School Board Okays Record $715,000 Budget for '51-52

The Iowa City school board Tuesday night adopted a record budget of $715,166.05 for the 1951-52 school year. Of this total the board approved $633,164.05 for general operating expenses; $20,930 for special courses fund salaries and $60,975.38 for the general school house fund.

The new budget is an increase of $84,796.27 over last year's final budget estimate of $624,120.79. The board estimated its total receipts for the coming year at $153,274.10 including money from state funds, tuition, income from property and sale of property.

This leaves $561,894 to be acquired from taxation. Included in this amount will be $463,750 for general fund; $16,140 for the pension fund; $20,930 for special courses, and $61,704 for the school house fund.

Board members set August 14 at 7:30 p.m. as date for a public hearing on the budget. The meeting will be held at the Junior high building and the public is invited to attend the session.

The budget estimate will be given to the county auditor and board members estimated that the school tax for the coming year would probably be 31.11 mills, an increase of 2.98 over last year's tax.

In other action the board gave Henri Queuille Quits To Allow Formation Of New Government

PARIS. (P) — Premier Henri Queuille resigned Tuesday night to allow formation of a new government after the French national assembly re-elected Edouard Herriot as its president.

Queuille's resignation opened what may be France's toughest political crisis since the war. Political experts predicted it would take anywhere from three days to three weeks to form a new cabinet.

The new cabinet will be France's 17th since the liberation and the composition of the assembly elected last month gave little promise that it would prove any more stable than its predecessors.

Queuille's resignation was in line with a constitutional requirement that a government resign after an election to permit organization of a cabinet reflecting results of the balloting.

The assembly has swung further to the right and it was believed that the middle-of-the-road parties will find tough going in trying to put together a new government coalition.

Maneuvering for cabinet posts and drawing up a program agreeable to the various so-called "third force" parties is expected to produce the hardest political bargaining in years.

Queuille handed in his cabinet resignation to President Vincent Auriol immediately after Herriot's re-election. The veteran 80-year-old radical Socialist was voted in on the first ballot over Gen. Charles De Gaulle's candidate, Deputy Leon Noel, and Communist "Dean" Marcel Cachin.

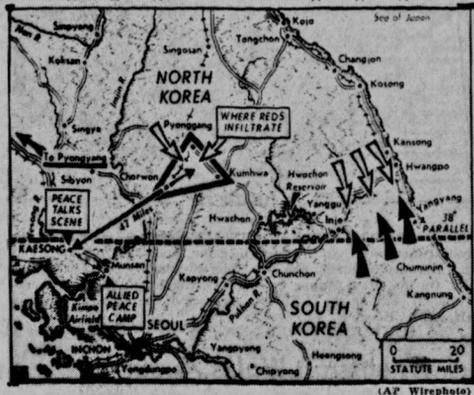

SUI Asks Renewal Of Permit for Dam

A hearing on an SUI application to operate and maintain the dam across the Iowa river at the site near the Burlington st. bridge will be held July 31, in the office of the geological survey on the SUI campus.

H. Garland Hershney, state geologist, said Tuesday it is improbable that there will be any objections to renewal of the permit.

SUI has operated the dam since it was constructed, at which time permits to operate and maintain dams on state waterways were issued by the state executive council.

The executive council issued authority to grant such permits to the Iowa Natural Resources council in 1949. That council is now in the process of holding hearings to review permits for dams in all parts of the state.

Fighting Continues Despite Truce Talks REDS ARE ACTIVE DURING peace talks. Boxes indicate site of truce talks at Kaesong; the Allied peace camp at Munsan, heart of the Reds' former "Iron Triangle" of Chorwon, Pyongyang and into which small groups of Communists were reported infiltrating Tuesday. This distance from Kaesong to this fighting area is 47 miles. Arrows show where UN forces were in skirmishes with Reds (open arrows) from northeast of Inje eastward to the coast.

Sovereignty, Right to Rearm Proposed for Japan by U.S.

WASHINGTON (P) — The United States proposed Tuesday a "peace of reconciliation" restoring Japan to full sovereignty and giving her the right to rearm.

A revised "final" draft circulated among the other major Pacific Allies rules out reparations to be paid from capital assets such as were imposed on Germany after World War I.

It opens the way nevertheless for the Philippines and other occupied countries to collect partial indemnity in the form of technical and industrial service.

Officials expect most of the other principal Allies—aside from Soviet Russia—to accept the draft without major changes.

Under its terms, which put no restriction on Japanese political or economic development: 1. Japan is stripped permanently of its pre-World War II overseas possessions. Included are Formosa, Korea and the former mandated Pacific islands which the U. S. will continue to administer under a United Nations trusteeship.

2. Japan likewise is required to surrender any claim to the Kurile Islands and the southern part of Sakhalin Island which were handed over to Russia by the Yalta agreement.

In contrast with a previous draft, however, Russia's title to those areas is not recognized. Recognition is expected to be withheld unless the Soviets sign the treaty, and Moscow has made plain that Russia has no intention of doing so.

3. Also expressly authorized is a separate Japanese-American pact by which U. S. forces are to be kept indefinitely in Japan, filling a "power vacuum" which otherwise might tempt Communist aggression from the Asiatic mainland. The U. S. also will retain its big base on Okinawa, in the Ryukyus, under the UN trusteeship.

4. There is no provision for China—either Communist or nationalist—to sign.

Funeral services for Louise Dawn Petsel, daughter of former Iowa City residents, will be held at 2 p. m. Friday in Columbia, Mo. The child drowned Monday in a water-filled pit near their farm home near Columbia.

The girl is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Petsel, who lived on a farm near Iowa City until last March, when they moved to Columbia.

The child evidently decided to go wading in an abandoned silt pit which was partially filled by flood waters from recent heavy rains.

The child's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George E. Petsel, 815 Park road, left for Columbia Monday evening after receiving word of the tragedy.

August Draft Upped 13,000; Calls Marines

WASHINGTON (P) — The defense department Tuesday increased its August draft call from 22,000 to 35,000 men—including 7,000 for the marines—and said about 34,000 more will be called in September.

The call marked the first time since the draft was revived after the outbreak of the Korean war that it has been used by the marine corps. The other 28,000 men inducted in August will go to the army, which has used the draft regularly.

In the September call, about 28,000 men will go to the army and about 6,000 to the marine corps. The air force still has not had to resort to the draft since it has been meeting its manpower needs through volunteers.

In Des Moines, the Associated Press reported Tuesday, selective service headquarters said Iowa's August quota previously had been determined at between 500 and 600 men. It will have to be increased, but it isn't known yet how much, a headquarters spokesman said.

Meanwhile, the army announced that the 28th and 43rd national guard infantry divisions have been alerted for movement to Europe this fall to reinforce the international defense force headed by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

They will become the fifth and sixth U.S. divisions on guard in Europe against communism and fulfill the administration's commitment to the Atlantic Pact army.

Two or three additional guard divisions probably will be called up this fall for training in this country, presumably to replace the 28th and 43rd.

2-Accident Victim Dies at Hospital

WAUKON. (P) — Ronald Herman, 26, Waukon farmer, died Tuesday a few minutes after he was hospitalized with injuries from two accidents.

Herman first suffered a compound skull fracture when a car slipped off the supporting jack and crushed him at his father's farm near here. He was placed in a car for a quick trip to the hospital.

However, the car struck a soft spot in the road and turned over. Herman was placed in another car and the trip to the hospital completed.

He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Herman. His father is an Allamakee county supervisor.

Completes Training

Ensign Charles D. Spielberger, 707 N. Dubuque St., has completed his training in electronic supply at the U. S. naval training center, Great Lakes, Ill.

New Building Orders

WASHINGTON (P) — The national production authority Tuesday disclosed plans to scrap all of its present building controls and issue new ones—easier in several respects but tougher on schools, hospitals, and large store and office buildings.

The tentative order, disclosed to construction industry representatives, would give a go-ahead to builders whose plans call for minor amounts of steel, copper or aluminum.

UN Negotiators Hear Red Demands

UN NEGOTIATING TEAM pictured above heard the Communists Tuesday propose a buffer zone on both sides of the 38th parallel and the quick withdrawal of all foreign troops as the basis of an end to the Korean war. The Pyongyang and Peiping radios released this information. UN correspondents have been barred from the Kaesong meetings.

$31,126 Goal Marked For '52 Community Chest

The 1952 Community Chest goal for Iowa City will be $31,126.59. Burl E. Vandear, president of the Community Chest board, announced Tuesday.

The proposed budget for next year's drive was set up Monday at the annual budget meeting in the chamber of commerce office.

Robert Gage, secretary of the Community Chest board, said the campaign will be conducted sometime in October, to correspond with the national Community Chest drive.

The proposed amount in the United Defense fund accounts for the largest part of the increase. Proposed amount for this fund is $2,393.61. This item replaces the Associated services fund in the budget, previously listed at $1,553.35.

The new budget figure represents an increase of 9.3 per cent over the 1951 figure of $28,468.24. In the 1951 campaign, $27,530 was raised.

The United Defense fund will go toward civilian defense, Gage said. Iowa City's amount will go toward a $16 million national fund which all cities share, he added.

Amounts to be received by the Salvation Army and the parent-teachers association are the same in the new budget as in 1951.

Following is a breakdown of groups and activities covered by the Iowa City Community Chest and amounts proposed under the 1952 budget:

Table with 2 columns: Group Name and Amount. Includes Boy Scouts ($9,042.55), Rest room (1,255.34), Salvation Army (1,063.83), Visiting nurse (5,478.72), Girl Scouts (8,244.68), P.T.A. (1,117.02), Travelers' aid (30.85), United Defense (2,393.61), Administration expense (2,499.99).

Say Troops' Withdrawal A Necessity

TOKYO (WEDNESDAY) (P) — The North Korean-Chinese Reds disclosed today as the Kaesong peace talks moved into the second day that they have proposed a buffer zone on both sides of parallel 38 and quick withdrawal of all foreign troops as the basis of an end of the Korean war.

The Reds also came out for "civil administration" of the 38th parallel area just as it was when the war started. That would mean continuance of a divided Korea, the Communists governing the north, the republic the south.

The Pyongyang and Peiping radios, heard in Tokyo, said North Korean Gen. Nam Il proposed these points to the United Nations cease-fire delegation when the full-scale peace talks opened Tuesday in Red-held Kaesong, three miles below the parallel:

1. A buffer zone 10 kilometers wide (6.21 miles) north and south of the parallel. The former boundary between Communist North and Republican South Korea was crossed by North Korean Reds in opening the war June 25, 1950.

2. An immediate cease-fire by all ground, air and naval forces.

3. Withdrawal of all foreign forces from Korea within the shortest possible time and an early exchange of prisoners.

Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy, chief Allied delegate, told the delegates Tuesday at Kaesong in his opening statement:

1. Hostilities could cease only when an armistice commission was functioning under conditions guaranteeing any resumption of warfare.

2. His delegation sought in good faith to bring this about but would not talk about any political and economic matters nor any military problems not related to Korea. (This obviously referred to such things as Red China's bid for membership in the United Nations, recognition as the government of China, and her claims on Formosa.)

3. "I cannot evaluate their present striking potential in relation to their previous assaults," Van Fleet said, "but they are in greater strength now than they have been for some time."

The five-man UN team began taking off at 9:33 a.m. today from Munsan in helicopters for Kaesong, 12 miles northwest. The meetings presumably resumed at 10 a.m. (6 p.m. Iowa time Tuesday.)

As the UN delegation was leaving, Maj. Gen. Henry I. Hodes, a delegate, told reporters he had not heard the Reds' radio statement on the proposals. When relayed the reports, General Hodes said, "Well, that's normal for them" to make demands.

He is deputy chief of staff of the U.S. eighth army.

Asked whether the cease-fire meeting was proceeding as well as expected, Hodes replied: "That all depends on who is doing the expecting."

Burke smiled and said: "Hello—and that's about all I can say." Correspondents could not reach Joy and Paik. They boarded their helicopter inside the heavily-guarded camp.

Plans to permit 16 Allied correspondents and photographers to attend today's session were cancelled. The Allied negotiators Tuesday proposed press coverage of the meetings, but the Reds did not agree immediately.

On their return from Tuesday's initial sessions, the UN delegates said the meeting had "made progress toward an agenda to discuss an armistice."

State Department's Budget Request Cut By House Committee

WASHINGTON (P) — The house appropriations committee Tuesday slashed 18 per cent from the state department's yearly budget request. But Republicans held off their "Get Acheson" drive until the money bill hits the house floor, probably next week.

The state department, apparently anticipating a narrow vote on the Acheson issue, sought to come to his rescue Tuesday by stating the Republican move would oust not only Acheson but a whole host of "valuable and experienced officers."

A GOP-sponsored amendment to the budget bill would bar from state department jobs anyone who during the preceding five years served a private firm dealing with foreign governments. Acheson's law firm once represented Poland.

Barred from state department service would be such prominent figures as Paul Hoffman, Nelson Rockefeller and John Foster Dulles, the department said. Dulles is Republican adviser to the state department and a presidential ambassador-at-large.

The committee recommended that President Truman's proposed state department budget be trimmed $52,254,476—from $283,686,476 to $231,432,000.

Disalle's present system of fixing percentage quotas on the number of cattle slaughterers may kill for market.

The price chief said when the senate passed a similar clause that it would probably force him to abandon his system of licensing slaughterers, invite black markets and kill meat price curbs.

2 Guard Divisions Assigned to Europe

WASHINGTON (UP) — The 28th and 43rd national guard infantry divisions have been alerted for movement to Europe this fall to reinforce Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's new international defense force, the army announced Tuesday.

The two guard divisions, first to be sent to Europe since the end of World War II, will fulfill the administration's promise to send six U. S. infantry divisions to Europe to meet the threat of possible Communist attack.

Gen. L. Lawton Collins, army chief of staff, already has disclosed that two or three additional guard divisions probably will be called up this fall for training in this country. They presumably would replace the 28th and 43rd. The United States had the equivalent of two regular army divisions in Europe when Eisenhower's new command was created under the North Atlantic security alliance and two regular army divisions since have been sent there.

The 28th, known as the Keystone division, is from Pennsylvania and has been training at Camp Atterbury, Ind. It is commanded by Maj. Gen. Daniel B. Strickler, Columbia, Pa.

The 43rd is composed mainly of men from Rhode Island, Connecticut and Vermont and has been training at Camp Pickett, Va. It is commanded by Maj. Gen. Kenneth F. Cramer, Wethersfield, Conn., former chief of the army's national guard bureau.

Both units have been on active duty since last fall and are scheduled to participate in the joint air force-army maneuvers to be held in the Fort Bragg-Camp Mackall, N. C., area from Aug. 13 to Sept. 2. The maneuvers will be the largest ground exercises held since World War II and apparatus are designed to put the finishing touches on the training of the two guard divisions before they are sent abroad. The maneuvers will include more than 100,000 troops and 400 planes.

The other national guard divisions—the 45th from Oklahoma and the 46th from California—now are on occupation duty in Japan.

The only other two guard divisions currently on active duty are the 31st from Alabama and Mississippi and the 47th from Minnesota and North Dakota. The 31st is training at Fort Jackson, Miss., and the 47th at Camp Rucker, Ala.

Watson Bros. Asks $3,772.33 Judgment

The Watson Bros. Transportation company, Iowa City, filed suit in district court Tuesday asking a $3,772.33 judgement against R. B. McClenon, Johnson county.

The firm claims a car driven by McClenon's wife collided with a Watson company truck July 9, 1949, on highway 6 west of Iowa City causing an estimated $2,272.33 damage to the truck. The suit further charges that the McClenon car was not under control at the time of the accident and was traveling at a dangerous speed.

In another suit filed Tuesday Harley H. Shalla, Johnson county, asks a $2,800 judgment from Bernice L. Perberick, Johnson county.

Shalla claims the defendant signed a promissory note to him on Sept. 18, 1950. Shalla claims the note was to be paid on demand but Miss Perberick refused to make the payment when he requested it.

West Berlin Unveils 63-Foot Memorial To Air Lift Heroes

BERLIN (AP) — West Berlin unveiled Tuesday its memorial to 39 Britons, 31 Americans and five Germans killed in the air lift operation that broke the Soviet blockade of 1948-49. The names of the 75 enshrined heroes are engraved at the base of the 63-foot-high memorial dedicated before 75,000 Berliners and an array of dignitaries at Tempelhof airbase, U. S. air force headquarters.

The three-pronged mass of concrete points out the Allied air corridors of the airlift route from West Europe to Berlin. All the German spectators had been fed and warmed by supplies—and many children present had been helped through babyhood by milk and medicines—flown here between June, 1948, and May 12, 1949. In that period the Russians blocked all road, rail and barge shipments.

The throng stood in mute tribute when Lord Mayor Ernst Reuter pulled the cord that revealed the big memorial.

U. S. and British high commissioners John J. McCloy and Sir Ivone Kirkpatrick held honor seats at the ceremony. A surprise guest was Bernard M. Baruch, American elder statesman who is on a quick trip to Germany described by officials here as purely private.

Pastor Urges Council For Aid to Children

A coordinating council to care for physically deficient children in Johnson county was recommended here Tuesday by the Rev. John F. Choitz, pastor of St. Paul Lutheran church.

The Rev. Mr. Choitz, who is also a graduate student at SUI, presented the recommendation in a talk to the Kiwanis club on the health conditions in Johnson county.

His report was based on a survey he made in conjunction with the college of dentistry and Children's hospital.

"There are enough agencies and money available in Johnson county to adequately care for these physically abnormal children," the Rev. Mr. Choitz said.

Children tested in the survey were in the grades one to six group and were taken from Henry Sabin, Coralville and nine rural schools.

"Out of 379 children given a medical examination 61 per cent or 234 were found to be completely normal," the Rev. Mr. Choitz said. "Forty-one of them or 38 per cent were found to be medically abnormal."

The medically abnormal children include youngsters who have gone through a siege of polio, have cerebral palsy or are obese, the Rev. Mr. Choitz explained. This is the group that should receive further medical attention, he added.

Lebanese Student Discusses Iranian Crisis

BY CHUCK LEEDHAM Daily Iowan Managing Editor

The present crisis in the Iranian oil fields is more a result of British exploitation and a growing social consciousness of the Iranian people than a basic desire for nationalization of industry, according to an SUI student from the Middle East.

"If Iranians are hungry and see foreigners taking the fruits of their land, what would you expect them to do?" asks Sheikh Hussein Dabhour, liberal arts student from Lebanon.

Dabhour, whose title of "Sheikh" means minister of the Moslem faith, has been a broadcaster for the Voice of America, speaking in Arabic to Moslems overseas.

The American oil interests in Iran have been dealing fairly with the Iranian people, Dabhour says, but with the British it has been continued exploitation.

An added irritant, he explains, is the "colonial attitude" of the British toward the natives. As Iranians become better educated, they resent this attitude more and more, and a "grass roots" movement of resentment has grown against Britain, he added.

Nationalization, in Dabhour's opinion, is the farthest thing from what the Middle East wants. This sort of a move goes directly against the grain of strong individualism in the Moslem's character, he said.

"But, if this seems to be the only way to live," Dabhour explains, "they will turn to this as the last out—as in the case of the nationalization of the Anglo-Iranian Oil company."

It is a case, he says, of Iranians living on the barest possible subsistence, while the living from their own country and its resources go to the coffers of the foreign interests.

Dabhour maintains that British interference in Iranian politics has added fuel to the fires of resentment. He said that Premier Mossadegh, for example, is a hero to most of the Iranian people.

"When the British say they won't deal with a person almost idolized by the people," asks Dabhour, "can you expect them to do nothing about it?"

The fact that the Iranians brought the oil field situation to a head when relations between EXERCISES FOR STRENGTHENING the arms were part of the physical therapy treatment prescribed for Mrs. Mary Wheatcraft at the University hospitals. She is holding 10-pound sand bags in each hand. On the left is Wayne Paustian, G. Gladbrook, physical therapy student and on the right is a member of the physical therapy staff, Albert Bowers.

WALKING FOR THE FIRST TIME IN 12 MONTHS, with the aid of braces on her back and legs, and crutches, Mrs. Wheatcraft said that she never expected to be able to do this when she first came to the hospital. Officials said that she is doing so well that she should be able to return to her farm home near Alden in a few days. She has been a patient at the hospital since May 1950.

SUI Physical Therapists Aid Crippled Woman

By NORMA SEXTON

Aiding polio patients is not the only type of work done in the physical therapy department of University hospitals. A good example of this is Mrs. Mary Wheatcraft, Alden, Iowa, who has been a patient at the hospitals since May.

Mrs. Wheatcraft is suffering from a spinal disorder that paralyzed her body from the waist down, more than a year ago.

In the two months that she has been receiving treatment at the hospitals, Mrs. Wheatcraft has shown steady improvement—now she can walk with the aid of braces on her back and legs.

Her treatment, started with strength exercises for her arms which enable her to support her own weight. Then balancing exercises were given, so that she could maintain equilibrium while on crutches. Finally, exercises for her legs were given. Although they are still paralyzed, the joints must be limber enough to allow Mrs. Wheatcraft to put on braces by herself.

Mrs. Wheatcraft's case is one of the many handled daily on the seventh floor of the General hospital.

Some of the types of cases, other than polio, that physical therapy is prescribed for are arthritis, fractures, cerebral palsy, amputations, spinal cord injuries, spinal curvatures, sprains, strains and posture defects.

Physical therapy includes the employment of therapeutic exercise, massage and utilization of the effective properties of heat, cold, light, water and electricity in the treatment of disease or injury and in performing tests.

Treatment is prescribed by a physician who has attended the patient or one to whom the patient has been referred and who knows the extent of his injuries or disabilities.

At present there is a growing need for physical therapists—wherever there are children who can't walk, or men and women who do not have normal use of their muscles.

Parts of its practice go back to Hippocrates in 500 B. C. The ancient Egyptians, Greeks and Romans knew the value of sun, water, exercise and massage. But it was not until World War I and II, when physical therapy demonstrated its true worth, that full recognition was given it as a separate profession.

There are three chief reasons listed by the American Physical Therapy association as explaining the increased use of therapy. They are:

1. Expansion of physical medicine and rehabilitation services in the federal hospitals.
2. Development of similar services for the civilian handicapped by disease or injury.

3. Earlier and more intensive therapy for children handicapped by disease or injury.

The general educational prerequisites for training are a minimum of three years of college with strong biological and physical science courses; a degree in physical education from an accredited college or university, or graduation from an accredited school of nursing.

There are 31 accredited schools located throughout the country. At SUI the course is organized in conjunction with the college of medicine and the graduate college, and is designed to train individuals to work under the direction of qualified individuals.

A bachelors degree from an accredited school is required with an emphasis on the sciences. Medical director of the SUI school is Dr. W. D. Paul and the technical director is Mrs. Olive Farr.

Instructor Resigns Commerce Position

Charles A. Peck, instructor in the college of commerce, has resigned to accept a post as an assistant professor in the field of communications at the University of Washington in Seattle.

Peck's resignation is effective at the conclusion of the current summer session.

Peck has been a member of the college of commerce faculty since 1947. He taught business writing for four years and last semester also taught a course in report writing.

Peck received his M. A. degree from the college of commerce in 1947 and his Ph.D. in 1950.

2 Labor Leaders Recommend Controls At SUI Workshop

Wage and price controls were recommended to the SUI workshop on economic education by two Iowa labor leaders Tuesday.

John E. Cosgrove, director of education and research for the Iowa State Federation of Labor, and Clive Knowles, farmer-labor director of the United Packing House Workers said, however, that an upward adjustment of wages would be necessary before any formula for price and wage controls could be effected.

Approximately 40 secondary school teachers and administrators heard Cosgrove and Knowles conduct a panel discussion on what is needed for good labor-management relations.

Both Knowles and Cosgrove asserted that a primary requisite for good labor-management relations is a continually rising standard of living for employees. At the present time price and wage controls are necessary for this, they said.

The panel was part of the program of the three-week workshop on economic education designed to equip high school teachers with the facts and theories which affect our economy. The workshop began June 25, and will continue until Saturday.

Born November 2, 1918, O'Leary had been living in Pullman, Wash., where he was an instructor at Washington State college. He was in England for a 90-day training period at the time of the crash.

The proposed budget calls for an increase of $4,320 over last year's budget of $17,930.

The general control fund is increased from about $12,128 to $14,300; the instruction fund from $5,307 to $6,600 and capital outlay from $172 to $750.

Supervisors Upheld By Top State Court

DES MOINES (UP) — The Iowa supreme court upheld Tuesday the right of county supervisors to refuse to issue any class "C" beer permits in the part of the county of their supervision.

The court ruled in the case of the G & M supermarket against the Polk county board of supervisors. The supermarket had appealed from a Polk district court ruling in an action on a writ of certiorari. The district court ruled the supervisors acted within their discretionary powers under the state beer law.

Rutledge Bond Awaits September Decision

(From the Wire Service)

Fate of the $40,000 Robert Rutledge appeal bond awaits the decision of the Iowa Supreme court at its September term. Attorneys for the defense have asked the court to free the appearance bond posted for Rutledge, a St. Louis baby doctor, who committed suicide in Houston, Tex., in April after the Iowa high court denied his appeal.

The supreme court said Tuesday a motion to set aside and withdraw the court's opinion affirming the Rutledge conviction would be heard at the same time as a motion for a hearing of the appeal.

The motion for rehearing of the case has been set for the September term of court. If the court withdraws and sets aside its opinion, the bond money will be returned to the bondsman. Rutledge was convicted at Cedar Rapids for the 1948 slaying of Byron Hattman, also of St. Louis, Mo., in a hotel room. He was sentenced to 70 years imprisonment for second degree murder and served nearly a year of the term before being released on bond.

Kenny Foundation Re-Elects President

MINNEAPOLIS (UP) — Directors of the Sister Elizabeth Kenny foundation for polio treatment re-elected President George C. Crosby at their annual meeting Tuesday.

Crosby is vice-president of S. T. McKnight Co., Minneapolis realtors. Vice-presidents elected and named as directors were R. Bruce Reinecker, Woodside, Lake Minnetonka, and Harry C. Johnson, Minneapolis. Edward C. Wilson, Edina, was elected to the board, and re-elected were Donald C. Dayton, Wayzata, Dr. Stephen H. Baxter and James Henry, Minneapolis.

Secretary Henry W. Haverstock and Treasurer D. W. Ovan were re-elected. Crosby reported that more than 5,000 polio patients had been admitted to Kenny treatment centers and more than 30,000 had been treated elsewhere. The foundation has trained 62 registered nurses and physical therapists in the Kenny method.

Marvin L. Kline, national executive director, said a fund drive last year in Minnesota, Iowa, North and South Dakota and Wisconsin had netted $668,261.92. The foundation is constructing a new wing on the institute here and modernizing the present building.

SUI Student Wins Prize On Paper

Forrest Pailey, E. Iowa City, has won first prize for a paper which he presented last April at the spring conference of the American Society for Mechanical Engineers.

The topic of Pailey's paper was "Medical Engineering." Along with his presentation he designed a crippled children's stroller and used it as a groundwork for his paper.

1948 SUI Graduate Wins Peabody Award For Television Show

Charles Guggenheim, SUI graduate of 1948, has been awarded the 1950 George F. Peabody award for his children's television show, "Saturday at the Zoo."

The citation was presented in New York recently by John E. Drewry, dean of the Henry W. Grady school of journalism at the University of Georgia.

Guggenheim writes the children's program, which is televised by the American Guggenheim Broadcasting company.

The awards were established 11 years ago in honor of George Foster Peabody, New York banker and long time trustee of the University of Georgia.

Other award winners included Jimmy Durante, Elmer Davis, and Ronald Coleman and his wife. Guggenheim was named the first Hawkeye man of the year when that award was established on the SUI campus in 1948. He worked as an announcer for WSUI, and was active in debate and oratory.

Young Republicans In Wisconsin Fight Over Sen. McCarthy

GREEN BAY, WIS. (UP) — Eighth district Young Republicans will caucus here July 22, instead of July 15, to "clarify" a disputed resolution condemning Sen. Joseph McCarthy.

The dates were changed, according to District Chairman Francis Sumnicht, Appleton, because of a decision reached at last weekend's state GOP convention at Wisconsin Rapids.

Miles Meunier, district vice-chairman, Sturgeon Bay, called the July 15 meeting "as a neutral to bring the groups together." But Sumnicht denounced that meeting as a "fraud of the worst order."

Meanwhile, the state YGOP executive committee announced that Meunier had been removed from the vice-chairmanship on grounds his membership lapsed because he failed to keep up with his dues.

"I'll certainly have to look into that," Meunier said. The fight grew out of a disputed resolution condemning McCarthy, made at a Young GOP picnic here June 24.

Sumnicht has charged that the backers of the resolution weren't even legal members of the group.

Kohler Blasted

MADISON, WIS. (UP) — Leading Wisconsin Democrats charged Tuesday that Gov. Walter Kohler has "demonstrated that he will not fulfill his duty" by failing to repudiate Sen. Joseph McCarthy (R-Wis.).

Henry S. Reuss, Milwaukee Assemblyman William Proxmire, Blooming Grove, and State Sen. Gaylord A. Nelson and James E. Doyle, Madison, said Kohler has not "replied directly" to their request to repudiate McCarthy.

Sheltons Targets of Murder Tries May Flee

FAIRFIELD, ILL. (UP) — Fairfield buzzed Tuesday with speculation that two more segments of the Shelton clan, targets of mysterious assassination attempts, may flee town.

Speculation arose when an advertisement appeared in the local newspaper offering the six-room home of Guy and Lulu Belle Pennington for sale.

Mrs. Pennington is a sister of the notorious Shelton brothers who operated a terroristic bootleg gang in prohibition days. In recent years three of the brothers have been killed and the others have fled with their families to secret destinations.

Two weeks ago the Penningtons were shot by a man who leaped from an auto and blasted them with a machine-gun. They are recovering in the hospital here.

The Penningtons refused to say whether they would leave town rather than face the prospect of further attempts on their life, a fate that dogs all Sheltons.

But the ad offered their home for "immediate" sale and observers believed they were ready to leave.

Theater

Set Up in Garage By Students
 MILFORD, IA. (UP) — If you're a fan of summer stock productions, grab your hat and wander up to Milford this summer.

You'll find Iowa's first "straw hat" theater, manned by a Grinnell college professor and 12 of his students, in what used to be a Mack truck garage on highway 71 north of town.

And whatever day you arrive—unless it's Monday—chances are you'll get to see some kind of play, Monday is the cast's day off.

The curtain opened Tuesday night on a performance of Noel Coward's "Blithe Spirit." The plan is to offer one play a night every evening except Saturday. The players will offer two plays on Saturday nights.

For director Andrews the theater is the culmination of a 15-year ambition.

He came to Grinnell college in 1936. He says somebody suggested shortly after his arrival that he originate summer stock in Iowa.

He spent several years making plans. Last summer he canvassed the state—looking, he said, for "even a barn in which to stage stock productions."

He found the Mack truck garage last June 6. He leased it, and he and six of his students started making it over into a theater.

Andrews, his wife and the 12-member cast finished the job this summer. When the cast wasn't working on the building, it was rehearsing.

The cast members all have been students of Andrews at Grinnell in the past five years. Two are from Iowa and two from Nebraska.

The Iowans are Joan Landman of Des Moines and George Gaughnons, Grinnell. The Nebraskans are Dorothy Hume and Jack Reddan both of Omaha.

Besides "Blithe Spirit" the group has prepared these plays: "Angel Street," "Pursuit of Happiness," "The Heiress," "The Late Christopher Bean," and "The Lady Who Came to Stay."

The final curtain will be taken after a Labor day performance of "Pursuit of Happiness" Sept. 3.

Hypnotized Ladies Foil Scales

CHICAGO (UP) — A short man in a double-breasted suit stood before 17 women, some of them 200-pounders, who had crowded into his office today.

"You are asleep . . . sound asleep," he said. "The taste of any foods that contain sugar, starches, oils or fats will be repulsive to you . . ."

The women were trying to lose weight through hypnotism. They claim it works.

Several said they'd lost between 10 and 19 pounds in the last four weeks through the hypnotic spell of Edwin L. Baron, a stage performer who holds a degree in psychology.

They said they sleep sounder and feel younger.

Baron, who weighs 154 pounds, said it was the first group hypnotism for reducing purposes in history. He said any qualified hypnotist could make people lose weight and was surprised no one has thought of putting it on a mass basis before.

Miss Harriett Korup said she'd been coming to Baron's office once a week and already has lost eight pounds. She now weighs 204.

Mrs. Beatrice Barnett, who began the course June 23, weighed in at 220. She said she'd lost 16 pounds.

Mrs. Minnie Gerber, 206, said she lost 14 pounds in four weeks.

Mrs. Jeannette Migenes, an understudy in the Chicago east of South Pacific, said she'd dropped from 189 to 170 pounds in four weeks. She said she now has no desire to eat pie and cake, the stuff which upped her poundage.

Thirteen-year-old Marlene Gerber thought she was the most disappointed. She said in two weeks, "And I'm trying so hard to lose weight before I go to high school." She weighs 178.

The women said they had tried just about everything to lose weight, but that they always ended up trying to master a low-calorie diet.

Baron nodded sympathetically. "Diets leave people hungry," he said. "Now, what I do is hypnotize them so that they don't want to eat fattening foods. They eat, instead, other things, and don't get hungry."

Baron said he also could induce similar anti-desires with tobacco and liquor.
