Reds To Release Names Of Prisoners

Opposes Post-Season Games—

Hancher Tells Sports Views

SUI President Virgil M. Hancher Monday indicated that he now would oppose Iowa's participation in all post-season bowl games, although he sanctioned the university's vote in renewing the Rose bowl pact last spring.

In remarks prepared for use in a Big Ten symposium, Hancher said, "Iowa voted for the renewal of the Rose bowl pact and it was with my knowledge and approval, but if the matter were to come up again, I would be dead-set against it. The football season should end in November."

Hancher said that not only should all bowl games be abolished but "all post-season promotional events such as the Heismann award" should be eliminated.

In expressing his philosophy of general collegiate sports picture, Hancher declared emphatically that it was not meant for application to any specific SUI situation.

Should Ease Victory Pressure

He expressed the hope that the sports-viewing public would come to regard athletics as "games" and ease the "victory pressure."

The president said that although he felt college football was in an unhealthy state, some of the criticism was not well founded.

"For myself, I can't feel good about such situations as the incident of Johnny Bright and the conference doing nothing about," he said. "I can't feel good either about such things as the Purdue-Indiana game, where I understand the contest ended in a near free-for-all among the players."

Advocate New Attitude

Hancher pointed out that "until our people become more interested in sports as games we shall need to repent and fast with sackcloth and ashes, and hope." He also advocated new de-emphasis attitude by the press in covering sports.

Commenting on the role of athletics in an educational institution Hancher decried the "eye-wash" circulated concerning the conflict.

"The way some people talk, you would be led to believe that this issue involves everyone in a university and that no one gets anything done because of football. Actually, we have only 65 football players out of approximately 4,000 male students," he declared.

Hancher Praises Raff

He praised Coach Leonard Raffensperger for taking "a deep interest in seeing that his players keep up their scholastic standings."

As to television, the President believes that it is a big problem for small colleges right now and might eventually kill football.

In connection with the exchange of scholarship information, the President said he wondered if any Big Ten school really knew how many students were being assisted through the university.

"And I don't feel it's any of our business," he added. "We don't ask every student to explain who is paying his expenses through art school or music school."

WHEELS CHURNING, a truck and several cars shimmy up the Burlington st. hill Monday during the afternoon's snow flurry. The 4 inch fall resurfaced the 15 inches already on the ground, giving motorists new headaches.

Council Sets New Pay Scale Effective Jan. 1

The city council Monday night enacted an ordinance fixing new compensation and salary scales for officers and employees of Iowa City.

In order to make the new pay scales effective Jan. 1, 1952, rules of procedure were suspended and the new ordinance was read the second and third times by title only.

City Manager Peter F. Roan said that the adjusted salaries were based partly on the results of the recent municipal survey made by the SUI institute of public affairs. Roan said that the survey showed salaries of some Iowa City officers and employees to be very low and others considerably higher than in cities of comparable size.

Under the new ordinance, the salary of the city clerk will be $3,600 per year instead of $3,744. The salary of the deputy clerk will be $2,400 per year instead of $2,124.

The salary of the city engineer has been raised from $4,236 to $5,100 and the salary of the assistant engineer set at $4,200. The sewage disposal plant superintendent will get $4,800.

Salaries of policemen and firemen were classified according to length of service. On the basis of service over 18 months, the salary of the fire chief was raised from $3,812 to $4,560 and the salary of the assistant fire chief fixed at $4,080. Fire department captains with over 18 months service will receive $3,960, and lieutenants $3,840.

The yearly salary of the police chief was raised from $3,612 to $4,560 and the assistant police chief from $3,276 to $4,080. Police department captains will receive $4,080, detectives $3,840 and patrolmen $3,480. Salaries of policemen with less than 18 months service are proportionately lower.

Patrol personnel on the 3 to 11 p.m. shift will receive additional compensation of 2 1/2 per cent of base pay. Those on the 11 p.m. to 7 a.m. shift will receive additional compensation of 4 per cent of base pay.

The Iowa City real estate board Monday night petitioned the city council to let immediate action to end rent control by Jan. 1, 1952.

Philip Murray Insistent in Demands

Steelmen Threaten Strike Jan. 1 Unless Wage Demands Met

PITTSBURGH (AP) — CIO United Steelworkers served notice on the steel industry Monday they will strike New Year's day unless they get a 15 cent hourly pay boost and other benefits.

"We will not work without a contract," declared a grim Philip Murray, president of both the CIO and CIO United Steelworkers, at a news conference following a meeting of the powerful USW wage-policy committee.

Murray reported the union's executive board and wage-policy committee directed him to call a special international convention of the United Steelworkers Jan. 3 "because of the seriousness of the situation which confronts the union."

The convention, Murray said, will have the power to accept or reject any proposed settlement worked out by the government if any has been advanced at that time.

"Unfortunately," the labor leader told newsmen, "due to the industry's refusal to bargain with us in good faith, it now appears that a strike at midnight on Dec. 31, 1951 will be unavoidable."

Murray accused the U.S. Steel corporation and other basic steel producers of filibustering in contract talks and said "big steel" has made no counter offer on wages.

Action Gives Fresh Hope For Armistice

TOKYO (TUESDAY) (AP)—Communist truce delegates at Panmunjom agreed today to turn over to the United Nations a list of war prisoners the Reds now hold—the first direct word on the fate of thousands of American and Allied troops listed as missing in action.

The agreement broke a long deadlock that threatened the Korean peace talks with failure before end of the 30-day provisional "cease-fire" period on Dec. 27.

A dispatch from Panmunjom said hopes for a truce by the Christmas season soared as the Communists gave in to repeated United Nations demands on the identification of prisoners. This has been one of the main stumbling blocks halting progress of the talks.

A second subcommittee studying supervision of the armistice made no progress today as the Communists "presented absolutely nothing new."

Adm. R. E. Libby made the prisoner announcement to correspondents as his subcommittee recessed today after a brief session.

The list of Allied prisoners—if complete—will give the United Nations the first direct word on which of the thousands of soldiers missing in action are still alive. Most of those missing are presumed killed in action.

The UN had flatly declined to negotiate further until the Communists presented their lists. However, it was believed most of the missing UN soldiers were battle victims and that the list of prisoners would be tragically small.

North Korean Maj. Gen. Lee Song Cho, in response to questions from Libby, said the Red list would have all non-Korean names in English. Libby told Lee that the UN list had all the Communist names in English. He promised the UN would give the Communists an estimate of the date on which the UN could deliver a list in Korean and Chinese character.

Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway's public information office said the names of the Allied prisoners would be released to the press this afternoon in Japan.

The break in the snarled negotiations came as the UN command sent Allied warplanes to bomb the Red supply road to the Communist peace camp.

Second Checking Begins Today For Possible No-Cut Abolition

SUI students will be put to the test again this week when the no-cut rule is lifted for the second time.

Attendance at all classes in the colleges of liberal arts, commerce, engineering and nursing will be checked carefully beginning today and will continue until vacation starts at 5:20 Wednesday.

Classes resume Thursday morning, Jan. 3 at 7:30 and attendance figures for that Thursday and Friday will also be tabulated to find out if the no-cut rule can be abolished.

The basis for comparison this time will be Thanksgiving vacation, which was the first time the suspension was tried.

Deans of the colleges said they were not entirely satisfied with the first showing and indicated that any increase in class-cutting this time would force the rule back into effect.

The student council, which recommended the suspension of the rule to the deans, urged students to prove to the deans' committee that the imposition of the no-cut rule is unnecessary.

A council spokesman said students should see the dean of their college if they have a valid reason for leaving early, so they may be excused and not hurt the attendance comparison.

If weather conditions delay the student en route back to school, he is advised to wire the dean of his college to be excused.

Magazine Claims Ike to Accept Bid

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower was reported Monday by a national magazine report to have said he is willing to have his name considered by the Republican national convention next summer. The magazine said that by the same token he has closed the door on a possible Democratic nomination.

The magazine said it learned of the general's position through unnamed sources.

The facts have been established, it said, through interviews with persons with first-hand knowledge on the subject.

There was no immediate reaction to publication of the report from Eisenhower or his Paris headquarters of the North Atlantic Treaty organization forces.

President Invokes Railway Labor Act In Airway Walkout

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Truman invoked the railway labor act Monday in an effort to end a two-day-old strike against Pan-American World Airways after being informed that the walkout threatens the Korean airlift.

The company immediately announced its willingness to appear before a special three-man board which will be appointed later to investigate the dispute and report back to the President. But the union had no immediate comment.

The railroad labor act provides that a company and its employees shall continue normal operations for 30 days while the board considers the dispute and another 30 days while the chief executive studies the panel's recommendations.

Mediation officials said the Pan-American situation is complicated by the fact that some 5,800 ground and service personnel already are idle. The workers, members of the CIO Transport Workers Union of America, walked out Saturday midnight — 24 hours ahead of their deadline.

More Snow, Wind Predicted for City

The blizzard forecast for Iowa City early today failed to materialize, but the weather bureau warned of more snow and high winds.

Officially, the prediction was for 20 to 25 mile north winds and 3 to 6 inch snow fall. Today's temperature is expected to hit 10 above.

City patrolman Jim Dalton said Monday night that except for minor nudges, local motorists had kept the day accident-free.

The Rock Island depot reported trains to be running up to two hours late. Less trouble was encountered by the Crandic line, which stayed within five minutes of its schedule. The bus depot said the buses were "pretty well on time."

By 6:30 p.m. Monday 4 inches of new snow had fallen on top of the 15 inches already on the ground.

Heintze's Condition Listed As 'Poor'

Attending physicians reported "no improvement" Monday in the condition of Jerry Heintze, A1 Cedar Rapids, who was injured in a highway accident early Friday. He is at Mercy hospital where Dr. William L. Yetter listed his condition as "poor."

Dr. Yetter said Heintze is suffering from a paralysis of most of his body below the neck. He said the youth suffered a broken ankle, severed artery, shock and loss of blood.

Heintze was pinned in his car nearly two hours in 16 degree weather on highway 218 north of North Liberty after a collision with a truck about 12:30 a.m. Friday. His car was struck broadside when it skidded into the path of an oncoming truck in a snow storm.

36 DIE IN WRECK

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — Nine out of 10 cars of a Brazilian passenger train were derailed Monday, killing 36 persons and injuring 150. Press reports said Joao Do Cruz, the engineer, was man-handled and "nearly lynched" by people in the town of Piquet Carneiro, about 1,500 miles north of Rio De Janeiro, where the wreck occurred.

65 Special Investigators Named As Tax Inquiry Sweeps New York

WASHINGTON (AP)—The internal revenue bureau has assigned a 65-man squad of special investigators to dig into reports of widespread tax shakedowns in New York, Commissioner John B. Dunlap disclosed Monday.

Dunlap said the sweeping inquiry has been underway secretly since Nov. 1 and covers tax fraud cases going back to 1944.

The New York drive, which could bring the most sensational tax scandal disclosures yet, was announced as the White House marked time on the expected appointment of Federal Judge Thomas F. Murphy as head of a presidential commission to clean up corruption in government.

Short Denies Acceptance

Press Secretary Joseph Short declined comment on reports that the New York jury already has agreed to take the housecleaning job. Short said he had nothing to add at this time to his previous announcement that Murphy had two "pleasant and profitable" conferences with Mr. Truman Saturday.

Capitol quarters believed, however, that it is just a matter of time until the Murphy appointment is formally announced. Murphy himself said in New York that any announcement will have to come from Washington.

Dunlap said the bureau's intelligence division has been checking since mid-1950 on reports that some delinquent taxpayers in the New York area were the victims of extortion plots.

Inquiry Becomes Intense

He said the inquiry became "more intense" as "more leads turned up" and that he issued orders six weeks ago for an all-out investigation to clear up the situation as quickly as possible.

Dunlap said the 65 special investigators, assembled from bureau offices in all parts of the country, are being assisted by three of "our best criminal attorneys" who are going over every New York tax fraud case since 1944 which was not prosecuted or not recommended for prosecution.

Indicating that the alleged irregularities are widespread, Dunlap said that "every time we follow one lead, we find another."

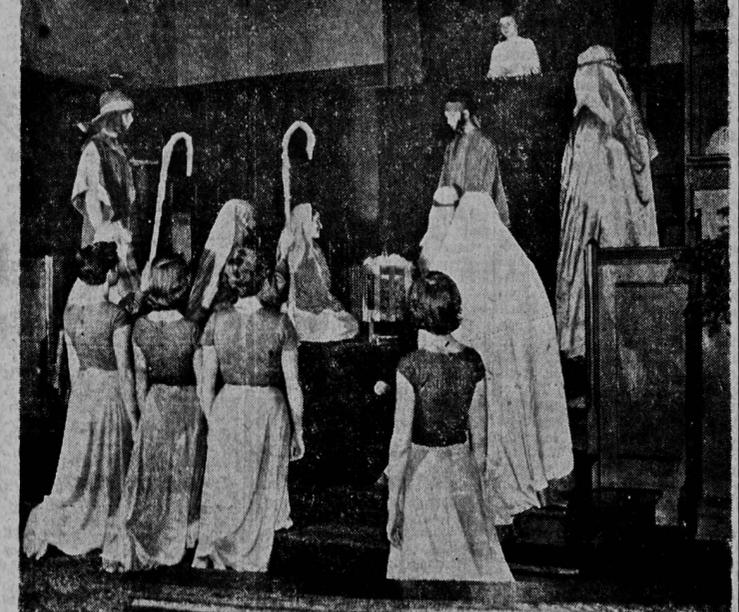

At a news conference, the internal revenue commissioner also announced that:

1. William H. Woolf is retiring as chief of the bureau's intelligence division, and will be succeeded by Frank W. Lohn, who has been in charge of the New York shakedown investigation. Dunlap went out of his way to emphasize that Woolf's retirement is not connected in any way with the tax scandals, and praised Woolf's "unimpeachable" integrity during more than 40 years of public service.
2. The morale of bureau employees is "gully low" because of the public's reaction to the tax scandals. Some taxpayers are greeting bureau officials as "you dirty crooks."
3. All internal revenue officials

editorials About "Letters to the Editor"

Several people recently have sent letters to the editor and demanded that they be printed. In view of the increasing trend of certain students to proceed along this line of thinking, this seems to be an opportune time to explain the function of the "Letters to the Editor" column.

In the first place, it has been set up so that students may express their opinions on various subjects. We appreciate receiving letters containing opinions, and print most of them—even though some of them have been direct attacks on The Daily Iowan.

We try not to let this column become the private weapon of any one group.

That is, some groups believe that by flooding the "Letters to the Editor" column with their one-sided version, that they can make it appear that many students on the campus are behind them.

Therefore, in editing the "Letters to the Editor" we attempt to get a number of different views and not a barrage of similar views on a subject.

Secondly, some letters contain much extraneous material. In editing the copy for the page, the editor attempts to cut as much of this material as possible, while still not injuring the context of the letter.

These letters are cut for another reason. We attempt to fill the pages of The Iowan with as many stories as possible. We select the length of the story and its place in The Iowan on a basis of its importance, in our mind, to the general campus.

It is no different with letters. If one letter contains material which in our estimation is of much more importance to more people, it will be of longer length than another letter which we consider of less importance.

In all instances we attempt to be fair to all students. However, the "Letters to the Editor" column was not originated to be used as an outlet for those whom we consider to be griping for the sheer joy of griping.

An example of this is a letter which we received Friday. One SUI student did not think that The Iowan had reported the Student Council meeting accurately, and further implied that the decision of the council was unjust. (He wanted The Iowan to be found "guilty.") This letter will not appear in the "Letters to the Editor" column. It has no business there. Instead, it has been turned over to the student board of publications for review and the appropriate action.

Interpreting the News—
Reds Want Bargains Through POW Exchange

By S'GRID ARNE
Associated Press News Analyst
(For J. M. Roberts Jr.)
The Communists at the Korean truce talks are acting as though they want to use the exchange of prisoners of war to pick up a few international bargains.

The Reds have proposed a "simple" swap of all prisoners in the Korean war. Under this plan both sides would just turn over all the prisoners they are holding. That sounds straightforward enough. But it isn't.

The UN negotiators, headed by Rear Admiral R. E. Libby, have to remember what happened after World War II. Moscow held onto German and Japanese prisoners for years. Thousands are still believed to be working in Russian slave camps.

Libby wants to be sure in the Korean talks that all prisoners on hand are really turned over; none left for slave labor to serve Moscow's purposes. Or none left to serve the new slave camps in Red China.

Here are some of the troubles in the talks.
The United Nations holds more prisoners than the Reds say they hold. The UN reports about 160,000 Red prisoners.

The Reds have claimed through radio Peiping that they hold 139,000 UN prisoners. But they have never made a report on where the camps are, and they have never admitted the International Red Cross to their camps. Some UN officials doubt the Red report and think Red prisoners may be as few as 89,000.

So Libby's negotiating staff is demanding that the Reds supply a list of names of prisoners of war before they begin to negotiate the manner in which the prisoners will be turned over.

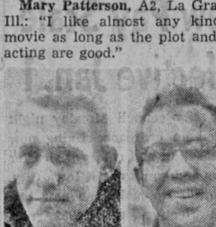

Libby has to think of many angles.
The UN suspects that the Reds are holding from 70,000 to 85,000 men from the South Korean army alone. Unless they are listed before the swap, how can Libby be sure that the Reds will send all South Koreans home?
If the South Koreans are not sent home it means the South Koreans are fighting men who are not returned. It may mean that those

'52 Political Arena Prize Showplace of Chicago Stock Yards
CHICAGO (AP)—The Republicans and the Democrats will nominate their candidates for president next year in the Chicago stock yards.
The convention hall—the International Amphitheatre—is owned and operated by the Union Stock Yard and Transit company, and forms part of the eastern border of the stock yards area. The pens and packing plants are 1/4 to 1/2 mile to the west whence come the prevailing winds.
Plenty of hogs, sheep and cattle not to mention horses, have occupied the 120 to 230 feet of arena floor where the convention delegates will sit.
It has been the site of rodeo riding and steer roping in rodeos, of boxing and wrestling matches, auto and horse shows and animal auctions.
For the conventions, the tank-bark footing for the animal blue bloods of the annual International Live Stock Exposition will give way to a well washed cement floor. The arena may be one of the most comfortable spots in Chicago during the hot July weather. It will be air conditioned.
The amphitheatre work force prides itself on keeping the big building sweet and clean. It was clean enough recently to house a $100-a-plate fund raising dinner held by Illinois Republicans.
William Wood Prince, 37-year-old president of the stock yard firm which operates the building at W. 43rd and S. Halsted sts., says there will be arena seats for approximately 14,000 delegates and spectators when the Republican convention opens July 7, and when the Democrats show up July 21.
This seating capacity compares with about 17,000 in the Chicago stadium, most recent former site of Chicago national conventions. But with four halls, each containing more floor space than the arena itself, the amphitheatre has far more area for the incidental activities of a political convention than the stadium.
It was this vast adjacent space under the same roof which sold party chairman Frank E. McKinney of the Democrats and Guy E. Gabrielson of the Republicans. Both leaders admitted they had television in mind primarily when they decided to sacrifice between 2,000 and 3,000 spectators seats by holding the big confabs in the amphitheatre.

Letters to the Editor

TO THE EDITOR:
I quote from Mr. Daniel Dim's letter, that: "Technologically, I doff my hat to America, but as far as human relations are concerned, I think, to say the least, that America is a complete failure."

I cannot speak for Mr. Dim's personal relations, having no knowledge of the gentleman whatsoever, except from this letter. But reading between the lines of his letter, I conclude he must be having a devil of a time here. The devilment, we may suggest, is caused by Mr. Dim's carrying a chip on his shoulder every time.

Mr. Dim's attitude is an essentially false one. He draws a general conclusion based on his personal experience and the experiences of a few isolated individuals. His expression "I think, to say the least, that America is a complete failure," carries such an attitude, false as it is vicious, because it incites people to take sides, not on the basis of reason, but on passion.

I, too, am a foreigner on this campus. I also have had contacts with Americans of ever description both in my country and in Asia and America. My conclusions are different from Mr. Dim's. Americans, as a whole, are friendly, robustly so. As persons, they are comparable to the best in my country. They, of course, take pride in their strictly American upbringing and culture. (Surely, Mr. Dim must take pride in the fact he is Nigerian, or something is wrong with him.) Moreover, they take a very real interest in the welfare of other people.

First proof: the Americans have treated the Filipinos with the greatest consideration. Today, my people will fight almost at the drop of a hat at imputations that America is not at least fair-minded. Can Mr. Dim, as a colonial, say that much for the colonizing power in his country? He won't. I do say it emphatically.

Further proof: if any country today tries as hard as possible to bring realistic solutions to the ticklish problem of world peace, it is America. The countries of the United Nations that consistently support the U.S. in her policies for peace or war add weight to my assertion.

I grant Mr. Dim and his company that there is much to be deplored in America—tax scandals, K.K.K., discrimination, an almost blatant materialism (which is a good thing considering most of the world is in famine or ravaged by war); but Americans themselves are the first to see these deplorable conditions and what is important—they do some things to correct them. The Negro periodicals, however they may be outspokenly concerned about injustices, are the first to show that the conditions of the Negro are much, much better than they were fifty or twenty years ago.
The best proof is the recent squabble on discrimination here. If discrimination, in this case, was not looked upon by many as a kind of monstrosity, it would not have produced the very general and very intense reaction it has created in the community. This is the absolute credit of the American people — that here such things can be discussed in the open and acted on. Would you get the same thing in Russia or any other place? Mr. Dim can suggest?
Ricardo Demetillo, G.

TO THE EDITOR:
The first heat of the controversy has passed and we can stop and consider what it has accomplished. It shook me out of my smugness in assuming that because there is almost no discrimination on the surface, SUI exemplified racial equality in practice. I forgot about the effectiveness of subtle discrimination. Yet I am sorry that many who approached the issue did not consider the problem carefully and constructively nor think of the rights of a sorority and the various responsibilities of a newspaper—but attacked these organizations indiscriminately. This is not a constructive way to influence or educate people; and it is the individuals within the organization that should be reached.

This is an important issue and The Daily Iowan probably should have acted sooner to verify the facts in the letter by Miss Vannice. But I think The Iowan made recompense by giving full play even to the attacks on the paper's policy. I feel The Daily Iowan should be commended for its fair treatment of the issue.

TO THE EDITOR:
Having been exposed as nauséam to the naive and irrelevant asinities presented by apparently misguided moralists, it behoves us to raise our voices in the interest of lately deceased editorial propriety.
If censorship means suppression of drivel and the abuses of reason with which The Daily Iowan has lately been forced to saturate itself, let us HAVE censorship! At risk of indulging in meaningless platitudes, let it be observed that freedom of the press involves not only freedom to print but also freedom not to print. This is the time-honored prerogative of any editor. In short, let editorial freedom ring, lest in our generation we see the last gasp of good taste.

TO THE EDITOR:
A reply to Mr. Forrest Wanberg. Ever since Mr. Wanberg, in the characteristic American colloquium, asked me to "get out o' here" because I dared express an honest opinion, I have refused to rush to the press with a reply. Instead, I wanted to see how many more Americans think like Mr. Fisher that because the United States ambassador in Russia for example does not like Russia, he should run away.
Evidently, not too many people think so, or perhaps, people are tired of reading about this particular issue. The latter reason seems to be responsible.
I do hope that Mr. Wanberg concedes to right to me, to express an opinion, because, whether I am from the other end of the antepodes, or from Antananarivo, I belong to the community of the University of Iowa, and that is why I have ever since watched with a hawk's eye, the developments as regards this opinion of getting out.

Many friends of mine both American and otherwise—yellow, pink, amber, chocolate, ebony and so on have expressed concern over the situation as it concerns me. "Why do you not like it here, Chris?" "Have you ever run into any color discrimination here?" "Do you not know you are different from American Negroes?" The more humorous set ask me, "When do you plan to get out from here?"
Mr. Wanberg and many more who think like him evidently did not read my letter carefully before deciding that I should take people who think like me and get out. For the benefit of those who have thrown away their Iowan and those who did not see my letter, the following is a summary of my opinions:

1. That Mrs. Marken was very justified and acted like a Christian in taking a definite stand against racial discrimination.
2. That I concede the right of the sorority to admit whom they wish, as long as they use their judgment to know that the key board of a piano is made up of black and white keys.
3. That racial discrimination as an institution is present in the U.S. in many forms and brings America to public obloquy in the eyes of the outside world.

If Mr. Wanberg read my letter he could have seen that I treated racial discrimination from a broad perspective and never suggested that I am suffering here. Elementary logic my dear Watson! Let Mr. Wanberg know that I am here with a student visa 4E and that I have a home to go to and plan to go there as soon as I am through with my work here.

If Mr. Wanberg is still interested, or somebody else, let the following questions be answered:
1. How will my leaving the United States improve the opinion of the outside world about racial discrimination in America?
2. When we go, shall we take all Jews, Catholics, American Indians and Negroes with us?
3. What right has a displaced person from Europe to discriminate against a Jew and Negro who paid his transportation to this place? No Mr. Wanberg, no chemical equation has ever been balanced by running away because it is too involved! "He who fights and runs away will live to fight another day."
To my American friends, I say this—I have "malice towards none and charity for all." No bitterness, no rancor! To Mr. Wanberg—as long as Dean Keuver thinks I am worthy of remaining in the college of pharmacy here, and I can afford to pay my way, I shall remain here if Washington sanctions!

Army Credits Psychology For Prisoner's Surrender
WASHINGTON—The army claimed Saturday that psychological warfare has led to the capture of about one-third of the 170,000 enemy prisoners taken in the Korean war.
Leaflets dropped over troop areas, radio broadcasts and use of loudspeakers were primarily responsible, a spokesman said. Thousands of the prisoners are Chinese, the rest North Koreans.

World Trade Rebuilding Dictates Japan's Policy

TOKYO (AP)—A careful policy of getting along with all nations, including Russia, while trying to bolster foreign trade ties throughout the world is Japan's main concern today, a high government official indicates.

Sadao Iguchi, vice minister of foreign affairs, said in an interview that Japan's ability to meet war reparations depends on how fast it can build up its economic strength through trade.

The same factor of economic strength at home, he said, also will determine how soon Japan can undertake her own defense.

Speaking for Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida, the vice minister told the Associated Press that: 1. Japan is ready to conclude peace treaties with Russia and other countries—provided they are substantially the same as the treaty signed at San Francisco with 48 nations including the United States.

2. Japan will apply for membership in the United Nations as soon as the peace treaty is ratified and will support the UN as best it can if its application is rejected.

3. The strong bond of friendship forged between Japan and the United States faces no immediate threat either within or outside Japan.

4. Trade relations with Communist China will continue to be governed by the UN embargo on shipments of strategic materials to China or North Korea.

5. Increased trade with other southeast Asian countries has aided Japan in replacing markets lost on the Chinese mainland.

"It is the sincere intention of my government to deal with the reparations problem in full conformity with article 14 of the peace treaty," Iguchi said.

The treaty provides Japan must pay reparations to Allied powers for damage and suffering caused during the second world war, but recognizes that resources presently are not sufficient to make complete payment and still meet its other obligations.

Contract Let for Atom Plane Engine

WASHINGTON (AP) — The air force announced Monday it has let a new contract for development of an atomic aircraft engine in what was described as another approach to finding a way to harness atomic power to flying.

The contract has been awarded to Pratt & Whitney aircraft, East Hartford, Conn.

Last March the atomic energy commission announced it had authorized negotiation of a contract with a General Electric company division "for further development of a nuclear reactor for aircraft."

An air force representative hinted that the second contract was "to stimulate" efforts to develop the atomic plane's power plant.

The air force considers this a project of highest priority. Its development is expected to run into millions of dollars. It is also expected to take several years to develop.

The brief announcement recalled that the United Aircraft Corporation, of which Pratt and Whitney is the engine manufacturing division, was one of a group of firms that participated in the postwar studies of nuclear energy for propulsion of aircraft under sponsorship of the AEC.

The air force representative, in reply to reporters' questions, said the announcement of the second contract was not to be taken as an indication in any way that the General Electric company is not making progress.

He explained that it is an effort to see if there is not more than one way to develop the engine.

$50,000 Injury Suit Filed Against Local Man

Harry C. Meredith, 53, a Poweshiek county farmer, has filed suit in district court asking judgment of $50,000 for injuries he charges were caused in a fight with L. R. Morford, Iowa City.

Meredith, a cattle raiser from near Oskaloosa, claims he came to the defendant's place of business at Morford's request Dec. 10. According to the suit, both men have engaged in business transactions with one another for the past seven years.

On Dec. 10, Meredith claims he was attacked by Morford who struck him on the face, nose and right eye. He charges that his nose was broken in the scuffle.

Meredith said he has suffered considerable pain and mental anguish and has required medical and surgical care. He claims that his face has been disfigured as a result of the incident.

He asks judgment of $40,000 for actual damages, and $10,000 for exemplary damages.

On Nov. 6, 1951, Meredith had filed suit against Morford asking judgment of $17,700 for costs of care and feeding of cattle and $1,790 for fence construction. This action was later dismissed.

Testimony Begins In $25,000 Suit

Testimony in a $25,000 auto damage suit began Monday afternoon in district court.

Mrs. Pearl Skriver brought action against Howard L. and Ronald H. Wilkison, asking judgment for damage and injuries suffered in an auto accident last May 2 at the intersection of Dodge street and Iowa avenue.

She charges that she received fractured neck vertebrae and bruises when her car was struck by one driven by Ronald Wilkison and owned by Howard Wilkison, Ronald's father.

In a counter claim, the defendants have asked judgment of $338.98 for damages to their auto. Testimony will continue today.

Jurors for the case are Robert Swahel, William Smothers, E. E. Wise, Vernon Dubishar, Marguerite Rehder, Rita Lepic, Florence Adams, Dale Altmaier, Elizabeth V. Rogers, Mabel Lindley, Harry Sievers and Alice Wallace.

Former Student in Paris Miss Lorraine Jones, a former SUI student, accepted a 2-year appointment as entente of the state department at the American embassy in Paris.

9-Year-old Departs on Global Trip

NEW YORK (AP) — With the aplomb of a seasoned traveler, 9-year-old Elizabeth Bean of Kansas City Monday boarded a plane for London on her unescorted round-the-world trip.

"I'm not afraid to go by myself," she said. "I want to see a lot of things and I'm going to write all about them in my diary."

Little "Liz," a fifth-grader, is making the trip because her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Bean of Kansas City, thought it would be "a wonderful experience for a child."

Appearing quite self-sufficient and poised, Elizabeth had $30 in cash in addition to a supply of travelers checks.

Before she left Kansas City Dec. 15, school authorities gave her permission to be absent on the theory the trip would be educational. She expects to return home Feb. 15.

Her itinerary includes Manila and Honolulu. She will make a 9-week stopover with friends in India.

Wanger Shooting Case To Go to Grand Jury

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — District Attorney S. Ernest Roll announced Monday he will present the Walter Wanger shooting case before the county grand jury today with a request for indictment of the movie producer.

Roll made public the information after county jail physician Dr. Marcus Crahan reported actor's agent Jennings Lang, Wanger's target last Thursday night, was too ill to be questioned about the shooting.

Lang was accused by Wanger at the time of the shooting of carrying on a romance with the producer's wife, screen star Joan Bennett.

The district attorney said six or seven witnesses would be summoned before the grand jury but he refused to make public their names, saying subpoenas were being prepared for them.

Asked if he anticipated trouble serving subpoenas if he released the names, Roll replied, "Yes, I think so."

Roll reported he was undecided whether he would recommend simple assault charges or a charge of assault with intent to commit murder against Wanger. The jury has the authority to determine on its own what charges to return but takes into consideration the recommendation of the district attorney.

Wants "To Move Fast"

The district attorney said he decided to place the case before the grand jury because he wanted "to move fast." Wanger is free on a writ of habeas corpus and $5,000 bail but the writ is returnable Thursday in Santa Monica superior court and charges must be brought before that time.

Dr. Crahan examined Lang at Midway hospital and reported the agent was running a temperature and his wound in the groin may have become infected. The county physician agreed with Lang's own doctor that the shooting victim was too ill to be questioned at this time.

While Roll was preparing for the grand jury hearing, Wanger's attorney, Jerry Giesler, demanded return of a sheaf of private detective reports found by police in the producer's automobile.

Porter Tells Group Of Reelection Aids

Prof. Kirk H. Porter, head of the political science department, discussed "Presidents as Candidates for Reelection" at the Davenport Rotary club Monday.

He said that a current president has an advantage over any rival of his own or the opposition party. The two million federal employees, their relatives and friends, constitute an army of voters. Beneficiaries of the social welfare program are another group liable to support the incumbent candidate, Porter said.

SHOT BY THE GUN (top) admittedly wielded by movie producer Walter Wanger in Hollywood, actor's agent Jennings Lang (bottom) 42, lies seriously wounded in Midway hospital there. Wanger, husband of actress Joan Bennett, has been freed on bail. He said he and his wife had discussed divorce weeks ago.

Hawks Down Washington, 60-53, Stay Unbeaten

Darling Bags 26 Points; Iowa Gets 4th Straight

(Special to The Daily Iowan) ST. LOUIS, MO. — The undefeated Iowa Hawkeyes, paced by big Chuck Darling's 26 points, fought off a determined Washington university basketball team here Monday night to take a 60-53 decision.

It was Iowa's fourth triumph of the season. Darling poured in his 26 points on eight field goals and 10 free throws. He racked up all but two of the field goals in the first half as the Hawks took a 31-25 lead.

Uses Three Players
Washington Coach Blair Gullion used three players in trying to check Darling and this allowed Ev Cochrane to break loose for 15 points while Bob Clifton was banging in 11.

The three, Vern Koester, Jeff Schroeder and Bob Kreighsauer, fouled the 6-foot 8-inch Iowa center 11 times.

The Washington strategy was to get forward Charlie Cain loose as often as it could, and it paid off, but not enough to topple the Big Ten opponent. Cain totaled nine field goals and seven free throws for 25 points.

Bears Tie Hawks
The Bears held ties twice, 5-all and 17-17 in addition to their brief leads.

Iowa nursed a 48-38 lead after three periods, the second time it was 10 points to the good. Late in the third period, Iowa led 42-32, following one of Cochrane's seven push shots.

with a one-hander and Richard Rockefeller drove in to make it 48-42.

Clifton and Cochrane pulled away again to 54-46, then rookie Ed Beumfuhr netted a set shot and Cain added his last points, two free throws.

Press Falls
Rockefeller made it 55-51, but in pressing the Hawkeyes for the ball they had to have in order to score they let Darling get away for his final two baskets.

Cain's 25 points led Washington, while Duncan Hansen had 9 points and Rockefeller, 8.

Hawkeye forwards, Herb Thompson and Chuck Jarnigan fouled out trying to stop Cain's accurate 20-footers.

Grid System At Indiana Hit by Alumni

BLOOMINGTON, IND. (AP) — The president of Indiana university's I-men's association said Monday the university should pay its football players or return to the system of playing the game for the sport itself.

The statement was made by James Birr, operator of an Indianapolis auto agency, in an interview Monday. The I-men's association is composed of former Indiana university lettermen.

If Indiana is to remain in the Big Ten, university officials "must hire a Big Ten coach regardless of the salary needed to pay him," Birr said.

"They should hire all types of players and pay them accordingly. They should pay little attention to their education. This is what other Big Ten schools have done and that is what Indiana must do to succeed in the Big Ten."

However, Birr, said that if the present system de-emphasizing football is continued at Indiana, "We should leave the Big Ten and hire a coach with the character and morals such as Clyde Smith has." Smith resigned recently as head football coach.

"I believe," Birr said, "that the game should be given back to the boys as it was when I played. We played then for the sport itself and not for the pay. This path is a surer path."

Birr charged that university officials have never had "a firm policy one way or the other."

Birr was a regular end on the 1935, 1936 and 1937 teams and played in the all-star game in 1938 between the college all-stars and the National Professional league champions in Chicago. He also was regular center on the basketball team in 1936 and 1937.

His term as president of the I-men's association ends next month.

Kentucky Rolls, 81-40, Over Cold St. Johns

LEXINGTON, KY. (AP) — Kentucky smashed St. John's 81-40, here Monday night in a battle of the nation's No. 1 and 2 basketball powers.

Cliff Hagan, a leaping, twisting young man with a damaging right hand, and little Bobby Watson, fired 25 points apiece in Kentucky's unexpected rout.

Hagan and Frank Ramsey controlled the rebounds on both boards and little Watson fired from the outside to humiliate St. John's, previously unbeaten in five starts.

The crowd that expected a tight duel saw Kentucky go to the front at the outset and gradually build its command to 10, 20, 30 and finally 40 points. Kentucky was hot. It hit 44.4 per cent of its tries to a 16.6 shooting mark for St. John's.

Though it gave the visitors some height Kentucky worked under both boards like it owned them and there was little doubt that St. John's was a beaten club after the first period.

Bob Zawoluk, the St. John's center who has a chance to become the all-time collegiate scoring leader, got only one field goal and wound up with seven points.

Hagan was hitting tip-ins, rebounds and wideopen lay-ups, and little Watson was firing them in from far and near meantime as Kentucky took its 100th consecutive home-floor win.

St. Louis Falls To Badgers, 55-54

MADISON, WIS. (AP) — An underdog Badger basketball team upset favored St. Louis university, 55-54, here Monday night as veteran guard Al Nicholas fired his team to victory with a 26-point scoring spree.

Wisconsin stalled the last minute to put the game on ice before 9,000 wildly cheering partisan fans at the university field house.

Pual Morrow, Badger bean-pole center, broke a 54-54 tie when he dropped in a free throw with a little more than a minute left to go in the game. After that the Badgers controlled the ball although the Billikens fouled four times trying to get possession.

Butler 63, Wolves 53

ANN ARBOR, MICH. (AP) — A small but scrappy Butler basketball team, paced by senior forward Orvis Bursdall with 29 points completely outplayed Michigan here Monday night for a 63-53 victory before 1,200 fans.

Bursdall was a thorn in Michigan's side throughout, scoring 12 field goals and five free throws as his Butler team fashioned its first win in four starts this year.

DA Seeks Aid Of Kentucky Cagers

LEXINGTON, KY. (AP) — Vincent O'Connor, assistant New York district attorney, said Monday "we need certain Kentucky players to help in prosecuting some major criminals" who arranged basketball bribes.

O'Connor and a team of investigators have been in Kentucky since last Thursday trying to interview players. But the players have two attorneys advising them and so far O'Connor has not been able to get near them.

O'Connor indicated his office is working on fixes involving Kentucky players in games played in the past two seasons.

"We do not wish to arrest the Kentucky boys whom I desire to question. We need them, however, to tell our grand jury of their relationships with certain crooked gamblers who did not operate during the 1948-49 season, about which we have already acted," O'Connor said.

This was a reference to Alex Groza, Ralph Beard and Dale Barnstable, three former Wildcat court stars who confessed to taking bribes during the 1948-49 season.

Musial Dominates National League Batting

NEW YORK (AP) — Stan (The Man) Musial, sensational St. Louis Cardinal outfielder-first baseman, walked off with a hatful of 1951 National league offensive honors including the official batting title.

Figures released Monday show that Musial compiled a .355 figure which gave him his fifth batting crown. He has played 10 seasons in the majors, all with the Redbirds. Only two other National league greats, Hans Wagner with eight, and Rogers Hornsby, with seven, have won more championships. Both were right-handed hitters. Musial is the only left-hander to lead his league more than three times.

The 30-year-old Donora, Pa., slugger was at the head or near the top in all other departments where the bat is essential. He accumulated the most total bases, 355; tied with Gus Bell of Pittsburgh for the most triples, 12; and shared the runs scoring honors with the Pirates' Ralph Kiner at 124.

Musial now holds the record of leading his league in three-baggers five times and in runs scored for eight consecutive years. His 347 lifetime mark is the highest in the majors.

Stan didn't win any other individual honors but ranked second with 205 hits and fourth with 108 runs batted in and 32 home runs. His 30 doubles were up among the leaders.

As he has done in each of the six years he's been in the league, Kiner clouted the most homeruns, 42. That tied a major league record held by Babe Ruth and enabled the 29-year-old Californian to retain the distinction as the on-culmulated the most total bases, 355; tied with Gus Bell of Pitts-

Surprises Spartans, Stanford Are Biggest

NEW YORK (AP) — What was the biggest surprise of the 1951 collegiate football season?

If you listen to the gents who covered the big games—the nation's sports writers and broadcasters — they'll tell you there were two outstanding surprises:

1. The ease and power with which Michigan State butchered Notre Dame, 35 to 0. and

2. Stanford's brilliant showing in winning nine straight games for the Pacific Coast conference title and a bid to the Rose bowl.

There were many other surprises during the turbulent season just ended, but these two ranked far ahead of all others. In fact, in an Associated Press poll of 103 writers and broadcasters, the Michigan State-Notre Dame game and Stanford's showing each received 17 votes.

Following these was Princeton turning in its second straight undefeated season after losing most of its varsity. Six voters picked this as the top surprise. But, of course, the Tigers didn't lose all-America Dick Kazmaier, and he's a one-man team himself.

Other surprises included: Kentucky losing its first three games and four altogether, and the Army cribbing scandal (five votes each).

Southern Methodist using pass after pass in upsetting Notre Dame, 27 to 20; Auburn's fine record (6-5) after dropping all 10 games last season with virtually the same team; Washington's poor record (3-6-1); Indiana's 32-10 drubbing of Ohio State, and Princeton's 53-15 massacre of Cornell (four votes each).

There were other surprises which received only one vote apiece, but many of these were highly interesting. Such as:

The popularity of football while attendances dipped in most other sports.

Star Iowa Tanker — In Breaststroke

By LEE CANNING

Bowen Stassforth, co-captain of Iowa's swimming team, calls himself a "hitchhiking swimmer."

Not that he has been thumbing any nautical rides, but he means that his swimming ability has gained him some memorable experiences and tours.

A trip to Japan and one to Argentina, in addition to jaunts to various sections of the United States, have been rewards for Stassforth's ability to swim fast breaststroke races.

His next objective, after his final intercollegiate season, is Helsinki, Finland, as a member of the U.S. Olympic team. Stassforth is regarded as a leading candidate.

At the top of the list is a journey to Japan in the summer of 1950 as one of fourteen noted American swimmers who competed against the best Japanese. Among his teammates were national record-holders like Dick Cleveland, Allen Stack, Ford Konno, Bob Brawner, John Marshall and Jimmy McLane. Coach of the team was Robert J. H. Kiphuth, Yale's famous mentor.

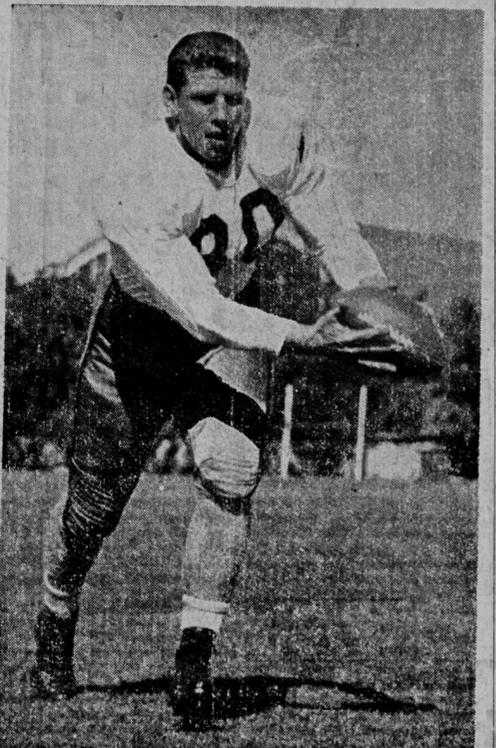

Swimming in such cities as Tokyo, Osaka, Nara and Kure against the best of the United States and Japan could offer, Bo picked up valuable experience for another trip he has in mind — the Olympics.

During that Japanese tour, Bo established himself as one of America's leading breaststroke candidates for the 1945 Olympics in

Most Valuable in the Big Ten

IOWA'S BILL REICHARDT received his greatest honor Sunday when he was selected as the most valuable player in the Big Ten by the Chicago Tribune. The award came after Reichardt was picked by his teammates as the Hawks' most valuable and then was placed in competition with the pick of the other conference schools. It was the first time a player from a last place team has won the award. Reichardt will receive a trophy at a later date.

'Unite or Perish,' McCloy Admonishes West Europe Nations

STUTTGART, Germany (AP) — United States High Commissioner John J. McCloy Monday issued a unite or perish warning to West Europe.

Speaking before the Wuertemberg-Baden state parliament, McCloy said significant steps toward political, economic and military unity must be taken within the next six months or Europe will risk the loss of American interest and support.

Then he warned that: "No single European nation is strong enough to stand alone against the threat of totalitarianism posed by the Kremlin."

"No single European nation is strong enough to withstand the social and economic pressures within its own boundaries."

"No single European nation is in a position to maintain from its own strength a developing standard of living for its people."

"No single European nation is able to meet its own financial needs for defense purposes."

"Not one is able to defend itself alone."

Establishment of a European community, he said, is the only reasonable answer to Europe's problems; the only reasonable prospect for lasting European freedom.

Wright Brothers Given Salute

KILL DEVIL HILL, N.C. (AP) — A grateful nation sent a fraction of its air might here Monday to salute the memory of the Wright brothers who 48 years ago made the first successful airplane flight. Planes from all the fighting services, including navy blimps and jet fighters, marine fighters, and air force bombers, fighters and transports joined in the annual tribute.

More than 1,000 persons turned out at the historic hill, scene of the first successful flight in a heavier-than-air mechanically-propelled craft by the brothers from Dayton, O. The first of four flights that day was made by Orville Wright, whose flimsy plane flew 120 feet in 12 seconds. That same day his brother Wilbur flew 852 feet in 59 seconds.

Clear, crisp weather with a 27-mile-per-hour wind, the same as on that day, marked the observance.

Maj. Alexander P. de Seversky, noted air authority, was the principal speaker at the luncheon which annually follows the memorial ceremony at the foot of the monument here.

He told the gathering, "True air power, in the hands of a civilized nation or group of nations, is not only a supreme military force, but a mighty psycho-political weapon. It is the first and only force that is able to ignore iron curtains, deep in the heart of their lands."

He continued, "It can carry to deceived and enslaved peoples of Communist nations the evidences of a free way of life and with that, the hope of liberation and freedom."

Pound Sold on Open Market

LONDON (AP) — Dealers bought and sold the British pound on an open market for the first time in 12 years Monday in a controlled test of its worth.

The price fluctuated above and below the official rate of $2.80 the first day. Bankers said the trading was heavy.

Winston Churchill's government hoped the small measure of freedom would have the psychological effect of bolstering world confidence in British money and promoting British business.

Recently there have been rumors — which the treasury was forced to deny — that the pound would be devalued again. If such talk had been allowed to continue, foreign businessmen would have hesitated to place orders here, hoping to buy with cheaper pounds later on.

Churchill is saying, in effect, that he believes the pound can maintain its price. He also gives the pound a chance to gain a little over the official rate, if it can.

He took precautions to see that the pound did not put on too bad a show. The nationalized bank of England announced that the spot pound, an immediate international exchange, would be allowed to fluctuate two cents either way from the official rate of $2.80, that is between $2.78 and $2.82.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

BLANCHE PATCH, long time secretary to George Bernard Shaw, has written her memoirs under the title of Thirty Years with G.B.S. In it she reveals, "Shaw's reluctance to step ashore into the United States was not due to any dislike of the inhabitants. He was essentially a shy being who shrank from people; yet he was attracted by the friendliness of Americans and their great sense of equality. His trick of occasional overstatement is an American trick; his gift for monologue, an American gift. He admired the American passion for trying something new, such as their reform of spelling which he himself adopted. He was all for Americans when they were breaking barriers down, and rude to them when they were setting barriers up."

In a rural school out Iowa way a young student was asked to define the word agriculture. "Agriculture," he opined with a trace of scorn, "is a little bit like farming, only farming is really doing it."

Recheck Of 565 U.S. Employees Ordered

New Loyalty Rules Face 1st Mass Test

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government's top loyalty review board Monday ordered a recheck of 565 federal employees under the same rule that led to the firing of career diplomat John S. Service because of a "reasonable doubt" as to his loyalty.

John S. Service
Fired After A Recheck

An official said the board had found "sufficient derogatory information" in the files of the 565 employees to warrant a reconsideration of their status under the "reasonable doubt" standard.

No names were disclosed. All of the 565 have been in government service for more than four years.

Bingham Heads Board
The board, headed by former Republican Sen. Hiram Bingham of Connecticut, also directed federal agencies to take a new look at the records of 574 other federal employees who entered the government after Oct. 1, 1947.

A board spokesman said Monday's order calls for "mandatory" new reports on the 565 by the federal agencies which employ them.

The spokesman said that in the other 574 cases, the agencies are merely advised to take a second look in the light of the new loyalty standard set up by President Truman last May.

Old Reports Doubtful
These 574, the board explained in a statement, "were placed in agencies upon clearance under the old standard after the FBI had completed its investigations and hearings had been held by regional loyalty boards."

"Therefore, the loyalty review board pointed out, the agencies now should review these cases and apply the new and stricter standard."

Under the new standard, the review board no longer requires proof of disloyalty. It can recommend dismissal of a federal worker if it decides there is "reasonable doubt" of the employee's loyalty.

Firing Too Difficult
The old standard virtually required the board to have proof of disloyalty before a federal employee could be fired.

Career diplomat Service, whose name figured in the 1945 "American Secret Documents" case, was ousted last Thursday when the review board upset a long series of clearances given to Service by the state department's own loyalty and security board.

The review board is the final authority in loyalty cases, serving as the overall tribunal over the various agencies' boards.

Service has vigorously denied any disloyalty or any wrongdoing.

2 Youths Fined For Vandalism
Two Iowa City youths were each fined $52.50 in police court Monday for removing speed analyzer signs in Iowa City Hallway's night.

Donald Rochau, an SUI freshman, and George Kondora, senior at City high school, admitted to Police Judge Emil G. Trott that they and four others uprooted six of the signs. Rochau and Kondora are both 18.

Three of the boys were under 18 and they were turned over to juvenile court authorities shortly after the incident. Another member of the group is in the service.

Egypt Approves Civilian Firearm Training Plan

CAIRO, Egypt (AP) — The Egyptian government announced Monday night that it has approved training in the use of firearms for all Egyptian civilians and warned that Egypt will oppose "force with force" in its dispute with Britain over the Suez Canal zone.

Interior Minister Mohammed Fuad Serag El Din Pasha made the declaration in the Egyptian senate a few hours after it was announced that Foreign Minister Mohammed Salah El Din Pasha and Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden of Britain will discuss the Anglo-Egyptian crisis in Paris today.

The interior minister said Egypt was determined to "oppose force with force, within the limits of our ability, and to the last man."

Serag added that the government had been forced to take over the so-called "liberation battalions" which have been harassing the British in order to avoid a state of civil war and anarchy. He said the irregular fighters had been incorporated into the Egyptian armed forces.

Serag said there had been 122 cases of attempted murder, robbery and looting involving members of the "liberation battalions" since Egypt abrogated its 1936 treaty with Britain on Oct. 16.

At the same time, the Egyptian government issued a new report of Egyptian casualties during the past 30 days which showed 89 Egyptians killed and 306 wounded in clashes with the British since Nov. 16.

He called upon the United States to sever far-flung military commitments and think first of its own welfare instead of "scattering our dollars and our troops throughout Europe."

Kennedy, who held many major posts in the Roosevelt administration and was appointed by President Truman to a committee to study reorganization of the executive branch of government, spoke to the Economic club of Chicago.

He delivered a detailed criticism of administration foreign policy which he said is now losing the very things it hoped to gain—a will to resist among U.S. allies, a will to rearm and faith in America.

The "said results" of such a policy, he said, have been attributed by some observers to "ineptitude in administration."

"But no degree of ineptitude in administration, even of this administration, could produce such a tremendous variation between target and reality," he said.

"The basic difficulty is not merely administration," he said. "It is policy—a policy that purports to reach for security by reliance on the United Nations and on alliances with nations from Norway to Australia."

Former Ambassador Blasts U.S. Policy As Leading to War

CHICAGO (AP) — Joseph P. Kennedy, former U.S. ambassador to Great Britain, said Monday that the administration's foreign policy has led the nation to a point where a "pistol shot" anywhere in the western world could touch off war.

He called upon the United States to sever far-flung military commitments and think first of its own welfare instead of "scattering our dollars and our troops throughout Europe."

New Jersey Plane Wreck Kills 56 Persons

(AP Wirephoto)

WRECKAGE IS ALL THAT REMAINED Monday of a converted C-46 nonscheduled airliner which crashed at Elizabeth, N. J. Sunday killing all 56 persons aboard. Most of the burned out wreckage rests in the partially demolished water works pumping station at left. The water in the foreground is the Elizabeth river. The plane was en route from Newark, N. J. to Tampa, Fla.

6 Probes of Fatal Crash Begin

ELIZABETH, N. J. (AP) — Veteran investigators Monday picked over the scorched wreckage of a Florida-bound airliner, trying to determine the cause of the crash which claimed 56 lives.

Representatives of six different official agencies on federal, state and local levels started the probe machinery Monday.

The two-engine C-46 nonscheduled transport, operated by Miami Airlines, Inc., caught fire on the takeoff from Newark airport Sunday. It was bound for Tampa and Miami.

Seven minutes later, the silver ship, a mass of flames, plunged into the shallow Elizabeth river near the heart of this industrial city. There were no survivors.

At Miami, R. W. Duff, president of Miami Airlines, said a defective heater may have caused the crash, but cautioned that this was "only a surmise."

"It may be that the fuel line of the heater became disconnected and sprayed raw gasoline into the engine nacelle," Duff said. The 9 a.m. takeoff time of the plane had been delayed until 2:02 p.m. while mechanics worked on the heating system of the plane.

No word came from the office of the Union county prosecutor where 23 officials met to discuss how to go about the investigation.

They represented Elizabeth police, Union county, the New Jersey Bureau of Aeronautics board, and the Civil Aeronautics administration.

The last broken body was pulled out of the nose of the plane Monday morning. Rescue workers had recovered 55 bodies, including those of four children, before stopping operations after midnight.

Relatives began to come to the city morgue Monday for the heart-breaking task of identifying the bodies.

7 Bail Out Before C-47 Crashes in Houston
HOUSTON, TEX. (AP) — An air force C-47 transport plane crashed dangerously near a Houston residential area Monday after seven men parachuted because of engine failure.

The twin-engine plane came in with wheels up, stopping just short of municipal airport and only two blocks from several houses. The seven who bailed out escaped with sprains and bruises, and the two who brought the crippled plane in suffered only minor injuries.

LT. Col. R. M. Bain, the pilot, said he ordered the crew and passengers to bail out when both engines started missing. After they jumped, he and the co-pilot, Capt. R. E. Pitman, attempted to reach Municipal field.

But the engines conked out short of the runways, Bain said, and "I couldn't hold the plane up."

The craft skidded and bounced several hundred yards before crunching to a stop just short of the residential section and a block from a highway.

The left engine was sheared off and the right one ripped loose from its mounting.

Pvt. Donald Pahl, 22, said there was no indication of trouble when Bain suddenly reported that both engines were failing and gave the order to jump.

Troops Receive Yuletide Greetings
TOKYO (AP) — Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway sent yuletide greetings to troops of the United Nations and far east commands Monday, but said he could not wish them a "merry" Christmas.

"I send you my warm and sincere Christmas greetings," the supreme commander said. "It would be inappropriate to wish you a 'merry' Christmas in view of the seriousness of our present tasks, and the conditions under which so many of you are serving."

Reds Willing to Aid Mid-East

WASHINGTON (AP) — Architects of the nation's foreign aid program were confronted Monday with a new development: reports that Soviet Russia is believed to be willing to give economic aid to the Middle East.

From Moscow came word that the Soviet government would be likely to give earnest consideration to invitations for financial or technical help from the Middle East.

And it came on the eve of the return from Europe of W. Averell Harriman, the head of the foreign help program.

He and Secretary of State Dean Acheson, who has just returned from Europe, will soon determine the size and design of the assistance program to be submitted to congress.

Harriman is scheduled to return on Thursday, after putting the finishing touches to an inventory of Atlantic alliance military needs made by a special North Atlantic Treaty organization (NATO) committee. The group also surveyed NATO's production-financial resources.

The full import of the report from Moscow, or the effect it possibly could have on U.S. planning can not be determined immediately.

U.S. Alien Property Worth $295 Million

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government still controls some $295,600,000 worth of alien property and there seems to be no immediate prospect of getting rid of it, officials said Monday.

The property, left during World War II, is divided into three classes:

1. About $97,500,000 is in cash yet to be distributed where it belongs.

2. Some bears a "for sale" tag awaiting a buyer.

3. The rest is in the form of going industrial concerns operated by the government at a profit.

In this last category are about 40 firms, 17 of which have assets of more than $1,000,000 each. That kind of money is what prompted Sen. Alexander Wiley (R-Wis.) to demand a senate investigation of the alien property office, which operates under the justice department.

Sioux City Couple Arrested on Charge Of Child Desertion

SIoux CITY (AP) — The parents of nine children were charged with child desertion Monday in what authorities described as the "most shocking case of child neglect" they had ever investigated here.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Bennett were arrested Saturday and charges of child desertion filed against them Monday.

Deputy Sheriff Gerald W. Kammerer said Bennett was arrested alone and Mrs. Bennett and Joseph Johnson, 42, were arrested at a hotel. He said Johnson, father of 11 children, was arrested on a child desertion charge filed by his wife.

Kammerer and probation officer C. J. Stevens said they found three of the Bennett children in an unheated 2-room frame house Saturday with the temperature near zero. Earlier in the day the temperature had been 13 below.

The smallest child, Patricia, 3, was dressed only in a cotton dress with no underwear and no shoes, Kammerer said.

A neighbor, who complained to authorities, said Bennett went to the house only occasionally and Mrs. Bennett had not been around for several days.

The Bennetts are scheduled to appear for arraignment before municipal Judge George Paradise today.

Discuss Licensing Foreign Doctors

DES MOINES (AP) — A revision of the citizenship requirement for licensing of foreign medical doctors in Iowa is now under consideration, Dr. A. D. Woods, State Board of medical examiners, said Monday.

Woods said the problem of licensing doctors who have come in under regular immigration channels or as displaced persons was discussed at a meeting of the board Monday.

Under present rules a medical doctor now must be a citizen before he can be licensed for medical practice in Iowa. Five years is required to receive citizenship.

New rules being considered, Woods said, would require the applicant to speak, read and write the English language.

The applicant also would be required to show a declaration of intention to become a citizen, and would have to pass the state basic science examination, he said.

Carlson to Head Eisenhower Group

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Frank Carlson (R-Kan.) was appointed executive director of the Eisenhower-for-president headquarters here Monday.

The appointment was announced by Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. (R-Mass.), manager of the Eisenhower boom, even as another Republican senator predicted that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's political stock will fall.

Sen. Milton R. Young of North Dakota said he expects Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio to win the 1952 Republican nomination. He said the Eisenhower cause may lose ground because of the "possible failure" of the European defense program.

Lodge said that Carlson, a leader in the move to win Eisenhower the Republican presidential nomination, "readily accepted the job."

Carlson recently returned from a tour of Europe, during which he spoke with Eisenhower. On his return, he told reporters he "hoped" the general would be available for the GOP nomination and would make a statement to that effect soon.

Service Reports 1951 Iowa Corn Crop Small

DES MOINES (AP) — Iowa's 1951 corn crop, one of the poorest and smallest in years, was placed Monday at 471,780,000 bushels by the Iowa Crop and Livestock Reporting service.

The final estimate for the year lopped nearly 23,000,000 bushels off previous estimates of Iowa's corn production for 1951.
