Outsiders Called To Aid In Cleanup

WASHINGTON (AP) — Attorney General McGrath said Friday night he will use "outside attorneys" as special assistants in a drive to sweep wrongdoers out of the federal government.

In his first public comment on the task to which President Truman has assigned him, McGrath said the outside attorneys will be selected on a basis of merit and qualification "without any partisan consideration."

Asserting that each such appointee will "be given broad and unfettered authority," McGrath said they will be used to "supervise and coordinate the program."

Names Under Advisement
"Under advisement," he said, "are the names of several prominent lawyers for appointments as special assistants to the attorney general."

McGrath was designated by Mr. Truman a week ago as the man to direct the cleaning out of any official misconduct. The President's action followed a series of dismissals of internal revenue officials in connection with alleged tax frauds and the firing of Asst. Atty. Gen. T. Lamar Caudle for "outside activities" which the White House said were incompatible with his office.

President Discards Plan
The President discarded a previously considered plan to set up a special bipartisan commission for the work. Instead, he gave the job to McGrath, as the government's chief law enforcement officer.

The attorney general also disclosed a departmental order directed to all U.S. prosecutors throughout the country suggesting "more thorough investigation and fuller use of grand jury facilities in cases of alleged official misconduct, fraud and bribery."

Capt. Lawrence Paul Is Killed in Korea

Capt. Lawrence Paul
1942 SUI Graduate

The body of Capt. Lawrence E. Paul, first Iowa City soldier to be killed in the Korean war, is en route from San Francisco for funeral services in Iowa City according to word received from relatives.

Capt. Paul was killed in a plane crash while with the 62nd troop carrier division, in Taejon, Korea, Jan. 14, 1951.

He was born Oct. 4, 1921, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer E. Paul, 410 Iowa ave., and was graduated from high school here. Paul attended SUI where he received his B.A. degree in political science in 1942 and was on the football team.

He was the youngest member of ROTC to ever be commissioned from the university's unit. He had been stationed in Japan where he flew C-54 transport planes to Korea.

Paul was a member of St. Mary's church. Funeral arrangements are pending the arrival of a brother, Col. Leo F. Paul, who is flying from Paris where he is stationed with SHAPE.

His wife, Marcella R. Paul of Tacoma, Wash., arrived in Iowa City yesterday. Major John Howell, a member of the squadron in which Capt. Paul served, will head the military escort when the body is brought from San Francisco.

The funeral will be a fully military honor service.

Bills for Betty as — Tots Swell Polio Fund

A one-dollar bill doesn't last long any more when it comes to buying groceries or clothing or fuel, but to an 8 or 10-year-old child it's still a lot of money.

That's why Mrs. Betty Young, Cedar Rapids polio patient at University hospitals since August, 1950, especially treasures two letters she received last week.

Mrs. Young has started a campaign to collect autographed dollar bills for the March of Dimes fund to be used in the fight against polio. Both letters were addressed to Bills for Betty, Polio Ward, University hospitals, Iowa City.

The first, from a Dubuque lad, read:
Dear Mrs. Young:
I am sending you my $1.00 as I had Polio in 1949 and was at Iowa City too and want to help you in your fight to recover. I am 10 years old.

Children from St. Patrick's school in Iowa City swelled Mrs. Young's fund by $14 with $2 from one grade and $1 from each of the other 12 grades. So far she has received more than $160 from persons throughout the country.

Senate Group Votes Probe of Shortages In Government Grain

WASHINGTON (AP) — A full investigation of shortages in the agriculture department's grain storage program was voted Friday by the senate agriculture committee.

It acted after hearing that shortages in Texas alone amount to $3,800,000, of which some may be recovered, and that many other cases are still under investigation elsewhere.

Secretary of Agriculture Brannan testified that no government employees were involved. In the cases investigated so far, he said, private warehouse operators took government-owned grain for their own use. In other cases still under study, he said, apparent losses may have been due to spoilage or normal shrinkage.

Brannan estimated that the total of unexplained shortages now under investigation will run between five and seven million dollars.

Capacity Audience Encores — Arrau Demonstrates Musical Showmanship

By NORMA SEXTON
Claudio Arrau convincingly demonstrated his understanding of the music he played at the first of the university concert series at the Iowa Union Friday night and brought sincere applause from a capacity audience.

A fine showman, as well as technician, his outstanding number of the evening was Beethoven's "Sonata in F Minor." As Beethoven is complete in his range from the majestic and powerful to the light and gay, so is Arrau in his presentation.

Arrau's demeanor reflected the moods of his music—from andante through prestissimo. The artist's personality was as much a part of the evening's performance as the music.

Other numbers included on the first half of the program were "Rondo Capriccioso" and "Song Without Words in G Major," by Mendelssohn and "Variations on a Theme of Paganini, Book II," by Brahms.

Following the intermission, he played "Pour le Piano," which illustrated an insight of Debussy. This was followed by "The Maiden and the Nightingale" from "Goyescas" by Granados.

The audience responded enthusiastically to his last number, "El Pelele," also by Granados. Arrau returned for two encores.

Families Evacuated from Flood Area

LEGIONNAIRES AND OTHER volunteers Friday carried refugees from a flooded area of suburban Reseda, near Los Angeles, into an emergency shelter. More than 200 families were evacuated from the district as high waters invaded their homes during a disastrous storm that hit southern California.

California Floods Endanger Hundreds

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Hundreds of persons fled their homes and entire communities faced a serious sanitation hazard from flood waters Friday in sodden southern California.

The coast guard and army combined with civilian agencies to evacuate scores of families from the Artesia district near Long Beach, the Reseda area in San Fernando valley, and Goleta, farther up the coast near Santa Barbara. The latest onslaught took at least 13 lives.

Health officers warned that the widespread flood waters in the San Fernando valley had collapsed more than 1,000 home cesspools and probably would cave in more. It is estimated there are more than 100,000 such sewage disposal units in the area.

With sewage being released in muddy surface waters, Los Angeles health officer George Uhl advised parents to keep children from playing in water.

No water main breaks were reported, however, and water was still safe for drinking. As a precaution, the municipal water department was using four times the usual amount of chlorine for purifying.

At least temporary cessation of rain gave the coast guard a chance to remove 300 Artesia and Hawaiian Gardens families to Red Cross shelters, and other hundreds were reported waiting to be evacuated.

Car Owners Must Register by Feb. 1

County Treasurer Lumir Jansa Friday again warned Johnson county automobile owners that their vehicles must be registered by Feb. 1 or penalties will be imposed.

He said that only about 6,650 cars have been registered so far while the total number in the county is estimated to be between 11,000 and 13,000. License plates and registration papers have been on sale since Dec. 1.

After Jan. 31, a penalty on license plates will accrue at the rate of five percent per month, with a minimum penalty of $1, Jansa said.

Jansa also pointed out that the treasurer's office will be open during noon hours from Jan. 25 to the end of the month to accommodate latecomers. He added that the office will be open all day Saturday, Jan. 26.

Senate Committee Invites Criticism of McDonald

WASHINGTON (AP) — A senate banking subcommittee Friday invited the public — if it has "solid" evidence — to speak out in the disputed nomination of Harry A. McDonald of the reconstruction finance corporation.

"We are not taking a public opinion poll," said Senator Douglas (D-Ill.), the group's informal spokesman, seeking to head off any deluge of letters expressing simply personal views.

2,900 Gambling Devices Seized in Kentucky Raids

LOUISVILLE, KY. (AP) — Fast-moving FBI agents and local officers seized more than 2,900 gambling machines valued at nearly $800,000 in a surprise statewide roundup Friday.

Twenty-three persons were arrested in the continuing Kentucky raids, the FBI announced. The drive extended into bordering states. Two arrests were made in Indiana and one in Ohio, the FBI said.

The federal men sprung the roundup with startling suddenness in key Kentucky cities Friday morning and then fanned out into smaller communities.

The FBI office here said the roundup would continue today.

Balm Denied for Cows' Sore Feet

LITTLETON, COLO. (AP) — Damages for mental suffering cannot be claimed because your cows have sore feet, District Judge Harold J. Davies ruled Thursday.

Gleen and Ada Page charged their neighbor, W. H. Lane, built a "spite" fence along his property, causing them to drive their dairy herd over a longer route to pasture, resulting in loss of milk production, sore feet for the cows and mental anguish for the owners.

Judge Davies threw out the mental anguish charge on which they asked $15,000 damages.

Harrison Spangler Silent on Rumors He's Quitting Job

DES MOINES (AP) — Harrison E. Spangler, Cedar Rapids, Iowa Republican national committeeman, answered fresh reports in Des Moines Friday that he will not seek reelection by saying only: "No comment."

Spangler was in San Francisco attending a joint meeting of the national committee with Pacific coast GOP leaders. He has been a committee member since 1932 and is a former national chairman.

Reports in Des Moines said he is expected to announce before next summer's Republican national convention that he will not be a candidate for reelection. He is reported to have told a number of friends that he does not intend to be a candidate and will so announce at the appropriate time.

Mentioned as possible candidates to succeed him, whether he seeks reelection or not, are Robert K. Goodwin, Republican state chairman; Allen Whitfield, Des Moines attorney and campaign manager for Gov. William S. Beardsley in 1950; Jim Schramm, Burlington, former finance chairman for Republican state headquarters; and Fred Gilbert, State Center, former member of the state highway commission.

French Tax Clips U.S. Military Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) — A congressional committee reported Friday that the French government gets about one dollar in taxes out of every five dollars appropriated for United States military construction in France.

The committee is a special house group headed by Rep. Hardy (D-Va.) which returned recently from a 10,000 mile inspection of United States military construction projects in foreign countries.

French taxes, the committee said, apply to U.S. military construction in that country. Estimates of the total amount that may be paid run as high as 100 million dollars.

Truce Negotiators Still Deadlocked

MUNSAN, Korea (SATURDAY) (AP) — Korean armistice talks droned on Friday with a monotonous review of past arguments—and still deadlocked. The Reds petulantly called U.S. Allies "running dogs."

New sessions of the subcommittee on truce supervision and prisoner exchange were slated at Panmunjom for 11 a.m., today (8 p.m. CST, Friday).

As a side issue, the Communists continued to harp about an alleged Allied bombing of the Kaesong restricted zone Thursday. They said they would produce "plenty" of soldiers who saw a plane drop a bomb.

United Nations investigators failed Friday to find a single civilian witness. Lt. Col. Howard S. Levie, acting senior liaison officer, said the absence of any witness left the inquiry up in the air.

Both sides refused to budge on the key issues blocking a truce.

MIGs Evade Fire In Brief Air Duel

SEOUL, Korea (SATURDAY) (AP) — U.S. Sabres and about 120 Russian-built MIG jets exchanged brief firing passes over northwest Korea Friday, but there were no damage reports.

The U.S. fifth air force explained, "The Reds didn't want to fight."

On the snow-drifted battlefield the mercury dropped to zero. Shivering Allied infantrymen repulsed three light Communist probing attacks in the rugged eastern sector.

The eighth army communique reported "no significant activity" on the western and central fronts.

Quotes of Truman Encourage Demos

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democrats who hope President Truman will run for reelection got a little more grist for their mill Friday when a house member quoted Mr. Truman as saying, "I never quit under fire or ran away from anything."

Rep. Alfred Sieminski (D-N.J.) said the President made that comment while they chatted at the White House Friday. The congressman is one of those trying to persuade Mr. Truman to seek another term.

Some politicians believe that one of the factors influencing Mr. Truman's decision will be the increasing criticism of his administration on grounds of corruption.

Sieminski said he told the President "I hoped he would run again, and of my admiration of him as my leader." He quoted Mr. Truman as replying:

"From precinct captain to President, I have served the people to the best of my ability and I'm a lobbyist for the people. I never quit a fight or ran away from anything."

Mr. Truman had repeatedly told his news conferences he has made his decision about 1952 but is not ready to announce it. Sen. Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn.), however, said after a White House visit Monday that the President hasn't made up his mind finally.

36,750 Draftees To Go to Marines

WASHINGTON (AP) — The marines have increased their draft requirements for the first six months of this year, requesting 36,750 men.

This was reported Friday by Gen. Lemuel C. Shepherd Jr., commandant of the marine corps, during testimony before the house armed services committee.

He said draft officials had been asked to provide that number of men through June 30. A total of 31,359 marines were drafted during the last six months of 1951, he said.

England To Get 1 Million Tons Of U.S. Steel

WASHINGTON (AP) — Prime Minister Winston Churchill Friday yielded to the appointment of an American as supreme Allied naval commander in Atlantic waters, but won a promise of a million tons of scarce U.S. steel for Britain.

The steel will be exchanged for British tin and aluminum, badly needed in America's rearmament program.

Churchill's acceptance of an American to head the North Atlantic treaty naval forces came as something of a surprise concession during his farewell conference with President Truman at the White House.

Logical Choice
Navy quarters said the most logical choice as the new "sea-going Eisenhower" would be Adm. Lynde D. McCormick, now commander of the U.S. Atlantic fleet.

A navy spokesman said an official announcement could not be made until certain formalities have been completed.

Admiral McCormick served in both the Atlantic and Pacific during World War II.

Joint Communique
Friday's agreement was announced in a joint communique by President Truman and Churchill.

Agreement on the North Atlantic Treaty organization command was reached last year, but was held up because of Churchill's opposition. British leaders had balked at the selection of an American, contending that Britain's traditional "Rule Britannia" naval prestige pointed to the appointment of a Briton.

Friday's communique indicated that Britain's naval control will be extended somewhat from her immediate coastal waters to deeper water.

The announcement said it was planned "to extend the United Kingdom's home command to the 100 fathom line," that is to where the water is 600 feet deep.

The 100 fathom curve extends from 30 miles off the southwest tip of Ireland to more than 200 miles off other points in the British Isles.

Meets Favorable Response
Churchill's appeal to the U.S. "not for gold but for steel" met a swift and favorable response, but his plea for U.S. troops to help guard the Suez canal appeared headed for a rebuff. Many congress members were outspoken against the latter idea.

The White House announced Britain will be permitted to purchase 1 million long tons of U.S. steel—approximately 1 per cent of the nation's annual steel output.

In return, Britain will sell the U.S. 55,100,000 pounds of aluminum, badly needed in America's rearmament program, and 20,000 long tons of tin.

A long ton equals 2,240 pounds compared to the more commonly known ton of 2,000 pounds.

Samia Makes American Debut

EGYPTIAN DANCER SAMIA GAMAL performed Friday night at a Miami Beach night club, making her first dancing appearance in America. Her Texan husband, Sheppard King, who turned Moslem to marry her, watched from a ringside table. The night club was packed — but not to the walls, as Samia brought her Oriental dance to the vacation spot.

GIVE UP SEARCH FOR CREW
SEATTLE (AP) — The coast guard announced Friday that it has abandoned its search for survivors of the freighter Pennsylvania which disappeared in the North Pacific nine days ago. The cutter Yocona was ordered from the search area. It was the last vessel conducting an active hunt for the 45 or 46 crewmen and the 7,800 ton merchant vessel.

editorials

In every group of human beings, regardless of size, there are invariably a few who bring restrictions upon the others.

The classic example was during the war. Many servicemen found the cheapest and often the most direct route to their home from a camp or vice versa was to hitch-hike.

Then news stories began to appear about motorists being robbed or killed by hitch-hiking servicemen.

After a few of these incidents the public took action. Many states passed laws prohibiting any hitch-hiking.

Thousands of servicemen were forced to pay their way home, or more important, take transportation which was slower or less direct.

It appears that a similar situation is arising at SU.

The new library, which is one of the finest in the country, and which has more books openly accessible to the students than any other library in the Big Ten, is the point of concern.

Many students have begun cramming for their finals. Some of these students find they are further behind in their studies than they had thought.

So, after an evening at the library doing outside reading, they decide that they had better take the text book along with them. After all — with more than half a million books on the shelves, who will miss just one? But the situation is worse than that. During the past two weeks more than 30 texts have "disappeared" from the Shambaugh heritage library. These are the books used in the core courses.

A number of other books have had pages and, in some cases, chapters slashed and stolen. Up until now there have been very few restrictions governing the use of books in the library.

However, if the situation does not improve — that is, if books continue to be stolen or damaged — then a new system involving stricter regulations could very possibly be instigated.

Recently a group of students from Wisconsin remarked that they were amazed to find so many books at the students' disposal here. They were surprised to learn that the library is open 93 hours a week.

We have an enviable situation here — and it will remain enviable if we do not violate the standing regulations.

So, to those who "borrowed" the books, we suggest that they show themselves to be college students, not high school kids. They can probably smuggle them in as easily as they smuggled them out.

There are 7,000 of us that will appreciate such action.

Danger on the Home Front

Today Is Anniversary Of Robert E. Lee's Birth

By H. D. CRAWFORD
Central Press Correspondent

Washington — Robert E. Lee was born on Jan. 19, 1807, near the Potomac river at Stratford, Va. When you look back 145 years to that happy event in the home of "Light Horse Harry" Lee, War of Independence hero, you realize that although Robert E. Lee turned down President Abraham Lincoln's invitation to lead the Army of the United States and became a Confederate general who was defeated, his military prowess and personal integrity have made him one of our most highly respected Americans.

Lee's Home

You think of Lee when you visit Washington today and lift your eyes to the white-columned mansion across the Potomac on a hill in Arlington cemetery. You recall that this stately Arlington house was Lee's home for many years—from his marriage to Mrs. George Washington's great granddaughter following his graduation from West Point until he joined the Confederate cause at the outbreak of the Civil War.

You think of him too, when you travel southward from the national capital on highways named in honor of the great Confederate general.

Proved Ability

Lee proved his military ability during the Mexican war, in which he served as an engineer officer under Gen. Winfield Scott. He rose from captain to colonel, and distinguished himself in campaigns at Vera Cruz, Contreras, Cerro Gordo, Churubusco and Chapultepec.

General Scott admitted that his "success was largely due to the skill, valor and undaunted courage of Robert E. Lee." Scott predicted that Lee, "if opportunity offered . . . would show himself the foremost captain of his time."

John Brown's March

When John Brown marched on Harper's Ferry in October, 1859, to free slaves and try to start a war between whites and blacks, the war department selected Colonel Lee to command the force sent to capture Brown.

President Lincoln offered Lee the command of the Army of the United States on April 18, 1861, a few days after first shots were fired at Fort Sumter. Lee's decision to turn down this opportunity required courage and firm conviction.

"I declined the offer he made to me to take command of the army that was to be brought into the field," Lee explained, "stating as candidly as I could, that though opposed to secession and deprecating war, I could take no part in an invasion of the southern states." Lee promptly resigned his commission as colonel in the cavalry.

Would Do the Same

Years later, in 1869, the year before he died, Lee reflected on his turn-down of Lincoln's invitation and the resignation of his commission in these words: "I could have taken no other course without dishonor, and if it were all to be done over again, I should act in precisely the same manner."

During early months of the war, Lee and his able staff commanders like Gen. Thomas (Stonewall) Jackson and James Longstreet, appeared to be invincible. They outsmarted their Union opponents on numerous occasions.

Momentous victories were on the record of the proud Army of Virginia that marched into Pennsylvania in the summer of 1863, and the turning point of the Civil war was Lee's defeat by Gen. George Meade's Union forces at Gettysburg.

When Gen. U. S. Grant took command of the Army of the Potomac, Lee faced tougher opposition. It was Grant who, after six days of persistent fighting at Spotsylvania in the spring of 1864, said, "I . . . propose to fight it out on this line if it takes all summer."

Grant Paid Heavily

Grant paid heavily for his ultimate victory. In his early 1864 campaign from the Rapidan to the James river, for example, Grant's loss of 54,926 men was nearly as great as Lee's whole army at the time the Union advance began.

Historic perspective of 90 years on those stirring and bloody events of the nation's greatest internal struggle indicate that the North's ultimate victory was due in large part to superior numbers of men and far greater economic resources. The South had depended on military help from Europe, but this never arrived.

4 Year Struggle

The South was able to carry on the struggle through four years, however, due to excellent leadership of Gen. Robert E. Lee.

After Lee surrendered to Grant at Appomattox Court House in April, 1865, Grant wrote that he "felt like anything rather than rejoicing at the downfall of a foe who had fought so long and valiantly."

Duty of Citizen

"I think it is the duty of every citizen in the present condition of the country," Lee said following the defeat of his Confederate cause, "to do all in his power to aid in the restoration of peace and harmony and in no way to oppose the policy of the state or general government directed to that object."

Grant's magnanimity at Appomattox in letting Confederate soldiers take their horses home to plant spring crops, and Lee's heroic stature and integrity both in victory and defeat form high marks on the better side of American character.

From Other Colleges

PURDUE

As a result of a student poll at Purdue university, the Purdue Exponent concluded "that the youth of America believe in some communistic, socialistic and fascist principles, perhaps without even being aware of it."

The survey, conducted by the Purdue opinion panel of the division of educational reference, asked 3,000 students if they agreed with certain statements paraphrased from the Bill of Rights, the Communist Manifesto of Marx, and other sources. The statements were so designed that their origins could not easily be identified, the Exponent said.

The Exponent, in a front page news story, said one of the most "startling results" was that 49 per cent of the students believe large masses of people are incapable of determining what is and is not good for themselves — "a massive rejection of the theory of democratic government."

The student newspaper said "many students agreed with some of the communistic principles of Marx." Along this line, 62 per cent thought that our modern society is moved chiefly by the desire to profit. Fifty-eight per cent believe that most history is the story of the fight for power between different classes: master and slave, landlord and tenant, management and labor.

Fifteen of the poll items were paraphrased statements from the Bill of Rights. The Exponent said, "Some interesting results revealed were the following:

"Only 45 per cent polled believe that newspapers should be allowed to print anything they want except military secrets.
"A third of the students think the government should prohibit some people from making public speeches.
"Fifty-eight per cent agree that police may be justified in giving a man the 'third degree' to make him talk.
"A third would deny citizens the right to circulate petitions in some cases."
Concludes the Exponent: "The poll reveals that although American youth realizes the value of the Bill of Rights as a whole, they actually disagree with many of the fundamental liberties defined in it. It seems evident that our students are absorbing some of the principles of the nondemocratic groups which they think they oppose. . . .
The paper, in the same news story, said, "Proper education is the best means of instilling the principles of democracy in our youth. This is pointed out by the fact that more freshmen agreed with nondemocratic principles than did seniors."

YALE

A dormitory request to serve "setups" at college dances at Yale university has been vetoed by the Undergraduate Affairs committee. The opponents of the resolution pointed out that the colleges were already allowed to serve alcoholic punch. They also felt that for the colleges to serve soft drinks would indicate university sanction of hard liquor.

Those in favor argued that the university has already allowed students to have liquor in their rooms. They suggested that the "double standard" worked against the success of the college plan.

OHIO STATE

A 27-year-old French war bride who taught French part time, kept house and cared for a 5-year-old son became the first Ohio State university graduate with a perfect four-point academic rating. That was the record compiled by Jacqueline Snediker, who was graduated this month at the close of the fall quarter.

And that is not the only record of which Mrs. Snediker can boast. She started teaching at OSU before she enrolled as a freshman. A high school course at Columbus coupled with private tutoring enabled her to meet Ohio State's qualifications for teaching French.

Mrs. Snediker started teaching in the fall of 1946 when her husband, John E. Snediker, of Akron, enrolled in school. They were married in Paris in 1946 while John was awaiting his discharge. The French woman, who became a naturalized American citizen in 1950, plans to continue teaching and work toward a graduate degree.

Mrs. Snediker explained that her son, John, went to nursery school in the morning while she attended and taught classes. She cared for him in the afternoon, at the same time doing housework. Evenings were devoted to studying and grading papers.

The Ohio State Lantern says the perfect academic rating was almost attained last year when Lee Van Gossick, an air force major, was graduated from the college of engineering with a 3.99.

CHICAGO

After being under pressure from its national office because it had planned to pledge a Jewish student, the University of Chicago chapter of Sigma Chi fraternity has voted unofficially to disband. Sigma Chi alumni had threatened to sell the fraternity house if the Jewish student were pledged. Then the fraternity's national office put the chapter on probation for failing to submit its pledge list to an alumni group.

The student government and Interfraternity council at the university are supporting the chapter's action. Robert Stricker, dean of students, declared, "The university will not sit on the sidelines if this proves to be a matter of discrimination."

Letters To The Editor

(Readers are invited to express opinion in Letters to the Editor. All letters must include hand written signature and address—typewritten signatures not acceptable. TO THE EDITOR:
Three rabs and a tiger for the crusading Iowan! And to you, Mr. Jim Crusader, for your work on this thrilling expose, a bouquet of dahlias. Having risked nine of the best years of your life (what a way to beat the draft) by buying beer as a minor, I for one say, you're fearless, Sonny. Ah, reckless youth!

I, too, would like to become a part of this war against sin and corruption. Why, just today (while conducting a personal survey) an underaged friend of mine (who wishes for obvious reasons to remain anonymous) walked into one of the old respectable business concerns and bought a pack of cigarettes without so much as a raised eyebrow. He confided in me that he has been doing this for years. Why hasn't this deplorable situation come to light sooner?

I suggest that all interested parties meet at Whet's at high noon on Saturday over a bottle of Pepsi and we'll have a few rousing choruses of "Rally 'Round the Flag," I'll bring the smokes. Mike McMichael, C4, Mason City (Date of birth — Aug. 24, 1929)

TO THE EDITOR:
We're sorry to see that the athletic board didn't see fit to accept the advice offered in The Daily Iowan's excellent front page editorial entitled "Let's keep our heads; let's keep Raff!"
We think that the ideas expressed in this editorial mirrored the views of many students, but evidently the alums and their bankbooks were considered more important. We think it is regrettable that the Iowa athletic board apparently succumbed to this outside pressure and could not make their own objective decision.

It seems traditional at Iowa for every coach to leave the job under fire. We wonder if someone with "influence" will ever consider that a losing streak might be due to factors entirely out of the coach's control.

For instance, we have the smallest enrollment of any Big Ten school, a noticeable lack of school spirit at games and various other influences upon the football picture. They certainly can't be discounted!
Perhaps if the money spent in hiring a new coach could be put into the scholastic side of the University, we would attract a larger enrollment and thus better football material. In any case, the money would not be wasted.
In these days when deemphasis is the keyword of college athletics, members of people who either could not or would not examine the situation objectively.

In closing, we hope that Raff will choose to stay with us, for the Iowa athletic department sorely needs good men. We also wish new Head Coach Evashvish and his staff the best of luck, but in the same breath we wonder how long it will be before unscrupulous newsmen or tradition-mad alumni will be out after blood again and our "fearless" athletic board will, after an "objective analysis of the situation" decide to change coaches again. We hope it will be a long, long time and that Iowa's tradition of firing coaches will be broken at last.

Indian Educator Urges Indo-U.S. Understanding

Dr. Amiya Chakravarty, noted Indian author and educator, said here Thursday night that Eastern and Western democracies "need to come closer together in order to resist derivative forces that threaten to tear us apart."

A. Chakravarty
Former UN Delegate

Chakravarty, former advisor to the Indian delegation of the UN general assembly, spoke on "Indo-American Understanding" in the senate chamber of Old Capitol.

The lecture was the third to be given in memory of Prof. Sushindra Bose, former SUI instructor.

Chakravarty stressed the fact that because both India and America have transcontinental backgrounds they are able to serve the world through their experience in dealing with many cultures, languages and religions in their own lands.

"America and Asia have to know each other as human units with cultural values that transcend mere experience," he said.

Chakravarty invited students and scholars from the United States to visit India, not only as Americans but as artists, scholars and thinkers so that the "great civilization of America can be humanly and adequately represented in the east."

"America should not be allowed to appear only in the concept of gigantism with tremendous technological and military powers, but as a home of humane culture and a land of gracious and diverse creative activity," Chakravarty said.

Korea Not Alone — 'Brothers and Sisters' Rotate

Korea doesn't have the only rotation plan for its veterans. Twenty-nine SUI students, who devote time weekly as a companion to individual children at the school for severely handicapped children, have taken on new brothers and sisters as other children enroll in the school.

New children enrolling in the school are replacing children who either advance further in their training program or graduate.

The new children find that along with books and pencils, they get a big brother or sister. Each big brother or sister selects activities for their "ward" that will best fit the child's handicap. With the supervision of David Ray, assistant to the director of the school, a social program for new students has been planned.

"Card games and monopoly, have proved to be good for some of the children. It helps their morale to get out, so many of the big brothers take their charges on walks, or sledding when there's snow. Even talking them to the show or downtown has helped morale a lot," Ray said.

There are 29 big brothers and sisters at the school now, and a full list of substitutes. The SUI students are: Robert Allen, A4, Memphis, Tenn.; William Musker, A1, Cedar Rapids; Robert Oberbroeckling, A1, Cedar Rapids; Hoyt Hart, A1, Ft. Dodge; Rod Malcolm, A1, Belle Plaine; John Way, Ardeth Maxwell, N1, Des Moines; James Orr, A3, Burlington; Antonette Blankers, N1, Sheldon.

County Schools Receive State Aid

General state aid amounting to $139,437.73 has been received by County School Superintendent Frank J. Snider to be distributed to Johnson county's 68 school districts, it was announced Friday.

The general aid is given each year to all Iowa schools out of money appropriated by the state legislature. It is designed to help the various school districts in defraying the costs of school operation.

A total of $159,185.16 had been requested by districts in the county, including Iowa City, but this was pro-rated due to a limited appropriation. Snider said $58,111.48 of the money would go to Iowa City schools.

Testimony Complete In Breakin Trials

Testimony was completed Friday afternoon in the district court trial of Clyde Lester Jones, 19-year-old Scanton, Ark., youth charged with breaking and entering.

District Judge Harold D. Evans excused the jury about 4 p.m. and ordered them to report today at 10 a.m. Closing arguments will be heard this morning and it is expected the case will be given to the jury sometime before noon.

Jones has entered a plea of innocent by reason of insanity to the charge of breaking into the Nall Motors, Inc. building last Sept. 15. He was indicted by the grand jury Dec. 8.

Testimony was heard Friday from Jones' parents and psychiatrist from SUI, psychopathic hospital where young Jones underwent examination.

Dill Fined $300 In County Court For Drunken Driving

Glenn Dill, Iowa City, was fined $300 Friday in district court on a charge of operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated.

On the recommendation of County Atty. William L. Meardon, Dill's sentence to three months in the county jail was suspended and he was paroled to his attorney. His driver's license was revoked for 60 days.

Dill appeared before District Judge Harold D. Evans and pleaded guilty to the grand jury indictment that was handed down Dec. 8.

Judge Evans said Friday that by agreement of council of both sides, the case of James Beeler will be continued to the February term of district court.

Beeler's trial was scheduled to begin Monday. He is charged with manslaughter and drunken driving. According to a grand jury indictment, Beeler's car was involved last September in an accident on highway 261 in which Walter John Smith was killed.

Humphrey to Enter Minnesota Primary

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senator Humphrey (D-Minn.), declaring he was acting at President Truman's request, agreed Friday to enter the March 18 Minnesota presidential primary as a "favorite son" candidate.

"If President Truman is a candidate, our (Minnesota) delegation will cast its vote for President Truman," he said.

W. F. Murphy Is Dead at 96; Funeral Today

William F. Murphy
Graduated from SUI

Funeral services for William F. Murphy, 96, prominent Iowa City lawyer and justice of the peace, will be held at 9 a.m. today at St. Patrick's church. Murphy died at his home at 113 S. Johnson Thursday afternoon.

He was born Jan. 26, 1856 in Monmouth, Ill., and grew up on a farm near North Liberty. In 1880 he received his degree in law from the SUI college of law.

Murphy served as county auditor for two terms beginning in 1899. He later became justice of the peace, an office which he held until 1951. In 1919 Murphy served as city attorney.

He was a senior member of the Johnson County Bar association and St. Patrick's church.

Active in many occupations, Murphy operated a rug making and cleaning service in Iowa City. He owned a livery stable and entered many horses in races throughout the midwest. At one time he leased a gold mine in Colorado.

Murphy is survived by three children, Mrs. A. J. Shaw, Pocahontas; Dr. Frank F. Murphy, Los Angeles, and Dr. Mary E. Murphy, connected with Hunter college, New York, N. Y. A sister, Miss Bertilla Murphy, 903 E. College st., nine grandchildren and 19 great-grandchildren also survive.

The rosary was recited at the McGovern funeral home Friday evening.

Johnson county district court will be recessed from 9 to 10 a.m. today in memory of Murphy, Judge Harold D. Evans announced.

SUI Graduate Receives Des Moines JC Award

James B. Morris, chosen by the Des Moines Junior Chamber of Commerce as "Young Man of the Year," holds several SUI degrees. The lawyer received his B.A. in political science in 1941 and his M.A. in 1946. He was graduated from the college of law in 1949 with a J.D. degree, which requires a grade point of 70 or better.

"I know Brad very well," said Dean Mason Ladd, head of the college of law. "He was a good student and showed a lot of ability for both office practice and trial work. He was very well liked by both faculty and students and engaged in many law school activities. The law school is highly honored by his high recognition in Des Moines."

Last spring Morris was appointed assistant in the Des Moines county attorney's office. He is a member of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, the state and county bar associations, the Junior Chamber of Commerce, and Kappa Alpha Psi, professional law fraternity.

During World War II he served as captain in army intelligence.

Morris is married and has a child.

Applications Open For Highway Patrol

Application blanks for entry to the Iowa highway patrol recruit training school are now available at all of the patrol's 13 district offices and at headquarters in the new state office building in Des Moines.

Men applying must be between 5 feet 10 inches and 6 feet 2 inches tall and between 22 and 32 years of age, a citizen of Iowa for at least two years prior to application and have a high school education or its equivalent.

Candidates for the patrol school will be chosen after the applications have been screened. S. N. Jespersen, patrol chief, said. During the four-week training course, each man will receive $100, food and quarters.

Salaries of highway patrolmen range from $245 to $275 a month with uniforms provided. State law also provides a retirement system.

After assignment to the patrol, a new officer must complete a one year probationary period. After that, he cannot be discharged except for cause.

Iowa City Parking Income Drops Despite Additional Meters

Several new parking meters were installed in Iowa City last year, but the city collected $8,347.65 less from all meters than in 1950.

Meters took $64,396.35 from motorists' pockets in 1951. That figure was revealed Friday by Mrs. Edith Frederickson, secretary to City Manager Peter F. Roan.

The previous year's total was $72,717, according to Mrs. Frederickson's records.

She said the only reason she could think of to explain the decrease was that a number of meters were blocked off for several months during store remodeling and street repairs.

Police Chief Ed Ruppert said state law determines the use of parking meter funds. He said 75 per cent must be used to facilitate off-street parking in the city and the other 25 per cent goes for personnel pay and meter upkeep.

That means off-street parking lots in Iowa City were allocated $48,277.01 in 1951, and personnel and upkeep took care of the other $16,092.34.

County Group Talks Of Local Fluoridation; No Action by SUI

The Johnson County Dental society committee held a meeting Thursday night to discuss the proposed fluoridation of Iowa City's public water supply.

As yet SUI officials have done no research concerning the matter and have made no plans for uniting with the city in the proposal, should it meet with public approval. SUI and city water plants are separate units.

This project is also being considered by other cities in Iowa. The addition of fluorides to the water supply is said to cut down the amount of tooth decay.

Studies in areas where the chemicals have been added showed a noticeable reduction in decay of children's teeth, and it is for this purpose that the dental committee hopes the proposal will be accepted in Iowa City.

Explanation of the procedures involved in this plan will be given to county medical groups, the water company, and other organizations in the city.

Dr. Jackson H. Roe, committee chairman, said that at a public meeting an expert will provide more explanatory material and answer questions.

Dr. Robert E. Leighton, assistant professor and acting head of preventive dentistry, is also a member of the county dental committee.

Iowa City C of C Budget Is $17,805

A budget of $17,805 for 1952 was approved by the board of directors of the Iowa City Chamber of Commerce at a special meeting Friday.

The chamber's budget for 1951 was $17,700. This year's budget is the highest for any year except 1949, when the chamber appropriated $6,000 alone for a new headquarters.

Some of the major allocations include: retail trades activities, $1,500; community advertising, $1,000; agriculture promotions, $750; a new descriptive booklet for Iowa City, $700, and the boy's state basketball tournament, $60.

Washington Gets 6 More GOP Delegates

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A committee voted Friday to give the state of Washington six additional delegates at the Republican national convention in Chicago, but turned down New York's request for four.

The bonus to Washington, awarded because the state replaced a Democratic governor in 1948 with GOP's Governor Langlie, will increase the number of convention delegates to 2,005.

The committee action in effect also rejected pleas of Mississippi, Missouri and the territory of Hawaii for additional convention delegates.

J. Russell Sprague, New York national committeeman, said the allocation of delegates should be on the basis of the old congressional districts which would have given the state 100 delegates.

New York will lose two congressional seats in the 1953 congress.

Harrison E. Spangler, Cedar Rapids, Iowa national committeeman, declared, "Each state should have equal and fair voice" at the national convention for all its people. The only way to accomplish this, he added, is to allocate delegations on the latest population figures.

LT. COL. VISITS SUI ROTC Lt. Col. R. F. Mayer, assistant director of the air force reserve officers training corps for the 10th air force, visited the SUI air force ROTC unit Friday. He conferred with the staff of the local unit on problems and plans of air force ROTC.

Rugged Visitors Threat To Iowa Win Streak

By JACK SQUIRE
Daily Iowan Sports Editor

The field house will be bulging again tonight with another 15,000 plus crowd for the fifth chapter of Iowa's exciting 1952 basketball story.

Party of the second part for this one is Minnesota, which could turn out to be as rugged an assignment as the undefeated Hawkeyes have been called on to face thus far.

The Gophers have already established themselves as somewhat of a giant killer by toppling previously unbeaten Kentucky, and as things stand in the Big Ten race, there's nothing that would please Minnesotans more than a similar success against Iowa.

Illini Idle

Iowa, of course, will be battling to maintain its fourth place rating in the national AP poll as well as go one up on idle Illinois for the conference leadership.

That's the background, then, accounting for the second sell-out on successive weekends. There just isn't a ticket to be had.

The air of tense expectancy that surrounded the Indiana game a week ago hasn't seemed to be present this time, but knowing basketball men have cautioned about a rough evening for the Hawks.

From the physical standpoint, at least, that seems to be inevitable, for the Gophers, mainly on the big and heavy side, are said to delve in rough body contact.

Kalafat Top Scorer

As exhibit A, there's Ed Kalafat, a 6-6½, 244-pound hulk, who scores well (16.1 points a game) and is a top-notch rebounder. Kalafat, a sophomore from Anaconda, Mont., is another of the talented big men who have entered Big Ten competition this year. Iowa has encountered two others in Indiana's Don Schludt and Northwestern's Frank Petrancek.

The rest of the Gophers are also long on brawn, but nothing exceptional in the speed department. Of that group, the flashiest may be freshman Chuck Mencil, a high school great last year at Eau Claire, Wis., who has continued to shine in college with a 12.7 point output per game. He's a 6-0, 165-pound guard.

Other Minnesota starters are Dick Means, 6-1, 180; Bob Gelle, 6-3, 215, and Jerry Mitchell, 6-2, 205.

Will Watch Darling

If Coach Ozzie Cowles follows the same strategy that previous Iowa foes have employed, Minnesota will devote a good part of its efforts trying to bottle up high scoring Chuck Darling.

A zone defense, similar to the one used by Northwestern in the second half last Monday, will likely be tried. The Hawks' ability to hit from outside would be all-important then.

Should Minnesota throw up an effective zone, it's probable that Ev Cochrane will get ample opportunity to fire away with his sometimes spectacular set shot. The Iowa starters, though, will be Bob Clifton, Skip Greene, Darling, Herb Thompson, and Deacon Davis.

2-1 Record

Minnesota currently shows a 2-1 conference record, losing 52-43 to Illinois at Minneapolis, while beating Michigan State and Michigan at home, 55-49 and 70-60. The overall record is 7-4, with the 61-57 win over Kentucky the top feat.

After tonight's game, the Iowa team will leave Sunday by plane for Monday night's return engagement with Indiana at Bloomington. That will conclude the Hawks' activities until next semester.

In a preliminary game tonight, Iowa's once-beaten JVs meet the Monmouth "B" team at 6 p.m.

Iowa Third, Illini Sixth In Big Ten Scoring

CHICAGO (AP)—Point making isn't the most important thing in the Big Ten basketball race, fourth-week league statistics indicated Friday.

The unbeaten co-leaders of the championship race, Iowa and Illinois, were ranked third and sixth offensively with 67.8 and 62.5 average points per game in four contests.

The Illini, however, moved in front as the top defensive team, yielding a 52 1/3-point average.

Wier Teaches 'Em How

Wheeler Leads SDT To New Record In Sorority Relays

By LEE CANNING

Ted Wheeler led Sigma Delta Tau to first place and a new record for the Sorority relays Friday night in the field house to highlight the opening of Iowa's 1952 track season with the 28th All-University relays.

Sigma Delta Tau's winning time of 4:42.8 broke a record set by an Alpha Chi Omega team in 1936. Star of the Alpha Chi Omega team was Glen Cunningham, former holder of the world's record for the mile and then a graduate student at Iowa.

Wheeler's teammates, George Wright, Glen Hesselstine and Bruce Nolf, built an early lead which the lanky Wheeler steadily increased during the last two laps of the mile and a quarter event.

Standout performances by varsity track in five events drew favorable comment from track Coach Francis Cretzmeier.

The 60-yard dash, rated one of the top races on the 12-event schedule, and half-mile marks topped the field.

Letterman Lou Mathis edged Hesselstine and Loranzie Williams for first place in the 60-yard dash. Mathis was clocked in the fine time of .06.3. Gary Scott and Leonard Sykes finished fourth and fifth respectively.

The best in the half-mile came from anchor men in the Sorority relays. Wheeler covered the distance in 1:55.5 with LeRoy Ebert close behind at 1:56.6. Rich Ferguson turned in a 1:59.

Stan Levinson's mark of 22 feet 8½ inches led the broad jumpers and DuWayne Dietz paced the low hurdles in :08.2.

Pole vaulter Joe Norman topped that event with a 12-foot vault.

Fight Mgr. Suspended, Fined $3,000 for Row

NEW YORK (AP)—The state athletic commission revoked for life the licenses of manager-second Tommy Ryan Friday and fined him $3,000 for his assault on referee Ray Miller in Madison Square Garden last Friday night. It was the heaviest penalty ever assessed against an individual by the commission.

Hawkeye Tankers To Face Badgers

(Special to The Daily Iowan)

MADISON, WIS.—Iowa's swimming team is favored to gain its second victory of the season against the Wisconsin tankers here this afternoon.

The Hawkeyes, 53-38 victors over Illinois at Champaign last Saturday, will be bolstered today by the return of captain Wally Nicholson, ace sprinter, who has been out with a cold.

Nicholson and Ron Johnson, two event winner last week, will be Iowa's leaders against an untested Badger squad.

Iowa's fencing team will also be in action here today, opening their season with the Badgers.

Conference to Wait On Prexies' Program

CHICAGO (AP)—Commissioner K. L. (Tug) Wilson of the Big Ten said Friday it would be "premature and inadvisable to attempt a statement of any conference policy at this time" on the committee of college presidents' recently-announced program for stabilizing collegiate athletics.

"We are fully aware and appreciative of the great importance and influence inherent in the committee's recommendations," Wilson said in a prepared statement.

However, he said the program, recently announced by President John A. Hannah of Michigan State college and calling for such drastic measures as elimination of athletics scholarships, bowl games and out-of-season practice, still was in a nebulous state.

He said it was evident that the conference would be the best equipped agency for applying the committee's principles when and if the program is accepted by the American Council on Education.

Wilson said he expected a copy of Hannah's committee report within a day or so and would distribute it to Big Ten schools. If requested, Wilson said he would call a special conference meeting to consider a "further statement of its policy."

GEHRMANN BEATS WILT PHILADELPHIA (AP)

Don Gehrmann came from far back in the last lap to win the mile run in the Philadelphia Inquirer games Friday night by passing Fred Wilt in the homestretch in 4:10.2, a meet record.

Wisconsin's young but potent Badgers have already participated in five meets this year, with a record of two wins and three losses. Their conference record thus far includes a 16-11 victory over Northwestern and losses to Illinois, 18-12, and Indiana, 15-11.

Hawklets Coast To 64-54 Victory Over East Waterloo

By JORDAN MATULEF

City high, aided by 28 points by center Jim Freeman and a 43 per cent shooting average, coasted to its seventh victory against four losses including a current three game winning streak, walloping a game but outclassed East Waterloo quintet, 64-54, Friday night at City high gymnasium.

The outcome of the contest was evident early in the game as the Hawklets completely dominated the rebounds and jumped to a 19-7 lead at the end of the first quarter with Freeman scoring all but six points of the entire first quarter production.

The Little Hawks continued their high scoring and "dead-eye" accuracy in the second period, widening their margin to 39-24 at the half. Thirty-four of the Hawklet points were distributed among Freeman and Jamie Andrews, Freeman scoring 23 and Andrews 11.

During the final two periods the visitors stopped Freeman with a tight zone defense but the damage had already been done and the Hawklets coasted home with little difficulty.

Freeman and Andrews were outstanding for the Hawklets while Oliver Hippen and Russ Rolinger, with 15 and 12 points respectively, stood out for the Trojans.

Other matches have been with Wheaton college, which Wisconsin beat, 27-3, and a 19-9 loss to Iowa State.

The Badgers will be led by Captain Don Ryan, who will wrestle at 157 pounds against the Hawkeyes. Ryan has a record of 24 straight dual meet wins, including two pins and three decisions this season.

His only collegiate defeats came in the 1950 and 1951 NCAA tournaments. Against Iowa State, Ryan moved up to 177 pounds and unaccustomed Bob Wirts, last year's NAAU runnerup at that weight.

Don Hill, who has won four and lost one at 130 pounds, and Jerry Seeber, with a 4-1 record at 147 pounds this year, are other Wisconsin stars. Two Badger regulars, Falter at 177 pounds and Zur in the 137 pound division are on the injured list and will not wrestle against Iowa.

Indiana's Hoosiers, who will oppose the Monday night opponent for the Hawks, have jumped off to a fast start in the Big Ten race with a 15-11 win over Wisconsin at Bloomington.
