Guard Patrols Barbed Wire As Crowds Mill In Riot Area

CHICAGO (AP)—National guardsmen with loaded rifles patrolled behind barbed wire entanglements in suburban Cicero Friday night while a crowd estimated at 3,000 drifted around an area where a Negro family had tried to move in.

Militia and police officers said the crowd was being kept broken up and fluid and was not attempting to mill around the barbed wire enclosure.

Thirty persons were arrested among loiterers from other areas of the city.

Col. Clifford Hodgkin of Peoria, commanding the 500 state guardsmen at the scene, said that "everything is under control."

The militia and hundreds of police officers had isolated and were guarding a two-block area around an apartment house where the Negro family had rented an apartment. The building was now deserted and ravaged after three nights of attacks.

Squads of police moved through gatherings, mostly of teen-agers, in the vicinity of the enclosure, with patrol wagons trailing.

All those who admitted being from other areas of the city or who could not explain their presence in Cicero were seized. At guard headquarters in the community hall a knot of 11 persons was arrested.

Those seized were questioned closely at the Cicero police headquarters. They were booked on disorderly conduct charges and released if they could post $50 bonds.

Thursday night 6,000 persons milled in the area, hurling firebrands and stones at the apartment house, and were driven back by bayonets and tear gas. Sixteen were injured, including soldiers, policemen and civilians.

The police strategy both Thursday night and Friday night was to arrest those from other areas to discourage an influx of outsiders.

Thursday night the soldiers had no ammunition in their weapons, but Friday night rifles were loaded. Hodgkin, however, did not say that the militia had instructions to shoot.

Sixteen persons were injured Thursday night's demonstration and 70 were arrested.

Harvey E. Clark Jr., Negro bus driver who had rented an apartment in the building, meanwhile said in a radio interview that he still planned to try to occupy it eventually.

Red Inspired? . . .

CHICAGO (AP)—The Negro who has been kept out of a Cicero apartment by mob action said Friday he believes investigators "will find the Communist element behind it."

The statement was made in an interview by Harvey E. Clark, Jr. "It's pretty evident that there is an outside force there," he said. "I don't doubt they will find the Communist element behind it."

Clark and his attorney, George C. Adams, told a reporter they had discussed the case with the FBI, and that the FBI had given a report to the district attorney's office.

The FBI made the report before June 26, when Federal Judge John P. Barnes issued an order directing Cicero officials to protect Clark and his family. The FBI gave "no comment" reply to inquiries Friday.

MR. AND MRS. HARVEY E. CLARK JR. attempted earlier this week to move into an apartment in suburban Cicero, Ill., touching off a series of disorders which culminated Thursday night in rioting. Illinois national guardsmen tried to dispel the crowd. The crowd finally was dispersed early Friday.

Judge Accepts Reversal, Frees 15 Reds on Bail

NEW YORK CITY (UP)—Fifteen second string Communist leaders got out of jail Friday only to face the threat of new imprisonment in the government's battle to void their bail.

The Communists, 12 men and three women, indicted on charges of conspiring to advocate overthrow of the government, spent two nights in jail after federal Judge Sylvester J. Ryan cancelled their $176,000 bail put up by the leftist Civil Rights congress.

Ryan canceled the bail Wednesday on grounds that trustees of the CRC bail fund were "totally unreliable" as bondsmen.

But he bowed Friday to a ruling Thursday by retired Judge Learned Hand of the federal court of appeals that the bail posted by the CRC be accepted until completion of the inquiry being conducted before Ryan into the bail issue.

The 15 were brought into Ryan's court Friday morning, handcuffed, from the federal house of detention where they had been required to leave their money and personal effects. As a result, they had to borrow money for lunch.

Judge Ryan is hearing arguments on a government motion that the Communists show why their bail should not be revoked.

Bradley Asks More U.S. Aid To West Europe

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Omar N. Bradley gave house leaders a secret briefing on world tensions Friday and then publicly urged them to speed approval of more U.S. arms shipments to Western Europe.

The chairman of the joint chiefs of staff appeared before the house foreign affairs committee to support President Truman's request for $8.5 billion in military and economic aid to anti-Communist nations.

The first part of his testimony—dealing with the world military situation—was delivered behind closed doors and was described by chairman James P. Richards (D-S.C.), as "highly secret."

In a later public session, Bradley warned that a Korean truce would not end the danger of Russian aggression elsewhere.

Troops Land . . .

BREMERHAVEN, Germany (AP)—Advance troops on the "Hell on Wheels" armored division landed here from the United States Friday "to keep the Russians out of Western Europe."

That's the way Maj. Gen. Williston B. Palmer described the mission of his famed Second Armored division as 1,100 soldiers walked down the gangplank of the navy transport General Gallan. Other transports are carrying the rest of the Second's 15,000 men across the Atlantic.

The commander said his group is going to train to Camp Y-79, near Mannheim, for processing. The forward troops took 15 days to get here from New Orleans.

"This division was sent over here to keep the Russians out of Western Europe and we aim to do it," Palmer said.

Third SUI Course On Civil Defense Scheduled Aug. 30

Prof. Carl Menzer Civilian Defense Speaker

A five-day course to train civil defense instructors throughout Iowa will be given at SUI Aug. 20. Prof. Carl Menzer, SUI electrical engineering department, told 200 civil defense leaders at a statewide conference in Des Moines Friday.

Menzer, who is also director of radio station WSUI, said 50 instructors could be included in the class and will be repeated according to demand.

He said the instruction would not be concentrated on atomic warfare, although radiological attack will be included.

He said that Iowa communities will send representatives here and on their return the instructors will be expected to organize classes and pass along their knowledge.

Author of the state civil defense program, Menzer has witnessed several atom bomb tests and directed field tests at SUI using radioactive materials.

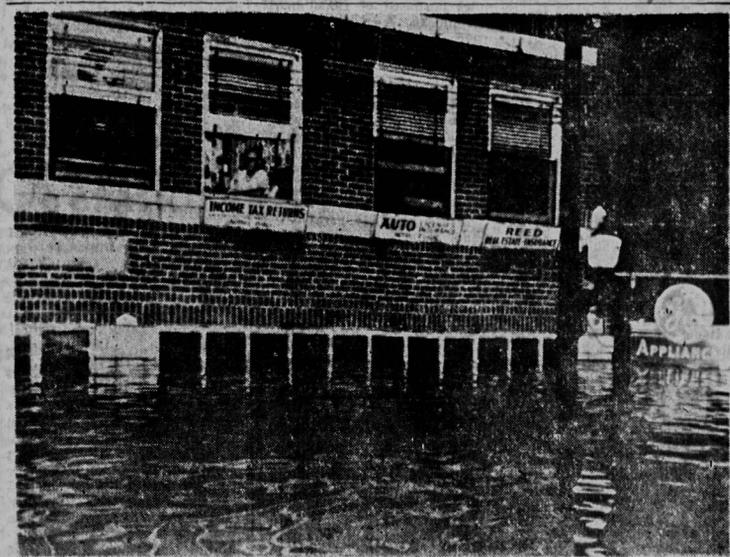

Two pilot courses in civil defense instruction have already been given by SUI to more than 65 Iowans.

Dr. Walter L. Biering, state director of medical and health services for civil defense said that Iowa has the medical facilities to cope with an emergency attack.

"The big job is to organize those facilities so they may be quickly called into action," Biering said.

He said that normal transportation facilities might be disrupted in such an emergency which would complicate sending medical aid to the stricken area.

Allies Await Answer to Demand That Red Troops Leave Kaesong

KEEPING AN EYE ON the flood water, William Reeds sat at a window of his home-office in Kansas City, Kan., watching the flood waters from the Kansas river as it mounted higher on the walls. The water at this point was eight feet deep when the picture was taken. The building is located on the main street of the Argentine business district. Evacuation was underway Friday on the Missouri side of the river as large industrial areas began to go under water.

Flood Hits Kansas City

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The worst flood in Kansas' history surged into the twin cities of Kansas City, Mo., and Kansas City, Kan., Friday bringing near paralysis to this metropolitan area of 900,000 population.

With three major industrial districts under water and fire burning in an oil storage tank area of two square blocks, the city council proclaimed a state of emergency.

Mayor William E. Kemp and City Manager L. P. Cookingham earlier had requested that all non-essential businesses close in Kansas City.

Residents were asked to remain in their homes unless on essential business.

The water supply in Kansas City, Mo., and suburbs supplied by that city's water plant were reduced sharply by the flooding of Turkey creek pumping station, which supplies half the normal water supply for 600,000 persons.

Meanwhile, army engineers recommended evacuation of North Kansas City, an industrial area north of the Missouri river from the Kansas City, Mo., business district.

They also advised the municipal airport to move all of its equipment to higher ground. The airport is adjacent to North Kansas City, although within the corporate limits of Kansas City.

North Kansas City is a newer heavy industrial district with many factories and warehouses, but has a population of only about 5,000.

The evacuation was ordered after the weather bureau predicted a flood crest half a foot higher than the 1903 top—greatest Kansas flood on record heretofore. This would pour water over the dikes.

Maj. Gen. Lewis Pick, chief of the army engineers, told reporters in Washington that damage from the flood, which devastated much of eastern Kansas before pouring into Kansas City, could reach $1 billion.

Thirteen persons are known to have lost their lives since the floods started three days ago, and there were unconfirmed reports Friday that three more died in Kansas City, Kan., when a boat capsized.

Many were missing, but no totals were available as many missing persons were located in refugee centers.

All transcontinental rail service through this major rail hub was halted, as was all through highway travel.

Lawrence, Topeka, Manhattan and smaller towns in the Kansas river valley were hit proportionately as hard as Kansas City, as were many cities in other water sheds, including Ottawa, Iola, Burlington and others. Wichita was warned to prepare for a flood of the Little Arkansas river in its north side by today.

Thousands were homeless and rescue workers still were taking refugees from upper stories of industrial buildings via boat. Many workers reported as usual in the central industrial district of Kansas City Friday before the flood hit.

Effects Here . . .

Transportation services in Iowa City have been affected only slightly by floods in Kansas.

Trains on the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific railroad are running as usual to Kansas City, but all trains running from Kansas City to Los Angeles have been canceled until the water goes down.

The Union bus depot reports that their routes run north of the main flood area. A few detours have been made, but the schedule is practically the same. Airline service has not been affected.

House Rejects Truman's Plea For More Controls Authority

WASHINGTON (AP)—A rebellious house shot new holes in the administration's economic controls bill Friday.

By a vote of 92 to 39, the chamber rejected President Truman's request for unlimited authority to set up new federal corporations to spur defense production or assist in control measures.

Once again the Republicans took the lead in blasting away at the already tattered controls measure. A few Democrats joined them.

With its control program in jeopardy, the administration Friday night unleashed another salvo in its last-ditch fight to stave off defeat.

Secretary of Commerce Sawyer took to the air to broadcast a warning that inflation will do the nation great harm "unless we keep controls."

Sawyer said he would promise that "as soon as controls can be abandoned or alleviated, they will be," but declared:

"It is childish to pretend that inflationary pressures are not upon us."

He went on to say that while controls are not needed for the below-ceiling goods at this time, "neither are these controls hurting anybody. When the supply is re-

Wage and Price Plan Will Prove Harmful To U.S., Kline Warns

Allan B. Kline, president of the American Farm Bureau federation, expressed disapproval with government price and wage control policies in an address Friday night before more than 300 persons, including members of the SUI workshop on education.

"The present proposed control plan will bring black markets, destroy public morale, and waste government manpower," Kline declared.

He said he did not think Michael V. DiSalle, price administrator, would be able to make the government's beef rollback plan work successfully.

"That type of control plan will depress production and substitute political direction for trend of free prices," he said.

Kline admitted that some controls on prices and wages will be necessary because of what he termed "business and industry's apparent ability to control prices contrary to the public interests."

Kline said farmers face the problem of having their prices move up and down in the inflation cycle while business and labor have "sticky costs" that remain at a high level once they reach it.

Allies Insist Next Move Up to Reds

SEOUL, KOREA SATURDAY (AP)—The Allies awaited a Red reply today to Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway's demand that Communist soldiers get out of Kaesong and the Reds show other proofs of good faith if cease-fire talks are to be resumed.

(In Tokyo, the Peiping radio English language voicecast was heard this morning, but—by 4:30 p. m. or 10:30 a. m., Iowa time—had not replied to Ridgway's message.)

Since shortly after 1:15 p. m. Friday (9:15 p. m. Iowa time Thursday), the next move has been up to the Reds.

At that hour, radios beamed to the Reds a statement by Ridgway, Allied supreme commander, on why there have been no talks since Wednesday and the three "primary prerequisites" for getting them started again.

He accused the Reds of objectionable tactics from the start of the talks Tuesday.

(In Washington, Secretary of State Acheson endorsed fully the stand taken by Ridgway but declined to go beyond what Ridgway already has said about the conduct of the Communists.

Acheson indicated, however, the U. S. seeks a buffer zone along the present battle line which is mostly north of the 38th parallel. He stated emphatically at a news conference that he has not said anything that would indicate he favored withdrawal south of the parallel.

Other U. S. officials say the present line offers a better basis for working out an armistice than would redeployment of forces on the 38th.

(Voice of America broadcasts from the United States accused the Communists of "bad faith" at Kaesong and also charged they were building up land and air power in Manchuria and Red China.)

Ridgway's three demands: 1. Clear Kaesong of armed guards and also the five-mile area radiating from its center—or pick another site with such a neutral setting.

2. Permit complete freedom of movement to and from the conference site.

3. Allow each side to send anyone they wished, up to 150 persons, including "representatives of the press," to the conference site.

"If you agree to these proposals," Ridgway said, "the present recess can be terminated and the conference resumed without delay and with some expectation of progress."

Some indication that the Communist position remained unchanged came from a message sent Friday by North Korean Gen. Nam Il, head Red delegate, in reply to a message Thursday from Vice-Adm. C. Turner Joy, chief allied negotiator.

Nam firmly rejected Joy's demand that 20 allied correspondents be allowed to visit Kaesong, although they were not to have attended the conferences.

Allied Advances . . .

This limited-objective attack was the only significant action on the Korean front.

Platoon-sized (about 40-man) Red patrols with mortars and small arms opposed some Allied troops elsewhere.

There were continuing reports, however, that the Reds were strengthening their main lines during the current lull.

Latest available estimates place the total Red strength, all along the line and in close reserve, at 350,000 men. An eighth army spokesman said there was nothing to indicate concentrations in any one area.

Despite unfavorable weather, Allied fighters and fighter-bombers flew 300 sorties up to 6 p. m. Friday, attacking Red gun positions, railroad yards at Sunchon and a bridge near Kyomipo.

Local Man Critically Injured in Truck Crash

George Nason, 34, 732 E. Jefferson st., was in "fairly good" condition at Mercy hospital Friday night as the result of injuries received in a truck accident seven miles west of Iowa City.

Nason suffered a perforated lung and several fractures when his truck, traveling south on Rohrer road, crashed into a 15-foot ditch about 2 p. m.

For fifty minutes Nason was pinned inside the cab of the truck. Seven and a half tons of crushed rock, which he had been carrying to a highway 1 project south of Iowa City, shot over his head and into the field when the truck crashed.

Two county road maintainers were needed to pull the truck from the ditch before it was possible to get Nason out of the cab. Morphine was administered by Dr. Isom Rankin, Iowa City physician.

Owner of the truck is Clint Barkson, Kirkville, Iowa. Highway patrolmen said Nason was hired by Barkson only Friday and that this was his first load of gravel.

PINNED FOR 50 MINUTES in the cab of this truck Friday was George Nason, 34, 732 E. Jefferson st., after the truck plunged into 15-foot ditch seven miles west of Iowa City. Nason was in "fairly good" condition at Mercy hospital Friday night, suffering a perforated lung and several fractures.

Adrift in Sea, California Man Knifes Shark

PEARL HARBOR (AP) — Ted Sierks told Friday in a ship-to-ship radio interview how he stabbed to death a shark which nibbled at his feet during the 30 hours he was adrift in a life-ring in mid-pacific.

He also said he fended off "more (sharks) than I can remember" before his miraculous rescue.

The 40-year-old Avalon, Calif., yachtsman fell off the racing sloop, L'Apache, Wednesday 810 miles northeast of Honolulu. He was plucked from the eight-foot waves Thursday afternoon by the destroyer-escort Douglas A. Munro.

Apparently tired but in good health, he admittedly had been on the point of despair after several searches had come close without sighting him.

Today, talking by radio from the rescue vessel, Sierks told about the seven foot shark.

"It was after my bare feet. It kinda nibbled on them. I grabbed it by the tail, turned it over and ripped its belly with my sailor knife. The shark had circled around and kept eyeing me for 15 to 20 minutes before it came in.

"The whole thing was over in 20 minutes.

"Fortunately, I had kept my knife with me. I thought I might have to use it."

He killed the shark in daylight Wednesday, a few hours after he fell overboard from L'Apache, a contestant in the 2,225-mile Los Angeles-Honolulu yacht race.

State Bans Beer Sale At Des Moines Tavern

DES MOINES (AP) — Mel Synhorst, state beer permit board chairman, said Friday he had notified the Stage-Sho bar in Des Moines that its beer permit expired June 30 and any sales of beer would be considered illegal until the permit again had been considered by the board.

Synhorst, who also is secretary of state, said that in view of complaints about the tavern as registered by Polk County Sheriff Howard Reppert, it was only "barely conceivable" that the permit would be renewed.

Reppert has seized money from the Stage-Sho cash register on several occasions in the last two days to pay judgment's issued against Everett Dale Earp, 34.

The beer and sales tax permits for the tavern are made out with Earp listed as the sole owner, although the place is popularly known as Tony Critelli's Stage-Sho bar.

Reppert said the tavern was the logical source of funds for the judgments because the permits listed Earp as the sole owner.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Two Drivers Charged In Boone Girl's Death

BOONE (AP) — A coroner's jury ruled Friday that "felonious acts" on the part of two drivers were responsible for the death of Shirley Parks, 16, Boone, in a three-car crash April 22 on highway 30.

The jury named the drivers as Eugene Buchman, 17, Ames, and Arthur Thede, 17, Boone. The driver of the third car was Cleon Strawn, 46, Ames.

Six persons were injured in the collision and suits totaling $150,000 have been filed on behalf of the Parks girl and the injured persons.

Boone county coroner Garland Hancock said the inquest was delayed until persons injured in the crash were released from hospitals and were able to testify. Several had been on the critical list for several weeks after the accident.

Paul Brown, Boone county attorney, said the matter would be presented to the grand jury at the September term for a probe of criminal negligence.

Also injured in the accident were Margaret Friel, Robert Schmidt, and D. Wilcox, Boone teenagers.

6th Weekly Drop Reported in Prices

WASHINGTON (AP) — Wholesale prices, as measured by the government, dropped three-tenths of one per cent during the week ended July 10. It was the sixth straight week they have declined.

The bureau of labor statistics, in reporting this, said its index was 179.7 per cent of the 1926 average. This is 14.5 per cent above the level in the month before Korea.

The bureau said all major groups of commodities included in the index declined during the week with the exception of metals and metal products. They were unchanged.

Thousands Flee Kansas Floods

WITH RIVERS IN KANSAS at near-record highs, 10,000 persons were forced to flee Topeka (1) when the Kansas (Kaw) river ripped through a dike. Six Santa Fe trains had to halt and unload 1,000 passengers in flooded Emporia (2) and more than 5,000 travelers were stranded in Kansas City (3). Ottawa (4) was third under water, eight feet of water flooded parts of Fort Riley (5) and 90 per cent of Council Grove (6) was inundated, forcing 2,000 persons to flee. Flood waters also hit other cities on the map.

CIO Threatens Strike Following Layoffs In Chrysler Plants

DETROIT (AP) — Chrysler corporation, which two weeks ago laid off 20,000 employees because of material cutbacks, was threatened with strikes in "any or all" of its plants Friday.

The CIO united auto workers union formally accused the auto company of "speeding up" production operations.

Norman Matthews, director of the union's Chrysler department, said the international union "will not hesitate to approve strikes for UAW members in any or all Chrysler plants."

At the same time, Packard motor car company announced it will halt automobile output and lay off 5,000 workers for two weeks, starting July 23, because of critical shortages of material, especially copper.

Matthews' threat came after a meeting of union local presidents from Chrysler plants which followed a sporadic series of walk-out actions resulting from the discharge of men "refusing to do the work assigned them."

"It has been made obvious to us that certain representatives of management at many Chrysler plants are deliberately misrepresenting the intent of the annual improvement clause of the Chrysler UAW agreement," he charged.

Chrysler workers recently received four-cent hourly raises under the "productivity clause" in their five-year contracts.

"This misrepresentation has resulted in the speeding up of workers on some production jobs which is not the purpose of the annual improvement factor," Matthews said.

"The improvement factor clause clearly provides that productivity increases must come out of engineering and technological changes and not out of extra effort by the workers," he said.

Chrysler officials said they had "no immediate comment" on the UAW's charges.

More Money Asked for U.S. REA Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — A senate agriculture appropriations subcommittee was urged Friday to appropriate enough money to provide adequate rural electrification and telephones throughout the nation.

P. N. L. Bellinger of Earlehurst, Allegheny, Va., told the committee in closed session that the National Electric Cooperative association wants congress to appropriate $75 million for rural telephones for the year that started July 1.

"The large number of requests for REA telephone loans and the wide distribution of requests reflect the backward state in which the majority of rural communities still find themselves as regard rural telephone service," he said in a statement filed with the committee.

P. J. Peterson of St. James, Minn., in another statement urged the committee not to cut REA administrative funds. He said increasing phone demands will cut into electrification work. He said a minimum of $8.5 million necessary for this phase of REA although the house set aside only $7,750,000.

Lewis E. Amend of Rocky Ford, Colo., pleaded for government funds for electrical research. In his statement, he said: "Electricity is being used experimentally in an effort to destroy insects present in grain by high frequency currents. Results are promising."

Eric A. Johnson, Dalles, Ore., manager of the Wasco electric cooperative, insisted that cuts in REA administration funds "would seriously impair the effectiveness of the program."

William H. Wisdom of Des Moines, representing the Iowa Rural Electric Cooperative association urged the committee to provide sufficient funds for the legal department of REA to handle telephone as well as electrical problems.

John Deere, UAW Ask Approval of Contracts

CHICAGO (AP) — The United Auto Workers-CIO said Friday it had joined with John Deere and Co. in requesting approval of a three per cent wage increase provided by UAW contracts with the company at seven plants.

The request was submitted to Thomas O'Malley of the U.S. department of labor's wage and hour division in Chicago. It was signed by Pat Greathouse, director of region four of the UAW-CIO and Morris Field, international representative of the union, and Ralph Clifford, general manager of Deere's industrial relations department in Moline, Ill.

The union said some 13,000 workers are covered by the contract signed Dec. 18, 1950, which provides for a three per cent wage increase on Aug. 14 of each year until 1955 and an "annual improvement factor."

Plants covered by the contract include those at Ottumwa, Dubuque, Des Moines, Waterloo, Moline, Ill., and two at East Moline.

NOW THAT THE "queen" season is over for a while, maybe we can lobby through a suggestion to do away with all this foolishness.

During the course of any one college year, more queens and sweethearts of one thing and another are named than anybody knows what to do with, or cares.

At the beginning of next year, let's hire us a real classy type model from somewhere, enroll her in a handful of snap courses to make it look legal, and then have her queen of everything that the organization press agent's dream up.

This way it'll save all the trouble, fuss and bother, the paper can have one picture for all occasions, and nobody'll have to waste money and muscles getting their "beautiful" friend elected "Queen of the Left-Handed Ceramics Majors."

SOMEWHERE ABOVE I seem to have intimated that there are "snap courses" included in the University curriculum. In case the registrar's office is listening, I'm only kidding. Really. So help me.

SPEAKING OF COURSES, they seem to have dropped one of the courses I most admired in the catalogue, "Medieval Manuscript Illumination," in the art department. Sounded like a good one, but they've let it go.

There're still a few, though. "Water Purification and Sewage Disposal" could be a good one to have under your belt if you planned to live around these parts.

"Transportation and Deposition of Sediment" could prime you for fascinating conversation at parties. And think, with a course in "Design and Construction of Masonry Dams," you could delight the guests by putting together a small dam on the living room floor.

SOME FASCINATING FACTS gleaned from a service that supplies fillers for newspapers: Hogs will eat snakes, according to the bureau of animal industries. There are three kinds of totem poles: the personal pole; one to commemorate some great event, and a kind of tombstone.

It is estimated that the Woolworth building in New York city weighs 206 million pounds. There is no basis for the belief that whales spout.

AREN'T you glad to know this sort of thing?

THIS HIGHWAY BUSINESS is getting out of hand, it seems. First one highway is switched over onto poor old Dubuque street. Then someone decided Dubuque needs a face lifting and the two autobahns are shifted to venerable Clinton

If you've noticed the light poles downtown, you begin to wonder where they're going to put the signs when they make the inevitable shift and detour the whole business back to highway 6.

They'll have to put up extensions to carry the signs reading, "Highway 6 detoured to 218, both detoured to Clinton street, which is now undergoing repairs, and so go back on 6 and forget the whole thing because it's open again."

In Kaesong Peace Talks — Have the Reds Outsmarted Allies?

MUNSAN, Korea (AP) — Have the Communists outsmarted the Allies at Kaesong? Recalling Yalta, Potsdam and other conferences where clever Communist maneuvering made the most of a not-so-strong position, it is a natural question.

There are numbers of American officers in and near this "peace" camp who are very unhappy about the way things went at Kaesong.

This was in effect conceded Friday in Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway's demand that the Reds either move their armed forces away from Kaesong and make it a truly neutral zone, or else start armistice talks all over again in an altogether different place.

Ridgway mentioned that he had first proposed conferences aboard the Danish hospital ship Jutlandia, where "a completely neutral atmosphere" could be attained. The Communists apparently did not think so.

The Jutlandia is Denmark's contribution to the United Nations' effort in Korea, and while it is a mercy ship without arms, the Reds certainly regard it an "enemy territory." They also possibly recalled the Japanese surrender aboard the battleship Missouri six years ago and figured any shipboard meeting would look bad for the Red side.

Whatever the final outcome, the Reds have managed things so they are telling the world that the Allies are to blame for breaking off the armistice talks.

Wisconsin GOP Tables Rebuke From Governor

MADISON, WIS. (UP) — The state GOP executive committee Friday tabled discussion of Gov. Walter Kohler's rebuke to the party's state convention where two delegates were shouted down for opposing a resolution praising Sen. Joseph McCarthy, (R-Wis.).

But four leading Wisconsin Democrats congratulating the governor for "condemning" the convention's action at Wisconsin Rapids last weekend.

"It is refreshing that you agree that mob rule methods have no place in Wisconsin politics," the Democrats' statement said.

Assemblyman Arthur L. Peterson, Prescott, and Al Allison, Oconto, were drowned out by shouts and boos when they protested the resolution praising McCarthy.

Kohler said the action was "disgraceful" and that it had been at the convention he would have demanded that the two be heard.

Lloyd Terge, Waukesha, chairman of the Young Republican organization, said Allison was trying to use "sneaky tactics" against McCarthy.

Wayne Hood, La Crosse, re-elected today to another two-year term as chairman of the GOP executive committee, disagreed with Kohler.

He said both men had had their full five minutes to speak against the McCarthy resolution at the convention.

However, the executive committee itself took no action at its organizational meeting today.

The subject of Kohler's statement came up at the meeting but was not considered since it was not on the agenda, Jack Rouse, party secretary, said.

CIO Predicts Win In Phone Election

OMAHA (AP) — The communications workers of America (CIO), "will win" the national labor relations board conducted election among employees of the Northwestern Bell telephone company by a four to one majority, district director J. G. Hill predicted Friday night.

Hill said reports reaching his office from a field staff in Iowa, Nebraska, Minnesota and the Dakotas indicated the CWA membership had been increased to 14,000. There are, he added, 18,600 Northwestern Bell employees eligible to participate in the election.

The NLRB is conducting the election as a result of a claim by the AFL international brotherhood of electrical workers that it represents the Northwestern Bell workers. The CWA has represented the workers for several years.

Barkley Urges Caution

FRENCH LICK, IND. (AP) — Vice-President Alben W. Barkley warned the nation Friday not to be "lulled" into a false feeling of security by the peace negotiations in Korea.

The 'Truce Camp' Tent at Munsan

GEN. MATTHEW RIDGWAY leaves conference tent at Munsan "truce camp" after conference with UN delegates before their hop to Kaesong to confer with Communists.

Nurse, Student Nurse Engaged

Those who attend should bring a covered dish, if possible. Students and single members may pay 50 cents toward the ice cream if unable to provide a covered dish. Helen Larson, the chapter's publicity chairman, said Friday.

Coffee and lemonade will be furnished.

A brief report of the UWF's national convention, June 22-24, in Des Moines will be given.

Jean Shoquist To Wed

MR. AND MRS. WALTER E. SHOQUIST, Iowa City, announce the engagement of their daughter, Jean, to R. Bruce Hughes, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Hughes, Sioux City. Miss Shoquist received her B.A. degree from SUI in 1946; her M.A. degree in 1949. A member of Theta Sigma Phi, women's national journalism fraternity, she is now a staff member at Iowa State Teachers college as assistant in charge of Public School Relations. Hughes received his B.A. degree from SUI in 1948 and his J.D. degree in June. A former editor of The Daily Iowan, he is now practicing law in Waterloo, having recently become associated with the firm of Reed and Beers. Hughes is a member of Delta Theta Phi, legal fraternity; Order of the Coif, national legal scholastic fraternity; Phi Beta Kappa, national honorary fraternity, and Sigma Chi, social fraternity.

Prenatal Care Reduces Heart Case Deaths

Adequate prenatal care of the expectant mother suffering from heart disease will reduce the maternal mortality rate of such patients, according to a report in the current Journal of the American Medical Association.

Four Chicago doctors studied the records of the Cook County hospital, Chicago, over an 11-year period, July, 1936, to July, 1947. They found that deaths of such mothers usually occur among those with inadequate or no care during pregnancy.

704 Have Heart Disease
The hospital's records showed 55,938 mothers were delivered of viable (capable of living) infants. Of these women, 704 had organic heart disease. The hospital's cardiac clinic treated 460 prenatally; 244 were not seen by the clinic.

"It is evident from the material reviewed that there were many with severe cardiac disease among the 460 women with organic heart defects followed in the prenatal cardiac clinic," the report said. "However, all these women, with three exceptions, were delivered safely. There were 244 women with organic heart disease who were not seen in the cardiac clinic and from this group there were 21 deaths."

Offers Good Index
The Chicago doctors pointed out that marriage and pregnancy call for a re-evaluation of the functional capacity of a woman's heart. The pre-pregnancy classification offers a good index of what may be expected, they said. In the treatment of pregnant women with heart conditions, the clinic uses a diet which supplies food essentials but which at the same time avoids digestive distress. Usually it is low in caloric value, salt and fat, moderate in carbohydrate and high in protein. Every effort is made to keep the patient's total weight gain at 20 pounds. Bed rest is encouraged. All patients are asked to rest one hour, and preferably two each afternoon. They are instructed to sleep at least eight hours each night. "Bed rest constitutes the most effective single therapeutic agent in the treatment of heart disease," it was pointed out.

Mothers of Korean Dead Denied Insignia

TUCSON, ARIZ. (AP) — Gold star lapel buttons have been denied two Tucson mothers whose sons were killed in the Korean war.

The commandant of marines in Washington, D. C., informed the two mothers that "only widows and mothers whose sons were killed during World War II may be issued official gold star lapel buttons."

Mrs. Owen Nickels, whose son, Richard, 17, was killed Nov. 4, 1950, said she "didn't want to make a fuss about it." Mrs. Claude Hubbard's request was also refused. Her son, Raymond, 19, was killed Sept. 23, 1950.

Anglo-Saxon Brides Specialized in 'Cooking'

Today when a man gets married he is happy if his wife is a good cook. But in Anglo-Saxon lands a girl was deemed most desirable as a wife if she knew how to brew beer and ale!

This idea must have been popular because the word "bride" is derived from "to brew." To round this out, the wedding feast was known as the "bride-ale." Today, we drop the final "e" and say it as one word, "bridal."

Margaret Declares 'Glad to Be Home'

NEW YORK (AP) — Margaret Truman returned Friday from her first trip to Europe and said she had "a wonderful time" but was glad to be back.

She arrived on the liner Constitution after a seven-week trip abroad, bringing with her surprise gifts for her father and mother and a new Paris outfit for herself.

"Everywhere I went it was really wonderful the hospitality that was shown me," said the president's daughter. "I had a wonderful time, but golly, I'm glad to be home."

Miss Truman wore a navy blue linen suit, a small white straw hat and carried a straw purse she said someone in Rome had given her.

For Summer's Ladies in Waiting

Bums Win 8th Straight

Bums 8, Cubs 6

BROOKLYN (AP) — Brooklyn's lusterful Dodgers exploded for eight runs in the first two innings, then withstood a late home-run barrage to defeat the Chicago Cubs, 8-6, Friday for their eighth straight victory.

It was Chicago's eighth straight loss, but the Windy City lads went down fighting. They clubbed five homers—two by Randy Jackson—to cause some anxious moments for the ladies' day crowd of 28,822, including 10,279 paid.

Defying the Friday the 13th jinx, big Don Newcombe, pitching hero of the all-star game, sought his 13th victory for the runaway league-leaders. His mates staked him to five runs in the first inning and three in the second, but the big righthander developed stiffness in his right shoulder and had to leave the game in the fourth frame.

His successor, Clyde King, served up three homerun balls but managed to register his eighth triumph against four setbacks. Bob Schultz, battered out in the second inning, suffered his sixth loss against three victories. Cal McLish worked the last eight innings.

Giants 14, Cards 4

NEW YORK (AP) — Wes Westrum and rookie Dave Williams belted grand slam homers Friday to lead the New York Giants to an easy 14-4 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals. The triumph enabled the Giants to regain second place from the Cardinals, 9 1/2 games back of the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Don Mueller also homered for the Giants while Del Rice and Red Schoendienst connected for the Cardinals. Westrum clouted his bases loaded homer off starter Red Munger in the third inning.

Trabert, Flam Oust Jap Davis Cup Stars in Claycourt Tennis

CHICAGO (AP) — Tony Trabert of Cincinnati and Herb Flam of Beverly Hills, Calif., eliminated Japanese Davis cup stars in quarterfinal matches Friday of the National Clay court tennis championship.

Trabert, intercollegiate singles champion, overpowered Fumyteru Nakano, No. two man on the Japanese squad, 6-4, 6-0, 6-1.

Flam, seeded No. 2 in the meet, found tougher going with Jiro Kumamaru, Japan's leading player. He won 3-6, 6-2, 4-6, 6-4 in the most exciting match of the day at the suburban River Forest club.

Other men's singles quarterfinal winners were topseded Art Larsen of San Leandro, Calif., the National champion, and L. Straight Clark of Pasadena, Calif.

Larsen ousted youthful Hamilton Richardson, Baton Rouge, La., National Junior titleholder, 6-4, 6-4, 3-6, 6-4. Clark, seeded No. 7, defeated Grant Golden of Wilmette, Ill., 6-2, 6-3, 9-6, 6-4.

In the semi-finals today, Flam meets Larsen and Trabert plays Clark.

Pre-tourney favorites in the women's division, Beverly Baker of Santa Monica, Calif., and Patricia Canning Todd of La Jolla, Calif., seeded first and second respectively, breezed through their quarter final matches easily. Miss Williams socked his off Jack Crimian in the eighth.

The two grand slam homers in one game tied a major league record held by many clubs. The last time this feat was accomplished was on July 27, 1946, when Rudy York hit two homers with the sacks jammed for the Boston Red Sox.

Lefty Dave Koslo went all the way for the Giants and scattered ten hits. It was Koslo's eighth start and second complete game of the season.

Phils 3, Pirates 2

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Robin Roberts allowed the Pittsburgh Pirates only two hits, a double by Joe Garagiola and a homer by Erv Dusak, as the Philadelphia Phillies nosed out Pittsburgh 3-2 Friday.

All the runs were scored on homers. The Phils tallied their three runs off Howie Pollet in the fourth. Tommy Brown hit a circuit blow with one on and Del Ennis followed with another with the bases bare.

It was Roberts' fourth victory over the Bucs without a defeat. Pollet, trying for his 100th big league victory, suffered his sixth defeat of the year against two wins.

Pittsburgh got its two runs and its first hit in the sixth. George Strickland walked and after Pete Reiser, batting for Pollet, flied out, Dusak hit his homer into the stands.

Reds 2, Braves 0

BOSTON (AP) — Johnny Wyrostek's two-run single enabled righthander Howie Fox to pitch the Cincinnati Reds to a 2-0 shut-out over the Boston Braves Friday night with a five-hit performance.

Wyrostek's game-winning blow came after Fox singled and Connie Ryan doubled against Max Surkont in the third inning.

Only two of the Braves managed to reach third base. Fox gave up a base on balls to leadoff Johnny Logan in the first inning and the latter was forced by Sam Jethroe, who promptly stole second. Jethroe moved along as Earl Torgerson grounded out but became stranded when Bob Elliott popped to Ryan.

Surkont gave the Reds five of their six hits before manager Tommy Holmes batted for him in the seventh inning. Wyrostek was the only Red to connect safely twice and St. Claire had two of the Boston hits, all singles.

Andrews Brothers, Ruthie Ashton Win In Iowa State Tennis

Iowa City's Andrews brothers, Jamie and Art, each won and lost Friday in the Iowa State Open tennis tournament at Cedar Rapids while in the girls' tournament, moved to Iowa City because of the rain, Suzy Hamilton lost and Ruthie Ashton won.

Jamie lost in the quarterfinals of the men's singles to Stan Canter of Modesto, Calif., seeded number three, 10-8, 7-5. However, in the junior singles Jamie ousted Dan Holcomb of Topeka, Kans., in the third round, 6-0, 6-2.

Art lost to an old nemesis, John Been, Shawnee, Okla., in the junior singles, 6-1, 6-3, but came back in the boys' singles to trounce John Knapp of Cedar Rapids, 6-1, 6-0 in the third round and then pour it on Mike Mahaffey of Little Rock, Ark., in the quarter-finals, 6-2, 6-4.

Suzy's loss in the junior girls' singles was at the hands of Bonnie Jean Grossnickle, 6-1, 6-3. Ruthie Ashton beat Donna Whisnand of Omaha, 6-0, 6-3. The girls' matches were played in the Iowa field house.

CHICAGO (AP) — The American Girls' Baseball league Friday was assured of full eight-team strength with the announcement by league commissioner Fred Leo that the Kenosha team will be moved to Dubuque.

Additionally, Leo said that two other clubs of doubtful stability will be kept in the circuit.

The team at Battle Creek, Mich., will be taken over by a group now being organized, he said, and the one at Peoria, Ill., will be saved from a red-ink death by a $7,000 pot raised through popular subscription.

The Kenosha club will be moved to Dubuque July 26, Leo said.

Lloyd Mangrum of Niles, Ill., and Johnny Palmer of Badin, N.C., joined Snead at 137. Mangrum added a 69 to his 68 Thursday and Palmer got a 68 to go with a 69.

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Bill Veeck announced Friday he hopes to name the new manager of the St. Louis Browns "in four or five days."

The club owner said the field has been narrowed to "several" men but he declined to identify them. Those previously mentioned as possible candidates include Rogers Hornsby, Lou Boudreau, and Charlie Grimm.

Ralph Vranesic Blasts Way Into Semi-Finals

Publix Golf in Finals

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Dave Stanley, Los Angeles college student, and Ralph Vranesic, Denver clerk, swept into the title round of the National Public Links golf championship Friday in the tightest Publix semi-finals ever played.

"This is the first time in American tournament golf history that both semi-finals ever have gone extra holes," declared Joe Dey, executive secretary of the United States Golf association.

Both finalists went 37 holes over the rugged, rough and tree-bordered fairways of the Brown Deer park course. Twenty-year-old Stanley downed Bill Lees of Portland, Ore., and 35-year-old Vranesic nipped young Ralph (Pat) Schwab of Dayton, Ohio, with a par 71 for the final 18 holes.

A fluffed approach from the clover-thick rough banking the green on the extra hole cost Lees his match, while Schwab, 18-year-old son of a golf pro, missed an 18-inch putt on the same green. The lad, heart-broken at his failure, sat down and cried.

"When I hit the putt, I wasn't even thinking," sobbed the boy in the locker room later. "I was worrying about my drive off the next tee."

Vranesic, four times a quarterfinalist in this meet but never in the semis before was jubilant. "Boy, was I lucky," he grinned. "I laid awake all last night trying to figure out how I could keep from losing by anything less than 11 and 10."

White Sox Win In 19th

Chisox 5, Bosox 4

CHICAGO (AP) — The amazing Chicago White Sox drove back within three percentage points of first place in the American league early today when they rallied for three runs in the last half of the 19th inning to beat the league-leading Boston Red Sox, 5-4.

The Red Sox had scored two runs in the top half of the 19th to seemingly clinch the battle that had lasted far into the early hours of the morning.

The Boston rally, against relief pitcher Harry Doris, consisted of a double by Bobby Doerr, a walk, Clyde Vollmer's single, and errors by Bob Dillinger and Nelson Fox. But Boston relief pitcher Harry Taylor couldn't hold the lead.

Floyd Baker pinch-hit a single. Taylor balked. Dillinger singled. Fox bunted safely to load the bases. Ed Stewart pinch-hit a single, scoring Baker and Dillinger to tie the game. Al Zarilla bunted safely to load the bases. Don Lenhardt flied out to deep center, and Fox scored with the winning run.

Doris got credit for the victory, his fourth. Taylor, who relieved starting pitcher Maurie McDermott after the latter had pitched 17 innings, was charged with his seventh defeat. Vollmer hit the game's only homer, his fourth in the last six games, in the fifth inning.

The game, witnessed by 25,211 established a new American league record for night games. The White Sox and Red Sox set a night game record Thursday night of 17 innings.

The 10 inning thriller set a new American league record for the number of innings in consecutive games—36 innings.

The former mark was 33 innings by the New York Yankees in 1918.

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland Indians defeated the New York Yankees, 11-8, Friday night in a slugfest that saw eight pitchers parade to the mound and 28 hits bounce off their offerings.

Bob Lemon was credited with his ninth victory against eight defeats in winning the drawn-out contest that lasted two hours and 35 minutes. Frank Shea, who replaced starter Vic Raschi, was the

The Indians went to work in their half of the fourth, sending five men across the plate in a spurge featured by Jim Hegan's three-run homer.

The Indians' other big inning was the fifth when they scored four more runs and sent Raschi to the showers. Singles by Dale Mitchell, Bob Avila and Luke Easter produced one run and Al Rosen's homer brought in three more.

Browns 5, A's 0

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Duane Pillette pitched the St. Louis Browns to a four-hit 5-0 shutout over the Philadelphia Athletics Friday night before 2,446 fans. Johnny Bero homered twice to drive in three of the runs.

Pillette walked six and struck out one in gaining credit for his fourth victory against seven defeats. Dick Fowler, who yielded the two homers by Bero, was the loser.

Bero, starting for the first time since June 27, hammered his first homer with none on in the second. His second homer came in the fourth after Ken Womer reached first on a fielding error by Pete Suder. They were the fourth and fifth homers for Bero this season.

The Athletics loaded the bases in the fifth with one out on a double by Lou Klein and walks to Joe Tipton and pinch batter Lou Limmer. But Suder lined to Long, who stepped on first behind Limmer for an unassisted double play.

DETROIT (AP) — Big Bob Porterfield pitched and batted the Washington Senators to a 3-1 win over the Detroit Tigers Friday night. Porterfield won his second game against two losses and drove in the final Washington run.

The wildness of Teddy Gray, who lost his tenth game as against three wins, helped the Senators to their first two runs.

Porterfield allowed seven hits before he pulled a muscle in the hip after seven innings. He was relieved by Julio Moreno who gave up one hit.

Washington, paced by Sam Mele's three singles, pounded nine hits off Gray, Virgil Trucks and Marlin Stuart.

The Tigers got their only run in the fifth. Johnny Lipon singled in left field, moved to second on Gray's sacrifice, and scored on Dick Kryhoski's looping single to short left field.

The 22,693 fans saw the Tigers put two men on base in the eighth to threaten. But Joe Ginsberg, who earlier hit into two double plays, flied out to end the inning.

Student Cast to Present 'Fledermaus' at Festival

"Die Fledermaus," Johann Strauss' colorful three-act opera, will be presented in a new English translation by an all-student cast at SUI, July 31 and Aug. 1-2.

Sponsored by the school of fine arts, the opera will be produced by a full cast of 100, including soloists, dancers and choral and orchestral accompaniment drawn from the departments of music and dramatic art.

"Die Fledermaus," which will highlight the SUI fine arts festival this summer, will be staged in Macbride auditorium.

First permission to use the new English translation of "The Bat," developed recently by the Metropolitan Opera company, has been granted to the school of fine arts, according to Prof. Earl E. Harper, director.

Because of last year's success in presenting Smetana's "The Bartered Bride," Harper said, the fine arts festival will again utilize combined efforts of departments in the school. Prior to last year, the last opera performance at SUI was in 1940 when Victor Herbert's "The Serenade" was staged. Prof. Herald I. Stark, vocal music director, will be musical director, and Prof. Lewin A. Goff, dramatic art department, stage director.

Mail order tickets are now available and may be obtained until July 28 from the opera's business manager, Prof. C. B. Richter, director of bands.

All seats will be reserved at a cost of $1 and $1.50, and tickets will be placed on sale for general distribut on July 25 at the Iowa Memorial Union.

Stark and Prof. Thomas Muir, dramatic art department, are in charge of vocal coaching, and the 45-piece orchestra is being prepared by Prof. Phillip Greeley Clapp, head of the music department.

Prof. Arnold Gillette, dramatic art department, will manage scenery, and lighting will be supervised by Walter S. Dewey, lecturer in dramatic art. Costumes are being designed and prepared by Dorothy Muriek Randall. Muir also serves as assistant business manager.

1951 Teacher

Much More Attractive Than in 1920

The woman who is teaching in classrooms today is certainly a more attractive person than the teacher of 30 years ago. So writes the current issue of a fashion magazine, which points up some of the differences and offers side-lights on the profession.

According to the magazine, 1 million teachers earn $3 billion a year—average yearly salary about $3,000.

Although she earns less money than many working women, she has longer vacations, favorable pensions and regular sabbatical leaves. Her hours are shorter than most, but her personal freedom is more limited.

For on-the-job wear, teachers favor basic suits because they take hard wear and can be varied with a wardrobe of blouses. Since children respond to beauty, teachers choose blouses in light, bright colors and apply their make-up carefully.

Contrast this with the teacher of an earlier generation who wore somber clothes and no make-up. The magazine tells of one teacher who says that when she doesn't get up in time to get properly made up, the children ask what's wrong.

The course in cerebral palsy, which began Monday, lasts for two weeks and is directed by Dr. Meyer A. Perlstein, Chicago pediatrician and authority on cerebral palsy. He recently was on the SUI campus conducting a forum on cerebral palsy.

Airplane Explosion To Be Investigated

DUNNVILLE, ONT. (AP)—Federal transport inspectors Friday opened an investigation into the mid-air explosion of a light plane that killed three Pennsylvania sportsmen.

Dr. William R. Marshall, 54, Sharpesburg, Pa., Richard H. Boyles, Pittsburgh and W. N. Steitz, Pittsburgh, died in the crash Thursday.

All three men held pilot's licenses but it was believed that Marshall, the owner of the single-engine Cessna-197, was at the controls when it crashed.

Warwick Walker, 21, a farmer, said the plane exploded in flight and wreckage was scattered over a wide area on a farm two miles west of Dunnville.

3 SUI Scientists Hope to Find Cause of Flu

The virus which caused the world-wide 1918 flu epidemic killing some 20 million persons may be found in tissue specimen just brought back from Teller Mission, Alaska, by a three-man medical expedition from the SUI college of medicine.

Expedition members were Dr. Albert P. McKee, bacteriology professor; Dr. Jack Layton, assistant professor of pathology, and John Hultin, a Swedish graduate student in bacteriology.

If the Iowa doctors are successful in isolating the devastating virus of World War I, two big questions will be answered — what kind of virus caused the epidemic, and whether it is possible to immunize against it should it strike again.

Their expedition was financed by a grant from the college of medicine's central scientific fund. Doctors in University hospitals contribute a percentage of their fees from private medical services to this fund for research purposes.

Hundreds of Eskimos in far northern Alaska were among those struck down by the 1918 flu epidemic. In their frozen graves the bodies remain even today sufficiently preserved for study.

The idea for "Expedition Virus" to Alaska was first conceived in the early 1940's by Dr. William Hale, then head of the bacteriology department, who is now with Brookhaven national laboratories, Upton, N.Y. Circumstances at that time made the venture impossible.

The idea remained shelved until a year ago, when McKee brought it out for discussion with Hultin. Hultin, whose travels have left him with friends scattered around the globe, remembered Otto Geist, a research associate in paleontology at the University of Alaska.

Fellow-scientist Geist enthusiastically responded to Hultin's request for help and spent a year gathering important information about the epidemic's rage in Alaska.

This June plans were complete — the most likely sites to find the virus had been selected and the three-man party left Iowa City by plane for Fairbanks, Alaska, where Geist joined the expedition.

At Fairbanks, they conferred with Dr. Terris Moore, president of the University of Alaska, who supplied answers on how to get legal clearance to proceed.

Within a few days, the expedition had been given the green light by the U.S. department of interior, Alaska's Gov. Ernest Gruening, Hugh J. Wade, director of the Alaska native service and a 1924 graduate of Iowa's law school, U.S. public health service, and the territorial commissioner of health, whose assistant, Dr. Grace Field, was assistant professor in the department of hygiene of SUI, 1930-37.

At Nome, next stop on the air journey, the party received a "clear signal" from Judge Joseph Kehoe of the second judicial division of Alaska territory.

In keeping with democratic processes, final authority rested with the Teller Mission council of natives and the relatives of the epidemic victims. An old man recalled the epidemic of 1918 for the council, how his own wife had died and how the people in the village were struck down.

His tale helped explain the expedition's purpose and the council members and relatives all gave approval by making their signatures and marks on clearance papers.

Alaskan "bush-pilots" took

MEMBERS OF "EXPEDITION VIRUS", a three-man medical party from SUI's college of medicine, posed as they briefly paused en route to Teller Mission Alaska. charge of transportation at Nome, flying the medical expedition the 100 miles to Teller. Bush-pilots, so called because of their unscheduled flights and landings on hazardous terrain, are the life-line to outlying districts of Alaska.

A native-manned motorboat carried the party the final eight miles across a bay from Teller to Teller Mission. Teller Mission is located on Seward peninsula, which lies approximately 70 miles east of Siberia across the Bering strait.

Word of the expedition traveled ahead of the party and a friendly, cooperative group of natives was on hand at Teller Mission to greet the scientists.

Dawn of Monday, June 25, found McKee, Layton, Geist and Hultin laboring over their excavating tools in the tedious job of digging through three feet of tundra and gravel and three additional feet of permafrost, the permanently-frozen ground of the polar regions.

Alaska's long days made it possible to continue work far into the night, usually until 2 a.m., and by Wednesday night the hard labor of the mission had been completed.

Preserving the specimens of tissue and getting them safely and quickly to the medical laboratories in Iowa City were now the problems. A wild storm whipped the waves in the bay to almost im-

Number of Teeth, Telephone

HARTFORD, CONN. (AP)—If an East Hartford man ever forgets his telephone number, all he has to do is count his teeth.

A dentist jokingly told Charles Froesch of 22 Elm st., East Hartford, Friday that he was going to give him a lucky number by counting the teeth between each space.

On the uppers, the dentist counted eight teeth with no spaces. On the lower set, the dentist counted one tooth—space—three teeth—space—five teeth—space one tooth—space.

"You can close your mouth now," the dentist told the patient. But Froesch's jaw hung open in surprise.

The dentist had just given him his telephone number—8-1351.

'Mr. Preen's Salon' Portrays The Glamour of New Orleans

The glamour of New Orleans and the Mardi Gras will be portrayed in the second play of the summer session, "Mr. Preen's Salon," which will open at the University theater July 19.

Written by Mrs. Doris Lloyd Morehead, A Spartanburg, S.C., a student in Prof. E. C. Mabie's experimental theater class, the play is an adaptation from works of Robert Tallant, a writer of Louisiana life.

The play is based mainly on Tallant's "Mr. Preen's Salon," but is supported by materials from his "Romantic New Orleanians" and "Mardi Gras."

Mrs. Morehead said she chose to use Tallant's works because the Mardi Gras and New Orleans are attractive to everybody. "There is a time and a place for a show that is fun, and the time is perfect now," she added. She especially likes Tallant's humor.

Although the situation and characters are humorous, there are strong character studies in the play. The character, Oliver Preen, is based upon an actual person Mrs. Morehead knows, as well as a person from Tallant's book.

Mrs. Morehead has done considerable writing. She came to SUI about 10 years ago when she entered Prof. Mabie's experimental theater course. Last semester she returned to SUI and wrote a comedy for television, "The Anglers," which was produced over WOC-TV.

In Spartanburg, S.C., Mrs. Morehead wrote and produced shows for a radio station. She also sold many monologues.

The experimental theater class, under the direction of Prof. Mabie, head of the department of speech and dramatic arts, is geared to help writers develop and make their material stageworthy.

Mrs. Morehead has been working on "Mr. Preen's Salon" in this class since last February. During the first two weeks of rehearsals this summer she made major revisions and has been altering the play all along.

When you actually see a scene being acted, you realize certain changes must be made, something you can't tell from just reading it, she said.

"I signed a contract with Robert Tallant to use his material as soon as I finished the first draft," Mrs. Morehead remarked.

"The humor and situation of the French quarter of New Orleans has always delighted me, so using his works as a basis was just natural."

Tallant's new book, "Southern Territory," will be published July 19, the day "Mr. Preen's Salon" opens here, so he will be unable to leave New Orleans to attend the play.

The backers of "Make a Wish," a play on Broadway, are interested in making Mrs. Morehead's play into a musical comedy. A representative of the backers will attend the play next week.

Construction To Begin On Church Center

Ground-breaking ceremonies for a new student center and Sunday school building at the First Presbyterian church will be held Sunday morning following the morning worship service.

W. W. Mercer, president of the church board of trustees for the past 20 years, will break ground for the $80,000 building.

The addition will be constructed on the west side of the church on the corner of Market and Clinton sts.

A student lounge, a pastor's study and church offices will be located in the first story of the brick structure. The second story will contain rooms for children's kindergarten, primary and junior Sunday school classes.

Construction is expected to start immediately and should be completed by late winter or possibly next March, the Rev. Mr. Pollock said Friday. The addition will be 50 feet square when completed.

Following the ground-breaking, the Rev. P. Hewison Pollock, pastor of the church, will lead the congregation in a litany.

Henry L. Fisk is the architect and Ralph H. Wildman is the contractor for the building. First planning for the structure was done in 1945.

Robert Lind is chairman of the building committee. Other members of the committee are Prof. E. B. Kurtz, W. J. Burney and E. H. Sievers.

New Series Starts On WSUI Monday

"Hello America" is the title of a new series of programs to be aired over radio station WSUI, beginning Monday.

The programs were recorded in France and Germany by Dick Stevens, WSUI continuity director, who has just returned from a two-year stay in Europe.

Featured in the series are interviews with midwesterners who are working and studying in France, a description of the famous Oberammergau Passion play and interviews with its leading characters.

The programs will be broadcast at 5:15 p.m., Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 910 kilocycles over WSUI.

Banker Lists Steps For Inflation Control

Five steps are necessary to control the inflation we face today. J. Cameron Thomson told the workshop for economic education at SUI Friday.

Thomson is president of the Northwest Bancorporation and vice-chairman of the board of trustees, committee for economic development.

His recommended five steps include an increase in production and in productive capacity, strict economy in government expenditure, pay-as-you-go policy of taxation to balance the budget, a strong monetary and debt-management policy to restrict the volume of credit and the money supply, and a vigorous national campaign to promote savings.

"The key to success in the re-armorment program is the adequate and equitable limitation of non-military demand," he said.

"Given this, the problem becomes manageable; without it, nothing else will suffice. The chief reliance in restraining demand should be placed on fiscal, monetary and debt measures.

"We recognize that price and wage controls have limited functions to perform, but we must be careful that we do not restrict our freedom to a greater degree than is necessary in view of the size of the defense program we are now taking on."

Thirty-eight teachers and administrators of secondary schools have taken part in the three-week workshop for economic education which began June 25 and will end today.

Thomson also explained the committee for economic development is not a business or organization, but rather is an organization of businessmen. It is fundamentally an educational institution, he said.

Its major task today is to develop economic policies which will deal effectively with the problems of the current emergency and which, at the same time, will be consistent with its long goal of keeping the value of freedom alive in the mind of the public, Thomson emphasized.

Cochran to Attend Two Conferences

Lee Cochran, director of the SUI bureau of audio-visual instruction, will leave Tuesday to participate in two conferences in Washington and Oregon.

At Washington State college, Pullman, Wash., he will be a speaker on the dedication program for the new audio-visual center at the college's new library. The conference will be July 19 and 20.

He will act as chairman of the audio-visual section at the annual conference of the national university extension division association July 22 to 25 at Bend, Ore. In addition he will represent the SUI extension division at the latter conference.

Court Refuses Bail For Mickey Cohen

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Mickey Cohen's plea for freedom on bail, pending appeal of his conviction of income tax evasion charges received a quick turnaround in federal court Friday.

Federal Judge Ben Harrison, partly turned down the request, that the little gambler be granted his freedom and his attorneys said they would renew the plea before the federal court of appeals in San Francisco.
