Douglas Challenges Truman On Nomination of Judges

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senator Paul Douglas (D-Ill.) Tuesday challenged President Truman's decision to go over the senator's head in nominating two federal judges.

Douglas asked the Chicago and Cook County, Ill., bar associations to take a poll to decide which two men are better qualified—the senator's candidates or the men the president nominated.

The conflict arose from Mr. Truman's July 13 nomination of Judge Cornelius J. Harrington and Municipal Judge Joseph Drucker to fill two new posts in the federal district court for northern Illinois.

This was nearly six months after Douglas, acting according to what he called "time honored practice," had recommended the appointment of William H. King, Jr., and Judge Benjamin P. Epstein.

Douglas complained that the president did not consult him on the judgeships.

Congressional insiders interpreted the president's appointments as another indication of a growing coolness between him and the Illinois senator.

They attributed the apparent widening rift between the two to Douglas' critical attitude toward some administration policies.

For one thing, the Illinois senator plugged away for cuts in federal spending although some of the proposed cuts pinched at administration programs.

There have been reports that Douglas may become a contender for the democratic presidential nomination in 1952 if Mr. Truman does not run.

Douglas has denied he seeks the nomination but the talk persists.

The senate, which confirms judgeship nominations by a majority vote, is not expected to act on the Illinois candidates for several days.

Douglas said he had "no desire to become engaged in a struggle with the president for whom I have the kindest feelings and who is bearing a heavy load."

But the senator referred to the "historical" and "time-honored practice" under which the consent of the senator concerned is usually necessary before the senate confirms district judges.

Douglas said he intended no reflection on the president's nominees—Harrington and Drucker—whom he called "worthy men."

"But my choices," he added, "were made after a full weighing of all alternatives and I regard Mr. King and Judge Epstein as men of superior qualifications."

Douglas asked the Illinois bar associations to "act solely with a view to the relative judicial fitness of these men." He said he was trying to subordinate politics in his choices and asked members of the bar to do likewise.

Back to Jail with a Smile

INDICTED COMMUNISTS Claudia Jones (left) and Betty Gannett smiled in a prison van Tuesday as they were being taken to the women's house of detention after being unable to post adequate bail. They were among 14 "second string" Communists, indicted for advocating overthrow of the government by force, whose bail posted by the civil rights congress had been revoked.

Field, 12 Reds Jailed As Court Revokes Bail

NEW YORK (AP) — Millionaire left wing financial "angel" Frederick Vanderbilt Field and 12 second-string Communist leaders were ordered to jail Tuesday when their bail was revoked.

Field, a trustee of the Civil Rights Congress bail fund committee which put up bail for the 12, was ordered to surrender or forfeit the $10,000 bond on which he has been free pending appeal of his contempt sentence.

The great-grandson of railroad builder Cornelius Vanderbilt was sentenced to 90 days in prison for refusing to say where the CRC, branded by the government as a subversive organization, got the money to bail out Communists.

Field is registered as a representative of the Chinese Communist government.

The 12 second-string leaders were sent to the federal house of detention when they failed to put up $155,000 in new "untainted" bail—that is, bail not provided by the CRC.

The courts began questioning the qualifications of the CRC to put up bail after four convicted first-string Communist leaders forfeited $80,000 in CRC bail by disappearing the day they were to have started serving three to five year sentences.

They were convicted with seven other "politburo" members of conspiring to teach and advocate the violent overthrow of the government. The four still are missing.

Two other trustees of the fund, mystery writer Dashiell Hammett and Dr. W. Alpheus Hunton, a Negro, remained in jail when court of appeals Judge Learned Hand upheld a federal judge's refusal to accept their bail of $10,000 each.

Judge Sylvester Ryan had refused to accept the bail when persons offering the money would not reveal where they got it.

Ryan Monday ruled that the old bond money posted for the 12 Communists was not acceptable because the CRC would not reveal where the money came from. Appeals court Judge Thomas W. Swan upheld that ruling Tuesday.

The 12 Communists are among 21 who were indicted last month on charges of conspiring to advocate the overthrow of the government by force.

Four still are fugitives and five others were released after providing bail from sources other than the CRC.

Funeral services for Prof. Emeritus and Mrs. Gilbert L. Houser will be Thursday at 2 p.m. at the Hohenschuh mortuary.

Auto Accident Victim Dies in Hospital Here

Richard W. Lough, 22, Floris, Ia., was fatally injured early Tuesday when the car he was driving ramed into a bridge 14 miles south of Iowa City on highway 218.

Lough died in University hospitals about 7 a.m., two hours after the accident.

Highway patrolmen said Lough's car, traveling north, apparently swerved across the highway and struck the bridge railing.

Washington County Sheriff Charles Snyder said Lough was pinned in the wreckage for several minutes.

The force of the impact sheared off one ten-inch concrete bridge post and split another, patrolmen said.

A steel railing in the bridge cut through the car and impaled his body, Snyder said. Hospital officials said Lough died from internal injuries.

The major affected areas were just beginning to dig out of the muck and wreckage left by the torrents and the fire that has burned seven blocks of Kansas City since Friday noon.

Mr. Truman got his first glimpse of the disaster at St. Louis where the Muddy, Yellowish Missouri was pouring its torrents into the Mississippi.

All along the Missouri in his flight to Kansas City the picture was the same—a swollen river overflowing its dikes into lowlands, small communities, factories, homes.

In Kansas City and to the west and southwest there is a vast scene of wreckage — tangled homes, box cars, animals, factories and other debris—wreckage that Maj. Gen. Lewis A. Pick, chief of the army engineers, has said would total well over $750 million. This is nearly twice the dollar loss of the 1937 Ohio-Mississippi flood, previously the most costly.

Pick has estimated that the damage in Kansas City, Mo., and Kansas City, Kans., alone is more than $300 million. Kenneth Wilke, mayor of Topeka, estimates the loss in his city will total $100 million. Insurance men say virtually none of this is covered by insurance.

These estimates are for physical property only. They do not include intangibles, loss in wages, income for factories and railroads and the like.

Bricker Blasts 'Human Rights' Covenant of UN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John W. Bricker (R-O.) Tuesday termed the proposed United Nations covenant on human rights a "blueprint for tyranny" aimed at stifling criticism of the "fair deal" through government control of the press.

He introduced a resolution calling on the senate to express disapproval of the covenant and its desire that U. S. delegates to the UN should break off all negotiations on it.

He urged Secretary of State Dean Acheson to instruct Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, U. S. delegate to the commission on human rights, to "renounce this blueprint for tyranny or accept the consequences for sponsoring it."

He said he is making the "charitable assumption" that Mrs. Roosevelt is unaware of the covenant's implications. But, he added, Acheson must realize the covenant would make the press "subject to certain penalties, liabilities and restrictions."

This, he claimed, would "radically change the meaning of the constitution" by abrogating its guarantee of the freedom of the press and allowing the government to crack down on newspaper critics.

"It should now be perfectly clear why the state department and its international do-gooders at the United Nations are pushing this covenant on human rights toward ratification," Bricker said. "It is an ingenious mechanism designed to stifle all criticism of the so-called fair deal."

"No doubt Dean Acheson's socialist friends in Great Britain are tickled to death."

Bricker recalled the recent actions of Indian Premier Jawaharlal Nehru and Argentine President Juan Peron in suppressing newspapers which opposed them.

"In this country the state department is moving to destroy the freedom of our newspapers by using the United Nations as a shield for its activities," he added.

BOSTON (AP) — The first circuit United States court of appeals Tuesday upheld a lower court ruling that Pawtucket, R.I., city officials "grossly discriminated" against the Providence Journal company in refusing it access to certain public records.

The company publishes the Providence (R.I.) Journal and the Bulletin.

The ruling was made on an appeal by the then Mayor Ambrose P. McCoy of Pawtucket and other Pawtucket city officials from a decision of the United States district court for the district of Rhode Island.

Negotiators Believed At Odds Over Red Cease-Fire Demands

Motorists Ignore Dubuque Street Parking Ban

NO PARKING? In spite of signs proclaiming a "no parking" restriction in Dubuque st., motorists continue to park along the street. Iowa City police tag any cars found parked on the street, but even the $2 fine apparently doesn't have much effect on motorists. The "no parking" rule was started due to the rerouting of highway 6 on the street. Highway commission officials expect the detour to continue until September. This picture was taken at 9 p.m. Tuesday.

House Tentatively Bans Future Beef Rollbacks

WASHINGTON (UP) — The house voted tentatively Tuesday to ban any future rollbacks in beef prices but allowed last month's 10 per cent cut to stand.

The action, by a vote of 207 to 123, was an unexpected victory for administration forces who have been taking a beating in their effort to write a tough controls law.

The measure, placed no restrictions on rollbacks of non-farm prices, and left other farm commodities besides beef subject to possible further rollbacks of up to 10 per cent.

The action is still subject to a final vote when the controls bill is completed.

It was adopted after the house rejected three other anti-rollback proposals in a series of rapid-fire votes. They were:

1. A Republican plan, sponsored by Rep. Jesse P. Wolcott (R-Mich.) to forbid any future rollbacks on beef or any other farm commodity. This was defeated 129 to 65.
2. A farm bloc amendment, sponsored by Rep. Harold D. Cooley (D-N.C.) to kill all past and future rollbacks of farm prices. This proposal, which price officials said would have caused an immediate 10 per cent jump in beef prices, was defeated 217 to 124.
3. A sweeping amendment by Rep. E. E. Cox (D-Ga.), which would have killed all past and future rollbacks on both farm and non-farm commodities.

The administration's victory resulted from a breakdown of the Republican-Southern Democratic coalition which has commanded a majority on previous controls bills.

Republicans from urban areas voted with the administration forces against Cooley's amendment, while Southern Democrats from rural areas lined up with the administration supporters to help defeat the Wolcott "compromise."

The coalition quickly reformed its ranks after the rollback showdown, however, and defeated, 127 to 27, President Truman's request for authority to license all business establishments.

The licensing power would have been used to help enforce price ceilings. Violators could have been punished by simply revoking their license to do business.

Truman Flies to Flood as Cities Begin to Dig Out

Kansas City Flood Waters Recede

Workers abandoned their efforts to save West Alton (400 population) Monday night after water began pouring over a levee protecting adjoining areas.

At Kansas City a fire that has burned seven blocks since last Friday noon flared up again and more fire companies were called back to reinforce those still at the scene. The latest flareup was in a furniture store in the burned area.

Despite this latest flurry, firemen hoped the fire would be out soon. This was the first day that there has not been an ominous cloud of smoke over Kansas City as explosion after explosion and spreading fire burned out 24 business establishments including oil storage facilities, lumber yards, retail stores and other buildings.

Sharp Debate Reported at 6th Round of Talks

TOKYO, (WEDNESDAY) (AP) — United Nations and Communist truce negotiators met today for the sixth time in Kaesong apparently at odds on a Communist demand for an immediate cease-fire in the Korean war.

The UN since the beginning has demanded that guarantees for a lasting peace be set up first. The Reds, have demanded that a cease-fire be the first topic to be discussed.

The UN position is that there must be guards against the Communists gaining a military advantage through immediate cessation of hostilities. Already the Communists have increased their forces in Korea to 72 divisions, ready to strike should the Kaesong talks fail.

The allied negotiators have reported steady progress in the talks, but it was becoming apparent that sharp bargaining on terms already had begun. The UN team admitted the Communists raised a "new point" Tuesday.

The talks were being held in an atmosphere of secrecy that permitted publication of little more than the negotiators' statements of "some progress."

A UN briefing officer who disclosed the Reds had injected a "new point" into the discussions said it had not surprised the UN team. It apparently was nothing that denied the early progress.

The Communists also have demanded the withdrawal of all foreign troops from Korea as soon as practicable, but the UN position is that this is a political question. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway was emphatic in stating his negotiators could not discuss political questions.

Another major Communist demand has been the setting up of the 38th parallel as the center of a 12-mile wide neutral zone and establishment of the status quo as of June 25, 1950. The UN has insisted it would not give up the territory in North Korea it won by bloody fighting.

The UN delegation journeyed to Kaesong by motor convoy today for the first time since the formal talks began. Today's meeting began promptly at 10 a.m. (6 p.m. Iowa time) and recessed 55 minutes later until 1:20 p.m.

Vice-Adm. C. Turney Joy, senior UN representative, and his entire party made the trip from the Imjin river "peace camp" by convoy presumably because of the weather. The sun broke through later and it was possible they would return by helicopter.

Rep. John Beamer (R-Ind.) urged the government to ban all imports of goods from Czechoslovakia in reprisal for Oatis' imprisonment. He prepared a resolution calling on the state department to "employ all available diplomatic means" to obtain his release.

Oatis, AP bureau chief in Prague, recently was tried and convicted of espionage by a Prague court. He was sentenced to ten years imprisonment.

Senate Committee OK's Mail Rate Hike

WASHINGTON (AP) — The senate post office committee approved legislation Tuesday to raise the first class mail rate from three to four cents an ounce and make sweeping increases in other postal charges.

Air mail would go up from six to eight cents an ounce, and post cards would cost two cents instead of a penny under the bill.

Second class mail rates, which apply to newspapers and magazines, would be increased 30 per cent over a three year period. The rates would go up 10 per cent at once, another 10 per cent a year later, and the final 10 per cent in the following year.

Committee experts said the proposed increases would give the deficit-ridden post office department an extra $300 million a year in revenue. But even that would not wipe out the $500 million loss which the department records annually under present rates.

FIRE IN ABBEY THEATER. DUBLIN, Ireland (AP) — Fire broke out early Tuesday in Dublin's famed Abbey theater, training school for many world famous actors.

Further east, a light Communist probing attack in the early morning hours Tuesday was turned back handily northeast of Yanguan at the eastern end of the Hwachon reservoir.

Communist Patrol's Bracket Truce City, Skirmish with Allies

TOKYO, (WEDNESDAY) (AP) — Hundreds of Communist troops roamed all around Kaesong Tuesday and fought stubborn skirmishes with Allied patrols a few miles east of the truce city.

The eighth army reported sizable Communist bands south of Kaesong and on both sides of the armistice highway into it. But they made no move to molest United Nations traffic to the conference site.

A communique reported several flareups around Korangpo, border town 15 miles due east of Kaesong. Allied scouts received semi-automatic fire from an enemy platoon west of Korangpo. North of the town other patrols tangled with enemy units of undisclosed size, and called in artillery fire to scatter the stubborn Reds.

Other brushes were reported north and northeast of Korangpo.

The once-powerful iron triangle gave trouble to Allied patrols thrusting out from their lines. One came under heavy fire from semi-automatic weapons near Chorwon, at its western corner, and another fought a Red platoon west of Kumhwa, at the eastern end.

Italy Requests U.S. To Allow Big Army

WASHINGTON (UP) — Italy urged the United States Tuesday to scrap provisions of the Italian peace treaty that limit the armed forces of the former enemy nation to 300,000 men.

The action coincided with a U. S. decision to press ahead with plans for bolstering the armed forces of Western Germany and Spain as well as Italy to help meet the threat of possible Communist aggression.

Mario Lucifoli, Italian charge d'affaires, made the request during a conference with Secretary of State Dean Acheson. Acheson responded sympathetically and indicated he will consult with the other free nations on possible treaty revisions.

Lucifoli told Acheson that American help has enabled Italy to achieve full democracy and to take "its share of responsibility for the defense of peace-loving countries." Now, he said, the United States should act to overhaul the Italian treaty.

"The position of Italy as a member of the North Atlantic treaty is inconsistent with the military clauses of the peace treaty," Lucifoli said.

"The Italian government asks for international action which would sanction the extinction of the spirit of the treaty and harmonize it with the present situation."

In reply, Acheson said the United States "recognizes that the spirit and parts of the Italian peace treaty are not consistent with the position Italy occupies today" but that "consultation with other governments will be necessary."

Russia was a party to the treaty and presumably would have to agree to any increase in Italian armed strength unless the Allies can find some way to bypass the Kremlin.

Lucifoli raised one possibility when he noted that Russia has repeatedly vetoed Italy's admittance to the UN even though such action was contemplated by the treaty. He also noted that Trieste is still under military occupation although it is supposed to be a free city.

The Italian diplomat seemed to be setting the stage for a possible attempt to show that the treaty as a whole is not capable of being enforced and therefore should be discarded.

Another possible way of drawing on Italy's military manpower would be to permit Italian "volunteers" to enlist with Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's international defense force while maintaining the 300,000-man ceiling on Italy's own forces.

State OPS Chief Tells Ways To Identify Ceiling Prices

DES MOINES (AP)—Consumers in a number of ways may identify the ceiling price situation on items they buy, says A. J. Loveland, director of the Des Moines district office of price stabilization.

He said retailers who are operating under ceiling price regulation now have a clearly visible sign displayed in their store which states that "the prices of merchandise in this store are no higher than the OPS ceiling prices of the articles."

In addition each article, or each bin, shelf or rack of merchandise, must be marked or tagged with the selling price, and this price may not be above the legal ceiling price, the state OPS head reported.

The places of business covered by CPR7 are those dealing in soft and hard commodities such as wearing apparel, furniture, hardware, appliances, etc.

Under CPR 13 all gasoline filling stations are now required to have the prices of all their fuel and oil products posted. This is in addition to the prices listed on their pumps outside, Loveland declared.

For grocery stores there are two methods by which the consumer can recognize whether or not the merchant is in compliance.

In accordance with CPR Nos. 15 and 16, each groceryman must display a clearly visible sign designating his particular store as group 1, 2, 3 or 4 store as provided by the regulations.

Each store group has different percentage markups on net costs.

Local Truck Driver Sent to Flood Area

William Patel, Iowa City driver for Eldon Miller, Inc., was sent to Manhattan, Kan., Tuesday with a 17-ton pipe-laying tractor to repair a gas pipeline break caused by the recent Kansas floods.

The Michigan-Wisconsin Pipeline company asked the Iowa City firm for emergency aid when the break occurred. Patel is expected to arrive at Manhattan Tuesday night. The pipeline runs from Texas to Detroit, Mich.

CORN AND THE WEATHER

DES MOINES (AP)—Wet weather has delayed field work so much in Iowa this year that only half of the corn land was "laid by" as of last Saturday. The Iowa crop and weather bulletin said Tuesday, in a normal year, the entire crop would have received its final cultivation by July 15.

Liquor Board Reinstates 'Comptroller' Post

DES MOINES (AP)—The Iowa State Liquor control commission reinstated the job title of comptroller Tuesday and named its chief accountant, Harry F. Hess, Des Moines, to the post.

George E. Scott, West Union, whose commission term expired June 30, had been insisting at recent meetings that the commission re-establish the post of comptroller. His complaints shortly after the firing of Drees had been instrumental in starting the row about the commission. He had indicated it was his belief that purchasing and personnel policies were being dictated by the governor.

A joint committee of the 54th general assembly was appointed to determine if Scott's charges warranted a full investigation. The committee failed to take action until near the closing days of the legislature and then issued a negative report.

The post of comptroller was eliminated shortly after Arthur Coburn, Cherokee, became chairman a year ago and resulted in the dismissal of Elmer Drees, Des Moines, then comptroller. The dismissal of Drees and the elimination of the comptroller's position figured prominently in the 1950 political campaign talk, and resulted in a hearing before the legislative interim committee.

AFL Pilots Head Called 'Dictatorial,' Fired

CHICAGO (AP)—David D. Behncke, founder and president of the AFL airline pilots association for 20 years, was voted out of office Tuesday by union directors who granted him a $15,000 annual salary for life.

The ouster action climaxed a bitter intra-union squabble in which members of the board of directors accused Behncke of "dictatorial" methods and he charged them with "lawlessness."

Spokesmen said laws of the union provide a $7,500 annual retirement salary for the president, but that pilots as a "token of appreciation" voted to double that amount.

Behncke, a big, colorful figure, was a pilot for 25 years before he founded the ALPA. He was a test pilot in World War I, a mail pilot and flew for Boeing air transportation before turning to union work.

Recently he led the union in a strike against United Air Lines which was ended by a government-sponsored "truce." Issues have not yet been settled.

On file in federal court was a $2,000,000 damage suit against Sayen and others, filed Monday by persons described by spokesmen as "friends" of Behncke.

Stage Fright Causes a Barrymore To Quit Play

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—For the first time in 300 years, a Barrymore quit a play Tuesday because he had stage fright.

John Barrymore Jr., confessed he ditched a role in a Chicago theater because he was "scared" and he figured he'd let down the name of Barrymore by going on the stage.

The Profile Jr., scampered home to Aunt Ethel Tuesday morning from the east coast after telephoning the Salt Creek summer theater that he wouldn't be able to make it for the opening Monday of "The Hasty Heart" after all.

Aunt Ethel, he admitted, had a few hundred well chosen words to say, including that he "let the Barrymore family down because it's the first time in 300 years a Barrymore ever failed" to go on with the show.

But John said he thought it was the other way around. "I'm upholding the family name by staying off the stage, not by going on. Maybe I'm hurting myself this way, but I'm not hurting them."

John was scheduled to play the leading role of a young wounded war veteran opposite Ethel's daughter, Ethel Barrymore Colt. But the theater had to call off "The Hasty Heart" and give Miss Colt a consolation prize of a small part in "O Mistress Mine" instead.

John, a thin, intense 19-year-old, talked things over with his agent, George Templeton, after visiting his famous aunt. She said she told him "the Barrymore family doesn't have the word 'quit' in its vocabulary."

Student Wins Scholarship To Writers Conference

William DeWitt Snodgrass, G. Iowa City, has been awarded a scholarship to the University of Colorado writers' conference held from July 23 through Aug. 10. The scholarship covers tuition and manuscript reading fees.

Snodgrass had a poem "Good Friday" published in the summer issue of Western Review, SUI literary magazine. A poetry magazine, "Experiment," has accepted a poem of Snodgrass' for publication.

Hold Rites for Barry, Cherokee Publisher

CHEROKEE—Funeral services for Justin Barry, 78, publisher of the Cherokee Daily Times for 35 years and former Iowa legislator, were held here Tuesday.

Mr. Barry died at his home in Cherokee Sunday of a heart ailment.

He was a holder of the master editor award, presented annually by the Iowa Press association for outstanding ability and service to his community.

Mr. Barry was initiated into Sigma Delta Chi, national professional journalism fraternity, as a professional member at SUI this spring.

CLUB TO STUDY SOILS

The third lecture on "Preparation of Soils" by Alonzo DeHaan, planthouse foreman of the SUI botany laboratories, will be at 8 p.m. Thursday in the University greenhouse. Members of the Iowa City Woman's club and their husbands are invited.

3 Flee Reformatory; Captured in Omaha

LINCOLN, NEB. (AP) — Three Nebraska reformatory inmates fled from the institution in the reformatory garbage truck Tuesday, forcing a fourth inmate to accompany them, but their freedom was short.

In Omaha the three abandoned the truck and the fourth inmate, who promptly called Supt. George Morris at the reformatory. The trio was arrested by police. Patrolman Leon Nelson in Council Bluffs, a short time later while they sat in a taxicab waiting for a train to cross a street in near downtown Council Bluffs.

Morris identified the three men sought as Glenn V. Griffith, 29, Omaha; Glenn I. Newman, 25, Council Bluffs, and Gerald L. Fletcher, 23, Omaha.

He did not name the fourth man, but in Omaha Inspector of Detectives Harry Green said he was Kenneth Zilderbeck, 19. Morris said the inmate left behind with the truck called him from Omaha, saying he didn't know his way around. "So I told him to wait at the truck and immediately called Omaha police to interview him there."

Griffith and Newman were working on the brick detail at a greenhouse under construction at the institution. Fletcher was driver of the garbage truck, the man described as an "unwilling accomplice" ordinarily assisted Fletcher.

Italian to Speak Here on Zoology

Prof. Giuseppe Montalenti, director of the University of Naples genetics laboratories, will present a graduate lecture at 8 p. m. Friday in the zoology building auditorium. He will discuss "The Zoological Station of Naples, Italy." Montalenti has conducted research in experimental genetics. A former Rockefeller fellow, he came to Chicago 20 years ago to study at the University of Chicago. This summer he is visiting American research institutions. The Naples Genetics station was the world center of leading biologists for 40 years before World War I. Montalenti will also speak on the development of the marine zoological station at Naples, which he directed during World War II.

SUI Soprano to Give Recital Here July 25

KELLEY CLEANERS LAUNDERERS

TV Not at Fault for Fan Drop

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Television has not been the major cause of an overall loss of some 8 per cent in paid admissions at major league baseball games, a nationally known expert on radio and TV sportscasting reported.

C. L. Jordan, executive vice-president of N. W. Ayer & Son Advertising agency, said performance is proving more important than weather, economic conditions and television in determining baseball attendance.

Speaking to radio and TV sportscasters, Jordan said: "The eight teams in the first divisions of the two leagues had a total gain in paid admissions of nearly 4 per cent on July 4. Seven of these eight televised all or most of their games. The sensational Chicago White Sox, which televise all day games, appeared headed for an all-time local record at the gate."

Jordan said the eight teams in the second division were fighting a total loss of about 20 per cent at the gate.

"Two of these teams didn't televise at all. Three had limited their television severely and only three were telecasting regularly. It was obvious that television itself could not be the major factor in the over-all loss of about 8 per cent in paid admissions."

Jordan pointed out that outstanding performance was not limited to the first division itself. He said improvement at the gate could be seen for the Philadelphia Athletics as Ferris Fain (American league batting leader) and Gus Zernial (league homerun leader) continue to hit the ball regularly.

"Ned Garver is pulling admissions for the St. Louis Browns as well as winning games. And anyone who doubted what Ralph Kiner's big bat means to Pittsburgh only need look at the 3,000 day gate last week when Kiner was suspended, compared to the amazing Pirates' average of nearly 18,000 per date."

Jordan's report was based on figures announced daily by the clubs and on his own three-year survey.

"Banning television is not the answer," said Jordan. "Putting on a good show is."

Chandler Eager To Head Union Of Ballplayers

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Former baseball commissioner A. B. Chandler said Tuesday — with a couple of it's — that he would be willing to serve as commissioner of a major league baseball players' union.

Chandler said it all depended on whether the players wanted him "100 per cent" and whether he was "available" for the job when they decide, although he is unemployed "right now."

The plan to make Chandler commissioner of the baseball players was presented to the former Kentucky senator by H. I. Miranda, union organizer, at a half-hour conference in Chandler's hotel suite.

"I'm not here to make any proposition nor offer you any job," Miranda told Chandler in the presence of a reporter. "I just want to tell you what I'm doing."

"I feel that club owners are trying to turn the commissioner into a figurehead."

"If there is to be an owner commissioner, controlled by an owner organization, then to make a balance there should be a player organization with a spokesman of stature equal to that of the owner's commissioner."

Miranda is circulating ballots among American and National league baseball players. He is asking them to vote on whether they wish to "attempt to draft" Chandler to serve as baseball players' commissioner.

Chandler, in meeting Miranda, made it clear "I am not seeking any job and none has been offered me." Then he declared:

"I don't know whether the players want a personal commissioner or not. Apparently that is what Miranda is trying to find out in his ballot. I never gave him permission to use my name in this so-called 'draft' movement."

Miranda has no previous connection with baseball. Though claiming "quite a few" major league players are now members of the NBPO (National Baseball Players Organization), he declined to state how many or what clubs they include.

Walcott Prepared For 5th Title Try

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Ezzard Charles-Joe Walcott series moves into Forbes field tonight for a third — and probably last — stand. Champion Ezy is a lopsided favorite to ruin 37-year-old Jersey Joe's fifth heavyweight title bid.

Fight on TV

Iowa City fans can see the Ezzard Charles-Jersey Joe Walcott heavyweight title fight tonight on WBFB-TV, channel 4, Rock Island. The Pittsburgh bout will be on the air at 8 p.m. CST.

Odds are hard to peg down with little betting. They range from 3-1 to 5-1. The pick here is Charles by a knockout in 10 rounds.

Interest is red hot in Pittsburgh's first official heavyweight championship show. The Rooney-McGinley company, promoting with co-sponsorship by the Dapper Dan and Variety club, reports $122,000 already in the till.

They estimate 20,000 people and about $200,000 which would be the largest fight rate of the year. That does not include the $100,000 paid by nine TV set manufacturers for TV and radio rights.

For a change, there will be free home radio (CBS) and TV (Dumont) for this 15-round bout,

Pittsburgh U. Coach Turns in Resignation To Take Oregon Job

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Len Casanova, head football coach at the University of Pittsburgh, Tuesday asked the board of trustees to release him from his four-year contract to accept a similar position at the University of Oregon.

Casanova came to Pitt in February, 1950, from the University of Santa Clara in California. He was with Pitt for a full season with two spring drills.

Casanova brought the T-formation to Pitt, a traditionally single-wing school. Frank Carver, athletic publicity director at the school, said that such a request for release is usually "tantamount to acceptance."

Casanova also requested that his assistant, backfield coach Jack Roche, be allowed to go with him. Under the leadership of Casanova in 1950, the Pitt squad won one game and lost eight.

Pitt authorities moved quickly to get a new head man lined up. Carver said the new coach will almost certainly be named before the weekend.

Cincinnati at Philadelphia — (2-12-12)—Ramsdell (7-9) and Wehmer (11-3) vs. Church (10-4) and Johnson (9-1) starting at 8 p.m. (CST). The weatherman frowns on the show, predicting clouds and late showers today. In the event of a postponement, the bout will be held Thursday night at the Pirates' ball park.

Opportunity keeps on knocking for old Jersey Joe, beaten four times for the title, twice by Joe Louis and twice by Charles. Now he's getting a fifth crack. That's more title bouts than many of our great champions had — fellows like Gene Tunney, Jess Willard and Bob Fitzsimmons, to say nothing of Jack Sharkey, Primo Carnera, Max Baer and Jimmy Braddock.

But the canny vet from Camden, N.J., always makes it close. Many thought he beat Louis the first time when he floored him twice. He led on all official cards until knocked out by Louis the second time around.

Walcott just missed upsetting Charles in March at Detroit when he hurt the champ in the fourth round but couldn't follow up. However, Jersey Joe was on the deck for nine in the ninth round. "It's either him or me this time," said Walcott at his training camp. "Somebody is going to get knocked out."

Chisox 5, Yanks 4

CHICAGO (AP) — The unpredictable Chicago White Sox moved into second place only two percentage points behind first in the American league pennant scramble by defeating the New York Yanks, 4-3, in 10 innings Tuesday night before 45,580.

The Sox broke the 3-3 tie when Eddie Stewart doubled in center after Nelson Fox had grounded out. Orestes Minoza was given an intentional pass and Eddie Robinson singled to center, with Stewart tearing home with the winning run.

The Yanks tied the game in the ninth at 3-3, but Saul Rosovino, who went the route for the White Sox, killed the New York threat by stranding two runners.

Allie Reynolds, who pitched a no-hitter against the Cleveland Indians last Thursday, failed to last. He yielded to Cliff Mape, a pinch hitter, in the ninth and Stubby Overmire finished the game.

The White Sox clouted Reynolds for seven hits, three of them in succession in the eighth when they moved into a 3-2 lead.

The Yankees' Hank Bauer started New York off on a 2-0 lead in the seventh when he drove a two-run homer in the lower left field deck, scoring Gil McDougald ahead of him. It was Bauer's eighth homer of the season.

Chico Carrasquel accepted four chances Tuesday night to run his new American league errorless string at shortstop to 297 in 53 successive games.

Indians 8, Bosox 6

CLEVELAND (AP) — The fourth-place Cleveland Indians moved to within a game and a half of league-leading Boston Tuesday night by beating the Red Sox, 8-6. Bob Feller survived a four-run Boston rally in the ninth to post his 13th victory. He gave up eight hits, including homers by Lou Boudreau and pinchhitter Charles Maxwell.

The Tribe collected nine hits off three Boston pitchers and scored five unearned runs in the third. The five came on a pair of bunts by Dale Mitchell and Bob Avila, a walk to Feller, singles by Luke Easter and Al Rosen, a double by Bob Kennedy, a passed ball and an error by Boudreau.

Maxwell's homer in the ninth, his first in the major leagues, brought home Boudreau, who had walked, and Clyde Vollmer, who singled. It was the 14th straight game in which Vollmer has hit safely, and his blow scored Bobby Doerr who had forced Fred Hatfield.

Boudreau's homer, his fifth, came on his 34th birthday.

Nats, Browns Split

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Tommy Byrne shut out the Washington Senators on four hits Tuesday as the St. Louis Browns took the second half of a doubleheader 2 to 0 after dropping the opener 7 to 2. Byrne struck out pinchhitter Mike McCormick in the ninth with two runners on to end a last minute Washington threat.

In the first game, the Senators broke loose with six singles, a double steal and took advantage of a Brownie error for six runs in the fifth inning to take a 7 to 2 game from St. Louis.

The singles were by Cass Michaels, Mickey Grasso, Eddie Yost, Gil Coan, Mickey Vernon

Tigers 8, A's 5

DETROIT (AP) — The smallest night crowd ever to see a major league game in Detroit — only 15,746 fans — watched the fifth-place Detroit Tigers whip the seventh-place Philadelphia Athletics Tuesday night, 8-5, to give Virgil Trucks his third win.

Johnny Groth's two doubles and a single pushed over runs to lead the 11-hit attack on loser Alex Kellner and Joe Coleman. Because of wildness, Trucks, who had lost two games, was relieved by Dizzy Trout in the sixth, with the Tigers leading 7-3.

Lou Limmer, subbing for the Athletics' injured first baseman Ferris Fain, blasted a three-run homer in the third.

Trucks, the 32-year-old right-hander sidelined with a sore arm most of last season, allowed five hits in five innings and batted some two runs in the Detroit first with a bases loaded single.

Pirates 4, Bums 3

BROOKLYN (AP) — Cowboy Bill Howerton singled on a 3-0 pitch in the eighth inning Tuesday to drive in George Metkovich from second base and give the Pittsburgh Pirates a 4-3 triumph over the league-leading Brooklyn Dodgers.

Howerton's hit, his third of the game, climaxed a two-run rally. Pinch-hitter Pete Reiser, a former Dodger, opened the rally with a triple to right. Pete Castiglione singled Reiser home to tie the score at 3-3. Metkovich forced Castiglione at second and then advanced to second as Gus Bell grounded out. Howerton followed with his game-winning blow to center.

Lefty Howie Pollet started for the Pirates and gained the 100th triumph of his career and third victory of the season. He bowed out for a pinch-hitter in the eighth and Ted Wilks finished up. Pittsburgh 000 020 020-4 10 3

NEW YORK (AP) — Cal McLish recorded his first victory and first complete game since May 5 Tuesday night as he pitched the Chicago Cubs to a 7-4 victory over the New York Giants. McLish helped his own cause with a triple. Roy Smalley of the Cubs and Willie Mays of the Giants clouted homeruns.

McLish had a shutout until the eighth inning, but Mays spoiled it by hitting a homerun with Whitey Lockman on base after two were out.

Reds, Phils Split

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Philadelphia Phillies and Cincinnati Reds fought to a standoff in their battle for fourth place in the National league Tuesday night as the Phils pounded out a 10-0 second game victory behind the six hit pitching of lefthander Jocko Thompson.

Cincinnati took the opener, 9-8, sparked by outfielder Joe Adcock's four hits — including his ninth homer — and the fielder's bulleye throw to cut down the tying run between third base and home plate in the last of the ninth.

Satchel Paige to Pitch

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Leroy (Satchel) Paige signed Tuesday with the St. Louis Browns and owner Bill Veeck immediately announced the ageless Negro pitcher would start tonight against the Washington Senators.

"I've just signed the rookie of the year," quipped Veeck after the formalities.

Paige said he has had all of his teeth pulled and has put on over 15 pounds. He weighs 190.

Davis Cup Warmups

LOUISVILLE, KY. (AP) — The U.S. and Japanese Davis cup tennis teams began practice Tuesday for the American zone first round match.

Both tennis teams arrived here Monday. The Japanese players sported first and then returned to the local airport to meet their rivals for the best-of-five series which begins Friday.

Pairings for the matches — to be held at the Louisville boat club — will be made Thursday.
