Defense May End Testimony In Lons Murder Trial Today

By MARVIN BRAVERMAN

Defense testimony in the James Lons murder trial is expected to be completed today, but it appears unlikely the case will go to the jury before Friday.

The state probably will call five or six more witnesses in its rebuttal after conclusion of defense testimony. Each side will then present closing arguments before Judge Paul H. McCoid gives instructions to the jury of seven men and five women.

As the trial of the 53-year-old cafe operator ended its 13th day Wednesday, the defense called two psychiatrists in an attempt to prove that drugs taken by Lons Oct. 11-12 caused him to have a "blackout" at the time Andrew Davelis was alleged to have been stabbed.

Alleged Blackout
Defense Attys. A. C. Cahill and William Bartley maintain that this alleged "blackout" made Lons incapable of criminal responsibility. The medical testimony was admitted as evidence only after McCoid overruled numerous state objections to the relevance of the testimony.

The state insisted that the evidence should be stricken from the record, because Lons had proven by his own testimony that he was "rational" in his behavior before and after the incident in front of Atty. Dan C. Dutcher's residence, 620 S. Summit street.

County Atty. William L. Meardon and Atty. D. C. Nolan, special prosecutor, argued that Lons had remembered most of the events Oct. 11-12, except the one on the Dutcher lawn.

Doctors Testify
Both Dr. Charles Graves, director of state mental institutions, and Dr. Andrew H. Woods, neurologist and SUI professor emeritus, testified that an adequate amount of whiskey and phenobarbital, a heart drug, could make a person incapable of comprehending his acts.

Lons, recalled to the stand, said that he took about 17 ounces of whiskey and five grains of phenobarbital for his heart condition from 5 p.m. Oct. 11 to 2 a.m. Oct. 12.

The cafe operator and three other men trailed Mrs. Lons and Davelis early the morning of Oct. 12.

Graves, who is also a medical consultant to the state penal institutions, said the amount of drugs taken by Lons could affect him to the extent that he would not be able to distinguish between right and wrong.

Woods, a former director of Psychopathic hospital, said he would not be able to give an opinion on this because he did not know enough about Lons' emotional condition Oct. 11-12.

State of Amnesia
Graves stated that the amount of whiskey and drugs alleged to have been taken by Lons could have caused a state of amnesia.

The state only briefly cross-examined Graves, and will continue questioning him at 10 a.m. today. Dr. Wilbur Miller, director of Psychopathic hospital, is also

Aide to Appear At RFC Probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — Presidential Aide Donald S. Dawson told Senate RFC investigators Wednesday that he will be "glad to comply" with their request that he testify May 10.

Late Tuesday, Sen. J. William Fulbright received a telephone call from Dawson.

Fulbright told reporters the White House aide said he would be glad to comply with your request and was writing us a letter to that effect.

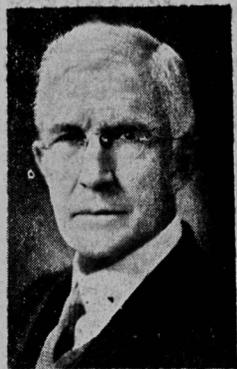

White House Press Secretary Joseph Short said Dawson's decision "had the President's approval."

Dawson's name cropped up again and again during the subcommittee's sensational hearings on alleged "favoritism" and wire-pulling in RFC loans.

Local Cancer Drive Reaches $2,000 Mark

The Johnson county "Cancer Crusade" has reached one-third of its $6,000 goal, J. Newman Toomey, chairman of the drive said Wednesday.

The residential district under the chairmanship of Mrs. E. W. Scheldrup and Mrs. Frank Burge has met its goal of $1,500.

Dr. Andrew H. Woods Testified About Heart Drug

expected to be called to support the defense's contention of Lons' condition.

Lons under cross examination
Wednesday denied he had admitted to police that he had stabbed Davelis. He asserted that he followed his wife and the waiter only "to find out what's going on."

Meardon asked Lons whether police officers were wrong when they testified they saw him strike Davelis and later admit the stabbing.

"I wouldn't say they were wrong. All I want to do is tell the truth."

Lons again affirmed that he recognized no one but Davelis on the lawn in front of Atty. Dan C. Dutcher's residence, and that he saw no police officers.

Mississippi Still Threatens Muscatine

The Mississippi receded slightly at Muscatine Wednesday, but one of the most critical spots along the flood-swollen river was still in danger.

The Mississippi stood at 20.6 feet and river experts warned that it would remain high for several days. National guardsmen have expressed fear that the levee might give way unless the river drops considerably in the next few days.

Residents of the city, which has been threatened by the river for almost a week, were prepared to flee at a moment's notice. Volunteers and national guardsmen worked ceaselessly to reinforce the dikes with sandbags.

Iowa City's 34th reconnaissance company of the national guard, including about 40 men, was ordered to flood duty in southeast Iowa Tuesday after a break occurred in the levee north of Oakville, 20 miles south of Muscatine. They were to quarter at Wapello.

Brig. Gen. Fred C. Tandy, of Des Moines, said that break was repaired by sending about 25 guardsmen from the units now stationed at Muscatine to aid in the sandbagging. This move thinned out the forces at Muscatine.

Why Do We Fight? GIs Get Answer

NEW YORK (AP) — Why do we fight?

Leaders of Catholic, Protestant and Jewish faiths have joined in giving their answers to the men in the foxholes and military camps.

Briefly, their answer is: for tolerance, for freedom to worship God, and for the American heritage of democracy.

The ideas are set forth in a series of pamphlets for distribution to the armed forces, here and abroad, by chaplains.

The pamphlets were prepared by 39 religious leaders making up the Commission on Religious Education of the National Conference of Christians and Jews.

Iowa's Votes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senator Gillette (D-Iowa) voted with the majority tonight as the senate voted 42-40 to recess and thus stall a Republican attempt to open to the public the hearings, starting tomorrow, on the ouster of Gen. Douglas MacArthur. Senator Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) voted against the motion to recess.

Vogeler, 'a Wreck' Leaves for Hospital; Thanks U.S. Public

NEW YORK (AP) — A Robert A. Vogeler, "a general wreck, mentally and physically" as a result of his 17 months in a Communist prison in Hungary, said Wednesday he would go to Bethesda, Md., Naval hospital for a complete examination.

Vogeler said he would like to reveal details of his ordeal in prison but that "it's difficult for me to think about those things now." His face was pale and drawn and he seemed much more nervous than when he arrived at International airport Tuesday.

His platinum blonde wife, a former Belgian beauty queen, remained almost continuously at his side.

Vogeler clasped his hands nervously, groped for words and seemed to be fighting against collapse at a 10-minute press conference.

"I am very ill," he said, "and I am leaving very shortly for a hospital where I hope I shall recuperate quickly."

He apologized for refusing to answer questions and said he wanted the press conference in order to "express my gratitude to all of you." He asked reporters to "carry" his gratitude to the American public.

Tickets Available For Theater Show

Tickets for "The Queen's Husband" which will play at the University theater May 10-19 went on sale this morning at the theater ticket office, room 8-A, Schaeffer hall.

This is the last play of the fall and winter series and the last one for which season ticket holders may obtain seats. Any coupons, regardless of the number on them, are good for this production, Prof. Gregory Foley, business manager of SUI theater, said.

"The Queen's Husband" is a three-act comedy by Robert E. Sherwood. The play is set in a mythical and anonymous kingdom on an island in the North sea, somewhere between Denmark and Scotland.

Foley directed the production. Setting was designed by Prof. A. S. Gillette.

Robeson Unable To Finish Term

Prof. George F. Robeson, SUI political science department, has returned to University hospitals and will be unable to resume teaching this term.

Robeson collapsed in class three weeks ago but was released from the hospitals and resumed teaching. He returned to the hospitals last weekend where he is expected to remain for several weeks.

Prof. Kirk H. Porter, head of the department, said the following men would teach Robeson's classes for the remainder of the term:

John P. Hendrickson, American constitutional government; George F. Moore, administration of justice; Prof. Hugh E. Kelso, government of Russia, and Porter, seminar in ideologies.

U.S. Denies Mexico Hurt By O'Dwyer Crime Story

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Acheson said Wednesday he sees no evidence that U.S.-Mexican relations have been hurt by the senate crime committee's chiding of Ambassador William O'Dwyer.

And White House Press Secretary Joseph Short said he was unaware of any plan to recall O'Dwyer from his Mexico City post, as demanded by a number of Republicans following Tuesday's publication of the crime committee's report.

HITS SHIPPER'S PROFIT

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Albert Thomas (D-Tex.) charged Wednesday that ship operators make exorbitant profits in transferring their vessels to government service and urged congress to wipe out the practice.

Ridgeway Gives Evidence Reds Were Invaders

(From the Wire Services)

LAKE SUCCESS — Lieut. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgeway sent a special report to the United Nations Wednesday asserting he had obtained documentary proof that the North Koreans were the aggressors against South Korea.

The report was the first received here from Ridgeway since he succeeded Gen. Douglas MacArthur as UN commander in Korea. It was dated May 2 and dealt exclusively with the discovery of two military orders issued shortly before the Korean fighting started last June 5.

Perfect Proof
The two captured North Korean battle orders Ridgeway said provided "complete and perfect proof" that the Communists started the Korean war.

Submitting copies of a reconnaissance order dated June 18 and "Operation Order No. 1" dated June 22, Ridgeway said:

"These two orders issued to North Korean forces provide clear and documented confirmation that the attack against the Republic of Korea, launched on the 25th of June 1950, was carefully prepared and carried out in accordance with a deliberate and preconceived plan for the conquest of the Republic of Korea."

Chief U.S. Delegate Warren R. Austin, who filed Ridgeway's report with the security council, told newsmen:

"These documents corroborate the claim the U.S. has made in the general assembly and the security council to the effect that the aggressor was North Korea in the beginning."

Purpose and Plan
Austin pointed out that the two captured orders are a plain exhibition of definite purpose and plan. In these orders, "you have the admission that the enemy (the North Koreans) were going to attack was on the defensive."

He referred to "Operation Order No. 1" issued on June 22 by Lee Kwon Mu, commanding officer of the North Korean Fourth infantry division, which said:

"The First Infantry regiment of the enemy's Seventh infantry division is standing on the defensive against air attack. The most important objective of our division in the frontal attack is to penetrate the enemy's defensive line on the Kwandong-Ajangdong line, and after taking Maji-Ri Hill, Pyongmaul and Naeoam, advance to Uijongbu-Seoul area. The plan calls for completion of preparations by June, 23, 1950."

ISC Dorm Fire Routs Coeds

AMES (AP) — More than 200 Iowa State college coeds were routed from their beds in night clothes Wednesday night when fire broke out in a storeroom of Welch Hall, women's dormitory.

Firemen said the blaze started in the motor of a refrigerator and caused only slight damage. No one was injured.

The fire department said the alarm was turned in at 9:40 p.m. and the blaze was extinguished within a couple of minutes after firemen arrived at the scene.

MacArthur-Truman Wake Island Meeting Report Made Public

Excerpts From Documents

WASHINGTON (AP) — Here are high spots of the administration's Wake Island conference documents.

President Truman — "What are the chances for Chinese or Soviet interference?"

Gen. Douglas MacArthur — "Very little. Had they interfered in the first or second months it would have been decisive. We are no longer fearful of their intervention."

MacArthur — "With the Russians it is a little different." He made a point of the Red airforce deployed in Manchuria.

Mr. Truman — "General MacArthur and I have talked fully about Formosa. There is no need to cover that subject again. The general and I are in complete agreement."

MacArthur — "No commander in the history of war ever had more complete and adequate support from all the agencies in Washington than I have."

Mr. Truman — "We must make it plain that we are supporting the (Syngman) Rhee government (of the South Korean Republic) and propaganda can 'go to Hell.'"

MacArthur — "I do not believe that you can absorb and spend in Korea much more than $150-million a year; with a three-to-five-year total of $500-million for rehabilitation." Others had talked of sums up to $1.5-billion.

MacArthur — "I should say that they (three or four American divisions in Japan) would have to be maintained there for several years."

Gen. Omar Bradley — It will be April, 1951, "before we can get a division to Europe."

MacArthur — "Who had stated he believed 'formal resistance will end throughout North and South Korea by Thanksgiving' of last year was asked if he could make one division available by January, 1951, and replied — "Yes, I will make one available by January. I would recommend that the second division be selected..."

New Grand Jury To Meet Monday

The May term of Johnson county district court is scheduled to open here at 2 p.m. Monday when members of the county grand jury panel will convene.

Each term seven persons from a panel of 12 are selected to serve as a grand jury for the next three months.

Civil cases to be tried during the May term will be assigned following a meeting of the Johnson County Bar association with District Judge Harold D. Evans Tuesday.

Van Fleet Says Allies Won 'Great Victory'

(From the Wire Services) (Daily Iowan War Map on Page 8.)

TOKYO (THURSDAY) — Allied artillery which helped turn the Communists' spring offensive into a "great victory" for the Allies blazed again today on a new Communist troops' buildup northeast of Seoul.

The Reds were reported getting ready to renew their bogged-down offensive with a three-division assault on Seoul.

The Allied field commander proclaimed the first round of the big Red drive a great Allied victory but warned that bigger blows possibly were to come.

Hundreds of Shells
An unidentified aircraft dropped four bombs on a ridgeline a few thousands yards in front of United Nations positions in the Chunchon area early Thursday morning and Communist artillery northwest of Seoul dropped "hundreds" of shells into the UN defense perimeter.

Allied guns blazed out again Wednesday night to silence the Red artillery northwest of Seoul, but the enemy fire and the new buildup emphasized the warning by Lt. Gen. James A. Van Fleet that the Reds might strike again as hard as before, or harder.

It was Van Fleet, new commander of the international Eighth army, who proclaimed the Allies "great victory" in stopping the Chinese offensive far short of its goal.

Van Fleet said, "We have punished the Communist forces severely. The enemy has failed in the first phase of his offensive. He has paid a heavy price. The first part of the battle has ended in a great victory for the UN."

Quick Decision
He said he believed the offensive was designed to force a quick military decision in Korea, and added:

"Certainly it is part of his announced plan to destroy us or force us into the sea."

Since sending their infantry masses headlong into the offensive April 22, the Chinese and North Korean Reds had suffered an estimated 75,000 casualties against furious Allied resistance.

The main body of UN forces rolled with the punch, then dug in. The Allied line swung back from parallel 38 to about 30 miles southward on the western and west-central fronts, then curved north-eastward to points above the parallel on the east coast.

Egypt Lecture Tonight At New Library Room

John A. Wilson, professor of Egyptology at Chicago university, will speak at 8 p.m. tonight on "The Cultural Weight of Ancient Egypt" in the Shambaugh lecture room of the University library.

The lecture, last in a series of archaeological lectures, will be illustrated with visual aids. The lecture is sponsored by the Iowa Society, Archaeological Institute of America, and the graduate college.

Long Toms Blast at Unseen Reds

SETTING UP A CURTAIN OF FIRE AGAINST THE REDS, Eighth army long toms belched flame as UN artillerymen concentrated firepower against advancing Communist forces along the Korean front. Allied fire appears to have stalled Chinese spring offensive, at least for the present.

MacArthur Says Report Has No Bearing

(From the Wire Services)

WASHINGTON — The MacArthur-Truman dispute blew wide open again Wednesday with the release of a secret report on the Wake Island meeting and a Republican drive to force an open hearing for General MacArthur's explanation of his Asian policies.

Senate Democrats, after using filibuster tactics, Wednesday night blocked a Republican move for wide open hearings.

The senate, on a vote of 42 to 40, recessed without reaching a vote on a Republican motion that MacArthur be heard in open committee today. He is due to start testifying today at 8 a.m. (Iowa time) behind closed doors.

1,000 Planes
A report from the joint chiefs of staff Wednesday quoted MacArthur as telling President Truman last October at Wake Island that he did not believe the Chinese Reds would enter the Korean war.

The general also was represented as saying that Soviet Russia had no ground troops available for Korea but could put 1,000 planes into combat.

The secret report was released by the senate armed services and foreign relations committees. It was labeled as the "substance of statements made at Wake Island conference." MacArthur also was quoted as saying "No commander in the history of war ever had more complete and adequate support from all agencies in Washington than I have."

In New York, MacArthur said the Wake Island talks have about the same bearing on the current problem in Korea "as would a report on the military operations of Bunker Hill."

General MacArthur had said no stenographic record was made of the Wake Island conference, but Gen. Omar Bradley, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, said a stenographer in an adjoining room took down part of the conversation. Other parts of the report, he said, were based on longhand notes made by various officials who participated in the conference.

Five Copies
Bradley — who was at Wake Island — said five copies of the report were sent to MacArthur 12 days after the Wake meeting.

Bradley said in a letter: "To my knowledge, since that time we have received no information from General MacArthur or his headquarters that would indicate any non-concurrence with the record of the conference."

It was only a few weeks after the Wake Island meeting that the Chinese Communists crossed the Yalu river in force and staged a huge counter-offensive that pushed the UN forces back across the 38th parallel and deep into South Korea.

The 17-page administration account of the meeting also stated that MacArthur assured the chief executive that "we no longer stand hat in hand" in Korea where the Chinese Reds are concerned.

"The Chinese have 300,000 men in Manchuria," the general was quoted as saying. "Of these, probably not more than 125,000 are distributed along the Yalu river. Only 50,000 to 60,000 could be gotten across the Yalu river."

"They have no airforce. Now that we have bases for our airforce in Korea, if the Chinese tried to get down to Pyongyang (North Korean capital) there would be the greatest slaughter."

The account said MacArthur believed it was "a little different" with the Soviets because "they have an airforce in Siberia and a fairly good one, with excellent pilots equipped with some jets and B-25 and B-29 planes."

No Match
"They can put 1,000 planes in the air with some 200 to 300 more from the Fifth and Seventh Soviet fleet," he said. "They are probably no match for our airforce."

According to the account, MacArthur told the President "there is little resistance left in South Korea — only about 15,000 men — and those we do not destroy, the winter will."

Big Three Deputies Say Have Gone Limit On Agenda Problem

PARIS (AP) — The three Western powers submitted three alternate proposals to Russia at the Big Four deputies meeting Wednesday and declared they had gone the limit in trying to arrange a foreign ministers conference.

But Soviet deputy foreign minister Andrei Gromyko said this was not enough. He described his remarks as preliminary, however, obviously meaning he would ask the Kremlin for its reaction.

In presenting the proposals, Dr. Phillip Jessup of the United States declared, "Our discussions have reached an impasse."

Any one of the three proposals could form the basis for a foreign ministers conference.

"The first proposal, marked 'A' represents a maximum effort by the three delegations to secure agreement upon an agenda along the lines of the discussions in the last few weeks," Jessup declared.

The main point in proposal 'A' is that it places the question of German demilitarization first on the list, as Gromyko has insisted from the start.

World Situation At A Glance

KOREAN FRONT — Lt. Gen. James A. Van Fleet proclaims "great victory for United Nations" in halting first phase of Communist offensive. Van Fleet cautions, however, that Reds will strike again "as hard as before or harder" — although he is "confident results will be the same."

Battlefront lull enters fifth day. Chinese and North Korean Red casualties estimated at 75,000.

LAKE SUCCESS — UN Commander Lieutenant General Ridgeway sends special report saying he has obtained documentary evidence — two military orders — that the North Koreans were the aggressors when fighting started last June.

WASHINGTON — Administration released report of President Truman's Wake Island conference with Gen. MacArthur, quoting latter that there was "very little" chance of Red China's intervention in Korea.

WASHINGTON — Economic Cooperation Administration (ECA) announces end of Marshall plan aid to Ireland, with agreement of Irish government. In past three years, U. S. has given Ireland $18-million in Marshall plan funds and loaned it $128,500,000.

BONN — Russians are strengthening their armed German "people's police" in East Germany, and heavy industry in their zone has been harnessed to Russian arms production, West German cabinet minister says.

PARIS — French spokesman hints France may support the bombing of Chinese Communist bases in Manchuria if heavy air attacks are launched from the bases against UN forces in Korea.

LONDON — Colonial office discloses British Malaya sold 120,000 tons of rubber to Communist China and 40,400 tons to Soviet Russia in the nine months which ended in March — all since the outbreak of the Korean War.

LAKE SUCCESS — U. S. expected to call today for a worldwide embargo on Red China to stop all shipment of supplies for making atomic weapons and of all war materials, informed sources say.

ATOM STRIKE SPREADS — OAK RIDGE, TENN. (AP) — A strike of AFL construction workers on a huge atomic plant project spread Wednesday — even as union leaders "urgently" requested the strikers to return to their jobs.

editorials

Progress Noted and Approved —

When the March issue of Frivol came out, we stated editorially that we felt that particular issue was accepted with more general satisfaction on the part of the student body than any issue in many months.

We pointed out that during the squabble over Frivol last fall we weren't quite sure what the students actually wanted in their "magazine of collegiate life," although we had gone on record as feeling that most of the complaints against the magazine had been justified.

And we're still not sure what the students want. But in our own opinion, the May issue of the magazine is even better than the ones published in March and April.

Again there was no preponderance of material directed at any particular group, one of the features of last fall's issues which was attacked pretty severely.

However, in passing, we hope that no Frivol editor will ever consider the ignoring of Fraternity Row as a criterion of quality for a student magazine.

We would be as much against a policy which embraced that idea as we would a magazine intended for all students but directed only at "affiliates."

We don't know how the fiction in the current issue would stand up in a writer's workshop. But we enjoyed it. And the cartoons have that quality we look for: good humor.

With the exception of the difficulty we encountered in trying to read through the green ink on some of the pages, we felt the May issue of Frivol was a good one. And we have the feeling they're going to get better.

Our compliments to the current staff.

Previews . . . and Postscripts

By JACK LARSEN

Applause: Welcome And Unwelcome Music —

Far be it from me to begrudge anyone applause that's deserved.

But there's a proper time for applause, and there's a time when people should keep the palms of their hands asunder; and I wish some logical practice existed in the matter.

What I'm driving at is this: When you attend a concert, it is customary to wait until an entire number has been performed before showing approval (or whatever reaction you want to show). You don't applaud between movements of a symphony; you wait until the whole selection has been played.

But when you get into performances of other forms of the arts the situation is different. And it's the applause bestowed upon artists at the opera, at the ballet, or on the legitimate stage that I'm speaking of today.

One of the reasons a movie generally engages a stronger empathic response than a play, even if the vehicle is inferior, is that its action is not interrupted by applause (which in turn interrupts the hold — "breaks the spell" — a story may maintain over an audience.)

Maybe you don't mind those interruptions. I happen to resent having my attention diverted from the stage to the auditorium by clapping from those who wish to show their pleasure at the entrance of a "big name."

Even an established star may have an off-night, in which case all that initial applause is taking a lot for granted.

Take opera, which is stultified enough by conventions without having the soloist take a bow from his position on stage as the audience wildly acclaim his just-completed aria. In the case of some operas in particular it's difficult enough to become engrossed in the action without being jarred by the disruptive acknowledgement of applause for a singer.

After all, would you applaud Bruno Walter in the midst of the last movement of Beethoven Ninth just because he was delivering a stirring, ringing interpretation? Is drama, opera, or ballet so different that this inconsistency of convention need not be overlooked?

Then there's the ballet. Just as an actor's reading of a particular speech may be overwhelming, a dancer's performance in a particular routine may be anything but routine. In either case, the registration through applause is merited.

But every time a dancer must take time out between leaps for a bow or a curtsy, I'm reminded of a vaudeville show where acrobatics and feats of daring (gravity-defying variety) are to be expected — and cheered.

All I ask, in case you've been wondering, is that the public greet any sort of performance in hopeful silence, refraining from its applause and its bravos until after each number, each scene, or each act.

I have no prejudice against applause. It is the most moving, most beautiful music I know. If a performance has been magnificent, the deserved applause which follows it somehow stirs me more than anything which has preceded it and evoked it.

If an individual has given a tremendous demonstration of his artistry, enthusiasts can parachute off the balconies strewn with petals for all I care, and I'll encourage 'em.

Until the performance has been completed, though, I would just as soon observe placidly whatever is being performed on the stage and reserve the applause until it's over.

The absence of same in local movie palaces is a great advantage, as far as I'm concerned. Not even the crunch of popcorn kernels or the crackle of popcorn bags has the disturbing effect of the collective collision of pairs of hands in appreciation (or if you share my view, depreciation) in the middle of some event.

Expect Sunny May In Midwest States

WASHINGTON (AP)—The weather bureau said Wednesday that its 30-day outlook for May "calls for temperatures averaging below seasonal normals west of the continental divide and generally above normal over the eastern two-thirds of the country, except in New England where near normal is indicated."

"Greatest negative departures are expected in the southwest and greatest positive departures over the upper Mississippi valley," the bureau said.

"Rainfall amounts are expected to be above normal over most of the western half of the country except for subnormal in the Pacific northwest. In the northwest and in the lake region subnormal amounts are indicated, while other areas east of the Mississippi will have near normal rainfall."

Demos to Meet

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chairman William Boyle Tuesday called the Democratic national committee to meet in Denver, Colo., May 25 to decide the time and place for the party's 1952 presidential nominating convention.

Acheson Says U.S. Used Wedemeyer Report

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Acheson contended Wednesday that the United States carried out all but one of Lt. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer's 1947 recommendations for strengthening South Korea against Communist attack.

He said the only recommendation by-passed by the administration was Wedemeyer's proposal that the U.S. create a South Korean scout force, patterned after the famed Philippine scouts, and commanded by American officers.

Built Korean Defense
Instead, Acheson told a news conference, the U.S. built up a 150,000-man Korean defense force with U.S. officers serving as advisers rather than commanders. He said that in actual operations "our officers have served with Korean forces in the field."

"Certainly," he concluded, "our course in Korea has paralleled the recommendations of General Wedemeyer."

The long-secret Wedemeyer report was declassified and made public Tuesday by the senate group investigating Gen. Douglas MacArthur's ouster by President Truman. Republicans had long demanded its publication in belief it would bolster their Far East policy proposals.

They contended Wedemeyer's proposals were not followed and that war might have been averted if they had been.

Wedemeyer told Mr. Truman in 1947 that Communist North Korea would attack South Korea after American and Russian occupation forces were withdrawn and there was NO chance that Soviet troops would be actively in the fight.

As Wedemeyer Recommended
Acheson issued a lengthy statement detailing American arms and economic aid to Korea as Wedemeyer had recommended. He asserted that the general's report had to be suppressed until now for security reasons.

Rep. Gordon Canfield (R-N.J.) told the house, however, that the Korean war "might have been avoided" if congress had been given the report sooner. Rep. F. Edward Hebert (D-La.) recalled that a house armed services subcommittee said in 1947 there was a Soviet-trained "people's army" of 180,000 in North Korea.

Acheson said the U.S. gave South Korea $57-million worth of military equipment before the war, including 105,000 rifles, more than 2,000 machine guns, more than 50-million rounds of ammunition; 5,000 trucks, 50,000 mines, and demolition blocks;

79 vessels and 20 liaison airplanes.
Acheson said U.S. economic aid to Korea from 1945 to 1943 totaled $356-million. When the war began, he added, the economic cooperation administration had started a three-year program that would have given the republic another $285-million.

Individual Rights . . .
TO THE EDITOR:
The recent action of the supreme court in ruling that the branding of an organization as Communist must be backed by evidence in court is to be commended.

However, it seems the court fails to recognize the rights of the individual when they uphold the right of the government to fire any individual on grounds of being a Communist without being forced to reveal the basis of the charge.

Certainly we can realize the potential danger of this power if misused. In the present Red scare, a man labeled a Communist is ruined politically, socially, and often economically.

Crying "Communist," or threatening to do so, would be a very convenient and foolproof method of eliminating an employee who is not ordinarily subject to the perils which characterize the tenure of political employees. As an example, civil service positions could easily fall under this political axe!

In this country, which was supposedly founded on the rights of the individual and protection from arbitrary government, how can we leave an individual's future in the hands of a politician?

It is a mystery to me why the supreme court does not attach the same restrictions to the government in its dealings with the individual as it has so rightly done in its dealings with the group.

International Friendship
TO THE EDITOR:
In the last few years there have been opportunities never before paralleled for growth of friendship and brotherhood between Japan and the United States. One of the more recent projects is the gesture of goodwill that America is extending in the International Christian university.

This university will be a real evidence of America's concern for the development of Japan as a democratic and Christian nation. At present there are some universities and colleges in Japan. This International Christian university is not competing with these, rather it is venturing into fields untouched. Nowhere in Japan is there now a graduate school as is contemplated here for the most critical development of leaders in the field of education, public affairs and social work. The undergraduate school will also concentrate in these areas. A well-rounded program will be presented to develop teachers for the new system of free education, civil servants in this emerging democratic nation, and social workers in this complex and confused society.

Also this school will present a non-sectarian atmosphere as a means of undergirding and revitalizing education from the standpoint of Christian education. This university will certainly provide a source of strength and inspiration to the program of reconstruction toward building a new Japan.

As pointed out in the editorial Tuesday in The Daily Iowan, there is a goal of $10-million to be raised in this country to be used in founding this university. This may seem like a large amount of money to us, but proportionally Japan has raised twelve times as much in comparison to her national income for this project. Already great expectations from this university have been stirred in the Japanese people.

The colleges and universities of America have taken a separate part of this $10-million goal. In this respect the local campus of SUI is effecting a drive for $1,000. Easily we see that a donation of 25 cents from the majority of the students would realize this goal. But the purpose of the drive is not just to extract funds for a vague purpose. It is to give us, the students, an active part in extending "our democratic privilege of education to our friends across the Pacific. In this we will be providing educated and Christian leaders for Japan. Truly we the students can realize the importance of this where as perhaps many others can't.

Concern about the Near East events has been heightened by recent disturbances in Iran about the oil question and evidence that the nationalization trend might spread to Iraq. Since the recent campus elections, there has been a large amount of student interest in the council. An opportunity will be afforded to the members of the Iowa campus to further this interest.

Boone Teacher To Have Hearing

BOONE (AP)—The Boone board of education Wednesday scheduled a hearing for Monday night on the status of a vocational machine shop instructor who said he was fired because his son attends parochial school.

Robert F. Shorb, the instructor, said he requested the hearing to discuss reasons why he was not offered a new contract. The board announced earlier that it was not rehiring him.

Earlier this week, the Boone junior chamber of commerce demanded Shorb's reinstatement if it is shown he is professionally qualified for the job. There should be no requirement, the Jaycees said, that Shorb send his young son to a public school.

"The freedom of the individual to worship as he pleases is one of the most important of freedoms," the Jaycees said in a resolution demanding further consideration of the matter.

Israel Tells UN Syrians Still Fighting

LAKE SUCCESS (AP)—Israel told the United Nations Wednesday that Syria had touched off a "grave" new battle by invading Israeli territory Wednesday morning and "fighting continues."

Israeli UN Delegate Abba S. Eban called on the world organization to deal quickly with the "act of aggression" and order Syrian forces back behind their frontier.

Eban, relaying information received in a cable from Tel Aviv, said there were four known Israeli casualties.

Syrian delegate Faris El-Khoury Bey said he had no information on the incident but doubted Eban's report, because, he said, the local mentioned was in Lebanon. Eban immediately countered that it was in Israel.

The newly-reported clash was the latest in a series of troubles between the two countries that have threatened to break down their two-year-old armistice agreement. Observers here were deeply anxious about any new threats to peace in the Near East because of its strategic importance in the cold war.

Concern about the Near East events has been heightened by recent disturbances in Iran about the oil question and evidence that the nationalization trend might spread to Iraq. Eban announced the new clash as the security council met to resume a two-week-old debate on the growing Syrian-Israeli tension.

Interpreting the News — Wedemeyer Report Has Helped Teach Lesson

By J. M. ROBERTS JR.
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer, who forecast the Communist action in Korea in 1947, seems to fall into that category of prophets who have in all history been either persecuted or ignored because they were too far ahead of their times.

The mistake made by the United States in withdrawing its postwar occupation troops from South Korea without setting up a force to balance the Russian-dominated army of North Korea has been recognized as an open invitation to the Reds to do just what they did last June.

The long-suppressed Wedemeyer report on the Korean angle of the Soviet invasion in its accuracy. It predicted a Soviet controlled invasion by North Korean forces. It said U.S. withdrawal would result in a serious political and psychological threat to China and Japan. And that, you will remember, was before the Reds took over China.

"The United States has a strong strategic interest in insuring permanent military neutralization of Korea and its denial as a base to the Soviet Union," the report added.

American troops should have stayed until they had created an American-officered scout force to equal Communist armed strength north of parallel 38, it said. But Russia left a satellite army, while the U.S. left only a lightly armed and inferior number of constabulary.

This report in 1947 seems almost to have been written in the light of everything that we know today. It was not completely ignored by the President and the state department which had sent Wedemeyer to make the study because of his experience as wartime commander of American troops in China.

American troops did not withdraw until the Russians did, it is true. But no balancing force was left. And while the Russians retired to Manchuria, the Americans, for all practical purposes, went home. For the force retained in Japan was primarily for Japanese occupation, not defense of American strategic interests.

MacArthur to Tour Nation to Review Far Eastern Policy

NEW YORK (AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur plans to make a speaking tour of the nation to give the public his views on Far East policy, it was revealed Wednesday.

MacArthur's top aide, Maj. Gen. Courtney Whitney, said the general "very definitely" would "come out in the open" after the congressional investigation into his dismissal as Far East commander by President Truman. The hearings begin in Washington today.

MacArthur will start his speech-making campaign as soon as the congressional hearing ends, "probably" kicking off his tour with an address to a joint session of the Texas legislature, Whitney said.

The general's aide also: 1. Said MacArthur would neither resign his army commission nor retire but would continue on "active status" without military assignment.

2. "Doubted" a report that a representative of President Truman was preparing reports assailing MacArthur's handling of the war.

3. Revealed that MacArthur had "never seen" the 1947 report by Lt. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer on Korea and that "it was never discussed with him."

4. Declared MacArthur "held himself above" any vindictive personal feeling over his dismissal and "never blamed" any person for President Truman's action in relieving him.

Daily Iowan Fashion Parade

FOR THOSE ON THE SUMMER job moments, Daily Iowan model Jean Reller, A2, Jefferson, has a suggestion. She likes a cool two-piece butler linen suit-gress to perk up a girl on a hot day. It comes in either a brown and beige or a navy and white combination. The two buttons at the waist give the illusion of a next-to-waistline and the wide tailored collar with button down flaps give that crisp bandbox look even on summer's hottest, wilting day.

Section meetings on social welfare problems of children, old people, penal institutions, delinquency and recreation will be held during the day. Shortage of Nurses Still Great in U.S.

Although enrollments in the country's schools of nursing are the highest since World War II, the demand for nurses has never been greater.

National nursing organizations, sponsoring a campaign to relieve the shortage of nurses, indicated Wednesday that the shortage stems from the increased need for nursing services by the armed services and civilian hospitals.

An estimated 50,000 student nurses are needed this year to build up a minimum supply of graduate nurses.

The need is illustrated by the increased number of admissions from 1940 to 1950. In 1940, 10,548 persons were admitted; in 1950, 16.5-million.

New hospitals and public health services, increased industrial nursing in factories and clinics and shorter hours have added to the shortage.

Telephone Company Plans Cable Lines To West Iowa City

A telephone cable expansion project, costing about $100,000, is now underway in Iowa City and may be completed by next fall.

Roy A. Williams, manager of the Northwestern Bell Telephone company here, said Wednesday that the project will provide additional telephone lines for many Iowa Citizens living west of the Iowa river who are now without service. It will also serve the new Veterans' hospital and SUI buildings west of the river.

The new cable will be buried underground and will run from the telephone building on West Burlington street, across the river on Iowa avenue and along Newton road to Coralville.

Williams said that a total of 36,000 feet of cable will be used. He added that some obsolete cable will be removed.

Placing and splicing the many sections of cable is the most time-consuming part of the job, he said. More than 9,250 hours of work will be required for this job.

Injunction Ordered In Divorce Suit

District Judge Harold D. Evans Wednesday ordered a temporary writ of injunction preventing Stanley V. Stonecipher from selling 12 pigs, three cows and two horses, or from going on the premises where his wife and three children reside.

The order was issued in response to the request filed Wednesday by Marjorie L. Stonecipher in a divorce petition.

The plaintiff charges cruel and inhuman treatment and asks the court to award her sole custody of three minor children. She also asks $200 a month temporary alimony and support money.

In her petition, Mrs. Stonecipher said the couple was married Aug. 8, 1946 and lived together until April 30, 1951. Her attorneys are the law firm, Messer, Hamilton, Cahill and Bartley.

John N. Donohue Funeral Friday

Burial will be in St. Joseph's cemetery. The rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. today at the Hohenbuch mortuary. Members of the Knights of Columbus, Marquette council, recited a rosary Wednesday at the mortuary.

Donohue, who owned the Hohenbuch mortuary, is survived by his wife; one son, Walter J., Iowa City; three daughters, Mrs. Eldon Schnoebelen and Mrs. John P. Kelly, both of Iowa City, and Miss Irene Donohue, Rockford, Ill.

Parking Problem and a Girl Friend

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Homer D. Dougan, 26, Milwaukee, said Wednesday he will fight his "constitutional right" to sit in a park or parkway with his girl friend after midnight.

Dougan and his 21-year-old girl friend sat in Dougan's car in the North Point pumping station parkway early Tuesday despite three warnings by policemen that it was illegal. A 1938 county ordinance prohibits loitering in parks or parkways between midnight and sunrise.

Dougan was arraigned in district court Wednesday. Policeman Elmer Frederick testified that when he warned Dougan to leave, the youth asked his girl friend, "Honey, do you want to leave?" and then refused to move because it "violates my constitutional rights."

Frederick ordered him to appear in court.

Dougan confirmed Frederick's testimony and said he wanted to consult an attorney.

Judge John Barry continued the case to May 23.

Annual Cotton Carnival Opens for Two Weeks

The annual cotton carnival dress sale opens today and will end May 19 at the J. C. Penney store.

The cotton industry finds its heaviest demand in May and June, Donald Penner, assistant manager of the local store, said Wednesday. The local Penney store experiences its greatest demand in May, he said.

Fashion experts predict that this year will be the biggest year for the cotton sheer materials. Cotton sheer is the light weight cloth which is cooler and more feminine in appearance than heavier organdy or chambray, Penner said.

Search Continues For Bank Robber

MINBURN — Federal and state authorities checked slim clues Wednesday in an effort to run down a fleet young bandit who robbed the Dallas county savings banks yesterday and fled with $11,629 in currency.

Authorities followed up reports the bandit may have been in a Des Moines tavern soon after the robbery. They also looked into the report of a farmer who towed an auto out of a side road midway near the junction of highways 189 and 64 near here.

W. L. Crumley, the bank's cashier, said the lone holdup man entered the bank with a sawed-off shotgun and forced him to open a safe. The bandit locked Crumley and two women employees in a vault. No customers were in the bank at the time.

At Des Moines, a bartender at the Bargelhouse tavern told investigators a young man who appeared to be half-drunk used two $100 bills last night to buy rounds of drinks. The bartender's description of the man fitted that of the six-foot bandit.

A farmer told FBI agents and state investigators that a young man paid him $20 to tow his green Dodge from a mudhole. It was believed the robber fled Minburn in a green Dodge.

Ship Makes Try for Lakes

620-foot Converted Victory Ship Fights Way Up Mississippi to Lake Michigan

ST. LOUIS — The Cliffs Victory, 620-foot converted victory ship, bucked a strong Mississippi river current Wednesday, headed for a tight squeeze through the Illinois waterway on its voyage to the Great Lakes.

Worried engineers were fairly certain they could nurse the vessel through tight locks and under the low bridges of Lake Michigan.

But they hinted that there was a possibility the ship may have been towed more than 2,000 miles from Baltimore along the Atlantic and Gulf coasts and up the Mississippi, only to be halted within a few miles of its destination in the lake harbor of Chicago.

Formerly a standard-type 455-foot victory ship, the vessel was cut in half at Baltimore and a 165-foot chunk of hull was inserted between the halves to increase its length to 620 feet, three inches, for use as an iron ore hauler on the lakes. She has a beam of 62 feet.

As the ship neared the Illinois river channel, it presented one of the toughest navigational problems in the waterway's history.

There are seven locks — all made for ships under 600 feet — and at least 15 bridges to be negotiated. All but seven of the bridges are of the fixed type, allowing clearance of 46 feet five inches at the most. The Cliffs Victory measures 53 feet eight inches from keel to the top of the superstructure.

"Each one of those locks and bridges will present a separate problem that must be overcome by jockeying the ship back and forth, sideways, and by increasing or decreasing the ballast," said Col. J. P. Campbell, district engineer at Chicago.

The vessel reached St. Louis Wednesday under tow by push-tow river boats. About 10 p.m., it began a hazardous trip through the 600-foot-long locks at Alton, Ill.

The ship will be maneuvered into a diagonal position with her prow nudged into the angle where the doorward lock gates meet and her stern nestled between the lock wall and rear gates.

Pauline Sueppel Wins Nursing Scholarship

Pauline Sueppel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis W. Sueppel, 223 N. Dodge street, has been awarded one of 50 three-year nurses' scholarships given this spring by the American Cancer society.

The award grants tuition, fees, books and uniforms for three years of nurses' training. Miss Sueppel said she plans to take her training at Mercy hospital. She will be graduated from St. Mary's high school this June.

In accepting the scholarship she agreed to finish her training unless prevented by sickness and to practice nursing in Iowa for two years immediately following her graduation.

First in the nation to set up such a program, the Iowa cancer division has 91 nurse trainees attending 23 nursing schools in Iowa. The scholarships are part of a long range program to expand the society's service for cancer patients.

Marina Strabella, Iowa City, now in training in Mercy hospital, was awarded an American Cancer society scholarship last spring.

Republicans Demand Truman Recall O'Dwyer From Mexico

WASHINGTON (UP) — President Truman was confronted Wednesday with new Republican demands to fire William O'Dwyer as ambassador to Mexico but both the White House and state department indicated the protests would go unheeded.

Sen. H. Alexander Smith, (R-N.J.) said O'Dwyer should be recalled immediately in view of charges by the senate crime committee that he "contributed" to the growth of organized racketeering and gangsterism while he was mayor of New York.

Senate Republican leader Kenneth S. Wherry, Neb., said previously that O'Dwyer either should resign or clear his name through a "fair trial." The ambassador himself has refused to comment on the charges although he may issue a statement later.

But the White House said it knows of no plans to recall O'Dwyer and Secretary of State Dean Acheson told a news conference he saw no evidence that the furor over the ex-mayor had impaired relations between the United States and Mexico.

Asked if he had any plans to consult the ambassador about the accusations, Acheson said he had no such act on in mind.

A reporter then asked whether it is "normal procedure" for the secretary of state to consult the president when any damaging materials comes to light about an American ambassador.

Acheson reported that there is no normal procedure and that the question was loaded anyway.

Another newsman then inquired whether it would be "loaded" to ask Acheson whether he intended to consult Mr. Truman about O'Dwyer. Acheson replied yes, the question would be loaded, and brusquely cut off further questioning along that line.

At the White House, reporters asked presidential press Secretary

Joseph Short whether he was aware of any plan to recall O'Dwyer.

"No," Short replied simply. Smith, a member of the senate foreign relations committee, said a reading of the crime committee's report makes it "perfectly obvious" that O'Dwyer should be recalled.

"It is contrary to every good principle of democracy and diplomacy for us to be represented in Mexico by a man whose political activities in this country have been, at the very least, open to serious question," the senator asserted.

Committee Asks Repeal of Beef Control

WASHINGTON (AP) — The senate agriculture committee called Wednesday for quick repeal of the government's new price control order on beef, saying it will cause "a severe meat famine leading to early rationing."

The order, issued by the office of price stabilization, calls for progressively reduced ceilings on live cattle starting later this month and for a reduction of nearly 10 cents a pound at retail by Oct. 1.

Already, the senate committee said, the order has resulted in producers' rushing cattle to market before they have reached their best marketable weights, thus causing "a loss of meat for consumers" in the future. The order also spells severe losses to growers, the committee added in a resolution.

In Toledo, where he was paying a short visit, price stabilizer Michael V. DiSalle said his agency considered these objections before the beef regulations were issued.

"There certainly is no evidence to date that would cause us to repeal the regulations even before they have become effective and given a fair trial," DiSalle told a reporter.

In the house, Rep. Charles Hoeven (R-Ia.) said the beef price rollback "may well result in a meat famine." Hoeven said reports from northwest Iowa indicate a black market already is springing up.

for the congressional record that "a strong movement of unfinished feeder cattle to the market" has developed since the order was issued.

He said the situation at the Sioux City stock market is "already reaching alarming proportions."

Hoeven urged that those in charge of price control "immediately adopt a realistic approach to this critical situation before it is too late."

ACTING: Good enough.

DIRECTION: Won't win any awards.

STORY: About a professor in a girls' school who falls for the machinations of a student-temptress and nearly ruins his home and career. In other words, one of the old wheezes seen on countless French stages from 1860 past the turn of the century, when any love complication seemed to justify writing a play.

Mac Disobedient, Defiant of Truman, Senator Exclaims

WASHINGTON (UP) — Sen. Matthew M. Neely, (D-W. Va.), said Wednesday that anyone but Gen. Douglas MacArthur would have been "court martialed, jailed or shot" for his "disobedience and defiance" of President Truman.

In an angry senate speech, Neely denounced Republican followers of MacArthur as "idol worshippers" and accused them of trying to use the general to "win the next election."

His voice breaking, Neely said he would not join those who wished to turn the forthcoming senate hearings on MacArthur's dismissal into a "Roman holiday."

Neely's outburst came when Sen. William F. Knowland, (R-Calif.), asked if he was not "filibustering" a Republican attempt to "let the American people hear General MacArthur."

Knowland referred to a Republican resolution calling for the coming hearings to be open to the public.

Neely retorted that the Republicans had been on the "greatest Barnum and Bailey circus this country has ever seen."

Sherman told June graduates of the naval academy at Annapolis the goal is 12 large aircraft carriers and 15 smaller ones, three battleships, 19 cruisers, 250 destroyers and 100 submarines. The navy will have other ships in reserve which could be readied quickly.

COAST GUARD — In a related development, the coast guard announced it will increase its organized reserve to provide men to stand a tighter security guard over the nation's ports. It broadened its regulations for recruiting reservists to include men 27 through 36 and set up organized reserve units at key port areas.

The coast guard said it wants "mature men who have had experience in fire-fighting, police and investigative work, and who are familiar with waterfront activities and the handling of dangerous cargoes."

Calling a Spade a Spade —

We received a column in the mail Wednesday taking Iowa newspapers to task for not ripping the hide off a college coach because he doesn't have a winning team.

Thomas M. Kelly, writing in the semi-weekly Emmetsburg Reporter, tells newspapers to "call a spade a spade and a coach whatever he deserves to be called on his record."

Kelly apparently wants newspapers to add to alumni and student pressure which has already made many good coaches decide they would rather cultivate ulcers in some other job.

The column referred specifically to the attempt of Iowa State students to oust Chick Sutherland as basketball coach last winter. Kelly thought the press took Sutherland's part. A look at Sutherland's material and then a glance at the material in the rest of the Big Seven conference last year indicates that some one should have taken Sutherland's part.

Any conference which has Kansas State, Kansas and Oklahoma in it is pretty tough. Apparently Kelly doesn't care how tough the opposition is. He expects Iowa coaches to win most of the time whether they have material or not.

We'll grant that some coaches are more capable than others. It would be foolish not to. But the fact remains that the best coach in the country isn't going to win if he doesn't have good players. All the instruction in the world isn't going to add to a player's natural athletic ability.

Often times failure to win games can't be thrown at the feet of coaches. Rather it can be blamed either on the reputation of the school or the recruiting program. To understand the recruiting program of modern schools a worldly approach must be used.

Almost no one is naive enough to believe that players, especially in football or basketball, participate for the sheer enjoyment of the sport. They receive financial help and if a school can't provide as much as other schools, either because of policy or money shortage, they aren't going to get the players.

In his column Kelly compares the coach's job to that of a class room instructor. He says that if an instructor doesn't do his job, he's fired. That's true.

What Kelly doesn't take into consideration in this comparison is that students of a class room instructor usually aren't in direct competition with other schools. They're in competition when they graduate but not while they're in school.

Kelly's column is unique in one respect. Every other story we've seen recently is a plea for greater understanding of a coach and his problems before demanding his job. This writer takes just the opposite view.

As can be gathered, we don't agree with Kelly in the most part. A few of the things, including defense of the right of students to petition for the removal of a coach, we do agree with.

Also we agree with Kelly that alumni should have a very definite voice in the affairs of their school. But we don't agree that a coach can be judged entirely on his record as Kelly says.

There are so many factors influencing a season or even several seasons that basing an opinion on the record alone is only looking at part of the picture.

Several weeks ago we reported in this column that Dick Hoeksema planned to pitch this summer for Owatonna of the semi-pro Southern Minnesota league.

Since that time Dick changed his mind and signed with the Quad City Tigers of the Three I League. Hoeksema, a former Iowa pitching star, had a 9-7 record in that league last year with Quad Cities and owned the fourth best earned run average in the league.

Dick won't be pitching regularly until school closes early in June. Until then he'll pitch occasionally when the Tigers are home.

Washington Wins, 8-1, Ties For Lead Lemon, Brissie Beat Red Sox

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Sandy Consuegra, who faced the minimum of 21 men in seven innings, pitched a home run ball to Ray Coleman in the eighth to spoil his shut-out, but the Washington Senators still had an easy 8-1 victory over the St. Louis Browns Wednesday night. It left the Senators in the first-place tie with the Cleveland Indians.

Louis Unimpressive In 10 Round Decision

DETROIT (AP) — Joe Louis again failed to show his once murderous punch Wednesday night as he scored an unimpressive 10-round decision over Omelio Agramonte at Olympia stadium.

The Brown Bomber hit the sleek-haired Cuban with every punch in the book, but the best he could do was to floor him for a nine-count in the second round. Thus Agramonte went the full 10-round route against the former champion for the second time within three months. Louis got the unanimous decision of the referee and two judges, but his repeated lack of dynamite dulled his already glitterless comeback campaign to recapture the heavy-weight title that he wore so proudly for more than a decade.

The second round knockdown was the result of a booming left hand to the jaw, a punch that in bygone days sent more renowned rivals crashing to the canvas to stay.

CLEVELAND (AP) — Bob Lemon and Cleveland's new pennant hope, Lou Brissie, produced a second straight victory for the Indians Wednesday over the Boston Red Sox, 4-3.

Boston Shortstop Lou Boudreau, since he was fired as Cleveland's manager, tried to spoil everything by slugging a 350-foot, three-run homer in the eighth.

But the rest of the Red Sox proved just as Jockie Wednesday as they were Tuesday night for Bob Feller. Lemon turned in his glove after pitching five innings of three-hit, no-run ball. He complained of a back muscle he pulled while taking a cut in the second inning. Dr. Don Kell said, "We'll know better tomorrow" how long Lemon will be out of play.

GIANTS 8, CUBS 1
New York Giants came up with another big inning Wednesday—their third in three days—and walloped the Chicago Cubs, 8-1, for the third straight victory.

The six-run spree in the seventh inning was icing on the cake for rookie Right-hander George Spencer as he held the Cubs to six hits in his first start of the season. The Giants were leading, 2-1, when they sewed up the game with their fat inning.

All through the New Yorkers' recent losing streak, which reached 11 games, Manager Leo Durocher kept praying for "the big inning." Now, he's getting 'em.

REDS 6, PHILS 4
Philadelphia Phillies backed the effective hurling of Ewell Blackwell and Frank Smith with timely hits Wednesday as they defeated the Philadelphia Phillies 6-4 to gain an even break in the two-game series.

The National League champions reached Blackwell, who hurled the first eight innings, and Smith for 12 hits—the same number garnered by the Reds of Ken Heintzelman and Bob Miller.

TIGERS 5, A'S 4
Detroit Tigers edged the last-place Philadelphia Athletics, 5-4, here Wednesday. Only 2,723 fans showed up.

A moment earlier, pinch-hitter Pat Mullin had smacked a one-run single for Detroit to tie up the game.

PIRATES 4, DODGERS 3
Brooklyn Pirates beat the Pittsburgh Pirates with five hits Wednesday to hurl the Pittsburgh Pirates to a 4-3 victory.

Ted Beard's pinch-double in the eighth inning drove in what proved to be the winning run. It was the Pirates' second straight triumph over the Dodgers at Ebbets Field and sent the club rocketing into third place, past the Dodgers and Philadelphia.

YANKS 8, CHISOX 4
Chicago White Sox errors for five runs and a 5-4 victory over the Pale Hose before 8,802 at Comiskey Park Wednesday.

A 4-4 deadlock was broken in the ninth when Joe Collins latched a long triple after the Sox new third sacker Orestes Minofo fumbled Gil McDougald's roller. Jack Jensen's long fly counted Collins.

BOSTON 5, ST. LOUIS 0
Boston Braves have registered in a week—a six hit 5-0 blanking of the St. Louis Cardinals by Lefty Warren Spahn—Wednesday boosted them back into the National League lead.

Spahn, who drove in two runs while chalking up his second win against two losses, was the last of the Tribe's first line fingers to turn in a whitewashing job.

Vern Bickford and Max Surkont held 1-0 and 3-0 decision over the champion Philadelphia Phillies and Johnny Sain tamed the New York Giants by a 3-0 margin.

Spahn never was in danger. The only Red Bird to reach third base was Stan Musial, who drew

United Nations Forces Dig In

ROLLING WITH THE COMMUNIST PUNCH. Allied forces in Korea gave up the area shown on map before digging in to halt the Reds and win the first round in the Communist spring offensive. The Reds are believed regrouping for another attack, expected in the Chunchon-Hongchong attack corridor (broken arrow). A lull continued Wednesday with UN patrols (black arrows) probing north in the Seoul, Inje and east coast sectors. They met only small enemy forces (open arrows). (Story on page one.)

Casualty List Reaches 62,799

WASHINGTON (AP) — The defense department Wednesday reported a new total of 62,799 officially identified American casualties in the Korean war — not counting losses in the current Communist offensive.

The total is about one-fifth that of World War I when 333,734 Americans were killed, wounded or missing. The Korean war already is the fourth most bloody in U.S. history.

The latest total shows an increase of 1,055 over that announced last week. The new figure represents casualties whose next of kin were notified through last Friday. There is usually a one-to-three week time lag in such notification.

Since the spring offensive by the Chinese and North Koreans has been underway only a few days, none of the casualties incurred in blunting it are included in Wednesday's report.

The latest list includes 52,305 army casualties, 9,278 marine corps, 668 navy, and 548 air force.

British Losses . . .

LONDON (AP) — British forces in Korea have suffered 1,090 casualties in two weeks, Defense Minister Emanuel Shinwell said Wednesday in the house of commons.

Army casualties were 48 killed, 223 wounded and 803 missing. The navy had two killed and one wounded, and 13 marines were taken as prisoners.

Infantile Paralysis Group Reveals Polio Precautions

Warm weather, here earlier than usual this year, renews the threat of polio for Iowans.

Because of the imminence of the polio season, the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, has published a list of DO'S and DON'TS as a protection against the disease and things to do if it is contracted.

Injecting a ray of hope into the approaching season, the foundation said that at least half of all polio patients now recover without any crippling effects.

Only about 15 percent are severely paralyzed and eight percent die. The other 25 percent are left slightly handicapped.

The foundation explained that extremely hygienic and routinized daily living is the best safeguard against polio. The foundations list of do's and don'ts follow:

DON'TS

1. Be careful of extreme fatigue because the polio virus attacks most effectively when the body is in a weakened condition.
2. Avoid long swims in cold water or activities which cause the body to remain in a chilled condition because it lowers the body's resistance.
3. Avoid mouth and throat operations during a polio outbreak. Surveys have shown that tonsillectomies performed at this time increase the risk of catching bulbar polio, the most serious form, by 11 times.
4. Don't use another person's personal effects such as wash clothes, towels and dishes.
5. Avoid areas where polio is most prevalent or where there have been recent outbreaks of the disease.

1. Continue to associate with friends but stay away from strangers because you have probably come in contact with one form of virus and have developed an immunity to it.

2. Wash hands before meals and keep food covered since the mouth is the easiest entrance for the disease.

3. Watch for headaches, fever, sore throat, upset stomach, sore muscles, stiff neck or back, extreme fatigue and nervousness, or trouble in breathing or swallowing. Symptoms are varied and vague.

4. Put sick persons to bed at once because early bedrest and prompt treatment may lessen the severity of deformities and decrease progress of the disease.

Fahr Plans Talk Before Conference

Prof. Sam Fahr, college of law, will speak to students attending the all-Iowa collegiate conference Friday.

The conference, sponsored by the National Student association committee of the student council, will be held here Friday and Saturday. Representatives of all Iowa colleges and universities will attend the discussions.

Discussions are scheduled from 1:30 to 5 p.m. Friday and from 8 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Saturday. There is no admission charge for SU students.

Executors Appointed For Two Wills Here

Two wills have been admitted to probate in Johnson county district court.

Elizabeth D. Meade was named executrix without bond for the estate of the late Edward Meade. Attorney for the estate is Pauline M. Kelley.

Ralph H. Howard has been appointed administrator of the estate of John Z. Howard, who died Feb. 6, 1951. Bond was set at $1,000. Pauline M. Kelley is the attorney for the estate.

DO'S

1. Continue to associate with friends but stay away from strangers because you have probably come in contact with one form of virus and have developed an immunity to it.
2. Wash hands before meals and keep food covered since the mouth is the easiest entrance for the disease.
3. Watch for headaches, fever, sore throat, upset stomach, sore muscles, stiff neck or back, extreme fatigue and nervousness, or trouble in breathing or swallowing. Symptoms are varied and vague.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Present ceiling prices on passenger automobiles were extended indefinitely this week and manufacturers must reduce charges for cars delivered without a spare tire and tube.

The office of price stabilization (OPS) issued the orders Tuesday. It added that it soon will issue an order changing retail ceiling prices to reflect elimination of the spare tire and tube.
