U.S. Halts Draft Of College Students Until Scores Known

WASHINGTON (UP) — Local draft boards were ordered Wednesday to postpone induction of college students until results of their deferment tests are known or their scholastic standings have been submitted to draft officials.

Selective Service Director Lewis B. Hershey said all students should be given a chance to take the tests and make sure the results reach their draft boards. Those standing high in their class also will get an opportunity to furnish evidence of their standing.

No inductions will be postponed for this reason beyond August 20. Students who get a qualifying test score by July 70, will be deferred to continue their studies, as will those standing in the upper part of their class.

Hershey also ordered the local boards to give all students graduating this year a 30-day postponement beyond the end of the academic year to enable them to enlist in the service of their choice or to obtain jobs in essential industry.

Police Arrest Iran Chief at Gun Point

TEHRAN, IRAN (AP) — The deputy chief of the fanatical nationalist Fada'iyan Islam organization was arrested at gun point Wednesday as the result of threats to assassinate Premier Mohamed Mossadegh.

Police raiders closed in on the home of Haj Abolghassem Rafii, right hand man of Seyyed Mojtaba Navab Safavi, supreme leader of Fada'iyan Islam. Rafii drew a pistol and tried to escape. The police fired in the air, an official statement said, and Rafii was seized after a fierce struggle.

Now, the police said, they are pressing a search for Safavi, who is believed to be at his secret headquarters somewhere in the outskirts of Tehran.

Safavi announced Saturday that in addition to the late Premier Ali Razmara, whom a member of his organization assassinated, there were "quite a few" others who "must be pushed down the incline to Hell."

Next day Premier Mossadegh announced dramatically in parliament that his life had been threatened and that he would take refuge in the parliament building. He fainted. Since then he remained barricaded in the building, under guard.

Agar Elopes But License Refused

LAS VEGAS, NEV. (AP) — John Agar, Shirley Temple's former husband, eloped with a pretty film extra Wednesday — but he had to wait an hour to get married because the county clerk said "he had been drinking."

Agar and Loretta Barnett Combs, 28, appeared before County Clerk Helen Scott Reed shortly after lunch and asked for a marriage license.

Miss Reed refused because, she said, "it was obvious Agar had been drinking."

Convicted

NUMBER RACKETEER Louis Weber was convicted Wednesday of lying to the Kefauver senate crime committee about his association with James J. Moran, Democrat politician and former first deputy fire commissioner of New York City. Moran was convicted of perjury last week and is appealing a five-year prison sentence and a $2,000 fine. Weber faces a similar penalty.

U. S. Makes Britain 'Tone Down' Note To Iran Over Oil

LONDON (AP) — A British note to Iran on oil nationalization has been toned down on the advice of the United States, but still warns that failure to negotiate the question might have grave consequences, well informed quarters said Wednesday.

It was indicated that what was to have been the final text of the note was ready for dispatch to Tehran when, as the result of further British-American consultation, it was modified. The modified text was drafted Wednesday, it was said, and the note may be sent today after it is approved in final form by the United States.

Informants said the note expresses willingness to compromise on the nationalization of the $585-million Anglo-Iranian oil company but firmly rejects the idea of outright cancellation of the oil concession, which does not expire until 1933.

There is no sign of a change in the determination of the Iranian government to cancel the agreement at all cost.

The new British note is understood to tell the Iranians that the stability of Iran itself and of the entire middle East will be threatened if the oil industry is upset by incompetent handling.

One British fear is that the continued nationalist surge in Iran may bring internal disorder which will permit Communist infiltration in the turbulent north bordering on Russia.

Students Petition Congress on Grain

ST. PAUL (AP) — Students at MacAlester college circulated a petition Wednesday calling on congress for swift passage of a bill giving grain to the starving masses in India.

Originally, the idea of students at the University of Michigan, the petition was sent to 200 colleges and universities with the request that they help get 75,000 signatures. A spokesman said they hope to have the signatures in Washington by May 21.

MacAlester students said they want to get the petition to Washington by May 21, for two reasons. First, they hope to get the petition there before both houses of congress vote on the bill. Second, they want the measure passed before the monsoon season starts in India.

Michigan students joined a caravan from MacAlester that journeyed to Washington this month with "token" loads of wheat for the Indian embassy. On their return they went to work on the petition idea.

U.S. Builds B-36 Bases on Okinawa

OKINAWA (AP) — The United States is building a huge air base here that will bring all East Asia within striking distance of mighty B-36 bombers, America's most potent strategic air weapon.

A $65-million construction program is rapidly transforming Kadena air field into one of the strongest outposts of American power in the Orient. Airforce officers disclosed that when complete Kadena can easily handle the B-36.

Airforce officers disclosed that, in addition to the new building program at Kadena air base, about $42-million is being spent to expand the fighter base at Naga.

Three other fields are being maintained as standby strips. Of major importance is the fact that from Okinawa big bombers can range over an area including Eastern Siberia, Manchuria, all China and southeast Asia as far as India.

B-29 superforts based here have been striking at the Reds in North Korea since the early months of the Korean war.

Senate Votes India Grain; Includes Curbs

(From the Wire Services) WASHINGTON — The senate Wednesday approved a bill authorizing the shipment of 2-million tons of grain to famine-threatened India on a 100 percent loan basis.

Equals $190-Million
The $190-million loan is repayable at low interest rates over a period of more than 30 years. A similar measure is scheduled to come before the house today. Its fate is uncertain in the face of strong opposition.

The measure was approved by voice vote, with only a few senators shouting "no," despite a warning from Sen. Brien McMahon (D-Conn.) that the strategic materials provision might result in "killing" this country's humanitarian gesture.

Without objection, the chamber approved an amendment by Sen. Leverett Saltonstall (R-Mass.) requiring the secretary of agriculture to certify that grain shipments to India "will not impair the fulfillment of the vital needs of the United States."

A Loan, Not Gift
The amendment also provides that the U.S. may negotiate with India for repayment of at least part of the loan in strategic materials.

The issue now shifts to the house which is scheduled to take up similar legislation Tuesday. Stiffer opposition is expected in the lower chamber where many members have been bitterly caustic of India's criticism of America's role in the Korean war.

McMahon objected to what he called a hard and fast "barter" provision in the bill which would require India to send the U.S. "substantial quantities" of manganese and monazite.

Manganese is used to harden steel for military and civilian uses while monazite is being studied for possible use in the atomic energy program.

Indian Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru said recently that India would prefer the wheat on a loan basis with "no political strings attached." More recently, he said India would not send atomic materials to any country.

U.S. Gets Materials Now
The U.S. already is receiving 75 percent of India's manganese. President Truman had asked that 1-million tons of wheat be given to India as an outright gift.

The senate first shouted down an amendment by Sen. Styles Bridges (R-N.H.) demanding that India send — and continue to send — "substantial quantities" of monazite. Bridges said the mineral is needed for construction of jet engines.

Several senators noted that India herself never asked for free aid. India also refused to barter minerals which might be used in atomic weapons in return for the grain.

Minnesota Warns Staff of Firings

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Faculty members at the University of Minnesota were warned Wednesday by President J. L. Morrill that an undetermined number of persons were going to be cut from the payroll.

He pointed out, however, that those who retain their jobs will be given a $40 to $50 a month pay raise by the last legislature.

In an open letter to his staff, Morrill said the university is faced with a budget deficit of $1,310,671.

364 Fall Sick At 2 Army Bases

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sudden illness, marked by nausea, Wednesday struck at least 364 men of the armed services at two bases in the Washington area. Investigations were being made on the assumption it was food poisoning.

About 300 men became ill at the Fort Meade, Md., army reception center about four hours after a breakfast of brown beef and potato hash, toast, milk and coffee. Some 60 were hospitalized.

Iron Curtain
It brought angry talk that the White House may be "pulling an iron curtain" down on the testimony — and counter charges that the Republicans may be "trying to sabotage" the Asia policy inquiry because they don't like the way the testimony is going.

President Truman joined the issue on clear-cut constitutional grounds by ordering Bradley to stand fast in his refusal to divulge details of the private talks April 6 — five days before MacArthur was ousted.

Acheson Has Little Use for Thoughts About Resigning

(From the Wire Services) WASHINGTON — Dean Acheson, target of hot fire from critics of the Truman administration declared Wednesday that he "enlisted for the duration" and intends to remain as secretary of state as long as the President wants him.

Acheson was asked at a news conference if he has any idea of stepping down from the No. 1 cabinet post which he had held since Jan. 21, 1949.

"No, gentlemen," he replied. "I have no intention of resigning. My position has always been that I enlisted for the duration and I plan to stay as long as the President wishes me to stay."

President Truman has said repeatedly that he is satisfied with Acheson and has no intention of asking him to quit.

Acheson proceeded to reprove reports who, in his words, fiddle around with the technical and secondary questions of whether the United States should veto Red Chinese membership in the United Nations.

In apparent annoyance, Acheson not only told the reporters to get this straight but also advised them not to lose up, as he put it, the question of American policy by getting it confused with the veto issue.

While he jumped the reporters, he seemed actually to be talking over their heads to members of congress and particularly some Republican senators who have explored the veto matter recently in the MacArthur hearings.

In essence, what Acheson argued Wednesday is that the important thing is to persuade the majority of the UN members that Red China, defying the UN in Korea, must not be permitted to shoot its way into the peace league. He pointed out that only in the security council can membership be controlled by veto, the other UN agencies operating on majority rule.

Contino Indicted As Draft Dodger

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Dick Contino, 21-year-old accordion artist, was indicted by a federal grand jury here Wednesday and his attorney promised that he would surrender about 10 a.m. today.

The young musician was indicted for failure to accept induction into the army at Fort Ord.

His attorney, James Davis, earlier had said that Contino would surrender at 3 p.m. Wednesday to the federal marshal.

Contino failed to appear and Federal Judge Louis E. Goodman issued a warrant for his arrest. He set bail at $5,000.

Contino faces a maximum sentence of five years imprisonment and $10,000 fine.

The indictment charged Contino with refusal to report for physical inspection and refusal to submit to induction.

Chinese Open Second Round Of Offensive, Allies Fall Back

Chiang Ready To Hit Reds

TAIPEH, FORMOSA (AP) — Chiang Kai-Shek and the Nationalist forces holding out on this island stronghold are ready to hit back at the China mainland as soon as possible in an effort to divert the Chinese Reds now fighting the United Nations forces in Korea.

This was the consensus of four separate interviews by The Associated Press with top government officials Wednesday.

These leaders were Chiang Kai-Shek, his Premier, Chen Cheng; Foreign Minister George Yeh; and Chiang's close advisor, the veteran Wang Shih-Chieh.

How hard a blow can be struck, and how soon, is the military question.

Maj. Gen. William C. Chase, head of the new U.S. military assistance advisory group, also had a long meeting with Chiang Wednesday. Chase already had made his preliminary report to Washington.

Chiang uttered no word of bitterness, no word of appeasement during nearly an hour's questioning on all phases of Far East problems.

He carefully avoided being drawn into the great debate in Washington over policy in the Orient.

When asked about General MacArthur's references to Nationalist forces, Chiang merely agreed his Nationalists should be used against the Communists in the best manner their commanders can advise.

As for his rejected offer to send troops to Korea, Chiang said he would not shirk his responsibility if now called upon.

Local Korean Vet, Former SUI Man Returns Home Today

The first Iowa Citian to return from combat duty in Korea is scheduled to arrive at the airport here at 5 p.m. today.

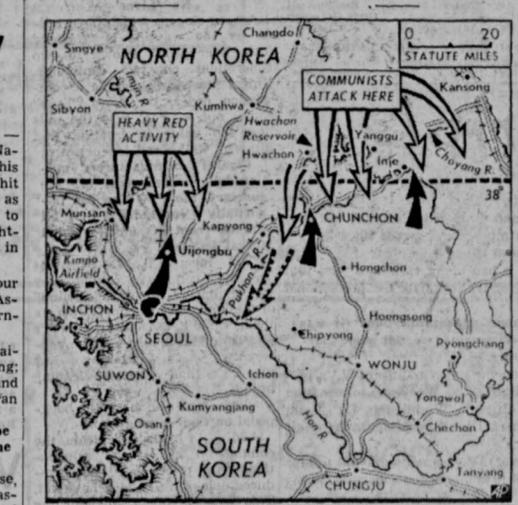

He is Sgt. Jack Nelson, 23, former SUI student and son of Mr. and Mrs. S. N. Nelson, 210 1/2 E. Washington street. He spent four months in Korea.

Nelson will spend one day here before reporting to Quantico, Va., for marine officers' candidate training.

Nelson was recalled to active duty last October, a few days after he enrolled in the Hollywood Art institute. He previously enlisted in the marines in 1946 and served 21 months.

Nelson was chosen for officers' candidate school while on duty in Korea, his mother said. He was then transferred to Japan and was given several tests before he was sent to the United States and ordered to the school at Quantico, Va.

He attended SUI from September, 1948, to June, 1950, and married a former SUI student, Joyce Mau, in November, 1949. She is now living in Santa Monica, Calif., where Nelson spent the past week before coming to Iowa City.

Red Offensive Starts Again

REDS ATTACK AGAIN. Open arrows from boxes show where Reds were massing and attacking in Korea Wednesday. Solid arrows indicate Allied moves. Reds unleashed a series of attacks from the Chunchon area eastward to the coast. Some ground lost by Allies was regained northeast of Inje and at Chunchon. The enemy was infiltrating southward into the Pakhan river valley with probable objective (broken arrow) the Han river area, a move to pinch off Seoul. Heavy Red activity was noted north of Seoul.

Doctors Face Draft Unless Enlistments Rise

Doctors will be drafted into the armed forces in July and August unless more apply for commissions, Brig. Gen. Paul I. Robinson, chief of the army surgeon generals personnel division, said Wednesday.

He explained that the number of physicians accepting commissions is inadequate to meet the requirements for the two-month period. Doctors may apply for a commission before they are inducted by contacting their draft boards.

Dr. George Scanlon, medical advisor to the Johnson county draft board, said all doctors subject to the draft in the county have been notified they may apply for a commission in the army, navy or airforce.

Dr. Scanlon said he believed all the doctors had applied for commissions. If they do not apply for a commission and are drafted, they will serve as enlisted men.

Just because a doctor applies for a commission does not mean he will go on active duty at once, Dr. Scanlon said.

First, he will be given a physical examination and if he passes, he will receive a commission, the doctor explained. He will be deferred until the end of the year of residency at the hospital he is serving, Dr. Scanlon said.

If he is doing essential work or specializing in a vital field, he may be recommended for a further deferment. Deferments are granted for six months only, according to government regulations, but may be renewed.

If the doctor is in private practice and not under residency deferment, he will be eligible for a deferment for essential work or specialization when he receives his commission, Dr. Scanlon said.

No doctors have been drafted from Johnson county, he added. Those who have been called into the service have been members of the reserves or the national guard.

The draft board has no jurisdiction over these doctors, he said, nor can they defer doctors who were or are being sent to school by the government. If these doctors are needed, they may be placed on active duty at the end of their year of residency.

He also said the induction of doctors does not affect medical students and doctors in the medical branch of ROTC.

World Situation at a Glance

HONG KONG — An emergency law primarily aimed at Communist publications but also affecting foreign news agencies enacted by Hong Kong government gives vast powers of control, including power of suspension, over newspapers, printers, and news agencies to government. Requires all newspapers and agencies to register and post bond.

MOSCOW — Pravda devotes a page and half to a review of 13th volume of Stalin's collected works, quoting the Soviet leader as saying the people and government of U.S.S.R. desire that there never be armed conflict between the U.S. and Russia. Statement was made in early 1930's to late Ralph Baines of the New York Herald-Tribune.

ROME — Anti-Communist guerrillas are raiding with increased boldness from Red Albania's northern mountains within 50 miles of the capital of Tirana, Italian sources report.

NEW YORK — First elements of Fourth infantry division will leave this weekend for Europe to bolster Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's Atlantic pact army, First army commander announces.

KOREAN FRONT — Chinese and North Korean Communists launch second spring offensive on mountainous central front, forcing Allied withdrawal. Attack spearheaded by 75,000 Chinese Reds. Reports from the field are scarce as is usual during heavy fighting.

UN Artillery, Air Power Hit Back at Reds

(From the Wire Services) TOKYO (THURSDAY) — Waves of Chinese Reds struck American forces along a 65-mile front in east-central Korea Wednesday and American and South Korean troops fell back to new defense positions as the second round of the Chinese spring offensive exploded into action.

Communist mass attacks were hurled at the Allies from Changong, 20 miles northeast of Seoul, to the east coast.

Howling Communists
Howling Communist infantrymen charged into Allied lines and their attack mounted in intensity despite the heaviest Allied artillery bombardment of the war and blazing air attacks.

The Communists tore five big holes and several smaller ones in the 25-mile section of the front between Inje and the east coast as they drove their hardest strikes into South Korean troops — usual Red tactics.

American troops southwest of Chongong were forced back to new defense positions when a Chinese regiment opened a general attack in that area. The advancing Chinese were mauled with artillery shells.

Despite their general withdrawal, the ROK troops still clung to positions north of the 38th parallel in the mountainous eastern sector where four North Korean divisions drove back one ROK division in the biggest gain of the offensive.

Cost 3,555 Casualties
The new offensive already had cost the enemy at least 3,555 casualties plus 23 prisoners taken, and an Eighth army spokesman said the artillery and air toll would raise these figures considerably.

The first phase of the Communists' supreme offensive cost them 70,000 dead in a week and they were stopped dead in their tracks.

Civilians started streaming from villages behind UN lines into the mountains Wednesday. The all out enemy offensive came a few hours later in a bold daylight bid by 75,000 enemy troops to rip through the central mountain corridor.

The Communists' great ally, low-hanging clouds, deserted them Thursday morning and Allied fighter planes roared back into action. B-29s bombed troop concentrations during the night.

Fourteen Local Men Inducted

The May Johnson county draft quota of 14 men was inducted into the army at Des Moines Wednesday.

They left Iowa City by bus Wednesday morning for a final physical examination and induction.

Also sent to Des Moines were 18 other men including one doctor. All were transfers from other draft boards being sent for pre-induction physical examinations.

Johnson county men inducted were Kenneth L. Swenka, Oxford; Rodney Bruce Noel, route 2; Paul L. Bowers, 1025 E. Burlington street; John E. Stockman, route 4; Vern J. Dahna, 209 N. Linn street.

Paul R. Shaffer, Oxford; Eugene E. Janko, 1510 Sheridan avenue; William E. Laschke, 107 S. Lucas street; Howard H. Phelps, route 1; Libson; James R. Wenman, route 2; John P. Fobian, route 2, West Branch; Robert W. Kopf, route 2, Lone Tree; Earl J. Ruppenkamp, route 4, and Marvin L. Schnessler, Lone Tree.

3 Men Fined $137.50 Total in Police Court

Three persons paid fines totaling $137.50 in police court Wednesday.

Alden A. Janssen, Tiffin, was fined $102.50 for a violation of his driver's license restriction. Judge Emil G. Trott suspended $65 of the fine.

John F. Scott, 132 Hally street, was fined $22.50 on a charge of intoxication. Walter Paulson, West Branch, was fined $12.50 for driving with faulty equipment on his car.

Truman Stands by Bradley in Wrangle

(From the Wire Services) WASHINGTON — The inquiry into Gen. Douglas MacArthur's ouster exploded Wednesday into a bitter wrangle among senators over their power to force Gen. Omar N. Bradley to tell what was said at a meeting with President Truman last April 6. The White House talk was about firing the Far East commander.

The dispute shoved aside Bradley's testimony on the Korean war.

Iron Curtain
It brought angry talk that the White House may be "pulling an iron curtain" down on the testimony — and counter charges that the Republicans may be "trying to sabotage" the Asia policy inquiry because they don't like the way the testimony is going.

President Truman joined the issue on clear-cut constitutional grounds by ordering Bradley to stand fast in his refusal to divulge details of the private talks April 6 — five days before MacArthur was ousted.

The senate armed services and foreign relations committees — conducting the hearing — will vote today on whether to try to force Bradley to reveal the White House conversation.

Despite demands of some Republican senators for tough steps — which could include citing Bradley for contempt — a majority of the investigating committee appeared to feel that congress cannot and should not try to invade the privacy of the President's talks with his advisers.

Old as History
The controversy, reviving an issue as old as U.S. history, side-tracked the MacArthur hearings indefinitely and the committee excused Bradley from the witness stand until next Monday. The five-star general cooled his heels for two hours while the senators exchanged angry political blows over his stand.

Bradley, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, told the committee Tuesday that MacArthur's proposals for expanding the Korean fighting would involve this country "in the wrong war, at the wrong place, at the wrong time and with the wrong enemy."

Sen. Alexander Wiley (R-Wis.) asked Bradley to describe the discussion at the April 6 White House meeting. The meeting was attended by Mr. Truman, Bradley, Secretary of State Dean Acheson, Defense Secretary George C. Marshall and Presidential Adviser W. Averell Harriman.

Bradley told Wiley he could not answer without President Truman's permission since it was a "confidential" meeting between the chief executive and his top advisers.

Chairman Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.), the inquiry chairman, said the question today will be: "Whether or not a congressional committee has the power to compel an adviser of the President of the United States to disclose the details of a conversation had with the President on a confidential basis."

General Bradley Declined to Answer

One Rumor Spiked —

Veterans administration (VA) and University hospitals officials have killed a rumor which has been mushrooming ever since the VA announced plans for a hospital in Iowa City.

The gist of the rumor, although it had many variations, was that the VA had agreed not to raid University hospitals for professional and non-professional employees.

When the rumor reached campus-wide proportions (it was even openly discussed in an SUJ classroom), we felt some clarification of the situation was in order.

In answer to pointed questions on the exact nature of VA's policy on hiring personnel for its hospitals, A.W. Woolford, information service director for the central VA office in Washington, D.C., said: "VA has made it a policy not to raid local hospitals in its quest for qualified employees."

"As a government agency (however), VA cannot agree not to hire any citizen, each of whom has a right to compete for government employment, if he or she can qualify."

"Key administrative and professional positions will be filled in accordance with VA policy, that is, by transfer of experienced VA personnel to Iowa City."

"All other positions are filled by civil service, except positions in the canteen."

(For a complete explanation of the VA policy on hiring personnel see the story on page 9.)

This means that (1) the VA will not actively recruit personnel from University hospitals or Mercy hospital, but (2) that the VA cannot guarantee that no local hospital personnel will seek positions at the Veterans hospital if they can qualify by meeting VA or civil service standards.

Glen E. Clasen, assistant superintendent of University hospitals, also said the VA has made no agreement with the hospitals about the personnel problem.

We are not sure what the relationship between the Veterans hospital and University hospitals will be. But the statements of these two officials have convinced us that there have been no behind-the-scenes agreements between them regarding personnel.

And we hope there will be no secret agreements between the two hospitals on any matters. Iowa City has a chance to become a recognized medical center if the three hospitals here cooperate openly and fully.

What we are primarily interested in, though — and what we feel the public has a right to expect — is full publicity of the activities of all the hospitals here.

In such an atmosphere, rumors will be less likely to arise.

Interpreting the News —

U. S. Seen Buying Time For Armaments Buildup

By J. M. ROBERTS JR.
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Gen. Omar Bradley and Bernard Baruch have touched simultaneously on one of the keys to American policy not only in Asia but around the world—the fact that the U.S. is not militarily prepared for a showdown with Russia.

Bradley says so before the senate committee, adding that to strike directly at Communist China would "involve us in the wrong war, at the wrong place, at the wrong time, and with the wrong enemy."

Baruch says, "Many issues have become involved in the raging controversy over Far Eastern policy. I would not want to seem to be answering or dismissing them. Still, I would like to put forward this one thought of my own."

"Much of our trouble is the result of military weakness. In our present situation, whatever is attempted in behalf of peace must fall short, because of a lack of supporting military strength." In Korea, he added, young men are buying the time for the whole free world to re-arm.

Secretary of Defense Marshall testified to that.

It bears upon the statement in this column several days ago that some things have to be borne, some indemnity may have to be endured, the natural American feeling for striking back may have to be restrained by common-sense regard for the limits of ability.

General MacArthur testified, in the hot blood of a soldier who chafes under political restrictions, that he could win the Korean-Chinese war through less-limited operations.

Great Risk
General Marshall said the risk of an all-out war involvement was too great. Bradley says we haven't got the stuff yet. Baruch agrees. Kenneth C. Royal, former secretary of the army who at first agreed with MacArthur, now says he has changed his mind.

One thing that needs to be borne in mind in evaluating all of the arguments about Korea is that the various leaders are applying themselves to conditions of the moment. It is not impossible that as time goes on, trends are revealed and American strength grows, things may be done which it would be wrong to attempt now. MacArthur may yet see his ideas applied under a different set of circumstances.

Says Baruch, "Many of the issues—and choices—raised by the controversy would solve themselves if more of America's strength were mobilized. Until we have mobilized, few if any of the issues which have been raised can really be solved."

Mobilization Director Charles E. Wilson seemed to be thinking about that, too. He referred to the "foolishness" going on up in Capitol Hill. Suggested it was music to Russian ears, but told 1,000 military contractors, "What you are doing is not."

GOP May Run Mac In '52 Says Wiley

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Sen. Alexander Wiley (R-Wis.) said this week that General Douglas MacArthur is a "definite possibility" as Republican candidate for president of the United States in 1952.

In an interview here, the senior GOP member of the senate foreign relations committee said:

"It's too early to pick candidates now, but here is a great man who is a definite possibility. We Republicans want to win in 1952, but we must deserve victory. We must not pick a man of limited ability or a man who appeals only to a segment of American voters."

He added that he was not referring to any specific rivals for the 1952 GOP nomination, but

FTC Demands — 'Modicum Of Truth'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Several widely-known advertising slogans have gone into oblivion recently as a result of the federal trade commission's drive to protect consumers against spurious claims.

Chief targets of the FTC in the past year have been claims by certain cigarette makers, television manufacturers and patent medicine firms. The government agency has emphasized it is "not opposed to advertising" — but demands at least a modicum of truth on the label.

No 'Liver'
Among slogans which have fallen by the wayside is "Carter's little liver pills," known to two generations on two continents. Unless the courts reverse a commission order, the word "liver" comes out — FTC says the pills have no value in treating that hitherto well-cared-for organ.

Cigarette manufacturers' million-dollar campaigns to the contrary, the FTC also has impartially concluded that all brands contain nicotine and throat irritants.

That means R. J. Reynolds Tobacco company cannot say Camels do not impair the "wind" of athletes unless a court supports them, while R. Lorillard company's Old Golds no longer may be represented as containing less nicotine than "seven leading brands."

Other firms also agreed to backpedal on their cigarette claims.

Adding to hucksters' ills, the commission has barred implications that prices have been reduced, when in fact they have not. This case involved the Sterling Drug company's Bayer aspirins, formerly sold with the slogan, "Only 15 cents now for 12 tablets." Actually, FTC found, that has been the suggested retail price since 1934.

Hadaool Retreats
Hadaool, famed southern remedy for almost anything that ails you, has retracted advertising that says the liquid "assures good health, restores youthful feeling and appearance."

But perhaps the largest public furore was kicked up by a nationwide newspaper ad placed by 22 television set makers. It implied that any child lacking the manifold benefits of home TV would be humiliated before his chums, lose whatever previous good opinion he had of his old man as a breadwinner, and suffer a grievous and permanent blow to his psyche.

Many parent-teacher groups protested, and the FTC stepped in. The agency dropped its investigation after the set-makers and their advertising agency — Ruthrauff and Ryan, Inc., New York — promised not to do it again.

Willoughby Plans Return to America, May Enter Fight

TOKYO (AP) — General MacArthur's top controversial associate is going back to the United States with fire in his eye.

He is Maj. Gen. Charles A. Willoughby, the general's intelligence officer in two wars and one of his most loyal supporters.

The 59-year-old Willoughby requested retirement after 40 years of army service. He says he will leave here late this month, expecting to join MacArthur to offer "what modest services I can render."

The explosive, brilliant staff officer will be prepared to fight for the intelligence program of the past decade which has brought frequent criticism to himself and to his chief.

Willoughby may be a key witness on a basic point in the present controversy over the Korean war: Did MacArthur tell President Truman the Chinese would not attack, and if so, why?

In effect, this was Willoughby's explanation to Tokyo correspondence after the first Chinese surprise attack:

"Intelligence authorities knew the Chinese were massed in reinforced strength along the Yalu and were sitting into North Korea. But whether they actually would enter the war was a political decision, known only on Peiping and the Kremlin, which military intelligence could not anticipate."

Willoughby has received his sharpest criticism for the unheralded Chinese entry into the Korean war which turned the Allies' "win-the-war" offensive into retreat.

His explanation was precisely the same as MacArthur's: A general attack was necessary to set off prematurely a Chinese assault which was being built up with unknown strength.

It was difficult to determine whether he was loyally echoing his superior's explanation or whether this also was his own view.

He is proud of his section, proud of his work and frequently touchy over criticism. Once he told a visitor, "I have a lot of ammunition"

Chinese Nationalists, Russians Clash

CHINESE NATIONALISTS SAY REPORTS to Formosa list more than 50 clashes between Nationalist guerrillas and Russian armored forces. Yelbars Khan, Nationalist chieftain in Sinkiang, told Chiang Kai-Shek that Sinkiang has been transformed into a virtual Russian province with at least 20,000 Red army troops in the occupation force. He said Sinkiang residents are being slaughtered. Sinkiang has a population of 7-million, is twice the size of Texas. Kwangtung province is another region of anti-Red resistance.

Winter Wheat Crop Lowest in Eight Years

WASHINGTON (UP) — The agriculture department has reported that drought and insects have cut the 1951 winter wheat crop to an estimated 632,196,000 bushels, the smallest since 1943 and some 78,000 bushels less than last year.

The gloomy crop outlook—which, if correct, will lower the 1952 carryover to only 300-million bushels—is almost certain to stiffen congressional opposition against giving any wheat to India. There already has been some pressure for lending India money and letting it buy the grain elsewhere.

50-Million Bushels Short
The 300-million-bushel carryover would be 50-million bushels less than the reserve stocks considered desirable for the defense program alone.

Estimates of the 1951 winter crop have been declining ever since the experts made their first guess of 899-million bushels Dec. 1. The April 1 estimate was 726-million—a prediction which dashed hopes for a much-needed carryover of 500-million bushels on July 1, 1952.

Officials said that anything less than a 700-million-bushel crop this year would cut the 1952 carryover to "an uncomfortably low level" since winter wheat makes up about two thirds of the nation's yearly production.

The experts blamed this year's poor showing on conditions in southwest and midwest states where lack of rainfall and green-bugs forced heavy cutbacks in plantings. This was particularly true in parts of Oklahoma, Texas, Kansas, Colorado and New Mexico.

Smallest Since 1943
The latest estimate, based on May 1 conditions, compares with a 1950 crop of 750-million bushels. If it proves correct, the 1951 crop would be the smallest since 1943 when only 537-million bushels were produced.

Experts said that, in addition to the drop in plantings in the southwest and midwest, it became apparent that there had been a drop in acreage in the northwest and elsewhere. During the month, acreage which would NOT be harvested increased from 23.4 percent to

Salesman Ponders Accepting Estate, Losing Citizenship

AKRON, OHIO (AP) — Salesman James N. Gape and his wife could not decide Tuesday whether they will accept an estate worth nearly a quarter-million dollars.

1,000 Acres
The estate, in England, includes two huge manor houses on 1,000 acres of rolling, beautiful land, which belonged to Gape's cousin, Mrs. Sybil Gape. It is worth $254,941 in American money, the bulk of which is for Gape.

However, before Mrs. Gape died in Cavon, Cambridgeshire, Dec. 30, she specified in her will that Gape must take up "permanent residence in England" within six months of her death.

This, in effect, would mean Gape giving up his American citizenship. U.S. law provides a naturalized citizen who leaves the U.S. and resides in his country of origin for three years or any foreign state for five years, loses his citizenship.

It is that, among other things, that makes Gape, British-born but a naturalized citizen, hesitate. The deadline is June 30.

Hard to Leave
Gape, who is 46, came to the United States at the age of 12. He is a salesman for the Jenkins Valve company.

Speaking for him at their modest home in neighboring Cuyahoga Falls, his wife said Tuesday: "It would be heartbreaking to turn down such a fortune, but we still haven't decided what we will do. Leaving America is something hard to do. My husband has been very upset about making such a difficult decision."

PReviews... and Postscripts

By JACK LARSEN

On a fairly recent Thursday evening when I didn't have to be at the university library or the university theater, I switched on my radio to NBC at 8 p.m. to hear "Dragnet."

I remarked to my roommate that just about the only concession to realism the writers of that outstanding crime drama hadn't made was to get one of its two policeman-heroes hurt in the line of duty. You know what's coming next: that very night one was seriously wounded in the course of the action...

"Be-bop" may be out of countenance in the jazz world, but the term has acquired new significance. According to the latest Saturday Review of Literature, a "be-bop" is now a radio or TV crime show ("in which somebody gets 'bopped' over the head"). "Dragnet," I hasten to add, is a great deal more than a mere "be-bop," a remarkable program in all respects...

I've already made my choice for next year's Academy award as the best original song, even though it's only May. It's "Too Late Now," which was sung by Jane Powell in "Royal Wedding," and tunesmiths are really going to have to turn out something extra-ordinary to beat it. In fact, it stands a good chance of remaining high on my list for good... my all-time favorites, for the record, are "It Might as Well Be Spring" and "Laura..."

Susan Hayward continues to impress me as Hollywood's sexiest actress. And what's more, she can act... Rimsky-Korsakoff would get my vote as sexiest composer (his music, that is) keeping his "Sheherazade" uppermost in mind... which reminds me of the movie "Song of Sheherazade" (they simplified spelling), starring Yvonne DeCarlo.

I doubt if I've ever enjoyed a mediocre picture as much, and the only reason I haven't seen it more than once is that it's never made itself available again. It had everything, in varying degrees of banality, and never took itself seriously, which may account for its utter delightfulness...

All of which proves that a picture doesn't have to be great to be enjoyable, or that you can see an excellent film and yet not care for it at all. There need be no inconsistency in that argument, either. It's necessary for a critic to be able to divorce the coldly analytical from the personally appealing, but it's always possible — and desirable — at the same time for them to co-exist without unduly coloring each other...

Anyway, if I'd written exclusively according to my own tastes rather than according to what I felt were inescapable and objective dicta and without consideration for what I felt would be the tastes of the public in the matter, the movie and play reviews which have appeared in the Iowan would in some cases have been quite different in tone...

If all the native Iowans who complained about Iowa winters were to leave the state, I shouldn't be surprised if the remaining residents could comfortably squeeze into Des Moines.

Heck! I don't mind the winters; it's these dry springs and cool summers I can't take... And as for these "dry springs," why is it that no one has marketed an ankle-length raincoat for men? Why should trouser legs be exposed to the elements while the rest of us is protected?

I doubt if I should be considered eccentric just because I have a particular aversion to wet knees and a particular fondness for avoiding (what ought to be avoidable) cleaning bills...

For some reason I'm invariably unable to get the Whigs and Tories straight in English history, and that for trying to recall what famous men of letters subscribed to which party. A most discouraging situation to find yourself in if you're a student of literature...

Now that England has given us some stirring film versions of Dickens, I wish they'd do the same with some of the novels of Anthony Trollope... James Mason is one of the best actors, British or American, I will go to see in a film regardless of notices it's received, but I can't say that he's done any better on this side of the Atlantic than he did in Merrie England...

Nor can I say that I shall in the delusion that Robert Flaherty is the Genius of the Documentaries. For "Nanook of the North," okay. But I'm afraid I found "Louisiana Story" pitiful, without reason or competence; and as for "Tabu," I fled in agony even after summoning vast reserve of will power. O well...

More Money Needed For Iowa Highways, Association Reports

DES MOINES (AP) — Iowa may have to dig up more money to meet the expense of modernizing the state's highway system, according to the board of directors of the Iowa Good Roads association.

The board voted to sponsor a comprehensive analysis of the primary road situation. The highway commission has estimated that some 600 miles of pavement are in poor condition. In addition, thousands of miles of pavement are narrow and old.

Road money now comes from gasoline taxes, motor vehicle license fees, sales and use tax, truck taxes and federal aid.

Highway money has been coming in at a rapid clip this year. It appears that the state road tax fund will reach $67.5-million in the year ending June 30. That is an increase of $11-million over the preceding year. The primary road fund gets 42 percent of that amount.

James Wilson of Carroll, president of the Good Roads association, said the highway problem "is more important now than it was in the mud roads era of 30 years ago," because motor vehicle transportation is much more vital to Iowans now than it was then.

Wilson said 1949 estimates on which a 20-year road program was based "are perhaps 25 percent too low now."

At that time, highway experts figured it would take nearly $500-million to modernize the primary roads.

University Chorus in Final Concert

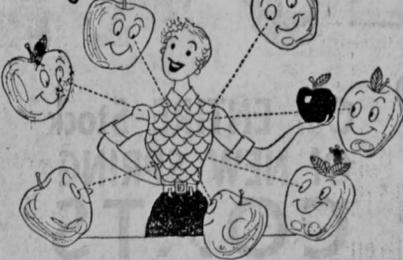

THE 103-VOICE UNIVERSITY CHORUS presented its final spring concert Wednesday evening in Iowa Union. The male chorus, women's chorus and the mixed chorus (shown above) sang works of Berger, Lasso, Palestrina and Bach, under the direction of Prof. Herald I. Stark, conductor. Stark described the program as "the best I've ever had."

In Last Concert — Chorus Songs Well-Picked

By TERRY RINK
A well-selected collection of songs was presented Wednesday night by the university chorus as their last concert of the season. The chorus, performing in the Iowa Union, was conducted by Prof. Herald Stark, assisted by Charles Davis.
Three Nocturnes by Carlos Chavez represented the high point of the concert so far as the performers were concerned. During these, the soprano voices gave their best performance and avoided the shrill, blasting tones in the higher ranges that plagued the rest of the performances. Articulation was accurate and attacks, for the most part, were firm.
In the third nocturne, "So we'll go no more a-roving," the dissonances frequently became intervals of no assigned amount since the tone placement was off-center.
Chorus Repeats Phrases
The little opening number, "Echo Song" by di Lasso, used a double chorus with the smaller chorus faithfully repeating phrases thrown to it by the main chorus.
The pronunciation was excellent with both groups making every word intelligible and keeping to the strict rhythm of the song that was part of its charm.
The Psalm CXXXVII sung by women's voices was blasted by the soprano voices as they consistently hit high notes with full volume resulting in blurred pitches and noticeably ragged attacks.
Their low register tones were more expressive and more attention-compelling.
The cello, two flutes and piano accompanying this number added instrumental color apropos to the lament.
Tones Covered
Of the group of three songs sung by the men's chorus, "Dies Irae" showed the most vocal control and flexibility. The voice sections balanced and the tones were covered.

A "Stabat Mater" by Palestrina offered opportunity for much variety melodically and harmonically but the poor balance between the voices covered some while others were spotlighted unduly.
One last word: could the chorus possibly have better arrangements for leaving and entering the stage?

Scared Stepmother 'Half to Death,' Arrested

CHICAGO (AP) — Jerome E. Dortmund, 17, was arrested Wednesday and accused by police of scaring his stepmother half to death.

He admitted rigging up an unloaded gun in his room which clicked when his stepmother, Mrs. Ruth Dortmund, 40, opened the door.

"I wanted to keep her out of my room and teach her a lesson," the youth said.

Detective James Lynch said it appeared from questioning of Dortmund that he regarded the incident as a "dry run" to determine if the gun would work.

"We believe that the next time the gun would have been loaded," Lynch said.

The officer said that Mrs. Dortmund was shaken by the experience and "it's a wonder she didn't have a heart attack."

The stepmother told police she went to the second floor bedroom of the boy and heard a click when she opened the door. She found a rifle fastened to the wall with a string leading from its trigger to the door knob.

Lynch quoted Dortmund as saying that he had no resentment against his stepmother because she married his father, Edwin, 40, a printer, two months ago.

"She was always prowling around in my room and I wanted her to stop," he said.

Lynch said officers found a "weird" collection of arms in the room, including a German Mauser pistol, a .38 caliber pistol, two rifles, a shotgun, blackjacks, three daggers, four BB guns and five toy pistols. Police also found some obscene pictures.

Dortmund is employed by a firm which makes children's clothing. His case was remanded to boy's court, which Lynch said must decide whether the youth had any intent to scare his stepmother.

The officer added that she was "plenty scared."

Movie Writer Says He's No Communist

WASHINGTON (AP) — Movie writer Leonardo Bercovici swore before the house un-American activities committee Wednesday that he is not a Communist now. But he refused to say whether he was one in the past.

Two other film colony figures — actor Alvin Hammer and secretary Bea Winters — refused to say whether they are now or ever have been Reds.

They were the first witnesses as the committee resumed its communism — in — Hollywood hearings after a three-week recess.

The hearings will continue tomorrow with actor Lloyd Gough and Roy Brewer, representative of the AFL international association of theatrical stage employes, as the witnesses.

Woman Asks Divorce For Cruel Treatment

Mabel Wells, Iowa City, Wednesday petitioned in district court for divorce from Iver Wells. She charged cruel and inhuman treatment.

The plaintiff asks custody of two children, one two years and the other 10 months. She also requests support money for the children and alimony and that the defendant be required to pay all unpaid bills.

The couple was married April 24, 1948, in Iowa City, and lived together until May 15, 1951.

Omelet is Reward For 5-Ounce Egg

MINEOLA, N. Y. (AP) — A New Hampshire Red hen on the Nassau county prison farm Wednesday laid a five ounce egg, nine and a half inches in circumference.

It's big enough to make an omelet for three or four persons.

But Sheriff Alfred Vollmer said the hen deserves more than just credit.

So he's making an omelet, all right, but planning to feed it back to the hen.

Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests

Number 19...THE WEASEL

"Who do they think they're kiddin'?" I invented double talk!"

No wonder he blew his stack! All this double talk about quick cigarette tests was a flagrant infringement on his patent rights! They couldn't fool this character with "one-puff" — "one-whiff" experiments. Millions of smokers have reached the same conclusion — there's just one real way to prove the flavor and mildness of a cigarette.

It's the sensible test — the 30-Day Camel Mildness Test — which simply asks you to try Camels as your steady smoke... on a pack-after-pack, day-after-day basis. No snap judgments needed! After you've enjoyed Camels — and only Camels — for 30 days, we believe you'll know why...

More People Smoke Camels than any other cigarette!

Foreign Professors Visit SUI Engineers
Two foreign college professors, one from France, the other from Australia, have been inspecting the facilities of the SUI college of engineering this week. Dean O. F. Blakey of the University of Western Australia, Perth, is visiting the campus as guest of SUI Engineering Dean F. M. Dawson. He is touring American colleges under the auspices of the Carnegie corporation for the advancement of teaching.
Prof. Pierre Danel, University of Grenoble, Grenoble, France, is spending two days here lecturing at the Iowa Institute of Hydraulic Research. Danel is director of the hydraulics laboratories of the Messier establishments, one of the largest turbine manufacturers in the world.
Danel is also vice-president of the International Association for Hydraulic Research.
One of his fellow-professors, Antoine Graya, is spending a year working at SUI. An SUI engineering professor, John S. McNow, is working as a Fulbright scholar at Grenoble.

Audrey Halperin Wins Divorce, Resumes Name

Audrey B. Halperin, 26, Iowa City, Wednesday was granted a divorce in district court from Irving Halperin, 29.
The plaintiff was given permission to resume her former name, Audrey Brune. She also was allowed all of her personal belongings.
The two were married in Iowa City, Feb. 12, 1949, and lived together until Sept. 10, 1950. Swisher and Swisher were attorneys for the plaintiff.

Present Sigma Chi Scholarship Trophy

THE NEW SIGMA CHI foundation scholarship trophy was presented to the interfraternity council Monday night. Beginning next fall, the council will award the trophy at the close of each semester to the fraternity with the highest grade point average. The new trophy will replace the old one which will be retired this spring. The fraternity that won the old one the most times during its span of rotation will become its permanent owners. Accepting the trophy on behalf of the council is Dick Pahre, G. Des Moines (center), president of the council. Presentation of the trophy was made by Russ Easton (right), executive secretary of Sigma Chi fraternity. George Vrame, C3, Chicago, president of the local Sigma Chi chapter, is at left.

Lillick to Present Engineering Paper

Bernard W. Lillick, E4, Cedar Rapids, will present a paper Friday at a district meeting of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers (AIEE) in Madison, Wis. Meeting will be held today through Saturday.

His paper, "Electronic Digital Counter," is one of more than 20 entered in the competition. He will be judged on research and originality on his paper and his oral presentation.

Russell Soderquist, SUI entrant last year, won first prize on his paper, "One Half Million Selenium Rectifier."

Prof. Edwin B. Kurtz, SUI electrical engineering department, will present a paper jointly with R. H. Burkhardt, former SUI research assistant at 2 p.m. Friday. Title of the paper is "The Three-Phase Oscilloscope as an Harmonic Analyzer in Power Systems."

Don Jackson, E4, Iowa City, will report on the activities of the SUI AIEE student branch at 9 a.m. Saturday.

Frivol Help Hunting

There will be a meeting of all persons interested in working on the business or editorial staffs of Frivol next year at 7:45 p.m. today in room 221-A, Schaeffer hall.

Beckwith Jury Panel Still Incomplete After Three Days

WATERLOO — Attorneys failed again Wednesday to complete a jury to hear the second murder trial of Edward Beckwith, 31, Morrison, as prospective jurors were dismissed for forming opinions on the basis of the earlier trial.

Only one more person was needed to complete the preliminary panel of 32 jurors from which the final jury will be named and court officials were certain the jury would be completed today. Ten men and 21 women have been picked from the 102 persons questioned so far.

Most of the jurors excused for cause have been dismissed because they said they had formed definite opinions from newspaper accounts of the first trial, at which Beckwith was convicted.

Beckwith, during an intermission, said bitterly: "They'd sooner make up their minds on newspaper stories than on the evidence we have."

The former factory hand faces first degree murder charges in the 1949 slaying of Mrs. Irma Jean Stahlhut, 22-year-old mother. Her mutilated body was found in a tavern walk-in cooler at Morris on June 22, 1949, and Beckwith was arrested after he was found hiding in a cornfield several days later.

He was convicted in October, 1949, and sentenced to be hanged. The Iowa supreme court, however, reversed the conviction.

State Agent Max Studer arrived here to testify at the trial despite his doctor's orders. Studer, 73, Mason City, has been ill from a heart ailment and complications. He said his physician had objected to his trip for the trial but he felt he must appear because "my testimony will be needed."

Studer helped conduct the investigation which led to Beckwith's arrest.

Beckwith, chewing gum constantly, sat quietly through the third day of questioning of jurors and paid scant attention to the proceedings. The jury for his first trial was chosen in two days.

Child Development Meeting Planned

The 24th Iowa conference on child development and parent education will be held on the SUI campus June 19-20.

Prof. Beth Wellman, chairman of the administrative committee of the child welfare research station at SUI, said the conference will deal with the personality development and adjustment of youth from pre-school age to young married adulthood.

Seven authorities on child development and parent-child relations will speak at the two-day conference in the senate chamber of Old Capitol.

Prof. West to Talk on Student Manuscripts

Ray B. West Jr., associate professor of English at SUI, will address a writers' conference at Knox college, Galesburg, Ill., today.

West is a staff member of the writers' workshop and the author of a number of books of fiction and criticism. His discussion at Knox will center around student manuscripts, which he will examine in advance. Students in the Knox department of English have submitted poetry, short stories and excerpts from novels for his consideration.

Zernial's 6th Homer Ties Mark

A's on Bottom; Bow to Browns

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Gus Zernial of the Philadelphia Athletics tied a major league record Wednesday night as he hit two home runs for six in three successive games, but the St. Louis Browns won the long distance driving contest, 10 to 9, with Don Lenhardt also hitting two homers.

The defeat charged to rookie Johnny Kucab, dropped the Athletics back into the cellar as the Browns moved into the seventh spot with Al Widmar getting credit for his second victory of the year.

As Zernial was hitting two homers, Lenhardt ran his runs batted in for two games against the Athletics to nine. He drove in four with his two four-ply blows and a single.

Zernial hit his first homer in the second inning as the A's jumped off to a five-run lead and added the second with one on in the fifth. The record was established by Tony Lazzeri of the New York Yankees in 1936 and matched by Ralph Kiner of the Pirates in 1947.

Lenhardt's No. 1 homer of the game climaxed the Browns' five-run fourth inning which tied the score. One rattle was on base at the time. His other came in the eighth when the Browns sent across two runs to go ahead to stay.

Cubs Belt Dodgers 14-4; Robinson Hurt

CHICAGO (AP) — Staging their largest scoring spree of the season, the Chicago Cubs hammered four Brooklyn pitchers for 13 hits to defeat the league-leading Dodgers Wednesday, 14-4.

Backed by this power display that included four home runs, a triple and three doubles, Paul Minner coasted to his second victory. An ex-Dodger, the southpaw yielded 10 hits but was never in trouble as the Cubs pounded starter Carl Erskine for four runs in the first inning and added four more in the second off reliever Earl Mosser.

Dee Fondy, another ex-Dodger, and freshman Ramsom Jackson, rapped two homers apiece. Fondy also cracked a two-bagger to drive in four runs. Jackson's homers accounted for five RBI's.

The Dodgers also lost the services of Jackie Robinson for an indefinite period. The star second baseman suffered a recurrence of an old knee injury and had to leave in the third inning.

In the first inning Jackson's first homer scored Wayne Terwilliger ahead of him. Doubles by Baumholtz and Fondy finished off the young righthander. Jackson's second round tripper in the second inning followed walks to Minner and Terwilliger. Baumholtz' second two-bagger, a wild pitch and Andy Patko's fly accounted for the other tallies.

Fondy's homer, the first two of his big league career, came in the seventh and eighth innings. Both came off Dan Bankhead, fourth Brooklyn pitcher.

Drake Thinclads Off to Los Angeles

DES MOINES (AP) — Drake track coach Tommy Deckard and the Bulldog relay teams leave by plane today for the coliseum relays in Los Angeles Friday night.

The Bulldogs—who won the 440, 880 and mile relays at their own Drake relays last month—were invited to run all three events at the Los Angeles meet.

Deckard said there still was some question whether Jack Kelly, sophomore member of the mile quartet, would be ready. He bruised a tendon at the Missouri Valley meet last Saturday in Tulsa. Other members of the teams are Jim Ford, George Nichols, Ray Eiland and Jim Lavery. Ford leads off for all three teams and Lavery provides the anchor leg.

No Double Play Here

WAYNE TERWILLIGER, CHICAGO Cubs second baseman, rolled over Brooklyn Dodgers' outfielder Tom Brown in a vain attempt to complete a double play. Brown was forced at second when shortstop Jack Cusick scooped up Peeewe Reese's grounder and flipped to Terwilliger. The Cubs won, 14-4.

White Sox Pummel Boston Again, 9-5

BOSTON (AP) — The Chicago White Sox bunched eight of their nine hits, including triples by Nelson Fox and Jim Busby, in the first two innings Wednesday while defeating the Boston Red Sox, 9-5. All but one of the Boston tallies were provided by a pair of consecutive home runs by Walt Dropo.

The White Sox scoring barrages were against starter Chuck Stobbs and Paul Hinrichs. Al Evans took over the Boston mound with two out in the third frame and gave but one hit the rest of the way.

Former Red Soaker Joe Dobson, who has taken off about 20 pounds for manager Paul Richards, had trouble with only Droop and Dom DiMaggio while chalking up his second win without a loss.

Dropo's first four-bagger came with the bases empty in the second inning but two teammates were aboard when he found his favorite left field target in the third.

Five runs charged against Stobbs in the first inning when he was belted for five hits totaling eight bases while giving up a base on balls. Three hits and another pass against Hinrichs, extended the White Sox lead to 8-1 in the second.

Nats Lose 4 in Row As Tigers Win, 7-1
 WASHINGTON (AP) — Detroit sandwiched three singles among five walks to score five runs off Al Sima in the fourth inning and defeated Washington, 7-1, behind the four-hit pitching of Dizzy Trout Wednesday night.

In handling the Senators their fourth straight loss, Trout struck out six, walked only one and supplied two of the Tigers' eight hits. Trout soured his record at 2-2.

The Tigers hit the jackpot in the fourth. Kolloway and George Zell opened with singles. Sima forced across a run by walking Vic Wertz and Hoot Evers, struck out Steve Souchock, but then walked Joe Ginsberg and Johnny Yipon to force across two more runs. Trout's single scored Evers and Ginsberg and blasted Sima off the mound.

Washington got its only run in the fourth on singles by Eddie Yost, Gil Coan and Sam Mele.

NEW YORK (AP) — Big Vic Raschi ran up his sixth victory of the year against a single defeat Wednesday as the Yankees drove Bob Lemon from the hill and pounded out their second straight victory over Cleveland, 11-3.

In rare form, the Yank righthander struck out 10 Indians in the eight innings he worked and had them hamstringing after the second chapter. Young Tom Morgan worked the final inning for the champions to give Raschi a rest.

Rookie Mickey Mantle drove across four Yankee runs with his fourth home run of the year and a single. Bobby Brown powered three more over the plate with his second round tripper of the season.

Luke Easter, Cleveland's giant Negro first baseman, returned to the lineup after being sidelined since April 28 with an injured knee and delivered a single in the first inning to drive across the Indians' first run.

Cardinals Have Deal On Fire; Delay Cutting Wesleyan Loses Baseball Final, 3-0

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The St. Louis Cardinals optioned Eddie Kazak to their Houston, Tex., farm club but have until noon today to get rid of one more player.

The deadline for major league teams to cut their roster to 25 players was midnight Wednesday, but Fred Saigh, president of the Cardinals, said he had permission from National League President Ford Frick to wait 12 more hours.

CANTON, MO. (AP) — Western Illinois Teachers college of Macomb, Ill., won the fourth annual Culver-Stockton invitational baseball tournament Wednesday with a 3 to 0 victory over Iowa Wesleyan.

Catcher Charles Raasch was the big gun in the Illinois school's attack getting three hits in four trips to the plate, batting in one run and scoring one run himself.

RACE HORSES BURN

MONTREAL (AP) — Between five and 174 valuable race horses perished Wednesday night in a spectacular fire that razed a sprawling barn at Blue Bonnets race track. The blaze threatened 700 animals from Canada and the United States here for the opening racing season Friday.

Englishman Shoots Self Without Using Gun

BRISTOL ENGLAND (AP) — The coroner found Wednesday that James Rowe, 49, shot himself to death without a gun.

Police Sergeant Geoffrey Balmert testified Rowe gripped a 12 bore shotgun shell in a wrench, put his mouth over it, and fired it by hitting the cap with a steel punch.

Majors Cut To 25-Player Limit

Yankees' Page Sent to Minors

(From the Wire Services)
 NEW YORK — Southpaw Joe Page, who slipped from relief pitcher extraordinary to plain Joe ordinary in two short seasons, was sent to Kansas City of the American association Wednesday by the New York Yankees.

The good-looking 33-year-old left-hander, who helped pitch the Yankees to two championships in 1947 and 1949, was waived on by all clubs in both the American and national leagues.

Page, who will be the highest paid player in the minors with a $22,500 salary, will be subject to the annual November draft if the Yankees fail to recall him from Kansas City before Oct. 15.

The Yankees also returned drafted Max Peterson to Toronto of the International league, thus trimming their roster to the 25-player limit required by midnight. Actually, the Yankees still have 26 players, but infielder Billy Martin does not count against the player limit as he is an armed service returnee.

Page, who won 14 games in 1947 and 13 in 1949 but failed to appear in a single game this season because of a sore shoulder and a hip injury, said he felt he would be able to stage a comeback.

Elsewhere the Pittsburgh Pirates got down to the player limit by selling third baseman Bob Dillinger to the Chicago White Sox and optioning outfielder Tim Saffell and infielder Marty Bassall to Indianapolis. The 32-year-old Dillinger, purchased from the Philadelphia Athletics for $40,000 last July, batted .233 in 12 games for the Bucs this year. The White Sox made room for Dillinger by optioning pitcher Dick Littlefield to Memphis.

Steve Bilko, who failed for the second time to win the first base job with the St. Louis Cardinals, was sold outright to Columbus. He hit only .225 this season. New York's Giants released outright pitcher Jack Kramer.

Detroit, following the trade of righthander Saul Rogovin to the White Sox for southpaw Bob Cain, recalled pitcher Marlin Stuart from its Toledo farm. He was sent down on option only last Sunday. Shortstop Hal Daugherty was sent on option to the Mudhens. Ral Herbert, Tiger rookie pitching star, who had won four games in relief without a setback, was inducted into the army.

Chuck Bowers, righthander from Michigan State college, was farmed by the Philadelphia Phils to Terre Haute, Ind., of the Three-Eye league. Jack Brittin, another righthander, was sent to Baltimore and Ed Sanicki, an outfielder, went to Schenectady, N. Y., of the Eastern league. All are on 24-hour recall.

Brooklyn sent Earl Mossor, righthander pitcher, to St. Paul on option. A 20-game winner with Portsmouth of the Piedmont league, Mossor was in three Brooklyn games and failed to distinguish himself.

The Athletics sold Hank Wyse, veteran righthander, to Washington for a sum reportedly a little over the $10,000 waiver price.

It Was a Hard Bat

PHILADELPHIA ATHLETICS catcher Joe Tipton (left) pointed out to teammate Elmer Valo where he was struck by a bat in Monday night's game against the St. Louis Browns. Tipton suffered a mild concussion when he was hit by the bat of St. Louis outfielder Ray Coleman. St. Louis won, 11-8.

Cincinnati Moves Up; Subdues Braves, 4-3

CINCINNATI (AP) — The surging Cincinnati Reds pulled to within two and one-half games of first place in the tight National league race Wednesday as a slugging eighth inning rally produced a 4-3 victory over the Boston Braves.

The Reds now have won five of their last six games. Until the Redlegs cut loose in the eighth, Johnny Sain had held them to four hits and one run. The Brave righthander was nicked for four more blows in that frame, however, with Joe Adcock's two-run single sending home the tying and winning runs.

It was Sain's fifth defeat as against one victory. Three Cincinnati pitchers — Herman Wehmeier, Frank Smith and Ken Raffensberger — held Boston to five hits, thus giving the Braves a total of only six safe wallops in two full games here.

Smith was the winning hurler. The boxscore:

NEW PROBE — A congressional investigator will "look into complaints" that local firms were not permitted to bid on contracts for casings to ship bazookas manufactured at the Cornhusker ordnance plant at Grand Island, Neb., Rep. Nathan Miller (R-Neb.) said.

He told a reporter he has turned over complaints received in his office to Chairman Maybank (D-S. C.) of the senate-house defense production committee. Miller said he had been assured a committee investigator will go to Grand Island.

SENATOR DENIES CHARGES — Sen. Hugh Butler (R-Neb.) denied that he has received letters from Lt. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer criticizing American Far Eastern policy.

Butler said columnist Drew Pearson had reported in a recent radio broadcast that Wedemeyer, as well as Gen. Douglas MacArthur criticized U.S. policies in letters to members of congress.

GOLD STAR MEDALS — Legislation introduced by Sen. Warren Magnuson (D-Wash.) would provide "gold star lapel buttons" for relatives of U.S. soldiers in the Korean fighting.

NEW TEXTILE CURBS — The government put cotton yarn and textiles under a new ceiling price system at the mill level, but said it should not result in "any significant change" in yard goods and clothing prices.

The office of price stabilization said the order, which is effective May 28, will mean some increases and some rollback in mill prices for textiles and yarn.

Final Rites Today For Margaret Yoder

Funeral services for Mrs. Margaret Ann Yoder, 68, will be held at 2 p.m. today at Beckman's with the Rev. John G. Craig of the Congregational church officiating.

Mrs. Yoder, 443 S. Johnson street, died Tuesday evening at Mercy hospital after a heart attack. Burial will be in Oakland cemetery.

Mrs. Yoder lived in Iowa City 50 years. She was born July 13, 1882, in Johnson county, the daughter of John T. and Ruth Baxter Jones.

She was married to Ledger C. Yoder in 1905. She was a member of the Congregational church and was active in church affairs. She was also a member of the Jessamine chapter of the Order of Eastern Star.

Her husband and several nieces and nephews survive. The family requests that no flowers be sent.

Professor's Son Wins Scholarship

Edwin B. Kurtz Jr., son of Prof. and Mrs. Edwin B. Kurtz, SUI electrical engineering department, has been awarded a McCullum summer scholarship by the California Institute of Technology, Pasadena, Calif.

He was graduated from University high school here and received his B.A. and M.S. degrees from University of Arizona, Tucson.

At present he is on an atomic energy commission fellowship at the California Institute of Technology studying for his Ph.D. degree.

Dr. Huston to Speak On Psychiatric Treatment

Dr. Paul E. Huston, SUI professor of psychiatry, will speak on "The Present Status of Psychiatric Treatment" at the AAUW luncheon meeting at 12:15 p.m. Saturday in the University clubrooms, Iowa Union.

Reservations for the luncheon should be made by this evening with Mrs. J. M. Franklin Jr., 8-1251, or Mrs. Harrold Shiffler, 2988.

Missionaries to Speak At Westminster Vespers

The Rev. and Mrs. Chester E. Whittier, African missionaries, will speak at Westminster fellowship vespers at 5 p.m. Sunday in the student center in the Presbyterian church.

BISHOP HAYES TO CONFIRM 30 — The Most Rev. Ralph L. Hayes, bishop of Davenport, will confer the sacrament of confirmation on 30 Iowa City residents at 7:30 p.m. today in the St. Thomas More chapel, 405 N. Riverside drive.

Report Vet Hospital Won't Raid SUI Hospital For Help

Director Says Will Transfer Help Here

By JIM MAYER

Iowa City's new Veterans hospital, scheduled to open in December or January, will not raid local hospitals for employees, according to A. W. Woolford, information director for the veterans administration (VA), Washington, D.C.

As a government agency, VA cannot make any agreements, however, prohibiting the hiring of any citizens if they are qualified, Woolford explained.

Woolford gave this explanation in answer to rumors that the VA had agreed not to raid University hospitals for professional and non-professional employees.

Glen E. Clasen, assistant superintendent of University hospitals, also said the VA has made no agreement with the hospitals.

"Key administrative and professional positions will be filled in accordance with VA policy, that is, by the transfer of experienced VA personnel to Iowa City," Woolford pointed out.

A manager and assistant manager for the hospital will be appointed by the VA administrator in Washington, D.C. A board of physicians in the Washington VA office will name the chief of professional services and professional divisions chiefs for the hospital here.

Requirements

Woolford did not say when these key staff members would be named.

Doctors, dentists and nurses will be appointed by the VA in Washington under the provisions of U.S. public law 293, which has been in effect since Jan. 3, 1946.

In order to be eligible for appointment a doctor and dentist must:

1. Be a citizen of the United States.
2. Have a medical degree from a college or university approved by the VA.
3. Have completed successfully an internship in a VA approved hospital.
4. Be a licensed medical practitioner.

Nurses must:

1. Have completed a full nursing course in a VA approved school.
2. Be registered as a graduate nurse.

Doctors, dentists and nurses will be named without regard to civil service requirements for a probationary three-year period before receiving permanent appointments.

Applications forms (VA form 10-2850 for doctors and dentists and VA form 10-2850A for nurses) may be obtained by writing the Manager, Veterans Administration Center, Des Moines.

Applications for certain clerical and administrative positions are now being accepted. Forms can be obtained at the local postoffice and should be filed directly with the eighth federal civil service region, St. Paul, Minn.

Appointment to these positions will be made from civil service eligibility lists based on competitive examinations.

Examinations for these positions are now open; administrative assistant, file clerk, messenger, librarian, stenographer-typist and accountant and auditor.

Openings for other clerical and administrative positions will be posted in the postoffice as they arise.

All other positions will be filled from the Civil Service Register, except positions in the hospital canteen, Woolford said.

Persons seeking positions at the Iowa City hospital should address their letters and form 57 applications (available at the postoffice) to the Manager, Veterans Administration Center, Des Moines.

Appointments for these positions will be made after the manager of the hospital is named.

Dedication Ceremonies

The 13-floor, 489-bed hospital will be dedicated in December or January, Woolford said. The opening date depends, to a great extent, on the ability of the manager to staff the hospital, he explained.

The dedication ceremonies will be arranged by the manager and will be brief and simple, he said. Both the U.S. VA administrator and the chief medical director are expected to attend.

Construction is 79 percent completed, Resident Engineer C. L. Miller reported this week. "What is left is general in nature," he said. For example, 60 percent of the lathing and plastering has been done and the doors and trimming cannot be added until the plastering is finished, he explained.

The hospital will employ nearly 600 persons when it is in full operation. Their payrolls at current department of medicine and surgery and civil service rates will total about $1,750,000 a year.

The employees will include from 40 to 50 doctors, 3 to 5 dentists and 85 to 100 nurses.

The staff also will have hospital attendants, kitchen helpers, laborers, janitors, cooks, bakers, guards, medical and dental technicians, recreation specialists, librarians, physical therapists, dietitians, clerical and administrative workers and a limited number of tradesmen of the skilled crafts.

An arrangement will be made with the VA deans' committee for the hospital to recommend teaching personnel for the hospital's residency program, consultants, attendants and students for the residency program, Woolford said.

"The first patients for the hospital are expected to arrive shortly before the hospital is dedicated. The number of patients to be admitted during the first or second month of operation cannot be forecast at this time," Woolford pointed out. "That will depend on whether there is a waiting list and how many of the 489 beds can operate at the start," he added.

The VA intends to have about 85 percent of the beds occupied. "Medical authorities say that is sound practice," Woolford explained.

The hospital will serve veterans in eastern Iowa and perhaps even western Illinois to a greater extent than other sections of the country. "There are no geographical lines, however, limiting a VA hospital's use to patients of a certain area," he emphasized.

The Iowa City hospital will be a general medical and surgical hospital but will be equipped to give treatment for all types of diseases.

Psychiatric and tuberculosis patients requiring extended periods of hospitalization will be treated in VA hospitals specializing in those types of ailments, Woolford said.

Clinic facilities will include 10 examining rooms, an orthopedic brace shop, a five-chair dental unit, three X-ray rooms, one deep and one superficial therapy room, pharmacy, research, radiology and general laboratories, six major and three minor operating rooms and a medical rehabilitation section.

A kitchen and pastry bakery will serve the patients, staff and attendants' dining rooms and dining rooms on the ninth and 10th floors for psychiatric patients.

Special facilities provided will be a canteen, assembly room, recreation hall, radio studio, library and chapel.

Utility shops and boiler rooms are located within the main building and the garage and laundry are in an adjoining building to the south. Living quarters for 11 attendants are on the second floor of the laundry building.

An apartment building with apartments for the manager, and four staff officers and quarters for 31 interns and 13 nurses is located just east of the hospital.

Quarters for maids and storage space will be provided in the basement of the apartment building. Heat for both this building and the laundry will be drawn from the steam heating system of the hospital.

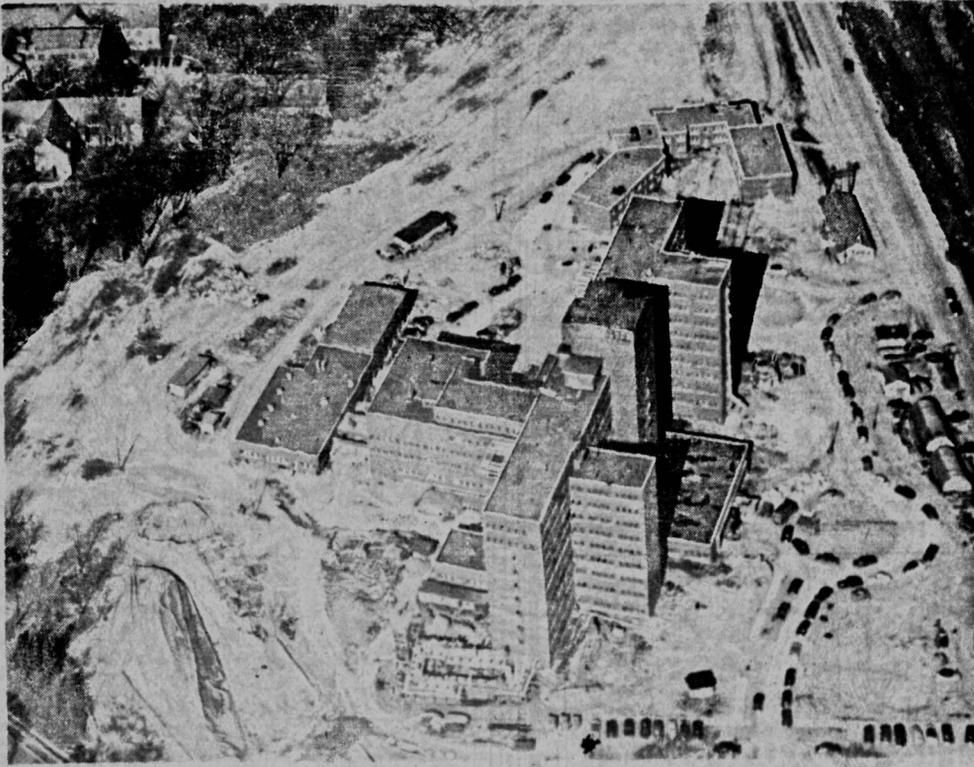

The grounds of the 12-acre plot will be landscaped after the hospital is in operation. Present plans call for grass seeding by the contractor and further landscaping by patients.

U.S. Geologists To Discuss Floods

A meeting of the U.S. geological survey of the department of interior will be held Tuesday and Wednesday in the SUI Engineering building.

The purpose of the meeting is to discuss various phases of hydraulics pertaining to the design of highway structures for floods.

Twenty-five engineers representing geological survey districts in Iowa, Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Nebraska, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Wisconsin and Washington, D.C., are expected to attend.

New Veterans Hospital Viewed from Air

THE NEW VETERANS HOSPITAL is an impressive part of the west Iowa City landscape from the air. The 13-floor, 489-bed hospital will be dedicated in December or January. The hospital will be run by a manager and assistant manager appointed by the veterans administration (VA) central office in Washington, D.C. The opening date of the hospital will depend on the ability of the manager to staff the hospital, Washington VA officials explained.

House Group Votes 10 Percent Tax On Gambler's Receipts

WASHINGTON (UP) — The house ways and means committee voted Wednesday to impose a 10 percent tax on the gross receipts of bookmakers, numbers racketeers and other gamblers to help raise revenue for the defense program.

While lauding the idea behind the proposal, the internal revenue bureau said that collecting the proposed tax might prove "difficult and expensive." The proposal is subject to reconsideration by the committee and it may be rejected later because of the collection problem.

License Fee

The tax would apply to all bookies and gambling pool operators, whether operating legally or illegally. In an effort to smoke out illegal operators, the committee voted to impose a $50-a-year license fee for all of them and to make persons giving an incorrect name or address subject to a $10,000 fine and two years' imprisonment.

"It's a brand new concept," the internal revenue spokesman said, "and we cannot predict what kind of trouble we may run into. But if congress passes it, we'll do our darnest to administer it."

He said the chief difficulty is that most gamblers do not keep records of their receipts even for income tax purposes. But if the bill should become law, the tax-collecting job would be turned over to the special division which the bureau set up recently to track down on tax evasion by racketeers.

Parimutuel Exempt

The committee is considering President Truman's request for a $10-billion increase in taxes. It tentatively has approved increases of $2.9-billion in personal income taxes, $2,080,000,000 in corporation income taxes, and $1,068,000,000 in excise taxes.

Parimutuel betting was exempted from the proposed tax because committee members felt that this field of taxation should be left free for the states.

But it did agree tentatively to boost the tax on slot machines and other gambling devices from $150 to $250 a year to raise an estimated $7-million in additional revenue. The tax does not apply to machines for amusement only.

Local Phone Company Spends $750,000 For Improvements

Nearly $750,000 has been spent by the Northwestern Bell Telephone company here for the expansion and improvement of telephone service during the past five and a half years.

Of this amount, almost $585,000 has been spent for additional facilities for the handling of local calls and providing cables and other central office equipment to serve more and more Iowa Citizens, R.A. Williams, local manager of the Northwestern Bell Telephone company, said Tuesday. More than $15,000 has been spent for the improvement and extension of rural lines, he said, and expansion of long distance call-handling equipment has cost nearly $150,000.

The number of telephones in Iowa City now number 13,500; an increase of 63 percent during the past five and a half years. During this same period, the number of calls has more than doubled and now totals more than 77,000 calls daily.

This local expansion of telephone facilities represents only a fraction of the nation-wide post-war expansion of the American Telephone and Telegraph company, parent company of the Bell system.

The A.T. and T. company, whose stockholders now number one million, spent almost $5.5-million during the past five years to improve the nation's communication facilities.

The million stockholders of A.T. and T. make it the only private corporation in the history of the United States to achieve such widespread ownership.

Of the million stockholders, 9,785 of them are Iowans who reside in 525 communities in the state and hold an average of 23 shares per stockholder.

New Canned Milk Free of Bacteria, Is Not Condensed

EAST STANWOOD, WASH. (AP) — Milk is being canned here as it comes from the cow. The new product, freed of bacteria and the qualities that normally make milk sour, is being sent to Alaska, Japan and the armed forces.

There's no "condensing" or "evaporating." The cow-to-can process produces milk that tastes like bottled milk but which can be shipped long distances without spoiling.

The new process was invented by Dr. Roy R. Graves, 64-year-old research scientist from Valparaiso, Ind. He reported at an "open house" that 2,000 gallons of milk have been canned daily since March 30 at the Med-o-Milk dairy here.

The process was explained this way: The milk is never exposed to air. The canning is done in a bacteria-free atmosphere of steam. It differs from the standard pasteurization process in the amount of heat used.

In pasteurization, to destroy such organisms as tubercular bacilli, the temperature is raised to about 161 degrees Fahrenheit for 17 to 18 seconds.

In the new sterilizing process for canning, the milk is exposed to 278-degree heat, but only for eight seconds.

The higher heat for a shorter time destroys both the organisms which could cause disease and the qualities that cause milk to sour. Dr. Graves estimated the process will preserve whole milk in cans without heavy refrigeration for six months to a year.

There has been no domestic marketing.

Church Council Asks World Arms Controls

CHICAGO (UP) — The National Council of Churches Wednesday asked that the United States encourage international control of "all armaments including atomic weapons."

"It would be a calamity . . . to turn a deaf ear to any proposal that offered promise of relief from the perils and burdens of competitive armaments," the council's general board said at a bi-monthly meeting here.

The board authorized a delegation from the council's department of united churchwomen to call on President Truman and ask that he "reaffirm his pledge that the United States will not become an aggressor in any war."

The delegation will be headed by Mrs. James D. Wyker, Columbia, Mo. In urging international arms control, the board said that "to seek security for ourselves at the expense of others is debasing and self-defeating for the nation." It said the nation should "rise above immediate self interest."

The board said the U.S. should remain open for peace discussions with Russia. The board authorized the council's division on Christian education to file a brief approving the stand of the New York City public schools in setting up a weekly religious education program, whereby pupils with parental approval could attend non-denominational religious classes one day a week in a building other than the school building.

The plan, upheld by three lower courts, has been appealed by a group of parents and now is before the New York state court of appeals. The board expressed "confidence" in the plan and said it does not "infringe upon the principle of separation of church and state."

Telegraph Lines Hit by Strikes

CINCINNATI (AP) — Approximately 300 employees of the Western Union Telegraph company left their work Wednesday afternoon, leaving it virtually impossible either to send or receive a telegram in Cincinnati.

Traffic, plant, engineering and office workers left their jobs. H. R. Prace, city superintendent of the Western Union, said he understood the stoppage to be temporary, and called by the AFL commercial telegraphers union.

The union took the action in protest against the company's alleged refusal to bargain with the union's national negotiators for a new nationwide contract, according to A. E. Boch, president of local 17.

3 of 4 Britons Gamble Legally

LONDON (AP) — Three out of every four Britons over the age of 16 gamble on horses, dogs, soccer pools or lotteries, a government survey showed this week.

The total wagered is around $1-million a year, or $20 a head for the population of 50-million. Gambling is legalized in Britain,

Requests Return Of Detained Truck

Earl H. Walter Tuesday petitioned in district court for a court order for possession of a 1947 White truck and $500 damages for wrongful detention of the truck by the Transport Truck and Equipment company, Cedar Rapids.

Also named as a defendant in the suit was Jack W. Tubbs, Cedar Rapids, an official of the company.

Walter claims that Alton E. Young, Iowa City, to whom he had loaned the truck, executed a $2,200.30 mortgage against it without Walter's permission.

He claims that Tubbs on March 24, obtained an affidavit of re-possession to get the truck.

Walter claims that the truck was taken without a court order, execution or attachment against him or his property. He states that he has been informed that the truck is now in Johnson county, but he does not ask immediate possession.

They Served Their Nation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three Iowans were reported as wounded in Korean action in the latest casualty listing issued Wednesday by the department of defense.

The three were army enlisted men. They were Pfc. Richard L. Rosen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ole P. Rosen, Britt; Pfc. Charles F. Schroeder, Tipton; Sgt. Homer M. Stevenson, son of Mrs. Iola Stevenson, Burlington.

Economic Controls Necessary 'To Win Home Front Battle'

WASHINGTON (UP) — Four top administration spokesmen said Wednesday rents would climb sharply and the battle against Communist aggression might be lost on the home front if economic controls are not extended and strengthened.

The fight for President Truman's mobilization program was carried to congress by Housing Expediter Tighe E. Woods, Agriculture Secretary Charles F. Brannan, Labor Secretary Maurice J. Tobin, and Secretary of Interior Oscar L. Chapman.

Woods told the senate banking committee "the stage is set for a sharp rise in rents" unless his powers are continued and broadened. He said rents already have started to shoot upward "in some decontrolled cities."

This situation probably will get worse because of a tight housing situation, he warned. He cited a 1950 government survey to show less than two thirds of one percent of rental units were vacant at that time. He urged that rent controls be extended for two years beyond their June 30 expiration date. He also requested authority to recon- sider residential units previously taken from under ceilings and to bring commercial places under controls for the first time.

Wood's program is part of the two-year extension of the defense production act sought by Mr. Truman. The law, the basis for most of the nation's economic controls, is due to expire June 30.

By Default
Brannan told the committee the controls are necessary to make sure the battle against Communist aggression is not lost by default on the home front.

"We can obtain an adequate measure of security against possible full-scale aggression only by completing our mobilization and controlling inflation quickly," he said. "We have done much that is right. We must not leave undone those things which we know ought to be done."

Tobin and Chapman told the house banking committee controls are needed to make sure the mobilization effort will get enough manpower, fuel, minerals and power.

Tobin said more than 3,000,000 more workers will be needed in the next year to keep the civilian economy stable. Some 7-million additional employees will be required by the end of 1952 to run the defense program full blast, he added.

He said the successful solution of the manpower problem "will be determined largely by the degree of success of the defense production and stabilization programs."

He Had Too Many — Sells TV Sets At Auction

NEW YORK (AP) — A man had $5-million worth of television sets on his hands and mighty few buyers.

So he hired a hotel ballroom and began the first large-scale auction of television sets, running full blast from 9 a.m. to 10 p.m., and selling well below wholesale to anyone who raised a hand.

In its second day, the auction had cleared 1,300 of the 8,000 sets out of his warehouses, with nearly 50 more going out each hour.

Dollar volume has been running about $125,000 daily. Prices? A 14-inch table model which retails for $220 sold for $140. A 17-inch set retailing at $320 sold for $175. A 21-inch combination including radio, phonograph and built-in bar which listed for $895 sold for $485.

Al Saphin, president of Monarch-Saphin Co., Inc., said he's going to keep on selling until his huge stock is gone. He thinks that will take about nine days.

Sentence Sergeant For Sabotage; Sought Personal Glory

DAYTON, OHIO (AP) — A national guard sergeant, charged with sabotaging three fighter planes in a bizarre plot to reap personal glory, was sentenced to a year and a day in a federal reformatory late Tuesday by Federal Judge Robert R. Nevin here. Staff Sgt. Henry E. Heffner Jr., an Ohio air national guard mechanic, was arrested by the FBI last Jan 11 after he confessed sabotaging three F-51 Mustang fighter planes at Dayton, Ohio, municipal airport.

At the time of his arrest, Heffner told A. E. Osthoff, FBI agent in charge of the case, "I did it so I could get some soft glory." He explained he planned to "discover" the sabotage before any harm was done and win praise for his alertness.

Osthoff said Heffner confessed in writing that he cut air hoses, put grease on intake valves and shoved beer cans in the wheel well pockets of the planes last Jan. 5 and 6.

Most Important Books' Contest Told

The SUI history department has announced a contest offering all persons a chance to nominate 15 books which have most affected the course of history.

The contest, sponsored by the Chicago Historical society, will be judged by four prominent historians to determine the best list of 15 books. The winner will receive a $50 defense bond as an award.

The rules governing the contest are:

1. No more than 15 books may be named and each book must be justified by a statement not exceeding 50 words.
2. The author's name and book titles must be given correctly.
3. Entries must be typewritten on one side of 8 1/2 by 11 inch sheets and must bear the name and mailing address of the contestants.
4. To qualify for inclusion a book must have had a definite effect upon the course of events. Entries must be addressed to "Books That Made History," the Chicago Historical society, North avenue and Clark street, Chicago 14, Ill., and must reach the society by May 30.

Hoyt to Co-Edit History Books

Prof. Robert S. Hoyt, SUI history department, has been appointed to a national committee of medieval historians who will write a new edition of "Sources and Literature of English History to 1485."

Hoyt was appointed by the Medieval Academy of America to help write the bibliography, the second revision of the original Charles Gross edition.

A committee of the Royal Historical society, to which Hoyt was recently elected, also will edit the definitive, critical bibliography of medieval English history.

The project is financed partially by the American council of learned societies and will begin this summer.

Midwest Industry To Be Well Protected Against Enemy Raids

CHICAGO (AP) — If an enemy airforce tried to bomb a midwestern industrial area, it would run into a lot of trouble before it got near its target.

At least, that is the aim of the U.S. airforce air defense command.

The 142nd fighter-interceptor wing and its 62nd fighter-interceptor squadron demonstrated the air warning and interceptor system to newsmen Tuesday at their base at O'Hare field, northwest of Chicago.

Includes 3 Squadrons

The 142nd fighter-interceptor wing took over the air defense of several midwestern states May 1. The wing includes three fighter squadrons — the 62nd, stationed at O'Hare field, the 61st, stationed at Dayton, Ohio, and a third to be set up later. The wing is commanded by Col. Fred T. Crimmins.

The airforce declined to say just what midwestern states are included under its wing here.

This defense is in action operation — not merely in training. The F-86 jet interceptor planes which fly over cities of this region are not on training flights — they are on patrol. Their guns are loaded and ready to fire.

Jet fighter pilots are on the alert at the air field at all times. They can be airborne within two minutes of a warning although at times they are on a longer alert time.

Airforce officers explained to newsmen that despite warning and defense precautions, it must be assumed that at least a few of a large force of enemy planes would penetrate to the target area.

Expects Northern Attack

In this area, the only large-scale enemy attack probably would come from the north, Capt. James Mouth, adjutant to the 142nd fighter-interceptor wing, explained to newsmen.

An air warning system extends to the north border of the United States and Canada. Any enemy plane of the size of our B-29 bomber would require six hours to reach this area from the point where the first warning is received, the airforce assumes.

The enemy force presumably would be picked up by radar in Canada. The U.S. aircraft control and warning system would be notified immediately. Canadian interceptor planes would try to stop the enemy force, and would keep the U.S. aircraft system advised of the planes' progress.

Civilian volunteer spotters, under direction of the airforce, would have their part in plotting the planes' progress too. The civilian spotter system particularly is useful in case of low flying planes.

To penetrate as far as the Chicago area, an enemy force presumably would have to run the gauntlet of not less than 10 fighter squadrons. A squadron usually includes about 25 jet planes.

Davenport Man Arrested On Postal Theft Charge

DAVENPORT (AP)—Ernie S. Wilson, 39, Davenport auto mechanic, was arrested Wednesday by federal postal inspectors on charges of mail theft.

The warrant for Wilson's arrest was issued in Chicago. Inspectors said the charges grew out of the theft of three letters containing checks worth about $1,500.

Find Cosmic Rays Dangerous at High Altitudes

DENVER (AP) — Discovery of danger to humans in cosmic rays at high altitudes reported by the navy Tuesday to the Aero Medical association.

Dr. Schaeffer said that the heavier cosmic atoms driven completely through a human body, leaving a trail of smashed tissue atoms all the way. He said that brief flights through these rays would not do any harm, but the daily flights for a long time would be dangerous.

Rays Pose Problem

These same rays may be a serious health problem for interplanetary travel.

This hazard begins at about 20 miles, where rocket planes are expected to fly. The harm is similar to the effects of radioactivity.

The report was by Dr. Hermann J. Schaeffer, of the Naval School of Aviation Medicine, Pensacola, Fla. The navy for years has been one of the foremost investigators of these rays, with emphasis on their possible effects on man.

Cosmic rays are atoms which fall at tremendous speeds into the upper atmosphere, coming from the sun and stars, at a little above twenty miles these incoming atoms strike the thin air and break up into fragments. Below 20 miles all the rays are these fragments.

Fragments Are Harmless

There is no harm in these fragment rays, Dr. Schaeffer reported. But up where the nuclei of entire atoms hit there is danger. Some are very heavy.

The heaviest identified is iron. Photographs were taken in the upper altitudes where the collisions made marks resembling scratches on the film.

An atom of silver was broken into seventy pieces which showed on the film, and that number was only a small portion of the total pieces. The cosmic particle which did this had an energy of eight trillion electron-volts. A power far beyond anything known on the earth's surface.

SUI Students Plan Prayer Services

The SUI Canterbury club will conduct the Evening Prayer services at St. Paul's Episcopal church, Durant, at 7:30 p.m. Sunday.

Henry Allan, SUI graduate student last summer, is the lay vicar of the Durant church.

Clyde Griffin, A3, Sioux City, will read the service and the Rev. Harold F. McGee, pastor of the Iowa City Episcopal church, will give the sermon. Mrs. C.B. Righter, wife of Professor Righter, SUI music department, will direct the Canterbury choir.

Following the service, the congregation will entertain the students at a mixer.

PASADENA, CALIF. (AP) — An attempt by two men to photograph a top secret rocket testing device was reported to police and FBI agents Tuesday by an Aero laboratory handling experimental work for the military forces.

Officials of Aerolab Development company informed police the two men broke into their laboratory here early Tuesday in what appeared to be an effort to take pictures of a rocket motor stand classified as top secret.

Plant Night Foreman Charles H. Grover said his attention was called by a brilliant flare of what he took to be a photo flashbulb in the rear of the plant where the testing device was stored.

Grover said he rushed to the back of the laboratory and saw two men fleeing. He said one of them was carrying a box-type camera which he passed to his accomplice as they scaled a six-foot wire fence surrounding the plant.

The rocket stand was brought to the laboratory only Monday from a desert testing ground where it had been undergoing experiments in the firing of guided missiles. The rocket mechanism, also brought to the laboratory, had been dismantled but the stand was intact, Aerolab spokesmen reported.

Police said they were informed the rocket and stand were undergoing tests to develop an improved type guided missile, more deadly than the robot bombs employed by Germany during World War II.

Air General Rescinds Plane Crash Directive

FORT WORTH, TEX. (AP) — Maj. Gen. Samuel Anderson, commanding general of the Eighth Air Force, Wednesday rescinded in its entirety a directive requiring personal affairs officers to deal with reporters at the homes of plane crash victims.

The directive was announced by Anderson with the lifting of a five-day news blackout late Monday against the Fort Worth Press for stories "in poor taste" of families of victims of a B-36 crash in New Mexico.

The Carswell air base public information office issued a brief statement announcing the new directive had been rescinded by Anderson "after consultation with the office of the secretary of the air force . . ."

No explanation was given for withdrawal of the directive.

The general said last night that the news ban against the Fort Worth Press was not intended as punishment, but was merely a temporary measure until a permanent directive could be issued.

William Berge Wins Short Story Prize With Honors Thesis

William Berge, A4, Rock Island, has received a $50 award for the best of 16 short stories produced in the undergraduate creative writing class.

The award, made by the Iowa chapter of the Colonial Dames, was given for his short story, "Special Leave for Rest Camp."

Berge won the award in the annual Octave-Thane contest for the Alice French Memorial prize. The story describing the attempts of a soldier to reconcile the horrors and dislocations of war within the cultural structure of society, Instructor Verlin Cassill of the creative writing workshops, said.

Cassill said that the soldier was in conflict over the killing of some Japanese prisoners during the earlier part of the war and was trying to establish a reasonable and hopeful solution for his future.

Berge, a student in the undergraduate creative writing workshops, wrote a longer version of the story for his honors thesis in English.

Judges were Profs. Ray B. West Jr., Warren Carrier and Hansford Martin, all of the English department.

Shuffleboard Anyone?

DAVENPORT (AP) — Thumping Thelma Hitchcock, 38, was fined $25 Tuesday for rapping her shuffleboard opponent over the head with a hammer when he joked about her style.

Harvey Paustian, 33, was hospitalized after he kidded Miss Hitchcock during a shuffleboard game at a tavern. Police said she grabbed a hammer from behind the bar and tapped him.

Tipton Jailbreaker Eludes 40-Man Posse

TIPTON (AP) — Farm wives throughout the area were alerted Wednesday as a rebellious New Hampshire jailbreaker eluded a 40-man posse and headed for "goodness knows where."

Frank Karpa, 36, Franklin, N.H., was not believed carrying a weapon. He apparently made his way to highway 30 which leads to Cedar Rapids or Clinton.

Sheriff Charles R. Willey said it looked "as if he made a clean getaway and goodness knows where he went."

"We've called off the search for the time being," Willey said, "and called all the housewives in the area to tell them to be on the lookout for him. We'll just wait a while to see whether any of the farm wives see him. If they do, they'll call us, and we'll be ready to go after him."

Karpa was wanted for car theft and burglary.

Fitch Corporation Files $7,771 Suit

DES MOINES (AP) — The F.W. Fitch Investment corporation has filed suit in federal court here asking $7,771 from the Ocean Accident and Guarantee Corp., Ltd., New York, on a "products liability" insurance policy.

The Des Moines firm claims that the insurance company failed to defend it in a $120,000 damage suit in federal court at Jackson, Miss., as required by the policy.

The insurance company contends the Fitch firm had no coverage under the policy after June 15, 1949 date of the sale of the F.W. Fitch company to Groves Laboratories, Inc., St. Louis, Mo.

The Des Moines firm is asking remuneration for attorney fees which it spent in its court defense, and for estimated attorney fees involved in its suit against the insurance company.

$50,000 Damages Asked by Riverside Men

Two damage suits totalling $50,000 were filed Wednesday in district court by Edward Brophy, 23, and George Gase, 19, both of Riverside.

Brophy asks $35,000 damages resulting from a head-on car-truck collision Jan. 27, five miles south of Iowa City on highway 218. Gase asks $15,000 for injuries he received in the same accident.

The defendants in both suits are Myers Brothers, Worthington, Mo., and an employee of the company, Nicholas Schoenberger, Winterset. Schoenberger was the driver of the semi-trailer Diamond-T truck which collided with Brophy's car.

Brophy claims that serious injuries have caused him to be confined to bed since the accident. The injuries include a shattered thigh bone, severed tendons of his left arm and a brain concussion.

He sets his hospital and nursing care, which includes extensive surgery, in excess of $2,000.

In addition, Brophy claims that the 1949 car, belonging to his father and driven by him, was a total loss in the accident. He valued it at $1,500.

He also asks damages because he has been unable to continue farming with his father.

Gase also claims serious injuries including a deep laceration below his left eye which required extensive hospitalization.

Both Riverside youths claim that Schoenberger was negligent in not having proper control over the truck which was heavily loaded with 7,000 board feet of maple lumber.

The plaintiffs name Joe M. Ray G. and Allen Myers as proprietors of the defendant company. Attorneys for the plaintiffs are D. C. Nolan and William M. Tucker.

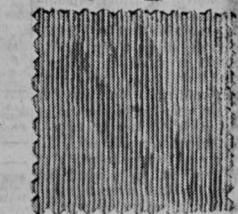

Physical Education Meet To Be Held at SUI

The 20th annual physical education conference will be held at SUI June 26 and 27.

Sponsoring the conference, held annually since the summer of 1930, are the SUI division of physical education and intercollegiate athletics, the extension division and graduate college.
