Churchill Threatens Reds With Action If Truce Is Broken

WASHINGTON (AP) — Prime Minister Winston Churchill warned Red China Thursday that if the proposed truce in Korea is broken, Britain will join the United States in swift "resolute and effective" counter action.

The British Premier also promised that Britain will help defend Western Europe against Soviet aggression, and he cautioned the United States "above all things" not to give up its atomic weapons without an ironclad guarantee of peace.

His warning to China was explicit despite the fact that he did not mention China by name.

Addressing a joint session of congress, Churchill declared:

"We welcome your patience in the armistice negotiations (in Korea) and our two countries are agreed that if the truce we seek is reached, only to be broken, our response will be prompt, resolute and effective."

New Allied Policy

The warning went far to confirm reports of a new Allied policy for backing up any armistice in Korea with a declaration of firm determination to take sweeping action against any violation.

Churchill strongly endorsed American policy of defending Formosa, the last-ditch stronghold of Nationalist China, against Red China, and he praised this country for bearing "nine-tenths or more" of the United Nations burden in Korea.

Proposed Suez Control

As for the Middle East — "a sombre and confused scene," he called it — Churchill proposed international control of the strait Suez Canal where bloody clashes have broken out between British troops and Egyptians.

Urging a four-power sponsorship of the Canal zone under Britain, France, Turkey and the United States, Churchill said that Britain alone cannot bear "the whole burden" of the Suez which he declared has now become an international problem.

Atomic Weapons

Turning to atomic weapons, the Prime Minister said that "the awful secrets which science has wrested from nature . . . must be recognized (as) the strongest deterrent against a third world war and the most effective guarantee of victory in it."

But he went on to say:

"Members of congress, be careful above all things not to let go of the atomic weapon until you are sure, and more than sure, that other means of preserving peace are in your hands."

Churchill received a tremendous standing ovation as he entered the historic house chamber under the glare of floodlights and trudged slowly down the aisle to the speaker's rostrum.

Looked Older

The 77-year-old Briton, a legendary figure in his own day, looked tired and aged as he began to speak, but he seemed to gain strength as he grasped the rostrum firmly and began rolling out the sonorous tones that have made him almost without peer as a modern-day orator.

President Truman, leaving the spotlight to his distinguished visitor, was not present.

Republicans Warned Of Party's Future If Ike Is Nominated

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — David S. Ingalls, head of the Taft-for-President drive, told Republicans Thursday they will be risking their party's future if they pin their presidential hopes on a "glamour" candidate.

In an obvious shot at Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, the national manager of the campaign of Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, urged GOP members not to "select a good-looking mortician to preside" over the death of their party in November.

Instead, Ingalls told the Republican national committee in a prepared address, the party convention at Chicago next July should "all unite behind Mr. Republican" and proceed with a very happy — and long overdue — assignment of turning the rascals out."

Ingalls spoke at a dinner-meeting after J. Russell Sprague, New York national committeeman, had told a news conference he believed there is a "great upsurge of sentiment" for Eisenhower among Republicans and voters in general.

Earlier, Gov. Earl Warren of California, an avowed candidate for the GOP presidential nomination, told the committee the GOP cannot "turn the clock back" and expect to win in November.

"I am convinced the American people are not Socialists and will not tolerate socialist government but they are definitely committed to social progress," Warren declared. "Any party which turns its back on social progress will be repudiated by the people."

Ike Is Nominated . . .

CONCORD, N. H. (AP) — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower — through the action of his New Hampshire supporters — Thursday became a candidate for the Republican nomination for president of the United States in New Hampshire's first-in-the-nation presidential primary March 11.

The "I Like Ike" boosters of Eisenhower in New Hampshire have publicly stated their confidence that he will permit his name to remain on the ballot.

Census Shows I.C. Has Few Unoccupied Houses

Iowa City had less unoccupied housing than any city in Iowa with a population of 10,000 or more, according to a 1951 census report.

Of 6,782 units of housing, only 49 were vacant, 18 available for use, 14 for rent, and four for sale.

An available dwelling means a nonseasonal, or not run-down unit that is for rent or sale.

First of Concert Series— Pianist Claudio Arrau Plays Here Tonight

Tonight's artist at the first of the concert series is not only a famous pianist, but an avid antique glass collector.

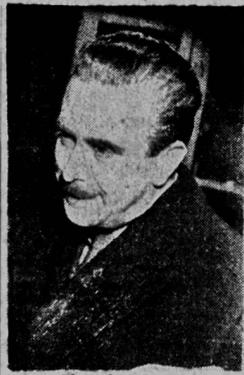

Claudio Arrau arrived in Iowa City Thursday evening clutching a paper bag which contained some fine Venetian glass goblets, bought on his stopover in Chicago that afternoon.

His piano tuner, Richard Pohlman, was with him and held another bag with several American glass goblets.

This will be Arrau's first appearance on this campus and is one of his many stops on his cross-country concert tour. He had just come from Madison, Wis., where he played before the students at the University of Wisconsin. He will go to Providence, R.I. from here.

When asked if he knew Dimitri Mitropoulos, who is scheduled to appear Wednesday with the SUI symphony, Arrau said he had played in many concerts with the Minneapolis symphony when Mitropoulos was conducting.

Arrau said Mitropoulos is one

Claudio Arrau Arrived With Goblets

of his favorite conductors for many reasons, but principally because he follows so beautifully.

Arrau, still a Chilean citizen, is dapper and smiling. He seemed anxious to see more of the campus and the Union. He inquired as to when he might have the Union lounge to practice in. When told that it was usually filled with students, he replied, "I want people to hear my playing, but my practicing, NO!"

He has been in the United States for ten years and has his home with his wife and two children in Little Neck Bay, Douglaston, L.I., N.Y.

His program, beginning at 8 p.m. is as follows: "Rondo in G major, Opus 51, No. 2," by Beethoven; "Sonata in F minor, Opus 57," by Beethoven; "Rondo Capriccioso," by Mendelssohn; "Song Without Words in G major," by Mendelssohn.

"Variations on a Theme of Paganini, Book II," by Brahms; "Pour le Piano," by Debussy; "The Maiden and the Nightingale," and "El Pelele," from "Goyescas," by Granados.

Arrau seemed pleased when told that musical programs on this campus have been attracting audiences of increasing size. He agreed with his informant that this was a good trend.

F-86 Sabres Stop 3 MIG's, 3 Tanks

SEOUL, Korea (FRIDAY) (AP) — Destruction of three MIG jets and three Red tanks in air action highlighted the Korean war Thursday.

Ground fighting was sporadic and generally light.

Two of the Soviet-built MIG-15 jets were destroyed without a shot.

Maj. William Shafer of Boone, Ia., and First Lt. Frank P. Robinson Jr., of Shreveport, La., said the two MIGs came up close behind them and apparently were knocked out of control by the exhaust streams of the U.S. F-86 Sabres.

The Reds went into snap rolls and violent spins and plunged to earth from 30,000 feet. Both Red pilots bailed out but the Americans said one parachute failed to open.

The third MIG, destroyed by gunfire, was credited to Lt. Col. James B. Raebel of Redfield, S.D., while another was damaged.

In morning and afternoon engagements, the Americans sighted a total of 126 to 136 MIGs.

Beardsley Enters Race For 3rd Straight Time

DES MOINES (AP) — Gov. William S. Beardsley announced Thursday his candidacy for Republican reelection to a third consecutive term. He said he would stand on his record.

Beardsley thus made certain what political and statehouse circles had forecast for weeks. He will try to accomplish what only two other governors have achieved in 105 years of Iowa statehood — three terms in a row.

The two — both Republicans — were the late John Hammill (1925-1931) and the late Albert B. Cummins (1902-1908). The last previous person to try for a third consecutive term was Robert D. Blue, whom Beardsley defeated for the Republican nomination in 1948.

Those who announced earlier for the Republican gubernatorial nomination in next June's primary are Lt. Gov. William H. Nicholas, Mason City; Kenneth A. Evans, Emerson, former lieutenant governor, and Ernest J. Seemann, Waterloo, previously unsuccessful several times as a Democratic candidate for U. S. congress.

The only Democrat to announce for governor so far is Herschel Loveless, mayor of Ottumwa.

Russia Blames U.S. For Hopeless Talks

PARIS (AP) — Russia's Andrei Y. Vishinsky ominously declared Thursday that "unreasonable demands presented by the American command can give no hope for a successful conclusion" of Korean armistice talks at Panmunjom.

He called U.S. Gen. James A. Van Fleet a cannibal and a killer in a vitriolic speech before the United Nations political committee on behalf of a Soviet omnibus peace plan that the majority viewed with distaste.

The political committee voted soon afterward, 53 to 5 (Soviet bloc), to send Moscow's revised plan for atomic controls to the new 12-nation disarmament commission, which is to start work in New York only after the present general assembly adjourns.

The committee then quickly killed the rest of Vishinsky's proposals, including a call for an immediate cease-fire in Korea, retreat from the 38th parallel by both sides and withdrawal of all foreign troops and volunteers in 90 days.

The general assembly is expected to ratify finally late next week the political committee's decision for the new commission to study thoroughly Vishinsky's proposal for a simultaneous ban on

Truman To Recommend Atomic Funds Increase

Coral Petsel 'Not Guilty' in Child's Death

COLUMBIA, MO. (AP) — A circuit court jury Thursday found Mrs. Coral Joanne Petsel, former resident of near Iowa City, not guilty by reason of insanity in the drowning death of her 4-year-old daughter, Louise Dawn.

The verdict, which included a statement that Mrs. Petsel, 27, has not recovered from the insanity, makes it mandatory that Circuit Judge W. M. Dinwiddie sentence her to a state institution.

Mrs. Petsel's attorney, Don Carter, indicated there will be no appeal.

Mrs. Petsel was returned to jail, where she has been held since the drowning last July. She signed a confession that she had drowned her daughter. She first told authorities the child had wandered away from the farm home and drowned in 20 inches of water in an abandoned silo.

It took the jury, composed of three women and nine men, just an hour to reach its verdict. The prosecution had not asked the death penalty.

4 Expelled Students Have Possible Chance For Readmittance

The door to second semester readmittance for four expelled SUI students appeared to have been left slightly ajar Thursday night.

Dean of Students L. Dale Faunce said that the students, who "kidnapped" another student Monday night, had been sent official notices of dismissal.

However, Faunce added that if the four made written requests for readmittance for the second semester, and if they could convince university officials that there would be no recurrence of such actions, the university would consider allowing them to return.

Investigation of the case resulted after James Olson, P2, Spencer, showed up 200 miles from here in Marengo, Ill., pantsless and cold, after being abducted by three pledge members of his fraternity, Pi Kappa Alpha, and another student.

He identified the students as Dick Fiori, A1, Ames; Keith E. Winston, A1, Griswold, and Duane Neseril, A4, Cedar Rapids, all pledges, and William Sumner, A1, Ames, who is not affiliated. Pi Kappa Alpha Wednesday deplored the three.

Wednesday night the university expelled the four, and the interfraternity council placed the fraternity on social probation.

Mr. and Mrs. R. K. Fiori, parents of one of the men, conferred Thursday afternoon with Faunce about the expulsion of their son. The student said that his parents concluded after the meeting that "there wasn't much that could be done about it."

Fiori said that he wasn't sure whether he would request readmission to SUI, go to another school, or enlist in the armed service. None of the other three were available for comment.

Retrial for Binz; No Verdict Gained In 3d Offense

District court jurors were unable to reach a decision Thursday in the third-offense drunk driving case of William Binz. Retrial of the case will be held later.

After nearly 24 hours of deliberation the jury deadlocked at seven votes for conviction and five for acquittal. Testimony was concluded Wednesday morning and the case went to the jury that afternoon.

In the first ballot the jury voted seven for conviction, four for acquittal and one undecided. A second vote taken several hours later showed eight for conviction and four for acquittal.

The final seven-to-five vote was taken a number of times before the jury reported its inability to reach a decision to Judge Harold G. Evans. A vote must be unanimous before sentence can be passed.

Young Man of Year

JAMES B. MORRIS JR. (above), 32-year-old Negro attorney, Thursday was presented the Des Moines Junior Chamber of Commerce award as "Young Man of the Year 1951." The award is given annually to the man between the ages of 21 and 36 who "has contributed most to the community during the year."

McMahon would not say in so many words that further additions to the nation's atomic installations, like those now building in South Carolina and near Paducah, Ky., are contemplated. But he did say: "Obviously expansion means an increase of physical facilities."

Earlier, he had disclosed the President's decision while talking with reporters after a White House conference with the chief executive.

"We talked about the expansion program that has been under consideration by the Atomic Energy commission," the senator said of his conversation with Mr. Truman.

"The decision has been made by the President. He told me about it — about the expansion program. Further than that I can't state."

Any expansion presumably would not only speed up additions to the U.S. stockpile of conventional A-bombs, both of World War II and smaller size, but would permit pushing ahead with greater speed the development of new military uses for nuclear force.

Of top priority among these is the hydrogen bomb, which some scientists have estimated is potentially as powerful as the uranium bomb.

Officials have said atomic artillery has been developed and will be ready for possible battlefield use in the not distant future.

January Thaw Ends For Local Citizens; Montana Has -18

The spring-like weather enjoyed by Iowa citizens the past few days was gone Thursday as the temperature dipped to 24 degrees, but a large part of the country shared in the inheritance of the warm spell.

Unseasonably mild temperatures set in from Texas northward into the southern plains, and eastward to the Mississippi valley and the southeast.

In Chicago, for example, early December snow was melted by 58-degree sunshine.

However, in California, which already has suffered millions of dollars of damage and 15 deaths during storms the last week, more snow fell in the mountains and in the north, and added rain in southern areas brought a new threat of floods.

The snowstorm en route to the northern portion was not expected to be as severe as the recent winter blast, but some mountain roads are still closed, and several small communities remained snowbound.

Cold weather also gripped the Northern Great Plains, and the reported low for Thursday was -18 degrees at Glasgow, Mont. The Rocky Mountains and the Northern Great Lakes region were scenes of snow flurries and freezing drizzle.

Deputy Director Of Foreign Aid Quits His Job

WASHINGTON (AP) — Richard M. Bissell Jr., resigned Thursday as deputy director of the Mutual Security agency which runs the foreign aid program.

President Truman accepted the resignation, effective today, but said he was "deeply reluctant" to do so.

Bissell is widely known as one of the chief architects of the Marshall Plan for European recovery. He served under Paul G. Hoffman and is now going with the Ford foundation which Hoffman heads.

Bissell's resignation, dated Jan. 5, disclosed he had informed Mr. Truman sometime ago of his desire to return to private life. He wanted to leave the government last summer, but stayed on.

The fraternities got another black eye Wednesday when four SUI students (three of whom were fraternity members) were dismissed from the university.
The men were dismissed after they "kidnapped" a fellow student and released him at Marengo, Ill., 200 miles from here.
The students have lost their credits at SUI for this semester, and there is no assurance that the university will permit them to reenter after the beginning of the spring semester.
Worse than the shame which these four students face, is the bad light which reflects upon fraternities in general.
In the words of President Virgil Hancher, "the reflection which this irresponsible prank . . . has upon the several thousand serious-minded students of this university is most unfair and will not be tolerated by the university."
"It is also a most unfortunate reflection upon the fraternity groups which in the past year or so have been making progress toward the substitution of constructive programs for the hazing-type activity which has overshadowed their real values in the past."
The university allows every student an increasing measure of responsibility for his own actions as his college years progress without policing him at every step, and it expects him to accept these responsibilities. When a student fails in this regard to the point of endangering others with possible tragic consequences and causing grave reflections upon the good citizens of this university community, the university has no choice but to discipline firmly in the hope that the student will see and correct his errors.
For those who haven't noticed some of the constructive programs during the past year, here are some examples:
In March, the Alpha Tau Omega converted "hell week" into "help week." A full day was spent by 40 members at the Oakdale Tuberculosis sanatorium cleaning windows, removing snow fences and doing general clean-up work.
Less than a week later the Sigma Nu's took similar action when they put several crews to work cleaning up a room in the city hall for the Iowa Visiting Nurse association.
Then, early in April, about 1,500 sorority and fraternity members turned out for the first annual "Greek Week" here. They made repairs and cleaned up three city parks and later formed a line from the Reserve library to the new library over which hundreds of bound volumes of magazines were passed from hand to hand.
Halloween last year found 19 crippled children from the SUI hospital school being entertained at a party by the Theta Xi's.
Also, a plan drawn up by the interfraternity council is pending for a series of parties to be held monthly by different fraternities for the entertainment of crippled children.
These are only a sampling of the constructive activities conducted by fraternities on the SUI campus. The fraternities are to be commended for actions such as these.
However, we feel that the university authorities, including President Hancher and Dean Faunce, took proper and commendable action in dismissing the students who carried the "joke" 200 miles too far.
And we believe that most fraternities realize that incidents such as this, and involving only three or four members, can overshadow all the constructive activities carried on by hundreds of other members.

Interpreting the News — U.S. May Hit Bases in China If Talks Fail
By J. M. ROBERTS JR., Associated Press News Analyst
Winston Churchill, possibly referring to international atomic control discussions now going on in the United Nations, warned the United States Wednesday against letting go of her A-bomb superiority as long as deterrents against war are needed.
Congress, in joint session to hear the veteran British prime minister, broke into spontaneous applause.
At the same time, Russia's Foreign Minister Vishinsky was telling the UN that the Korean truce negotiations were not going to get anywhere at the military level. He wants the matter transferred to the UN as part of a package deal involving atomic controls and other issues between East and West.
Would Mean War
The quick inference was that the Communists might be intending to break off the Panmunjom talks, in spite of plain if unofficial warnings from the United States that this would mean a newly-intensified war.
Such a development would mean that the U.S. has just about switch immediately from consideration of atomic controls to consideration of atomic war.
Indications in Washington are that the United States would make up its mind to strike China directly and hard if the Communists decide to try to prolong the fighting. Stalemate will no longer be acceptable.
For this, the Allies will no longer be satisfied with merely killing constantly replaceable Chinese soldiers, the tactic which was used to bring about the truce talks. Korea will become incidental.
Have No Defense
China can be hurt and hurt badly by naval and air attacks of which the Allies are capable. The Communists have virtually nothing with which to defend their vital river ports from modern naval attack.
They have some Russian-supplied air power, but an adequate supply of either planes or pilots for a real air battle is not available without direct Russian intervention. The A-bomb might well be used.
Not Conquering
The U. S. has no idea of trying to conquer China, as Germany and Japan were conquered and occupied. The limits of the limited war would merely be extended so that direct wounds could be inflicted on the country which is fighting us.
The task of freeing China now certainly seems no more hopeless than the task of freeing France appeared in 1941. If the Communists want to bring the matter to a head now, Russia may live to regret Panmunjom as much as Hitler did Pearl Harbor.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

MOVIE producer Sam Goldwyn was a visitor to Television's "What's My Line?" one Sunday evening. That's a show in which I've participated recently, along with Arlene Frances, Dorothy Kilgallen, John Daly, and Hal Block. Mr. G. was the "mystery guest" of the week, and according to custom the panel put on blindfolds before he entered.
Unfortunately, his identity was no particular mystery to me, since the day before the show he had impulsively phoned to demand, "Hey, what kind of questions are you going to ask me tomorrow night?" I confined myself to asking "Are you a comedian?" (Mr. G. answered "no") and let somebody else guess his identity. Later Sam asked, "Why didn't you give me a chance to mention 'I Want You'?" I pointed out that I had purposely inquired, "Why are you in New York?" but that he had failed to take advantage of the opening. Sam replied, "You know I never listen!"

The Psalm of Final Week

By DARLENE CROUCH
The faculty is my shepherd, I shall not pass. They ask me to absorb great knowledge; They leadeth me in the paths of wisdom for a salary's sake.
They encourage great initiative; They leadeth me in the paths of wisdom for a salary's sake.
Yea, though I toil through a week of two-hour examinations, I will do no evil; for professors are beside me.
They suspect my intentions and their presence disturbs me.
They prepare questions for which I have no answers, by searching books I have not read.
They fillet my head with warnings; My inefficiency runneth over. Surely the faculty shall care for me all the days of my life, and I shall dwell in the classrooms of SUI forever.

Polio Is 3 Diseases in 1

Scientific Experiments Are Complicated By Different Strains, Viruses

By DAVID A. HELLER
Written for Central Press and This Newspaper
What can you do to guard yourself and your child against attack from polio? How is the war against polio faring, anyway? What are some of the points of strength and weakness in man's fight against the paralysis?
To get some down-to-earth answers for parents concerned about the possibility of the disease striking their children, the above questions were put to several eminent scientists, including Dr. Victor G. Haas, Director, Microbiological Institute, National Institute of Health Service.
Contrary to popular opinion, polio is not one disease, but three. It has three closely-related strains — Lansing, Brunhilde, and Leon. The diseases are caused by different viruses and complicate the scientific fight on the plague enormously.
Polio is a difficult series of diseases upon which to conduct scientific experiments. In scientific terms, the virus is "highly selective" as to the host in which it will grow. (Unfortunately, the list includes you and me.) Polio occurs naturally only in man and in the higher primates, apes, gorillas and certain monkeys.
These animals are rare and expensive. Laboratory research against polio has been slow and costly as a result.
Perhaps the most heartening advance in the fight on polio in recent years has been the introduction of the Lansing strain of the disease into the cotton rat and the white mouse. This was done at the Microbiological Institute.
If a cheap, plentiful laboratory animal, susceptible to all strains of polio can be found, progress against the diseases will be enormously speeded up. Extensive research is being conducted at dozens of medical laboratories all over America on this problem.
Scientists know that the vast majority of people who reach adulthood harbor the polio viruses. It is possible that most of us have "had" polio in a subclinical form. That is, our cases were so mild that they were not recognized as polio.
According to current medical theory, we may be carriers of the virus and could possibly communicate it to some susceptible person — usually a child — in whom it could erupt in a virulent form.

AGAINST POLIO

- DO —
1—In case of a sharp outbreak of polio, keep children away from crowds.
2—See that children get plenty of rest. Polio strikes with far greater severity when its victims have over-exerted themselves during the period of incubation.
3—Observe general principles of good health and sanitation. Keep food clean, drink pasteurized milk, avoid flies and other insect pests.
- DON'T —
1—Don't allow your child to over-exert himself. The results could be disastrous. Keep children's exercise moderate.

city people and country people re-acted to polio. Rural residents were less likely to get the disease, but once they got it were more likely to have it in a virulent form.
Public health officials report that now, however, America has become so mobile that this city-country difference no longer exists.
One of the great hopes against polio is that someone will discover a vaccine similar to that for smallpox, diphtheria and other diseases.
Unfortunately, at present scientists have no way of growing the virus in the quantities necessary to conduct research in mass experiments to discover a vaccine. If the virus weren't so "selective," we would probably have it whipped by now.
Recently Dr. John F. Enders of Harvard university succeeded in growing a form of polio virus in a tissue culture. This promises fruitful possibilities for future mass production of the virus.
When scientists have found a successful and inexpensive laboratory animal and are able to grow the elusive virus in the large quantities necessary for research purposes, they will probably soon find the key to controlling polio.

Leonardo da Vinci's Inventive Genius Awes World Anew on 500th Birthday

By JOHN F. SEMBOWER
Central Press Correspondent

CHICAGO — In this 500th anniversary year of the birth of the great Italian painter-genius Leonardo da Vinci, modern inventors are marveling anew at his foreseeing of the airplane, automobile machine gun, and air-conditioning centuries before they finally came into their own.
Soon an exhibit of models built from the voluminous notes and sketches left by Leonardo will start from here on a tour of major cities throughout the United States as part of the world-wide observance of the anniversary.
What Leonardo scholars for centuries regarded as "mere doodlings," to be apologized for in the light of his artistic masterpieces, including the "Last Supper" and "Mona Lisa," now have come to life in the models, and modern engineers and scientists are convinced that he held an edge of decades and centuries over others of history's great thinkers.
Dr. Roberto Guatelli, the great authority on Leonardo, built the models which will be put on the road by International Business Machines, for which he built the second set after his first was destroyed during a bombing of Tokyo during World War II.
Caught by the outbreak of war while he was on a tour of Japan and interned for the duration, Dr. Guatelli nevertheless saved the priceless Leonardo drawings and notebooks.
They reveal a side of the Italian painter, sculptor, architect, musician, mechanical engineer and natural philosopher which until recent years has not been fully appreciated, according to Dr. Guatelli. Leonardo not only was an ingenious dreamer about the future, but he executed many of his predictions in detail.
A committee of scholars which supervised the building of the models decided that Leonardo, a hundred years before Bacon, showed a firmer grasp of the principles of experimental science than Bacon did himself. He foretold what Galileo, Bacon, Newton, Harvey and others would find.
Trying to make man fly like the birds, Leonardo designed a flying machine with flapping wings, but the "air screw" he made had most of the principles of the modern helicopter, and he designed a parachute that would be only slightly more clumsy than those used nowadays.
A painter by craft, he made many of the arts and sciences his hobbies. His great skill in me-

LEONARDO DA VINCI'S AIRPLANE consisted of a wooden board, two huge wings, ropes, pulleys and windlass. To operate it the pilot was to move his feet up and down, causing the wings to flap. In a manner, it is similar to the one-man helicopters recently announced by the air force.

chanics caused his art patrons to call on him to design public works and military machines during their national emergencies.
Canal locks, pumping stations, and two-level bridges came from his drawing board. He became obsessed with curiosity as to how to transmit power, and designed gears which embody the basic principles of automotive transmissions and differentials.
In fact, he designed the first wholly self-propelled vehicle, to be driven by wound-up springs. Some of his gadgets remain mysteries, such as the efficient automobile jack he designed long before he could have known of the need to change a tire.
Equal to almost any engineer, he designed machine guns and tanks for his patrons, as well as a ventilator to provide air conditioning for the boudoir of Beatrice d'Este, wife of his patron, Lodovico Sforza.
While sculpturing an equestrian statue of a Sforza ancestor, Leonardo probed into the anatomy of horses and men, and drew some of the first anatomical sketches of muscles and blood vessels of his era.
Biggest mystery of all, however is how he found time to do it all before he died at 67. The classic "Last Supper," on the walls of the convent church of Sta. Maria delle Grazie at Milan, consumed every waking hour for four years.
Artistically, he originated many of the principles of portraiture of light and shadow, based upon a detailed anatomical study of the human eye and the invention of the first searchlight.
Painting the "Mona Lisa" mas-

THIS FLYING MACHINE designed by Leonardo da Vinci, using the same principle as a helicopter, may have flown if he had a power source like that of a gas engine.

terpiece took nearly as long as the "Last Supper," and the patience of Madonna Lisa, the Neapolitan wife of Zanoobi del Giocondo, who posed intermittently during the entire period, may surpass the mystery of the haunted smile he captured.
To keep it from fading, Leonardo drew upon another of his talents—music. He played the lute, and caused music to be played to them both during the long hours of painting.

Army Has Plans To Return Guard From Overseas

WASHINGTON (AP)—The army said Thursday it plans for the gradual return of National Guardsmen from overseas when their individual 24 months of federal duty is ended, but they cannot all be released at once.
A published report said the 43rd (New England) division would start coming home from Europe in March at the rate of about 900 men a month.
Rep. James E. Van Zandt (R-Pa.) has been informed by the defense department that men of the 29th (Pennsylvania) Guard division will start home from Germany next summer.
The other two Guard divisions which have been federalized and sent overseas are the 40th (California) and the 45th (Oklahoma), both serving in the Far East.

Linotypist 'Bums' Way Through Europe

By GUY HARRIS JR.
After six months of "bumming" around Europe, Leona (Tex) Jonker says she is glad to be running a linotype on The Daily Iowan again. Miss Jonker left Iowa City in May, 1951, to sail from New York on the freighter Leerdam for a bicycle tour of Europe.

She used the bicycle to cover 1,600 miles in Holland and England, and went by train, plane, bus and boat, and hitchhiked, through seven other countries. "I was pretty lucky," she said. "I kept knocking on wood all summer long." Her best luck was hitchhiking with a couple from Bombay, India. She met them in Interlaken, Switzerland, and again in Basel.

It can hardly be called hitchhiking, but she rode with them in their English Jaguar for two weeks, all through the Rhine river valley of Germany to Amsterdam, Holland. In return she taught them how to play canasta. "They loved it, and Rama kept winning, so I gave the deck to them," Tex said. She said Switzerland is too beautiful — it somehow doesn't seem natural. Austria is a bit dirty, but the mountains are as lovely as those in Switzerland. And Austria is a good deal less expensive.

Vienna in Austria is her favorite city. "It had everything," she said, "concerts, statues at every corner, the palace of Maria Theresa, and an atmosphere all its own. Besides, it had Russians — that made it exciting!"

From Salzburg in Austria, she crossed into Germany to stop at Berchtesgarden. Through the courtesy of the U. S. army, which has a recreation center there, she saw Hitler's house, the salt mines, and a castle at Chiemsee. From there she crossed into Austria again, then into Switzerland, and the following day into Italy — making it four countries in as many days. Back in Switzerland, she spent several days in Zermatt, the little village near the Matterhorn. "It's much more beautiful than in pictures," she said. "It's stark aloneness makes it something you can look at all day. Climbing it would be another thing though."

After a month in Holland visiting relatives, she left for England. She spent a week in London "looking at all the things I'd read about Piccadilly Circus, St. Paul's, Westminster Abbey, Big Ben, Covent Garden, Buckingham Palace — they're actually there. And it was good to hear English English, too."

From London, she biked to Stratford on Avon, which was full of tourists. After five days of pushing the bike up hills, she took the train to Edinburgh in Scotland, and then hitchhiked farther north to Inverness. After coming down past Loch Lomond, she spent a week in the lake district of England bicycling up and down the hills and around the lakes. She said this part of England is the nicest.

After swinging down through North Wales to Dover, she crossed to Calais and hitchhiked to Paris. "Paris is charming, but it smells a bit. But the little villages are worse. Parisian shops are fabulous, and the Eiffel tower, the arch of triumph, the Louvre, Notre Dame — it's something to dream about."

But for real charm, Tex prefers Holland. "Of course, I'm prejudiced — my parents came from Holland. But people there were wonderful, probably because I could speak Dutch. And such hospitable people. Complete strangers would insist you stop in for tea and cakes.

"Holland is clean and neat, with lots of flowers. The Dutch don't all wear wooden shoes, but most of the children do because shoes are terribly expensive. We think the cost of living is high here, but most Europeans have a much harder time of it than we do."

Tex left Holland November 10 for Antwerp in Belgium, and left from there by freighter for New York. This trip took 14 days because of bad weather. Nearly everyone was seasick, and Tex says it's the "oddest" feeling but no joke.

After visiting her family in Orange City during December she is now back at work on a Daily Iowan linotype. As yet she is undecided about resuming classes at SUI. But she's definitely made up her mind to start traveling again as soon as she gets the money together. "Next time I want to get up into Norway and Sweden, and then see more of Italy and end up in India and Australia before coming back. I've got the bug for sure now."

New Products

Trousers That Breathe, Wooden Shoes

NEW YORK (AP) — Beltless evening trousers that breathe, an electric fan you can use on a coffee table, and the latest fashion in wooden shoes are at the top of the new product list this week.

The evening trousers are made by Esquire Sportswear company of New York. They have a patented zipper waistband that adjusts to before-and-after dinner sizes.

The waistband adjusts along the pleats by expanding or contracting to two zipper controls, and an inner waistband of elastic maintains a snug fit that "breathes" right along with you. Keeps your shirt down, too.

Westinghouse Electric of Pittsburgh makes the fan that doubles as a coffee table. It stands 20 inches high and is covered with a flat top 19 inches in diameter. Air circulation is 2,700 cubic feet a minute. An accessory is a serving tray the size of the top of the fan stand.

The wooden shoes are made by the Stahmer Shoe company of Davenport, Iowa, especially for textile workers who have to stand around in various chemicals in the dye house. They have close-grained sanded maple soles 1 1/2 inches thick padded with a cushion inner lining. The uppers are heavy leather fastened to the wooden soles with cooper wire. And there is extra precaution with double stitching and rivets at strategic spots.

The B-B Pen company of Hollywood, Calif., has an eye glass cleaner so efficient, they say, that dust and dirt and frost just slide right off and don't stick. The package looks like a lady's lipstick. Draw a light "X" on the material on the lens and wipe it off. It doesn't leave a film. It doesn't leave anything, the maker says, except "near perfect cleanliness." You also can use it on windshields and goggles. A stick is designed to last a year.

In Evansville, Ind., Serval is making refrigerators with colored interiors. They come in icicle blue, luminous gold, or sunfrost green. The idea is to select a color to harmonize with your kitchen decor.

A sealer-coater paint that dries in 20 minutes to two hours is being produced by E. I. Du Pont de Nemours & Co. of Wilmington, Del. The paint comes in semi-paste form and is thinned with water. When the sealer-coater dries, the finish coat can be applied. It is especially recommended by Du Pont for hospitals, stores, hotels, and offices where revenue is lost when rooms are out of service.

U.S. Curbs 6 Packers

CHICAGO (AP) — The federal court issued temporary injunctions Thursday restraining six meat packing firms from selling pork containing fat in excess of amounts permitted by OPS regulations.

An OPS official has claimed that customers in Illinois, Indiana and Wisconsin have been bilked of more than a million dollars in buying pork with too much fat.

Hollywood Remains At 3d Place in Live Television Shows

NEW YORK (AP) — Hollywood has made a big splash in television with its films but remains in third place behind New York and Chicago in live network shows.

Despite the opening of the coast-to-coast microwave link to the film capital, latest network schedules show Chicago with 31 live network programs a week and Hollywood with 14 plus three others that are on an alternate week basis.

Pressing close behind Hollywood are Cincinnati and Washington with 12 live network programs each and Philadelphia with 11.

Chicago has exercised a profound influence on television with such programs as Kukla, Fran and Ollie, Zoo Parade, Super Circus, This Is Music and others. It promises to remain a major source of TV programs in the future.

The opening of the network link to Hollywood resulted in several shifts from New York to the film capital of programs that were already on the air, but few new shows. Outstanding among the new ones have been the Red Skelton and Dinah Shore programs on NBC and My Friend Irma, which started last week, on CBS.

On the other hand, Hollywood has been making major new contributions via films made especially for TV, such as I Love Lucy, Amos 'n' Andy, Fireside Theater and Groucho Marx.

With many producers and sponsors favoring film over live shows, it now appears likely that Hollywood's video influence will be greater through TV movies than through live shows over the coast-to-coast hookup.

Experiences of Matt Cvetic who spent nine years as a member of the Communist party while working as an undercover agent for the Federal Bureau of Investigation will be brought to radio listeners in a new series.

The broadcasts are being recorded by the Frederic W. Ziv company, which has bought radio rights for 10 years from Cvetic. The big radio transcription firm also has signed film star Dana Andrews to a 10-year deal to portray Cvetic in the programs, entitled "I Was a Communist for the FBI."

The series has gone into production to Hollywood for release starting March 30. The transcriptions will be furnished directly to radio stations rather than by network.

Iowa's Share of Debt Is Less Than Others

An Iowa resident's share of the public debt—federal, state and local—is $1,705.

Before you reach for your crying towel, pause a moment and think how much better off an Iowan is than his contemporary, Mr. Average American who lives outside Iowa.

An Iowa resident owes $123 less than the latter.

The difference lies in the Iowan's share of state and local debts. The average state debt in the U.S. is $41; Iowa's is only $11. Local debts throughout the nation average $134 per person; Iowa's is only $41.

Actually, an Iowan is better off than appears. The state has more than enough money set aside to pay the $11. Probably the city, town, or school district has some money on hand to offset the $41 owed as an Iowan's share of the local public debt.

Latest figures show that Iowa

Company to Stop 5 DM Bus Lines

DES MOINES (AP) — Mayor A. B. Chambers said late Thursday "it appears that the people of Des Moines are going to be on their feet again, come next Monday morning."

His comment was in reference to a controversy between the city council and the Des Moines Railway company over the firm's announced intention to abolish five city bus lines and reduce service on two others next Monday.

cities have a bonded indebtedness of $35,749,000 or about $13.50 for each Iowa resident.

Towns of less than 2,500 population in Iowa have a bonded debt of $4,184,000 or about $1.50 for each Iowan. The 99 counties in Iowa have $15,136,000 in bonds outstanding, another $6 per capita.

The school districts are the deepest in debt of Iowa's taxing bodies. They owe $51,514,000, about $20 for each resident of the state.

The federal debt amounts to $255 billion. Each American's share is $1,653. Add that to the $52 which is owed as an Iowan's share of Iowa's debt and you have $1,705. The national average is $1,828.

Orange Pudding—In The Shell

The heart of the orange flavors the pudding; and the golden shells, notched, make pretty servers.

This appealing dessert so appropriate for a children's party or many another occasion certainly looks like something special. Actually it is a budget-saver—one of those things where a little imagination and a bit of doing add up to lots of enjoyment at small cost.

Make the fluffy orange pudding with quick-cooking tapioca, a day or so before if more convenient, and store it covered in the refrigerator. At serving time pile pudding in prepared orange shells and garnish as desired.

- Chantilly Orange Tapioca
- 1/2 cup quick-cooking tapioca
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1 1/2 cups water
- 1 cup orange juice*
- 1 teaspoon grated orange rind*
- 6 to 8 orange shells
- 1/2 cup cream, whipped
- 1 cup shredded coconut, cut (optional)

Combine tapioca, sugar, salt, and water in saucepan. Place over medium heat and cook until mixture comes to a full boil, stirring constantly. Add orange juice and rind and remove from heat. Cool, stirring occasionally. Chill.

Remove any remaining pulp from orange shells and cut notched edge. If necessary, cut thin slice from bottom of shell to make cup set flat on plate. Fold whipped cream and coconut into the chilled pudding. Pile lightly into the orange shell cups. Garnish with few shreds orange rind or additional coconut. Serve on paper doilies or green leaves. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

* If desired, 1/2 cup quick-frozen concentrated orange juice may be substituted for the orange juice and orange rind. Increase water to 2 cups.

Hospital Campaign Termed 'Success'

FORT MADISON, IA. (AP)—A campaign to raise $350,000 to help finance an addition to Sacred Heart hospital here has been a success, leaders of the drive said Thursday.

Although the campaign does not end until Jan. 31, Walter Cole, one of the leaders, reported that the final report meeting showed $347,361 subscribed, and more money still will come in.

The federal government is expected to contribute $350,000 under a federal aid program, and the Catholic Sisters' order which operates the hospital a similar amount to meet the estimated $1 million cost of the project. The present building was constructed in 1912, but has been overcrowded. The addition will be a five-story, fireproof wing.

Track Fortunes Rising—

If you have any enthusiasm left over after cheering for Iowa's fine basketball team, why not consider for a moment what's going on in Hawkeye track circles these days.

Unless you have been a pretty close follower of this sport, it may come as quite a surprise to learn that the Hawks are no longer floundering around at the very bottom of the conference as was the case for too many years in the '40s.

In fact, given a few breaks—like having everyone stay eligible for the second semester—chances aren't half bad that Francis Cretzmeier's young men will be keeping company with the league's upper crust when the final returns are in. Say fourth place in the Big Ten meets and you might be right.

And if anyone thinks that fourth place isn't much to get excited about, merely consider some of the dark days recent Iowa track teams have had.

Last in 1947, '48, and '49 in the outdoor meet with 6, 1 1/3, and 3/4 points; also last in those years in the indoor meet with 2, 4, and 0 points.

There were many other inglorious seasons, too, such as no points in '45 and 1/6 of a point in '46, all of which clearly illustrates that the cinder sport was in no danger of being charged with overemphasis.

What ailed Iowa track during those years is a touchy and complicated story which need not be discussed here, except to note that the existing situation was not one of the brighter chapters of the Iowa athletic department.

That's all been changed now, however, and while the Hawkeyes are by no means a power, Cretzmeier has doctored the patient up to the point where Iowa has gone on to national recognition in spots.

Too much credit can't be given to this 39-year-old coach whose slow, difficult rebuilding task has been steadily progressing in spite of some very real obstacles.

In Cretz's first season here in 1949, the Hawks got nary a point in the conference indoor meet. Last year, in the outdoor affair, his team rose to fifth with 20 points. And, as said before, this year's team looks to be the strongest Iowa representative in quite a while.

To explain Cretzmeier's modest success thus far, you have to be familiar with the problems that he has been tussling with since his arrival here from North High in Des Moines.

Was Faced with Problems

For one thing, and a very important thing, there has never been an over abundance of track talent in the state, and it has been Cretz's chief concern to see that as much of that limited supply as possible comes to Iowa.

Here, of course, arises the old Iowa problem of meeting the competition from bigger and richer schools, who go after the top prep cinder stars with all the inducements familiar to football recruiting.

Still, Iowa hasn't been doing half bad of late, such as this year when the three top prospects in the state—Bobby Clark, Dick Fowler and Jim Milani—have shown up here. All three, incidentally, placed on the national high school honor roll.

The year before LeRoy Ebert was the prize catch while throughout the past few years there has been a good flow of talent from the Chicago suburban league like Ted Wheeler from Evanston.

The pickup in the number of prospects coming to Iowa can definitely be traced to the hard work Cretz has put in on creating track interest around the state and among the alumni by attending high school meets and appearing as a speaker at athletic banquets etc.

Another of Cretz's problems, one which seemed to be hitting track unusually hard, was the fact that a large number of good prospects were being thrown by academic troubles before progressing very far in school.

Why trackmen should be less susceptible to book learning than other athletes hasn't been satisfactorily explained, but as Cretz says, "Since I've been here I've been prodding the boys to study, study, study."

If his words can't do the trick, it's doubtful if anyone can, for it would be hard to imagine a coach getting more genuine admiration and respect from his pupils than Cretz commands.

This, along with his technical competence, has resulted in close knit, fiercely competing Iowa track teams which more and more are making their presence felt in this tough league.

But win or lose, you can be sure that everyone on the team has been giving it his all in practice and in competition.

"No one would have the heart to let Cretz down," explained one member of the squad. "He's just too nice a guy."

Blues to Durant

U-high travels to Durant tonight for its eighth Eastern Iowa conference game of the season. The Blues are currently in second place with a record of six games won and only one lost in conference competition.

Reichardt Pick Of Green Bay; Skins Get Hube

Bill Reichardt was picked by the Green Bay Packers Thursday in the professional football draft. Reichardt was the seventh choice of the Packers and ranked 83rd among all players picked.

Only one other Iowa player, tackle Hubert Johnston, was picked by the pro clubs. Johnston was the choice of the Washington Redskins.

Details of their contracts were not available Thursday and neither has made any decisions yet.

NEW YORK (AP)—The top prize of the 1951 college football crop—Vanderbilt's Bill Wade—fell to the champion Los Angeles Rams Thursday in a National league draft that saw a marked trend away from single wing talent.

The Rams won the coveted "bonus" pick in a blind draw with six other clubs and immediately put the finger on the 6-2, 222-pound T-quarterback from Nashville, Tenn., rated by the pros as the outstanding prospect for the money game.

Wade, a brilliant long passer, hard runner and big enough to play defense, probably won't be available for two years since he's committed under a V-5 program to two years of naval duty. However, the Rams, with two fine quarterbacks in Bob Waterfield and Norm Van Brocklin, figure they can wait.

Get Carey

After harnessing Wade, the Rams proceeded to pick up a pair of all American ends—Bob Carey of Michigan State and Dewey McConnell of Wyoming in the regular draft, a drawn-out, all-day affair.

Only the San Francisco 49ers, who plucked three all American stars in the first five ballots, apparently fared as well in cushioning their squad for the future. The 49ers picked up Hugh McElhenry, Washington's ploughing fullback; Pat O'Donohue, Wisconsin end, and Bob Tonnef, Notre Dame tackle.

Single wing tailbacks went being in the draw. Princeton's Dick Kazmaier, the most decorated college player of the 1951 season, wasn't picked until the 15th round, when the Chicago Bears took him.

Lauricella Overlooked
There wasn't a call for Hank Lauricella, all-American wheelhorse of Tennessee, voted the No. 1 college team last year in the Associated Press poll.

Vic Janowicz, Ohio State halfback who was the outstanding college player of the 1950 season, was not picked until the seventh round and then he went to the Washington Redskins.

The lowly New York Yanks had first choice in the regular draw and chose a crack line-backer—Les Richter, 230-pound California center.

Green Bay grabbed next and took Vito (Babe) Parilli, Kentucky's passing ace who threw to a record 50 touchdowns during his career.

The Pittsburgh Steelers plucked Ed (Mighty Mo) Modzelewski, 210-pound Maryland fullback.

The Philadelphia Eagles' first choice was Johnny Bright, the high-scoring Drake backfield star who suffered a broken jaw in the game with Oklahoma A & M. The Chicago Cards picked Ollie Matson, all-American fullback from San Francisco, who led the nation in scoring last fall with 126 points and 21 touchdowns.

Iowa Enters Team For Table Tennis

An Iowa table tennis team will compete in the Missouri Valley tournament in Kansas City, Saturday and Sunday. The Memorial Union is sponsoring the four-man team, chosen from performance in the University Table Tennis club's weekly tournaments.

Top man on the team is Leonard Hippen, university champion and previously Texas university champion. Chuck Windle won the Oberlin college championship before coming to Iowa, where he finished a close second to Hippen. Dean Norman, third man on the team, placed second in the 1951 state tournament. Jerry Tassone, alternate player, was a member of the championship intercollegiate team at Wayne university last year.

ONE OF THESE NIGHTS big Chuck Darling may foul out of a game, and if that occurs it's likely that Gene Hettrick will be called on to take over. Hettrick has seen little action thus far but is considered a good prospect.

Wrestling Lineup Set For Wisconsin Meet

By JIM COOKE

The 1952 edition of the Hawkeye wrestling squad will open its season here Saturday afternoon at 2 p.m. at the Iowa field house against the Wisconsin Badgers.

Mike Howard, beginning his 31st year as Iowa wrestling coach, has announced a starting lineup composed of five juniors, two seniors, and one freshman.

Dick Salome at 137 pounds and Dean Lansing at 177 pounds are the two seniors among the first eight starters. Lansing is a letter winner, while Salome is beginning his first year in intercollegiate competition for the Hawkeyes.

The five juniors who will represent the Hawkeyes Saturday afternoon are Captain Phil Duggan in the 130 pound class, Rich Hick-enbottom at 157 pounds; Charles Woodruff in the 147-pound division, Don Heaton, who will wrestle at 167 pounds, and George Myers wrestling in the heavyweight division.

All have won previous wrestling letters at Iowa with the exception of Woodruff, who came to Iowa from Burlington with a fine high school record.

The lone freshman among the eight starters will be Jerry Reeder of Cedar Rapids who will go in the 123-pound weight class.

The Iowa squad will hold a light workout Friday afternoon and the weighing-in ceremonies with Wisconsin will take place at 9 a.m. Saturday.

After the Saturday match with the Badgers, the Hawks continue Big Ten conference competition with a Monday evening dual meet with a strong Indiana squad. The Iowa-Indiana match will be at the Iowa field house and competition will begin at 8 p.m.

CRUSADERS TOP ST. LOUIS
BOSTON (AP)—Jim Dilling's foul shot in the last second of overtime boosted Holy Cross into the national basketball spotlight Thursday night as the Crusaders edged fifth-ranked St. Louis, 66-65 before 3,771 limp fans in the Garden.

See Rugged Battle for Rebounds—

Gophers Plenty Rough

By JACK SQUIRE
Daily Iowan Sports Editor

Things may get plenty rough and ready in the fight for rebounds Saturday night, thinks Coach Bucky O'Connor concerning Minnesota's coming appearance at the field house.

The Gophers, averaging 6-2 3/5 for their starting five, are reported to be as physically rough a team as the conference has seen in some time. And with Iowa showing some weakness in rebounding against Indiana and Northwestern, the visitors could prove plenty troublesome.

"I thought that we did fairly well in our rebounding last week-end," O'Connor said Thursday. "Don't forget that Chuck Darling

Tickets Gone

All reserved seats for the Minnesota game have been sold. It was announced Thursday. Some general admission seats may go on sale before the game depending on the number of students showing up for the contest.

Kalafat Tough
Darling, who has taken first place in the Big Ten scoring race with a 22 point average, is in for another tough evening against Ed Kalafat, the Gophers' burley center.

Kalafat, 6-6 1/2 and 224 pounds, is described by Iowa Scout Ben Douglas as "the most active big man I've seen in the conference in the past two years." He has averaged 16.1 points a game, including a 30 point outburst when Minnesota toppled Kentucky, 61-

None of the other Gophers is quite that big or broad but all are said to be well equipped in the physical department.

Good Personnel
"Don't make any mistake about it," said O'Connor, "this figure to be as tough a game as we've had all year. Ozzie Coules is a sharp coach and he has good personnel in Kalafat, Bob Gelle, and Chuck Mencil. We consider these fellows just as good as Indiana, and you can be sure we won't be looking past them to the Indiana game Monday night."

Mencil, as O'Connor intimated, might bear special watching. He was one of the top high school players in the country last year and is showing very well in his first year of college ball, hitting 12.7 a game as well as playing a clever floor game.

Hawk Notes: One reason for Iowa's success thus far is its hot shooting nights. The Hawkeyes have averaged .363 in conference play and .342 for all games. Chuck Darling is really torrid with a 429 mark for all games. Bob Clifton continues to lead Herb Thompson for runner up scoring honors, 13.2 to 10.5 a game. . . .

Ev Cochrane has looked good in practice this week but Deacon Davis will continue to start at forward with Thompson. O'Connor said. . . Chuck Jarnigan is also showing up well.

SUI Discussion Team Rates Excellent in Nation-Wide Contest

SUI forensic students have been awarded a rating of excellent in the first annual radio discussion contest conducted by tape recording by the Chicago undergraduate division of the University of Illinois.

A. Craig Baird, director of forensics at the university, received word of the award Thursday from Wayne Thompson, director of forensics at the Chicago school.

Sixteen colleges and universities from all sections of the country participated in the contest. The problem discussed was, "How can the United States best meet the narcotics menace?"

Baird reported that this is the first time a nation-wide intercollegiate forensic event has been conducted by tape recording.

Members of the SUI discussion team were: chairman, Florence Schuck, A4, West Point; Kathryn Freyder, A3, and Mrs. Kathleen Jones, A1, both of Iowa City; Frank Myers, A2, Sheldon, and George Aumock, A3, Onalaska, Wis.

Baird reported that this is the first time a nation-wide intercollegiate forensic event has been conducted by tape recording.

"Micropublication of Dissertations" will be in the Shambaugh Heritage library at 2 p.m.

Ellsworth said former supervisors of department libraries have also been urged to attend the dedication. Directors and supervisors will be honored at the dedication dinner Jan. 25, he added.

Testimony Begins in Break-In Trial

Jurors were empaneled and testimony began Thursday afternoon in the district court trial of Clyde Lester Jones, 19, formerly of Scranton, Ark.

Jones was indicted by a grand jury last Dec. 8 on a charge of breaking and entering into the building of Nall Motors, Inc., on Sept. 15.

He has entered a plea of innocent to the indictment, and through his attorney, Jones has also asked and obtained permission to enter an additional plea of innocent by reason of insanity.

Jurors selected Thursday afternoon were: Fred H. Beck, Orris E. Connelly, Ray Donovan, Vernon Dubishar, Clifford Goodrich, Adeline A. Kass, R. J. Miller, Gertrude Paulus, Frank E. Schuller, Robert Smahel, Ethel Mae Stocker, and E. E. Wise.

Army Wife Held in Death of 4 Tots

FT. KNOX, KY. (AP) — The FBI Thursday charged the wife of a young army officer with first degree murder in the killing of their four children, whose slashed bodies were found by her husband in their apartment here Wednesday evening.

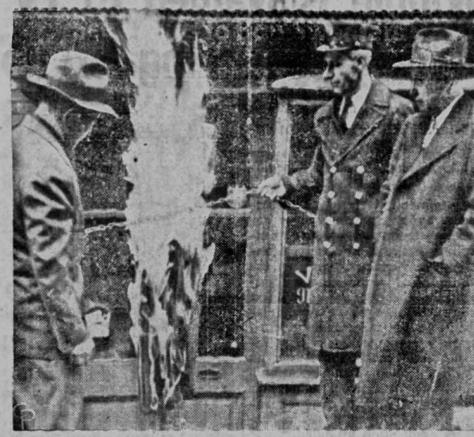

Mrs. Joseph P. Coonan Sr., 28, was held under military guard at the post hospital, where authorities said she is recovering from self-inflicted wounds on her neck. Her husband, 2d Lt. Coonan, 29, was recovering from the shock of the tragedy and was in the same hospital.

Coonan found his four youngsters, Constance, 5; Joseph P. Jr., 3; Claire, 2, and Patricia Marie, 4½ months, their throats slashed with a butcher knife, lying on a bed in the apartment. Mrs. Coonan, her throat slashed, was lying on the floor of the children's bedroom. Military authorities said she had taken poison.

John Malone, FBI agent in charge of the Louisville office, said a federal complaint charging the woman with murder was filed with U.S. Commissioner Ray H. Kirchoff.

Malone said FBI agents and military officials sought a motive for the stabbings but so far they have been unable to question Mrs. Coonan, former 2d lieutenant in the army nurse corps and a native of York, Pa. Lt. Coonan is a native of Lancaster, Pa.

Seek Laws to Ban Sweaters

PLANS FOR FEDERAL, state and city laws to ban manufacturers of "torch" sweaters are mapped in New York as authorities turn up more of the highly-inflammable brush-rayon garments sold by peddlers. Philip Toffler (left), sweater manufacturer, Fireman Frank Healy and Fire Marshall Martin Scott watch a sweater burn up in 50 seconds. Toffler said he was unaware that the sweaters would burn so quickly.

Panacea Tryouts Slated To Begin in February

The Panacea committee completed its plans for staging the all-university musical production of "Shy Guy" and announced casting would start immediately after the new semester begins.

Five performances will be presented March 18-22 in MacBride auditorium.

Jim Mergen, A3, Fennimore, Wis., chairman of the Panacea organization, said an attempt will be made this year to use as many students in the various colleges as possible.

There will be a booth in the field house at registration time to give SUI students an opportunity to sign for work on the production.

"Everyone will be given equal consideration regardless of experience," Mergen said. He explained that the committee will try to use, as many students as possible with experienced personnel only in the strategic positions.

The lyrics for "Shy Guy" are by Robert Randolph, G. Centerville, who will also direct the show. Richard Caplan, M1, Des Moines, wrote the music.

An innovation this year will be a 10 to 13 piece band to play the 13 songs composed by Caplan for the Panacea production. Last year, two pianos were used for the music.

The original dates for the show had tentatively been set for March

Sweater Yarn

Flame, Hanger Unravel 'Hot' Mystery

Through the obliging efforts of a laundry textile, an assistant professor of textiles, a Cedar Rapids detective and two Iowa City firemen, the "hot" sweater mystery has been solved — probably.

L. A. Bradley, manager of the SUI laundry, proved Wednesday that the sweater which turned up in Iowa City was inflammable but not "explosive," as some reports have described the garments in other cities.

He concluded that perhaps the Iowa City sweater had not been coated with elements similar to sweaters found elsewhere. That's where the Cedar Rapids detective entered.

When the sweater was taken to the Cedar Rapids police station, the detective showed how their's burned. He cut off a piece of a sleeve, hung it from a clothes hanger, and lit it at the bottom.

It was quickly engulfed in flame — more quickly than the Iowa City sweater.

No one in Iowa City had thought of hanging a piece of the sweater vertically and lighting it at the bottom — which permits the flames to spring upward easily across the nap.

A piece of the Cedar Rapids sweater was taken to Bradley and Thursday afternoon he found that this sweater did not contain the synthetic resin finishing agent that the Iowa City sweater had.

But that wouldn't make any difference as far as an "explosive" element was involved, he said. He learned that both sweaters were of viscose rayon, the viscose signifying the process by which the yarn is manufactured.

Film on Florida to be Shown

"Roaming Robert" Friars, who hitch-hiked around the world in 1939 on a $5 bet, will show his latest movie here Sunday night.

The color travelogue, sponsored by the Iowa Mountaineers club, will be shown at 8 p.m. in MacBride auditorium and the narration will be furnished by Friars in person.

Friars' picture, a full-length feature, will show the scenic wonders, sports and pageants, agriculture and industry and wildlife of the state of Florida.

Points of interest featured in the film are the overseas highway to Key West, historic Ft. Jefferson, Miami's "Millionaire Row," Silver Springs, the Bok Singing Tower and the Florida State Caverns.

Sports scenes include the Hialeah race track, the Orange bowl football game, the St. Petersburg greyhound track and the underwater ballet at Weekiwachee Springs.

A wildlife tour of the Everglades swamp includes a scene in which Friars' party is surrounded by hundreds of alligators on a tiny island.

Friars is a young adventurer and motion picture producer who took his first hiking trip at the age of 12. Besides circling the globe on an $82 budget, he has walked through Central America and made films in South America, Cuba, Jamaica, Haiti, Puerto Rico and Trinidad. He made the first color motion picture of a genuine voodoo ceremony.

Local Man Places In Driver Contest

Arthur L. Curry of Iowa City has been named runner-up in the Iowa Motor Truck association "Driver of the Year" award for 1951.

Curry, 29, a driver for the Rutan Transport company, was cited for action at the scene of a collision in January, 1951, near Washburn.

He gave emergency aid to three injured persons, put out a fire in a wrecked car, and warned and directed traffic on the dark highway the citation said. The collision was between a car and a farm tractor.

Winner in the contest was Frank McClaren, 38, of Bettendorf, who rescued a woman thrown from a car into a roadside canal after a collision.

SLEEP IS WHERE YOU FIND IT—Chair car passengers aboard the marooned streamliner City of San Francisco curl up to find sleep as best they can. Three unidentified passengers, one a woman, curled up in blankets, share a chair in the lounge car. The 222 passengers, stranded in the Sierra mountains for four days were rescued late Wednesday. However, the train is still caught in the snow drifts, resulting from that area's worst storm in history.

Larson Asks Support In Statewide Drive On Minors' Drinking

DES MOINES (P) — Attorney General Robert L. Larson called upon sheriffs and county attorneys Thursday to support him in a statewide campaign against sale of intoxicants to minors, patterned after his antigambling drive begun in 1949.

In a letter to the sheriffs, Larson asked that they contact all beer permit holders in their counties and demand cooperation in the new drive. The letter also requested the sheriffs to solicit the help of municipal peace officers. Further, Larson asked the sheriffs to inform permit holders that state agents soon will start checking up on results.

The attorney general's letter to the county attorneys said he would need their help, as well as that of city councils, county boards of supervisors, grand juries and the general public. Larson said he hoped no major criminal action would be needed to get the desired results.

Newsman referring to a recent news story, relating that a 20-year-old youth made purchases of beer at several places in Iowa City. To this the attorney general replied:

"This places quite a burden on officials in my home county (Johnson, of which Iowa City is the county seat). Probably they have not been as careful as they should be because of the students there (State University of Iowa).

"It is hard to distinguish between 20 and 21 years of age. It will take an educational program. The bar tender will have to learn because he is on the spot and the one to make the decision whether a fellow is 20 or 21.

Winnie Is Named to TV Network Planning Group

The appointment of Prof. John R. Winnie, SUI dramatic arts department, to a national television planning committee, was announced Thursday.

Recommendations of the committee, appointed to increase cooperation among colleges and universities in the field of educational television, may result in the formation of a nationwide network of non-commercial television stations, Winnie said. A conference in St. Louis formed the committee. Representatives of the Chicago Round Table, the American Joint committee on Educational Television, American Council on Education, U.S. office of education and the University Film Producers association attended.

Consider TV Network

"Since the majority of schools applying for TV have shown a sincere interest in this cooperation, any organization coming from this meeting will be of great importance to the future of educational television," Winnie pointed out.

He added that such an organization could provide an economic advantage to participating schools, as well as making the best programs of each university available to the entire country.

SUI applied to the federal communications commission two years ago for an educational TV station allocation and has received a tentative allocation on channel two.

Professor Winnie said SUI, "a leader in the television training field," is one of the few schools in the country doing any related teaching and production work in television. A half-hour program, produced by students in connection with their classwork, is now being presented every other Sunday at 1 p.m. on Davenport's WOC-TV.

SUI Gives TV Shows

"The Vinton Story," built around a film prepared for the Vinton school for the blind, is the next university production, scheduled for Sunday. The Feb. 3 program will feature "White Magic," a show on antibiotics. Script for the "live action" show was written by Lawrence E. McKune, G. Washington.

SUI was one of the first universities to produce educational programs on a commercial station. Now in their third year, these programs are produced by the department of speech and dramatic art under Winnie's direction and with the assistance of other university departments.

Nearly a dozen SUI students have already completed graduate or undergraduate work in television — another indication that the university is a leader in the field of educational film and television, Winnie said. These former students are now working in both the commercial and educational aspects of TV.

March of Dimes Drive Reaches $267 Mark

There has been the equivalent of 2,671 dimes contributed to the Johnson county March of Dimes drive up to Thursday.

Total contributions now stand at $267.13, an increase of $142.07 since Monday.

Mailing cards sent to Johnson county rural families account for $133.83 and other contributions total $133.30. Seventy-seven of the 1,000 cards have been returned.

There is going to be a March of Dimes party held at the Roller-skating rink in Coralville, Thursday. All proceeds from the party will go to the drive.

January 26 is the date set for the "block of dimes" drive, officials announced. Iowa City Boy Scouts will cosponsor the "block." Plans will be put on Washington st. between Dubuque and Clinton sts. to hold contributions.

Radio station KXIC will broadcast results of the "block" during the day.

With two weeks yet to go in the drive, the quota of $10,000 is $9,732.87 short of being filled.

Government to Lease 13 Near-by Farms

Thirteen farms will be leased by the U.S. government in the Coralville area north of Iowa City, the Rock Island district of the army corps of engineers has announced.

These farms had been condemned by the government for the Coralville reservoir and are now open for bids for farming during 1952.

Bids will be accepted by the army engineers Jan. 30 at the Clock Tower building, Rock Island arsenal. All bids for government-owned land and buildings will be opened at 11 a.m.

The properties open for lease are located in Penn, Newport, Big Grove, Jefferson and Madison townships and are open for inspection.

The properties open for lease highest bidders complying with the government requirements but engineers have established a minimum rental to be accepted.

U.S. Population Hits 155 Million

NEW YORK (P) — A spurt in population growth by which the United States may break all world's records was described Thursday in the Metropolitan Life Insurance company's statistical bulletin.

We are adding newly born Americans at the amazing rate of 26 million and more per 100 years. That would give us 181 1/2 million in 1962. Our last count, seven weeks ago, was 155,575,000.

The nation has been going at close to this rate for five years. Attitudes seem to have changed toward marriage and children, with more and earlier of both.

Last year American births set an all-time high of more than 3,900,000. Subtract the deaths and the gain was 2,650,000. This was the fifth year in succession in which births exceeded 3 1/2 million.

The report says the new birth record reflects partly the increase in marriages after the start of the Korean war.

Other peoples still have higher birth rates than ours, but our living standards and constantly dropping death rates are tending to wipe out that margin.

6 Music Students To Give Recitals

SUI music students will present three recitals this weekend.

At 11:30 a.m. Saturday Wesley Bolin, A4, Cedar Rapids, bassoon; Nancy Fink, A3, Freeport, horn, and Robert Sibling, Quincy, Ill., saxophone, will perform on "Recital Hall" over station WSUI.

Piano accompaniment will be provided by Elizabeth Welter, A4, Iowa City, and Mrs. Margaret Pendleton, SUI music instructor.

One of the selections will be Sibling's composition, "Prelude and Fugue for Two Saxophones." A recital by Robert Hanson, Oskok, Minn., trumpet, and Hogg, G. Lincoln, Kan., trombone, will be given in North Music hall at 4 p.m. Accompanist will be Norma Cross, of the music faculty.

At 4 p.m. Sunday Arlene Yeager, A4, Maquoketa, will sing in recital at North Music hall. She will be accompanied by Catherine Welter, G, Iowa City.
