Parade to Start From 4 Points; Rally to Follow

Tonight is the first and last chance for SUI students to take part this fall in a combination torchlight parade and pep rally.

Both events prior to the Iowa-Pittsburgh football game Saturday are expected to attract hundreds of students, faculty members and townspeople.

IOWA FIGHT SONG

Band: "What's the word? fight! fight! fight!"
Chorus:
The word is "fight! fight! fight! for I-o-w-a."
Let every loyal Iowan sing:
The word is "fight! fight! fight! for Iowa"
Until the walls and rafters ring;
(Shout) Rah!—Rah!
Come on and cheer, cheer, cheer, for Iowa—
Come on and cheer until you hear the final gun.—
The word is "fight! fight! fight! for Iowa"
Until the game—is—won!
(Repeat chorus after band interlude)

Hillcrest for men of that dormitory, South Quad, Westlawn, and Quad and Fraternity circle for fraternities of that area.

The starting signal will be a whistle on top of the Engineering building at 6:50 p.m.

The pep rally is slated to start at 7:15 p.m. at the Iowa Memorial Union bandshell.

The principal speakers are scheduled to be Wally Schwank, freshman football coach, and L. Dale Faunce, dean of students. Master of ceremonies will be Evan Hultman, L4, Waterloo. Halfback Duane Brandt and guard Bob Lage, game co-captains, will give short talks on behalf of the football squad.

The pep band and cheer leaders will introduce a new fanfare song to the students during the pep rally.

Following is the route of the parade, which will be led by members of Tailfeathers pep club:

The parade will leave the Pi Kappa Alpha house, travel south on Dubuque st. to Church st., then will turn west to Clinton st., south to Jefferson st., and from there to Union bandshell.

The second section of the parade will leave Fraternity circle, move down River st. to Riverside drive, then south to Iowa ave., east to Madison st. and north to the bandshell.

The third section will leave the Iowa field house and pick up students from South Quadrangle, Quadrangle and Hillcrest dormitories. It will go north on Newton road, pick up students from Westlawn, go down Newton road to the Iowa ave. bridge and then turn north on Madison st. to the bandshell.

The fourth section will leave the Sigma Delta Tau house, travel east on Burlington st. to Governor st., north to Washington st., west on Washington st. to Lucas st., north to Iowa ave., west to Clinton st., north to Jefferson st., and then west to the bandshell.

Students owning convertibles are asked to help lead the parade. Arrangements can be made by calling Tom Koehler, 8-1679.

Actor to Be Here . . .

Macdonald Carey, movie actor and SUI graduate, and a group of Korean war veterans will be guests of the athletic department at the Iowa-Pittsburgh football game Saturday.

Accompanying Carey will be several movie starlets, all of whom are touring Iowa to promote the movie industry.

Carey, originally from Sioux City, graduated from SUI in 1935.

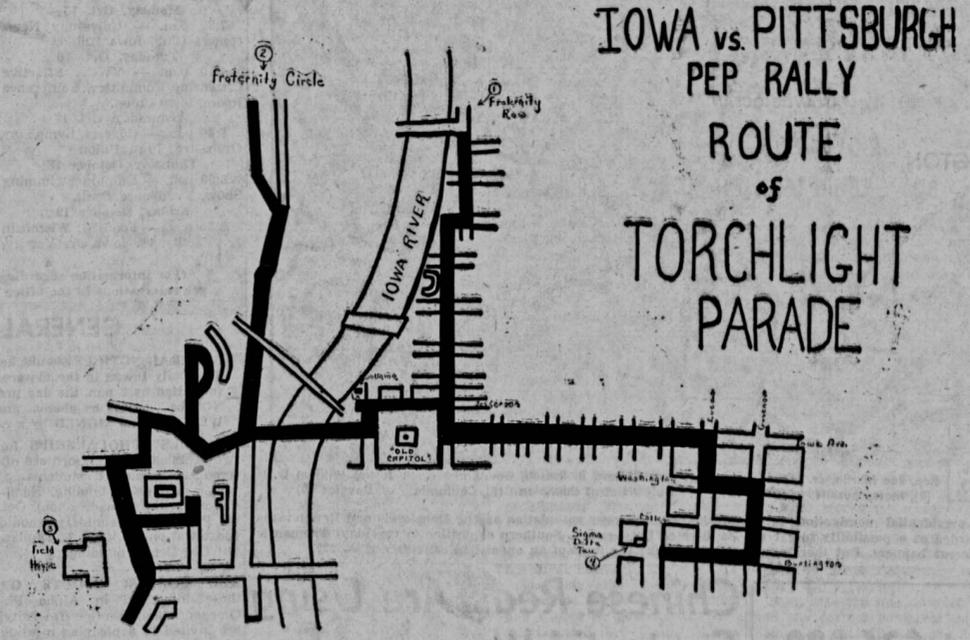

Community Chest Hits 25 Pct. Mark

Twenty-five per cent of the Iowa City Community Chest goal was reached Thursday, Chest officials said.

By late Thursday afternoon contributions and pledges reached a total of $7,679.50 toward the $31,126 campaign quota.

The breakdown by various divisions includes: business and professional, $6,199; professional $617; special contributions, $611; and public services, $252.50.

University family begins its campaign officially next week, although contributions may be made now.

ROUTE OF THE TORCHLIGHT PARADE is diagrammed here. The parade will start at 6:50 p.m. by a whistle from the Engineering building. The pep rally will be at 7:15 p.m. at the Iowa Memorial Union bandshell.

Lons, Baculis Damage Suit Set for Monday

A $51,000 damage suit against James Lons and George Baculis is scheduled to go on trial in district court Monday, Judge James P. Gaffney said Thursday.

The suit is brought by Stella Davelis and Thomas Davelis, administrators of the Andrew Davelis estate. They charge that Lons and Baculis were responsible for the death of Andrew Davelis in Iowa City Oct. 12, 1950.

In the suit, the administrators charge that Andrew Davelis was "unlawfully and feloniously assaulted" by Lons and Baculis and "during the course thereof they repeatedly struck him (Davelis) and inflicted knife wounds in the chest and back causing his death."

College Deferment Test Applications Available

Applications for the Dec. 13 and April 24 college deferment tests are now available at selective service system local boards. Eligible students who intend to take the test on either date should apply at once to their local selective service board for an application and bulletin of information.

Wife Takes Over Husband's Duties

SHERIFF JOHN LYNCH HANDS THE KEYS OF THE DADE county jail, Trenton, Ga., to his wife before leaving for a one-year sentence in federal prison. He swore in his wife as chief deputy, to act in his absence, and said he will seek re-election from prison. Lynch was convicted of depriving seven Negroes of their civil rights in surrendering them to a masked band which flogged them two years ago. The U.S. Supreme Court denied his appeal this week.

Decreased Enrollment Eliminates 149 Jobs

Decreased enrollment for the 1950-51 school year has prompted the dropping of 149 jobs from the SUI budget, President Virgil M. Hancher revealed Thursday.

Final enrollment figures show a total of 7,362 students registered for the fall semester, as compared to 9,125 a year ago. A preliminary count had earlier placed the enrollment figure at 7,067.

Positions eliminated include 26 full-time appointments and 123 part-time posts. Most of the jobs were vacant, Provost Harvey Davis explained, but had been included in the 1950 budget with hopes of being filled later.

Male students account for 5,384—better than 70 per cent—of the enrollment. Women number 1,978. Some 1,361 veterans are currently enrolled, while a year ago some 2,604 veterans attended the university.

Only unit at SUI to show an increase in enrollment in the past year was the college of medicine, with 420 students.

Final enrollment figures for other colleges are as follows: commerce, 445; engineering, 276; graduate, 1,798; law, 226; liberal arts, 3,492; nursing, 303; pharmacy, 189.

City Taxing Bodies Choose Belger As New City Assessor

Iowa City's three taxing bodies voted unanimously Thursday night for the appointment of Victor Belger, 932 E. Washington st., as city assessor.

Belger was chosen from a field of three applicants by representatives of the city council, city school board and board of supervisors. The other two candidates were former Mayor Preston Koser and W. J. Lalor.

Belger, present deputy assessor, replaces Frank Nevasch who resigned recently.

Applicants for the position of city assessor were required to write an examination given by the state assessors examining board and graded by members of the state tax division. Grades received by the three men taking the examination were: Victor Belger, 93; Preston Koser, 73; and W. J. Lalor, 70.

At Thursday night's election meeting the city council was represented by Walter L. Daykin and James Hotel; the school board by A. B. Oathout, Mrs. Ken Greene, Bob Osmundson and Irving Weber; and the board of supervisors by J. E. Pechman.

In addition to electing a city assessor, representatives of the taxing bodies voted the reappointment of George Horner and Lou Kaufmann to 4-year terms on the board of assessment and review.

Council Acts Against Adding New Member

Chances that the student council would gain a member were defeated Thursday night when the group turned down an amendment to the SUI student constitution.

The amendment would have granted additional representation to any unit whose delegate was chosen council president. The move was sponsored by a council faction who believed that the president should be a neutral force and disassociate himself from any single electorate.

The motion lacked by one ballot the two-thirds vote necessary to amend the constitution.

In other action the council moved to invite 41 members of the legislature, including the governor and lieutenant governor, to a Dad's day luncheon on campus Nov. 3.

The council promised to have a reading room in Schaeffer hall in operation by Thursday. The room will be located on the ground floor at the site of the student book exchange.

Committee Approves $5.5 Billion Boost In November Taxes

WASHINGTON (AP)—A $5,750,000,000 tax increase providing sharp boosts in individual income and excise taxes next month, and retroactive increases on corporations, was approved Thursday by a senate-house conference committee.

Although described by committee aides as the second biggest tax increase in the nation's history, it was little more than half the $10 billion asked by President Truman.

If finally approved by the house and senate, the measure will result in a total tax hike of $15,750,000,000 since the outbreak of the Korean war. Congress enacted a record-breaking $6.1 billion tax bill in Sept., 1950, and a $3.9 billion excess profits tax last January.

Leaders expect to call up the new bill in the house Tuesday and in the senate as soon as the house acts on it.

The compromise measure agreed upon Thursday raises the income tax liabilities of most individuals by about 11 1/2 per cent, although the percentage varies above and below this figure due to "rounding off" the rates to even numbers in the various brackets.

An alternate method of computing the increase is provided for higher bracket taxpayers. They could pay an increase of 9 per cent of their income remaining after payment of taxes at present rates. This system becomes of advantage to single persons at the $28,800 income level, and to married couples at $57,600.

$8.2 Billion Aid Bill Passed by House

WASHINGTON (AP)—Beating down Republican attempts to cut the funds, the house Thursday passed an $8,299,255,096 foreign-aid appropriation bill.

Passed by a 221 to 99 roll-call vote, the bill now goes to the senate. It finances the program of military and economic help for foreign nations resisting communism.

The bill appropriates $7,482,527,790 in new cash. On top of this, it reappropriates $816,727,306 in funds provided previously by congress but not yet spent.

President Truman originally had requested congress to approve an $8.5 billion program in addition to the carryover funds, but congress chopped this down by approximately $1 billion when it gave its okay to continuing the aid program.

$1 Billion Reduction

After congress refused to authorize the full amount, the President scaled down his request for funds.

The house gave the President everything he asked for in cash except $45 million for the United States contribution to the United Nations Korean rehabilitation agency. It left that agency with a carryover balance of about $50 million which the appropriations committee said was sufficient for the time being.

Republicans tried to cut down the funds earmarked for European military aid in order to chop down the carryover money. They failed in all attempts, losing up to a score of their own members while picking up only a few Democratic votes.

Sent to Senate

Earlier the house had voted $4,428,000,000 more for defense Thursday as it headed for adjournment by the end of the month.

In a busy session, it also passed a $1,042,867,887 bill to finance the state, justice and commerce departments and the federal judiciary for the current fiscal year.

Both measures were sent to the senate for action before congress goes home. Members hope to complete their "must" legislation and get away by the end of next week.

Cheer Contest Announced

Tailfeathers pep club announced Thursday its sponsorship of a cheer contest for the purpose of getting new ideas from students for yells.

Any student is eligible to compete in the contest. Entries should be written on a penny postcard and sent to Cheer Contest, c/o Rosemary Sixta, Howard house.

Conference Record Shows Stassen's Charges 'Incorrect'

WASHINGTON (AP)—The state department Thursday made public the stenographic record of a secret October, 1949, round table conference on Far Eastern policy, and said it shows that Harold E. Stassen's charges about the meeting are "factually incorrect."

The 90,000-word transcript covered three days of talks in which Stassen, Owen Lattimore, Gen. George C. Marshall and 22 other prominent citizens outlined their views on recognition of Communist China and related problems.

The conference was called and presided over, by Ambassador-at-large Philip C. Jessup, who then headed a top-level state department committee planning a new U.S. Far Eastern policy.

Stassen charged that Lattimore and Lawrence Rosinger of the Institute of Pacific Relations headed a "prevailing group" at the round table, and won general endorsement of a 10-point policy program calling for early recognition of Red China and other moves favorable to communism.

The GOP leader also asserted that Jessup told him after the conference that there was "logic" in the Lattimore-Rosinger program, and that the state department then proceeded to "implement" the 10-point policy.

The department said the transcript shows clearly that:

1. There was no "prevailing group" at the round table, and no agreed policy recommendations of any kind.

2. No 10-point program was advanced by anyone.

UN to Try Again For Neutral Zone

MUNSAN, Korea (FRIDAY) (AP)—A dispute over where to draw a neutral zone threatened further delay today in resumption of Korean truce talks.

Allied and Communist liaison officers were scheduled to meet again, however, at 10 a.m. (9 p.m. CST, Thursday), and there was a possibility that they might agree.

Division Leaves to Bolster Ike's Forces

SOLDIERS OF THE 43D INFANTRY DIVISION marched past the Confederate monument (upper left) at Norfolk, Va., Thursday in their last parade before embarking for Europe. They are bound to surmount the North Atlantic Treaty organization forces under the command of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

End Savage Hand to Hand Engagement

TOKYO (FRIDAY) (AP)—American and French infantrymen of the United States 2nd infantry division beat the enemy off the last Red-held peak on "Heartbreak Ridge" today, ending the most savage and prolonged hand to hand engagement of the Korean war.

United Nations forces secured the northern most peak of the shell-torn ridge at 8 a.m. (5 p.m. Thursday CST) after an all-night assault.

Fanatic Communist defenders had stalled Allied forces for days on this peak. The fighting reached such bitter proportions at one time that it took more than 30 hours of fighting to gain half the length of a football field.

Helicopter Airlift

The long-sought victory came after 1,000 U.S. marines were whisked to the front in history's biggest and fastest helicopter airlift. The airlifted marines poised on strategic heights east of "Heartbreak Ridge" for a final effort to crush the bitter Red resistance on the eastern front.

Capture of the final peak, one month after the battle for "Heartbreak Ridge" started, was reported by Col. James Y. Adams, commander of the 23rd infantry regiment of the 2nd division. Looking through his field glasses, Adams said the Communists north of the ridge appeared to be retreating.

The UN soldiers began their last big assault at 4 p.m. yesterday after Allied planes and artillery had pounded the peak. The attacking infantrymen moved very slowly on the long, bare trail leading toward the crest from the south. Communist artillery and mortar fire was the heaviest in a week.

The north peak, which is nearly 3,000 feet high, is shaped like a bowl, with a sharp needle rising beyond it. A narrow, flat ridgeline runs from the center peak on "Heartbreak Ridge" to the crest of this north peak.

American elements charged up a small ridgeline in a 400-yard advance to the crest. Resistance lessened as they moved forward, but the terrain was rough and the going slow.

13 Bands, 39 Floats To Highlight Parade For Homecoming

SUI's Homecoming parade will feature 13 bands and 39 floats, William Coder, chairman of the parade committee said Thursday.

An innovation to this year's parade will be a color guard consisting of two men from SUI army ROTC unit, two from the air ROTC unit and two reservists from a local navy reserve unit. In previous years the color guard consisted of Pershing Rifle drill team with the Billy Mitchell air force ROTC squadron in the parade.

The SUI marching band and the Scottish Highlanders will be the only college bands to participate. In addition, two drum and bugle corps will parade, two truck-floats bearing jazz bands will participate, and seven high school bands will add their music to the procession.

The two drum and bugle corps are the Moose drum and bugle corps of Iowa City and a Cedar Rapids drum and bugle corps.

Of the high school bands appearing, only West Branch and McKinley of Cedar Rapids have marched in the parade before. Other marching bands are from City high and University high schools here, Wilson and Roosevelt schols from Cedar Rapids and West Liberty.

An American Federation of Labor union jazz band will play from one truck-float, and Larry Barrett's band will advertise the Dolphin show from the other.

Feature Writer Says — Columbus Spent $36,000 — To Discover America

By SAUL PETT AP Newsfeatures Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—It cost Columbus about $36,000 to discover America. His payroll for 90 men aboard the Santa Maria, Nina and Pinta ran to 250,000 maravedis, or $3,500 a month.

Today, he wouldn't get out of a U.S. harbor for that if he picked up a crew and tried to sail to Spain. The payroll tab would amount to his pay every couple of days, all things considered, as the monthly did then.

Columbus himself didn't have to foot much of the bill, but today the Spanish cops might not be willing to put up that kind of dough. Oh, you didn't know about the cops? Don't believe that marlarky about Isabella pawing her jewels. She offered to, but didn't.

Actually, most of the money for the first voyage in 1492 was borrowed from the endowment fund of a police force called the Santa Hermandad. True, the crown later repaid it, but the cops ran the risk. Columbus, himself, invested 250,000 maravedis, which he probably borrowed.

When you stop to think about it and this is a good time to think about it since Columbus was born just 500 years ago between August 25 and October 31, 1451.

America was discovered by mistake and named by fraud. Any school boy can tell you that Columbus was looking for a shorter westward route to Asia. He was not trying to prove that the world was round, that wasn't the big argument. Most of the experts at the time thought the world was round.

Columbus was trying to prove that only a narrow ocean separated Europe from Japan and the gold and spices that old Marco Polo had talked about. Old Chris thought the distance was about 3,000 miles. He was wrong about 8,000 miles. If Isabella had known it was that far, she might have made Chris stay home.

America was named after Amerigo Vespucci, who came over here, went back and wrote a report which he pre-dated by two years. He said he sighted the mainland in 1497. Actually, he didn't see it until 1499, about 500 years after the Norsemen, two years after John Cabot and one year after Columbus.

Here are some more things you probably didn't learn in school: For centuries people have been arguing whether Columbus was Italian, Castilian, Catalan, Corsican, Majorcan, Portuguese, French, German, English, Greek, or Armenian. There is no doubt, he was an Italian, born in Genoa.

The queen had promised a reward of 10,000 maravedis, (about $140) to the first man who sighted land on the first voyage. At 10 o'clock on the night of October 11, 1492, Chris said he saw a light. He claimed and got the reward.

But he couldn't possibly have seen any light from land at that point. He must have been at least 35 miles off shore.

At 2 a.m., with the moon past full, a seaman aboard the Pinta shouted "tierra, tierra!" He was right. This was San Salvador.

Chinese Reds Are Using Fantastic Weapons Too

By JACK RUTLEDGE

WASHINGTON — Fantastic weapons? The Chinese in Korea have them! Army ordnance officers hasten to explain the weapons aren't fantastic in the sense President Truman meant when he talked of new American weapons. But "fantastic" is certainly the word—according to Webster—to describe the strange, improvised and antiquated weapons the Chinese carry into battle.

One mortar captured recently looks like a garbage can on wheels. It is handmade, crude and probably as dangerous to the man shooting it as to the target.

"Mortars are a cheap form of artillery," one ordnance expert says. "They are simple, and it is easy to teach a soldier how to use one. The Chinese have many improvised mortars, some made of old gas pipes."

The rifles used by Chinese in many cases are antiques or sporting guns. But neither the age nor the type provide the major problem. It's the variety. The Chinese are known to be using at least 35 different kinds, of 17 calibers, made in Japan, Germany, many other European countries, and even the United States.

How to keep them supplied with ammunition, and in repair, is a real headache. Even so, rifles are so scarce the Chinese cannot afford to abandon one regardless of circumstances.

The average Chinese soldier may carry 20 rounds of ammunition, compared with 160 to 220

2nd Annual Gun Safety Week Is Nov. 11-18

Iowa's second annual Gun Safety week, Nov. 11 to 18, is being planned by a committee named Thursday by Murray Russell, Newton, chairman of the Iowa Safety Congress' recreational section and state president of the Izaak Walton league.

Sponsored by the Safety Congress, State Conservation Commission, Boy Scouts, Izaak Walton league and other organizations, the week is timed to come at the opening of the pheasant season.

This year's program is being patterned after the highly successful Gun Safety week of a year ago, which was credited with saving the lives of five Iowa hunters.

A list of 600 qualified speakers on gun safety is being compiled by the conservation commission for distribution to conservation officers and county Safety Congress chairmen who will work with schools and local organizations in arranging special programs during the period of Nov. 4 to 18.

Other activities include distribution of 100,000 booklets on proper handling of firearms by Iowa Boy Scouts. Movies will be available for schools and club meetings, and gun safety rules will be publicized through the Safety Congress' "stop sign" poster service and other public information media.

Harry Linn, Des Moines, vice president of the National Rifle Association, was named chairman of the committee. George Worley, Des Moines, superintendent of public relations, Iowa Conservation Commission, is secretary. Other committee members and the organizations they represent are: Herbert E. Betts, Des Moines, Izaak Walton League; M. R. Disborough, Des Moines, Boy Scouts,

U.S. Needs Civil Defense Mutual Aid Is Backbone Of Local Civil Defense

(This is the sixth of a series of articles on civil defense, based on the booklet "This Is Civil Defense" prepared by the federal civil defense administration. It may be obtained from the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C., for ten cents.)

By MILLARD CALDWELL Federal Civil Defense Administrator

Civil Defense does many things before an attack. The most important is preparedness. It gives you information on how to safeguard your home, how to fight fires, and what steps to take against atomic, biological, and chemical warfare. It arranges for shelters and operates the warning system which notifies you when to use them. It gets medical supplies and special equipment ready, trains technical services needed to restore a stricken area and organizes mutual aid and mobile support.

There are two steps which every one can take to get into civil defense. The first and most basic is to inform yourself what you and your family as individuals can do to protect yourselves against enemy attack. You can learn how to protect your home from fire, how to handle injuries among your family until trained first aid help can be obtained, how to minimize the dangers of attacks by poison gas and biological warfare. You can do this by reading a series of booklets available from the Superintendent of Documents, Washington, D.C. They are:

"Survival Under Atomic Attack"

"What You Should Know About Biological Warfare"

"This Is Civil Defense"

"Emergency Action to Save Lives"

"Firefighting For Householders"

But this is just the beginning. The second step, and it can be taken at the same time you are studying the booklets, is to join your local civil defense organization. There you will get professional training in meeting the dangers of an enemy attack and become part of the team defending your community.

Organize Mutual Aid One of the most important functions of civil defense before an attack is the organizing of mutual aid and mobile support. The first is help from the neighbors. No matter how well prepared a city might be, after an attack it could not take care of itself. It would have to look to neighboring suburbs, cities and states for help. And that help must be just as well organized and trained as the civil defense organization in the city which has been knocked out. That is the meaning of mutual aid. Mutual aid pacts to help each other in case of disaster or enemy attack have been drawn up by many cities. In operation it works like this: If your city were hit by an atomic bomb, nearby towns would send fire, police, and rescue crews to help out, or your city would do the same for other communities, for mutual aid works both ways. The same operation would take place between states, since many of them have also drawn up mutual aid pacts.

Mobile support is organized to supply more help, but on a statewide or inter-state scale. It is made up of teams which can move rapidly. These teams would be loaded into cars, trucks, trains, or planes and rushed to the scene of disaster. Such a stricken area might be in another part of the state, instead of next door, or in another state altogether.

Mobile support groups will be manned by people on farms or in small cities and towns outside of target areas. They will assemble outside of such areas and function just like the civil defense organizations in the larger cities.

Help from Neighbors Some states do not call their mutual aid or mobile support systems by the same names and not all of them are organized exactly alike. But the important thing is, all states have a "help from the neighbors" operations plan. It is your duty, no matter where you are, to serve in some civil defense organization. You may be called upon to take your part in any one of these civil defense operations. Be ready. Know what to do when that time comes.

(The next article will discuss your part in civil defense.)

Library Exhibit for Columbus' 500th 'Birthday'

By DAVID A. HELLER Central Press Correspondent

WASHINGTON — Christopher Columbus' 500th "birthday" will be observed in the nation's capital by a special exhibit of rare maps, charts and atlases at the Library of Congress.

The exhibit also celebrates Columbus Day, anniversary of the great explorer's discovery of America. Included among the priceless relics shown is at least one item, Ptolemy's atlas, published about 1480, which probably inspired Columbus to make his epochal journey.

Nobody knows when or where Columbus was actually born. Historians believe that 1451 is the probable date, however, and the Map Division of the Library of Congress chose Columbus Day to mark his 500th birthday of the man who literally made the most world-shaking trip in history.

One gets a respect almost akin to reverence for Columbus after seeing the maps and charts published during his lifetime. More eloquently than words, terrifying drawings of ferocious monsters devouring entire ships, drawings of demons and devils, describe the fear and ignorance of nautical men of the day.

WITH SCARCELY an exception, such drawings abound on the marine drawings of the 15th century, dominating maps of the open sea outside the narrow limits of the then-known world.

We are all indebted to Ptolemy's Atlas, one book in the exhibition. Except for it, the discovery of America might well have waited hundreds of years. Ptolemy was a Greek geographer who lived in the second century A.D. He believed that the world was round and sought to prove it in his writings. The Dark Ages, war and pestilence came. Ptolemy's great book was lost to the Christian world. The Arabs preserved it, however. In 1410, it was translated from Arabic to Latin. Unquestionably, Columbus was enormously influenced by it in developing his unheard-of idea that one could get to the Far East by sailing westward around the world.

CHRISTOPHER COLUMBUS—his perseverance led him westward to glory.

Several copies of the atlas were made in 1480. The copy on exhibition was one of them and it may well have been read by Columbus before his voyage of 1492.

Other items on exhibition include copies of Juan de la Cosa's map of America of 1506 (Cosa was Columbus' navigator on his second

KANSAS DEFENSE OFFICE Lists Lessons Learned A list of lessons learned from emergency conditions as a result of the Kansas floods were included in a report received by the state civil defense office.

The most important lesson, according to the report compiled by the Kansas City civil defense office, was that "as much as we love a democracy, there must be established a virtual dictatorship in the hands of a central command . . . to centralize efforts and direction."

"If there is any dividing of this authority (during an emergency), you quickly get a complete breakdown of your whole emergency organization."

Another point emphasized by the report was the interests of the entire city or state must be considered, and in the light of that experience the report stated, "the command must be thick-skinned to think only of what is best for the entire city or state and not be weak enough to give in to the influence of pressure groups who will storm all known authorities to gain their objectives, no matter what it will mean to the city or state as a whole."

A third point stressed in the report was the tremendous value of radio stations in time of emergency, and the help received from Kansas stations.

A fourth point discussed was the ready response of the American Red Cross and the Salvation Army to mobilize in time of emergency, and a fifth was a description of the people who were not willing to help.

DEBATE AND DISCUSSION. All persons interested in intercollegiate debate and discussion please meet in room 14, Schaeffer hall, Tuesday at 7:10 p.m.

WEDEMEYER URGES Arming Far East TORONTO (AP)—Lt. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer, former commander of U.S. forces in China, said Thursday that the policies of the democratic Allies in the postwar years have been "appeasement, vacillation, and panic fear."

Speaking before the American Life convention here, he said that "The United States and Canada face ultimate isolation, defeat or even annihilation if the Soviets are permitted to retain the initiative in their program of 'subjugation, intimidation and political banditry.'"

To protect our homelands, the retired general and present director of the AVCO Manufacturing Co., said we must "establish undisputed control of the air."

"We must avoid committing our manhood," he said, "in areas and courses of action that are not decisive . . . and should arm the teeming millions of people in the Far East who are willing to make sacrifices to defend their independence."

Wedemeyer said that the Allies should take the offensive instead of merely countering "hostile propaganda." He said much more money should be extended to tell "our story of spiritual grandeur, material prowess and political freedom."

"The United States and Canada should continue to give timely and appropriate moral, military and economic aid to nations unequivocally committed to our side," he concluded.

Canadians Irked Can't See The Princess

OTTAWA (AP)—Disappointed Canadians complained Thursday they haven't been able to get a good look at Princess Elizabeth and her handsome husband because officials are monopolizing the show. "The Princess looks real nice but we can't see enough of her because there are too many officials around," a woman who stood on a street corner to watch the Princess drive to an official luncheon Thursday said. The Ottawa Citizen summed up crowd reaction to the royal tour in an editorial which said: "The gay spontaneity of the tour was smothered before it began. The public slipped progressively into the background. Meanwhile, officialdom is having its field day. Some formalities are proper in a tour of this kind, but they have been inflated far beyond the original intention or need... to the point of stuffiness... it seems that many individuals holding public office—the brass—cannot resist the temptation to steal the show."

The heiress presumptive to the British throne and her husband, the Duke of Edinburgh, slept late Thursday morning for the first time since they arrived in Canada. Then they drove to the plush Chateau Laurier hotel for a sumptuous civic luncheon featuring dishes representative of all 10 provinces of the dominion. At lunch the royal visitors ran into their first taste of "official prohibition." The city board of control ruled unanimously that no alcoholic drinks were to be served at municipal functions, including the royal luncheon. Thursday night the couple attended a government reception, had supper at government house and boarded their luxury train at midnight for a quick swing through other Ontario cities en route to Toronto.

Theta Xi to Have House Party

Theta Xi fraternity will hold its annual house party this weekend. The members of the fraternity will vacate the house Saturday, October 13, and their respective dates will move in. Thirty girls are expected for the event, both from out of town and from Iowa City. Saturday afternoon the members of the fraternity will escort their dates to the Pittsburgh-Iowa game. Following the game a dinner and a party will be held at the chapter house. Sunday morning the members of Theta Xi will return to their house to escort their dates to church services. A brunch at the house following the church services will conclude the party.

Toni Rhomberg, Miss Perfect Profile

Toni Rhomberg, A3, Dubuque, was named Miss Perfect Profile of 1951 Thursday night at the UWA-sponsored Profile Preview style show at the Iowa Union.

Nine other finalists were chosen including Sally McConnell, A1, Orlando, Fla.; Jackie Daley, A2, Burlington; Pat Liddle, A3, Des Moines; Barbara Springate, A1, Des Moines; Ann Larson, A3, Harlan; Harriet Whitesel, A2, Cedar Rapids; Roslyn Stern, A1, Highland Park, Ill.; Janet Hayberley, A1, New Hampton and Bunny McCullum, A2, Evanston, Ill.

The finalists were chosen from a group of 44 girls who modeled their own college wardrobe in the show.

Judges were Bob Newman, Quadangle, president; Gordon Holcomb, South Quad president; Dale Razez, Hillcrest president; Marvin Luehrs, Interfraternity council president; Jim Sangster, Letterman's club president and Mrs. Eleanor Neu, buyer for the Junior shop of Younker's department store.

The show was conducted on a newspaper theme. Users were dressed as copy boys and the backdrop was to represent the front page of a newspaper.

Music was provided by the "Dukes of Dixieland," a jazz combo consisting of Bill Skafie, trombone; Al Frost, piano; Chuck Danielson, trumpet; Bob Gordon, clarinet, and Bill Merner, drums.

Tensional Diseases Strike Women Near Middle Age

The so-called "tensional diseases," formerly labeled—for men only—are now finding new quarry—working women who are nearing middle age. According to a national magazine these business women are the vanguard of what is bound to become an enormous group, as more and more women continue to work even though they are married and have children. The cardiovascular group under which are lumped high blood pressure, heart troubles of all kinds, and hardening of the arteries, actually constitute the prime cause of death in this country. The working woman who is forever trying to "keep up with Mr. Jones" may, like him, push and worry herself into symptoms and complications attendant upon high blood pressure.

And, says the magazine, if you add the further complications of domestic responsibilities, she is in for every bit as much stress and strain as her male prototype. While high blood pressure is the most dramatic of the tensional diseases, today's business woman suffers from many others which may be equally dangerous. They range all the way from the hardly perceptible nervous tick to insomnia, depression, and vicious headaches.

The working woman who is aware of the dangers implicit in her professional life and the emotional burdens placed on her can do a lot to prevent a breakdown by taking the right precautions along the line and following a few simple rules. She should not permit herself to be swamped—she should force herself to tackle one thing at a time as speedily as possible. She should learn to leave her work behind her in the office even though she loves it so much she enjoys doing it in the evening, too.

Zetas Observe Founder's Day

The alumni chapter of Zeta Tau Alpha social sorority will observe Founder's day with the active chapter on Monday, Oct. 15 at the chapter house, 815 E. Burlington st.

Mrs. Hancher, Student To Be Interviewed

Mrs. Virgil Hancher and two students from England will be interviewed on WSUP's women's news programs next week.

Two English students, Roussel Sargent and Anthony Friedson, will be interviewed by Lita Singel, Tuesday at 9:20 a.m. The two will describe their impressions of this country, their difficulties with American slang and their program of studies here. They are also expected to give Americans a few pointers on how to brew a pot of good English tea.

Mrs. Hancher will speak from her home, Thursday at 9:20 a.m. She will describe her duties as wife of WSUP's president, and will tell some of the preparations she is making for entertaining during Homecoming.

Hawkeye will help you to remember all the things that happen from September to June. Dances, doings, big and small, all find their way into the pages of the SUI yearbook.

Methodist Ministers To Attend Conference

The Rev. Robert R. Sanks and the Rev. C. Grey Austin, associate ministers of the First Methodist church will attend the National association of Methodist student workers conference on the Southern Methodist University campus in Dallas, Texas, Oct. 29 to Nov. 2.

The Rev. Mr. Sanks is the director of the undergraduate group of Wesley foundation and the Rev. Mr. Austin has charge of the married and graduate section of Wesley foundation.

One of the leaders of the conference will be James C. Baker, founder of the national Wesley foundation movement, and new bishop of the Southern California conference.

Panthers Are Rebuilding—

Like a good many other schools throughout the nation the University of Pittsburgh is currently in a process of building, as the gentlemen of the press would put it, or more aptly in this case, rebuilding.

That, of course, is merely a discreet way of saying that the powers that be have decided they'd like to win a few more football games and are willing to take the appropriate steps to do so.

Or, in the final analysis, the school has made available the funds and scholarships that are so vitally necessary in the heated competition for high school athletes.

This matter of building is nothing new in football history, but it has been particularly evident in the last decade, and even more so since the end of World War II.

It's only in this period that schools like Michigan State, Kentucky, and SMU to name a few, have risen from the ranks of the commoners to their high places of today.

Kentucky, in fact, was nothing more than "poor white trash" in Southern circles until a few millionaires decided to feed the Wildcats' football players as a hobby.

But getting back to Pittsburgh, Iowa's opponent this Saturday, its efforts to get back in the football limelight began in 1949 when Capt. Tom Hamilton was given the task of restoring something resembling the once fabulous Pitt success.

It wasn't too very long ago, you know, that the Panthers were second to none in producing powerhouse teams. Those were the days of Dr. Jock Sutherland, the four Scotsman, and a leading proponent of brute power single wing teams.

Sutherland started at Pitt in 1924, and in the 15 years that followed the Panthers were to lose only 20 games while winning seven eastern titles and appearing in the Rose Bowl four times.

But by the end of the '30's, the story goes, Pitt officials decided that the sport had gotten too big for its own good, and started a demerol program by cutting down on the number of athletic scholarships and taking other moves in the same direction.

Sutherland a Persuader

This naturally didn't please Sutherland who had gained quite a reputation for his ability to persuade husky coal miners to get their education in the Smoky City. The result was that Sutherland left the college ranks for professional football where he continued to enjoy outstanding success until his death in 1945.

Meanwhile, Pitt, though no longer attracting the talent, continued to schedule the nation's best with obvious results. In the following ten years, the Panther was reduced to a harmless kitten as most opponents scored lopsided victories.

It was thought that after the war, Pitt might get back to the top but neither Clark Shaunessey, Wes Fesler, nor Mike Milligan were able to produce winners, though the defeats began to be by much smaller margins.

Shaunessey, incidentally, really incurred the wrath of Pitt alumni by serving as an assistant coach for a professional team on Sundays while his Panthers were getting drubbed on Saturdays.

Finally, in 1949, enough pressure was brought to bear by alumni groups to bring in a top-notch man to improve the situation and restore some of the lost grid prestige.

Hamilton, who had been a winning coach at the Naval Academy and regarded as an able administrator and fine gentleman, was the choice, and was appointed athletic director.

One of Hamilton's first moves was to bring Len Cassanova from Santa Clara to replace Milligan for the 1950 season.

Cassanova's first and only season at Pittsburgh wasn't too productive, however, and after turning in a 1-8 record, he decided to return to sunny California.

Hamilton Obligated to Take Job

This occurred only last August, a month before the start of the present season and understandingly left the Panthers in a tough predicament. A few feeble attempts were made to secure a new coach on that short notice but it became apparent that Hamilton would be obliged to take the position himself.

"Tom keeps insisting that he didn't want the job as coach and that it will only be for this season, but deep down I think he's kind of happy to be back on the sidelines," said Chick Kenny, Pitt's publicity director who's in town for the game.

Hamilton reportedly has done a fine job in laying the foundation for future Pitt success. The Panthers still haven't had a winner and this year's team is no powerhouse, but nobody's beating them by much, not even the best.

Last season, Pitt had an undefeated freshmen team which shelled the best in the East including Army's highly regarded plebes. Many of those fresh will be playing against the Hawkeyes Saturday.

"We're not trying to build national championship teams," said Kenny.

"But we would like to have teams that win as many as they lose. That's not asking too much is it?"

Nation's Leading Teams Have Easy Assignments

NEW YORK (AP)—The top four college football teams in the land—Michigan State, California, Tennessee, and Texas A & M—appear to have fairly easy pickings this Saturday.

But the other six outfits in the Press poll are flirring with trouble aplenty as the major college sport moves into the center of the sports page replacing a World Series that is now history.

There's no push-over for Notre Dame, Texas, Illinois, Georgia Tech, Ohio State and Maryland. Some tough babies are waiting up the alley to snatch their rankings.

The first four should win, but whether they stay in their present 1-2-3-4 order remains to be seen after next week's votes are counted.

Top Ten in Action
Here are the top 10 this week, and their opponents Saturday:

1. Michigan State vs. Marquette at East Lansing.
 2. California vs. Washington State at Pullman.
 3. Tennessee vs. Chattanooga at Knoxville.
 4. Texas A & M vs. Trinity at San Antonio.
 5. Notre Dame vs. Southern Methodist at South Bend.
 6. Texas vs. Oklahoma at Dallas.
 7. Illinois vs. Syracuse at Syracuse.
 8. Georgia Tech vs. Louisiana State at Atlanta.
 9. Ohio State vs. Wisconsin at Madison.
 10. Maryland vs. Georgia at Athens (night).

More Passing Troubles in Store for Iowa

IOWA'S PASS DEFENSE, riddled by Purdue's Dale Samuels last week, will get another stiff test Saturday when Pittsburgh invades Iowa City. The Panthers will present quarterback Bob Bestwick (left), who has completed 15 of 31 passes in two games, and his favorite target, end Chris Warriner, who has caught six for 63 yards. Bestwick's passing and the running of sophomore halfback Lou Cimaroelli figure to be the Hawkeyes' chief problems.

Lage, Brandt To Lead Hawks

Iowa Injured Ready For Pittsburgh Clash

Guard Bob Lage and defensive halfback Duane Brandt Thursday were named Iowa's co-captains for the Pittsburgh game as the Hawks concluded their preparations for the Panther invasion.

Coach Leonard Raffensperger's selection of Lage and Brandt continued his policy of choosing seniors for the honor.

Lage, a stocky 185-pounder from Long Grove, has been used almost entirely on defense this season though he can go either way. Brandt's play is limited strictly to defense where he's a key man in the Hawkeye pass defense set-up.

Light Drill

Raffensperger, apparently avoiding the risk of further injuries, limited Thursday's practice to light contact work and more drill against Pitt plays.

Today the squad will get into game uniforms for a brief workout in the stadium following the JV game.

Judging from their appearance at Thursday's practice, all of the Hawkeye injured except Jack Hess and possibly Del Corbin, will be available for duty Saturday.

Loranzie Williams was back in uniform following a day off to rest a cold. Williams will share the work at left halfback with Dusty Rice while Bernie Bennett will probably be limited to play on defense.

Hawks Sixth

The new set of statistics released by the NCAA Thursday had Iowa sixth in the country on defense against rushing plays. The Hawks yielded 155 yards to Purdue runners last week after stopping Kansas State with a minus 21.

Chuck Denning continued to rate high among the nation's punters with a two game average of 42 yards on 12 tries for the sixth best mark in the country.

At Pittsburgh, a pair of recently discharged marines continued to impress Coach Tom Hamilton and are slated for service against Iowa. They are backs Paul Chess and Bill Sichko.

With defensive star John Reger definitely out for the Hawkeye contest, Hamilton has moved up freshman Paul Blanda to fill in.

Investigate Offer To Throw Series

NEW YORK (AP)—Crank letter or not, the New York police Thursday assigned a squad of detectives to investigate a typewritten note offering $15,000 if the New York Giants would lose three games to the Yankees in the World Series.

The letter, addressed to Leo Durocher, the Giants' manager, had been turned over to baseball commissioner Ford Frick by Durocher, it was disclosed by his actress wife, Lorraine Day.

Written on stationery of the Strand hotel, Atlantic City, N.J., the letter remained unopened several days on the desk of Durocher at the Polo grounds, along with other mail not opened.

Durocher, who found the letter Tuesday night, gave it to Frick before the final game of the series Wednesday when the Yankee won the world championship.

"Leo's immediate reaction was that the letter was the work of a prankster, but he worried all Tuesday night and I finally persuaded him to turn it over to Mr. Frick," Miss Day declared.

Frick had no comment, and Conrad Rothengast, chief of Frick's office, refused to disclose contents of the letter.

Rice Selected

NEW YORK (AP)—Nineteen college football players, including Iowa's George (Dusty) Rice were selected Thursday by a board of experts as reserving a place on the Associated Press all-American football squad from which the first and second teams will be chosen at the end of the season.

A similar sized group will be chosen each week through the regular season including the Army-Navy game Dec. 1. To these names will also be added AP's linemen of the week and backs of the week, both offensive and defensive. Only players so chosen will be eligible for the first and second all-Americans.

Iowa JV Squad To Play Today Against Scott Field

The first home game for an Iowa junior varsity football team since 1929 will be played here this afternoon when the Hawkeyes meet Scott Air Force Base of Illinois.

Coach Wally Schwank named tackle Phil Hayman and halfback Jim Milani as co-captains. The game is set for 2:30 p.m. and tickets will be $1 for adults and 50 cents for children if the game is played in the stadium. Staff "I" cards and ID cards will be honored.

If the weather is bad, the game will be played on the practice field east of the stadium, with no admission charge. A wet day would result in damage to the stadium turf which must be used for the Pittsburgh game Saturday.

Iowa defeated Camp McCoy of Wisconsin, 12-7, last week, after losing the opener to Wisconsin JV, 27-12, Sept. 28. The JV squad will play a return game with Wisconsin here Oct. 19.

These are the Iowa starting line-ups, as announced by Coach Schwank:

Unbeaten Dubuque Favored In Little Hawks' Homecoming

Rams Seek Revenge For Last Season

By LEE CANNING

History gets a chance to repeat itself here tonight when the undefeated Dubuque high Rams and the City high Hawkeets tangle in the homecoming game for Coach Frank Bates' team.

Game time is 8 p.m. A year ago, City high, on its way to a conference championship and an unbeaten season, spoiled the Ram homecoming with a 20-14 victory.

On the basis of 1951 results and potential, Dubuque rates as the favorite and has a good chance to even the score for last season's setback.

Coach Harold Sweet's outfit is working on a six-game winning streak and with an abundance of speed in the line and backfield, they have shoved City high into the unfamiliar role of underdog.

Both Played McKinley

The only common foe played by City and Dubuque during the present season is McKinley high of Cedar Rapids. Dubuque defeated McKinley, 31-7, while the Hawkeets could squeeze out only a scoreless tie.

Dubuque is the only remaining Mississippi Valley conference team without a defeat against both league and non-league competition. The Rams rank second behind Davenport in loop standings since their only league tilt has been the victory over McKinley.

Small Line

City will have a slight weight advantage over the Rams whose starting line averages only 165 pounds. The Hawkeets' big problem will be to stop the slants of a speedy backfield which has averaged 23 points a game.

Dave Stevens, senior letterman, directs the Dubuque T-formation attack from the quarterback slot and also handles the passing chores.

To combat the visitors speed, City will call on 218-pound fullback Jim Freeman to carry most of the offensive weight.

The Hawkeets' passing game was revamped during the week's workouts as halfbacks Bob Frantz and Don Brennan, were moved to end spots in order to improve City's aerial attack.

Offensive guard Lon Harlow and defensive guard Fred Ginniss will be City's co-captains for the homecoming tilt.

Mt. Vernon to Test U-High

University high, unbeaten in its last 16 games, faces its toughest test this year when it meets Mt. Vernon tonight at Mt. Vernon.

Currently tied for the lead in the Eastern Iowa Hawkeye conference, the Bluehawks are not taking Mt. Vernon lightly, in spite of the latter's 2-1-1 record and fourth place standing in the league.

Coach Bob Weber of U-high has indicated that he'll move Gardner Van Dyke, regular quarterback, to left half in an effort to fully capitalize on Van Dyke's running ability.

Price at Quarterback

In last week's 38-13 victory over Winfield, Van Dyke made runs of 30, 23, and 31 yards and caught a 21-yard pass. John Price will fill the quarterback vacancy.

Several injuries which had worried U-high backers apparently are not serious. Mike Schoenfelder, freshman starting halfback, may be available for part-time duty only after twisting his knee in Tuesday's workout. Ken Jensen will fill his tackle slot even though he came out of the Winfield game with an aggravation of an old knee injury.

Tackling Trouble

Coach Weber has had the Bluehawks working hard on tackling and kick off returns this week, and is still not satisfied with the tackling.

Weber expects a very tough game. "Our schools are bitter rivals, and they're always gunning for us," he said. "Kammerling, a junior back, is very good and they have a strong offensive unit. We expect this to be our toughest game so far."

Don Hipple, Mt. Vernon coach, expects his charges to be at best physical condition for the game.

After a look at U-high's aerial scoring record, he has worked long and hard on pass defense. He, too, has some misgivings about his team's tackling.

SUI Schedules 'Sleeper' Art Exhibit Nov. 4

"Contemporary Berlin Art," famed "sleeper" exhibit which caught the big museums napping, will be displayed at SUI Nov. 4 to 25.

Attracting nationwide attention since it was booked by the university almost two years ago, the exhibit was termed a "sleeper" by Time magazine last March. Time heralded it as "one of the most interesting shows in the United States," and reported that several big-city museums were then trying to schedule the show.

Containing 57 paintings, the exhibit is the work of 24 Berlin artists. It presents the first good look at the art which post-war Berlin is producing and contains top-flight examples of three main trends in modern art: expressionism, surrealism and abstractionism. The exhibit was compiled by Charlotte Weidler of the Carnegie institute.

Formal ceremonies opening the exhibit will take place between 3 and 5 p.m. Nov. 4 in the main lounge of the Iowa Union. A background of post-war German music has been arranged for the opening.

Invitations to attend the showing have been sent to the students of all Iowa colleges, and of high schools in Johnson county and the adjacent area. The opening will be held during Dad's Day weekend on the campus, Nov. 3 and 4.

Iowa City is the only place in the midwest where the collection will be exhibited during its 40 U.S. showings.

The paintings will be sold after the show closes its U.S. tour, and interested persons may obtain the price list at the SUI showing.

Prof. Koo to Speak To Lutheran Group

Prof. T. Z. Koo, SUI oriental studies, whose Y.M.C.A. work in China springboarded him to leadership in the world-wide student Christian movement, will speak to the Lutheran Student association Sunday evening.

His subject will be the L.S.A. theme for the year, "God's World Our Mission."

Koo formerly served as vice chairman and later as secretary of the World's Student Christian federation with headquarters in Geneva, Switzerland.

A 5:30 p.m. supper will precede Koo's address in Zion Lutheran church, 604 E. Bloomington ave.

Pianist Franz Rupp Will Play Monday In MacBride Hall

Franz Rupp, pianist and regular accompanist to opera star Marian Anderson, will present a concert at 8 p.m. Monday in MacBride hall under the sponsorship of the Iowa City Civic Music association.

The pianist is being presented by S. Hurok of New York City, for the first time this year as soloist. His appearances with Miss Anderson have been interspersed with solo recitals of his own, the first held in New York city's Town Hall.

His program this year will consist of classical selections. A native of Bavaria, Germany, Mr. Rupp studied at the Munich Conservatory of Music. Tours in European countries, where he is known as a composer of religious music, preceded Rupp's debut in the United States. His first tour in this country was in 1923, with the violinist Willi Burmeister.

He also has accompanied Emanuel Feuerman, Elisabeth Schumann, and Lottee Lehman, all celebrated concert artists, and has collaborated with Fritz Kreisler, violinist, in making recordings of the Beethoven sonatas.

Civic Music association membership cards will serve as concert tickets. Those attending are asked to note the change from the former location of the concerts, Iowa City High school, to MacBride hall.

James R. Beeler, 28, Des Moines, has been bound over to the grand jury, after pleading innocent to a charge of manslaughter.

The charge was filed against Beeler in connection with the death of Walter J. Smith, 65, Horicon, Wis., who died from injuries suffered in a collision involving Beeler Sept. 29 near Iowa City. Beeler was released on $3,000 bond.

74 Businessmen Hold 3-Day Meeting Here

Seventy-four Iowa chamber of commerce executives registered at the Jefferson hotel Thursday, to begin their three-day fall convention.

The members spent most of the opening day at roundtable discussions before attending the dinner meeting at Homestead. Paul Brechler, director of SUI athletics, was guest at the banquet.

Today's discussions and lectures will be held in the auditorium of the university library. A talk by President Virgil M. Hancher will highlight tonight's session in the Iowa Union.

Provost H. H. Davis will extend a welcome on behalf of SUI to open today's session and he will be followed by Prof. C. Woody Thompson, director of the bureau of business and economics research, who will preside over a review of the new library facilities.

Prof. Clark C. Bloom, economics department, and Dick A. Leabe, editor of the Iowa Business Digest, will speak on business statistics. Bloom will join Profs. Paul R. Olson and Robert H. Johnson of the economics department in a review of the economic situation.

I. J. Barron Files $350 Collection Suit

I. J. Barron, 221 River st., of Iowa City filed suit in district court Thursday asking collection of a $350 promissory note and chattel mortgage he claims Clayton J. Colbert owes him.

Barron charges that Colbert gave him the note and mortgage last June 26 payable in monthly installments beginning July 15, 1952. Barron claims the monthly installments have not been met.

The suit requests foreclosure of the mortgage to satisfy the debt and that Colbert's 1940 car be held by the sheriff till further orders from the court.

SUI Orchestra To Present Concert At Union Wednesday

The first concert by the SUI symphony orchestra will be presented at 8 p.m. next Wednesday in the Iowa Union.

Under the direction of Profs. Philip Greeley Clapp and William Gower, the orchestra will perform three works:

Symphony in B flat major, opus 20, Ernest Chausson; concerto no. 2, opus 83, for pianoforte and orchestra, Johannes Brahms, and overture, "In the South," Edward Elgar.

The Brahms concerto will feature two solo artists. John Simms will be featured as the piano soloist and Hans Koelbel will present a cello solo in the third movement. Both are instructors in the music department.

Tickets for this concert will be available beginning Saturday at the Union desk. There will be no admission charge and the concert is open to the general public.

Crusade for Freedom To Campaign at SUI

SUI students will have a chance to aid the Crusade for Freedom campaign today at a booth set up on the east side of Old Capitol to receive contributions.

The SUI campaign, with a goal of $1,000, will last only one day on the main campus. After today's drive, a booth will be stationed outside the stadium Saturday to receive contributions from those attending the Iowa-Pittsburgh football game.

President Virgil M. Hancher, Thursday urged all students to aid in the drive to help Radio Free Europe broadcast its message through the Iron Curtain.

"The Crusade for Freedom is a worthy and important cause," he said. "I hope that everyone at SUI will participate generously in this voluntary nation-wide campaign to combat communism."

The money contributed by students in the campus drive will aid in providing two transmitters for Radio Free Europe and will also help to establish a freedom-station in Asia.

Tom Unga, G. Dyersville, is chairman of the SUI campaign, which is being held under the sponsorship of the student council.

Nybakken to Meet With Classics Group

Prof. Oscar E. Nybakken, classics department, will leave today to attend the Minnesota classical conference which will be held Saturday at St. Olaf college, Northfield, Minn.

Nybakken has traveled extensively in Europe and was leader of the 1949 classical backgrounds tour and the 1950 intercollegiate tour to Europe.

He will act as a leader of classical background tours at the conference and will speak on "The Latin Teacher Abroad."

Teachers Begin Conference Today

Iowa mathematics teachers will assemble Friday at SUI for their 21st annual conference of teachers of mathematics.

Speakers at the two-day meeting will be Philip Peak, Indiana university school of education, and Phillip S. Jones of Michigan mathematics department.

Prof. H. Vernon Price, SUI mathematics department, and Col. Walter E. Sewell, head of the university's army reserve officers training corps, will also speak during sessions of the conference.

The conference is being sponsored jointly by the university extension division, the college of education and the department of mathematics.

Faculty Member To Attend Meeting

Lucille Magnusson of the physical education for women department will attend a meeting of the Midwest Hockey association in Chicago this weekend and will visit the touring team of the Scottish Women's Hockey association.

The Scottish team, which last visited this country in 1931, will play the midwest team at the Saddle and Cycle club.

Muriel Webster, a Scottish exchange teacher in the physical education department, and Dorothy Hanpeter, Joan Nessler, Marie Riley and Joan Tillotson, graduate students from the department, will also attend the game.

THE MOMENT the General laid aside his battle jacket, you'd be one big question-mark. And where would you turn for your answers?

Sure—you'd listen to the commentators, whenever you could get to the radio or the TV at the right moment.

Sure—you might see the magazines, but the fastest of them would be too slow.

But what you'd want most, and wouldn't be denied, is a newspaper in your hand.

You'd know that you could find the story there immediately with more details—more comment—more angles—than anywhere else.

You feel that way every day about something that happens—you want your newspaper. And everybody else feels that way, too. For every day a hundred things appear that are Page One news to somebody, even if it's only a new moletrap at the hardware store.

People may do without almost anything—except the paper. That's why, when you have something to sell, the newspaper is the place to reach all the people.

When it comes to Advertising, why deal in fractions?...

Magazines reach only fractions of your market. Each one appeals to some people—not to others. No magazine is read by everyone in town who can possibly buy.

Radio and TV reach only fractions of your market. Each program appeals to only a special audience—sport fans, homemakers, kids, or whatever. And even the people interested can't all listen at the time you broadcast.

The newspaper talks to everybody in town. It's created fresh every day to appeal to everybody. All your customers read the paper—at the time they choose, for as long as they choose!

Only the newspaper is first with the most news . . . the most people . . . the most advertisers!

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

THE immigration authorities at Ellis Island were examining the credentials of a middle-aged Scotch couple that sought admission to our shores. The passport pictures caused trouble. "Mr. MacGregor," said the official, "this photograph of you is a perfect likeness, but I must say this other picture looks nothing like Mrs. MacGregor to me. Have you other substantiating evidence that this lady with you is indeed your wife?"

Mr. MacGregor sighed deeply and whispered to the official, "Laddie, if ya can prove she isn't, I'll gie ya twenty pounds."

There was a long line waiting to use the only public telephone booth in the neighborhood, and when a young thing with blonde curls and a huge vanity bag strapped over her shoulder prepared to enter, the experienced man behind her sighed in unison and resigned themselves to the inevitable. The young thing, however, sensed what was going on in their minds. "Don't you all fret," she told them sweetly. "I'll only be a minute. I just want to hang up on him!"
