Chinese Army Reshuffled Along Front

TOKYO (SATURDAY) (AP) — Allied officers reported today that Chinese veterans of the west-central Korean front had been pulled far back from the fighting line along the flank of the iron triangle.

The mysterious shuffle of Communist armed strength in the Yonchon-Chorwon sector was accompanied by heavy artillery and mortar fire. Allied officers lacked an explanation, and were unable to say whether fresh troops moved up to take the place of the veterans.

The withdrawal was the first potential sign of a Communist reduction in battlefront strength since the Kaesong armistice conference opened.

Along the rest of the front, "limited objective" attacks by the Allies met stiff and sometimes fanatical resistance from solidly entrenched Reds.

The hardest fighting of the day was northwest of Yanggu, above the Hwachon reservoir. The battle began Thursday morning and went on for more than 12 hours.

After a three-hour rest, the opposing forces went at it again. The Allies blunted a Red attack and counter-attacked. Friday morning hand to hand fighting raged for some time. The battle subsided, but at midafternoon scattered clashes in the area still were going on.

In another area nearby, also north of the reservoir, UN units met heavy resistance from Reds entrenched on a strategic hill. The outcome of the engagement still was in doubt when night fell.

United Press Correspondent Warren Franklin reported from the west-central front that the area in which Red troops were shuffled stretched from west of Yonchon to northwest of Chorwon.

Rioting Moslems Knife 6 Officers In Street Battle

TEHRAN (AP)—Moslem fanatics knifed six policemen trying to break up an anti-British oil nationalization rally Friday. More than a dozen leaders of the nationalist Fedayan Islam (Crusaders for Islam) were arrested.

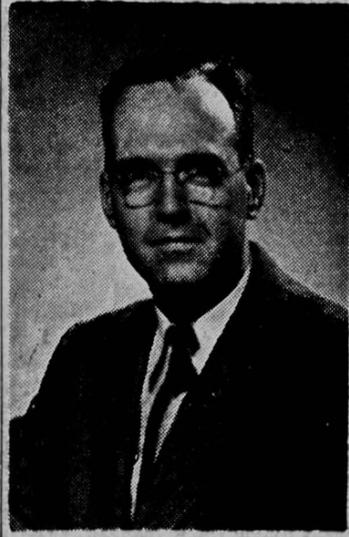

About 200 demonstrators and scores of blue-clad police fought a 10-minute battle on the eve of what may be the showdown session in two weeks of negotiations over the fate of the Iranian oil industry, which the British ran for 50 years.

Richard R. Stokes, the chief of Britain's cabinet mission, said Friday a compromise proposal he advanced earlier this week, which included a 50-50 sharing of profits, "is the best offer I can make" and the British-owned Anglo-Iranian Oil company will boycott Iran's oil if it's finally turned down. Iran has termed the proposal unacceptable and offered no compromise at all.

Dr. L. E. Morris Named for Mission To Visit Israel, Iran

Dr. Morris
1 of 14 Doctors

Dr. Lucien E. Morris, assistant professor of anesthesia in the SUI college of medicine, has been named one of 14 distinguished American and European doctors to participate in a medical mission to Israel and Iran during September and October.

The mission was organized at the invitation of Israel and Iran so that medical faculties of these countries might benefit through exchange of scientific information with American and European doctors.

The mission is sponsored jointly by the Unitarian service committee and the World Health organization.

In Israel, the mission will visit Tel Aviv, Haifa and Jerusalem. Morris and eight other members of the group will take part in the Iranian trip which will be concentrated at the University of Tehran medical school.

The members of the mission will give lectures and demonstration as well as making ward rounds, conducting round table and informal discussions and acting as consultants to various Israeli and Iranian health agencies.

Morris received his M. D. degree from the school of medicine at Western Michigan in 1943. After internship and residency, he spent two years in the army medical corps.

He came to SUI in 1949 after he was a resident and instructor in anesthesia at the Wisconsin General hospital in Madison.

Heartsick Doctor Tells of 'Tragic Error'

VERMILLION, S. D., (AP) — Dr. Louis F. Michalek, 28, said Friday that his "tragic error" of giving fatal overdoses of the wrong drug to two volunteers will "follow me all my life."

The young physician spoke as Coroner Myron Iverson resumed an inquest into the deaths of Jack Clifford, 30, laboratory technician at the University of South Dakota, and Mrs. Ardy Pearson, 26, a school secretary.

Before testifying, Everett Pearson, student husband of the secretary, said he bore no bitterness toward Michalek.

"It was a mistake. It could have happened to anyone," Pearson said.

In his testimony Pearson told how he advised his wife not to volunteer for the experiment and how she had promised him she wouldn't. He has said he doesn't know what made her change her mind.

Confesses

Stole Umbrella in 1917 During Rain

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — A tiny, white-haired old woman walked timidly into police headquarters Friday and said she wanted to confess.

"Confess what?" Detective John McCarthy asked.

"My crime," she said.

The little lady said that in 1917 she was caught in a rain downtown and took an umbrella from a dry goods store, now long since closed.

McCarthy said he didn't believe the police would want her and that she should go home and forget it.

"Thank you, thank you," the lady said. "Now it won't worry me anymore."

Services Today For Mrs. Kabela

Services will be at 10 a.m. Monday at St. Wenceslaus church for Mrs. Frank Kabela, 20, R. R. 5, who died Thursday of injuries suffered in an auto accident Aug. 11, near Moberly, Mo.

Born in Iowa City, May 4, 1931, Mrs. Kabela, the former Leila Jean Miller, was a graduate of City high school and a member of St. Wenceslaus church.

Her parents are Harold T. and Agnes Miller, 1120 Franklin st. She was married to Frank E. Kabela Sept. 21, 1950.

In addition to her parents, Mrs. Kabela is survived by two sisters, Mildred Miller and Mrs. Grace Boorman, and two brothers, Harold Miller Jr., and Kenneth Miller, all of Iowa City.

Burial will be in the new section of St. Joseph's cemetery. The rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. Sunday at Beckman's.

Summer Grades Available Monday

Grades for the 1951 summer session will be available beginning Monday.

Students in the colleges of liberal arts and commerce and the graduate college may pick up their grades at the registrar's office. Students in the colleges of engineering and pharmacy may get their grades from the offices of their deans.

Grades will be mailed by the registrar to students who have previously left a stamped self-addressed envelope at the registrar's office.

Mrs. Marjorie Stuvland, a third volunteer who was spared when the error was discovered, testified briefly that her action in taking part in the experiment was entirely voluntary. She added that neither Clifford nor Mrs. Pearson seemed "reluctant" to volunteer.

Inquest Is Adjourned

The inquest was adjourned indefinitely pending a pathology report from tests on the bodies.

Michalek testified last night that he picked up the wrong bottle when he gave a drug to the human "guinea pigs" in a pain relief experiment Tuesday. They died in a hospital Wednesday.

"I know I made a tragic error," Michalek said in an interview. "I'm very sorry, but what can I say? It's something that will follow me all my life."

6 More Communist Leaders Arrested By Federal Agents

WASHINGTON (AP) — Six more Communist party leaders were arrested Friday in the fourth roundup since the supreme court upheld the conviction of 11 top leaders in June.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said those arrested had been connected with Communist party activities in Pennsylvania and West Virginia.

Among those seized was Steve Nelson who was trained as a professional revolutionist at the Lenin school in Moscow.

This brought to 46 the number of Communists seized on charges of plotting the overthrow of the government by force and violence since the supreme court decision in the case of the big 11.

In addition to Nelson, the following have been arrested in the new roundup and charged with violation of the Smith act:

William Albertson, 41, of Detroit. He was identified as union secretary, district seven, of the Communist party at Detroit. He was arrested in his car near Flat Rock, Mich.

Benjamin Lowell Careathers Sr., of Pittsburgh. He was identified as Communist party treasurer in Western Pennsylvania. He was arrested in Pittsburgh.

James Hulse Dolsen, 65, of Pittsburgh. He was identified as Western Pennsylvania representative of the Daily Worker, Communist party newspaper, and a charter member of the Communist party. He was arrested at Steve Nelson's home in Pittsburgh.

Andrew Rudolph Onda, 46, of Pittsburgh. He was arrested at his home. He was described as steel organizer for district five of the Communist party, covering Western Pennsylvania.

Irving Weissman, 38, New York city, was arrested at the New York public library, 42nd st. and 5th ave. Weissman is former district chairman of the West Virginia district of the Communist party and now is assigned to national headquarters in New York. Nelson, 47, was arrested in Philadelphia.

Warrants for the arrests were issued by the U. S. commissioner at Pittsburgh on a complaint filed by an FBI agent acting upon the authorization of Atty. Gen. Howard McGrath.

The six will be arraigned before U. S. commissioners in the cities where the arrests occurred.

INVESTIGATION ENDS

WASHINGTON (AP) — The senate crime investigating committee closed out its more than a year of colorful public hearings Friday after a futile last-minute search for two key witnesses.

for prosecution appeared slim unless it could be proved that Michalek was guilty of "intentional omission or culpable negligence."

Seeks Worthwhile Goal

"I've always wanted and have tried to do something worthwhile," Michalek said. "That's the reason I decided to be a doctor. I also wanted to do research because I felt there are so many questions about the treatment of disease which have been left unanswered."

He told of working his way through 11 years of medical study at any job he could find. He said he worked as a janitor, gardener, handyman and in the fields when grain was ready for harvest.

Michalek said that, on the advice of his attorney, he could not discuss his lethal mistake directly.

Funeral services for Dean Lewis Ludwig, 19, Tiffin farm youth who was electrocuted on a farm near North Liberty Thursday, were still pending Friday night. The services will be at the Methodist church in Tiffin.

Funeral Services For Dean Ludwig To Be Held in Tiffin

Dean, the son of State Rep. G. M. Ludwig and Mrs. Ludwig of Tiffin, died in an accident on the J. C. Fuhrmeister farm, eight miles northwest of Iowa City.

He had been helping with the haying operations on the farm but was employed by Fuhrmeister's son, Lorence. Only witness to the accident was Eric Fuhrmeister, seven year-old grandson of J. C. Fuhrmeister.

Dean was valedictorian of his high school class and was the regular center on the Tiffin basketball team.

He was a member of the Tiffin Methodist church and the Johnson county Junior Farm bureau.

Dean was born April 5, 1932, on a farm adjacent to the present Ludwig home, one mile south of Tiffin.

Surviving are his parents, three sisters, Phillis, Helton, Ky., Mrs. Genevieve Merck, Deep River, Ia., and Nona, 16, at home; and two brothers, George, a lieutenant in the airforce at Boise, Idaho, and Robert, 20, at home.

Also surviving is the maternal grandmother, Mrs. Rosa Hein, Dawson, Nebr.

Hint Truce Teams May Decide On Split Defense Lines

TOKYO (SATURDAY) (AP) — Compromise-minded junior truce teams met for the second time today and were reported working on the idea of setting up separate Allied and Communist defense lines across Korea.

Word circulated at the UN camp below Kaesong that the negotiators might be able to agree on a military line for each side instead of a formal buffer zone. The area between would be of irregular width, perhaps miles deep or

Senate Ends MacArthur Inquiry Without Filing Formal Report

Gen. MacArthur
Still in the News

W. Averell Harriman
Defends FDR's Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senators closed out the MacArthur ouster inquiry Friday by voting 20 to 3 against making any formal report on the celebrated case which stirred the entire nation.

Chairman Richard Russell (D-Ga.) told reporters a conclusion by "It would only relieve bitter controversy at a critical period in the Korean peace talks," Russell added, "and it might add complications to the signing of the Japanese peace treaty in San Francisco next month."

But a group of Republican senators banded together in a move to keep alive their criticism of President Truman's dismissal of Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

Eight GOP lawmakers agreed to make public their individual views which strongly condemn the MacArthur ouster. The printed text of these views is to be released late Sunday.

Senator Styles Bridges (R-N.H.) said the Republicans agreed the Korean cease-fire talks now underway should not prevent them from giving their views on "fundamental issues" of Far Eastern policy.

Senator Harry Cain (R-Wash.) said earlier the GOP statement criticizes U.S. Far Eastern policies in general, supports MacArthur's general policies, but does not endorse his Korean war proposals as such.

The official record of the hearings which already are packed with more than 2 million words—enough for a shelf of standard-length novels—will be left open until Sept. 1. This will permit individual committee members to file their views before the record goes to the senate.

The committees rejected, 18 to 5, a proposal by Senator Bridges for a formal report. On the final vote, only Senators Bridges, Williams Knowland (R-Calif.) and Cain voted for the report.

The eight Republicans who have joined in the forthcoming statement are Senators Bridges, Cain, Knowland, Alexander Wiley of Wisconsin, Alexander Smith of New Jersey, Bourke Hickenlooper of Iowa, Owen Brewster of Maine and Ralph Flanders of Vermont.

Most of this group have been leading critics of the government's Far East policies dating from the 1945 Yalta agreement.

But Ambassador-at-large W. Averell Harriman spoke out in defense of the Yalta agreement Friday. He declared Stalin's failure to keep the agreement—not the agreement itself—was to blame for U.S. difficulties with Russia.

Harriman gave his defense in a review of the Yalta meeting released by Senator Brien McMahon (D-Conn.).

The ambassador said Stalin pledged "fundamental freedoms for the people in territories overrun by the Red army."

"Had Stalin honored these commitments taken at Yalta, Eastern Europe would be free today and the United Nations would be a truly effective organization for world security."

At Yalta, President Roosevelt and Britain's Prime Minister Churchill made concessions to the Communists in Manchuria and elsewhere in return for their entry into the war against Japan.

Republican critics contend the agreements were not necessary to the defeat of Japan and that they opened the way for Russian domination of China and Manchuria.

Harriman's statement, protesting that some people have "distorted and perverted the facts" about Yalta, will become a part of the hearings on the MacArthur dismissal.

DUBROVNIK, Yugoslavia (AP)—Yugoslavia has flung its doors wide open to visitors from the West to build up good will and bring in some spending money.

Marshal Josip Broz Tito's proud and independent Communist government desperately needs both to safeguard its freedom from the Russian-led Cominform.

Yugoslavia has much to offer in return. From the emerald hues of its snow-capped mountains in Northern Slovenia, to the cobalt blues of the sunny Adriatic, there's hardly a land the world over that can match its sheer natural beauty.

It's a country of contrasts and colors, a place where gray and stony piles of monasteries almost as old as Christianity look down from rugged mountains on flat and fertile fields newly dotted by whitewashed collective farms.

The ragged coastline and high mountain passes, the ancient weathered forts along the Danube and Sava rivers, the forested coves which once served as pirate's hideouts are colorful evidence of its turbulent history.

Hard-pressed for money and material to rebuild after World War II, Yugoslavia has just begun to capitalize upon the assets endowed by nature and history.

It has been tough going. Traveling in Yugoslavia is no picnicker's paradise. The roads are gutted, rutted and dusty, crowded with aimlessly wandering sheep and geese and—most motorists are convinced—paved with horseshoe nails. Mountain roads, resembling a Coney island roller coaster without tracks, would make a goat gasp. In Montenegro, the old folk still tell the legend of how God, in creating the earth, girdled the globe with a sackful of pebbles. Here and there, He would drop a pebble or two for a hill or a mountain. The sack split over Montenegro. Hence the rugged terrain which has proved tough farming—but tougher, too, for invaders.

The postwar regime in Yugoslavia has done much in the last three years to improve travel conditions, to restore roads chewed up by heavy military vehicles, and catch up with road work suspended during the war.

To woo and win Western tourist trade Yugoslavia has gone just about as far as it can within the limitations of short supplies and material to match the scenery and climate with comfort.

It hasn't been easy. Obviously, the first priority on Tito's government centers upon maintaining the country's independence. Next comes the job of restoring the country's economy. All this takes a heavy toll in manpower and material.

Even with these demands, the government has gone a long way in sprucing up such famous Adriatic resort centers as Dubrovnik, split and Abbazia and winter sports rendezvous such as Planica high in the Slovene hills.

It has begun to pay off. Milan

Aph, general director of tourism, estimates between 15,000 and 20,000 foreigners from Austria, Trieste, the United States, Britain, France, Switzerland and the Scandinavian countries will visit Yugoslavia this year, compared with 2,000 last year. Next year he hopes the figure will more than double.

All this money in the bank for Yugoslavia—money earned without a great outlay and without drawing upon its reservoir of raw materials.

"Within the limits of possibility," Aph said, "everything has been done that could be done in the way of providing our visitors with foodstuffs, sports and entertainment."

"We want to make them welcome. We have flung our doors wide open for those who come for a holiday, for those who come to study the country's social and political problems. They have free access to all information."

"In return we ask nothing more than the understanding of our problems. We know that everything isn't perfect yet. But we are working hard to make it so."

Tito and his aides price that "understanding" as high—and perhaps higher—than the dollars and pounds and francs lured here by scenic beauty and history.

Tourists' reports back home about conditions here and their "understanding" of Yugoslavia may play a major role in bringing this country and the west closer together.

Coast-to-Coast Network Opened — Jap Peace Conference Will Be Televised

NEW YORK (AP)—The American Telephone and Telegraph company announced Friday that Japanese peace conference sessions in San Francisco will be televised coast-to-coast through its new microwave system.

The company said it is meeting a request of the state department, received Friday to advance the opening of its transcontinental television facilities to Sept. 4, the starting date of the treaty conference.

The transcontinental radio-relay telephone system was opened Friday but had not been scheduled to carry east-west television programs until Sept. 30.

The new system "will be temporarily arranged to meet the earlier date," the announcement said.

The new all-radio channels began carrying hundreds of telephone calls across the country Friday. When the San Francisco conference opens, the microwave system will become the first tie between the east and west coasts for television programs.

The new channel, the longest microwave system in the world, was opened in a conversation between the New York and San Francisco heads of the long lines department of AT & T.

The radio system, involving 107 microwave relay towers spaced an average of 28 miles apart between New York and San Francisco, was built in three years at a cost of $40 million.

Participating in a conference call in the inaugurating ceremonies, Wayne Coy, chairman of the federal communications commission, said the new system "in time of peace will contribute to the building of a better America; in time of war will speed our mobilization."

"Today we have 107 television stations on the air," Coy said. "In five years there should be 1,500 in operation, in ten years, 2,500, and eventually we may have as many as 3,000 stations—bringing television to virtually all the country."

The new radio circuit follows the same route as the first transcontinental telephone line, which was opened in 1915. On that occasion, Alexander Graham Bell in New York spoke to his former assistant, Thomas Watson, in San Francisco.

Meaty Menus for the Open Air

MEAT IS A "MUST" in the picnic menu! Shown here are three picnic plates in which meat plays the leading role: 1. Baked ham with cottage cheese-stuffed tomatoes and baked beans; 2. Frank-in-a-bun with potato salad and pickles; 3. Meat loaf and sweet pickle sandwich with deviled eggs and cole slaw.

Heres How to —

Cook It Out of Doors

There's something about a meal cooked and eaten out-of-doors that whets the appetite and makes for good times and warm memories.

You don't need an elaborate fireplace in the back yard to cook out there, say foods and nutrition specialists. A metal wheelbarrow filled with sand makes a good bonfire base and you can move it wherever you want it.

Or if you like, you can make a permanent site by placing large stones in a circle and filling in the space with sand.

A good fire is the first "must" for successful outdoor cooking. Glowing coals are best to cook over. They're very hot and give even heat. You might like to have a portable charcoal grill. It makes a hot fire in a short time, and is easy to carry away from home.

Make Your Own Rack

It's convenient to have a rack for holding cooking utensils over the fire. You could make one yourself by bolting three large shelf brackets together at the ends to form a tripod.

Or just use a rack from an old stove or refrigerator and place it over the hot coals on rocks or on two green logs.

A combination stove and skillet can be made from a No. 10 can. You can fry, bacon and french toast on it, bacon and eggs, hamburgers, steaks, pancakes, and ham and eggs. Here's how to make it:

Cut a door about four inches square on one side at the open end. Use tin snips and wear heavy gloves. Next, use an oil can opener to cut about five triangular holes on the other side of the can near the top to make a draft.

Build Fire under Can

Build a tiny fire under the can, feed it with small sticks through the door, and cook your meal on top of it. Or instead of a regular fire, use a "buddy burner."

You can make this burner from a flat tin can such as a tuna can, a long piece of cardboard as wide as the can is high, and wax. The cardboard serves as a wick. Roll it up tightly, place it in the can, and pour the melted wax over it to within 1/4 inch of the top.

Let the wax harden. When you're ready to cook, light the wick in the center and place the No. 10 can over it. If you use this burner, omit the door at the bottom of the can, but make several air holes there with the can opener instead.

Meals on a Stick . . .

If you prefer to cook over an open fire, here are some snacks you can toast on a stick:

Place cubes of meat, slices of potato and onion on a stick. Cook over the fire until done. Try this with different meat and vegetable combinations.

Wrap a 1-inch cube of cheese in a slice of bacon. Cook it until the bacon is done and eat it between a roll or bread slices.

Make a small slit in a wiener. Place a sliver of cheese in the slit, wrap the wiener with bacon and cook it till the bacon is done. Serve it on a bun.

You can even have biscuits on a stick. Just shape biscuit dough around the end of a thick stick. Be sure the dough is an even layer and not too thick. Cook it slowly over hot coals with constant turning. Remove the stick by twisting it and fill the center of the biscuit with jam, cheese, or a meat mixture.

Make a sandwich of two graham crackers and a third of a small chocolate bar without nuts. Toast a marshmallow to a golden brown, put it into the sandwich and press the crackers gently together. Nutritionists call this picnic dessert "some-mores."

Tasty Meats Make Happy Outings

Outdoor enthusiasts will agree that the most satisfying picnic menu is the one including meat. Here are some meaty menus for outdoor dining which you'll enjoy using:

1. Meat loaf and pickle sandwiches, deviled eggs, cole slaw, lemonade or orangeade, brownies, toasted marshmallows.

2. Franks-in-buns with mustard and relish, potato salad, sweet pickles, hot or iced coffee, fresh fruit, cup cakes.

3. Sliced baked ham, hot baked beans, tomatoes stuffed with cottage cheese, fruit punch, layer cake.

Meat loaf is excellent picnic fare, since it can be cooked ahead of time and taken to the outing either hot or cold. If you like it warm simply wrap the meat loaf while still hot, first in waxed paper and then in newspaper.

Bake With Eggs

For an attractive loaf, bake the meat mixture with a row of hard cooked eggs buried in the center.

King of the picnic is the frankfurter. Franks are easy to pack and always cook neatly on a stick or grill. Some outdoor cooks like to wrap frankfurters with bacon, using toothpicks to secure it to the meat.

There always should be a good selection of toppers for franks such as pickle relish, catsup and mustard.

A steady rival of the frankfurter among grilled delights is the hamburger. Hamburger also can be easily toted to a picnic. A special trick used by hamburger lovers is this:

Stack Hamburgers

Shape patties from seasoned hamburger (1 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper and 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce per pound of meat). Stack hamburgers, using pieces of waxed paper a little larger than each to separate patties.

Pack a box, wrapping in waxed paper or aluminum foil.

For the impulsive picnicker, a cooked ham or a smoked picnic (pork shoulder) in the refrigerator comes in mighty handy. Many people like to take these cuts to the picnic spot for slicing. Then with some "fixings," sandwiches can be assembled on the spot.

If you make baked beans, be sure to wrap up the dish while hot using newspaper as an insulator. Potato salad is tastier if prepared the day in advance so that all flavors will have a chance to blend.

Control of Insects Adds to Picnic Fun Now Through Fall

(A) Newsfeatures

Terrace or backyard entertaining can be fun all through fall if insect pests are controlled.

The fly is probably the most objectionable insect in the country. Besides being a big nuisance, he is a danger as well. It is known that he is the carrier of more than 30 kinds of germs, and the medical profession strongly suspects that flies are carriers of polio.

Most pests can be controlled adequately by employing easy-to-use insecticides. Those in aerosol cans can be released merely by finger-tip pressure, and an average size room can be completely sprayed in six to eight seconds.

But directions on the can should be read. And while manufacturers claim that dogs and cats are no more susceptible to the poison in insecticides than humans, it is wise to remove pets as well as family from the room while spraying and for 15 minutes afterward.

Fish and birds are sensitive to insecticides and might be affected if left in the room.

Roaches, ants and silverfish can be controlled by a new residual insecticide containing chlordane and designed to be applied directly on surfaces to kill crawling insects.

If it is sprayed about a foot beyond the edges of the picnic blanket, terrace or porch, ant trouble should be controlled.

It also is a good idea when expecting company to use an air refresher. This will make the air pleasing and invigorating, eliminating cooking odors and tobacco smoke.

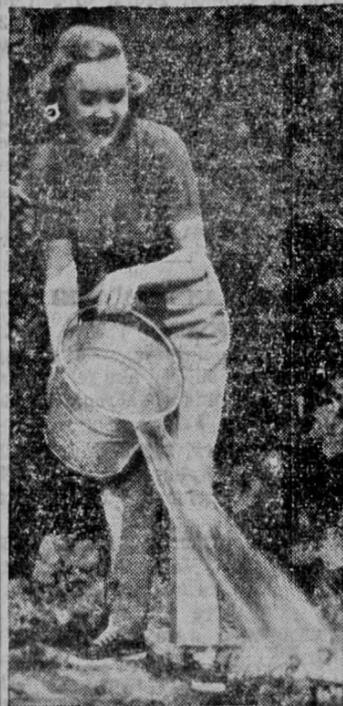

Spray baseboards, screens, window sills and insect hiding places in out-of-the-way corners near sinks, stoves and refrigerator.

These insecticides contain either pyrethrins or pyrethins supplemented with DDT.

TAKE SALT ALONG

You can have the convenience of salt in a shaker at picnics. Just cover the opening with paper before you screw on the top. Then the salt won't spill.

No Sparkling!

WIND-BLOWN SPARKS from smoldering picnic fires often cause destructive fires, so safety officials recommend keeping a steel pail filled with water near all open fires. The safe way to douse a fire with water is to stand at a safe distance from the flames.

USE FOOD COLORING

If you're making Lime Pie this summer you'll need a few drops of food coloring to make the pie a pretty green; fresh limes themselves do not impart the green color.

Dressed for Out-of-Doors

THE SAME FUN-LOVING LOOK you adored in summer togs is in the sporty look for fall. New, exciting flannel is marvelous in outdoorish "puddle jumpers" or regular length tomboy slacks with a coachman's vest that has adjustable side-tabs.

Neighbors Start Court Fight Over Land Line

Two Iowa City neighbors who have argued over a boundary line between their properties for several years, Friday took their dispute to the district court.

In a petition filed Friday Josephine and Clara Kutcher, sisters, of 211 N. Linn st., asked for an injunction against Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stinocher, 209 N. Linn st., to keep them from building a garage over the disputed property line.

The property line in question was established in 1891 when the Kutchers moved into the home. They claim that a fence separated the property at that time and was recognized as the legal boundary line.

The Kutchers charge that the Stinochers refused to recognize the fence as the property line and two days ago tore the fence down and destroyed some shrubbery on the side next to the Kutcher home. establish the fence line as the legal boundary.

In a further count, the Kutchers claim that the Stinochers have allowed the eaves on their house to deteriorate to such an extent that rain water runs off the roof and stands in the Kutcher yard.

West Coast Police Deny Investigation Of Villisca Case

TORRANCE CALIF. (AP) — Officials here said Friday they knew of no investigation underway in connection with the 39-year-old ax murders of eight persons at Villisca, Ia.

They said they could offer no help to R. John Swanson, county attorney at Red Oak, who said he had received information that a 71-year-old man had confessed the multiple murders.

Swanson said his information came from a private investigator, and he had written the Los Angeles county officials for information. His letter had not reached them Friday, officials said.

Swanson said there have been 15 previous confessions to the slayings, but none was ever verified. One was from a man who was serving a prison term at the time of the slayings.

Girls' Ad Backfires

COMPLETELY AGOG OVER REACTION to a newspaper ad they placed seeking a roommate, were Sybel Reedy (left) and Elizabeth Alves. They forgot to say they meant a woman. Since the ad appeared their phone has rung almost constantly with applications from men ranging in age from 20 to 84. They've decided now that they might be willing to accept a couple of male offers—on a permanent wedding basis, that is.

Davenport Youth Wins Nile Kinnick Scholarship

Merle Jensen, Davenport, has accepted a $500 Nile Kinnick scholarship at SUI President Virgil M. Hancher announced Friday.

Jensen was named alternate winner of the award in May, and has accepted the scholarship which will not be used by Thomas Shupe, the senate armed services and foreign relations committees on their two-months hearings would serve no useful purpose.

Clarion. Other Kinnick scholarship winners are Clyde Kitchen, Oskaloosa; Michael Korn, Iowa City; James Milani, Centerville; and Bill Wiman, Belle Plaine.

The Kinnick scholarships were established in 1945 by the Iowa State Junior of Commerce and named after Nile Kinnick, famed athlete at SUI who died during World War II.

They were made possible by contributions of alumni and friends of the university and friends of Kinnick, in memory of all SUI men who died in the war. Five are awarded each year.

Jensen was president of the student council at Davenport high school last year. He was also president of his junior and senior classes. He won nine letters in basketball, baseball and football. He was named all-state in both basketball and baseball and was a member of three state championship teams.

He was captain of the Davenport high school baseball team last year and co-captain of the basketball team. He also played American Legion baseball and was elected a mayor of Boy's State during his junior year.

All Suspects Freed In Colorado Killing

COLORADO SPRINGS, COLO. (AP)—All the original suspects in the robbery-shooting of Sgt. Martin A. Bursey, 20, of West Chazy, N. Y., have been released, police chief I. B. Bruce said here Friday. Bruce said the last of his original leads evaporated Friday when a suspect, who had been questioned earlier, was released following a lie detector test.

Sgt. Bursey was killed Tuesday with a .22 while driving an Iowa couple to the Broadmoor hotel. The robber took about $300 from Mr. and Mrs. Hal S. Chase of Des Moines, but they were not injured.

Ford Released As Polio Patient

Richard Ford, 24, 516 E. Benton st., has been released as a polio patient from University hospitals, it was reported Friday.

Two other persons have also been discharged, bringing to 9 the total active cases in the hospitals. They are Cornelius Lambright, 21, Hazelton, and Merle Maass, 33, Waterloo.

SPRY WARNS DARIERS

Des Moines, (AP) — State Secretary of agriculture Clyde L. Spry warned an estimated 130 grade-A pasteurized milk dairies Friday that they must meet new production standards or lose their grade-A label under a law passed by the last legislature.

Defeat 2nd Worst in History; Contest Draws Record Gate

CHICAGO (AP) — The invincible Cleveland Browns, champions of professional football, slaughtered the College All-Stars Friday night, 33-0, to administer the second worst defeat the Collegians ever suffered in the 18 year history of the series.

Though only 92,180 fans paid their way through the gate, their cash plus receipts from television and radio, made the net receipts $428,000, far surpassing the previous gate set up by the record crowd of 105,840 in 1947.

The previous high score was the Philadelphia Eagles' 38-0 triumph over the Collegians in 1949.

The All-Stars, seemingly disorganized and lacking anything that resembled a concerted attack, got into the Browns' territory only once in their 60 minutes of listless play. Less than six minutes remained in the game at the time. And it lasted for only one play, as they were promptly thrown back.

The Collegians, coached by Herman Hickman of Yale, were completely demoralized by the ruthless, efficient attack of the Browns, who have swept through five pro championship seasons with only six defeats. The Browns exhibited class, precision and poise as they scored in every period and gained momentum as the one-sided game progressed.

The dead-eye passing of Otto Graham and the slashing ball carrying of William "Dub" Jones at times left the All-Stars looking like a high school team.

The All-Stars, though boasting several running stars such as Arizona State's Whizzer White, Kyle Rote of SMU and Everett Grandelius, Michigan State, never could spring themselves loose.

The Collegians' passing also looked woeful against the sharp Browns secondary. Neither Bob Williams of Notre Dame nor Nebraska's Fran Nagle could connect and three of their throws were intercepted.

It was the passing of Graham that set up two touchdowns by Jones, and in the fourth period accounted for the final two Brown touchdowns—on a 14-yard toss to end Dante Lavelli, and an 8 yard screen pass to Emerson Cole.

The contest started slowly with Cleveland's only score in the first period being a safety when Williams flopped on a fumble by Rote, in the end zone. Williams was tackled by Cleveland's big negro end, Len Ford.

Starting with the second period, however, the Browns began to display a versatile running and passing attack which left the All-Stars running in circles.

Within two minutes of the second period, the Browns smashed 56 yards for a touchdown with Jones ramming across the three yard line.

Lou Groza, the place kick specialist of the Browns, who also booted a 14-yard field goal in the second period, added the first of his four extra points to give the pros a 9-0 lead.

Groza booted his field goal shortly before the first half ended, following smashes of 22 yards by big Marion Motley and 20 yards by Jones.

In the third period, the Browns rumbled 62 yards to a touchdown on 10 plays with Jones bulling across from the three yard line.

In the fourth period, the Browns made it, 26-0, in a 57-yard swoop in which the talented Graham threw three decisive passes including a 14-yard touchdown toss to Lavelli. Shortly thereafter the Browns pounced 33 yards for the games final score as Graham pitched a screen toss to Cole from eight yards out.

It was the tenth Pro victory desperate All-Stars made their best showing as a 15 yard pass from Nagle to Fordham's Allen Pfeifer carried the Collegians to the Browns' 45.

JCC Golf Final Today

DURHAM N. C. (AP) — Don Welch of Whitefish, Mont., and Doug Sanders of Cedartown, Ga., shot their way to the finals of the U.S. Junior Chamber of Commerce national junior golf championship tournament Friday. They'll meet for the title in 36-holes today.

Tribe Lose Lead, 2 Games

NEW YORK (AP) — Stubby Overmire, a complete failure as a Yankee in all of his previous efforts, came through Friday night when they had no other pitcher to do the job and put them back into a first place tie with Cleveland by defeating the Athletics, 3-2, on eight hits.

Overmire, forced into action because right-hander Allie Reynolds needed another day of rest for his ailing elbow, turned in his first complete game and was credited with his first Yankee victory since coming to them from the Browns last month.

The Yankees gave Overmire a lead with two runs in the first inning on a single by Joe Collins, a walk to Gil McDougald, and two more singles by Bobby Brown and Joe DiMaggio. Thereafter he was in little trouble.

The pesky Chicago White Sox jolted the Cleveland Indians with a double victory, belting Bob Feller for a 7-1 opening win and piling up a pair of three-run innings for an 8-3 nightcap decision.

The Sox thrilled a crowd of 30,081—which sent the Comiskey home attendance to a record 1,007,318 for the season—by the top-heavy twin killing and left the impression they were ready to cast off their slump of more than a month.

In the first game, Feller was socked for 10 hits and 7 runs in 7 innings as the Sox wrecked his bid for a 20th triumph.

Al Zarilla hammered a two-run homer in the second frame and Ray Coleman slammed for the circuit with two men aboard in the seventh. It was Coleman's first since coming to the Sox from the St. Louis Browns.

A three-run fourth inning sent the Sox ahead, 5-3, in the nightcap. What amounted to the game-winning blow was Jim Busby's No. 5 homer that scored Eddie Robinson ahead of him. Prior to that blow, Minnie Minozo had doubled, gone to third on Robinson's single and scored on Coleman's lng fly.

HR: Chi-Busby;

The Red Sox also closed in but had to go 12 innings to win their battle in Washington, 7-4. Two of the runs came on a homer by Rookie Fred Hatfield, his first in the majors.

N.Y. Grand Jury Indicts 3 Bradley Stars, 8 Gamblers

NEW YORK (AP) — A stubby Kansas City hoodlum was indicted Friday, accused of heading a gambling ring that bribed players on Bradley university's crack basketball team.

Three Bradley stars whom he allegedly bought for $100 to $500 a game were indicted with him, but pleaded innocent. They were all-American Gene (Squeaky) Melchiorre, William K. Mann and George M. Chiankas.

Seven other asserted fixers also were indicted on conspiracy and bribery counts as associates of the alleged ringleader, Joseph Benintende, 41-year-old bank robber with a long underworld record.

A nationwide hunt was launched for Benintende, described as "a known gunman and very dangerous."

Eight Bradley plays figured in the investigation. But one was not cited because there was no more than "fringe" evidence against him. Four others escaped prosecution in New York but may face investigation elsewhere.

5 Tie for Golf Lead At Sioux City with 67

SIoux CITY (AP)—Par took a tremendous beating in the $15,000 Sioux City Open tournament Friday and five golfers tied for the first-round lead with five-under-par 67's.

The PGA's leading money winner shot a 33-34 to tie four others late in the afternoon.

Tommy Bolt, Durham, N. C., Earl Stewart Jr., Dallas, Tex.; Dr. Cary Middlecoff, Memphis, Tenn., and Fred Haas Jr., New Orleans, previously posted 67's.

Breathing down the necks of the five leaders were nine golfers bunched at 68, and four more listed 69's.

Robert Leahy, Denison, Iowa, led the amateurs with a 69.

Skip Alexander, St. Petersburg, Fla., making his comeback in tournament golf here after being badly injured in a plane crash shortly after the tournament last year, remained the sentimental favorite of the crowd. He shot a 69, limping around the course on his burn scarred legs.

Was About to Surrender — Killer Says

CHICAGO (AP) — Harry Williams, 20, condemned murderer who killed a guard while escaping from the county jail death row, said Friday he was en route to surrender an answer to his mother's plea when he was arrested.

Officers seized Williams last night as he read a Bible on the streetcar.

Williams was scheduled to die in the electric chair Sept. 14 for the murder of a woman, but his attorney sought a stay of execution.

Lawyer George Leighton asked a stay until January. His motion was filed with the state supreme court, which will convene Sept. 10.

Nearly 1,000 police with shoot to kill orders had scoured the city two days for Williams after he climbed up a ventilating shaft from a cell, bludgeoned a guard in a tower and slid over the wall on a rope made of bedsheets.

Thursday his mother issued an appeal to him to give himself up and "stop this killing."

Williams said he heard the plea on the radio and read it in newspapers.

"I didn't want to do anything more to hurt my mother," he said. "I decided to give myself up."

He was asked if he was sorry he killed the guard.

"I'm sorry for anyone who loses his life," Williams answered.

Luther Group Votes Board Membership To Tipton Pastor

The Rev. Raymond Tiemeyer, pastor of Trinity Lutheran church at Tipton, was elected Friday one of four board members of the Luther League of America.

The other three members-at-large elected Friday were Garfield Raymond, Waterloo, Ontario, Canada; Neva White, West Point, Nebr., and Robert Beckstrom, Newport Beach, Calif.

The Rev. Mr. Tiemeyer has been chairman of the 56th annual convention which closed Friday.

Delegates voted to hold their 1953 convention on the campus of Michigan State college at East Lansing, Mich.

Officials said they hope to have 2,000 delegates on hand for that gathering. The Iowa City convention attracted 1,472, a record number for a Luther League convention.

The Rev. George F. Harkins, assistant to the president of the United Lutheran Church in America, was the speaker at the closing session of the convention Friday.

He also officiated at an installation service for three members of the national staff of the Luther league.

Those installed were Mary Helen Smith, Sunbury, Pa., associate secretary; the Rev. John M. Mangum, Telford, Pa., associate secretary, and the Rev. Leslie Conrad, Philadelphia, executive secretary.

UN Gets $2 Million

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — The United States turned over to the UN Friday a check for $2 million.

It was an advance on the American pledge of $12,750,000 for the expanded technical assistance program for 1951. The U.S. has paid a total of $10 million on the pledge.

Famed Polio Nurse Arrives In U.S. Enroute to Denmark

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sister Elizabeth Kenny, famed Australian nurse, gave herself two more years to live, she said Friday, but will continue her life's work in treating polio until the end.

The Australian nurse arrived by Pan-American clipper from Sydney and confirmed reports she was suffering from Parkinson's disease for which there is no cure.

Sister Kenny frankly admitted she was "slowly fading away" from the ravages of the ailment and is losing the use of her right arm and leg.

"I still have a lot of work to do and will go on with it as if nothing affected me," the 65-year-old nurse said.

She was met at the airport by film star Rosalind Russell. The pair became close friends several years ago when Miss Russell portrayed Sister Kenny in a film.

Sister Kenny said she will be Miss Russell's house guest for the next 10 days before proceeding to Copenhagen for an international polio conference. On her return from Copenhagen she will go to Minneapolis. There she will turn over to an associate, Dr. John Pohl, the complete manuscript of her polio research for publication.

"I hope that in the light of my research the Public Health service will some day approve my methods," she said.

Sister Kenny has been campaigning for nearly a decade to get the U.S. Public Health service to accept her theories and practices in the treatment of the disease which she has been fighting for 40 years.

House Axes Millions From European Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — After cutting an extra $350 million from European economic aid funds, the house passed and sent to the senate tonight a $7,498,750,000 foreign-aid bill designed to help friendly nations resist the advances of Communism.

There were no cuts in military funds allotted to the non-Communist nations the bill is intended to aid.

The reduction in European aid money came as a last-minute setback for administration forces which, until then, had staved off all attempts to trim the allotments.

AWOL Marine — Goes Back Minus 1 Wife

TOWSON, MD. (AP) — The law sent Pvt. Peter T. Fleming back to the marines Friday, minus one of his wives.

Still standing by him was pretty Priscilla Bunge Fleming of Suitland, Md., who had unwittingly financed his bigamous marriage to another woman. Her father disowned her. She may lose the fortune she was in line to inherit.

Judge J. Howard Murray unfolded the story in Baltimore county circuit court after Fleming pleaded guilty to bigamy and conferred in private with the judge and the two Mrs. Flemings.

First Marriage
The handsome 31-year-old service man from New York was married in Jan., 1948, in Washington to Priscilla S. Bunge and lived in Suitland. Last October he was ordered to duty as a marine reserve at Camp Lejeune, N.C.

In March he went AWOL from the marine corps and at or near Camp Lee, Va., met attractive 29-year-old Elizabeth Meredith Reid of Baltimore.

Fleming married Elizabeth Reid June 30 in a fashionable little church amid the pretentious homes of the Baltimore county Hunt club set.

Joint Checking Account
Fleming wrote a check to finance the honeymoon in Philadelphia and the Pennsylvania poconos. The check was on a joint account Fleming had with Priscilla. There was some question about it. Priscilla made it good. She had recently received a settlement from her mother's estate.

Then Priscilla read about a marriage license being issued here to Fleming and Elizabeth. She did some checking and took a room across the street from the Baltimore apartment where they were scheduled to live after their wedding trip. When they returned, she called in the police.

Judge Murray convicted Fleming, put him on probation for five years and turned him over to the marine corps to face the AWOL charge.

Meat Institute Rebuffs DiSalle Beef Control

CHICAGO (AP) — The American Meat institute (AMI) said Friday that federal efforts to control a black market in beef won't work any better now than they did in the OPA days of 1945 and 1946.

It warned that as black markets grow, legitimate beef operations become more difficult and there is likely to be less meat in "normal" channels.

Price Stabilizer Michael V. DiSalle said in Washington that the office of price stabilization is going to crack down on violators of cattle price ceilings.

"Mr. DiSalle's announcement," the AMI said, "is reminiscent of the similar promises of the OPA in 1945 and 1946, when that agency almost daily amended regulations to try to make them work. They did not work then any more than they can work now."

The AMI said it has been broadcasting for months that beef has been moving into illegitimate channels. It said the diversion began late in January and began getting worse when the price rollback was imposed in June.

Meanwhile, Nathan Kinnally, district OPS enforcement director here, said his division was "stepping up" investigation of violators and was going after the "big violators."

Kinnally declined specific figures on violations noted in this livestock and meat-packing center, but listed several methods of dodging the law which investigators have uncovered.

Some slaughterers, he said, have found a way to leave the metal hooks in beef carcasses when they are weighed, adding eight or 10 pounds. Ceiling prices, in part, depended upon the dressed out weight on an animal.

Kinnally said others are "just plain" paying too high prices at the livestock yards. But these will show up in their monthly accounting, he said.

Poland Will Attend Jap Peace Treaty

WASHINGTON (AP) — Poland has joined the Soviet Union in accepting an American invitation to attend the Japanese peace conference at San Francisco beginning Sept. 4, it was disclosed Friday.

State department officials said the Polish government communicated its acceptance Thursday to the American Embassy in Warsaw. The state department was informed of the action Friday by telegram.

Czechoslovakia is the only Communist nation invited to the peace conference which has not yet accepted. Poland's decision, however, apparently assured eventual acceptance by the Czech government.

The Poles did not list their delegates, but further information on this was promised "later," officials said. The Russians are sending 33 persons to the San Francisco conference.

American officials still hope the peace conference can be concluded Sept. 8. The presence of the Iron Curtain nations, however, promises additional long speeches and parliamentary maneuvering that might send the peace parley into extra days.
