Personalities In The News

IN LONDON, Princess Anne poses with her mother, Princess Elizabeth. Anne will be one year old today. Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh plan a visit to the United States and Canada in October.

LAST U.S. information office in any Red satellite country, the Warsaw office has been closed by order of the Polish foreign office to U.S. Ambassador Joseph Flack (above).

HELL SEEK the Democratic nomination for President, says former Rep. Lafayette L. Patterson, 63, Anniston, Ala. He says he plans a nationwide tour to line up delegates on a program to reinstitute a high plane of moral leadership.

Wilson Warns Of $16-Billion In Rise in Costs

EVANSTON, ILL. (AP) — Defense Mobilizer Charles E. Wilson warned Tuesday that living costs may soar by $16 billion under the new economics controls law, boosting the price of bread, milk, eggs and countless other items.

He said that local meat famines, as well as black markets, may develop from the scuttling of livestock slaughtering quotas.

Wilson gave no estimate of when the cost of living might be expected to climb, but warned that the nation is facing a real economic inflation.

Wilson also took note of world conditions, warning that the threat of war is "greater than ever" and that the nation's defense production is "running somewhat behind schedule."

He said this country must not be taken in "by sweet talk out of Moscow," but press forward in its mobilization drive.

Wilson addressed the National Institute for Chamber of Commerce and Trade Association Executives in his first specific comments on the new controls law since he consulted with Economic Stabilizer Eric Johnston on its probable effects last week.

House Approves Record Military Building Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — The biggest military construction program ever undertaken, including secret projects abroad to put U. S. bombers in range of Russia, was approved by the house Tuesday.

The $5,768,720,000 authorization, more than half of it for the air force, was sent to the senate on a 352 to 5 roll call. The actual money must come in later appropriations and the services are asking $4 billion to get the job going.

Before final passage the house rejected, by voice vote, a move to strike out a $19,019,000 item for expansion of the Grandview, Mo., air base in President Truman's home county.

Rep. H. R. Gross (R-Iowa), contending the project was "extravagance," had held up action on the whole measure for several days until he could get a vote on his amendment.

The air force drew $3,480,661,000 as its share of the total in the big bill. In addition to the money for secret projects overseas there are allotments for strengthening bases at home and in the territories.

Security From Reds May Be Obstacle In Jap Peace Pact

WASHINGTON (AP) — State department officials believe Russia will center its attack against the proposed Japanese peace treaty on provisions designed to secure Japan against Communist aggression.

Russia has disclosed it will send a high-level delegation to the Japanese peace treaty conference opening in San Francisco Sept. 4.

At San Francisco, overall Soviet strategy is expected to be aimed at splitting the conference to weaken cooperation between the United States and friendly countries, and at the same time to try to win new support for Communism inside Japan on territorial issues.

Truman Hits Slandermongers, Likens Them To Communists

Reds Charge Truce Violations As New Crisis Develops

TOKYO, WEDNESDAY (AP) — The UN moved today to break the Korean truce deadlock but a new crisis developed when the Communists accused Allied planes of wounding two members of their cease-fire delegation.

UN Forces Smash Red Along Wide Battle Area

TOKYO (WEDNESDAY) (AP) — UN forces smashed at the Communists Tuesday with large scale air and sea attacks and launched a series of ground assaults to capture strategic hills on the Korean front.

The eighth army announced that UN troops drove the Reds from key hill positions above Wachen on the central front and opened a triple attack on three enemy-held hills in eastern Korea where fighting has raged for three weeks.

The air force flew 925 sorties against the enemy Tuesday as B-29 Superforts bombed the North Korean capital city of Pyongyang. Allied warships bombarded enemy positions on both the east and west coasts of Korea and pumped 500 more shells into the rubble city of Wonsan.

An eighth army briefing officer said one Allied unit west-southwest of Kansong on the eastern front attacked against one of the three enemy-held heights. The Allies reached the top despite

Iran Finds Fault With Latest Oil Negotiations Plan

TEHRAN (AP) — The Iranian cabinet found fault Tuesday with British proposals for joint operation of the nationalized oil industry—but did not scuttle the negotiations.

The fact the cabinet did not reject British Lord Privy Seal Richard Stokes' plan out of hand, as Premier Mohammed Mossadegh turned down a similar Anglo-Iranian Oil company plan last June, was seen as a sign the negotiators had successfully passed one of their first hurdles.

Stokes presented the plan Monday, but made no details public. The Iranians considered it last night and again Tuesday.

At the end of a cabinet meeting, Deputy Premier Hossein Fatimi said the government had expected a better deal and added, "My hope for a settlement is less, but I have not lost hope."

100 Jurors to Report

More than 100 petit jurors, drawn for the May term of court, will be notified to report for duty at 2 p.m. Sept. 5 for the opening of the George Baculis trial.

Baculis is charged with aiding and abetting in murder in connection with the Oct. 12 fatal stabbing of Andrew Davelis.

WEATHER

Partly cloudy today with thunderstorms. Thursday fair and warmer. High today, 77; low 56. High Tuesday, 84; low, 60.

Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy proposed at today's session that each side appoint a subcommittee of one member to work out solution of the dispute over where to draw a cease-fire line. This issue has threatened to break up the armistice talks for good.

The Communists then asked the proposal be put in writing and the 25th meeting adjourned until 1 p.m. Thursday (1 a.m. CST today) while the UN prepared a formal copy. The meetings usually start at 11 a.m.

A UN press release disclosed the new Communist charge of allied neutrality violations. It said UN aircraft on Aug. 13 machine-gunned three Red supply vehicles marked with white flags and wounded two members of the Red cease-fire team.

Admiral Joy, in a message transmitted through liaison officers before today's formal armistice session, rejected the charge. He rejected similar charges earlier and again reminded the enemy they must inform the UN in advance of the route and time any of such movements.

Brig. Gen. William P. Nuckols, the official UN spokesman, said the Communists asked for the later start for Thursdays meeting before Joy introduced his proposal. Joy announced his offer near the end of the day's meeting.

Nuckols said the "subcommittee delegates are to be selected from

School Board Okays $715,000 Budget; Hears No Protest

Final approval of the highest budget in the Iowa City school board history—$715,168.05 — was given Tuesday night by school board members at their regular monthly meeting.

The new budget, which is for the 1951-52 school year, is an increase of $84,120.79 over last year's final budget estimate of $624,120.78. No objections to the figure were raised at a public hearing at the meeting.

The board has estimated its total receipts for the coming year at $153,274.00, including money from state funds, tuition, income from property and sale of property.

The school tax under the new budget has been estimated at 31.11 mills, an increase of 2.98 over last year's tax.

In other business Tuesday night, the school board appointed Mrs. Keith Harris, Coralville, as fifth and sixth grade teacher at Lincoln school and Mrs. Margaret Tweeten as physical education teacher. Mrs. Tweeten replaces Mrs. Lova Jean Meyers.

The board also approved several corrections to the salary schedule for the 1951-52 school year, one of which was a stipulation that full credit shall be given for continuous service in the Iowa City public schools if an interruption in teaching service is caused by military service.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Truman bitterly denounced "slandermongers" Tuesday and said they are chipping away American freedoms "far more effectively than the Communists have ever been able to do."

The President used no names but he left no doubt he was talking about Sen. Joseph McCarthy (R-Wis.) and those, in congress and out, associated with the senator's charges of Communists in government.

He said such persons have adopted the "character assassination" tactics of the very Communist totalitarians they profess to be fighting, and are seeking to silence speech with the threat of denunciation.

The Legion Constitution
He called on an American Legion audience to "expose the rotten motives of the people who are trying to divide us." He reminded his hearers they are pledged by the Legion constitution "to foster and perpetuate a 100 per cent Americanism...to safeguard and transmit to posterity the principles of justice, freedom and democracy."

"This is one of the greatest challenges we face today," the President said, and added: "No organization ever had the opportunity to do a greater service for America."

Mr. Truman prepared his address for the dedication of the legion's new $1 million seven-story headquarters building on K street N. W., across from the Statler and Carlton hotels.

It was the most militant counterattack yet made by the President against the accusations of subversive infiltration and influence in Washington.

Condemned Prisoner Kills Guard, Escapes From Chicago Jail

CHICAGO (AP) — A prisoner under death sentence slugged and killed a guard at the county jail Tuesday night and escaped over the wall with a shotgun.

Policemen spotted the escaped prisoner, Harry Williams, 25-year old-Negro, a mile away from the jail and fired at him but he escaped.

Warden Philip Scanlon said Williams escaped from the death row section of the jail by removing a plate from the top of his cell, ran across the roof to the guard tower, slugged Guard George Turley, 43, of Chicago and dropped over the wall.

The warden said another prisoner under death sentence, Raymond Jenko, 20, was seized in Williams' cell.

The warden said the two were together in the escape plot, but that Jenko remained in the cell.

Turley, his head and chest crushed by vicious blows, died in the Bridewell hospital a half hour after the assault.

The Luther League & the Berlin Rallies

There is a strange touch of irony in the fact that while the Luther League of America meets in Iowa City, the Communist youths of the Iron Curtain are rallying in Berlin.

The difference between the two meetings is so great it is hard to believe that they are taking place on the same planet.

The Soviet sponsored Berlin rally is an anti-democratic, anti-American hate forum. Its purpose is to give ammunition to the Russian "peace" offensive.

The symbol of Soviet "peace" is the dove that goes boom! The Red youth rally is a drum-beating incident designed to foster hate and war.

How different is the purpose and atmosphere of the Young Lutheran meeting! Drawn by their religious interests, delegates from 28 states, Canada and Hawaii have come to Iowa City in the spirit of comradeship.

How different from the "comradeship" of the blue clad legions marching in Berlin!

The Luther league's annual convention is designed as a forum in which religious problems are brought before the national membership.

The purpose is to bring the members of the Luther League of America a constructive program of spiritual guidance, a program to train better citizens within the fabric of a free society.

The work of the league, like any religious group, is recognized by all Americans as providing the moral light in which Liberty may walk.

By providing a social conscience, groups such as the league, are becoming powerful forces against intolerance and hate.

The guidance in ethical issues provided is the basis for individual and social peace. The need for such training and the dedication to such goals has never been greater.

Social conscience, not class conscience, is singularly significant. This was what the Rev. Leslie J. Conrad of Philadelphia meant when he challenged the 1,200 attending delegates to become "radical Christians."

Before an audience including a large number of southerners, the Rev. Mr. Conrad lashed out at racial intolerance in the United States.

"American schools, and churches apparently haven't gotten to first base in their attempts to teach racial tolerance in the nation."

Can you imagine some member of the Politburo saying, "Soviet schools and churches apparently haven't gotten to first base in their attempt to teach tolerance for Western democracies?"

The 1 million Soviet youths who paid homage to their tyrant god at the Berlin meetings give new proof that liberty of the mind as well as of the body is essential to our way of life.

The presence of the Luther League of America convention has brought home once again the paramount place of spiritual values in our society. It is a service from which members of all faiths may prosper.

The convention, considered against contemporary events such as the Berlin rallies, should make us all once again count our blessings.

G M Asks Price Boost on Cars

WASHINGTON (P) — General Motors corporation asked the government informally Tuesday for authority to raise prices 9 to 10 per cent on all GM passenger cars—Cadillac, Buick, Oldsmobile, Pontiac and Chevrolet.

Price Controller Michael V. Di Salle said no formal application has yet been filed by the company. But he said General Motors, the world's biggest auto-maker, advised him that it is entitled to that much of a price boost under the new controls law.

NETHERLANDS' ROLE IN

Thwarting COMMUNISM

Dutch Merchant Fleet, Armed Forces and Production Are Vital

(Tenth in a series of 12 articles on the North Atlantic Treaty organization and its role in strengthening the free world.)

By H. D. CRAWFORD
Central Press Correspondent

WASHINGTON — When the Netherlands legislative chamber in June passed next year's defense budget of 1,500 million guilders (about $395 million), Minister of Defense C. Staf told members, "The limit of our capacities has been reached." He urged caution regarding the proposed European army, and added that "we should stick to the North Atlantic Treaty organization."

The Netherlands' potential contributions to NATO are regarded as among the more important in Europe. The Netherlands has the fourth largest merchant fleet in the world. About $90 million of last year's $395 million budget were allotted to the Royal Netherlands navy.

The navy's defense task will be co-ordinated with NATO defense. The navy faces the additional problem, however, of defending the Netherlands West Indies and Netherlands New Guinea, as well as protecting the merchant fleet in areas outside the Atlantic.

THE NETHERLANDS navy expects to have one aircraft carrier, two light cruisers, 12 destroyers, six destroyer-escorts, four submarines, 49 minesweepers and about 100 aircraft and various patrol and auxiliary vessels. Stress is being placed on fast and versatile ships. In May the navy strength was 13,794 men. Future strength will be about 16,000, with 7,000 on ships.

Netherlands marines, with a peacetime strength of 4,000 and wartime strength of 12,000, expect to play an active defense role.

The army's goal is three divisions ready by the end of 1951 and five divisions by 1954. About 100,000 Netherlands troops fought in Indonesia. These have to be retrained in European warfare methods. The Netherlands' population of 10,000,000 provides about 80,000 men annually from whom 51,000 are accepted for compulsory military training.

The Netherlands had made a remarkable postwar economic comeback by the time Communist armies attacked Korea. During five years of German occupation, ports of Amsterdam and Rotterdam were destroyed, 10 per cent of arable land was flooded, railroads were damaged badly and nearly 100,000 houses were destroyed. Germans carried away defense materials. Military training of all ranks stopped. Germans threw officers on active duty into Nazi POW camps.

By 1950, however, the Netherlands worker was making more money than in 1939. Farm production was highest in history. Industrial output was 50 per cent greater than before the war. Fifty per cent more manpower was employed.

KOREA jolted the Netherlands and other NATO nations to a rude awakening. Communist armed aggression had taken its biggest gamble—on the far side of the world most difficult for Western democracies to assist.

The Netherlands government requested a four-year defense budget of six million guilders (nearly $1,580 million), with 1.5 billion guilders to be raised yearly. This was 25 per cent of the national budget and 10 per cent of the national income.

Factories have been reconverted for stepped-up defense production. The Netherlands believes it can produce such items as small arms, clothing, shoes, tools, etc., in quantities to meet its own needs and to share with its NATO allies.

Defense exports to other NATO countries which the Netherlands contemplates also include medicines, wound dressings, surgical apparatus, engineering equipment, naval craft, electrical apparatus, telecommunication equipment, fire-control equipment, ammunition, jet-propelled instructional aircraft and fighter planes.

ROYAL NETHERLANDS navy officer and U.S. instructor land after a takeoff from an aircraft carrier in the Gulf of Mexico. The Netherlands navy has a $395 million budget this year as part of their share in the North Atlantic pact.

Out of the 6-million guilder budget for the four-year defense program, 4.5 billion guilders will be used to purchase goods. And about two-thirds of these goods will be produced in the Netherlands.

Communist influence is declining. Communists in parliamentary chambers have dropped about 10 per cent to 6 per cent. Communists have no influence among labor unions, a Netherlands embassy spokesman told me, and Netherlands industry has not been plagued by labor strikes.

THE CHIEF NATO problem facing the Netherlands is how to take on the financial burdens of stepped-up military training and defense production without lowering living standards to the dangerous level where Communism could feed on the resulting hardships, misery and discontent. The average income is about $500 compared to about $1,500 in the United States.

Sturdy Netherlanders are facing this problem frankly as they gear to carry their share of NATO burdens and obligations.

Will 'Old Winnie' Again Lead Tories to Victory?

LONDON (P)—Winston Churchill likes to note, in private conversations, that William Gladstone became British prime minister for the last time when he was 83.

Churchill isn't quite that old yet, but it's pretty plain "old Winnie" is serving clear notice that he aims to run the British government once more.

He'll be 77 next November. If British politics runs the course expected by many political observers, Churchill may well celebrate that birthday at 10 Downing st.

A general election is likely in the next few months and a conservative victory is believed almost certain. Some observers predict the Tories may win a majority as big as 150 seats in the 625-seat house of commons.

Right now the political stream is a confusion of cross currents. Prime Minister Clement Attlee's second Socialist administration is handicapped by having only hairline control of the house. It is in constant danger of having an election forced on it through defeat on a major policy.

In the last year or so the conservatives have attacked the government repeatedly and time after time narrowly missed unseating it.

Lately the government also has run afoul of sharp criticism from its own left wing, whose leading members quit the ministry in outspoken resentment against the size of the arms bill and its inroads into the welfare state.

This confusing situation fairly screams for solution by an election. Favorite date of political pundits is October, 3 1/2 years before Attlee's term normally would expire.

If the election comes and results in a Tory victory, Winnie will be prime minister again. If he does, what happens?

Tory parliamentary intimates of the "old man" believe he would take little active part in running the government.

They say he regards himself, however, as fate's chosen instrument to redeem the glory of John Bull: that he believes Britain's greatest need is a revival of the swaggering, confident spirit that made her great—and that he is the man to inspire the revival.

They say he would employ his gift of fiery oratory to stir the nation as he did in the glum days after Dunkerque and leave the detailed administration to his lieutenants. The only flaw in this reasoning, they say, is the question of whether the old man could restrain himself from sudden prima donna bursts of interference in the administration of the foreign office or the treasury.

Churchill advocates private enterprise and an end to economic controls. He also advocates putting a floor under living standards.

But he has lately ceased to hold up Belgium and the United States as examples for the government to follow: Belgium's postwar economic freedom has led to unemployment and the U.S. is extending increasing control over its economy.

Besides Churchill, a Tory cabinet would certainly contain Anthony Eden, either in his wartime role as foreign secretary, or as deputy prime minister and heir to Churchill's party leadership.

Shirt, Jacket Fullness

TUBULAR FUR-LIKE STOLE tops this New York designed worsted in charcoal and lighter gray. Sleeves are cut with underarm depth, and the front of the dress is hooked past a black suede belt. The stole is black dyed rabbit faced with wool.

CURVED CARDIGAN coat, also from a New York collection, is fastened with small jet buttons. Designed in a new fluffy-textured imported tweed in honey and black checks, it is shaped with back fulness from a very deep yoke. The lining is black taffeta.

New Products Display Tape, Rope, 'Crickets'

NEW YORK ((AP)) — For bachelors and bachelorettes, and simply for people who don't drink too much coffee, the Silex company, of Hartford, Conn., has a new product. It is a two to four cup coffee maker.

A label tape which will adhere to almost anything, and on which you can write your own label, is being made by the Labelon Tape company, of Rochester, N. Y. The pressure sensitive tape comes in four colors and widths. It is made of two layers of acetate. The labels can be removed and applied to another surface without leaving a sticky residue.

A chemically treated rope which doesn't absorb moisture, and which its makers claim "possesses remarkable non-conductivity factors," is being marketed as a safety line for electrical workers. The marker is the South-Eastern Cordage company, of Cleveland.

The Burke Flexo-Products company of Traverse City, Mich., figures fish undoubtedly like to eat such things as black crickets and white grubs, but the company also figures that women don't like to touch the horrid little things. So Burke makes them out of B. F. Goodrich's geon plastic. That way both the women and the fish like them.

Engaged

MR. AND MRS. PAUL H. MOTTET, Rural Route 7, announce the engagement of their daughter, Marilyn Regina, to Mr. Richard A. Dickens, son of Mrs. Elizabeth Dickens of Iowa City. The wedding will be at St. Mary's church in Iowa City Sept. 15. Miss Mottet was graduated from St. Mary's high school and attended SUI for three years. She is employed in the university's department of publications. Her fiancé, a graduate of St. Patrick's high school and Bradley university, Peoria, Ill., is employed in Independence, Ia.

AP Newsfeatures
LONDON — The "Venus" line, featuring small, rounded shoulders, tiny waist and opulent curves, is the decree of London's "big 10" fashion designers this fall.

The collections show no radical change in silhouette, but the rounded look is noticeable in tailored coats and suits.

Three-tiered pockets, kangaroo cuffed pockets, petal-shaped basques and much use of canvas padding all emphasize the narrow waistline. The hemline is fairly short—two to three inches below the knee.

Velvet is the favorite fabric for day and evening, closely followed by tweeds and woollens for day and metal jersey and brocade for evening.

Brown, Gray Top Colors

Brown in every shade from chocolate to palest mushroom and gray from charcoal to clerical are the top colors. There is much use, also, of reds and greens.

Lachasse, new to the "big 10" this year, shows the most eye-catching of these curved lines, with upstanding "cloak-and-dagger" collars sweeping across to a point on one shoulder. He sets them in all sizes on coats, suits and dresses.

Mattli calls his the "Chasuble" line and emphasizes it with rounded hemlines, sidesplit jackets and important pockets.

Creed focuses on skirt detail and obtains an unusual effect with straight and bias panels used alternately, or with horizontal pleating like a Venetian blind.

Includes Intricate Lapels

Digby Morton's detail on suits includes intricate lapels and pockets, buttons back and front, cording and braiding. His jackets are a little kinder to the waist than most.

His winter topcoats have a variation on the "starved" waist. He shows straight and loose three-quarter length coats with an asymmetrical effect produced by one full-length tuxedo and one half-length lapel finishing in a collar.

Victor Stiebel's topcoat shows another variation. It has a curved yoke extending to loose bell sleeves. The back is fairly full and the shoulders slope like a bottle.

Nearly all the houses show reversible coats or coats lined in rich colored satin, often with a skirt to match the lining topped by an embroidered cashmere jersey.

Uses Copper Taffeta

Hardy Amies achieves a beautiful effect with a copper taffeta dress under a black wool coat lined with the same material. The dress is swathed to a huge bow over one hip, the skirt full.

Most dresses at this house are full at the front, but in all the houses the perfectly slim dress has a place.

Hats are small and set straight or forward over one eye. Velvet, antelope and long-haired velours are the favorites.

New accessories are fabric roses at the neck or on the lapel of a suit; flower-trimmed evening gloves; cocktail shoes with heels trimmed to match the dress; two life-sized oranges to fasten to a blue dress; flattery for one eye with a coarse half veil.

Quick Meat Dishes Aid Entertaining

Three good ideas for quick-to-fix party dishes, especially good for summer entertaining, are ham salad in tomato shells, spaghetti with a deluxe meat sauce and a handsome platter of cold cuts.

- Ham Salad in Tomato Flowers
2 cups diced ham
1 cup finely diced celery
French dressing
2 teaspoons sweet pickle relish
2 hard cooked eggs
Mayonnaise
Salt and Pepper
4 large ripe tomatoes
- Combine ham and celery and over them pour enough French dressing to moisten. Let stand in refrigerator 1/2 hour; stir occasionally. Add relish, coarsely chopped eggs and enough mayonnaise to moisten slightly. Season to taste with salt and pepper. Peel tomatoes and cut almost through into six sections so that they open like flowers. Pile ham salad into center of each tomato and serve with garnish of parsley or watercress.

- Cold Cuts Platter Sophisticate
Make a pretty platter of cold cuts by arranging a row of summer sausage and a row of luncheon meat (or spiced ham) and cheese in alternating slices. Flank these with a row of well drained spiced crab apples.
- With the cold cuts, serve chilled potato salad or macaroni salad, a jellied fruit mold, hot "brown and serve" rolls and lemon or chocolate chiffon pie.
- Deluxe Spaghetti Meat Sauce
1 pound ground beef
3 tablespoons fat
1 medium onion
1 clove garlic
1 large can tomatoes (3 1/2 cups)

- 1 can tomato paste
Salt, pepper, sugar
1/2 teaspoon chili powder
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1/2 to 1 cup sliced ripe olives
- In a heavy deep pan heat fat and in it cook chopped onions until a light brown. Push to one side, add beef and sear thoroughly. Add minced garlic, tomatoes, tomato paste, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper and 1 teaspoon sugar.
- Cook, covered, over low heat for 45 minutes, stirring occasionally. Add chili powder and Worcestershire sauce and cook another 15 minutes. Add olives and a little water if sauce has become too thick. Add extra salt, if necessary, and serve over hot cooked spaghetti.

THREE GOOD MEAT CHOICES for summer entertaining are a platter of cold cuts, tomatoes stuffed with ham salad and a quick meat sauce to serve over spaghetti. Spiced crab apples make a handsome accent on the cold cuts platter. Chopped ripe olives in the meat sauce give it interesting flavor and texture.

Anyone Interested Invited to Take Part In Petunia Day Tour

All those who wish to go on the Petunia day tour should meet at the Community building at 8:45 a.m. Thursday, Mrs. G. E. Grunewald, Petunia contest chairman, has announced. Transportation will be provided.

Following inspection of the Iowa City Woman's club's petunia planting project there, the tour will include 20 other local petunia plantings, 10 of which will be at private homes.

The tour will end at 11 a.m. at the Mary O. Coldren home, 602 Clark st., where refreshments will be served.

Judging of the petunia entries will be on Saturday, and winners will be announced Monday, Mrs. Grunewald said.

TODAY'S MENU

- Egg and Pickle Sandwiches
Celery and Carrot Strips
Fruit Cup Beverage

Ingredients for Egg and Pickle Sandwiches: 3 large eggs, 1/4 cup sweet pickle relish, 3 tablespoons mayonnaise, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1/16 teaspoon pepper, 8 to 12 slices bread, butter or margarine, lettuce or romaine.

Method: Place eggs in small pan with enough cold water to cover them. Bring slowly to a boil. Remove from heat; allow to stand covered for 20 minutes. Cool quickly in cold water; remove shell and put through ricer or food mill or mash fine with fork.

Add pickle relish, mayonnaise, salt and pepper to eggs; mix well. Spread bread with softened butter or margarine. Divide filling among half of bread slices; spread to corners; top with lettuce or romaine and remaining bread.

Cut diagonally in quarters. This makes a little over a cup of egg spread, enough for 4 to 6 sandwiches.

Square, Indirect Unit Used for Ceiling Light

One of the most interesting designs in modern ceiling lighting units is a new square, louvered indirect unit.

Designed especially for kitchens, this streamlined unit, 25 1/2 inches square, has a baked white enamel finish to blend with cabinets and equipment.

Equipped with a 150-watt silvered bowl bulb, the fixture provides soft, indirect lighting. Hinged louvers reduce brightness and permit easy access to the reflector for cleaning.

This versatile unit may be surface mounted, semi-recessed or completely recessed flush with the ceiling.

2 Iowa City Girls Accepted for Nursing

Two Iowa City girls have been accepted into the SUI college of nursing this fall, it was announced Tuesday.

They are Elaine DeArmond, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph DeArmond, 332½ S. Dubuque st., and Mary Frances Lantz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Lantz, 523 Rundell st.

Two such field tests have already been held at SUI. They were patterned after similar tests held at Oak Ridge, Tenn., and were the first tests of this kind to be run in this part of the country.

German Girl Visits Lutheran Convention Being Held Here

A visitor who traveled a long way to attend the national convention of the Luther League of America in Iowa City, is Sister Marianna Zanker, Lutheran deaconess from Muenster in the British zone of Germany.

Sister Zanker is in this country at the invitation of the National Lutheran council. She plans to tour the United States to observe the work of deaconesses in motherhouses here.

A native of Germany, Sister Zanker was consecrated a deaconess in the Silecia district of Poland and worked there for more than 20 years.

During the war she was a social worker in Poland and worked in a military hospital. In 1945, she was forced to leave Poland when the Russians occupied the territory. She went to Muenster where she has continued her work.

Asked if she would like to sample one of America's most famous products, a bottle of Coca-Cola, she smiled, "Oh my no, I think I would rather visit a dentist."

He was identified as Sgt. Martin A. Bursey, 20, Brooklyn, stationed at air defense command headquarters here. Surviving is his wife here.

The Princess cafe, owned and operated by James Lons for the past 23 years, has been sold to Frank Egger of Chicago.

Lons announced the sale Tuesday but declined to say what the amount of the sale was. Lons said he would retain ownership of the building in which the restaurant is located.

Egger has been in the restaurant business for more than 25 years, working for the Sante Fe railroad and operating a restaurant in the Sherman hotel in Chicago.

His daughter, Marian, graduated from SUI in 1949 and now lives in Iowa City.

Lons said he had no plans for the future but that he expected to take a three-month vacation trip starting about Oct. 1.

Swindler Indicted On 15 Charges

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal grand jury "threw the book" at Sam Mason Tuesday, indicting the one-legged alleged swindler on nine charges of perjury and six of grand larceny.

Mason was denounced as "a complete fraud" two weeks ago by a senate subcommittee which investigated his activities and accused him of raking in $250,000 from persons to whom he promised cheap leases on government property.

The charges of perjury arose from Mason's testimony June 27 before an investigating group headed by Senator Hoey (D-N.C.). He is alleged to have lied under oath nine times about his dealings and his income.

If Mason were convicted on all the counts against him and given the maximum punishment, he could be sentenced to 150 years in prison.

Luther Leaguers Fill Iowa Memorial Union

Clouds Gone, Texas Heat Becomes Worse

DALLAS (AP)—The killer Texas heat wave gained new strength Tuesday. Rainclouds which brought some relief in recent days disappeared and the blazing sun seared the earth.

As the state's heat death toll rose to 30, ranchers began herding cattle off bone-dry ranges. Livestock markets reported record numbers of animals marketed.

The latest death was that of Lamar Jones, 30-year-old Negro sawmill worker at Mauriceville, 10 miles north of the coastal city of Orange. He was overcome and died almost instantly while returning to his machine after getting a drink of water.

Cattle and calves flooded the San Antonio livestock market in record numbers. Many were being taken from dry ranges and being sold for shipment to green pastures in other states, or for fattening in the midwest.

About 1,500 telephone workers who quit their jobs in Dallas Monday, demanding air conditioning, returned reluctantly to work Tuesday.

Cotton over much of Texas was fruiting prematurely with the result the crop may fall short of estimates. The crop already was hurt by lack of rain in the spring and early summer.

Truman Gives Hints He May Run in 1952

WASHINGTON, (AP)—President Truman Tuesday gave his strongest hint yet that he will be a candidate for re-election in 1952 and he offered no objection to having his name entered in Minnesota's Democratic presidential primary next spring.

At the same time, Sen. Paul H. Douglas, (D-Ill.) who had been deemed a possible opponent of Mr. Truman moved to take himself out of the running. He asked Oregon Democrats not to put his name on their slate because "I am not and will not be a candidate."

Thanks Humphrey

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, (D-Minn.) said Mr. Truman replied, "very fine, thank you," when informed that his name will appear on the Minnesota ticket. But Humphrey said Mr. Truman still refused to say flatly that he will run next fall, repeating that this is a bridge to be crossed later.

Humphrey added, however, that he got the impression during a White House visit that the president plans to take off soon on a "whistle stop" cross-country tour to "discuss the issues" with the people. Humphrey quoted Mr. Truman as expressing confidence the people will respond favorably.

Refuses Comment

The White House declined comment on Humphrey's conversation with Mr. Truman.

It was the second time in two days that Mr. Truman had been told his name would appear in a presidential preferential primary. Oregon Democrats notified the president Monday that he will be entered on their state's ticket, with Douglas.

BECKWITH APPEALS

DES MOINES (AP)—The supreme court of Iowa received notice of appeal Tuesday of Edward J. Beckwith, 29, Morrison, from his first degree murder conviction and death sentence.

Beckwith twice was convicted of the mutilation murder of Mrs. Irma Jean Stahlhut, 22, a Morrison tavern keeper's wife. He was sentenced to death each time.

A former factory worker and veteran of World War II, Beckwith is in death row at Fort Madison penitentiary, awaiting execution Aug. 4, 1952. His appeal to the supreme court from the first conviction brought orders for a new trial.

IOWA CORN REPORT

DES MOINES (AP)—The Iowa crop and weather bulletin said Tuesday that about one-third of Iowa's field corn has reached the roasting ear stage in central and southeastern parts of the state.

The bulletin said 87 per cent of the corn acreage was tasselled and developing satisfactorily with the help of favorable weather.

Observers said 67 per cent was in full silk or showing silk by last Saturday, compared to only 47 per cent at the same time in 1947 when the corn season also was late.

DES MOINES BANKER DIES

DES MOINES (AP)—Rufus L. Chase Jr., 80, widely known as a former Des Moines banker, died at his home early Tuesday of coronary thrombosis.

He was an assistant vice-president of the Iowa-Des Moines National bank at the time of his retirement in 1948. He had been in the baking business 56 years and was with firms which became the Iowa-Des Moines National bank for 49 years.

ARRAIGNMENT POSTPONED

BURLINGTON (AP)—Judge Cosgrove Walsh postponed the arraignment of Huston Henry Williams, 43, Clinton, on a murder charge Tuesday when Williams' attorneys asked for more time to prepare their case.

Williams has been charged in the death of a man tentatively identified as Walter Bercroft, 66, Chickasha, Okla. Bercroft died of skull fracture after falling on a sidewalk. Police said Williams and Bercroft had argued and blows were struck.

FOUR BEER PERMITS DENIED

DES MOINES (AP)—The state beer board denied four beer permit applications Tuesday and ordered eight others held for investigation.

Melvyn Synhorst, board chairman and secretary of state, said the meeting was "the most significant to date" in a drive to enforce the state beer permit laws.

All four permits denied had been approved by local authorities in the areas involved. It was the first time in the drive that the state board overruled local officials on beer permits.

TWO STATE OFFICES MOVE

DES MOINES (AP)—Two more state agencies will move into the remodeled state office and laboratory building soon, the state executive council office said Tuesday.

The bureau of labor will go from the downtown east side Armand building rented quarters to the state-owned structure this week end. The civil defense committee will move from offices adjoining the state development in another downtown office building to the state office and laboratory building Sept. 1.

Hearst Leaves Much To 'Fellow Americans' As Deaconesses At Meeting Here

BEVERLY HILLS CAL., (AP)—

Publisher William Randolph Hearst, 88, died quietly Tuesday from the infirmities of old age, leaving most of his wealth for religious and educational purposes.

The founder and chief of the publishing empire bearing his name died at his home here at 9:50 a.m. (11:50 a.m. CST). He had been in failing health four years.

Hearst's personal counsel, Henry S. Mackay, Jr., announced that the Hearst enterprises would be carried on by the publisher's five sons and lifetime associates. Mackay said they would "be guided by the principles and policies he so wisely and ably established."

Mackay disclosed that Hearst's wealth would go chiefly to charity.

"As will be shown by his last will and testament when it is filed for probate, he leaves the bulk of his estate for the benefit of his fellow Americans—for charitable, religious, educational, literary, scientific and public purposes."

The attorney, a close personal friend of Hearst, said, "the world has lost its greatest publisher-editor and America one of its outstanding citizens and patriots."

Official announcement of Hearst's death was sent out by one of his sons, William Randolph Hearst, Jr., to publishers and editors of Hearst newspapers.

The announcement pledged that the Hearst newspapers would be operated "as he guided us."

The colorful publisher, who made journalistic history for more than a half-century, is survived by his widow, Mrs. Millie Wilson Hearst of New York, and the five sons, George, William Randolph Jr., John, David Whitmire and Randolph Apperson Hearst.

Hearst, born wealthy, made another fortune in the publishing business during his career of about 60 years. There was no immediate estimate of his wealth at the time he died but in 1935 his fortune was estimated at $220 million.

In addition to his controversial and individualistic fame as a newspaper publisher, Hearst was a political figure, an art collector, industrialist and real estate tycoon.

Hearst's newspaper empire was acquired between 1885 and 1920. Then he continued to branch into magazines, radio and motion pictures.

As a publisher he once owned 20 newspapers in 13 cities, serviced them with his own press association, International News Service, and provided them with comics and features from King Features syndicate which he owned.

Hearst Leaves Fortune

The depression of the '30's forced him to consolidate and abandon some of his properties but in 1949 he still had 17 newspapers as well as most of his other enterprises. Early this year he closed the Oakland, Calif., Post-Inquirer.

Throughout his life Hearst considered himself a son of the west, although during the period of expansion of his chain he spent most of his time in the east. He was born April 29, 1863, in San Francisco, the only child of U.S. Sen. George Hearst and Phoebe Apperson Hearst.

8 Consecrated As Deaconesses At Meeting Here

Eight women were consecrated as deaconesses in the United Lutheran Church of America at a ceremony in the Iowa Memorial Union Tuesday night.

More than 1,200 visitors and delegates of the Luther League of America, who were holding their 56th anniversary convention in Iowa City this week; attended the ceremonies.

Those consecrated were Sister Elizabeth Hess, Philadelphia, to do parish work; Sister Alma Koder, Allentown Pa., to do institutional work; Sister Bernice Pantel, Colletville, Tex., for a year's work as field secretary of the board of deaconesses.

Sister Thelma Schade, Virgin islands, to do social work; Sister Mary Shepley, Myersville, Md., to do parish field work; Sister Dorothy Snyder, Stoystown, Pa., to do institutional work; Sister Maye Walker, Lock Haven, Pa., institutional work; and Sister Elizabeth Warstler, Canton, O., for mission work in India.

The Rev. Henry Eyster Horn, Augusta, Ga., was the officiating clergyman for the service.

Earlier in the day, members of the Luther league convention, donated $25,000 for the construction of a Lutheran church in Kaimuki, Hawaii.

The gift, accumulated through two years of free-will offerings by Lutheran league members was presented by Howard Turkheimer, Philadelphia, to Margaret McFalls, head of the missionary committee for the league.

The convention will continue through Friday.

Florence Chadwick Postpones Swim

DOVER (AP)—Florence Chadwick Tuesday postponed for at least 30 days her attempt to become the first woman to swim the English channel from England to France.

The San Diego, Calif., secretary, who swam from France to England last year, said heavy seas forced her to change her plans. She now plans to make the attempt between Aug. 24 and 28.

"By waiting until the 24th, we would have the advantage of the near tides," Richard Chadwick, her father, said.

The London Daily Mail also postponed its cross-channel race of 20 swimmers for at least 24 hours. Officials will meet today to determine whether conditions are good enough to start the mass swim Thursday morning.

Turpin Embarks For U. S., Robinson

SOUTHAMPTON, Eng. (AP)—Carrying along a pet monkey for good luck and a stack of comic books for entertainment, middle-weight champion Randy Turpin leaves for New York aboard the Queen Mary today to defend his title Sept. 12.

Turpin, who is slightly deaf, usually plays dumb too. But this man of few words did manage to tell hometown fans "I am confident I shall win again," as he left his native Leamington Spa today for this dockside town.

Turpin wrested the title from Sugar Ray Robinson last month in one of the ring's greatest upsets. His return bout with Robinson has stirred feverish interest among England's sports fans.

Four Iowans Qualify In National JCC Golf; Eddie Merrins Third

DURHAM, N.C. (AP)—Teddy White, 18, of Roswell, N.M., fired a blistering three-under-par 67 Tuesday for a 140 total to lead qualifiers in the National Junior boys amateur golf tournament.

Right on his heels in the U.S. Junior Chamber of Commerce sponsored event were defending champion Eddie Merrins of Meridian, Miss., with 73-69—142 and Johnny Johnson, 17, of Oklahoma City, Okla., with 75-67—142.

White, who shot 73 Monday, was wobbly in mid-match and three-putted the ninth and 10th holes. But a birdie gave him a par 35 for the front nine and he settled down to shoot four birdies on the last nine.

George Clark, 15, of Ottumwa, who led qualifiers on the first 18 holes Monday, shot a 79 on the 6,600 yard par 70 Hope Valley country club course Tuesday for a total of 148.

Match play starts today with 128 golfers after a play-off for two open berths. Rain late Tuesday stopped a play-off between three men with 162. The qualifying score was 161.

Scores of other Iowans in the tournament were:

Dale Kniss, Waterloo, 81-36-38—74—155; John McGuinness, Des Moines, 76-37-39—76—152; Don Webber, Ames, 79-40-38—78—157; John Marschall, Hampton, 81-43-42—85—166; John Hazen, Ottumwa, 85-81—166.

Indians Win 12th Straight

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Yankees put on a three run rally in the ninth Tuesday night in a state of desperation to defeat the Washington Senators, 6-3, and stay 2½ games behind the Cleveland Indians, who won their 12th straight game, a 10-inning, 6-5 decision over Detroit in the afternoon.

The Yankees, faced with dropping even farther behind in the American league race, had to break out of a 3-3 tie as reliever Bob Kuzava drove in what proved to be the winning run with a single and Phil Rizzuto later provided two cushion runs with a double.

Yogi Berra touched off the winning rally with a single and moved to second on a sacrifice. Then with two out after Hank Bauer had been purposely passed, Kuzava singled for one run and Rizzuto doubled for two more.

The Red Sox stayed 5½ games out of the lead and 2½ games behind the Yankees with a 7-4 victory over the Athletics in which Ted Williams hit two homeruns. Boston also kicked in with a triple play in the eighth inning when the Athletics made two runs and were threatening to score more.

With the bases loaded, Hank Majeski lined to second baseman Billy Goodman, who stepped on the bag to double one runner, then threw to first to triple another.

The league-leading Cleveland Indians won their 15th game of last 16 when Jim Hegan lashed a single to left field with two out in the 10th inning for the run that beat Detroit, 6-5.

Harry Simpson, who has done little at bat for the Tribe this year, scored the winning marker after first hitting his fourth homer of the year.

College All-Stars Drill In Chicago for Browns

CHICAGO (AP)—The College All-Stars drilled for 90 minutes Tuesday night in Soldier's field where Friday night they will play the Cleveland Browns, professional champions in the 18th annual game.

The brief appearance under the floodlights climaxed the collegians visit to Chicago. At noon they were luncheon guests of the Junior Chamber of Commerce. They returned to their training base at Delafield, Wis., Tuesday night to remain until Friday morning.

Although the workout was routine, head coach Herman Hickman had the gates barred.

Mikan to Coach Stars

CHICAGO (AP)—George Mikan has agreed to coach a team of professional basketball all-stars in six games against the Harlem Globetrotters late this month.

Bids to play on the Mikan team have been made to Wally Osterkorn, Ray Ragelis, John Sebastian, Ed Leede, Jack Burmaster, Red Klotz, Max Woolsey, Bob Karstens and Bill Chavers.

So You Think the Manager's a Bum . . .

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Bill Veeck, new owner of the Browns came up Tuesday with another stunt — grandstand managers will run the club Aug. 24.

Veeck plans it this way: Fans will fill out application forms, giving their choice for the starting lineup. The club will then mail a pass to those who apply entitling them to seats in a special section behind the Brown's dugout.

When the situations come up during the game with the Philadelphia Athletics, cards will be held up to fit the situation—"should we hit and run? Should we sacrifice, should the man on first steal? Should we replace this pitcher; and so on.

Majority decision will rule. Then some fans may want to be coaches. They must write a letter telling why they want the job. Two will be selected, signed to a contract for one night and placed in a rocking chair and just watch the game Veeck said.

Veeck actually has been seeking a new manager for the club. He said the one-night stunt resulted from a suggestion by the Globe-Democrat that he might look in the grandstand for his new man.

Bradley Cagers Quizzed in N. Y.

NEW YORK (AP)—Five Bradley basketball players who admitted taking bribes to throw games were questioned for four hours Tuesday and are expected to testify before the New York county grand jury Thursday.

The five players are Aaron Preece, Gene Melchiorre, Bill Mann, George Chianakas and Charles Grover.

District Attorney Frank Hogan said the players came here voluntarily to offer their testimony. They are being guarded by detectives at their hotel, but are not actually detained by police.

They are to appear for additional questioning this morning.

Disabled Veterans Honor Ballplayer

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Outfielder Bob Montag of the Milwaukee Brewers was named Tuesday as the Disabled American Veterans' "Hero of the Year."

National Commander Boniface R. Maile, Detroit, said Montag would be honored at Tuesday's American association game between Milwaukee and Toledo.

Montag, 26, was wounded during World War II while fighting in Italy as a member of the 179th infantry division.

The DAV, holding its 30th annual convention, established its "Hero of the Year" award in 1949 to honor wounded veterans who rehabilitated themselves.

Mulloy, Talbert Doubles Team Wins in Tennis

CHESTNUT HILL, MASS. (AP)—Gardnar Mulloy and Bill Talbert, America's top-seeded tandem, showed the handicap of their advanced tennis years Tuesday as they relied solely on court tactics to eliminate two young college students in second-round play of the U.S. National Doubles tennis championships.

The four-time winners of the men's title dropped the first set before rallying on the green courts of the Longwood Cricket club for a 5-7, 7-5, 6-2, 6-4 victory over Gil Bogley, Chevy Chase, Md., and Charles De Voe, Indianapolis, Ind.

33 of 90 Cadets Leave West Point for Good

WEST POINT (AP)—Thirty-three quiet, downcast cadets left West Point Tuesday, the first of 90 accused cheaters to go.

They took it hard. Emotion twisted their faces as they paused at the south gate for a last look backward at the green fields and gray piles of the academy.

Then they shouldered duffle bags and stepped out into the civilian world.

Their departure was scarcely noted as the other cadets went about their normal summer training duties. A familiar face missing here and there in ranks—that was all.

Another 10 of the erring cadets were due to leave shortly. The remainder of the 90 still are to be processed before they, too, depart. Names of the accused have never been made public except by a few individuals who identified themselves in the group.

All were accused of trading classroom examination information—a breach of the West Point honor code. It was the greatest mass expulsion in the 150 year history of West Point.

The boys who left first resigned from the academy, accepting a mandate to keep their records clean. However, they left without the thing they coveted most—an honorable discharge.

They left under an administrative order, which labels them neither honorable nor dishonorable.

Although the cadets were authorized to wear their uniforms home since they will not actually be discharged until their furlough time is up, most preferred civilian clothes.

There was no bitterness evident—just a hope for the future. Bob Order of Huntington, W. Va., one of the football players, said, "I just hope to play football again. I'm going to try the University of West Virginia." Phil Shockey of Pittsburgh said he wanted to go to Penn State.

Romance blossomed from the scandal. An estimated half-dozen of the ousted cadets planned to be married "as quickly as possible" and their co-ed fiances were on the academy grounds as the boys started leave.

Utah Prison Riot Ends With Convicts Releasing Hostages

POINT-OF-THE-MOUNTAIN, Utah (AP) — A rebellion at the Utah state prison ended suddenly late Tuesday when convicts abandoned a series of demands and released two hostages.

Rioting inmates allowed Acting Warden Weston E. Haslam and Guard Edward A. Schmidt to walk to freedom from the maximum security section of the new, multi-million dollar prison.

A few minutes later fire broke out in an old frame barracks in one corner of the prison grounds. Fire fighting equipment was rushed in.

The barracks are about 200 yards from the new prison structures. They formerly were used to house honor prisoners.

A state patrolman stuck his head into a board room where Gov. J. Bracken Lee and other officials were talking and announced the barracks were on fire.

Warden Haslam and Guard Schmidt, who were not harmed, had been held as hostages since early morning. Prisoners held them captives to enforce demands for alleviation of claimed grievances.

But the uprising, which drew 150 heavily armed officers from many parts of Utah, collapsed soon after Joseph E. Dudler, state highway patrol chief and acting warden during the seven and one-half hour disturbance, conferred with the convicts.

Haslam, acting warden since Friday, was immediately named warden by the state board of corrections. At a news conference, he declared:

"We're still going to run the prison. We made no promises except that we will give them a hearing again." He referred to those prisoners placed in maximum security since he took over as acting warden.

The inmates had requested the hearings, less "agitation" by guards, no reprisals for Tuesday's riot and full assurance of these demands in writing. They also asked that Haslam be named warden.

Haslam said the trouble started when convicts jumped Schmidt and took his keys. Then Strauss held a knife against the back of Haslam, who had gone to death row to deliver some shoes. Later Strauss left the maximum security area and attacked guard C. Wayne Hoobler with a chain.

The warden said that if Strauss had not been returned by guards to the segregation area, the other prisoners would not have rioted.

Eliseo J. Mares of Antonito, Col., a convicted murderer, was wounded when he attempted to aid a prisoner who objected to the riot, Haslam said. Mares suffered a superficial knife wound in the stomach. Haslam said that either Strauss or Johnson wielded the knife.

Gov. Lee, who was flown from Sun Valley, Idaho, arrived at the prison. He declined any comment.

The uprising was the third since May at the new prison, 15 miles south of Salt Lake City. It was the fourth time in 20 years that outside help has had to be summoned to quell a Utah prison rebellion.

William John Randel, the tattooed, bearded spokesman for the prisoners, said his fellow convicts would talk only to Clark Lobb, Salt Lake Tribune police reporter.

Lobb was called after Joseph E. Dudler, state highway patrol chief and appointed by Lee as acting warden during the emergency, called newsmen into the area, just outside the door to the segregation cells.

The reporter, who handled the story of Randel's robbery, arrest and conviction two years ago, talked briefly with the convicts. However, no agreement was reached.

Britain Plans Closer Trade Ties with Soviet

LONDON (AP)—Britain, having concluded a big timber deal with Russia, is planning to affirm today that she has no intention of joining any sort of economic blockade against the Soviet Union.

Qualified sources said the British are starting talks for the purchase of nearly 1 million tons of Soviet coarse grains.

Sir Hartley Shawcross, president of the board of trade, is expected to make clear in a statement today that Britain believes East-West trade is a two-way street from which the West derives large quantities of essential and irreplaceable commodities.

Russia recently promised to deliver $28 million worth of timber with an option of supplying a further $14 million worth within a stated period which was not disclosed.

The informants said Britain now is hoping to sign a new contract under which the Russians will supply anything up to 1 million tons of coarse grains—corn, barley and oats—by mid-1952. The Soviets over the past year have delivered 750,000 tons of coarse grains valued at around $42 million.

McCarthy Fires Back

McCarthy, like the President, a member of the Legion, promptly fired back in a prepared statement.

"I would like to ask the President," he said, "why he so viciously attacks in general terms those who expose Communists."

"Why," he continued, "does the President fear discussing the evidence against his planners who have been responsible for the loss of 100 million people a year to Communism since 1945?"

McCarthy renewed attacks he has aimed in senate speeches at Philip C. Jessup, ambassador-at-large, and offered to give the President "documented proof" to back his accusations that Jessup has been affiliated with Communist front groups and Red-backed movements.

We Who Condemn Hiss

Sen. Homer Capehart (R-Ind.) told newsmen "Mr. Truman is not going to frighten me with any such statements. All he has to do to stop the honest criticism of 100 per cent Americans is to clean house—sweep out the Communists and the pinks in his administration. Certainly he doesn't mean that we who condemn Alger Hiss were hate mongers."

Sen. William Benton (D-Conn.), author of a resolution aimed at throwing McCarthy out of the senate, said he thinks "the President will get a favorable public response that will surprise him."

U.S. Balks UN Press Covenant

GENEVA Switzerland (AP) — United States Delegate Walter Kotschnig told the UN economic and social council Tuesday the proposed UN convention on freedom of information was not acceptable.

He said the convention contains "objectionable and unnecessary limitations on freedom of expression, together with other restrictions which, while perhaps not objectionable in principle, are so formulated as to make it almost certain that they will be abused by governments so inclined."

The convention was drawn up by a UN committee earlier this year for submission to a conference of plenipotentiaries, which would complete and sign the document.

the main delegations of each side."

Asked if it was proposed for the main delegation to move on to another point of the agenda while the subcommittee remained with the demarcation problem, General Nuckols said he would not answer.

North Korean and Chinese delegates broke into slight smiles as they emerged from the meeting, with Nam Il, the senior Communist delegate, walking rapidly toward his jeep three or four strides ahead of his colleagues.

Joy, who left from an opposite doorway, also appeared more cheerful and called out a greeting to the handful of Allied correspondents present.

Communist newsmen at Kaesong hinted today that the Communists might be willing to talk about a cease-fire line based on the present battlefield.

They admitted that for the last two sessions the Communists had devoted more time to attacking the UN proposal for a buffer zone based on the battle line than in advocating their own demands that the line follow the 38th parallel.

That was because "Joy has made it plain he won't talk about that," they said.

Today's meeting started after the Allies gave the Communist a double-barrelled warning they must do an about face on their demands for a 38th parallel line or get ready for a new outbreak of the year-old war.

Miss Bentley Says Reds 'Penetrated' White House

WASHINGTON (AP) — Elizabeth Bentley testified Tuesday that Communist agents penetrated the White House, the treasury and even the exclusive office of strategic services during World War II.

Miss Bentley, who describes herself as a former Red spy, told the senate's internal security subcommittee that for a time after 1943 she directed the agents' attempts to pry out state secrets or lead government departments down the road of Soviet policy.

She testified that she managed to place Duncan Lee, whom she described as a New York lawyer, in the office of strategic services (OSS), which was then an elite American espionage group. Lee, she said, became an assistant to Maj. Gen. William J. (Wild Bill) Donovan, head of OSS.

She confided that Lee "was frightened to death of what he was doing," but said he fed the spy ring information diligently and "was one of our most valuable workers."

Thomas Corcoran, Washington lawyer, told a reporter that Lee, his law associate, has denied under oath in an earlier senate inquiry the accusations Miss Bentley made today. He said Lee is away on a vacation.

Miss Bentley said that her organization used the late Harry Dexter White, then undersecretary of the treasury, to push a Russian plan to eliminate Germany's industrial potential for war.

Miss Bentley testified before the house un-American activities committee in 1948 that White had Communist affiliations. White denied it. Shortly afterwards he died of a heart attack.

Miss Bentley claimed the spy ring's White House contact was Michael Greenberg, an assistant to Lauchlin Currie, one of the late President Roosevelt's aides. She said Greenberg was a Communist, and that at the time he was a British subject.

Currie denied this before the house committee.

House Favors Break with Czechoslovakia

WASHINGTON (AP) — The house rolled up a 362 to 1 vote Tuesday in favor of breaking off trade relations with Czechoslovakia as long as Associated Press Correspondent William N. Oatis remains in a Czech jail.

With fiery and indignant language, house members denounced Oatis' conviction on "espionage" charges as "a shocking violation of the fundamental human freedoms guaranteed in the United Nations charter." Oatis was sentenced to 10 years in prison.

The house action came in approval of a resolution written by Rep. John Beamer (R-Ind.) whose district includes Oatis' home town of Marion, Ind.

The resolution now goes to the senate for action. While it would place congress on record as favoring this move against the Red Czech government, its final approval would not be binding on the administration to break trade relations.
