U.S. Armored Columns Smash Into Reds' 'Iron Triangle'

TOKYO (SATURDAY) - American mobile forces smashed ahead more than four miles Friday in a two-pronged drive on Kumhwa, eastern anchor base of the Red army's 'Iron Triangle' in North Korea.

Powerful U.S. armored columns crashed headlong into stand or die Chinese defenders eight to 13 miles below the Chorwon-Kumhwa-Pyongyang arsenal and staging area.

Front dispatches said the Reds now were contesting every inch of the mountain highways to Chorwon and Kumhwa. For the fourth straight day on American forces was fought to a standstill at Yonchon, south-western gateway to the triangle 13 miles below Chorwon.

A U.S. task force rumbled northwestward along the Hwachon-Kumhwa road for gains of more than two miles by noon. Then it ran into stoutly entrenched Chinese, but battled forward a censored number of miles farther.

The other arm of the Kumhwa pincers probed northeastward beyond Chipo, mountain hamlet 13 miles southwest of Kumhwa and nine southeast of Chorwon. This spearhead was within an easy eight miles of the triangle area due north of it.

American troops on the east-central front re-entered Yangju, key transport hub at the east end of the Hwachon reservoir, for the second time Friday. They had raced in Thursday, only to be thrown out of the bottleneck town through which Reds blew the big lake were escaping.

United Press Correspondent Glenn Stackhouse reported that the Yanks recaptured Yangju at noon Friday and pushed on north of the town a censored distance without overtaking the withdrawing Reds.

Remnants of three North Korean regiments abandoned a salient they had driven into South Korean lines southeast of Inje, as well as a roadblock they had thrown across the Inje-Hyon highway.

Air scouts reported enemy groups of 100 to 200 hurrying northward in the Inje area. At 5 p.m. a Red spokesman entered Allied lines and offered to surrender 270 men. An Allied officer and interpreter were sent out to accept the surrender.

The increasingly aggressive Red air force made its boldest and deepest thrust into Korea, fighting American planes within 90 miles of the battlefield.

The foray cost the Reds three MIG jet fighters shot down and two damaged. U.S. Sabrejets got two of the enemy planes and a tail gunner of a supersonic formation attacked by the Reds got the other. The battle swirled down from "MIG alley" of northwest Korea to a point 10 miles south of Pyongyang, the Communist capital. Two B-29's were damaged.

World Situation at a Glance

NEW DELHI - Parliament, by a vote of 228 to 19, gives Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru the power to put what he calls "reasonable restrictions" on the freedom of the press.

MOSCOW - Soviet newspapers display prominently the news of the West's proposal for a Big Four conference, but give no indication that the Russians will agree to go to Washington July 23.

OTTAWA - Canada becomes the first country to put units of its national defense forces at the disposal of the United Nations for use anywhere in the world against aggression.

WASHINGTON - The United States announces $66-a-ton cut in tin prices in a bold move to smash a world tin cartel that has cost the American taxpayers $500 million since the start of the Korean war.

DUBLIN - Former Prime Minister Eamon De Valera wins the strongest single party representation in Wednesday's general election and it appears possible that he might return to power.

BELFAST - Republican extremists bomb two border customs posts in protest against a state visit by Queen Elizabeth and Princess Margaret.

Truman Appeals For Settlement Of Oil Dispute

LONDON - President Truman appealed to Britain and Iran Friday to reach a peaceful settlement of their oil dispute as quickly as possible.

British Prime Minister Clement Attlee and Iranian Premier Mohamed Mossadegh were handed personal letters from Mr. Truman in connection with the crisis over imminent nationalization of the British-owned Anglo-Iranian Oil company by Iran.

United States Ambassador Henry F. Grady in Tehran said he delivered the President's letter to the Iranian premier. Attlee's office here confirmed receipt of Mr. Truman's letter.

No details about the letter were available in either capital. But Grady said contents of the note to Iran will be made public today in Washington.

The Truman letters were believed to have made an urgent appeal to both countries to try to find a solution to the oil crisis in the interest of world peace.

Iran has insisted it is determined to proceed with implementing its nationalization law.

The United States views on the subject were outlined to Iran officially by the state department on May 21 and 26. The latter message urged moderation by both sides and expressed U.S. opposition to "unilateral cancellation of contractual relationships and actions of a confiscatory nature."

Iran replied that the state department's efforts amounted to meddling in Iranian affairs. The department denied this.

Gold Star Mothers Vote Their Approval Of UMT

WASHINGTON - Gold star mothers, 1,500 strong, voted Friday in favor of universal military training - provided it is truly universal.

A resolution adopted at their convention here urged that "no distinction be made between the intellectual or physical capabilities of the citizens in the universal military training (UMT) bill passed by the senate Friday and to be considered in the house next week.

Trygve Lie Calls For New Cease-Fire Effort

OTTAWA - United Nations Secretary-General Trygve Lie called for a "new effort" to arrange a Korean cease-fire "approximately along the 38th parallel."

Lie urged the North Koreans "and their supporters" to "indicate their readiness to halt the fighting."

Senators Force Acheson to Bare Department's Formosa Report

Acheson Thinks, Smiles, Thinks During Testimony

DAPPER, URBANE DEAN ACHESON, secretary of state, testified before the combined senate armed services and foreign relations committees Friday. As he talked in the witness chair, he rested his chin eyes in thought while reaching for the right phrase. On his hand, smiled at a questioner, and closed his Acheson began his defense Friday of foreign policy in the Far East during hearings based on the probe of the firing of Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

'No Military Significance,' Document Says

WASHINGTON (AP) - Senators forced into the open Friday a secret 1949 state department document which said the island of Formosa had "no special military significance" and its loss to Red China was expected.

The senate MacArthur inquiry committee overrode by a 15 to 9 vote Secretary of State Dean Acheson's protests that the disclosure would provide Russia with propaganda material.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur and top-ranking military leaders have testified the Chinese Nationalist stronghold of Formosa has great value in the strategic defenses of the United States - and it must not be permitted to fall to Red China.

Acheson insisted the document - in the form of a memorandum - was sent to consular officers in December, 1949, as a move to guard U.S. prestige in case Formosa fell to the Reds.

He argued that the U.S. policy toward Formosa was not changed from October, 1948, to June, 1950, despite the document. He said the policy in that period was to try to keep Formosa out of Red hands by diplomatic means rather than by military action.

"First of all," he told senators, "it was understood and agreed that Formosa has strategic importance so far as the U.S. was concerned."

He declared the document was sent out as a guidance "to minimize the damaging effects to the U.S. of the possible fall of Formosa."

Acheson said high officials were unanimous most of the time on Formosa policy. But he conceded there was one break in the unanimity in 1949 when the state department vetoed a defense department to send a military mission to aid the Chinese Nationalist army.

He explained the department took this stand because it felt a military effort at that time would be "ineffective" and the result would cause "further damage to our prestige and to our whole position in the Far East."

For this reason, he added, President Truman decided against sending the mission.

Acheson went on to challenge the war program of General MacArthur who wants to carry the Korean war against Red China.

He declared the UN forces have "scored a powerful victory over communism in Korea, and that this course should be pursued. And he denied these forces are engaged "in a pointless and inconclusive struggle."

He argued that an attack on China might bring counteraction by the Russians in Korea.

"They could turn over to the Chinese large numbers of planes with 'volunteer' crews for retaliatory action in Korea and outside," he said. "They might participate with the Soviet air force and the submarine fleet."

"The Kremlin could elect to parallel the action taken by Peiping and intervene with a half million or more ground force 'volunteers'; or it could go the whole way and launch an all-out war."

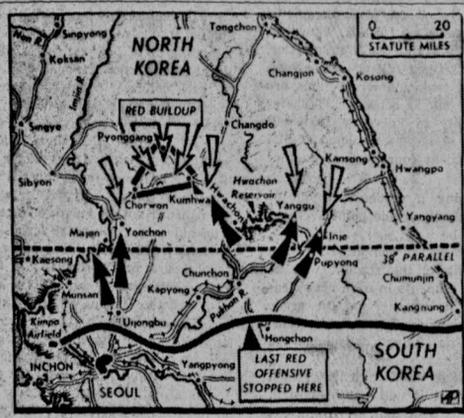

He said the Truman administration wants to avoid these dangers if possible.

Local Girl's Picture Featured in 'Time'

When eight year-old Mary Helen Hart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Hart, 730 E. Burlington st. posed for a picture with President Harry S. Truman in Washington May 24, she really made news.

Papers throughout the nation carried the picture from the services of the Associated Press wirephoto. This week, Time magazine carried the same picture on page one of its June 4 edition.

A Time reporter quoted Mr. Truman as saying to Mary, "This will run you for life." Mary doesn't think so.

Reds Mass in Defense Triangle

MASSING FOR A DEFENSE OF NORTH KOREA Communist forces were reported pouring reinforcements into the Chorwon-Kumhwa-Pyongyang assembly and supply triangle in central Korea. Open arrows show where Reds were massing and resisting Allied attempts to advance all along the battlefield. On the western end of the front, Allies forced a bridgehead across the Imjin river. At Yonchon, American forces were stopped for the fourth straight day.

Suppliers Strike Back At Macy's in Price War

NEW YORK (UP) - Manufacturers struck back, at the world's largest department store Friday for starting New York's price war by refusing to sell their products to the store.

As the first manufacturing firms stepped into the fray in an attempt to stem the greatest flurry of price cutting since before World War II, the selling battle of the department store giants spread to two new fronts. Prices dropped on television sets and on another line of men's clothing. The television price cuts ranged up to $200 on the more expensive models.

Eversharp, Inc., manufacturers of pens and razors, told Macy's of New York in a curt note that "in view of your failure to maintain fair trade minimum prices on our writing instruments and having publicly advertised price cuts, we feel compelled to discontinue honoring your orders."

President Elmer A. Ward of Goodall fabrics said Macy's department store here no longer would be permitted to sell palm beach and springweave tropical suits because of the price war which spread Friday to new fronts - television sets and more men's clothing.

Ward said at a news conference in Chicago that Macy's would be the only store to be penalized for marking prices lower than those agreed to in fair trade agreements.

Other participants in the big city price war would continue to be supplied because they "acted defensively," Ward said. Meanwhile, President Henry Modell of the smaller business men's association of New York,

Robert Paulus Named Chairman of Panacea Board of Directors

Robert Paulus, A3, Iowa City, Friday was named chairman of the new Panacea board of directors. Charlene McCorkel, A3, Burlington, was named secretary, and Robert Chase, A3, Jefferson, is the new treasurer of the organization.

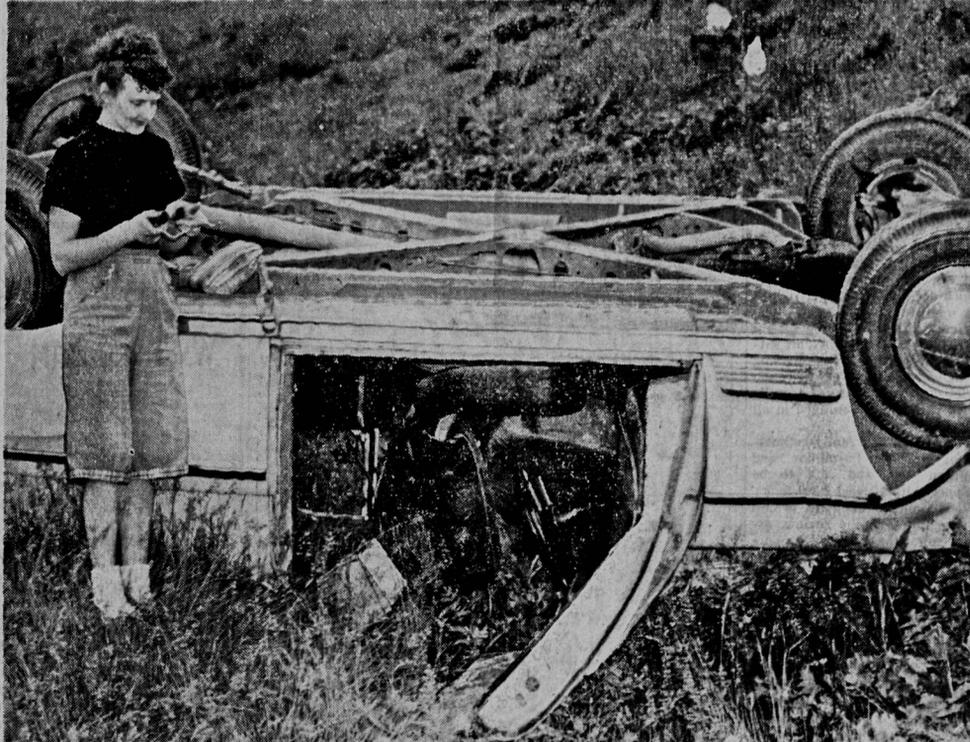

A constitution for the new Panacea organization was approved this week by the office of student affairs.

During the past three years, Panacea was sponsored by a committee composed of representatives from student council, Omicron Delta Kappa and Under its new Mortar Board, honorary leadership fraternities.

Under its new constitution, Panacea will be an independent student organization.

Members of the board of directors said they have not received any applications for the directorship, business manager or director of public relations for the show. Scripts submitted by Wayne Danielson, A3, Burlington, and Robert Randolph, G, Centerville, are being considered for use in next year's show.

The Sunglasses Came Through Without a Scratch

NOT A SCRATCH ON THE DRIVER OR HER SUNGLASSES but the car will spend some time in the garage. Ruth McNeally, St. Paul, Minn., was lucky to be alive after the car she was driving went out of control about eight miles south of Iowa City on highway 218, hit a ditch, and rolled about 50 feet. Miss McNeally jumped from the car a few moments before it started to roll. The spotlight was embedded in the ground about 25 feet from the car. While checking through the car she found two pairs of sunglasses that were unharmed in the accident. Miss McNeally's only comment after the accident was, "Look at those tires, they're brand new."

Senate Extends Draft, Sets Up UMT Machinery

WASHINGTON (AP) - The senate Friday stamped its final approval on a bill to extend the draft until mid-1955 and set up the mechanics for a permanent universal military training program.

Passage of the compromise measure, affecting the lives of millions of young Americans, was by voice vote.

The bill, which had been worked out in a senate-house conference committee, now goes to the house for scheduled action next week.

Major provisions of the legislation call for: 1. Reduction of the draft age from 19 to 18 1/2, but no draft board may induct men under 19 until it has exhausted its pool of eligible men between 19-26.

2. Increasing draft service from 21 to 24 months. 3. Authority for the President to call reservists for 24 months of active duty, until July 1, 1953. It would allow inactive reservists, veterans of World War II, to be released within 17 months.

The Wisconsin senator, a bitter critic of Acheson, said the state department was blocking the use of 600,000 Chinese Nationalist troops in the Korean war, and he told the senate:

"As a result, only American boys are allowed to die on the battlefield in the fight against communism."

As passed by the senate, the measure would authorize the appointment of a five-member UMT commission as the first step in setting a UMT program in operation.

Students May Get Another Exam Chance

SUI students who failed to take their scheduled draft deferment tests last Saturday due to circumstances beyond their control may be given another chance to take the exams.

Johnson county draft officials said Friday they have been asked to advise the students to write to SUI Friday issued information to draft-eligible students, clarifying the government's program to defer university and college students on the basis of scholarship and exams. The Daily Iowan reprints this material on page 2.

McCarrel Clarifies Selective Service Policies for Students

EDITOR'S NOTE: Following is a statement released Friday by Ted McCarrel, SUI registrar and secretary, university committee on military affairs.

Under the provisions of the selective service act which expired on June 30, 1951, all full time college students were entitled to a postponement of induction until the end of the academic year. In the case of the university, this was certified to be June 8, 1951. Most selective service boards during the past school year classified students I-A, sent them for physical examinations and then either sent the student a notice to report for induction in June 1951 or sent a notice saying that induction would be postponed until June.

It is obviously impossible for selective service to take all eligible college students as long as the monthly selective service calls remain at a national level of from 20,000 to 80,000.

As yet, congress has not passed a new selective service act and it is quite possible that this will not be done until late in June. It is certain, however, that the new act will not contain any provision for the postponement of induction for students through another academic year.

However, selective service has announced a policy of occupational deferments for students who can meet certain minimum requirements. In order to give this policy time to operate, General Hershey recently ordered local selective service boards not to induct any student until one of the following had been met:

Boards are not to induct students until they have received the results of the selective service classification test, which will be sent directly to the local board by the Educational Testing Service, or boards are not to induct students until they have a rank in class or a statement of their status as graduate students.

In no instance is the induction of a student to be delayed later than August 20, 1951 for the reason that neither of the above certifications have reached the local board.

OCCUPATIONAL DEFERMENTS AS STUDENTS

Local boards have been advised by national headquarters of selective service to consider students for occupational deferment as students if they meet conditions outlined in the section below. It must be remembered that the decision on an occupational deferment for an individual is in the hands of the local boards and it is thus possible that some boards will elect not to consider the classification test score or the student's rank in class. If this occurs, however, it is quite probable that national headquarters of selective service is going to advise individual students who are eligible for an occupational deferment to appeal this decision of the local board.

It could safely be assumed that in that event of an appeal to the state appeal board that usually the student occupational deferment plan will be followed. Students should read the following section for the college in which they are enrolled carefully to see how the new policy on occupational deferments applies to their individual case.

GRADUATE COLLEGE

A. Students who have been enrolled in graduate college for 1950-51 and who have been full time students and have been satisfactorily pursuing a course of instruction leading to an advanced degree will be eligible for an occupational deferment as students.

B. Students who will enter a graduate college for the first time in June or September 1951 will be eligible for an occupational deferment as students provided they meet one or both of the following conditions:

- 1. The student must make a score of 75 or better on selective service classification test, or
- 2. The student must be in the upper 50 percent of his graduating class.

A certification of a student's rank in his graduating class and of the fact that he has been admitted to the graduate college can not be made until the actual admission has been completed. Students are thus encouraged to file their application for the graduate college as soon as possible if they plan to request an occupational deferment as a student.

COLLEGE OF LAW

Students who were enrolled in the College of Law during 1950-51 are eligible for occupational deferment either on the basis of the score on the classification test or on the basis of the rank in class.

Liberal Arts, Commerce, Engineering, Pharmacy and Nursing

Students in these colleges during 1950-51 are eligible for an occupational deferment as students on the basis of the rank in class or on the basis of a satisfactory score on the selective service qualification test.

RANK IN CLASS

For the purposes of certifying rank in class to selective service boards for students who desire to request an occupational deferment, the following principles will be followed:

1. A student's classification according to the definition of his undergraduate college will be determined as of the second semester 1950-51.

2. A student's grade point average for the student's last academic year will be computed and in the case of most students, this average will thus be based on work completed during the first and second semester of 1950-51. However, if a student was not in the university during the first semester, the average will be computed on his last full academic year. For purposes of this computation, two summer sessions are considered to be equivalent to a single semester. Transfer students who entered the university in February 1951 will have an average computed on the semester completed at SUI and the last semester or its equivalent completed at another institution.

3. For purposes of determining a student's rank for certification to selective service, only the grade point averages of all full time male students will be used.

4. As soon as a grade point average is computed for each student in each class in each college, the student will be ranked from one to the number of students in each classification. Ties will be broken if possible by carrying the grade point average to additional decimal places. If ties still occur, the higher ranking will be given the students who have the most academic work completed.

5. A certified copy of the rank of male students in each classification will be kept on file but it will not be posted. An individual student may learn his own rank by filling out the blank at the end of this bulletin.

A determination of a men's rank in class based on an average computed on the student's last full academic year has been requested by selective service and thus no other rank can be reported. It is realized that a few students will not fall in the above categories and thus a rank in class can not be reported to selective service. The university will be very glad to write a special letter in such cases outlining the reason for the failure to report a rank in class.

How To Have Your Rank In Class Reported To Your Board

If the student wishes to request an occupational deferment as a student and wishes to have his rank in class reported to his local board, the information requested on the blank at the end of this bulletin must be completed and filed with the secretary of the university committee on military affairs. The blank should be left at the office of the registrar before students leave the campus.

Selective service will provide the university with forms for the certification of rank in class. The student is responsible for requesting the occupational deferment from his own local board and should not depend entirely upon the filing of an official form by the university. The university will assist students in requesting occupational deferments if requested.

Minimum Requirements For Occupational Deferments As Students

1. Freshmen who are in the upper half of their class scholastically, sophomores who are in the upper two-thirds of their class, and juniors in the upper three-fourths of their class will meet the minimum requirements for consideration for occupational deferment. The university will not recommend deferment for seniors who are not in good standing academically.

2. Students who score 70 or higher in the selective service qualification test are eligible for a deferment. The student's score on the qualification test will be reported directly to the local board and not to the university and it is expected that students will need to find out their score on the test from the local boards.

NOTE: It is emphasized that students to be eligible for an occupational deferment need meet only one of the above conditions. Students, however, are encouraged to take the selective service qualification test as it is felt that most local boards would be more willing to grant an occupational deferment to a student if he has both a good test score and an acceptable rank in class than would be the case if only one of the above conditions is met.

It is also suggested that students take the classification test for it would be possible for selective service to suddenly require the test score as a basis for consideration.

How To Appeal A Classification Of Your Local Board

Under the order requiring local selective service boards to not induct students until the board has received a report of his scholastic standing or of his best scores, it was definitely provided that the local board must re-open and consider anew the classification of each college student registrant and that the board shall again classify the registrant as though he had never before been classified.

At the time this classification is made during the summer months, a student will have for a period of ten days after the classification has been made the right of appeal. A request for an appeal must be made in writing by the individual concerned to the local board within ten days after the new classification is made. The university committee on military affairs will be very willing to assist students in filing an appeal from the classification by a local board provided that the student meets the minimum requirements for an occupational deferment as outlined above and provided the student requests this assistance from the committee.

The committee will be limited in its ability to assist students in appealing their classification by a local board if the student does not meet the minimum requirements for an occupational deferment as outlined above. Requests for assistance in making appeals and for information about selective service policies should be made to the secretary of the university committee on military affairs at the office of the registrar.

Special Provision Of The Selective Service Regulations

At the present time local boards are operating under a directive from General Hershey to the effect that all college students are entitled to a period of 30 days at the expiration of the academic year to enlist if the student desires to request this 30 day extension from his local board in writing.

In addition, all students who are graduating in June are entitled to an extension of 30 days so that they may have time to seek employment in an occupation that may make them eligible for an occupational deferment other than as a student. A request to the student's local board in writing must likewise be made for this 30 day extension for graduates.

It is reasonably certain that students who plan to return to college in 1951 will not need to request the 30 day period to enlist as a protection against induction until rank in class or the test scores can be reported.

Students Enrolled In Medicine Or Dentistry For 1950-51 Or Admitted For September 1951

Students in these professional colleges are eligible for a deferment under the provisions of local board memorandum No. 7 which has been in effect for several years. The certification of the student's actual enrollment in or admission to these professional colleges is made on selective service form 103 which is forwarded to national headquarters of selective service and then to the state headquarters and finally to the local boards. Selective service form 103 is in the nature of a continuing certification unless it is cancelled by the university. Students in these colleges who are not classified continuously 2-A by the local board should contact the secretary of the university committee on military affairs immediately upon learning of another classification so that necessary steps may be taken to insure a continued 2-A status. It is not expected that the 1951 selective service act will change the status of students in medicine and dentistry.

TO THE EDITOR:

I had hoped that the Student Council would endorse the petition asking for the removal of questions pertaining to race, religion and color on admission and housing blanks before the present school year was over. However, because of the council's apparent thoroughness in considering the matter and a lack of time this action will not be taken this year.

The special committee which has been formed by the council to investigate the petition has undoubtedly had a lot of pressure put on it by both those for and against the petition. And they have heard a lot of criticism directed toward the petition which has been unfair and irrelevant to the whole issue.

It seems strange to me that those who openly support the petition are accused of having no faith in this university and its officials. If these students did not have any faith in SUI they would not return here year after year to continue their education. The word faith, as the opponents of the petition use it, seems distorted and ill-used. Faith is a fine characteristic to have and the fact SUI students should have faith in this university is desirable. But the type of faith the opponents of the petition would like SUI students to have is in the end disastrous. Faith combined with two closed eyes and an uncritical mind can easily lead to dogmatism.

The opponents of the petition tell us that the university does not use race, religion and color questions for discrimination; therefore there is no reason for these questions being removed. The fact that the university does not discriminate may be true; and it may not be true. The very fact that the university has the means and justifies the endorsement of the petition. The removal of these questions from admission and housing blanks would provide a guarantee that no discrimination is practiced.

I hope that one of the first constructive moves the student council will take next year will be to endorse the petition.

Danger Seen Of Open War In Near East

BY FRED J. ZUSY
Associated Press News Analyst

TEHRAN—In the year 1951, the history books may say, the roar of the British lion had grown so faint the government of Iran decided to disregard it. And the same year may be recorded as an ebb of American influence in the Middle East.

Little hope of compromise is seen here in the dispute over Iran's decision to take over the oil holdings developed by the Anglo-Iranian Oil company, controlled by the British government.

Britain is clinging to one of its most valuable remnants of empire. But Iran's government, led by F. Mohammed Mossadegh—an opposition gadfly through a half-century political career—is equally determined to take over the vast Persian Gulf oil holdings.

Mossadegh is torn between two fires within his own fiercely nationalist party. The moderates urge him to go slow in the nationalization of Iran's oil but others cry "act now." He has gone out so far on a limb in past years he can hardly be expected to retreat from oft-voiced promises to "kick out the British."

Hossadegh seems to cherish the hope the British will turn the oil company over without hesitation. This may prove a delusion. A few days ago British disclosed she was sending paratroopers to Cyprus—within an easy airdrop of Aadan, where Anglo-Iranian operates the world's greatest refinery. And despite the ruckus, the British are still meeting the payroll of about 65,000 Iranian employees.

Russian Threat

It is certain British armed intervention would come only as a last resort. A Russian-Iranian treaty authorizes Russia to send troops in if a third party should "attempt to carry out a policy of usurpation by means of armed intervention in Iran." The danger of touching off a third World War is apparent to all.

Russia has the means of provoking unrest in the oil fields. The present situation is made to order for the Communist Tudeh party, reputedly financed from the Soviet embassy in Tehran.

TO PLEAD GUILTY

DES MOINES—Edward Wies, 23, Elbow Lake, Minn., will plead guilty to a federal bank robbery charge early next week, Lehan Ryan, his attorney, said Thursday.

Russian TV Communists Claim Another First

WASHINGTON—Adding luster to their long list of Red-style "firsts," the Russians claimed that they invented television. They are now "solving" the problems of color TV and soon can be expected to sweep ahead in that field also, according to a Radio Moscow broadcast.

"That's just bunk," commented one official here when informed of the claim.

"The father of TV was a German; America has more video transmitters and receivers than the Soviets—and unfortunately, we have not one but two color systems."

Oklahoma City's War Growing, Too

OKLAHOMA CITY—Oklahoma City's price war, little more than a skirmish so far, was expected to grow into a full-size battle with a drug chain's announcement that it would extend its price slashing to "real stuff," not just spot items.

Don F. Mashburn, manager of the Katz drug store chain, said he would announce cu's today on items "every family needs—not just spots items like we've cut before."

Spokesmen for the city's three other large chains, Walgreen's, Veazey's and Hyde's, said they'd "meet all new drug prices or sell under them."

Mashburn would not disclose what items would be affected by the new cuts other than they would be "more popular" items than those in the past.

Until Thursday, at least, the price slashing among the city's large drug chains had been confined principally to drug and cosmetic items.

While the price cutting was expected to extend over more items, at least two of the four large chains indicated they would confine their "specials" to three days each week, beginning Thursdays.

Owner Insults by Mail; Tenants File Libel Suit

CHICAGO—Mr. and Mrs. Axel Swanson charged in a $50,000 libel suit Thursday that their landlord sent them a postcard which said that "you are no good tramps."

They said the landlord, Joseph Kramer, also referred to their auto as a "junk car" and sent them bundles of for rent advertisements with the admonition to "get going."

The Swansons said they were so upset that they moved away.

Russian Satelites Being 'Sovietized'

LONDON—The armies of Russia's satellites in Eastern Europe have been almost completely Sovietized, and Russian professional officers now hold the top commands, according to the royal institute of international affairs.

The Sovietization process was said to be complete in Poland and Bulgaria, and to be developing in Hungary, in Czechoslovakia and Romania local Communists are still in commanding army posts, but they too are being gradually replaced.

The report said: Air and naval forces of the satellites are almost exclusively controlled by the Soviets. Russian Rear Adm. C. V. Cherokov is commander in chief of the Polish navy in the Baltic and Russian Naval Capt. I. Romanoyok is in charge of the Rumanian and Bulgarian navies in the Black sea.

Western Tendencies

The review warned against Western tendencies to minimize the importance of the satellite armies because of the anti-Communist feelings of the majority of the population behind the Iron Curtain.

"Experience has shown that the anti-government feelings of the majority of its soldiers do not always prove to be factors which decide the moral or fighting qualities of its armies," the review cautioned.

"In the past two years all satellite armies have been passing through a process of very thorough Sovietization... the spirit of militarism is openly encouraged in all the satellite states."

The forces are currently estimated at between 1.5-million and 2-million men and said to be equipped with at least 2,000 tanks.

Soviet control of these armies has, according to the review, assumed so far the following proportions:

- 1. In Poland: The Soviet system of land army, navy, airforce, anti-aircraft and security troops has

2nd Largest Fleet

LONDON—The American navy in the Mediterranean is the second largest United States fleet in the world today, outmatched only by the fleet in the Far East waters.

It so dwarfs the British navy in the Mediterranean that many American navy men are sincerely baffled at the current argument over the nationality of the supreme commander in the area.

Hungarian officers. The newly appointed chief-of-staff, Maj. Gen. Stefan Bata is a Soviet professional officer born in Moscow of Hungarian origin.

4. Romania: The military command is still in the hands of Rumanian Communist leaders but Soviet trained officers have been arriving in greater numbers in the past six months.

5. Bulgaria: Sovietization here has reached its most advanced stage. War Minister Gen. Petar Pachenky is a former Soviet colonel and the chief-of-staff a former Soviet army political commissar. The first Sofia division has been renamed the Stalin division.

Pair of Boots Goes a Long Way

TWO KOREAN YOUNGSTERS from the Allied orphanage in Pusan find one pair of cowboy boots enough for both. One youngster lost his left leg, the other his right. The boots were part of a large shipment of shoes sent to the orphanage by the people of Akron, Ohio.

TV Manufacturers Request Suspension Of Curbs on Credit

WASHINGTON—Makers of television sets asked congress Friday to suspend credit curbs on TV sales for 90 days so they can sell half a million sets piled up in their warehouses.

While the dealers did not say so, the huge pileup of present-day TV sets has been cited as one of the barriers in the way of producing new color sets to receive supreme court-approved CBS color telecasts.

In addition to the TV men, auto dealers, mortgage bankers and farm cooperative spokesmen asked congress to scrap or modify various parts of the present control laws.

Nurses, however, asked for even tougher anti-inflation laws. They said runaway prices and high taxes have reduced them to a "condition of distress."

The assorted views of controls were presented to the senate and house banking committees, which are considering President Truman's request for more control powers when the present law expires June 30.

Urban Tips Women Cooks —

In Food, It's the Flavoring That Counts

In cooking, get the maximum amount of flavor, and utilize everything, Glenn Urban, A4, Larrabee, advises all cooks, women in particular. The way you season food makes all the difference.

"Most women throw away too much food—they ought to know better," declared Urban, who has just finished the year as The Daily Iowan's managing editor.

"You can cut food costs one-fourth by using food scraps as seasoning. Use carrot peelings and celery leaves in soups, the fat parts of meat to fry potatoes and flavor gravies," he suggested.

"Use spices liberally," was another comment. "The cost will be only a penny or two more, and the food will taste so much better."

Urban, well-known in Iowa City for his spaghetti and fried chicken dinners, is a cook of many years' experience.

Started Young
The eldest of nine children, he first learned to cook during pre-high school days while helping his mother. Later he worked in cafes in Clarion and Waterloo and in his aunt's restaurant in Primghar.

During his years in the army, Urban was drafted as a cook three different times. He said he got out of it each time as quickly as possible.

"The army doesn't want cooks—it just wants someone to wash dishes and scrub floors," he declared.

Following his discharge, Urban picked up many food suggestions while spending a year in Paris. He learned to make "flaming peaches" while on a trip to Switzerland.

Read and Experimented
Urban said most of his cooking knowledge came from reading recipes, experimenting with his own ideas, and from working with fellow cooks. For instance, the man he helped in the Clarion cafe had cooked in circuses, ocean liners, hotels and trains.

He has accumulated the following equipment: one boning knife, two slicers, a French knife, cleaver, two steels, three chef's hats, three white coats, three pairs white trousers.

In 1947, just a month after he entered SUI, Urban began work as a cook in the Depot Lunch. He worked there until January, 1950, quitting the Friday before the Monday he became a reporter for The Daily Iowan.

While he admits some women cooks are excellent, Urban insisted the majority make cooking too much of an effort.

"They seem to think they must hover over a hot stove or they're not cooking," he declared.

Difference in Planning
"But walk into a restaurant a half-hour before a meal deadline, and you'll find the cook calmly smoking. The difference is in the planning."

Urban also said that many women "dull a good knife," "burn things up and dry them out."

Voicing a preference for hearty foods, he declared "All those dainty things are all right, but if you're going to eat, you might as well have something good."

For the picnic season he agreed to give The Daily Iowan readers a "rough idea" of his recipes for a hearty potato salad and a hot sauce that can be used, uncooked, on hot dogs, or cooked, on hamburger steak.

Potato Salad

ALL THE DIFFERENCE IS IN THE SEASONING declared the man in the hat, Glenn Urban, A4, Larrabee, as he made his idea of a hearty dish, a well-spiced potato salad. The chef, who learned to cook in pre-high school days and never left the apron for long afterward, says his one cardinal rule for cooking is "to utilize everything to get the maximum amount of flavor."

- cubed onions, chopped
- hard-cooked eggs, chopped
- mayonnaise
- vinegar (malt, cider, or tarragon)
- garlic salt
- Combine potatoes, onions, eggs and pepper, using approximately one potato and egg for each person.
- For the dressing, combine mayonnaise, vinegar, mustard and spices and add potato mixture.
- Stir only until ingredients are thoroughly mixed. Salt to taste and chill overnight. Sprinkle with paprika before serving.

- Hot Sauce
- onions
- green peppers
- tomato paste
- catsup
- horse radish mustard
- tobasco sauce
- Heinz '37 sauce
- steak sauce
- Worcestershire sauce
- chili powder
- cayenne pepper
- garlic salt
- Combine ingredients, using twice as much onion as green pepper, and equal parts of tomato paste and catsup. Chill overnight, so that the flavor blends well.
- Urban emphasized that the cook should know the food tastes of his guests before he used such controversial items as onions, peppers and garlic. He explained that most of the seasonings were optional, as were the amounts. "Experiment," he advised.
- Will the girl he marries have to be a good cook? "Hahn't thought about it," Urban said. "I guess I'll insist on teaching her a few things."

Named WAF Director

MISS MARY JO SHELLY receives a phone call congratulating her on being named director of the women in the air force (WAF) at Bennington college, Bennington, Vt., Thursday night. Miss Shelly will succeed Col. Geraldine P. May whose resignation for undeclared personal reasons was accepted on Monday. Miss Shelly, now assistant to the president of Bennington college, will join the air force with the rank of colonel.

Philosophy Students Try to Call Truman To Test Democracy

Three SUI students who apparently are not convinced that democracy is a better form of government than monarchy put the democratic system to the test this week by attempting to place a personal call to President Truman.

The trio, Keith E. Putbrey, A2, Auburn, Richard D. Darrah, A1, Knoxville, and Emmett G. Collins, A1, Sabula, were unsuccessful in their attempt to talk to the nation's chief executive.

The boys are all members of a philosophy class, history of ideas. The idea of calling Mr. Truman came out of a discussion involving the 17th century philosopher Thomas Hobbes' belief that monarchy is the best form of national government.

The students said they decided to call the president to "see if the democratic system is really democratic."

They placed a call to the White House Monday night at 9 p. m. but learned that Mr. Truman had retired. Undaunted, the boys tried again Friday night — same story.

A White House aide told them Mr. Truman was too busy to talk on the phone and they would have to make an appointment to speak to him or send a letter or telegram.

Highlanders to Play Des Moines Concert

Thirty-four members of SUI's Scottish Highlanders will go to Des Moines Tuesday to play a concert at the International Convention of the Holstein Breeders association.

William Adamson, director of the group, said the Highlanders will play a concert in the Coliseum on the Iowa State fairgrounds. They will make the trip by bus.

Adamson said the Des Moines trip will be the last for the Highlanders until next fall. A scheduled trip to Philadelphia this summer to attend a music festival has been cancelled, Adamson added.

Moose to Hold Annual Family Picnic June 10

The 13th annual family picnic of the Iowa City Lodge No. 1096, Loyal Order of Moose, will be held at the Macbride Moose club Sunday, June 10.

The Port City Rides of Muscatine will furnish free merry-go-round and ferris wheel rides for Moose children. Other entertainment will include children's races and horseshoe pitching contests.

Rainbow Dance Tonight

Order of Rainbow for Girls will hold its annual spring formal for all high school girls and their dates from 8 to 11 p. m. tonight in the River room of the Iowa Memorial Union.

A nominal admission fee will be charged. Bill Meardon's band will play for dancing.

Harper Announces Summer Schedule For Union Grill, Cafeteria

Summer schedules for the cafeteria and soda fountain of the Iowa Memorial Union were announced Friday by Director Earl E. Harper.

Harper said breakfast will be served in the cafeteria from 7 a. m. until 11 a. m. Luncheon will be served until 1 p. m. The soda fountain will be open from 1 p. m. until 9 p. m.

The other services of the Union, including the library and music room, will be available as before. The television sets that were recently installed will be available every afternoon and evening.

A new display of drawings is on exhibit and will remain through the summer. The display, entitled "Six Centuries of Master Drawings," is composed of 34 drawings including both old masters and contemporary works.

Monday evening folk dancing has been planned by the Union board for the summer social calendar.

Call Extra Busses, Train Cars for SUI During Rush Period

Officials at Iowa City's train and bus terminal are adding extra sections to their regular schedules this week-end to take care of the expected large number of students leaving Iowa City for their homes.

The Greyhound bus dispatcher said Friday extra buses will be added today and Sunday and additional equipment will be placed in operation Wednesday, Thursday and Friday to accommodate students. He urged students to make reservations early so that enough buses would be available.

Rock Island officials will add extra coaches to their trains today and indicated that the same would be true next week when the semester ends.

The Crandic line, running between here and Cedar Rapids, and United Airlines will maintain their regular schedules.

Lasanky to Exhibit Prints in Brazil

Three prints by Prof. Mauricio Lasanky—art department, will be included with the work of nine other American artists at the Sao Paulo Institute of modern art biennial show in Brazil this summer.

The show is being sponsored by the New York Museum of Modern Art. Lasanky's prints to be included are "Pieta," "Self Portrait" and "Firebird."

Lasanky just completed an exhibition of 25 of his prints at a one-man showing at the University of Maine. The show ran May 7-31.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

ONE MORNING editor Harold Ross was concluding a conference with associates St. Clair McKelway and Mrs. E. B. White. "I'm worried about Wolcott Gibbs," confided Mrs. White. "He's dreadfully nervous, he has insomnia, he becomes panic-stricken when he has to go out in the street, and he's begun to have a notion that somebody is following him." "So what?" said Ross with a shrug. "That just makes him a member of the staff!"

Mrs. Abernathy, writing a letter to her mother, couldn't find a calendar, so she asked her husband, "Honey, have you any idea what day this is?" Mr. Abernathy looked up from his paper warily. He had gotten into trouble through just such an opening before, and he wasn't going to make the same mistake again. "I know it's our anniversary, darling," he lied gracefully, "but the jeweler didn't have the gift I picked out for you initiated in time."

BUYING NEWS — FOR WISE BUYERS

How Good Is Williams? —

Unless you happen to live in a place like Columbus, Ohio or Dallas, Texas, where basketball and baseball are merely boring interludes between football seasons, this isn't the time of year you'd ordinarily be thinking about the grid sport.

At least, that's the way it usually is around these parts, but this year, thanks to a speedy young gentleman from Gary, Ind., things are a bit different. Spring practice has been over for almost a month now, and the start of the '51 season is close to four months away, yet there isn't a more lively topic of discussion concerning Iowa athletics than Loranzie Williams, the freshman halfback who was so impressive during the spring drills.

It's been a long time since a newcomer has so thoroughly stirred the imagination of Hawkeye fans as has this 5-foot eight inch, 165 pounder. You'd have to go back to 1947 when Jerry Faske came from Brooklyn, N. Y. with a high school all-American rating to find anything comparable.

Oddly enough, Williams' arrival at Iowa last fall came with a minimum of fanfare despite the fact that he was an all-state football, basketball and track star at Gary.

LORANZIE WILLIAMS

It wasn't until the Iowa squad staged its first intra-squad game of the spring that Loranzie really began to attract attention. That was the afternoon that he caused more than a few eyes to pop by taking off on touchdowns runs of 40, 70 and 40 yards

"Another Buddy Young"

A bruised thigh kept Williams out of the second spring game but the next week he was at it again, scoring on a 50 yard jaunt and picking up sizeable gains all afternoon.

As might be expected, those deeds soon set a lot of tongues to wagging, especially since Iowa hasn't had a first class break-away runner in many a day. It didn't take long, therefore, that, with the aid of the gentlemen of the press, the word soon got around that the Hawkeyes were harboring "another Buddy Young" on their squad.

Such conjecture, no doubt, has provided Iowans with some pleasant reading, but despite his fine efforts in the spring drills, the question still remains — just how good is Williams?

That, of course, is like asking whether it will rain tomorrow — in both cases you simply have to wait and see. Which is another way of saying that until Williams can duplicate his practice feats in actual Big Ten competition, no one can more than guess about his future success.

Another pertinent factor to remember is that many outstanding freshmen prospects never return to school for their sophomore year. There are various reasons for this but the most common bugaboo is scholastic difficulties. If Williams can clear that hurdle (and chances are he will), it's a good bet that he'll be around next season since, as a sole surviving son, he is deferred from military service.

Is He Big Enough?

In analyzing Williams' makeup as a football player, two things immediately stand out — his tremendous speed and lack of size. Anytime you have someone who can run 100 yards in 9.8 seconds, you've already won half the battle in developing a top-notch back. And when that speed is combined with shiftiness and agility, prospects are indeed rosy.

On the other hand, at 165 pounds, will Williams be able to stand up to the pounding he'll get in the Big Ten? And how will he do as a blocker? It's a well known fact that one or two of Iowa's more publicized ball carriers these past few years have been no great shakes when it comes to clearing the way for the other fellow. Will Williams fall into that category?

This much can be said — the Iowa coaching staff still has its doubts on Loranzie's ability aside from his running prowess.

"We know he can run. We don't know if he can do the other things a good halfback has to," Coach Leonard Raffensperger points out.

"Sure he has great potentialities, but let's wait and see how he does in a game before going over board," says Pat Boland, Hawkeye line coach.

Apparently there's no such conservatism among the Iowa players who took part in the spring intra-squad games. Here are a few opinions:

Chuck Denning — "He looks to be the best runner we've had at Iowa for years."

Arnie Caplan — "He has two speeds — fast and faster."

Bob Lage — "Even if you catch him, he's hard to hold. He looks great."

'Open' Hex Plagues Snead

— For Slammin' Sammy

By WHITNEY MARTIN

NEW YORK (AP) — Sam Snead hasn't figured out a way to lose the national open golf tournament this year, but just give him time. He'll come up with some new and startling idea.

Sam, in a pinch, could use one of the plans he has tried before and found very successful, but he likes to be original. In fact, even his swing is original. Nobody has been able to copy it, it's that good.

A couple of years ago at the Medinah club in Chicago he could have tied Cary Middlecoff for the title with pars on the last two holes. That really was easy for him, as he had two holes to work on.

It only took a little figuring to come up with the idea that if he tried to use his putter from the scruff at the edge of the 17th green he could blow the shot and the title. It worked fine and he finished in a tie for second with Clayton Heafner.

The colorful fugitive from the West Virginia hills will be making his 11th start in the Open country club in Birmingham, Mich., June 14. The Open is the when he tees off at Oakland Hills only major crown he hasn't won, and considering his great skill his way.

Brown's Garver Snaps Red Sox Streak At 10, 4-0

Tribe Rolls, 2-1; Chisox, Yanks Postponed

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Capable Ned Garver and his St. Louis Browns teammates cooled off the red hot Red Sox Friday night, defeating the Bostonians, 4-0. A slim audience of 7,062 saw the lightly regarded Browns halt a Red Sox winning streak that had run through ten games, climaxed by three consecutive victories, at Boston, and over the New York Yankees.

The shutout was the first this season for a St. Louis pitcher and gave Garver, the Browns' ace righthander, a record of seven victories and three defeats. The Sox hadn't been blanked since the Yankees' Vic Raschi beat them 5-0 on opening day.

And Garver, himself, chased across two runs in the fourth inning to doom the highly regarded Bostonians.

After Sherm Lollar, had walked and Johnny Bero doubled Garver shot a single through the infield for two runs.

The loss was debited to Maurice McDermott, Sox southpaw who had won all his previous three starts and lost once in relief.

The stringbean southpaw did, however, take over the American League lead in strikeouts by whiffing nine, making his season's total 50, six more than the Yankees' Raschi has fanned.

Garver pitched classy ball in registering his sixth decision. He didn't issue a walk and struck out five of the heavy hitting Red Sox.

Ironically, McDermott fanned three St. Louis batters in the Browns' two run fourth.

The home forces chased McDermott in the seventh. A pair of throwing errors hastened Maurey's exit.

Dom DiMaggio kept a personal hitting streak alive through 19 games when he singled in the eighth inning.

Big Don Newcombe failed the Dodgers in a relief role before 19.17.

Newcombe came on with one out after Grady Hatton and Bobby Adams had singled off Phil Huggstad, the second Dodger hurler.

Then Harry Simpson, batting for Jim Hegan, singled to open the bottom of the eighth. Wynn sacrificed and George Stinweiss walked. Dale Mitchell, pinch hitting for Ray Boone, threw his bat at a three-and-two pitch for a single which brought in Simpson. Larry Doby then lifted a high fly, Stinweiss scoring the winning run.

John Mize of the Yankees hit his first homer of the season and Vic Wertz of the Tigers hit his ninth but neither of them will go into the official records.

Boston's 'Miracle Team' Has Reunion

5 Iowans to Compete In June Track Meets

The Central Collegiate championship track meet will attract five Iowa athletes to Milwaukee, June 9, and three of them afterward will leave for meets on the Pacific Coast, Coach Francis Cretzmeyer, has announced.

Iowa will have men in about seven events at Milwaukee, including the 440-yard relay. The Hawks were second in that event at the Drake meet in April.

Coach Cretzmeyer said that the team would be composed of Len Sykes, Bob Henard, DuWayne Dietz and Gary Scott, Dean Deuel, who ran at Drake, cannot make the trip because he is being married next week.

Scott will run either the 100 and 220-yard dashes or the quarter mile, and Sykes will enter the sprints, with Dietz in the low hurdles. Henard will broad jump and Jack Weik, runner-up for the conference high jump title, will compete in that event.

On June 10, Sykes, Scott and Weik will leave by train for Seattle, Wash., to compete in the National Collegiate championships June 15 and 16. They will go from Seattle with other men of the Big Ten to meet the Pacific Coast conference in the annual dual meet at Eugene, Ore., June 19.

There is a chance that Weik will not be able to go to Seattle and in that case he would later fly direct to Eugene for the inter-conference meet, Coach Cretzmeyer declared.

The economic phase is simply that the system requires much more manpower—manpower that costs more to feed and equip.

Just how far the FCC will go in discussing the rule is anyone's guess. It could hardly junk the system alone, what with its heavy intersectional schedule. But it could recommend to the NCAA and its rules committee certain changes of revisions in the rule.

The victory made the 33-year-old Maglie high man in the National League. He allowed the Bucs five hits, one a homer by Danny Murtaugh in the fifth inning for the first Pittsburgh run. The other Pirate tally came on a triple by Pe'e Reiser to open the eighth.

Tiff with Robinson Costs Meyer $50

BROOKLYN (AP) — Russ Meyer, hot-tempered Philadelphia pitcher, Friday was fined $50 for his ruckus with Brooklyn's Jackie Robinson Thursday night.

The penalty was assessed for Meyer's "challenging action," and for "inciting trouble."

No action was taken against Robinson.

The players nearly came to blows several times after Meyer had dropped the ball and permitted Robinson to score in the eighth inning on a run-down play. That run proved to be the winning one in the Dodgers' 4-3 victory. There was some dumping on the play.

Meyer was lifted from the game but he continued to needle Robinson and challenged the Dodger to meet him under the stands.

Robinson started to go but was restrained by teammates. Meyer later apologized to Robinson and Brooklyn Manager Chuck Dressen.

New Tank Captain

WALLY NICHOLSON, JUNIOR FREESTYLER from Des Moines has been voted co-captain of the 1951-'52 Hawkeye swimming team. Coach Dave Armbruster announced Friday. The other captain will be either Bowen Stassforth (if he returns to school) or Don Watson, distance man from St. Louis. Stassforth was not at Iowa this year but plans to re-enter the university next fall. Nicholson was one of the top performers in the Big Ten last season in the 50 and 100 yard dashes and was a member of the Hawks' record breaking 400 yard relay team.

Pacific Conference Hints Abolishment Of Free Substitutions

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Possibility that the highly controversial free substitute rule in football may be abolished in the Pacific Coast conference was hinted Friday.

Victor O. Schmidt, conference commissioner, released the agenda for the PPC meeting at Spokane, Wash., June 10-14, and led off with the following:

"Proposed abolishment of spring practice and of the free substitution rule in football . . . will be subjects considered by the conference at its meeting this month."

Asked to elaborate, Schmidt said that the rule, basis of football's hotly argued platoon system, is up for formal discussion.

"Yes, I would say that there is the possibility of action if the discussions warrant action," Schmidt said.

He declined further detail.

Economic phases of the rule have been injected into the discussions in recent weeks. Platoon system advocates contend that unlimited substitutions give more athletes a chance to play, but opponents counter that it promotes push-button coaching and reduces players to puppet specialists.

The economic phase is simply that the system requires much more manpower—manpower that costs more to feed and equip.

Just how far the FCC will go in discussing the rule is anyone's guess. It could hardly junk the system alone, what with its heavy intersectional schedule. But it could recommend to the NCAA and its rules committee certain changes of revisions in the rule.

Iowa School Officials to Meet, Study New Building Plans Here

Local school authorities throughout Iowa — board members, administrators and architects — will gather at SUI June 25-26 to learn the latest developments in planning for new buildings.

They will also exchange ways and means of keeping the traditional Iowa schoolhouse "out of the red", putting it "in the pink" of condition.

Several nationally-known experts will participate in the second annual conference on school building planning. Prof. Dan H. Cooper, college of education, said Friday.

Principal speaker during the two-day meeting will be Charles W. Bursch, chief of the division of schoolhouse planning, California department of education.

Other out-of-state speakers will include Mary P. Endres, superintendent of schools, rural consolidated district No. 10, Woodstock, Ill.; John McFadzean, landscape architect, Glencoe, Ill., and Prof. M.A. Stoneman, college of education, University of Nebraska.

Iowans who will take part include Floyd Campbell, president of the Iowa Association of School Boards; Spencer; Jessie M. Parker, superintendent of public instruction; Paul Johnston, director of administration and finance, state department of public instruction, and C.C. Woodburn, president of the Iowa chapter, American Institute of Architects.

W.J. Brown, Cedar Rapids architect; Donald Emory, director of special services, Cedar Rapids public schools; Hamilton Vasey, superintendent of schools, Independence; Dan Foster, executive secretary, Iowa Association of School Boards, Des Moines; Arch Grimes, director, school plant division, state department of public instruction, Des Moines; Edwin Carpenter, Des Moines attorney.

Prof. Walter Ditzler, industrial arts education, Iowa State Teachers college, Cedar Falls; Prof. Beatrice Donaldson, institutional management, Iowa State college, Ames; and Walter Edgren, supervisor of school transportation, state department of public instruction.

Participants from the SUI faculty include Cooper, Dean E. T. Peterson, college of education; George L. Horner, superintendent, division of planning and construction; R. E. Ellsworth, director of libraries; J. L. Davies, director of correspondence study.

Works of Six Artists Receive Cash Awards At London Print Show

Six prints by members of the Iowa Print group have been awarded purchase prizes during a showing of SUI prints at the London County Council Central School of Arts and Crafts in England.

Thirty-nine prints from SUI were included in the show, which was arranged by Mr. and Mrs. Roland Ginzel, former SUI art students; Philip James, director of the British Arts council, and William Johnstone, principal of the London art school.

Winners and their prints are E. Jane Rogers, "Ceremonial"; John Kaceere, "Reflections"; Prof. Mauricio Lansansky, "Spring"; Donn Steward, "Landscape in Yellow"; Leon Goldin, "Meta"; and Ann Didsyk, "The Mother."

Following the current showing, the prints will go on a year's tour of England. Plans are being made for a possible Australian tour for the next year.

John Buckland-Wright, reviewing the show for the London Art News and Reviews, wrote, "... a selection of prints using every technique... The metal is used, not as a means for multiplying a drawing but as a creative medium. The results are intensely interesting and sometimes astounding."

Lone Tree Woman Files Damage Suit Against Railroad

A $75,000 damage suit arising from the death of a Lone Tree man in a train-truck accident near Joslin, Ill., Dec. 3, was filed in district court Thursday.

The suit was filed by Mrs. R. D. Petsel, Lone Tree, who charges the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad and Robert N. Baker, Lone Tree, with negligence in connection with the death of her husband.

R. D. Petsel died from injuries received when the stock truck in which he was riding was struck broadside by a train at a crossing in Joslin.

The suit charges the railroad with negligence in not having the crossing signals in working order at the time of the wreck. Baker, driver of the truck, was named co-defendant in the action. He is charged with failing to stop the truck at the crossing and failure to have the truck under control at the time of the accident.

Dr. Daum, Here 25 Years, To Receive Honors Today

A modest, white-haired lady who is head of the nutrition department at University hospitals will be honored by her staff today and Sunday in celebration of her 25 years with the hospitals.

Dr. Kate Daum, who raised flowers and Siamese cats as a hobby, began working for SUI in 1926 under Dr. Ruth Wheeler, head of nutrition.

Two years later, she was appointed head of the department, a position she has held for 23 years.

Tonight, Dr. W. D. Paul, professor of internal medicine, will act as toastmaster at a dinner for Dr. Daum at the Jefferson hotel.

The nutrition staff, interns, members of the hospital staff and friends will join in a tea in the Westlawn parlors from 2:30 to 5:30 p.m. Sunday to congratulate Dr. Daum.

In 1947, she was given an award for distinguished service from the alumni association of the University of Kansas, where she received two degrees.

She was also given the Borden award for research in the field of nutrition and experimental foods in 1947.

With the help of a staff numbering 14, Dr. Daum plans the menus for the patients and staff at University hospitals.

She spends much of her time doing research in the laboratory besides teaching nutrition to nurses, medical and home economics students.

Dr. Daum has achieved minor fame with her staff for delicious home-cooked meals and entertainment in her home.

Orders Reviewed for New First Lieutenants

(Daily Iowan Photo.)

ORDERS WERE REVIEWED FRIDAY FOR TWO NEW 1ST LIEUTENANTS BY Lieut. Col. Frank J. Shaffer, professor of the SUI ROTC medical unit. Burns M. Byram (right) and Harold V. Caudle (left) will graduate from the college of medicine June 9. Both have completed two years of advanced ROTC and will be commissioned 1st lieutenants in the active reserves upon graduation. Caudle, an army ROTC officer, has received his orders to report to the San Francisco Letterman general hospital, July 1. Byram, an air force ROTC officer, will report to the Tripler general hospital in Honolulu. They will serve their internships in the reserves and then serve one year as doctors on active duty.

Coplon Spy Conviction Upheld

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. court of appeals Friday upheld the Washington espionage conviction of Judith Coplon but left open the way for the former justice department employe to seek a new trial.

The appeals court affirmed the 29-year-old ex-government girl's conviction on charges of stealing secret government documents. In an unusual step, however, it approved a hearing on her complaint that "the government listened through a wire tapping device to her telephone conversations with her attorney before the trial and while it was going on."

If the claims are true, the appellate court said Miss Coplon should be awarded a new trial in federal district court. The government has claimed it was not illegal because the information gained was not used as evidence against her.

Miss Coplon's second conviction in New York, on charges of spying for Soviet Russia in collaboration with Soviet engineer Valentin Gubichev, already has been reversed by the U.S. appeals court in New York.

The New York court said Miss Coplon's guilt was plain, but declared she was arrested illegally without a warrant. Thus, it said, documents taken from her at the time of her arrest were seized illegally.

Truman Delays Trip On European Tour To Margaret

ABOARD PRESS YACHT VAGABONDIA III (AP) — President Truman will extend his vacation cruise aboard the yacht Williamsburg, but will put in at Washington Saturday to make a trans-Atlantic telephone call to his daughter Margaret, it was learned Friday.

Mr. Truman plans to land at the naval gun factory in the capital before noon Saturday, and motor quickly to the White House.

From there he will contact Margaret, who will have arrived in England by that time on her European tour.

Once the conversation is over, the President will return to the Williamsburg and cruise down the Potomac river again. He is expected to stay aboard until Sunday night at least.

Friday, the fourth day of his vacation cruise which began Tuesday, Mr. Truman varied his working-and-sunning routine by stretching his sea legs on dry land. He took an early-morning turn around the grounds at the Patuxent river naval air station.

After he boarded the Williamsburg again, the yacht headed up Chesapeake bay and slid up the Potomac as far as the Quantico marine base, where it anchored for the night.

Kings Health Causes Anxiety in England

LONDON (AP) — Diplomats attached to the court of St. James said Friday the health of King George VI is causing his physicians and family considerable anxiety.

Buckingham Palace doctors announced the ailing king is suffering from a small catarrhal inflammation of a lung — which chest specialists said is a slight form of pneumonia.

The 55-year-old British monarch has been under treatment for the past week for influenza.

Westinghouse Workers Granted 9-Cent Raise

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Negotiators for Westinghouse Electric corporation and the CIO International Union of Electrical workers Friday agreed on a one-year contract extension granting a nine-cent hourly pay raise to 51,000 workers. The raise, retroactive to April 16, is subject to approval of government stabilization agencies.

Storm Lake Accident Ruled 'Suicide Death'

STORM LAKE (AP) — A coroner's jury held Friday that J. S. Sinns of Alta was "guilty of committing suicide" by swerving his automobile into the path of an oncoming car Wednesday night.

Sinns and Mrs. Paul Fricke, 22, of Newell, were killed in the head-on crash. Mrs. Fricke was riding in the other car with her

King Paul Moves To Fill Post Left Vacant by Papagos

ATHENS, GREECE (AP) — King Paul took over Friday as commander in chief of the armed forces to fill the gap left by the startling resignation of Greece's No. 1 military hero, Field Marshal Alexander Papagos.

(At New York, John E. Peurifoy, United States ambassador to Greece, left Friday night by plane for Athens after he was abruptly called off the Italian liner Saturnia at its pier as the ship was preparing to sail at noon.

(Peurifoy refused to reveal the reason why he was told to fly to Greece.

(It was believed Peurifoy was told to fly to Greece because of the resignation Wednesday of the Greek chief of the armed services, Field Marshal Alexander Papagos.)

An emergency meeting of the cabinet Friday night approved the act entrusting the king with the duties of supreme commander of the armed forces. It also approved a measure providing that in the case of war or emergency or partial or general mobilization, the duties of supreme commander will be entrusted to the chief of the national defense general staff.

The latter step is necessary because, by tradition, the king could not take orders from a foreign general. In the event of hostilities, it is possible that Greek forces would be under the command of an allied supreme commander.

Papagos' announcement Thursday night that he was resigning because of ill health was not accepted by his Athens newspapers as his real reason for bowing out. The field marshal, 68, has appeared to be in excellent health.

Information sources said they believed the resignation stemmed from differences with the king. They said the king had expressed dissatisfaction over what he regarded as efforts of Papagos and his political supporters to influence the crown.

The marshal's resignation is considered the most important military development in Greece since the crushing of the Communist revolt in the fall of 1949. Papagos was the mastermind behind the government forces in that civil war.

King Paul said in a statement he accepted Papagos' resignation "with profound regret."

SUI Alumni Heads To Hold Meeting

Directors of the SUI alumni association will hold their annual meeting on the campus today.

L. C. Bagley, Audobon, will begin his term as president of the association, replacing Justice T. G. Garfield, Ames, who is completing seven consecutive years on the board of directors.

Three new directors will take office at the meeting. They are A. D. Carlson, Oskaloosa; Leo Fitzgibbons, Esterville, and Dr. Richard A. Emmons, Clinton. They replace retiring directors Frank Nye, Cedar Rapids; Judge Tedford Miles, Corydon, and Dr. Walter Fieseler, Fort Dodge.

The directors will consider the budget for the next year and conduct other association business.

husband, who was seriously injured. A jury impaneled by Coroner John J. Taylor of Buena Vista county heard testimony that Sinns had been drinking. A former wife of Sinns testified she had heard him remark he intended to "get in my car and kill myself."

Truman Hits Real Estate Lobby

NEW YORK (AP) — President Truman said Friday the real estate lobby is risking the nation's very security in a fight to kill federal housing programs.

The vacationing President sent a message from his yacht, The Williamsburg, to a public meeting called here to try to block a cut-back in public housing.

The house has voted to reduce the number of federally assisted housing projects from 50,000 to 5,000 after July 1.

The senate has not acted as yet. Mr. Truman said the fight against public housing is being carried on by "the most powerful, farflung and relentless lobbies this country has even known."

He wired Mayor Vincent Impellitteri that he hoped the New York meeting will rouse "the entire nation to a realization of the danger which threatens us all if the real estate lobby succeeds in killing public housing." Mr. Truman said housing cuts would "cripple the program for national defense in many parts of the country and thereby impede and imperil the national security."

Drivers Licenses Cost Three Times As Much After Fourth of July

All Iowa drivers' licenses and school driving permits will be increased from 50 cents to $1.50 beginning July 5, the state department of public safety announced this week.

The fee increase does not apply to chauffeurs' licenses, which are $2, or instruction permits, which are issued without charge.

The department explained further that no licenses will be issued before July 5 to persons whose licenses expire on or after Aug. 4. Also announced was an extension certificate to be issued free to persons who will be out of state during their 30-day renewal period. This certificate will be good for a maximum of six months. Upon return to the state, persons must apply for a renewal of their license.

Iowa Demos Plan Use of SUI Report In 1952 Campaign

DES MOINES (AP) — Iowa Democrats plan to use a utilities rates study by SUI as 1952 campaign ammunition.

A dozen Democratic members of the state legislature agreed at a meeting here Friday to demand in the next campaign that a state utilities commission be created.

Said State Senator Tom Dailey (D-Burlington): "A recent survey by the university shows our light rates are higher than the states around us. It is pitiful how we are being robbed."

The Democrats campaigned in 1950 on the rates issue. Also, Representative John Hansen (Dem-Des Moines), sponsored a bill in the 1951 legislature for establishment of a rate commission. The bill didn't get out of committee.

The legislators said the university study last month showed that nearly all residential electric bills in Iowa are higher than those of surrounding states. The report was prepared under the supervision of C. Woody Thompson, director of the university's bureau of business and economic research.

Iowa has no state commission for regulating such rates.

Two Iowa Citizens Petition for Divorce

Two divorce petitions were filed in district court Friday.

Charles R. Kramer, Iowa City, asks a divorce from Marianne M. Kramer. He asks for custody of two children and household furniture. The couple was married in Cherokee, Sept. 15, 1947, and lived together until May 16 this year.

In the second petition, Carolyn A. Burns asks a divorce from Robert L. Burns. She asks the court for equitable relief. The couple was married in Iowa City Dec. 17, 1948, and lived together until March 17 this year.

City Man Files Suit For Construction Fees

Suit for a $931.79 judgement against Ralph Reyner, route 4, for construction work done on his garage and house, was filed Thursday in district court by Chester Bell, 620 S. Riverside drive.

Bell claims he entered into a $3,031.79 contract with Reyner for construction work and Reyner paid him only $2,100. Bell asks that the defendant pay five per cent interest on the amount due plus court costs.

Californians Held On Narcotics Fraud, Breaking, Entering

Iowa City police Friday arrested Mrs. Don L. Gallaher, Beverly Hills, Calif., for misrepresentation, fraud and deceit in obtaining narcotics.

Police said Mrs. Gallaher was involved in the attempted theft of a quantity of narcotics from University hospitals last Sunday.

Her husband, Don L. Gallaher, 34, was arrested by police Sunday when he attempted to purchase some drugs at the hospital with a false prescription.

When police searched his car they found an estimated $300 worth of new clothes that he had stolen from Ewer's men's store Sunday morning. Gallaher has been charged with breaking and entering.

The day before Gallaher's arrest, hospital authorities had reported to police that a man had attempted to break into the drug closet at the hospitals. He fled when attendants attempted to question him.

His wife was arrested Friday after a federal narcotics agent completed an investigation into the incident.

County Atty. William L. Mear-don said he would probably file an information against the woman today. Both Mrs. Gallaher and her husband are in custody in the Johnson county jail.

Remove 3 Bodies From Train Wreck

WOODBINE (AP) — The bodies of three Ford Dodge trainmen were removed Friday from the wreckage of an Illinois Central freight train.

Crews have been working continuously since the locomotive and 15 cars of a 65-car fruit train plunged through a flood-weakened bridge into a branch of the Boyer river, one mile west of here.

Bodies recovered were those of engineer Edward Holland, 51, head brakeman Milford Jensen, 42, and fireman Cecil Lylerly, 32. All were riding in the cab when the train smashed through the bridge.

C. L. Lee, yardmaster for the Illinois Central at Council Bluffs, said crews continued to work 24 hours a day and he hoped the track would be cleared by Monday. He said there was little doubt the smashup occurred because the underpart of the bridge was carried away in a flash flood that swept down the creek four hours before the train was due.

Local C.O.D. Cleaners Closed by Court Order

An order closing the C.O.D. Drive-In Cleaners, 24 S. Madison st., was issued Friday by District Judge Harold D. Evans.

The closure was ordered on the request of L. D. Wareham who had been appointed receiver for the business operated by George W. McCormick, Iowa City.

Wareham told the court further operation of the cleaners would only result in further financial loss.

Canterbury College to Try Circus Stunts to Capture Coin

DANVILLE, IND. (AP) — Boosters of little Canterbury college rounded up an elephant, a team of mules and a flock of VIP's Friday in an all-out try at lifting the school's $90,000 debt.

They promised these spectacles in a mammoth fund-raising parade today.

Frederick Neel, acting school president, leading the parade attired in long red underwear and a barrel.

Gov. Henry F. Schricker driving a team of mules.

U.S. Sen. William Jenner (R-Ind.), astride the elephant.

Town businessmen shining shoes.

Pretty coeds selling cigarettes and doughnuts.

Eleven civic, fraternal and patriotic groups backing the fund-raising drive won a promise from Neel to don the barrel and coax Schricker into driving the mules.

"I'd rather have a barrel of money," Neel told them, "but I'll wear it if you think it might help."

The boosters had a little more trouble with the elephant. First they had trouble borrowing one from a circus, and then they couldn't get a definite promise from Jenner that he would ride it.

But Jenner is a graduate of Canterbury and the boosters counted on the old alma mater spirit to win him over.

Other notables, including the presidents of five other Hoosier colleges, Lt. Gov. John Watkins and Indiana Supreme Court Justice Arch N. Bobbitt, were promised more dignified parade spots in open convertibles. Bobbitt attended Canterbury and worked his way by firing furnaces.

Jerry Davis, a Canterbury student, built a platform atop a flagpole and was scheduled to sit there until the $90,000 is raised.

Faculty members promised to hoist food to him if the fund-raising becomes a draw-out affair. Shoeshines, with town businessmen wielding the brushes, will go for $1 and the coeds will ask $1 a pack for cigarettes and $1 a doughnut.

"The price is a dollar for everything, and the girls have orders not to give anyone change," a spokesman said.

Officials said they had no idea how many people would turn out for the parade, but they were hoping for the best.

Tommy Bezanson Bruised by Car

Tommy Bezanson, five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Bezanson, 304 Fourth ave., was in good condition Friday night in his home after he was struck by a car near Iowa City high school Friday morning.

Tommy suffered pavement burns along his leg and arms and bruises when he was struck by a car driven by Mary Ellen Grace, 16, R.R. 1, student at City high.

Miss Grace told police Tommy ran into the street and into the path of her car before she could stop.

Cardinal Dougherty Dies on Anniversary

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Dennis Cardinal Dougherty, 85, ranking prelate of the Roman Catholic church of the United States and acclaimed as the "missionary bishop of the 20th century," died Thursday on the 51st anniversary of his ordination to the priesthood.

Death was the result of a stroke suffered shortly after he celebrated an anniversary mass in the private chapel of his suburban home.

The Pennsylvania-born Cardinal, spiritual leader of more than 1,058,000 Catholics in the Philadelphia archdiocese, had breakfast after celebrating mass and then went upstairs to dress. He was stricken in the bedroom while dressing.

Cardinal Dougherty, known for his genius as a "builder," and traveled far and wide in the interests of his church, building and reorganizing dioceses that had become "trouble spots" because of schisms and heavy debts.
