Big Three Favors Rearming of Italy

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Big Three countries Wednesday declared their willingness to wipe out peace treaty restrictions on rearming of Italy.

The joint statement, and an accompanying pledge from President Truman to back Italy for an "equal" place in support of United Nations principles, amounted to a formal welcome to Italy as a full partner in the West's defense lineup.

At the same time, Secretary of State Acheson indirectly warned Moscow against misjudging the reason for this and similar moves to build up "situations of strength" in the Western world.

"Our purpose is peace with freedom and justice," he said.

The move to change the 1947 Italian peace pact came as a grand climax to Italian Prime Minister Alcide de Gasperi's three-day conference with President Truman, Acheson and other top American officials.

High American officials told a reporter the United States favors knocking out a total of 29 articles in the Italian treaty. Scrapping these would permit Italy to build up its skeleton army, navy and air force far beyond the present 300,000 maximum. It would also allow the Italian government, with American aid, to equip Italy's armed forces with jet fighters, bombers, tanks, battleships, and submarines, all weapons now severely restricted under the pact.

The American-British-French declaration said the three governments will give "favorable consideration" to Italy's request to remove "permanent restrictions and discriminations now in existence."

Postwar penalties have now been "wholly overtaken by events or have no justification in present circumstances," it continued.

The "present circumstances" were not identified, but they obviously include Russia's acts in arming Hungary, Bulgaria, and Romania, far in excess of similar peace treaty restrictions.

The United States, Britain and France coupled their declaration with a plea to the other 17 signers of the Italian pact to approve the changes. Actually, the state department has no hope that Russia and its satellites will agree.

Present strategy is to line up all Western signers in favor of the move and go ahead despite Russia's expected violent objection.

American diplomats are convinced that if all goes according to plan, de Gasperi's prestige will be boosted considerably in Italy and the Communists will lose strength.

Homecoming Parade Gets Town's Help

The Homecoming committee moved Wednesday night to complete plans for the 1951 celebration, with the hope that this year's parade will be the biggest in history.

A group of Iowa City businessmen met with the committee and agreed to sponsor floats in the parade, which will be staged the night of Oct. 19.

With this agreement, the Homecoming committee decided to call the parade the "Iowa City 1951 Homecoming Parade" and to include floats from the town as well as the campus.

All floats will be sponsored by entries desiring them. There will be a $50 expense limit on each float, whether or not the entry is sponsored by a businessman.

Application blanks to enter floats will be available at 9 a.m. this Friday in the SUI Veterans' service office in University hall.

The blanks must be filled out and returned to the service's office between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m. next Tuesday.

The office will record the time of return of the entries, so that if there are not enough sponsors for entries, the applications filed the earliest will receive the available sponsors.

Three classes of entries will be entered in the parade:

1. Single Class—one housing or other unit.
2. Multiple Class—one or more combined units.
3. Class for those below 18 years of age.

The Homecoming committee decided to discontinue the use of a parade theme this year, with the hope the floats will be designed after events and traditions of Homecoming weekend.

Report Accident Victim Satisfactory

Mrs. Ray Reynolds, 191 Melrose court, was reported in satisfactory condition at Mercy hospital Wednesday as the result of injuries suffered in an auto crash Tuesday.

Mrs. Reynolds suffered a broken arm and minor injuries when the car in which she and her husband were riding plunged off highway 218 two miles south of Iowa City. Her husband suffered only minor injuries.

OPS Reports 222 Beef Price Violations

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government said Wednesday that 222 slaughterhouses, in all sections of the country, have been reported as violators in the big push to enforce the beef price control programs.

An office of price stabilization (OPS) official said the number of actual violations might run in the hundreds. He explained that in many cases two or more violations were found in a single slaughterhouse.

OPS also disclosed that violators were tagged in more than 50 cities as a result of the drive begun yesterday by around 1,500 OPS agents. An agency official said this meant violators were found in at least half the cities where the agents swooped down to check on operations of the meat packing and distributing industry.

Price Enforcement Director Edward P. Morgan said the results "indicate widespread violations of OPS meat regulations." He added that the inquiry into illegal practices will continue indefinitely.

Iran Alerts Army; Will Destroy Port If British Land

TEHRAN (AP)—The government of Iran has ordered that all installations at the oil port of Abadan be blown up if any foreign forces try to land on Iranian soil, a member of the national defense board said Wednesday night.

He declared the Iranian army was ordered on the alert throughout Khuzistan province in which Abadan is located.

The decisions were taken at an extraordinary defense board meeting after rumors of possible landing of British forces in Iran.

DEFEAT OF BILL
WASHINGTON (AP)—The senate refused Wednesday to approve a 20 per cent withholding tax on corporation dividends.

Elizabeth Delays Canada Tour

LONDON (AP)—Princess Elizabeth decided Wednesday to postpone her Canadian tour and stay near the bedside of her father, King George VI, during the next few anxious days of his recovery from a lung operation.

The heiress presumptive to the British throne and her husband, the Duke of Edinburgh, put off for one or two weeks their royal visit that was to have started at Quebec Oct. 2 and to have included a flight to Washington Oct. 24. Canada's prime minister, Louis St. Laurent, suggested the postponement.

The announcement of the postponement came from Clarence House, the London residence of the princess and the duke, 14 minutes after Buckingham Palace warned the British people the king's condition would cause "some anxiety for the next week or 10 days."

The king underwent a serious lung operation Sunday.

The latest announcements said his strength was improving, but their tone was not so optimistic as Tuesday's bulletins.

Princess Elizabeth and the duke drove to the palace this evening. Conservative leader Winston Churchill visited there during the afternoon.

The announcement of the postponement came from Clarence House, the London residence of the princess and the duke, 14 minutes after Buckingham Palace warned the British people the king's condition would cause "some anxiety for the next week or 10 days."

New High-Wing MIG Used in Largest Jet Battle to Date

UN COMMAND HEADQUARTERS, Korea (THURSDAY) (AP)—Communists Wednesday threw a new high-wing super MIG into the greatest jet battle in history, in a day that saw 256 jets in action.

American fighter pilots returned with the news that the Reds had introduced the swift new fighter in a blistering challenge of Allied air supremacy.

The Communists lost possibly two jets and suffered damage to 12 others, the U.S. fifth air force said. It did not report any allied losses.

Two major battles were fought Wednesday. One, the largest single jet engagement, involved 197 planes. High sources in Tokyo said the new daring and eagerness of Red pilots seemed to pre-empt a challenge all over the Korean peninsula. They said the Reds now may have the air strength they had lacked to conduct all-out war.

The number of planes involved dwarfed the 117 which fought history's longest jet battle Tuesday. In that scrap, 37 American Sabre jets whipped 80 MIG's, shooting down five and damaging five. The Allied air force said one Sabre jet was damaged.

Toughest fighting on the ground still centered on "Heartbreak Ridge," north of Yanguu on the east-central front.

Troops of the U.S. 23rd infantry regiment clung stubbornly to positions just below the crest of the ridge, as the Reds fought to hold the bloodstained heights.

Allied troops pushed slowly up the ridge throughout the day, routing Reds from almost every foot of the way.

The bitterness of the battle for "Heartbreak Ridge" apparently was reflected in the announcement from Washington that U.S. battle casualties reached 85,469 Wednesday, an increase of 2,212 since last week—the largest weekly increase since June 27.

Jack Miller Named Head of Union Board

Jack Miller, E4, Flossmoor, Ill., has been named president of the executive committee of the Iowa Memorial Union student board, it was announced Wednesday.

Other officers of the committee are Peg Jensen, C4, Dennison, vice-president; Eleanor Glick, A3, Creston, secretary; Tom Moffit, A3, Tipton, treasurer; and Peter Van Oosterhout, member-at-large.

The committee is responsible for planning the 1951-52 student activities at the Union.

Named to special committees of the board were David Kirk and Leo Baker, movies and television; John Hogeland, games; Tom Moffit, Francine Appleman, Post-ball game parties, and Marilyn McMullen, bridge.

Bill Friedman, publicity. Jean Roberts and Stuart McConkie, tea dances; Disk Thompson, house and library; Nathan Edwards and Beverly Rowland, fine arts, and Miss Jensen and Van Oosterhout, special events.

Members of the Union board were chosen at the all-campus elections last spring.

The board has not chosen subcommittees for 1951-52 and are asking students to apply for positions.

Any student registered at SUI is eligible for subcommittee membership and may apply at the main desk of the Iowa Memorial Union by 5 p.m. Friday.

Eisenhower Support Denied by Stassen

MADISON, WIS. (UP)—Harold Stassen said Wednesday that he has never made any public commitment to support Gen. Dwight Eisenhower for the Republican presidential nomination next year.

"I have never publicly come out in support of Gen. Eisenhower for president," Stassen told a press conference.

He made the statement to reporters' queries about reports that he is booming Eisenhower for the GOP nomination.

"People apparently get that impression from my strong support of the general's work in rearming Western Europe," Stassen commented.

The University of Pennsylvania president came to Madison to lunch with some of his Wisconsin supporters in the 1948 presidential campaign and to address a creameries association convention Wednesday night.

Government Announces New Draft Exams For College Men

Childless Married Men Will Be Eligible for Draft

WASHINGTON (AP)—Selective service scheduled two new qualification tests Wednesday for college students who want to become eligible for deferment from the draft.

The first test will be given Thursday, Dec. 13 and is primarily for men whose academic year and current draft deferment ends in January and those who missed the tests last spring and summer.

The tests will be administered at more than 1,000 centers throughout the states and territories by the educational testing service, Princeton, N.J. The service will mail the scores directly to the local draft board.

The other will be given Thursday, April 24.

Half-Million Affected
In other selective service action Wednesday President Truman signed new draft regulations making half a million childless married men eligible for military service.

The new regulations are designed to put into effect the draft law enacted by congress last June. It narrows military exemptions by making eligible for service married men with only a wife as a dependent, except in cases of extreme hardship.

Brig. Gen. Louis Renfrow, acting director of selective service, said the new regulations make some 500,000 men heretofore deferred, eligible for duty.

Renfrow added that selective service hopes to get 200,000 men out of that total. This estimate may be high because the army's rejection rate heretofore has been about 53 per cent, and various other causes affect eligibility.

New Regulations
The new regulations for the first time also:

1. Make aliens with permanent residence in the United States liable for the draft. They are exempt only if diplomatic personnel, or if they are citizens of 1 of 20 countries with which the United States has signed military exemption treaties. Aliens previously had not been liable unless they had taken out their first citizenship papers.

2. Allow 17-year-olds to volunteer for induction with the written consent of a parent or guardian. Volunteers have not been accepted heretofore until they reached draft registration age of 18.

3. Require conscientious objectors to perform some work of national importance for two years.

4. Provide for selection of men by age groups to prevent exclusive call-up of young men.

Draft boards in the past have been given quotas, and some boards have dipped much more deeply into the younger age groups than other boards to fill their quotas.

Older Men Available
Renfrow said the change will permit levelling off of calls while pools of older men are still available.

The new universal military training and service law (UMTS) provides six months of military training for all men between the ages of 18 and 19. A 5-man commission has been appointed to draft details of this program, and has until Oct. 29 to report to congress.

Selective service said there would be no inductions under this program pending "further congressional action."

Cheerleaders Ready

Ridgway Suggests Talks Be Moved to New Site

TOKYO (THURSDAY) (UP)—Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway suggested to the Communist high command today that the stalled armistice negotiations be transferred from Kaesong to a small village 8 miles to the southeast so they may be resumed as "early as possible."

The general's dramatic broadcast asking that the talks be moved to the village of Songhyen-Ni came as preparations by Allied and Communist liaison officers to make arrangements for resumption of the talks broke down.

Three meetings of liaison officers failed to make any progress and a fourth one, suggested by the United Nations for today, failed to come off. The Red liaison officers refused to discuss anything except a date and time of full-fledged peace talks.

After proposing the village of Songhyen-Ni, Ridgway told Gen. Kim Il Sung and Peng Teh-Hual: "I propose that upon resumption of delegation meetings at this place, both delegations be prepared to return to the discussion of item two of the agenda immediately following any discussion that may be needed to clarify physical and security arrangements at the meeting place."

Item two was the one that had stalled the peace talks almost since they began last July 10—site of an armistice line. Since then, an allied "killer" drive has pushed the battle line steadily northward.

Ridgway's broadcast message chose a village approximately midway between the battle lines. Kaesong, where the talks began only to be suspended a number of times, is actually within Communist lines.

"It would, of course, be agreed by both sides that this meeting place would be kept free of armed troops and that both sides would abstain from any hostile acts or exercise of authority over members of the other side in their passage to this point or while they are there," Ridgway said.

Book Exchange Open
The student council book exchange hall today, contrary to all previous announcements. This is because of the many books not picked up and a large sum of money not collected by students.

If the books and money are not picked up today, they will become the property of the student council. The hours of operation for the exchange are from 9 a.m. to noon, and from 1 to 4.45 p.m.

Attorney Lists Law Clients Bought from Boyle

WASHINGTON (AP)—Washington attorney Max Siskind Wednesday night gave senate investigators, under protest, the names of a score of clients whose law practice he bought from Democratic National Chairman William M. Boyle Jr. for $150,000.

The senate's permanent investigating committee voted unanimously to compel disclosure of the names despite Siskind's plea that it will "ruin my law business."

The committee is trying to determine whether Boyle, directly or through Siskind, received "influence" fees from the American Lithofold corporation of St. Louis or other firms doing business with the government. Boyle, who has denied any wrong-doing, is scheduled to testify today.

At an extraordinary night session of the committee, Siskind also admitted that the prepared statement which he had read at a morning hearing was prepared with the help of a Democratic National committee official.

He identified the Democratic official as Sam Brightman, a publicity worker.

Siskind described Brightman as "an old friend" and said "I asked him to help me write my statement—as a personal favor."

When senators asked whether mimeographed copies of Siskind's statement were run off at Democratic headquarters for distribution to the press, Siskind replied: "I don't know."

Siskind previously had told the committee repeatedly that he has had no connections with the Democratic committee in conducting his Washington law practice, although he acknowledged serving as a "voluntary" committee worker during the 1948 elections.

By permission of Committee Chairman Clyde R. Hoey (D-N.C.) Siskind listed only those clients whose cases involved dealings with government agencies. This category turned out to cover nearly all of the practice which Siskind bought from Boyle in April, 1949, when Boyle became a paid Democratic official.

Among the cases were: A successful application for a $450,000 RFC loan by the Simpson Oil company, Cape Girardeau, Mo. A fee of $24,000 was collected.

Representing Pacific Far East Lines of San Francisco in securing a $184,000 settlement from the state department on a claim growing out of transportation of scrap iron to China. A total of $32,500 in fees has been collected so far. Unsuccessful attempt to get an

Technicality Cleared; State Beer Permit On Way to Amvets

A new state beer permit was mailed Wednesday to the Iowa City Amvets club.

The permit had been held up until the state beer permit board checked into legal technicalities involving a gambling charge filed in 1948 against operators of the club, Amvets Iowa City post 32.

The club has been reorganized since the gambling incident, and the new permit was issued to Amvets University post 32, the new operators of the club. The Iowa City council has also approved a local beer permit.

H. E. Evers, secretary of the state beer permit board, said the board is now satisfied that the national Amvets organization has transferred the Iowa City charter to University post 32 and that the club is eligible for the permit.

Highway 6 Reopens Today

A new four-lane stretch on highway 6 west of Iowa City is expected to open for all traffic today, the highway commission said Wednesday.

C. M. Fisher, Cedar Rapids, resident highway commission engineer, said all concrete work on the road, which now by-passes Coralville, has been completed.

Some work still remains to be done on the shoulders of the highway.

The 3½ mile cutoff was built at a cost of about $508,000 and is part of a state plan for widening highway 6.

Iowa City Police Chief E. J. Ruppert said Wednesday parking will again be allowed on Dubuque st. when the highway opens.

Parking on Dubuque st. has been banned since July when highway 6 was closed and it became a detour.

Wisconsin Tornadoes Kill Seven Persons

WAUPACA, WIS. (AP)—A roaring tornado ripped through Waupaca county in central Wisconsin Wednesday afternoon, hurling six persons to their deaths. Another tornado struck in Columbia county to the south some 30 minutes later, killing one person.

Among the Waupaca county dead were five members of one family. That tornado struck at approximately 3:45 p.m. (CST) according to the smashed watch on one of the victims. The Columbia county twister hit approximately 100 miles to the south at about 4:30.

The violence capped a day of general rain and high wind in the state.

PRINCESS ELIZABETH and her husband, the Duke of Edinburgh, pose with their son, Prince Charles, at Clarence House, England. A Canadian government official said Wednesday the projected trip of Elizabeth and her husband to Canada and Washington will be postponed for a minimum of two weeks. They were scheduled to leave England by air next Tuesday. Princess Elizabeth is staying with her father who was operated on Sunday.

TO THE EDITOR:
In listening to radio commentators or in scanning daily papers, one today could well repeat—"These are times that try men's souls."

For example, in the Iowan we read "Tito Declares Soviets Massing Near Border." One knows that the Balkans were the scene of the precipitation of one world war. They could easily be the precipitation of another. These headlines bring or should bring forcibly to our attention the imminence of a global atomic war.

Yet global atomic war may not be forthcoming in our generation. Nevertheless, the threat of it to a thinking man cannot be ignored. Nor can a thinking man rest securely in a sheltered college atmosphere, when the possibility looms of being ordered "over the top" at some not too distant future or of being bombed out of one's own bed.

There are those whose psychology and past environment would make them spurn any turning to supernatural power. With Thomas Henly, I believe it was, they would let man fight his own fight without foisting the responsibility off onto God. Others, while willing to carry their own responsibility, would not be adverse to encouragement and cheer by which their spirits might be uplifted and made more equal to the rugged task.

Marcus Dods, late professor of exegetical theology in New College, Edinburgh, has written, "If it is true, as so many writers of various dispositions unexpectedly testify, that the Bible has everywhere nourished the best life that has been known on earth; if it be true that it has in point of fact been the spring of the highest aspirations men have cherished and the ripest character they have attained; if in every generation it has served for the healing of the nations, lying at the root of all progress, and insisting upon a finer and purer civilization; if, wherever it comes, it brings with it courage and solace in danger and in death; if it has brought heaven nearer to earth, and if it reveals God as our father and abandons the hopeless and broken and abandoned to hope and to believe,—then certainly there must be that in the book itself irrespective of our knowledge of its origin which proclaims it to be God's message to men."

Not everyone will agree with the above. Many who will not agree will also have only a superficial knowledge of what the Bible has to say. There is no fool in many large cities a movement for the study of the "Great Books." Here in this university we have the optimum opportunity to study the best in the creative history of man. Let us not let that opportunity pass.

WINCE OVER lightly

By LEE GARNER

Dreary football predictions are dampening the air and making newspaper pages soggy again. Coaches do not seem to be too overjoyed about the prospects of their elevens. They have never been, but this looks like the gloomiest year yet.

In case you have missed some of the tears and keening we are providing a quick summary of Big Ten coaches' chief complaints and reasons for failure:

(To the tune of "Hearts and Flowers" tremolo, pianissimo, lugubriamente.)

OHIO STATE: We might have power but that is our big shortcoming. The team is unbalanced in weak spots. We won't know our own strength. This will lead to too much overconfidence, especially with Janowick back. We will score but not win a game. Illinois will murder us.

WISCONSIN: Things look bad here. We have lost at least two third-string men by graduation. This lack of depth in vital positions will hurt. We will hold the opposition down, but will not win a game. Look out for Purdue.

ILLINOIS: We still have Karsas but he is all washed up. He is nursing a twitching left eyelid and favoring a bad hangnail. The whole team is low in vitamin B. I am hoping Hadacol will put us on our feet. Ohio State will murder us if we live that long.

MICHIGAN: Things look terrible here even from behind this towel. I expect to resign after the first game. The team is considering transferring en masse to a major in German Philology. Everybody is in low spirits.

NORTHWESTERN: You call this a football team? Look at those inexperienced, flabby, slow infants. Our defense squad will get carted to the hospital in the first quarter. Offense will be lucky to reach our own twenty yard line. Will probably have to forfeit half our games.

INDIANA: Look at us; if you can stand gruesome sights. Nothing here. Not even the water boy has any experience. We are down to last resorts. I'm trying out the mascot in a few trick plays this week. He's the only one who looks like a regular.

IOWA: Everybody will slaughter us except Grinnell. We are not playing them. Not until next year. Very weak in left end cheerleaders. Ticket sales are 'way off. Only the Tailfeather will be in the stands. Don't know how we will make our next down payment on the stadium.

MINNESOTA: Why bother me? "Gophers" is just the name for this outfit! We only hope the rest of the league lets us dig our own holes. We do not expect to score a touchdown before 1958.

PURDUE: All we got are question marks. The team is just playing for the exercise and the fun of it. Purdue is dropping from the Big Ten next year if there is anything left to drop. Intercollegiate tiddly-winks with Vassar looks more like our speed. Anybody want to buy any used uniforms?

MICHIGAN STATE: We sure are glad we're still officially out of the Big Ten. Six of my boys read about Janowick coming back and keeled over. I can field ten men in a pinch but that counts trainers and front office men.

Is it not sad? We have not cried so much since the last "Lassie" movie.

Make Ironing Easy by Using Rotary Ironer

If there's a very small-sized lady in your family who's just started back to school, you'll welcome any suggestions for making the job of ironing little cotton dresses easier.

If you have a rotary ironer and have always thought of it as useful for "everything but those tiny dresses with the fussy puffed sleeves", now's the time to change your attitude, says the General Electric Consumers institute. You can iron a youngster's dress perfectly—and fast—on a rotary ironer.

Here's how. Iron sashes first, putting both through the roll at the same time. Then fold the puffed sleeves by cuff and shoulder seam together and iron over the end of the roll, holding the sleeve at an angle so that the point of the ironer shoe will fit the gathers. Repeat for the other sleeve.

Start from the point of the collar and iron around, replacing collar on roll as necessary. Small collar ruffles need not be ironed separately, just flute ruffles with fingers after ironing collar.

Then slip the dress over the open end of the roll. Iron across back of waist and then across front, keeping the skirt section as smooth as possible on the roll. Move dress until waist seam is at edge of roll, with ironed waist section extending over open end. Iron around entire skirt. Do yoke and shoulder seams last, folding them to fit over the edge of the roll.

Barbara Payton Returns To Minnesota Home

CLOQUET, MINN. (AP)—Blonde Barbara Payton, returning to her old home town for a rest and a dish of her spinster aunts' famous hash, apparently came to the right place for both.

Her aunts were a-twitter at Barbara's return and were learning quickly Hollywood tricks for eluding reporters' questions. They appeared ready to give Barbara plenty of the hash she told newsmen she loves so well, and to shelter her from the public eye so she could rest after her recent bawling love affair with Franchot Tone and Tom Neal in Hollywood.

But it did not appear that Barbara would need much protection from the public. Her return, after an absence of about ten years, left most of the town's 8,000 residents cold. She was expected to arrive Wednesday evening.

Barbara flew to Minnesota on a surprise visit, leaving Hollywood Tuesday night with Tone waving goodbye. There were reports that Neal would follow her here, but she told newsmen in Minneapolis she knew nothing about that.

She told the reporters that Tone was still top man with her, and that they'd marry, although she didn't know when. She said the recent brawl was the "worst thing in my life," and said she was mad at Hollywood newspapers because "they made a ridiculous thing out of the whole affair."

Cloquet Mayor Roy W. Ranum, a paper plant foreman who once was a state senator, said he doesn't

'Grandma' Kilworth Dies at Age 109, Was Oldest Iowan

EXIRA, IA. (AP)—A 109-year-old woman known as "Grandma" Kilworth died Wednesday of old age. Mrs. Mary Kilworth, who had been ill since last Thursday, died at 1:15 a.m. at her home on Kilworth street named in her honor. Her three surviving children were at her bedside when death came.

As the state's oldest living resident, Mrs. Kilworth received honors from two presidents. President F. D. Roosevelt sent annual congratulatory messages since her 100th birthday, and President Truman continued the practice after his death.

The community of Exira, about 60 miles west of Des Moines, honored their famous citizen each year on her birthday. A bouquet of flowers also was sent her by the Exira Lions club.

Mrs. Kilworth was born Dec. 18, 1841, near London, England. She was a bride of 22 when she came to this country. She lived in Geneseo, Ill., before coming to Iowa, and often she recalled the victory barbecue there following the election of Abraham Lincoln.

She was known for her love of children and celebrated her birthday by distributing apples to the youngsters in Exira. Surviving children are Mrs. Bruce Martin, Exira; John Kilworth, Exira, and Earl Kilworth, Scappoose, Ore.

Defrost Refrigerator When Ice Is Thick

You may have to defrost your refrigerator regularly — or you may not. Some of the new models have a "moist cold" feature that makes defrosting unnecessary in the fresh-food compartment.

But every refrigerator has to be cleaned, inside and outside.

The exterior of your refrigerator cabinet should be wiped off at least once a month with a mild soap-and-water solution, using a sponge or soft cloth, says the General Electric Consumers institute. Finish the job by washing with plain water. Never use furniture polish or scouring powders.

A solution of warm water and baking soda (a teaspoon of soda to a quart of water) will do the best cleaning job inside. Rinse with clear water and wipe dry with a clean cloth. Never use cleansers on the interior of your refrigerator.

Soap and water are satisfactory for cleaning meat trays, ice trays, vegetable drawers, glass shelves and other accessories. Use lukewarm water on glass shelves, plastic trays and ice trays. Hot water may damage them. After you've washed the refrigerator, be sure to rinse thoroughly with clear warm water to remove all traces of soap. And don't forget to use a soap-and-water solution followed by a clear water rinse, on the food gasket and the butter conditioner, too. Because they are on the door, they are easily neglected—and they shouldn't be.

Black Specks Ended By Using Detergent

Those bothersome little black specks which appear in the corners of blouse collars, in the collars and cuffs of men's shirts and in the folds of sheets, pillowcases and towels plague many a homemaker.

They are, technically, lime curd deposits, caused by the reaction of a fatty acid detergent—that's soap—with the calcium or magnesium salts common to water in "hard water" area, added to the soil from clothing.

Women have always been aware of the existence of soap curd, but the deposits were not really considered a problem before the advent of automatic washers, according to the General Consumers institute.

That's because when a fatty acid detergent is used in hand-washing or in a wringer washer, suds hold the hard water salts in suspension and you remove the clothes from the water and can rinse the soap curds out effectively. But with an automatic washer, the water is removed from the clothes and as the suds disappear, lime curd is deposited on the clothing.

If you live in a "soft water" area, of course you never have to worry about soap curds. But dwellers in "hard water" sections of the country can solve the problem in one of three ways:

1. By the installation of water-softening system in the home—the ideal solution, but one which many people consider too expensive.

2. By the addition of a water softener to the rinse water—but that means stopping the automatic washer before the rinse cycle begins, destroying the advantage of washing clothes automatically.

3. By the substitution of a synthetic detergent for soap in the water.

Most manufacturers advocate the use of a synthetic detergent in an automatic washer in any area where the "hardness" of the

First All-University Dance at Union

The first all-university dance, "Herky's Housewarming" will be held Friday, September 28, from 8 to 12 p.m. in the main lounge of the Union.

The theme of the informal dance centers around the idea of "Welcome from Herky, the spirit of Iowa." Herky will be on hand to greet the couples in person.

The roof garden will be open for refreshments if weather permits. Tickets are now on sale at the Union desk at $2 per couple.

Guests are President and Mrs. Hancher, Prof. and Mrs. H.L. Dean, Dr. and Mrs. Earl E. Harper and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bage.

The dance, sponsored by the central party and entertainment committee, will feature the music of Bobby Beers and his orchestra.

KSUI TO BROADCAST MONDAY
KSUI, the FM radio station of SUU, is tentatively scheduled to go on the air Monday, station officials said Wednesday.

The time schedule of the FM station will appear in the WSUI daily calendar, printed five days a week on page 2 of The Daily Iowan.

water exceeds approximately six grains (your water company can give you the figures for your own locality).

Synthetic detergents soften the water. Also, because they contain no fatty acids, they do not react with hard water salts; consequently, there is no danger of a lime curd build-up.

Before you change over to the use of a synthetic detergent, however, you'll want to know how to get the black specks out of clothing already affected. It's a simple matter of soaking them in a solution of packaged water softener and water — one teaspoon to a quart of water — until the water is softened and the soil separated from the lime deposits; then you can rinse the curds out of collars and creases easily.

GIRLS WITH A YEN for some of the color and flare that are a part of the drama of the Spanish bull-ring can satisfy their desire with these fall fashions. The black velvet lounging costume by Haymaker Sports features tapered slacks fastened with rhinestone buttons at the ankle. The almost sleeveless blouse closes at the waist with a matching button. A neckline scarf of favorite color is added. The treader styling in an evening costume is by Patullo-Jo Copeland. The black velvet cape is lavishly embroidered with jet beads and silk braid in the manner of a bullfighter's cape. The dress, matching the cape lining, is of brilliant pink silk satin with shoulder straps that criss-cross over the draped bodice. Tina Leser designed the worsted finish winter cotton with its flashing black and red Spanish stripes. The low neckline and short sleeves of the dress are banded in black velvet. Scattered velvet bows are tied on the loosely knit black shawl.

Dodgers, Giants Score Wins; Athletics' Shantz Stops Yanks

Brooks Need Three To Clinch Flag

BOSTON (AP)—Brooklyn's harassed but unbowed Dodgers got up off the floor Wednesday to slug out a 15-5 "must" victory over the tormenting Boston Braves in what may prove to be the crusher to the New York Giant's pennant chances.

Belted from pillar to post in Tuesday night's pair of shocking setbacks at the hands of the Braves, the Dodgers retaliated with a merciless 14-hit "massacre" of their own at the expense of six harried and helpless Boston hurlers.

Brooklyn now has four games left to play and can clinch the flag by winning three even if the Giants win their remaining three.

Don Newcombe, in his fourth try for his 19th victory, finally made it with an eight-hitter. The strong-armed righthander was struck to a 4-0 lead in the first inning and coasted along despite giving up home run balls to Bob Addis and Earl Torgeson in the eighth.

The Dodgers bunched all their runs into three innings—but what innings they were. Following their riotous four-run first, they really lowered the boom on starter Max Surkont with another four-run outburst in the fifth. They added seven more tallies in the eighth for good measure.

Every Dodger with the exception of Newcombe partook in the attack, chipping in with at least one safety. All but Andy Pafko scored at least one run and only Newcombe and Peevée Reese failed to drive in a mate.

The victory gave the distressed Dodgers an indescribable lift because it came just when the team was beginning to question its ability to drive off the Giant's desperate drive toward the top.

Giants 10, Phils 1

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The amazing New York Giants kept their pennant hopes simmering Wednesday night with a crushing 10-1 triumph over the Philadelphia Phillies, pulling up once more to within a single game of the leading Brooklyn Dodgers as Larry Jansen racked up his 21st victory of the National league campaign.

Knowing they had to win or face virtual elimination after Brooklyn's defeat of Boston in the afternoon, Leo Durocher's battlers lowered the boom on last year's league champions with a four-run onslaught before a man was retired in the first inning and went on to batter six assorted Phil pitchers for their 35th victory in their last 42 games.

The Giants now head for New York for a two-day rest before taking their final shot at the flag over the week-end.

Iowa JV Squad Leaves for Badgers

A 34-man Iowa JV football squad will leave for Madison at 1 p.m. today for a game with the Wisconsin JVs Friday afternoon.

The Hawkeye squad, first JV team here since 1929, is composed entirely of freshmen, including nine of eleven frosh who had spent two weeks with the varsity.

This is the first of a five-game schedule for the JVs. Wisconsin will come to Iowa City for a return match later on in the season.

Coach Wally Schwank has named Iowa City's Tom Kerf, an all-state tackle, and Bill Wright, quarterback from North Des Moines, as co-captains.

Two other local boys—Duane Davis and Mickey Moore—are slated to start at offensive left halfback and defensive end. Mike Korns and Jerry White, also City high grads, are on the squad.

Iowa's starting offensive lineup will be: Dan McBride, LE; Cameron Cummins, LT; George Palmer, LG; Warren Lawson, C; Tom Fleckenstein, RG; Lyle Lewis, RT; Marlow Eckhoff, RE; Bill Wright, QB; Duane Davis, LHB; Jim Milani, RHB; and Don Inman, FB.

If the Hawks kick off the lineup will be: Frank Schwengel, LE; Dick Wilke, LT; Bob Plaehn, LG; Phillip Hayman, RT; Mickey Moore, RE; Tom Kerf, LB; Prentiss Lamont, LHB; Jim Hatch, RHB; and Bill Beckett, safety.

The starting offensive line averages 197 pounds with the backs averaging 176. On defense, the linemen will be up to a 202-pound average and the backs being at 178.

IHSAA Reminds Schools

DES MOINES (AP)—The Iowa High School Athletic association, which must plan far ahead because of the item of gymnasium rentals, Wednesday reminded its members that they must file their 1952 basketball tournament intentions by Oct. 1.

Lead Cut to 2 1/2; Red Sox Lose, 7-3

NEW YORK (AP)—Little Bobby Shantz sliced the New York Yankees' American league to two and one half games Wednesday with a six-hit, 4-1 victory for the Philadelphia A's over runs by Ferris Fain, Gus Zernial and Dave Philley.

Thus the Yanks, idle until Friday's double header with Boston, still need a combination of two wins or two Cleveland defeats to clinch their third straight pennant.

New York has five to play and Cleveland only two.

Shantz, a 5-7 lefty, joined Mel Parnell and Virgil Trucks as four-time winners over the Yankees as a special 26th birthday present to himself.

Needing only a win over the A's to assure themselves of at least a tie, the Yanks were completely victimized by the talented little fellow from Pottstown, Pa.

Philadelphia ... 4 1

Nats 7, Red Sox 3

WASHINGTON (AP)—The flickering hopes of the Boston Red Sox were all but extinguished Wednesday night when Washington's Sid Hudson and Tom Ferrick collaborated in holding them to six hits as the Senators won, 7-3.

"Something shady" "The slogan not only implies that Michigan shouldn't have lost," he said, "but it also suggests that the loss was caused by something wrong somewhere—perhaps something shady on the part of the other team."

The former Michigan star, credited with an emotional halftime speech that was instrumental in Michigan's 14-6 Rose bowl win over California last January, termed the Rose bowl "the biggest farce" of the whole system and derided the "artificial" team spirit generated by the coaches to win games.

"The rabid football alumni" also came in for a slap in Jackson's article as did the Michigan coaching staff for encouragement of untalented reserve players for the sole purpose of supplying "cannon fodder" for the varsity to practice on.

Former Michigan Star Raps Alma Mater, Big Time Football

ANN ARBOR, MICH. (AP)—A former University of Michigan football star Wednesday levelled a scathing denunciation at his alma mater and big time college football.

It is "a poor bargain for the boys who play the game," and "a waste of time," said Allen Jackson, standout guard on the last three Wolverine championship teams and one of the heroes of Michigan's Rose bowl victory last January.

Jackson, currently a construction worker here, poured forth his resentment in an article entitled "Too Much Football" in the October issue of Atlantic Monthly.

"Isolated Opinion" Coach Bennie Oosterbaan, under whom Jackson played, retorted, "Jackson is entitled to his opinion but I believe it is an isolated one. If many of the charges were true, I would not be a part of this staff."

Athletic Director Fritz Crisler termed Jackson "an exhibitionist and a sensationalist."

Jackson accused Michigan and big-time football of "a perversion of the sporting spirit" through such coaching slogans as "when Michigan loses someone has to pay."

"The slogan not only implies that Michigan shouldn't have lost," he said, "but it also suggests that the loss was caused by something wrong somewhere—perhaps something shady on the part of the other team."

Back Positions Still Open As K-State Approaches

By JACK SQUIRE
Daily Iowan Sports Editor

Iowa's opening game with Kansas State is only two days away now but it's still a matter of guess work as to what the Hawks' starting backfield will look like at kick-off time.

If Coach Leonard Raffensperger has decided on what his first unit will be, he hasn't tipped his hand in the practice sessions in which many and varied combinations continue to be evident.

There's not nearly that much uncertainty up front where the occupants of most positions on offense and defense are pretty well known.

Of course, the relative scarcity of top-flight forwards has made the task of choosing the regulars considerably easier.

Reinhardt Set But in the backfield, only fullback is settled, with Bill Reinhardt the occupant. Otherwise there are two and three men in close contention for the remaining posts.

It's still a matter of splitting hairs at quarterback where Burt Britzmann and Jim Sangster continue to appear just about even in ability.

And seniors Chug Wilson and Don Comrack have been ranked on a par by Raffensperger as the leading right halfback choices. Comrack has shifted to the right side after two seasons at left halfback.

George (Binkey) Broeder, highly touted freshman, and sophomore Bob Phillips may come on later but at present it's Wilson or Comrack.

Bennett Leading At left halfback, Bernie Bennett has looked good and will probably start though much publicized sophomores Loranzie Williams and Dusty Rice are likely to share a good part of the day's work.

Defensively, things are about set with Duane Brandt and Joe Bristol at halfbacks and Bennett at safety.

Hawk Notes: The Hawk's defensive unit didn't have any trouble stopping Kansas State plays as run by a freshmen group in Wednesday's drill. But the frosh—the lower ranking ones at that—were a pretty inept outfit. A good part of the practice period was spent on punting and punt returns. Chuck Denning and

Saddler Stops Willie Pep In 9th Round

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP) — With Willie Pep huddling in his corner protesting to referee Ray Miller he couldn't go on, Sandy Saddler successfully defended his world featherweight title Wednesday night with a nine round technical knockout in a bout marred by rough house wrestling tactics.

Warned repeatedly by Miller for his leg holds and body twists in this grudge battle at the Polo grounds, Pep gave up the struggle.

A savage left hook dumped Pep on his haunches for an eight count in the second round of this wrestling match. That was the only clean cut knockdown of the evening although both were on the deck several times in bumpy hugs.

Miller said he went to Pep's corner at the end of the ninth to tell him "cut out the wrestling and holding or I'll call this no contest."

Pep's right eye was gashed in the second round. It was a smear of blood in the third. However at the end Dr. Vincent Nardiello of the New York state athletic commission said "the eye was all right. He could see out of it."

A look at the score cards of the three officials showed Pep out front by a slender margin. Referee Ray Miller had it 5-4 for Pep and Judge Frank Forbes 5-4 for Saddler. Judge Arthur Aidala had it 4-4-1 with Pep on top in points 8-6. The AP had it 4-4-1.

Pep 125 to 125½ for Saddler, shook up the champ in the second, fifth and sixth rounds of their fourth and probably final meeting. But he never got him down—except by wrestling.

Britain Asks U.S. Aid In Iranian Oil Crisis

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Attlee is calling on President Truman to do all he can to help Britain keep her oil men in Iran, informed sources said today.

The British government protested to Iran against Premier Mohammed Mossadegh's order for the expulsion by next Thursday of the 300 British technicians who have remained at the shut-down refinery center of Abadan as caretakers.

Secretary of State Dean Acheson announced in Washington that the United States and Britain are giving urgent consideration to possible further action in the crisis which has been building up since Iran nationalized Iranian properties of the British-owned Anglo-Iranian Oil company last spring.

London informants said the Attlee message likely made it clear that Britain is determined to stay on in Abadan.

Attlee's cabinet is expected to decide finally today whether Britain will use force if necessary to retain a foothold in the rich Iranian industry. Her oil men developed the works over a 50-year period to a production of more than 30 million tons annually.

Word from President Truman may influence the session.

Details of Attlee's reported approach to President Truman have not been disclosed. Broadly, however, it was understood the prime minister wanted to make plain to the United States what he thinks of the implications of Mossadegh's moves.

The United States, at least until today, has taken the view that British military action should be taken only to protect British lives. The American attitude seems to stem from a fear Russia might make the landing of British troops a pretext for action in northern Iran. Under a 1921 treaty, the Russians were given the right to enter if Iran was attacked.

3 Iowa Schools Receive Plaques From SUI Group

Graduates of Newton, Ida Grove and Hedrick high schools earned the highest combined scholastic averages during their freshman year at SUI.

This was announced Wednesday by Phi Beta Kappa in presenting the three schools with scholastic awards.

Three traveling awards are made annually by the university's chapter of the national scholarship honor society in recognition of outstanding academic achievement.

For purposes of the award, Iowa high schools classified into three groups according to enrollment. The winning school in each class will retain its inscribed plaque for the school year.

Formal presentation of the walnut plaques will be made next month.

Last year marked the establishment of the awards, made then to Centerville, Hawarden, and Ringsted high schools.

School Brings Suit Against Local Man

A suit involving ownership of the land occupied by the vacant West Lucas township school No. 1 opened in Johnson county district court Wednesday.

The action is brought against H. J. Dane, of near Iowa City, by the directors of the school district.

The school board filed suit against Dane Jan. 30 to prevent him from using the one acre of ground now occupied by the school. The land was originally part of the farm now owned by Dane.

The plaintiff directors claim that Dane had no right to take over the property, although the rural school there has been closed for more than five years.

Dane claims the school directors hold no title to the property. Parties in the suit asked the court to determine the ownership and title to the land.

The defendant claims the school buildings are located on land which was leased to the school board in 1945 on condition that if the school were closed for a time, the possession would revert back to him.

Hedlund completed his undergraduate work here in 1942 and served in the navy during the war years. Before being assigned to sea duty, Hedlund was drum major and first oboist in the navy preflight band stationed at SUI.

Upon his discharge from the navy, Hedlund returned to SUI for a graduate degree. He has been in charge of bands at Kansas State college for the past four years.

Throughout his undergraduate and graduate courses at SUI Hedlund served as drum major for the marching band and first oboist in the concert band.

Czechs May Free Oatis in 3 Months

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Another three months might see the beginning of favorable action toward the release of Correspondent William Oatis from a Czech prison.

That hope was expressed today by Frank J. Starzel, general manager of the Associated Press.

Oatis, AP correspondent in Prague, was imprisoned on a trumped charge of espionage.

"We cannot assume the battle (for his release) is won," Starzel told 250 managing editors today. "Many more months of delicate negotiations are ahead. But I think we have seen the turn in the road."

"The reaction of the American people, newspapers and organizations has been a mighty demonstration of the power of public opinion in matters of this kind."
