

Orientation, Rush Week Revive SUI

Today will be the beginning of excitement for hundreds of students, confusion for many more and exhaustion for still others.

Fall rushing and orientation is here.

Already a wave of students, the new and the old, have swarmed back to SUI in anticipation of the rushing and orientation weeks, which open today and next Thursday, respectively.

The town, which for the most part quickly emptied itself of students after the summer session, is now beginning to jump with enthusiasm.

Shopkeepers are taking down their "closed" signs, workmen busily completing their overhauling of the city and Iowa Citizens cleaning out their spare rooms.

Despite estimates that the enrollment would be down, the university is hurriedly attempting to complete preparations for another big year.

The campus is receiving that final coat of "newness," before the big flow of students return.

But today, in most cases, the planning and polishing stage ends and campus activities begin, with the opening of rush week, a cycle of social events which end with the pledging of candidates to 20 fraternities and 13 sororities.

Rush week this year will follow about the same pattern as in previous years, with tours of fraternities and sororities and get-acquainted parties on schedule.

More than 250 men students are expected to register from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. today for the rushing program.

They will then attend a rush week orientation from 7:30 to 8:30 a.m. Sunday in the Iowa field house.

At 9 a.m. Sunday, candidates will be taken on a tour of the social fraternities. Actual rushing periods will begin at 5 p.m. Sunday and will continue through Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Rushes will learn the results of their busy four days next Thursday in the office of student affairs.

The women's rushing program will begin at 9:30 a.m. Sunday, at which time there will be a meeting of all candidates in McBride auditorium. Open houses will follow at 1:15 p.m.

Actual rushing parties at the sororities will begin Monday and will continue through Wednesday.

Invitations to pledge will be delivered to each rushee by 5:15 p.m. next Thursday.

This year's rushing program is expected to include 250 women.

By the time the rushing program is over, excitement of the opening of school will be at about its peak.

During the week before the first classes begin Sept. 20, all students, fraternity and sorority pledges as well as "town" men and women, will have an opportunity to view SUI academically, socially and physically.

Here's a schedule of the enrollment procedures during the week of Sept. 13-20:

1. In the college of liberal arts, new students who have completed some college work are to report to McBride hall at 8 a.m. Thursday, Sept. 13. New students with no college work are to report to the same place at 9:30 a.m. the same day for entrance examinations.
2. New and former students in

Reds Seize Two Positions Central Korea

(See War Map on Page 8) U.S. EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea (SATURDAY) (AP) — Fiercely charging Chinese Reds seized control Friday of two key heights inside central Korea's Chorwon-Pyongyang-Kumhwa "Iron Triangle."

The Reds launched their last big offensive in May in central Korea, using the triangle as a massing area.

The furious fighting of Thursday and Friday in the west and center broke off abruptly today.

In the west Friday, Allied troops struck back and regained ground lost to the Reds in attacks which officers said cost the foe 2,000 casualties.

Across Korea the U.S. eighth army is braced for a possible huge Red offensive which may be supported by 1,000 planes.

Tuesday night an Allied patrol in western Korea saw 12 colored markers west of Yonchon. The panels, placed there by the Reds, are similar to those used by the Allies to identify advance positions for supporting planes.

Fresh Red troops were seen moving into the area above Kaesong, site of the now-suspended truce talks, and officers at eighth army headquarters predicted new battles might erupt at any moment.

There was fierce fighting also on the eastern front, where the Allies pushed their limited offensive.

Senate Group Votes $61 Billion Arms Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The senate appropriations committee Friday approved a $61,103,856,030 military spending bill to give the United States a mighty air force of 95 groups or more, and a bigger army and navy.

The appropriation, for the armed forces during the current 1952 fiscal year, was $5,069,138,830 more than voted by the house.

Nearly all the increase was earmarked for expanding air power.

Sen. Joseph C. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.) chairman of the subcommittee which drafted the bill, said the sharp increase in air power funds has "some connection" with the "fantastic new weapons" disclosed by President Truman in a San Francisco speech Tuesday.

Nationalists Oust Stalinist Leadership In Czech Purge

(AP Wirephoto)

PURGED — Rudolph Slansky, architect of Red Czechoslovakia's vast purges, has been relieved of his duties as secretary-general, according to an official Czech news agency announcement Friday.

VIENNA (AP) — Czechoslovakia's Communist president, Klement Gottwald, Friday purged the Czech Communist party of its "Stalinist" leadership in a sweeping shakeup which put "nationalist" elements among the Czech Reds in power.

The drastic party overhauling, which was announced officially by the Prague radio, toppled from their high positions most of the hard-headed, Moscow-directed party bosses to whom Gottwald previously had played second fiddle.

Diplomatic observers believed the victory of the nationalistic elements over the "Kremlin's men" was aimed to wean Czechoslovakia from Moscow's tight control.

Among the Red party leaders who had the rug pulled out from under them were a number of Stalin's "singer" and "hatchet men" who had engineered some of the previous "Kremlin ordered" purges of the Czech party.

The more hopeful diplomatic observers here were following developments closely for evidence of a "Titoist" movement in Czechoslovakia.

Conspicuously missing from the new party list was Bedrich Geninder, deputy secretary general of the party and generally looked upon as Moscow's mouthpiece in Prague.

BRITAIN ASKS STEEL

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government said Friday night that Great Britain has asked for 800,000 tons of American steel for the British rearmament program.

Senate Votes To Increase Postage Rates

WASHINGTON (AP) — The senate passed a bill Friday night increasing the postage of ordinary letters from three cents to four cents and calling for other hikes to boost postal revenues, in all, nearly $400 million a year.

The measure would increase postage on postal cards from one cent to two cents.

It raises the postage for ordinary airmail letters from six cents to eight cents.

Passage came by a voice vote. The measure, intended to wipe out part of the post office department's huge annual deficit, now goes to the house.

Other increases would boost the rates on newspapers 30 per cent over a three-year period and on magazines 60 per cent over a like period.

Charges for third and fourth class mail, and such special services as special delivery letters, also would be hiked by the legislation.

The senate post office committee, which prepared the bill, had estimated that it would raise $373,360,501 in additional revenue in its first year of operation and $397,610,058 by the end of the third year.

This total was raised shortly

'William Tell' Murder Charge Jails Burroughs

MEXICO CITY (AP) — William Seward Burroughs of the adding machine family denied in jail Friday that he shot his pretty wife dead in a William Tell act with a glass of gin instead of an apple as target. He said it was a gun-dropping accident shot that killed her.

Burroughs acknowledged that his wife may have playfully put a glass on her head to shoot at.

"I loved my wife," he said. "I did not put any glass on her head. If she did, it was a joke and I certainly didn't intend to shoot at it."

U.S. ASKS BIG 3 ACTION

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States intends to ask Great Britain and France to join it in cracking down on Iron Curtain countries which persecute Western nationals.

Diplomatic officials who reported this Friday said Secretary of State Acheson will raise the question when the Big Three foreign ministers meet here Monday to discuss a wide range of world problems.

48 Nations Rebuff Reds' Final Effort To Stall Jap Pact

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Russia's Andrei Gromyko made a last desperate bid against the Japanese peace treaty Friday night after 48 of 51 nations had agreed to sign and all had heard a proud but plaintive acceptance of the pact by Japan.

Possible Murder Plot Almost Kills Gromyko

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A grim tip that a beer truck would trash into Andrei Gromyko's automobile and kill the Russian delegate to the Japanese treaty conference almost came to a chilling reality Friday.

Whether the incident actually was a plot by White Russians to assassinate Gromyko—or only an almost fantastic coincidence of a highway accident—no one could determine.

But a big truck, carrying 6,000 pounds of bacon instead of beer, was overturned by a "mystery car" just a short time before the speeding Russian automobile roared north on highway 101 this morning, enroute to the treaty session here.

The Russian car, escorted by highway officers, shot quickly around the wreck at 70 miles an hour, and escaped a possible crash. No one could say whether the

Woman Arrested In Connection With Church Entries

BURLINGTON, IA. (AP) — Des Moines county sheriff's office said Janet Meyer, 29, who has been accused of using a number of eastern Iowa churches for night's lodgings in recent weeks, will be turned over to Cedar Rapids police.

The woman was charged in a warrant filed at Cedar Rapids Friday with breaking and entering.

Sheriff R. J. Shook said the woman in a signed statement had admitted taking $44 from Trinity Lutheran church in Cedar Rapids, where she stayed the night of Aug. 27.

She was arrested last Sunday at Spring Grove Methodist church near Burlington. She said she had been sleeping and cooking in schools and churches during a hitchhiking career of several months.

Gromyko demanded to know how the conference intended to dispose of the amendments he offered in his futile attempts to disrupt the conference Wednesday.

U.S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson, presiding, reminded Gromyko that at the time he had insisted he was not offering amendments, therefore there were no amendments to be considered.

Gromyko growled back that the amendments had been presented as part of the Soviet declaration, for study, and the Soviet delegation was entitled to a decision.

Acheson ruled Gromyko out of order. He said the only thing to be discussed was a motion made by Ceylon and seconded by Cuba to let anyone who wished have another half-hour of speaking.

All the delegations present had already had their say under a one-hour time limit during the past three days.

After a rapid-fire exchange between Gromyko and Acheson, the secretary of state called for a vote on the Ceylonese resolution, to allow additional speakers 30 minutes each, with a windup of all business at 10 a.m.

This resolution was approved,

Tax Exemption For Truman Banned

WASHINGTON (AP) — The senate finance committee Friday rejected a proposal to knock out the income tax exemption held by the President, vice-president and members of congress on their expense allowances.

The proposal was offered by Sen. John Williams, (R-Del.). He plans to present it again later.

Chairman Walter George (D-Ga.) of the committee told newsmen the vote against the amendment to the pending tax bill was seven to five. He himself did not participate. George said the full senate might vote to accept the proposal.

New Steel Curbs Mean Less School Buildings

WASHINGTON (AP) — The steel shortage means that about 1,600 new schools planned for the booming school-age population across the country cannot be built until next year—maybe not in time for fall of 1952.

Even some school buildings already started—more than 700 of them—must be halted until the defense demands for structural steel and scarce copper eases off, some time next year.

The federal office of education pictured that prospect for school boards, parents and teachers Friday as another swollen crop of "war babies," having reached the learning age, made ready for school openings next Monday.

Many will enter two-shift schools and, with school enrollments scheduled to climb until 1964 at least, the number of such "doubled-up" institutions will increase, the office predicts.

The office of education doles out steel, copper and aluminum for individual school and library projects. It has asked the defense production administration (DPA), the top allocating agency, for 196,500 tons of steel, but got only 104,300 to parcel out. This is for the quarter starting Oct. 1.

The education office has on hand applications for metal for 1,001 new buildings and for another 2,259 projects already under construction.

The tonnage granted, the office reported Friday, will permit work to go ahead on 1,538 of those under construction and will leave 721—for which money has been put up and work started — stranded for perhaps six to nine months.

This exhausts virtually the entire school tonnage, leaving none for the proposed 1,001 completely new project except those of an emergency nature. There are 86 of these to date, representing buildings needed in new military centers or to replace structures destroyed by flood, storm or fire.

The net result is that 1,624 school applications have been granted and 1,636—a little more than half—have been turned down.

Meanwhile DPA Administrator Manly Fleischmann, in a statement issued Friday, emphasized that rejected applications for school, hospital, highway or individual projects are "not being permanently denied."

They must be "deferred to a later date," Fleischmann said.

However, earlier in the week he forecast little chance of an easing in the supply of steel or copper—particularly structural steel—in the first quarter of 1952 and possibly not much improvement in the second quarter.

Auto Makers Get OPS OK to Raise Prices on New Cars

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government told automobile manufacturers Friday they can hike their prices of new passenger cars an average of 5 to 6 per cent.

The office of price stabilization (OPC), in making the announcement, added that other price increases at the manufacturers' level may be expected later.

OPS also said an order will be issued permitting dealers to raise retail prices as soon as car makers file their new ceiling prices with OPS.

The manufacturers' new ceilings can be put into effect within five days as new price lists are filed with the agency. This means prices could be raised by the end of next week if manufacturers act promptly.

OPS officials said exact dollars and cents increases for each make or type of car cannot be estimated. The order provides a pricing formula for the industry. This will result in different increases for various manufacturers.

The agency said the retail order will allow dealers to apply their customary margins to the higher manufacturers' ceilings.

OPS said further boosts in auto prices may be expected under provisions of the new defense production act. This requires OPS to allow indirect cost increases, such as for administrative and sales expense, advertising and research. The current order does not make provision for such costs.

Jean Hagen and Spencer Tracy
Who Should Wear the Trousers?

By GIL TAYLOR

"Adam's Rib," screenplay by Ruth Gordon and Garson Kanin, directed by George Cukor, produced by Lawrence Weingarten for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

Adam Bonner Spencer Tracy
Amanda Bonner Katherine Hepburn

Doris Attinger Judy Holliday
Warren Attinger Tom Ewell
Kip Lurie David Wayne
Beryl Caigh Jean Hagen

Seven years ago MGM produced "Woman of the Year" and made quite a success of it and now, following the old formula (if you do it once you can do it again) they have come up with "Adam's Rib," starring the same team of Tracy and Hepburn and upon the same theme, that of a professional husband and wife who are also competitors in the law business. This brings about the question of who should wear the trousers in a family.

The story has Tracy as a lawyer hired to prosecute a woman on the attempted shooting of her husband. His wife, Hepburn, defends her and so touches off the martial difficulties.

Tracy soon tires of her competition and leaves with much door-slaming and tears. Hepburn then decides that quote — a woman's place is in the home — unquote, and everything ends happily.

Hepburn and Tracy have long been a team and after this length of time look and act quite bored with it all as is the plot which, when they are on the screen, is apt to degenerate into mere cuteness (sample: he calls her "Pinkie", she calls him "Pinky").

This is either a very good burlesque of the so-called sophisticated comedy or a bad imitation and we are inclined to believe the latter. There is even a song, "Farewell Amanda" which sounds as if Cole Porter wrote it in a moment of physical and mental ennui.

Despite this, the film is quite hilarious due to the fact that it serves to introduce four new faces to the public; those of Judy Holliday, Tom Ewell, Jean Hagen and David Wayne.

Judy Holliday plays the part of the misguided wife who shoots her husband, and the courtroom scenes involving her are filled with a special kind of laughter. She is matched step by step by the richly comic performance of Tom Ewell as her confused and stupid husband.

Jean Hagen stands out in the role of a brazen woman who causes the difficulties, but it is David Wayne as a songwriter living just across the hall from Tracy and Hepburn who steals the movie.

His shy sauciness and warmth completely dominate every scene he is in. The love scenes between him and Hepburn are comedy of the highest order and sparkle and bubble more than anything we've seen in a long time.

By CHARLES J. THOBABEN

Central Press Staff Writer
ROCQUENCOURT, France — Sometimes a thing is done, a goal accomplished that the doubters said never could, principally because it never had.

SHAPE—supreme headquarters allied powers of Europe—may be one of them.

As one high officer pointed out, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower is trying to do a job that has never been done successfully in war, let alone peace. He is trying to weld the peoples and armed forces of the 12 North Atlantic pact nations into a solid, powerful front against the embracing arms of the Russian bear.

The pact itself is little more than two years old. SHAPE's age can be measured in months. Its sprawling, one-story headquarters building near Versailles was opened only last July on the site of the one-time hunting grounds of the French president.

Yet conversations with the generals and admirals of various nations serving on Eisenhower's staff leave a distinct feeling that maybe the necessary unity is possible, that perhaps 12 free nations can band together in harmony to achieve a high objective of peace through strength, to avert war by making war too costly for an aggressor.

The impression is gathered that some of these military men arrived on the SHAPE scene with a degree of skepticism about what could and would be accomplished, by now, however, they do not hesitate to show their growing belief that, by golly, maybe it can and will be done and that they are eager to help.

A basic ingredient of the success formula is one that Eisenhower himself never ceases to insist upon—no one in SHAPE represents an individual nation, each represents only the whole. The man who led the Allies to victory against Germany sets the example himself; he leans over backwards to make sure that he shows no favoritism to Americans.

All this does not mean that the millenium has arrived at SHAPE; it hasn't and a vast amount of work remains to make the NATO concept reality. But the famed Eisenhower personality is working its magic, and the Eisenhower brains and those of his multi-lingual colleagues are at work on the tough, real military problems.

Their problem is divided into two principal parts, the short-range and the long-range military outlooks.

The short-range plans in a way are not too complicated for the simple reason that, if the Russians should make a serious westward move in Europe any time in the next year, the skeleton forces facing them could merely try to buy time—at high cost.

The atom bomb might exact a high toll from the USSR itself, but it is unlikely that a full-fledged attack could be more than slowed.

High ranking officers say they are convinced that the Soviet will not mount such an attack within a year. They cite three basic reasons:

1. Russia has not yet recovered from World War II, has not yet achieved the rate of production and the industrial stockpiles necessary for a major war.

2. The Communist leaders have a fanatical belief in the eventual world-wide acceptance of their philosophy that they might feel averts the necessity of war to achieve domination.

3. The A-bomb. Unfortunately they also admit there is not complete agreement with this line of thinking in high places and, in addition, there is always the chance of miscalculation.

If an attack does not come within a year, then the Allies will be in a much better, if not impregnable position.

Time, in either event, is precious.

Grad Student Takes First In Essay Contest

Cloyd D. Christensen, G, Iowa City, has won first place in the graduate division of the Uhlmann awards essay competition, a literary contest sponsored by a former president of the Chicago Board of Trade.

The contest has been open to students, graduate and undergraduate, in all recognized colleges and universities in the United States and Canada.

Presentation of the prizes to award winners was held Friday night at a dinner meeting for some 60 nationally-known educators who are attending the fourth annual commodity marketing symposium in Chicago.

President Virgil M. Hancher spoke before the educators Thursday night.

Hollywood Beauty, Maria Montez, 31, Dies in France

Maria Montez
Found In Bathtub

PARIS (U)—Raven-haired Maria Montez, 31, lovely inhabitant of Hollywood's technicolored South Sea isles and oriental harems, was found dead in her bathtub in suburban Suresnes Friday as the result of a tragic accident.

The beautiful actress was found nude, floating face down in the tub by her sister, Anita, who went looking for her when she did not appear for luncheon in the 20-room mansion in which she lived with her husband, French actor Jean-Pierre Aumont.

Investigation showed that the bath water had been "almost scalding," and it appeared that Miss Montez suffered a heart attack when she stepped into the overheated water. No autopsy will be performed, so it will never be certain whether she died of the heart attack or drowned.

Doctors and fire department emergency men worked for two hours trying to revive the sultry beauty before she was pronounced dead.

Aumont, who was working on a French film when he received word of his wife's death, raced across Paris in his supercharged Italian sport car to the bedroom where her body had been laid out in a negligee.

Mrs. Andrew Warnod, a relative, said he was "absolutely prostrate" when he arrived at the house.

Funeral Services For Mrs. Hunter To Be Wednesday

Services for Mrs. Minta C. Hunter, 79, former Iowa City resident who died at her home in Redlands, Calif., Wednesday, will be held in the First Presbyterian church at 3:30 p.m. Wednesday.

The Rev. P. Hewison Pollock will officiate at the service and burial will be in Oakland cemetery.

Mrs. Hunter had lived in the Iowa City area from 1900 until 1939 when she and her husband moved to California. He preceded her in death in 1947.

She is survived by a son, the Rev. W. Russell Hunter of Chicago, a daughter Mrs. George S. Brown, Redlands, Calif., and a sister and grandson.

Former Keokuk Official Sentenced to 10 years

KEOKUK (U)—Carl Mundy, former city clerk, pleaded guilty Friday to embezzlement of city funds and was sentenced to 10 years in Fort Madison prison.

Mundy's case was slated for grand jury investigation next week but he decided to plead guilty.

District Judge James S. Burrows rejected the plea of Mundy's attorney for leniency on grounds it would "be an invitation to others."

No Threat to Miss America

TWO SOUTHERN BELLES, Miss North Carolina, Lu Long Ogburn (left) and Miss Alabama, Jeanne Moody, were the first to ring the bell at preliminaries of the annual Miss America contest at Atlantic City. Miss Ogburn won for making the best bathing suit appearance and Miss Moody for talent in a dramatic skit.

Indians Split, Trail Yanks By .001 Point

N.Y. Tops Nats On DiMag's Hit

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The Cleveland Indians skidded out of the American league lead by splitting a two-night doubleheader Friday night with the St. Louis Browns. Cleveland won the nightcap 7-0 after the Browns took the opener 4-2.

The split enabled the New York Yankees, who defeated Washington in a single game, to take the lead over Cleveland by a single percentage point.

Bob Feller, the leading pitcher of the majors, turned in a seven-hit performance in shutting out the Browns for his 22nd victory against seven defeats.

But the damage already had been done. Brownie ace Ned Garver, returning to winning form, pitched the Browns to victory in the opener.

It was the 16th victory against 11 defeats for Garver, who had been beaten in his last three starts. Mike Garcia, who had beaten the last-place Browns five times earlier in the season, was charged with the defeat, his 11th against 18 victories.

Yanks 4, Nats 2

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Yankees' great clutch-hitting veterans—Johnny Mize and Joe DiMaggio—each delivered a two-out double in the ninth inning Friday as the world champions, facing a costly defeat, rallied for three runs to nip the Washington Senators 4-2.

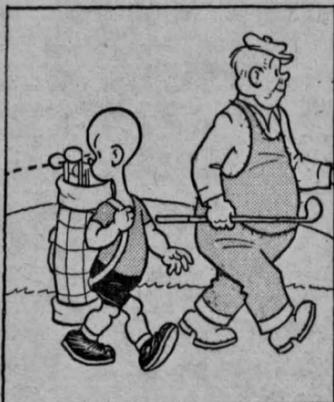

Mize, acting as a pinchhitter, tied the score at 2-2 with a double to right. Then DiMaggio sent the winning runs across the plate with a ground-rule double to right.

It was a tough setback for Sid Hudson, Washington's tall righthander. Going into the ninth, he had given up eight hits but was magnificent in the pinches, holding the Yankees to only one run.

Washington picked up two runs in the third inning on Eddie Yost's home run and an error by Yankee third baseman Bobby Brown. Hudson made this slim advantage hold up until the fatal ninth.

Hawks Drill on Punting, Passing

By JACK SQUIRE

Punting and passing along with further work on fundamentals marked the third day of Iowa's pre-season grid practice Friday.

It was the first lengthy workout of the year for the punters while the passers have been kept busy since the first day of drills.

Doing most of the punting was Chuck Denning, who's slated to take over that chore in place of the departed Glen Drahn.

Denning booted 24 times in 1949, averaging 39.6 yards per kick. Last year he punted only twice, both 40 yards.

Also in on kicking work was quarterback Burt Britzmann and sophomore halfback George (Dusty) Rice.

Another candidate of considerable promise is Binkey Broeder, the highly touted freshman from St. Louis, who has been getting off some beauties in the frosh drills.

Handling the punt returns in Friday's workout were veterans Duane Brandt and Joe Bristol, but they may give way to speedy Loranzie Williams, the sophomore flash from Gary, Indiana.

Clyde Gardner
Back at End

In the passing department, quarterbacks Burt Britzmann and Jim Sangster did most of the throwing with backs as well as ends on the receiving end.

Sangster worked with halfbacks Chug Wilson and Bernie Bennett and fullback Gerald Nordman while Britzmann teamed with halfbacks Don Commack and Loranzie Williams and fullback Bill Reichardt.

The squad will continue its two-a-day practices today with no scrimmage seen likely until next week. Opening game is Sept. 29 against Kansas State.

Hawk Notes: Iowa has lost the services of a promising sophomore center, Bill Quinby of Cedar Rapids, who will sit out the season after undergoing a knee operation during the summer. . . . Glyde Gardner is giving it another try at end. Gardner, a halfback at Newton, was switched to end as a freshman two years ago and then to guard last season. . . . Best bet for those wishing to get the low-down on the Hawkeye football squad is "Gridiron Grapevine," the annual dope book put out by Eric Wilson of the Iowa sports information service. The booklet will be on sale at Iowa City newsstands next week. . . . 27 of the 46 freshmen who have reported for football are 190 pounds or over and 26 are more than six feet tall.

Former Iowa Star —

Narrowly Escapes Death

CARDENA, CALIF. (AP) — Old time football stars are hard to kill, or else they're just plain lucky.

John Claussen Heldt, 51, who said he was a grid performer at Iowa in 1922, missed death by a fraction of an inch Friday when he was trapped for two hours under a boxcar.

His head was wedged against a wheel and his body was twisted around the brake rods.

Trainman said the train was "Johnny Heldt was one of the greatest centers Iowa's ever had," said Glen Devine Thursday night.

Devine, a star halfback on the 1921 and '22 Hawkeye teams and presently assistant business manager in the Iowa athletic department, was a teammate of Heldt's and had recently written to him in connection with the 30th anniversary reunion of the 1921 team.

just starting to move when they heard Heldt's cries. The car jolted to a stop. Just a bit more and the wheel would have rolled over Heldt's head.

Heldt, who said he coached football at Ohio university at Athens in 1923 after graduating from Iowa, was vague about how he happened to be under the boxcar in the first place.

Police Sgt. B. J. Smith said he told him all he remembered was visiting several cafes in the vicinity Thursday night.

Heldt, suffering from a head wound and a dislocated hip, was taken to Park emergency hospital after a wrecking crew had succeeded in jacking up the boxcar and lifting him out.

Heldt played football at Iowa in 1919-20-21-22 under the late Howard Jones. He was a center on the undefeated 1921 and 1922 teams which won 14 games. The Hawkeyes won the Western Conference title in 1921 and shared the crown with Michigan the next year.

Brooklyn Power Blasts Phils, 11-6; Giants Top Braves

BROOKLYN (AP)—Andy Pafko, Billy Cox and Carl Furillo loosened a murderous barrage of extra base hits, knocking in 10 runs, as the Brooklyn Dodgers slashed the Philadelphia Phillies, 11-6, Friday to retain their 5½ game lead in the National league.

The defeat eliminated the Phillies, the 1950 champions, from the 1951 pennant race.

While the Dodgers were mauling three Philadelphia hurlers, the runnerup New York Giants were carving out a 7-3 victory over the Boston Braves.

So the stage is set for the big two-game series between the Giants and Dodgers over the weekend at Ebbets Field.

Cox, noted for his fielding rather than hitting, knocked in four runs with a double and a triple, Pafko hit a three-run homer, while Furillo drove across three runs on two homers.

BOSTON (AP) — Bobby Thomson slammed a triple, double and three singles out of five batting tries while aiding righthander Larry Jansen gain his 18th pitching win for the New York Giants Friday with a 7-3 decision over the Boston Braves.

While sweeping their three-game series with the Tribesmen, the second-place Giants clicked off their 23rd. win in their last 26 starts. For Jansen, sidelined for eight days with an ailing back, it was his fifth straight win against the Braves.

The Giants, pounded three Boston pitchers for 15 hits, including Monte Irvin's 19th homer in the ninth inning.

10 Freshmen Picked For Badger Varsity; Illini Back Hurt

MADISON, WIS. (AP)—Coach Ivy Williamson named a tentative University of Wisconsin football varsity Thursday which included 10 freshmen.

The 58 man squad will hold its first full-scale scrimmage today in a "shake-down cruise" for varsity material.

Freshmen on the tentative roster included ends Jim Temp, La Crosse, Don Ursin, Chicago, and Ronnie Locklin, Appleton; tackle Russ Goldman, West Allis; guard Clarence Stensby, Elmwood Park, Ill.; quarterback Mario Bonoviglio, Kenosha; fullback Alan Ameche, Kenosha; and halfbacks Loy Spycalla, Milwaukee, and Robert Young, Green Bay.

Illinois ...

CHAMPAIGN, ILL. (AP)—Halfback Pete Truran suffered a wrenched knee Friday in pass defense at Illinois.

It was the first injury of any importance since the Illini began football practice. It was hoped Truran would be able to play next week, but the extent of his injury will not be known before today.

Truran, a former quarterback, was being groomed to replace Paul Douglass at defensive right half.

Northwestern ...

EVANSTON, ILL. (AP)—Two freshmen were elevated Friday to Northwestern's varsity squad.

They are halfback Bob Lauter and tackle John Young, both products of St. George high school here.

Coach Bob Voigts held the first scrimmage of the year for the freshmen squad preparatory to splitting the squad into varsity and junior varsity groups Monday.

Purdue ...

LAFAYETTE, IND. (AP)—Purdue football coach Stu Holcomb will experiment with three different combinations in an offensive scrimmage today.

The teams will be made up largely of holdovers from last fall, with three freshmen on the tentative lineups. John Lynch, Chicago, was named as center on the second squad, and John Kerr, Honolulu, and James Reichert, Harvey, Ill., as left end and fullback, respectively, on the third team.

Indiana ...

BLOOMINGTON, IND. (AP)—Guard Benny Perinto was temporarily sidelined Friday with a bruised shoulder as Indiana's Hoosiers held a scrimmage and punting session.

Veteran Bobby Robertson, Larry Fromhart, and Bill Holzbach, promising halfback from East Chicago, Ind., did most of the kicking. Perinto was expected to return to practice Monday.

Mustang Air Ace

FRED BENNERS, SOUTHERN Methodist's ace passer who can hit a receiver with the accuracy of a catcher pegging to second, sharpened up his aim during a morning workout Friday. Benners, a star in his sophomore season last year, is expected to be one of the nation's leading passers this season.

Urzetta Leads U.S. Golfers Over Canadians

BETHLEHEM, PA. (AP)—Young Sam Urzetta of Rochester, N.Y., the national amateur champion, led United States Walker Cup forces to a resounding 10-2 victory over Canada Friday in an informal golf match that may be a prelude to regular golf competition between the two countries.

The 25-year-old stylist fashioned par golf over Saucon valley's testing 6,979-yard course to defeat the new Canadian champion, Walter McElory, 2 and 1.

Urzetta also teamed with Harold Paddock of Cleveland to score the most impressive victory in the Scotch foursome play, subduing Don Doe and 18-year-old Laurie Roland, 4 and 3.

Through it all, Urzetta played like a man who will not be easily torn loose from his United States crown when firing in the National Amateur which begins Monday over this same par 36-35-71 lay out.

The matches today were fashioned after the Walker Cup series with England, including four Scotch foursomes and eight individual duels. The Canadians made quite a fight of it at that, winning two points and carrying every match as far as the 15th hole.

BULLETIN

CHICAGO (AP)—Kenneth (Tug) Wilson, Big Ten athletic commissioner, said Friday night that expelled army athletes would not be eligible to play in the Big Ten for at least two years.

Scores Ace

Gerald "Shorty" Hill, 319 Church street, scored a hole in one on the 200-yard 6th hole at the Fairview golf course Friday afternoon.

It was the first hole in one on the Fairview course in about 10 years, according to the Fairview manager.

Taxable Value Of County Utilities Exceed $5 Million

Johnson county utilities showed a total taxable valuation in 1951 of $5,380,643.

The figures, released by the county auditor's office, show that utilities in Iowa City are valued at $1,476,848; that in the county's cities and towns at $2,878,642, and that in rural areas at $2,502,001.

Electrical power companies had the highest valuation with a total of $1,517,922.

Telephone and telegraph utilities in the county were valued at a total of $950,719.

Other valuations show $926,126 for the Rock Island and Cedar Rapids and Iowa City railway system.

SUI Rush Week Means Work

Orientation . . .

the college of commerce, the graduate college, and former students in the college of liberal arts may receive permits to register from Sept. 12 through 19 in University hall.

3. Students entering the college of engineers are to report to the Electrical Engineering building at 8:30 a.m. Sept. 17. Former students may receive permission to register from Sept. 12 to 20 in University hall.

4. New pharmacy students will report to the Pharmacy building at 8:30 a.m. Sept. 17. New dental students should report to the dean's office Sept. 17 or before noon on Sept. 18. Former students in dentistry and pharmacy may pick up registration materials at the offices of their deans. Work in the college of law are to report at the dean's office, Sept. 17. Former law students are to report at the same place Sept. 17 or 18.

6. Students in the college of medicine should report to the dean's office Sept. 17 or 18. College of nursing students must report to Westlawn, nurses' dormitory, at 8:30 a.m. Sept. 13.

7. Former students in liberal arts and students in commerce, nursing and the graduate college will register alphabetically in the field house Sept. 17 or 19. The alphabetical schedule is rotated so that every student has an opportunity to register with the first group once in every four registrations. This fall, students whose last names begin with Ra through Rot will register first.

8. Veterans who plan to attend the university under the G. I. bill or vocational rehabilitation for the first time should report to the veterans service office before registration.

Sprinkled throughout orientation, enrollment and registration week will be a rash of get-acquainted activities.

Union Open House

At 7:30 p.m. next Thursday, the Iowa Memorial Union will stage its first open house, with a round of skits, dances and other entertainment planned.

At 8:45 p.m. there will be get-togethers at each of the dormitories, fraternities and sororities. A party for all men living in town will be held in the Union.

Next Friday, there will be a day-night program at the Women's gym for all new students, starting at 7:30 p.m. The program will include sports, dancing, swimming, mixed games and refreshments.

Men students get one of their best opportunities to visit the Women's gym next Friday, when a day-night program for all new students will be held, starting at 7:30 p.m.

Plan Campus Tours

Campus tours will take the spotlight Saturday, Sept. 15, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. This will give students a chance to survey every university building on the east campus.

Another open house will be held that night in the Union.

On Sunday, Sept. 16, there will be services at all Iowa City churches, the schedules of which may be found in Saturday's Daily Iowan.

Beginning with Monday, Sept. 17, here's a highlight of campus events before school starts:

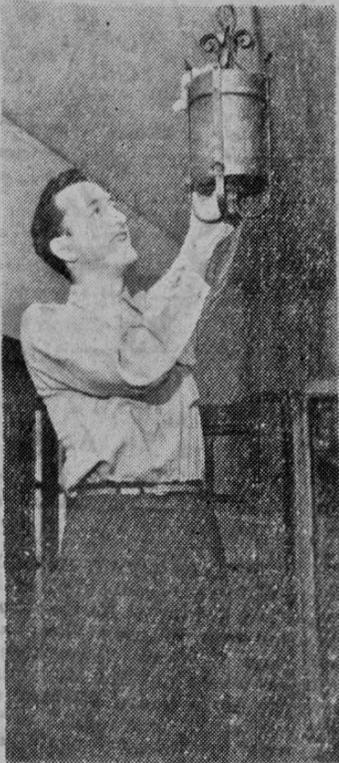

Monday, Sept. 17 — Gatherings at faculty homes for women and sports night for men at the field house.

Tuesday, Sept. 18 — Open house at all student church centers, from 10 to 5 p.m. From 7:30 to 10:30 p.m., there will be a reception for new students at resident Virgil M. Hanther's home.

Wednesday, Sept. 19 — Tea-dance in the Union from 2 to 5 p.m.

Orientation week activities will officially end at 8:30 a.m. Thursday, Sept. 20, with the university induction ceremony on the west approach of Old Capitol.

RUSH WEEK at SUI may mean a flurry of parties and other social events for pledges, but for the activities it means a lot of planning and cleaning. Replacing light bulbs at the Sigma Chi house (left) is Ward Phillips, A2, Des Moines. Many fraternity members like Phillips every fall return to the campus weeks before school starts to complete the various pre-rushing tasks.

THERE'S always a paint job to be done when fall rolls around, and that's just what these students at the Alpha Epsilon Pi house (right) are finding out. Pictured here are (left to right): Joe Fischer, A3, Elgin, Ill.; Charles Spielberger, G, Atlanta, Ga.; Lou Hurwitz, A4, Des Moines, and Fred Felton, G, DeKalb, Ill.

A 4-Way Stretch

Recording the Past

IF THERE'S ANYTHING members of any organization point to, it's the history and memories of past activities (left). Recording the highlights of last year are these members of Sigma Phi Epsilon, Nat Trocino (left), P2, Oelwein, and Phil Leff, A2, Iowa City.

A PLEDGE may be doing this job in about two weeks, but right now Bob Fulton, C4, Waterloo, (right) is busy cleaning the Phi Kappa Sigma house. Formal rushing for men students begins Sunday, with registration today.

A Clean Sweep

KP Duty for Some

Red Radio Hints Rejection of UN Site Proposal

TOKYO (Saturday) (AP)— Red China broadcast a pointed hint Friday night that the Communists were about to reject Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway's proposal that the Korean truce talks be moved from Kaesong.

Allied quarters agreed that the indicated Red rejection would put the whole armistice question in a deep freeze.

The Peiping radio broadcast a dispatch calling Ridgway's note to the Red commanders last Thursday an "impudent attempt" to lodge responsibility for Kaesong neutrality violations on the Communists.

It was the first Communist reaction to Ridgway's message. And the broadcast by the voice of Red China gave it an official status.

Meanwhile, at the UN, United Nations Secretary-General Trygve Lie challenged the Communists to prove they are "serious" about a Korean armistice by agreeing to change the site from Kaesong and resume talks promptly.

Lie told the Reds "the time has come" for them to show by "concrete steps" that Russia's June 23 cease-fire proposal was genuine.

He called on them not only to accept General Ridgway's proposals for re-starting the ruptured talks but also to take measures that would make possible "real progress" towards an armistice agreement.

In a news conference, the hefty Norwegian also predicted there would be no world war this year and welcomed the imminent signing of the Japanese peace treaty as a step in the right direction. He said he favors prompt admission of Japan to the UN when the treaty is signed, but warned that a veto—meaning Russia's—could block such a move.

Possible Murder . . .

driver of the unidentified car was a White Russian and an avowed enemy of the present Russian regime.

But, carrying the reality or coincidence of the crash still further, two large beer trucks were following the meat truck. Both were tied up in the heavy traffic which flows along the six-lane highway.

The time-table of the strange occurrence showed that perhaps the Russians' speeding automobile escaped a terrific collision with the meat truck only by a matter of minutes.

An FBI spokesman Friday refused to discuss the matter and said his office would have no comment.

The tip to San Francisco police came Thursday night, when an informer said:

"A beer truck will crash into Gromyko's automobile on Bayshore Boulevard Friday in an attempt to kill him."

The informer, whose identity was not disclosed, said unnamed White Russians planned the assassination of Gromyko, the Soviet deputy foreign minister who had attempted to stall the Japanese treaty negotiations here.

The FBI was informed of the tip. The Russian delegation was warned to be on the alert.

The truck driver, William Poile, told his foreman at the Dubuque Packing company, a branch of the Iowa company, that a car had cut in front of him, causing him to swerve to avoid hitting it.

The truck's load shifted and the vehicle went out of control, and rolled over on its side as he tried to straighten it out, Foreman Andrew Rocca quoted Poile.

Rocca said Poile told him he was so busy trying to straighten the ham and bacon-laden truck he did not notice the license number or model of the car in front, which sped on its way.

Poile said the Russian motorcade passed scarcely a minute after the truck overturned, Rocca added.

SUI Doctor Reports Success of Operation On Mental Patients

DES MOINES (AP)— Results of the comparatively new operation trans-orbital lobotomy on mental patients at the Independence mental health center have been "quite successful", two state hospital doctors said Friday.

They were Dr. Max Witte, superintendent of the hospital at Independence, and Dr. Jess Schwidde, of the neurosurgical department, SUI University hospitals.

They addressed the quarterly conference here of the state institution heads.

Lobotomy is a brain operation which consists of cutting certain fibers which connect the thinking portion of the brain with the nerves concerned with emotions. The general effect of the operation is to render the patient able to think without becoming emotional.

Dr. Witte said that of 120 patients on which the operation has been performed since last Nov. 19 have been paroled from the institution: 12 have recovered and will be paroled in three to six months; 11 are much improved and 36 are improved.

Forty of the patients operated on have shown no recovery and two later died, Dr. Witte said.

"When you consider that some of those patients had been in our institution for as long as 12 years and are now able to go out and lead almost entirely normal lives we think the results have been highly satisfactory", Dr. Witte told the institution superintendents.

Dr. Witte declared that, generally speaking, lobotomy is resorted to only after other methods of dealing with mental patients have failed.

Dr. Schwidde said the operation is "not as serious or involved as the layman probably thinks. The whole procedure can be done in about 10 minutes."

Court Rules —

Husband Must Clean the Yard

BALTIMORE (AP)— Magistrate Helen Elizabeth Brown ruled it is David Everhardt's duty to clean up the back yard, not his wife's.

The husky, 30-year-old bricklayer had asked that a policeman be assigned to see his wife did the work.

The case came up Thursday in Baltimore's special housing court. Health department inspectors testified the Everhardt back yard was littered with 50 milk bottles, egg shells, paper, and several old Christmas trees.

Aaron Evans said he and his wife get "a right good whiff" when they go out on their back porch next door to sit after supper.

"It's disgraceful," Everhardt himself acknowledged.

"I can't do anything about," he said. "I'm sure your honor doesn't want me to stay home every day and see the housework is done. I do some of the cooking and washing myself. My wife definitely is not a good housekeeper."

Magistrate Brown called Mrs. Everhardt to testify. She had been sitting outside in a corridor, rocking the youngest of her five children. She expects another in three months. Her legs are a lacework of varicose veins. She is about 30. A court aide held the baby.

"He tells me I have to clean it up," Mrs. Everhardt said. "My and the children try, but my doctor says I should rest, should sit down, even when I'm ironing."

"Everhardt asked for the court to appoint the enforcement officer."

"I don't know what to do," he said. "I can't go around beating my wife."

Miss Brown told Everhardt the yard is his responsibility. Besides, she said, if he doesn't have authority in his own home a law enforcement officer won't help. She fined him $10 and costs.

Indiana Loses Welfare Fund Suit

WASHINGTON (AP)— Indiana lost a court round Friday in a fight to compel the government to restore $18 million a year in welfare funds cut off due to a state law making relief rolls public.

Federal Judge Alexander Holtzoff ruled that he could not say the federal security administrator was wrong in cutting off funds to Indiana on the ground that the Indiana law conflicts with a social security act requiring that relief rolls be kept secret.

Judge Holtzoff said the state and federal laws apparently were in conflict, but he did not specifically rule to that effect.

The Indiana attorney general, J. Emmett McManamon, told newsmen later he "presumes" the ruling will be appealed. The case is of interest in a number of states outside Indiana.

McManamon added that he could make no announcement until he has conferred with Gov. Henry F. Schricker. He left Washington almost immediately to return to Indianapolis.

Reds Gain on Western Front

ACTION MOUNTS ALONG BATTLEFRONT — Solid arrows indicate Allied forces in main areas of action in Korea Friday. Open arrows show Red forces. Northwest of Yonchon (A) UN troops took back a hill after intense artillery and tank fire on Red foxholes. Northwest of Chorwon (B) southern tip of old "Iron Triangle" Allied troops fought up a key hill, taking it from Reds in fierce fighting. In the Allied limited offensive on the eastern front, a pitched battle was fought on a summit north of Yanggu (C). Fresh Red troops were reported moving into this area above Kaesong (underlined).

Senate Votes . . .

before passage, however, when the senate adopted an amendment doubling the proposed increase for magazines.

Sen. Russell Long (D-La.) sponsored an amendment to keep the 1-cent rate on cards written by private individuals and charitable organizations which have a tax-exempt status.

But on a roll call vote the senate defeated the amendment, 56 to 10.

The post office department hopes to increase its revenue by more than $44 million a year with 2-cent postal cards.

Earlier the senate refused, for the second time, to order the department to restore two-a-day mail deliveries in residential areas.

The first vote came Thursday, when the senate took up a recommendation of its post office committee that the postmaster general be directed to restore mail service to the level existing before a curtailment order issued April 17, 1950. At that time deliveries in residential areas were cut to one a day.

48 Nations . . .

41 to 1. Oddly, Czechoslovakia cast the negative vote.

Gromyko immediately availed himself of the opportunity to speak.

First off, Gromyko flatly asked if the President intended to put to a vote the Soviet proposals to amend the treaty.

Premier Shigeru Yoshida, addressing the conference for the first time since it opened Tuesday night, noted the misgivings with which a number of countries had agreed, and then declared:

"Even we Japanese, who are happy to accept the treaty, find in it certain points which cause us pain and anxiety."

Saying that he spoke "with diffidence, bearing in mind the treaty's fairness and magnanimity," the little 72-year-old premier then expressed hope that the Ryukyu islands (Okinawa) and the Bonins, now under U.S. trusteeship, "will be put back into Japanese hands in the not distant future."

Signature of the treaty is scheduled to start at 11 a.m. (CST) today, winding up more than four days of speaking marked by the violent objections of Russia, Poland and Czechoslovakia.

At Friday's long talking sessions, speakers of 24 nations, including Japan, stated their views.

John Foster Dulles, U.S. special ambassador who is the chief author of the "soft" treaty of peace, said in a statement after the Soviet group had failed to announce intention to sign:

"The fact that 48 out of 51 (nations) plan to sign—that is, all but the three Soviet-bloc states—is a triumph not of the United States, but of the principles for which we stood, which appealed to men of good will everywhere."

Stefan Wierblowski of Poland, last of the Red group's speakers, denounced the treaty in a 53-minute tirade.

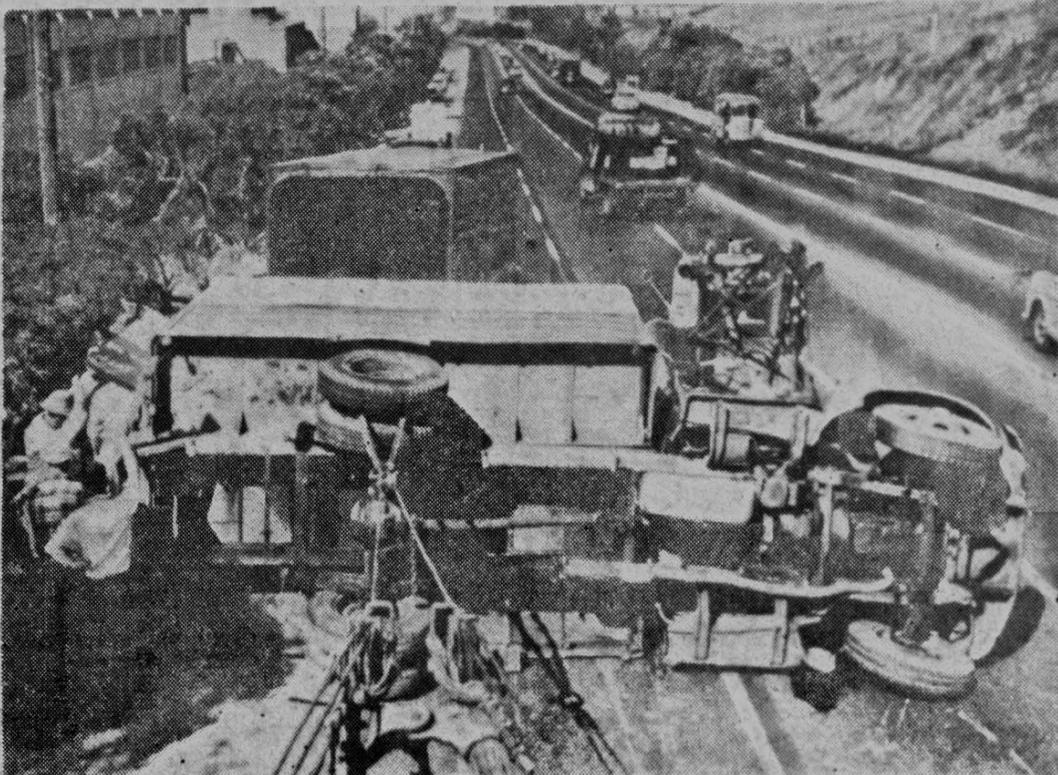

This failed to set the conference afire. But his "won't sign" declaration was the most definite word yet to come from the Russian-Polish-Czechoslovak contingent.

Andrei Gromyko of Russia and Dr. Gertruda Sekaninova of Czechoslovakia already had taken the edge off it with their bitter attacks on the treaty.

During this afternoon the Russians made reservations on the Southern Pacific railroad to leave San Francisco Monday for Chicago and the east. There was no hint of why they chose to stay over Sunday.

Following the Polish speaker's long harangue, Argentina closed the afternoon session with a brief statement.

Overtaken Truck Bars Red Delegate's Road

TRUCK BLOCKS GROMYKO'S ROUTE — This overturned truck on the Bayshore highway south of San Francisco Friday sent a scare through police trying to protect Andrei Gromyko after they received a report that a beer truck was to be crashed into his auto in a fantastic plot against the Russian delegations to the Japanese peace treaty conference. Gromyko's car drove safely past the scene of the accident, which police were unsure was a coincidence or part of the plot.
