All Is Not Work During Final Week

Wishing Will Make It So

COMMERCE, OKLA. (AP) — The J. Oren Mowerys, already parents of two boys, hoped their third child would be a girl. Alas, it was another boy. "Oh, I'd give anything if it had been a girl," murmured the mother. Just be patient, admonished her doctor. Fifteen minutes later he delivered a girl twin.

'I'll Flatten You,' Sinatra Tells Newsman

NEW YORK (AP) — Crooner Frank Sinatra refused to talk about his 18-month romance with sultry Ava Gardner upon his arrival Thursday night and threatened to fight reporters sparring for details. "I'll flatten you if you ask me one more question about that," he told one newsman who interrupted his rehearsal at the gaudy Latin Quarter night club, where he is scheduled to open Sunday night.

War Danger Increased In December: Sherman

WASHINGTON (UP) — Adm. Forrest P. Sherman disclosed Thursday that American military commanders were alerted to the "greatly increased" danger of World War III last Dec. 6 when it appeared that United Nations forces might be driven out of Korea.

He said the alert was sent out by the joint chiefs of staff after Gen. Douglas MacArthur, then hard-pressed by the Chinese Communists, gave Gen. J. Lawton Collins, army chief of staff, a particularly gloomy report on the Korean war.

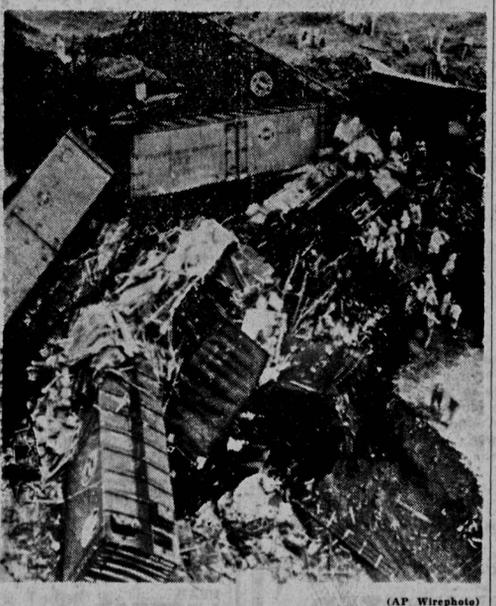

Sherman, chief of naval operations, also told senators investigating MacArthur's dismissal that Russia could "call off" the Korean war any time it wanted to. He said Chinese Communist Leader Mao Tse-tung is under "practically direct Russian control."

The administration claims MacArthur violated the order in public statements and messages to congressmen and that this was one of the reasons for his recall. MacArthur has denied that he has violated any military orders. In his testimony, Sherman made these points:

1. The time has not yet arrived for the United Nations naval blockade he proposed to the committee yesterday. He said it should come only after the present economic blockade is fully effective. He indicated Britain is opposed to any naval blockade.

2. There is still "much to be done by other UN Allies in cutting off trade with Red China. He said this tends to keep more Chinese Reds in action in Korea than would otherwise be the case.
3. He sometimes questions if the United States is "buying time" in Korea, but he is certain that the U.S. military position is improving "very rapidly."
4. MacArthur exhibited a "lack of responsiveness to the obvious intentions" of orders from Washington and had a "tendency to demand in certain cases to criticize."

3 Trainmen Killed in Crash

(AP Wirephoto)

WOODBINE, IOWA (AP) — An Illinois Central freight train carried three men to death Thursday as it smashed through a bridge weakened by a flash flood. The locomotive and 15 cars of a 65-car fruit train piled into a branch of the Boyer river, one mile west of here. All the victims were riding in the locomotive. They were identified as Eddy Holland, 52, engineer; M. L. Jenson, 42, head brakeman, and Cecil Lyerly, 32, fireman, all of Fort Dodge.

Woodbine Depot Agent E. L. Edwards said the three apparently were killed instantly. The train, en route to Chicago, left Council Bluffs about 5 a.m. and smashed through the bridge about an hour later. All traffic on the line was halted and I-C trains rerouted. Derricks and wrecker crews were dispatched to the scene from both directions and worked into the afternoon to recover the bodies and begin repairs. Two other crewmen, Sigurd Hansen, a brakeman, and conductor Z. M. Decker, were riding in the caboose of the freight and were not injured. Edwards said a flash flood had roared down the creek four hours before the crash and washed out a county road bridge 400 feet downstream from the rail bridge. He added that the flash flood apparently weakened the rail structure and jammed heavy debris against it.

Russia Invited To Big 4 Talk In Washington

PARIS (AP) — The United States, Great Britain and France invited Soviet Russia Thursday to attend a meeting of the Big Four foreign ministers in Washington July 23, in a supreme attempt to stop the drift toward World War III.

The invitation was given in notes presented to Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko here and to the Soviet foreign ministry in Moscow. An early reply was requested.

"It has been, and remains, the view of the United States government that such a (Big Four) meeting is desirable in the interest of strengthening peace, which is the constant objective of the foreign policy of the United States," the American note said.

It was a joint bid by the Allies for a showdown on the question whether the Russians really want a foreign ministers conference for which they themselves first asked nearly seven months ago.

The Allies offered Russia three alternative agenda or programs for a Big Four conference. It was a dramatic — and possibly may prove to be the final — attempt to end nearly 13 weeks of bickering by deputies of the four great powers who are trying here to write a program for a conference.

In effect, the Allies went direct to the Kremlin to say to Premier Josef Stalin and his fellow members of the Communist politburo who rule Russia:

"Do you or do you not want a Big Four conference? If you do, why bicker any longer over the details of the program to be discussed? You will be able to raise any question you want to at the meeting."

The Allies suggested that the second of their three alternative program drafts would give a good basis for the conference.

World Situation at a Glance

KOREA — Allied troops in central Korea punch forward more than a mile through heavy Communist mortar and artillery fire in an attack that may seal the fate of any Reds still trapped below the Hwachon reservoir.

HANOI — French and loyal Viet Nam forces have hurled back a savage three-day assault on the southern edge of the Red river delta in which some 40,000 Communist-led Viet Minh troops took part.

NEW DELHI — The Soviet Union and Red China apparently are backing away from their spectacular offers of food grains to hungry India. Offers of both countries have faded from a total of 1.5-million tons to 680,000 tons, with negotiations still inconclusive.

VIENNA — Hungary's Communist government and party appear to be in the throes of a purge of Titoist elements. The London Daily Telegraph says former Hungarian President Arpad Szakasits has been arrested on charges of spying for a hostile country.

TEL AVIV — An Israeli military spokesman denies a dispatch from Damascus reporting two Syrian air force planes shot down an Israeli plane after it had flown four miles in Syria.

DUBLIN — Prime Minister John A. Costello's coalition gains a seven-seat lead over the Fianna Fail (Soldiers of Destiny) party in a race for control of Ireland's Dail (Parliament).

ATHENS — King Paul takes over as commander in chief of the armed forces to fill the gap left by the startling resignation of Greece's No. 1 military, Field Marshal Alexander Papagos.

LONDON — Sir Hartley Shawcross, president of the board of trade, tells the House of Commons that total British exports of electrical machinery to the Soviet Union have almost tripled in the last three years.

Passage of UMT Delayed in Senate By a Technicality

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper, (R-Iowa) said Thursday that the testimony of the joint chiefs of staff on the dismissal of Gen. Douglas MacArthur was "confused and confusing."

Hickenlooper, a member of the joint committee making the inquiry, told the senate their testimony put the joint chiefs "in an untenable position."

He noted that the military leaders testified they concurred in the dismissal of MacArthur because they concluded that he "was not in sympathy with the policy of the President to limit the war in Korea."

Prof. John Winnie To Leave for Work In State Department

Prof. John R. Winnie, dramatic art department, will leave Wednesday to work on a special project for the United States state department.

Winnie, who was appointed a consultant to the state department earlier this year, will conduct a study of television and motion pictures in connection with the use of television for education, orientation and propaganda.

He will report to Washington, D.C., before going to Western Europe, where most of the study will be made. He plans to return to SU for the fall semester.

Prior to his appointment to the SU faculty last September, Winnie was a member of the faculty at the University of California. He is a graduate of SU, Cornell college and Mason City junior college and has studied dramatics at the Royal Academy of London.

Anti-Trust Charges Claim Paper Tried To 'Strangle' Radio

CLEVELAND, OHIO (AP) — Anti-trust charges identical to those on which the Lorain (Ohio) Journal was found guilty one year ago were filed in federal court here Thursday against its sister paper, the Mansfield News-Journal.

Atty. Gen. J. Howard McGrath charged that the News-Journal was trying to drive Mansfield radio station WMAN out of business. The station is an American Broadcasting company outlet.

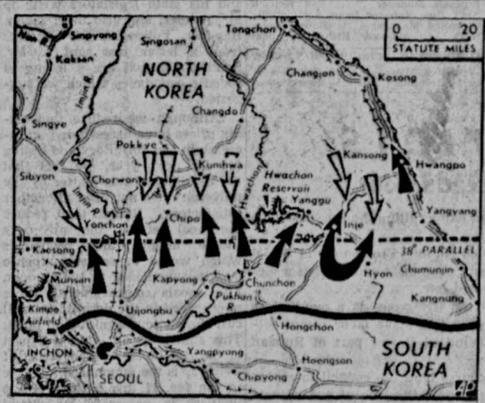

Both the News-Journal and the Lorain Journal are the property of Isadore and Samuel A. Horwitz of Shaker Heights, who are named among the defendants.

Specific charges against the newspaper were that it cancelled an advertising contract with a local Ford agency when the agency refused to stop advertising on the radio station, and also cancelled national advertising contracts with the Ford Motor company.

The government sought an injunction against the alleged practices while the suit was pending. It said the News-Journal continued in its "coercion" of advertisers after the Journal had been convicted.

Reds Dig in to Hold Line

BATTLING TO CHECK ALLIED ADVANCES, Communist troops dug in along the center of the line, covered by massive Red mortar and artillery fire. Black arrows indicate lines of main Allied push, while white arrows the areas of growing Red resistance. Heavy resistance developed Thursday just east of the newly-regained Hwachon reservoir.

But they did not reach their conclusion until they learned the President wanted MacArthur recalled," he said. "They concurred only after the political head of the services decided that MacArthur's head must come off."

Stores Stampeded in New York Price Wars

NEW YORK (UP) — New York department stores took on the frenzy of a stock exchange in a panic Thursday.

Men joined women in a scramble for price-war bargains as some items plunged below cost. Standing like stocktraders, the buyers watched for the latest quotations, as prices fell as fast as official store shoppers could telephone that a competitor was selling for a lower price.

The shopping stampede reached such proportions by mid-day that Macy's, "the world's largest department store," had to throw up rope barriers and announced that its stocks of choice items had been exhausted.

As an example of what is happening, toastmasters price fixed at $23 closed Tuesday at $16.06; then opened Thursday at $15.09 after being cut in price eight times. By noon, Gimbels was selling them for 14.72.

Men's Springweave tropical suits, advertised by a non-warring specialty shop Thursday for $49.50, sold for a time at $38.64 among the price cutters, then plunged to $32. Men's palm beach suits "price fixed" at $29.95 closed Tuesday at $26.49, opened Thursday at $23.34, then dropped to $19.25 at Bloomingdale's.

Merchants across the nation watched New York pace-setting price war, and those in Oklahoma City started a full-scale war of their own.

Gas Truck Rams Plant, Burns

(AP Wirephoto)

OMAHA (AP) — A runaway gasoline transport truck crashed into a cereal plant here Thursday and exploded in flames as terrified office workers, mostly women, ran for their lives.

The truck driver died in the flaming wreckage, and at least two of an estimated 25 office workers were hospitalized with injuries.

The fast spreading fire destroyed the office building and 15 cars and a truck parked alongside it. Flaming gasoline ran in the street for a time and a residence across the street was damaged.

Brakes apparently failed or a tire blew out on the transport, witnesses said. It careened off a street, bounced off two parked cars and clipped off a tree and utility pole before plunging deep into the two-story cement block building attached to the Kellogg Cereal company plant.

Heavy Artillery Fire by Reds Hampers Allies

TOKYO (FRIDAY) (AP) — An armor-tipped American spearhead held the vital "escape city" of Yangju briefly Thursday, while other Allied units thrust 30 miles into Communist Korea, it was reported today.

United Press Correspondent Glenn Stackhouse reported that an armored U.S. patrol smashed into Yangju over heavily-mined roads in an effort to cut the last escape route still open to Communist troops trapped below the Hwachon reservoir.

Soon after, however, a strong Korean Red force counterattacked behind a heavy artillery and mortar barrage and drove the Yanks out of the city.

Three North Korean regiments trapped southeast of Inje smashed hard at South Korean lines. They broke through at one point, but the gap was sealed after hours of fighting in which more than 500 Reds died.

The counter-blows and a bad turn in the weather brought the week-old United Nations offensive to a halt about where the Eighth army had set up its forward line when the Chinese attacked April 22.

Allied officers said the enemy action shaped up generally as acute sensitiveness to the U.S. approach to the "iron triangle" fortress area above the western front and desperate units to free by-passed Red units.

Muddy roads and swollen rivers played havoc with the extended Allied supply lines. But the Korean skies cleared late in the day, permitting the supplying of some forward units by air. Grounded combat planes got back to work.

Some Allied units had advanced 20 to 25 miles in the "hot pursuit" offensive, so labeled by Lt. Gen. James A. Van Fleet, Eighth army commander, since the Chinese drive was shattered and the tide of war reversed.

United Press Correspondent Robert Vermillion reported just before midnight that one of the heaviest enemy barrages of the war rocked the western front above the 38th parallel Thursday night.

The Chinese guns hurled shells into the U.S. positions for an hour and a quarter at a rate of seven or eight shells a minute. The only immediate follow-through was a 15-minute probing thrust at one American position. It was beaten off easily.

U.S. Drivers Set Record for Safety

American motorists set a post-war record for safe Memorial Day. The final count Thursday in an unofficial survey showed there were 84 traffic deaths throughout the nation from 6 p.m. Tuesday to Wednesday midnight.

There also were 32 drownings and 18 other accidental deaths from miscellaneous causes for a total of 134.

The previous lowest postwar traffic toll for a one day holiday was 93 for New Year's day in 1946. Ned H. Dearborn, president of the National Safety Council, termed the low fatality record "an amazing performance by the driving public." He said there are about 14.5-million more vehicles on the nation's streets and highways than in 1946.

Food & Fume . . .

TO THE EDITOR:

There has been much griping about the recent decrease in the dining service in the boarding dormitories, but very little has been done about it. We urge that every interested student personally write to Mr. Rehder expressing his views, and also have his parents and his state legislators write to Mr. Rehder, and also to President Hancher. Following are excerpts from a letter just sent to Mr. Rehder. Omitted are a listing of specific economies which we suggested.

"Although we realize that rising prices have necessitated an increase in the dormitory and dining fee for next year, we feel that the handling of this matter by the university has not been altogether satisfactory. Rather than reduce the meal service, the university should adopt other economies which would cause less expense and inconvenience to the student. Five meals comparable to those now served in the dormitories will cost the student a minimum of $4. This sum is as an integral part of the rise in the student's cost of living as is the announced increase in the fee. If this portion of the increase is necessary we would prefer to pay it for meals served in the dormitory. The inconvenience of the students' meal time exodus will not be limited to the time and trouble of commuting between the dormitory and the public eating places, but also includes the lengthy waiting which will inevitably follow forcing all dormitory residents to simultaneously seek sustenance outside the dormitory system.

"We feel that one of the main duties of a university is to the students. The purpose of university housing is to provide better, more economical, and more convenient housing for the students. This objective seems to have been entirely overlooked in the recent attempt to solve the problem of higher costs. We urge that another solution be formulated, and that the welfare of the student be considered as the primary objective." Bill Klitzbach, LI Bernie Oyaas, LI

Old Soldier

105 Year-Old Veteran Honored by South

NORFOLK, VA. (AP) — An old man nodded peacefully the back seat of a shiny red convertible in Elmwood cemetery here Wednesday. He was the only one on hand to represent his fallen Confederate comrades.

At the age of 105, William Joshua Bush of Georgia, flown here from Jacksonville, Fla., for the 61st and final reunion of the United Confederate veterans, was determined to be on hand for the Memorial day speeches.

The only other member of the surviving 12 veterans here for the reunion, William D. Townsend of Olla, La., stuck it out through the parade. But the muggy heat was a bit too much for his 105 years.

He retired to his hotel just before the ceremony in the cemetery got under way.

But "General" Bush stuck it out as a somewhat indirect means of making good on the boast he made on arrival last night that "I hear well, see well, feel well and am prepared to kiss any damn woman who comes down the pike."

Erle Cooke Sr., national commander of the American Legion, a Georgian, paid his respects to the southern cause. But he came up to the present quickly by calling for a quick end to the great policy debate in Washington.

Bernard M. Baruch, the financier-leader-statesman, also spoke to the brass-sprinkled Memorial day crowd that sifted into the cemetery after the parade.

"When we have settled our differences our enemies will find our people will be of one mind and behind the President in whatever decision is made," Baruch said.

Train Kills Mother In Suicide Pact

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Mrs. Frances Dix, 49, and her 12-year-old daughter were killed Thursday when a North Shore line train crashed into their car and authorities said the mother left a note indicating suicide.

The northbound train crashed into the car at a crossing and instantly killed Mrs. Dix and Margaret Houlihan, 12, her daughter by a previous marriage.

Although the 75 passengers in the train were shaken up, no one was hurt.

Ousted Navy Man Defends Right To Criticize Truman Administration

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lt. (jg) William H. Evans Jr., cashiered from the navy for writing a "contemptuous" anti-administration letter, said Thursday "If you are pro-American you have to go underground or else suffer the consequences."

The 29-year-old Annapolis graduate defended his action at a news conference by contending his oath as an officer required him to defend the United States, "against all enemies, at home and abroad."

"I feel I expressed the opinion of the majority of those (fighting) in the Far East," he said. "They are afraid of the enemy behind." The case first came to light Wednesday when senators investigating the dismissal of Gen. Douglas MacArthur asked Adm. Forrest P. Sherman, chief of naval operations, if he was familiar with the case. He said he was and a naval spokesman later gave out the details.

Evans wrote the controversial letter March 16 from the destroyer Rogers in Korean waters. Addressed to Alfred Kohlberg, New York importer of Chinese goods, it gave Kohlberg express permission to republish it in letters to congressmen. This re-publication permit formed the basis of the navy's dismissal action. His honorable discharge paper cited two specific orders Evans allegedly violated. They required clearance of all material submitted for publication. The navy said the letter would tend to "promote disunity and disaffection" in and out of the armed forces. Kohlberg, an outspoken administration critic, is chairman of the Pro-Nationalist American - China Policy association. He associated himself with Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) last year in the latter's attack on Communists in the state department. Kohlberg, who arranged the press conference, said he was "sorry for what happened" to Evans.

The young naval reservist, who was graduated at the bottom — or "anchor man" — in the 1948 naval academy class, said he was not aware he broke any rules in writing the letter which branded the Truman government as "pro-Red," ripped into the late President Roosevelt as "insane or Communist," and labelled Secretary of State Acheson as "the Red Dean."

The letter, made public by Kohlberg, said in part: ". . . We have to fight with both hands tied behind our backs. One hand, bound by Acheson and his pro-Red gang, and the other by the pro-Soviet United Nations . . . That pro-Soviet, one-world administration of ours and our senile congress would rather have Americans slaughtered than attack Red China everywhere . . . To hell with the Yalta betrayal . . . damn the United Nations, long live the United States. "The Roosevelt - Truman - Acheson - United Nations followers of the U.S. should be loaded onto ships and used as shock-troops in Korea . . . Americans are dying by the thousands, thanks to the pro-Red administration." Evans whose home is at Edgewater, Md., was discharged Tuesday by Navy Secretary Francis P. Matthews.

Electrical Workers Plan Strike Marines Reveal Jet All Weather Fighter

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The CIO international union of electrical (IUE) workers called for a 20-day strike June 11 or thereafter of 51,000 workers against giant Westinghouse Electric corporation Thursday after the company refused to grant a nine-cent hourly wage increase without government price relief.

If the strike comes off, the company's multi-million dollar defense production, including atomic energy projects, would be throttled.

The IUE, at a special meeting of its 40-man wage conference board, condemned Westinghouse, one of the nation's "big three" in the electrical industry, for "blocking an effective contract settlement."

In a sharp reply, the company said it could not afford to grant the union's demand for a nine-cent an hour wage boost without comparable price increases. "Unless we are able to include the pay increases in our base costs for determination of ceiling prices, we will not grant the nine-cent increase," the company's prepared statement said.

"The issue is as simple as that," it said.

Westinghouse and the IUE already are in accord over the nine-cent figure for 51,000 CIO represented employees. However, Union President James B. Carey said the company was haggling while it awaited approval of the office of price stabilization for new price ceilings to offset higher labor costs.

Carey charged that Westinghouse, in previous negotiating sessions, tried to "bribe" the union with the wage increases in return for support in seeking price adjustments.

To this, the company replied: "At no time did we ever ask Carey or his union for assistance in obtaining approval of price stabilization authorities to include the pay increase in ceiling price formulas."

EL TORO MARINE BASE, CALIF. (AP) — Marine airmen gloated Thursday over their latest secret weapon, a long-range jet fighter-bomber with "magic eyes" that enable it to seek out and destroy the enemy despite darkness or bad weather.

Still a top secret, the Douglas Skyknight F3D is undergoing final tests here, and marine officers are hopeful it soon will be tracking down Russian-built jets in Korean skies.

The sub-sonic fighter-bomber is the world's first two-placement jet interceptor capable of carrying the war to the enemy day or night, fair weather or foul.

Only a handful of experts know the vital statistics on the Skyknight, and they have little to say. But they obviously are so enthusiastic as Lt. Col. Peter D. Lambrecht, Chicago, commander of the F3D squadron being readied for action.

Colonel Lambrecht said his sleek new killer could give ground troops 24-hour interceptor and close air support "regardless of weather."

Former Mayor Admits Misuse of $200,000

JUNEAU, WIS. (AP) — Verne Knoll, 34, Dorser Beaver Dam attorney and real estate man, pleaded guilty Thursday to 64 charges of misappropriating more than $200,000 of his clients' funds. Circuit Judge Roland Steidle, Milwaukee, postponed sentencing until June 18 to give Clarence Traeger, special prosecutor in the case, time to present a complete report on Knoll's financial affairs. The charges against Knoll, who served one term as Beaver Dam's mayor, included taking money, under false pretenses, larceny as bailed, issuing worthless checks and forgery. They resulted from an investigation of his financial affairs that started after he suddenly left Beaver Dam last Nov. 13.

editorials Quiet Progress on Forced Labor

After three years of wrangling and name calling the Russians have been defeated at their own game. The recent 15-3 vote by the United Nations Economic and Social Council to attempt a world-wide investigation of forced labor is a victory for the free world, though a limited one. For years the Soviets have used the UN group as a mouthpiece for their propaganda. They never denied that slave labor camps followed Moscow's banner, but never admitted it was part of Russian national policy. The veto by the Soviets will of course bind the council to an investigation of secondary sources. But despite the lack of eye witness reports from Iron Curtain countries, the investigation will be a step forward. The publicizing of the council's findings will serve to mobilize world opinion against Communism. The testimony will expose the Soviet system's foundation—of terror and coercion. The truth about Russian forced labor camps is one propaganda tool we of the free world have recognized but have not exploited. What will be the effect of the UN council's issuing such facts as "in 1941 forced labor in the Soviet Union produced 14 percent of all construction; 40.5 percent of all chrome ore; 22.5 percent of all rail ties, and 12 percent of all fire wood? These are statistics; they tell nothing of the ugly realities of Communist rule. Walter Kotschnig, deputy U. S. delegate has said that public opinion might alleviate the victims' plight. It has been proposed that the investigation board be composed of such men as Dr. Ralph Bunche, American Nobel Peace Prize winner and U. N. Trusteeship Director; Paul-Henri Spaak, of Belgium, and Oswaldo Aranha, of Brazil; former presidents of the UN General Assembly; Sir Ramaswami Mudalilar, of India, former president of the Economic and Social Council, and Justice Ang Khine, of Burma, Justice Emil Sandstrom of Sweden, former chairman of UN Eritrean and Palestine investigations respectively. It took three years to beat down Soviet opposition and form collective action (with limited potentialities) on a "minor" issue like forced labor. How long will it take to resolve major question of world tension?

73-Year Old Actor Barrymore Writes Book While Parked in Garage

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — People out here eat, bank, shop and get their shoes shined in their automobiles, and now a movie star has even written a book in one!

One of our top movie stars, Lionel Barrymore, confessed he wrote the best-selling story of his life, "We Barrymores," while parked in a garage, making this tome a true auto-biography. Once a week for 10 months, the crusty 73-year-old actor drove 20 miles from his ranch at Chatsworth to the garage of his collaborator, Cameron Shipp, in another end of San Fernando Valley. Barrymore sat in the back seat. The co-authors chatted about the Barrymores while the secretary took notes and had the oil and typewriter ribbon changed every 1000 pages.

Today they re-created this scene, and I sat in the front seat on a broiling afternoon to interview the auto author in his "office," a modest 1947 Oldsmobile. Barrymore sipped beer and smoked cigarettes from a tin box, that also held pencils. The veteran actor, who plays his movie roles from a wheelchair, explained he launched his literary career in his car "because it was easier for me that way."

Barrymore said he turned author because he thought he'd like to have the money. "No matter what anybody does, the root of all evil is—dough," he gloomed. "I need any quarter they'll give me. I can't retire. You have to make enough money this year to pay what you should have paid last year. I'll act till I croak. There isn't such a thing as an affluent person now," said Barrymore, who holds hefty movie and radio contracts.

Besides the published book, the secretary had plenty of notes left over that Barrymore and Shipp had to put the brake on. These included cuss words and other sections of the actor's colorful

Lionel Barrymore

"And love life? We didn't go into it because nobody would believe it. "I really didn't have any," he changed his mind. "I never got to first base with anybody." Shipp added that he thought writing in an automobile opened up a new technique and had tremendous possibilities. He said the only trouble was his children kept peeking in the garage door and he finally had to send them off to take swimming lessons. "We did the whole book in the car," he said. "It's strange, but after all we've been through together, I've never been inside his house and he's never been inside mine."

Charles to Defend Crown Against Joe Walcott July 18

CHICAGO (AP)—Ezzard Charles, world's heavyweight champion, Thursday quickly agreed to meet Jersey Joe Walcott in a 15 round title bout in Pittsburgh July 18.

It will be their third engagement. Charles first defeated Jersey Joe in Chicago two years ago to win the National Boxing association version of the heavyweight title, and then successfully defended it against Walcott in another 15 rounder in New York City last March.

Walcott, a ringside spectator when Charles defeated Light Heavyweight Champ Joey Maxim in a one-sided battle in the Chicago Stadium Wednesday night, left immediately by plane for his home in Camden, N.J., to start training.

Television's $100,000 gift to the boxing industry salvaged a neat profit for the International Boxing club, promoters of Wednesday night's bout.

Bucks Need Win For League Title

CHICAGO — Ohio State's league-leading Buckeyes need one victory in their two-game series at Michigan State today and Saturday to capture their first Big Ten championship since 1943.

The Buckeyes of Coach Marty Karow, Ohio State star of the twenties, top the conference with an 8-2 record, a half a game ahead of second-place Illinois. One or two victories at Michigan State would give Ohio the title; two defeats would put Illinois into first place and an Ohio victory plus a cancelled game would close out the Western conference campaign with an Illinois-Ohio tie for the 1951 championship.

Dodgers Win, 4-3 Over Philadelphia

BROOKLYN (AP)—Carl Erskine's steady relief pitching helped the Brooklyn Dodgers top the Philadelphia Phils Thursday, 4-3, in a game marred by a run-in between Russ Meyer and Jackie Robinson.

Robinson scored the run that proved decisive when Meyer dropped a throw on a run down in the eighth. Jackie was trapped off third as Carl Furillo missed a squeeze bunt. As Robinson dashed home, Meyer dropped the throw but blocked off the plate. There was a brief flare-up at the plate.

Speedway Winner Gets Top Purse

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Lee Wallard, winner of the 1951 Indianapolis Speedway 500-mile auto race Wednesday, received a record cash purse of $83,612.12 Thursday night.

The total cash prizes to the 33 drivers and car owners also set a new record. This year's total was $207,650, compared with last year's previous high of $201,135.

The winner's purse was $6,153.49 more than Johnnie Parsons received for winning the rain-shortened 1950 event. Wallard and Murrel Belanger of Crown Point, Ind., owner of the winning car, will split it according to their own arrangement.

Wheeler Runs 4:16.7 Mile in Iowa AAU Meet

A 4:16.7 mile by Iowa freshman Ted Wheeler highlighted the Iowa AAU track meet here Wednesday.

Wheeler's effort bettered the former AAU mark of 4:25.66 and also set a new record for the Iowa track, topping the 4:17.3 figure of Wisconsin's Don Gehrmann.

The 6 foot, 4 inch Wheeler, from Evanston, Ill., also gained a second place in the half-mile as he chased Leroy Ebert, another Hawkeye freshman, to a meet record of 1:55.8.

Other Iowans to win their events were Loranzie Williams, 100 yard dash and broad jump; Clyde Gardner, discus; DuWayne Dietz, 220 yard low hurdles and 220 yard dash; and Al Meyerling and Paul Williams, pole vault.

TRACK TEAM TO MEET
 Members of Iowa's varsity track team will meet in the fieldhouse at 4:30 p.m. today to elect an honorary captain for the past season.

Professor Bartow Named Executor

Prof. Emeritus Edward Bartow, chemical engineering department, Thursday was appointed executor of the will of his wife, Allice A. Bartow, who died May 17.

Also appointed as executor for the will, which was admitted to probate in Johnson county district court, was a daughter, Virginia Bartow.

The will, signed June 8, 1943, leaves $1,250 in war bonds to a sister, Marion Abbott, with the stipulation they will go to Miss Bartow on the sister's death.

The remainder of the estate, including personal effects, was left to Bartow and the daughter.

Two SUI Students Awarded MacBride Summer Scholarship

Kenneth D. Dolan, A3, Cedar Rapids, and Douglas G. Brown, G, Algona, are two of four Iowa college students awarded Thomas H. MacBride scholarships in natural science for study at the Iowa Lakeside laboratory this summer.

Other recipients of the 120 awards include Marjorie Winther, Iowa State Teachers college student from Knoxville, and Furman P. Ralston Jr., Des Moines, who is attending Drake university.

MacBride scholarships are provided through the SUI graduate college under the supervision of Dean Walter F. Loehwing, head of the botany department. They were established as a memorial to MacBride, founder of the Lakeside laboratory in 1909 and president of SUI from 1914-16.

General administration of the laboratory projects is conducted by the extension division, under direction of Dean Bruce E. Mahan. Teachers, students and scientists from all parts of the nation, including Alaska, will attend two five-week sessions of the Lakeside laboratory on Lake Okoboji from June 11 to Aug. 14.

Operated by the Iowa state board of education, the 100-acre laboratory near Milford annually attracts specialists

Cerebral Palsy Problems to be Discussed

Communications problems of cerebral palsy will be the theme of the annual conference in speech pathology and audiology at SUI June 15-16.

Designed primarily for graduate students in speech pathology and audiology, the conference will deal primarily with speech and hearing problems of cerebral palsied children. The program with demonstrations, lectures and round-table discussions.

Principal speaker of the two-day session will be Juliette Gratie, director of the cerebral palsy treatment center of the Dallas, Texas, Society for Crippled Children.

Author of "Help Them Help Themselves," Mrs. Gratie became interested in speech problems through a desire to help her own cerebral - palsied child. She has a master's degree in child welfare from SUI.

Although the conference will emphasize communication problems, physical and occupational therapy for cerebral palsied children will also be discussed.

In addition to SUI faculty members participating in the conference, guest speakers will include Prof. Frank Lassman, speech pathology department, University of Minnesota; Ray Taibl, state director of special education in Nebraska; Howard Benschhof, director, vocational rehabilitation division, state board of vocational education, Des Moines; Harold Hymans, executive secretary, and Martha Canfield, speech therapist, Iowa Society for Crippled Children and Adults, and Harlan Lance, program consultant, National Society for Crippled Children and Adults.

The conference is co-sponsored by the speech pathology and audiology section of the SUI speech department and the Johnson County Society for Crippled Children and Adults.

Prof. Jacqueline Keaster, speech department, emphasized Thursday that persons in allied fields or in educational work are invited to attend.

Josephine Cannon Granted Divorce

Josephine Cannon has been granted a divorce on grounds of cruel and inhuman treatment in her district court suit against William Cannon, 1822 H street.

Cannon received custody of one minor child, according to the decree handed down by Judge Harold D. Evans, Thursday.

family home will be in the name of the father and child.

Mrs. Cannon was awarded her personal belongings and part of the household furnishings. The two were married in Iowa City Aug. 15, 1935, and lived together until March 18, 1950.

NO POLIO PATIENTS

There are no polio patients at University hospitals, officials said Thursday. Last to be discharged were a Grundy Center mother, Mrs. Genevieve Schaa, 26, and her daughter, Sandra, 4.
