U.S. 'Cowards' Fought 10 to 1 Odds in Korea

WASHINGTON (AP) - A 2,800-man army regiment accused of cowardice in Korea beat off attacks by more than 20,000 Communists and lost 90 per cent of its officers before being overwhelmed by force of number, the army declared Wednesday.

It said the regiment's wounded officers kept on fighting and its wounded men continued firing at the Reds while sitting in trucks waiting for evacuation.

The army made public a report on the 31st regiment of the Seventh division, denying charges against it by Lt. Comdr. Otto E. Sporrer, a navy chaplain who served in Korea.

The navy disclosed Wednesday that Navy Secretary Francis P. Matthews has written Sporrer a letter, but would not disclose its contents. A spokesman said it would be up to the chaplain to make it public if he wishes. He is now stationed at the San Diego, Calif., naval hospital.

The letter was mailed Tuesday after the army made public a letter from Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, U.S. Far Eastern commander, assuring Sporrer of "slandering the reputation of many brave and honorable soldiers."

Ridgway said action by the defense department is "imperatively in order," though he did not specify what action he favors. He praised Sporrer's personal conduct and bravery while in Korea.

Sporrer, a native of Buffalo, N.Y., accused the regiment's officers and men of cowardice in the face of enemy fire. Referring to a Communist attack in the Chosin reservoir last Nov. 28, he said "in the face of the attack which was not overwhelming by any means, this unit was completely routed."

A summary of an investigation of his charges accompanied Ridgway's letter but was not released until Wednesday. It listed 18 allegations by the chaplain and denounced all of them.

It said the facts showed that the 31st regimental combat team had about 2,800 men, and beat off repeated thrusts by more than 20,000 Reds between Nov. 28 and Dec. 1 before overwhelmed.

Only 10 officers out of 100 were available for duty by Dec. 1," the report said. "The remainder had been killed in action or were missing in action."

Seven County Men Inducted in Army

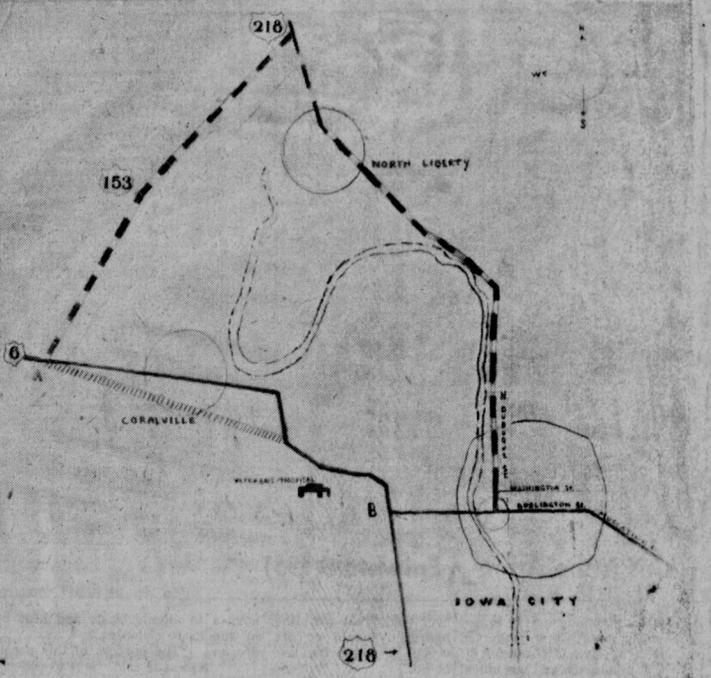

Seven Johnson county men and one from California will go to Des Moines today for induction into the army.

The men comprise the June quota of inductees for the county. Those scheduled for induction today include Karl J. Buchmayer, R.R. 7; James R. Beuter, R.R. 7; Richard E. Watkinson, 410 E. Davenport st.; Donald A. Latta, Riverside; Herbert W. Brant, Tiffin; Donald D. Winter, 818 S. Dubuque st.; and Eldon S. Westfall, Lone Tree.

Lex A. Bryan, 901 N. Dodge st., a transfer from a California board, will also be in the group. Draft board officials said the men would probably go to Fort Sheridan, Ill., for assignment.

Seven men will go to Des Moines Friday to take pre-induction physical examinations, the board announced. Five of the men are from Johnson county and two are transfers.

Detour Moves Traffic Like This

MAP SHOWING HIGHWAY 6 DETOUR as it passes through the heart of the Iowa City business district on Dubuque st. West-bound traffic entering Iowa City turns north on Dubuque st., marked in center of map with dotted line. Detour continues north on highway 218 to a point north of North Liberty where highway 218 junctions with highway 153. Traffic then proceeds south to where highway 153 junctions with highway 6. Broken line in lower left hand corner shows highway 6 as it will appear after the project is completed.

Beef Spokesmen Deny Strike Against Rollbacks

WASHINGTON (AP) - Beef industry spokesmen told a congressional committee Wednesday night they are not "on strike" against beef price rollbacks. They said they cannot buy beef animals at existing government ceilings.

A dozen of the industry's top spokesmen appeared before the senate-house defense production "watchdog" committee in an unusual night session.

Chairman Burnet Maybank (D-S.C.) said congress wanted to know if the industry was rebelling against price rollbacks by withholding livestock.

Roscoe C. Haynie, vice-president in charge of beef operations for the Wilson Packing company, said packers are unable to buy live cattle at government ceiling price levels.

Meanwhile, a new price program loomed for the clothing industry. Office of price stabilization (OPS) officials said it will not have much effect on the total family wardrobe budget - but prices on some garments would go up and prices on others would be rolled back.

In another controls development Wednesday night, Economic Stabilizer Eric Johnston said the Ford Motor company's suggestions for continued price-wage controls would "destroy stabilization."

Congressman Sentenced for 'Gift'

(AP Wirephoto)

LEAVING FEDERAL DISTRICT COURT Wednesday, after receiving a suspended jail sentence of five to 15 months and a fine of $5,000 for illegally accepting $1,000 in campaign gifts, was Rep. Walter E. Brehm (R-Ohio) who is now serving his fifth term in congress. The congressman, accompanied by Mrs. Brehm, heard the sentence pronounced by Judge Burnita S. Matthews, before whom he was convicted by a jury on April 30.

To Get Drugs - Boys Carry Thugs' Guns

NEW YORK (AP) - Teen-aged schoolboys too young yet to have a man's full voice told state narcotics investigators Wednesday that they were forced to carry gangsters' guns for them and start gambling combines to satisfy their yearning for drugs.

Speaking in the squeaky tenor voices of immaturity, the boys said that they took doses of cocaine under the eyes of the school teachers and sneaked into school boiler rooms and washrooms to inject themselves with heroin.

Testifying by recording rather than in person in order to remain anonymous at a state investigation of the illegal drug traffic, the boys said some schoolmates sold $300 to $400 worth of narcotics a day and others worked in league with underworld figures or took bets on horses to get the money to buy the drugs.

A 16-year-old junior high school student using heroin in his classroom said he had to do "favors" for the man who supplied him with the drug.

"If we were sitting in a show," he explained, "if we see a man behind, you know, like a detective, the man would give me the gun and I would pass it to another guy."

On the second day of the investigation into use of narcotics by an estimated 5,000 New York youths, the stories told in a tough dead-end dialect by the boys followed this sordid pattern: "My friends gave me a reefer at a dance. Later I sniffed cocaine and then started injecting heroin. I didn't know it was such bad stuff."

Jury Still Out In Shebetka Trial

A Johnson county district jury was still deliberating at midnight Wednesday in the trial of Martin Shebetka, Oxford, charged with operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated.

The jury received the case about 4 p.m. Wednesday after final arguments by state and defense earlier in the afternoon.

Shebetka was twice-indicted by a Johnson county grand jury for OMVI last September.

Signs of a Break Appear in Strike

GRAND RAPIDS, MINN. (AP) - Signs of a break appeared Wednesday night in the strike of some 1,200 miners against the Cleveland Cliffs Iron Mining Co.

The "break" came in the form of an agreement signed today between the Oliver Iron Mining Corp. and officials of the CIO United Steel Workers of America.

May Increase Parking Ban On Dubuque

Iowa City Police Chief Ed J. Ruppert said Wednesday the no parking rule now in effect on Dubuque st. from Burlington st. to Iowa ave. may be extended along Dubuque st. to Park bridge.

Ruppert said the move may be necessary to avert a traffic bottleneck at the intersection of Iowa ave. and Dubuque st.

Ruppert pointed out that the parking restriction now ends at Iowa ave. and cars traveling north in two lanes at that point must return to one-lane traffic.

"The whole process has worked out fine so far," Ruppert added. "We had only a few minor traffic tie-ups all day Wednesday."

"The gas transport trucks are traveling on Dubuque st. much better now. I'm sure the truckers are all in favor of the plan."

Police reported they had not issued any parking tickets to persons attempting to park along the restricted zone Wednesday.

Meanwhile, highway commission officials reported that motorists using highway 6 were moving over the 14-mile detour with little difficulty.

Wedemeyer Urges Bombing Russian-Chinese Railroad, Even At Calculated War Risk

Negro Dies 1st of Race to Win Medal of Honor

WASHINGTON (AP) - A Negro soldier in Korea who ignored an order to retreat and fought a heroic delaying action which cost him his life has won the medal of honor.

The nation's highest prize for bravery has been awarded posthumously to Pfc. William Thompson, 22, formerly of New York city. He is the first man of his race to win the medal since the Spanish-American war.

He was killed last Aug. 6 when he disobeyed an order to withdraw and, though repeatedly wounded, fought single-handedly against the Reds while his comrades made their way to safety.

U.S., Great Britain Agree on Jap Treaty

LONDON (AP) - Great Britain and the United States have reached agreement on the draft of a peace treaty for Japan, official sources disclosed Wednesday night.

The agreed-upon draft treaty will be carried to Washington by Ambassador John Foster Dulles, President Truman's special representative when he leaves today, the informants said.

Dulles returned to London Wednesday for final talks on the treaty after conferring with the French government in Paris.

Officials stressed that the "agreed draft" would not represent the final terms for a Japanese peace treaty. They said that both Dulles and the British officials have yet to face their toughest assignments.

U.S. Blockade Of China Coast Also Advised

WASHINGTON (AP) - Lt. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer urged Wednesday that the United States bomb the Russo-Chinese railroad in Manchuria even at the "calculated risk" of igniting World War III.

The railroad, jointly controlled by Russia and Red China, is used to funnel supplies to the Chinese Communist armies fighting in Korea.

American and Allied planes are now forbidden to bomb targets north of the Yalu river frontier between Korea and Manchuria.

Testifying for the third straight day at the senate's MacArthur inquiry, Wedemeyer said bombing the Manchurian railroad "might result" in war with Russia, but he declared:

"It is a calculated risk that personally I would recommend we accept."

Wedemeyer also said he disagrees with earlier testimony by Admiral Forrest P. Sherman, chief of naval operations, that a U.S. naval blockade of Russian-controlled ports in Manchuria would be "an act of war."

Sherman had said he favors a United Nations blockade of Red China but opposes the U.S. undertaking it alone.

Wedemeyer has come out for a naval blockade of Red China and the shelling of Chinese coastal cities - by U.S. warships alone if necessary.

The three-star general, an expert on China, gave his views to the senate armed services and foreign relations committees in their joint inquiry into the dismissal of General Douglas MacArthur as Far East commander.

MacArthur was ousted because he publicly disagreed with the administration by advocating direct blows against Red China.

Wedemeyer finished his testimony at noon. Former Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson is expected to take the witness chair today, the ninth witness in the hearings on Far East policy.

Before leaving the witness chair, Wedemeyer submitted a formal outline of what he termed "my strategic concept."

Among other things, he proposed the creation of a new federal agency to devise "global plans and actions inherent in world leadership."

He said the group should keep congress and the American people informed and should have "full supervisory responsibilities for American global plans."

As members, Wedemeyer suggested calling in recognized authorities in political science, economics, history, geopolitics, international law, sociology, physical science, military science, management, labor, finance, communication and other fields.

Once again, Wedemeyer contended there should be "no restrictions" to tie the hands of the U.S. field commander in Korea by remote control from Washington.

He had previously called for an all-out effort to achieve a "decisive" victory in Korea - without bogging down in the "bottomless pit" of a long struggle - or for the withdrawal of American troops from the battle.

Wednesday he told the senators: "We are planted on the ground (in Korea) with about 250,000 or 300,000 fine American boys. And it is going to be difficult to get out of that place. And maybe those boys will be sorely needed elsewhere in the future."

Expect to Name City Manager Next Week

Mayor William J. Holland said Wednesday the city council may choose a city manager sometime next week.

Holland said the council has narrowed the list of candidates from 33 to four. He estimated that it would be at least 30 days after the manager is named before he can be expected to take office.

Council members have indicated that they expect to pay the manager a salary of between $7,500 and $9,000.

Allies Mop Up Communist 'Iron Triangle'

TOKYO (THURSDAY) (AP) - The Chinese were reported today to be abandoning Pyongyang, last fortress of the shredded iron triangle, in a Communist general withdrawal all across Korea.

Two Allied task forces were driving on Pyongyang from Chorwon and Kumhwa with little or no opposition, the U.S. Eighth army reported.

Korean reports indicated that an Allied patrol might already have entered Pyongyang, and its fall could be announced at any time. Capture of the ruined town at the top of the iron triangle would give the Allies a springboard to the main highway to Wonsan, 50 miles to the north.

The strategic transport center lies 12 miles northeast of Chorwon, the same distance northwest of Kumhwa, and 29 miles above the 38th parallel.

All front reports and an Eighth army communique indicated that the dazed Reds were backpedaling northward in a general withdrawal on a front of some 100 miles angling between the Imjin river in the west to Kansong on the east coast.

The heaviest action of skimpy rear guard brushes was northeast of Kumhwa. There an Allied armored force was pushing up a mountain road toward Kumsong, 12 miles northeast of the eastern apex of the once impregnable triangle.

An Eighth army report said the United Nations column tangled along the road with Chinese who put up moderate resistance from entrenchments looking down on the highway.

But the task forces probing northeast of Chorwon and northwest of Kumhwa across the flat plain leading to Pyongyang were "encountering little or no enemy resistance," a communique said.

The Pyongyang airstrip, built up by the Reds, was wrecked, Korean dispatches said. Dive bombing Thunderjets knocked out runways and 12 buildings in a single attack.

In the area of Sudong, 18 miles east of Kumhwa and 14 miles north of the Hwachon reservoir, Shooting Star jets caught a Communist column winding along a narrow train through 1,500-foot mountains. The column was camouflaged with green boughs.

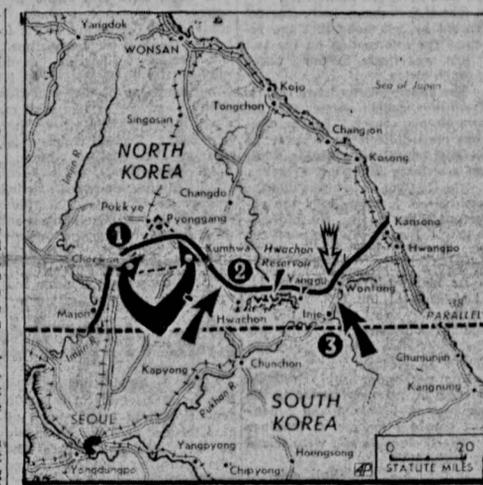

Weird Night Noise Arouses Citizens

Iowa City residents living near the Veteran's hospital got all "steamed up" about a noise Wednesday night.

Local police received several calls from anxious residents about 9:45 p.m. inquiring about a hissing noise coming from the hospital.

Police who investigated the call found a column of steam approximately 40-feet high rushing out of a ground floor window in a noisy geyser.

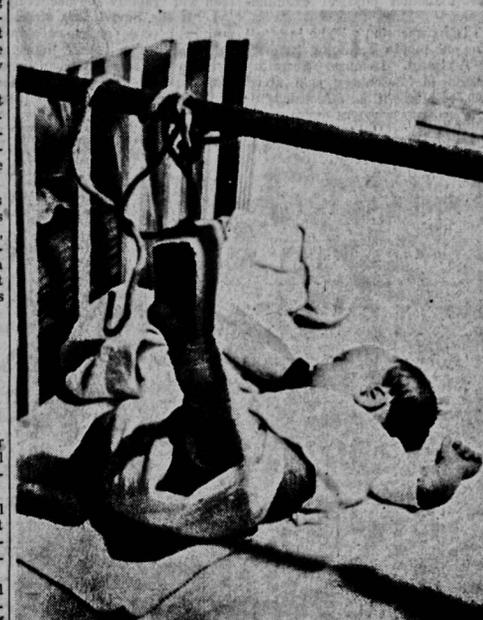

Investigation revealed that representatives of the Erie Boiler company, Erie, Pa., were letting the steam out of a valve during a test of boiler capacity in one of the hospital boilers.

Weak Opposition to Allied Thrusts

LITTLE OR NO OPPOSITION was felt Wednesday, as Allied columns drove toward Pyongyang. Black arrows indicate twin thrusts toward Pyongyang (1), northern tip of Reds' shattered "iron triangle." One drove northwest of Kumhwa, other plunged northeast of Chorwon. While not opposing push on Pyongyang, Reds were moderately active just north and east of Kumhwa itself. Black line indicates approximate fighting front. U. S. Eighth army troops cracked last strong defense north and northwest of Hwachon (2). Allied force northeast of Inje (3) gained 3,000 yards, but one objective it had seized was lost in a small but furious Red counter-attack (open arrow).

Eniwetok Blasts Contributed To Hydrogen Bomb

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government announced Tuesday that its recent Eniwetok atomic tests "contributed all the way across the boards" to development of the hydrogen super bomb and specialized atomic weapons for use against both field armies and cities.

Defense and atomic energy officials also disclosed that the April-May test blasts at the Pacific proving grounds provided valuable information for civil defense against atom attack and for development of an atom-age military machine.

They reported that pilotless planes were flown by the blasts to discover what atom bursts would do to them as a basis for developing new plane designs.

Sherman tanks and military clothing also were exposed to the blasts—a hint that the government thinks it may get closer to the day when atomic weapons are used in combat operations.

Results of the tests were explained in carefully-guarded language by officials at a specially-called news conference.

Among other things, the officials revealed:

1. That modern A-bombs are "several times more powerful" than the Hiroshima or Nagasaki models and even better designs are ready for development.

2. Such rapid progress is being made in atom weapons development that tests must be held more frequently. Chairman Gordon Dean of the atomic energy commission said it is being "definitely considered" whether to let newspaper reporters watch one of the tests.

3. There were a number of test explosions of a variety of atomic weapons, most or all of them from fixed towers.

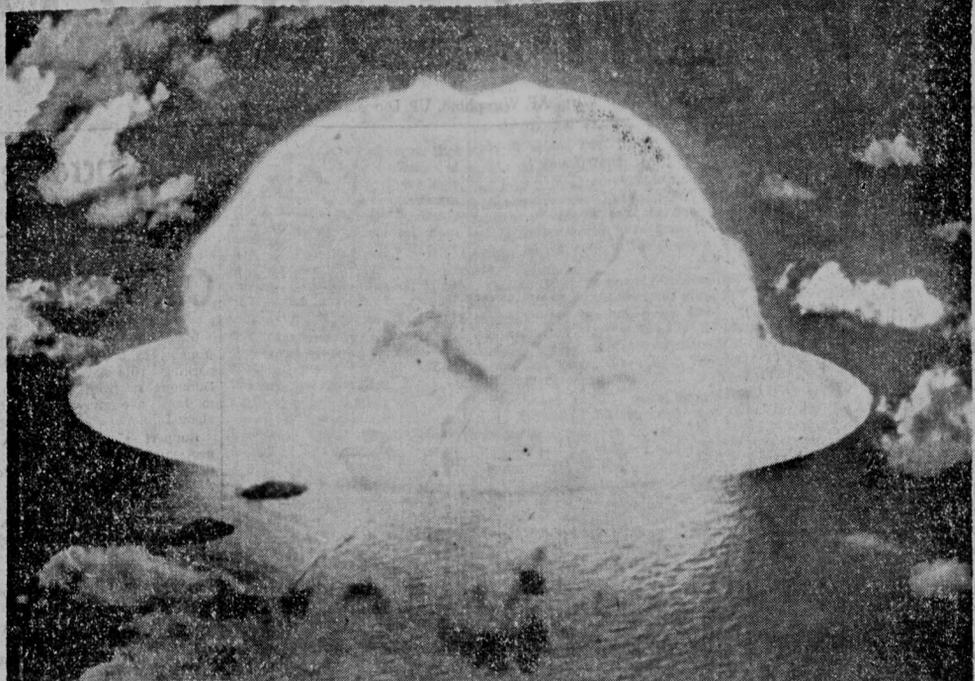

4. The tests contributed to information and understanding of the "basic phenomena" underlying the H-bomb, but no H-bombs of any kind — not even "baby bombs" — were exploded.

5. Dogs, mice and swine were subjected to the test blasts to study effects of atomic blasts for use in treating human victims.

6. Fears of lingering deadly radioactivity in the vicinity of a bomb burst can be dispelled "forever," and rescue squads can move into any area where there are living persons immediately after an atom bomb explosion.

All the officials, from atomic energy commission experts to their defense department collaborators, stressed that all the experiments were a "complete success" and uncovered a vast store of new atomic information.

But they were mum on most

details, even in the response to questions, possibly because of the presence of a Tass Soviet news agency correspondent.

They were particularly cautious about questions of whether warheads for missiles or atomic artillery shells were tested. But Dean has said the commission is developing atomic warheads for guided missiles and artillery. Congressional sources have said at least two warheads of different dimensions were exploded at Eniwetok.

While heavy security precautions were taken to keep possible enemy ships or planes from observing the tests, Dean said the blinding flash was seen at Kwajalein 375 miles away from Eniwetok. Therefore, he said, it "could have been seen" aboard ships outside the 200-square-mile security area.

The officials also said the tests measured blast effects on various types of buildings, both military and civilian, the nature of the atomic cloud that rises from a blast and new instruments for measuring radioactivity.

The progress report was given by Dean; Lt. Gen. Elwood R.

Quesada, commander of the armed forces task force which conducted the tests; Dr. Alvin C. Graves, AEC scientist who was technical director of the tests, and other atomic and military officials.

They disclosed the tests proved that the A-bomb is more powerful and versatile than ever and that "the mysterious ghost of lingering radiation should be dispelled."

Quesada and others emphasized that atomic air blasts, despite their deadly blast and heat, do not leave a target area poisoned with radioactivity that would delay prompt rescue operations.

The officials withheld specific information about the tests, refusing even to say how many test explosions there were.

But Dean made it clear that no H-bombs of any size or nature were detonated. Nor would the officials state directly that atomic warheads for guided missiles or artillery were among the weapons proved at Eniwetok.

But Dean noted that there was a series of shots and we didn't test the same weapon twice." Dean noted that no official has ever said "that we either have a hydrogen bomb, or are on the verge of producing a hydrogen bomb."

But he went on to say that "we are not disappointed" by the results.

Quesada said the tests proved that:

1. The country has an "effective" scientific-military team of the kind "essential in modern war."

2. Strides have been made in "weapons, design and research" which "will make further progress possible."

3. Civil defense and military tactics will gain from information obtained on the effects of atomic weapons on shelters and buildings of all kinds, airplanes, tanks and other military equipment.

Quesada disclosed that pilotless jet fighters were used at Eniwetok for the first time in history. Drone "Shooting Stars" and drone Flying Fortresses were flown by remote control close to the atomic bursts to find out what such blasts do to aircraft.

Piloted Superjets and a manned B-47 Stratojet also were exposed to atomic blasts and heat but at "safe distances."

"The purpose of this program," Quesada said, "was to collect data useful in developing tactics of operations in establishing design criteria for new combat aircraft."

Three of the jet drones and one drone B-17 were lost but their televised data about what the blast did to them had been relayed to scientists before the planes crashed.

Nearly 9,000 men of the AEC and the three armed services participated in the tests. Naval and air patrols were maintained to make sure that no enemy tried to find out what was going on at the little atoll 4,500 miles west of San Francisco.

Officials reported that there were no enemy attempts to penetrate into the 200-mile-square security area.

CUT TIN PRICE
WASHINGTON (AP) — The reconstruction finance corporation reduced the government's selling price of tin Wednesday by six cents a pound to $1.23.

Reds Kill Iran Guard; Iran Oil Crisis Increased

TEHRAN, IRAN (AP) — Another Soviet border incident — the killing of an Iranian soldier — broke into the Near-East oil crisis Wednesday.

An authoritative government source said "Russians 'shot the frontier guard. The Russians declared he had strayed on the Soviet side of the border east of the Caspian sea. An Iranian military mission was sent to investigate."

West of the Caspian, a Russian commander was reported last week to have demanded stoppage of work on a dam on the ground it was altering the frontier. The Iranians rejected the demand.

A high Iranian military source said recently an unprecedented concentration of Soviet tank, infantry and air forces was engaged in maneuvers on both sides of the Caspian. Foreign informants here said their intelligence sources had not confirmed the report.

Although the border shooting was one of a number of similar incidents in recent years, it emphasized the potential danger of Iran's crisis with Britain over oil nationalization.

British Ambassador Sir Francis Shepherd disclosed to newsmen Wednesday he had protested to Premier Mohammed Mossadeq last Saturday that violent radio attacks might stir up dangerous anti-foreign feeling at the British-owned Anglo-Iranian Oil company refinery at Abadan.

Shepherd said the incendiary radio attacks had not stopped.

B.R. Jackson, chief of an oil company negotiating committee, called on Mossadeq Wednesday. Negotiations are to start today or Saturday.

Committee Delays Bird Legislation

WASHINGTON (AP) — The senate commerce committee Wednesday postponed indefinitely action on legislation which would increase funds for the fish and wildlife service for enforcing the migratory bird acts.

At present, 10 per cent of the receipts from migratory bird hunting stamps can be used for enforcement activities. The other 90 per cent is allotted to acquisition, development and maintenance of refuges, water fowl investigation and other similar purposes.

The bill would increase the enforcement fund from 10 to 25 per cent of the revenue.

House Committee OK's 7.5 Billion Tax Hike

WASHINGTON (UP) — House tax writers gave final approval Wednesday to the biggest tax increase in American history to help put the rearmament program on a pay-as-we-go basis.

The record $7.5 billion measure would raise personal income taxes 12 1/2 per cent and sharply increase levies on business profits and many consumer items such as liquor, cigars, automobiles and gasoline.

It would jolt gamblers with a $50 annual occupational tax and a 10 per cent tariff on all the bets they take.

And it would remove a few items from the tax list, including baby lotions and powders and consumer electric light bills.

The house ways and means committee, which completed work on the huge bill Wednesday, will send the measure to the house today where it may come up for action next week.

The total is considerably less than the $10 billion hike asked by President Truman, and there may be efforts in the senate to bring the measure closer to the administration request.

Chairman Walter F. George (D-Ga.) of the senate finance committee estimates it will be Sept. 1 at least before congress can complete work on the bill and send it to the President for signature.

The 12 1/2 per cent increase in individual income taxes would raise an estimated $2.85 billion in new revenue. To figure the new rate under this proposal, the taxpayer takes 12 1/2 per cent of his present annual tax bill and adds that amount to the present tax cost. Under the house committee bill, this would become effective Sept. 1.

Corporation taxes would be raised an estimated $2 billion, plus another $732 million in excess profits taxes. The remainder would be raised largely through bigger excise taxes on the manufacture and retail sale of a number of products.

In its final action Wednesday, the house committee confirmed its tentative decision to raise the auto excise tax from 7 to 10 per cent and the federal gasoline tax from 1 1/2 to 2 cents a gallon, also its plan to boost the excess profits tax on corporations.

Reversed its previous decision to put a new 10 per cent tax on safety razors and blades, and a new 20 per cent tax on cigars and cigar holders and pipes.

Affirmed its prior vote to reduce the tax on domestic telegraph, radio and cable dispatches from 25 to 20 per cent.

Decided to abolish all taxes on electric light bills.

Pilots of Two Jets Believed Prisoners In Czechoslovakia

WIESBADEN, GERMANY (AP) — U.S. officials Wednesday asked the Czechoslovakian government for information on the pilots of two American jet fighters believed to be held by Czech authorities.

The U.S. embassy in Prague reported by telephone that the request for information on the two pilots was made to the Czech foreign office.

The action followed two reports from independent sources that the two German-based F-84 Thunderjets crash-landed on or near an airfield in Czechoslovakia while on a training flight last Friday.

The Czech foreign office told the embassy it is "checking" the reports and the requests for information on the whereabouts of the planes and pilots, an embassy spokesman said.

He identified the pilots as Lt. G. Roland of the U.S. air force in Germany and Lt. Bjorn Johansen of the Norwegian air force, attached for duty with the American forces in Germany.

The spokesman said reliable sources in Prague reported to the embassy that Roland and Johansen survived emergency landings in Czechoslovakia and were seized by authorities.

In Oslo, Col. Odd Bull, chief of staff of the Norwegian air force, said he received confirmation that Johansen crash-landed in Czechoslovakia. He would give no further details.

Defense Department Lifts Ban on Choosing Service

WASHINGTON (AP) — The defense department Wednesday acted to speed the flow of volunteers into the nation's fighting forces.

The department announced it is temporarily lifting the ban preventing men from joining the service of their choice after they have taken or been notified to take pre-induction physical examinations.

The suspension will be in effect for one month beginning June 15, Assistant Defense Secretary Anna M. Rosenberg said about 300,000 men will be affected.

Mac Flays Administration in Texas Speech

AUSTIN, TEXAS (AP) — Gen. Douglas MacArthur, in a fighting denunciation of the Truman administration, declared Wednesday the "real warmongers" are "they who refuse to end the Korean war."

Addressing approximately 25,000 persons gathered on the statehouse grounds for his appearance before a special joint session of the Texas legislature, the "old soldier" unlimbered his most eloquent prose for the attack, with these sharp jabs:

1. "Truth has ceased to be the keystone to the arch of our national conscience and propaganda has replaced it as the rally media for public support."

2. The surest way to insure World War III is to allow the Korean conflict to continue "indecisively and indefinitely."

3. The only way to prevent World War III is to end the Korean war "rapidly and decisively."

4. "If the Soviet does strike it will be because of the weakness we now display rather than the strength we of right should display, and the Russians have been engaging in 'the greatest bulldozing diplomacy history has ever recorded."

5. "The defenders of the existing policy vacuum" are the same persons "who suddenly and without slightest preparation or seeming consideration of the military and political potentialities threw us into the conflict" in Korea.

6. The cost of government has become so great and the burden of taxation so heavy that the American system of free enterprise is in peril, and "there are those who call piously for unity even while doing so much to prevent unity."

He received thunderous ovations for his attack on the Truman administration and was interrupted 28 times for applause.

"Corruption and rumors of corruption have shaken the people's trust in the integrity of those administering the civil power," MacArthur said.

"Government has assumed progressively the arrogant mantle of oligarchic power as the great moral and ethical principles upon which our nation grew strong have been disregarded or remoulded to serve narrow political purposes."

He left the attack long enough to defend himself against charges by his critics in the administration who "claim I favor war, or that I seek war's expansion."

MacArthur recalled his testimony on war, given in Washington to the committee investigating his removal from his Far Eastern commands, that war was "a form of mutual suicide" and modern society should outlaw it.

"From those who so bitterly assail me there has been no word of response — only cynical silence — only the hypocrisy of pretense — only the constant flow of slanted propaganda," he said.

"They are the real warmongers — they who refuse to end the Korean war — they who advocate 'wait and see' while American blood — not dust as they would have it — settles in growing pools around the 38th parallel."

Two Buildings Destroyed In Fire at Moulton

MOULTON (AP) — Fire of undetermined origin caused an estimated $75,000 damage here early Wednesday as it destroyed two buildings. Centerville firemen joined in the four hour fight. The Odd Fellows hall and a Masonic temple were destroyed.

Government Drops Income Tax Charges Against Mrs. Cohen

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Income tax evasion charges against Micky Cohen's wife, Lavonne, were dismissed Wednesday by Federal Judge Ben Harrison on the motion of government attorneys.

The red-haired Mrs. Cohen had been charged with three counts of evading payment of income taxes because she signed joint returns with the little gambler from 1946 to 1949, when Cohen is charged with failure to pay $156,000 in taxes.

U.S. Atty. Ernest A. Tolin told the judge, "the government's case has not developed as well as expected against Mrs. Cohen and does not merit continuation of the prosecution."

At the same time the prosecutor asked Judge Harrison to drop two counts against Cohen that he "aided and abetted" his wife in evading tax payments. The judge agreed.

Cohen still faces three counts of income tax evasion and one of making a false statement to the internal revenue bureau.

The motions were made and granted after Dr. Maurice Siegel, Beverly Hills physician and brother of the late gangster Benjamin (Bugsy) Siegel, testified.

Congress Reaction To MacArthur Talk 'Down Party Lines'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional reaction to Gen. Douglas MacArthur's speech went almost straight down party lines Wednesday night, with some Democratic lawmakers seeing it as proof of his presidential aspirations.

House Democratic Leader Joseph W. McCormack, Mass., said the Texas talk was "political in nature" and "clearly indicates MacArthur now is in the political arena."

"It is difficult to escape the viewpoint that—even if he does not intend it—he is the leading Republican candidate for the 1952 presidential nomination," McCormack said.

Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-N.J.), influential member of the foreign relations committee, said the general's attack on those allegedly branding him a warmonger "is wholly justified, fair and proper."

"The administration's 'kill Communists' policy is not enough" to end the Korean war, he added, "because even at the rate of 10,000 Communists killed to one American boy, it is too costly."

"Surprise" was registered by Sen. John J. Sparkman (D-Ala.) at MacArthur's criticism of the Korean fight. He recalled ground troops first were sent there on the former Far Eastern commander's recommendation and that MacArthur lauded the decision to fight in his August message to the veterans of foreign wars.

Rep. Leslie C. Arends, of Illinois, second-ranking Republican on the house armed services committee, said the speech would help "clarify the whole international question of where we are, where we are going, and how we are to achieve our objectives." He saw no political overtones in it.

"I am glad Gen. MacArthur as an American citizen and not as a politician is going to the people with his story," he said.

But Sen. Theodore F. Green (D-R.I.), disagreed. He said MacArthur "looks as though he'd like to be" a presidential nominee. He quipped that it was not a "very good example of fading away." He reminded newsmen of Lt. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer's

White Satin Department — Brides Told: Choose 'Fragrance Trousseau'

The bride-to-be's former slapdash application of the nearest cologne is hardly the best way of playing to her very discriminating audience of one, the husband.

When she of the bristling bobby pins and cream smeared face begins thinking of rustling housecoats and lace trimmed robes, it's high time she plans her "fragrance trousseau," Helen E. Murphy, editor of The Bride's magazine, has suggested.

Use One Fragrance

The bride's whole "fragrance trousseau" — from the perfume itself, through cologne, sachets for trousseau clothes and for use in her new home should be all in the one fragrance of her choice, Miss Murphy said. Then she will move in a constant aura of scent that becomes identified with her in the mind of her bridegroom.

Some brides need to know the difference between cologne and perfume — that cologne has a foundation effect; perfume, an accent. The latter, like lipstick, needs constant renewing, the editor said.

Use Purse Containers

She suggested using the new purse containers, or the stick perfume that survives the rigors of travel.

Finally, the bride-to-be will need sachets to carry out her personal fragrance in lingerie drawers and linen closets. Miss Murphy suggested she put a sachet on the hanger of her wedding dress, or a little tuft of cotton soaked in perfume in the dress box to assure that final touch of glamour.

Perfumes also make lovely gifts, she said, especially those with such commemorative names as White Satin and Gold Satin.

Ann Marie Krepelka Weds David Dunlop In Church at Osage

Miss Ann Marie Krepelka, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. George Krepelka of Osage, became the bride of David Allan Dunlop, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth M. Dunlop of Iowa City at 3 p.m. Monday in the Methodist church at Osage.

The Rev. M.E. Dorr officiated at the double-ring service. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white satin with a fitted bodice and long pointed sleeves of Chantilly lace, and a nylon illusion yoke edged with seed pearls.

The full skirt with cathedral train was edged with Chantilly lace and her fingertip veil was attached to a pearl-trimmed satin headdress. She carried white roses and gardenias.

Wears Pastel Orchid

Mrs. James Peterson of Osage was matron of honor. She wore a pastel orchid dress of Chantilly lace and net over taffeta and matching mitts. She carried a colonial bouquet of white and orchid carnations.

Miss Darlene Heman and Miss Elaine Heiden of Osage were bridesmaids. They wore gowns of pastel green, identical to the matron of honor's. They carried white and green carnations.

Allan Wendler of Iowa City was best man. James Peterson and Darrell Davidson of Osage were groomsmen, and Luverne Klar, Osage, and Sherman Markman, Des Moines, were ushers.

Hold Reception for 160

A reception for 160 guests was held in the church parlors following the ceremony. Hostesses and those assisting were: Mrs. M.O. Hanzlik, Cedar Rapids, and Misses Joyce Horton, Nancy Rae Peterson, Audrey Anderson, Marilyn Clark, Janice McCoy, Joan Davidson, Barbara Birum and Ruth Sponheim, all of Osage.

Others assisting were Misses Marilyn Bates, Des Moines, and Diane, Joan and Jane Dunlop of Iowa City.

The bride is a graduate of Osage high school and SUI, having received her B.A. degree Friday. Her husband is a graduate of Iowa City high school. He will be a senior at SUI.

Following a short wedding trip to Minnesota, the couple will reside at Riverview apartments after June 18.

Louis-Savold Slated for Tonight After Rain Washes Out Bout

NEW YORK (AP) — Rain caused postponement of the Joe Louis-Lee Savold "battle of the aged" until tonight at the Polo Grounds after both heavyweights weighed in.

The weatherman had an optimistic "clearing this afternoon" forecast despite the showers that dampened midtown streets and washed out a ball game this dreary Wednesday.

What effect the 24-hour postponement will have on the gate is a guess. The International Boxing club still hopes a last minute rush will put the fight over. It's reported over $25,000 is in the till. Maybe they'll do $75,000 with a sunny break, and no radio or home television. Only TV will be on a closed circuit to theaters in six cities.

As for the fighters, the only thing certain is each will be one day older. When you're 37, like Louis, or 35, like Savold, that's no gag—especially with 15 rounds to go.

The odds favoring Louis still hold at 3 to 1 or close to it and about even money on a Louis knockout.

Louis came in a bit heavier than expected at 211½. Savold weighed just 190.

As soon as the delay was announced Louis and his retinue drove back to their Pompton Lakes, N. J. camp. The Bomber was to loosen up with light exercise.

Savold left his hotel to work out at Stillman's gym in New York. Then he went back to his hotel to rest.

Brown's President Again Denies Sale Of Club to Veeck

NEW YORK (AP) — Bill DeWitt, president of the St. Louis Browns, declared Wednesday night that "no deal has been completed for sale of our stock in the Browns."

He referred to the stock held by himself and his brother, Charles, vice-president of the Browns.

President DeWitt declined specific comment on reports that Cleveland Veeck, former owner of the Cleveland Indians, is negotiating for purchase of the American League baseball club.

"We are not being forced to sell or negotiate or being forced to talk to anybody because of any debts and we did not borrow $600,000 recently from a bank," he said.

"There is no stipulation in our loan agreement with the American League that requires us to consult anybody if we wish to sell."

Commenting on a story by Joe L. Reichler of the Associated Press that negotiations for sale of the Browns to Veeck have been completed, DeWitt declared:

"The statement that the Browns may not sell any of their top stars to a rival club without the consent of the American League is absolutely false. There is no such agreement between either the Browns or the DeWitts and the American League or any other person or organization. This can be confirmed by President Will Harridge of the American League. "The charge in Joe Reichler's story that the Browns are 'debt-ridden' is entirely false."

Dodgers Dump Cards Again, 7-4

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Duke Snider's fourteenth homer of the year with two mates on base boosted the Brooklyn Dodgers in front and they went on to take a 7-4 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals Wednesday night. Del Rice had a three-run homer for St. Louis.

Snider's blow came in the fifth, immediately after Rice had tied the count, 3-3, with his fourth frame four-bagger.

Cal Abrams, pinchhitting for starter Joe Hatton, opened the fifth with a walk. After Gene Hermanski lined out, Peeewe Reese singled. Then Snider took over.

In the fourth a triple by Enos Slaughter and walk to Billy Johnson preceded Rice's hit.

The Dodgers took the lead first in the second inning on a walk to Jackie Robinson, single by Gil Hodges, and grounder by Carl Furillo, scoring Robinson from third. Roy Campanella followed with a double, bringing Hodges home and Campanella also counted when Everett Bridges singled to center.

The resolution will come up for vote by the entire NCAA membership at its annual meeting in January.

Hogan, Locke Favored As Open Starts Today

BIRMINGHAM, MICH. (AP) — Defending champion Ben Hogan and South Africa's Bobby Locke shared the favorite roles Wednesday on the eve of the 51st U. S. Open golf championship, but Hogan had other ideas.

"Sam Snead should win this tournament by a mile," the normally taciturn Texan said in a locker room gabfest while a stabbing rain outside drenched the big green monster known as Oakland Hills.

"Sam has the long driving game adapted to this course and he ought to take it," Hogan added.

Snead never has won an Open although he has played in 11 and four times seemed to have had the big prize in his grasp. Hogan is seeking to repeat his win of last year.

Hogan's unusual talkativeness overshadowed other developments at the exclusive Michigan club where the 72-hole championship shoves off at 7 a. m. (Iowa time) today.

The U. S. Golf association announced that $4,000 instead of $2,000 would go to the victor. In raising the total purse from $12,000 to $15,000 in anticipation of a record crowd, the golf fathers decided to give the runnerup $2,000 and the third place winner $1,500, each a raise of $500 over original plans.

Activities were slowed by the heavy morning rain and most of the elite of the game spent the day in the clubhouse pondering the popular question:

Will it be Hogan, Locke or a guy named Joe?

When the field of 162 sets forth on the first round, most of the attention will be focused on Hogan seeking his third open title in four years and Locke, the British Open king.

But the grotesque rearrangement of the 6,927-yard, par 70 course—with its hour-glass fairways aimed at penalizing the long hitter and its knee-deep rough—has provoked speculation that this may be the year for a 100-1 outsider such as Sam Parks Jr., in 1935.

The field of 162, including 28 amateurs and 11 past champions, will get off on the 72-hole route. After the first two rounds, the field will be cut to the low 50 and ties for Saturday's grueling 36-hole windup.

Penn Given OK For Rowing Meet

MARIETTA, OHIO (AP) — The University of Pennsylvania, black-listed by the NCAA for its decision to televise all its home football games next fall, won approval from the Intercollegiate Rowing association Wednesday to compete against other NCAA-approved colleges in the 49th IRA Fegetta Saturday.

City High Loses

A three run third inning gave Fort Madison a 4-2 victory over City high Wednesday night at the City high field. The loss was charged to Eddie Morgan, his first against two wins. Morgan went all the way and struck out 13 batters. In a five inning preliminary game, the Fort Madison Reserves topped City high reserves, 1-0.

Cattle Stream to Market As Shortage Probe Starts

CHICAGO (AP) — Another good batch of cattle streamed to midwest livestock markets Wednesday starting more scarce steaks, roasts and hamburger on the way to American dinner tables.

For the second day in a row, receipts of cattle at the nation's 12 principal markets were on a par with a year ago.

The sudden spurt of cattle shipments comes too late to avert a beef shortage threatening in many cities this week. But they will at least ease the beef scarcity industry and government spokesmen predicted for later this month.

Farmers and cattle feeders sent 33,200 cattle to market Wednesday. This is a 50 per cent jump over the 22,026 shipped a week ago and nearly matches the 34,138 received a year ago. So far this week, cattle receipts are 103,300 compared with 92,310 a week ago and 137,757 a year ago.

Because of the slump in cattle marketing in early June, several days of heavy receipts would be necessary to wipe out the shortage. Michael V. Di Salle, price director, has cautioned that the situation will not clear up overnight.

The increased receipts came as congress, office of price stabilization officials, cattle feeders and packing executives moved to thresh out the question of shortages and future beef supplies.

Di Salle has arranged to meet today at the Chicago stockyards with midwest cattle feeders.

In Washington, OPS sources disclosed they are investigating some beef black market cases involving "some pretty big people" in the meat industry.

Experts to Confer at SUI

National Educators to Speak at Annual Conference On Child Development and Parent Education

The Iowa conference on child development and parent education, to be held June 19-20, at SUI, has served as the state's focal point of discussion on problems of child welfare since 1927.

It was in that year that a strong need was felt throughout Iowa for a forum where the needs of children and parents alike might be aired and jointly discussed.

Since that first conference 24 years ago, parents, representatives of groups working with children, and other interested individuals have gathered annually to hear experts in the fields of personality development and parent-child relationships.

The 1951 conference, centering around the general theme of wholesome personality development, will bring forth much of the information made possible by the Midcentury White House conference on children and youth held in Washington, D. C., late last year.

Guest speakers for this year's conference include:

Helen Ross, administrative director of the Institute for Psychoanalysis, Chicago, who will explain how healthy personalities develop during the first six years of life.

Dean Abraham N. Franzblau, Hebrew Union school, New York City, who will discuss and define healthy personalities in youth.

Prof. Ira De A. Reid, sociology department, Haverford college, Haverford, Pa., who will point out how present knowledge can be used to develop such personalities.

After the three guest speakers have set the general theme, four Iowans, all prominent in children's welfare work, will discuss the state's needed improvement.

All sessions of the two-day conference are open to the public.

NPA Orders Increase In Steel for Defense

WASHINGTON (AP) — The national production authority Wednesday ordered increased set-asides of full alloy steels for defense needs, starting July 1.

It said percentages hereafter will be based on planned production in the third quarter of 1951, rather than on past shipments.

100 Polk Prisoners On Disciplinary Diet After Demonstration

DES MOINES (AP) — Sheriff Howard Reppert said Wednesday nearly 100 prisoners in the Polk county jail are on a disciplinary bread-and-water diet.

Reppert said the men participated in a demonstration Tuesday noon and threw away the meal served them. Then, he said, they banged on the bars with cups and plates and chanted "we want to eat."

"When they started throwing away food, I decided they didn't want to eat," Reppert said.

About 40 other prisoners in the jail did not take part in the demonstration and received regular meals.

Reppert said he would continue the diet until he learned who were the ringleaders in the Tuesday demonstration.

He also ordered deputies to remove all tobacco and reading material from the prisoners being disciplined, and locked 54 of them in individual cells. He said all privileges, including visitors and packages, would be denied the demonstrators Thursday, normally visiting day at the jail.

The men are being served four slices of bread at each mealtime, plus "all the water they can drink."

The meal the men threw away, Reppert said, was of corned-beef hash, a vegetable and coffee.

He said he expected the bread and water diet to last "until I am convinced they are hungry enough to eat the food we offer them."

Reppert said Iowa law would permit him to maintain the bread-and-water diet for 10 days.

Senate Lifts Ban On Public Inspection Of State Relief Rolls

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional reaction to Gen. Douglas 12-year ban against public inspection of state relief rolls.

By voice vote it added an amendment to the labor-federal security fund bill which would permit states to open their relief lists to public scrutiny without losing federal matching money for assistance payments.

It still must win approval in conference with the house and then again in both branches and by the President before becoming law.

Legislators in several states, particularly Indiana, Florida, Virginia and New York, have had bills pending on the subject for weeks following disclosures that many relief clients are chiselers.

Officials say the secrecy clause was written into the social security law in 1939 because of "political abuses" in connection with lists of old age assistance recipients.

The officials say the present law limits the inspection of the rolls to those connected with administration of the act.

Wednesday's amendment was sponsored by Senator Jenner (R-Ind.). It provides that no state which opens its relief rolls to public view shall be denied its share of federal money for old age assistance, aid to the blind or aid to dependent children.

SUI Students, Faculty Told To Mark Cars

Students and faculty members were reminded Wednesday that violation of SUI car identification and parking regulations will result in fines up to $5 and disciplinary action.

Cars not properly identified will be fined $5 for the first offense with $5 and disciplinary action for the second offense. Cars not driven by Iowa licensed owners must bear an easily read label giving the operator's name, and if a student, his student number.

Reserved faculty parking areas are for the use of those cars which are authorized to park in them. Such cars must carry the proper identification issued by the university to staff members assigned parking space.

No car shall be parked on campus except in legally provided parking areas.

Fines for improper parking are $1 for the first offense, $2 for the second violation and $4 and disciplinary action for the third offense.

Australian Labor Party Chief Dead After Heart Attack

CANBERRA, AUSTRALIA (AP) — Joseph B. Chifley, 65, the Labor party's leader and former prime minister, died of a heart attack Wednesday night in the midst of Australia's celebration of her 50th anniversary as a commonwealth.

All jubilee celebrations for the remainder of the week were cancelled.

Chifley collapsed in his hotel room and a Catholic priest administered the last rites. Chifley died in an ambulance on the way to a hospital.

At the moment of his collapse, Prime Minister Robert G. Menzies was welcoming, in the house of representatives, foreign guests representing their governments at the jubilee.

The lean, gray Labor leader spent a month in the hospital following a severe heart attack last November.

Tributes to Chifley flowed in from all quarters.

Chifley became Australia's 16th prime minister in July, 1945, just as the curtain was about to come down on World War II in the Pacific, and held the office until his Labor government was ousted in the general election of December, 1949.

Herbert V. Evatt, his close associate and former president of the United Nations general assembly, is deputy party chief. He probably will be called upon to take Chifley's place as opposition leader in parliament.

Eamon De Valera Returns As Prime Minister Of Ireland

DUBLIN, IRELAND (AP) — Eamon De Valera, the 68-year-old Brooklyn-born rebel once sentenced to death, rode back to power Wednesday night as the new prime minister of Ireland.

The Dail (lower house of parliament) elected him prime minister by a vote of 74 to 69. Three members abstained and the speaker of the 147-member body has no vote.

Five of 14 independents joined the 69 Deputies of De Valera's 'anna Fail (Soldiers of Destiny) party in putting him over after John A. Costello's coalition was defeated 74 to 72.

Costello has been prime minister for the last three years.

De Valera returns to a post he held for 16 years before his defeat in 1948 elections by the coalition of Costello's Fine Gael (United Ireland), Labor, Farmer and Republican parties and independents.

Bomb Misses House Of Research Chemist

CHICAGO (AP) — A dynamite bomb was thrown at the 15-room house of Dr. Percy Julian, famous Negro research chemist, Wednesday.

Police said the attack "undoubtedly" was motivated by resentment against Julian's recent residence in the well-to-do suburban community of Oak Park.

The bomb tore a hole in the front lawn but did not damage the house or injure anyone. Julian's two children and a maid were sleeping in the house at the time of the explosion. Julian and his wife were out of town.

It was the second bomb attack on Julian's house since he bought it last year.

The scientist is credited with synthesizing compound "S" from oya beans and with discovering cheaper, more efficient methods for obtaining the potent drug cortisone.

Senate Won't Slash Civil Service Leave

WASHINGTON (AP) — The senate rejected Wednesday, 36-35, a proposal to slash the annual and sick leave of federal civil service workers.

The proposal applied only to employees of the labor department, federal security agency and related independent agencies, but Senator Douglas (D-Ill.) planned to offer the same proposal on all appropriations bills.

The labor-FSA bill is the first regular money measure for the year beginning July 1 to come up in the senate.

If made government-wide, Douglas said, the cut in leave would have saved $250 million annually.

Douglas wanted to cut annual leave from 26 to 20 working days and sick leave from 15 to 12 days a year.

Also turned back, by a 61-17 roll call, was an effort to make a $3 million cut in maternal and child welfare funds.

The amendment, by Douglas, would have reduced from $33 million to $30 million the allotment for grants to the states for such benefits.

Douglas lost again, 53-25, when he tried for a $9 million cut in the allotment for federal grants to help pay for school costs in defense areas.

Committee Drafts Tax Increase Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The house ways and means committee put the finishing touches Wednesday on its biggest job in history — a bill to increase federal taxes by $7.5 billion a year.

In a last-minute decision, it voted to cancel the present 3 1/2 per cent tax on electric light bills.

The measure, more than five months in preparation, still must be passed by the house and senate and signed by President Truman before it becomes law.

Film on Iowa's Cancer Fight Finished Here

The Iowa Cancer division has completed filming activities showing Iowa's contribution to the cancer program.

This film trailer will be added to more than 100 cancer films shown in schools and county health programs throughout the state, Lee W. Cochran, director of audiovisual aids at SUI, said Tuesday.

The film is divided into four phases: research, training, county supplies and publications.

It shows the work done in SUI's radiation laboratory in cancer research and the nurses cancer training program financed by cancer contributions.

"County closets," which are supply centers that furnish materials for home cancer patients are also pictured. It explains the educational program of the Iowa division of the American Cancer society.

Supply centers which furnish material for home cancer patients and a description of the educational program of the Iowa division of the American Cancer society are also included in the film.

Prominent Drawing Specialist To Speak At Art Show Sunday

Winslow Ames, nationally-known drawing specialist, will be a speaker here Sunday at opening ceremonies of an exhibition, "Six Centuries of Master Drawing," part of SUI's 13th annual fine arts festival.

Prof. William S. Heckscher, art department, said the show is valued at about a quarter of a million dollars.

Ames, former director of the Springfield, Mo., museum, will discuss "Drawings: Means and Ends" at a special meeting later the same day in the auditorium in the art building.

Other speakers include Lester S. Longman, head of the art department, and Heckscher. Prof. Earl E. Harper, director of the school of fine arts, will preside over the official ceremonies at 4 p.m. in the Iowa Memorial Union.

Drawings valued from $50 to $8,000 were loaned by museums and private collections from England, Germany and various parts of the United States, Heckscher said.

One of the smallest drawings is valued at $5,000. It was drawn by Breughel, Flemish artist of the 16th century.

Milwaukee Police Arrest 19 Narcotics Suspects In Raid

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Police held 14 men and five women in the county jail today as narcotics suspects.

The suspects — 16 from Milwaukee and three from Kenosha — were picked up in a series of raids designed to "clean out the last of the narcotics users," Sgt. Harry Kuszewski of the vice squad said. Kuszewski planned to ask for warrants.

Police arrested the three Kenosha men and a Milwaukee man last night at a roller rink.

Officers said two of the Kenosha men bought marijuana cigarettes from a Milwaukee man and resold 25 of them to a Kenosha youth. The youth, arrested earlier as a narcotics suspect, acted as a "buyer" to help police in the arrests.

The other suspects were picked up late Monday and Tuesday in raids on two Milwaukee residences. Police battered down doors of the homes and found heroin needles, syringes, heroin capsules, and white powder believed to be narcotics.

Investigators Hired To Check Tax Evasion

DES MOINES (AP) — Sixteen investigators are being added to the staff of the Iowa internal revenue office to check the federal income tax returns of what an official termed "Iowa racketeers."

A. B. Nourse, internal revenue intelligence chief for Iowa, said Wednesday that the expansion is part of a nationwide crackdown on income tax evasions. The 16 investigators will work under his supervision.

Nourse said he has a list of 126 "owas" "racketeers" and he expects the list to grow.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

HUMORIST Stephen Leacock had a long string of college degrees, and Canadian associates usually addressed him as "Doctor." The purser of an Atlantic liner, who had heard him thus referred to for three days, stepped up to him one evening and said, "Doctor, could I prevail upon you to examine the star of last year's Ziegfeld Follies? She slipped on the promenade deck and I'm afraid she has sprained her hip."

Leacock reported ruefully later, "I rushed there like a startled gazelle, but alas! two doctors of divinity had arrived ahead of me."

The most believable golf story of the year appeared on the sports page of a Daytona Beach newspaper recently. It read, "At this point the gallery deserted the defending champion to watch Miss Blank, whose shorts were dropping on the green with astonishing regularity."

Beef Producers' Revolt Broken, Speaker Claims

BUTTE, MONT. (AP) — The revolt of producers to the beef price rollback has apparently been broken up, Philip Neville, Minneapolis regional director for the office of price stabilization, said Wednesday.

Speaking at the annual miner's Union day celebration, he said there has been a "significant increase in the flow of beef steers to marketing yards in this region."

"The showdown—if that's what producers tried to make it—has been decided," Neville said.

He said that workmen well know what inflation has done to the buying power of their wages. While wages have steadily risen since 1939, he said, inflation has prevented the workman from reaching the higher standard of living which he has sought and to which he is entitled.

"The office of price stabilization is one government activity which stands between the American people and inflation," he said.

He told the miners that since OPS started up in January, "Food prices have leveled off and other industries have remained stationary."

He said a notable exception has been beef. He charged that the price of live beef animals rose five times as much as the wages of factory workers since January a year ago. Prices on beef cattle, he added, increased three times as much as all other food prices and over four times as much as prices paid by farmers.

Neville emphasized that any "real attack against inflation must reduce these prices which have risen far out of line."
