Closing Arguments Expected Today in Lons Murder Case

By MARVIN BRAVERMAN Presentation of closing arguments in the James Lons murder trial was delayed until 9 a.m. today, after state and defense attorneys spent most of Friday discussing jury instructions with Judge Paul H. McCoid.

Judge McCoid Presided at Trial

Because of the length of the arguments and instructions, the first degree murder case is not expected to go to the jury until this afternoon or evening.

The jury of seven men and five women has been recessed since Thursday afternoon, when testimony ended.

Objections Heard McCoid Friday head objections and suggestions concerning his instructions which will be read to the jury at the conclusion of closing arguments.

Closing arguments by Prosecution Atty. William L. Meardon and D. C. Nolan and Defense Atty. A. C. Cahill and William Bartley may not be completed until Saturday afternoon.

As the murder trial of the 53-year-old cafe operator neared completion, the state's case centered on the testimony of Detective Oliver White and former County Atty. Jack White, who said Lons twice orally admitted to them Oct. 12 he had stabbed Andrew Davelis.

Police Officers Patrick J. McCarney and Herman Parrott have testified that they saw Lons "strike" Davelis two or three times as they were escorting the waiter across the lawn in front of Atty. Dan C. Dutcher's residence. The state says Davelis received the fatal stab wound on the Dutcher lawn.

Afflicted by Drugs The defense has contended that alcohol and drugs taken by Lons Oct. 11-12 affected the cafe operator to the extent that he was incapable of telling right from wrong.

Three psychiatrists have testified for the defense that Lons could have been under the influence of the alcohol and drugs.

Lons testified that he trailed Davelis and Mrs. Lons only to "find out what's going on." He said the only association he remembers with Davelis on the Dutcher lawn was when the waiter told him he had been intimate with Mrs. Lons.

The state attempted to bring Mrs. Lons to the witness stand to tell of her association with Davelis, but this move was denied by McCoid.

Korean Vet Named To ROTC Position

Capt. Victor Crepeau, a Korean war veteran, has been assigned to the SUI ROTC department, SUI military officials said Friday.

Captain Crepeau, the first Korean veteran to be assigned to SUI, served with the First Cavalry division since the outbreak of the Korean war. He will assume his duties as an assistant professor of military science in the infantry section May 10.

Ready to sail home after a tour of duty with the occupation forces in Japan, Crepeau was ordered from the boat and sent to Korea last June. He came home in March, one of the first officers plan.

relieved under the army rotation While serving in Korea, Crepeau said he met Lt. Col. Earl Culver, a former member of the SUI military department. Colonel Culver, then a major, left SUI in July, when he was ordered to Korea. Culver's home is at West Branch.

Vets Must Enter Courses by July 25 To Receive GI Aid

Veterans who plan to enroll in future education and training courses under the GI bill must actually be in training on July 25, 1951 if they wish to continue their course after that date.

That information was announced by veterans administration officials here Friday.

The July 25 deadline affects those veterans discharged on or before July 25, 1947. The VA stressed that for veterans NOT now enrolled for educational training the coming summer term will be the last opportunity for most veterans to enter or re-enter planned courses.

Veterans enrolled in courses now, but who interrupt their training for summer vacation will be considered in training and allowed to resume training with the fall term.

The VA officials stressed that merely applying for courses prior to the July 25 date is not enough for veterans affected by the ruling. The veteran must actually be in training by then.

Also, if he discontinues or completes his program of training after that date, the veteran may not start another program.

Exemptions to the ruling may be granted for:

- 1. Interruption for summer vacation.
2. Teachers in regular employment who are taking summer courses leading to a degree.
3. Pre-medical, pre-dental and pre-osteopath trainees who have not yet gained admittance to accredited schools because of overcrowded conditions.
4. Veterans who interrupt training to reenter active military service.
5. Undergraduate trainees who cannot enter graduate training until July 25.
6. Servicemen forced to interrupt spare time training because of duties or transfers.

Veterans who reenlist or persons who enlisted between Oct. 6, 1945, and Oct. 5, 1946, have four years from the end of their enlistment or reenlistment period in which to start training and nine years from that time in which to complete it.

The public law 16 training program for disabled veterans is not affected by the July 25 deadline.

Local Guards Will Stay at Muscatine

Members of the Iowa City national guard company at the flood area along the Mississippi river are expected to remain on duty there until next week.

Fifty-one members of the local guard are stationed in the flood area. They were inspected Thursday by Col. Walcott K. Dudley, inspector general of Fifth army headquarters, Chicago.

Mississippi Falling MUSCATINE - The Mississippi river dropped slowly Friday, but the pounding water still endangered water-logged dikes and the four national guard units on duty here were ordered to remain on duty throughout the weekend.

Blind Newsman - Bumps Head, Regains Sight

WASHINGTON (AP) - For 20 years, Newspaperman Frank Kennedy has been groping around in the darkness of the almost totally blind.

Then, on the night of April 8, Kennedy awoke from sleep to remember he had forgotten to turn down the thermostat on the gas heater. It could be regulated by touch.

Leaping from the bed, Kennedy struck a tall chest, reeled and sat down on the bed. "It was a terrible blow. Jack Dempsey couldn't have hit harder," Kennedy said.

What Kennedy didn't realize was that his wife had moved the bed a foot closer to the chest, after some furniture repair.

The blow he received now seems to have restored partial vision and Kennedy is exuberantly happy. He can pick out the figures on playing cards and spell out newspaper headlines.

As the doctors explained it, Kennedy is and will continue to be blind in his right eye. The left eye had developed a cataract, suspended only the pupil by tiny fibers. The blow on the edge of the chest broke most of the fibers. The cataract dropped below the pupil, restoring some measure of sight.

"I will settle for the sight I've got now," Kennedy said happily. "I can see light coming in the door."

The 52-year-old Kennedy is a Washington correspondent for 10 Florida newspapers. He has made his way around successfully, despite his blindness, and has memorized hundreds of telephone numbers. He dictated his stories direct to Western Union.

Monday Is Last Day To Drop Courses

Students who drop courses after Monday will be assigned the letter grade "F" for the course, SUI Registrar Ted McCarrel said Friday.

This regulation can be waived only by the dean of the college in which the student is enrolled. Students in the college of liberal arts and commerce also must have the recommendation of the student health service and the student counseling office in addition to the permission of the dean of the college.

Charge Man With Minburn Robbery

DES MOINES - Federal bank robbery charges were filed Friday against Edward Wiese, 26, Elbow Lake, Minn., after his arrest at Erie, Kans.

Wiese was arrested Thursday at Erie in connection with the $11,000 robbery of the Dallas county savings bank at Minburn, Iowa, Tuesday.

Wiese will be returned to Iowa to face the federal charges. Dallas county authorities indicated they also would file bank robbery charges. The federal charge carries imprisonment to 25 years while life imprisonment would be possible under Iowa law.

Student Government Helpful, Conference Delegates Agree

Student government is worthwhile, even with all its problems, according to the 60 representatives of Iowa colleges and universities attending the all-Iowa collegiate conference here.

Sponsored by the National Student Association (NSA) committee of the student council, the conference has attracted representatives from 11 schools, including SUI. The purpose of the program is to exchange ideas on problems of student government.

An important aspect of campus government, representatives said, is the participation that enables students to practice democracy. They pointed out that student government is sometimes a slow procedure and is burdened with the problems as well as the advantages of any democratic government.

Colleges represented at the meeting were Cornell, Grinnell, Iowa State, Iowa State Teachers, Marycrest, Mt. Mercy Junior, William Penn, St. Ambrose, Wartburg and Drake universities.

Today's schedule includes an NSA training program and discussions on "Student-Faculty Cooperation," "Campus Fund-Raising," "Development of Leaders" and "Student Elections."

ALY WON'T FIGHT

NICE, FRANCE - Prince Aly Khan denied Friday that he would fight for the custody of his daughter Yasmin but refused to comment on the reported plans of actress Rita Hayworth to divorce him.

Ridgway Confident as Reds Build Up Again

TOKYO (SATURDAY) (AP) - Allied forces edged their front line back north in west-central Korea Friday for the first time since the Reds' big spring offensive ground to a halt.

There also was evidence of some enemy withdrawals in central Korea, where the next heavy Communist blow is expected.

Clash North of Seoul A clash with 7,000 Reds north-west of Seoul was the most solid contact of Allied patrols along the 120-mile Korean front. The Allied attackers broke off the fight at dusk and returned to their lines.

With more than a half-million men still available to them, the Reds again and were slowly building strength in the hills north of Seoul and in the rugged central mountain country north of Chunchon.

Despite muddy roads and sodden skies, Allied tanks and infantry roamed north of their lines. For the third straight day they raided Uijongbu, 11 miles north of Seoul. Small pockets of Red resistance east and west of the old Korean capital also were smashed.

The top Allied commander expressed complete confidence that the Communists have no chance of winning their war of aggression in Korea.

Returning to Tokyo from his third trip to the front, Lt. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway said the conflict would last as long as the Reds were willing "to pay the bloody price they have been paying."

General Ridgway has been fighting a war of maneuver in Korea, not a war of fixed positions. He is not expected to wait in present defensive positions until the foe has time to regroup and re-supply the battered Communist assault divisions.

Ridgway declared, "the only uncertainty I find anywhere is how long those fellows (the Reds) are going to put up with the empty Communist promises to throw us out of Korea and destroy the UN army."

"So far, the only things they've succeeded in destroying are a few tens of thousands more of their own men . . . maybe some day these people who are being used as cannon fodder will wake up and listen to reason."

UMT Won't Militarize U.S., Rosenberg Says

MINNEAPOLIS - Mrs. Anna Rosenberg, assistant secretary of defense, said Friday that universal military training would keep the United States strong without all-out mobilization and a threat to the nation's economy.

She said, "It will permit us to maintain the necessary measure of military strength over the years without having to keep constantly in uniform a force of such a size that it would bankrupt the economy or militarize our country."

Sen. William Knowland (R-Cal): Was there any prohibition of the CIA (Central Intelligence Agency) . . . in your theater while you were theater commander?

MacArthur: That statement (that there was a prohibition) is all tommyrot. Every possible assistance has been given by me to the Central Intelligence Agency.

Sen. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark): General, would you care to say whether or not you feel that war with Russia is inevitable?

MacArthur: No, sir, I do not feel that war is inevitable. I believe that the great masses of the world, what you might call the ordinary men of the world, are invincibly against war. I believe that is so among the Russian masses, just as it is among our own people. I believe the great tragedy of the world today is that we have not been able to establish the mechanics to carry out the will of the common people that war shall be non-existent.

Believes 'One Individual' Decided Ouster

WASHINGTON (AP) - Gen. Douglas MacArthur declared Friday he understood Secretary of Defense George Marshall was willing to discuss giving major concessions to the Chinese Reds as the basis for peace treaty.

He declared Marshall took the stand that a peace conference might well take up the questions of turning over the island of Formosa to Communist China and granting the Reds a seat in the United Nations.

Accept Judgment

The ousted Far East commander also implied that the U.S. joint chiefs of staff, headed by Gen. Omar N. Bradley, might sometimes be subject to "pressure." He said he would accept their judgments on such issues as the size of the country's military forces, for example, if their opinion was "a strictly professional one, without any currents of obligation or pressure from anything else."

The 71-year-old soldier, deposed from his commands by President Truman, spent a second day of more than seven hours upholding and explaining his views before the senate armed services and foreign relations committee.

At the end, fresher than most of the 26 senators who sat in judgment on the case, he wanted to continue, but the committees decided to recess and hear him again starting at 8:30 a.m. (Iowa time) today.

Breach Defense

He vehemently opposed letting the island bastion of Formosa fall into Red hands, declaring that in hostile possession it would "breach completely" this country's Pacific defense line.

Other high points of his testimony:

1. He is "very definitely convinced" that Russia conspired with Red China and North Korea to launch the invasion of South Korea.

2. But war with Russia is "not inevitable."

3. In his public pronouncements before his ouster, he did not feel bound by "rag rule" because the American people "are entitled to certain basic facts when it involves the lives of their sons."

4. He believes his ouster by President Truman for publicly disagreeing with administration policy was "the judgment of one individual" - presumably meaning the President.

Under a barrage of sometimes critical questions, MacArthur steadfastly stuck to his proposals for stronger measures against Red China - a blockade of the Chinese coast, aerial action over Manchuria and the use of Chiang Kiashek's Nationalists now on Formosa.

After relating his understanding of Secretary Marshall's stand on Formosa and a UN seat for China, MacArthur declared he did not know the position of the government on these issues - presumably meaning the position of President Truman.

Questioned the Senator . . . Answered MacArthur That, for Sure

WASHINGTON (AP) - Here are the highlights of the question-and-answer session Gen. Douglas MacArthur had Friday with members of the senate:

Sen. Brien McMahon (D-Conn): Now, general, assuming for the sake of discussion that subsequent testimony brings out real differences between you and the joint chiefs (of staff) on how far our Far Eastern strategy can best promote our global strategy . . . would you then be prepared to admit that the joint chiefs' judgment is better than yours and that the American people would be well advised to follow the judgement of the joint chiefs?

General MacArthur . . . as a theater commander I had my own responsibilities and I made my own recommendations, and would again. If they disagreed with those of higher authority, the question of the judgment of that higher authority is NOT within my hands, and I would not attempt to pass judgment on it. That is a matter for public opinion. I therefore would not attempt to answer such a hypothetical question . . .

McMahon: Do you consider, general, that it comes within the province of a theater commander to register publicly with persons in political life, or out of it for that matter, his differences of opinion which he is still in active charge of the theater?

MacArthur: I believe the theater commander has the responsibility of registering his views as he might see fit, if they are honest views and not in contradiction to any implementing directives that he may have received . . .

McMahon: General, of course we have had undisputed command of the air in Korea, and those Northern Chinese keep pouring down into North Korea.

MacArthur: The reason, senator, that the air has NOT been more successful in stopping that pouring down is they don't have the latitude of operation to hit deeper than the Yalu.

McMahon: I am sure, general, that you do not underrate the importance of having our Allies with us?

MacArthur: . . . we have plenty of Allies, but the number of them do not contribute in the same generous and noble way in which we do.

Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn): What kind of a situation would we be in in Korea if the United Nations . . . should not carry on with us?

MacArthur: The subtraction of those forces would have no material effect upon the tactical situation.

Kefauver: . . . we certainly would not want to do anything that would even cause those scarce forces to pull out, I take it?

MacArthur: I think it would be tragic. I believe that everything possible should be done to cement the international feature of the United Nations efforts there. I would say not only that the idea should be deprecated of their pulling out, but it should be emphasized extraordinarily that they should send much larger forces, and that those nations which have not contributed anything, should contribute.

Sen. Cabot Lodge (R-Mass): Do you think that our airforce today is big enough to undertake bombing missions in the Far East, and at the same time retain enough power to act as a deterrent to the Kremlin, by threatening the war-making potential?

MacArthur: I think it is big enough to handle the situation in the Far East without serious detriment to any other program we have.

Lodge: Do you believe that effective bombing could be undertaken against Manchuria with the planes that are presently detailed to the Far East theater . . . ?

MacArthur: I believe we could be very destructive with what we have. It might be necessary to sweeten it up a little, but we could do a tremendous damage with what we have.

Lodge: What would happen with regard to Formosa if Chiang were to land on the mainland and then be wiped out?

MacArthur: Senator, that is a hypothesis that is very difficult to speculate upon. The basic concept that this country should have would be that Formosa should not be allowed to fall into Red hands . . . I believe that you might invite a third world war, if you allow that great breach in our lines.

Lodge: Do you think that the Russians are actively aiding the North Koreans and the Chinese Communists?

MacArthur: With supplies, yes, in any other way, I found no evidence of it.

Lodge: Well, if the Russians are supplying the Red Chinese, do you favor regarding the Russians as an enemy, and taking whatever steps are necessary to stop that supply?

MacArthur: Not at this time, no sir. I think it is not accepted in the international rules of war that merely the supplying of an enemy constitutes inherently a declaration of war.

Sen. William Knowland (R-Cal): Was there any prohibition of the CIA (Central Intelligence Agency) . . . in your theater while you were theater commander?

MacArthur: That statement (that there was a prohibition) is all tommyrot. Every possible assistance has been given by me to the Central Intelligence Agency.

Sen. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark): General, would you care to say whether or not you feel that war with Russia is inevitable?

MacArthur: No, sir, I do not feel that war is inevitable. I believe that the great masses of the world, what you might call the ordinary men of the world, are invincibly against war. I believe that is so among the Russian masses, just as it is among our own people. I believe the great tragedy of the world today is that we have not been able to establish the mechanics to carry out the will of the common people that war shall be non-existent.

WASHINGTON (AP) - Gen. Douglas MacArthur told senators Friday he was born in Arkansas. And, getting a laugh, he added "that is the one item that I have testified to that I have a dead certainty that it right."

Turning aside briefly from the weighty matters of Far Eastern policy under examination by a joint senate committee, Sen. J. William Fulbright, Arkansas Democrat, told MacArthur he wanted him to state for the record "in a positive manner where you were born."

Fulbright said that "certain misinformed" members of congress had referred to Wisconsin as MacArthur's native state.

Railroads Prepare For Bomb Attacks

CHICAGO - The nation's railroads have mapped out alternate routes to keep trains running if enemy bombers attack the U.S. President William T. Fairby of the Association of American Railroads said Friday.

Israel Reports Syrian Attack After Truce

TEL AVIV, ISRAEL (AP) — An Israeli spokesman said Syrian forces shelled and attacked Israeli positions in the northeast corner of Palestine Friday shortly after the two countries accepted a United Nations cease fire order. Army spokesman Col. Moshe Pearlman said the artillery barrage opened up three hours and 20 minutes after the cease fire became effective. He said a Syrian attack, which he described as the most determined bid to occupy Tel Motila in Israeli territory, was repulsed "with very heavy losses." Col. Bennet de Riddler of Belgium, acting chief of the UN Palestine conciliation mission, led immediately for his Beirut headquarters and said he would send UN observers to the Syrian-Israel border. Pearlman earlier called the cease fire agreement "full, final and sincere." Syrian and Israeli envoys met informally at the Daughters of Jacob bridge at the border and worked out an agreement which according to the Israel version provides: 1. There will be no Syrian military or semi-military forces in the demilitarized zone along the border and no Syrian interference in it. 2. The Syrians will not smuggle arms into the zone. 3. The Israelis will recognize the demilitarized zone as under the supervision, though not the control, of the UN. Spokesman Pearlman said one point of disagreement would not be dealt with at present — the Syrian protest against Israeli drainage of land in the Lake Hulei area north of Lake Tiberias, the Biblical Sea of Galilee.

The Road South Gets Narrow

IN A FAMILIAR TREK across the Han, Korean refugees thread their way south across the river at Seoul, fleeing the threatened capital over a ponton bridge built by Allied engineers. A wrecked bridge, destroyed earlier in the war, looms over the narrow escape artery.

Mac Ignores Necessity For World Approval

General MacArthur, by expressing the view that the United States should carry the war into Communist China regardless of whether her United Nations allies would go along, finally gets down to one of the fundamentals which brought his dismissal from command. That is just what the Allies suspected MacArthur of trying to do. It caused Europeans to look on MacArthur, for the moment, as more dangerous to their long-range policies than even the Kremlin. If there is one thing more true about the conflict with Russia than any other, it is that unified world opinion and world cooperation against Communist imperialism is essential. Remove the sanction of the UN from American intervention in Korea, and you have immediately a situation that is already difficult enough to avoid — a situation in which Asiatic opinion about American intentions will be more seriously divided than ever. In fact, it would just about put the clincher on their feeling that there is no good choice between Russia and the West. The UN, torn by conflicting interests already, with its most influential members far more interested in the practical defense of West Europe than in an idealistic defense of Korea, has just about washed its hands of the affair, leaving the whole business up to the United States. But the American commander in Korea still commands token forces from more than a dozen other countries, and the delegation to Washington of the UN's authority for conduct of the war does not mean that their ideas are to be ignored. This is a fact of life, to be taken into consideration regardless of who is right and wrong. MacArthur is a strong soldier. It is only natural that a soldier should chafe when he thinks himself handcuffed by political consideration. America is strong, and willing to fight. But Americans have not looked into the faces of base-minded children while the bombs crump outside. Until they have shared that feeling, they are going to have to compromise a bit with the feelings of those two

Engineers Prepare To Squeeze Big Ship Through Small Locks

STARVED ROCK, ILL. (AP) — U.S. army engineers prepared Friday to squeeze a 620-foot ship, biggest ever to travel the Illinois waterway, through the 600-foot locks here. The Cliffs Victory was headed toward the Starved Rock locks from Peoria, where she barely managed to scrape under a low bridge after being slipped over a couple of dams. The ship, which has traveled 2,000 miles from Baltimore, Md., for duty as a Great Lakes ore hauler, will be lifted 19 feet to a new level when she passes through the locks here. "It's like passing a camel through a needle's eye but with a little luck we'll be able to make it," said Col. J. P. Campbell, district engineer. "Actually, it'll be pretty easy. We'll float the ship as high as possible by removing all her ballast and by welding airtight pontoons to her hull. "Then we'll jockey her into the lock so that her stern nestles in the corner while her bow overhangs the angle of the front gates." The victory, he said, will hit a tougher obstacle Saturday when it passes under the fixed highway bridge at Marseilles, Ill. The river has a nine-foot normal channel there and the bridge floor is 47 feet above the water surface. The ship, from keel to top of the superstructure, measures 53 feet eight inches. That means that the engineers must ballast the ship so that her keel will ride just one foot from the channel bottom and her masthead a foot from the bridge.

Russians 'Regret' American's Killing; Okay Joint Probe

VIENNA (AP) — Russian authorities Friday expressed regret at the fatal shooting of an American military policeman by a Soviet soldier and agreed to a joint investigation into the victim. The victim, Cpl. Paul J. Gressens, Rochester, N.Y., was hit by seven Russian machine pistol bullets early Friday morning and died before he reached the hospital. An Austrian acrobat, Janus Horvath also was wounded and a taxicab was sprayed with bullets in an exchange of fire. U.S. high commissioner Walter J. Donnelly announced that "Soviet authorities in Vienna have agreed to undertake with United States military authorities a joint investigation as requested by me this morning, into the tragic death of the young American soldier who was fatally shot by a Russian soldier shortly after midnight last night. "They have expressed regret at the incident." Gressens and Cpl. Jack Morgan, Keokuk, Iowa, who was making his first patrol in Vienna's international sector, were checking night clubs about 12:45 a.m. when they spotted two armed Russian soldiers walking ahead of them. The Americans followed the two Russians to a square between a church and the Casino Oriental night club, made famous by the film "The Third Man." There the Americans called, "Halt." The Russians wheeled and without a word one of them emptied his clip of 20 cartridges at the MPs. Gressens was hit by seven bullets and fell immediately, but Morgan was unhurt and emptied his pistol at the fleeing Russians. A spot of blood on the sidewalk indicated he may have wounded one of them, but both apparently escaped into the Soviet sector. Official sources said both sides may have been partly at fault since the two Americans apparently were unaware that all the occupying nations are permitted to maintain armed patrols in the international sector, a plot of land one mile in diameter enclosing the old city. The patrols are supposed to deal only with soldiers of their own countries. In an incident involving nations of two or more countries, the international patrol of all four powers is called in.

Stover Keeps Iowa Farm Union Office

DES MOINES (AP) — Fred Stover of Hampton, Ia., national co-chairman of the Progressive party, Friday won a court fight to retain control of the Iowa Farmers union. District Judge Loy Ladd ruled against a group which had sought to oust Stover, longtime president of the Iowa group, on the grounds it had come under the influence of some "leftists, including many who are not farmers at all."

Army Requests 'Lowest' Draft Of 20,000 Men

WASHINGTON (AP) — The army notified selective service officials Friday that it can get along with 20,000 draftees in June because voluntary enlistments have picked up sharply. It is the lowest draft call for any month since the present rearmament program began, and only one-fourth of the monthly quota prevailing early this year. The airforce meantime announced that beginning next month more than 40,000 women will be recruited for the WAF (women in the airforce) which now has a ceiling strength of 7,000. With the June draft call, the army will have taken in a total of 550,000 men through selective service. The airforce, navy and marine corps have taken no draftees so far and announced they would not need any in June. Spurred by the possibility of being drafted, young men have been flocking to army recruiting offices in recent months. Surprised but delighted, the army cut its April draft call from 80,000 to 40,000 men. In May, the army had planned to take in 60,000 draftees but announced at the last minute that 40,000 would be sufficient. Another factor is that all of the services are drawing closer to their manpower goals. An official spokesman said last week that combined strength of all services is now "more than" 3-million men, compared to the goal of 3.5-million men by July 1. The airforce said the WAF recruiting program is being undertaken under a defense department policy of using women in the armed services to the greatest possible extent. The expansion will bring WAF strength to 4,000 officers and 44,000 women. The quota for enlistee recruits will be increased from the present 499 a month to 1,700 in June and raised again to 4,000 a month during the first six months of 1952. Approximately 200 WAF officers will be commissioned each month.

Minnesota Wheat Caravan Stops at Concordia College

CHICAGO (AP) — Thirty-two Minnesota college students skirted Chicago Friday en route to Washington with a trailer full of wheat for India. The students, traveling in a caravan of six automobiles, planned to stop overnight at Fort Wayne, Ind., where Concordia college made arrangements to shelter them. The students, from Augsburg and Macalester college and the University of Minnesota, said they would turn over the wheat to representatives of the Indian government at Washington, as a token. Then, they said, they will lobby for the bill to ship 2-million tons of grain to India.

Government Extends Controls On Housing, Factory Building

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government Friday slapped building controls on big apartment houses, major factories and public buildings, and on "luxury" homes — dwellings costing over $35,000. The national production authority (NPA) decreed that these structures may not be started without its specific approval, effective at once. Earlier in the day NPA announced a new 5 percent cut in steel for passenger car and station wagons, effective June 1. This will mean a total of 25 percent reduction from the auto industry's steel consumption in first-half 1950. The inclusion of industrial plants and facilities in the new order was unexpected. NPA indicated that there would be little trouble in obtaining approval if the plant will be useful to the defense effort. Schools and hospitals probably also will receive liberal treatment, for Fleischman said part of the reason for the order was to conserve steel for such "highly essential civilian needs." Industrial structures and public projects fall under NPA's control when more than 25 tons of steel are used. This extends the government's construction regulations over such projects as: Schools, churches, hospitals, highways, bridges, water and sewer systems, pipe lines, public utility and railroad construction. Newspaper plants and radio and television broadcasting buildings, previously exempted from the restraints imposed in January on all commercial building construction, now will require NPA authorization regardless of the steel tonnage used. The order was NPA's first direct control applied to residential construction. Previous restraints have been indirect — such as the credit controls governing down payments and mortgage terms. As of Friday, however, permission must be obtained to start any single-family residence whose estimated cost exceeds $35,000. The same is true for any apartment structure in excess of three stories and basement. The requirement for federal approval on projects using 25 tons of steel applies to all construction jobs except covered by other NPA controls. Construction of advertising signs is prohibited, but this ban does not apply to signs costing less than $5,000. The "growing critical shortage of structural steel" and the requirements of defense and defense-supporting industries are the reasons for the sweeping order.

May Explode A-Bomb On Aluefian Island

SEATTLE (AP) — Sen. Warren G. Magnuson (D-Wash.) said here Friday night that the United States soon will test "either the H-bomb or the A-bomb" in one of the Aluefian islands. "The detonation will be made underground," Magnuson said. "I understand from sources I cannot disclose that the test is primarily to determine what happens when a bomb is exploded underground." Magnuson said he was told the bomb "might be buried as deep as 300 feet."

A Fair and Considerate Judge —

Now that the end of the local murder trial is in sight, we want to express a few thoughts concerning Judge Paul H. McCoid, from Mt. Pleasant. Newsmen covering the trial could hardly have requested fairer rules than those the judge imposed on them at his first news conference. He has made himself available for comment to the newspapermen and radio people as frequently as we believe possible. And any demands he's made of them have certainly been reasonable. He's been especially considerate of the jurors. He warned prospective jury members when selection began that he would "lock up" the final 12 members. But he also has done everything in his power to make their segregation as comfortable as possible under the circumstances. The jurors have been allowed newspapers with trial items clipped; they've been permitted to attend movies and relaxation under supervision; and arrangements were made for them to go out of Iowa City for a meal under the supervision of Sheriff Albert J. (Pat) Murphy. It appears to us that Judge McCoid also has made every effort to conduct the trial in a smooth, unhurried but efficient manner. Lawyers from both sides of the case remarked Thursday that they had accomplished far more in the time the trial has been in session than they anticipated. The judge came to Iowa City at the direction of the Iowa supreme court after two local district judges had disqualified themselves as judges of this particular case. His attitude throughout his duty here has reflected the same fairness as that shown in the self-elimination of those two judges he replaced. Our respects and thanks, then, to Judge Paul H. McCoid for the consideration he's shown to everyone involved, directly and indirectly, in this trial.

At the Movies: 'The Great Manhunt' —

About three minutes after the beginning of "The Great Manhunt," a fearful situation is introduced which creates and then never lets up on tension until less than that amount of time remains before the ending. The film, which opened in this country as "State Secret," is easily the top suspense picture of the past year, and a thriller reminiscent of the best of Alfred Hitchcock. There have been exciting pictures based on the manhunt formula before, but by proving fresh, fast, and almost too plausible, "The Great Manhunt" gives the pattern new life and plenty of topical vitality. Current events contribute a deadly credibility to the action, which involves an American brain surgeon who is prevented from leaving a nation in order that he may perform an operation on its dictator. The situation is reminiscent of the Cary Grant starrer, "Crisis," but the similarity ceases there; "The Great Manhunt" concentrates on a slowly but steadily increasing suspense that compels rapt attention. The picture is a testament to the versatility of the producing team of Frank Lauder and Sidney Gilliat, the men responsible for last week's "The Happiest Days of Your Life." Poles apart in subject and mood, their new enterprise nonetheless scores another bulls-eye. Beyond the asset of a polished screenplay, Messrs. Lauder and Gilliat have intensified the timeliness and tautness of their story with some outstanding cinematography. By filming much of the action on the continent in locales which would enhance its realism, they have lent their story geographic conviction as well as scenic interest. By employing sharp-focus photography and apparently natural lighting throughout, they have given their story documentary clarity. In the acting department they have done as well. Douglas Fairbanks Jr. plays the surgeon fleeing a certain death with dash and earnestness. In a minor role as an international smuggler, Herbert Lom makes such brilliant use of smart dialogue that his presence is felt for some time after his appearance. Jack Hawkins plays the chief menace with forcefulness, and Glynis Johns is a better-than-ordinary love interest. The remainder of the large cast is up to the film's high standard, and the

Acting Probation Officer Appointed

Mrs. Martha J. Welcher, 327 Fourth avenue, has been appointed acting probation officer for Johnson county. Her appointment was made Thursday afternoon by District Judge Harold D. Evans, following the death of Mrs. Mabel R. Evans, who had been probation officer since 1920. Judge Evans said her appointment will be effective until a further order of the court. Mrs. Welcher had been deputy probation officer for two years.

IOWA CITIAN FINED

Latin Workshop Opens Annual Session June 18

A three hour Latin workshop for graduate credit in either Latin or education will be held on campus June 18 to July 7 under the auspices of the SUI classics department. Prof. Gerald F. Else, head of the classics department and director of the workshop, said the workshop will examine the relationship between Latin and other fields of study. Regular course work will be supplemented by special lectures and discussions. The course will follow the pattern established in the 1949 and 1950 workshops, Else said. The workshop is composed of a required course and seven electives, of which each member may choose two. Members who have attended previous workshops may substitute a third elective for the basic course. Staff members of the workshop will include Else; Dorrance White, professor of classical languages at SUI; Agnes K. Michels, associate professor of Latin at Bryn Mawr college, and Waldo E. Sweet, professor in Latin at William Penn Charter school. Registration for the workshop is limited to 50 persons and will close June 18. The fee for the course is $18.75. Application blanks for registration in the workshop can be obtained by writing to Prof. Gerald F. Else, room 112, Schaeffer hall.

Prof. Harshbarger's Son On Oberlin Honors List

Frederick Harshbarger, son of Prof. H. C. Harshbarger, SUI professor of speech, and Mrs. Harshbarger, was honored at the annual Honors Day assembly at Oberlin college, Thursday. Harshbarger was named on the college junior honor list, 1950-51. He is one of the 20 juniors in the highest ten percent of the class. The selection is based on scholarship in the two previous semesters.

6 Religious Groups Attending Meetings Over the Weekend

Six SUI student religious groups are attending state conventions at Boone, Cedar Falls and Des Moines this weekend. The YMCA, the YWCA and the Lutheran Student association are holding spring conferences in the YMCA and YWCA camps near Boone. The Episcopal students are attending a constitutional convention at Cedar Falls. The Presbyterian students are holding their spring rally at Cedar Falls. They will dedicate Iowa State Teachers college's Westminster foundation center. The students of the First Christian church are in Des Moines attending the youth session of the church's 105th state convention. The Catholic, Methodist, Congregational-Christian, Evangelical and Reformed students held their state conferences in Ames, Mt. Vernon and Des Moines in April. The Baptist students held their state rally here in Iowa City.

Former Student Wins Art Prize

David Smith, 228 Brown street, a former SUI student has been awarded a $50 prize by Young's studio, 35 S. Dubuque street, for a painting in an exhibition in the studio's show window. Honorable mentions were awarded to three paintings by SUI students. They are Charles Fisher, G, Detroit, Mich.; George Weiss, A2, Over, Ohio, and Robert Kippnis, A3, Forest Hills, N. Y. A special honorable mention was awarded to Ralph Tidrick, 11, son of Dr. and Mrs. Robert Tidrick. Dr. Tidrick is a member of the surgery staff at University hospitals. Judges of the exhibition were Prof. Stuart Edie and Eugene Ludins, SUI art department, and Dale Ballentyne, SUI art instructor. Young's studio plans to hold these exhibitions regularly to give artists not connected with the art department a chance to exhibit their work.

Daily Iowan Fashion Parade

Photo by Don Steffen. Sports wear courtesy of Younkers store. LIKE A SIP OF LEMONADE ON AN extra hot day (the weather man has promised more of them, despite Friday's cool wave) is this halter topped sun dress worn by Daily Iowan model Arden Cummings, A2, Clinton. Warm weather is a time for sun, and is there a prettier way to bare shoulders than with a three-piece sun outfit like this one of Miss Cummings? The front buttoning halter top is of white waffle pique while the full skirt and stole are of matching sheer. Fashion points in this costume include the tiny belt of matching material and the white corded fringe that borders the stole.

Last Inning Rally Fails; Cebuhar, Vana Homer

(Special to The Daily Iowan)
EAST LANSING, MICH. — Iowa dropped its third Big Ten game in five starts here Friday as Michigan State's power stopped the Hawks, 8-5.

Spartan hitters shelled Iowa pitchers Jim Riedesel and Bruce Marsh for 15 hits including three home runs and two triples to highlight Michigan State's official debut in Western Conference baseball.

The two clubs will meet again today. Michigan State made its runs one and two at a time, scoring in six different innings. The Spartans made one in the first, another in the third, two in the fourth, one in the fifth, two in the sixth and one in the eighth while Iowa wasn't able to score until the sixth inning.

Bill Bove, Darrell Lindley and Dick Moser homered for MSC, all piling their drives over the fence Coach John Kobs built to skirt center and left field.

Second Baseman Chuck Cebuhar finally broke the ice for Iowa by blasting out a homer in the sixth inning when the bases were empty. His hit, the longest of the afternoon, disappeared into a willow tree beyond right field.

Iowa added two more runs in the eighth. In the ninth, pinch hitter Rex Vana put Iowa back in the game with a homer over the handy center field fence with one man aboard.

The rally died, however, when the side was retired with two men on and the tying run at home plate.

Braves Top Cubs, Regain First Place

BOSTON (AP) — Vern Bickford notched his fourth victory as the Boston Braves, led by Bob Elliott with two homers, defeated the Chicago Cubs 9 to 3 Friday night, moving back into first place in the National league as the Phillies defeated the Cardinals. Bickford is the first National league hurler to win four and his record is now four and one.

The Braves scored two runs in each of the first four innings to give Bickford a comfortable lead.

Hank Sauer knocked in all three Cubs runs with his homer and double in the second and third innings. The homer was his third and the second in two nights here.

Bickford gave five walks and struck out five and was in danger only once after the third inning. In the fifth, the Cubs loaded the bases with a single and two walks but Andy Pafko flied deep to Marshall to end the inning.

23 Entered in Kentucky Derby

LOUISVILLE, KY. (AP) — A bumper crop of 23 thoroughbreds was named Friday to slug it out in today's 77th Kentucky Derby, which should produce one of the greatest traffic jams ever witnessed on any race track.

Indications were that all but one of those entered actually will reach the post at 3:30 (Iowa time) this afternoon. This would tie the record field of 22 which ran in the 1928 Derby, won by Reign Count.

The winner almost surely will collect the biggest purse in Derby history. If 22 go, the big prize will be $100,050. The present Derby record is the $96,400 won by King Ranch's Assault in 1946, when 17 ran.

Says Anti-Trust Law Broken by Baseball

NEW YORK (AP) — Rep. Emanuel Celler (D) of Brooklyn, an ardent fan of baseball, came out Friday in favor of a full airing of the disputed reserve clause with possible action by congress to exempt the great American game from the anti-trust laws.

"In my opinion baseball is now operating in violation of the anti-trust laws," said Celler, chairman of the house judiciary sub-committee on monopoly, in an interview.

"We should not permit matters to drift any longer. Baseball is one of the finest things in American life, but it is in danger."

The reserve clause binds players in organized baseball to negotiate new contracts each year only with the club that originally signed them, unless of course they are traded or sold to another club.

A baseball club can refuse to meet the salary demands of a player, in which case he cannot play with any other team.

Celler said the judiciary sub-

Giant's Sal Maglie Pitches One Hitter Against Pittsburgh

NEW YORK (AP) — Pittsburgh's Pete Castiglione tripled to start the game but after Sal Maglie halted the Pirates without a hit as he paced the New York Giants to a 5-1 victory Friday.

Only a slim crowd of 3,947 paying customers were in the Polo Grounds to watch the 34-year-old righthander spin the major league's second one-hitter of the young season. Washington's Connie Marrero pitched the other one against the Philadelphia A's on April 26.

The Giants broke out in a rash of four homers to back Maglie's superb hurling which stopped a four-game Pittsburgh winning streak.

Bobby Thomson blasted a homer with one in the first and Hank Thompson followed with another in the same frame to get Maglie off to a 3-1 lead. Spider Jorgensen collected his second homer in two days in the third and Monte Irvin poked the last one in the seventh.

Maglie, in making his record 2-2 for the season, struck out five Bucs and walked five. Outside of the first inning, when Castiglione tripled, and in the third, when he walked three, he never was in trouble.

From the fourth until two were out in the ninth, he didn't permit a man to reach first.

Tigers 8, Red Sox 4

DETROIT (AP) — Jerry Priddy and Dick Kryhoski blasted four doubles as the Detroit Tigers shelled out 14 hits to jolt the Boston Red Sox, 8-4, Friday.

Hal Newhouse, making his fourth start, gave up only five hits to win his first game. Two of the hits off Newhouse, who has lost two, were homers by Bobby Doerr and Vern Stephens.

Priddy and Kryhoski smashed three runs each as the Tigers handed Harry Taylor his second defeat without a win.

Priddy, who had only one hit in the last four games, rapped a bases loaded double in the sixth inning to bring the Tigers from behind. His double in the seventh drove in Newhouse who got two hits.

Kryhoski wallpiped three doubles and a single.

Hawkeye Track Team Underdog to Purdue

Iowa and Purdue are expected to wage a close battle here today in the Hawkeye's first outdoor dual track meet.

The meet is scheduled for 1:30 p.m. at the track east of the football stadium.

Though Iowa could well take eight or nine first places in the 14-event meet, Purdue, with its greater depth, is rated a slight favorite.

The Hawks will be headed by sophomore star Gary Scott, who should win the 100, 220 and 440, and Chuck Darling in the discus and shot put.

Other possible Iowa first places are Bob Henard, broad jump; Jack Weik, high jump; Al Meyerling pole vault and Dean Duel, low hurdles.

Purdue's greatest strength lies in the mile, half-mile, two-mile and high hurdles.

John Strayton is the Boiler-maker distance star having run the mile under 4:20 and the two-mile in 9:30.

The visitors are expected to sweep the half mile with Ben Schaffer, who has done better than 1:55, Bob Rodbaugh and Jim Weisslog.

Bob Hocker and Bob Mastio-vitch should bring Purdue eight points in the high hurdles and the Boiler-maker mile relay team looks a bit too fast for the Hawks.

Meet records are in danger in the 220, 440, 880, mile and high jump.

After Purdue, Iowa will meet Minnesota and Indiana on successive weekends in preparation for the Big Ten championships at Evanston May 25 and 26.

CLEVELAND (AP) — Chico Carradella Athletics stopped a ninth inning Cleveland rally Friday night to defeat the Tribe, 3-1, before 12,185 fans. Alex Kellner pitched six-hit ball in earning the victory.

Kellner fanned six and had yielded only four scattered singles until the Indians started their final inning threat. One of his three walks, a wild throw by Ferris Fain, and Al Rosen's single allowed the only Cleveland run in the

Scoffs at Beating — Rugged Andy Rarin' to Go

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — It takes more than a rap on the head to kayo rugged Andy Seminick.

The Phillies' catcher was hit on the side of the head with a pitched ball Thursday night. He was carried from the field on a stretcher.

But with the same spirit that helped him through the last 10 days of the 1950 National league season and the World Series despite a broken bone in his ankle, Seminick was up and around Friday, raring for action.

"What's a little bump on the head?" said Andy. "We've got to start winning some ball games. I've got to start hitting. There's no time to be nursing bumps. We have a pennant to defend."

However, Manager Eddie Sawyer plans to keep his veteran receiver on the bench for a game or two as a precautionary measure.

Andy is currently batting .313.

Two Sailors from Tiffin

"ANCHORS AWEIGH," sang Richard Ingham (right) to Cleo Bechler in one of the several skits put on by the third, fourth and fifth grades of the Tiffin public school for a Mother's day program Friday. The two erstwhile swabbies were a vocal duet, but couldn't seem to synchronize their props. The theme of the program was a parody on WSUT's "Listen and Learn" program broadcast daily. The youngsters, under the direction of Mrs. Harold Vestmark, put on everything from "Harry Hippopotamus" to a "Washerwoman Race." Even Cosmo the clown was there. Mrs. Vestmark said the children were so impressed with their visit to WSUT's "Listen and Learn" circus April 26, that they wanted to put on a circus of their own. Although lacking the facilities of the radio station, they made out right with a minimum of costumes and a maximum of wit.

Law Firm Moves To Clear Rutledge Case; Release Bond

DES MOINES (AP)—A Des Moines law firm sought Friday to have the second degree murder conviction of the late Dr. Robert Rutledge, former St. Louis pediatrician, stricken from the records in an effort to free the $40,000 bond posted for his freedom.

Rutledge committed suicide at Houston, Tex., April 5, a few hours after the Iowa supreme court had upheld his conviction for the 1948 hotel room slaying of Byron Hatman, St. Louis engineer, at Cedar Rapids.

Attorneys filed a petition requesting the state supreme court to withdraw the opinion which upheld the conviction. The petition would open the way to freeing the bond on which Rutledge was free at the time of his death if it is upheld. The high court is expected to rule next month.

The bond was posted by Robert Cornett, Omaha bondsman, on security of about $220,000 provided by Mrs. Laura Rogers, Sioux City.

The law firm of Miller, Davis, Hise and Holand indicated it would also seek to free the late doctor's estate from liability for costs incurred during the sensational Cedar Rapids trial.

The petition asserted court decisions have "well-established" that a defendant who dies while an appeal from his conviction is pending is freed from the proceedings by reason of his death.

Ex-Billiards Champion To Give Exhibition Here

Charles C. Peterson, former billiards champion, will give an exhibition of billiards playing at the Iowa Union Thursday. The program, sponsored by the Student Union board, will begin at 8 p.m. A billiards table will be set up in the Union main lounge and bleachers will be erected for observers.

Funeral Services Today For Mrs. Mabel Evans

Funeral services will be held at 3 p.m. today at the Trinity Episcopal church for Mrs. Mabel Rlenow Evans, 75, Johnson county probation officer, who died Thursday.

The Rev. Harold F. McGee will officiate. Burial will be in Oakland cemetery. The family has requested no flowers.

Hubba, Hubba

ALTHOUGH THEIR HIPS were not as well versed as their arms, Cub Scouts George Augustineck (left) and John Parker gave a bashful hula demonstration which "wowed" the spectators at the Scout-O-Rama Friday night in the Community building. The two boys are members of Cub Pack 12, sponsored by the Henry Sabin parent teacher's association. The same program will be given tonight from 7 to 9:30.

1300 View 'Scout-O-Rama' Show at Community Building

Indians, Turks, Japanese, Russians, Hawaiian hula dancers and even Betty Hutton took part in the 1951 "Scout-O-Rama" which opened last night in the Iowa City Community building.

The show, scheduled to begin its second performance at 7 tonight, was viewed by an estimated 1,300 persons, according to Bob Cotter, chairman of the ticket and business management committee.

Three 20 minute floor shows highlighted the evening of fun. The act that "stole the show" was Rex See, scoutmaster of

Troop 32 in Washington, Ia., with his impersonation of Betty Hutton singing "Out of an Orange Colored Sky."

Rex, wearing a tight fitting dress, covered with make-up and sporting the latest "map" hair-do, clowning and "sang" his way through Hutton's song amid the hearty laughs and cheers of all who saw his performance.

The other three acts of the floor show included a minstrel skit presented by Cub Pack 2 of Iowa City and having as one of its stars Atty. Jack White; a quartet representing Troop 34 of Kalona singing such old favorites as "Margie" and "K-K-K-Katie"; and a demonstration of Indian dancing by Troop 2 of Iowa City.

On the main floor of the Community building, where the real show was going on, hundreds of people saw such things as demonstrations of signalling, angling, radio, TV, canoeing, airplane structure, and dozens of other interesting and educational phases of scouting.

Cub Pack 2 of Iowa City had a booth displaying Japanese, Turkish, and Russian handicraft all made by the cubs themselves. Scout Troop 2 of Iowa City had the largest booth, actually three regular 10-foot-square booths combined, where they had a display of Indian lore which included a full size tepee and several expertly made Indian headresses.

One of the show stoppers on the main floor was Cub Pack 12 of Iowa City with their Hawaiian display. A couple of the Cubs, with swishing and swirling crepe paper skirts, presented a bashful, but somewhat authentic version, of the Hula.

Martin Hunter, local scout executive, said he expected an even larger crowd tonight, the final night for the show, than attended Friday night.

The show lasts from 7 until 9:30 p.m. and the admission charge is 25 cents. Children accompanied by their parents are admitted free.

LAFF-A-DAY

"Amos Drizzle, of all people! I still have a lock of your hair pressed away somewhere!"

Understanding of Mental Ills Emphasized

Inform your community about mental illis. Dr. Frank E. Coburn, professor of psychiatry at University hospitals, told 400 Iowa welfare workers assembled here Friday.

Communities must act to remove the cause of this behavior rather than punish the offenders, Coburn asserted.

Final sessions of the nine workshops for the welfare workers were held Friday morning. Problems of delinquency in children, old age, criminology and adoption were discussed by the groups.

The institute was sponsored jointly by the Iowa Welfare association, the SUI school of social work, department of sociology and extension division.

Plum Grove Site Opens Today

Former Home Of Gov. Lucas Draws Tourists

By DAVID PULLMAN

Plum Grove, former home of Robert Lucas, first governor of the territory of Iowa, will be open from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. today and Sunday for the first weekend of its official 1951 tourist season.

Plum Grove is one block south of the corner of Carroll street and Kirkwood avenue. The 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. hours will be observed daily except Monday until late November.

Tourists began arriving at Plum Grove last Sunday—two days ahead of opening day, May 1—while Caretaker Horace Jenks was dusting furniture and putting up lace curtains. Eighteen registered in the guest book.

From May to November last year more than 2,000 persons registered. Jenks said that was double the number of the year before.

"It used to be that if I had three visitors a day, I thought I was doing good," Jenks said. "Now I often have 50 to 60, especially on a Sunday afternoon."

The Plum Grove home is a two-story brick house on a four-acre tract of land. On the land, more than a thousand plum trees, rose bushes, lilacs and shrubberies have been planted to create conditions similar to territorial days.

The house has seven rooms, four downstairs and three upstairs, each with a fireplace. Furniture from the home of Samuel J. Kirkwood, civil war governor of Iowa, and other homes have been added to a few pieces of the original Lucas furniture.

Wallpaper like that of territorial days decorates the interior walls.

Plum Grove has been owned by the state of Iowa since 1941. The state undertook to restore the home to its original status. The home was dedicated in November, 1946, as a state monument.

Plum Grove was Lucas' country home for almost 10 years. He and his wife, Friendly, built the house in 1844. Lucas served as governor of the territory of Iowa, 1838-41.

While living at Plum Grove, Lucas was elected a member of the first constitutional convention which convened in Old Capitol.

Lucas died at Plum Grove in 1853. The Lucas family owned the home until 1866. The home was sold several times before the state bought it in 1941 and began its restoration.

BECKONING TOURISTS to Iowa City's historic Plum Grove home of Robert Lucas, first governor of the territory of Iowa, is this sign at the corner of Carroll street and Kirkwood avenue. More than 2,000 persons visited Plum Grove during 1950. The 1951 season began Tuesday and will continue until late November.

Yordi, Baculis Face Action Before New Court Session

The manslaughter charge against Charles Yordi, Riverside, and the charge against George Baculis, Iowa City, of aiding and abetting murder, have been continued to the May term of court which begins Monday in district court.

A child desertion and two drunken driving charges have been set for trial today by Judge Harold D. Evans.

The Yordi and Baculis cases are among 10 carried over to the new term.

The three cases assigned for 9 a.m. today are Glen L. Dill, charged with operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated last March; John Perry Collins, indicted for drunken driving in Dec., 1950, and Wilbur O. Johnson, charged with child desertion.

After action on these three cases, Judge Evans will adjourn the February term of district court at noon.

Among the 10 criminal cases continued to the next term of court is the charge of aiding and abetting murder against Baculis, Iowa City. He was indicted on the charge Dec. 15, in connection with the death of Andrew Davelis last Oct. 12.

James Lons, Baculis' brother, is now standing trial on an open murder charge in connection with the same incident.

The manslaughter charge against Yordi, Riverside, also has been continued. Yordi is charged with driving a motor vehicle in a manner indicating willful disregard for the safety of others.

He was indicted Sept. 27, 1950, in connection with an accident June 9, 1950, which caused the death of Irene Crow, Iowa City high school graduate.

Other criminal cases continued are: Herman Krueger, indicted May 7, 1948, on a drunken driving charge; Martin Shebetka, accused of drunken driving, second offense, in September, 1950; Donald Beckloff, charged with desertion.

Clarence Kriz, charged with breaking jail on two occasions; George Kost, indicted on two forgery counts; Gale E. Parker and George R. Scanlon, Oxford, both charged with drunken driving, and Robert L. Seaton, charged with child desertion.

Ellsworth to Attend Library Symposium

Prof. Ralph Ellsworth, director of the University library, is one of six American library directors who will participate in a symposium Tuesday at the 200th anniversary of the University of Pennsylvania's libraries.

The Philadelphia program also will feature Winston Churchill, former English prime minister, as the main speaker.

Ellsworth will present the basic statements for discussion in a symposium entitled "The Intellectual Process." His paper will be "Changing Patterns of Scholarship and the Future of Research Libraries."

State Won't Renew Farrell's License To Distribute Beer

DES MOINES (AP)—The Iowa tax commission announced late Friday that by unanimous decision it has refused to renew the beer distributor license held by Lew Karrell and August Randa of Des Moines.

The effect of the decision is that the Superior Distributing company, in which Farrell and Randa are partners, cannot continue in the wholesale beer business beyond next Wednesday.

Their license expires on that date. Both a state and a federal license are required for such operations. The commission said it has not been informed whether the federal permit has been renewed. However, that would make no difference, now that the commission has acted.

Farrell figured prominently in one of the U.S. senate investigation sessions about two months ago. Questioning of Farrell then pertained primarily to whether there was any connection between his operations and those of Kansas City men whom committee members called "gangsters."

The tax commission, the state authority for issuance of wholesale beer permits, issued a brief statement on the matter. The statement related the denial of renewal of the license, then added:

"Code section 124.23 provides that the authorities empowered to issue permits shall make a thorough investigation to determine the fitness of the applicant and the truth of the statements made in an accompanying application.

"The chairman, George H. Robb, said the commission is screening all applicants for renewals and, unless they can meet the requirements of the law, the applications will be denied."

Asked the reason for the commission's action, Robb merely cited the brief statement and added: "No further comment."

Farrell, who came to Des Moines from Chicago, has been in the beer distributing business in Des Moines since 1939.

Journalism Awards Revealed At Matrix Table Thursday

The Daily Iowan editor and business manager for 1951-52 will be announced and at least 10 journalism and advertising awards will be presented at the SUI school of journalism's Matrix table at 6:30 p.m. Thursday in the Iowa Union River room.

Sponsored by Theta Sigma Phi, women's professional journalism fraternity, the Matrix table is the annual award dinner of the school of journalism.

Awards include the Brewer-Torch Press Key to the graduating senior who shows outstanding all-around journalistic ability, the J. Hamilton Johnson Memorial award for outstanding news stories, station WHO awards, a news photography cup, Iowa Press Women's award, editorial cartooning award and four advertising awards.

"Bulitzer" awards will be presented students who made the "prize published boners of the year," and the "Sweetheart" of Theta Sigma Phi will be named.

New officers of the following honorary and professional fraternities will be presented: Sigma Delta Chi, men's professional journalism fraternity; Kappa Tau Alpha, honorary scholastic journalism fraternity; Alpha Delta Sigma, men's professional advertising fraternity; Gamma Alpha Chi, women's professional advertising fraternity, and Theta Sigma Phi.

JoAnn Thein, G. Oelwein, Theta Sigma Phi president, will be mistress of ceremonies at the

Four ROTC Students To Get Commissions

Four SUI advanced course ROTC cadets will be offered reserve commissions in the army finance corps, Maj. Gen. Eugene M. Foster, chief of finance in Washington, said today.

The four will be selected from third-year cadets enrolled in courses leading to a degree in business administration, fiscal administration, public administration, accounting or law.

They will attend a special finance corps training program, including a six-week summer camp at Fort Benjamin Harrison, Ind.

Estherville Dike Blasted to Lower Water

ESTHERVILLE, IOWA (AP)—Sheriff Emlet Twito reported Friday that a dynamite charge Thursday ripped a gaping hole in an eastern dike at the north approach to Ingham lake near here.

Twenty-five or more men were in the group that set off the dynamite charge, according to the sheriff, who was called to the scene by William Brabham, a state conservation commission employee who lives near the lake area.

High water in the area has flooded a considerable amount of farm land, and members of the group set the charge, the sheriff said, in order to let the water out of Ingham lake and into a slough that connects Ingham with High lake.

Sheriff Twito appealed to the group to cease their attempts at blasting and said he would try to arrange a conference with officials of the state conservation commission, which has jurisdiction over the area.

Table. Her committees include: Program, Charlene McCorkel, A3, Burlington; entertainment, Mrs. Marilyn Long, A4, Ottumwa; tickets, Julie Jensen, A4, Harlan, and Marian Petkovsek, A4, Peoria, Ill.; publicity, Alice Anderson, A3, Klemme.

1 Killed, 4 Injured In Accident Friday

Walter H. Williams, 44, Cedar Rapids, died in University hospitals early Friday from injuries he received in an automobile accident shortly after midnight Thursday on highway 6 near the eastern edge of West Liberty.

Four other Cedar Rapids men were injured in the wreck. Hospital officials identified three of the injured men as John Abbey, 21, William Bright, 20, and George Ayres, 21, all in "fair" condition.

A fourth passenger, Robert Diaz, 23, was treated at the hospitals for minor cuts and bruises and released.

Highway patrolmen who investigated the wreck said the car, owned by Abbey, apparently went out of control just as it crossed a bridge on the edge of West Liberty.

The car ran off the road on the right side, back onto the highway and into the ditch on the left side where it struck a light pole. All the men were thrown out of the car.

Wins $111 Judgment

Judgment of $111.10 has been awarded Mrs. George Morr in her district court suit against Mr. and Mrs. Oral G. Smith.

Mrs. Morr, proprietor of a grocery store claimed that the money was due for merchandise delivered to the defendants. The plaintiff was represented by Atty. Shirley Porter.

NOW OPEN FOR TOURISTS from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. daily except Monday is Plum Grove, built in 1844. Log cabins were typical of pioneer days, but the Plum Grove home of Robert Lucas was constructed of the soft, red brick manufactured locally. The state of Iowa brought Plum Grove in 1941 and as part of a restoration program, removed numerous coats of paint from the outside of the building. The brick walls were sandblasted, pointed up, and refinished to make them waterproof.

THERE'S A FIREPLACE IN EVERY ROOM of the Plum Grove home. This is the kitchen fireplace. The longer of the two rifles above the fireplace is an original Hawkins rifle. Among items on the mantel is a candle mold. Last year every piece of furniture and every article in the Plum Grove home was photographed individually for inventory purposes.

Yesterday in Washington

MARINE STRENGTH — The senate Friday unanimously passed a bill to fix the top strength of the marine corps at 400,000 officers and men — double its present size — and to make its commandant a consultant to the joint chiefs of staff.

The measure, which still must win house approval, would permit the corps to maintain up to four full-strength combat divisions and four complete air wings. Under its present 200,000-man ceiling, the corps has two combat divisions and two air wings.

A-ENERGY APPROPRIATION — The house trimmed $85,000 from the atomic energy commission's fiscal 1952 appropriation because the agency spent that much last year to build a fancy cat and dog hospital at Los Alamos, N.M.

House members said construction of the pet hospital for the benefit of employees at the Los Alamos A-bomb laboratory added nothing to the defense effort.

MEAT PRICES — Wholesale meat prices rose eight-tenths of one percent last week, the labor department reported. The overall wholesale price index dropped one-tenth of one percent in the same period.

The all-commodity index showed prices for the week ending May 1 at 8.6 percent above a year ago.

AGRICULTURE BUDGET — The house appropriations committee approved a bill giving the agriculture department $720,157,433 in fiscal 1952 after using some fancy arithmetic to achieve a 12 percent cut.

The committee claimed to have sliced $99,848,113 from the department's budget estimate submitted by President Truman.

EXPORT CONTROL — A house appropriations subcommittee reported that during the past three years 200 American and foreign firms or individuals violated export controls aimed at keeping strategic goods from Communist-dominated nations.

It issued a report listing 102 cases of alleged violations on which the government has taken administrative or criminal action in that period.

Red Foreign Policy Topic of WSUI Show

Soviet foreign policy will be the topic of discussion on WSUI's "Current Comment" program to be broadcast at 7 this evening.

Participating in the discussion will be Prof. E. E. Hall, head of the SUI philosophy department; Prof. Kirk Porter, head of the political science department; Prof. Nicholas Risanovsky of the SUI history department.

Coralville Flood Project Work Begins Again

Work on the Coralville flood project has resumed, after heavy spring rains and snow caved in an embankment filling the stilling basin area with 12 to 15 feet of mud.

By Thursday, most of the mud had been pumped out and workmen with the Texas Construction company, Dallas were preparing to build the embankment back up and continue installing outlet machinery.

Officials estimate of this second phase of construction, costing more than $1-million, should be completed by next October.

This is about four months later than the originally planned completion date, June 22.

25 Students Will Attend Annual Church Meeting

Twenty-five First Christian students and townspeople will attend the 105th annual convention of the Christian churches of Iowa in Des Moines Sunday to Wednesday.

Ten members of the Bethany fellowship, student group of the local First Christian church, will attend the youth session on Saturday.

The Rev. Sam P. Williams, member of the board of trustees of the SUI school of religion, will give the closing address, "This Is the Power." He has been the pastor of the First Christian church, Fairfield, for 22 years.

Theta Sigma Phi Pledges

Three SUI students were pledged Thursday to Theta Sigma Phi, national professional journalism fraternity for women. They were Norma Sexton, A2, Des Moines; Martha Overholser, A3, Omaha, Neb., and Jean Trahan, A3, Iowa City.
