Police Capture Chicago Killer Without Fight

CHICAGO (AP) — Harry Williams, husky 20-year-old killer-rapist who escaped from a death cell and slugged a guard to death, was captured without a struggle on a street car Thursday night.

Police were under instructions to take no chances—to "shoot to kill"—but they quietly surrounded and nabbed Williams without showing their pistols.

Williams, one of the worst desperadoes in Chicago's crime annals, surrendered meekly—insisting that police had the wrong man, that he was "Bill Lilly." He had a driver's license bearing that name but the ruse did not work.

He was whisked to the detective bureau and fingerprinted, and police positively identified him as Williams.

The fugitive, object of an intense police search since his spectacular escape from the county jail Tuesday night, got himself into a vulnerable spot a few hours before he was seized.

He went to the home of an aunt, Mrs. Addie Hearn, 44-year-old woman, in a comparatively small Negro district on Chicago's far southside—several miles south of the principal area where Chicago's Negroes reside.

She saw him ring the doorbell and telephoned police. They rushed up in squad cars, their sirens sounding and Williams fled.

Police roped off a two mile square area and checked every streetcar leaving the vicinity.

A squad spotted Williams at 10 p.m. seated near the conductor on

Chambers, Ex-Red, Names Field, Barnes As Party Members

WASHINGTON (AP) — Whittaker Chambers returned to Washington Thursday to accuse Joseph Barnes, editor, and Frederick Vanderbilt Field, millionaire leftist, of once being members of the Communist underground in the United States.

Testifying before the senate's internal security subcommittee, Chambers said he got his information about the two men from the head of the underground, a Hungarian-born Red agent named J. Peters. Peters fled the country several years ago.

Chambers was the government's star witness at the trial of Alger Hiss two years ago. Hiss, a former state department official, was convicted of perjury for falsely denying that he turned over state secrets to a Red spy ring.

It was in 1937 or thereabouts, Chambers said Thursday, that Peters told him that Field was a member of the underground unit of the American Communist party which met in a house belonging to Field's mother on Central Park west in New York.

"In the unit with Field was Joseph Barnes," Chambers went on. "Peters was disturbed about relations in the group. There was some trouble over wives."

Case Involving 2 Ex-GI's Killing Officer, Hits Snag

WASHINGTON (AP) — The strange case of two ex-servicemen accused of slaying their commanding officer in Italy seven years ago was snarled Thursday in a tangle of international red tape.

The law forbids any legal moves against the accused men in the United States — and Italian authorities have taken no action to extradite them for trial in Italy.

The case reached this standstill after the department of defense accused former Lt. Aldo Icardi and former Sgt. Carl G. LoDolce of slaying Maj. William Holohan in a dispute over giving arms to Communist partisans.

The department made its announcement Wednesday in a memorandum distributed to the press—and the charges have been denied by both Icardi and LoDolce.

In Middletown, Conn., a one-time superior officer of the accused men came to their defense. Former Maj. Biagio Corvo, now publisher of a weekly Italian paper, said the two "did some of the finest intelligence work of the war and would never kill for

Lutheran Convention Elects Officers, Okays Four-Year Budget

Delegates to the Luther League of America convention in Iowa City approved a budget of $220,650 for the next four years and elected a secretary and treasurer in the fourth day of their convention.

The new budget represents an average yearly expenditure of $55,137 for the years 1951 through 1954. The total budget is an increase of 25 per cent over the previous total of $43,336.

Annelotte Moertlemeyer of Winipeg, Manitoba, Canada, was elected secretary of the organization and Howard Turkheimer Jr., of Philadelphia was reelected treasurer.

College Men May Be Drafted In Coming Year

WASHINGTON (AP)—Selective service warned certain college men Thursday that they are liable to be drafted during the coming school year.

Brig. Gen. Louis H. Renfrow, acting director, issued a news release interpreting the new draft law. He said:

"Those college students who fail to meet the class standing or test criteria for deferment as students and who enroll in colleges can be called out of college for induction if their induction has already been postponed once under statutory provisions."

Thus, such a student who was deferred during the past year can't count on another deferment if his local board reaches his order number.

Under the new law, a registrant is deferred instead of postponed until the end of his academic year and he is restricted to only one such automatic deferment.

However, those students who stand in the upper part of their class or who score 70 or better in the draft aptitude test may be deferred by their local board from year to year until graduation.

Mrs. Kabela Dies In Moberly, Mo.

Mrs. Frank Kabela, 20, R.R. 5, died in a Moberly, Mo., hospital Thursday of injuries suffered in a two-car collision near Paris, Mo., last Saturday.

Mrs. Kabela was a passenger in the car driven by her husband, Pvt. Frank Kabela, who was dismissed from the hospital after treatment for a concussion.

A sister to Mrs. Kabela, Mildred Miller, 16, 1120 Franklin st., was hospitalized after the crash with a broken leg. She has returned home.

Mrs. Kabela and Miss Miller had gone to Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo., where Pvt. Kabela and Pvt. Charles Schreiber, Cedar Rapids, are stationed. The men had planned to return to Iowa City.

As the four were on their way home, the car skidded and was struck by another vehicle near Paris, Mo.

Mrs. Kabela's body is at Beckman's funeral home in Iowa City. Funeral arrangements are incomplete pending arrival of relatives.

GENEVA, Switzerland (AP) — A United Nations group adopted Thursday, 13 to 3, a United States resolution condemning the arbitrary jailing of news correspondents and urging the lifting of any sentences imposed in such cases.

Dean Ludwig, 18, Electrocuted On North Liberty Farm

Dean Ludwig
Death Takes Youth

Dean Ludwig, 18, son of Johnson county state representative G. M. Ludwig and Mrs. Ludwig, was electrocuted Thursday afternoon in an accident on the J. C. Fuhrmeister farm about eight miles northwest of Iowa City, near North Liberty.

Dean and Eric Fuhrmeister, seven-year-old grandson of Fuhrmeister, were hooking up a hay hoist in the barn on the farm at the time of the accident, the elder Fuhrmeister said.

Fuhrmeister told authorities Dean apparently came in contact with an electric line while attaching the steel hoist to a cable and was killed instantly.

Dr. George Callahan, Johnson county coroner, ordered an autopsy performed on Dean's body. Officials at University hospitals did not disclose the results of the autopsy Thursday.

Young Fuhrmeister received a slight shock on the leg but was uninjured, his mother, Mrs. Lorraine Fuhrmeister, said.

Mrs. Fuhrmeister said the accident happened shortly after 4 p.m. Dean was knocked to the floor of the barn by the shock.

Mrs. Fuhrmeister said Eric drove a tractor into a nearby field to tell his grandfather of the accident.

Dr. R. J. Hennes of Oxford was the first physician on the scene and he pronounced Dean dead about 4:30 p.m.

Dean had been working for the Lorraine Fuhrmeisters for more than a year following his graduation from high school.

Mrs. Fuhrmeister said he had planned to enroll in SUI this fall and had completed the registration forms the day before he was killed.

In addition to his parents, Dean is survived by two brothers, George, now in the army, and Robert, and three sisters, Nona, Phyllis, now teaching school in Kentucky, and Genevieve, living on a farm near North English.

The body was taken to the Beckman funeral home. Funeral arrangements had not been completed Thursday.

Truman Discusses Foreign Aid Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Truman called an unusual White House conference Thursday in an attempt to get congressional approval for his full $8 billion foreign aid program.

Surrounded and supported by some of his top administrative aides, the President told four senior senate leaders of both parties that any cut in military or economic aid funds will seriously interfere with the struggle against Communism.

Reds Reported Ready to Drop Demand of 38th

MUNSAN, Korea (Friday) (AP) — The chief Communist negotiator today was reported ready to back down from the stubborn Red buffer zone demands which had threatened to blow up the Korean truce talks.

Lt. Gen. Nam Il, head of the Red delegation, was quoted by the Peiping radio as monitored in Tokyo as saying at Thursday's truce sessions:

"We want to make the 38th parallel the military line of demarcation but it is possible to adjust this line on the basis of terrain and mutual defense positions of the demilitarized zone if they are necessary and reasonable."

This went far beyond anything conciliatory the Reds had said heretofore in the long-stalemate talks. There was no immediate confirmation from Allied quarters of Nam's remarks.

The development came as a joint sub-committee met at Yongsong to begin a new and informal approach to the difficult buffer zone problem.

The UN delegation has refused to discuss a buffer zone based on parallel 38, the old political boundary between North and South Korea. It holds that this line is militarily indefensible.

New Berlin Fights Fail to Materialize

BERLIN (AP) — Communist youth leaders talked tough about a new assault on West Berlin Thursday, but never got around to action.

Still smarting from Wednesday night's fracas, the Red youth threatened throughout the day to mass thousands of their "world festival" boys and girls for another propaganda march into the American, French and British sectors.

The West Berlin police reinforced patrols at trouble spots and made it abundantly clear they were ready for anything.

ICELAND'S ROLE IN Thwarting COMMUNISM

Iceland is Vital to NATO Air and Sea Routes Across the Atlantic

(Last of a series of 12 articles on the North Atlantic Treaty organization and its role in strengthening the free world.)

By H. D. CRAWFORD
Central Press Correspondent

WASHINGTON—If you live on one of the world's most strategic islands in the North Atlantic, closer to Moscow than New York, and your nation of only 145,000 people had no army, navy or air force, what would you do in these days when Soviet Russia is seizing every opportunity to grab land and spread Communism?

Iceland faced that problem, Korea was the criterion that convinced Icelanders they must take action. Being a member of the North Atlantic Treaty organization, they took up their problem with the Atlantic Ocean Planning group. NATO requested that Iceland and the United States work out arrangements to defend Iceland and use its airbase and harbor facilities for the defense interests of the whole NATO area.

"We realize that a chain is no stronger than its weakest link," Iceland's minister to the U.S., Thor Thors, told me. "We believe that leaving Iceland unprotected would be most unfortunate for the U.S., the United Kingdom, and other NATO countries."

ICELAND'S LEIF ERICSON statue was a gift from the U.S. in 1940. NATO set up a defense for this strategic north Atlantic island.

THE ICELAND-U. S. agreement was announced last May 5, and first units of U. S. armed forces arrived in Iceland May 7.

"The most important thing we can do is to lend our country," Thor Thors replied to my question as to what Icelanders feel can be their greatest contribution to NATO.

He explained that during World War II, Iceland sent great quantities of fish to Great Britain during the trying days of the battle of Britain. He emphasized, too, that Iceland's air bases and harbors serve the vital supply lines across the north Atlantic.

Iceland is one of the Marshall plan countries. It has received $23,700,000 in U. S. mutual assistance and ECA funds, $8,400,000 of them during the 1951 fiscal year.

UNDER THE NATO agreement Iceland will provide, without charge, the facilities believed necessary for adequate defense. Iceland reserves the right to approve the number and national composition of foreign troops that will use its facilities. Only U. S. troops thus far are authorized. Icelandic affairs will remain entirely in the hands of Icelanders.

Iceland's facilities are to be available in case of an attack on any NATO nation. The North Atlantic treaty defines an "attack" in these words: "... an armed attack on one or more of the parties (NATO members) is deemed to include an armed attack on the territory of any of the parties in Europe or North America, on the Algerian departments of France, on the occupation forces of any party in Europe, on the islands under the jurisdiction of any party in the north Atlantic area north of the Tropic of Cancer or on the vessels or aircraft in this area of any of the parties."

COMMUNISTS have worked hard to exert pro-Russian influence in Iceland. After the war, 10 Communists were in Iceland's parliament of 52 members. In Iceland's last election, Communists lost one seat.

Iceland became a Russian-U. S. bone of contention as early as 1946. The Soviet tried to high-pressure Americans to get out of Iceland without any rights to Iceland's important bases. Russia did not do this openly, but rather through Iceland's vociferous Communists and their newspapers.

One type of pressure used was the intimation that Russia would demand a comparable base on the Norwegian island of Spitzbergen. When Iceland granted the U. S. peacetime civilian use of its biggest airfield, the irate Communists threatened to walk out of parliament.

CONTROVERSY long has prevailed over Iceland's geographic position. Does it belong in the Western Hemisphere, or is it European? Historically and strategically, it has been associated with North America since the Viking came, via Iceland and Greenland to North America centuries before Columbus.

On clear days observers on Iceland's mountains can look across cold North Atlantic waters and see the mountains of Greenland. And in winter, you can walk from Greenland to Canada's far-north Ellesmere islands. Iceland, Greenland and Newfoundland form a strategic north Atlantic triangle of vital importance to the United States and other NATO nations in this atomic age.

Iceland is the north Atlantic crossroads for air and ship lanes that link the North American members of NATO with their European partners. If attack comes and the NATO defense team is forced into action, Iceland's strategic role will be important in the struggle to preserve the free world and defeat the aggressor.

Two Die During Pain Relief Study At South Dakota

VERMILLION (UP)—State's Attorney Martin Weeks Jr., said Thursday that a University of South Dakota research scientist accidentally gave an overdose of the wrong drug to two "human guinea pigs" who died during experiments in pain relief.

Weeks told newsmen shortly before an inquest that Dr. L. F. Michalek, 28, gave the drug Tuesday to Jack Clifford, 30, a laboratory technician, and Mrs. Ardys Pearson, 26, a school secretary.

The two volunteers died in Dakota hospital Wednesday with the end to save them, authorities said.

Earlier Dr. Donald Slaughter, dean of the university's medical school said Michalek "disobeyed" his instructions in giving the wrong drug. He said he had specified a single drug, and that Michalek used another.

Weeks, however, said Michalek was to administer three drugs in turn to the volunteers, each with a prescribed dosage.

Wrong Bottle

He said the doctor "must have got the wrong bottle" and gave one drug out of turn.

"Actually, he gave the right dosage but the wrong drug," Weeks said. By giving the prescribed dosage for the sequence, but using the wrong drug, he actually gave an overdose, Weeks explained.

Slaughter had said, however, that he himself had taken several times the normal dosage of each drug without ill effect. He said the drug given the victims "should not have been fatal."

Weeks said no charges have been filed against Michalek.

The victims were placed in oxygen tents and specialists were called, but the efforts proved useless.

Mrs. Pearson's husband revealed that his wife volunteered in the university's experiments for the first time, although she had promised him she would not because they planned to have a baby.

Everett Pearson, a student, said he could not understand what made his wife change her mind.

Recognized Mistake

Slaughter said Michalek "recognized his mistake within 10 minutes" and was able to save his own life and that of a third volunteer by not taking the drug.

Slaughter described Michalek as "a reputable and competent man."

Slaughter said the experiments had been in progress for some time in connection with a grant that a private pharmaceutical firm was planning to make to Michalek.

Dr. Louis F. Michalek
Injected the Wrong Drug

Earlier the university reported that its facilities were used for the experiments but that it had no direct control over them. It also emphasized that the victims were employes of the school, not students, and were volunteers in the tests.

Backs Down

Lonely Hearts Suitor Without Mate, $800

INDIANAPOLIS (UP)—Miss Yvonne Essaye, 26, an Arabian typist who flew here to marry a lonely hearts suitor and then changed her mind, disappeared Thursday leaving a trail as cold as her ardor for the man who financed her $800 plane trip.

They had planned to go job hunting Thursday for Yvonne and to visit the travel agency which helped McCorley unsnarl the red tape that kept the girl from his side for months.

Yvonne spurned McCorley because he looked older than the picture he sent her.

The last word from Yvonne was that she planned to get a job so she could repay McCorley the $800 she spent on her plane fare. She said she had $429 saved.

"I'm going to see her as much as possible and try to push the issue," he said.

Bigger Soviet A-Bomb Alters U.S. Defenses

WASHINGTON (UP)—The United States is making "drastic" changes in its civil defense plans on the basis of new intelligence reports indicating that Russia has bigger A-bombs than previously believed, it was disclosed Thursday.

Civil Defense Administrator Millard F. Caldwell told a house appropriations subcommittee in newly-released testimony that his agency is overhauling all its plans in the light of "certain vital and new information from the central intelligence agency concerning Russian capabilities."

The information, he said, "indicates that we can expect a much heavier type of weapon" than the early-model A-bombs that demolished Hiroshima and Nagasaki, Japan.

Progress Unsatisfactory

His cryptic remark also could be interpreted to mean that officials believe Russia is working on a hydrogen superbomb. But Caldwell made no reference to H-bombs.

Caldwell urged prompt approval of a $535 million appropriation for civil defense, and served notice that he probably will be back for still more money soon.

He said flatly that he is "not satisfied with the progress" being made in preparing American cities for the holocaust of an atomic raid, and blamed congress for the public apathy.

By refusing to grant the civil defense funds he requested last year, Caldwell said, congress "discouraged what little interest had been aroused" in state and city programs.

1 Million Casualties Possible

He said that "in our present state of unawareness and unpreparedness" six A-bombs dropped on six separate cities would cause 1 million casualties and "would so shock and numb the American public that the very will to fight and win could be lost."

"Production would be staggered if not stopped cold" by such an attack, he said.

States and cities simply will not put large amounts of their own money and effort into the program until they are convinced that the federal government takes the problem "seriously." The only way they can be convinced of that, he said is for congress to vote substantial sums to get the program rolling.

Caldwell said federal spending on civil defense during the fiscal year 1951 totalled $2,417,631—"less than the cost of one B-36 bomber, and about the same as the cost of a single radar installation."

He said it is "impossible" to estimate what the final cost of an adequate program will be, but that 3 billion probably is "far too low" a figure.

Woman's Club Takes Petunia Tour

THURSDAY WAS PETUNIA DAY in Iowa City and 30 persons, most of whom were members of the garden department of the local Woman's club, toured the city to inspect the 21 plantings entered in the club's petunia contest. The group is shown here at the armory, viewing the 1,500 petunias which wives of the 34th reconnaissance company planted in front of the building. The rectangular bed shows the number, 34, in dark blue petunias, with red and white flowers in the surrounding area. The tour started at 9 a.m., ended at 1 p.m.

PETUNIAS WERE NOT THE ONLY FLOWERS to gain the group's attention during its morning tour. At the J. F. Crumley gardens, 221 Park road, (left to right) Mrs. F. M. Barker, contest chairman Mrs. G. E. Grunewald and Mrs. E. T. Hubbard couldn't help admiring the gigantic dahlias. At another place the women inspected a new home; at another, a lily pond.

IN THE BACKYARD of the Henry F. Willenbrock home, 468 Grand ave., Mrs. Willenbrock (right) explains to Mrs. Ray Carson (left) and Mrs. Joe Howe her amazement when the scrubby little plants she bought for 65 cents produced such impressive looking flowers. Ten other homes were entered in the contest which will be judged Saturday. Winners will be announced Monday. The contest is part of the club's Iowa City beautification project.

PUNCH AND COOKIES at the Mary O. Coldren home, 602 Clark st., provided refreshment for the weary group of flower-lovers in mid-morning. Here Mrs. Bessie Jones, Woman's club president, Mrs. E. C. Howe and Mrs. Howard Crew take their minds off petunias long enough to make plans for the club's flower show in September. The Coldren home was one of the organizations to enter the petunia contest. Other group projects were the flower beds in City park which were tended by the Girl Scouts, and the plantings along East Washington st. which were a Woman's club project.

Working Girl Fashions Have Feminine Lines

Interesting fabric textures and simple, feminine silhouettes characterize the fall fashions for working women, as projected in a popular fashion magazine. Their fashion editors have assembled a wardrobe of coats, suits, dresses and accessories designed to work wonders for a woman and her paycheck.

• One of the most important colors for fall will be grey. Watch for gray in every shade from a misty fog color to a deep charcoal. Watch for gray in everything — coats, suits, dresses and shoes.

Gray is a wonder working color, says the magazine, because it's flattering . . . because it can be worn with black, brown, gray or navy accessories . . . because it looks new and exciting worn with beige.

The coat silhouette for fall will be slimmer with fullness restrained. Sloping shoulders, deep armholes and collars that are small and rounded or non-existent complete the coat picture.

The reason for the simplified silhouette is that fabrics are bulky with curled or looped surfaces or patterned for new texture interest.

The suit news for fall is in the emphatically carved shoulder and hiplines. . . in the reappearance of fuller skirts. . . in the narrow-shouldered box jackets. These silhouettes are translated into worsted, nubby tweeds or butter-y flannels.

For interesting texture contrasts, fashion experts recommend velvet or satin accessories in gloves, bags or scarves.

You Can Beat the Heat By Using Slow Motion

When it's hot outside, the body can be kept cooler by slowing down all motions so that circulation stays on an even keel. Walk slowly. Don't run for busses or trains.

It's spurts of energy and hurrying that cause overheating. Get up a bit earlier so there is no rush about leaving for work. Start each day with a bath or shower and you'll feel cooler at noon.

Slip into a warm tub the moment you return home from work or shopping and put on clean, light clothes for a cooler, fresher evening.

ENTERTAIN GUESTS

Guests of Dr. and Mrs. E. C. Howe, 340 Ferson st., for the last three weeks were Mrs. Walter Ahern and Mrs. Lynn Sharrar and daughters, Auralea and Mary Jo, all of Lincoln, Neb.

TODAY'S MENU

Chopped Beef Creole Fluffy Rice
Green Peas Cauliflower
Bread and Butter Beverage
Three-Egg Cake with Fruit

Ingredients for Three-Egg Cake: 2 cups sifted cake flour, 3 teaspoons baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 2/3 cup butter or margarine, 1 cup sugar, 3 eggs, 1/2 cup milk, 1 tablespoon lemon juice.

Method: Grease two 9-inch layer pans on bottom only; cut a round of waxed paper to fit bottom of each pan; grease paper. Heat oven to moderate (350 F.) Sift together flour, baking powder, and salt.

In large bowl of electric mixer cream butter or margarine; add sugar slowly and cream well at high speed; scrape bowl often. Using low speed, beat in dry ingredients alternately with milk in 4 additions, beginning and ending with flour; beat only enough to combine each time.

Scrape sides of bowl and beat in lemon juice — beat enough to make batter smooth, no longer. Pour into prepared pans and bake in preheated oven about 25 to 30 minutes or until cake begins to come away from sides of pan. Turn out on cake racks; remove waxed paper. When cool fill and frost as desired.

Note: This cake is delicious filled with sliced fresh fruit and sweetened whipped cream flavored with vanilla; frost top with a thin layer of the cream and decorate with some of the fruit.

Minnesota Sets Up Air Cadet Training

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Brig. Gen. Joseph E. Nelson, Minnesota adjutant general Thursday announced a new aviation cadet program designed to supply the air national guard with second lieutenant pilots.

Nelson said the 12 months of flight training will be given at air force schools with T-6, F-51 and jet fighter planes. At the completion of the active training period, cadets will be returned to civilian status as "week-end warriors" in the air national guard.

Interested applicants, unmarried and between 20 and 26½ years of age who have completed at least two years of college work, should apply to the adjutant general's office, State Capitol, St. Paul.

SUI to Present A-Bomb Show At State Fair

How to survive in case of an atom bomb attack will be demonstrated by SUI scientists at a "Hall of Science" at the annual Iowa state fair, Aug. 25 through Sept. 3.

The science show will be presented by SUI, Iowa State college and other educational institutions and scientific groups.

Featured demonstrations and displays to be presented by SUI include motion pictures on "How You Can Avoid the A-Bomb," "Pattern for Survival" and "Atomic Alert."

SUI will also show new developments in studying psychopathic problems and correcting defects in the mentally ill.

County Residents Cash More Bonds Than They Buy

Johnson county residents are cashing in more U.S. defense bonds than they are buying, according to a report from the state defense bond division.

Through the first six months of 1951, residents here have bought bonds totaling $1,107,736 as compared to redemptions of $1,181,106.

Roger F. Warin, state bond director, said this is the second consecutive six-month period when redemptions and maturities topped sales.

He listed 48 other Iowa counties where residents have cashed in more bonds than they have bought. Warin attributed this to decreased net farm income and the tendency of investors to seek higher returns through speculative investments.

University Hospitals Admit 2 With Polio

Two Iowans have been admitted to University hospitals as polio patients and three patients have been transferred to the inactive polio list.

Admitted to the hospitals in "fair" condition were Linda Kimber, 4, Dubuque, and Dale Reynolds, 4, Palo.

Transferred to the inactive list were Gertrude Huggard, 24, Plainfield; Myrna Schauf, 8, Wellman; Joseph Conaway, 7, Mt. Pleasant, and Herold Mitchell, 30, Buckingham.

The present number of active cases in the hospitals is 10.

Rent Controls Off At Sergeant Bluff

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal rent controls will be lifted in 12 communities in six states today, rent stabilization director Tighe E. Woods announced Thursday.

The Iowa locality — town of Sergeant Bluff, Woodbury county.

The controls were removed as a result of local governing body resolutions declaring that a shortage of rental housing no longer exists in the communities.

2 Youths Implicated In Minnesota Crimes

ST. PAUL (AP) — State Crime Bureau Chief John Tierney announced here Thursday that two Minneapolis youths arrested this week in Guthrie, Ia., have admitted being implicated in several Minnesota crimes.

Tierney said Agent J. G. Carlson, sent to Iowa to question Eugene Skilbeck and Neil Funk, reported by telephone that they admitted attacking Night Patrolman Frank Bohn in St. James, Minn.

After Argument — Wife Steals Hubby's Leg

CHICAGO (AP) — Mrs. Rosetta Shorts, 42, admitted to police Thursday that she stole her husband's wooden leg to keep him at home.

She said her husband, William, 52, who lost his own leg in a railroad accident, has been out of work and she has been toiling in a laundry to support him and seven children.

"We had a squabble Wednesday night and I was afraid he might go out carousing around," she said. "I waited until he went to bed and then hid his leg."

Two detectives turned in a report which read: "Leg returned to complainant."

Bank President —

Charged With Embezzling

— Over 16-Year Period

NEW KENISINGTON, PA., (AP) — Ludwid R. Schlekot, who won the respect of a community as he worked his way from clerk to president of a bank, was charged Thursday with systematically embezzling $600,000 of the bank's funds over a period of 16 years.

As bank examiners traced the defalcations at the Parnassus National bank, FBI agents took the slight, 40-year-old banker to Pittsburgh, where he was formally arraigned before a U. S. commissioner on charges of making false entries and misapplication of funds.

He was ordered held under $50,000 bond. The perspiring banker offered to post his own property but Commissioner Edward Snodgrass, Jr., refused it.

Unable to supply a commercial surety bond, Schlekot was lodged in Allegheny county jail for the night. He will be given a hearing today.

Schlekot's arrest followed an investigation which started one week ago when a bank examiner stumbled upon a sheet inserted in the bank's records during a routine inspection.

It listed the bank's "cash on hand" as $719,651.95. Examiners found the actual amount in the vault was only $119,651.59.

Bank examiners refused to say what the quiet-living bespectacled banker had done with the money. Edward C. Tefft, chief liquidator of the federal deposit insurance corporation, who came here from Washington to supervise an audit, said:

"Let's just say that the money, after it was taken, was badly invested."

Fellow officials at the plush, newly-remodeled bank would only say that it was "fantastic and unbelievable." Bank examiners said it wasn't spent "on wine, women and song."

The examiners began a full-scale audit of the bank's books after discovery of the false "cash on hand" entry. Wednesday night, the FDIC announced a shortage had been discovered and said that depositors would be protected and the bank would remain open until its affairs are transferred to the Mellon National bank and Trust company, of Pittsburgh.

Police Find Clue to Colorado Springs Murder-Robbery

COLORADO SPRINGS COLO., (AP) — Police Chief I. B. Bruce Thursday said a promising clue had been uncovered in the murder of cab driver Sgt. Martin A. Bursley, 20.

Bursley was shot to death Tuesday and his passengers, Mr. and Mrs. Hal S. Chase of Des Moines, Iowa, were robbed of $300.

Chief Bruce said "it looks like we might have something" as a striped T-shirt was found in the apartment of one of the persons being investigated as a suspect.

The suspect denied wearing a T-shirt. Witnesses to the crime said the slayer did.

Bruce also said the suspect denied having a police record other than for draft evasion. Instead, the chief said, the suspect has a record dating back to 1928, including time served in reform schools and jails.

Mr. and Mrs. Chase returned Thursday from Des Moines to help in clearing up the case. They were met at the railroad station by Sheriff Norman Short and escorted to the Broadmoor hotel by Short and deputies.

NEW HIGHWAY HAZARD

ST. PAUL (AP) — Something new has been added to Minnesota highways of the twin cities and highway patrolmen warned motorists to be careful.

The seasonal hazard is deer wandering along the roads.

LAW TO BE ENFORCED

DES MOINES (AP) — Thomas L. Reilly, 63, newly appointed Polk county sheriff, said Thursday he intends to enforce all liquor laws strictly.

"I expect the liquor laws to be observed," he said. "The closing hour for taverns and night clubs is 1 a.m. weekdays and 12 midnight on Saturday and that's the way things are going to be."

Reilly declined to say whether he would carry out any raids within the city of Des Moines as did his predecessor, the late Sheriff Howard C. Reppert.

REVERSES VEVRDICT

DES MOINES (AP) — Attorneys for the estate of Mary Elizabeth Schwartz asked the Iowa supreme court Thursday to reverse a directed verdict of Polk district court.

The district court directed a verdict in favor of Frank H. Hessel, Fort Dodge, in the estate's suit for $25,000 for the woman's death.

Miss Schwartz, 21, was killed in a two-car collision Aug. 16, 1950, at Emmetsburg. Officers said Hessel was the driver of the car which collided with her auto.

TRAFFIC CLOCKING SYSTEM

COUNCIL BLUFFS (AP) — The Council Bluffs police department Thursday adopted a new system of clocking traffic.

Capt. E. E. Winger marked off a 110 foot course and with officials observing, the police department clocked traffic as it proceeded through the zone with a stop watch.

Through a walkie talkie unit, officers would notify motorcycle officers two blocks away of the speed and type of car involved.

HASN'T MISSED A SUNDAY

COUNCIL BLUFFS (AP) — At the age of 52 weeks, Marsha Sue Griffin holds an unbroken Sunday school attendance record of 52 Sundays in a row.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Griffin, Marsha blew out her first birthday candle Wednesday.

She played stoic hostess to 20 friends during an afternoon party. Mrs. Griffin's own attendance record wasn't interrupted by Marsha's birth. She packed her baby off to Sunday school at First Nazarene church when she was five days old.

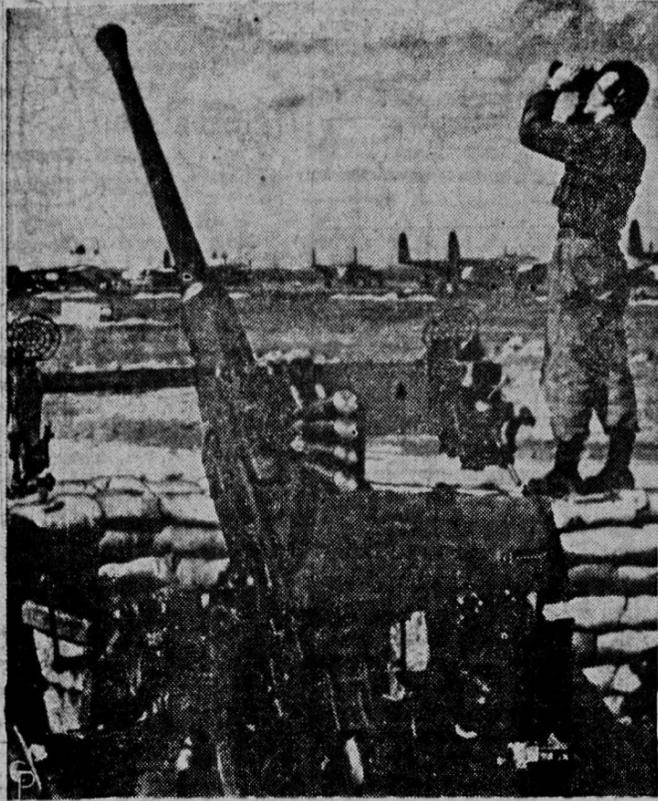

Mrs. Griffin has been a member of the church for 15 years. Her other three children are regular Sunday school-goers.

Collegians, Outweighed, Pin Hopes on Backfield's Speed

CHICAGO (AP) — The awesome Cleveland Browns, champions of professional football, were installed Thursday as 14 point favorites to defeat the College All-Stars of 1950 in the 18th annual game tonight.

The contest, inaugurating the 1951 gridiron season, will be witnessed by upwards of 90,000 spectators in flood-lighted Soldier's field, with millions viewing the battle on television sets or listening to radios. A total of 528 radio stations, a record for the event, will carry description of the contest coast-to-coast. Television will be presented by 46 stations.

The kickoff is scheduled for 7:15 p.m., central standard time.

The Browns, defeated only six times in five years of championship competition, will enter the contest with tremendous confidence. The All-Stars will be a particular target for the professionals since the Collegians triumphed over the Philadelphia Eagles, 17-7, a year ago.

"We are not ready to play our best football game," said head coach Paul Brown of the professional champions, true to the best tradition of his profession, "but we'll do the best we can."

Browns' Record

Spectators tonight will see a team which has posted an almost unbelievable record. In five seasons, the Browns have won 64, lost six and tied three. They have scored 1,977 points against 867 and would consider it a crowning achievement if they could make their 2,000th point against the All-Stars. In their spectacular career, the Browns have played before 3,222,539 fans.

Northwestern's Otto Graham, a superlative forward passer, and possibly the finest T-formation quarterback in history, is the Browns' star. His generalship, running and passing have spearheaded the Browns' attack.

In desire for victory, the Browns will start a veteran eleven, which in three weeks of training at Bowling Green, Ohio, has rounded into almost championship condition.

Passer Graham will receive needed protection from a shifty, hard blocking line that will outweigh the Collegians.

Coach Herman Hickman of Yale has put his All-Stars through a three weeks' rugged practice period at their training base, DeLafield, Wis., but it cost him the services of three players and has handicapped others by minor injuries. Nick Stanfel, San Francisco guard; Jim Staton, Lake Forest tackle, and Leon Heath, Oklahoma fullback, are out of competition.

Pin Hopes on Rote

Hickman will pin his hopes on the performances of Kyle Rote, coach Raffensperger commented, dashing Southern Methodist halfback, a solid 200-pounder, and Wilfred "Whizzer" White, Arizona halfback, who led the nation in rushing last fall with 1,502 yards in 10 games.

Don Dufek, Michigan, and Sonny Grandelius, Michigan State, will carry the offensive burden at fullback.

Notre Dame's Bob Williams and Fran Nagle, Nebraska, each a superlative forward passer, will direct the team from quarterback.

Jerry Groom, Notre Dame center, shares the captaincy of the Collegians with Bud McFadin, Texas.

Iowa to Have JV Football Schedule; First Since 1929

A five-game schedule, now complete, will be played by SU's junior varsity football team next fall, coach Leonard Raffensperger announced Thursday.

First Iowa JV squad since 1929, the 1951 group will be coached by Wally Schwank, assisted by Otto Vogel, "Waddy" Davis, and Maury Kent. The squad will consist of freshmen and some upper classmen not quite good enough for the varsity squad.

The Hawkeyes will open Sept. 28, against the Wisconsin JV team at Madison and on Oct. 6, will meet Camp McCoy, Wis. army base, there.

The two home games are Scott field of Bellville, Ill., Oct. 12, and a return contest with Wisconsin JV Oct. 19, Illinois JV will be played at Champaign Nov. 9 to end the schedule.

Iowa's JV squad will serve as a "feeder" for the varsity and players who show ability can be moved up to the higher group, coach Raffensperger said. It will be especially valuable to break in the freshmen who now are eligible for varsity play.

"It's entirely possible that players who perform well in the Scott field game might play against Pittsburgh in the stadium the following day or a week later JV players could play against Wisconsin JV on Friday afternoon and against Michigan Saturday," coach Raffensperger commented.

Browns, Byrne Stop Tribe

NEW YORK (AP) — Lefty Tommy Byrne, too erratic to figure in the Yankee pennant plans, helped them unexpectedly Thursday in St. Louis when he pitched a 4-0 shutout for the Browns that snapped a 13-game Cleveland winning streak and cut its first place margin to 1½ games.

The Yankees gained a full game in the hectic race by defeating the Senators, 5-3, for the third straight time as lefty Art Schallock won his first big league game.

The Cleveland defeat may have been a particularly costly one inasmuch as star outfielder Larry Doby had to leave the game with a pulled leg muscle in the first inning after getting a double, one of two hits that ex-Yankee Byrne yielded. The Indians made only three, Duane Pillette giving up the final one in the ninth after Byrne left with a pulled back muscle.

Byrne also contributed two hits in the nine-hit attack on Mike Garcia, and drove in all four runs. He snapped three Cleveland hitting streaks, Dale Mitchell's at 23 games, Al Rosen's at 10 and Bobby Avila's at nine.

The Athletics prevented the third place Red Sox from gaining on the Indians by trouncing them, 10-2 with a 14-hit collection including Gus Zernial's 25th homer. Clyde Vollmer hit a two-run homer to spoil a shutout for lefty Bobby Shantz.

In the only night game, the Chicago Cubs exploded with four runs in the 10th inning to beat the Cincinnati Reds, 8-4, after Redleg Connie Ryan's ninth-inning homer with two out sent the game into overtime. The winning rally consisted of a walk, singles by Hal Jeffcoat, and Phil Cavaretta, a wild pitch, a single and a stolen base by Mickey Owen, another walk, and Chuck Connors' single.

Medalist Teddy White, from Roswell, N. M., was humbled, 2 and 1, by Bobby Goetz, Lynn, Mass.

Egyptian Wins Channel Race

DOVER, Eng. (AP) — A husky Egyptian raced across the English channel in 12 hours and 12 minutes Thursday to win the $2,800 first prize in the London Daily Mail's annual channel swim.

Hassan Hammad, 34, of Cairo, clattered ashore at the foot of Shakespeare cliff Thursday night. He was one minute ahead of Roger Le Morvan of France, who landed in St. Margaret's Bay four miles to the east.

Le Morvan gets $1,400 for second place.

Brenda Fisher, 23-year-old English girl won the $2,800 first prize for women and apparently set a new women's channel record on her first try at it.

The judges gave her time, subject to recheck, as 12 hours and 43 minutes.

Scientist Says — More Sons To Bald Men

WASHINGTON (AP)—If you're bald, mister, the chances are you'll have more boy children than girls, a scientist suggested Thursday.

Dr. Marianne E. Bernstein of the Instituto Di Statistiche in Rome, Italy, also came up with these views:

Fathers suffering from gout will probably have more girls than boys.

Men engaged in "aggressive, extrovert" occupations in which women have seldom become outstanding—such as soldiers, lawyers and businessmen—are probably more "male" than such guys as actors, artists and fiction writers.

And they'll probably have more male offspring than the chaps engaged in "introvert, retiring occupations" where women frequently have become big shots.

Dr. Bernstein reported in the technical journal, Science, that she believes that factors controlling the "sex-ratio" of offspring are identical with, or act through, factors which control a man's balance of male and female sex hormones.

(All men have both male and female hormones in their systems, but the male ones predominate. Dr. Bernstein's suggestion appears to be that the balance can be upset under certain conditions so that some men have more of the male hormones than others.)

money."

The defense department had said there was $100,000 in gold, U. S. currency and Swiss francs involved in Holohan's death. But Corvo, who also was in the secret OSS agency, said he could not believe reports the group had that much money because "that kind of money just was never carried by our men."

The state department said army agents had obtained a confession from LoDolce admitting that he, Icardi, and two Italians conspired to kill Holohan while they were on a secret mission behind the German lines. The department also said it had similar confessions from the two Italians, Giuseppe Mannini and Gualtiero Tozzini.

The department accused the four of killing Holohan by feeding him poison, shooting him in the head, and then dumping his body into a lake.

In the Italian town of Verbania, the town prosecutor said he had asked Italian authority to bring Icardi and LoDolce there for trial. Verbania has jurisdiction in the case.

The two Italians who allegedly have confessed will go on trial at Novara, northern Italy, next month. A U. S. embassy spokesman in Rome said Icardi and LoDolce might be tried in absentia at this trial, pending extradition proceedings.

Truman Welcomes Douglas' Support

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman said Thursday that if he runs again in 1952 he will welcome the support of Sen. Paul Douglas (D-Ill.).

But he threw no further light on his intentions. A bit irritated, he told questioning reporters at a news conference that there are plenty of things more important to talk about now.

He said there are plenty of people ambitious to be president, but they don't know what they are getting into. He would not name them, saying that wouldn't be seemly.

From politics, newsmen turned to foreign affairs, but they returned to presidential prospects later despite the President's admonition that they were working on politics to the vanishing point.

A newsman said Sen. Douglas, who is now engaged in challenging two of Mr. Truman's Illinois judgeship nominations, had been quoted as stating that he would support the president if he ran.

attacking night patrolman Frank a northbound street car.

The police car flashed the motorman and blocked the car. Sgt. Vincent Cunningham and Detective Thomas DeVitt entered in plain clothes posing as passengers. Only a few passengers were on the car. Cunningham sat in a seat next to Williams, his hand on his pistol in his coat pocket.

DeVitt had his pistol in his hand but concealed it by folding his arms. He sat in a seat behind Williams, his pistol nose almost against the fugitive's head.

Cunningham said quietly, "we know you're Williams, look behind you."

Williams turned his head and stared into the barrel of DeVitt's pistol.

Then he protested the officers had the wrong man and produced the drivers license.

The officers took him to detective headquarters in a squad car and fingerprinted and questioned him.

They said Williams was unarmed and that his only possessions were four shotgun shells, an army cap emblem and a soiled handkerchief.

plied the information that Field's former wife, Elizabeth, is now married to Barnes.

Barnes, a former foreign editor of the New York Herald Tribune, now is employed by the Simon and Schuster book publishing firm in New York. Informed of Chamber's testimony, he said in a statement:

"I deny flatly that I have ever met Peters or Chambers in my life or been a member of any Red underground."

Field, an "angel" of the left wing causes, is now in jail for contempt of congress. He refused to tell investigators where the money came from to post bonds for a group of Communist leaders under arrest.

Both he and Barnes are former officials of the Institute of Pacific Relations (IRP). The institute has been mentioned repeatedly in the committee's inquiry, which is devoted to finding out whether subversive influences have affected American policy in the Far East. Witnesses have called the IRP a "Communist front" organization.

Chambers, who has admitted acting as a courier for a pre-war Soviet spy ring, spoke fluently and without apparent emotion. He identified himself as a writer and stock farmer now living near Westminster, Md.

day join with Raymond Cline, Mt. Pleasant, N.C., president; John Stacy, Springfield, Ohio, first vice-president, and Wendell Matthews, Mathusa, Ill., second vice-president, to form the executive council of the group.

Still to be elected today at the closing session of the convention are four persons to positions as members-at-large of the executive committee.

An Iowan, the Rev. Raymond Tiemeyer of Tipton, is included in the candidates for these posts.

The delegates also Thursday approved a 25 per cent increase in their per capita giving. Beginning in 1953 the 30,000 members will give a dollar a year instead of 80 cents to the work of the church at large.

Billy Neal, 13 of DeSoto, Ill., was awarded first prize in a league contest for presenting the best replica of the Luther seal.

St. John's Lutheran church at Council Bluffs was awarded an honorable mention in the same contest.

The Rev. George F. Harkins, assistant to the president of the United Lutheran Church in America, will be the speaker tonight at the closing session of the 56th annual convention.

An installation service for three members of the national staff of the Luther league will also be held tonight. Mary Helen Smith, Sunbury, Pa., associate secretary; the Rev. John M. Mangum, Telford, Pa., associate secretary, and the Rev. Leslie Conrad, Philadelphia, executive secretary, will be installed by the Rev. Mr. Harkins.

Delegates may also decide the site of their 1953 convention at today's meeting. Officials said Thursday they were so well pleased with the selection of the university center in Iowa City they would push for a similar location, probably Ohio.

U. S. Note Warns Against Changing Jap Peace Treaty

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States warned Russia Thursday it cannot rewrite the Japanese peace treaty in the forthcoming conference at San Francisco. The action was an obvious move to block any Soviet attempt to wreck the conference by opening disruptive debate on treaty provisions.

Delivery of a formal American note in Moscow was announced by the state department shortly after President Truman had told a news conference that he does not believe arrangements for the signing of the treaty—now set for Sept. 8—can be upset by anyone.

There were these other developments bearing on pre-conference plans:

1. Mr. Truman said Deputy Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko, who will head the U.S.S.R. delegation to San Francisco, is welcome to visit him if he desires. The Russian delegation will go to San Francisco by way of Washington and a reporter had asked Mr. Truman if he expected to receive Gromyko.

2. Mr. Truman said Gen. Douglas MacArthur can address the treaty conference if he wants to. The state department officially disclosed that it has been considering possible participation by MacArthur in the conference but said nothing has been worked out. Authoritative informants said MacArthur has been approached by Ambassador John Foster Dulles, U.S. negotiator on the treaty, and that he first accepted then turned down a proposal that he attend. However, the matter is still considered open.

3. The U.S. and the Philippines announced that they have agreed on a mutual defense treaty to be signed early next month. It will commit each country to "act to meet the common dangers" in event of an attack on the other.
