Fifth Atomic Blast

U.S. Reported Set to Submit To A-Bomb, Weapons Count

PARIS (AP)—The U.S. was reported ready Tuesday night to submit to a count of its atomic bombs and other weapons as part of an international disarmament plan if all other countries will do the same. The plan is part of a peace package with which the U.S. hopes to seize the initiative against the Soviet Union in the sixth UN general assembly opening here today.

In the first move to take the offensive, the U.S., Britain and France came forward with a surprise proposal that the UN appoint a "neutral international commission" to make an investigation in both East and West Germany as to whether it is possible to hold genuinely free elections for an all-German government. This was the West's answer to the Communists' German unity campaign.

The only move made by the Soviet bloc Tuesday was in the windup session of the fifth assembly which adjourned to clear the decks for the new assembly which convenes at 8 a.m. CST today. A Russian proposal to refer to the new assembly the question of giving China's seat to the Communists was smothered by a vote of 20 to 11, with 11 abstentions. The Russians are certain to revive the issue.

The U.S., in advancing its authoritatively reported plan for an atom bomb count, still stands on its demands for foolproof inspection and verification of such a census. The Russians and Americans never have agreed on a system to verify such a count, and an eastern European source Tuesday night called the new American plan a "big bluff." In short, few delegates expect Russia to take the challenge.

The American decision, with which British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden expressed full agreement Tuesday night was said authoritatively to be the heart of a peace plan to be outlined Wednesday night by President Truman in a speech from the White House. It will be put before the UN assembly Thursday by Secretary of State Dean Acheson.

Actually, the Americans are taking up a Russian challenge hurled three years ago, before the Soviet Union had been able to produce any atomic explosions. The Russians have been quiet about an arms count since it has become known that there have been atomic explosions in the U.S.S.R.

Anti-Red Campaigner Wins 1951 Peace Prize

OSLO, Norway (AP)—Leon Jouhaux of France, staunch 72-year-old anti-Communist labor campaigner, was announced Monday as winner of the Nobel peace prize for 1951.

He was credited in France with saving the French labor movement from being subverted by Communist leadership. He has been a constant target of Red abuse.

Cold Wave Stays, Causes 129 Deaths

Acute cold kept its harsh grip on the nation Monday from the northern Rockies to the Atlantic. At least 129 deaths were counted as the result of the untimely blast of full winter weather which set new low temperature marks by the scores for early November.

Approximately three-fourths of the deaths were the result of traffic accidents on slippery highways. Fires from overheated stoves took eight lives in Pennsylvania. Five persons were drowned in icy waters—two Nebraska duck hunters, one member of a duck hunting party in Illinois, an Iowa farm boy, and a Massachusetts fisherman. A death from freezing was reported as far south as Tennessee.

The hard freezing cold hit the nation's steel industry a heavy blow, cutting ore movement on the Great Lakes. Ore loading at the Lake Superior docks was slowed. Ship passages through the locks at Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., was off 50 per cent Monday.

Veteran observers predicted the intense cold would freeze out shipping three weeks before the regular December 15 closing date, ending hopes for a new ore shipping record this year.

The cold siege saw an unofficial temperature recording of 16 degrees below zero Monday at Detroit Lake, Minn., and a number of official sub-zero marks in other communities in the Dakotas and Iowa. Decorah, Iowa, had a -9, Bismark, N. D., -8, and Marshalltown, Iowa, and Fargo N. D., reported -6.

Additional snow fell on the eastern Rocky mountain slopes and on the western plains. A new snow scattering spread from Kansas to southern Illinois and Indiana.

Monday saw some moderation on the southern and eastern fringes of the big cold air mass. But it was Chicago's fourth straight shattered record, with an 11-degree minimum. In Colorado, where November's second snow left four inches at Denver and Lamar, temperatures began rising.

Comparatively seasonal weather was reported in the far southeast and Florida. It was comfortable along the gulf coast, mild in the southern plains and the south-west, and moderate in the north-west.

The cold onset hit the upper plains Thursday night with a front of shifting gale force winds and snow. It rolled east Friday and Saturday, losing little of its fury. A second arctic front, less tumultuous than the first, reinforced the cold.

Student Charged After Accident

An SUI student was charged with reckless driving and leaving the scene of an accident Monday night, after the car he was driving sideswiped an auto and crashed into a semi-trailer truck about 7:30 p.m. in downtown Iowa City, police said.

Arden E. Behrendsen, 20, AS, Gilmore City, was charged with the two counts, after the car in which he and three other students were riding hit the two vehicles which had stopped for a stop sign on Dubuque st. near Burlington st., officers said.

One of the students riding with Behrendsen, Norma Hamlett, N1, Strawberry Point, suffered bruises in the accident.

Also riding in the car was Donald Pohl, C3, Rockwell City. The fourth student, a woman, was not identified.

Driver of the second car was Tudor Gould, 528 E. Washington st. Earl G. Cannon, Cedar Rapids, was driver of the truck, owned by the Witwer Wholesale Grocery company of Cedar Rapids. Damage was minor.

A-Bomb Blast Tests Emergency Actions Of Nevada Towns

LAS VEGAS, NEV. (AP)—An atomic bomb which rattled windows 225 miles away and may have been the strongest exploded thus far in this country provided two Nevada towns with an impromptu test of reaction to emergency conditions Monday.

The bomb lighted the daylight sky with a flash more brilliant than any of its four immediate predecessors and its rumble was the longest and loudest yet heard by observers in the vicinity of the test site. It was not heard so loudly in Las Vegas, 90 miles to the south, but the AEC said atmospheric and weather conditions would make the explosion felt more strongly east and northeast Monday.

Mrs. Flora Mitchell, telephone company operator at Caliente, Nev., 90 air miles northeast of the Frenchman's Flat proving ground, said the AEC called her shortly before 8 a.m. PST and told her to warn townspeople that an atomic explosion within 15 or 20 minutes would shake the town. A similar warning went to Goldfield, Nev., 100 miles from the test site.

"I called Deputy Sheriff Lorin Bunker and called everyone I could in the time we had and told them to stay away from glass panes," Mrs. Mitchell said.

A radio station at nearby Cedar City, Utah, warned Caliente and Goldfield residents to leave their doors and windows open.

Truman Asks CIO to Halt Wage Demands

NEW YORK (AP)—President Truman and two of his top controls officials Monday in effect asked the CIO to put the brakes on wage demands during the present emergency.

In carefully worded language, President Truman said one of the biggest tasks facing the nation is to get high defense production without bringing on renewed inflation.

In a letter to the CIO's 13th annual convention, he said this would require "steady production" plus "restrained and responsible actions" by businessmen, farmers and workers.

Michael DiSalle, director of price stabilization, was more blunt. In an address prepared for a dinner session of the convention,

DiSalle said, "Labor must temper its demands according to the economic necessities of today."

Inflationary pressures are increasing and in times like these, DiSalle said, the best thing a strong union can do for its members is to seek wage increases that do not endanger price stability.

"It is obviously impossible to base wage policy under controls upon the strength or weakness of unions," DiSalle said at one point. This was taken among delegates to be a direct reference to a resolution offered to the convention which calls for the wage stabilization board to keep hands off contracts negotiated between unions and industries.

Manly Fleischmann, defense production administrator, said national security will be attained "if we do not take counsel from private interests who would risk the whole mobilization effort for selfish gain."

He promised, also in a dinner speech to delegates, that "if we stick to our present program, put up with minor shortages and dislocations for a brief period," the U.S. mobilization goal will be reached at an "early date."

President Truman in his letter listed four "great national objectives" for the coming "crucial" year:

Getting the defense program into high gear; helping European Allies both militarily and economically; maintaining freedom in the U.S.; and avoiding the "catastrophe of general war."

Court Clears Way For Possible Cut In Red's Bail Bond

WASHINGTON (AP)—The supreme court spoke out Monday against America adopting "principles of totalitarianism" and cleared the way for a possible reduction of the $50,000 bonds set for 12 persons accused of Communist activity.

The 12 are in jail at Los Angeles, for lack of the required bond. They include William Schneiderman, referred to in court records as the acting head of the Communist party in this country.

Chief Justice Vinson, speaking for the supreme court, ordered the case returned to the U. S. district court in California and declared that $50,000 was too much bond to ask.

Conviction on the charges, he said, could result in imprisonment of not more than five years and a fine of not more than $10,000.

Vinson said government prosecutors asked the courts to assume, "without the introduction of evidence, that each petitioner (for lower bail) is a pawn in a conspiracy and will, in obedience to a superior, flee the jurisdiction."

The high court had been reminded of the case of the four top Red leaders who jumped bail of $20,000 each in New York.

Cuban Smuggler 'Delivered' to U.S.

MIAMI, FLA. (AP)—Russian-born Jorge Gregorio Simonovich, Cuban smuggler long wanted by U.S. immigration authorities, was under arrest here Monday after an aerial delivery that sounded like a chapter from a mystery thriller.

Border patrolmen acting on an anonymous telephone tip seized Simonovich at an abandoned airfield north of Miami. He told them he had been kidnapped by three Americans in Havana and flown to the field.

Immigration authorities have tried for a long time to get him into this country for trial on three indictments charging smuggling conspiracies. The Cuban government has refused to extradite him.

New Mexico Crash Kills Korean Vet

TUCUMARI, N. M. (AP)—In blinding eastern New Mexico snow, a chartered airliner crashed and broke in two Monday, killing one of its load of 26 Korean war veterans.

Nine others, including the crew of three, were injured and all were shaken and bruised. But all safety belts held, preventing a more serious loss of life.

The dead veteran is Cpl. Donald E. Woremer of Allentown, Pa.

The accident happened on the prairie on the northeastern edge of Tucumari municipal airport.

New Inflation Getting Buried Now More Expensive

By JOE MEYER

Now it's even going to cost more to die.

The Iowa City council Monday night revised the City ordinance providing for burial charges at the city cemetery.

During consideration of the revision, City Manager Peter F. Roan explained that higher labor costs necessitated the change. Roan said that whereas the charge for interment of adults is now $10, the actual cost is more than $23.

Burial charges were $4 for children under two years, $6 for children two to 10 years and $10 for all over 10 years.

New rates are $8, $15, and $25. In addition there will be a $10 charge for use of tents, chairs and other grave-site equipment.

Roan said that the new rates will still be lower than some other Iowa cities of comparable size.

New Proceedings In answer to queries of an unidentified property owner concerning completion of the new sewer project, City Atty. Edward Lucas advised the council that the city would be obliged to begin the proceedings all over again because of legal technicality on publication.

A new resolution asking for bids on the project will be introduced at the next meeting Nov. 19.

Twice Monday night the council suspended the rules and gave the second and third readings of ordinances by title only. This permitted the officials to pass two redistricting ordinances immediately.

One ordinance changed an area south along highway 218 from park to industrial area and the other changed property west of highway 218 from Class A residential to industrial area.

Actuated Traffic Light The council adopted a resolution authorizing Roan to formally request permission from the state highway commission for an actuated traffic signal at the intersection of Church and Dubuque sts. A recent traffic count at this point revealed that a fixed time signal was not warranted.

A resolution was adopted calling for exemption of general property tax on real estate recently acquired by the city for parking lots.

The city manager informed the council that traffic officers began Monday morning to chalk tires of cars left in metered areas beyond the time limit indicated. Roan said that courtesy tickets would be issued first and then a court summons providing the warning is unheeded.

This action is in line with recommendations made to city officials by the Iowa City Chamber of Commerce traffic and parking committee.

Health Report . . .

Public Health Commissioner Dr. D. F. Fitzpatrick Monday night recommended to the city council the rewriting of the city ordinance covering sanitation in food establishments here.

After giving his semi-annual health report to the council, which acts as the board of health, Fitzpatrick said that present regulations are not strong enough to compel food establishments to observe strict sanitation rules.

Terrorists Start Underground War, Cairo Papers Say

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—Egyptian terrorists machine-gunned a British motor car Monday in one of six incidents of violence which erupted in the Suez canal zone as Cairo newspapers announced the opening of an underground "war" designed to drive the British from the disputed area.

Interior Minister Fuad Sirag El Din Pasha said at a press conference Monday night that the Anglo-Egyptian dispute was getting worse steadily. He said that in the present circumstances passive resistance to the British occupation of Suez was "better" than open warfare.

Gunmen dressed in flowing Arabian robes sprayed the British car with automatic weapons fire on the Ismailia-Fayid road in the central canal zone.

British authorities also reported that an Egyptian clerk for a British office in Suez was beaten Sunday so severely he may lose one eye. An Egyptian contractor employed by the British was attacked by an Egyptian mob at Port Fuad and fled to a British army camp for protection, and 50 Egyptians attempted to attack a Greek foreman employed by the royal air force at Fayid.

Ike Confers On Arms, Won't Discuss Politics

Harry S. Truman

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower

Possible Foes Discuss Europe

Hasn't Given His Acceptance To Any Party

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower Monday sidetracked any discussion of his political intentions "just now" and said he has never authorized any Ike-for-President boom.

The five-star general also declared he did not discuss politics—"not a bit"—during a private luncheon meeting with President Truman at Blair House Monday noon.

Later in the day, Mr. Truman, Eisenhower and the nation's top defense officials held a conference at the White House.

Press Secretary Joseph Short told newsmen the conference, lasting an hour and 20 minutes, centered on "problems of allocation and production" for the North Atlantic Treaty organization and for Eisenhower's Supreme Headquarters, Allied Powers in Europe (SHAPE).

Discuss Arming Europe

It had been generally expected that the conference would discuss means to quicken the flow of U.S. arms to Europe in order to build up a compact fighting force in western Europe ahead of schedule.

Eisenhower appeared cheerful but tired as he talked with newsmen at his hotel Monday night after an exhausting nine-hour round of talks at the Pentagon, the White House and Blair House.

Asked if the subject of politics had come up in his talks with Mr. Truman, the general replied, "No, sir."

1952 Plans Not Known

Sharply intensifying the mystery over what plans he may have for the 1952 presidential race, Eisenhower held fast to his original statement that he came back simply to discuss arms problems in Europe.

Like Eisenhower, the White House threw a damper on any political implications connected with his visit.

Newsmen asked Short whether the visit had any bearing on the possibility that Eisenhower might give up his post as supreme commander in Europe "sometime in the future."

"It certainly did not," Short said emphatically.

Didn't Authorize Boom

Eisenhower said earlier he had never given anyone any authority or go-ahead to undertake political activity in his behalf.

A Newsmen asked, "If anyone tries to talk politics with you while you are here, will you let them?"

"Not just now," the general replied crisply.

Eisenhower said, however, he would be glad to see Sen. James H. Duff (R-Pa.), who has been booming the general for the Republican presidential nomination.

Marriage for Male's

By LEE GARNER
If we can believe everything women with soggy handkerchiefs tell us between sniffles, there is nothing like ceremonies of holy matrimony for producing bliss and eternal happiness, but they have forgotten to count divorces.
Most betrothals we have seen reported in society pages seem to be nothing more than highly one-sided affairs in which an over-dressed woman and a presumably nude man swap rings for better or worse, usually one carat in diamonds for plain gold.
FROM ALL WE CAN MAKE out from these ecstatic write-ups about the bride, we have to assume that the groom is either naked or else did not wear anything worth talking about. This reporting technique is more appropriate to divorcees where a man is stripped bare and really doesn't have anything left to write home about.
Let us clean up our wedding ceremonies. Let us make the groom decent, even at the expenses of making things dull for the invited guests, and get some clothes on him. From now on, we expect accounts of blessed unions to read like this:

THE SACRAMENT OF HOLY matrimony was celebrated Saturday morning at the Reunited Brethren of Lately Ascended Saints church in this city when Mr. Logdon Yurko Dryskillet received a lovely diamond-studded ring ceremony.
The groom, son of A. J. Dryskillet and the former Stellamae Slimpf is northeastern Alaska traveling recruiting officer of the United States army, a position he volunteered for when he became engaged to the betrothed.
MR. DRYSKILLET MADE A striking appearance in his father's ballerina cut morning coat and striped hobble leg trousers.
The coat was charmingly restyled with deeply rolled lapels, illusion shoulders and four velvet covered buttons on the sleeves which draped in a peek-a-boo fashion over the groom's fingertips.
The trousers fell from a gathered waist and brilliant ultramarine suspenders to mid-ankle length, suggestively revealing muted-toned clocked lisle socks and a pair of shoes, also his father's, in keeping with an old family custom.
MR. DRYSKILLET WORE A diagonal twist silk tie, half lined with nylon and linen botazine, draped casually over a coffee-dotted white pique shirt which veiled a finely knitted T-shirt of severe military cut.
The delicate green tint of the entire ensemble was blended perfectly with complimentary colors in the groom's pocket handkerchief and around the eyes.
The bride, who was present, carried a pansy.

Delegates Open Mental Health Meeting Here

A person's life must be satisfying to himself and to his community, and he should be working near the upper limits of his abilities.
These principles of mental health were offered Monday at a five-day mental health workshop on the SUJ campus by Dr. Frank E. Coburn, associate professor of psychiatry in the college of medicine.
The workshop is sponsored by the Iowa society for mental health and the Iowa mental health authority in cooperation with the university. It is designed to train community leaders in mental hygiene.
Twenty-five persons representing approximately 20 Iowa communities are registered for the workshop, which will end Friday.
Coburn said psychological forces working within a person and influencing his behavior must be constructively worked out into the open. For if these forces are blocked, they may result in severe mental strains that cause him to react in abnormal ways.
In explaining the workshop program, Prof. Ralph H. Ojemann, of the child welfare research station said the task of the mental health worker in the community is really two-fold.
Two-Fold Job
The worker must help care for those in the community who actually have breakdowns. The worker must eliminate wherever possible the influences producing breakdowns.
He compared the task to medical treatment. Thus, if a man becomes ill with typhoid fever, he is first cured, then the cause of his illness, probably contaminated water, is removed.
Among topics to be studied at the workshop are causes of emotional difficulties and forces in the community that produce difficulties, methods of studying a community, how a mental health center works, how public understanding and appreciation of the place of a mental health center is developed, and how the press and radio can aid in mental health programs.

ACCIDENTS

Eleven automobile accidents occurred in Iowa City within 12 hours last Saturday. Police blamed snow, icy streets and the football traffic for most of them.

The first two happened before the snow fell. Henry Morrou, 303 Ellis ave., told police he fell asleep at the wheel before his car struck a parked car owned by Arthur Carroll, 133 Temple park, at 4:10 a.m. Morrou said he left a note in the Carroll car explaining what happened. Damage was estimated at $150 by Morrou and $100 by Carroll.

At 8 a.m. cars driven by Charles Hand, 1006 Finkbine park, and Alson Braley, 720 McClean st., collided at Newton road and Wolf ave. Hand estimated damage at $125. Braley offered no estimate.

At 11 a.m., after snow began falling, cars driven by Ann Morris of Keokuk, and Charles Flagle, Riverside, collided on Burlington st. west of Madison st., causing estimated damages of $25 and $75 to the two cars, respectively.

A half hour later, about $500 in damages resulted from an accident in which a car driven by Mrs. Ira Kyhl, Sabula, struck a parked car owned by Kenneth Plattner, 821 N. Dodge st. He estimated damage at $200 and Mrs. Kyhl at $300.

George Caudill, 1031 Finkbine park and Al Mauer, Forest View trailer park, were involved in an

25 Iowans Enrolled In SUJ's 40-Hour Civil Defense Class

Twenty-five Iowans registered Monday for the fourth course in civil defense training to be conducted at SUJ. The course ends Friday.

After registration and orientation, the class attended lectures and saw training films on the effects of "natural" disasters such as fire, flood and storm, and the effects of conventional bombs, biological warfare, chemical warfare and atomic warfare.

The program today includes instruction on civil defense organization, training of personnel, communications and control of fire.

Highlight of the 40-hour course will be a field demonstration Friday during which the defense "students" will restore vital services to an area under conditions simulating the aftermath of an atomic bombing.

The course will end Friday when certificates of graduation will be presented to those who attended and completed the course.

accident at 11:55 a.m. on Jefferson st. near Capitol st. Damage estimates were about $50 by Mauer and $5 by Caudill.

At noon a car driven by Edward Mitchell, 437 Riverdale, suffered damage estimated at about $100 and J. L. Coon, 1106 Dodge st., suffered damage at $20 when their cars collided at Iowa ave. and Dubuque st.

At 12:10 p.m. cars driven by Allen Dolezal, 720 N. Dubuque st., and Dr. H. W. Bleick, Mapleton, collided at Melrose ave. and Melrose court, causing $200 damage to the Dolezal car and $25 to the Bleick car.

Jane Gierke, Davenport, and John Bane, 822 Rider st., were involved in an accident at 1:05 p.m. at Bloomington and Linn sts. Bane did not report a damage estimate, but $25 was listed for the Gierke car.

At 1:30 p.m. a parked car owned by Charles Tucker, 109 Westlawn park was struck by a car driven by Ned Newton, Anchorage, Alaska, in front of the Tucker residence. Neither car owner estimated damages.

Paul Hershberger, R.R. 3, reported $90 damage to his car when he was involved in an accident at 2:30 p.m. His report did not include any other drivers, nor did any other driver submit a report.

Accident No. 11, at 4:30 p.m., involved cars driven by Carl Sunde, Forest City, and Charles Dean, Mt. Vernon, at Capitol and Market sts. Damages were estimated as $250 to Sunde's car and $150 to Dean's.

Woodward's wife, Mayella, 27, and his daughter Sharon Kay, 4, were slightly hurt in the accident and Dale Oren Kendall, 19, of Hocking, Minn., driver of one of the other vehicles, suffered a broken arm and other injuries.

Authorities who investigated said Woodward's car and Kendall's panel truck apparently both sideswiped an oncoming truck driven by Harold Ernest Hand, 41, of Marion.

The Molting Tailfeathers

Interlandi's "molting tailfeather," published in Saturday's Daily Iowan, reveals a hidden truth about Iowa's pep club.

Friday night's pep rally, organized and directed by the Tailfeathers "fizzled out" just as the Tailfeather's pep (?) club seems to be doing.

Only about six people were at the rally beside the cheerleaders and band members. Only two of the six cheerleaders were present.

That would seem to indicate that only 1 out of every 1,000 students was there of his own free will.

However, further research shows that four of the fans were visitors on the Iowa campus for Dad's day weekend. What an opinion they must have of SUJ! Saturday, the Iowa stadium was quiet as a falling feather for long periods of time. The students and fans didn't even show signs of indignation when the Iowa team was playing lousy football.

When the team rallied during

U.S. 'Peace Offensive' Set for U.N. Meeting

By J.M. ROBERTS JR.
Associated Press News Analyst

The United States and her allies are preparing to launch a "peace counter-offensive" against Russia as the United Nations general assembly gets under way in Paris.

France's Foreign Minister Schuman says the Allied proposals will "make a sensation." But advance notices from Paris and Washington suggest that, again, they will be more in the nature of a reply to Russia's tactics than a new approach.

The United States is expected to propose a world-wide census of arms, including atomic weapons, as a preliminary to some sort of disarmament plan. She is also expected to support subcommittee proposals for a merger of the UN committees which have been studying the possibilities of a conventional arms agreement, on the one hand, and atomic control on the other.

Actually, Russia has proposed a census and disarmament several times—as a part of her peace offensive and always without agreeing to methods of verification and inspection which would make them acceptable to the Western powers.

Now the West is planning to nail down the fact that Russia, without putting aside any of her imperialistic aims, is merely playing games with the world's hopes for peace.

President Truman is preparing to fire the opening gun of the counter-offensive Wednesday, and is expected to be followed Thursday by Secretary Acheson with proposals before the UN.

One U.S. proposal which may produce more than a mere propaganda effect is expected to involve a tightening of the bonds, within the UN organization, of the various regional groupings for mutual defense. This may include some UN program for retaliation against aggression and a new drive for es-the fourth quarter, most broke out to cheer while the play was active. But between plays, they settled back in their blankets like satisfied babies.

One group has been given the responsibility of rousing the Iowa spirit. That group, made up of about 300 signed members, gets favored seats on the 50-yard line.

And yet, the Tailfeathers were as lethargic as the rest of SUJ's students. They seem to have molting so much that Iowa's spirit has come tumbling to the earth.

If one third of their group would show complete "Iowa's the BEST school" spirit, they would be far more effective.

Such a small enthusiastic group might be the small stone which is needed to set off an avalanche of Iowa spirit.

Sure, it's a lot of work but a group is stronger when its members are active and succeed in the enormous tasks.

Come on Tailfeathers. The molting seasons passed. It's time to grow some new feathers.

by the Iowa Memorial Union.

Everything is ready for the great exodus from the tin roofs and mud flats but it seems some minor hardware, door knobs, locks, etc. are still marooning the department on the wind swept Iowa river bank.

All of which moves us to say (with apologies to Ben Franklin):

Because of a lock an office was lost; because of an office a professor was lost; because of a professor a class was lost; because of a class a student was lost; because of a student a diploma was lost and all because of a lock.

establishment of a true international military force.

A difficulty has been to define aggression. The Yugoslavs came up with one plan. It would require any nation involved in a military incident to announce within 24 hours its readiness for a cease-fire and UN intervention. The party failing to do so would be considered an aggressor.

This was considered too rigid, possibly delaying UN action and giving the aggressor time to over-run his victim.

The search for some formula, however, seems likely to be renewed.

As for the main "peace counter-offensive," it seems likely to blow itself out in the first few days of the session, as have the Russian moves of this type in the past.

CIO Will Disregard DiSalle's Request for Direct Wage Controls

NEW YORK — Price Stabilizer Michael V. DiSalle asked labor Monday night to "temper demands" for more pay but the CIO served notice that it would fight for higher wages and liberal government rules on wage stabilization.

DiSalle told the 13th annual CIO convention that a "strong and anti-inflation program" needs "a strong program of direct wage controls."

DiSalle addressed a banquet shortly after the convention resolutions committee made public a sharply-worded criticism of the wage stabilization board and warned that the CIO "will never submit to discriminatory wage freezes or unfair policies of any other kind."

Assistant Manager R. W. Hyde said he asked the young man to go into an interview booth. He said the bandit then drew a gun and forced him to clear out the cash drawer.

Hyde said the man told him that was not enough and forced him to take additional money from a cash box and put it into a coin deposit bag.

Lone Bandit Robs Des Moines Office

DES MOINES — An armed bandit held up the Aetna Finance company office here Monday and escaped with $1,338.50.

Police said the unmasked man went to the upstairs office of the company in downtown Des Moines and posed as a customer seeking a car loan.

Hyde said the man told him that was not enough and forced him to take additional money from a cash box and put it into a coin deposit bag.

25 Iowans Enrolled In SUJ's 40-Hour Civil Defense Class

Twenty-five Iowans registered Monday for the fourth course in civil defense training to be conducted at SUJ. The course ends Friday.

After registration and orientation, the class attended lectures and saw training films on the effects of "natural" disasters such as fire, flood and storm, and the effects of conventional bombs, biological warfare, chemical warfare and atomic warfare.

The program today includes instruction on civil defense organization, training of personnel, communications and control of fire.

Highlight of the 40-hour course will be a field demonstration Friday during which the defense "students" will restore vital services to an area under conditions simulating the aftermath of an atomic bombing.

The course will end Friday when certificates of graduation will be presented to those who attended and completed the course.

Truman Names Gen. Sheperd Marine Head

WASHINGTON (AP)—Lt. Gen. Lemuel C. Sheperd Jr., who has seen service all over the world, Monday was named boss of the marines.

President Truman announced the appointment, effective Jan. 1. At that time the present marine commander, Gen. Clifton Cates, will complete his 4-year tour of duty.

Sheperd, 55, will be raised to the rank of a four-star general. He is now commanding general of the Pacific fleet marine force at Pearl Harbor.

Ever since his graduation from Virginia Military Institute, Sheperd has been a marine.

Sheperd began active duty in 1917 as a second lieutenant at Fort Royal, S.C.

He sailed for France, and a year later became a member of the fifth marine regiment.

Wounded twice at Belleau Wood, he went back into action again in the St. Mihiel and Meuse-Argonne offensives — and was wounded once more.

In World War II, Sheperd was assistant commander of the first marine division during the campaign of New Britain. He led the marines who captured Guam and later commanded the sixth division on Okinawa.

During the present campaign in Korea, Sheperd participated in the on the spot planning for the Chosin reservoir and later for the withdrawal of the marines from the same area early last winter.

Sheperd was born in Norfolk, Va., and now makes his home in Honolulu. His appointment will be subject to senate confirmation after it reconvenes in January.

Neither the marine corps nor Cates has announced what his new job will be. But he is fairly certain to lose one of the four stars he now wears. The marine corps normally is permitted only one full general.

Opera Star Gives Wagner Program Here Wednesday

Astrid Varnay, dramatic soprano, will present selections from her repertoire of Wagnerian operatic music at 8 p.m. Wednesday in Macbride auditorium.

Miss Varnay has been with the Metropolitan opera in New York city for the last eight years. She was the youngest to sing Wagner's "Isolde and Bruennhilde" there.

She was born in Stockholm, Sweden and trained in the United States. Her parents were associated with the Swedish and Norwegian Royal opera houses.

Miss Varnay has made appearances in Argentina, Brazil, England and the U. S.

She is Mrs. Herman Weigert in private life. Her husband will be with her as her accompanist, coach and personal manager.

2 SUI Professors Will Entertain Club

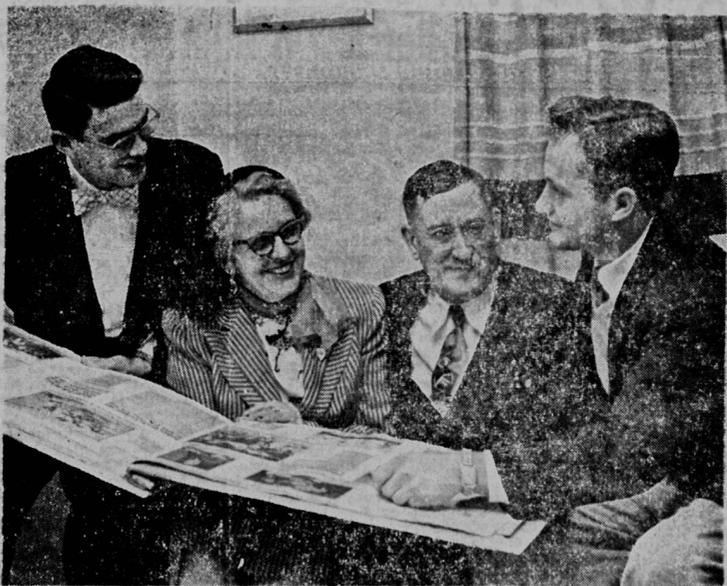

Prof. Paul Simms and Herald Stark of the music department will perform at the Music Study club at 2 p.m. today at the home of Mrs. Robert Caldwell, 925 Kirkwood ave.

Simms will play Haydn's "Sonata in E Flat," the "Andante Spianato" and Chopin's "Grand Polonaise."

Stark will sing "Oh, Sleep," from Semele, by Handel; "An Chloe," by Mozart; "Die Mainacht" and "Der Schmied," by Brahms; "At Parting," by Hadley; "The Ash Grove," arranged by Britten; "Yarmouth Fair" by Warlock, and "Love Went Riding" by Bridge. Simms will accompany him.

Mrs. H. J. Thornton will relate current events in music to the group.

Lt. Gov. Nicholas Entertained by Fraternity

Lt. Gov. WILLIAM H. NICHOLAS, (second from right), and Mrs. Nicholas included the Phi Epsilon Pi fraternity house on their schedule in a visit to the SUI campus Saturday. After the Nicholases witnessed the Iowa-Minnesota game, Vic Frumkin, (right), C4, Des Moines, chapter president, and Jim Sherman, C3, Sioux City, vice-president, showed the state official and his wife the fraternity's scrapbook. Nicholas has recently announced his candidacy for the Iowa Republican gubernatorial nomination.

Hancher to Accompany U.S.S. Iowa on Cruise

President Virgil M. Hancher will be among the 14 Iowans aboard the battleship Iowa when it makes a shakedown cruise from Long Beach, Calif., to Pearl Harbor, starting Nov. 19.

Also included among the guests is William J. Petersen, superintendent of the Iowa State Historical Society.

The navy announced that Gov. William S. Beardsley had declined an invitation to make the cruise because of previous commitments.

The cruise schedule, according to the eleventh naval district, calls for the ship to leave Long Beach Nov. 19 and to arrive at Pearl Harbor Nov. 24. Training will be conducted during the cruise.

The battleship Iowa was put in mothballs after World War II and recommissioned at San Francisco last Aug. 25. The ship has made a few trial runs since then, but the trip to Pearl Harbor will be its first major cruise.

Iowans making the cruise are scheduled to fly from Des Moines to Long Beach Nov. 18 aboard a navy transport plane. At Hawaii the group will spend several days ashore and then fly back to San Francisco on the Mars, large navy amphibian, about Nov. 29. They are scheduled to return to Des Moines by air Nov. 30.

In addition to President Hancher and Petersen, the navy said others accepting invitations for the cruise are: Mayor A. B. Chambers, Des Moines; Fred L. Maytag, president of the Maytag Company, Newton; Col. B. J. Palmer, Davenport; Ralph Evans, Des Moines; Dr. Samuel N. Stevens, president of Grinnell college.

Craig R. Sheaffer of the Sheaffer Pen Co., For Madison; Rudolph W. Weitz, Des Moines contractor; E. T. Meredith Jr., Meredith Publishing Company, Des Moines; W. Earl Hall, editor of the Mason City Globe-Gazette; W. Harold Brenton, Des Moines banker; Al Effner, Ottumwa Daily Courier, and F. W. Hubbell, Des Moines insurance executive.

Aircraft Plant Blast Kills 4

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Four men were reported killed and a dozen injured Monday in an explosion that tore the roof from a Douglas Aircraft company branch plant in southeast Los Angeles.

Sheriff's Capt. Fred England said a preliminary check showed two died in the blast and two others died en route to a hospital.

The injured were taken to Maywood hospital not far from the auxiliary plant in suburban Cudahy. Four ambulances relayed those hurt to the hospital where the number of injured was "more than nine."

A company spokesman said the blast was in an oven used for baking insulating panels for radar installations. A similar explosion occurred in the plant Oct. 2, and one man was injured.

The company identified three who died in the blast as Arthur Frost, chief maintenance engineer of the main Douglas plant at Santa Monica, James B. McNairy of Los Angeles, a Douglas engineer, and Roy S. Garriss, a Douglas employe of Redondo Beach.

New Phone Directory To Come Out Dec. 1

Roy A. Williams, manager of the Northwestern Bell Telephone company, said Monday that the new Iowa City telephone directory is scheduled to be distributed about Dec. 1.

The new directory will be slightly larger than the one now in use, he said. A total of 17,500 copies will be printed.

3 Fireworks Victims' Conditions 'Improved'

Conditions of the three Oxford youths injured in a fireworks blast Oct. 31 were reported "improved" by hospital authorities Monday.

John Eckerman, 21, Cosgrove, and Clarence Zimmerman, 20, Oxford, were in "good" condition. Earl E. Goss, 19, Oxford was listed in "fair" condition.

Mutual Admiration—

There's a new, or at least reactivated mutual admiration society in Iowa City these days and it's this corner's hope that it continues to function for a long time.

Parties to the pact are Iowa's football team and Iowa's fans, both of whom have had their doubtful moments this year.

It's no secret, you know, that a good many Hawkeye students, alumni and people of the state were thoroughly soured on Iowa's showing this season.

HOUG PHILLIPS

And it's just as certain that Iowa's players couldn't have been too enamored with the sorry displays of the student body whose pathetic turnouts at pep rallies and listless cheering at games did nothing to distinguish itself. But, as we say, things are happier today, thanks to the Hawks' magnificent comeback in tying Minnesota, 20-20, last Saturday.

As far as the fans are concerned those final 11 minutes in the freezing cold when the fired up Hawkeyes smashed through for three touchdowns went a long way to offset previous sins.

But it wasn't only the team which atoned itself if you'll go by the word of John Townner, Iowa's senior center.

"You press fellows just have to give the crowd credit for helping us out there Saturday," said Townner at Monday's practice.

"And I'm not saying that because it sounds good. I really mean it. You have no idea how a crowd's enthusiasm can pick a team up. You can't tell exactly what they're yelling but you can sense the excitement."

"Anyway, the whole squad wants to thank the student body and hopes they keep it up in the future."

Townner's explanation for the Hawks' sudden surge is a new and pleasing one, but it must share billing with a few dozen other theories that have been advanced on why Iowa, so lifeless for fully three quarters, should suddenly flare up for its finest effort.

In fact, to be perfectly frank, Saturday's fourth quarter was about the first time the Hawks showed any real fire and enthusiasm during the whole season, something which the players themselves will be the first to admit.

"That's one of those things you just can't explain," said Townner. "The fellows have realized that they didn't have too much fire, but we just never seemed to get the spark to get going like we did Saturday."

"I will say this, though. We've gotten an awful lot of bad breaks this season. Like having that first touchdown called back against Ohio State. Something like that really takes it out of you."

Spark Came at Right Time

Whatever the spark may have been against Minnesota, it couldn't have come at a better time, for seldom has an Iowa team looked worse than for the first three quarters against the Gophers.

Minnesota writers in the press box were simply amazed at the shoddy tackling and blocking Iowa's highly touted line was turning in. And except for Bill Reichardt's thundering runs, they were yawning at the Hawks' meager offensive gestures.

It may or may not be significant that Iowa started clicking under the impetus of its younger members who, as a group, acquitted themselves nobly.

After Reichardt, the bows must go to Bill Fenton and Andy Houg sophomore defensive terrors at end; Binkley Broeder and Bobby Stearnes, a pair of freshman backs of undisputed class, and sophomore Bob Phillips, who held up the secondary in the first half.

Houg and Fenton, for the day at least, replaced the veterans Don Swartzendruber and Arnie Caplan on defense, and their work was outstanding. Houg, a 190 pounder from St. Ansgar has come on rapidly in the past few weeks and will be hard to keep out of there from here on in.

Neither Stearnes nor Broeder did anything spectacular but both continued to make fine impressions as to their future value.

Phillips, a former star at Franklin of Cedar Rapids, may have won a starting defensive job at halfback by his crisp tackling.

Only last week Bud Wilkinson of Oklahoma remarked that it takes the contagious spirit of freshmen and sophomores to bolster a team. This apparently, was a fine example of that.

It's going to take more than spirit and determination for Iowa to win any of its remaining games, but if the Hawks show the same kind of fight they put up late Saturday afternoon, everyone here will be satisfied, regardless of the results. And that's not too much to ask, is it?

Bums Rehired Dressen For 1952 Season

BROOKLYN (P)—Chuck Dressen was rehired Monday to manage the Brooklyn Dodgers who blew a 13½ game lead and the National league pennant in the 1951 season.

The new term will be for one year, like the first, with the official papers to be signed when Dressen comes east from his Los Angeles home. Salary is reported around $30,000.

Walter O'Malley, Dodger president, told a press conference Dressen will be back. It came as no surprise for the story had been bouncing around town ever since the World Series. In fact, Jackie Robinson, the Brooklyn second baseman, let the cat out of the bag Friday at Los Angeles when he said the players were told Dressen would return.

Fan indignation at seeing a World Series snatched from their grasp by Bobby Thomson's home run in the final playoff game with New York brought a stream of letters to Dodger offices.

Grange Defends Aid to Athletes

CHICAGO (P)—Red Grange, Illinois' one-time "galloping ghost," Monday said he believed colleges should provide football players with tuition, board and room and "if somebody wants to do something extra, it's okay."

Grange told the Herald-American a quarterback club that "99.9" per cent of the colleges operate their football programs legitimately. He defended football scholarships as a means of providing "thousands and thousands" of lads with an education they otherwise would never get.

"Everytime I open a magazine now, I read that there's so much wrong with football," said Grange. "There's nothing wrong with football. It gives millions of people entertainment every weekend. There may be some over enthusiasm. My only gripe is that the over-enthusiasm didn't start 25 years ago. I could have used an automobile."

The camera was focused on Reichardt and Jim Sangster who was holding and did not show the center of the line where it was contended by some that Robinson had crashed through before the snap.

Iowa's squad will leave for Champaign by chartered bus Friday at 8:30 a.m. and arrive in Bloomington, the Friday night stopover, between 3 and 4 p.m. Rogers hotel will be headquarters. The 50-mile trip to Champaign will be made Saturday morning with a police escort.

Illini Tackle Injured, May Miss Iowa Game

CHAMPAIGN, ILL. (P)—Undeclared Illinois drilled on a snow-laden practice field Monday as preparations began for Iowa's invasion Saturday.

Only Illini casualty in the 7-0 Illini triumph over Michigan was freshman tackle, Don Tate, who sprained an ankle and may be replaced by Bob Weddell against Iowa.

FESLER IRKED

MINNEAPOLIS (P)—Coach Wes Fesler, irked because his Minnesota football team "tied a game we had in the bag against Iowa," planned Monday to make more changes in his well-shuffled defensive unit.

Bright's College Career Ended After Jaw Is Injured Again

DES MOINES (P)—Johnny Bright, the nation's all-time leading collegiate football ground gainer, reluctantly agreed to follow a doctor's suggestion Monday and play no more college football.

Dr. A. M. Maris, oral surgeon, examined the dusky Drake university senior Monday and discovered his broken jaw had been knocked out of position, despite extra wiring, in last Saturday's game. Maris suggested that Bright sit out the remaining Drake game against Wichita next Saturday and Bright reluctantly agreed.

Bright, who has led the nation in offense since he first stepped onto a college football field in 1949, suffered a broken jaw in the Drake-Oklahoma A and M game Oct. 20. He missed most of that game and sat out the traditional Iowa State-Drake game the following week.

Wearing a special protective mask over his wired jaw, the flashy left halfback, 10 pounds under his regular weight of 210 pounds because of a liquid diet, returned to the gridiron last Saturday and ran and passed for 204 yards against the Great Lakes Naval station. Drake won 35 to 20, ending a six-game unbeaten streak established by the Sailors.

Bright said he wasn't sure when his jaw was re-injured, but said he felt some pain once briefly early in the game. He accounted for three of the Drake touchdowns, on two passes and an 11-yard run.

Doctors said Bright could play in the Iowa State game for limited periods, but his mother called Coach Warren Gaer and asked that he not be allowed to play so soon after the injury.

Passed Justice
Bright leaves the college football scene with a total of 5,903 yards gained in three years. Early this year he passed the all-time mark set by Charlie (Choo-Choo) Justice of North Carolina in four years.

Bright has averaged 236.1 yards a game in 25 games. He gained a total of 3,134 yards rushing for an average of 6.1 yards for each of the 513 times he carried the ball.

Iowa Star Named 'Back of the Week'

Bill Reichardt, Iowa's stellar fullback and all-American candidate, has been named midwest "back of the week" by the United Press, it was learned here Monday.

The official UP release will come later this week to papers throughout the country. Reichardt earned the honor by smashing through Minnesota for 166 yards on 31 tries, including a 37-yard touchdown run. He also scored on a short plunge.

In the last nine minutes against the Gophers, Reichardt carried eight times for 88 yards.

Reichardt's performance gave him the lead in the Big Ten rushing race, according to unofficial figures. He now has 476 yards in four games to 448 by Allan Ameche, Wisconsin's freshman star.

Iowa Harriers Fall To Gophers, 26-29

Minnesota defeated the Iowa cross country team, 26-29, on a snow swept four-mile course here Saturday morning. It was the Hawkeyes' first defeat in three dual meets.

Iowa's Rich Ferguson was the first place man with a time of 20:58.6, followed by Bill Torp of Minnesota, timed in 21:02. The Gophers won the meet by placing fourth, fifth, and sixth, showing good team balance.

Kinnick, Slater Receive Honor

Duke Slater and Nile Kinnick, former Iowa greats, have been elected to the newly organized Football Hall of Fame at Rutgers university in New Brunswick, N.J.

Howard Jones, who coached the 1921 Hawkeye Big Ten champions, was also named to the Hall of Fame.

Only three other schools in addition to Iowa placed more than one man in the Hall of Fame.

The others were Yale with four, Notre Dame and Michigan. Slater, now a judge in Chicago, was an all-American tackle on the 1921 team while Kinnick was an all-American halfback and leader of the 1939 Ironmen.

Lutheran Students Plan Meeting Here

About 100 representatives of 10 Iowa colleges will attend the Lutheran Student association regional convention here Friday and Saturday.

Duane Mortensen, C4, Royal, regional president, said delegates are expected from Iowa State, Iowa State Teachers, Coe, Luther, Wartburg, Waldorf, and Morning-side colleges, Des Moines and Dubuque area LSA's and SU's.

Speakers will include Herluf Jensen, Des Moines, national president of the Lutheran Student Association of America, and Dr. William Hulme, Waverly, chaplain of Wartburg college.

Highlights of the convention will be a Saturday evening banquet and an early Sunday morning communion service for delegates and all Lutheran students on the SU campus.

The convention will open 6 p.m. Friday with registration at the Lutheran Student house, 122 E. Church st. The official welcome will be in First English Lutheran church at 8 p.m. at which Jensen and Phillip Bigelow, A4, Council Bluffs, will speak. Recreation is planned for 9 p.m. and evening devotions at 10 p.m.

Saturday's program will include matins service at 8:30 a.m. in Zion Lutheran church, to be followed by Bible study led by the Rev. A. C. Proehl, pastor.

Special interest group studies, one of which will discuss attendance at the Hannover youth conference to be sponsored by the Lutheran World federation in Germany next summer, are scheduled later in the morning.

The banquet will be at 8:30 p.m. in First English Lutheran church with Hulme as speaker.

The Rev. George T. L. Jacobsen, First English Lutheran church will preach the sermon at the 8 a.m. Sunday communion service. Officers will be installed at this

2 Clinton Youths Charged with Fire In Hotel Room Here

Juvenile court charges of delinquency will probably be filed against two Clinton youths accused of attempting to start a fire in an Iowa City hotel Sunday, Detective Harland Sprinkle said Monday.

The boys, 14 and 15, were picked up by police in Cedar Rapids Sunday after officers reported they started a small fire in the Campus hotel, 25 E. Washington st.

Police said a maid at the hotel told them she smelled smoke in the boys' room after they checked out about 10:30 a.m. Sunday. A glass of lighter fluid was found on fire in the room, but only slight damage resulted.

Sprinkle said the boys were released to their parents, who went to Cedar Rapids from Clinton to get them. He said that the youths were apprehended shortly after noon, after Iowa City police radioed to Cedar Rapids police that the boys were believed headed there.

Tuffy Lives Up to His Name

Fire Damage at Market Mounts Above $30,000

Clean-up workers and inventory checkers were busy Monday attempting to determine the extent of damages to Buehler Bros. meat market and adjoining establishments after the fire which broke out Saturday morning.

Harland E. Colson, manager of Buehler Bros., 123 S. Clinton sts., said he believed damages to that store would amount to more than $30,000. However, damage caused by smoke and water in nearby buildings has not yet been determined.

Firemen said it was the most damaging blaze in four years in Iowa City.

Water in Basement
Alden's Appliance store, 117 S. Clinton st., said Monday that inventory was being taken to determine damage caused by the 18 inches of water in its basement.

Store officials said a number of new appliances stored in the basement were covered by insurance.

The Hawks Nest tavern, 125 S. Clinton st., was closed Monday. Manager Dale Michel said the furnace was out of order due to water damage, but that a temporary oil heating unit was being installed so that the tavern might open Monday night.

Old Bar Damaged
Paul Kennedy, manager of the Ye Cozy tavern, 119 S. Clinton st., said water damaged an old bar stored in the basement.

Some persons who live in apartments above the establishments had moved back in Monday. They were roused by smoke about 7:15 a.m. Saturday when the fire broke out.

Fire Chief Al Dolezal said Monday that the exact cause of the blaze had not been determined. He said it reportedly began when an employe of Buehler Bros. attempted to change a fuse in the basement.

Two firemen overcome by smoke while fighting the fire were back at work Sunday. They were Lester Rogers, 1502 Yewell st., and Robert Hein, 1153 Hotz ave. They were treated at Mercy hospital and released Saturday.

Drivers Put Out SUI Truck Fire

Three Eldon Miller, Inc., truck drivers helped extinguish a fire on an SUI truck Saturday morning when all of the city's fire equipment was in use at the Buehler Bros. fire.

A gust of wind apparently carried some burning trash against the truck, starting it on fire.

PORTRAIT of the Younger Generation

Why haven't we heard from today's youth?

IN TIME, this week, appears "The Younger Generation"... a major report on the nation's silent, cryptic youth. The following are excerpts:

Youth today is waiting for the hand of fate to fall on its shoulders, meanwhile working fairly hard and saying almost nothing. The most startling fact about the younger generation is its silence... It does not issue manifestos, make speeches or carry posters. It has been called the "Silent Generation."

But what does the silence mean? What, if anything, does it hide? Or are youth's elders merely hard of hearing?

But youth is taking its upsetting uncertainties with extraordinary calm. When the U. S. began to realize how deeply it had committed itself in Korea, youngsters of draft age had a bad case of jitters; but all reports agree that they have since settled down to studying or working for as long as they can. The majority seem to think that war with Russia is inevitable sooner or later, but they feel that they will survive it.

Hardly anyone wants to go into the Army; there is little enthusiasm for the military life, no enthusiasm for war. Youngsters do not talk like heroes; they admit freely that they will try to stay out of the draft as long as they can. But there is none of the systematized and sentimentalized antiwar feeling of the '20s. Pacifism has been almost nonexistent since World War II; so are Oxford Oaths.

But youth's ambitions have shrunk. Few youngsters today want to mine diamonds in South Africa, ranch in Paraguay, climb Mount Everest, find a cure for cancer, sail around the world, or build an industrial empire. Some would like to own a small, independent business, but most want a good job with a big firm, and with it, a kind of suburban idyll.

The younger generation can still raise hell. The significant thing is not that it does, but how it goes about doing it. Most of today's youngsters never seem to lose their heads; even when they let themselves go, an alarm clock seems to be ticking away at the back of their minds; it goes off sooner or later, and sends them back to school, to work, or to war.

The younger generation seems to drink less. "There is nothing glorious or inglorious any more about getting stewed," says one college professor. Whether youth is more or less promiscuous than it used to be is a matter of disagreement.

Fact is that it is less showy about sex... As a whole, it is more sober and conservative, but in individual cases, e.g., the recent dope scandals, it makes Flaming Youth look like amateurs.

Educators across the U. S. complain that young people seem to have no militant beliefs. They do not speak out for anything. Professors who used to enjoy baiting students by outrageously praising child labor or damning Shelley now find that they cannot get a rise out of the docile note-takers in their classes.

The only two issues about which the younger generation seemed to get worked up are race relations and world government; but neither of these issues rouses anything approaching an absorbing faith.

Many students and teachers blame this lack of conviction on fear—the fear of being tagged "subversive." Today's generation, either through fear, passivity or conviction, is ready to conform.

But God (whoever or whatever they understand by that word) has once more become a factor in the younger generation's thoughts. The old argument of religion v. science is subsiding; a system which does not make room for both makes little sense to today's younger generation. It is no longer shockingly unfashionable to discuss God.

He is short on ideals, lacks self-reliance, is for personal security at any price. He singularly lacks flame. In spite of this, he makes a good, efficient soldier—relying on superior firepower.

The best thing that can be said for American youth, in or out of uniform, is that it has learned that it must try to make the best of a bad and difficult job, whether that job is life, war, or both. The generation which has been called the oldest young generation in the world has achieved a certain maturity.

Young people do not feel cheated. And they do not blame anyone. Before this generation, "they" were always to blame. It was a standard prewar feeling that "they" had let them down. But this generation puts the blame on life as a whole, not on parents, politicians, cartels, etc.

Says a TIME correspondent in Boston: "You cannot say of them, 'Youth Will Be Served,' because the phrase suggests a voracious striking out from security, wealth and stability. The best you can say for this younger generation is, 'Youth Will Serve.'"
