Union Denies 'High Prices'

Dr. Earl Harper, director of the Iowa Memorial Union, denied that the Union is operated as a profit organization, in answer to questions posed by the student union board.

The Associated Students of Mechanical Engineering recently inquired as to the reasons behind the $2 cost of dinners at the Union. They claimed the price of a dinner meeting held at the Union prevent many members from attending.

The minimum charges set by the Union are $1.25 for luncheon and $2 for dinner and organizations are not allowed to bring their own food.

During a discussion by Union board members on the matter, Harper answered questions concerning the Union finances.

He said the Iowa Union dining service is conducted strictly as a cost operation. "Income producing activities of the University are required by law and by regulations of the Iowa State Board of Education to be self supporting," he said.

"No subsidy from tuition, fees, appropriated monies, or general funds is available," he continued. "The budget for the Union dining service must be drawn up early in the spring for the following year and must be planned to make income equal expenses."

"Of every dollar paid for Union dining service meals, 88 cents is paid out for just two items: food and wages. The remaining 12 cents must cover all costs of equipment, heat, light, water, and the Union's share of all university dining services overhead expenses."

Asked if Union staff salaries are paid from dining service income, Harper answered, "Only salaries and wages of staff members engaged specifically in the preparation of service of food are charged to dining service income."

Although a definite service to the food program is rendered by retail help, hostesses, clerks and general administrative help, second custodians, no charge is levied against dining service income for their salaries, he said.

Harper pointed out that $1.25 for lunch and $2 for dinner of private parties is necessary because they receive the use of a private room, special menu, waiters, special tables, linen, china, glassware, cutlery, flower vases, and special advice on the menu.

"When a sharp rise in wages took effect this year together with a reduction in the number of hours of work per week, it was carefully estimated that the minimums of $1.25 and $2 would be necessary if special catering service was to be offered to the university public," Harper added.

Harper said the Iowa College Union held a meeting on the SUI campus and had a luncheon and program in one of the Union's private dining rooms.

"Each person ordered the food he desired and as much as he desired. The average check was $0.921," he said.

Dewind Shows Evidence About Larson's Office

WASHINGTON (AP) — Tax scandals investigators produced evidence Friday night that long distance phone calls were made from the office of Jess Larson, high government official, to Frank Nathan, who has been named in an alleged $500,000 shakedown plot.

Adrian Dewind, counsel for a house investigating committee, presented the evidence of calls between Larson's office and New York and Miami. He said they were charged to Larson, who is head of the general services administration, the government's "housekeeping" agency.

But Nathan, in the witness chair, swore he couldn't remember such calls. He said they might have come from an assistant to Larson.

Abraham Tettelbaum, a former attorney for Capone mobsters, has charged Nathan and another man with trying to shake him down to fix his tax troubles. He said the two claimed to be in league with a "clique" of high Washington officials. He said they mentioned a man named "Larson" as one of the clique.

Nathan in earlier testimony had denounced the shakedown story as a "filthy lie."

Crash Victim Pinned 2 Hours in Car Is In 'Fair' Condition

Jerry E. Heintze, 41, Cedar Rapids, was reported in "fair" condition Friday night at Mercy hospital, after being pinned in a wrecked automobile for nearly two hours in 16-degree weather early Friday morning.

One of the physicians attending Heintze, said the youth's vertebrae was broken and he was paralyzed from the neck down through the rest of his body.

Heintze, who was riding in a car with John S. McIntire, 42, Cedar Rapids, suffered a compound fracture of the right ankle and a severed artery when the car skidded into the path of a truck on highway 218 north of North Liberty during Thursday night's snowstorm.

Mechanics from North Liberty worked nearly two hours with an acetylene torch and jacks before freeing him. In the meantime George E. Thompson, Iowa City, applied a tourniquet in an effort to halt bleeding from the severed artery.

Patrolman J. L. Smith said Thompson's timely action in applying the tourniquet possibly saved Heintze's life.

Mother Winter Stirs Up Her Annual Frosting

MRS. NATURE THURSDAY APPLIED her annual snow-frosting to Iowa City in time for a white Christmas. Car owners awoke Thursday morning to find their vehicles snow-painted in two-tone effects and apparently heightened about 11 inches. Christmas shoppers and students broke out their varying array of winter storm-caps and boots. Some more thoughtless individuals plowed through the snow in overalls and loafers.

Murphy Considered for Truman's 'Housecleaning'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal Judge Thomas F. Murphy, who successfully prosecuted Alger Hiss for perjury, is being considered for a role in President Truman's government housecleaning campaign, the White House disclosed Friday.

Murphy was due to confer with Mr. Truman Friday but a heavy snowstorm prevented him from flying here from New York. Meanwhile, Donald S. Dawson, the President's administrative assistant, conferred with Solicitor General Philip B. Perlman on the cleanup problem.

Simultaneously, the President met with Chairman Cecil R. King

(D-Calif.) of the house ways and means subcommittee investigating federal tax scandals. King refused to comment on the conference, except to say that only he and Mr. Truman were in the room.

The meeting may have been linked with the President's plan for curbing the outside business activities of government officials, or with establishment of a special "Truman committee" to investigate corruption in government.

Details of Mr. Truman's curb plan were revealed today, but he gave the impression Thursday that he has not fully made up his mind about setting up a special "cleanup" committee or commission.

"In New York, Murphy said he had "no comment" on the White House statement. Asked about one report that he actually had been tagged for the "cleanup" post, he said:

"Well, in that case, maybe Washington better make all the announcements."

McKinney Wants Retraction from Chicago Tribune

CHICAGO (AP) — Democratic National Chairman Frank E. McKinney Friday demanded a retraction from Col. Robert R. McCormick for calling him a "crook," but the publisher's Chicago Tribune responded with an editorial labeling McKinney a "get-rich-quick boy."

The two entered the second round of a battle that began Thursday night when McKinney attacked McCormick in a Democratic Jackson day dinner speech.

Train, Bus Offices Urge Students to Make Reservations

Both the Rock Island railroad and the bus lines will provide additional transportation facilities for SUI students on Dec. 19.

The Rock Island will run a special Iowa City to Chicago Rocket leaving Iowa City 2:05 p.m., Dec. 19, and arriving in Chicago at 6:45 p.m. Advance reservations are necessary for this train.

A special train will run Jan. 2 from Chicago to Iowa City. The train will leave Chicago at 2:30 p.m., and arrive here at 8 p.m. Advance reservations are also needed for this train.

Bus lines out of Iowa City to points east, west, and south, will provide extra sections for as many students as advance ticket sales indicate will be using these buses on Dec. 19.

These additional sections will depart at the same time as the regularly scheduled buses. Students are urged to purchase their tickets early so that the lines can estimate how much added space will be required.

State Indicates It Won't Act on Tax Case Here

Henry Wormley, assistant attorney general and legal advisor for the state tax commission, said Friday that a report of unfairness and inequality in the Iowa City tax assessment system was a case for local tax officials and the local board of review.

Wormley was referring to a report filed Tuesday with Iowa City's three taxing bodies by Miss Della A. Grizel, local realtor.

Miss Grizel's report stated that the 1949 quadrennial real estate assessment was unfair to hundreds of Iowa City taxpayers and was not made in accordance with state laws.

She also said that money was now being pledged for attorney fees to carry the matter to the district court in 1953 if the next quadrennial real estate assessment was made according to present appraisal records.

Wormley said that the 1949 assessment was approved by the state tax commission.

A member of the Johnson county board of supervisors said Friday that the board had studied Miss Grizel's report but would take no immediate action.

J. E. Pechman, Iowa City board member, said that the board had no complaints on tax assessments from Iowa City taxpayers.

Earlier this week, Mayor William J. Holland said that he would call a meeting of the three taxing bodies to discuss Miss Grizel's report.

In a letter accompanying her report, Miss Grizel asked the tax officials to take some definite steps.

Doctor Is Fined For Drug Fraud

Dr. Bernice Brown, physician with University hospitals' student health department, Friday was fined $1,000 in district court on a charge of using fraud and deceit to obtain drugs.

County Atty. William Meardon said he received a letter from University hospital officials stating that Mrs. Brown, wife of Dr. Gerald F. Brown, Iowa City obstetrician and gynecologist, had been under treatment there for two months for drug addiction and had been released as cured.

Brown, faced with a similar charge, pleaded innocent Oct. 18. He is now free on $5,000 bond.

The charge against Brown is based on an investigation by a federal narcotics agent.

UWF Will Stay Out Of Discrimination, Censorship Issues

SUI's United World Federalists resolved Friday that the chapter will take no part in the controversy over alleged Daily Iowan censorship and campus discrimination.

The chapter's executive council's resolution read, in part: "UWF welcomes members of all races and creeds and is inherently opposed to any form of racial discrimination. UWF strongly supports freedom of the press and freedom of information."

"We therefore urge that every member of UWF be concerned about the Phi Gamma Nu sorority incident and take individual action in accord with the dictates of his own conscience."

However, the council took no formal stand on the issues in the name of the organization. The resolution emphasized "we regard these as serious and important issues and that our organizational silence in no way indicates lack of concern."

But as a group, the UWF reaffirmed their objective of working for limited world government, stating their belief that members should take individual stands on other issues.

David Stanley, L3, Iowa City, UWF national executive council member, commented, "Our decision would have to be the same on any other issue. UWF has always had a blanket policy against taking such stands."

UN, Reds Yield Points on Prisoner Exchange, Rotation

MUNSAN, Korea (SATURDAY) (AP) — Allied and Communist truce negotiators return to Panmunjom today amid indications of cautious compromise on two thorny issues — prisoner exchange and troop rotation.

Today's sessions were slated for 11 a.m. (8 p.m., CST, Friday). Twelve days remain to meet the agreed-upon Dec. 27 deadline for an armistice.

Friday's talks produced these two developments which could lead to some agreement:

1. An Allied spokesman said the UN delegation would be "more receptive" to discussing bulk exchange of prisoners, providing the Reds produce a "reasonably accurate" total figure of war prisoners they are believed to hold.

2. The Communist delegation gave ground on the UN desire to continue home rotation of troops during an armistice.

Busses, Trains Running Late Through Drifts

In the near-record snowfall that blanketed Iowa City and most of the Midwest Friday the local police had a relatively easy time of it.

Aside from the usual slips and slides, motorists were making an exceptionally good showing inching their way along snow-packed city streets.

By 11 p.m. police still had received no reports of major accidents.

30 Mile Winds

Winds up to 30 miles an hour piled the 12-inch snowfall into three and four foot drifts throughout the state. Buses were arriving in Iowa City an average of 40 minutes late, though some had to take at least three extra hours to battle through.

Trains came on schedule during the forenoon, but later drifting put them about an hour behind. One Crandic freight had to make three attempts before grinding up the Westlaw hill in a shower of sparks. Otherwise the service was pretty well on schedule.

Many highways surrounding the city were made hazardous by the jamming drifts although the highway commission kept clearing them with snowplows.

Highways Passable

The state highway patrol reported that roads, though slippery, were passable with chains. Traffic jams which had stalled motorists in southern Iowa and between Grinnell and Newton on highway 6 dissolved as highway patrolmen aided bogged cars.

Throughout the rest of the Midwest the massive storm felled utility lines, slowed air and train travel and closed many schools. At least 15 deaths were attributed to the weather, seven died in Indiana, three in Kansas, two in Missouri and Nebraska and one in Illinois.

Two Injured

Two men were reported critically injured in separate accidents on highway 30 near Marshalltown. West Yellowstone, Mont., recorded a low of -17, while citizens in Pierre, S. D., slogged through 26 inches of snow.

A black bear complicated a snowy traffic jam at Columbus, O., when he broke loose and roamed about for half an hour before his owner recaptured him.

A prisoner at the Clinton county jail escaped in the storm while on a snow shoveling detail.

Mayor David L. Lawrence of Pittsburgh signed an emergency snow ordinance designed to ease public transportation snarls. There was no need to invoke it, however, because only four to six inches of snow fell on the city.

From Other Colleges

ILLINOIS

A student at the University of Illinois is collecting names of world courses offered in American universities. Here are a few he has found:

Bowling Green offers college credit for "Dating."
(Editor's note: We wonder if this course includes laboratory work.)

University of Missouri has a course called "Early Morning Bird Calls." Southern Methodist offers "The Art of Casting the Dry and Wet Fly." Texas University teaches "Lariat Throwing." And at Illinois, "Backyard Sports" is offered.

MINNESOTA

Students of a University of Minnesota sociology course had to buy new textbooks recently—for the third time this quarter!

This book, written by the sociology professor himself, has been revised twice this quarter alone and 27 times since the first publication. The professor explained, "The previous edition had only 638 pages while the new edition has 649 pages, including seven additional pages of significant comment."
Price of the new book—$6.75, if you please!

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

The Los Angeles vice squad raided the Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity house at Southern California recently after receiving a telephone tip that gambling was carried on at the house.

The case was thrown out of court, however, because the annual "Monte Carlo" affair was nonprofit and an all-alumni party. One fraternity member later complained that the vice squadmen ate all the popcorn before they made the pinch.

NORTH CAROLINA

Independent students as well as those living in fraternities at the University of North Carolina will now have access to old final examinations in all business administration courses.

The faculty board introduced the new system because of protests condemning the old system for "making final exams available to students on an unequal basis." Protesters claimed that fraternity test files gave fraternity members unfair advantage.

SANTA BARBARA STATE

A Santa Barbara State college professor who recently confessed to lecturing on crime during the day and practicing it at night apparently wasn't a very good teacher. One of his former pupils was caught last week.

Robert Dunlap, 25, was taken in by police on suspicion of burglary. He said to officers, "You'll be interested to know that I was one of Dr. Gwynne Nettler's students."

Dunlap said Dr. Nettler, a sociology teacher, told his students "crime is stimulating, but don't get caught."
"I guess I just flunked the course," said the youth as policemen put him behind bars.

SOUTHERN ILLINOIS

"Man hath no greater love than his studies."
That at least may be the case with Ralph St. John, 26, sophomore at Southern Illinois university, who broke jail so he could take a physics examination recently.

St. John, who said he couldn't afford to miss the test because his grade for the quarter depended upon it, joined one other prisoner in the first jail break in the Carbondale, Ill., city jail's history. St. John hurried from the hoosegow to the campus and took the exam. Afterwards, he went back to police and gave himself up.

"I don't think I did so well on the exam," he said. "I kept worrying that the police would be popping into the classroom any minute." He paid a $20.40 fine for drunkenness and damaging the jail and was released.

PURDUE

The Interfraternity council at Purdue university has decided by an 18-15 vote to abolish the formal rushing program. Opponents of the program complained that rushees were forced to visit other houses after they had already made up their minds to pledge elsewhere. The week's expense was estimated to be $61 per rushee, which was another factor opposed.

TO THE EDITOR:

Congratulations to The Daily Iowan on your being cleared of the charges of censorship. The vote was convincing to say the least (14 to 1).

It is surprising what a couple of small pressure groups can do, but I think the student council's decision shows what the results of certain suggested polls would be.

We are also happy to see the change in the calibre of letters which The Iowan has received. It was quite a relief to read the letter from Tom Riley which had evidently received a great deal of thoughtful and realistic attention before it was committed to the editor; in contrast with some of the other hasty letters written by supposed "ideologists" who had heard the words "racial discrimination and news suppression" — shouted "who" — received the answer "fraternities, sororities and The Daily Iowan" and then immediately started writing letters denouncing fraternities, sororities and The Daily Iowan.

While it cannot be denied that many of the letters were well-meaning and contained good points decrying racial discrimination as being something we should not turn our backs on, it is just as obvious that many were written for less noble purposes or by persons who did not realize the full implications of solutions which they offered.

We hope that in the future, persons will take more factors into consideration before they send in letters so that they may be a little more cogent in the presentation of their respective views.

Once again, a vote of confidence to The Daily Iowan and their conduct in this matter.

TO THE EDITOR:

Having read the letter of one Mr. Forest Wanberg that appeared in The Daily Iowan of Dec. 13, I hasten to write this letter, asking all the readers of this newspaper not to accept the philosophy of Mr. Wanberg.

His philosophy shows immature thinking. Our present generation is the potential and prospective leaders of the world tomorrow.

If our tomorrow world will be a peaceful one that we are all now envisaging, we cannot solve its problems in the way Mr. Wanberg has suggested, i.e., a person should run away from a place because of the bad elements causing some dissatisfaction in the place, instead of sitting down with cool calculation to improve on the bad elements in order to produce satisfaction.

I do agree with Mr. Wanberg that, "There must be something desirable in this country for people are still crying to get in. Those that are here haven't flooded our ports trying to get out."

But for him to say that Mr. Efofi and others who oppose discrimination and segregation because of color, race, or religion should get out of this country is what I disagree with.

When we decry the discriminating treatments given to the Negroes or other minority groups in America, we do not have the situation in America only in our mind, but the world's situation at large.

Mr. Wanberg and others who feel as he does seem to forget that there are thousands of white Americans now in other countries of the world. In 1931, there were 126 white Americans in my country (Nigeria West Africa). In 1938, the number increased to 285 — more than 100 per cent increase. Who knows the number from 1938 to 1951 since the World War II had brought in more.
Africa has been badly presented to the world as the "Dark Continent," and has been presented as nothing but jungle full of wild life where tropical diseases ravage.

Yet, there are many white people, including Americans, flocking into Africa every day. Africa is no longer a "white man's grave" today but "white man's paradise."

According to our famous nationalist, democratic Mr. Wanberg, why don't these white people leave Africa since Africa is nothing but jungle and disease-ridden? The whites naturalize in Africa quicker than an African would in America.

Yes, I feel like my fellow countryman, Mr. Efofi, but I may be a foolhardy person for not leaving America now that I have discovered that it is not good for me. But who will not be such a foolhardy person like me if that person thinks twice?

Yes, I like something good in America, and this is the advanced technology and science knowledge in America. What I do not like in America is their democracy on paper and social relation.

What the white people do not like in Africa is the jungle life and diseases. But as far as I am concerned, my conclusion is that I have not come to remain in America.

It is more evident that it is the people who have run away from unfavorable places to America and because of the color of their skins have become American citizens through the process of begging and naturalization are the people who are creating complex confusions to the American paper democracy.

I hope Mr. Wanberg is not one of these. I hope he is a genuine American who can claim and be proud of America as his native land as I do claim and am proud of Nigeria, my country — the land of palm and glory.

TO THE EDITOR:

I've read with amusement Mr. Wanberg's letter to the editor published in The Daily Iowan Dec. 13.

I am not at all surprised because it was said of old "Out of the mouths of babes and sucklings, thou shalt hear the truth."

In attacking Mr. Efofi's unbiased and unpretended views on the matter of color discrimination, Mr. Wanberg has expressed the opinion of a majority of people in this country. But the question suggests itself will this sort of immature thinking and rabid nationalism pay off America in the long run?

Without mincing words, the answer is emphatically NO; rather such attitudes win for America suspicion and hatred by other nations of the world.

We are told that America is working hard to restore peace and friendship among the nations of the world; and to achieve this objective, Mr. Wanberg and all others of his ilk have advanced us with a solution and that is America for the Americans, India for the Indians, and Asia for the Asians, and Africa for the Africans. Good logic.

With this I must have been in the same predicament as Shakespeare's Mark Antony when he said "Oh judgment, thou hast fled to brutish beasts and men have lost their reason."

Let me seize this opportunity to educate my friend Mr. Wanberg why we are here.
Most foreigners come to this country with a dual purpose, to wit: to acquire technical knowledge and to find out more of the nature of American democracy which we have heard about.

Technologically, I doff my hat to America, but as far as human relations are concerned, I think, to say the least, that America is a complete failure.

TO THE EDITOR:

If all the letters to the editor concerning racial discrimination and news censorship had been based upon a foundation of logical reasoning (as exhibited by Mr. Riley's letter) rather than playing upon our popular sympathies for the benefit of certain campus political parties, the entire student body would have been able to attain a greater understanding of the discrimination problem and its remedies.

If you will permit a metaphor, when faced with a locked door, rather than looking for the key, they attempted to knock the door down. This is analogous to the situation which we have on campus:

The political party, whose motives are no longer secret to many, chose to knock the door of racial discrimination down, instead of looking for the key to the door between us and complete unity among all the various races.

Complete unity can only be attained through education and a quiet diligent search for this understanding. Undoubtedly this is going to be a long and difficult job, but it is possible.

President Hancher and the student council are to be commended upon their stand on this particular incident. They realized the serious consequences that could arise and the fact that the solution cannot be reached through a policy of condemnation and bitter criticism of The Daily Iowan and campus organizations.

In my estimation, The Daily Iowan has stepped over backward since the announcement of the Phi Gamma Nu incident to guarantee minority groups newspaper space, despite the fact that they are seeking to put The Daily Iowan in an unfavorable light.

In Tuesday's edition, two energetic students wrote two caustic letters apiece to the editor for publication. Careful scrutiny will reveal that the authors of several other letters were roommates of these two men. What they lack in numbers, they certainly make up for in loudness.

The thing for us, the student body, to do is to evaluate opinions rather than accept them without adequate consideration. Racial discrimination, unfortunately we have to admit, is practiced on Iowa's campuses as well as most campuses in the United States. We all should strive to remove this blot from our society. However, we must be certain that our helping to end discriminatory practices is really a step in that direction. By unwise methods, we can create a problem of greater magnitude than we now have.

TO THE EDITOR:

Since The Daily Iowan has been constantly criticized, I would like to defend your position on a recent issue.

The letter which deals with the Negro girl vs. the commerce sorority did not HAVE to be printed if people will notice your note at the top of the editorial page (letters to the editor column).

I cannot help but parallel this incident with many of the devices used by some groups such as was depicted at Minnesota university and several other large schools.

Why in heavens name do these groups pick on a Negro to tell him or her how dastardly the whites are being? Before they go into such an emotional frenzy they should think of a few things.

Why pick the incident of one Negro trying to get into a sorority when hundreds of whites are turned down from all types of sororities and no issue is made of each case?

After all, I believe freedom also includes the right to include or exclude people in one's pattern of living. If it didn't, this would be a sorry world — we should abolish churches, for some permit only baptized members to receive Holy Communion; we should have a countless number of men on every athletic team for all who want to play.

Every organization uses some discrimination or it would not be an organization.

If nothing else, students should be proud enough of SUI to handle situations like dignified, intelligent and mature beings!

Professor Fired, Claims Breach of Academic Freedom

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—The discharge of University of Minnesota philosophy Prof. Forrest O. Wiggins did not involve the question of academic freedom, according to President J. L. Morrill and Regents Chairman Ray Quinlan.

They told newsmen that the board of regents discussed the Wiggins case Friday and decided the discharge was proper. They said they consider the matter is a closed one.

Wiggins, first Negro ever to serve on the state university's faculty, has charged that he was dismissed because of his political beliefs in a breach of academic freedom.

Morrill said Wiggins hadn't actually been fired, but had not been reappointed under the university's tenure code, Wiggins still was in his probationary period.

Wiggins charged that his political beliefs differed from the majority party of the legislature and that the university, on the suggestion of legislators, had gotten rid of him because he was "embarrassing" the university.

Christmas Holidays Provide Opportunity For Formal Wear

A FORMAL GOWN THAT WOULD APPEAL TO ANYONE, is worn by Sue Sutherland, N1, Iowa City. Of white net over taffeta, the bodice is studded with rhinestones and the skirt has several layers of white net, plus stiffening to make it stand out. A stole of white net is worn with the dress.

RED VELVET, TRIMMED WITH RHINESTONES, and a net over taffeta skirt are high points of the dress modeled by Janice Wilson, A3, Eldorado, Kan., who lives in Eastlawn. The dress is versatile in that it can be worn with or without the jacket. Without the jacket, the full skirt makes it fine for dancing, but for a dinner party or less festive occasion the jacket may be worn.

BLACK TAFFETA WITH A GOLD OVER-PATTERN, makes this dress outstanding. Worn by Joan Sidman, A3, Brooklyn, N.Y., the strapless formal is distinguished with a row of flowers of the same material of the dress. This one needs no jewelry or trimming, with the possible exception of gold earrings.

A BALLET LENGTH FORMAL IS ALWAYS POPULAR, especially with college students. Less adaptable, but suited nicely for parties and dances, the one pictured of gold chiffon with several layers of material in the skirt. A stole of matching material comes with the dress. The model is Mary Annis, A1, Davenport, who is a Currier resident.—Clothing courtesy of Willard's Apparel.

Christmas Activities Close at Hospital

Children at the Hospital School for Severely Handicapped children closed their school Christmas activities Thursday evening with a party for 24 pupils of the school given by the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Refreshments were served and gifts were given to the children by Santa Claus. "Big brothers and sisters," SUI students who devote time weekly to their "adopted wards," exchanged gifts with the children.

Jimmie Sloan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Sloan, Dubuque, played straight man for magician Donald Schultz, junior medical student from Iowa City.

Schultz cleaved a head of cabbage in a small guillotine and then invited Jimmie to put his head under the knife. Undaunted, the youngster put his neck in jeopardy while his friends gathered around with mouths agape and eyes like silver dollars.

In addition to Schultz's routines the children were entertained by the dancing and singing of Ann Suellep, 223 N. Dodge st.

Leo Cortimiglia played Christmas carols on his accordion while the children sang and John Graham, 705 Clark st., read "The Night Before Christmas."

Christmas Comes Three Times For Lucky Children of Italy

By JACK BRUSINI
AP Newsfeatures

ROME — The Italian peninsula has three different Christmas days — Dec. 6, Dec. 25, and Jan. 6.

All along the Adriatic coast, from Otranto to Trieste, the kids receive their Santa Claus presents on Dec. 6, the feast of Saint Nicholas of Bari. The proceedings are the same as everywhere. The children must behave well — at least for the last week of November and the first of December. Otherwise "San Nicola" will bring them only charcoal. The children put a large dish at the foot of their beds on the night of Dec. 5. Before falling asleep they try to keep quiet and see Saint Nicholas come with his red hood, white beard and his bag full of toys.

If the presents sometimes overflow the dish, so much the better, the children say the next morning.

For the rest of Italy, most of the children will receive their presents — ranging from dolls and teddy bears to electric trains and self-propelled miniature planes — on Christmas Eve, around a Christmas tree.

In Rome, the classic stairs of Piazza di Spagna will be filled for two weeks with fir trees which will be bought by parents and prepared in a closed room of the house — just as anywhere else.

Hawkeye Cagers Start First Road Trip At Missouri Tonight

Will Meet Washington At St. Louis Monday

By JACK SQUIRE
Daily Iowan Sport Editor

Iowa should get its stiffest test of the young season tonight at Columbia, Mo., against what appears to be a capable Missouri team.

The Hawkeyes have not been extended thus far in easy wins over Western Michigan and DePauw, but both those victories were at home against teams which didn't show too much.

Missouri, though not rated as a power, will come close to matching Iowa in height, and was impressive in defeating a well-regarded New Mexico A & M five Thursday night.

Iowa Road Troubles

Moreover, there's the usual Hawkeye road troubles to consider, as Iowa teams of recent years have found early season road games stumbling blocks.

Last year, the highly touted Hawks left apart on their first trip, bowing to Western Michigan and Butler.

Tonight's contest is the first of a two-game jaunt which will end against Washington university of St. Louis Monday night.

Coach Bucky O'Connor, who has taken his entire varsity squad except for one injured substitute, said that he will follow the same pattern against Missouri as was employed in previous games — start with the veterans and bring the younger players in later.

Regulars to Play

It's likely, however, that the regulars will see their most extensive duty tonight, if Missouri lives up to expectations.

The Tigers tied for second in the Big Seven last year, winning 16 of 24 games. One of their defeats was a 63-53 affair to Iowa at the field house.

Little Bud Heineman, whose deadly push shots accounted for 26 points against the Hawks, is gone, but most of the remainder of the team is back including Bill Stauffer, 6-4 center, who led the Tigers for the year in scoring.

Coach Sparky Stalcup also has Bob Reiter, a 6-8 freshman, who will be called on if Chuck Darling is doing too much damage.

Tall Team

Another frosh, Win Wilcox, will join four veterans in the Tigers' opening unit, which averages 6-2 2/5, about an inch less than the Iowa starters.

Very little is known about the Hawkeye's Monday night foe, Washington university. Assistant Coach Ben Douglas will be in St. Louis over the weekend to scout Washington.

Washington has defeated Illinois college and lost to Illinois Wesleyan.

The Hawks will spend Sunday in St. Louis and return to Iowa City Tuesday morning. Thursday night Oklahoma will be at the field house.

Tankers, Thinclads On View Today

Iowa's swimming and track teams will be on exhibition at the field house today in their first competition of the year.

The swimmers will hold a freshmen-seniors vs. sophomores-juniors intrasquad meet at 2 p.m., while time trials will be held in track in five events at the same time.

Both events are open to the public.

Kid Gavilan Rallies To KO Cartier

Gavilan weighed 151 and Cartier 159 1/2 for the nontitle fight.

The welter champion from Havana, giving 8 1/2 rounds to his rugged middleweight rival from New York's Greenwich Village, staged a sensational spurt to pull the bout out of the fire.

Cartier reeled from a savage left uppercut and wavered when Gavilan poured home a smashing right to the jaw early in the 10th. As the Cuban Keed swarmed in for the end with a flurry of blows, Cartier crumpled to the canvas in full retreat.

Referee Ruby Goldstein quickly halted the bout without bothering to pick up the count, fearing that Cartier might have been hurt seriously.

Maryland, Clemson Put on Probation Over Bowl Games

RICHMOND, VA. (AP) — The Southern conference Friday night placed the University of Maryland and Clemson college on probation for one year and prohibited them from playing other member schools in football except in games required by state statutes.

The vote placing the two schools on probation and inflicting the football schedule boycott was 12-5. The action was taken because Maryland and Clemson violated conference regulations by accepting football bowl invitations without the league's approval.

Earlier Friday, the conference voted 14-3 against granting permission to Maryland to play in the Sugar bowl New Year's afternoon. Afterwards, however, Dr. H. C. Byrd, president of the University of Maryland, said his school planned to keep the engagement with Tennessee just the same.

Accepted Bid

Clemson pulled the conference when it received an invitation to meet Miami of Florida in the Gator bowl at Jacksonville, Fla. The request was denied. Clemson accepted the bid anyway.

The schedule boycott applies only to football and runs for the period of probation only.

A roll call vote was taken immediately after Byrd had completed a 26-minute address giving in detail his school's position on the bowl issue. He said Maryland "acted in good faith" in accordance with past conference procedures when it accepted the Sugar bowl invitation.

Byrd met in a closed session with other presidents of the conference's 17 schools a few minutes later. Presumably, the meeting was called to determine what the penalty for playing in the bowl game over the league's protests would be. The parley was called at Byrd's request.

"Are Planning to Go"

He told the other presidents: "Now that you have said we can't go, I want to know what you are going to do. We are planning to go."

Clemson's case had not been brought before the annual meeting in today's session. Only South Carolina strung along with Maryland and Clemson in the voting.

Acceptance of the bids by Maryland and Clemson defied a bowl ban voted by member school presidents last Sept. 28.

U-High Tops W. Branch, 63-47

By JIM COOKE

The University high Bluehaws outfought a stubborn West Branch squad here Friday night, 63-47. It was the third Eastern Iowa conference win for Lou Alley's Blues against one defeat and evened up their season record at 3-3.

Scoring honors for U-high went to its front line trio of forwards Gardner Van Dyke and Tom Kent.

center Craig Perrin. Perrin had eight field goals and three free throws for 19 points. Kent had 17 points and Van Dyke finished the evening with 15.

Top scorer of the game, however, was West Branch's jumping jack center, Harry Little, who threw in eight baskets and seven charity tosses for 23 points. Little was virtually unguardable with a jump shot that netted him 15 of the Bear's 23 first half points.

West Branch jumped off to a 8-4 lead in the first five minutes of play, but fell behind when the Blues' front line found the range. First quarter score was 16-12 in favor of the Iowa City squad.

Late in the third quarter the game turned into a free for all that saw three Bluehawk guards, Miller, Rittger, and Stover, ejected on fouls. Miller left midway in the third period and Stover and Rittger both picked up their

Vogel Stays At Iowa

Was Candidate For Illinois Post

Otto Vogel will remain at Iowa. Vogel, the Hawkeyes' highly successful baseball coach, announced Friday that he is "no longer a candidate for the coaching position at the University of Illinois."

Vogel's statement ended speculation that he would return to his alma mater to fill the post left vacant by the death of Illini Coach Wally Roettger.

It is known that Vogel was being considered for the Illinois job after he conferred with Illinois Athletic Director Doug Mills at Champaign early in November.

Vogel would not comment on whether he had actually received an offer from Illinois.

Otto Vogel Likes Program Here

"One of the chief reasons for deciding to remain at Iowa is my firm belief in the future of the program of intercollegiate athletics here," Vogel said.

The 1952 season will be Vogel's 25th at Iowa. He came here in 1925 and with the exception of three years spent in the service, he has coached the Iowa nine ever since.

Iowa teams under Vogel to 1952 have won 330 games, lost 210, and played six ties for a 510 percentage. His mark in the conference is .562.

His teams have tied for the Big Ten title four times and won the championship once. Since 1938, Iowa's baseball record is the second best in the league.

This is the text of the letter written by Vogel to Director Paul Brechler:

"During the years I have been associated with the University of Iowa, I have received the fullest cooperation from faculty, townspeople and state.

"The boys who have played for me were fine athletes and gentlemen and all are my close friends. Those who will play in the future will be the same.

"The present athletic organization is one of the best in the country and in my opinion will continue to be so.

Considering these facts along with some personal matters, my decision is to continue at the University of Iowa."

Iowa JVs Win, 89-70, Over Wartburg 'B'

(Special to The Daily Iowan)

WAVERLY — Iowa's JVs hit on 40 per cent of their shots here Friday night to defeat the Wartburg "B" team, 89-70.

The Hawkeyes, in winning their third game in four starts, had to overcome a 23-16 first quarter deficit as Wartburg hit an amazing 80 per cent in that period.

Jim Treneman and Dick Roeder, with 15 points each, paced the Iowa scoring. Treneman accounted for the first nine Iowa points.

Three players — Dan McBride, Bob Miller, and Dick DeGunter — had 12 points for the Hawks, while Clyde Kitchen got 11.

Iowa caught up with Wartburg in the second period and held a 45-40 halftime lead.

It was the best JV showing of the season, said Coach Bob Schultz.

Egyptian 'Liberators' Show Off Guns in Cairo

No Romance With Agent: Joan Bennett

BEVERLY HILLS, CALIF. (AP)—Joan Bennett, movie actress, declared Friday that it was strictly business, not romance, between her and the agent shot down by her husband, Producer Walter Wanger.

"If Walter thinks there is any romance between us, he is wrong," Police Chief Clinton Anderson said the 41-year-old, three-married actress told him.

Anderson refused comment on published reports that Wanger had employed private detectives for several months.

It was Wanger himself who raised the triangle question, Anderson reported, when he exclaimed, "I shot him because he broke up my home."

The agent, Jennings Lang, 39, married and the father of two children, lay in a hospital after delicate surgery for a 38 pistol bullet wound in the groin.

Wanger was released on $5,000 bail, commenting only that he slept "very well."

Dist. Atty. S. Ernest Roll told newsmen: "I think something (a complaint) will be issued. We are still investigating."

Criminal lawyer Jerry Giesler obtained Wanger's freedom on a writ of habeas corpus, returnable Thursday. The producer was booked on suspicion of felonious assault.

Lang, west coast executive of Music Corporation of America and Miss Bennett's agent for 12 years, was shot thrice, without warning, as he and Miss Bennett chatted in the MCA parking lot at 5:30 p.m. Thursday.

Sen. Mundt Suggested As GOP Floor Leader

BISMARCK, N. D. (AP)—A Bismark newspaper Friday suggested Sen. Karl Mundt (R-S. D.) as a possible successor to Senate Republican Floor Leader Kenneth Wherry of Nebraska, who died recently.

The Bismark Tribune said in an editorial that the Republicans should select a "compromise" candidate to succeed Wherry, one not committed to any particular presidential candidate in 1952.

The paper added: "For a capable floor leader with long legislative experience, the Republicans could do much worse than turn to our neighboring state, South Dakota, Senator Mundt of South Dakota has the makings of a good party floor leader."

Steel Mediators Work to Avert Possible Strike

PITTSBURGH (AP)—There is "great concern" in government circles over the possibility of a nation-wide steel strike New Year's day, a top federal mediator said Friday.

"Time is getting short," declared Clyde Mills after he and mediator Walter A. Maggolo took a quick glance at progress of contract talks between the CIO United Steelworkers and U.S. Steel corporation.

The union's contract expires at midnight Dec. 31.

The two-man mediation team conferred with Vice-President John A. Stephens of U.S. Steel then had a session with steelworkers President Philip Murray. The mediators, sent here by Cyrus Ching, chief of the federal mediation service, indicated Ching may have a statement after they report, probably on Sunday.

Neither Murray nor Stephens commented on their meeting with the mediators. Another negotiating session was scheduled for 9 a.m. today if weather permits.

The mediators said that although the situation is growing increasingly serious, continuance of negotiations is, at least, a hopeful sign toward ultimate settlement. Neither mediators commented on the union's 22 contract demands.

Murray is asking an undisclosed but "substantial" wage boost for his men who now average about $1.95 an hour. He also wants a guaranteed annual wage, a union shop and improved incentive pay plans.

Unless special permission is obtained from the government, the steelworkers could receive only between a four and five cent hourly hike under current wage ceilings.

Defense production administration administrator Manly Fleischman said in Washington that a stoppage of steel production this winter would be "a national catastrophe."

Doctors Knighted By King George

LONDON (AP)—King George VI celebrated his 56th birthday at a royal family luncheon Friday, then knighted two of the doctors who operated on his ailing lung Sept. 23.

At Buckingham palace the King personally invested C. Prince Thomas and Geoffrey Marshall with the insignia of Knights Commander of the Victorian Order.

Thomas is the surgeon who cut away all or part of the lung and Marshall is an expert on respiratory diseases. The nature of the King's ailment never has been officially disclosed, but experts' opinion pointed to cancer.

The king is reported well on the road to recovery.

Egypt Terrorists Mob British

CAIRO (AP)— Egyptian terrorists, responding to appeals for intensified attacks against British nationals and Egyptians who collaborate with them, Friday ambushed a British military car, attacked a British soldier and mobbed two Egyptian employees of the British embassy.

The toll in the latest outbreak of violence stood tonight at:

Two Egyptian terrorists killed.

Three British soldiers wounded.

Two Egyptian employees of the British embassy beaten by a mob—one so severely he may lose sight of one eye.

United Press Staff Correspondent Peter Webb reported from the Suez canal that terrorists ambushed a British officer and a soldier on the Ismailia-Port Said highway Friday. Both were wounded.

A third British soldier was wounded in another terrorists' attack near Ismailia.

In Cairo, an Egyptian mob, goaded by government demands for "punishment" of Egyptians collaborating or dealing with the British staged an attack on the two embassy employees.

The British embassy, which announced the incident, said the victims were Egyptian employees of the British information service.

They were dragged from their car on a Cairo street Thursday, the announcement said, and were denounced as "traitors."

An angry crowd assembled, the embassy announcement said, and the mob then began beating the men, one, described as 55-year-old, was so badly mauled that he is likely to be blinded in one eye.

The incident occurred as the Egyptian government announced its intention to arm Egyptian civilians "to guarantee public security."

The appeal for intensified terrorist and underground activities against the British came from the newly appointed unified command of the underground, to be directed by a combat-hardened veteran of the Palestine war.

Tallahah Awaits Cue To Testify in Maid's Check-Raising Case

NEW YORK (AP)— Tallulah Bankhead waited in vain for a cue to testify Friday while attorneys wrangled over the identity of "Bill," said by her former made to have been a companion of the actress during nights on the town.

The glamorous stage and radio star waited impatiently in the district attorney's office to make her entrance as a witness against Mrs. Evelyn Cronin, 59, a former vaudeville hooper who was her maid and secretary.

Mrs. Cronin is accused of stealing $4,284.60 from Miss Bankhead by raising checks signed by the actress. The defense has alleged that Miss Bankhead directed Mrs. Cronin to up the amounts on the checks and that her incidental expenses included money for lovers, liquor, marijuana and cocaine.

A state witness described in detail Friday how Mrs. Cronin claimed to have spent the proceeds from the last of the 26 checks she was charged with "kiting" between Oct. 8, 1948, and April 11, 1950.

Dramatic Arts Have — Witches, St. Nick, Pirates

— At 'Mummers' Party

By JIM GOLTZ

An Old English "Mummer's" play was given at the dramatic arts Christmas party, held at the dramatic arts building Friday night. The actors in the play and the director were chosen from students in the department.

The "Mummers" were a band of touring actors who roamed the country side during medieval holidays performing at various courts. The plots of their plays were usually concerned with melodramatic tragedy or ribald comedy.

The dramatic arts production included all of the standard characters such as a robust St. Nick, in charge of spreading Yuletide good will, a manhungry witch whose love life was confined to romancing a broom, a swashbuck-

$25,000 Accident Damage Suit Trial To Begin Monday

The trial of an auto accident damage suit brought by Mrs. Pearl Skriver against Howard L. and Ronald H. Wilkison is scheduled to open Monday in Johnson county district court.

The plaintiff asks $25,000 for damage to her auto and for injuries suffered when her car was struck by one driven by Ronald Wilkison and owned by his father, Howard. The accident occurred last May 2 at the intersection of Dodge st. and Iowa ave.

The defendants have filed a counter-claim asking $338.98 for damages to the Wilkison auto. They deny allegations and ask dismissal of the suit.

Mrs. Skriver claims she suffered bruises and fractured neck vertebrae in the accident.

Jury Gives $5,825 To Local Women In Highway Case

Helen Dawson and Helen Reich, both of Iowa City, were awarded $5,825 Thursday by district court jurors in a case brought against the state highway commission.

The jury deliberated over five hours and returned the verdict at 9:40 p.m. Thursday. The plaintiffs had asked judgement of $15,185 for land used in the construction of the highway 6 cut-off south of Coralville last summer.

Last May a sheriff's jury had awarded the landowners $2,750 for the land used. They had charged the relocation of the highway had damaged their 31-acre farm, in addition to more than 6 acres of land used for the right-of-way.

Roan to Ask Hike in City Pay

Results of a statewide municipal salary survey announced today may help Iowa City municipal employees get substantial pay boosts next year.

City Manager Peter F. Roan said Friday that he will recommend to the city council at Monday night's meeting that salaries of municipal employees be increased 10 to 20 per cent next year. Manager Roan said his recommendation would be partially based on the survey results.

The study of city wages in 49 Iowa communities was made by the SUI bureau of public affairs under the direction of Robert Ray, bureau head. The information was collected and compiled under the supervision of Prof. Edith T. Baika, chief of research.

Roan said Friday that it would be necessary to increase salaries of firemen and policemen about 15 to 20 per cent in order to bring the pay of those departments into line with those in cities of comparable size. He added that an increase of about 10 per cent was indicated for other employees.

Roan emphasized that it is difficult to compare jobs in general because it is impossible to tell exactly what duties are performed in other cities by persons carrying the same job classification as those here.

The state survey shows that in some job classifications Iowa City salaries are above the state average and in others they are lower.

The survey was based on questionnaires returned by 49 of 51 Iowa communities that were contacted. An attempt was made to cover the salaries of all employees in the various cities and to measure the additional benefits such as retirement pay, vacations and holidays allowed.

Manager Roan said that he plans to make a complete study of the wage scales and companion benefits of other cities before making detailed recommendations to the council. The council last August incorporated funds in next year's budget to take care of possible salary increases.

Indian War Hero Refused Burial in Sioux City Cited as Most Appealing by AP

DES MOINES (AP) — An Indian war hero, killed in action in Korea, now rests forever in Arlington National cemetery and the story of events surrounding his burial was Iowa's most appealing news event of 1951.

That is the consensus of the annual poll of news executives of Associated Press newspapers and radio stations in the state. All were invited to join in picking Iowa's top news story of the year. Thirty-six took part in the balloting.

All ballots, save one, listed the denial of burial to Sgt. John R. Rice, a Winnebago Indian, in Sioux City Memorial park because he was not a member of the Caucasian race, as one of the 10 best state news stories of 1951.

After the burial was halted at the Sioux City graveside, President Truman proffered a final resting place among the nation's heroes at Arlington. There Sgt. Rice was buried with full honors.

Second in importance among the varied Iowa news events of 1951, the editors ranked the tragic finale to the murder-marked career of Dr. Robert C. Rutledge. He ended his own life on a country road near Houston, Texas, by carbon monoxide poisoning after the Iowa supreme court upheld his 70-year sentence for fatally knitting Byron C. Hattman, bachelor admirer of the physician's wife. Rutledge was free on $40,000 appeal bond when he got word his conviction had been upheld.

In third place was the story of the as yet unresolved federal income tax troubles of Governor William S. Beardsley. The governor disclosed Sept. 12 that he had made "an honest mistake" in his returns over the years 1944 through 1949 and had offered the government a check for $13,000 in settlement. The government has not yet decided whether the check should be accepted or whether willful evasion was involved.

Fourth place went to news of the first commercial airliner disaster in Iowa's history. Sixteen lives were lost March 2 when a Mid-Continent Airlines plane, groping for a landing during a blinding snow storm at Sioux City, crashed into a cornfield.

The spring floods on the Mississippi river, whose waters surged to their highest stage since 1881 and caused tremendous Iowa property losses, took fifth place in the balloting.

"O Come, O Come, Emmanuel" and "O Come, All Ye Faithful" will be given dance interpretations. The dancers are under the direction of Prof. Janet Cumming, physical education for women.

The author and director of the pageant is the Rev. Nancy Fersberg, minister to students at the Congregational church.

Old Nellie Finally Tax Free After Mixup

COLUMBUS, O. (AP) — This capital of a large industrial state has finally eliminated the horse and wagon — legally.

Sometime ago City Auditor R. P. Bartholow found that licensing horses and wagons under an 1850 ordinance cost more than the revenue it produced. But repeal of the ordinance was not easy.

First the council had to delay action because it was busy trying to prevent a bus strike. Then the attorneys learned that the ordinance was tied with other tax ordinances and would require a considerable amount of study before it could be repealed without interfering with them.

Friday Bartholow said that the ordinance had been repealed but he wasn't aware of it until Friday as it was repealed by number and not by name.

"I didn't even recognize the ordinance when it was repealed," he said.

The auditor said that 13 horse and wagon licenses were issued this year.
