Hoover and Iowa Governors, Past and Present

Hoover Attacks 'Decay' in American Public Life

DES MOINES (AP) — Herbert Hoover appealed Thursday for a return to the old virtues lest "the lights go out of America" because of "the decay of integrity and the rotting of patriotism" in public life. The former president showed obvious concern over "disclosures of dishonor in high places" and "the frustration of congress in groping for some sort of code of ethics which might protect the citizen from his own officials."

However, he declared to thousands of state fair visitors in accepting an Iowa award for distinguished citizenship, right will prevail because "moral indignation is on the march again."

Hoover declared the nation is facing "a cancerous growth of intellectual dishonesty in public life," and commented:

"The practical thing we can do if we really want to make the world over again is to try out some of the old virtues that made this country."

"I realize that such suggestions will raise the cuss word 'reactionary.' But some of these old things are slipping badly in American life."

"And if they slip too far, the lights will go out of America, even if we win these cold and hot wars. There are group pressures which smell from both the decay of integrity and the rotting of patriotism. Dishonor in public life

DiSalle Urges Congress to Act on Inflation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Defense Mobilizer Charles E. Wilson and Price Stabilizer Michael V. DiSalle acknowledged Thursday that inflation cannot be whipped completely, but urged congress to give them a law that will at least "slow it down."

They said three provisions written into the price control law by congress make it impossible to put the brakes on inflation and eventually will catch consumers in the middle of a business-labor "scramble" for higher wages and prices.

The mobilization chiefs testified before the senate banking committee in support of President Truman's request for repeal of two price-boosting amendments

Senate Money Group Approves Sales Tax

WASHINGTON (AP)—The senate finance committee Thursday tentatively voted to boost excise (sales) taxes by about $1,045,000,000 a year.

It did this by accepting most of the major increases on excises included in the house-passed 7.2 billion bill.

House increases accepted by the senators were made on such items as distilled liquor, beer, cigarettes, gasoline, diesel fuel, motor cars, trucks, buses, and many electric and gas appliances.

The biggest of these added vacuum cleaners, washing machines and garbage disposal units to the list of appliances on which the house imposed a 10 per cent manufacturers' excise tax. This would add an estimated $55 million a year in revenue.

11 Senators Ask $500-Million Foreign Aid Cut

WASHINGTON (AP) — Eleven senators moved to slash an additional $500 million off the administration's $8.5 billion foreign aid bill Thursday after President Truman sharply denounced an earlier billion-dollar cut.

As the senate headed into a night session, Sen. Everett Dirksen (R-Ill.) quarterbacked a new economy drive in which two Democrats and eight other Republican senators joined him.

After some further discussion, the senate agreed to a debate limitation plan under which there may be a final vote on the bill late today.

Dirksen said Sens. Harry Byrd (D-Va.), John McClellan (D-Ark.), Herman Welker (R-Idaho), Kenneth Wherry (R-Neb.), George Malone (R-Nev.), Frank Case (R-S.D.), John Williams (R-Del.), Henry Dworshak (R-Idaho), Karl Mundt (D-S.D.) and Andrew Schoeppel (R-Kan.) were with him in offering an amendment for a new $500 million cut.

But Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-N.J.) and Sen. Edward Thye (R-Minn.) argued against any further reductions.

"What we are doing here today is not aiding foreign countries but trying to insure the safety of the United States," Smith said.

Mercury Hits 96 As City Has Hottest Day

If you thought Thursday's muggy temperatures were the hottest of the year you were absolutely right.

As a matter of fact the mercury climbed to a steamy 96 Thursday afternoon, highest temperature in Iowa City since 1949.

Last year's high was a comparatively mild 93. The weatherman has promised Iowa City and the entire Hawkeye state some relief today with a possibility of some showers.

Weather

Partly cloudy cooler and less humid today. Saturday partly cloudy and little change in temperature. High today, 85; low 63. High Thursday, 96; low, 73.

Truman Invokes Taft-Hartley Law In Copper Strike

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Truman invoked the Taft-Hartley law in the copper strike Thursday night even as a union spokesman held out hope of an early agreement that would end the critical four-day-old walkout.

The President set up a three-man fact-finding board to look into the copper dispute and report to him by next Tuesday.

Its report could be followed swiftly by a federal court injunction halting the strike for 80 days, during which renewed federal mediation would be undertaken.

But even as the President called on the drastic law he is pledged to repeal, a union spokesman said "we are very hopeful we'll be able to reach a satisfactory agreement prior to the time the board makes its report."

This came from H. B. Douglas, spokesman for the union negotiating committee that has been holding secret bargaining sessions with officials of the strike-bound Kennecott Copper company.

The two sides were understood to be only a penny apart in the wage negotiations, with any agreement expected to give the workers about a 16-cent hourly wage raise — the sum previously proposed by government mediators.

Douglas, an official of one of the AFL unions involved in the copper dispute, said Kennecott of-

Overcoats

Woolen Coats Issued On Hottest Day

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Winter uniforms, including heavy woolen overcoats, were issued to the 50 members of an army reserve unit Thursday as the temperature soared to 99.3 degrees for the hottest day here in more than four years.

Capt. S. S. Sansbury, the unit's supply officer, explained men had to receive their winter uniforms sometime and that since they were assembled, Thursday seemed to be as good a day as any.

Reds Demand UN Punish 'Culprits'

TOKYO, (Friday) (AP) — The Communists Thursday night charged formally that an Allied plane dropped a flare over Kaesong Wednesday and demanded that the "culprits be severely punished."

The note, the latest in a series of Red charges that the Allies violated the neutrality of the Kaesong armistice talk site, was handed Thursday to a UN liaison officer at Panmunjom, east of Kaesong.

The Red officer, in handing over the note, also voiced charges that Allied armed personnel had violated the neutral zone.

The note made no mention of a possible resumption of the truce talks, which the Reds themselves suspended.

The text of the note was broadcast earlier by the Peiping radio. It was signed by Lt. Gen. Nam Il, the North Korean who heads the Communist negotiating team. It was addressed to Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy, chief negotiator for the United Nations command.

There was no Allied confirmation of the reported flare-dropping.

An earlier Peiping broadcast today charged the Allies with threatening to bomb Kaesong, where the armistice negotiations were suspended by the communists Aug. 23.

U.S. Calls Off Talks with Russ Over Lend-Lease

WASHINGTON (AP)—The state department called off Thursday's scheduled lend-lease settlement talks with the Russians because it had received a note on the subject a few hours earlier from Moscow.

Another meeting is to be scheduled next week after American officials have had an opportunity to study the newest Soviet communication.

Press Officer Carroll Kilpatrick told reporters the note appeared to add nothing new to the situation and was mainly "a rehash" of old Soviet arguments.

At a meeting Monday, soviet negotiators boosted from $240 million to $300 million the amount Moscow is willing to pay to settle its war time account with the United States which brought it nearly $11 billion in American weapons and supplies during the war.

The U.S. has asked that Russia pay $800 million to settle.

McCarthy Asks Jury Trial of Acheson

NEW YORK (AP) — Sen. Joseph McCarthy (R-Wis.) — saying it was a hopeless gesture — offered Thursday to risk his senate seat in a jury trial of Secretary of State Dean Acheson and Ambassador Phillip K. Jessup.

"There is no way on God's earth I can get them into court," McCarthy told newsmen afterwards.

Nevertheless, he flung his trial by jury dare in a speech to the 52nd annual convention of the Veterans of Foreign Wars — shortly after the veterans demanded Acheson's ouster as state secretary.

McCarthy offered to resign if a jury should find Acheson and Jessup innocent of his charges of Communist coddling.

But he demanded the resignations of Acheson, Jessup and "that whole motley crowd" should the jury uphold his charges.

McCarthy conceded that such a jury trial was out of the question. American courts do not try purely political cases, unless libel or slander is involved.

Transcontinental TV to Begin Sept. 4 with President's Address

TRANSCONTINENTAL TELEVISION relay system pictured above has 107 relay towers, cost $40 million to establish.

By FRED HIFT

Central Press Correspondent

NEW YORK — Transcontinental television, the linking of New York and Los Angeles as the poles in a vast network that will eventually cover the entire nation with its invisible electronic fingers, becomes a reality Sept. 4.

That night, as President Truman steps before the cameras and microphones to address the Japanese peace conference in San Francisco, his image will inaugurate a new electronic highway that will carry it, clear across the country, to television sets in homes in the east and mid-west.

The unique east-west link, built by the Bell system at a cost of more than $40 million and consisting of 107 relay towers spaced about 30 miles apart, is actually being opened considerably ahead of schedule. Only a year ago, the Bell people insisted that there could be no coast-to-coast video until the end of 1952. But work progressed faster than had been anticipated.

On Aug. 17 this year, the first telephone call sped east-to-west along the microwave radio-relay skyway. Television was supposed to follow on Sept. 30, but the State department requested that the west-to-east channel be opened up in time for coverage of the peace conference.

The new television hookup, which is likely to induce the TV industry to shift its headquarters from New York to Hollywood within a matter of months, resembles the pony express in its basic features.

Working in relays, the riders and their fleet horses raced along a chain of lonely outposts to bring the mail pouches in the swiftest possible time. Modern communication simply eliminated the horse and replaced it with an electronic wave.

MT. ROSE, Nev. relay station

To make the new transcontinental link work, the television signal, in the form of microwaves, is beamed from tower to neighboring tower. The waves, each about as long as a cigarette, pass a given point at the rate of about four billion every second. They are picked up at the horn-shaped antenna atop the relay tower, are revitalized and again sent on their way.

It took four years to build all the towers. Many had to be constructed in difficult terrain that required the building of special roads.

The route stretches from New York to Pittsburgh, to Cleveland, Toledo and Chicago. From there the signals are sent on in giant leaps to Davenport, Des Moines and Omaha (western terminal of the network till now), Denver, Salt Lake City and, finally, San Francisco which is already connected with Los Angeles.

Across plains, through fertile farm country, over steep mountain ranges and through the hearts of teeming cities, the chain of steel and concrete towers zigzags 3,000 miles across the continent, often following the trail of the early pioneers.

Just east of Salt Lake City, the route wends its way through Pratts pass to break out into Salt Lake valley following in the footsteps of the hardy Mormon pioneers for whom the pass is named.

At its highest point, where the trail climbs over the Sierra Nevada, the Mt. Rose relay station straddles a lonely peak at an altitude of over 10,000 feet. In contrast, the lowest point is at the New York City terminal, just 113 feet above sea-level.

The towers themselves range from a high 450 feet to no more than 14 feet at the station on the Great Salt Lake where the antennas were placed near the ground to avoid reflection from the flats.

At the historic moment when the picture of the President flashes across the nation, only the west-to-east channel will be open. The route going the opposite way will start carrying TV programs soon after.

To the television people, the coast-to-coast skyway signifies bright new horizons, with some 90 of the nation's 107 TV stations now theoretically able to tie into the national network. They hope that, as an art form and a social force, television is taking another big step toward maturity.

Parliament on the Air

Australians Hear Legislators Debate Both Public and Politicians Are Happy

By GORDON TATE

SYDNEY (AP) — The Australian parliament has been on the air for five years. The people are quite happy about it—so are the politicians.

The members of parliament like broadcasting because it gives them a big audience. The people like the opportunity to hear debates and questions that interest them. They can always turn to a lighter program when parliament is dull.

Parliament is broadcast exclusively by the government's Australian Broadcasting commission (ABC) on a national network.

How many people listen to broadcasts of parliament? The ABC does not say.

Number of Listeners Unknown

It is a big question for commercial stations. Surveys have been made on their behalf.

One shows that six out of 10 listeners tune in to parliament at least once a month. Another estimates that about 10 per cent of Australian radio sets are turned to parliament when there is a reasonably interesting debate, or at question time.

When there is a debate of intense public interest—maybe once or twice a year—30 or 40 per cent of sets may be tuned to parliament.

For comparison, about 40 per cent of sets regularly are tuned to the top-bill programs of the big commercial station networks.

There is no censorship of parliamentary broadcasts. Members, knowing they are on the air, can say what they like within the rules of parliamentary debate—and at times they break the rules. Everything said is privileged—nobody can be sued about it.

Must Air Sessions

An act of parliament makes the ABC legally obliged to broadcast parliament. A joint committee instructs ABC on details—for instance, which house is to be on the air.

The broadcasting of parliament began July 10, 1946. It was started by the labor government of the late Joseph B. Chieffly in the belief that labor arguments were not getting a good enough run in the Australian newspapers, most of which are politically opposed to labor.

Whether it has really helped the labor party is doubtful. Labor members do not seem to have mastered the radio technique as effectively as the liberal and country party members on the other side of the house.

When parliament first went on the air, members tried to tidy up their speeches before delivery. The tone of the debates was improved. Today members are no longer as microphone conscious, and a session of parliament is pretty much as it was before broadcasting.

Custom Has Changed

By parliamentary custom, all members address their remarks to Mr. Speaker. Since broadcasting, however, many address their remarks to the unseen electors but often are called to order by the speaker.

To Mr. Speaker comes a constant stream of letters from listeners complaining of the buzz of general conversation. But the radio listener normally hears the debate more clearly than anyone in the public or press galleries. He also hears many muttered interjections that are quite inaudible in the chamber.

The elector has been a little disillusioned by the radio picture of parliament. It's like walking in on a brawl in a family you've hitherto seen only at Sunday parties.

The listener, accustomed to reading a tailored account of what his representative has said, now turns the radio dial to hear him—often fumbling and ungrammatical.

He has heard, too, unparliamentary shouts of "liar," "pull yer head in, mug" and "shut up."

Divinna's Act Revised At Indiana State Fair

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — "Divinna, the stripteuse" was ordered Thursday to revise her underwater act at the Indiana State Fair.

She can't splash around clad only in a scanty bikini bathing suit, the state fair board ruled.

"We want no sequel to the shocking, nude shows at the Iowa State Fair," one fair official said.

War Hero Is Chief of Southern Europe

By STAN SWINTON

NAPLES, Italy (AP) — Meet "Mr. Mediterranean."

He's a greying Pacific war hero — Adm. Robert Bostwick Carney, U.S. navy, with the official title North Atlantic Treaty organization commander-in-chief, southern Europe.

Gen. Eisenhower in June gave Carney the task of hammering out a defensive shield for Europe's right flank.

It's a tough job—and it went to a tough man who has flown 90,000 miles around the Mediterranean to learn it first-hand.

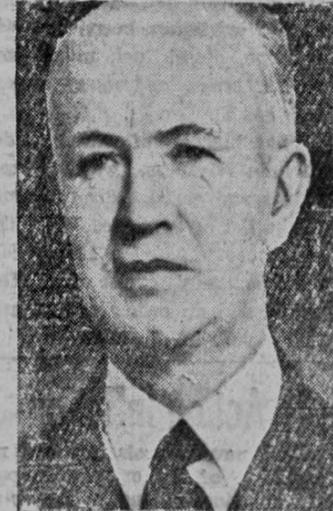

"I'm never satisfied," is Carney's motto.

Carney is concentrating first on drawing up strategic plans to cover any battle which might come, and in outlining programs to get his forces in battle condition.

Joint naval maneuvers already have been held. So have joint exercises in which American and other naval vessels give off-shore fire support to Italian troops operating on land.

The man the Allies are depending on to whip the southern command into shape is an old hand at mastering tough jobs although he doesn't look the part.

Born in Vallejo, Calif., on March 26, 1895, Adm. Carney is slightly built, greying, balding and wears glasses. Carney helped organize air protection for U.S. convoys before and after America entered World War II—and in his area only six ships were lost to sub attack out of 2,600. For that he won his first distinguished service medal.

Adm. Robert B. Carney "Mr. Mediterranean"

His cruiser, U.S.S. Denver, fought in the battles of the Solomons. Decoration followed decoration as the Pacific war progressed.

Then Adm. William F. "Bull" Halsey Jr., picked up-and-coming Bob Carney as his chief-of-staff. Carney served with Halsey for the rest of the war, winning a navy cross for heroism during the battle of Leyte gulf.

It was Carney who arranged with the Japanese for the U.S. fleet to enter Tokyo bay. A proud day in his life when he stood on Adm. Halsey's flagship, the Missouri, and watched Japan surrender.

In 1946 Carney was promoted to vice admiral and, until February 1950, he was deputy chief of naval operations (logistics). Last year he received the four stars of a full admiral.

Take It Easy--Make Labor Day Weekend a Picnic

FOR WARM SUMMER AFTERNOONS nothing will be more refreshing than a tall, cool sherbet float. Make the sherbet yourself; then add to iced soft drinks or fruit juice. Serve with sandwiches or cookies.

Whether it be hamburger, franks or steak you're planning, why not shape that meat into picnic style this weekend?

Take the fresh air into account and remember that twice enough food is never too much; food cooked over an open fire always seems to taste a little better than it does indoors.

Here are two versions of that picnic favorite — the hamburger — both worthy of the most patiently kindled fire. Add toasted buns, roasted corn, steaming coffee and lush watermelon, and the picnic's a success.

Picnic Hamburgers

- 2 cups corn flakes
- 1 pound ground beef
- 1/2 cup milk or water
- 1 1/2 teaspoons salt
- 1/8 teaspoon pepper

Crush corn flakes; combine with other ingredients and mix well. Shape into 6 patties. Grill over charcoal fire. Yield: 6 patties.

Soya Meatburgers

- 2 cups corn soya shreds
- 1 pound ground beef
- 1/2 cup water or milk
- 1 1/2 teaspoons salt
- 1/8 teaspoon pepper
- 1/4 cup minced onion

Crush corn soya shreds into fine crumbs; add other ingredients and mix well. Shape into patties and broil 7-10 minutes on each side or until well browned. Yield: 6 patties.

For fancier fare try beefsteak kabobs or even go Hawaiian with an Aloha Grill.

Beefsteak Kabobs

- Beefsteak, cut 1 1/2 inches thick
- Onion slices
- Bacon
- Fresh mushroom caps
- Ac'cent

Allow 4 to 6 ounces of tender beefsteak per serving. Use 1 skewer per person. Slip a slice of onion on skewer; then a folded slice of bacon; next a meat cube. Follow the meat cube with another folded slice of bacon, and a mushroom cap.

Repeat until skewer is full. Sprinkle liberally with Ac'cent. Brush with oil or drippings and broil over picnic fire or under broiler until done.

Aloha Grill

- Canned pineapple juice or syrup drained from canned pineapple chunks
- Soy sauce

- 1 1/2-inch chunks cooked ham or canned pressed ham
- Small, white cooked onions
- Cooked pitted prunes wrapped in bacon strips

- 1 1/2-inch cubes fresh pineapple or canned pineapple chunks
- 2-inch long cooked carrot rounds

- Melted margarine
- Paprika

Mix a cup of pineapple juice or syrup with a tablespoon of soy sauce; marinate ham in this mixture for several hours. Use 12 to 15-inch skewers and string them alternately with ham, onions, bacon-wrapped prunes, pineapple, and carrots.

Brush skewered food (except bacon-wrapped prunes) with melted margarine. Grill outdoors or in broiler of kitchen range; turn skewers and brush with more melted margarine. Sprinkle onions with paprika and serve at once.

When you've satisfied their appetites nothing will refresh family or guests more than a tall, cool drink topped off with a delicious scoop of rich smooth sherbet.

Fruit Sherbet

- 1 cup milk
- 1 cup water
- 1 package sherbet mix (any flavor)

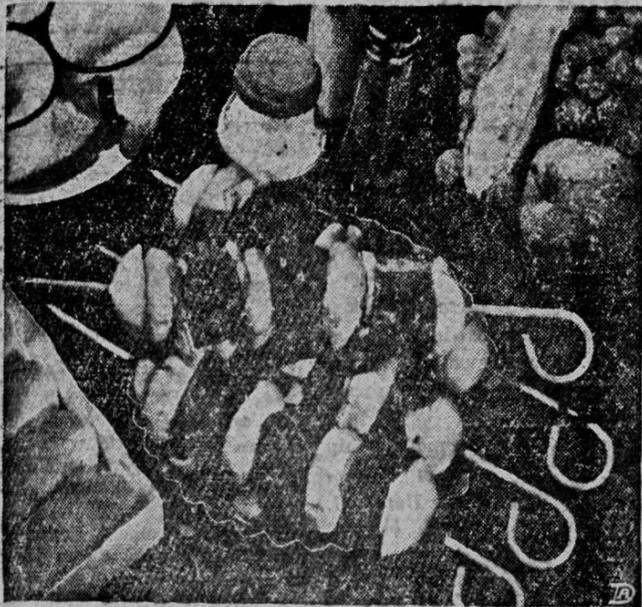

Follow directions on the package. After freezing a second time, add scoops of sherbet to pop or fruit juice.

Suggestions: Add scoops of sherbet to orange soda, gingerale, apricot juice or cranberry juice cocktail.

Exposed Wood Floors Should Be Protected

To guard against wear and the expense of refinishing wood floors, an application of paste or liquid self-polishing wax is suggested.

The housewife can keep cool by applying self-polishing wax with a long-handled applicator which saves strain on the knees and back. Paste and liquid polishing type wax can easily be buffed with an electric floor polisher which may be rented for a small fee in many hardware and grocery stores.

BEEFSTEAK KABOBS will guarantee success for your barbecue—indoors or out in the open. They are sprinkled liberally with Ac'cent (pure monosodium glutamate) to reinforce the flavors of the meat and vegetables.

TV Producer Quits Hollywood for Priesthood

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — A 27-year-old television show producer gave up his $15,000-a-year career Thursday to study for the Episcopal priesthood.

Mal Boyd was a "young-man-making-good-in-a-big-way," but he turned his back on Hollywood's glamour, its cash and its dates with pretty movie queens. He is registered to enter the seminary of the Divinity Church School of the Pacific at Oakland, Calif., next Wednesday.

He said he's worked out a budget of $25 per week.

"Here in Hollywood there was all that money could buy," said Boyd, who was the first president of the Television Producers' Association of Hollywood.

"But I felt I wanted peace," he said.

Until a year ago, he hadn't been to church since he sang in the boy's choir and was an acolyte.

Boyd started in show business seven years ago with programs on radio stations, in Tucson, Ariz.

and Denver, Col. A year ago he was commuting between Hollywood and New York, producing and promoting TV shows for Buddy Rogers and Mary Pickford.

He belonged to the Academy of Motion Pictures Arts and Sciences and voted in the annual "Oscar" award derby.

"It was a glamorous, fast-moving and high-pitched life," he said. "But I discovered there's no compromise between the spiritual and material."

SOFTENS DECOR

It's a good trick for an untiled bathroom to hang gathered white or pastel plastic curtains from ceiling to floor on the walls closest to the bathtub. This protects walls, gives a delightfully airy effect, and softens the whole decor of the room.

To keep curtains clean, simply sponge with a soapy cloth, followed by a clean damp cloth; stroke from top to bottom. Or put them into a bathtub or washtub full of warm suds.

Motorists Warned Of Next 7 Days

DES MOINES (AP) — The state public safety department warned Iowa motorists Thursday they face the year's greatest danger of death and injury during the next seven days.

Commissioner Pearl McMurry said the next seven days will be a dangerous week on Iowa highways.

"Many factors combine to make traffic during this period the heaviest and most perilous of the year—the holiday travel peak, traffic to and from the state fair, back-to-school driving, the last full week for vacation trips, and the start of the fall pickup in normal business driving," McMurry said.

He said last year 19 persons were killed in Iowa traffic accidents in the seven-day period including the Labor day weekend and the four following days. He said 353 persons were injured during the period last year.

McMurry warned motorists not to drink while driving and asked they be patient with slow traffic.

NCAA Committee Proposes 12-Point Sports De-Emphasis

CHICAGO (AP) — The policy-making body of the National Collegiate Athletic association Thursday proposed a 12-point cure for over-emphasis in college sports.

The NCAA council, after a two-day meeting in Chicago, recommended limiting the number of games in each sport, particularly football and basketball and "re-examining post-season games in the light of the pressures they create."

The 17-member council, comprised of delegates from every corner of the nation, also suggested confining practice sessions to the season of each sport, limiting the number and amount of financial grants to athletes, and curtailing "undesirable" recruiting activities.

Hugh C. Willett, president of the NCAA and chairman of the council, stressed that the 12 points were suggestions only.

"Council members will sample opinion on the measures between now and the NCAA convention in January," said Willett, who is a member of the University of Southern California faculty. The convention will be held Jan. 9 to 12 at Cincinnati.

"This is the first step to meet the challenge of overemphasis," Willett added.

Some 300 colleges and universities are NCAA members in the nation.

The 12 points suggest that NCAA colleges and universities:

Confine practice seasons to the recognized season of the sport or limit and rigidly supervise out of season practice.

Re-examine post season games.

Urge reconsideration of the free substitution rule to "eliminate pressure implications of the platoon system."

Deny athletic eligibility to students who have not been admitted in accordance with regular published entrance requirements.

Limit the number and amount of financial grants to athletes.

Reduce undesirable recruiting activity.

Limit the number of games in each sport either through curtailment of the season or definite game limitations.

Insist that athletes make "normal academic progress."

Make ineligible all athletes who receive gifts or subsidies beyond that permitted by the institution and conference.

Eliminate excessive entertainment of prospective athletes.

Examine the curriculum of the athletes to make sure they are getting an education.

Demand strict adherence to the letter and spirit of rules by institutions or by regional or national groups.

Seixas Eliminates McGregor in National Tennis 4th Round

FOREST HILLS, N. Y. (AP) — The National tennis championships finally exploded in a terrific match Thursday when Vic Seixas, 27-year-old Philadelphian, outfought, outplayed and finally outlasted big Ken McGregor, Australia's second ranking star, 4-6, 7-5, 7-5, 6-4, before 10,000 howling fans in the stadium.

In providing the first major upset of the tournament, Seixas played possibly the greatest match of his career. Also, he might well have clinched a place on America's challenging Davis cup team.

By pulling out the sizzler, Seixas qualified to tackle steady Herbie Flam of Beverly Hills, Calif., in his quarter-final match Saturday. Flam, his doubles partner in recent tournaments, won his way through the fourth round with a 4-6, 6-2, 6-2, 7-5, victory over unseeded Eddie Moylan of Trenton, N. J.

Budge Patty of Los Angeles, the former Wimbledon champion, caused the experts to sit up and take serious note of his play Thursday as he rather easily handled Mervyn Rose, the third seeded Australian, by scores of 1-6, 6-3, 6-2, 7-5.

This left only one foreigner, Frank Sedgman of Australia, in the men's division of the championships, but England still was strongly represented in the women's department. Three of the eight survivors were from across the water.

Indians Lose Lead, 6-2

NEW YORK (AP) — Jimmy Dykes' upstart Athletics, who are making a career of knocking other clubs out of first place, Thursday shoved the Cleveland Indians off the top with a 6-2 triumph that boosted the idle Yankees into the league lead.

By succumbing to southpaw Morrie Martin, who checked them on eight hits for his 10th victory, the reeling Indians fell a half game behind the pace.

Earlier this season, the seventh-place Athletics knocked both the White Sox and Yankees out of the lead on different occasions.

Martin, who failed in a former big league trial with Brooklyn, retired in the eighth with the bases full and one out, but Carl Scheib forced Al Rosen to hit into a double play, ending the Indians' threat.

Bob Feller, seeking his 21st victory, started for Cleveland but lasted only three innings. He suffered his greatest damage in the third when Bob Kennedy dropped Martin's fly ball in right field with the bases full, permitting three runs to score.

Headache Solution

COLLEGE STATION, TEX. (AP) — Texas A&M football players this fall will resemble the popular conception of men from Mars. Plastic masks will become part of their gridiron gear. Reduction of facial bruises and cuts is one of the reasons why the masks will be worn, but elimination of head injuries and concussions is the hops.

National Leaguers Say —

Too Old, No Sale

— On Johnny Sain

NEW YORK (AP) — Wid Matthews, personnel manager of the seventh place Chicago Cubs, said Wednesday that he would have grabbed Johnny Sain if the Cubs had been a leading pennant contender like the New York Yankees.

The Yankees obtained Sain, veteran righthander from the Boston Braves for a reported $50,000 and minor league pitcher Lew Burdette after all National league clubs waived on Sain.

Matthews said, "He (Sain) is a 10-year man and thus deals for himself. He's now getting about $40,000 to $50,000. You could only cut him 25 per cent next year and even then you'd have a discontented player on hand."

"He's not a player for a building club, and can only pitch three or four more games this year. Moreover, he hasn't pitched too well of late. However, if I were a leading contender like the Yankees, I'd have grabbed him."

Chuck Dressen, manager of the National league's pace-setting Brooklyn Dodgers said, "I think we got some young fellows in our organization coming up next year who will help us more than Sain. Also, I am confident we can win the flag with what we have and I don't need Sain."

Manager Leo Durocher of the second place New York Giants said, "no comment" when asked why the Giants didn't claim Sain. Gabe Paul, road secretary of the Cincinnati Reds said, "Pitching isn't our problem and Sain hasn't looked good against us at all."

Fred Saigh, owner of the St. Louis Cardinals said Sain's age, his poor record this year, and the fact the Cardinals' roster is full with nobody they wanted to release caused him to waive on the Boston pitcher.

NCAA Authorizes Fresh Competition in Tourneys

CHICAGO (AP) Freshmen competition in NCAA meets and tournaments for the next collegiate year was approved Thursday by the council, policy-making body for the organization.

The ruling was in accord with previous legislation by most of the members conferences, including the Big Ten, Pacific Coast, Southern, Southeastern, Eastern, Missouri Valley, Mountain States, and Rocky Mountain groups.

Contenders Win —

Over-Timers One-Runners

NEW YORK (AP) — The most direct route to a pennant? Win the close ones as well as the extra inning games.

That's been the formula of Cleveland and Brooklyn, who may meet in the world series.

The Indians have won seven of eight overtime games, easily the best record in the American league. Their only marathon defeat was by an 8-4 score July 28 to the Red Sox, who tallied five times in the 16th inning after Cleveland had scored once.

The Tribe also has participated in 37 one-run decisions and captured 22 of them. That, too, is the best record in the American league.

Brooklyn's extra-inning slate is 11-2. The Dodgers have played 49 one-run tilts, more than any club in both leagues, and have won 29.

The hardest working club in the majors are the New York Giants. Leo Durocher's ambitious athletes have been involved in 18 marathon contests, dividing them down the middle. Chicago's White Sox, with 8 out of 12, are the hardest working players in the American.

The cellar-dwelling St. Louis Browns, who have found it tough enough winning in regulation time, apparently want nothing to do with those extra inning affairs. They've played seven and dropped them all. Boston's Braves, with 3-7, have the poorest record in the National.

The Browns and Braves also have fared the worst in the one-run department. St. Louis' record is 9-18 and Boston's is 9-25.

A New Way to Win a Boxing Crown . . .

NEW YORK (AP) — Billy Graham claimed the world's welterweight championship Thursday after Kid Gavilan snubbed his plans for a return bout and the New York Boxing commission indicated it will not investigate Wednesday night's disputed decision.

Gavilan was awarded a very close split decision over Graham after their 15-round title bout at Madison Square garden. But the fans burst into a near riot when the unpopular decision was announced, and one angry spectator attempted to hit referee Mark Conn with a ring stool when Conn left the ring.

International Boxing club matchmaker Al Weill immediately proposed a return bout Oct. 26 at the garden between champion Gavilan and the persistent challenger. But after a brief conference Thursday, Gavilan's co-managers, Angel Lopez and Fernando Balido, indicated they were not interested.

Enraged manager Irving Cohen then claimed the title for Graham. "The near riot of fans, the scorecards of the sports writers and the telegrams and telephone calls we've received show the public now considers Graham the champion—So we claim the title."

No Ousted Cadets Reinstated, West Point Head Says

WEST POINT (AP) — Maj. Gen. Frederick A. Irving, superintendent of the U.S. military academy, Thursday said "No cadet found guilty and separated has been restored to duty, and there is no intention of doing so."

His statement was issued after Attorney Robert Daru told a New York city bar inquiry into the cribbing scandal that seven of the accused cadets had been "restored to duty."

An academy spokesman said Wednesday that several cadets whose names had cropped up during the academy investigation had been cleared. He did not specify whether these were among the 90 accused originally or others whose names were drawn into the inquiry.

He said at that time none of the 82 cadets who have left the campus had been recalled and restored to duty.

At the second day of a public hearing in New York city being conducted by the committee on justice of the New York civil and criminal courts bar association three of the expelled cadets testified.

They said they did not get hearings before the cadets' honor committee as provided by the honor code.

The three cadets were Harrison Gerard Travis of Atlantic Highlands, N. J.; Donald Senich of Cleveland, O.; and Elmer E. Stout of South River, N. J.

Ex-West Pointer Al Pollard to Play Pro Ball with Yanks

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Ousted Army star Al Pollard revealed Thursday he has signed to play professional football with the New York Yanks.

Pollard, a star fullback at West Point until he was expelled in the examination cribbing scandal, left Thursday night for Chicago where the Yanks engage the Chicago Cardinals tonight. Pollard said he signed with the National Football league team the day before the College All-Star game at Chicago Aug. 17.

Pollard is understood to have agreed to play for $7,000. Previous he had demanded $14,000 according to some reports.

Pollard, a 22-year-old, 190 pound six-footer, was Army's high scorer last season with 83 points. He gained 638 yards in 87 attempts for an average of 7.3 yards per carry.

"Since the Yanks had drafted me originally," he explained, "I decided to live up to the contract and give them the very best I can. I hope I can make their team and I'm pretty sure I can even though I know pro ball is a lot different from college ball."

Among the West Point players who were dismissed, Pollard was the only one eligible to play pro ball.

2 Long-Missing British Officials Believed Found

LONDON (AP) — Some reliable authorities believed Thursday night that two long missing British diplomats went to Czechoslovakia after they disappeared, stayed there for some time, and may be there still.

A government denial of a published report that the diplomats had been located did not stamp out growing belief that the case is about to be broken.

The diplomats who vanished May 25 were Donald MacLean, 38, head of the foreign office American section, and Guy Burgess, 40, Far Eastern expert who had been under suspicion.

The Daily Herald, organ of the British Labor party, reported early Thursday that military intelligence agents had "located" them. A few hours later the foreign office issued a formal denial.

Early editions of Friday's Herald noted the foreign office denial but repeated that the newspaper knows where the missing men are.

A five-paragraph item said the Herald had sent the foreign office a day-to-day itinerary of the journey made by the missing diplomats, including information on their present whereabouts. These details, however, were not published.

has a double poison."

The award was the first made by the Iowa centennial memorial foundation. It is a bronze plaque and scroll, given for outstanding service by a native Iowan.

Hoover was given a standing ovation by the overflowing grandstand crowd of approximately 20,000 persons at both the beginning and end of his address.

The former president was dressed in a natty, double-breasted blue suit and seemed indifferent to the 95-degree heat. To a reporter who asked if the extreme heat and humidity bothered him, he said, "No, I feel fine."

Presidents Happy at Pact Signing

JOVIAL PRESIDENTS—President Truman and Philippine President Elpidio Quirino share a laugh as they shake hands during the signing ceremonies of a mutual defense pact between the two nations in Washington Thursday. Philippine Ambassador Joaquin Elizalde is at center.

U.S., Philippines Sign Mutual Defense Treaty

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States and the Philippines signed a new defense treaty Thursday which President Truman welcomed as "a strong step toward security and peace in the Pacific."

The first of a series of formal agreements aimed at blocking Communist or other aggression in the Pacific, it follows the pattern of the 12-nation North Atlantic alliance by binding the U.S. and its former ward to "act to meet the common dangers" in event of an attack on either.

Mr. Truman, speaking at the close of a colorful 34-minute signing ceremony, termed the treaty a natural development of the Philippine-American partnership tested in World War II. He pledged to Philippine President Elpidio Quirino that "we shall always be your friends."

From Quirino and Philippine Foreign Secretary Carlos P. Romulo came predictions that the two-nation mutual defense compact eventually will be broadened into a general Pacific security alliance such as they have been urging for the past two years. Mr. Truman and Secretary of State Acheson avoided any reference to this in their addresses.

The new Philippine treaty is to be followed on Saturday by the signing of a similar agreement among the United States, Australia and New Zealand. Next are to come the Japanese peace treaty and the accompanying security treaty between the U.S. and Japan extending American responsibility for safeguarding the disarmed Japanese against aggression. For the time being that is as far as the U.S. has given evidence of being willing to go toward shoring up Pacific and Asian defenses through formal agreements.

The Philippine compact and the other three treaties must be ratified by the senate. They are not expected to come up for action before early next year.

Secretary Acheson, Ambassador John Foster Dulles, Chairman Connally (D-Tex.) of the senate foreign relations committee and Sen. Alexander Wiley (R-Wis.) signed the new treaty for the United States. Romulo, Ambassador Joaquin M. Elizalde, Vincente Francisco, chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, and Chairman Diodado Magapagal of the house foreign affairs committee signed.

There was an audience of 1,500, in the inter-departmental auditorium.

'Phantom' Gunman Hunted by Police After Killing Woman

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Police shook down a wide area Thursday hunting a ghostly sniper whose third strike in three nights killed a young mother as she sat at a roadside stand munching a hotdog.

Nina Marie Bice, 25, fell off the stool dead last night, a .22 bullet in her head.

A bullet of the same caliber wounded another woman Monday night. The following night a .22 bullet broke a living room window in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd M. Walter in suburban Norwalk, but hit no one.

Mrs. Lois Kreutzer, 21, of Rivera, felt what she thought was a bee sting on her chest as she was making a telephone call in an outside booth near her home Monday night.

Ballistics experts said Thursday the bullets apparently were made by the same manufacturer.

Scores of police and sheriff's officers began shaking down the area. All the shootings were within a radius of 20 miles. There were few clues. No one has reported seeing the gunman.

Mrs. Kreutzer did not know she had been shot until she reached home. Relatives saw blood streaming down her chest and called a doctor.

Mrs. Bice, divorced mother of three children, was sitting at the lunchstand with her fiance, William Hannah, 26. After the shot, Hannah searched behind nearby buildings but found no one.

Truman Invokes . . .

officials are flying here from Salt Lake City, Utah, with cost estimates of one part of the proposed agreement.

He said invocation of the Taft-Hartley law will make the bargaining more difficult, but expressed hope both sides could reach an agreement anyway — possibly today.

Such an agreement would directly affect only 3,400 workers of the left-wing mine, mill and smelter workers and six other AFL and railroad unions employed at Kennecott's Utah plants.

Definite Defense Line In Pacific Asked By Dewey

NEW YORK (AP) — Gov. Thomas E. Dewey Thursday called on the free world to draw a definite Pacific defense line with a promise of "the same kind of bloody nose you got in Korea" to any aggressor who stepped across.

Dewey, just back from a 40,000-mile Far East trip that took him to Korean battlefields, suggested that the "Stop Communism" line run from the Arctic to New Zealand.

"That isn't cheap and it isn't pleasant and it calls for sacrifice, but I want the free world to stay alive," he told the veterans of Foreign Wars in their encampment here.

The former Republican presidential nominee said countries along the route, which he did not define in detail, should not be considered separate powers, but part of the common defense set-up.
