King George Consents to Lung Operation

LONDON (AP) — King George VI of England has consented to a lung operation and preparations to perform it in Buckingham Palace were rushed Friday.

Several ambulances moved into the palace grounds by a back gate soon after the king's doctors announced he agreed to the surgery.

The ambulances presumably carried surgical and other equipment to turn a palace apartment into an operating theater.

There have been only hints as to the exact nature of the 55-year-old king's lung trouble. Reports published abroad speculated it might be cancer or tuberculosis.

Plans of Princess Elizabeth, the heir presumptive, and her husband, the Duke of Edinburgh, to sail next week on a visit to Canada and the U.S. were altered by the decision to operate. Now they plan to fly the Atlantic Oct. 2, arriving in time to carry out their scheduled tour as previously outlined.

British newspapers, worried for some time over the king's prolonged illness, referred tonight only to the bulletin from the panel of king's physicians saying he agreed to the operation.

Late in 1948 the king was stricken with a serious circulatory ailment in his legs. He underwent an operation and after several months was again pronounced fit.

On Sept. 2, two specialists flew to Balmoral castle in Scotland, where the king was vacationing, to make an examination after the royal family became worried by his persistent cough and colds. On the physicians' advice, he returned to London Sept. 7 for numerous chest x-rays. He resumed his vacation, but returned to London again Sept. 15 for further examinations and consultations.

Return to Train, Reds Tell Czechs; U.S. Reply: 'No!'

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — Communist Czechoslovakia demanded Friday the extradition of 31 "Freedom Train" refugees from West Germany, but ran into a quick rebuff.

The U.S. high commission denied a charge that American occupation authorities helped engineer the spectacular escape Sept. 11.

Making it clear the official reply would come from the state department, the commission noted that, under American policy, political refugees are not returned to countries "where their freedom and even lives would be in jeopardy."

The Prague radio announced the extradition demand. The accusations were made in two notes to the U.S. embassy in Prague.

Radio Free Europe in Munich said Friday night the 77 passengers who voluntarily returned home had been arrested. A broadcast, citing reports from Czech refugees newly arrived in Germany, said the 77 had been taken into custody as soon as they crossed the border into their homeland by Czech intelligence officers.

Registration Begins For Defense School

Registration has begun for SUI's second training school for county civil defense instructors, Rodney Q. Selby, state civil defense director, announced Friday in Des Moines.

The training school will be held Nov. 5-9. The last five-day short-course was attended by more than 40 volunteer civil defense workers from various counties. It ended Aug. 24.

The course included lectures and discussions on atomic, chemical and biological warfare, rescue work, communications and civil defense organization.

Prof. Richard Holcomb, SUI institute of public affairs, and Prof. Hew Roberts, college of education, will conduct the November session of the course.

Dr. Hall of Indiana U. Dies of Heart Attack

BLOOMINGTON, IND. (AP) — Dr. Ford P. Hall, 52, dean of the division of adult education and head of Indiana university's department of government, was found dead in his home here late Friday.

Coroner R. E. Lyons said Hall died of a heart attack.

A native of St. Paul, Minn., Hall was a graduate of Oxford university. He had been at Indiana for 24 years.

Season's First Snow Hits Denver

A SNOWSTORM ACCOMPANIED BY FREEZING temperatures struck Denver Friday. Tree limbs, still in full leaf, were the worst sufferers, as shown by this smashed branch which temporarily halted traffic in the Park Hill district. It was cool in Iowa City Friday, with temperatures in the low fifties in the late afternoon and evening.

Sen. Taft Warns Against Optimism In Defense Effort

GRAND FORKS, N. D. (AP) — Sen. Robert A. Taft warned the United States Friday not to overestimate its ability and try to do too much in the fight against communism.

The Ohio Republican said the United States must guard against trying to "do more than we are able to do" because such action "might in the end destroy our armies and our economy and the liberty of the people of the United States themselves."

Taft, in a speech prepared for a national radio broadcast said the defense of America must be the "first consideration" of U.S. military policy.

"We must impose some limitation on the scattering of American money for every project conceived by a military expert and to every nation on the face of the globe," he said.

"It is simply beyond our capacities to send troops to every section of the world. Our limited resources must be directed to the field where they can be the most effective."

Taft said he favors giving other nations economic help and military equipment "but only to an extent which would not injure the United States." He said he favors helping other anti-Communist nations "by sea and by air and to a limited extent by the sending of troops."

He said, however, that the bulk of troops in any European army must come from Europe.

Taft said that the first step for assuring defense of the United States is to provide for control of the sea and air. He said an all-powerful air force is the best possible defense and the best deterrent to war.

Highway 6 Cut Off Near Completion

There's a cheering word from highway engineers here for motorists planning to drive to Iowa City for the Iowa-Kansas football game next Saturday.

The new section of highway 6 now under construction between Iowa City and Coralville is expected to be completed by early next week, the engineers said.

The new section of the highway, which bypasses Coralville, is four lanes wide.

Student Book Exchange Receipts Total $2,500

Total receipts from the student council's book exchange reached $2,500 Friday, as students continued to flock to the book cooperative in Schaeffer hall.

Purchasers of books that are not being used this semester may receive refunds Monday. This is the only day refunds will be made.

Tuesday and Wednesday, students may pick up book money and also unsold books. If the books are not called for, they will become the property of the student council.

Iowan Enrollment Check Yields Inaccurate Figure

The Daily Iowan learned Friday that the estimate of SUI fall enrollment which appeared in Friday's paper was inaccurate and inadequate.

A later check by the Iowan revealed that several hundred students had failed to list addresses with our circulation department and were not counted in the Iowan survey.

An additional number of students have registered but their names have not been forwarded to the Iowan, thus invalidating the 6,500 estimate.

Late registration of students which continued Friday will delay an accurate tabulation of enrollment until next week. University officials have predicted the enrollment would be about 7,000.

The Iowan regrets having printed an inaccurate story.

FCC Chief Foresees Robot-Manned Trains

HARRIMAN, N.Y. (AP) — Atomic powered trains travelling coast to coast with robot engineers operated by remote control were foreseen Friday by Chairman Wayne Coy of the federal communications commission.

He cited that possibility in an address at a celebration here of the 100th anniversary of the first telegraphed train order—from an Erie railroad general superintendent to Goshen, N.Y.

Coy said that since we have guided missiles and robot airplanes, "why not automatic, unattended or robot freight and passenger trains?"

And with an atomic submarine already under construction, he continued, there can be only one answer as to how such robot trains would be powered—"the atomic locomotive."

Industrialist Awards His Firm to Employees

CHICAGO (AP) — Louis L. Narowetz said Friday that he will give his $2,500,000 business to the employees who "helped make the firm what it is today."

Narowetz, 59, has already begun the process of giving the Narowetz Heating and Ventilating company to his 209 workers.

The firm is the biggest manufacturer of sheet metal items, below piping and ventilating equipment in Chicago.

"My employees have earned the right to own the business," Narowetz said. "I never could have got anywhere without their help."

"I have three daughters and no sons. My sons-in-law aren't trained for our business. I want to perpetuate the company which my father started so humbly and of which he was so proud."

"Next to my family, my workers are closest to me. An employee is a friend. They deserve to control the business they've worked so hard to build up."

The employees feel the same way about Narowetz.

Horace S. Fries, Wisconsin Author Dies in Madison

MADISON (AP) — Prof. Horace S. Fries, University of Wisconsin philosophy instructor and well-known author, died at a Madison hospital today after a long illness. He was 49-years-old.

Fries was best known nationally for his articles published in philosophical and technical journals.

Wisconsin born and educated, Fries was associated with the state government in-training apprenticeship program developed during the administration of former Gov. Phillip LaFollette to train persons for state civil service work.

Fries, a native of Richland Center, attended public school there and received his bachelors, masters and doctors degrees from the University of Wisconsin.

He taught for five years at Lawrence college, Appleton, and briefly at the New Mexico Military Institute. He taught at the University of Wisconsin continuously from 1937 until recently.

Offer Lower Rate For Atlantic Flight

LONDON (AP) — Pan American Airways announced Friday it is going to fly "tourist" passengers across the Atlantic next summer at 33 1/3 per cent less than present fares.

Willis Lipscomb said his company planned to establish a "tourist" class of passengers who would pay a maximum fare of $250 for the flight from New York to Shannon, Ireland. The present fare is $375 and that goes up on Oct. 1 to $395.

One, who didn't want his name used, said e'd been with the company a "long, long time and Mr. Narowetz has always been swell to us."

"His action in giving us the firm is typical of him," the worker said.

Narowetz has selected a "board of governors" of nine executive and supervisory employees and gives them 48 per cent of the stock on a bonus and quarterly dividend basis. Each is an expert in his field.

During the next five years — sooner, if possible—he will make the remainder of the stock available to the firm's 209 production employees on the same plan. The biggest shares will go to the workers with the longest tenure.

The business was founded 50 years ago by Narowetz's father, Louis, who came to Chicago from Bavaria with 13 cents in his pocket.

He set up a small shop at the point where the big Chicago and North Western railroad station now stands. It was there that

Senators Differ On Proposed Raise In Federal Taxes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican and Democratic senators clashed sharply Friday on the country's ability to stand higher tax raises than congress contemplates.

Sen. Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn.) told the senate that the nation is "strong enough to sustain the burden" of a new $9 billion tax bill.

He led the administration fight into its second day to boost the senate's $5,506,000,000 tax measure to $9 billion.

Sen. Eugene Millikin (R-Colo.) retorted that prosperity did not seem to be reflected in a $260 billion public debt and a deficit in the fiscal year that might reach $30 billion.

The house bill, previously passed, calls for about $7,200,000,000 in new taxes.

President Truman wrote Vice-President Alben Barkley yesterday that the government needed a new tax bill approaching $10 billion to balance the budget and combat inflation.

To this, Chairman George (D-Ga.) of the finance committee replied:

"Not one more cent as far as I am concerned."

Humphrey said he and his associates would try to restore the house bill's provisions on individual and corporation income taxes. This, he adds, would increase the total of the senate measure by almost $1.3 billion.

Plugging all the loopholes he said were in the senate bill would add another $4 billion, he claimed.

Millikin contended the budget could not be balanced because the deficit would be between $20 billion and $30 billion in the fiscal year beginning next July, when defense spending is due for its peak.

'Goodwill' Cameras Traced to Officials

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senators investigating the American Lithofold corporation Friday traced two of the printing firm's "goodwill" cameras to Matthew J. Connelly, a White House secretary, and Democratic national chairman William M. Boyle Jr.

In another off-shoot of the inquiry, Republican Senator Williams of Delaware arose in the senate to report that Republican National Chairman Guy George Gabrielson is still representing a private company before the reconstruction finance corporation.

Williams sharply condemned such a practice. Five Republican senators—Ferguson (Mich.), Case (S.D.), Cain (Wash.), Schoepel (Kan.), and Dirksen (Ill.)—praised his speech. "We cannot point the finger of scorn and accusation at somebody else unless our own house is in order," Dirksen said.

The senate's investigations subcommittee was to have heard more about the cameras from Cecil A. Green, American Lithofold's Washington representative, but after he had testified for about an hour he was excused for the time being. Several senators agreed he was "in no condition to testify."

Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.) asked if he had been drinking. Green replied he had had one martini at lunchtime.

The probe into American Lithofold's affairs began after charges were made that Boyle used his political influence to help American Lithofold, a big St. Louis company, get $565,000 in RFC loans. Boyle has denied the charges, and President Truman has said he believes him.

Williams told the senate: "I do not believe that any man who holds the position of chairman or vice-chairman of a political committee has any right to represent private companies in a government loan."

Gabrielson, who is in New York, sent the following telegram today to chairman Hoey (D-N.C.) of the subcommittee:

"I urgently request the opportunity to appear before your investigating committee, tomorrow morning if possible, to give all the facts and clear up any misunderstanding concerning my business relations with the reconstruction finance corporation as president and counsel for 'Carthage Hydrocol, Inc. Comment on the senate floor this afternoon makes it obvious that a misunderstanding has developed."

The story of the cameras was told today by Robert J. Blauner, president of Lithofold. He informed the inquiry group that he had been told the gifts had been presented to Connelly and Boyle

Teen-aged Slayers Enter Innocent Plea

ANN ARBOR, MICH. (AP) — Three teen-aged boys, confessors of the bludgeoning-slaying of nurse Pauline Campbell, stood stoically before a municipal court judge Friday as pleas of innocent were entered for them.

Neither, William Morey, 18, Max Bell, 18, nor David Royal, 17, showed emotion as their mothers, standing among the spectators in the packed courtroom, sobbed loudly.

Miss Campbell, 34, Ann Arbor, was beaten to death with a hard rubber automobile mallet, Saturday midnight as she was returning home from work.

Municipal judge Francis O'Brien set Sept. 28 as the date of the trio's examination on charges of first-degree murder.

Detectives said they were not satisfied with the boys' story that their only object was to get money for beer and gasoline.

"It looks to me like they were just bored and were looking for a thrill," said Capt. Albert Heusel, chief of detectives.

Pell's 18-year-old girl friend, who was not held, attributed his downfall to companionship with Morey, a handsome, wavy-haired college sophomore.

"Whenever he was with Bill, Max forgot everything else," she said. "Morey is the kind of fellow who gives himself home permanents."

Stolen Car Gave Lead To FBI Agents

FAYETTEVILLE, TENN. (AP) — Kenneth A. Kitts, husky bank-robbler who escaped from the washroom of an Omaha courthouse a week ago, was captured Friday at a honky-tonk 14 miles north of here.

A force of FBI agents and Tennessee state troopers apprehended the career criminal, who sneaked past a guard at a washroom door in Omaha's Douglas county courthouse last Friday and vanished with handcuffs still dangling from a wrist.

Small town curiosity led to the capture of Kitts, who had been newly placed on the list of the FBI's most wanted criminals.

A stolen car that he had parked in the woods near the roadhouse, where he had worked since Tuesday, gave away the ex-Kansas City butcher-boy, according to police here.

Officer W. C. Foster said that residents of the area became suspicious of the car after it stayed there three days and reported it to police. The license number was broadcast and FBI agents from the Knoxville office quickly spotted it as the same car in which Kitts was believed to have fled the midwest.

Three agents, with state troopers for reinforcement, descended on the night spot and captured Kitts before he could show any resistance, Foster said.

Agent John Bill, in charge of the Atlanta FBI office, described Kitts as one of the most widely hunted fugitives in the United States.

The five feet 10, 200-pound fugitive with a record dating back to his childhood looked like a prosperous young businessman with his brown, gray-flecked hair.

The FBI agents took Kitts to an undesignated Tennessee jail. It possibly could have been the State Prison in Nashville, 80 miles north of here.

Kitts implicated himself and four other men in a $100,000 Oklahoma jewel robbery in testimony last Friday. Minutes after the hearing ended, Kitts was taken from the post office building to the county courthouse where he was to be turned over to Warden Herbert Hann of the penitentiary.

Penitentiary Guard John Duffek took him into a washroom, loosened one handcuff and turned away momentarily. Kitts disappeared out a door into a corridor.

Senate Subcommittee Probes Ohio Elections

WASHINGTON (AP) — The counsel of the senate elections subcommittee expressed doubt Friday that an open hearing on last year's Ohio senate election can begin next week.

John T. Moore, who returned from New York Friday, told a reporter his four-man investigating staff has not yet come back from Ohio. It has been there since shortly after Labor day, gathering material for the hearing.

The elections subcommittee is probing charges of heavy campaign spending and the use of scurrilous literature by both sides in the campaign which led to the re-election of Senator Taft (R-Ohio) over his Democratic opponent, State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson.

Earlier this week, Chairman Gillette (D-Iowa) said he would be disappointed if the hearing could not begin as expected next week, though he did not know how far the investigation had progressed in the field.

Gillette said both Taft and Ferguson would be given a chance to testify, but that neither would get a formal invitation from the subcommittee.

Ridgway Delays Answering Reds

TOKYO (SATURDAY) (AP) — Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway postponed his answer, originally scheduled for today, to the Communist request for immediate resumption of the Korean truce talks. It was learned.

No reason was given for the postponement. The general headquarters public information office was non-committal.

Reliable sources reported earlier that Ridgway's message was whipped into final form last night after conferences between his headquarters here and Washington. It was reported ready to be delivered today.

Preview— THE FILM

By GIL TAYLOR

Since the redecoration of the Capitol theatre with its new art gallery and coffee lounge, the foreign season promises to bring extra pleasure.

Not only the surroundings will be luxurious, but the films will be some of the most exciting and choicest in quite a few years. Many of the new releases are scheduled and the re-release of some old favorites.

AMONG THESE EXCELLENT films are "Odette," a British spy-thriller based upon the true story of a woman who did espionage work for the underground. It stars Ana Nagle and Trevor Howard and has received fine reviews wherever shown as has "Marie du Port" directed by the famed Michael Carne with Jean Gabin. This is the human and tenderly told tale of waterfront life and is beautifully gallic in quality.

"THE EMPEROR'S NIGHTENGALE" a Czech film in technicolor which is a new treatment of the Anderson fairy tale, acted by puppets and quite delightful in every way. Another film of importance is the British production of "Oliver Twist" which, despite the controversy about its anti-Semitism, will be shown in the near future. The film stars Alex Guinness and was directed and produced by the same team that made "Great Expectations" such an outstanding artistic success.

"WOMEN WITHOUT NAMES," the Italian violence film is to be screened. It is helped along by a brilliant cast which includes such stellar names as Franciose Rosay, Valentina Cortese and Simone Simon. Also playing will be "The Scarf" which is a Swedish film with Viveca Lindfors and two British pictures, "Tony Draws A Horse" and "The Chips Are Down."

THE THEME OF ROMEO AND JULIET appears in "Two Lovers of Verona," in modern aspect and the treatment is reported to be exceptionally distinguished. The British-French version of "Alice In Wonderland" will play here and, despite the belabouring critics, should prove interesting as is Louis Jove's last film "Lady Paname," a farce laid in a burlesque atmosphere.

ALSO BEING SCREENED are "Tales of Hoffman" the confusing technicolor dance-appeal message and "God Needs Men" the simple story of a peasant priest, made in France and starring Pierre Fresney.

AT THE IOWA THEATRE THE Orson Wells production of "Macbeth" will be shown beginning Wednesday and already booked are "The Wicked City," a Francois Villier film starring Jean-Pierre Aumont and Lily Palmer, "Fric-Frac," "The Facts of Love" and the magnificent Swedish film "Torment" which is good any time, any year.

It should be a good year for the American films also, with the Tri-States theatres in town playing such notable productions as "Streetcar Named Desire" and the fine "Place In The Sun," along with the strange and terrifying "Pick Up."

College Bill of Rights Passed By National Student Congress

MADISON, WIS.—More than 500 delegates from over 200 colleges and universities voiced their opinions on everything from "McCarthyism" to a new world union of students at the fourth National Student Congress held at the University of Minnesota, Aug. 20-29.

The delegates representing 670,000 college students, after a week's work formulating their resolutions, voted:

1. For a new student Bill of Rights, upholding the principles of student government and guaranteeing qualified students the right to an education.

2. After heated debate, the delegates passed a resolution, 138-103, in favor of universal military training at this time. A minority report against UMT was also filed.

3. By an overwhelming majority voted to re-affirm NSA's stand on academic freedom, urging that no teacher be dismissed without being made aware of the causes and without being given the opportunity to defend himself.

4. Urged that college athletics be returned to the students. And, in the same resolution, the group placed the blame for the recent athletic scandals on "the corrupt atmosphere surrounding college athletics," demanding that "intercollegiate sports be both de-commercialized and de-emphasized."

5. Approved the continuation of the student mutual assistance program, a project which was developed at the Stockholm meeting of representatives of 19 national student unions.

6. Reorganized the structure of the association by centralizing authority in the president, establishing another vice-president, and a national interim committee to determine policy between national executive committee meetings.

Harold Stassen, president of the University of Pennsylvania, key-noted the congress. Stassen reported on the Berlin youth festival, from which he had just returned. He emphasized the need for a strong, active student group in the United States, and predicted that such a group would help prevent any major world conflict in the coming years.

Allard K. Lowenstein, retiring president of NSA, reported on the activity and declared that American students should not be afraid to speak their minds, and should assume a role of leadership in the student community.

Endorse "Honor System"
By almost unanimous approval, the congress upheld the college "honor system" despite the recent controversy over the expelling of 90 cadets from West Point for cheating on exams.

The congress also urged the "continuance and furtherance of the honor system in college communities." The resolution pointed out that infractions and violations had occurred but it also stated, "Violations though not condonable are the result of shortcomings of a system which involved human beings and consequently is subject to human error."

Underlying the resolution the group felt was the principle of "self-development through self-control and the responsibility of the individual."

Condemned "McCarthyism"
A 220-48 vote by the delegates passed a resolution condemning the technique of "McCarthyism," which the groups said was "characterized by reliance upon legislative immunity, guilt-by-association charges." The resolution charged that the technique is "being employed by members of both major political parties."

The congress took two steps against discrimination on the college campus when it asked its college affiliates to set a five-year time limit for the elimination of discriminatory fraternities and sorority clauses, and to establish a national sub-commission to exchange information regarding discrimination and segregation. Headquarters for the sub-commission will be at the University of Miami.

The group will compile data on official university policies and state laws and report to the next congress.

NSA's international commitments for the coming year drew the hottest debate of the congress. The group heard foreign delegates express their views on the formation of a new world union before it voted against establishing a new world student union at the present time.

Re-affirm IUS Stand
The organization re-affirmed its stand not to work with the Communist-dominated International Union of Students. It did come out in favor of setting up a new world union of students sometime in the future; but abided by the majority decision that there was not enough support for a new union at the present time.

SMAP (Students' Mutual Assistance Program), a practical program for international cooperation on a student level, is being coordinated by NSA. In a meeting to be held at Edinburgh, Scotland, the NSA recommendations concerning future development of the program will be presented.

However, it was decided that in 1951, NSA should send observers to the IUS council meetings if possible, but unless some change in the IUS policy is noted, the observers will be the only contact.

The congress voted to negotiate with the Young Adult Council for membership in that body as it is the official representative of America in the World Assembly of Youth.

Cowles is president of the Minneapolis Star and Tribune and chairman of the board of the Des Moines Register and Tribune and of Cowles magazines.

He made a three weeks flying trip to Europe and Asia with Paul Hoffman, president of the Ford foundation of which Cowles is a trustee.

Saying there is misunderstanding in foreign countries about our desire for peace, Cowles said that we must let Russia have a monopoly on peace talk.

"We must launch a U.S. peace offensive based on universal disarmament under effective international control," he said. He explained that the basis for such a plea is contained in our support of the Baruch plan for atomic control under continuous U.N. inspection.

"Even if Russia should refuse our disarmament proposals it would be a psychological benefit to us abroad," Cowles said.

ONE OVER Lightly

By LEE GARNER

A textbook is a thing of beauty and a joy forever. Or something like that. Soon there will be a beautiful textbook for everything under the sun—if the professors and graduate students last that long, and they show no signs of weakening.

A TEXTBOOK IS A VALUABLE and a precious object that should not be thrown before swine. Until we offer it for resale. It looks terrible then.

We may have handled it only after our Saturday night bath, never put a pencil to its virginal margins, or even gone beyond page 26. It is still worth only 55 cents.

This is because it went out of date two months after it was published. If you have been to the university book exchange and come away empty handed, we herewith list a few textbooks in our possession which might help solve your problem. (Or are we too naive in thinking you actually want the text for your course?)

OF TIME AND THE STRIP, by F. Doppelganger, 8vo, 1639 pp., Thebig House, 1927. An intimate biography of the roaring 'twenties in Alcatraz. Highly illuminating. This is not a cheap reprint edition, but the original book needs scratched in blood on knees.

Real lusty facts and opinions that will hold you spellbound. Useful examples of colorful idiomatic phrases and spelling. A steal at $35.00.

WHAT TO DO WITH INFANTS, by Mrs. M.L.T., 4to, 67 pp., 1949. This up-to-date digest on the treatment of children offers several methods and solutions to infant-care problems that beset the busy mother. Recommends only the most inexpensive equipment. Includes notes on building your own strait jackets. Useful in education courses. Personally autographed by youngest son of the author on almost every page. Rare. $35.

ENCYCLOPEDIA OF VELOCIPEDIA, 16 vols., illustrated, 1829. Over 13,000 interestingly torn pages, more than 55,000 entries and pressed leaves. A must for every undergraduate student in mechanical engineering. Articles by several hands, most of them legible, a few Spenserian.

The history, use, growth, technical aspects and political significance of the velocipede, from 1823 to 1829 (excluding the winter months). Backs cracked on all volumes. Several used to get out of mud last spring are still a trifle damp, but readable. Out of print. Trucking costs.

Judge Orders —

No Marriage For 3 Years

MILWAUKEE (P)—A handsome traveling salesman who commuted between two attractive wives for four years was placed on three years probation Friday.

Municipal Judge Herbert Steffes gave salesman John Reihman, 33, a break but warned him: "Don't marry again while you're on probation."

"If you slide from the path of good conduct, you will be whipped into prison," Steffes said.

Reihman managed to keep the two wives from finding out about each other until recently, even though they lived only 60 miles apart.

Steffes first sentenced Reihman to one to two years imprisonment on a charge of adultery. But he then changed the sentence to probation so that Reihman can support his two families.

Reihman stood quietly through the sentencing. His only remark was "None sir" when the judge asked if he had any questions.

The salesman married his first wife, Dorothy, in 1931, in 1934. They established a home at Sheboygan Falls, Wis., and had a daughter, who now is four years old.

Four years later "For some reason I can't explain," Reihman married Elizabeth, now 26, and kept her in Milwaukee. She bore him two children, a daughter who now is three and a son, aged two months.

Reihman would live for a time with one wife and then switch to the other, explaining to each that his absence of a few days to a few weeks were for business trips.

But Elizabeth learned about Dorothy last spring "And the roof fell on me," Reihman said.

The discovery came when Elizabeth decided she'd like to meet Reihman's parents and sister. She telephoned Sheboygan Falls and talked to Reihman's sister who was completely surprised to learn about his second wife.

Elizabeth now has asked for an annulment of her marriage to the salesman. Dorothy hasn't made up her mind whether to take him back.

"I can't trust him anymore," she said. Steffes ordered Reihman to support his first family "fully and adequately" and also to pay Elizabeth support for their two children.

Government Urges Farmers to Hold Crops

WASHINGTON (P) — The agriculture department will put on one of the most vigorous campaigns of its history this season to get farmers to hold crops off markets as a means of strengthening their prices.

Farm prices as a whole have dropped nearly seven per cent since they reached a record high last February. Only six of thirty major commodities are bringing the parity price declared by law to be equally fair to growers and those who buy their products.

Already the department has placed thousands of field workers on the job to urge growers to store cotton under government price support loans for the purpose of preventing a further drop in the commodity.

Thursday, Secretary of Agriculture Charles Brannan, issued a statement similarly urging farmers to store rice under support loans as a means of assuring themselves better returns.

Department plans are being made for similar campaigns for corn and soy beans.

The department is putting on this price-boosting drive at the same time another government agency, the office of price stabilization is trying to hold down prices of some farm products, particularly of cattle and beef.

Farm officials say there is no conflict between price-bolstering activities of the department and price control programs of the OPS, nor with anti-trust laws forbidding restraint of trade.

All the farm commodities which the department is urging farmers to store under price support loans are selling below ceiling prices set by the OPS or minimum ceiling levels set by law, and with one exception — cotton — below the parity goal. Hence, officials explained, the department is not trying to get prices above ceiling levels.

The department says it is moved by what it calls its responsibility to the nation in the defense emergency. It explains that the government urged farmers to produce big crops this year because they are doing this, prices are dropping. Officials say that if farm prices are not kept at satisfactory levels, farmers may be unable to continue big production next year and in subsequent years. The result, they say, could be short supplies and much higher prices ultimately for consumers — developments which would not be, they say, in the nation's best interest.

Officials agree that action of the department in urging farmers to hold crops off the market to boost prices might appear on its face to violate anti-trust laws. Such they say, is not the case.

They explain that the department is authorized and directed by law to support farm prices at specified minimum levels.

Methods provided by law include price support loans and restrictions on production. Officials say it is the department's duty to call the goals to the attention of growers and to urge them to use the loans when their prices are threatened.

CHICAGO (UP) — Robert A. Vogeler, still showing the effects of his 17-month imprisonment in a Communist cell, Friday urged the free press of the world to increase its fight to free American newspaperman William Oatis from a Czechoslovakian prison.

Vogeler thanked the American press in a speech Friday for "never giving up on me when it must have appeared that all hope was lost."

Recreation Leaders Urged To Train Youth for Old Age

Children should be prepared early in life to face the problems created by old age, according to Prof. Richard M. Seaman, SUI school of social work.

Seaman spoke on recreational activities on recreation in Des Moines Friday. He said old age has problems of extending social interests as well as those of maintaining health and economic security.

He said extreme character changes are not necessarily inevitable as old age appears, but are influenced by family tendencies and how well the individual's personality has been integrated through training in the home and environment.

Citing the increasing importance of maintaining social interests of older people, Seaman told the conference that 1 of every 12 persons in this country is now 65 years of age or over, compared with one of every 25 in 1900.

He said the powers of older persons are replenished through recreational and small-group activity but that this often seems pointless to the individual when he is not given an opportunity to be a productive member of society.

The older person can experience the basic satisfactions needed by all ages—the feeling of being safe, secure, loving and loved—through small-group living, Seaman said.

However, since this type of living means that persons will have close relationships, social and recreational workers in these groups should have considerable training in social psychology and psychology.

Seaman stressed recreational activities as means, not ends, enabling individuals to respond to social pressures in ways that are satisfactory to themselves and the people with whom they come in contact.

24 Tots Enter Handicapped Hospital School

Twenty-four student-patients are enrolled in the Iowa hospital-school for severely handicapped children this year, six of them for the first time.

Nineteen of the children are full-time dormitory students and five attend during the day, W. B. Schoenbohm, director said.

They receive full-time medical care, in addition to participating in the school's educational program. This includes regular public school instruction with emphasis on the individual, as well as special work in art, music and crafts. Students also have an opportunity to become active in boy and girl scout groups.

This year, Schoenbohm said, the school will place additional stress on recreational activities. Every Friday night will be "party night" with organizations in and around Iowa City planning the program three nights a month and the school staff arranging the activities the fourth night.

Several days before classes began Sept. 11 the school staff attended a series of orientation meetings during which they listened to lectures and discussed problems in education of handicapped children.

Yankees Beat Red Sox, 5-1; Tigers' Rally Downs Indians

BOSTON (AP) — Allie Reynolds helped boost the New York Yankees' American league lead to one and a half games today with a gritty six-hitter to whip Boston, 5-1, becoming the first Yank pitcher to go the route at Fenway park in 20 games since Sept. 24, 1949.

While Reynolds was taming the Red Sox with a masterful clutch job, the Detroit Tigers came from behind and nipped Cleveland, 7-6. It was a costly loss for the second place Indians.

After losing all eight starts at Boston this season, the Yanks ripped into lefty Leo Kieley and Ellis Kinder for a vital victory. The loss left the whipped Red Sox five games back in third place with only 10 to go.

Three times Reynolds pitched himself out of tight jams in the fourth, sixth and eighth innings. At least half of the 21,119 fans present this warm, sunny afternoon seemed to be rooting the 33-year-old Indian home. Either a large New York delegation was on hand or the Red Sox customers gave up on their heroes after they blew two straight to Cleveland.

From the moment in the first inning when Joe DiMaggio riddled a line single to center scoring Yogi Berra, the Yanks held the lead. Boston never had it when Reynolds turned on the old pressure.

After another Yankee run scored on four straight singles in the second, the Red Sox put on their big threat in the fourth. Singles by Johnny Pesky and Ted Williams, followed by Clyde Vollmer's double off the left field wall produced one run but Williams was cut down at the plate by Hank Bauer's throw as he tried to score from first base on the tying run.

Tigers 7, Indians 6

DETROIT (AP) The Cleveland Indians' pennant hopes were jolted Friday as Bobby Feller blew a 5-0 lead and the Detroit Tigers got a magnificent relief job from Freddie Hutchinson for a 7-6 win over the Tribe.

The loss dropped Cleveland a game and a half behind the first-place New York Yankees in the American league scramble.

The Indians knew they had to win to keep pace, as their game was only half finished when first-place New York's 5-1 triumph over Boston had been posted on the big center field scoreboard at Briggs stadium.

But Cleveland was almost completely handcuffed by Hutchinson, who took over in the second when the Indians made all five of their runs off Detroit starter Ted Gray. The deciding marker came on Frank House's first major league homer in the sixth.

Hutchinson allowed only two hits in the seventh and two-thirds innings he hurled.

Although Feller gave the Bengals' five of their seven runs total in the two and one-third innings he toiled, blazing Bob escaped his first defeat of the season against four victories opposing the Tigers. Cleveland 6 050 000 100-6 7 2

Yankee Infield Gets New Look

NEW YORK YANKEE Manager Casey Stengel jotted down his new infield lineup just before the Yanks took the field Friday against Boston Red Sox southpaw Leo Kieley. It consisted of (left to right) Gil McDougald, 3rd base and Gerry Coleman, 2nd, both right handed hitters, and Joe Collins, first base. The Bombers took the opener of the important 3-game series, 5-1.

Big Games Launch Football Season—

Kentucky-Texas Features Grid Card

NEW YORK (AP) — The football bug who glances casually over today's national college schedule and concludes in some bewilderment that he must somehow have gotten hold of an old, last winter's paper is to be treated with kind understanding.

With the first day of autumn only just at hand, it says here that the Kentucky Wildcats are playing the Texas Longhorns at Austin, Texas, and that Southern Methodist's Mustangs are engaging the Engineers at Georgia Tech at Atlanta, both this afternoon.

A majority of impartial experts are giving Kentucky a thin edge over a Texas team which is supposed to have lost some of its 1950 power.

Kyle Role Gone
Southern Methodist, having lost some of its glamor with the departure of Kyle Role, is supposed to be in for a rough afternoon against an improved Georgia Tech, but is a slight favorite.

Several other games around the nation are almost equal standouts as the big boys get further away from the old practice of feeding on setups for the first several weeks.

Two of the South's traditional rivals, North Carolina and North Carolina State, collide at Chapel Hill. North Carolina is favored. Michigan State, newest power in the Midwest, is expected to show its muscles at the expense of Oregon State at East Lansing in one of the weekend's inter-sectional features. Fordham is given some chance of knocking off the Missouri Tigers in another cross-country test at Columbia, Mo.

Bears at Santa Clara

In the far west the perennial champion California Bears open at Berkeley against Santa Clara's always lively Broncos, and Southern California entertains Washington State at Los Angeles. Stanford plays Oregon at Eugene.

Other Standout Games

Arkansas at Oklahoma A & M; Cincinnati vs. Kansas State at Manhattan; Boston U. vs. William and Mary at Williamsburg; Duke vs. South Carolina at Columbia; Kansas vs. Texas Christian at Fort Worth (night); Montana vs. Washington at Seattle; Tampa vs. Bradley at Peoria; Toledo at Detroit (night); and Mississippi Southern vs. Louisiana State at Baton Rouge (night).

Cornell Cage Coach Dies

CEDAR RAPIDS (AP) — Walton Koch, 51, Cornell college basketball coach, died Friday of a heart attack at St. Luke's hospital.

Koch was hospitalized Thursday night. He has been Cornell cage coach at Mt. Vernon, Ia., since 1941 and also served as an assistant professor of education.

Jones' Homer Stops Bums For Phillies

BROOKLYN (AP) — Willie Jones drove a grand-slam home run into left-center seats Friday night in the first inning and the Philadelphia Phillies went on to defeat the Brooklyn Dodgers, 9-6, and cut their National league lead over the idle New York Giants to four games.

Robin Roberts went the distance on the mound for the Phillies although rapped smartly by the Dodgers, to rack up his 21st victory against 12 defeats.

Rookie Clem Labine, who started for the Dodgers, was the victim of Jones' first inning wallop. Labine, who had won four games without defeat for Brooklyn, gave up another run in the second inning and was promptly yanked by Manager Chuck Dressen in favor of Bud Podbielan, but the damage was done.

A fielder's choice and an error let two more runs across and Philadelphia led, 7-0 to give Roberts a soft cushion to ride on the rest of the evening.

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Little Jackie Collum made his entry into major league baseball an impressive one Friday night as he set down the Chicago Cubs on a two-hitter to give the St. Louis Cardinals a 6-0 victory.

A 24-year-old southpaw brought up from Rochester of the International league just last Sunday, Collum tired a little toward the end as he walked two in the ninth. The Cardinals' fourth double-play of the night saved the shutout and ended the game.

Hawklets-McKinley Tie, 0-0; U-High Defeats Wapello, 26-0

Early Hawklet Threat Stopped on the 20

(Special to The Daily Iowan)
CEDAR RAPIDS—A rain soaked field and two evenly matched lines resulted in a 0-0 tie between City High and McKinley here Friday night.

It was the first non-winning effort for the Hawklets since the 1949 season. They had won 10 straight.

And the only chance the Hawklets had to make it number 11 fizzled out early in the contest when a City high threat died on the McKinley 20 yard line.

A 30-yard pass from John White to Jim Freeman on the Little Hawk's first play from scrimmage carried to the Bears' 25-yard line. The best City high could do from there was move it to the 20 where it lost the ball on downs. That was as close as the Hawklets were to get all night.

Guard Connie Colbert was a standout for City high in the hard-fought contest.

City high's star end, Jim Freeman, was hurt in the game but the injury was not believed serious.

It was the second contest of the season for the Hawklets. Last week they beat Ft. Madison, 7-0. McKinley backs Eldan Kanellis and Gordon Stoddard ran well but could never break away for a touchdown jaunt.

Iowa State, Drake In Action Today

AMES, IA. (AP) — Iowa State is a strong favorite to win in its opening game of its 61st season against Wayne university of Detroit today.

But Coach Abe Stuber, who begins his 5th year in that position at Iowa State, won't have Melvin Meling in his lineup. Meling, one of the few senior backs on the squad, injured his side Tuesday.

Stuber's forces, co-captained by fullback Maury Schnell of Carroll and guard Stan Campbell of Rochelle, Ill., will include seven lettermen. Only two of them were regulars last season, however, Schnell and center Rollie Arns.

Wayne coach Lou Zarza was counting on his first string lineup intact save for the possible exception of Dick Brown. He is rated as the best passer in Wayne's history. Brown sprained an ankle and may have to be replaced by Dick Lisabeth, freshman defensive quarterback.

A parade of 39 Iowa high school bands will be a colorlight of the contest. About 2,000 prep musicians will start marching into the Iowa State stadium about 1 p.m. and will mass on the field at half time.

And the Drake Bulldogs headed for Denver Friday to face the Pioneers in a non-conference game tonight.

It will be the second game of the season for Drake which opened last Friday with a 19-7 victory over Abilene Christian.

Diamond Boss — Frick Caught Off-Guard

NEW YORK (AP) — "We were over at a neighbor's house eating baked lobster—I guess they were baked; they were cooking them over a charcoal grill—and having a fine time.

"I thought I heard my phone ring, and ran over to our house to answer it, but by the time I got there the phone had stopped ringing. About midnight a police car drove up. They were looking for me, and my wife said 'what have you been doing now?'"

"The police told me to call Chicago, giving me the number and extension, so I called, and Charley Segar answered. He said 'Hello, commissioner.'"

Had "Butterflies"
That's how Ford Frick learned Thursday night he had been chosen baseball commissioner, and he admitted he had butterflies in his stomach the first of the night.

"The phone kept ringing and ringing, and about 1:30 Friday morning I plugged it up. At 4 o'clock some photographer was pounding on the door."

The new diamond czar was fresh and dapper as he strode briskly along the corridor toward his RCA building office at 9:30 Friday morning, however.

Has Confidence

He's a tall, lean wiry guy with sharp features and a terrier's alertness about his snapping eyes. His movements are quick and nervous, his voice crisp and decisive. You get the idea of boundless energy, and vitality, and confidence.

In fact, in appearance and in his quick speech and actions there is more than a vague resemblance to the late K. M. Landis, although he doesn't have the judge's tendency to showboat or possess the long, unruly shock of white hair, and his hats are neat and trim.

His choice should prove generally popular and it is to the credit of the magnates that they saw some sense in picking a baseball man for a baseball job.

Frick knows baseball in all its phases, and should prove an able executive in his new post, as he has been as president of the National league.

Van Dyke Stars For Blue Hawks

By MAURIE ROSEN
University high's Bluehawks gave Wapello a scalp-prim Friday afternoon on the SUI practice field, clipping the visiting Indian by a 28-0 count.

Coach Bob Weber isn't yet convinced that his Eastern Iowa Hawkeye league defending titlist have anything to approach the might of last fall's undefeated outfit, however. Wapello wasn't strong enough to tell.

Slender Gardner Van Dyke masterminded the Bluehawk's dominant aerial efforts, as well as chalking up a good portion of yardage with shifty bootleg maneuvers.

Passed to Ritterger
The 140-pound junior signal caller threw a pass to Mel Ritterger for the first touchdown and sneaked over for U-High's tally in the third quarter.

The next score came when Tom Kent flipped the ball to Craig Perrin.

Ritterger then grabbed a six-point fourth-quarter pass from John Price. A senior, Ritterger added two out of four conversions.

Weber's gang struck through the airways 7 times in 13 attempts, amassing some 160 yards by passing. Eight Wapello tosses were incomplete. One was intercepted by Bluehawk Kent.

123 Yards Rushing

On the ground, U-High gobbled up 123 yards, to the Indians' 45. The Bluehawks got 11 first downs to Wapello's 3.

Sometimes the Bluehawk's line of John Randall and Jim Fowler, tackle; Ed Bowers and Maynard Heck, guards, and center Don Stover blasted big holes.

At other moments a diesel locomotive might have had trouble piercing the Wapello line, as U-High's forwards might have imagined. The Indians twice halted Bluehawk drives within 10 yards of the Wapello goal.

Giants-Tribe to Play In Denver Exhibition

DENVER (AP) — The Cleveland Indians, battling for the American league pennant, and the New York Giants, running second in the National loop, will play a two-game exhibition series here next spring.

Little Hawks Host To Net Tournery

An invitational tennis tournament sponsored by Iowa City high will be held on the SUI varsity courts northwest of the field house today.

Only two teams in addition to the Hawklets have accepted bids for the tourney. They are Moline and Rock Island. John Channer of Oelwein has also indicated that he will play in the singles matches.

The tentative City high squad announced by Coach Gene Peisner includes Art and Jamie Andrews, Robert Osgen, John Englert and John Larson, with Englert and Larson playing in the doubles.

The first match is set for 10 a.m.

Hawkeyes Lose Dick Gleichman By Ineligibility

Dick Gleichman Loses Eligibility

Scholastic difficulties cost Iowa the services of its number three quarterback Friday when Dick Gleichman was declared ineligible.

Gleichman, a sophomore from Rockford, Ill., failed to pass a summer correspondence course. He had been working with the team since the start of practice, Sept. 5, pending the outcome of the course.

Though well behind Burt Britzmann and Jim Sangster for the first-string quarterback post, Gleichman is considered a potentially good passer.

He came to Iowa last February after spending a semester at South Carolina university.

Work on Punting

Otherwise, the Iowa grid scene was quiet Friday with most of the afternoon's drill being spent on punting and punt returns.

Today, however, there will be a fairly stiff scrimmage, Coach Leonard Raffensperger said, though it will not be an organized game.

Single Wing Expected

They are under a new coach this season, Bill Meek, who is expected to employ the single wing attack he learned while playing under Gen. Bob Neyland at Tennessee.

"We haven't done any specific defensive work for Kansas State yet because we just don't know what to expect," said Raffensperger.

Exira Pitcher Signs with Bums

EXIRA, I.A. (P) — Dick Phippen, 19, star pitcher for the Exira high school team the past three years, has signed a professional baseball contract with the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Dick, who was graduated from high school last spring, will report to the Brooklyn training camp at Vero Beach, Fla., next March for six weeks of work before being sent to a Dodger farm club.

Ohio State ...

COLUMBUS, O. (P) — Pass defense was stressed Friday at the Ohio State football practice in preparation for the expected aerial attack by Southern Methodist in the season opener here Sept. 29.

Coach Woody Hayes said that steady improvement is being made even though the Bucks right now are not quite prepared for SMU. He indicated the offensive staged by his freshman passers could not be compared to what can be expected from SMU's Fred Bennis.

2 Columbia Gridders Feared Polio Victims

NEW YORK (P) — Columbia university cancelled its opening football game with Princeton scheduled for Sept. 29, and called off heavy practice sessions for a week Friday after two players were hospitalized as possible polio victims.

Dr. Carl Wise, the university's medical officer, said the squad of 44 players will be returned from Morris, Conn., to the campus and will be examined every day by the team physician.

Dr. Wise said the squad would forego heavy workouts for a week but will meet daily and take light workouts.

The players, Donald Page, 21, Larchmont, N.Y., and Bernard Jansson, 21, New York, were taken to Columbia-Presbyterian medical center in New York city Thursday night. Their condition today was reported as satisfactory.

The hospital did not officially list the players as polio victims. It said it would not "until a number of tests are performed."

Purdue ...

The Boiler-makers open against Texas here next Saturday.

A 29-man "White" squad, consisting mostly of holdover veterans, will be matched today against a "Gold" outfit of 47 players, largely sophomores and freshmen.

Wisconsin ...

MADISON, WIS. (P) — Deral Teteak, smashing middle line-backer on Wisconsin's defensive squad, probably will be lost to the Badgers for their opener against Marquette, Sept. 29, Coach Ivy Williamson said Friday.

Teteak suffered a back injury early this week in a blocking drill. Williamson hopes Teteak will be able to start against Illinois the following week.

Teteak's position probably will be filled by Tom Proctor, Wendell Gulseth or Roger Dornburg.

Williamson will send his varsity through a heavy scrimmage today.

Minnesota ...

MINNEAPOLIS (P) — The University of Minnesota football team ran through a light practice Friday as they prepared for a full-scale dress rehearsal behind locked gates in Memorial stadium today.

Coach Wes Fesler and his aids will be sitting in the press box and regular officials will work the game. It'll be the first real chance to see how the offensive and defensive teams shape up.

Fesler is still unhappy about the Gopher scrimmaging this week. He says the men are not blocking and tackling hard enough.

"I'm getting tired of not seeing any solid hitting!" he said.

With one week of practice time left until next Saturday's opener here against Washington, Fesler cut his scrimmage sessions to one a day beginning Monday.

Actor Corey Won't Talk To Hollywood Investigators

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Actor Jeff Corey Friday refused to tell a committee probing Red activities in Hollywood if he had attended Communist party meetings. He said that linking his name with the Reds has landed him on an industry "graylist."

Sporting dark glasses and a handlebar mustache, the character actor stood on the fifth amendment and refused to give the congressmen any information on Communist infiltration in the movie industry.

Actor Marc Lawrence had testified in Washington, D. C. hearings that Corey had been present at a Communist meeting.

"I am a graylisted actor," Corey said. "If not quite a blacklisted one, since my name has been mentioned in connection with these hearings."

Chairman John S. Wood, (D-Ga.) said "If this committee can get rid of everyone in the field of entertainment who refuses to answer questions regarding affiliation with the Communist party that makes me extremely happy."

Corey also tried to stand on the United Nations bill of rights. Wood cut him off saying, "The United Nations has nothing to do with these hearings."

Corey was preceded on the stand by a shapely blonde ex-Communist in a plunging neckline.

The five congressional representatives on the house un-American activities subcommittee retained their composure while screenwriter Elizabeth Wilson turned on the charm.

Smiling and pretty, she was a friendly witness in contrast to the parade of reluctant persons who have hidden behind the fifth amendment and refused to reply to the committee queries.

Flashing pert glances at the stolid congressmen, Mrs. Wilson said she joined the Communist party in 1937 and quit in May, 1947.

Proposed Parkway Along Mississippi Discussed at Meeting

QUINCY, ILL. (AP)—The cost of the proposed tourist parkway along the Mississippi river from its source to the gulf, will be presented to congress in 1952.

A report from H. J. Spelman, division engineer for the bureau of public roads, indicated this to representatives of 10 states bordering the river who are studying the parkway plan.

Spelman did not attend the meeting. His report was made by Norman H. Gundrum, supervising engineer of the Illinois division of highways.

The report shows that more than 2,200 aerial pictures of the route were studied, which includes strips ranging from 15 to 25 miles on either side of the river, from its source at Lake Itasca, Minn., to below the delta at New Orleans, La.

The construction line presently favors plans for two routes. Most of the lands under consideration are sub-marginal, and plans are under way for acquiring the needed right-of-way, said Conrad L. Wirth, associate director of the National Park Service.

A great boom for the Mississippi valley was predicted by another speaker. Dr. John A. Hussey, of the National Park Service, Washington, and historian of the parkway planning committee.

"Discovery of vast new oil and sulphur deposits along the lower Mississippi river," Hussey said, "assure continued improvement in river traffic. In addition there is the movement of industries from the coastal sections of the nation to the river interior. This should lead to a heavy increase of the purchasing power of the people of the south."

Roy Steele, United States Fish and Wildlife Service, stationed at Winona, Minn., talked on the outdoors advantages of the highway.

Dr. H. W. Provillian of Alton, Ill., chairman of the McAdams memorial commission told the meeting that the highway should follow a line close to the river to avoid costly construction.

Slow Burn

Cigar-Makers Attack Stogie-Haters

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—If you want to make a cigar man burn just tell him nobody smokes cigars but gangsters and politicians.

As a matter of fact things have reached such a pass that some cigar makers are sending up smoke signals to their business brothers to hit back at all who cast snide remarks about smokes, or smokers.

John Quigley, vice-president and sales manager of Bayuk Cigars, Inc., says cigar makers must fight fire with fire.

"You don't have to take this lying down," Quigley told a group of 250 manufacturers, retailers and jobbers.

"It's all a question of spirit. Let's fight so that nobody calls us names without getting a slap back."

The cigar men considered the stogie situation so serious that they set up last night a cigar table to act as "big brother" for the area cigar industry. The group calls itself "the fighting 300."

"Never," said Quigley, tapping ashes from his cigar, "have I seen an industry so abused and maligned as ours. The typical impression is that only gangsters and crooked politicians smoke cigars."

Quigley laid part of the blame to the cigar men themselves. Said he:

"There is a lack of enthusiasm and of a positive attitude among many in the industry. They don't have confidence in the cigar business."

He said a check of the records would show cigar production up 11 per cent over the total of 10 years ago.

Strong East Wind Aids Forest Fires On Pacific Coast

By The Associated Press

A burning east wind drove fire over thousands of acres of western forests Friday from northern California to northern Washington.

Two small Oregon towns were showered with ashes and blanketed with smoke and the residents were alert for disaster.

The northwest Washington town of Forks escaped Thursday night although 28 buildings were razed including 15 residences and two sawmills. The rest of the town of 1,120 persons was saved and the flames swept on westward through dry, crackling brush.

In Oregon, 40 miles east of Salem near Detroit dam in the Cascade mountain foothills, the towns of Mill City and Gates were threatened. The settlements of Niagara, Little Sweden and Elkhorn lived under the eerie light of flames and a smoke-dimmed sun.

Some 2500 to 3000 people live in the area. A few moved out. Trucks and trailers and cars sped down the highway past Mill City.

800 Acres Burned One of the Washington fires—there were 35 or more in that state—ripped through 800 acres of valuable Weyerhaeuser timber company fir 27 miles southwest of Chehalis and was spreading uncontrolled.

Throughout the Pacific northwest the woods were parched from the near-record drought. In many areas there has been no rain in more than three months. Every lightning storm touches off scores of fires that spread swiftly.

Old fires lay dormant, then spring up when the east wind blows hot from the dry interior.

3 Killed, 10 Injured In New York Gas Blast

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—A frightening series of gas explosions took at least three lives and demolished about 20 homes Friday in a panicky suburban Brighton.

The coroner's office said it had though earlier reports said seven persons were reported injured amid the splintered and flame-seared wreckage of the razed dwellings.

Property damage estimated varied from a half to a million dollars in the fashionable suburb.

The blast claimed the lives of two children directly. A woman died of a heart attack, apparently brought on by the excitement.

More than 2,000 homes in the eight-block blast area were vacated by police order. All householders within a 2-mile radius were told to shut off their gas-lines.

Most of the homes were so completely wrecked that it was difficult to tell if anyone had been trapped in them.

A utility company official said it was believed the first terrifying explosion apparently resulted from the failure of a regulator on a principal gas main to function.

The president of the Rochester Gas & Electric corporation, Alexander M. Beebe, said the regulator normally reduces heavy main pressure to permit the distribution of gas into residences.

Robert A. Paviour of the Rochester board of underwriters said damage would total $500,000 and that the average valuation of homes in the blast area was $25,000.

Several thousand school children were evacuated from grade and high schools on the fringe of the blast area. They were kept on the school playgrounds by police.

There were no explosions at the school buildings. Police and civilian volunteers raced to the area urging all occupants to evacuate the homes for

11 Die in Wreck Of London Coach; GI Among Dead

NORTHAMPTON, ENGLAND (AP)—The speeding "breakfast train" carrying 700 persons from Liverpool to London, jumped the rails at 65 miles per hour Friday, hurling 10 coaches down an embankment and killing at least 11 persons, including an American air force corporal.

Fifty other persons were hospitalized and scores of passengers suffered lesser injuries.

Police identified the dead American as Cpl. August N. Buchholz. His home address was not available.

All 15 coaches of the train left the tracks, and the engine and the 10 cars which rolled down the embankment were piled along a roadside, a tangled mass of twisted steel and splintered wood.

The crack train, rocketing toward London, had just passed through the Stowe Hill tunnel, 8 miles west of here, when it began wobbling and then left the tracks.

An even worse tragedy was narrowly averted when a signalman succeeded in stopping the "Royal Scot" speeding north over the same track, only two minutes before it would have plunged into the wrecked train.

Doctor Reveals Former Fatal Diseases Leaves Cured Victim with Damaged Brain

ST. PAUL (AP)—A new type of mental patient created in the wake of recent medical advances may become a serious problem, Dr. Reynold Jensen, University of Minnesota psychiatrist, said Friday.

Jensen said increasing numbers of children have been found to have disease-damaged brains which render them "irresponsible or impulsive" and likely to commit violent acts without reason.

The head of the university child psychiatry department such as tubercular meningitis which cured by new antibiotic drugs.

Where the children were certain to die formerly, they now live, but often suffer damaged brains because of the inroads of the disease, Jensen told the interim committee on youth conservation and mental health programs set up by the past Minnesota legislature.

Such children might suddenly knock someone down, impulsively leave home or tenaciously cling to wrong ideas of a sort that may do harm to themselves and to others, he said.

But, they are not mentally backward and may be very bright, he said, and cannot be confined in state institutions for the retarded with other children under present regulations.

He said there was now only one private institution for caring for such children, which has 11 patients, charging about $4,000 per year tuition for each child.

Jensen told the committee that the state may eventually have to think about setting up special facilities to provide care for children with brain damage.

On the mental health picture as a whole, Jensen advised the group, seeking ways to improve the state program, to develop an "overall" view of the problem, and help encourage the development of adequate personnel and diagnostic and treatment methods.

Jensen, chairman of the child psychiatry committee of the American Psychiatric association, also urged the development of a preventive service in mental health to spread information about psychiatric findings to aid physicians, nurses, teachers, parents and all group leaders who have anything to do with children.

As an example, Jensen pointed out that most children go into a "No-No" stage at about 18 months of age. If the mother understands it is a natural thing, she can handle it without fuss.

If she does not, applies harsh discipline to make the child obey, the youngster may be permanently affected mentally. Understanding, he said, will help mental problems from starting.
