Seminar Out-of-Doors Beats the Heat

WITH OLD CAPITOL AS A BACKGROUND, a seminar in teaching social and business subjects escapes the heat of the classroom as Donald MacRae, G. Eldora, addresses the class of Prof. Ralph Wilson. Topic for the day was not the heat, but "Public Relations." The class, like many others during the summer, meets outdoors as much as possible during the summer.

Senate-House Group Shelves Administration Housing Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) - Senate-house conferees Thursday shelved a stripped-down version of the administration's defense housing bill in writing new economic controls legislation.

The setback on that score was offset by an earlier victory for administration forces. That came when the conference committee agreed to permit rents in newly designated critical defense areas to be rolled back to levels in effect just before the Korean war.

Conference committee officials said the senate conferees agreed to removal of the housing measure from the controls bill after the house conferees had promised that the measure will be considered as separate legislation by the house banking committee on Monday.

The senate housing bill would authorize an additional $1.5 billion in federal housing administration mortgage insurance for new home construction. The administration had requested a $3 billion authorization.

The committee action on the housing measure came at a night session as the conferees drove for a final agreement on compromise legislation to extend wage, price, rent, and other emergency controls. The present controls law expires at midnight Tuesday.

The conferees are trying to iron out differences between separate extension bills passed by the senate and house.

The housing measure was passed by the senate early this year as a separate bill, but it went into a pigeonhole in the house.

The senate house measure which was shelved by the conferees also would authorize $60 million to develop community facilities in defense housing areas; $50 million for construction of public housing in such areas; $10 million for the acquisition of property for public and private housing; and $15 million for the maintenance of productive capacity in the prefabricated housing industry.

After providing for relaxation of real estate controls in critical areas, the conferees knocked out a house bill provision which would have required easing of credit generally on financing of low-cost homes.

The committee also eliminated provisions of both the house and the senate bills calling for an easing of credit controls on GI financed homes.

The provision dealing with low cost homes generally would have prevented the government from requiring more than 10 per cent down or giving less than 25 years to pay for any home costing less than $10,000.

Opera Tickets Still Available

A limited number of tickets are still available for all performances of the opera "Die Fledermaus" to be presented in Macbride auditorium next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

The tickets, $1 and $1.50, may be obtained in the Iowa Memorial Union.

The new English version of Johann Strauss' opera will be used. A full cast of 100 students will participate in staging the opera. This includes soloists, dancers, and choral and orchestral accompaniment. (See opera story, page 6).

Truman Says Asia Action Prevented Global War

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Truman told congress Thursday that the "resolute" defense of Korea against Communist aggression prevented a breakdown of the United Nations and probably a global conflict.

Submitting a report on American participation in the UN, he said the whole postwar system of collective security was at stake when the U.S. decided to act quickly at the time of the North Korean attack.

Army Ends Segregation In Far East

WASHINGTON (AP) - The army announced Thursday that it is ending racial segregation in the Far East command, closing the 82-year history of its oldest and last Negro regiment.

It said integration of white and Negro troops at all levels in Japan, Korea and Okinawa would be completed in about six months. It also announced the disbandment of the 24th infantry regiment which has been a fighting part of the 25th division throughout the Korean campaign.

The 24th regiment was organized at Ft. McKavitt, Tex., in 1869. It won its first battle honors in the frontier campaigns against the Indians and achieved its greatest fame as one of the units which stormed San Juan hill at Santiago, Cuba, in the Spanish-American war.

The 24th had the distinction of being the first Negro unit to get into the war in the Pacific in 1942.

The army said the end of segregation applied only to the Far East command. The process is proceeding more slowly on the home front. The army has a number of all-Negro units smaller than regiments.

Last year a presidential order ended a quota system which had limited the number of Negroes serving in the army. Also by executive order "equality and opportunity for advancement" was made army-wide policy.

'Get Acheson' Bill Fails; House Gags Voice of America

WASHINGTON (AP) - The house turned down the "get Acheson" amendment after angry debate Thursday and then passed the state-commerce-justice department appropriation bill.

It rejected numerous moves for big cuts in the measure to finance the three departments and the federal judiciary for the year which started July 1, including a proposal to slash funds for the "Voice of America" to $70 million.

A total of $85 million was voted for the "Voice" as compared with $115 million asked by President Truman.

As it goes to the senate, the bill totals $1,046,940,115. Passage was by a standing vote of 245 to 141.

The big fight was over a Republican sponsored move to for bid use of any of the state department's appropriation to pay any person with Secretary of State Dean Acheson's particular status and background. That lost 171 to 81 on a standing vote.

The money is divided this way: State: $226,357,000 instead of the $283,686,476 requested. Justice: $181,567,000 instead of $184,346,000 requested. Commerce: $612,098,000 instead of $763,763,925 requested. Judiciary: $25,918,115 instead of $23,489,740 requested.

Olin Polio Victim In 'Fair' Condition

One new polio patient has been admitted to University hospitals, bringing to five the number of active cases in the hospitals.

Harry Hoisington, 14, Olin, was reported in "fair" condition after entering the hospitals Tuesday.

Discharged from the hospitals were Robert Saylor, 6, Kirksville; Mark Rosover, 6, LaPorte City; and William Dahm, 10, Olin.

U.S. Arrests 12 Reds, Including Party's 'Active Manager'

LOS ANGELES (AP) - The government cracked down on the Communist party again Thursday with the arrest of a dozen prominent Reds including the party's "active manager" and a woman who polled 600,000 votes in the last California general election.

Seven were arrested in San Francisco, four in Los Angeles and William Schneiderman, identified as the party's new manager, in New York. Arraignments were held in Los Angeles and New York less than two hours after the arrests but were delayed for the San Francisco Commies.

Eleven were arrested in simultaneous raids Thursday morning. A 12th, Bernadette Doyle, 45, organizer for the party in San Francisco, was picked up Thursday afternoon as she strolled along a bay city street.

Active in politics, she was unsuccessful again in the 1950 general election when she polled more than 600,000 votes in a bid for the California superintendent of public instruction job.

U.S. Commissioner Howard Calverley, who issued all warrants, set bond for the four Los Angeles party members at $75,000.

Bail for Schneiderman was set at $100,000 after Assistant U.S. Atty. John Foley told the New York federal court that "Schneiderman recently assumed active management of the Communist party in the U.S.A."

Later in San Francisco, U.S. Commissioner Francis St. J. Fox listened two hours to arguments presented by attorneys for the four men and three women arrested there and by Assistant U.S. Atty. Joseph Karesh. Finally Fox decided to set bail for the four men at $75,000, but lowered it to $7,500 each for two of the women and to $2,500 for Miss Doyle.

Sincerity of Iranian Offer to Negotiate Still Undetermined

TEHRAN (AP) - W. Averell Harriman and British Ambassador Sir Francis Shepherd tried to find out Thursday if the new Iranian offer to negotiate may really mean a break in the bitter deadlock over oil nationalization.

President Truman's personal trouble-shooter and Shepherd both kept busy calling on government and political leaders to pin down the exact nature of the offer to Britain.

The latest move followed Harriman's statement that he is hopeful the two countries will negotiate again and start the flow of oil from the huge Abadan refinery.

Harriman met with Iran's oil board Thursday. An Iran spokesman said his country still will insist that Britain must accept the nationalization law before discussion can start on a working agreement to get the oil flowing again.

In principle, Britain has accepted Iranian ownership of the oil fields and Abadan refinery but objects to Iranian control of operations and distribution.

GM Sales $2 Billion

NEW YORK (AP) - General Motors corporation Thursday reported sales of all GM products totaled $1,921,000,000 and net income was $139 million, equal to $1.55 a share, in the second quarter.

India Calls Guard For Training Duty

NEW DELHI, India (AP) - India has ordered thousands of national guard troops to active duty for what a military spokesman Thursday called training exercises.

He said the move is not connected with the hot talk between India and Pakistan over who will rule the oil princely state of Kashmir - scene of 1948 warfare between the two countries.

The spokesman would not disclose the number of soldiers called up. A usually informed source said orders went out to 20,000 railway troops, 20,000 infantrymen and a number of engineers.

Premier Gasperi, Cabinet Sworn In

ROME (AP) - Premier Alcide de Gasperi and his seventh cabinet took office Thursday pledged to "loyal support" of the North Atlantic pact.

The 70-year-old Christian Democrat leader announced a reshuffled cabinet to end Italy's 10-day government crisis.

De Gasperi reaffirmed his government's policy of maintaining the value of the Italian lira and controlling prices.

Red Artillery Stops UN Ground Actions; Air Attacks Continue

U.S. EIGHTH ARMY HEAD-QUARTERS, Korea (AP) - Artillery-supported Chinese Thursday stopped three Allied attacks cold on the eastern Korean front.

An eighth army spokesman said that "activity in this area has stepped up considerably."

Red Artillery Stops UN Ground Actions; Air Attacks Continue

U.S. EIGHTH ARMY HEAD-QUARTERS, Korea (AP) - Artillery-supported Chinese Thursday stopped three Allied attacks cold on the eastern Korean front.

An eighth army spokesman said that "activity in this area has stepped up considerably."

The United Nations assaults—in company to battalion size—were aimed at hills dominating Allied lines.

Even while the delegates to the Kaesong conference were agreeing on the terms of an armistice agenda, the UN troops rolled out to attack under a barrage of mortar and artillery fire.

The Communists counterattacked. The Reds' smashing artillery fire forced the UN troops to break contact and withdraw.

A coordinated attack northwest of Yanggu was aimed at hills dominating the Allied left and right flanks. By late afternoon an air strike was called in to cover UN forces falling back in the face of a relentless Red artillery.

Two battalions of Communist infantry, about 2,000 men, followed up the barrage to repel the UN attack.

Another Allied attack northeast of Yanggu was likewise stopped as was a drive on a hill north of Inje.

Fighting Continues As Nations Talk

FIGHTING CONTINUED at scattered points (arrows) and UN planes raided rail yards at Pyongyang (bomb burst symbol) Thursday as Allied and Red delegates agreed on agenda for armistice negotiations. Shading represents possible demilitarized zones to be argued as second item of agenda. United Nations wants buffer zone set up on basis of present battle line (curved line), while Reds seek that demilitarized zone to be based on original 38th parallel line of demarcation between North and South Korea.

At the height of the program when music was drifting across the water and the first lanterns were reaching the Union, dawn came the rain.

About 50 candle-lighted lanterns, made by children in Iowa City's playgrounds and from the SUI speech clinic, floated down the river from a point above City park bridge.

The gathering started out with what was almost a carnival atmosphere. Family groups by the scores lined both sides of the Iowa river from the City park to Iowa ave. bridge.

Five groups of musicians were supposed to have provided music throughout the evening, but only a part of them was heard.

A band concert, provided by the local No. 450 of the American Federation of Music, lasted for about an hour. Included on the program were waltzes, polkas and folk songs.

A group of Johnson county Farm Bureau women, directed by Mrs. W. W. Morris, had just gotten started singing on the roof of the Iowa Union, when the rain drowned them out.

Lawyers' Support Gratifies Douglas

WASHINGTON (AP) - Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill.) said Thursday he is "deeply gratified" by the strong endorsement given in an Illinois lawyer's poll to his selections for two federal court vacancies over the appointments of President Truman.

Douglas told a reporter that "in no sense was the poll a contest between President Truman and myself."

"I do not regard it as a personal victory, but I do regard it as a confirmation of my judgment because one man I recommended won by a ratio of 6 1/2 to 1, the other by a ratio of 2 1/2 to 1."

Douglas referred to the strong majorities racked up by Municipal Judge Benjamin P. Epstein and Atty. William H. King Jr., whom he had recommended for two new federal court posts in northern Illinois. The President instead nominated Boy's Court Judge Joseph J. Drucker and Circuit Judge Cornelius J. Harrington.

Douglas was expected to fight senate confirmation of Mr. Truman's selections on grounds they were made in a manner obnoxious to him as senator, and that his own candidates were better qualified.

Yank Efficiency Pays Off

— Pentagon Asserts

By HENRY C. NICHOLAS
Central Press Correspondent

WASHINGTON — News stories mention various units of the army, such as platoons, battalions, divisions and corps. Readers not familiar with the structure of our army and those of other countries find it difficult to understand the military significance when such designations are the only indication of size.

Mention of the same number of divisions of two opposing armies, for example, would be far from saying the two armies are equal in strength.

The American infantry division consists of 18,000 men, which compares with the Soviet infantry division of 10,800 men. But these figures of manpower do not reveal the more important factor of effective fighting power, the number of frontline fighting soldiers and the comparative firepower of the two opposing divisions.

Some military experts, both here and abroad, claim that due to the difference in organization, the smaller Soviet units are actually a more powerful fighting force than the much larger American units. They claim that the Soviet infantry battalion of 555 men has a total firepower of 1,370 pounds a minute, while the larger American infantry battalion of about 1,000 men has a total firepower of only 1,200 pounds a minute.

The Pentagon vigorously denies these conclusions of military critics, claiming they overlook the overall picture. While our army employs more men to do the same job, its greater efficiency and fighting power has been demonstrated again and again under almost impossible conditions, thousands of miles distant from this country.

This is the structure of the United States army:
Squad—Smallest unit of 10 or 12 men, commanded by a sergeant, assisted by a corporal.

Platoon—Four squads, totaling about 48 men, commanded by a first or second lieutenant.

Company—Four platoons, totaling about 200 men, commanded by a captain.

Battalion—Four companies, totaling about 1,000 men, commanded by a major or a lieutenant colonel. About 200 specialists are required in a battalion, thus raising the total higher than four companies of 200 each.

Regiment—Three battalions, totaling 3,000, commanded by a colonel.

Division—Three regiments, plus a tank battalion, field artillery units, a medical battalion, and various other specialists such as military police, signal corps and

Artificial Hands Give Limbless Woman Freedom

By NORMA SEXTON

Luellen G. Ross, a patient in the University hospitals, raised a window Thursday for the first time in her life.

Born without arms or legs, she has practically mastered the technique of using the "hooks" of her artificial arms and is more independent than she has ever been in the past 43 years of her life.

The occupational therapy department of the University hospitals has been giving Luellen instruction in the use of her artificial limbs so that she can become entirely self-sufficient.

Besides learning to feed herself, Luellen has completed several handcraft projects, including weaving a potholder and making and decorating a wooden box.

The artificial arms operate on the basis of moving the left shoulder to manipulate the right arm. By moving the shoulder muscles backward and forward the "hooks" may be opened and closed.

"The artificial arms or prostheses, as they are called by therapists, have enabled Luellen to do things she would never have attempted before," Elizabeth Collins, director of occupational therapy for University hospitals, said.

Luellen, a former resident of Clarinda, came to University hospitals for measurements and the test after her first examination in January, 1949.

In April, 1950, she was fitted with artificial limbs and has returned recently for instruction and therapy, both occupational and physical.

"Many of the things that Luellen does today with the aid of her arms she could do before. But now she does them much better and more carefully."

"When I can pick up a chocolate-covered cherry without USING HER "HOOKS" to color the design on a box she made, Luellen G. Ross, born without arms or legs, has become almost entirely self-sufficient through the instruction and help given her by the occupational therapy department of University hospitals.

something else she had never done previously. The story of Luellen's life of accomplishments begins in Woodstock, Minn., Feb. 11, 1908, when, she said, "a very peculiar bundle was left at the home of my parents."

She spent an active and happy childhood and with the help of her brothers and sisters attended school until the eighth grade.

Since the late 1930's Luellen has spent much of her time furthering the interest of needs of handicapped persons by writing pamphlets and a small book of poetry.

One of her strongest beliefs is that a handicapped person can live a normal and full life if given the opportunity to do so.

In a few months she will be fitted with artificial limbs—which she is looking forward to. Right now she walks with the aid of "stubbies," artificial legs that are shorter than the usual ones.

Luellen is looking forward to a more useful life for herself. She hopes to find work of some sort and become financially independent. Interested mainly in radio, television and photography, she would like some sort of a counseling job in one of those fields.

The occupational therapy department of the University hospitals handles about 50 patients daily, Miss Collins said. There are five students assisting with the work, who are serving three-month affiliation periods.

The usual course amounts to four years of college work with a minimum of 10 months clinical experience divided among the various disability fields.

The SUI course, inaugurated in 1946, consists of three years in the college of liberal arts, and the fourth year in the college of medicine with emphasis on scientific subjects and clinical procedures.

The fifth year is spent on a supervised clinical internship in the occupational therapy department of University hospitals.

Supervisor of the SUI school is Margaret McDonald.

Acheson Proposes $25 Billion Aid Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Acheson set before congress Thursday a vast global aid program costing $25 billion for the defense of U. S. Allies in the next three years.

That is the price, he said, to counter Soviet Russia's designs and bring about "an era of genuine relaxation of tension."

Acheson said Spain will get a share of the money — he did not say how much—but he declared that "considerable time must elapse" before Spain could be admitted into the North Atlantic treaty alliance.

Testifying before the senate foreign relations committee, Acheson disclosed that the administration's current request for $8,500,000,000 in foreign aid is only the first installment in a proposed long-range program.

Two more installments of about the same size will be needed, he said, to equip this country's allies in Europe and Asia.

With some congressional critics already sharpening their knives to trim the huge program, Senator Lodge (R-Mass.) came up with an assist for the administration even as Acheson testified.

On the senate floor, Lodge read a statement quoting Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's chief of staff, Lt. Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, as saying that if the proposed fund for European aid is cut in half, it would chop 14 divisions off the European defense force.

Gruenther also declared it would mean a 25 per cent cut in the number of air squadrons for the forces under Eisenhower.

Lodge is supporting the military aid program.

Acheson told the senate committee that the end of U. S. aid might come in 1955 so far as original equipment is concerned. He said it might be necessary to continue after that with some maintenance help, but the amount would be comparatively small.

"We can see the contours and the end of the great capital outlay," he said. "What will happen beyond that, no one can see with clarity. But there should be substantial reductions in the contributions coming from the U.S."

Acheson appeared as the lead-off witness in supporting the administration's bid for $6,250,000,000 in foreign military aid and $2,250,000,000 in economic aid.

Iowa Legislature's Democrats to Discuss Party Issues Today

DES MOINES (P) — Democratic members of the Iowa legislature will hold another meeting today for a discussion of party affairs and issues, Jake More, chairman of the state central committee, announced Thursday.

More, who will preside, said the session will be similar to one held last month. A third meeting has been scheduled on State day at the Iowa state fair late in August.

The Democratic legislative delegation includes nine senators and 15 representatives. They will discuss candidates and measures for the 1952 campaign. Among subjects to be considered are legislation for liquor by the drink, operations of the new legislative budget and finance control committee and the possibility that a special session of the legislature might be asked to pass on municipal legislation.

Burglar Makes Life Difficult for Himself

LONG BEACH (P) — Police awakened Eugene C. Shanklin from a sound sleep at 2:30 a.m. Thursday.

They told him they had frightened a burglar and showed the sleepy man where the would-be thief had dragged a ladder over a fence, across the backyard, and placed it against the house.

"Shouldn't have gone to so much trouble," yawned Shanklin. "I left the front door open."

Mexican Economy Battles High Living Costs

BY EMIL ZUBRYN
Central Press Correspondent
Mexico City — The ever-soaring cost of living is threatening to deprive the Mexican poor of their beloved and nutritious tortillas.

The problem of tortillas and the masa (corn dough) used in their production has become so grave the government has stepped in. Costs of tortillas now range from 50 to 60 centavos a kilo; masa is pegged at 25 to 30 centavos. At these prices there is much short-changing in weights, and producers are agitating for higher prices.

The sum of 60 or 70 centavos is not much by American values—roughly seven to eight cents. But to Mexico's vast army of laborers and the poor, it is sky-high. There are rumors and fear that the retail cost of tortillas will go to more than a peso for a kilo. This would be calamity.

The Mexican tortilla is not only a food staple, taking the place of bread. It also serves as a tasty spoon at mealtime for a vast segment of the lower-class population. And without the tortilla there would be poverty in the Mexican kitchen for it is the basic ingredient for enchiladas, tacos, chalupas, tostadas and many other typically Mexican dishes.

In soups, the tortilla is cut up fine to take the place of noodles or macaroni. In short, a housewife without tortillas in the land south of the border would not know how, or what to prepare for the family meal.

The marathon of high prices and hunger of the populace has stimulated the government to pro-gre counter-measures, including a greater increase in subsidizing of growers of corn and the mechanization of tortillerias (shops selling tortillas). In Mexico's Federal district alone there are 2,500 establishments selling this staple food product but only a very small percentage of these are mechanized. Most of the 800 tons of corn which are distributed daily in the city and turned into masa become tortillas by the ancient hand fashion-

'Murder Victim' Seized; Thought Dead 2 Years

DENVER (AP) — A tall, slim 43-year-old man—one detective described him as a "farmer-looking sort of guy"—was the key figure Thursday in a mystery involving a Louisiana killing.

The man, speaking in a mild drawl, said he didn't know a thing about it. The big puzzle in the case is that he has used the same name which authorities in Louisiana had thought was the name of the slaying victim.

Arrested while getting his hair cut, the man said he has been known here as John C. Harper, but also has used the name, Sam Jones. Louisiana officers, here to question Harper, said a man identified as Sam Jones was stabbed to death near New Orleans more than two years ago and was buried under that name.

Harper told Detective Capt. Charles J. Burns of the Denver police he knew nothing of the stabbing or of the fact a co-worker of Jones, Donald Easterwood, 26, had been tried for the slaying and acquitted. The jury even took up a $100 collection to give Easterwood a fresh start.

Burns related this chain of events: John C. Faulker Jr., chief of the New Orleans criminal department, and S. Cry Diliberto, Jefferson Parish deputy sheriff, arrived in Denver Wednesday. With them were George Jackson, a reporter for The New Orleans States, and a Denver salvation army worker, John Paynter.

Paynter said he knew Harper—or Jones—in New Orleans and had seen him often on Larimer st. in Denver's lower downtown section.

Last night Paynter spotted Harper in a barber shop and Denver detectives arrested him. The man, who said he worked for a time on a farm near Bennett, east of Denver, admitted he was employed at a New Orleans filling station and left in March, 1949, taking $95 from the cash register.

Later in March, 1949, the body of a man with stab wounds in the chest was pulled from a marsh near New Orleans. But Harper insists the slaying is news to him.

Burns said the man waived extradition and the New Orleans officers will leave with him tomorrow.

ICC Orders Ban On Auto Shipments

WASHINGTON (P) — The interstate commerce commission Thursday ordered a group of companies to cease unauthorized transportation of automobiles on the Great Lakes.

The ICC told the T. J. McCarthy company and Nicholson Transit company to halt carrying new cars between Detroit, Mich., and Duluth, Minn., on vessels owned by others.

It also found that the practice of Nicholson Universal Steamship company and its parent company T. H. Browning Steamship company of transporting cars and coal in the same vessel was unauthorized when agreements with shippers were made in the name of Browning.

McCarthy is authorized to operate as a motor vehicle carrier on the Great Lakes but has supplemented his own vessels with ships owned by Midland Steamship Line, Inc., and Kinsman Transit company, Nicholson Transit, holding authority similar to McCarthy, has been using vessels owned by Jones & Laughlin Steel Corporation.

"We find that the practice of transporting automobiles... purportedly in the service of McCarthy, Nicholson Transit, and Nicholson Universal, between points on the Great Lakes on vessels owned by others constitutes unauthorized transportation by the respective vessel owners," the commission said.

Developments in Korea Raise Truman's Hopes

WASHINGTON (UP) — President Truman said Thursday that agreement on the agenda for the peace talks at Kaesong gives him more hope for success in ending the Korean war.

Mr. Truman did not go into detail. When he was asked if the development gave him more hope, he simply said, "Yes, it does."

The President also told his news conference:

1. He has no comment on any phase of the speech Gen. Douglas MacArthur made at Boston last night in which the ousted Pacific general called the Korean peace talks appeasement.

2. He is looking into the story that Democratic national chairman William M. Boyle Jr. accepted fees from an RFC borrower, but he does not believe a thing like that until he knows it for himself.

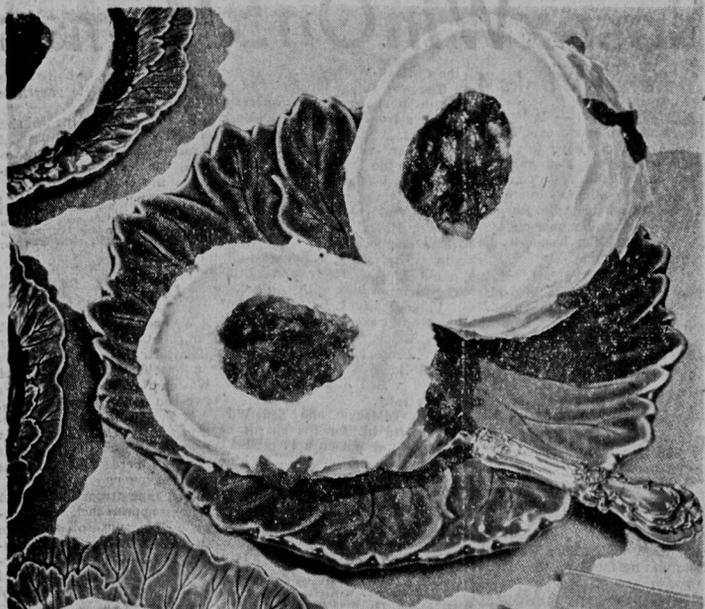

3. He still is not ready to say whether he will be a candidate for re-election in 1952 or whether he will make a stump tour of the country this year.

Frosted Cherry-Cantaloupe

FOR A COLORFUL SALAD OR DESSERT, try this cream cheese-frosted cantaloupe filled with a maraschino cherry, pineapple and gelatin mixture.

Here's Easy Recipe

If you're budget-conscious—and who isn't these days—here's a recipe for a frozen dessert your family will love.

Just combine milk and freezing mix—use any one of the four flavors—vanillin, chocolate, maple or imitation strawberry.

Freeze it, beat it once for extra smoothness and there you have it, a cool, cool dessert that "hits the spot" on the hottest day. And the best news is that it costs less than 25 cents to make, and you get 4 to 5 servings.

You can serve it for company dessert in the same elegant ways you serve ice cream. Here's the easy recipe:

1½ cups milk
1 package flavored freezing mix

Beat contents of package into milk with rotary beater until dissolved. Pour into freezing tray. When frozen firm, remove from tray to bowl.

Break up with fork. Beat with electric or hand beater until fluffy. Freeze until firm but not too hard.

Saturday Night Snack

Cucumber and Watercress Sandwiches
California Prune Parfait*
Iced Coffee

*California Prune Parfait
2 cups cooked prunes
2 medium sized oranges
12 finely chopped maraschino cherries
¼ cup sweetened condensed milk
1 cup heavy cream

Cut prunes from pits into small pieces. Pare oranges so no white membrane remains; section oranges and cut into very small pieces. (If the orange sections are not cut very small, they'll get icy and tart.) Mix prunes, oranges, cherries and condensed milk.

Whip cream and fold in fruit mixture. Pour into refrigerator tray and place in freezing compartment with controls at lowest temperature. Freeze until firm but not solid. Reset temperature control to normal.

Fruits Make Colorful Desserts

Fresh fruits combined with maraschino cherries make colorful mid-summer dishes which can be served either as salads or desserts. Here are two easy-to-make and economical additions to a buffet which are as appealing to the eye as to the taste.

Maraschino Cherry Cantaloupe Slices
(Makes 4-6 Servings)

½ 3-ounce package cherry-flavored gelatin
1 cup hot water
¼ cup chopped maraschino cherries (about 10 cherries)
¼ cup crushed pineapple
1 medium-sized cantaloupe
1 3-ounce package cream cheese
Milk

HEAT MUST ESCAPE

Refrigerator manufacturers recommend that the refrigerator stand a few inches away from the wall. Reason is that the condenser needs air circulation so that heat being removed from the refrigerator may escape freely.

In center of mold.
Chill in refrigerator until set. Cut in squares; serve with mayonnaise or fruit salad dressing.

Molded Tapioca Is Pretty and Cool

That old favorite, creamy tapioca pudding, makes an impressive molded dessert. Just follow the usual easy recipe for preparing tapioca pudding, adding only the small amount of unflavored gelatin called for in the recipe below. Show off this beautiful pudding by bringing it whole to the table, with a garnish of cherries, whipped cream, and a dash of grated nutmeg.

Serve portions in dessert dishes, then spoon the delicious chocolate sauce over each serving. It's a real summertime treat!

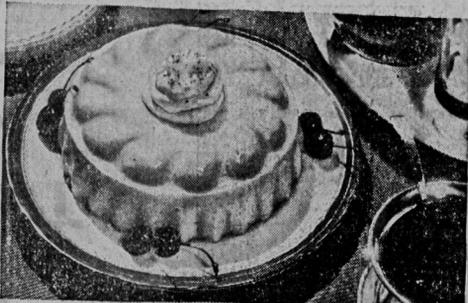

Combine 2 squares unsweetened chocolate and 6 tablespoons water in saucepan and place over low heat, stirring until blended. Add ½ cup sugar and dash of salt. Cook until sugar is dissolved and mixture is very slightly thickened, stirring constantly. Add 3 tablespoons butter and ¼ teaspoon vanilla.

Hotter the tapioca and the faster it is blended in, the thicker the pudding will be.)

Add vanilla and dissolved gelatin; blend well. Cool 20 minutes, stir; and turn into 1-quart mold. Chill until firm. Unmold and serve with Regal Chocolate Sauce. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Regal Chocolate Sauce

Old Favorite, New Style

CREAMY TAPIOCA PUDDING makes an impressive mold when combined with unflavored gelatin and cherries, whipped cream and nutmeg. Chocolate sauce adds another delicious touch.

Basket Fixing May Engulf More Schools

Bradley Players Involve 6th Mate in Point-Shaves

NEW YORK (AP) — More teams may be involved in the spreading college basketball scandal, Dist. Atty. Frank S. Hogan said Thursday as he named Fred Schlichtman, a Bradley player who has been living with the university president, as the recipient of a bribe to fix a game.

Hogan said Schlichtman's own teammates put the finger on him as the fourth man in on the point-rigging of the Oregon State game in the Bradley field house, Dec. 7, 1950. The others in on that deal, said Hogan, were Gene (Squeaky) Melchiorre, the stocky, brilliant little all-American; Aaron Preece and Jim Kelly.

Under questioning Thursday night, Schlichtman didn't think he had done anything wrong. The 22-year-old long shot specialist on last year's Bradley team said he was handed an envelope containing $500 a few days after Bradley's victory over Oregon State.

Questioned by Peoria County State's Atty. Michael A. Shore, Schlichtman said that he was approached by teammate Melchiorre a few days before the game and told that he had a chance to earn $500 on the game. "All we have to do is keep the score low," he said Melchiorre told him.

Schlichtman said that Melchiorre said no more and "I didn't think much about it."

Played Hard
"I played hard because I wanted to be a regular," Schlichtman said of the Oregon game, "and I scored 21 points."

Schlichtman said he "didn't give a thought to shoving points" during the game.

Point shaving means to play so that the team will win, but not by as many points as gamblers quote before the game.
A few days after the game, according to Schlichtman, Melchiorre gave him an envelope containing $500. He said that he told his family, who live in Centralia, Ill., about the money and they wanted him to return it.

"But I decided that I hadn't done anything wrong so I kept it," Schlichtman said.

Live with President
Schlichtman and several other students live on the Bradley campus with David Blair Owen, president of the school. Schlichtman has been vacationing with Owen at Mackinac island, Mich.

In Peoria, Owen could not be reached for comment on the Schlichtman development. He has declined to make a statement since arriving in Peoria Wednesday night from Mackinac island. However, when the scandal broke Tuesday he said he was "finding it very hard to believe." Schlichtman has not yet showed up in Peoria.

Both Schlichtman and Kelly are undergraduates and had been considered the mainstays of the coming Bradley team.

The mushrooming investigation already has enveloped some 30 players from six schools and Hogan said "it is conceivable other answer to the New York invitation within 24 hours.

After the session the players bolted out of the room, brushing past photographers and newsmen, and dashed down six flights of stairs to a waiting taxicab.

Peoria county's grand jury will not be in session until September. Shore said the question of jurisdiction between New York and Peoria has not been fully discussed, but he pointed out the gambling contacts have been made with Bradley players in that city.

It was evident that the New York district attorney's office might ask court leniency if the Bradley players testified willingly and helped stack up evidence against four gamblers involved in the case. If the players decline to appear willingly, they still could be indicted by the New York grand jury and extradited from Illinois.

O'Connor left Thursday afternoon for Chicago, presumably to study details of a $4,000 payoff said to have been made to Melchiorre in Chicago's Morrison hotel, two nights after the fixed Bradley-Oregon State game last Dec. 7. Shore still awaited arrival of another Bradley player, Fred Schlichtman, from Mackinac island, Mich., for questioning. Schlichtman, and Kelly are the only holdovers from last year's Bradley quintet.

Oliver Leads Golfers At St. Paul Open With 6-Under-Par 66

ST. PAUL, MINN. (AP) — Ed (Porky) Oliver, hefty Wilmington, Del., professional, knocked in five birdies on the back nine Thursday to take the first round lead in the St. Paul open with a six under par 66.

Oliver, perspiring freely, was as hot as the scorching 90 degree sun, once he got over a mediocre start. He sank a 20-foot putt on the ninth hole to go one under par, then really turned on the steam on the back nine. He started knocking in long putts from all angles.

At the end of 18 holes, Oliver was four under par. He wrapped in a 25-foot downhill putt on the 17th for a birdie, then sank a five-foot putt on the 18th for another birdie and his 66.

Before Oliver came in late in the day with his 66, seven other professionals were tied for first with 67's. Two of them — Cary Middlecoff and Gene Sarazen — had blown five-foot putts on the last hole which would have given them 66's.

The touring professional troupe ripped par apart on the par 72 Keller course. Sammy Snead, PGA champion, and the fans' choice to win the open, and Jim Ferrier, defending champion and leading 1951 money winner, were far down the list of scorers with 3 under par 69's. Golfers who could score no better than par found themselves practically out of the running.

Tied for second with Middlecoff and Sarazen were Jimmy Demaret, Ojai, Calif., Lloyd Mangrum, Chicago, Jack Burke, Houston, Tex., Dick Mayer, St. Petersburg, Fla., and Bill Nary, Prairie View, Ill.

Johnstone, Staats In Golf Semi-Finals

MASON CITY (AP) — Favorites advanced into the semi-finals of the women's state golf tournament Thursday, but 1949 champion Mrs. H. R. Staats of Davenport was forced into extra hole play for the second straight time.

Mrs. Staats defeated Patty Westfall, Creston, one-up on the 19th hole. Mrs. Staats had to go 19 holes Wednesday to oust Bebe Fisher, Boone, by the same score.

Mrs. Anne Casey Johnson, Mason City, another former state champion, moved into the semi-finals with a 4 and 3 victory over Mrs. Mary Mansfield, Des Moines.

Lee McFarland, Ames, took a lopsided victory from Mrs. Russell Ritz, Waterloo, 7 and 6.

Bums Win 8th in Row; Phils, Braves Triumph

Bums 9, Cubs 1

CHICAGO (AP) — Burly Don Newcombe pitched his own ninth straight victory over the Chicago Cubs Thursday as the Brooklyn Dodgers pounded out a 9-1 triumph before 16,962 at Wrigley field.

The Dodgers' sixth straight victory was also the eighth in a row for Newcombe who has won 14 and lost four this season.

Held to one run and three hits by Omar Lown the first six innings, the Dodgers shook loose for three runs in the seventh to rout Lown.

They added two off relief hurler Johnny Klippstein on Roy Campanella's 17th homer with a mate aboard and scored their last three in the ninth inning at the expense of Klippstein and Joe Hatten.

The Cubs frisked Newcombe for a fast run in the first on the first of the two walks he allowed. Manager Phil Cavaretta, whose Cubs now have lost three in a row and 12 out of 18 to Brooklyn, drew the pass. He went all the way around on Frankie Baumholtz's double to the left field wall.

Newcombe was in trouble again in the second after a walk, a single and a wild pitch put runners on second and third with one out. After escaping that jam he allowed only one more Cub to reach second the rest of the way. Six Bruins went down on strikes.

Gil Hodges and Billy Cox paced Brooklyn's 12-hit attack with three apiece. Hodges' double in the fourth lapped inches of becoming his 31st homer.

The Dodgers worked Lown, for a run to tie the score in the fourth on a walk, Hodges' two-base clout and an infield out.

Singles by Cox and Duke Snider around Newcombe's double provided the deciding tallies in the seventh.

Newcombe and Campanella: Lown, Klippstein (7), Hatten (9) and Burgess, HR: Bkn-Campanella, LP-Lown.

Phils 7, Cards 0

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The Philadelphia Phils shut out the St. Louis Cardinals 7-0 before 9,881 fans Thursday night behind the seven-hit pitching of ex-Cardinal Ken Johnson. Eddie Waitkus and Richie Ashburn led the Philadelphia offense, each getting a double and two singles.

Johnson, who has now won two and lost one, issued five walks, all of them in the first three innings. Then he settled down and had allowed only two hits going into the seventh inning when the Cards got to him for three. Four double plays by the Phils helped him through the rough spots. He struck out three.

The Phils pounded out 14 hits in hanging up their second consecutive shutout over the Redbirds.

Tom Poholsky, the starting and losing pitcher, was lifted after the Phils ran the score to 4-0 with two runs in the fifth on a single by Waitkus and doubles by Ashburn and Willie Jones.

Philadelphia: 110 022 100-7 14 1 St. Louis: 000 000 000-0 7 0 Johnson and Wilber: Poholsky, Critman (6), Brazle (6), Munger (7) and Sarni, LP-Poholsky.

Feller Pitches 15th Win; Bosox Win On 5 Homers

Indians 9, Yanks 4

NEW YORK (AP) — It took the Cleveland Indians exactly 12 months and 12 days to win a game at Yankee stadium. They accomplished the feat Thursday, in their 14th attempt, by routing former teammate Allie Reynolds in six innings to hammer out a 9-4 victory over the league-leading New York Yankees.

In salvaging the last of the three-game series, the third-place Indians moved back to within a game of the Yankees, who had their lead shaved to a scant two percentage points over Boston.

It was Cleveland's first win here in nine games this season. The Yankees also won the last five games in the stadium last year following a July 14 defeat by Bob Lemon.

The victory tasted extra sweet to the Tribe since it came at the expense of Reynolds, who had beaten them four straight times. He shut them out three times and held them runless and hitless the last time he faced the Indians.

The Indians collected 13 hits, three each by Dale Mitchell and Ray Boone. Mitchell batted in three runs with a homer and two singles. Bobby Avila, who hit safely in his 10th straight game, drove in two mates with a single and 400-foot triple.

The Yankees suffered their worst defensive day of the season, committing five errors, two by second baseman Gerry Coleman. Four of Cleveland's tallies were unearned.

Reasonably rapid Robert Feller yielded all the Yankee runs and all but one of their nine hits as he gained his 15th victory of the season.

Cleveland: 010 103 010-9 13 0 New York: 000 220 000-4 9 3 Feller, Bristle (6) and Hegan; Reynolds, Overmire (7) and Berra, HR: Mitchell; NY-Mize, Stages, Berra, WF-Feller; LP-Reynolds.

Braves 6, Reds 2

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Boston Braves withstood a ninth inning rally Thursday to defeat the Cincinnati Reds, 6-2 and move into fifth place in the National league.

Vern Bickford hurled brilliantly until the ninth when the Reds scored their runs, and was lifted with two out and two on base. Bob Chipman finished. It was Bickford's 11th victory against seven defeats.

Ewell Blackwell was the losing hurler—his 10th against nine victories.

Boston: 012 000 102-6 9 0 Cincinnati: 000 000 002-2 6 0 Bickford, Chipman (9) and Cooper; Blackwell, Perkowski (6), Erant (9) and Howell, Scheffing (6). HR: Bos-Elliott, WF-Bickford; LP-Blackwell.

Head-Rolling Popular — 7 New Managers in '51

— 2 More for Record

NEW YORK (AP) — Seven major league clubs have hired new managers since the end of last season and at least two more are in the market.

If sport shirt Bill Veeck of the St. Louis Browns installs his new pilot before the end of the campaign, it will tie the all-time record of turnovers on eight clubs in a single season.

And if Bill Meyer of the Pittsburgh Pirates steps down either with or without orders from Branch Rickey, it'll top the busiest replacement season in 51 years of the major leagues as we know them today.

Five new managers opened the season — three in the American league and two in the National. Two others, both National leaguers, popped up in mid-year.

Paul Richards of the Chicago White Sox, Al Lopez of Cleveland, Jimmy Dykes of the Philadelphia Athletics, Marty Marion of the St. Louis Cardinals and Chuck Dressen of Brooklyn all opened in new jobs this season.

Then along came Tommy Holmes to replace Billy Southworth of the Boston Braves shortly before the all-star game and Phil Cavaretta to take over from Frank Frisch of the Chicago Cubs on July 21.

Only five times since 1901 have more clubs changed managers — 1912, 1927, 1930, 1938 and 1948. Eight clubs dropped managers in those years.

Remember that merry-go-round in '48? Three clubs changed managers on the same day. Leo Durocher switched from the Dodgers to the Giants, Burt Shotton taking over the Dodgers. Dusty Cooke stepped in to replace Ken Chapman of the Phillies as a fill-in until negotiations with Eddie Sawyer were completed.

Usually after one of those big years for changes things settle down for awhile but there have been hints or predictions involving three others for '51.

Both Casey Stengel of the New York Yankees and Red Rolfe of Detroit have been ailing and might like to call it quits after this season. It's up to them.

Bucky Harris of the Washington Senators is said to be in line for a front office job at Detroit, but it's a long line.

Veeck, determined to find a colorful manager for his colorless Browns, combed the field looking for a man to carry on when he retires his current pilot, Zack Taylor.

On his list are old associates: Lou Boudreau, who bossed the Indians while Veeck was at Cleveland; Rogers Hornsby of Seattle, once manager and star of the Cubs in Veeck's youth around Wrigley field; Joe Gordon of the Sacramento Solons, ex-Indian second baseman, and Charlie Grimm, an old buddy from his Chicago and Milwaukee days.

You can bet these names, too, are on the lists of one or more clubs for future managerial offers: Eddie Stanky of the Giants, Pee Wee Reese of Brooklyn, Stan Hack of Los Angeles, Don Turner of Indianapolis, Jim Turner and Tommy Henrich, Yankee coaches, George Selkirk of Kansas City — plus a flock of ex-managers like Billy Southworth, Mel Ott and Burt Shotton.

Picking new managers is a difficult and risky business. But the wivel chair bosses never quit trying.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Detroit jumped on relief pitcher Mickey Harris for three runs in the eighth inning Thursday and defeated Washington 6-3. Connie Berry's two-run double was the big blow.

It was two out of three for Detroit in the series, and turned back a Washington bid to take over fifth place in the league standings.

The Tigers spurred into a 2-0 lead after three innings but Washington scored three runs in the fifth. Bob Cain walked Sid Hudson, Eddie Yost and Gil Coan successively. Irv Noren's long fly and Mickey Vernon's infield out scored two runs. Sam Mele singled off Ted Gray to score Coan.

Vic Wertz's single off Hudson and walks to Pat Mullin, Aaron Robinson and Charley Keller forced across the tying run in the sixth.

With one out in the eighth, Johnny Lipon walked and raced to third on Bob Swift's single. Lipon scored on Trout's bunt and Connie Berry belted across Swift and Trout with a double.

Fraternity Men Receive Above Average Grades

Fraternity men at SUI received higher grades, on the average, than other men students during the 1950-51 school year, figures released by Registrar Ted McCarrel showed Thursday.

G. E. Marshall, fraternity advisor, reports that this is the first time scholarship of fraternity men has been higher than the average for all men at the university for the entire year.

During the 1948-49 school year, the averages were practically identical, he said.

Twelve of the 17 fraternities boasted scholarship averages equal or better than the 2.273 posted by all men students. The overall fraternity average was 2.321, with chapter averages ranging from 2.128 to 2.449.

Reasons for the improved showing, Marshall said, include fraternity men's consciousness of their need for education and the aid received from the scholarship advisory system for all men students at SUI.

He gave credit to strict requirements which must be met for initiation and for continuation of fraternity privileges. These regulations are established by the committee on student life.

Marshall also praised the interfraternity council for its efforts in promoting scholarship among fraternity men at SUI.

Prof. C. Woody Thompson, dean of students from 1942 to 1948 and now director of the bureau of business and economic research, commended the fraternities for their performance.

"Two-thirds of SUI fraternity chapters received grades equal to or better than the average of other men students, which is approximately opposite of the national trend among fraternities," he pointed out.

Fraternity grade-point averages listed by McCarrel were:

Table with 2 columns: Fraternity Name and Grade Point Average. Includes Phi Kappa Psi (2.449), Beta Theta Pi (2.437), Phi Kappa (2.392), Phi Epsilon Pi (2.386), Sigma Alpha Epsilon (2.381), Phi Kappa Sigma (2.369), Phi Gamma Delta (2.350), Delta Upsilon (2.344), Sigma Chi (2.317), Delta Chi (2.279), Delta Tau Delta (2.275), Alpha Tau Omega (2.273), Sigma Phi Epsilon (2.263), Phi Delta Theta (2.257), Sigma Nu (2.208), Theta Xi (2.180), Pi Kappa Alpha (2.128).

Flood Waters Pass River Communities; Mississippi Drops

CAPE GIRARDEAU, MO. — The flooded Mississippi river was dropping all along a 200-mile stretch south of Alton, Ill., Thursday and danger to river communities appeared to have passed.

Levee workers continued to patrol and strengthen dikes at two weak points, Chouteau Island, Ill., and Perry County, Mo., but the threat of flooding lessened as the river ebbed.

The river dropped three-tenths of a foot here overnight and the "billion dollar" flood that ravaged the Midwest for two weeks was pouring safely into the wide sweep of the river south of Cairo, Ill.

Damage to this city of 21,500 persons was estimated in excess of 2 million. The Frisco railroad said it would be another week before service is resumed here. The Ozark airlines cancelled all flights because runways were endangered by the high water table below the surface.

Communities in the flooded Missouri and Mississippi river valleys were facing up to the task of rehabilitation. St. Louis organized a campaign for the prevention of disease by spraying flooded areas infested by flies and mosquitos.

St. Charles, Mo., was still cut off from direct land communication with St. Louis as a result of destruction of a two-mile stretch of pavement on the St. Charles bridge approach. Some 4,000 residents who work across the river in the St. Louis area have to motor an extra 50 miles to get to work.

Strauss Melodies Tell 'Die Fledermaus' Story

Revenge is sweet—especially among friends—as Dr. Falke will prove in "Die Fledermaus," Johann Strauss' liting opera, to be presented at SUI next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

The story of "Die Fledermaus" will be told and sung in a succession of Strauss melodies.

Plot of "Die Fledermaus" develops and thickens in the first act, revealing preparations for a masked ball amidst an involved pattern of domestic intrigue in old Austria.

It all began when Dr. Falke attended a masquerade with his wealthy banker friend, Gabriel von Eisenstein.

As the two returned home during early hours of the morning, Eisenstein deposited the inebriated Falke, dressed in costume as a bat, in the center of the town square. There he slept peacefully until midmorning, the object of much amusement to the village.

Following that incident, Falke was called Dr. Fledermaus ("Dr. Bat"), from which the opera derives its name.

As Falke will explain to the opera audience in the opening scene, his plans for revenge on friend Eisenstein are now ripe and will be carried out that very evening at another masked ball.

Eisenstein is persuaded by Falke to attend the ball, where he woos a beautiful "Hungarian countess."

Mrs. Frances Wilson Dies After Illness

Mrs. Frances Colquhoun Wilson, 81, widow of the late head of the SUI German department, Prof. Charles Bundy Wilson, died Thursday at the Rogers nursing home following a long illness.

She was born Jan. 8, 1870 in Ithaca, N.Y., the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Colquhoun. On June 25, 1896 she was married and the couple moved to Iowa City where they resided for 50 years at 4 W. Park road.

Mr. Wilson was head of the German department from 1888 to 1932. He preceded his wife in death Feb. 21, 1938.

Survivors include two sons, Eric C., 281 Colquhoun ave., and Arlo, New York City; one sister, Mrs. Charles P. Cornell, South Orange, N. J.; three grandchildren, and three great-grandchildren. Services will be Saturday at 2 p.m. at the Oathout funeral chapel. Burial will be in Oakland cemetery.

Chapel Speaker Named

Speaker on the WSUI Morning Chapel program at 8 a.m. daily, July 30 through Aug. 4, will be the Rev. Arthur Griffen of the North Liberty Methodist church.

City Street Resurfacing Program Finished

Iowa City's paving and street resurfacing program totaling approximately $210,000 was completed Thursday by the Hargrave Construction company, Cedar Rapids.

City Engineer Fred Gartzke said that nearly all asphalt streets in Iowa City have received "some degree of resurfacing."

The project was started last summer when a contract totaling $143,906.14 was awarded to the Hargrave firm July 10, 1950.

Resurfacing of 107 Iowa City blocks was provided for under this contract. City gas tax funds will pay for the resurfacing over a 10-year period and at no expense to the property owner.

Plans for the first phase of the project were drawn up by Gartzke and sponsored by Alderman Charles T. Smith.

Behind her mask, the "countess" is actually his own wife, a fact made painfully clear to Eisenstein when she threatens to divorce him for his attempt at philandering.

Although the closing scene finds Eisenstein in jail for kicking a tax collector in the stomach, the three-act opera ends with the battling lovers reunited, all misunderstandings cleared up and everyone happy.

Mother Asks Judge To Grant Leniency To Killer of Son

MEDFORD, ORE. (AP) — A mother pleaded Thursday with a judge to be lenient with the killer of her son.

It was her daughter-in-law for whom Mrs. Gertrude Wilson of Creston, Ia., pleaded—and until she came here to join the defense she had never met her.

The slain man was James Wilson, 43, unemployed construction worker. He was killed June 15 with a butcher knife. His wife, Helen Marie Wilson, 33, told police at the time that she had knifed him as the climax to a long family fight. They had been married little more than a year.

The district attorney's office filed a murder charge, but Thursday the grand jury reduced that to manslaughter. The younger Mrs. Wilson then went before Circuit Judge H. K. Hanna and pleaded guilty.

Her mother-in-law, who came here unexpectedly, told the judge that "I knew my son and I feel that what my daughter-in-law has done was justifiable homicide."

Wayne Wilson of Omaha, a brother of the slain man, also asked for mercy. He described his brother as a man who—since an automobile accident 14 years ago in which their father was killed—was impossible to live with. He said he was an alcoholic who appeared to enjoy goading people to violence.

The mother said of her daughter-in-law:

"I don't want her to have the blemish of prison on her name. She must live with herself, of course, and that should be punishment enough."

Judge Hanna said he would get a parole report before passing sentence. The maximum penalty would be 15 years.

Abuse of GI Bill Starts House Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — A stiff bill aimed at correcting abuses in the future operation of the GI education program is being drafted by a house committee that has reported questionable practices in the past.

The special committee, headed by Rep. Olin Teague (D-Tex.) has just released a report by the general accounting office on the $11,515,000,000 program. The study lists $20 million in overpayments to schools and numerous dodges to get benefits.

The deadline for enrollment by World War II veterans has been reached. Reports that the administration is preparing to ask for a "Korean GI Bill of Rights" is speeding up committee plans.

A spokesman for the committee said its members are opposed to a simple extension of the present law to make Korean veterans eligible.

It was said that main aims of the committee's contemplated revision would be to tighten up on veteran eligibility, reduce amount of outright benefits and cut down administrative costs.
