artie Wilson would play second instead of Stanky.

"I'm not going to tell you why," Durocher snapped.

The Lip said he is starting a new policy of not announcing a reason for lineup changes—except in the case of injury.

Testing, One, Two, Three . . .

HEY, DON'T TOUCH THAT WIRE! Tempting fate Thursday afternoon, was Ned Brandt, 22, Mason City, and you can tell without any stretch of the imagination that his companion, Marilyn Smith, 14, Rockford, was not too pleased with his antics. The six temporary power lines which Brandt was testing are just outside the entrance of the SUI library.

Yesterday In Washington

CASUALTY LIST — The defense department issued the names of 127 Korean war casualties, of whom 28 are dead, 86 wounded, five missing and eight injured in battle zone accidents.

SYMINGTON TO BE RFC BOSS — W. Stuart Symington, government administrator, convinced the senate banking committee that he's the man to take over the oft-criticized RFC.

The committee questioned him closely for two hours and then voted to approve his nomination as one-man boss of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

The giant government lending agency has been under fire in congress for months because of charges by a senate investigation committee that it yielded to political influence in making millions of dollars worth of loans.

WILLOUGHBY TO BE RELIEVED — Maj. Gen. Charles A. Willoughby, 63, who was assistant chief of staff under Gen. Douglas MacArthur, is to be relieved in May, the defense department reported. Orders have been issued for Gen. Willoughby to report to Letterman army hospital in San Francisco, apparently for a routine physical examination.

The date of Gen. Willoughby's departure from Tokyo, where he has been serving as intelligence officer, is to be fixed by MacArthur's successor, Lt. Gen. Matthew Redgway.

Alpha Lambda Delta Initiates 17 Members

Seventeen SUI students were initiated into Alpha Lambda Delta, national honorary fraternity for freshmen women, this week. A student must receive a grade point of 3.5 to be eligible for membership.

Those initiated were Sarah E. Adams, Omaha, Neb.; Patricia Bailes and Joanne Brown, Iowa City; Katherine French, Des Moines; Doris Genre, Eureka, Ill.; LaDonna Haman, Laurens; Marjorie Johnson, Jefferson; Edith Killinger, Henderson; Lois Lambach, Lake City; Arlene Meyer, Omaha, Neb.; Cynthia Napier, Fort Madison; Kathryn Norcross, and Adele Cockshoot, Atlantic; Mary Ann Ross, Mt. Vernon; Delores Schnetzler, DeKalb, Ill.; Mamie Warnock, Mitchellville, and Mary Weber, Donnellson.

Iowa High School Art Work Praised For High Originality

Iowa high school art has been praised for its high degree of originality by Dord Fitz, head of art education at the University of Kentucky.

Fitz is the critic for the 21st annual Iowa high school art exhibit at SUI. The exhibit will close Sunday.

"There is real evidence of the art work having grown out of real-life experiences that have meaning to the student," Fitz commented. "The stress on 'creative' copying that used to be a major phase of the high school art program is diminishing."

Rather than teaching copying, teachers are giving the student a chance to express in two and three dimensions how he feels about people, places and things, he pointed out.

Fitz commended Iowa high school art for the variety of materials used in expressing visual, emotional and intellectual creativity.

STOVE THREATENS FIRE — Iowa City firemen were called to the home of R. W. Krouse, 117 Central park, Thursday morning when a stove became overheated and threatened to cause a fire. No damage resulted.

Sanitary Engineers Visit Sewage Treatment Plants

A group of SUI sanitary engineering students will inspect water and sewage treatment plants and garbage disposal installations in six Iowa towns Saturday and Sunday.

They will be accompanied by members of the SUI engineering staff and will visit Waverly, Waterloo, Marshalltown, Story City, Winterset and Des Moines.

Honorary Engineering Degree Given to Dawson

Dean F. M. Dawson, SUI college of engineering, will be awarded an honorary doctor of engineering degree by Syracuse university, in Syracuse, N.Y., today.

He will participate in special ceremonies honoring the 50th anniversary of the L. C. Smith college of engineering at Syracuse, and will be a featured speaker to-night on the subject, "Should Students Be Taught to Think?"

Collection Suit Filed

A collection suit was filed Thursday in district court by George Shina who asks $1,037.01 from Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Pertlecek for a promisory note which he claims was due April 5.

The plaintiff also asks a writ of attachment against the defendant's property. He states Pertlecks live out of state but own property in Iowa.

Trains Running On Schedule Again

Trains on the Rock Island lines are again running on time after a freight train derailment at Atkinson, Ill., Thursday disrupted schedules.

The west bound main and passenger due here at 4:43 a.m. Thursday was nearly six hours late and the train scheduled to arrive at 8:50 was cancelled. The 1:30 p.m. Rocket was about one and one-half hours late.

The accident occurred early Thursday about 40 miles east of Moline, Ill., when 17 cars of a 77-car freight train were derailed, tearing up about 200 yards of tracks. A loose wheel was believed to have caused the mishap. No one was injured.

SUI Grad Lands Hollywood Film Role

Lenka Peterson, SUI graduate, has won a supporting role in the Twentieth Century-Fox production, "Take Care of My Little Girl," a film about college and sorority life.

Miss Peterson, a member of the Pi Phi social sorority here, is cast along with Jeanne Crain, Dale Robertson, Mitzi Gaynor and Jean Peters.

The film, which was made in part at City College of Los Angeles, has been criticized for being against sorority life.

Former FDR Advisor Speaks Here Today

James P. Warburg, author, news commentator and banker, will lecture on "Victory Without War" at a public meeting in the house chamber of Old Capitol at 10:30 a.m. today.

Warburg, who was a former advisor to President Franklin D. Roosevelt in international economics and foreign affairs, is also the author of numerous periodical articles and books on international affairs.

The book, "Peace in Our Time?" is one of his well known books, as are "Our War and Our Peace" (1941), "Hell Bent for Election" (1935), "Still Hell Bent" (1936), and "Foreign Policy Begins at Home" (1944).

Warburg was financial advisor for the United States at the international monetary conference in London in 1933.

Iowa City Woman Granted Divorce

Grace R. Katzenmeyer, 47, was granted a divorce in district court Thursday from Milton J. Katzenmeyer, 622 N. Van Buren street.

She claimed cruel, inhuman treatment and habitual drunkenness. In her petition, filed March 6, the plaintiff said the couple was married Nov. 21, 1943, at St. Louis, Mo., and lived together until March 4, 1951.

District Judge Harold D. Evans granted the plaintiff the right to resume her former name, Grace R. Banks.

He also approved a property settlement between the parties which gives Katzenmeyer two-thirds and the plaintiff one-third of the money from the sale of two Iowa City properties and from their savings.

City Streets Get 'Face Lifting'

A SPRING FACE LIFTING was on order for Iowa City streets Thursday as workmen from the Hargrave Construction company, Cedar Rapids, began breaking up the old surface this week on a $35-238.25 asphalt street resurfacing program. Working here on Prentiss street, between Dubuque and Clinton streets were (left to right) Marion Elam, Greene City, Mo.; Tillman Selen, Cedar Rapids; Harold Woods, 609 S. Madison street; Jim Augustin, 741 S. Lucas street, and Floyd Smith, Greene City, Mo. Altogether 19 blocks will be resurfaced and 50 blocks will be seal-coated in Iowa City by the company this spring and summer.

Conductor Gets Credit; Players Blamed for Errors—Mitropoulos

By MINOR BARNES
"I always consider the conductor's position as a coward's job," New York Philharmonic Conductor Dimitri Mitropoulos told a crowd of 1,100 persons at the Iowa Union Thursday night.
Mitropoulos, speaking on the University lecture series, said the conductor takes all the bows for the good performances and the orchestra players receive the blame for all the mistakes.
"All a conductor has to do is move his hands," he said, "and if reasonably clever, no one will know if he makes mistakes."
Mitropoulos said he tries to avoid being the sole recipient of the applause. "I never take a bow alone," he disclosed, "but get down and take it with the orchestra."
Names Two Kinds of Conductors
The noted leader said there are two types of conductors, the threatener and the human. He compared the two classes to St. Francis and Savonarola. Both of these men, he pointed out, had an urge to interpret Christ's teachings similar to a conductor's desire to interpret a composer's music.

Savonarola threatened the people with severe punishment if they did not change their ways and St. Francis sought to forgive the sinners and thus give them a desire to repent, Mitropoulos said he tried to be a "St. Francis" orchestra leader.
Spirit Most Important
"The main thing in a performance is to have spirit," he explained, "Not love of perfection but love of communication."
Good music can be played in several ways, he added, again turning to a religious comparison for means of expressing himself. "It's just like the Bible. The message is there even if it is presented in a different method of expression."
ATOM RESEARCHER SPEAKS
Theodore N. Talmisian, SUI graduate and research worker from the Argonne national atomic laboratory near Chicago, will speak at a zoology seminar at 4:30 p.m. today in room 201, Zoology building.

Valparaiso U. Choir To Perform Here

Eight and 10 part secular songs and sacred compositions will be featured in the Valparaiso university choir concert 8 p.m. Saturday at the Methodist church.
Under the direction of Richard Schoenbohm, the choir will open the program with "Christians Rejoice" by Johann Eccard, "O Gentle Death" by Palestrina, and "How Fair Is Thy Face" by Grieg.
The a cappella program will include Bach's eight-part motet "Come, Jesu, Come," Brahms Love-Song Waltzes opus 52 will be accompanied by a piano duet.
Eight and 10 part secular songs such as "Hymn to the Soul" by Cyril Jenkins and "Sunrise" by S. J. Taneyef will conclude the concert.

Six Iowans Elected To Historical Society

The State Historical society of Iowa elected six Iowa Citizens to membership during April. Altogether 49 persons were chosen.
The new members from Iowa City are E. A. Eaton, George V. Nesheim, Frank C. Speidel, C. Merton Spicer, Mrs. Faye H. Strayer and Everett Waller Jr.

2-Day Career Conference Ends

The sixth annual business careers conference at SUI ended Thursday after two days in which 28 meetings, a dinner banquet and two luncheons were held.
Sponsored by the collegiate chamber of commerce, an organization of commerce students, the conference brought in business men from many fields of commerce to describe this year's employment prospects.
Typical of the sessions was the one conducted Wednesday by I.W. Lackore, secretary of the Ames chamber of commerce. He described the training needed to enter the expanding field of chamber of commerce work.
In another session, B. D. Silliman, Cedar Rapids, of the Iowa Chain Store council said chains offer new employees wide opportunities, stable employment and financial security.
Allen E. Towne, district traffic manager for United Airlines from Des Moines, told the students there are "tremendous opportunities" in aircraft manufacturing and many openings throughout the industry. "One year of college is worth two years of experience in our eyes," he said.
Wayne Bicklen from the Shearfen Pen company, Fort Madison, urged students to investigate a company before going to work for it.
Louis C. Manly Jr., market researcher for the Maytag company, Newton, said management now recognizes the value of this new field of research and employment opportunities in it are good.

Local Schools Participate In Citizenship Program

Three Iowa City high schools are participating in a newly-inaugurated American citizenship program sponsored by the Iowa State Bar association and foundation.
The schools are St. Patrick's, St. Mary's and University high schools.
Each school will select a senior who has shown outstanding qualities and understanding of American government. A representative of the bar association will present the seniors with medals and scrolls.
William R. Hart, U.S. district attorney for southern Iowa, is chairman of the bar association's citizenship award committee.

River Freighter Sinks

A freighter owned by David Deaton, 502 N. Reno street, was sunk this week when the Mississippi flood hit the freighter's drydock in Muscatine.
Deaton Thursday estimated the vessel's value at $3,500. He had owned it for two years and used it for coastal trade.

FBI Holds Man After Attempted Bank Fraud Here

Wesley J. Prokop, Cedar Rapids, is being held in Des Moines by FBI agents after he attempted to defraud an Iowa City bank.
Iowa City police said Prokop came here March 26 and opened an account at the First National bank under the name of Wayne Wagner. He deposited $50.
A few days later, police said, he deposited $100 in cash and a check for $2,145.24 drawn on the Kansas State bank, Pratt, Kan.
Two days later Prokop returned to the bank and attempted to withdraw his money which totaled $2,295.24. The bank teller gave him the $150, but would not give him cash for the deposited check.
Later it was found that both the Kansas bank and the name he used were fictitious, local police said.

Jailed for Loitering

Edward E. Norris, Syracuse, N. Y., was sentenced to 30 days in jail here Thursday on a charge of loitering at the Odd Fellows building.
Police Judge Emil G. Trott said that if it is found Norris is not wanted on charges in any other city he will be released.

U.S. Policy Research Conference Set Here

E. Taylor Parks from the U.S. state department will be at SUI Monday to confer with students, professors and other persons interested in official policy research.
Parks is a member of the historical advisory staff of the division of historical policy research. He will address a general meeting at 9:30 a.m. Monday in room 221A Scheffer hall.
The rest of the day and Tuesday morning will be devoted to conferences. Parks will have a temporary office in room 206, Schaeffer hall.
Tuesday noon, before leaving for Nebraska, he will address the
