Miners Ignore
Truman Plea
To End Strike

DENVER (AP) — The International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers said Monday night it will not call off the nationwide copper strike as requested by President Truman unless the government presses industry to accept terms offered by mediator Cyrus Ching.

More than 95 per cent of the nation's defense-vital copper, zinc and lead supplies had been cut off when 58,000 union miners and smelter workers walked off the job.

President Truman immediately urged the strikers to return to work and ordered the wage stabilization board to investigate the strike in the interests of national defense.

"We cannot agree to call off the strike unless we receive assurances from the government that it will press for acceptance by the companies of the government's own proposals for settlement of the dispute," said John Clark, president of the union.

Clark referred to Federal Mediator Cyrus Ching's proposal of a 16 cent an hour pay raise plus a pension plan of 4½ cents an hour—totaling about 20½ cents an hour. The union accepted the proposal but the companies rejected it.

Strikers indicated they would not return to their jobs until ordered by union headquarters, despite President Truman's plea in the interests of national defense.

"We want to cooperate with government agencies involved in every way that is consistent with the interests of our membership and the general welfare," Clark said.

He said he had been informed Wage Stabilization Board Chairman George Taylor sent telegrams to the leaders of the 58,000 workers, but had as yet received none himself.

"If we receive the telegram from Taylor, we will comply with a request to send representatives to the wage stabilization board hearing in Washington Wednesday," Clark said.

Finance Group
Cuts Tax Boost
For Corporations

WASHINGTON (AP) — The senate finance committee voted late Monday to boost corporation taxes by $2.28 billion a year. Committee experts figured this would chop $760 million from new corporation levies voted by the house.

It was the biggest cut the senators have made in the $7.2 billion house tax bill. Senate committee reductions now total $1.64 billion, and the committee is far from through with the measure.

Even without further pruning, the committee version as it now stands would raise only $5.56 million more annually. That's just a little over half the 10 billion dollar increase urged by President Truman and Treasury Secretary John Snyder to fight inflation and pay-as-you-go for defense.

Chairman Walter George (D-Ga.) said the committee hasn't agreed yet on an effective date for its corporate taxes. The house bill would make new corporate taxes effective last Jan. 1. There is some sentiment in the senate to pick a later date.

Ousted —
2 Cadets
Visit SUI

Two ousted West Point cadets, both members of the Army football squad last season, were on the SUI campus Monday where they talked briefly with Leonard Raffensperger, head football coach.

The pair were identified as Walter (Bo) Walker of Ottumwa, and Jack Erickson of St. Charles, Ill.

Ted McCarrel, SUI registrar, said Walker talked to him Monday about possible re-admission to the university but did not actually apply.

Walker, former all-state prep griddler at Ottumwa, was a student here in 1948 before his appointment to West Point. He was a member of the 1948 Iowa freshman football squad, at that time directed by Raffensperger.

Erickson, a tackle with Army last season, was a regular on defense with the West Point squad that lost only one game.

The question of whether any of the ousted cadets would be able to play football for Big 10 schools starting next year, however, remained in doubt.

In a statement issued last week, Kenneth L. (Tug) Wilson, Big 10 athletic commissioner, said any and all of the expelled cadets who might be accepted by conference schools might have to wait two full years before being able to compete in athletics for that school.

Wilson was basing his statement on a ruling that the conference has had for years.

It states that any student transferring to a Big 10 school from another institution must leave the first school without any delin-

Red 'Demands' Hamper
Reopening Of Talks

TOKYO (TUESDAY) (AP) — The Red commanders in Korea notified Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway officially today they were ready to resume the truce talks, but they added a series of new "demands" that made resumption of the talks appear unlikely.

The reply from Gens. Kim Il Sung and Peng Teh-Huai was delivered at 11:40 a.m. (7:40 p.m. CST Monday) to Allied liaison officers at the Communist check point of Pan Mun Jom, five miles below Kaesong. It was broadcast earlier from Peiping.

The latest in the series of Communist "poison pen" notes demanded that Ridgway order liaison officers back to Kaesong to investigate again an alleged Allied bombing of Aug. 23. It was considered entirely unlikely that Ridgway would even consider sending his liaison group back five days after he formally labelled the Communist charge a "fraud."

It was believed here Ridgway would demand an entirely new and guaranteed neutral site for the talks, such as his original suggestion they be held aboard the Danish hospital ship Jutlandia off Wonsan harbor. The Jutlandia meanwhile has departed for home.

It also was possible that Ridgway would demand an entirely new set of negotiators to get the talks off to a fresh start. In any case he would have to be satisfied that Communist trap was involved and that there would be a semblance of good faith.

Reds Push Allies Back Nearly 2 Miles In Day-Long Battle

U.S. EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea (TUESDAY) (AP) — Heavy fighting erupted Monday on the east-central Korean warfront. It coincided with a new crisis in the suspended truce talks.

Reds in battalion strength shoved Allied forces back nearly two miles northwest of Yanggu, at the eastern end of strategic Hwachon reservoir. Yanggu is seven miles north of Parallel 38.

The battle raged throughout the day. By nightfall, United Nations troops counter-attacked to restore their positions.

Northwest of that area, sharp patrol clashes were reported in the Pyonggang region of the erstwhile "Iron Triangle" of central Korea. An Allied patrol took a hill in the see-saw fighting and then was forced to pull out by dark.

Stubborn Red resistance was reported south and southeast of Kumsong, in the same general area. The Reds made limited assaults with mortar support. They were driven back.

Eight army headquarters reported the Communists attacked in regimental strength on the eastern front, but were hurled back by Allied artillery and fighter bombers. This was in the area west of Kansong.

Offshore, Allied warships blasted Red positions on the hills northwest of Kansong. Other U.N. naval vessels shelled highways along the northeast Korean coast.

Roan congratulated the trucking industry on its safety record and pointed out that the nation's wartime experience has taught us that highway transportation is vital to our economy.

"The nation's problem once was getting the traffic out of the mud, now it is how do we get the traffic out of the muddle," Roan told the truckers.

Senate Delays Action
On Red Trade Bill;
Filibuster Avoided

WASHINGTON (AP) — What looked like a prospective filibuster was broken up Monday night when the senate formally agreed to take up today a hotly disputed bill aimed at choking off the flow of arms to Russia and her satellites.

After several hours of talk over whether it should put the measure on its calendar for immediate consideration, the senate agreed by a roll call vote of 32 to 29 to take it up today.

The senate then recessed until noon today, putting an end to what had appeared likely to be a prolonged night session.

The bill which aroused the storm of debate is designed to suspend all American aid for any nation engaged in prohibited trade with iron curtain countries. However the administration would have some discretion in enforcing it.

Before the senate quit for the night, Senator Malone (R-Nev.) had made one 92-minute speech to a handful of senators.

Sen. Styles Bridges (R-N.H.) then demanded a quorum call. After 25 minutes, 49 senators out of the total membership of 96 straggled in.

Trucking Industry
Receives Praise
At Local Meeting

The Iowa trucking industry received a pat on the back from local and state officials Monday night at the second meeting of the Iowa Council of Safety Supervisors at the Jefferson hotel.

Forty-five trucking company officials from all over Iowa attended the meeting.

Speakers at the meeting included Peter F. Roan, Iowa City manager, Leroy Crowley, secretary of the Iowa Motor Truck association, Pearl McMurray, commissioner of Iowa Public Safety.

Also on the program were four trucking insurance agents including Robert Gunderson, William Buckingham, and Dean Mills, of Des Moines, and Bud Vanderveer, of Kansas City.

Roan congratulated the trucking industry on its safety record and pointed out that the nation's wartime experience has taught us that highway transportation is vital to our economy.

"The nation's problem once was getting the traffic out of the mud, now it is how do we get the traffic out of the muddle," Roan told the truckers.

Perons Address Supporters in Argentina

A HUGE CROWD bearing Peron banners, gathers on Avenue Nueve de Julio in a rally in Buenos Aires. In a mammoth demonstration, they demanded that Argentina President Juan D. Peron and his blonde, 29-year-old wife Eva run on a "Peron-Peron" ticket in the Nov. 11 elections for president and vice-president of Argentina. The Perons, who accepted the draft call of the Peronista party and government-controlled General Confederation of Labor, addressed the throng from the giant stand at right, beneath their pictures.

'Dragging Out Rearmament Can Bankrupt U.S.' — Ike

WASHINGTON (AP)— Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower has told a congressional committee studying the re-arming of Western Europe that "the one thing that can break the United States and give us nothing in return is to drag this thing out."

"We must go to the limit of our producing capacity and of the power of Europe to absorb our military assistance, and get it done now," the commander of the North Atlantic Treaty organization (NATO) said at his base in Europe.

His statement was in a report which a senate foreign relations subcommittee released Monday after censoring, on its day-to-day hearings in Europe in July. A report on the group's findings was released Aug. 12.

At that time, Eisenhower was quoted as saying that the free world's strength is so great "it is almost ridiculous for us to be talking in terms of fright and hysteria."

Monday's hearings report quoted him:

"The struggle going on in the world is for the minds and hearts of men. It is an ideological struggle. There is every possible way of going about the thing, and open warfare is only one method.

"I believe that — and this may be a bit on the naive side — but I believe that France and Germany are going to continue to grow closer and closer together."

Lt. Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, chief of staff of the Allied powers in Europe, and Eisenhower's deputy, told the committee:

1. In terms of military budgets, considering the European effort as a whole, "there has been an over-all increase of 75 per cent over the past year. These countries have now come up to 95 per cent of the target figure they should."

2. In terms of length of conscription periods, "there has been an average increase of 35 per cent since June a year ago."

3. In terms of munitions production, informed "seems to indicate that there has been an increase of 70 per cent over-all . . ."

4. In terms of military units (for example, divisions) "there has been an over-all increase in number of units and numbers of men assigned to such units of some 40 per cent in the last year."

Senate Committee Postpones Showdown On Judgeship Issue

WASHINGTON (AP) — The senate judiciary committee postponed a showdown Monday on two federal judgeships for Illinois to give President Truman and Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill.) more time to work out a compromise — if they wish.

Mr. Truman and Douglas have submitted different nominations for the two district judgeships. The senator also has said the President's method of appointment is "personally obnoxious," a phrase which traditionally causes senators of both parties to come to the aid of a colleague.

The committee postponed action on Mr. Truman's two nominees — State Circuit Judge Cornelius J. Harrington and Chicago Municipal Judge Joseph J. Drucker. This left open a chance for a possible agreement on the nominees, Sen. Pat McCarran (D-Nev.) indicated.

He said the committee would not vote on the nominations before Sept. 10 when it meets again.

McCarran said "rumors" still persist that a compromise is possible between the President and Douglas. The President, however, said recently that he had no intention of working out a compromise and that it is not his custom to back down on appointments.

Douglas, equally adamant, said he stood by his candidates — Chicago attorney William H. King Jr., and Chicago Municipal Judge Benjamin J. Epstein.

However, Mr. Truman and Douglas agreed on their choice for the third vacancy — Joseph S. Perry, who was confirmed recently by the senate.

A possible compromise was attempted earlier but failed.

Douglas said Mr. Truman turned down his "advice and consent" in making the nominations and therefore acted unconstitutionally. Administration senators traditionally have the final word on who is to receive federal judgeships in their home state.

Hemingway at the Iowa

"Under My Skin," screenplay by Casey Robinson, based on the Ernest Hemingway story "My Old Man"; directed by Jean Negulesco, produced by Robinson for Twentieth Century-Fox.

The screen has always treated Ernest Hemingway with respect and "Under My Skin," which begins a three day run Wednesday at the Iowa theater, is no exception. Adapted from a short story entitled, "My Old Man," it is a forceful, brilliant production, acted with finesse and restraint.

The story concerns a jockey, an almost complete heel who has been barred from American tracks, who is willing to double-cross anyone to get into the big money. He fights and swindles his way from Italy to France accompanied by his small son, who never doubts his honesty or courage. The son's devotion to his father and his belief in the fable that they will someday return to America with the spoils, is the basis of the screenplay, a situation which is further complicated by a cafe chanteuse who carries quite a torch for the jockey.

The film has diluted Hemingway but slightly, retaining, for the most part, his swiftness and tenderness, and successfully translating the personal idiom to the screen without losing its precise power. John Garfield is a natural in the role of the shady jockey while Micheline Puelle gives a pathetic but compelling portrait of a tarnished lady. As the director, Jean Negulesco films the half-lit boulevards and the chaos of the race track with equal ease, keeping the film moving at one terrific clip.

JET DISINTEGRATES

LONDON (AP) — Government officials opened a secret investigation Monday into the disintegration of a new model jet plane while zooming over a cricket field at a speed faster than sound. A rigid security blackout was imposed on the investigation. The supply ministry announced that no public inquiry would be held. The existence of the plane was not known publicly until it exploded in fragments.

C-119's OF THE 433RD TROOP CARRIER WING get final check shortly before take-off from Donaldson air force base, near Greenville, S.C.

By CHARLES J. THOBABEN Central Press Staff Writer

STEPHENVILLE, Newfoundland — Over in Europe, they're trying to build up the most potent peacetime combination of nations in the world's history.

It is made up of democracies on both sides of the Atlantic north of the Tropic of Cancer and it is designed to provide those nations with a shield against the menacing bear known as Soviet Russia—the armed might of both the USSR and its satellites glowering across what Winston Churchill described by the now popular phrase, the "iron curtain."

At the helm of this North Atlantic Treaty organization's armed forces is Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, recalled from his civilian role as president of Columbia university to test once again the military prowess and personal popularity he displayed in Europe during World War II.

NATO's members have big ideas about the military strength they will build, but in the realm of tactical reality they have nothing but a skeleton needing flesh and bones —and sinew.

That's why the writer, and fellow newspaper and radio correspondents came to Harmon air force base, an air field cut out of the Newfoundland wilderness and made into an American military base during World War II as one of the leaseholds the United States received from Great Britain in exchange for over-age destroyers back in 1940.

The visit is a brief one because the correspondents are en route to Europe with the first American aerial reinforcements to help provide that bone, muscle and sinew that Eisenhower is seeking.

The reinforcements are the lumbering ugly ducklings of the airways flown by the 433rd troop carrier wing, a reserve unit made mainly of men from 60 of Ohio's 88 counties.

Their planes are the Fairchild C-119's, powerful twin-engined craft designed for operation in combat theaters as troop and supply carrying or evacuation planes.

The 433rd began to receive them from the assembly lines within two months after its members were called from their civilian pursuits into active service last Oct. 15.

For months, from their new home at Donaldson air force base near Greenville, S. C., they put in the flight hours necessary to familiarize themselves with their new craft.

They flew many tactical missions with the Army's paratroops or with supplies to drop by parachute to ground forces. This was climaxed in April when nine of the C-119's and their crews participated in "Operation Firestep" in Alaska.

The 433rd's officers and men felt a not unnatural pride when they—reservists — were chosen as the first USAF unit to be assigned from stateside to join the slowly expanding ranks of Eisenhower's NATO forces.

Col. Harry W. Hopp of Kent, Ohio, the 433rd's CO, piloted the lead ship of the first flight of eight planes from the wing's 67th squadron.

An overnight stop was made at Westover field, Mass., headquarters of the Atlantic division of the Military air transport service, (MATS) the globe-girdling cargo and passenger airline of the unified armed forces.

There each plane added a MATS navigator, experienced in transatlantic flying, to its crew and both crewmen and passengers received thorough survival briefings. This meant rather grim instructions in emergency use of the one-man life raft, life jacket and parachute worn by every man.

Another note underlining the seriousness of this operation, a note that has been struck frequently, is the importance of security. Destinations have been classified and the C-119's placed under armed guard even moment on the ground.

It would be a nice psychological victory for unfriendly intruders something happened to one of the big ships.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh C. Arnold

Miss Elizabeth Ann McDaniels, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. McDaniels of Alton, Ill., and Hugh C. Arnold, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Arnold of Fitchburg, Mass., were married at 10 a.m. Saturday.

The Rev. Robert J. Welch performed the service in St. Thomas More chapel.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, John McDaniels, wore a white satin dress, styled with a fitted bodice, long sleeves and high neckline. The full skirt ended in a short train.

Her fingertip veil of illusion was attached to a Juliet cap. She carried a bouquet of white gladioli.

Miss Virginia McDaniels, who attended her sister as bridesmaid, wore a dress of emerald green satin, styled with a decollete neckline, fitted bodice and full skirt. She wore matching green satin mitts and headband, and carried coral gladioli.

Vincent Arnold of Fitchburg, Mass., the bridegroom's brother, was best man. Gerald Remme, Iowa City, served as usher.

A wedding breakfast at the Hotel Jefferson followed the ceremony. Afterward the couple left for a 10-day wedding trip to Wisconsin.

Mrs. Arnold was graduated from Illinois State Normal university. She has done graduate work at the University of Wisconsin and at SUI. For the past few months she has been employed at Better Homes and Gardens magazine, in Des Moines.

Her husband is a graduate of Notre Dame university. He received his M.A. degree from Penn State college and is working toward a Ph.D. degree at SUI.

The couple will be at home at 22 S. Dubuque st. after Sept. 4. Out-of-town guests included Mrs. J. C. McDaniels, Alton, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Arnold, Fitchburg, Mass.; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Reid, Park Forest, Ill.; Russell Bert, Rockford, Ill.; Leo Vetter, Topeka, Kan., and the Misses Irene Maddux, Janet Clarke and Margaret Ann Brewer, Des Moines.

The current U.S. women's amateur golf champion is Beverly Ann Hanson, 24, of Indo, Calif. — to whom golf is by no means a sole interest. She graduated from the University of North Dakota cum laude at nineteen; plays piano and bassoon; is a good figure skater; has been a reporter on Madison, Wisconsin and Fargo, North Dakota daily newspapers.

So nearsighted she cannot play without glasses, she took up golf seriously only five years before she won the amateur crown.

Good Luggage Is Long-Time Investment For College Students

Hundreds of thousands of high school graduates will desert Main street for the campus this fall. For the next four or more years, these fledglings will average three homeward treks annually, which total millions of miles of travel.

Chances are that these college-bound students have given much thought to a well-coordinated wardrobe. But what about luggage? It is a long-time investment in which the student can take stock in the future.

As much variety is found in luggage as there is in clothes and accessories. Lots of color is about, and many new interesting textures. Nylon, canvas, denim, fiber-glass and fabrics that simulate wools — herringbone, diagonal stripes and tweeds—have invaded the luggage realm.

Plastics are at a premium because they surpass any other material in warding off scrapes and scuffs and literally glow in color. Sueded materials in rich, velvety surfaces in neutral beiges and greys combined with contrasting leather trim are new this fall.

All luggage is shown in matched sets and — like silver — it can be filled-in from open stock.

How much luggage will she need? If college is far away, a carry-all trunk which can also house books, extra towels during the year. If home is near enough to get to often, a good-size suitcase or two—either way, if possible, a weekend and cosmetic case.

Fellows will find a trunk a necessity if they're far away and can put its storage space in good use in the dorm. They'll also need a two-suitcase and perhaps an over-nighter depending on their wardrobe.

Diet Deficiency Is Often Due to Lack of Proteins

The most widespread dietary deficiency is in protein foods, and, despite all the glamor placed on vitamins and minerals today, we should begin to plan meals with these forgotten proteins in mind.

Why the excitement about an everyday foodstuff you've eaten all your life? Reason enough when you know the electrifying difference protein can make to family health, says an article in the September issue of a homes magazine.

An anemic, tired person who's below par hardly ever blames mild protein starvation for vanished health and happiness. But a good example is found in England, where British doctors blame the high influenza death toll on lowered resistance following years of diets very low in protein.

Older People Tire

Said one grimly: "The older people seem to get tired and turn their faces to the wall." Another attributes the low productivity of British workers to this same factor.

"Anyone who has observed men doing continuous work recognizes that in recent years, despite a will to work, staying power has decreased," he comments.

Because of our greater food supply, the situation is not so bad here. But the article states that an alarming number of people don't make good use of this food. Most often slighted are Group 1 proteins: meat, poultry, fish, eggs, milk, cheese.

Most of us don't eat enough cereals either, but in the categories of legumes (beans, peas, etc.), fruits, and vegetables we do better.

Proteins Torn Down

Body proteins are torn down and rebuilt at an unbelievable rate. Twice a year you trade your body in for a new one — in the sense that these proteins turn over completely in 160 days.

It's no wonder then that health authorities make it a flat rule that we should have at least one biologically complete protein every meal. That means breakfasts, lunches, and even snacks.

We might as well face it. Our best-liked protein foods are expensive. A pound of steak or eggs costs plenty more than a pound of potatoes or bread. Yet there's one sure protein stretcher — a little meat at every meal does more for you than a big splurge at dinner.

Working Girl Given A Budget Substitute

Recognizing that there are many working women who would rather be broke than live on a budget, a leading fashion magazine suggests a new method for paycheck control.

The magazine advises the 19,000,000 women working in the country today to take a long range view of their financial situations, to think of themselves on a year basis—subject to profit and loss.

It suggests the woman who works immediately provide a margin of safety by salting away one month's living expenses.

Fixed costs, on a yearly basis, should next be listed. These include rent, gas, electricity, telephone, insurance and health premiums. Dividing these fixed costs by 12, the resulting figure represents the necessary monthly expenditures to keep herself, as a business, in good working order.

The woman who works generally sneaks in a few little extravagances that she doesn't need but can't live without. But this type of expenditure can be made only after all the money for necessities has been set aside. After deducting fixed costs from yearly income, she will know how much she can allow for savings, repair, upkeep, new equipment, and day to day running expenses.

USE THIN STARCH

When washing black or dark blue cotton dresses or blouses, use a very thin starch. Hang evenly to dry in order to avoid white streaks. Iron on the wrong side.

Back-to-School Fashions

ASCOT-TIED NECKLINE is the news on this soft shirtwaist dress by David Crystal. Large brown bone buttons and a brown leather belt harmonize with the taupe, white and orange fabric. The bodice has big patch pockets.

GRAY FLANNEL makes this trim autumn fashion, designed by Pat Warren for Nantucket Naturals. Fly-front fastening is slot-seamed from a small collar of the fabric layered with beige linen. A gold buckle fastens the belt.

Miami Kidnap Victim Discovered Murdered

MIAMI, FLA. (AP)—The body of an attractive young woman night clerk, kidnaped from a "gold coast" hotel five days ago, was found on a lonely dairy farm road Monday, her skull shattered by a bullet.

Mrs. Lewana Newman, 23, was last seen alive at 3 a.m. Wednesday behind the desk of the Gould hotel near Sunny Isles, on the ocean front north of Miami Beach. Missing from the cash drawer was $925.

O. D. Henderson, sheriff's chief deputy, declared she was kidnaped by a robber and slain. But evidence of her struggle with the killer were bloodstains, one shoe, a broken belt buckle and one earring found outside the hotel entrance.

The other shoe and earring were on the body when found. She carried a key to a strong box containing $7,100 in cash and jewels left untouched at the hotel.

Henderson said Mrs. Newman was killed where her body was found by someone who "placed her head on the roadway, stood over her and fired a bullet through her brain." She probably was unconscious, he added.

Angus Tindall, son of the dairy farmer, discovered the body when he traced "a bad odor." The road was partly covered with underbrush which he pushed aside to disclose his gruesome find. The body was badly decomposed.

Board Okays Gifts to SUI; Top $128,000

Gifts and grants totaling $128,308.22 and two drawings have been accepted for SUI by the finance committee of the state board of education.

Largest of the grants $77,733.22, was made by the W. K. Kellogg foundation of Battle Creek, Mich. To be paid over a five-year period, the grant will support development of programs for training nursing service administrators in the college of nursing.

The U. S. public health service's institute of mental health made two grants totaling $28,075. One a grant of $19,039, will support a training program in clinical psychology.

The other was a grant of $9,036 to finance psychiatric nursing training under direction of Dean Myrtle E. Kitchell, college of nursing.

The public health service's institute of health granted $14,000 to the department of internal medicine, to finance undergraduate teaching in cardiovascular and related gerontology projects, under direction of Dr. William B. Bean, head of the department. A similar grant has been made to the department for the past two years.

Dr. Horace W. Gerarde, research fellow in biochemistry, received a $4,000 fellowship grant for the 1951-52 academic year from the American Cancer Society's research fund. This is the second year the society has supported Gerarde's fellowship.

E. I. du Pont de Nemours granted $3,300 to support the DuPont Company Postgraduate Fellowship in chemistry for 1951-52. The fellowship has been awarded to Robert C. Nagler, Solon.

A graduate fellowship in the amount of $1,200 for the 1951-52 academic year has been granted to Wanda J. Butler by the American Foundation for Pharmaceutical Education.

The drawings accepted were the gifts of Winslow Ames, one of the nation's leading drawing specialists, well-known art historian and collector of drawings. One is a drawing by Diego Rivera, Mexican contemporary, and the other is by Ottavio Mario Leoni, an Italian of the 17th century. Both were given to the art department as study material.

City's Speed Analyzer Gets 1st Workout—Traps 85 Speeders

Iowa City's new electric speed analyzer got its first test Monday and the result proved a little embarrassing for some 85 motorists.

In two spot checks, from 10:25 a.m. to 1:25 p.m. and 1:50 p.m. to 4:20 p.m., Iowa City police checked approximately 1,178 cars and found 85 of them to be exceeding the speed limit for the district where the tests were made.

The first check was conducted on N. Dubuque st., near the Church st., intersection. Police checked some 771 cars on the street and stopped about 25 of them after they exceeded the speed limit. The drivers were given warning tickets.

The second test was held on Muscatine ave., near Bradley st. Police said 407 cars were checked and 60 were found to be exceeding the speed limit.

The speed analyzer is set up with two rubber tubes that extend across the road where the test is being conducted. When a car crosses the first tube the machine is activated and the speed of the car is automatically figured when the car crosses the second tube.

If the car is exceeding the given speed limit a red light flashes over the test area and a police officer stationed near the machine is alerted to stop the speeder.

Police Chief E. J. Ruppert said the tests will continue today and Wednesday and police may begin issuing court summons Thursday.

Ruppert said the tests will be carried out on other Iowa City streets today and he indicated that Melrose ave., might be one of these. Ruppert also mentioned Riverside drive as another likely test area.

U.S. Davis Cup Chances Hurt; Talbert Enlists in Navy

FOREST HILLS (AP) — The props were knocked squarely from under the American Davis cup tennis team Monday when it became known that Tony Trabert, the wonder boy from Cincinnati, had enlisted in the navy and expected to report for duty on Sept. 24.

Trabert, seeded third in the National championships and considered a certainty to play both singles and doubles for the U.S. team in its attempt to regain the international trophy in Australia in December, disclosed that he had enlisted rather than run the risk of being drafted after he had been dropped by his naval reserve unit in Cincinnati.

Recently turned 21, the husky tennis and basketball star was in the process of eliminating Diehl Mateer r., of Villanova, Pa., 6-2, 6-2, 6-0, in a second round match when the word swept around the West Side tennis club that he was lost to the cup squad.

"It is a great blow to our Davis cup team but it's all a part of the game," said Frank Shields, captain of the U.S. Davis cup squad. "We'll just have to try to develop somebody to replace him."

Trabert was dropped by the naval reserve because he missed a number of drills this summer while playing in North American zone cup matches.

The news that he expected to report at Bainbridge, Md., next month created much more excitement around the stadium than any of the day's matches, which saw the seeded stars win a monotonous series of one-sided affairs as they moved toward sterner competition.

Frank Sedgman, the big Australian who leads the foreign threat, opened his bid for the singles title by smashing Gilbert Bogley of Warren, Ohio, one of this country's good young players, 6-0, 6-4, 6-2.

Herbie Flam of Beverly Hills, Calif., who was a finalist last year, scored over Ricardo Balbiers of Chile, 6-0, 6-3, 6-2; Budge Patty of Los Angeles ousted Tony Vincent of New York city, 6-0, 6-2, 6-3; Gardner Mulloy of Miami downed Henry Bassford Jr., of Brooklyn,

Barb Scott Takes Sonja Henie's Place

CHICAGO (AP)—Producer Arthur M. Wirtz announced Monday that Olympic skating champion Barbara Ann Scott has been signed to head the 1952 Hollywood Ice Revue, whose star has long been Sonja Henie.

A spokesman for Wirtz said the producer had asked Miss Henie to let him know by last week whether she would again appear as the star of the show, but that she did not reply.

The spokesman said Wirtz then read that Miss Henie was considering producing an ice show in London and dickering for television appearances.

Because plans for the revue must be completed soon, it was said, Wirtz signed another star.

The Wirtz announcement said Miss Scott, who was a 1948 Olympic champion, will be making her first American tour in the revue.

Art, Jamie Andrews Sweep Quad City Tennis

MOLINE — Iowa City's two tennis playing brothers took every championship they could lay their hands on in the Quad Cities' open tennis tournament concluded at Moline Monday.

Younger brother Art won the boys' singles title Sunday downing Karl Wickstrom of Rock Island, 6-1, 6-2. Then older brother Jamie teamed with Art to win from two Pekin, Ill., boys, Glass and Wright, 6-4, 6-4. Monday Jamie completed the sweep by taking the junior singles honors in an easy victory over Jerry Jager of Davenport, 6-1, 6-3.

6-3, 6-2, 6-2, and Vic Seixas of Philadelphia defeated Charles Devoe of Indianapolis, 6-3, 5-7, 6-2, 6-4, to lead the parade of the American stars.

Art Larsen of San Leandro, Calif., the defending champion, subdued Garner Anthony of Hawaii, 6-2, 6-0, 6-4.

32 Ousted West Point Cadets Ask Entrance To Notre Dame Free

SOUTH BEND, IND. (AP)—More than one-third of 90 cadets recently expelled from West Point have applied for the free room, board and tuition at the University of Notre Dame offered by an unidentified rich man.

Sixteen more applications Monday swelled the total to 32, the Rev. Louis Thornton, director of admissions, reported.

The applicants must show need and agree not to participate in intercollegiate athletics under terms of the anonymous offer. The university is withholding their names.

If all 32 applicants are accepted, the donor may have to spend $47,000 a year. The university has estimated the annual cost at $1,500 a student.

Sept. 1 is the deadline for other expelled cadets to apply for the free education. The group was ousted from West Point for cribbing on examinations.

Perez Off Critical List

EVANSVILLE, IND. (AP) — Alfredo Perez, Cedar Rapids left fielder, who was beamed by a pitch last Tuesday night, was taken off the "serious" list Monday.

Attendants at St. Mary's hospital said he was much improved. He will have to remain in the hospital for some time, however. He underwent an operation for a skull fracture last Wednesday.

Hogan's Putts, Locke's Trapshots —

Golf Pros Call These 'Best'

— Mangrum's Midirons, Snead's Drives

OAKMONT, PA., (AP) — Its hard to get the nation's top golf pros to agree on anything but:

They'd all like to hit their tee shots like Slammin' Sammy Snead, the sweetest swinger in the business today.

They'd trade their own long iron shots for Ben Hogan's and mortgage the old homestead for Lloyd Mangrum's medium distance shooting irons.

Around the green, in the traps or in the rough it's big Jim Ferrier and Bobby Locke they all admire. Putting? Hogan gets the majority vote.

"A long time ago Hogan told me any golfer worth his salt should knock down nine out of 10 putts from 12 feet out," said Henry Ransom, one of the game's great putters.

"No wonder, Ben's such a great player. He says it, he means it and he does it."

Ransom is an authority on putting. Lew Worsham, U. S. open champ in 1947 calls Henry the game's best. But Hogan wins the majority vote with Locke and Ransom among the leaders in the game's most important phase, as far as the pros are concerned.

"Those putts from 15 feet or closer are the shots that keep the birdies on your card," Hogan once said. That's a tip that ought to mean something to the average golfer.

But most duffers would rather smack that whistling tee shot — particularly off No. 1 — than execute any other shot in the bag. And that's the department in which Snead shines above them all.

Giants Win 2, Stretch Streak to 16

Giants 5-4, 6-3

Pirates, Bums Split

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Giants stretched their sensational winning streak to 16 games Monday as they swept a double-header from the Chicago Cubs, 5-4, in 12-innings and 6-3 in a second game completed in the dusk at the Polo Grounds.

Larry Jansen went all the way in the opener for the Giants to bag his 17th victory. The Giants pulled it out with two in the 12th after the Cubs had scored a run in their half.

Rookie righthander Al Corwin posted his fifth victory without a loss in the nightcap. Corwin allowed only six hits including homeruns by Hank Sauer and Bob Ramazzotti that accounted for all of Chicago's runs. Sauer homered in the second and Ramazzotti in the ninth with one on.

The Giants piled up a 3-1 lead in two innings and salted the game away when Ed Stanky homered in the sixth and Monte Irvin did the same in the seventh.

The Giants pulled the opener out of the fire after all looked to be lost in the 12th inning. The Cubs broke a 3-all tie when Frank Baumholtz slugged a double and scored on a single by Ransom Jackson.

But the New Yorkers came right back in their half. Dark opened it by drawing a base on balls from veteran reliever Dutch Leonard. Mays struck out, but Irvin poked a single to left and went to second on the throw in. Thomson was passed intentionally filling the bases.

Lockman then dropped a single into center to score Dark with the tying run and keep the bases loaded. Then Bill Rigney' batting for Westrum, flied to left bringing Irvin across the plate with the winning run.

BROOKLYN (AP) — The tail-end Pittsburgh Pirates defeated the Brooklyn Dodgers, 5-2, in the second game of a two-night doubleheader Monday night after the Dodgers had won the opener, 5-0. The split reduced Brooklyn's National league lead over the New York Giants to five games.

Clyde McCullough drove in four of Pittsburgh's five runs on a double and homer. Bill Werle and Vernon Law teamed up and stopped the Dodgers on three hits.

McCullough doubled home two runs during a three-run first inning rally that chased Erv Palica, and completed the Pirate scoring with a two-run homer off Bud Podbielan in the third.

Ralph Branca turned in a brilliant two-hit victory for Brooklyn in the first game. The big righthander had a no-hitter until Pete Castiglione and George Metkovich opened the ninth inning with singles. The Dodgers clinched the game in the first inning on solo homers by Carl Furillo and Jackie Robinson.

A's 1, Tigers 0

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit Tiger third baseman George Kell banged out a pair of hits Monday night to wrest the American league batting lead from Ferris Fain whose Philadelphia Athletics eked out a 1-0 decision behind Bobby Shantz' seven hit pitching.

The Kell-Fain batting duel highlighted the low scoring affair before a turnout of 14,329—smallest night game attendance in the history of Briggs stadium.

Fain held a one point lead going into Monday night's game but had to settle for one single in four tries. He walked on his other appearance.

Kell collected two singles in three tries and also walked on his fourth appearance.

Dave Philley stole some of the batting thunder from the Kell-Fain combination, however, as his fourth homerun of the year in the second inning broke up a pitching duel between Shantz and Marlin Stuart.

8 Football Bowl Games Ask NCAA Approval for 1952

CHICAGO (AP) — Eight football bowl games have applied for NCAA approval and their certification probably will be granted in the next two weeks, Wilbur Johns, UCLA athletic director and chairman of the NCAA extra events committee, reported Monday.

His report was made to the executive committee and will be made either today or Wednesday to the policy making council.

Johns said only technical points remained to be cleared up before certification of the present applicants, the Rose, Sugar, Sun, Salad, Orange, Presidential, Refrigerator and Cotton bowls.

He said the committee had established Oct. 1, 1951, as the final date for bowl games to apply for certification to have games Jan. 1, 1952. Without certification no NCAA member may compete in a game.

In order to obtain NCAA certification, the bowls must have at least two representatives of NCAA institutions on the operating committee, and give 75 per cent of the receipts and one third of the seats to the competing teams.

Phils 2-0, 3-0

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Philadelphia Phillies combined brilliant pitching with homerun hitting to twice shut out the Cincinnati Reds, 2-0 and 3-0, in a two-night double header Monday night.

Southpaw Jocko Thompson allowed three hits in the twilight encounter while another lefty, Ken Johnson, scattered seven hits by the Reds in the night contest to administer the double "0" treatment.

Catcher Del Wilbur, hitting three consecutive homeruns, and Bill Nicholson provided the power at the bat.

Nicholson swatted his fifth homerun of the season in the first inning of the twilight game with Richie Ashburn on base to give the Phils their victory.

Wilbur's three consecutive homeruns—in the third, fifth and seventh innings—off Ken Raffensberger produced the only runs of the night game.

Braves 6-3, 4-2

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Braves won both games of a two-night doubleheader from the St. Louis Cardinals Monday night, 6-3 and 4-2, to run their record on the present home stand to 12 victories and three defeats.

The Braves were hitless through the first five innings of the nightcap and exploded for all their runs in the sixth. Left hander Warren Spahn pitched his 17th victory for the Tribe in the opener, allowing only six hits and fanning 11 to take the major league lead with 133 strikeouts.

In the sixth inning of the second game, consecutive singles by Roy Hartsfield, Max Surkont, who pitched his 10th victory, and Sibby Sisti gave the Tribe its first run and drove out Red Munger in favor of Harry Brecheen.

Sid Gordon singled home two runs and Earl Torgeson tallied on Ebba St. Claire's single.

In the opener Torgeson walked his 19th homerun of the season in the opening inning. Two runs in both the seventh and eighth innings wrapped up the victory for the Braves.

SUI to Offer Graduate Study In Nursing

An extensive program for graduate study will be initiated by the college of nursing this fall. Development of the program will cover a five-year period and will be partially supported by a $77,733.22 grant from the W. K. Kellogg foundation, Battle Creek, Mich.

The program, as originally set out when the present college of nursing was organized in 1949, will offer graduate nurses opportunity to prepare themselves for a B. A. degree in nursing or an M. A. degree in nursing service administration.

It will offer, in addition to degree study, facilities for continuing education for nurses who are unable to devote time from duty to full academic study.

These facilities will consist of credit and non-credit courses taught through local regional institutes and workshops.

Total cost of the five-year development is estimated at $161,900. The Kellogg foundation's grant will be given in varying sums annually, with SUI financing the remainder. Following the development period, SUI will assume complete financial support of the project.

According to Dean Myrtle E. Kitchell, college of nursing, objectives of the program are:

1. To improve the quality of nursing care through more and better trained supervisory personnel.

2. To help meet the nursing shortage by teaching the efficient utilization of personnel and materials.

Miss Kitchell said the college of nursing, through its new program, will serve an area including Iowa, South Dakota, Nebraska, northern Missouri, Kansas and southern Illinois.

The program is being begun, she said, to prepare the practicing nurse, who may have only a basic nursing education, to fill head nurse and nursing supervisor positions.

She added that several new hospitals have recently opened in Iowa, creating an immediate demand for trained supervisory nursing personnel.

Much of the planning and coordinating of the program during its development period will be under the direction of Prof. Sara C. Washem, administrative assistant in the college of nursing.

Seashore received his B.A., M.A. and Ph.D. degrees from SUI and joined the Northwestern faculty in 1938, after teaching at Ohio State university, the University of Oregon and the University of Southern California. He was made chairman of the psychology department at Northwestern in 1946.

NSA Hits McCarthyism Campus Prejudice; Approves of UMT

MINNEAPOLIS (P) — The National Student association overwhelmingly approved a resolution condemning "the technique of McCarthyism" and called on colleges and universities to "defend and extend the environment of freedom."

The 500 delegates to the NSA convention at the University of Minnesota, representing 600,000 students at 185 institutions, also voted in favor of universal military training and for the removal of discriminatory clauses in campus organizational charters.

The anti-McCarthy resolution, introduced by delegates from the University of Wisconsin, the Republican senator's home state, was approved 220 to 48.

The resolution declared that McCarthyism — a technique characterized by reliance upon legislative immunity, guilt by association and unproven scattershot charges — should be condemned by both major parties.

Allard K. Lowenstein, president of the NSA, said that McCarthy was "proud of his work and was running for re-election on his record."

"We have an obligation to state how we feel on the issue," Lowenstein said.

around major cities, wider highways and rural streets, divided highway grades, and easier to read highway signs, the greatest needs in the promotion of highway safety.

Roan told the truckers it was his opinion that the main purpose of city streets was for the movement of traffic and not for parking vehicles.

McMurray told the group it was important to maintain a safety organization such as the trucker's group on a local level.

Speaking as a representative of the truckers, Eldon Miller, owner of the Eldon Miller Inc. trucking company of Iowa City, said, "We're on the way to making Iowa's highways safer places to travel on." Miller told the group the trucking industry has a debt to society to keep its equipment and drivers safety-gear.

Crowley urged the new safety organization to align itself with the Iowa Safety Congress. His sentiments were echoed by McMurray.

U.S. Seventh Corps Returns to Europe To Eye Russians

FRANKFURT (P) — The U.S. Seventh corps is coming back to Germany under a stepped-up plan for reinforcement of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's Atlantic Pact forces, the army said Monday.

It was the Seventh corps which in 1945 first met and shook hands with advancing Soviet troops on the Elbe.

The Seventh will be eyeing the Soviets this time too—but with a view to preventing Russian aggression in West Europe.

The army said the Seventh, under command of Maj. Gen. Withers A. Burrell, will arrive in Germany this fall.

Nehru Explains India's Objections To Jap Treaty

NEW DELHI, India (P) — Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru Monday explained to a cheering and emotional parliament India's objections to the proposed Japanese Treaty.

India, he said, decided it should not sign the pact because "none of the major suggestions put forward by India (for removal of objectionable features) was accepted."

Specifically, Nehru said, India objected to the treaty's failure to turn over Formosa, the last territorial toe-hold of Chiang Kai-Shek's Nationalist China, to the Chinese Reds.

India also found fault with the proposed retention of "legislative and administrative control by the United States" and a provision "which suggests that the present occupation forces may stay in Japan."

"This does not represent the decision that Japan should have full enjoyment of her freedom as a sovereign nation," Nehru said.

He said India felt the objectionable provisions "cannot but be a source of dissatisfaction among large sections of the Japanese people and must carry the seeds of future disputes and possible conflict in the Far East."
