Taft, Clark, Groves Get Their Degrees, Too

U. S. Korea Policy Will Force Reds To Halt Attacks: Acheson

WASHINGTON (AP) - Secretary of State Dean Acheson said Tuesday he is firmly convinced by "all the facts available" that the present U. S. Korean war policy will "force" the Communists to halt their attacks and permit restoration of peace in Korea.

He said Gen. Douglas MacArthur's demand for bombing of Red bases in Manchuria would in "all likelihood" lead to general war which would be a "terrible catastrophe" for this country and its allies.

Acheson made these additional points in his fourth day before the senate committee investigating MacArthur's removal as Far Eastern commander:

- 1. The United States is convinced that a majority of the United Nations security council will continue to oppose a UN seat for Red China. If they did not, this country would ask the world court to rule whether its "no" vote amounted to a veto.
2. This country informed its allies last November that "military necessity" might soon require U.S. planes to follow Communist planes in "hot pursuit" over Manchuria for two or three months. The Allies were not asked for their permission - but they objected so vigorously the plan was dropped.
3. The United States is not now pushing for a UN naval blockade of Red China because it believes "we are more likely to get our results by increasing economic restrictions."

Acheson spent only a half day before the committee Tuesday, and was called for another bout of questioning today. Committee members said he had done a skillful job Monday of reviewing American policy toward China but doubted he had won over any of his critics.

The secretary's belief that the present "limited" war plan in Korea will lead to eventual "success" was voiced under questioning by Sen. Ralph E. Flanders (R-Vt.).

Flanders said statements before the committee about the significance of the 38th parallel seemed "quite empty of real meaning," and asked what the military aim is in Korea.

Acheson replied that the purpose of the UN plan is: "To defeat the attacks which are being made on Korea; to repel in as effective a way as we can do it, the attacks which are being made on Korea; and to take such military action, either north or south of the parallel, as we may need to do to bring about the conclusion of this campaign, with failure on the part of the Chinese and success on our part, to repulse attacks on the Republic of Korea."

Britain Hardens Policy On Seating Red China

FLUSHING, N. Y. (AP) - Britain hardened its policy against Communist China Tuesday as Russia suffered one of its worst United Nations defeats on the Chinese membership issue.

Reversing its pro-Beiping stand of January, Britain sided with the majority as the trusteeship council blocked another in the long series of Russian moves to oust a "Kuomintang" delegate.

Iran Terrorists Threaten Life Of Premier

TEHRAN, IRAN (AP) - Iranian police said Tuesday they had proof that the chief of the fanatic Fidayan Islam sect had plotted to assassinate Premier Mohammed Mossadegh and fSeyd Kashani, Nationalist front leader.

The urgency went out of the Iranian oil crisis, at least for the moment, but new reports told of actual and planned violence.

The government disclosed that 11 persons were injured in a riot at the South Iranian town of Ahwaz Sunday.

The police reported that documents established that Navab Seyd Safavi, head of the Fidayan sect, had planned the killing of at least two prominent Iranians.

Safavi was arrested here Monday and charged with murdering Gen. Ali Razmara, former premier, and four other persons. Some 500 bearded men and veiled women followers of Safavi demonstrated before the central police station.

They chanted verses from the Koran and prayed for his release. One of the demonstrators asked to see Safavi, but was refused.

American Ambassador Henry F. Grady, acting informally as mediator in the oil dispute, suggested that Britain provide Iran with funds to keep the oil fields operating.

"I'm not telling the company or the British government what to do, but it would be helpful—a beau geste," he said.

Grady said at a press conference that he could see hope for a settlement of the crisis if both sides showed good will.

Monday Mossadegh was reported reliably to have decided to delay the transfer of control of the company pending the outcome of negotiations. The indefinite delay of the seizure, scheduled this week, eased tension for the time being.

U.S., UN Postpone Peace Offer Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) - The United States and its UN Allies in Korea Tuesday postponed any final decision on a possible diplomatic bid to Communist China for a negotiated end to the war.

A state department meeting of representatives of all Allied nations with troops assigned to Korea also disclosed that none of the 16 governments have found any evidence the Reds are seeking a truce themselves.

As a result, it was said, it was decided that a declaration of UN war aims which might pave the way for possible peace talks should be put off until later.

Meantime, the United States and its Allies will give new and serious study to the diplomatic and military problems involved in Korea while UN military forces continue hammering away at the Communists.

British Propose Oil Compromise

LONDON (AP) - The cabinet agreed Tuesday on a compromise plan for settling the Iranian oil dispute.

It provides for British "acceptance in principle" of the nationalization of Iranian oil, with Britain retaining a voice in the processing and distribution of the oil.

Informants said the chief concern here is to secure a free flow of oil from Iran to the west, and a degree of control over the Abadan refinery, the largest in the world.

The British are expected to insist that they have a right to direct intervention in the oil dispute because they are the majority shareholders in the Anglo-Iranian oil company, storm center of the controversy.

Meat Packers Slash Production, Predict Shortages Next Week

'Transition Period': Regional OPS Chief

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) - Philip Neville, regional director of the office of price stabilization, said Tuesday that the refusal of dealers to buy beef is only a "temporary situation."

Neville said the situation is part of a "transition period" which could normally be expected. He said prices broke on some markets Monday as the controls went into effect, and that caused some growers to hold back.

"This was to be expected as a temporary situation," he said. "Supplies, however, are still adequate and wholesale stocks are relatively high."

Neville declared that the normal flow into the stockyards would be resumed shortly. He said it was quite natural for sellers to resist a price reduction, even though the new maximum prices should provide fully adequate and fair margins for producers, processors and distributors.

"We haven't seen any seller who likes his prices cut," he said. "The very principle of price control requires that items such as beef, which is far out of line with other food prices and remains at more than 130 per cent of parity even under this regulation, shall be brought into line."

He charged that any real attack on food prices and living costs must include a reduction in cattle and beef prices because beef represents about half the average meat budget.

White House 'Beef' Session Held With DiSalle, Packers

WASHINGTON (AP) - Price Director Michael V. DiSalle warned cattlemen Tuesday they are doomed to disappointment if they expect him to abandon his recent order for a rollback on beef prices.

DiSalle tossed off the warning to newsmen as he hurried to the White House late Tuesday afternoon for a "beef" conference with President Truman and western cattle raisers.

The group conferred with Mr. Truman and his top stabilization chiefs for 75 minutes. The White House declined any comment.

Former Gov. Roy Turner of Oklahoma, spokesman for the western group, told newsmen later: "We are all very happy."

Can't Get Cattle At Low Enough Rate to Comply

Michael DiSalle Center of Controversy

CHICAGO (AP) - Major meat packers slashed beef production in the face of over-calling prices Tuesday and the American Meat Institute warned that butcher shop shortages may hit the nation next week.

The office of price stabilization meanwhile, began an investigation after packers charged that cattle were being bid up to prices which made it impossible for them to comply with government ceilings.

The federal rollback took effect Monday, but the cattle market closed steady to strong Tuesday with prices 25 to 50 cents higher. Receipts were small.

Swift and Armour led the major packers, halting or cutting production sharply in their beef kill departments and sending hundreds of workers home.

Swift said it was able to buy only 115 head of cattle Monday and Tuesday, compared with an average of 2,200 for the same days in the previous three weeks.

The American Meat Institute, which represents packers, said that "beef production in many plants scattered around the country has virtually stopped."

"If present conditions continue, beef will become increasingly scarce in retail stores and the scarcity will be sharply in evidence next week," the AMI said.

Swift and Co., world's largest packer, slaughtered no beef at all Tuesday at its big Chicago plant and almost all of its more than 200 beef slaughterers were thrown out of work.

Armour and Co., laid off 100 beef dressing employees here and said it was forced to cut production at many other plants across the nation. The firm said it notified its sales units that beef shipments this week will be "extremely light."

Armour warned that it may have to close its beef department here entirely if cattle prices do not drop.

Michael Howlett, regional office of price stabilization director here, immediately sent investigators to the Chicago stockyards and ordered OPS offices at Peoria, Ill., Indianapolis, Milwaukee and Green Bay, Wis., to examine markets there.

Howlett said he received reports from packers that "over-bidding" on cattle prices was prevalent.

"We want to find out for ourselves who is doing the alleged overbidding and where the beef is being shipped," Howlett said.

Cutbacks and layoffs also were reported by John Morrell and Co., Ottumwa, and Oswald and Hess, Denholm Packing Co., and Pittsburgh Provision and Packing Co., at Pittsburgh.

Wilson and Co., another major Chicago packer, said its beef slaughter was slashed but there were no layoffs as yet.

Conference Group Clears Way for Loan To India for Grain

WASHINGTON (AP) - A joint conference committee cleared the way Tuesday for final congressional approval of a bill to lend India $190 million to buy 2 million tons of grain without demands for specific strategic materials in return.

The house-senate conferees accepted the main points in the house version of the controversial grain-for-India bill. This would let the economic cooperation administration dicker with India for raw materials this country needs. It would not make raw materials repayments mandatory.

Rep. James P. Richards (D-S. C.), who headed the house conferees, said he expects the senate to act on the measure Wednesday. The senate probably will take its final vote as quickly.

The conferees adopted a senate provision that the $190 million loan should come from ECA funds. The agency then will negotiate with India for "substantial quantities" of raw materials.

The compromise also cut from $23 million to $5 million the amount of interest on the loan. This money is to be set aside to educate Indian youths in modern agricultural methods in an effort to prevent future famines.

Napalm Burst Sears Red Korean Buildings

BLOSSOMING INTO DEADLY FLAME, a Napalm bomb burns fiercely after a direct hit on a building of a mine near Changdo in North Korea. A B-26 dropped this bomb in the air force's attack on basic industrial plants throughout the Communist-controlled area of Korea. The Korean war has been a proving ground for the destructiveness of Napalm bombs.

Medic, Dent Grads Must Sign for Draft

All students receiving degrees in medicine or dentistry Friday were reminded by the Johnson county draft board Tuesday that they must register for the draft by June 13.

William D. Coder, chairman of the county draft board, said prospective graduates may register either here or at their home county draft boards.

Coder emphasized that this ruling applies to all medical and dental students receiving degrees, even though they may have registered before as students or may be presently enrolled in an armed forces reserve program.

Doctors and dentists were required to register for selective service last January.

Russian Jet Engines Better, Airforce Finds

EDITOR'S NOTE: Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, air force chief of staff, recently started aviation circles with his disclosure that Russia has a better jet engine than the United States, Vandenberg gave no details. In the following dispatch, the United Press aviation writer gives the story behind that statement and its future implications.

By CHARLES CORDRY United Press Aviation Writer

WASHINGTON (UP)—Air force experts have concluded the jet engine which powers the Russian MIG-15 fighter is almost as good as new U.S. engines which still are months away from the mass production stage.

Their conclusion is based on a study of a hitherto secret analysis of the Soviet-made engine which powers the enemy planes providing the principal opposition to UN planes over Korea.

These are inside facts—facts vouched for by high air force officers—explaining why Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, air force chief of staff, recently told senate MacArthur investigators that the MIG-15 engine is "superior to any jet engine that we have today."

The air force is keenly concerned over the situation. In Korea, the superior firepower of U.S. planes and the skill of their pilots have more than offset the increased speed and rate of climb afforded the MIG-15 engine.

But American experts are forced to at least assume—in the absence of contrary evidence—that Russia has new jet engines in the works that surpass the MIG power plant and rank with advanced U.S. models.

This would become increasingly important should there be any indication from the Korean fighting front that the Russians are closing the gap between American and Soviet firepower and flying skill.

U.S. Is Producing Better Engine
Maj. Gen. Donald L. Putt, air force director of aircraft research said that the United States now has in production a jet plane better than the MIG-15. It is not in combat and presumably not in an operational group.

Putt also did not say how much better than the MIG-15 the new plane will be. And again, it must be assumed Russia too may have better planes on the drawing boards or in preliminary production.

In disclosing what normally would be secret information to the senate investigators, Vandenberg was spotlighting the fact that the Soviets themselves have expert jet know-how and are not dependent on technicians imported from Germany after World War II.

The import was that they may be equally successful in other military fields—long range bombers and guided missiles, for example.

U.S. Okays Hanging Of 7 War Criminals

LANDSBERG, GERMANY (AP)—American officials in Germany were told by Washington Tuesday to proceed with the executions of the seven Nazi war criminals, last of Adolf Hitler's mass murder overlord, waiting in Landsberg prison to hang.

United States high commissioner John L. McCloy broke an hours-long news blackout on the fate of the seven condemned men and announced in Frankfurt that he received a state department message that "all existing stays of execution had been removed."

Won't Tell When
He refused to say when the executions would take place.

Presumably no announcement will be made until after the seven have dropped through the traps of the gallows erected in the yard of the prison where Hitler wrote "Mein Kampf" before his rise to power.

McCloy said he had heard unofficially of another reported appeal by Warren A. Magee, Washington attorney retained by the Bonn government to represent the condemned men in Washington, but added:

"I don't think I need another clearance. The last word that I've had is that all stays are off."

The high commissioner told reporters that if the state department wanted again to postpone the hangings because of Magee's new appeal to the full supreme court, "I think they would have to send me a stop order."

Injunction Runs Out
A United States federal court injunction delaying the hangings expired at 8 a.m. Iowa time Tuesday. Granted two weeks ago, it came just two hours before the seven were scheduled to mount the gallows.

A last-ditch appeal to the United States supreme court was rejected. Most American observers felt that the rejection had exhausted the legal blocks that could further delay the executions.

The seven had been convicted by an American war crimes court of

MIG Has Greater Drive Power

The air force experts concluded that the Russian jet now in combat has a greater potential drive than any air force or navy engine now in an operational plane. It also embodies many structural refinements and should outlast comparable U.S. engines.

The MIG-15 has been performing well in Korea—the admittedly heavier American F-86 sabre cannot catch it in level flight—although there is evidence the Soviet engines are being run at only about 75 per cent of what is believed their maximum power.

The Russians developed their jets from the Rolls Royce "Nene" engine, several of which were sold to the Soviets some years ago. Production rights for the same engine are held in this country by the Pratt & Whitney aircraft corp. The U.S. version powers the navy F9F-2 Panther.

From available evidence, the Russians have done a better job of "stretching" the performance of the original "Nene" engine.

One Russian improvement permits better temperature control

Mickey Cohen Tax Evasion Suit Begins

LOS ANGELES (UP)—The government leveled its heavy artillery at once big-time gambler Mickey Cohen and his petite, Auburn-haired wife, Lavonne, Tuesday in their trial for allegedly evading $156,000 in income taxes.

U. S. attorney Ernest Tolin opened fire on the little gambler's financial activities after a federal court jury of seven women and five men was selected to hear the case.

Cohen, who said he came to court "with a clear conscience," and his wife are charged with five counts of income tax evasion and of swearing to a false statement.

Tolin declared in a blistering opening statement that Cohen, once top-man among Los Angeles bookies, lived lavishly "on a peanut vendor's income" and spent money "like a millionaire."

"He spent an awful lot of money on clothing, which is of the finest, on their travel, their servants and their automobiles," Tolin said.

"By adding up all of the purchases, we will show that the Cohens spent $343,139 since 1946," he said.

The prosecutor said the pudgy gambler asserted he borrowed large sums of money from five men now dead, but Tolin added the government would summon 150 witnesses to disprove the claim.

Lloyd G. Speer, former special agent for the internal revenue department, was the chief witness. He testified that he investigated Cohen's tax returns and got him to sign waivers on the statute of prosecution limitations.

Speer said he went to Cohen's Javish Brentwood home to have him sign waivers for the years 1945 and 1946, but Cohen refused. He met with Cohen later, Speer said, at the office of the gambler's accountant, Harry Sackman, and Cohen signed the waivers.

During the second meeting, Cohen told of borrowing money from friends including former bank official Harold Brown; Jake Coplin of San Francisco; Arthur Seltzer, identified as a New York manufacturer; Benjamin (Bugsy) Siegel, slain rackets czar, and Ace Hudkins, once the "Nebraska Wildcat" of the prize ring, Speer testified.

The former investigator said Cohen told him he received a series of $5,000 checks from Coplin which the gambler was to cash when he needed money.

William D. Fleming, official of a stock brokerage firm, testified that Cohen made $6,626.98 speculating in gold mining stock in 1947.

Corn Planting Nears Completion in Iowa

DES MOINES (UP)—Corn planting is nearing completion in Iowa, and the weekly crop and weather bulletin Tuesday said 86 percent of the crop was in the ground Saturday.

The report said eight percent of the corn had been cultivated for the first time, and the crop generally was reported as "excellent."

U.S. Production To Increase 5 Fold: Johnston

OKLAHOMA CITY (UP)—The United States has geared its economy to produce in two years what normally would be produced in 10. Eric Johnston, head of the nation's economic stabilization program said Monday night.

In a commencement address for 2,104 graduates at the University of Oklahoma, Johnston said the U. S. is meeting its "riskiest hour" by developing defense production so huge "that an aggressor... will count ten before he speaks."

"We can't talk turkey to communism with a feather duster," he said.

He said the national economy was literally burning the midnight oil to achieve "S-Day—or Security Day."

He labeled as "raven of despair" those who say the current pace or production will lead to depression.

"They say we'll have too much production and no way to use it," Johnston said. But, he added, similar predictions have proved false in the past.

"America has prospered on calculated risks," he said, such as the country is making at present.

"Calculated risk means taking chances boldly on the future of investing what we have in the considered hope of fair returns."

"It means counting the cost of adventure, of course; but it means daring to spend, in order to earn. It means immediate sacrifice for long-range profit. That is what we have done in America. That is why America has been a success."

He told the graduates that they lived in an era of the "riskiest risk."

But even in the "good old days" of our grandfathers, he added, there were different sorts of risks. He noted, for example, the large number of persons who died of appendicitis and consumption, the great killer of the day.

Newsman Ask Freedom from Wage Control

WASHINGTON (UP)—The American Newspaper Guild (CIO) asked the wage stabilization board Tuesday to exempt newspapermen from wage controls to guarantee "the freedom and quality of the press."

ANG secretary-treasurer Ralph E. Novak told a special board panel an exemption also is necessary to maintain living standards of editorial and commercial employees. He said their living standards were reduced "dangerously" under the little steel formula of World War II.

Novak appeared with other union and industry officials at a panel hearing on exemptions for employees in industries which are specifically excluded from price controls under the defense production act. Transportation, communications, and entertainment, as well as newspapers, are among industries exempt from price controls.

Novak said that "obviously there can be no quality of sacrifice in the newspaper industry if wages are frozen while prices and profits are free to rise."

President Joseph M. Curran of the National Maritime Union (CIO) told the panel a "crisis on the waterfront" would result if maritime employees are forced to remain under wage ceilings. He said there is no danger of "runaway wages" if the industry is exempted because the owners are "too tough."

Hospital to Release Eddie Cantor Today

NEW YORK (UP)—Eddie Cantor, who has been hospitalized nine days because of a broken blood vessel on his vocal chords, will leave Doctors Hospital today, although his voice is not fully recovered, his agent announced Tuesday.

Ralph Clayton said Cantor must "get in shape" for his final television show of the season on June 17 and for acceptance of a degree of doctor of humane letters at Temple University on June 14. He will leave for California June 18.

Since he entered the hospital on May 27, the comedian has not used his voice and has communicated with others by writing notes. He broke the blood vessel while singing on his TV show.

State High Court Rules on Overloading

DES MOINES (P) — The Iowa supreme court Tuesday ruled on where the measurements must be taken on a semi-trailer truck as the basis of whether the vehicle is overloaded.

The ruling came on the appeal of Claude A. Balsley from his conviction in the Sioux City municipal court on charges of overloading a truck. He raised the issue of where the measurements should be taken.

The supreme court, in affirming the conviction, said the measurements should be taken from the rear axles of the tractor to the two rear axles of the trailer, not the extremes of the axle on both the tractor and trailer.

If this method is used Balsley would be found to have exceeded the load limit.

Gable Requests No Alimony For Wife

HOLLYWOOD (P) — Clark Gable asked a divorce court today not to award his wife, any alimony because, he said, she's a "millionaire."

Besides, he added, they spent most of his money during their year and a half of marriage, anyway.

The blond socialite didn't ask for alimony, but left that matter open so she could add a money demand to her suit later.

Clerk Couldn't Marry Her, So Girl Jumps Out Embassy Window

WASHINGTON (P) — An attractive 27-year-old government girl, clad in pajamas, plunged seven stories from the apartment of a Pakistan embassy code clerk Tuesday and survived.

Her condition was described as critical.

Police said Miss Helen M. Dean, an atomic physicist in the U.S. bureau of standards, jumped from the top floor apartment of Salim Khan, 24, shortly before dawn, and landed in a barberry hedge 80 feet below.

Detectives said she told them: "I couldn't cope with life any longer."

Detective Sgt. Bernard Crooks and Robert E. Talbot quoted Miss Dean as saying she was distraught because Khan "couldn't marry" her.

The detectives said Khan told them he had professed his love for Miss Dean but had told her that marriage might jeopardize his diplomatic career.

Kahn came here from Pakistan about a year ago to work in the embassy's code section.

Physicians at Gallinger hospital said the x-rays disclosed Miss Dean suffered a fractured neck vertebra, two broken ribs, a possible hip fracture, and two broken heels.

They said the fact that she lived and was able to crawl into the lobby of the apartment after the fall was "amazing."

A native of Boston, Miss Dean came to Washington two or three years ago following her graduation from Swarthmore college.

Police said Khan told them he was asleep when Miss Dean leaped from his window shortly after 5 a.m.

When roused, they said Khan declared:

"I don't want any publicity on this thing."

Film Star's Advice: 'To Feel the Part, Meet the People'

HOLLYWOOD (P) — Kirk Douglas thinks Hollywood produces the world's biggest yokels.

We are all urbanites here," he said. "We don't know what happens outside of Hollywood and possibly New York."

The stocky star of Paramount's controversial "Ace in the Hole" believes Hollywood stars are making a big mistake—hibernating in the film city.

Believes in Realism

A firm believer in realism, Douglas says the only way to get the feel of a part is to meet the people.

"They are the raw material for any movie part," he said.

Kirk goes out of his way to talk to the newsboy on the corner, the shine boy, a curb hop or a neighbor.

That is, he did until he became so well known.

All Movie Fans

"Now that I've hit the lights the curb hop, the newsboy and all the others are movie fans," he lamented.

Douglas says you can't "feel" the pulse of the public by checking the heart beat of a fan.

"They're not themselves," he emphasized. "They change."

Douglas always insists in "hiring" out for a few weeks to work at whatever character he is to play in his next picture.

Works With Professionals

When he took the "long shot" chance to play a fighter in the surprise hit of last year, "The Champion," he worked out with professional fighters. This was no extra strain for the broad-shouldered lad from Amsterdam, N. Y., who once wrestled professionally.

In "Ace in the Hole," which is to be previewed in Albuquerque, N. M., June 14, Kirk plays a hard-bitten former New York newspaperman, shanghaied to New Mexico, who will do anything for a story and does.

Becomes Reporter

To get the newsroom touch, Douglas put in time as a reporter for a Los Angeles daily. He covered just about everything in the future book.

Naturally curious, Douglas asked a veteran reporter while on an assignment how one gets a byline.

"Old Copy Pencil" laid it on thick. Told him it took "20 to 30 years of hard work."

Next day Kirk received his first byline, a page one feature.

"I was wrong," the sheepish newsroom vet greeted him the next day. "You have to be a movie star to get a byline."

Chisox Smother Boston, 10-2; Reynolds Halts Cleveland, 8-2

CHICAGO (AP)—In two mighty scoring thrusters of four and six runs, the sizzling hot Chicago White Sox smothered the Boston Red Sox, 10-2, Tuesday for their fourth straight win in three days over the Red Sox.

This time it was Randy Gumpert, notching his fourth win without defeat, who toiled the victory that kept the White Sox 3½ games ahead of the runner-up New York Yankees.

Parading to their 18th win in their last 20 starts, the White Sox broke up a budding mound duel between Boston's Willard Nixon and Gumpert with a four-run outburst in the sixth inning which erased a 1-0 Boston lead.

Nixon, suffering his first loss against three wins, yielded to Boston ace, Mel Parnell in the sixth, but the star lefty (6-3) proved even redder meat for the roaring White Sox.

In the eighth, Parnell beat a hasty retreat after pitching a two-run homer to Jim Busby, his first of the season. Before Bill Evans and Chuck Stobbs finally got the side out, the White Sox had hammered seven straight hits and rattled across six runs.

Gumpert scattered eight hits so effectively that the Boston got more than one safe blow in only one inning, the ninth when the party definitely was over and the Red Sox outed their second run.

The Red Sox, along with the St. Louis Browns, now are established as the favorite cousins of the White Sox, who hold a 6-1 record against both.

The four straight losses to the White Sox mark the season's longest defeat streak for the Red Sox. Chicago ... 001 000 001—2 8 0

Yanks 8, Indians 2

CLEVELAND (AP)—The faltering New York Yankees finally came up with the unbeatable combination good pitching and solid socking Tuesday to rout Cleveland 8-2 and snap the sizzling Indians' winning streak at nine games. Allie Reynolds, the big Cherokee righthander, tossed a five-hitter and his teammates backed him up with a 13-hit barrage, including homers by Yogi Berra and Bobby Brown and three doubles.

The victory broke the world champions' three-game losing spell and kept them 3½ games back of the inspired Chicago White Sox who walloped Boston, 10-2.

Berra's homer in the second and Brown's four-bagger in the sixth enabled the Yanks to hold a 2-1 edge over Farly Wynn for six innings. Then the Yanks broke the game wide open with two runs in the seventh inning, three in the eighth and one more in the ninth.

Gene Woodling's two-run single was the big hit of the seventh inning spurge and Reynolds' two-run double was the vital blow of the eighth.

With this support, Reynolds coasted to his fifth victory against four defeats. Reynolds yielded only singles.

Tigers 4, Nats 0

DETROIT (AP)—Gene Bearden started his first game for the Detroit Tigers Tuesday night and blanked the Washington Senators with only four hits. George Kell rapped four straight singles and Jerry Priddy homered as the Tigers won, 4-0.

Vic Wertz saved a shutout for Bearden, who had been a relief pitcher until Tuesday night by a leaping catch against the right-field screen in the ninth inning. Bearden, whose 20 wins in 1948 helped Cleveland win the pennant, allowed only three balls to be hit farther than the infield in the first five innings. He recorded his second win against one loss.

A crowd of 16,164 saw the Tigers punch singles by Dick Kryhoski, Priddy and Kell for a run in the third inning.

Don Johnson, who suffered his second loss against no wins, gave way for a pinch hitter in the eighth inning. The Tigers hopped on his successor, Mickey Harris, for three runs in the eighth.

Browns 10, A's 1

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Picking up two runs in each of the first three innings, the St. Louis Browns backed up the masterful four-hit, hurling of Ned Garver for a 10-1 triumph over the Philadelphia Athletics Tuesday. It was Garver's eighth victory.

Garver was hitting as well as pitching, knocking out a single and a double and batting in one run. Sherman Lollar also clubbed the ball freely, batting in two runs with a third-inning for-bagger, another one in the first with a single, and he scored from second in the eighth after he hit a double.

The Browns picked on the A's started Johnny Kucab right from the beginning as Jim Delsing walked, Bobby Young beat out a hit toward second base and Ray Coleman singled to center, scoring Delsing. Young was out trying for third. Then Lollar singled Coleman home.

Garver held the A's to just one hit for six innings—a single by the newly-acquired Hank Majeski. Philadelphia (0) 000 100—1 4 1

Buc Directors to Decide Whether to Keep Meyer

By MILTON RICHMAN
NEW YORK (UP)—Branch Rickey will put it up to the Pittsburgh board of directors today whether to release or retain Billy Meyer—and if the Pirate manager is fired, coach Milton Stock will replace him for the balance of the season, it was learned reliably Tuesday night.

That way Rickey isn't exactly firing Meyer, since the grey haired Pittsburgh pilot said he was ill in Philadelphia a few days ago and his ailment may be used as the excuse to let him go.

Despite a vote of confidence he gave the 58-year-old Meyer Tuesday Rickey privately has told intimates that he is "extremely dissatisfied" with the Pirates' showing so far.

After getting off to a brisk start, Pittsburgh plunged into last place and now languishes 11½ games behind the Dodgers.

In Pittsburgh, Rickey Tuesday branded as "untrue" reports that Meyer is to be deposed, saying he had "never given a thought" to such a matter. But the Pirate general manager has been known to throw up smoke screens before.

Rickey, a newcomer into the Pittsburgh organization, does not want to be directly responsible for Meyer's ouster, a close source revealed, so he will put the question in the directors' laps today.

Patton, Mathias Get Records Okayed

LONDON (UP)—Mel Patton's time of 20.2 seconds for 220 yards and the total of 8,042 points amassed by Bob Mathias in winning the National Decathlon championship were accepted officially as world records Tuesday by the International Amateur Athletic federation.

Patton, who shares the 9.3 seconds world mark for 100 yards with Jesse Owens, set the new 200 standard while carrying University of Southern California colors against UCLA on May 7, 1949, at Los Angeles.

He ran 100 yards in 9.1 at the same meet but a tailwind of 5.5 miles per hour automatically eliminated that performance as a threat to the mark he shared with Owens.

Patton's 220 time wipes out the former standard of 20.3 seconds set by Owens at Chicago on June 20, 1936.

Mathias set the new world decathlon mark last July 1 in his home town of Tulare, Calif., while winning the national crown in the grueling, 10-event test for the third straight year.

Maglie Wins 9th Straight — Dodgers Edge Cards, 3-2; Cubs Win

BROOKLYN (AP)—Roy Campanella's two-base smash to center drove Carl Furillo home with the winning run in the ninth inning Tuesday as the high-flying Brooklyn Dodgers racked up their fourth straight victory, 3-2, over the St. Louis Cardinals.

The triumph—The Dodgers 12th in their last 15 games—stretched the Brooks' league lead to 4 1/2 games over the runnerup Cards. It was another come-from-behind win for the Dodgers, who fight right down to the wire for every break.

They got their big break in the eighth when St. Louis starter George Munger, who had pitched fine two-hit ball for six innings, handed the Dodgers the tying run in the eighth with an error.

The Cards, thanks to the timely run scoring singles of Stan Rojek and Billy Johnson in the sixth, held a 2-1 lead going into the last of the eighth. Gil Hodges had clouted his 18th homer of the year in the seventh for Brooklyn's lone tally.

Cal Abrams, whose once fancy batting average has dropped like a thermometer in a blizzard, walked to start the eighth. Peevce Reese, balk in action after a one-game absence from the lineup, laid down a sacrifice bunt.

Munger pounced on the ball and threw it over first baseman Nippy Jones' head into right field. Abrams scampered home with the tying run and Reese raced to third.

New York Yankees last fall, failed again Tuesday as a starter as the Chicago Cubs defeated the Philadelphia Phillies, 3-2.

The loss put Konstanty's log for the season at two wins and five defeats. He was lifted for a pinch-hitter in the fifth inning after allowing all the Cubs' runs.

The Cubs won the game in the fourth. A triple, two doubles and a single produced their three runs. The Phils bounced back in the fifth with two runs, but brilliant pitching by Bob Rush turned them back in the late innings when they threatened to knot the score.

The game ended with Ed Pellegrini perched on third base with the tying run. He was running for Willie Jones who had tripled, missing a home run by inches.

NEW YORK (AP)—Sal Maglie turned in his ninth straight victory Tuesday night as he pitched the New York Giants to a 3-2 triumph over the Cincinnati Reds. The Giants broke a scoreless tie with two runs in the seventh. Wes Westrum and rookie Willie Mays singled the runs home.

Maglie was in trouble throughout, granting nine hits to the six the Giants collected off Harry Perkowski and Frank Smith.

Ted Kluszewski homered for the Reds in the eighth. Perkowski blanked the giants on one hit until the seventh inning. He walked Al Dark to start the frame. Dark moved to second on a bunt and scored the first run of the game on Wes Westrum's single. Monte Irvin beat out a hit and, after Whitey Lockman forced Irvin at second, Mays singled to score Westrum.

Video Shows Lack Quality Says Theater Guild Director

NEW YORK (UP) — Sponsors of television shows have not yet grasped a basic point involving quality and the new entertainment medium is suffering as a result, according to Lawrence Lagner co-director of the theater guild.

"Television must become an art, if it is going to compete with the other entertainment mediums," Lagner said Tuesday. "I think there is an inevitable trend toward mediocrity in television because the fundamental idea has not been taken hold with the sponsor. Quality must be more important than quantity."

"They are using up the good material with bad performances at such a rate that they will be confronted with the dilemma shortly of not having enough good material to work with."

Lagner pointed out that good TV shows need a lot of work.

"You may not remember that the theater guild produced the first seven television plays after the war," he said. "We did this in partnership with NBC and took between three and four weeks to do each of these shows. I am particularly proud of Bernard Shaw's 'The Great Catherine' which was produced with Gertrude Lawrence and David Wayne, and which opened the large studio at NBC. We also did 'Our Town' with Raymond Massey."

"Both of these plays had some weeks of preparation and they showed the beneficial results."

"I also think that, as an economic problem, actually there isn't enough money in the advertising business to pay for the cost of the country's theatrical entertainment. An author can make hundreds of thousands of dollars for his play and pictures rights. Why should he sell it to one performance of television which would hurt his revival and picture rights?"

"Shaw told me just before he died that he would never release any of his plays to television. 'Why not?' I asked, 'if they paid you enough?' 'How could they afford to pay me?' the old gentleman replied. 'One TV showing to several million people would damage the revival of that particular play.'"

"This problem has not yet been solved. Many authors are holding back their plays from TV because there isn't enough money to pay them at the present time."

South Dakotan Wins Register and Tribune Scholarship to SUI

John H. Crusinberry, a senior at South Dakota State college Brookings, S.D., has been awarded the $500 Des Moines Register and Tribune advertising scholarship at SUI.

Prof. Ellis H. Newsome, head of the advertising sequence, SUI school of journalism, said the scholarship will enable Crusinberry to proceed with a year of graduate study in journalism. He plans to enroll at SUI next fall.

Entries in the nationwide scholarship competition were judged by committees from the college of commerce, school of journalism and the Des Moines Register and Tribune.

Crusinberry has worked for more than a year as a publicity and sports writer for the department of journalism at South Dakota State. Previously, he was an insurance claims investigator for Montgomery Ward and Co.

He plans to enter newspaper advertising as a career.

Senate Crime Group Cites 3 For Contempt

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The senate crime investigating committee voted Tuesday to recommend contempt of congress charges against a trio of witnesses—two of them reputed leaders of Chicago's Capone gang.

Chairman Herbert R. O'Connor (D-Md) told a reporter after a closed-door meeting of the committee that the vote was unanimous.

Two of those it agreed to ask to cite for contempt are Rocco Fischetti and Murray L. (the same) Humphreys. The third is George S. May owner of a Chicago engineering company bearing his name.

The crime probes previously have listed Fischetti and Humphreys as among the leaders of the Capone mob, which it has called one of the nation's two major crime syndicates.

All three witnesses, long-sought by the committee, were questioned here May 28 at a closed hearing. O'Connor announced afterward that they had refused to answer numerous questions, claiming their constitutional right against possible self-incrimination.

If the senate approves the contempt citations, the cases will be turned over to the Justice department for prosecution. Conviction carries maximum penalties of a year in jail and a $1,000 fine on each count.

So far, however, none of the many witnesses cited for contempt by the senate at the crime committee's request has been convicted.

O'Connor said that Fischetti and Humphreys refused to answer questions about their activities and that May balked at giving any information about the Tam O'Shanter golf club near Chicago, although he answered questions about his engineering firm.

The committee had identified May as the head of the club and announced in advance that it wanted to question him about slot machine activities at the club.

Wallace Denies Calling U.S. Reds 'Patriotic'

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Former Vice President Henry Wallace denied Tuesday that he told Chiang Kai-Shek that American Communists were taking a patriotic attitude in 1944.

"What I actually said," Wallace stated in a telegram to Senator William F. Knowland (R-Calif.), "was that the American Communists were going all-out to support the war effort in the U. S. against Germany and Japan and I could not see why the Chinese Communists should not be as eager to defeat the Japanese as the American Communists."

Knowland made the text of the telegram public without comment.

In the telegram, Wallace said that Knowland, in cross-examination Secretary of Defense George Marshall and Secretary of State Dean Acheson in the MacArthur hearings, "endeavored to make it part of the record" that Wallace tried to bring the Chinese Nationalists and Communists together in a coalition government in 1944.

"That is not true," Wallace said. "What Roosevelt tried to do was to bring about unity of effort to defeat the Japanese. I made it repeatedly clear to Chiang in 1944 that the U. S. government was not interested in the Chinese Communists but in the prosecution of the war against the Japanese."

Doesn't Pay Soldier Finds Billfold Bad Luck

NEWPORT NEWS, VA., (AP)—The other day army sergeant Mark Sapp went driving. He saw a wallet in the road, stopped, picked it up, and drove on, feeling pretty lucky.

But he doesn't feel lucky anymore. There was nothing in the wallet, so out the car window it went. A motorist behind him was suspicious, called police. Police listened to the wallet story, and then began nosing around.

They found: The car improperly equipped; a half-gallon of "corn" whisky in the car; and Sapp had no registration card.

In court Monday the sergeant paid a $50 fine on the whisky charge. He'd had his car fixed and got his registration papers, so the judge dismissed those charges. Police threw the wallet away.

Everything Happens, but Flag At Last Given to Luxembourg

WASHINGTON (UP) — The state department planned a simple little ceremony Tuesday—but up popped the explosive Mrs. Perle Mesta, an uncooperative judge, protocol, high diplomacy and mechanical breakdowns.

Mrs. Mesta, the socialite American minister to Luxembourg, couldn't have arranged more surprises at one of her famous parties.

The original plan was for the American Legion to present a Luxembourg flag to Mrs. Mesta. A Chicago GI picked up the flag during the war and wanted Mrs. Mesta to return the banner to Luxembourg.

30 Minutes Late
But the man with the flag, Herbert Jacobi, national vice commander of the American Legion was 30 minutes late for the ceremony. Mrs. Mesta returned to her office and, when Jacobi did arrive kept him waiting 15 minutes.

"I had to appear in court," Jacobi explained bravely.

Mrs. Mesta replied that she had to fix her hair.

Then she looked at the flag, recoiled and said, "That's not the Luxembourg flag!"
Four state department people nearby fainting, Jacobi said the American Legion couldn't be wrong. Mrs. Mesta said she couldn't be wrong. The Luxembourg flag has yellow in it, she said. The flag in question was red, white and blue, arranged in horizontal stripes.

Quick Call
A state department official hurriedly telephoned the Luxembourg legation. The legation gave assurance that the disputed flag was the real flag.

The presentation ceremony began. A newsreel cameraman cried out in anguish, "Stop, Stop." His film had got tangled up.

The ceremonies began again—and the cameraman promptly cried, "Stop, Stop." The sound wasn't recording.

"Somebody pulled the plug," explained a mechanic.

So they tried again. Jacobi began his speech, "Madame President."

"Oh, no," interrupted a state department aide. You mean "Madame Minister."

Once again, they started from the beginning. Mrs. Mesta accepted the flag and promised to return it to "our defense minister and Prime Minister, Mr. (Pierre) Dupong."

Another Retake
The state department again called for a retake — an American official shouldn't refer to the Luxembourg defense minister as "our" defense minister.

On the next try, Mrs. Mesta promised to return the flag to "the defense minister, who also is our Prime Minister."

Cut! That "our" had crept in again.

Finally, with great deliberation, Mrs. Mesta enunciated her plan to return the flag "to the defense minister who also is the prime minister."

That was perfect, and Mrs. Mesta carried off the flag. The American Legion did not reveal the name of the GI who liberated the flag.

Court Gives Children To Foster Families

DES MOINES (UP) — An Omaha couple lost five of their children Tuesday as the Iowa state supreme court ruled the children should remain with the families which have adopted them.

The ruling was a reversal in part of an opinion handed down in February in which the court held nine of the Eddy children should be returned to their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Eddy, formerly of Atlantic, Ia.

However, at the time that decision was unaware that five of the children had been placed permanently for adoption.

Took Children
A Cass county district court took the nine children from their parents in 1946 after ruling the parents were unable to care properly for the children.

The five children who will remain in foster homes, the supreme court said, were Marilyn, 10, Robert, 9, Beverly, 8, Esther, 6, and Charles, 5. Marilyn and Robert are in the same home, and Beverly and Charles were placed together. Esther was placed with a third family.

The court said the five children being left with the foster parents were adopted before the Eddy's appealed from the district court ruling which took the nine children from their parents.

Strenuous Objections
The American Home Finding association, Ottumwa, had objected strenuously to the first ruling of the supreme court which would have returned the children to their parents. The association said such a ruling was not in the best interests of the children, nor of the adopting agencies.

The opinion handed down Tuesday, prepared by Justice John E. Mulroney, Fort Dodge, said all parties in the case should have sought action sooner.

OCHEYDAN MAN KILLED

Local Price Wars Spread Across Nation

NEW YORK (AP) — Local price wars broke out across the nation Tuesday.

Drug, department, jewelry and appliance stores slashed prices on nationally advertised fixed-price merchandise.

Their action apparently was touched off by New York's price battle which raged through its sixth day, bringing reductions ranging to more than 50 per cent. The war started after the U. S. supreme court upset "fair trade" price-fixing.

'So Can We'
"If Macy's and Gimbel's can do it, so can we," read an advertisement in Atlanta, Ga.

Affected were housewares, drugs and cosmetics, watches, pens, lighters, television sets and other articles on which manufacturers had set "fair trade" prices for retailers to observe.

But most of the major department stores outside of New York still were holding the line on these prices. Even where price cuts were made, they usually did not include all of the fixed-price items.

In few cases were the cut prices elsewhere matching those posted in New York City's hotly-fought price war.

For example, Sunbeam mixers, price-fixed at $46.50, were reported offered in various cities Tuesday at $29.95 to $41.85. Last week they sold here at $26.59 until stocks were exhausted.

Widely Scattered
Price cuts on brand name merchandise were in effect Tuesday in such widely scattered centers as San Francisco; Newark; Denver; Omaha; Jackson, Miss.; Albuquerque; Harrisburg, Pa.; Akron; Oklahoma City and Atlanta.

Here are some of the reductions: Buolova, Longine and Longine-Wittnauer watches at 50 per cent off; Ronson lighters down to $3.94 from $6.60; Sheaffer pen and pencil sets to $19.75 from $30; Motorola television sets to $179.95 from $219.95; Eureka vacuum cleaner to $29.95 from $39.95; Johnson baby oil and powder to 29 cents from 49 cents.

The hectic pace of bargain hunting in the big New York stores abated slightly Tuesday, with many of the men's suits, mixers and toasters that were main targets last week no longer available. Stores reported alternate brands were readily bought, however, at comparable price cuts.

There was no indication when new stocks might be obtained to replace the sold-out articles.

The price war was assailed by some retail leaders. Among them was Benjamin H. Namm, chairman of a large Brooklyn store and past president of the National Retail Dry Goods association.

YMCA Offers Bargain Trip to Mexico

A Mexican's trip through Mexico for $210.

That is the bargain-plan summer tour being offered SUI students and faculty members this year by the SUI chapter of YMCA. Cecil Abramovitz, G. Toledo, O., director of the summer tour, said 16 students, faculty members or anyone associated with SUI will be accepted for the trip.

Abramovitz hastened to make one point clear, however. The $210 outlay of cash covers every aspect of the jaunt, including concerts, bullfights, theaters, shopping trips—and even dates for students who want them in Mexico.

The trip, an annual affair sponsored by the YMCA, is scheduled to start about Aug. 9 and end about Sept. 12. A similar trip is planned about July 1 for non-students and will not be sponsored by the YMCA. The group will travel by bus.

Abramovitz said the tour will include sights and travels the average American tourist never sees. The group will visit areas where primitive Indians still live in medieval settings. They will visit North America's newest volcano, Paracutin, which erupted through a farm field in 1948. It is now a 5,000 foot mound of volcanic ash and hot-flowing lava.

Abramovitz said members of the tour will talk to Mexican labor leaders and college professors and live in a Mexican home during their stay in Mexico City.

The purpose of the trip, Abramovitz said, is to promote better understanding between peoples of different backgrounds and to help college students supplement their academic work with direct contact in the area of world relatedness.

Car, Train Collision Kills Mother of Two

SCRANTON (AP) — A freight train and a car collided at a crossing here Tuesday, killing a woman and seriously injuring her two children.

Dead was Mrs. Albert Plum, about 35, of Scranton. Her children, George, about 9, and Charlotte, about 11, were hospitalized at Greene county hospital at Jefferson. They were reported in serious condition.

An eyewitness said Mrs. Plum waited until an eastbound freight train had passed and then started to drive her car across the double track. The car was struck by a westbound freight train on the other track.

The car was hurled about 50 feet by the impact but remained upright. Mrs. Plum was thrown clear of the car. The children remained inside.

MAN KILLED IN CRASH
RIVER SIOUX, IA., (AP) — Lum Nelson, 71, was killed Tuesday when he turned his car off highway 75 into the path of a Northwestern train. The accident was two miles north of River Sioux at a country-road crossing. He farmed near here.

FIESTA IN MEXICO is in the offing for 16 SUI students and faculty members this summer who take advantage of the vacation trip to Mexico offered by the SUI chapter of the YMCA. Total cost for the trip will be $210 including transportation, meals and entertainment. Above picture was taken two years ago when a group of SUI students were vacationing in Mexico.
