Reds Call Off Talks; UN Claims 'Frameup'

U.S. to Okay 2c per Pound Beef Increase

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The government disclosed Wednesday night it expects to let retail beef price ceilings increase by up to two cents a pound.

Officials of the office of price stabilization said ceilings will have to be boosted under provisions of the new defense production act to preserve the meat industry's profit position on beef.

They said prices for cattle hides are down 25 per cent below ceiling levels, and tallow is down 33 per cent — so that wholesale and retail beef prices must be hiked to return the industry to a normal profit level guaranteed by the new law.

Before the new law went into effect Price Stabilizer Michael V. DiSalle had planned a ten cent a pound cut in retail beef prices. That was under a series of planned rollbacks which have been banned by the new law.

Earlier Wednesday, the White House made it clear President Truman has decided to demand far stronger economic controls from congress.

The White House announced that Mr. Truman is completing a special message to the senate and house on the subject, and that he hopes to send it to the Capitol before the week is out.

Details of the message have not been disclosed, but its theme is expected to be that present laws controlling prices and credit are too feeble to resist inflation.

DeArmond Funeral Is Set for Today

Services for Ralph R. DeArmond Jr., 16, 332½ S. Dubuque st., who was crushed to death in an accident at the River Products Co. quarry two miles north of Iowa City Tuesday, have been set for 2:30 p.m. today at Beckman's.

The Rev. Robert R. Sanks of the First Methodist church will officiate at the services and burial will be in Memory Gardens cemetery.

Ralph was killed when a truck he was directing backed into him, crushing him against a stone building at the quarry. Charles Newmire, Iowa City, driver of the truck, told Albert J. Murphy, Johnson county sheriff, he did not know he had hit the boy until he heard him cry out.

Ralph's father, Ralph Sr., is the superintendent at the quarry.

A student at Iowa City high school, the youth is survived by his parents, and two sisters, Yvonne and Elayne. The maternal grandmother, Mrs. Zelpha Brown, Dallas Center, also survives.

William Remington
Gets New Trial

Circuit Court Grants Remington Re-Trial In Perjury Case

NEW YORK, (AP) — A new trial was ordered Wednesday for William Remington, former government economist convicted of perjury in denying he ever was a member of the Communist party.

The U.S. circuit court of appeals reversed his conviction in a unanimous decision that held the trial court erred in its charge to the jury.

The higher court upheld a defense contention that the trial court's definition of membership in the Communist party was "too vague and indefinite."

U.S. Attorney Irving H. Saypol, who prosecuted Remington, said the reversal was being studied and a decision would be made quickly whether to seek a review by the U.S. supreme court.

"Remington certainly will be retired," Saypol said.

A jury deliberated only four hours and 25 minutes before it returned its verdict of guilty last Feb. 7.

Federal Judge Gregory F. Noonan imposed the maximum sentence of five years in prison and a $2,000 fine. Remington, 33, Dartmouth college honor graduate, has been free on $7,000 bail pending action on his appeal.

Truman Foes Blocking Anti-Red Fight: Brannan

COON RAPIDS, IA. (AP) — Agriculture Secretary Charles F. Brannan in a fighting speech Wednesday accused administration foes of blocking the nation's effort to stop Communism by "pointing accusing fingers at honorable citizens and being afraid our economy is unable to meet the competition of the Soviet Union."

Weather

Cloudy and warmer today. Friday occasional showers and warmer. High today, 79; low, 60. High Wednesday, 74; low, 50.

Oil Talks Fail; British May Occupy Abadan

TEHRAN, (AP) — British-Iranian oil talks, fostered by American Envoy Averall Harriman and carefully nursed through 18 days of ups and downs, collapsed in a final disagreement Wednesday.

Premier Mohammed Mossadegh announced after a 90-minute meeting with British Cabinet Minister Richard Stokes that "we reached no agreement with respect to British management" of the nationalized oil industry.

Stokes, fully expecting the breakdown, already had announced he is flying back to London early today, leaving this neighbor of Russia to its own chaotic oil affairs.

The British cabinet took "the necessary decisions" Wednesday in anticipation of the break, official London sources said.

The decisions, still secret, presumably answered the big question: Will British forces occupy Abadan, the Iranian oil refining center? The government announced last month its forces would occupy Abadan under certain circumstances — which were not defined.

British sources said Mossadegh did not give an inch in the long negotiations, and stoutly held to the letter of the nine-point law canceling Britain's 60-year oil concession and nationalizing the Anglo-Iranian Oil company, more than half owned by the British government.

Hurricane Hits Tampico; Kills 3

TAMPICO, Mexico, (AP) — A tropical hurricane howled out of the Gulf of Mexico and ripped into the coast just north of here Wednesday, killing at least three persons and injuring hundreds more in this oil port city.

The tail of the 130-mile-an-hour storm lashed Tampico as the center struck 30 miles north of the city.

Gusts recorded as high as 158 miles per hour — 83 miles per hour above hurricane force — tossed palm trees, roof tops, fence posts and other debris through this city of 90,000.

Compania Mexicana De Aviacion, a Pan-American airways affiliate, said its instruments at the Tampico airport broke down after recording the 158-mile-an-hour winds — highest ever registered in this country.

The Tampico deaths brought the total of the week-old storm to at least 154 dead. At least 148 died in Jamaica, three here, two in the churning waters of the gulf and one off the Yucatan peninsula.

Breakdown Follows Reds Charge of UN Bombing

TOKYO, (THURSDAY) (AP) — The Reds called off the turbulent Kaesong truce talks today "from now on" after charging that a U.S. plane dropped bombs near quarters of the Red truce delegates last night.

Senate Committee Cuts $1 Billion From Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON, (AP) — Two senate committees followed the lead of the house Wednesday and voted to slash President Truman's foreign aid program by $1,001,000,000.

Sen. Tom Connally (D-Tex.) reported the cut was agreed upon at a joint meeting of the foreign relations and armed services committees after half a dozen votes. Connally presided at the closed session.

The speed with which the committees acted left the administration little hope that it would get the $8.5 billion originally requested by Mr. Truman for military and economic aid to countries allied with the United States against Communism.

Last week a coalition of Republicans and southern Democrats in the house lopped $1,001,250,000 off the bill, approving a $7,498,750,000 program.

Most senators figured the committees' action would result in a deeper cut in military funds than the house voted and a lighter cut in economic funds.

U.S. Can't Ask MacArthur to Jap Peace Conference

WASHINGTON, (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Acheson said Wednesday the United States cannot invite Gen. Douglas MacArthur to address the Japanese peace conference at San Francisco without the agreement of other nations attending the historic session.

"Obviously the U.S. is not in a position to issue an invitation on behalf of the conference," Acheson said in a statement.

Official sources could not predict Wednesday whether the U.S. would suggest such an invitation at San Francisco, but there are indications MacArthur would be invited by the conference if the nations agree quickly on the invitation.

Ambassador John Foster Dulles, chief architect of the peace treaty, has consulted with MacArthur on possibilities of his taking part in the meeting "in a suitable way."

But in a statement issued Tuesday MacArthur noted that Dulles pointed out no invitation was issued. The statement said MacArthur considered "a direct invitation by the peace conference itself" the only way he could make an "appropriate appearance."

Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway's headquarters announced the Red decision and said heatedly "the whole incident is a frameup staged from first to last."

A Red liaison officer, reading from notes which appeared to have been prepared well in advance, told Allied liaison representatives at Kaesong shortly after midnight that the talks were "off from now on."

That was only a few hours after the Reds charged that an Allied plane dropped jellied gasoline and explosive bombs on Red quarters near Kaesong.

No UN Aircraft Reported
Ridgway's headquarters said a preliminary report from the U.S. Fifth air force indicated no UN aircraft were in the Kaesong area during last night. None flew off course, the report said.

But Fifth air force reported that an unidentified plane was spotted by radar west of Kaesong at 9:30 p.m. last night (5:30 a.m. CST), Wednesday.

Ridgway's announcement of the Red decision closely followed an angry broadcast by Peiping purporting to give details of the alleged bombing as obtained from a Kaesong "dispatch."

Damages General's Jeep
The Red liaison group at Kaesong charged that the alleged air attack damaged the jeep of North Korean Gen. Nam Il, the poker-faced chief Red negotiator.

The Red representatives submitted two hits of marble-sized metal which they said struck the jeep.

Ridgway's statement said the Allied liaison officers, Col. James Murray and Col. Andrew J. Kinney, were "escorted within 100 yards of the United Nations command delegation and there were shown a crumpled piece of metal."

The Red Colonel Chang asserted this was a napalm (jellied gasoline) bomb.

The report of Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy chief Allied negotiator, to Ridgway added:

No Bomb Crater
"There was no bomb crater near and no scorched earth but about 25 yards away there was a minor depression in the earth about 24

It's a Gas — Not Gold Rush Now That Has the Northwest Buzzing

By RICHARD H. SYRING
Central Press Correspondent

VANCOUVER, B. C.—Here in this westernmost province of Canada the big topic these days is gas—natural gas.

Not since the days of the gold rush in the Yukon have British Columbians been so excited about the potential riches — business-wise that is—that natural resources would bring them. The fever also is shared by both the states of Washington and Oregon, below the international border.

All three are looking longingly at the natural gas fields in northern British Columbia and in the nearby province of Alberta. To the trio, natural gas means more power; more power means more industries.

At the moment, British Columbia, Washington and Oregon probably represent the largest populated area in North America without natural gas. The three have a population of 5,085,969, or a 28.4 per cent gain in the past 10 years. That's growing much faster than any of the other states. The best average they could show is 14.5 per cent.

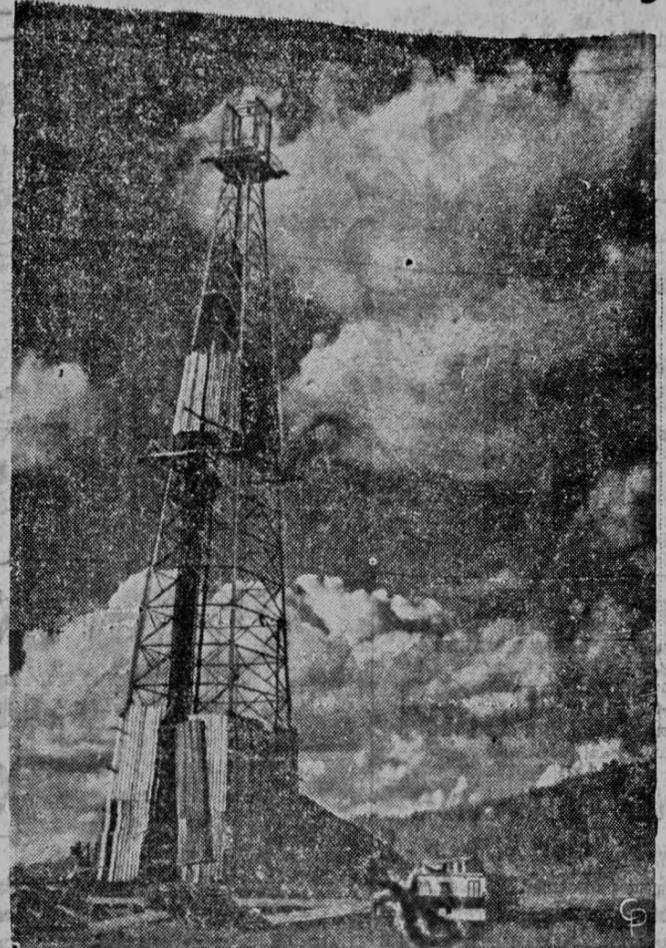

Power supplies in Oregon and Washington haven't kept pace with the population growth. So it's to be the ever-expanding gas fields that everybody is looking. A natural gas pipeline would solve their troubles in a hurry, they believe.

Some time soon, the Alberta government is expected to give the greenlight to one of two large companies wanting to lay a pipeline to this area. To date, the government has insisted that the proven supplies are inadequate.

However, hardly a day goes by that one of the scores of drilling companies doesn't bring in an oil and gas gusher. That means Alberta reserves are continually getting larger. Meanwhile, natural gas can come from wells even closer to home.

Some 400 miles from here is the vast Peace river country, which extends across the British Columbia-Alberta border. There, the hunt for natural gas is taking on all fervor of a gold stampede. Pacific Petroleum Ltd. has drilled five wells. Norman Whitall, board chairman, believes that once adequate reserves are established, a line can be laid in 15 months.

J. G. Gorsoe, executive vice president of the British American Oil company, Ltd., says wells being drilled by British American Oil company and Shell Oil company "may be among the biggest gas producers in North America." There already is ample proof that this might be so. A few miles away, Hudson's Bay Oil and Gas company's Union North Tangent No. 1 spewed gas at the rate of 25

MANY FARMS near Edmonton, Alberta, now sprout gas derricks like this one.

Science's Mighty 'Milk Can'

Klystron-Electron Speeding Gun Used for Naval Atom Research

STANFORD RESEARCHER inserts cathode ray into electron gun that fires six billion electrons a second down tube.

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, CALIF.—Any plumber would delight to work on a copper tube devised by Stanford physicists.

It is a complicated sort of thing. Electrons fly through this tube with a speed approaching light's velocity. During coming months this plumber's nightmare will kick out a billion electron volts of atom-smashing energy.

Electrons don't flow down the tube in a steady stream. Rather, they fly in bunches. They roll against an objective like waves upon a beach. They gather both speed and energy as they shoot along the 220-foot-long tube.

At the start, an electron gun turns loose about 100,000,000 particles 60 times a second. They leap from the barrier when 80,000 volts of electricity strike the nickle button of a cathode. Almost at the jump, the electrons are traveling 180,000 miles a second.

However, that is not fast enough for the Stanford physicists, who are working under an office of naval research contract. So they have devised some potent trickery to speed them along as they go.

The Klystron looks something like a milk can, and is about as big. Built largely of copper, it includes a large glass cathode big as a tomato can. Through scientific legerdemain, the tube breaks the electron stream it produces into bunches that pulse out to the electron gun 60 times a second. This becomes the power that actuates the gun that feeds the tube.

The tube contains a hole, like all tubes, but it's no ordinary hole. Were you to look inside, you would see, spaced precisely 1.034 inches apart, a series of accurately machined copper disks. And through each disk would be cut a hole exactly eight-tenths of an inch in diameter.

More trickery here. The disks control the velocity of the wave of energy flowing outward, and also the velocity of the clumped ride the crest of the wave, and so approach the maximum velocity man ever will attain, light's speed.

It's the rifle-barrel shot that distinguishes this linear accelerator, as it's called, from the other big atom smashers. It's a hundred times more potent than any similar machine.

How do you see an electron as it flashes past 186,000 miles a second? Answer: no one ever has seen an electron, under any circumstances.

Again, the Stanford group has turned to another brand of scientific trickery to observe the jolts. They bend them with magnets to check their force. More important, using what's called a scintillation counter, they pick up minute flashes as the bunches zip through certain chemicals, as terphenyl in toluol or benzene with certain chemicals added.

The scintillation makes an electrical signal that can be measured through oscillograph recordings which reveal how many particles pass at one moment. The pictures split time into a billionth of a second. During that incredibly short period a scintillation is born and dies.

Ultimately the slender tube will be stretched longer than 220 feet. Then the experts expect to derive more than a billion-volt bombardment of various materials. This will enable them to create mesons, the glue that sticks the universe together.

Midwest Demo Leaders Open Big Pow-wow

FRENCH LICK, IND. (AP) — Democratic party leaders from 15 mid-western states open a three-day conference today to ponder ways of making political gains in the 1952 election.

Four of the seven Democratic governors in these states, and a guest governor from Kentucky, will participate in a program to be highlighted with speeches by Vice-President Alben W. Barkley, Price Stabilizer Michael V. DiSalle and Secretary of the Navy Dan Kimball.

Grass-roots and top-echelon party workers will concentrate on "practical politics workshops" scheduled for two half-days during the conference.

They hope they will get some good ideas to take home on how to dump Republicans from congress and governor chairs next year.

The 15 states in the conference, meeting at the swank French Lick Springs Hotel, are Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, North Dakota, Ohio, Oklahoma, South Dakota, Wisconsin and Wyoming.

Eight of these states now have Republican governors. Democrats also hold only 10 of the 30 senate seats of the states and are outnumbered 97 to 43 in the house of representatives.

Speakers at the workshops will include Richard R. Nacy, executive director of the Missouri state committee; Pierce Wood, president of the Young Democratic clubs of Ohio; Darrell Smith, assistant director of the national CIO political action committee; Rep. Michael J. Kirwan of Ohio; William R. Rivkin of the Chicago Democratic committee; Mrs. Florence Lynch, national committee-woman from Iowa, and W. Neale Roach, assistant treasurer of the national committee.

In addition, Mrs. India Edwards, vice-chairman of the national committee, will speak to women workers and other addresses will be given by George Leary, executive assistant to national chairman William Boyle, and Victor Harding, congressional campaign

Who would import the gas into Oregon and Washington, where gas now is manufactured from oil? Two leading contenders are the Westcoast Transmission company, Ltd., and the Northwest Natural Gas company. Both are adequately financed and only waiting to be chosen. Either line would cost more than $100 million.

Westcoast proposes a 700-mile line from the Pouce Coupe field in the Peace river area. The Northwest Natural Gas company would like to bring a line from southern Alberta over the international border at Kingsgate, B.C., to Spokane, Wash., and then across Washington to Monroe, where it would branch toward Vancouver and to Portland and Seattle. This line would be only 585 miles.

Once the gas comes to British Columbia and Washington and Oregon everybody's convinced new industries will follow. More important, it will allow more scarce hydro-electric power to go to the Northwest's big aluminum plants. Before 1939, not a pound of aluminum was produced in either state. Now the area turns out nearly five per cent of the nation's pig aluminum.

Daily Stretching Keeps You Trim, Says Dancer

Written Exclusively for AP Newsfeatures By VERA-ELLEN

At 16 I was only four feet, six inches tall and weighed 76 pounds. I decided if I was going to make good on Broadway, I would have to add a few inches. So I devised a series of stretching exercises.

I started growing again. I grew until I was five feet, four and a half inches and 111 pounds. Broadway, where I had once been considered almost a midget, beckoned.

I still practice the exercises, even though I have long since stopped growing.

The important thing about them is that you have to stretch, reach and strain until it hurts. It's a waste of time just to go through the motions.

A little exercise daily is far better than a furious workout once a week. You will find your skin fits your body better. The afterglow perks up your brain.

Fifteen minutes a day should leave you limber and relaxed, but not spent. What will you get for your labor? Well, if you exercise properly, it should make your posture more erect, square your shoulders, flatten your stomach, and slim your hips. It will also help you achieve poise and grace.

You should try and get some outdoor exercise once a week, too. And if you are in an office or a house all day, try and take a walk in the evening.

Here are some of the stretching exercises that helped me:

1. Stand erect, arms overhead, and reach for the ceiling. First stretch with one arm, then with the other, then with both together. Be sure the rest of the body stretches, too—from toes to fingertips.

2. Lie stomach down on the floor. Slowly arch the back, raising the legs, heads and arms from the floor. When you're in half-moon position, rock back and forth. Remember to stretch. Point the toes.

3. Stand flat-footed with knees unbent. Bend forward at waist and try to place the palms of your hands on the floor. Don't worry if you can't make it. It's the stretching that counts, not how far down you go.

4. Stand legs apart, arms overhead, and bend slowly sideways as far as you can. Come erect, bend to the other side, up, bend backward and up. Keep back arched, knees straight — and stretch.

5. Lie flat on your back on the floor, arms overhead. Slowly stretch one arm and the opposite leg. Repeat with other arm and leg.

6. Lie on your back in front of a heavy chair. Grip chair with hands to anchor shoulders, then stiffen legs and slowly raise them a foot or so off the floor. Slowly lower them and repeat until tired.

7. Stand flat-footed, resting one hand on a chair for balance. Slowly raise one leg, keeping it straight, until it is horizontal. Hold it steady for a few seconds, then lower it. Repeat with other leg.

8. Find a bar high enough so you can hang from it with feet clear of the floor. Grasp it and swing the body from side to side or back and forth until you tire.

Chicken with Rice Makes 1-Dish Meal

ALMOND CHICKEN WITH RICE makes an attractive dish, is easily served to a crowd. Included in the ingredients are mushrooms, celery, bamboo shoots and water chestnuts.

Chinese Chicken Almond with Rice makes an attractive "main-dish meal" and is easily served to a crowd.

Fresh or canned mushrooms may be used. Wash fresh mushrooms thoroughly, slice and broil them in butter or margarine before adding to chicken mixture.

Almond Chicken with Rice

- 1 cup uncooked rice
- 1/2 cup sliced mushrooms
- 1/2 cup almonds, blanched
- 3 tablespoons salad oil, to be used a tablespoon at a time

Put 1 cup uncooked rice, 2 cups cold water and 1 teaspoon salt in a two-quart saucepan. Cover tightly. Bring to a boil, reduce heat and steam for 14 minutes or until water is absorbed. Remove lid, permit rice to steam dry.

Brown almonds in 1 tablespoon oil. Set aside. With tablefork, mash garlic into salt in skillet. Add 1 tablespoon oil, chicken. Brown lightly. Add 1 tablespoon oil, bamboo shoots and mushrooms. Brown lightly. Add liquid drained from canned bamboo shoots and water chestnuts. Cover tightly. Cook over low heat 5 minutes. Add water chestnuts, celery, and 1/2 of almonds. Just heat through. Celery and chestnuts should remain crisp.

Suede, Calfskin for Fall

TRIPLE STAR PUMP, shooting arrows of contrast on slim titian suede, a new looking dressmaker pump for fall, is shown either with black satin touches or textured leather.

SUITS AND THE NEW poody textured woolens call for smooth handsome calf. Shown is a series in polished calfskin in the gingery color, titian.

High Riding Shoes Graceful, Combine Leather with Fabric

Shoes are riding high this fall. The mere slip of a shell pump now has a high-in-front look and makes for the season's smartest looking new shoe, according to the National Shoe institute.

Needless to say, it's a wonderful suit shoe, and gives the foot added support over the more open shoe. Best news is the way the shoe adapts itself to exciting leather and leather-and-fabric combinations.

Almost every well-dressed woman has either a charcoal gray flannel suit on her autumn calendar—or one in the yarn-dye browns. Her shoe choice will no doubt be a high-riding pump in black or brown suede or calf, alone or in combination, pertly tied with little grosgrain front bows.

Or if she really wants a match mate for her suit, she'll pick her pump in flannel, too—gray flannel, for instance, combined with highly polished black calf.

An important pointer about the new high-riding pumps is that they offer today's silhouette-conscious woman a high shoe that's really graceful. In some of the shoes, the high front section stands away from the foot like a piquant stand-up flap.

In others, the shoe is cut out beneath the lacing, offering a delicate high-low effect.

The house of Palter DeLiso does a new gingery color called Titian as the contrast for the season's clothes. It makes a wonderful accent for gray flannels and the patterned tweeds of the sports market, when executed in polished dressmaker calf.

Translated into suede, and combined with a touch of black, it is really beautiful with the season's dressy clothes.

Everywhere in the fashion world is the talk of gingery brown. De Liso uses it both in clean neat calfskin for tweeds and flannels and in suede with black.

Rescue Work Stressed By Civil Defense Official

"We must organize, equip and train an entirely new service for civil defense rescue work," Eugene Fields, technical consultant for the federal civil defense administration, told members of the civil defense training course at SUI Wednesday.

The course is being conducted at SUI this week to prepare civil defense leaders to set up training programs in their own localities. More than 40 persons are attending the sessions.

Fields recommended that cities of more than 100,000 population will need one rescue squad for each 10,000 persons. Rescue squads should be organized into three teams, each composed of eight men, he said.

Smaller communities, he said, will need similar rescue teams in about the same ratio to population. Their function, however, will be chiefly to lend mobile support to the larger areas in case of a bombing attack, he added.

Fields pointed out that building trades workers will form the manpower reservoir for recruitment of rescue teams.

"It will be necessary under present budget limitations to recruit equipment as well as men for the rescue teams," Fields explained.

He called for the formation of teams consisting of men between the ages of 30 and 50. They must be old enough to remain home in case of war, he said, and young enough to stand the strenuous labor of rescue work.

Fields emphasized that America's greatest weapon is its tremendous capacity to produce, and an enemy would attempt to destroy this capacity in the initial attack.

"The job of civil defense," he declared, is to prepare an army of civilians to help cities recover production facilities as rapidly as possible.

Rescue teams would probably be called upon to release up to 20,000 trapped victims if a community of 250,000 were to suffer a bombing attack, Fields said. He based this estimate on experience of England and Germany during the last war.

"Larger centers which are attacked will require immediate aid from the surrounding areas," Fields said. Such aid should be mobilized and ready to move into action at once, Fields added.

He insisted that there is extreme urgency concerning defense measures. The one bright spot in the whole picture, he said, is that due to the development of an efficient civil defense machine, we may cause an enemy to refrain from making an attack.

SUI Theme at Fair: University Serves Every Iowa Family

"Your University Serves Every Iowa Family" will be the theme of the SUI exhibit at the state fair in Des Moines, Saturday, Aug. 25, through Sept. 3.

The exhibit was planned by a university committee and will be operated by the extension division. According to Dean Bruce E. Mahan of the extension division, the display will show how SUI serves the citizens of Iowa, and will include a relief model of the campus, a large map of the state and life-size cutouts of typical Iowa families.

In addition, three-dimensional pictures of the campus will be shown by means of an automatic projector devised by Jim Kent, university staff photographer. A picture series showing the work of the speech clinic here will also be displayed.

The exhibit, which will be in the Education building, will be under the supervision of Leg Cochran, executive assistant in the extension division. The planning and art work were done by Dale Ballantyne of the division's graphics section.

SUI staff members who will participate in the exhibit include Dean Mahan, Cochran, Ballantyne, John Hedges, Sherwood Strickland, and Cletus Hogan all of the extension division; Max Elder, Gordon Strayer and Ken Donelson of the information service; Bob Noble, alumni service, and Dr. Roland Rooks, professor of hygiene and preventive medicine.

Maxim Keeps Light Heavy Title by Decisioning Murphy

The Champ Scores with a Right
Maxim Shows the Skeptics

Red-haired Murphy fought the last half of the 15-round bout with his right eye completely closed as a result of Maxim's continual pounding with left jabs and left hooks to that optic.

Maxim, a 12-5 underdog, surprised fans and experts by the manner in which he handled the knockout specialist from San Diego, Calif. Joey of Cleveland was supposed to have been practically "washed up" before his first defense of the 175-pound crown.

Maxim, scaling 173½ pounds, was a far different performer from the dull palooka who had been trounced soundly by heavyweight Ezzard Charles at Chicago on Memorial day. Maxim was "hog fat" at 181½ for Charles.

Wednesday he was cool and effective in nearly every round. He had plenty of snap in the closing sessions, whereas it seemed that highly touted Murphy might succumb to the pace and to Maxim's punches. It was the first time Murphy ever had fought 15 rounds.

Challenger Bob weighed 174½ just one pound more than the champion.

The crowd let loose with a thunderous roar midway when the reckless, aggressive Murphy caught the back pedalling 29-year-old title holder with a terrific left hook to the body.

Joey reeled seven feet back to the ropes and looked like he was in trouble. Blood trickled from the champ's nose. But he grasped Murphy and held on. Murphy's big chance and his only major one of the bout was gone.

When the 15th was over there was no doubt as to what the decision would be.

Referee Ruby Goldstein scored it 10-3-2; both judges had it 10-5.

Steeler Passes Beat Yanks, 21-17

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Three touchdown passes gave the Pittsburgh Steelers a 21-17 win over the New York Yanks in a National football league exhibition game Wednesday night in Forbes field.

After Nate Johnson placekicked the Yanks into a 3-0 lead early in the second period, Joe Geri threw two forward passes to Elbi Nickel for Steeler touchdowns. The first came 21 seconds after the Yank score. It was good for 69 yards, the other 30 yards.

The third aerial counter was a nine-yard southpaw jump pass into the end-zone, Lynn Chandois to Joe Gasparella, in the third quarter.

The Yanks struck back with two touchdowns in the closing period. One came when George Edwards fell on Chandois' fumble on the Steeler five and George Taliferro and Sherman Howard took it over in two plays. For the second, the Yanks marched 65 yards in 10 plays, getting the last yards on a pass from Johnny Rauch to Zollie Toth.

Giles Confirms He's Candidate for Baseball Commissionership

NEW YORK (AP)—Warren Giles, president of the Cincinnati Reds, confirmed Wednesday that he is a candidate for the post of baseball commissioner.

Asked to comment on reports that he had withdrawn his candidacy in favor of Gov. Frank Lausche of Ohio, the Reds' executive declared:

"There is nothing to it. I have not withdrawn from the baseball commissionership."

This was the first word of confirmation from any of the five candidates reported still in the running for the $50,000-a-year job of running the multi-million-dollar baseball business.

In unofficial reports, Giles had been bracketed with Lausche and Ford Frick, president of the National league, as outstanding contenders for the commissionership.

Major league club owners will meet in a joint session Sept. 29 at Chicago to name a successor to A. B. (Happy) Chandler and all indications are that the important position will go to a man with a baseball background.

Indians Win; Dodgers Take Two

Indians 6, Nats 5

CLEVELAND (AP)—Cleveland's Indians, still persisting in their right to the 1951 American league pennant, took 14 innings Wednesday to beat the Washington Senators, 6-5.

Bobby Avila, the Indians' flashy second baseman, whacked his first hit of the day in the 14th, a homerun off Sandalio Consuegra that soared over the left field fence.

Starting with the eighth inning, the game featured a duel of almost incredibly beautiful relief pitching between Washington's Sandalio Consuegra and Cleveland's Steve Gromek.

Until Avila slammed his homer, Consuegra permitted only one hit and no runs, and he entered the game in the eighth with the bases loaded and nobody out.

Gromek was tough, too. He retired the first 12 batters to face him and allowed only three hits in all, setting Washington down to its 11th straight loss and giving Cleveland a three game sweep.

Tigers 7, Yanks 6

DETROIT (AP)—The second place New York Yankees lost valuable ground in the American league race Wednesday as they dropped a 7-6 decision to the Detroit Tigers in a 12 inning marathon that lasted nearly four hours.

The setback, climaxed by Johnny Groth's game winning single with one out in the 12th, came after the Yankees pushed over four first inning runs and appeared to be on their way to an easy triumph.

Longtime Yankee jinx Pat Mullin and former Yankee Dick Kryhoski powered homeruns that wiped out the Yankees' early lead as Detroit fought back to tie things up at six all in the eighth.

The game up to that time had been a very loose affair with pitchers being extra generous with walks. In all, the seven pitchers who saw service issued 16 walks over the distance.

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A pair of walks to Al Rosar and Leo Kiely in the 13th ended an old-fashioned pitching duel between Kiely and Tommy Byrne Wednesday night, giving the Boston Red Sox a 3-1 decision over the St. Louis Browns.

Byrne walked 16 men altogether. Kiely allowed ten hits and eight walks but he weakened in the 13th and Ellis Kinder came to his rescue, getting Sherman Lollar to hit into a double play.

Byrne was in trouble in the eighth after inning, but until the unlucky 13th was able to pitch the ball needed for a third out.

Ted Williams opened the 13th with a single, but was forced out at second on a grounder by Walto Dropo. Bill Goodman popped out. Then came Clyde Vollmer, Vern Stephens, Rosar and Kiely.

CHICAGO (AP)—Gus Zernial blasted two first inning homeruns, his Nos. 26 and 27, to help the Philadelphia Athletics sweep a two-night double header from the Chicago White Sox, 5-2 and 8-1, before 19,912 paid persons Wednesday night.

Zernial's first game round tripper landed in the left field second deck with Allie Clark on base to give Bob Hooper an early edge in coasting to his fourth straight victory over the White Sox.

The Athletics' slugger drove a Joe Dobson pitch to almost the exact spot in the first inning of the second game after Ferris Fain singled, and Elmer Valo walked. In moving to within two of his all-time White Sox record of 29 round trippers last season, the former Chicago outfielder drove in six runs to lift his seasonal run batted in total to 104.

Bums 4-3, 8-7

BROOKLYN (AP)—Jackie Robinson smashed out five hits Wednesday night and drove in the winning run in the tenth inning to give the Brooklyn Dodgers a 8-7 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals and a sweep of their day-night doubleheader. The Dodgers won the afternoon game, 4-3, in ten innings and now have won 14 straight games over the Cards. Clyde King won both games in relief roles.

Robinson's blow down the left field line scored King from second base with the winning run. Relief pitcher Dick Bokelmann had hit King with a pitched ball to start the tenth.

The Dodgers have beaten the Cards 16 times this season, the most they have ever won from the Red Birds in one campaign since 1900.

Giants 4, Reds 3

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Giants defeated the Cincinnati Reds, 4-3, Wednesday, to capture their 11th straight victory. It was their longest winning streak since 1938.

A double by Whitey Lockman with two out in the eighth inning scored Alvin Dark with the run that broke a 3-3 tie and gave the Giants their fourth straight win over redleg ace Ewell Blackwell. It marked the third straight game in which the Giants had snatched victory from defeat in the eighth inning. It also was New York's 16th triumph in 20 meetings with Cincinnati this season.

Blackwell had a hand in two of the Reds' three runs that gave them a 3-1 edge after five innings. After Monte Irvin's 16th homer in the second inning had given the Giants a 1-0 advantage, Blackwell put his team in front, 2-1, in an unorthodox manner. With the bases loaded in the fourth, Blackwell hit into a force play at second scoring two runners. The second run crossed the plate as the Giants made a futile attempt at a double play.

inches in diameter and perhaps six inches deep."

The Allied truce team used the headquarters during the talks but always left it each afternoon for the return to Munsan advance base camp.

Ridgway's announcement said "further meetings of both the armistice delegations and the subcommittee were declared 'off from now on' at approximately 2 a.m. Aug. 23, (10 a.m. CST, Wednesday) by the Communists on the basis of a charge of bombing the Kaesong area by United Nations forces."

Joy told Ridgway that a "Communist liaison officer contacted the United Nations command base camp (at Munsan) by telephone at 11:30 p.m. last night (7:30 a.m. CST Wednesday.)"

Bombed and Strafed

"He (the Red Officer) stated the armistice conference site was bombed and strafed at 11:20 p.m. (7:20 a.m. CST Wednesday)."

"This would have given them only 10 minutes to have made their complaint."

"The Red liaison officer requested that the senior U.N. liaison officer come immediately to make an investigation."

Murray and Kinney hurried by jeep and reached Kaesong about 2 a.m. They were met at the conference site by Colonel Chang and a Lt. Col. Tsai of the Communist press corps.

Equal to Hand Grenade

After they had studied the depression near the U.N. command headquarters, the American Colonels reported back that it appeared to be "a possible result of a buried explosive force about equal to a hand grenade."

The Americans said they were shown three other pieces of metal near the quarters of a Communist leaders.

"No craters or furrows were apparent in the vicinity."

"On return to the conference house, Kinney asserted the evidence plainly was not the result of a United Nations bombing."

It was at this point that Colonel Chang declared all meetings "were off from this time."

Pace Suspends McIlwain At Toledo Army Depot

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Army Frank Pace Jr., Wednesday suspended Col. S. W. McIlwain as commander of the army ordinance depot at Toledo Ohio, pending further investigation of alleged "improper dealings" with defense contractors.

At the same time, Pace held up the transfer of Brig. Gen. David J. Crawford to a high military post in Europe. Crawford recently was relieved of command of the Detroit tank arsenal for accepting favors from contractors.

Ex-Communist Budenz Says Lattimore, Field Were Reds

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ex-Communist Louis F. Budenz testified Wednesday that Far Eastern expert Owen Lattimore and New York Millionaire Frederick Vanderbilt Field were described in party councils as key members of a Communist cell in the Institute of Pacific Relations.

Lattimore, a professor at Johns Hopkins university in Baltimore, promptly labelled the testimony a "fantastic . . . lie."

Budenz is the former editor of the Communist Daily Worker. He broke with the party in 1945 to re-join the Catholic church, and now is assistant professor of economics at Fordham university.

He testified before the senate internal security subcommittee which is investigating Communist infiltration of the institute a private research organization.

Sen. Homer Ferguson, (R. Mich.) pointed out that Budenz offered only "hearsay" evidence about Lattimore. But Budenz said he considered the evidence reliable and claimed first-hand knowledge that Field was a party member.

He said he also knew Joseph Barnes, secretary of the institute from 1931 to 1934 and former foreign news editor of the New York Herald Tribune, as a Communist. Barnes has emphatically denied any Red ties or sympathies.

Field, who has served as financial "angel" for many Red causes, is serving a sentence for contempt of court for his refusal to name contributors to the bail fund of the civil rights congress.

Budenz' testimony about Lattimore was largely a reiteration of statements which he made last year before a senate foreign relations subcommittee investigating charges by Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R Wis.) that Lattimore was a Russian spy.

Lattimore denied the Budenz' statements under oath at that time. He was cleared by the Democratic majority of the subcommittee but McCarthy denounced it as "a whitewash."

GI-Built Rocket Almost Breaks World's Record

WHITE SANDS, N. M. (AP) — Enlisted men Wednesday fired a V-2 rocket within three miles of the world's record.

The 28,000-pound rebuilt German missile went 132 miles above the earth.

Wednesday's firing compares with 135 miles set Aug. 7 by an American built Viking rocket.

Enlisted men not only handled all details of the rocket firing Wednesday but also assembled the V-2 from captured parts. The V-2 carried no payload of instruments and was a test for performance only.

Cpl. Robert T. Alley, Iron River, Mich., was co-ordinator for the shoot. He forecast the altitude within two miles.

Senate Money Group Votes Tax Boost To Middle Incomes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Tax-writing senators discovered Wednesday that they had voted bigger income taxes for some people than the house had passed. They showed quick signs of changing their decision.

The senate finance committee, reworking the $7.2 billion tax increase measure sent over from the house, tentatively adopted a new formula on personal income taxes Tuesday. Taking a wholly different approach, it relieves the highest incomes of much of the increase the house voted.

Committeemen told reporters last night that it extends some relief all the way down the line. But when the committee staff produced "burden" tables Wednesday showing how the formula would apply to individuals and families at various income levels it turned out that married couples with net incomes of $5,000 to $15,000 a year would actually pay somewhat more than the house proposed.

Nearly everybody else would get some relief, running from a dollar or so in the bottom pay ranges to more than $36,000 for a couple with two dependents and an income of $1 million a year.

Chairman Walter George (D-Ga.) said some changes may be made in the personal tax formula.

The chairman said the committee was "still working over the individual rates" and may come up with modifications today. He would not say what modifications might be made.

As it passed the house the bill provided for an annual tax increase of $7.2 billion, of which $2,847,000,000 would come from personal incomes.

Under the house plan the taxpayer would figure what he owes under the present law, then simply add 12½ per cent, except in the very top income ranges where such a rise would leave little or nothing. The house itself cut the boost in those brackets.

McCarthy Charges 'Smear' by Truman

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy, (R-Wis.) charged Wednesday night that President Truman has "joined left wing elements of the press and radio" in attempting to "smear" him.

McCarthy said Mr. Truman "shouted all of the same names that have been coined by the (Communist) Daily Worker" to denounce McCarthyism.

He also demanded that Mr. Truman "get rid of" Ambassador-at-Large Philip C. Jessup, whom McCarthy frequently has accused of Communist front ties.

McCarthy's speech, broadcast by the American Broadcasting company, was the first of four which he will deliver over the major radio networks.

He demanded and received free time on the networks to reply to an Aug. 14 speech in which Mr. Truman denounced "scandal-mongers" with apparent reference to McCarthy's campaign to uncover Communists on the federal payroll.

Oregon's Prison Strike Ends After 5 Days

SALEM ORE. (AP) — Oregon's prison strike ended Wednesday.

The convicts, eating again after five days of enforced fasting, won a major point but lost another.

The convict victory — possibly only temporary though — was removal of Guard Lt. Morris Raes from within the walls. The strike started Tuesday of last week to get him out.
