CIO Threatens Bolt Of Labor Board If Controls Fail

WASHINGTON (AP) — Leadership of the CIO Monday threatened anew to walk out on the stabilization program unless congress enacts a stronger controls law than it is now considering. This threat came from Emil Reive, chairman of the CIO's committee on economic policy and a member of the wage stabilization board. Reive spoke out as the senate began debate on new controls legislation, with Sen. Paul Douglas (D-Ill.) sparking a drive to save the administration's broad powers to roll back prices.

The CIO leader, who heads the textile workers union, told a news conference he would refuse to be a party to the stabilization program unless controls legislation before both houses of congress is "improved." He added that the entire CIO takes the same position. The program now before congress, Reive declared, insures nothing "except the profits of business and industry."

AFL, CIO and various unaffiliated unions walked out of the stabilization program early this year in a dispute over wage controls and general economic policies. They returned to their posts on wage and other boards after weeks of bickering. Reive said the united labor policy committee, representing the AFL and railroad unions as well as the CIO, would meet early next month and that the CIO would recommend that labor again pull out of the stabilization program in the event congress does not strengthen the controls law.

In the senate debate, Douglas declared that limiting the government's rollback powers would wreck plans to save the buying public several billions of dollars in future price cuts. Douglas and six other senators filed an amendment to eliminate a proposed curb on price rollbacks. The curb was voted by the senate banking committee as part of a new economic controls bill despite the protests of President Truman and other administration leaders.

The senate wrangled bitterly and inconclusively Monday over the committee's bill. But it appeared determined to enact some kind of new controls — or temporarily extend the present ones before they expire next Saturday midnight.

United Airlines Balks Pilots' Truce Proposal

CHICAGO (AP)—United airlines said Monday that a truce proposed by the striking AFL airline pilots association does "not constitute even a temporary solution" to the week-old walkout.

In apparent rejection of the offer, UA President W. A. Patterson said the union peace offer contained a qualification that pilots will refuse to fly the new and speedy DC-6B airliners. Patterson said the airline informed Pres. Harry Truman of the DC-6B issue in a telegram it dispatched to the White House in reply to the union offer. Earlier UA had refused to divulge contents of the telegram.

In offering to call off the strike, Union President David Belmeke did not mention any refusal to fly DC-6Bs. In a telegram to Mr. Truman he merely proposed calling off the strike while issues of pay and working conditions are negotiated with the help of the National Mediation board.

Patterson said UA got its information on the DC-6B qualification verbally from "a member of the National Mediation board." A UA spokesman denied that Patterson's statement was an outright rejection of the union offer, but also admitted that it was not acceptance. He said Patterson was saying in effect "that you can't settle just part of a dispute."

Californians Strike

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Nearly 10,000 CIO communication workers went on strike Monday in southern California against the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company.

The walkout started at 6 a.m. after a night-long effort to negotiate a new contract ended in failure. At midday the company said the strike had no "noticeable effect on its service."

City Council Awards Surfacing Contract To Hargrave Firm

The Iowa City council Monday night awarded a $13,342.50 contract to the Hargrave Construction company, Cedar Rapids, for the resurfacing of Dodge st. from Burlington st. to the Rock Island railroad tracks.

In their bid application to the council, the Cedar Rapids firm specified that construction on the project would begin today and be completed by Aug. 1.

Council members agreed that all costs of the project are to be paid for by warrants on street department funds or by issuance of bonds by revenue received from Iowa state road use tax funds.

Council members also approved plans and specifications for proposed sidewalk construction and street resurfacing in the city submitted by City Engineer Fred Gartzke.

The council set July 16 as date for meeting of necessity on the two projects and bidding on the contracts may be opened at that time.

In other action, the council: 1. Approved a petition by SUI asking for right to block off the intersections of Madison and Jefferson sts. and Madison and Market sts. the night of July 3 while a street dance is in progress in front of the Iowa Memorial Union.

2. Approved the resignation of assistant city engineer and electrical inspector Frank Kolar. Kolar's resignation becomes effective July 1.

3. Approved three appointments by Mayor Holland to the Iowa City library board. Those appointed were C. F. Huebner, 219 E. Bloomington st., C. C. Ries, 726 N. Van Buren st., and Edwin B. Green, 404 Iowa ave.

4. Appointed Frank Shaffer, 1144 Hotz ave., to the Iowa City board of electrical examiners.

Will Repair Hospital Damage in 2 Weeks

R. J. Phillips, SUI maintenance superintendent, estimated Monday that it will take at least two weeks to completely repair the damage incurred at University hospitals during an electrical storm in Iowa City Saturday night.

A bolt of lightning ripped out a power cable in the hospitals' electrical system and set on fire an oil switch in the transformer room.

Power was cut off in the general hospital for about one minute and remained off in surrounding buildings for about two hours.

Phillips said it was necessary to order a new switch and that it would take several days before they received it.

University Hospitals Release Prof. Vestal

Prof. Allan G. Vestal, college of law, has been released from the polio ward at University hospitals.

Vestal, who entered the hospitals June 16, the first local polio patient of the summer.

Appreciation for the extent to which Iowa peace officers have enforced the law and cooperated with his office was expressed Monday by Iowa Atty. Gen. Robert L. Larson.

Speaking to more than 100 city, county and state peace officers attending the 15th annual peace officers short course at SUI, Larson told officers that public respect for law enforcement will continue to increase as they "try to live up to laws passed by the Iowa legislature."

Larson then discussed briefly 10 new laws or amendments which were passed in the recent session of Iowa's 54th general assembly and which refer to peace officers and their work.

Peace officers enrolled in the basic police class heard lectures on report writing by Iowa City detective Ollie A. White, and criminal law, by Prof. Sam Fahr, SUI college of law.

In the meantime, members of the advanced class studied the responsibility of the investigator, with Chief R. W. Nebergall of the Iowa bureau of criminal investigation, and the law of homicide, with Johnson County Atty. William L. Meardon. Both groups saw motion pictures concerning law enforcement.

Today Nebergall will work with the advanced class on the search and photography of crime scenes, while the basic class will study juve and firearms.

A general lecture on civil defense will be delivered by Prof. Richard L. Holcomb, chief of the bureau of police science in the SUI institute of public affairs and director of the short course.

Hi-Y Elects Nick Johnson As President

Nick Johnson President of 750,000

Nick Johnson, 17, son of Prof. and Mrs. Wendell E. Johnson, 508 Melrose court, has been elected president of Hi-Y, a youth club of more than 750,000 boys and girls in the United States, Alaska and Hawaii.

Johnson was named at the organization's Hi-Y congress, which was held last week in Cleveland and at Oberlin college near Cleveland.

Johnson ran against a boy from Texas in the presidential finals and won by a majority vote. He was nominated by the national council on the basis of his qualifications and was sponsored by the north central area delegation.

Johnson, who will be a senior at University high school this fall, was first president of a founder of the Bluehawk Hi-Y in 1949. This past year he served in the dual capacity of president of the student council and president of the student body.

Johnson has been active in Hi-Y work. In the spring of 1950 he served as a senator in the Iowa Hi-Y youth and government program. He was elected recorder at the 1949 north central area officers training camp in Wisconsin.

He is president of the Iowa student council and official delegate to both the 1950 and 1951 national student council conventions.

At University high, he is a letterman in football and basketball. He is active in debate, band, German band and the Rhythmaires.

Johnson's trip is sponsored by the Iowa City YMCA through funds from local businessmen interested in "Y" work in this community.

Local Man Escapes From Reformatory

Richard Sauer, 27, Iowa City, walked away from an Anamosa reformatory farm Monday for the second time, reformatory authorities said.

Sauer was originally sentenced from Johnson county in June, 1944, for forgery. He walked away from a prison farm in July, 1945.

Economics Workshop

The United States faces several dilemmas in its program to offer capital aid and technical assistance to the economically underdeveloped areas of the world, Prof. Paul R. Olson, head of the SUI economics department, told the second annual workshop on economic education Monday.

Approximately 40 persons attended the opening sessions of the three-week short course designed to aid secondary school instructors interpret economic problems of today to students.

Olson pointed out that two-thirds of the world population lives in economically underdeveloped areas.

"Through a program of capital aid and technical assistance, it is hoped that these areas can participate and share in the benefits of world trade," he said.

By undertaking such a program, we lay ourselves open to the charge of imperialism, Olson stated. The problem of timing creates a conflict between long-range and short-range programs, he said.

The most expedient course is a short-range program which produces visible results quickly, Olson pointed out. He said, however, the most desirable approach would be to create capital formation in these areas which would be more valuable.

He said the third problem is caused because other countries do not hold private enterprise in the same esteem as we do in the U.S. This causes a conflict in the method of administration of the aid, Olson pointed out.

Truman Pledges U.S. Support For 'Real Settlement' In Korea

Reds Fight Fiercely As Peiping Radio Endorses Proposal

TOKYO (TUESDAY) (AP)—Chinese Reds fought fiercely for every inch of Korean ground today and even gouged out some gains while the Peiping radio guardedly endorsed a Russian proposal for a cease-fire.

Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway was not available at his Tokyo headquarters for any comment on the cease-fire talk. The supreme Allied commander might be called upon for any field negotiations leading up to a cease-fire agreement.

The United Nations' field commander, Lt. Gen. James A. Van Fleet, informed of the Peiping broadcast, merely repeated what he said Sunday—"Business as usual."

Red forces smashed against Allied lines early today northeast of Kumhwa in central Korea. One Communist platoon penetrated UN positions at 1:50 a.m., but were pushed back 10 minutes later.

All across 100 miles of front, Allied patrols hit stiff Red resistance and, in most cases, were forced to withdraw after brief fights.

The Reds showed determination to hold their positions and keep the Allies away from their new defense line just above parallel 38. They made heavy use of small arms, automatic weapons, artillery and mortars.

The attack near Kumhwa was at the southeast base of the old "Iron Triangle."

The Communists struck after midnight. The battle still was raging this morning at last reports.

Allied planes raked the triangle area, killing more than 120 Reds.

Clothing Burned In Laundry Fire

Two baskets of laundry that had been placed against a hot steam pipe in the SUI laundry were partially destroyed by fire about 10:30 p.m. Monday.

Iowa City firemen pulled the smoking baskets out of the building and extinguished the fire. They said the fire started from the cloth lying against the hot pipe.

The fire was discovered by a SUI watchman who told firemen he noticed the flames in the second floor of the building when he walked out of the music building across the street.

Laundry officials said they could not make any estimate on how much damage was caused by the fire until a complete check of the articles burned was made.

Communist China Qualifies Malik's Proposal For Truce

TOKYO (TUESDAY) (UP)—Communist China endorsed Russia's proposal for a truce in Korea today, but added conditions which swung the peace move sharply toward the old familiar deadlock.

Peiping broadcast its first word on Jacob A. Malik's armistice feeler in the form of an editorial from the official government organ, the People's Daily.

"The Chinese people fully endorse his proposal," the Peiping radio said. It carried the weight of an official proclamation by the regime of Mao Tse-Tung.

But where Malik's proposal in a New York speech had no strings attached, the Chinese made it plain that they were not prepared to go along with the unqualified proposition.

If the United States is willing to stop the war, they said, she should "fall in at once with the just and reasonable measures for a peaceful settlement of the Korean question repeatedly proposed by the People's Republic of China, the Soviet Union and other countries which desire peace."

The alternative, they said, is a "prolonged war" and ultimate victory for the Chinese and North Koreans, who are being strengthened to enable the Communists to "overwhelm and annihilate" the U.S. army in Korea.

Heretofore China has demanded Formosa, a seat in the United Nations and withdrawal of troops from Korea as the price of peace. Today's editorial made no mention of the first two demands, but did insist on the withdrawal of foreign troops.

Allied supreme headquarters was closed for all save routine duties when Peiping broadcast the word in the early morning hours. No reaction was forthcoming at once, and all official sources had maintained a rigid reticence on the subject ever since Malik spoke.

But even before the Peiping conditions turned up, the impression was that the first high tide of hope churned up by Malik's speech was ebbing for lack of more specific assurances of good intentions on the part of the Communists.

The proposal was the hottest topic of conversation and argument throughout the Allied military forces, from front line companies to dock battalions in the South Korean port of Pusan.

Telegraphers Call Nationwide Strike

WASHINGTON (AP)—The AFL commercial telegraphers union Monday ordered a nationwide strike against Western Union for 5 a.m. (CST) Monday to enforce its demands for a 25-cent hourly wage increase.

Other officers elected were Dr. William Yett-r, vice-chairman; Mrs. H. A. Matill, treasurer and

Larson Commends Iowa Peace Officers as Four SUI Workshops Open

"There is no simple answer to why a child misbehaves," he emphasized. "Any behavior is a compound of a motivation that the child is trying to satisfy, and the method he chooses to try to satisfy it."

He added that lying or refusal to cooperate, for example, might be an effort to gain the consideration of his classmates. Or it might be an attempt to escape punishment, he said.

Ojemann identified the attitude of "this child has lied and his punishment will end the matter" as the "surface approach" to behavior.

"We have grown up under that approach, he pointed out, adding that many influences in our surroundings teach us this attitude and strengthen it in us.

"Teaching methods in the schools, the press and other sources of information stress the next thing to be done," he said, "rather than calling for a deeper search for causes of behavior."

Teaching materials which put the causal approach into use in the classroom have been developed by Ojemann and his staff and members of previous workshops.

Building Workshop... In an effort to save tax dollars, park and school boards throughout the United States and Canada are beginning to pool their resources.

At the same time they are providing more adequate schools, playgrounds and recreational equipment for the nation's children than was possible in the past, according to John McFadzean, landscape architect from Winnetka, Ill.

McFadzean spoke Monday night at the second annual SUI conference on school building planning. More than 100 Iowa educators, architects and school board members took part in Monday's sessions of the twoday conference.

"Towns and cities currently are spending millions of dollars for duplicate facilities of such agencies as park and school boards and recreation commissions," McFadzean said.

By combining their efforts, they can increase the acreage around elementary schools and also make the facilities available for neighborhood parks. Such projects can be jointly conceived, planned, built and maintained, he said.

"In the park-school plan," McFadzean added, "the park board can concentrate on developing the grounds, while the school may put more money in buildings and equipment for school and community use."

Senate Investigators Tentatively Close MacArthur Hearings

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate investigators tentatively ended their long hearings into the discharge of Gen. Douglas MacArthur and Korean war policy Monday with testimony by a top air force officer that American air power could drive the Communists out of Korea if used all-out.

The final scheduled witness was Maj. Gen. Emmett (Rosie) O'Donnell Jr., air force strategic bombing expert and former bomber commander in Korea.

He told the legislators America "made a mistake" in not unleashing air power against the Red "sanctuary" in Manchuria last year. In that, he backed MacArthur's views.

But since that wasn't done, he said, it now might be wise to reserve the long-range bombers as "The Sunday punch for Russia."

With the end of the hearings—unless this decision is reversed, later—the senators faced the difficult chore of reducing their views to writing on (1) whether MacArthur's relief from command by President Truman was justified; (2) whether the administration's "limited" war policies in Korea are sound; and (3) what—if any—effect the 1945 Yalta agreement had on alleged failures of American-China policy and the fall of that country to the Communists.

MacArthur opened the hearings with his own testimony on May 3. Since then more than 2 million words of carefully censored testimony has been made public in one of the most attentively watched congressional inquiries of recent years.

Mr. Truman fled here from Washington to help dedicate the $157.5 million air force Arnold Engineering Development center, to be devoted to the development of jet propulsion and supersonic flight power. Crowds estimated by Commissioner Neal at 5,000 waved or cheered his procession through Tullahoma.

One group of men, holding Confederate flags, sang the words of Gen. Douglas MacArthur's favorite song, "Old Soldiers Never Die."

Prof. Hills Named Chief Of Red Cross Chapter

Prof. Elmer W. Hills head of the general business department at SUI, was re-elected chairman of the Johnson county chapter of the American Red Cross at the chapter's annual meeting Monday evening.

Other officers elected were Dr. William Yett-r, vice-chairman; Mrs. H. A. Matill, treasurer and Board members elected were: M. L. Hult, Mrs. Eleanor Jessup, Mrs. C. W. Keyser, Atty. William L. Meardon, Mrs. Robert Ray, Mrs. M. E. Taylor, and Atty. Emil Trott.

Hult, chairman of the 1951 fund campaign, reported at the meeting $19,779.29 has been turned in with a few rural areas left to report. The goal for the county is $21,074.

A financial statement of the chapter by Mrs. W. A. Matill showed receipts for the year totaling $22,378.29 and disbursements of $25,801.97. A balance of funds on hand was reported as $29,330.45.

An account of the activities carried on in the community throughout the year was given by Mrs. M. E. Taylor.

The first Gray Lady class, a service group in the University hospitals, was presented and a capping ceremony held.

The 29 members of the class provided friendly and personal service, including recreational and educational activities, for ill and convalescent patients in federal and civilian hospitals.

Producer Denies Red Membership

WASHINGTON (AP)—Movie producer Robert Rossen told the house un-American activities committee Monday he is not now a member of the Communist party. But he refused to say if he had been a member as recently as Sunday.

The 43-year-old producer of "The Brave Bulls" and "All the King's Men" readily denounced communism and Russian dictatorship.

Miners Search For Sulphur On Gulf Coast

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — A tremendous hunt is underway along the colorful Louisiana bayou marshland for brimstone sulphur.

The pale yellow element, found principally in salt domes beneath the waters in the marshlands, is in short world supply. Demand has grown tremendously, for sulphur enters one way or another into a host of industrial products. It's used to process foods, refine petroleum and metals, help make paper, rubber, fertilizers, rayon, paint, steel explosives, many chemical products.

The U.S. alone produced more than half the world's supply of sulphur last year, and 90 per cent of that output came from American brimstone.

Erimstone has been found only along the gulf coast of Louisiana and Texas. Amphibious drilling rigs bore 500 to 3,500 feet deep into the earth in the search, bringing up rock cores for study.

If sulphur is found in commercial quantities, the drillers count themselves lucky, for 200 tests made since 1903, only a dozen have shown enough brimstone to warrant mining.

The brimstone is found in limestone in the form of tiny flakes about the size of the end of your little finger. It is mined by first melting it with water superheated to more than 242 degrees Fahrenheit. Then the molten sulphur is forced to the surface by compressed air.

Edmund D. Wingfield, vice-president of Freeport Sulphur company, one of the nation's largest producers, said in an interview that the search for brimstone has been intensified for two reasons:

"First, present sources of brimstone cannot produce enough sulphur to meet the demands of industry. And second, we are using brimstone at a more rapid rate than we are finding new reserves and some day those reserves will play out."

Man, Dog Reach U.S. After 1 Year Voyage Together in Sloop

NEW YORK (AP)—A 33-foot, ageless sloop sailed in to New York harbor Monday night bringing Clyde Deal, of Detroit, and his dog to the end of a lonesome, 4,400-mile, eight-week ocean crossing.

There was no particular "excuse" for the trip, said Deal, a wartime coast guard lieutenant, as he tied the craft up to an East river dock.

"It was just sheer adventure," he said. "I've dreamed about doing it for 10 years."

The Atlantic voyage, from the Canary islands to New York, was just the last leg of an 8,000-mile journey on Deal's royal road to adventure.

The trip began a year ago, June 25, 1950, in Mandal, Norway, where the 36-year old mariner bought the sloop after reaching Europe as third mate on a Swedish freighter.

He fitted out the 4 1/2 ton double-ended craft, the "Ran" set sail.

He listed his itinerary as follows: Gotteseborg, Copenhagen, the Kiel canal, Bremerhaven, Dover, Plymouth, Lisbon, Tangier, Gibraltar, Sprain, Gibraltar, Tangier, Casablanca, and finally, the Canary islands.

Deal was casual about the Atlantic crossing: "An easy matter" and a "highly overrated" trip, he said.

It was made, he said, without incident, except for a two-day storm off Cape Hatteras that blew him toward the coast.

"It hurried me along and I was not a bit worried," he added.

The dog, Tenerife, was equally unconcerned.

Battle Situation Is Surveyed By Korean Dog

A WOLFISH GRIN is displayed by a Korean dog as he surveys the battle situation for his master, Pfc. Bobby Chobania of Cleveland. The dog specializes in sniffing out Chinese Communists, for whom he has an intense dislike. He accompanies his master on all patrols, and Chobania and his buddies would not like to operate without the dog. Chobania hopes to bring the dog home.

Iowa Laws Passed In 1951 Become Operative On July 4

DES MOINES (AP) — All of the laws passed by the 1951 legislature which are not already in effect will become operative Wednesday, July 4.

This national holiday is the traditional date on which all new Iowa acts that are not classed as emergency legislation officially take their places on the statute books.

Out of the 270 acts of the last general assembly, 188 will become effective on Independence day. They cover a broad field of subjects ranging from minor code revision bills to the big appropriations measures.

Approximately $104.9 million a year in current and anticipated tax revenue will automatically be made available for the overall operations of the state government. This isn't all that the legislature appropriated but it represents the general operating cost during each of the next two fiscal years.

The huge sum includes about $64.9 million a year in biennial appropriations and around $40 million a year in continuing appropriations that were written into the state code in previous years.

The annual total is nearly $3 million more than the 1949 legislature appropriated.

There will be no increase in general tax rates to meet the heavier expenditures. Among the laws taking effect is one which retains the income tax at the current 75 per cent rate of collection. The state is relying on higher yields from existing taxes to see it over the financial hump.

A dozen new laws affecting cities and towns will come into force. They were pushed through by a municipal code study committee of the legislature. The intent was to make the municipal laws more readable and more workable. But one of the acts changes the date of city elections from March to November, puts cities on a calendar year basis and gives them the right to elect their officials for four-year terms.

Another simplifies city financing and fixes a limit of 30 mills on the amount a municipality may levy each year in property taxes.

During the coming fiscal biennium the size of the state highway patrol will be increased from 160 to 225 men, highway patrolmen will get pay raises of about $25 a month and the cost of a driver's license will be increased from 25 to 75 cents a year.

Among the new laws is one which will mean more money for the Iowa farm bureau federation for its extension program. Most counties which have been appropriating only $3,000 a year to the farm bureau program will have to allot $5,000.

Some of the other new laws will have the following effect: Farmers may join in a statewide dairy quality program under which a system for production and handling of grade "A" milk will be set up.

Agricultural societies may lease their fairgrounds for other purposes when they are not holding fairs.

Banks may transact business after hours and on legal holidays if they wish.

The cities of Waterloo and Cedar Falls will have authority to go ahead with a program for elimination of railroad grade crossings between their towns.

Live pigeons, starlings, crows and sparrows may be used to train hunting dogs. Corporations will not have to comply with outmoded laws on keeping of stock records.

Counties will have to pay a bounty of $2 each on red and gray fox.

Public officials who fail to publish any notice required by law can be fined $100 or put in jail for 30 days.

A district judge who has removed a child from custody of its parents but has not sent it to an institution, may issue an adoption decree by notice to all parties affected.

Students of chiropractic will have to meet stiffer educational requirements to obtain a license.

Disputes over local school bus routes may be appealed to the courts after the county superintendent and state superintendent of public instruction have passed on them.

The tax base for the support of public schools will be broadened by increasing the amount per pupil that may be raised through taxation.

A school teacher can ride to and from class on the school bus, provided the bus doesn't have to go out of its way to pick the teacher up.

Persons involved in industrial accidents may receive greater benefits under the workmen's compensation law. The maximum payment goes up from $24 to $28 a week and the period in which benefits may be paid will be lengthened by 100 weeks.

Iowa's four state hospitals for the insane will be known as "mental health institutes." Alcoholics who wish to obtain treatment at these institutions may do so on a voluntary basis.

Rickenbacker Sees Air-Travel Increase

NEW YORK (AP) — Edward V. "Captain Eddie" Rickenbacker predicts that eventually the great majority of Americans traveling over 200 miles will go by air.

The tall, rugged president of Eastern air lines forecasts that all first class mail traveling over 200 miles by day or 400 at night will fly.

Rickenbacker, America's ace of aces in the first World War, foresees great strides in cutting down the time it takes to get to and from airports, keeping pace with increased flying speeds.

Helicopters will be used for shuttling mail and passengers from airports, he said, and for bringing passengers in from nearby cities to main line points. Throughfares to airports from downtown areas, with grade crossings eliminated, will make it possible to reach them in much less time than now.

Running his company at 60 with the same driving, relentless energy he displayed in earlier years as an automobile race driver and fighter pilot, Rickenbacker says air lines already have reduced the United States to the size of Pennsylvania from a travel standpoint.

Jet-propeller and later straight jet airliners, he says, will shrink it still further.

In an interview, he forecast these as typical flying times of the not-too-distant future: To Miami from New York, Detroit or Chicago — two hours. New York to New Orleans — two hours.

New York to Houston — two and a quarter hours. New York to Atlanta — one and a half hours.

The passing years, many harrowing experiences and hair-breadth escapes have made visible marks on the graying aviation matriarch, but have left his energy undiminished and his vision undimmed. He still maintains a pace that would drop many a younger man.

Eastern's rapid growth and unusual financial success are widely attributed to Rickenbacker's strong personal leadership and the tremendous effort he puts into the company. His comment: "The line has been accused of being a one-man line. It's one thousand per cent the opposite. No one man is that big."

Rickenbacker has unbounded faith in his industry as well as his own company. "All I want to do before I die, or give up this job," he says, "is to see the air transportation industry, on so solid a foundation of concrete it would take generations to destroy it."

A Pair of Aces, Both Winners

THREE TOP AIRMEN exchange comments in the office of the air force commanding general in Washington. Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg (right). The others are Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker (left), America's first ace of World War I, and Capt. James Jabara, 27, Wichita, Kan., history's first jet fighter ace, who downed six enemy planes over Korea. Jabara is also a World War II ace.

Congressional Medal Awarded To Army Officer for Bravery

WASHINGTON (UP) — Capt. Raymond Harvey, 31, 1849 N. Foothill Blvd., Pasadena, Calif., who survived vicious attacks in knocking out four enemy gun replacements, has been awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor, the army has announced.

Harvey is the 24th army man to be granted the nation's highest decoration for bravery during the Korean war, and the fourth army man to receive it who is known to be living. Four awards have been made to men listed as missing and 16 have been made posthumously.

The action for which Harvey was cited occurred March 9 when the seventh division company he commanded was ordered to take an enemy-held hill that was slowing the battalion's advance.

First Lt. Edmund E. Balmforth, Medford, Mass., executive officer of Harvey's company, said in an eye-witness account that two men were wounded when they approached an enemy gun position under heavy fire in an attempt to destroy it.

"With complete disregard for his own safety, Captain Harvey then advanced close to the position, exposing himself to a hail of enemy machine gun and automatic weapons fire," Balmforth said. "He threw grenades into the machine gun emplacement, killing all the enemy."

"Unhesitatingly, he continued on to the edge of the next machine gun position. There he sprayed the enemy with carbine fire, killing all of them."

At the top of the ridge several well-entrenched enemy positions prevented further advance of Harvey's troops, Balmforth said. "Captain Harvey then moved down the slope, firing his carbine at the closest enemy position and knocking it out," he said.

"He continued on to a foxhole in which five of the enemy were under log cover. Firing at them with his carbine, he advanced close to the position where he threw grenades into the position

German Soldier Dies Of Vitamin Deficiency

BERLIN (AP) — A former German soldier who survived a six-year entombment has died of scurvy in a Warsaw hospital, the Berlin correspondent of a Bonn newspaper reported Monday.

A dispatch in the newspaper, Welt Deutsche Allgemeine, which gave few details, said the 32-year-old former Berlin soldier died in the Polish hospital six weeks after stumbling out of a bombed-out warehouse near Gdynia.

Lack of vitamins during the six-year siege with five companions was said to have sapped his strength. Reports said the unidentified soldier, with a knee-length beard, escaped when workers cleared away rubble blocking the entrance. He was the only survivor.

Mrs. Elfriede Lafeld, 56-year-old Berlin housewife, said Monday she was convinced the soldier was her missing son Werner, last heard of in Gdynia in 1945. She said she had written to the International Red Cross in Geneva to ask Polish authorities for details.

Legion Leader Warns of 'Peace'

BISMARCK, N.D. (AP) — National American Legion Commander Erle Cocks said Monday he is wary of any Russian peace move, and thinks the U.S. should "sit and wait" to see what Saturday's peace feeler means.

Cocks said Russia has broken 69 treaties and agreements in one year of the Korean war and five years of the cold war.

"A good businessman wouldn't place much stock in a man who'd gone bankrupt 69 times in six years," he said.

He said he thinks the Korean war will last just as long as Russia desires, but doubts that Russian Jacob Malik spoke for Red China last Saturday. He said Red China leader Mao Tse-Tung might let Stalin speak for him, "but not Malik."

Returning Korean War Vet's Dog Stolen

DES MOINES (AP) — Des Moines police Monday were seeking a person who stole a two-year-old Cocker Spaniel from the East Des Moines home of a Korean war veteran, now on his way home on rotation leave.

Mrs. Beatrice Brown said some one unhooked the dog, "Tiny," from her chain in the Brown yard Saturday afternoon and walked off with her.

Mrs. Brown said she had obtained the dog about six weeks ago to replace another Cocker that her son, Cpl. Gordon D. Brown, 19, left when he went to Korea last November.

"Gordon's first Cocker died of distemper shortly after Gordie got to the fighting front, but I didn't tell him because I didn't want to worry him," Mrs. Brown said. "So I got him Tiny so he would have a dog when he got home."

Scouts Land at SUI After Iowa River Trip

Six Boy Scouts Return After Two-Day Excursion

Six explorer Scouts and their leader, tired but happy, docked their canoes at the boat landing near the Iowa Memorial Union Monday after a 44-hour trip on the Iowa river.

The Scouts, members of the staff at the Boy Scout Wilderness camp last week, were:

Jerry Holland, assistant scoutmaster of troop 10; Melvin Vevera and Melvin Masbruch, troop 3, Iowa City; Phil Ware, troop 2, Iowa City; Milton Rohrer, Victor, and Charles Kallaus and Len Renoux, Washington.

Embarking from the Wilderness camp Saturday evening, the group arrived here at 2 p.m. Monday. One of the purposes of the trip was to prepare for a river expedition to the Wilderness camp later in the summer.

"We had an enjoyable trip," Holland, leader of the group commented. "The only thing which bothered us was a rain Saturday night and we came through that okay."

Each night the Scouts stopped to set up camp on the bank. "We slept under our canoes," Holland said, "and pitched two tents to hold supplies and a couple of fellows who wouldn't fit under the canoe." They cooked their breakfast and supper at their camp site, and fixed sandwiches to take along for lunch.

The Scouts were required to portage around the Coralville dam. Canoes were taken to the Wilderness camp last week for use on a lake near the camp.

Fontanini, Bliss Top Qualifiers In Iowa Amateur Golf with 71

DES MOINES (AP) — Sergio Fontanini and Rodney Bliss, a pair of Des Moines sharpshooters, shared medalist honors Monday in the 18-hole qualifying round of the Iowa Amateur golf tournament.

The co-leaders shot 71s, one under par for the rugged Wakonda course that had many of the state's top hands struggling for respectable scores.

Fontanini, the 35-year-old Des Moines city champion, posted his 71 midway through the field of 175 players. Bliss, six-time winner of the Nebraska Amateur crown, came in early evening with his par-breaking round.

Higley Cards 85

Wayne Higley, Iowa City's only entrant in the Iowa Amateur golf tournament, carded an 85 Monday, two strokes over the 83 needed to qualify. Higley had a 39 on the outgoing nine, three over par, and a 46 coming in, ten over par.

Fontanini and Bliss had identical nine-hole scores. They went out in 37, one over par, then blistered the second nine for 34s, two under perfect figures.

The medalists were the only players to crack par. In fact, no one else came close. Eli Orlich, another Des Moines contender, finished in the third spot with a 75, one stroke ahead of a group of six challengers, for the three Johnny Jacobs of Cedar Rapids, decided to abdicate.

Dale Kniss of Waterloo, the state junior and high school champion, led an aggregation of eight players who turned in 77s.

The going was made so rough by the brisk winds and Wakonda's tricky greens that only 30 shooters were under 80. There was a play-off among 12 players who had 83s for 11 positions in the match play field of 64.

Fain Over Robinson Now at First Base In All-Star Balloting

CHICAGO (AP)—Ferris Fain of the Philadelphia Athletics took the lead from Eddie Robinson of the Chicago White Sox Monday in the vote for the starting assignment at first base for the American league in the annual all-star game at Detroit July 10.

Fain moved to the top with 453,708 votes, 21,796 more than Robinson, who had held the lead from the start of the poll by fans to select the starting teams.

Chico Carrasquel, the White Sox' phenomenal shortstop, wrested the lead from Phil Rizzuto of the New York Yankees in balloting for the shortstop assignment. Carrasquel polled 459,744 votes to take a 21,958 advantage over Rizzuto.

Jackie Robinson, Brooklyn second baseman, moved into third place among the highest individual vote getters, with 473,258. Stan Musial of the Cardinals held his lead with 493,737, and Nelson Fox of the White Sox held second place with 481,363.

Western League to Lose

DES MOINES (AP)—Don O'Brien resigned Monday as executive secretary of the Western league, effective Sept. 1, to become sports director of radio station WGDY, St. Paul, Minn.

O'Brien was named secretary of the class A league in 1950 and is serving his second year in that capacity. He formerly was a sports announcer at radio stations in Des Moines, Tulsa, Kansas City, and Sioux City.

At Halfway Mark, It Looks Like — The Dodgers and White Sox

NEW YORK (AP) — The time has come to stop Brooklyn — or else. That is the feeling in the New York Giants' camp and around the rest of the National league.

Even with Sunday's double loss to Pittsburgh, the Dodgers approach the all-star game with a six-game lead. If the Giants can't cut it in their six games with Brooklyn during the next 10 days the Dodgers may be gone forever.

The American league, however, seems assured of a solid race through the summer. Chicago's lead melted to one game on an 8-8 eastern swing but now they dig in at home for a long stand. For the next two weeks they'll be playing mostly St. Louis and Detroit.

Here's the situation in a nutshell up to the all-star break.

To Play Home Away Opponents
Chicago 16 9 7 St. Louis 8, Detroit 6, Cleveland 2
New York 14 7 7 Boston 7, Washington 6, Philadelphia 1
Boston 14 5 9 New York 7, Philadelphia 5, Washington 2

Brooklyn 14 6 8 New York 6, Philadelphia 6, Boston 2
New York 14 8 6 Brooklyn 6, Boston 6, Philadelphia 2

If the Dodgers continue to belt the Giants around at their 5-1 early season pace, the National league race can be practically finished by July 8. Closest to the second place Giants is St. Louis. And the Cardinals are eight games behind Brooklyn. Furthermore, the Cards have been able to beat the Dodgers only twice in 10 starts.

The White Sox weren't able to maintain their amazing road pace of the first eastern swing on the second time around. But they had a good trip, playing .500 on the road in 16 games, splitting four at Yankee stadium. If they had been able to get out of Boston with an even break they would have taken home most of the lead they brought East.

By losing three of four at Fenway park while the Yankees swept three from Cleveland, Chicago's lead shrunk to one game. They were 2½ out front after dividing two with New York at Comiskey park June 10.

The schedule gives the White Sox an edge. While they play their western rivals, the Yanks and Red Sox meet seven times. Anything like an even break between the second and third place clubs would give Chicago an opportunity to pull away.

Won't Fight in Germany Again: Sugar

FRANKFURT, GERMANY (AP)—Middleweight champion Ray (Sugar) Robinson, thankful to escape with his life after a hectic bout in Berlin, arrived Monday by military train, vowing that he never again will fight in Germany.

"I'll never fight here again," said the 30-year-old Harlem Negro champion, who was forced to seek refuge under the ring Sunday night after his two-round "no decision" bout against Gerhardt Hecht, a German light heavyweight, at Walbuehne stadium had evoked a near-riot.
